

INVESTIGATORS FILE FINDINGS WITH CONGRESS

After Having Had the Ballinger Affair in Hand Eleven Months, the Joint Committee Submits Three Reports—These Both Uphold and Condemn the Secretary

Matter Is Left Just Where It Was When the Inquiry Was Started, in Fact, and That Further Action of Any Kind Will Be Taken Is Deemed Unlikely.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Interest in congress today centered in the reporting to both houses of the findings of the special joint committee which for eleven months has busied itself with the charges made against Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior. Three reports were filed. The senate ordered 30,000 copies of the report printed, and no discussion in either house attended the introduction. The reports leave the question just where it was when the inquiry started.

Ballinger Reports Disagree. In the opinion of the majority of the investigating committee—seven Republican members—Secretary Ballinger has "honestly and faithfully performed the duties of his high office, with an eye single to the public interest." In the opinion of the four Democrats, Ballinger "has not been true to the trust reposed in him as secretary of the interior and should be requested by the proper authorities to resign."

Senator Fletcher first raised the point of order that the committee had already approved the report that was made public at Minneapolis, Sept. 3. This point was overruled by Chairman Nelson. A motion was then made to substitute the Democratic report for the report agreed on by the seven Republicans. This was voted down, five to seven, Representative Madison voting with the Democrats.

Democratic Program Not Decided. The reports were accepted by both houses without comment. The plan of action to be followed by the Democrats has not been determined, but it is said that a resolution will be presented to carry out the recommendation made by the secretary's removal. An effort undoubtedly will be made to put the house on record as its opinion of the majority report. Some of the Democratic house members favor demanding the consideration of the report at the first opportunity, following up their demand with an appeal from the decision of the chair, speaker Cannon rule them out of order.

In case the speaker permits the matter to take its course, it is held by parliamentarians that a resolution demanding a vote will be necessary. Such a resolution would have to go to some standing committee for a report. As no such committee would have the responsibility, the resolution probably would be pigeon-holed. The general feeling is that there will be no action on the report this session, which means not at all, for the report loses force with the expiration of the present congress in March.

The officials of the interior department declined to make any comment on the majority report. "I have no comment to make on the report of the committee," said Secretary Ballinger.

CHARGES UNCLE SAM WITH PERSECUTING MEXICAN REFUGES. Washington, Dec. 7.—Representative Wilson of Pennsylvania, will press the committee of the house for quick action on a resolution to investigate the charge that the Mexican government was using the judicial and state departments of this government in persecuting political refugees.

ONE-CENT LETTER POSTAGE PROPOSED BY TEXAS SOLON. Washington, Dec. 7.—A bill for the establishment of one-cent drop letter postage was introduced in the house today by Representative Shoup of Texas. It would take effect next July.

RIVERS AND HARBORS CONGRESS MEETS IN NATION'S CAPITAL. Washington, Dec. 7.—With the largest number of delegates known, the seventh annual gathering of the National Rivers and Harbors congress convened here today. The welcoming address of President Taft, the annual report of President Joseph E. Ransdell and addresses by Chairman Alexander of the house committee on rivers and harbors, J. A. Patton of Tennessee and D. E. Skinner of San Francisco were the features of the initial session. "There was a time when river navigation was greatly more important than now," said Mr. Taft. "The growth of the railroads and their entry into all sections of the country have diminished the importance of river navigation under existing conditions, and the problem which you have to solve is the union and co-operation of the railroads and rivers. Terminal difficulties with respect to river transportation are difficulties you will have to overcome before you solve the question."

WISCONSIN DEMOCRAT WINS SEAT IN CONGRESS BY A MARGIN OF 5 VOTES. Madison, Wis., Dec. 7.—The state board of canvassers today completed its investigation of the election of congressman in the Ninth district and issued a certificate of election to Thomas W. Knop, of Kewaunee, the Democratic candidate. The final returns give Knop a majority of five votes.

ARMY HEAD IN PHILIPPINES CONDEMNS ANTI-CANTEEN LAW. Washington, Dec. 7.—The anti-canteen law is condemned in the annual report of Major General Duval, commanding the United States troops in the Philippines. He says it is responsible for many of the offenses which cause the trial of soldiers by court martial.

WIRE SERVICE MEN GIVEN A HEARING. Commerce Law's Application to Telegraphs and Telephones Is Discussed at Washington. Washington, Dec. 7.—With a view of reaching a satisfactory determination of the application of the present interstate commerce act to telegraph and telephone companies, the interstate commerce commission today gave a hearing to officials of telegraph and telephone companies, which by the terms of the law are made common carriers.

The conference lasted three hours and was largely a presentation of academic views regarding the operation of the law. No conclusion was reached by the commission, Chairman Knapp announcing at the conclusion of the hearing that the committee would allow the officials until Jan. 1 to submit in writing a critical analysis of the law and their views as to its definite application. The officials of the telegraph and telephone companies conceded that the law was applicable to them, that they were prohibited from granting franchises, and that they were not permitted to give rebates or show discrimination in the transaction of business, but the majority of the companies maintained that the provision of the law requiring carriers to file with the commission their tariffs of charges did not apply to the telegraph and telephone companies. All expressed a willingness to file such tariffs if demanded by the commission. In substance, these were the views expressed by Ruhl Taggart, counsel for the Western Union and subsidiary companies; by Hunt Chubb, of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, and R. H. Overbaugh, of the Postal company.

M. Koenigsburg, representing a news association, urged that the commission give the law the broadest interpretation in its application to the telegraph and telephone companies. His interest, he said, was simply that of a large user of telephone and telegraph facilities. He urged that the companies be required to file not only their rates, but also their important contracts.

DEFAULTING TELLER ADMITS BIG THEFT

Longing to See Baby Born After His Flight Brings Walter A. Hall to Prison. New York, Dec. 7.—It was a longing to hold in his arms his baby which he had never seen that brought Walter A. Hall, a defaulting bank teller back to New York and to prison. He surrendered today, confessed the theft of $44,000 from the Herald Square branch of the Greenwich bank and was remanded for sentence. Hall, who is twenty-four years old, fled last July and wandered about Canada, betting on horse races. When he heard that a baby had arrived, his longing to see the child made the exile miserable. He sent $300 to his wife, who gave it to the bank. Later, he said, he sent $1,000 to her, but she told the police that she never received the money. Hall surrendered $15,000, which was all that he had left of the money taken.

LEPER WITH DECAYED FEET TRIES TO SMUGGLE HERSELF INTO THE UNITED STATES. El Paso, Tex., Dec. 7.—Marquette Barrows, a Mexican, afflicted with leprosy so that both feet are almost decayed, was discovered today, attempting to smuggle herself into the United States. She has been detained at the border.

WHITE HOUSE EXPLAINS WHY INVITATIONS FAILED TO REACH THE MEMBERS OF CONGRESS. Washington, Dec. 7.—The members of the house of representatives did not receive invitations to the reception for Miss Helen Taft given by President and Mrs. Taft last Thursday, and a statement in explanation was issued by the White House tonight. It says that it was thought best to send the cards to the Capitol, the local addresses being not definitely known. The invitations were promptly delivered, but those sent to the house postoffice in some way were overlooked.

ILLINOIS REPRESENTATIVE'S WIFE VICTIM OF APOPLEXY. Washington, Dec. 7.—Mary McDonald McKinney, wife of Congressman James McKinney, of Illinois, died at the Emergency hospital today. Mrs. McKinney was stricken with apoplexy last Thursday while walking in Pennsylvania avenue. She never regained consciousness from the time she was stricken. The deceased was born at New Concord, O., in 1855. She was married in 1878, but no children survive. The body will be shipped to Toledo for burial.

- BUTTON CAUSES BOY'S DEATH FROM STRANGULATION. Quincy, Ills., Dec. 7.—The four-year-old son of Frank H. Heing tried to swallow a small collar button while playing tonight, and died within a few minutes from strangulation.

CONCLUDE THE INQUIRY IN THE LORIMER CASE

Colleagues Appointed to Delve Into the Election of the Illinois Junior Senator Complete the Probe and Will Begin Preparing Their Report Immediately.

State Representative Wilson Is the Last Witness Examined and He Denies Absolutely the Testimony of Fellow Legislators That He Had Paid Them for Their Votes

Washington, Dec. 7.—Robert L. Wilson, state representative of Illinois, denied specifically today that he had given money or anything of value to any member of the Illinois general assembly, either to influence or to pay for a vote for William Lorimer for United States senator.

Wilson appeared before the senate sub-committee in response to a subpoena. He said he went to St. Louis in June, 1909, not to distribute money to the southern Illinois Democrats in return for their votes for Lorimer, but to arrange for a banquet in honor of Lee O'Neill Browne, the Democratic leader.

After cross-examination by A. S. Austrian, attorney for the Chicago Tribune, the witness was turned over to Judge Haney, counsel for Senator Lorimer. Charges of Other Legislators Refuted. "Did you give to White, Link, Beckmeier, Holslauer or any other member of the general assembly, money or anything else of value at any time, to vote for Senator Lorimer?" asked Judge Haney.

"Absolutely not," said Wilson. The witness gave a like answer to a question as to whether he had given anything as a reward for any vote that had been cast. Wilson, under the questions of Attorney Austrian, said that he did not seek member what had been said in the bathroom of the St. Louis hotel where he met Representative Shepard. He said he might have mentioned the proposed banquet, or might have asked about some other matter. The testimony of Link and Beckmeier, however, that he had given them packages, was not true, said the witness. A reference that Wilson made to alleged third degree methods used on the members of the sub-committee.

Why Not Present at Chicago. Wilson's absence from Chicago when the senate committee met there in September was a subject of sharp questioning by members of the committee. Wilson said he had not tried to evade the summons, or escape testifying. His health had been so broken, he said, that it was necessary for him to seek complete rest, and he had gone to Detroit, thence to St. Thomas and Toronto, and had spent most of his absence about Toronto.

"Did you leave any information with your family or your business associates as to where you might be found?" asked Senatorrazier. "No," said Wilson. "They were used to my going away without leaving an address. I wanted to be undisturbed."

The testimony of Representative Wilson included the examination to be held by the investigating committee. Senator Burrows, chairman of the committee, called an executive session of the sub-committee after the close of Wilson's examination and the committee will endeavor to formulate a report within two weeks.

