morrow, which is a holy day of obligation, the Feast of the Immaculate Conception. Low masses will be sung at 5:30 and 7 o'clock and high mass at 9 o'clock.
Owls' Dance, Dec. 26—The newly organized Marquette nest of the Order of Owls will give their first ball at Fraternity Hall on the night of Dec. 26. The members are bending every effort to make this dance one of the most enjoyable events of the season. The hall will be elaborately decorated and an entertaining program is being arranged.
Tickets will be $1 per couple.
Boil the Water—At a meeting of the water board held last evening, it was decided to recommend to the people of Marquette to boil all water for drinking purposes until the sterilization plant is ready for use. Two reports received from the state bacteriologist the past month have declared the water in its present condition unsafe. It is expected that the sterilization plant will be ready for use before the first of the year.
Baseball Meeting Called—A meeting of all interested in baseball another year will be held in the city hall hand room Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. All of the directors of the association the past year are expected to be present and it is hoped that the fans will be well represented. Plans for next summer will be discussed and steps are likely to be taken toward forming an executive organization for next year.
Shriners Meet Today—The semi-annual meeting of Ahmed temple, Nobles of the Ancient Order of the Mystic Shrine, will be held in Marquette this afternoon and evening. The afternoon will be taken up with a business session and the annual election of officers will be held.
In the evening, at a ceremonial session, a number of novitiates will be initiated.
It is expected that at least 200 Shriners from all parts of the upper peninsula will be in attendance.
Pastoral Calendar for 1911—Bishop G. Mott Williams has just issued a pastoral calendar for the year 1911, which is not only beautifully gotten up but also is intrinsically worth preserving.
A page is given to each month and below the calendar is a list of the church holy days and holidays during that month. Below the holidays is the name of a classic suggested for reading, with a quotation from it. "Backlog Studies" has been chosen for January and each classic has been selected with a view of its appropriateness to the season.

Jailed for Larceny—James Tyfer was sent to the county jail for thirty days by Justice Cray yesterday, after having been convicted of stealing $6 and a knife from Joseph C. Donohue at the Baraga cafe Sunday. Both men have been working near Big Bay and were simply transients in this city. The evidence introduced showed that Tyfer had gone through Donohue's clothing in one of the rooms of the hotel Sunday afternoon. Donohue was fined $20 and $10.92 costs, in lieu of which he went to jail.
Guild Hall Men's Club—Several special attractions have been arranged for the weekly meeting of the Men's club at Guild Hall this evening. A basketball game will be played at 8:30 between a team composed of High school teachers and one made up of business men. Later, Mr. Gennett will give an exhibition in wrestling, and will challenge any six men to a tug of war, he to pull against them with his teeth. Mr. Gennett will also demonstrate some fancy diving and swimming in the pool during the evening.
Herring Getting Scarce—Fishermen report that the herring season which opened about Nov. 15, is almost at an end and the nets are likely to be taken in any day now. Herring are about through spawning and are again seeking deeper water. It is stated that the season has not been as good as last year, though between 400 and 500 tons have been caught by Marquette fishermen.
The Anderson Fish company has had twice as many nets out as last year but the catch has been no larger. Stormy weather has interfered with the fishing considerably.
INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO.
WAS BANNER YEAR.
Total Ore Shipments in 1910 Were Over 42,000,000 Tons.

The ore shipments for November were larger than expected and a new season record was made, according to figures compiled at Cleveland. Last month the mines sent forward 2,041,886 tons, making the total movement for the season, 42,620,201 tons. That is a gain of 936,328 tons over 1909, which was the banner year with 41,683,873 tons. Shipments from the different ports for 1910 follow:

Port	Gross Tons
Duluth	13,609,155
Superior	8,437,261
Two Harbors	8,271,165
Escanaba	4,950,869
Ashland	4,093,822
Marquette	3,248,929
Total	42,620,201

The shipments for the past six years were:

Year	Tons
1910	42,620,201
1909	41,683,873
1908	25,427,094
1907	41,288,753
1906	37,513,580
1905	38,473,787