CUSTOMS OFFICERS DETAIN JEWELS VALUED AT $20,000, OWNED BY MRS. SHONTS. New York, Dec. 7.—Jewelry said to be worth $20,000, the property of Mrs. Theodore P. Shonts of New York, wife of the president of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, was detained by the customs officers today when Mrs. Shonts returned from Europe. Mrs. Shonts did not declare the jewelry, explaining that she had obtained it in Paris in exchange for old jewels on which the duty was paid when they were originally imported. For that reason, she did not think the gems dutiable. The customs inspectors were in doubt, pending a decision, the jewels were removed to the appraiser's safe.

WRESTLER HACKENSCHMIDT DOWNS JESSE WESTERGAARD IN TWO STRAIGHT FALLS. Chicago, Dec. 7.—George Hackenschmidt defeated Jesse Westergaard of Iowa, in two straight falls here tonight. The first fall was in one hour, two minutes and fifteen seconds, with a double bar arm hold. The second fall was in eleven minutes and twenty seconds, with a reversed body hold. At no time did Hackenschmidt exert himself, except when he broke from several hammerlocks which the Iowan got. Hackenschmidt seemed to rely only on his strength. Several times Hackenschmidt attempted to throw his opponent over his head, but his grip gave way. Westergaard squeezed Hackenschmidt's head until the wrestler's strength made the Iowan release his hold. Westergaard rushed at Hackenschmidt seven or eight times and lifted him bodily and threw him to the mat. Hackenschmidt did not seem to extend himself at any stage.

GEORGE MOOR REGISTERS A NEW BILLIARD RECORD. New York, Dec. 7.—George Moor tonight broke the world's record for a high run at three-cushion billiards, making fifteen straight points, in losing to Tom Gallagher in a three-night handicap match, which was concluded. The former record was held by Frank Peterson at St. Louis in 1885.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Fifty thousand garment workers and sympathizers paraded the streets here today. The demonstration was orderly.

The Weather

Washington, Dec. 7.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Michigan: Fair, Thursday, colder in the east portion; Friday, fair.

JACK ABERNATHY, FRIEND OF TEDDY, RESIGNS HIS POST. Washington, Dec. 7.—Jack Abernathy, United States marshal for Oklahoma, an appointee of former President Roosevelt, resigned today and handed his resignation to Attorney General Wickesham. Charges have been preferred against the marshal, but he did not wait to hear what they were. They have not yet been published. There was a great crush of congressional callers, and the marshal was kept waiting all morning. Abernathy got tired of waiting, wrote out his resignation to Mr. Wickesham, secretary and stalked out. The marshal announced he was going to New York to see Mr. Roosevelt.

With Imposing Ceremonies, There Is Unveiled in Lafayette Square at Washington the Bronze Statue Erected in Memory of Baron F. Wm. Von Steuben of Prussia. Washington, Dec. 7.—Another statue erected in honor of a distinguished foreign soldier who helped bring success to American arms in the Revolution—that of Baron Frederick Wm. von Steuben of Prussia—was unveiled in Lafayette Square today, filling the last of the four corners in the park facing the White House. At the other three corners stand heroic bronze figures of Lafayette, Rochambeau and Kosciuszko.

German-Americans gathered from all parts of the country to participate in the imposing military and civic parade and in the unveiling ceremonies. President Taft paid a high tribute to Von Steuben for his work in bringing efficiency to American arms. Miss Helen Taft, the president's daughter, pulled the silken cord which released the American flags draped about the statue. Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador; Representative Richard Bartoldt, of St. Louis, and Charles Hexamer, president of the German-American Alliance, delivered addresses in which they recounted the services of Von Steuben. Secretary of War Dickenson presided.

Lafayette Park lay deep in snow, but over a brilliant winter sun was shining. An amphitheater of flag-draped stands had been erected about the statue, and from scores of staffs German and American flags were flying. Soldiers, sailors and marines were drawn up in the street adjacent to the square. President Taft's advent was heralded by a host of trumpets and he was escorted from the White House by a troop of cavalry.

As Miss Taft pulled the unveiling cord, a signal flashed to the Washington monument grounds was answered by the roar of a cannon salute. The crowd leading to the flag-draped stands caught and held their breath for some time and finally it broke. Several sailors rushed forward and soon carried the statue stood with heads bared while the "Star Spangled Banner" was played.

President Taft's Tribute. President Taft said: "Lafayette, Rochambeau, Kosciuszko and Von Steuben contributed much to the success of the American arms in the Revolution. The assistance of the first three perhaps was more conspicuous and spectacular than that of Von Steuben, but it was not so valuable. Baron Von Steuben came to this country, actuated by the highest motives of patriotism, to help us achieve our liberty, and he brought that which was without money and without price and which he infused into the rank and file of the Revolutionary army—discipline and organization."

"Von Steuben asked no reward except that if his services were satisfactory at the end of the war he should be recompensed for the sacrifices he had made in leaving his home and giving up a lucrative rank and office. Since his day, millions of his countrymen have come to be Americans, and it adds to our celebration and emphasizes the propriety of congress in erecting this statue to honor the German race has made so large a part of our population and has played so prominent a part in the growth and development of our country."

PERUVIAN GARRISON IS ATTACKED BY BOLIVIAN AND MANY CASUALTIES RESULT. Lima, Peru, Dec. 7.—According to dispatches here, Bolivian forces today attacked the Peruvian garrison at Guayaquil, on the Bolivian frontier. A sharp engagement ensued, and many Peruvians were killed or wounded. Peruvian troops have been rushed to the scene. The encounter may lead to a serious rupture.

Honduran Rebels Threaten Attack. Puerto Cotez, Honduras, Dec. 7.—In anticipation of a revolutionary attack, the city is entrenched and heavily garrisoned with government troops. The authorities are expecting an attack and many residents have gone across the border to the United States.

FOURTH'S DAY'S POLLING GIVES TORIES A GAIN OF FOUR SEATS. London, Dec. 7.—The standing of the parties at the close of today's polling follows: Government coalition—Liberals, 123; Irish Nationalists, 38; Laborites, 23; Total, 184.

Opposition—Unionists, 170. The Unionists gained six today, and lost two. The Unionists' total gains for the four days are eighteen, those of the Liberals eleven and those of the Laborites four.

REICHSTAG PASSES A BILL CREATING LABOR CHAMBERS. Berlin, Dec. 7.—The reichstag today passed the second reading of the bill establishing labor chambers composed equally of representatives of employers and laborers to settle labor questions and to fix regulations according to the industry. The reichstag voted an amendment making the secretaries of labor unions eligible for membership in the chambers, but Herr Delbrueck, minister for the interior, declared that the government would refuse to accept the bill in this form.

COUNT BONI A SUICIDE, ACCORDING TO A RUMOR CIRCULATED AT PARIS. Paris, Dec. 7.—Rumors are current tonight that a Frenchman, in aristocratic and political circles has committed suicide. The report associated the tragedy with the name of Count Boni De Castellane, but no reasons for this were forthcoming and no confirmation whatever could be obtained.

OHIO WIDOW WITH $40,000 IS DECLARED TO HAVE BEEN KILLED BY ROBBERS. Cleveland, O., Dec. 7.—The officers of Noble county, after an investigation, are positive tonight that Mrs. Mary Williams, a widow recluse, aged eighty-five, whose charred body was found in the ruins of her burned home near Kennetsburg, was murdered by robbers who fired the house after obtaining $40,000. Mrs. Williams always kept that amount of money in a iron strong box. For five years the widow had refused to have anything to do with her relatives.

NONE OF THE ESTATE LEFT TO RELATIVES. Mrs. Eddy's Will, However, Will Not Be Contested—Settlement Made in 1909. Boston, Dec. 7.—That Mrs. Mary Baker Glover Eddy, head of the Christian Science church, left none of her estate, estimated at two million dollars, to relatives, was gathered from a remark made tonight by Judge Clifford P. Smith, first reader of the Mother church, who said: "Mrs. Eddy's will it not to be read tomorrow, as it contains absolutely nothing which would be of interest to any member of her family."

Three years ago, at the time of the suit by her "next friends," Mrs. Eddy set aside a trust fund of $125,000 for the benefit of the three children of her son, George W. Glover of Lead, S. D., while later, in November, 1909, she made a complete settlement with her heirs, under the understanding, it was generally believed, that there should be no contest of her will. At this time, the trust fund was increased to $175,000 and a settlement was made on the heirs approximating $225,000. Since the death of Mrs. Eddy her son has said that he would not contest the will.

Judge Smith said that the coffin would not be opened during the services, it being preferred to remember Mrs. Eddy as in life.

ACCUSED GIRL'S STORY IS RECITED IN COURT. Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 7.—At today's session of the trial of Hattie Le Blanc, charged with the murder of Clarence Glover, testimony was given concerning statements alleged to have been made by Miss Le Blanc immediately following her arrest three days after the shooting. According to this testimony, the accused girl admitted that she was in the laundry with Glover on the fatal night, saw a revolver in Glover's hand, struggled with him when he assaulted her, heard a noise in the laundry like the rustle of a woman's skirt and which attracted Glover's attention, escaped from his clutches and then heard a shot fired. The testimony was given by Zella Gallant, who said that she interpreted the statements of the Le Blanc girl, made to the police in French.

Miss Gallant swore that Hattie said that she never shot Glover, that she did not know how to use a revolver, that she was angry with Glover for his conduct toward her, and that she had heard other people say that someone would shoot Glover. According to Miss Gallant, the prisoner did not know that Glover was shot or dead until after her arrest. She ran to Glover's house after escaping from the laundry, and remained three days without food, hiding under the bed where she finally was found.

Miss Gallant testified that Miss Le Blanc said that she went to the laundry by appointment with Glover, and that Hattie declared she believed Glover had shot himself, for he had a revolver in his hand when she last saw him. Judge Bond refused to admit that part of the stenographic report which referred to Glover's alleged dying statement that Hattie had shot him.

CENSUS OF TEXAS MAKES LONE STAR COMMONWEALTH FIFTH STATE OF THE UNION. Washington, Dec. 7.—The census bureau today announced state populations as follows: North Dakota, 577,056, an increase of 257,910 since 1900, or 80.8 per cent. The increase from 1890 to 1900 was 136,427, or 74.7 per cent.

Texas, 3,896,542, an increase of 847,832, or 27.8 per cent. The increase from 1890 to 1900 was 813,187, or 36.4 per cent. Texas, the largest state in area, made greater progress in increase of population during the last ten years than any other state that exceeds it in inhabitants and takes rank as the fifth state in population, passing Missouri, the York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio surpass Texas, while Missouri drops to seventh place having been passed by Massachusetts also. Texas' increase would give four new representatives in congress under the present ratio.

PRICES OF STOCKS MOVE IRREGULARLY AND THE NET CHANGES ARE UNIMPORTANT. New York, Dec. 7.—The prices moved irregularly in the stock market today, and while the net changes were unimportant the halting undertone reflected a condition born largely of an absence of investment demand. A heavy opening was followed by a smart rally, but before noon the list again was under pressure and the prices made new low records for the movement. In the later session all the lost ground was recovered, but the market then relapsed into extreme dullness, which continued to this end.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—With the government report today showing the largest average acreage ever sowed to winter wheat in the United States, the market here took a decided bend downward. The close was weak, at a net loss of 1/2 to 3/8, the May at 90 1/2.

CHASE OSBORN WANTS ONLY A SINGLE TERM

That He Will Not Be a Candidate for Re-election at the Expiration of His Two Years of Service Is the Announcement of the Governor-Elect.

He Favors Doubling the Tenure of the Gubernatorial Office, and He Believes His Attitude Will Help Procure That Legislation as Well as Other Reforms.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Dec. 7.—That he will not be a candidate for a second term is an announcement made by Governor-elect Chase S. Osborn that will take the breath of the politicians and cause the people of the state of Michigan a genuine surprise. Few, if any, of even Mr. Osborn's closest friends have had any intimation that he contemplated any such declaration, and that he is gratified that he would be given the customary second term and that his election last November settled the question of who would be the state's executive for four years to come, at least.

Mr. Osborn says that there is a chance that the legislature will consider a four-year term for governor, without the privilege of re-election, and he explains that he does not wish to hinder this reform, in which he believes, by the possibility that he, a two-year governor, might succeed to a second term of four years, which would cause some legislators to hesitate to support the change. He also says that he wants to persuade the legislature of the disinterestedness of his position, that he may the more readily secure its co-operation in carrying out the work that he is hopeful of accomplishing. His letter on the subject concludes with a declaration that his ambition is to serve the state faithfully and well for a term and then return to those private pursuits which he gave up a year ago to enter active politics.

Mr. Osborn's letter, which will give rise to a vast amount of comment and conjecture, is as follows: "I shall not be a candidate for governor for a second term. This conclusion has been reached after the consideration of several reasons. During the primary contest and subsequent party campaign I frequently made the statement that I was inspired to be a candidate more by a desire to do my duty as a citizen than by a mere ambition to be governor. When I made these declarations I was deeply convinced that my aim still in the same state of mind. "In my opinion it is desirable to change the term of governorship from two years to one term of four years. Should the legislature consider the submission of an amendment to the constitution to this end, I do not wish it to be hampered by the possibility of a two-year governor succeeding to a four-year term.

"Too frequently a first-term governor feels obliged to consider and cater to popularity and popular measures in order to insure a second term. This involves an access of political appointments, trading of patronage, coercion of legislators and other acts not conducive to efficient government. One of the evil results of this has been the practical assumption of a legislative power by the executive that never seems to have been contemplated by our state constitution.

Much Gubernatorial Timber. "I wish to confess to a desire to have any suggestions I may make to the legislature or any official acts I may perform removed as far as possible from the slightest intimation that there has been any consideration of future personal or political advantage. By making a one-term declaration at this time I frankly hope to insure that credit for sincerity which naturally attaches to disinterest. The Republican party of Michigan is rich in gubernatorial material of the best character and there can be no embarrassment to either state or party in my decision to accept but one term.

"It may be fair to state that a personal work to which I had hoped to devote my life was entirely interrupted by my injection into state politics at this time. My ambition is to serve the state faithfully for one term and then return to the pursuits of a private citizen, in which capacity one should easily be able to accomplish honor, happiness and rational contentment.

Does Escanaba still remain a moral city?

Will the "Horn Maintenance and Relief Corps" come to the scratch, or will Sheriff Lehman get a new boarder?

The Liberals are finding things in Britain even more to their liking than they expected to. Just like the Democrats last November.

There's barely two weeks of shopping days before Christmas. It's high time to begin that Christmas buying you have already begun to put off.

Menominee has lost one of its breweries. But the Menominee populace need not be alarmed. There will be a quick response from outside to assure that there will be no bad consequences.

There are over ninety members of the "Lame duck" club in the house alone. It requires no imagination to be able to see that the president's time is pretty well taken up in the intervals that he can spare from pressing executive duties.

There is a disposition on the part of even the most unrelenting of the regulars to allow President Taft to have his way about his recommendation favoring a permanent tariff commission. Doubtless they reflect that, after all, it is principally his funeral.

"Salome" is under the ban of Archbishop Messmer, of the Catholic church, at Milwaukee, but so far the chief of police has not interdicted its appearance, and until the chief is heard from to the contrary "Salome" is sure of at least one presentation before a Milwaukee audience.

The Sacramento, Cal. Union says that Duncan E. McKinlay will become assistant postmaster general next spring, when his term expires. Here's one lame duck whose name can be struck from the list of those who are in need of first aid for the injured.

President Taft has been approached by Vice President Sherman and evidently they have agreed, or Sherman has agreed, to let bygone be bygone. Doubtless the president wants Sherman to be able to look back with pleasure to the last two years of his stay in the national capital.

Our Democratic friends say that when they frame the appropriations bills in the next session of the house the country will look in vain for any allowances for chug wagons for the vice president and the speaker. The Democrats are fully determined to make at least this concession to democratic simplicity.

The English elections are spread over a great deal of time but usually it is possible to predict soon after they start how they are going to come out. Thus it is with the present one. The Liberals have already begun to celebrate their victory and the Unionists are reconciled to their defeat, because they are surely dished and they figure that they may as well be philosophical about it. At the present rate of progress the Liberal coalition will be better off in the next parliament than it was in the one recently prorogued.

Port Huron has held its first election under a commission plan of government. It has elected a mayor and four commissioners. Each of the latter will have charge of an important city department and the work will be as evenly divided between them as is practicable. The commissioners will give their entire time to city business. The people showed the greatest interest in the election, practically the entire enrolled vote of the city going to the polls, and all the men entrusted with office are all representative and able citizens, under whom the new system of government can well be expected to make a good showing.

Michigan is taken pretty good care of in the appropriations asked by the treasury department for the carrying on of rivers and harbor improvements. All its worthy projects are well provided for and the aggregate of appropriations asked for this state is several millions of dollars. It is a different story, however, when it comes to surveying the public buildings appropriations. Here Michigan has been pretty thoroughly overlooked. Out of the $12,000,000 estimated for this purpose only $25,000 is carried for Michigan projects, the items being $15,000 for the site and completion of a building at Hillsdale and $10,000 for the completion of a building at Pontiac. Other communities that are looking for government buildings may as well resign themselves to the necessity for a considerable wait.

In response to an invitation to a conference Senator La Follette has sent a note to the president's secretary. The senator himself may follow the note a little later. Then again he may not. Senator La Follette is perhaps the most independent of the Washington statesmen, and a good waiter. Many things have come his way just because he has waited for 'em. There's the presidential recommendation of a valuation of the physical property of the railroads, for instance. When La Follette first proposed this procedure there was a practically unanimous cry of "out mit him!"

A reference in a signed article by Roger M. Andrews, published in the Menominee Herald-Leader, intimates that Mr. Andrews may dispose of his publishing interests at Menominee and leave the upper peninsula. His plans for the future are said to be indefinite, but his friends will regret to learn that there is any likelihood of his leaving the newspaper field in this part of the state, as he has been a strong factor in it and a Menominee man who has done much for his town, which he has boosted to good effect in and of season. Mr. Andrews is a great believer in a new upper peninsula, an upper peninsula in which mining and lumbering will no longer be the predominant industries, but one in which farming and fruit raising and other kindred pursuits will have an important place. He has done his level best to hasten this development, and if the results of his work are not yet to be plainly seen it is not because of lack of energy on his part, but because of the great lethargy of the upper peninsula when it comes to moving out of the beaten track. There is everywhere a willingness to talk about the systematic exploitation of the upper peninsula's resources outside of lumber and ores, but when it comes to settling down to action everyone seems to take to the tail. If Mr. Andrews leaves Menominee, and The Mining Journal hopes that nothing of the kind will happen, that city and the upper peninsula will lose a tireless boomer, and the newspaper fraternity of the region a man who has been a vital force in the affairs of his city and his district.

The question of who the new justices of the supreme court will be is one of the most vital of the various matters now under consideration at Washington. It is one that is giving President Taft great concern, and in regard to which he is seeking counsel from all the party leaders, particularly from the progressives. These gentlemen very frankly say that unless they are satisfied that the men who are designated for the supreme bench are men free of the corruption "spirit" they will resist the confirmation by the senate of the appointments to the extent of their powers. Such a thing would greatly widen the breach in the party and would create a situation inimical to the interests of President Taft, so he will exercise all due care to choose prospective judges against whom no legitimate criticism can be raised; knowing full well, from his personal experience with them, that the progressive senators are men true to their convictions and strong enough to speak right out in meeting, if they believe it to be their duty, no matter who the sufferer is. The willingness of the president to accept counsel from all directions, his apparent information as to the true lay of the ground and the added significance, in the light of the recent elections, that is to be attached to the views of the progressives, warrant a hope that judicial appointments will be made that will recommend themselves to the calm judgment of all factions and that the president will be able to obtain a unanimous party vote for confirmation of the men on whom his choice falls.

Concerning the wisdom of the proposed merger of the Calumet & Arizona and the Superior & Pittsburg mining companies there can be little or no difference of opinion. The matter has been threshed over time and again and the decision invariably reached by persons who have given intelligent consideration to it has been that a consolidation should be arranged. The one company has a smelting plant and abundant working capital, but is handicapped by circumscribed territory and reserves. The other company has much territory and extensive reserves, but is shy on cash and has no direct interest in a smelter. Both companies are located in the same territory and own contiguous land, so that it should and doubtless would be possible to effect by means of a consolidation great operating economies. There are no end of excellent reasons why a consolidation should be effected and a comparative lack of good arguments against one. The debate that the proposed consolidation will give rise to, therefore, will be one over terms rather than over the desirability of the thing proposed. And if the same experience is had as has been had in regard to practically every other consolidation that has ever been put through there will be a merry war over the terms. This is the rock on which many proposed consolidations split. We will have to wait some time before we can know how the plan proposed in the present instance will strike the parties in interest. There will probably be enough diversity of opinion about its merits to satisfy the most exacting taste.