POTATO BUYERS OBJECT.
Refuse to Buy Lots Badly Mixed as to Varieties, It Is Said.
According to a report emanating from Delta county, Chicago and other outside potato buyers are refusing many loads of fine potatoes, because they are badly mixed as to varieties. One buyer states that there is a ready market at good prices for all the potatoes that can be grown in the upper peninsula, if the farmers will only exercise care in selecting seed, make sure that they plant the best selling varieties and then be careful that the varieties do not get mixed.
Northern grown potatoes are superior to those grown farther south, and upper peninsula tubers are in demand in the large cities. City purchasers, however, do not like to buy badly mixed varieties, and accordingly the wholesale purchases are trying to educate the growers to plant pure seed and to keep the different varieties separate.
Don't miss seeing the Orange Tree at the Methodist Church this afternoon.
Will be especially interesting to the children as each orange will contain a prize, all for the sum of five cents.
There will be a fine display of useful and fancy articles, white and colored aprons, bakery, candles, dolls, brass novelties, etc. Tea will be served.

WOMAN SAVES $50,000 FOR CANADIAN BANK

Charred Remains of Money Identified by Elizabeth Smith, a U. S. Expert.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The newspaper correspondent at Washington ordinarily expect to get little more than dry statistical stories out of the treasury department.

Not long ago the United States Treasurer McLung received a letter from the Royal Bank of Canada, telling about a fire that had taken place in one of its branch offices in Cuba.

About four weeks ago the two young women set out for Cuba on their unique expedition. When she arrived at Mayari, a small village on the northern coast of Cuba opposite Santiago, where the burned bank building was located.

For three weeks Miss Smith and her sister lived in the little Cuban town. At the end of that time the work was accomplished. Miss Smith found that she had been able to identify $50,000 worth of notes.

TESTIMONY IN MURDER TRIAL

Both Prosecution and Defense Submit Evidence in Case of the People vs. Samuel Robinson, Charged With Having Taken Life of Clement Schmidt Sept. 8

Defendant Claims That He Fired Fatal Shot, Believing That Schmidt Was About to Do Him Bodily Harm—Another Witness Says Act Was Inexcusable.

Yesterday in circuit court was taken up with the trial of Samuel Robinson, of Northland, a homesteader, who is charged with the murder of Clement Schmidt, Robinson admits having killed Schmidt, but maintains that he acted only in self defense, as Schmidt was in the act of attacking him with the intention of doing him great bodily harm. The trouble which resulted in Schmidt's death occurred at Robinson's homestead Sept. 8, last.

The jury hearing the evidence presented in this case was sworn at the opening of court yesterday morning and before the noon recess was taken, Prosecution Attorney Bell announced that he rested his case. The afternoon was occupied hearing the evidence offered by the defendant's witnesses, Robinson himself being on the stand most of the afternoon. Attorneys Potter and Hill are representing Mr. Robinson.

Witnesses for both the state and the defendant agree that Robinson, Schmidt, and two other men, Stevens and Burke by name, were drinking and carousing at Robinson's home both the evening before and the morning when the shooting occurred. One of the party had been to Northland and bought a jug of alcohol, which they were drinking, diluted with water. The party had been some quarreling during the evening over trivial matters but at a late hour Stevens went to his home a mile and a quarter away, while Schmidt spent the night with Robinson. Schmidt's home was at the Stevens cabin, though formerly he had resided with Robinson. According to the testimony of Stevens, who was the most important witness for the prosecution, all were considerably under the influence of liquor on the morning of the shooting. Stevens had come over early in the morning to Robinson's home and all were making frequent trips to the jug of alcohol. Robinson and Schmidt got into a quarrel over a trivial matter, and words were passed as the upshot of which Robinson went across the room, took his rifle down from the wall and shot Schmidt through the groin. Stevens said Schmidt made an assault on Robinson and that Robinson was the aggressor. Schmidt was taken to a hospital at Escanaba as soon as possible, where he died two days after the shooting. Robinson, the defendant, when on the stand told a very different story. He said that Schmidt had often boasted of having killed a man in Ohio and of having broken another's head with an iron bar at Iron River. Schmidt was a "bad man" when under the influence of liquor, and enjoyed bragging about the many fights he had been in, said Robinson. Stevens, with whom Schmidt lived was not friendly to Robinson, said the latter. Robinson declared that on several occasions Schmidt had attacked him and that Schmidt had proven himself much the stronger of the two men.