Judge Flannigan continues to show that he is an uncompromising upholder of the principle that the liquor statute was written into the laws of Michigan not to be trifled with, but to be rigorously enforced, both by the police and by the men honored by places on the circuit bench. He deals with particular severity with violations that have their origin in restaurants and other resorts that are not licensed by the state to engage in the selling of liquor, a traffic that he particularly abhors. Yesterday he fined Thomas Horn, who has been furnishing most of Marquette's police record the past few months, $200, with the alternative of ninety days in jail, for the offense of selling liquor without a license. His attitude toward Horn was not made any the less harsh by reason of the fact that the offense to which he pleaded guilty was committed at a time when he was bound over to circuit court for a similar offense committed at an earlier date. Horn is the second restaurant keeper here that Judge Flannigan has handled with much severity, and he now has probably succeeded in convincing this class of offenders that they cannot expect to do an unlicensed saloon business without taking big chances of incurring about the stiffest penalty the law provides for the offense. The saloon men in this county of Judge Flannigan's circuit have become thoroughly satisfied that he means to enforce the law.

The Important Problem

confronting anyone in need of a laxative is not a question of a single action only, but of permanently beneficial effects, which will follow proper efforts to live in a healthful way, with the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, whenever it is required, as it cleanses the system gently yet promptly, without irritation and will therefore always have the preference of all who wish the best of family laxatives.

The combination has the approval of physicians because it is known to be truly beneficial, and because it has given satisfaction to the millions of well-informed families who have used it for many years past.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

even if he has to resort to the extreme of the powers placed in his hands to do so, and they have been governing themselves accordingly. The restaurant keepers will probably now wake up to a realization of where their interests and safety lie, and give up the idea they have apparently had that they were, somehow, entitled to give the saloon men illegal competition.

$5,000,000 FRAUDS.

According to the announcement of Collector Loeb, of the port of New York, the sum involved in the frauds perpetrated by Duveen Bros., the art merchants of New York, London and Paris, whose New York establishment was recently raided by agents of the treasury department for evidence of the alleged frauds, is $5,000,000. Duveen Bros. tacitly admitted their guilt by opening up negotiations for a settlement of the cases, on the basis of a cash payment that will approximate the amount they swindled the government out of by false valuations placed on their art importations.

One of the conditions the Duveens are solicitous about is an agreement on the part of the government that the settlement will let them off from criminal prosecutions for violations of the federal statutes. They have noted the number of once prominent and wealthy men who have lately gone to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., and have no desire to renew any of their former acquaintanceships there.

There is no word as to whether the treasury department will settle with the Duveens on these terms, but it is not probable that it will agree to any abridgment of its right to prosecute under a federal criminal statute simply to get a money settlement. If its evidence is good against the Duveens it can obtain, by civil action, a large share of the duties that have been improperly withheld from it, without making any concessions, and there is said to be no lack of evidence of a kind that make prosecutors smile in anticipation of speedy convictions.

Collector Loeb believes that the frauds of the Duveens have extended over the past twenty years and have covered practically every art object that they have imported during that period. If the collector maintains the attitude he has preserved with regard to other cases of the same class they will be the recipients of no special favors.

SCHOOL TO HAVE A SAVINGS BANK

Houghton Board of Education Adopts the Scheme—Children Will Be the Depositors.

The Houghton school board, or rather the board of education of Portage township, has decided to adopt and put in operation at once the plan of conducting school savings banks. The scheme is not a new one in Michigan, but it has a unique feature here, in that the bank is to be conducted as a part of the work of the central school commercial department. The older pupils of the department will have charge of the books of the bank and the accounts will be carried through the work of the department. This gives to the commercial department an added course in banking and it centralizes the work of the school bank.

The deposits of the pupils will be made in the county treasury. At the end of each week the accumulated deposits will be banked by the superintendent of schools in a separate account of F. W. Stoye, treasurer of the school district. It will be deposited alternately with the Houghton National bank and the Citizens' National bank. Superintendent Doelle has prepared a set of rules, approved by the school board, governing savings deposits in the savings department of the schools. These rules follow:

Deposits.
Savings deposits of one cent and upward will be received.
Deposits when made must be entered in the depositor's passbook. Withdrawals must be made personally, and no deposit or portion of a deposit will be returned except upon the return of the depositor's passbook, and a withdrawal check signed by the depositor and the parent or guardian thereof.
The department shall be at liberty to return at any time to any depositor any part or the whole of the amount deposited with the department for which the depositor may have credit. Notice to this effect to be served personally or through the postoffice, directed to the address of the depositor named on the books of the department. Interest shall cease from the date of such notice.

Interest.
Interest will be allowed on all sums of $1 or over that have been on deposit with the department for three months previous to the interest days, which days shall be the first days of June and December. The interest rate shall be the regular banking rate of 3 per cent provided that if the regular banking rate should change the department reserves the right to change the rate of interest allowed to conform with the regular banking rate.

Withdrawals.
The department reserves the right to require the regular sixty days' notice in writing for any money to be withdrawn and on the payment of any money to the depositor the depositor shall sign a withdrawal check which check shall also be signed by a parent or guardian of the depositor.

When the whole amount of deposit is withdrawn the passbook shall remain with the department. In case of the loss of a book, proof thereof may be given to the satisfaction of the managers of the department and a written discharge will be required on the payment of the deposit.

If a book is lost or stolen notice should be made immediately to the department.

Change of Rules.
The board of education acting as the trustees of this department reserves the right to make new rules or change such rules as now exist, when in their judgment such change seems necessary. All such changes shall be equally binding on all depositors after due notice of such change shall be given. Due notice shall consist of notices of the change being posted in conspicuous places in the different school buildings.

School Board Session.
The decision to establish a school savings bank was made by the school board at a session Tuesday evening. Considerable other business was transacted. Superintendent Doelle reported that the total attendance for this year is 1,964 so far, an increase of 224 over the same period last year. The actual attendance has not shown such an increase, however, owing to illness. The superintendent also reported that eight bags of clothing had been sent to poor pupils in the Otter Lake district.

Concerning the recent order that the national flag should be displayed on all school buildings in the township, Superintendent Doelle reported a general observance of the rule. At Otter Lake the school is in a rented building, but the owners very patriotically put up a new flag pole.

The board ordered that several of the school rooms be tinted during the Christmas vacation. Minor repairs also were authorized.

A report was received from Miss Where, librarian of the Houghton public library. The library realized $85 at the recent rug and pottery exhibit. The report shows that the number of borrowers at the library has increased steadily.

Superintendent Doelle informed the board that the library has been a great aid to the schools. The reading of the pupils may now be closely checked from the library records and also systematic courses of reading for the pupils of the various grades may be marked out.

SUPERVISORS NEXT TUESDAY.
Applications for Game Warden Recommendation—Officers' Bonds.

The regular December meeting of the Houghton county board of supervisors will be held next Tuesday morning. At this meeting the board has to make recommendations for the appointment of a county game warden, the state game warden being the man who makes the actual appointment. Game Warden Wilson is again a candidate and there are two other applications on file in the county clerk's office.

The bonds of the county officers-elect will be approved. It is probable that the committee having in charge the selection of a site for the proposed tuberculosis sanatorium will report again at this meeting. At the last session the committee made a tentative report on sites, but did not recommend any one in particular.

LOOKS INTO MATTER OF CHILD LABOR

State Special Agent Investigates Conditions in Copper and Explains the Law.

Frank A. Shuart, special agent in charge of the Michigan department of labor, visited the copper country this week to enter with the superintendents of schools on the enforcement of the child labor law in the district. The law affects the employment of children between the ages of fourteen and sixteen, upon whom may be employed unless they have a permit from the superintendent of schools.

The parents or guardian of the child must make application in writing to the superintendent of schools, when it is desired that the child be permitted to labor. This application must depend upon a statement of the child in simple English sentences and has a knowledge of the simple branches, and that the labor of the child is essential to the support of itself or the parents.

Mr. Shuart has returned to Lansing, after providing the superintendents with the proper blanks in connection with the law. He will be in the copper country here another inspector to investigate the manner in which the law is being obeyed. The superintendents advise all parents of children between the ages of fourteen and sixteen who are employed to fill out the necessary blanks truthfully and to the best of their knowledge. The provisions of the law is here printed.

Section 9.—No male under the age of eighteen years, and no female, shall be employed in any factory, mill, warehouse, workshop, clothing, dressmaking or millinery establishment or any place where the manufacture of any kind of goods is carried on, or where any goods are prepared for manufacturing, or in any laundry, store, shop, or any other mercantile establishment, for a period longer than an average of nine hours a day or fifty-four hours in any week not more than ten hours in any one day. Provided, however, That the provisions of this section in relation to the hours of employment shall not apply to any person engaged in preserving perishable goods in fruit and canning establishments. No female under the age of sixteen years shall be employed in any manufacturing establishment or workshop, mine, or messenger service in this state between the hours of six p. m. and six o'clock a. m., except as a messenger for a telephone or a telephone company or in the employ of the postal service of the United States.

Section 10.—No child under the age of twenty-one years shall be employed, permitted, or suffered to work in any theater, concert hall or place of amusements where intoxicating liquors are sold. No child under fourteen years of age shall be employed, permitted or suffered to work in or in connection with any mercantile establishment, store, office, hotel, laundry, manufacturing establishment, mine, bowling alley, theater, workshop, telegraph or messenger service or any person coming within the provisions of this act to keep a register in which will be recorded the name, birth place, age, and place of residence of every person employed under the age of sixteen years and it shall be unlawful for any such establishment or person to hire or employ any child under the age of sixteen years without there is first provided and placed in the business office thereof a permit issued by the superintendent of schools of the school district in which such child resides, or some one duly authorized by him in writing or by the person in charge of any state employment bureau, each of whom shall have power to administer oaths in relation thereto, or by the probate judge of the county or the judge of the juvenile court of the city wherein such child resides. The person authorized to issue such permit shall not issue the same until he has received, examined, approved and filed the following papers, duly executed: The school report of said child duly and properly filled out. A passport or duly attested transcript of the record of birth. A statement by the issuing officer that he has examined said child, that in his opinion the child can read intelligently and write legibly simple sentences in the English language, that in his opinion the child is fourteen years of age or upwards, and has reached the normal development of a child of its age and is sound in health and physically able to perform the work which it intends to do, and that in his opinion the services of the child are essential to the support of itself or its parents. The record required by this article shall be signed by the principal or chief executive officer of the school which such child has attended. It shall contain a statement certifying that the child has regularly attended the public school or schools equivalent thereto, or attended schools for not less than one hundred days during the school year previous to applying for such school record, and is able to read intelligently and write legibly simple sentences in the English language, and has received during such period instructions in reading, writing, spelling, English grammar and geography, and is familiar with the fundamental operations of arithmetic up to and including elementary operations in fractions. Any person who shall make a false statement in these various proceedings shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Section 11.—No female under the age of twenty-one years and no male under the age of eighteen years shall be allowed to operate any machinery while in motion, nor employed in or about any distillery, brewery, or any other establishment where malt or alcoholic liquors are manufactured, packed, wrapped, or bottled or in any other employment which may be considered dangerous to their lives or limbs or where their health may be injured by the fact that they are employed in any employment to remain standing constantly.

Section 12.—No child under the age of twenty-one years and no male under the age of eighteen years shall be allowed to operate any machinery while in motion, nor employed in or about any distillery, brewery, or any other establishment where malt or alcoholic liquors are manufactured, packed, wrapped, or bottled or in any other employment which may be considered dangerous to their lives or limbs or where their health may be injured by the fact that they are employed in any employment to remain standing constantly.

Section 13.—No child under the age of twenty-one years and no male under the age of eighteen years shall be allowed to operate any machinery while in motion, nor employed in or about any distillery, brewery, or any other establishment where malt or alcoholic liquors are manufactured, packed, wrapped, or bottled or in any other employment which may be considered dangerous to their lives or limbs or where their health may be injured by the fact that they are employed in any employment to remain standing constantly.

Section 14.—No child under the age of twenty-one years and no male under the age of eighteen years shall be allowed to operate any machinery while in motion, nor employed in or about any distillery, brewery, or any other establishment where malt or alcoholic liquors are manufactured, packed, wrapped, or bottled or in any other employment which may be considered dangerous to their lives or limbs or where their health may be injured by the fact that they are employed in any employment to remain standing constantly.

Section 15.—No child under the age of twenty-one years and no male under the age of eighteen years shall be allowed to operate any machinery while in motion, nor employed in or about any distillery, brewery, or any other establishment where malt or alcoholic liquors are manufactured, packed, wrapped, or bottled or in any other employment which may be considered dangerous to their lives or limbs or where their health may be injured by the fact that they are employed in any employment to remain standing constantly.

Section 16.—No child under the age of twenty-one years and no male under the age of eighteen years shall be allowed to operate any machinery while in motion, nor employed in or about any distillery, brewery, or any other establishment where malt or alcoholic liquors are manufactured, packed, wrapped, or bottled or in any other employment which may be considered dangerous to their lives or limbs or where their health may be injured by the fact that they are employed in any employment to remain standing constantly.

Section 17.—No child under the age of twenty-one years and no male under the age of eighteen years shall be allowed to operate any machinery while in motion, nor employed in or about any distillery, brewery, or any other establishment where malt or alcoholic liquors are manufactured, packed, wrapped, or bottled or in any other employment which may be considered dangerous to their lives or limbs or where their health may be injured by the fact that they are employed in any employment to remain standing constantly.

Section 18.—No child under the age of twenty-one years and no male under the age of eighteen years shall be allowed to operate any machinery while in motion, nor employed in or about any distillery, brewery, or any other establishment where malt or alcoholic liquors are manufactured, packed, wrapped, or bottled or in any other employment which may be considered dangerous to their lives or limbs or where their health may be injured by the fact that they are employed in any employment to remain standing constantly.

Section 19.—No child under the age of twenty-one years and no male under the age of eighteen years shall be allowed to operate any machinery while in motion, nor employed in or about any distillery, brewery, or any other establishment where malt or alcoholic liquors are manufactured, packed, wrapped, or bottled or in any other employment which may be considered dangerous to their lives or limbs or where their health may be injured by the fact that they are employed in any employment to remain standing constantly.

WALL STREET STOCKS.
New York, Dec. 7.—Although considerable liquidation was conducted today, the selling did not appear to be as urgent as heretofore, and in addition some support was noticeable in various quarters. Taken as a whole, the trading was mostly professional. The list displayed considerable strength in the last hour and towards the close became quite buoyant, with shorts retreating rapidly. The sentiment generally still appears to be agitated from Calumet to Lake Linden. The news from Washington was of a mixed character. We don't feel that the upturns are likely to be pronounced or sustained, and would prefer to assume a trading attitude, until it is apparent that urgent liquidation has fully run its course. Today's closing prices were as follows:

Boston Coppers.
Boston, Dec. 7.—The heavy liquidation yesterday seemed to be over today. During the early hour the bears tried out any long stock and toward the close a covering movement set in which advanced the whole list a few points. In the local market Calumet and Arizona was weak on account of the deal made with Superior & Pittsburg. There was little support to Lake and North Butte, but the reaction did not extend far and at the close the buying of both was good. East Butte is the wonder of the traders, very little stock coming out and aggressive buying appearing every time the market turns strong. Hancock rallied from 21 to 22, with no sales between, and should be picked up every time it is weak as the buyers are sure that it can easily have a four or five-point rally when the market turns. Closing prices today were as follows:

MICHIGAN VITAL STATISTICS.
The Michigan Bulletin of Vital Statistics covering the data for the month of October was received yesterday. For the upper peninsula, the copper country counties and the city of Hancock the data are as follows:
Upper peninsula—Births 264, deaths 373, violence deaths 40.
Baraga county—Births 7, deaths 5, violence 4.
Houghton county—Births 190, deaths 103, violence 8.
Keweenaw county—Births 24, deaths 11, violence 1.
Ontonagon county—Births 13, deaths 13, violence 1.
City of Hancock—Births, 18 deaths 17.

TRAVELING MEN ARE FREED.

Will Not Be Prosecuted for Voting at Red Jacket Illegally.

Harry Rose of Cleveland and Peter Fitzgerald of Minneapolis, charged with illegally voting at the Red Jacket special election Nov. 28, were yesterday morning discharged from custody by Justice Jackola. The men were discharged on the motion of Prosecuting Attorney MacDonell, who took occasion to lecture them for their action. There was no question of their having intended to vote fraudulently, but as the election was not legally called it was considered they had violated no law and the prosecuting attorney did not care to prosecute further. He had kept them in suspense for more than a week and considered them sufficiently punished. Justice Jackola also gave the two defendants a severe lecture.

Peter Fitzgerald, after the proceedings had closed, admitted to the court that he realized the seriousness of his action at the time, but he had promised to vote in the election and had made incriminating statements as to his residence previously to voting and he had full knowledge of the fact that he was doing wrong. The act was aggravated by the fact that he and Rose swore their votes in, not having registered. They swore they were legal residents, but were ill on registration day.

Traveling men generally are pleased with the outcome of the case. They realized that Rose and Fitzgerald had acted illegally, but had done so through a mistaken idea of good fellowship and

LAND COMPANY ELECTION.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Hancock Land and Improvement company, which owns a township in West Hancock, was held in the Calumet State bank Tuesday evening. Edward Liseth, Thos. SANDWICH—Although soft coal is mined all around Saginaw, and is marketed without payment of freight the price of $4 per ton was boosted to $4.50. The same coal can be bought at nearly all points 100 miles from here a dollar cheaper.

LANSING.—The state board of auditors has decided to purchase twelve new drinking fountains for the capitol building and they will be installed before the opening of the legislature. The new style fountains will cost $30 each and will be a considerable improvement over the ones that have been in use for the last twenty years.

LANSING.—Secretary F. W. Shumway of the state board of health stated that the quarantine of the state home for the feeble-minded at Lapeer will not be raised until after the holidays. "The epidemic seems to be under control there," said Dr. Shumway, "but if we took away to Lake and North Butte, but the reaction did not extend far and at the close the buying of both was good. LANSING.—Governor Warner has commenced work on his final message to the legislature. It is safe to say that it will be one of the most interesting of the several messages he has sent to the legislature. Friends of the governor are desirous that he devote some space in the message to a statement of some of the changes, reforms and improvements brought about during his three terms. They urge that it is proper for him to review to a certain extent these matters, so that the incoming legislature may know something of the condition of the state. They point to the many pieces of constructive legislation incorporated in the state's government policy during the time he has been chief executive, and are anxious they be noted in the message, that the legislature have the opportunity to scan the matters included and obtain an idea of the policies upon which he has been working. It is expected he will urge a continuation of the binder twine plant at the Jackson prison, and that he have something to say relative to the present system of management of state institutions. He has devoted considerable time to the matter of devising a system of employment for convicts in state prisons, serving as a member of the commission named by the legislature to present to the incoming body a plan of the present system of management of state institutions. PONTIAC.—Stating that he had received a threatening letter himself, Judge Smith in the circuit court sentenced Frank Osborne to Iowa reformatory for six months to two years. Osborne and Ben Campbell tried to extort $10,000 from Mrs. H. G. Ward by threatening to dynamite her home. If she refused to comply with their demands Campbell is already serving a twenty-five year term at Jackson, and Osborne's sentence was deferred from the last term of court to enable the young man to adjust his affairs. His wife, to whom he was married just prior to his arrest, became hysterical when sentence was pronounced and was led sobbing from the court room.

LANSING.—The row in Grange circles that has been stirred up by the expulsion of J. W. Helme of Adrian, by the National Grange, may not be considered by the State Grange, which meets at Traverse City next week. State Master N. P. Hull said there is no telling what the State Grange will take up, but he expressed the belief that inasmuch as Mr. Helme had already been expelled from the sixth degree, which is the degree of the state organization, there was nothing to be done by the state body. The next step in the matter will be the presentation of charges by a committee of the National Grange to the subordinate and prominent Grange in Lenawee county where Mr. Helme has his membership, and if the matter is considered at all by the State Grange it will be in the nature of an appeal from the decision of the subordinate and Pomona Granges.

A Poor Weak Woman

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been the consulting physician of the Leavitt Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG.

SICK WOMEN WELL.