On the night before the shooting, Schmidt and Stevens had come to his home drunk and Schmidt had lain down on the table. Robinson remonstrated but to no purpose, and finally Schmidt went to bed on the cot, while Robinson slept upstairs. Stevens went to his own home for the night but returned early the next morning.

The morning of the shooting, testified Robinson, Schmidt had been quarrelsome and had made numerous threats. Finally, he rushed toward Robinson with clenched fists, saying, "I'll dash your brains on the wall." Robinson says he picked up his rifle of the table at which Stevens testified pointed it at Schmidt and commanded the latter to stop. Schmidt attempted to wrest the gun from him, and then Robinson dropped the gun and fired with the intention of wounding Schmidt and thus saving himself from harm. Robinson declared that Stevens stood by and took no part in the quarrel. Burke was asleep. Robinson further testified that he believed he was in great danger of being killed by Schmidt, when he fired the fatal shot.

Two other witnesses were called by the defense, Chas. Snyder of Escanaba, and Justice LeFevre, of Northland. Snyder testified that Robinson and Schmidt had had words in his saloon in Escanaba some months ago. All the evidence was in when court adjourned last evening, and the arguments of the attorneys will be made this forenoon. It is expected that the case will go to the jury about noon.

BASKETBALL LEAGUE.

Six Marquette County Teams May Form Such an Organization.

A movement is on foot the purpose of which is the organization of a Marquette county basketball league, composed of two teams from Marquette, and one each from Negaunee, Ishpeming, Grinn and Marquette. The two Marquette teams would be known as the Guild Halls and the City team. Each of these five cities already has an organized basketball team and a hall suitable for playing games, and in most instances practice for the season has been begun. It is thought that the banding of the teams into a league with a regular schedule of games would result in the public becoming more generally interested in the game than could otherwise be expected. The two Marquette teams are very anxious to see such a league formed and the matter has been taken up with the players of other cities. If the replies received are favorable, a meeting will be called shortly to form an organization and to adopt a schedule. Local players hope to see the first of the league games played shortly after the first of the new year.

Those pictures just received at Geill's wall paper store for Christmas are stunners. Don't delay. 12-7-10.

FATALLY INJURED AT PIONEER FURNACE

Harry Wightman Caught in a Shafting in Still Room Late Yesterday Afternoon.

His clothing catching in a shaft revolving over 200 times a minute, Harry Wightman was fatally injured at the Pioneer furnace at 4:45 yesterday afternoon and died three hours later at St. Luke's hospital. Mr. Wightman was about fifty years of age and leaves a wife and four children, who reside at 540 West Ridge street. He has worked at the furnace about a year and a half, and prior to that he was a locomotive engineer on the D., S. S. & A. railroad for several years.

Mr. Wightman was employed at the furnace as a pipe fitter and late yesterday afternoon he and a fellow workman were instructed to repair a steam trap in the primary for three hours in the first distillation process takes place. The shafting in this room is eight or ten feet above the floor and in order to have gotten caught in it, he must have stood on a stool. One story is that he climbed up to get a monkey wrench, which necessitated his reaching over and across the top of the shafting. At any rate, a moment later workmen nearby saw his clothing catch in the shaft coupling and he was whirled round with it at lightning speed.

The motor was stopped as quickly as possible and the unfortunate man was removed from his terrible position in an unconscious condition. He was at once taken to St. Luke's hospital in an ambulance, where an examination revealed that his injuries were fatal. His neck, both legs, several ribs and his jaw were broken and he was bleeding internally. After lingering for three hours in a comatose condition, he breathed his last shortly after 7:30 last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wightman came to Marquette from southern Wisconsin about twenty years ago and have since made this city their home. Until about two years ago he was in the employ of the South Shore railroad, latterly as a locomotive engineer. Less than two years ago he left the railroad employ and took a position as pipe fitter at the furnace. He was well known throughout the city, particularly among the railroad men, among whom he was universally well liked. His children are Ethel, aged about fifteen, George, Claude, and a baby, three years old.