The many and varied symptoms of women's peculiar ailments are fully set forth in Plain English in the People's Medical Adviser (1008 pages), a newly revised and up-to-date Edition of which, cloth-bound, will be mailed free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only.  the Ancient Order of the Mystic Shrine.
 Two sessions were held, one in the afternoon and another in the evening. At the afternoon session the annual election of officers took place, and resulted as follows:

Illustrious Potentate—Harry T. Emerson, Menominee.
 Chief Kabbab—F. M. Moore, Mar-
 quette.
 Assistant Chief Kabbab—E. L. Pearce,
 Marquette.
 High Priest and Propriet—T. M. Wells,
 Negaunee.
 Oriental Guide—A. J. Young, Escanaba.
 Treasurer—W. B. McCombs, Marquette.

 quette.

Delegates to Imperial Council—H. T.
 Emerson, C. D. Hanchette, George A.
 Boyd and T. M. Wells; alternates, M.
 B. Melice and George Blank.

At the evening session eleven candidates vended their weary way across the burning sands into the oasis of Ahmed temple, the novitiates being: A.
 E. Healy, Iron River; J. A. Cruse, Calu-
 met; Daniel Eliassoff, Sault Ste. Marie;
 James T. Ashton, Calumet; Carl Ryd-
 holm, Marquette; W. L. Mason, L'Anse-
 au-Loup; A. A. Strahl, Cornell; James E. Field,
 Sault Ste. Marie; A. E. Anderson, Marquette; Chas. J. Brink, Pequaunung; F.
 W. Good, Escanaba.

After the initiation ceremonies a short
 but very entertaining vaudeville program was given by the Gostards, who have been playing at the Bijou theater this week. The Shriners all declare the team to be a winner. A fine banquet closed the festivities.

Shriners of Upper Peninsula Gathered in Marquette Yesterday for Winter Meeting.

Shriners to the number of about 200 from all parts of the upper peninsula made their semi-annual pilgrimage to Marquette yesterday to attend the winter meeting of Ahmed temple. Nobles of the Ancient Order of the Mystic Shrine.
 Two sessions were held, one in the afternoon and another in the evening. At the afternoon session the annual election of officers took place, and resulted as
 follows:

Illustrious Potentate—Harry T. Emerson, Menominee.
 Chief Kabbab—F. M. Moore, Mar-
 quette.
 Assistant Chief Kabbab—E. L. Pearce,
 Marquette.
 High Priest and Propriet—T. M. Wells,
 Negaunee.
 Oriental Guide—A. J. Young, Escanaba.
 Treasurer—W. B. McCombs, Mar-
 quette.
 Recorder—E. W. MacPherran, Marquette.

Delegates to Imperial Council—H. T.
 Emerson, C. D. Hanchette, George A.
 Boyd and T. M. Wells; alternates, M.
 B. Melice and George Blank.

At the evening session eleven candidates vended their weary way across the burning sands into the oasis of Ahmed temple, the novitiates being: A.
 E. Healy, Iron River; J. A. Cruse, Calu-
 met; Daniel Eliassoff, Sault Ste. Marie;
 James T. Ashton, Calumet; Carl Ryd-
 holm, Marquette; W. L. Mason, L'Anse-
 au-Loup; A. A. Strahl, Cornell; James E. Field,
 Sault Ste. Marie; A. E. Anderson, Marquette; Chas. J. Brink, Pequaunung; F.
 W. Good, Escanaba.

After the initiation ceremonies a short
 but very entertaining vaudeville program
 was given by the Gostards, who have been playing at the Bijou theater this week. The Shriners all declare the team to be a winner. A fine banquet
 closed the festivities.

SAVED FROM AWFUL DEATH.

How an appalling calamity in his family was prevented is told by A. D.

 he writes, "she was very thin and pale,
 had no appetite and seemed to grow weaker every day, as all remedies failed, until Dr. King's New Discovery was tried, and so completely cured her, that she has not been troubled with a cough since. It's the best medicine I ever saw or heard of." For coughs, colds, la-

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING.

Will Be Held Week from Tonight at the Marquette Club.

President Jopling has made arrangements for holding a meeting of the Commercial club at the Marquette club a week from tonight, in conjunction with a house night of the club. It is expected that the meeting will be the occasion of a general discussion of the question of engaging a secretary who shall take charge of the club's activities, it being the general opinion that if the club is going to get the results its constitution says it is organized for the work will have to be put in the hands of some experienced man who will devote all his time to it. Carl L. Zimmerman, who has had experience in this work, and who would be willing to take it up in Marquette if suitable arrangements could be made, will be present to discuss the subject, and give the members such information as they desire in regard to it. W. P. Belden, of Ishpeming, has also accepted an invitation to deliver an address, on a subject of interest in the connection. The committee recently appointed to look into the upper peninsula fair project will, it is hoped, be able to make a report. Some correspondence has been conducted in regard to it. All the members of the club will be urged to be present. Cards of invitation will be sent out to the membership early next week. A lunch will be served in connection with the meeting.

THINKS ISHPEMING IN PROHIBITED DISTRICT

Rev. C. H. Rutledge, Temperance Advocate, Is Looking Into Indian Treaty Matters.

Rev. C. H. Rutledge, who has returned from a visit to the Menominee range, is busy looking up information about the Indian treaty, the enforcement of which by the United States government has resulted in the closing of many saloons in Northern Minnesota.

Mr. Rutledge said yesterday that he believes the territory included in the treaty embraces the greater part, if not all, of the upper peninsula. If he finds this to be the case he will ask the government officials to enforce the agreement made with the Indians.

"I expect to secure a copy of the treaty tonight or tomorrow," said Mr. Rutledge, "and if I believe, included in the prohibited territory, I will take up the matter with the federal officials. The towns in both of the iron and copper districts, as well as Sault Ste. Marie and vicinity, are, I believe, included in the prohibited territory. As I understand the matter the treaty, which became effective in 1858, included the Chippewa Indians, located in the upper peninsula. There are a few copies of the treaty in Ishpeming and I am now endeavoring to secure one of them. There are three reservations in this part of the peninsula, at Brimley, Wetmore and L'Anse.

"I have been informed that real estate men who have recently been buying up lands in the upper peninsula have not been able to secure the tracts that they desired on account of the Indian treaty. If the law applies to the sale of lands, I feel positive that it also applies to the sale of liquor within the area. I was informed today that Marquette, Munising and Ishpeming are included in the prohibited territory, but not Negaunee. Marquette, as I understand it, is not far enough from Wetmore to escape the law, while Ishpeming, Champion, Michigan and Republic will come in the L'Anse territory.

"I have been told that as a result of the Indian treaty in Minnesota, 2,000,000 people of that state reside will be wiped out, leaving only about 300,000 people in wet territory. The saloon keepers of Northern Minnesota are themselves to blame for being put out of business, as Ballinger told them some time ago that if they did not stop selling liquor to Indians he would close up all the saloons. They paid no attention to his warnings and now they are being put out of business on short notice without even having their license money refunded."

It is reported from the Mesaba range that Virginia and Buhl are the only two towns in that district not included in the prohibited territory. In the event the saloons in all of the other towns of the range are wiped out, it is said that there will be more than 250 liquor dealers put out of business.

GWINN.

G. Sherman Collins, of Munising, was a Gwinn visitor Thursday.

Annur Kroghdahl and Len Olson spent Sunday with relatives in Ishpeming.

Joseph Seass, of Negaunee, was a business visitor in Princeton Monday.

Mrs. Amati Loderman died Sunday and the funeral was held Monday.

Hugh McMillan and wife, of Munising, spent Saturday visiting with Gwinn friends.

The two-month-old daughter of Fred Dushaine died Monday and was buried in Ishpeming yesterday.

The boys members of the Gwinn club will have a ski hike into the country Saturday morning.

Captain Alfred Collick, of Ishpeming, was a business visitor in Gwinn Monday.

Otto Peterson, the wellknown tailor of Ishpeming, called on his trade here the forepart of the week.

Henry Hansen spent the latter part of last week with relatives and friends in Ishpeming.

W. R. Myers was called to his home in Louisville, Ky., Monday, because of the serious illness of his father.

John Gustafson and Hilda Martanen stole a march on their friends Saturday and were married in Negaunee.

Dr. D. R. McIntyre and W. E. Smith spent Saturday in Ishpeming on business.

A basketball game will be played Thursday night between two picked teams at the Club house.

Arrangements are under way for a minstrel show, to be given in January under the auspices of the Gwinn club.

Mrs. J. P. Outwater, of Ishpeming, spent the week visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Leonard.

T. A. Thoren, of Negaunee, and E. E. Reidinger, of Ishpeming, were visitors in Gwinn Tuesday.

Axel Larson and M. E. Manigold, attended a meeting of the retail lumber dealers in Marquette Friday evening.

John Anderson was unable to attend to his duties in Quayle's store the past week because of an attack of the grippe.

F. J. Foster and W. L. Myers, of the Foster construction company, of Milwaukee, spent the forepart of the week in Gwinn on business.

J. Wahlman & Son a few days ago completed work on the combination warehouse and office building at the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's Stephenson mine.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Swanzy range employes will be paid a week from Saturday, the 17th, and the Oliver company's Stephenson workmen will receive their checks on Friday, the 16th.

G. R. Jackson and Captains Ellis, Jory, and Fogberg spent Saturday in Ishpeming, where they attended a meeting of the mining superintendents and captains of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company.

Two basketball games were played Monday afternoon by the boys' teams of the Gwinn club. Owen's team trounced Saurers five by the score of 4 to 2 in a well contested game. Nelson's team was defeated by Trudgeon's players by the score of 9 to 7. The games were fast and furious and were interesting from beginning to end.

There will be an indoor baseball game at the Club house Saturday evening, between two picked lines. The teams will play as follows: Bumpers—Steed, catcher; Johns, pitcher; Francis, first base; H. B. McCrory, second base; Bjork, third base; Trudgeon, right short; Gaultville, left short; Pepin, right field; Bloomquist, left field. Guzzo—Johnson, catcher; Kroghdahl, pitcher; E. W. McCrory, first base; Olp, second base; Warnholm, third base; Maddiford, right short; Kidder, left short; Hammer, right field; Robare, left field.

Clayton Quayle of Gwinn and Charles Hawes, Clarence Bystrom, Vivian Sleeman and Herbert Hodgson of Ishpeming have been chosen members of the glee club of Lawrence college of Appleton, Wis. About 150 voices of young men seeking positions in the club were tried this season. The boys who are chosen as members are considered lucky, because a tour of Southern Wisconsin is to be taken and will include about twenty engagements. 12-7-1f.

FOOT AMPUTATED.

Archie Dushaine, a member of the steel construction crew working on the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railway line, on West Division street, who sustained an injury to his left foot about two weeks ago, had the foot amputated yesterday at the Ishpeming hospital. Many of the bones in the foot were crushed. The surgeons at first thought they would be able to save the foot, but Dushaine is a stranger here, having come to the city with the steel crew a few days before the work was started. He is about thirty years of age.

SECOND ANNUAL HOP.

The Lake Angeline orchestra will give its second annual hop at the Anderson Hall, Saturday evening, the 17th. The complete orchestra will be in attendance, and some new dance music will be played. There will be no admission fee, but there will be a charge of five cents for each dance. The committee charge is composed of Raymond Smith, Thomas Harrison and Thomas H. Collins. Dancing will start at 8 o'clock, continuing until 12.

Will "Sub" for the Senator—
Clarence Dwyer, a young man who was at one time stenographer in Judge A. L. Fwelling's office, in this city, will return to Crystal Falls Jan. 1 to take charge of Senator Moriarty's office during the absence of the latter at Lansing. Mr. Dwyer is a lawyer at Detroit and is one of the coming young men of the Michigan bar.

A Hive of Industry—
The plant of the Lake Superior Iron & Chemical company at Newberry presents a scene of the greatest activity. Men swarm all over the yards and everywhere some new work is going on. A warehouse 40x70 is just being completed, and the foundation for the new central power plant is being built. The new saw mill and wood mill is practically completed and the machinery is being installed. The mill is modern in every particular and is expected to effect a big saving over the former method of handling the wood for the furnace. The mill is to be operated by electricity, with power furnished by the new central plant, work upon which has just been commenced. A steam shovel is at work excavating for the foundation for the retort plant which will be built next season. A big crew of men is at work on this job, the dirt from the excavation being loaded on flat cars and used for filling in other parts of the yards.

Iron Mountain's New Industry—
Manager Fox, of the von Platen Lumber company, which is just completing building operations at Iron Mountain, expects to have the big sawmill in operation on or about the 15th of this month. Fires were started under the battery of boilers for the first time a few days ago and they were found flawless. There are three boilers, each eighteen feet by seventy-two inches in size, and the foundation has been constructed for a fourth one. The first consignment of logs is due to arrive during the week from Saurers. The company is now playing about forty men in its logging operations and will cut about 5,000,000 feet, shipping direct to the mill. In addition to this stock, the company has purchased several million feet of hardwood logs from Warren Flanagan and other jobbers along the St. Paul road.

The mill and other buildings will be lighted with electricity and the work of wiring is now in hand. A dynamo having a capacity of 600 sixteen-candle-power lights has been installed. There will be 300 lights in the mill building. The buildings are very substantial structures. The mill is a frame structure with concrete floors and steel roof. It is fifty-two by one hundred and fifty feet on the foundations and two full stories in height. The engine house is of concrete construction, forty-eight by seventy-two feet in size, and in addition to the boiler plant houses the engine of 500 horse power capacity. The sawmill, when fully equipped, will contain two band saws, and a gang, with steam feed and a steam setting apparatus, and a steam log roller, making it one of the largest in the upper peninsula. One band saw will be operated at once and the others as soon as possible. The capacity of the mill at the start will be 30,000 feet of lumber in ten hours, but when all the machinery is in place the capacity will be about 80,000 feet per day.

The plant is splendidly located and is already connected with the Northwest-ern, St. Paul and Wisconsin & Michigan railways by spur tracks, giving the company unequalled shipping facilities. Manager Fox is now engaged in organizing his working forces and proposes to favor local labor wherever possible. During the winter months about forty men will be employed, but in the spring the force will be made three hundred. While no conclusion has been reached to date, it is known that the company has in view the erection of a large factory for the manufacture of hardwood flooring, a planing mill and a shingle mill. These proposed additions to the plant means the employment of many more men. It is becoming more evident every day that Iron Mountain people made no mistake when they induced the von Platen interests to locate in the city.

Alger County Road Work—
As far as the improvement of highways is concerned very satisfactory progress has been made in Alger county the past season. The county road between Irony and the Delta county line—about three miles long—is now practically completed and work thereon has been discontinued for the year. This is a fine piece of road, the building of which will be of immense advantage to the people of southern Alger county, to their nearby Delta county neighbors and to many who in the future, will avail themselves of the opportunity to visit the two districts in automobiles. During the season just closed two and one-half miles of the Munising-Chatham county road has been macadamized with the Eben rock and surfaced with Marquette trap rock. In all eight and one-half miles of county roads have been so treated, making highways that have no superiors and few equals. Deputy State Highway Commissioner Rogers recently made an official inspection of a little more than four miles of the completed county road in the township of Au Train. As the law limits the amount of state award that can be paid to any one township in a year to two miles, the county will get only $2,000 this year, the same amount in 1911, and in 1912 the money for the fraction left over.

The first large consignment of rail road ties shipped from Australia to the United States is on its way to Rodondo, Cal. They are mainly ironbark, much used in railroad construction in Australia, and number 66,000.

Does this man look as if he were dying from heart-burn and fermentation caused by indigestion—and had no appetite? Read what he says about it in his own words:

Dear Sir: I used to be troubled with a weak heart, also indigestion, fermentation of food, heart burn, loss of appetite—most everything I ate distressed me. For a short time I obtained relief from doctors and their medicines, until a friend advised me to take, then I would become just a tick again, until a Doctor prescribed Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I began to take your medicine and it did me a world of good. When I began taking your Malt Whiskey I weighed 150 lbs., now I weigh 178 lbs. and can eat anything without being distressed. I have sent many bottles of mine in the country who were troubled with indigestion and who have been cured by its use. It has been several years since I found relief myself but I always keep Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in my home as a medicinal use.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Mrs. Miles Butler and children left last night for Duluth, their future home.

J. S. Wahlman and his son, Edgar, left yesterday for Milwaukee, where the boy's eyes will be treated.

The stores of the city will remain open after 6 o'clock commencing next Monday and continuing until Christmas. The paydays at the mines begin Monday.

Births recorded in the city yesterday were a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Decaire, South Pine street, and a daughter to Matt Millinaki and wife, 499 Jasper street.

Harry Lambert, business manager of Wagenhals & Kemper's "Seven Days" company, which is to be the offering at the Ishpeming theater a week from tonight, the 15th, was in the city yesterday.

Superintendent E. E. Scribner and some of the members of the board of education attended a meeting of the school superintendents and trustees at the Normal in Marquette yesterday.

The girls and mandolin clubs of the Young Men's Christian association will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the association building, to practice for the entertainment to be given during the holiday season.

A meeting of the members of the Knights of Columbus of Ishpeming and Negaunee will be held next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in the Convent hall, for the purpose of making final arrangements for the establishment of a council.

The two-months old son of Fred Duhaime of Gwinn, formerly of this city, who died Tuesday, was buried yesterday in the Ishpeming cemetery. Relatives from out-of-town in attendance at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Duhaime of Republic and Mrs. D. H. Mullaly of Marquette.

The religious work committee of the Young Men's Christian association met Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. and discussed plans for formulating bible classes and bible study. Plans for building up Sunday school work in the city and increasing the efficiency of the teachers were also taken under consideration. Committees were appointed to arrange for a social, or banquet, to be given Jan. 10, 1911, for Sunday school workers and others interested.

The first of a series of club dances will be given next Friday evening, the 9th, in the Anderson Hall. The charge for the series will be $5.00 or $2.00 for a single dance. The committee in charge is composed of William P. Reed, Thomas Clancy, William H. Gallagher and William H. Newett.

GIRL'S HOBBLE SKIRT RACE

THE TALK OF DES MOINES

Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 7.—All Des Moines is talking about the hobble skirt race in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium. Miss Jean Heath is the winner. In the tightest of hobble skirt gowns Miss Heath demonstrated her ability to hop on one foot the length of the gymnasium floor and return without tripping or putting her other foot down. It was a remarkable feat in agility and endurance and was accomplished with apparently little effort or exhaustion.

The hobble skirt race was one of the features of the character party given by the association members. Each member was masked and represented some character or caricature. The hobble skirt and the extreme inverted collar skuttle bonnet were favorites of costume adornments.

Upper Peninsula

Railroad Man Promoted—

C. W. Crapp, who has held the position of roundhouse foreman for the Northwestern road at Ironwood the past three years, has left with his family for Green Bay, Wis., where he will take the position of general foreman of the Lake Superior division of the Northwestern. The new place is a nice promotion for Mr. Crapp.

Expired on Anniversary—

On the twenty-third anniversary of his arrival in the city, Richard W. Peppard, senior member of the wholesale and retail grocery firm of Peppard & McKinney, passed away at the St. Joe. He had been ill with Bright's disease for about a year and his death was not unexpected. Mr. Peppard was born in Pittsburg, Pa., and was less than a month of being sixty-eight years old. When a comparatively young man he went to Jackson, Mich., where he was for several years engaged as superintendent of a pulp mill. It was here that he met Mr. McKinney and the two became warm, personal friends, which decided them to form a partnership to enter into the grocery business. Sault

Ste. Marie was at that time attracting attention by reason of its water power advantages and the two decided on that place as a suitable one in which to make their start. They leased the store in the Pease and Lipssett block on Portage avenue, where the store of the firm is still located. The firm started in a small way with but little capital, and it prospered from its inception.

Made Sure of Death—

After cutting the arteries of both wrists with a razor and waiting patiently for death for several minutes, Gust Johnson, a woodsman determined on a more effective means of ending his life at Watson and slashed his throat from ear to ear, severing the jugular vein. The body of the man was found at the rear of a shed at Johnson's boarding house. No cause has been known for the act as he had always been of a cheerful disposition and according to his most intimate friends had given no hint at any time of his intention to commit suicide. For several years Johnson had made his headquarters in Escanaba, working at different lumber camps along the line of the Escanaba & Lake Superior railroad. He had recently returned from Wisconsin, where he had been working for the government on an Indian reservation. Johnson was about forty years of age and as far as is known has no relatives in this country.

ABANDON PRESENT

JACKSON PRISON

Board of Control Will Make Such Recommendation to the Legislature

Jackson, Mich., December 7.—The abandonment of the present Jackson prison and the erection of a modern institution outside the city is a plan that will be submitted at the coming session of the legislature by the prison board of control. The board is unanimous in the opinion that a new prison should be erected to take the place of the one that has done service for so many years. It is certain that some action must be taken in the near future. The board will ask for an appropriation for the purchase of a 500-acre farm where the convicts can be put at work. It will be impossible, unless an amendment is made by the next legislature, for the state to let any prison contracts after December 11, 1911.

There are many objections to the present prison buildings and if they continue in use many hundreds of thousands of dollars in improvements must be made. At least $225,000 must be expended in the near future for a new cell block in the east wing. Another drawback to the present buildings is the easy manner in which an escape may be effected. If a convict can make his escape through any of the windows of the cell blocks, which face on the streets, and has five or ten minutes start, he is practically lost as far as discovery is concerned. The city shelters hundreds of ex-convicts who are, as a rule, willing to help a man after he has made his escape.

The unions are rapidly forcing prison contract labor out of existence. It is believed that the institution could be made practically self-supporting if the inmates were put to work raising the materials which they consume. The mill bill alone at the prison for the past year amounted to the sum of $4,000 and the cost of farm produce attains a very high figure. An appropriation of $18,000, for repair work during the next two years, will be asked of the legislature providing the proposition for a new institution is voted down.

The most spectacular fire ever witnessed in the oil industry was at one of the Dos Bocas wells in Mexico. About 80,000 barrels of oil were burned up daily for nearly two months. The flames rose to heights of 8,000 to 1,000 feet.

Mining News

ANACONDA.

The repair, improvement and development work going on among the Anaconda properties at the present time is enormous. The Anaconda mine is receiving particular attention. The shaft is being timbered. The machinery for the new equipment to be used for electric hoisting at some of the original Anaconda mines has arrived.

SHANNON.

From the eleven months' production of refined copper of the Shannon Copper company, amounting to 16,736,000 pounds, it would appear that the company will complete the year with a total production of about 18,000,000 pounds.

Try This Home-Made Cough Remedy

Costs Little, But Does the Work Quickly, or Money Refunded.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You will find that this simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually ends a deep-seated cough in less than 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, chest pains, bronchitis and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

This plan of making cough syrup with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada, that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equalled.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

get returns from economies. The best endorsement of the management is that the costs have been steadily reduced each year and at the same time the production has been increased. In 1908 the output was less than 11,000,000 pounds whereas this year the total will be 18,000,000 pounds.

RAY CENTRAL.

There does not appear at the moment, to be any salvation for the Ray Central Copper company unless the Ray Consolidated Copper company takes over the property. Ever since the General Development company turned it down upon the recommendation of J. Parke Channing, attempts have been made to interest new parties in the company, but this far without result.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

Amheek is expected to enter the ranks of dividend payers in 1911 with a rate of disbursement of $10 a year. At the Bohemia property the diamond drill operations continue. The results to date are of indifferent value.

Development work in the Colorado mine of the Davis-Daly company is going on in a limited way. It is stated a large amount of good shipping ore is being blocked out, but that no shipments will be made until possibly next spring or until the market improves.

It is stated that in the most northerly working in the Lake property, namely on the sixth level, the developments during the past five or six weeks have been most satisfactory. The most important work ahead of the management is to develop to the north, because it is in that direction that the company owns so much territory supposedly overlying the copper veins, and because as the work goes north the bend in the vein, if there is one, will eventually be found.

It is figured that aside from the bonds which were issued to pay in part the expense of constructing the Copper Range Consolidated property amounts to original stockholders a gross investment of $6,770,000. Including the dividend just declared the company will have disbursed $11,141,051 since 1905.

Officials of the East Butte Copper company, which purchased the Pittsmead property, state that the bonds of the Pittsburg & Montana were foreclosed about two years ago and that the company went out of existence about a year ago.

Stockholders of the Pittsburg & Montana were given the privilege of exchanging their shares for Pittsmead, which took over the property, following which the Pittsburg & Montana Copper company disappeared as a corporate entity. According to East Butte officials, shares in the Pittsburg & Montana have no value. All the stockholders were given the opportunity to come into the Pittsmead Copper company when that company acquired the property, and their failure to do so results in an absolute loss, as the property finally went to the bondholders.

The St. Mary's Mineral Land company has just sold the surface right to 440 acres in Section 14 to the Quincy Mining company for $6,400. In the recent sale of 800 acres to the Quincy company for $60,000 the St. Mary's company retained the surface rights on 440 acres of this property, which have now been sold to the Quincy, making the total amount involved in the transaction $66,400.

Both Winona and King Philip show improvement with depth. Winona's drifts at the tenth and eleventh levels were fair, while the north drift at the fourth level has been exceptionally good and the other drifts at these two levels have been better than fair. In King Philip the ground from the seventh level downward has been evenly mineralized, with good veins. The ledge averages twenty-five feet wide and it is believed that 50 per cent of it will carry copper good enough to ship to the mill, yielding sixteen to seventeen pounds refined copper per ton. An advantage of having the mill located at the mine is a saving of fifteen cents per ton in transportation, or nearly one cent per pound of copper. The management is confident of the water supply.

The bankers responsible for much of the success of the porphyry mines to date thus comment upon the decline in Utah Consolidated: "Every mining proposition is constantly liquidating its assets, and an annual output of nearly 150,000,000 pounds of copper. In 1910, with an output of about 90,000,000 pounds, the company will show a cost of close to eight cents.

Sinking continues in the new Mohawk No. 6 shaft and within the past few days there has been some slight betterment in the showing of the rock although it must be stated that up to date the shaft has not shown copper bearing formations with the rich bunches of copper that the adjoining shaft of the Amheek opened. Judging from the results so far obtained there is every reason to believe that the Mohawk must sink still further into the zone of enrichment. The Mohawk is making, however, the very best production record, of any time in its history, during the year which is now rapidly drawing to a close.

LUCY MINE DRY BURNS.

The "dry" house at the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's Lucy mine, this city, was gutted by fire yesterday afternoon between the hours of five and six. The building was a small frame structure and contained mine or street clothing belonging to some seventy-five men, all of which was destroyed. It is not known how the fire originated. It is the theory, however, that a match in clothing hung against steam pipes, was responsible. The loss to the company is small. That sustained by each of the men is estimated at $7 to $10.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. IMPROVEMENT AT THE MAAS MINE

Head Frame Now Being Removed to Make Room for Foundation Company's Concrete Crew.

Preparations have been started for the sinking of the concrete shaft at the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's Maas mine. Hoisting has been discontinued and the steel head frame will soon be moved from above the shaft to a point some fifty feet or more to the west. The structure is 107 feet high and is one of the largest and best on the range, but the management does not anticipate any difficulty moving it. When the concrete work is completed the frame will be moved back to its former position, and will be used without alterations.

W. F. Collar, the New York Foundation company's superintendent, who will have charge of the Maas mine job, and his foreman and one mechanic are now at the mine, preparing to start the concrete work. The remainder of the force will be here within a few days, and the equipment will be delivered at the mine by the time the shaft house is moved out of the way.

All but about twenty-five of the Maas mine workmen will be retained at that property or at the Negaunee mine, while the shaft work is under way. The twenty-five men laid off are single. Prior to suspending hoisting operations a crew will be employed in the shaft. About eighty-five of these are still employed there, assisting with the surface improvements and doing some work underground. The remainder have been transferred to the Negaunee mine, which now has a force of over 400 men.

A crew will be employed in the shaft, between the ledge and the bottom, putting in new skip roads and other equipment while the New York Foundation company's force is engaged in putting in the concrete. The concrete will extend from surface to the ledge, a distance of 178 feet. The shaft is 1100 feet deep. The concrete portion of the shaft cannot be equipped until after the Foundation crew completes its work. It is believed that it will take at least six months to finish the work planned, and hoisting will not be resumed until some time after navigation opens. The last of the hoisting last winter was shipped fully a month before navigation closed, but since then most of the ore mined has been stockpiled, so that there is now a fair-sized stockpile on hand. The Foundation company is rapidly as possible in the hope of completing it in less than six months, but it is now thought that the workmen will do well if they finish in that time. As the concrete is extended downward, the timbers in the shaft will be removed.

The sinking of the Maas mine shaft was one of the most difficult quick sand jobs that has ever been carried through to completion in the Lake Superior mining district. Several times while the work was in progress it was feared that it might be necessary to give it up, as the flow of water and quick sand was unusually heavy. It is one of the deepest quick sand shafts ever sunk and many of the older mining men had experience in that line of work predicted during its progress that it would be completed by the ledge. The work was supervised by A. Capen, J. H. Rough, who has general supervision over underground operations at all the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's mines in the district.

ATTRACTIVE CALENDARS.

A number of attractive calendars will be distributed by the Negaunee merchants within the next few weeks. Several have already received their supplies, and a day or two before Christmas. The demand for calendars increases annually, and the merchants each year find it necessary to increase their orders. Some of the Negaunee firms give out as many as 1,000, and none of them distribute less than 500.

D. D. Smith, the Mitchell Automobile company's Marquette and Delta agent, is giving out a calendar that will be in big demand. It has a picture of an automobile with three occupants, a yearling horse with a farmer holding it by the bridle, and a frightened woman in the seat, also a passenger train approaching.

The picture was painted by R. Atkinson Fox, a well-known New York artist. The picture shows the rage of the irate farmer, the pose of his frightened wife and smiling indifference of the automobilist and his companions. Scenes similar to this can be seen almost every day on country roads, where automobiles and skittish horses meet.

COMEDY TONIGHT.

The famous English comedy, "Lord Chumley," will be the offering of the Greene Stock company at McDonald's Opera House tonight. It was in this comedy that the great English comedian, Lawrence D'Orsay, made his first big hit. Mr. Greene will be seen in the title role, for which he has received some very favorable press comment. Alice Greene will play the part of the widow. The remainder of the company are all well cast.

HILLTOP TO RESUME

Oliver Iron Mining Company To Operate Menominee Range Property.

The Hilltop mine, the property of the Oliver Iron Mining company, will be operated again beginning at once, says The Crystal Falls Diamond Drill. It is understood that Mr. Davidson's visit here during the week was in connection with the starting of work at this property.

The Hilltop has been closed down since 1902 and the plant of machinery that originally stood at the property was shipped away for scrap. The ore that was in stock when the mine closed was shipped later on and it yielded a very good percentage of iron, so good that the Oliver people decided that the Hilltop was worth looking into a little more. Accordingly, during the summer, a diamond drill was set at work at the property and several holes were put down in the near vicinity of the old pit. It is said that these holes showed up very well.

The drill was then moved to the south of the Mansfield branch of the North-Western railroad and considerable work was done in that locality but evidently without any very encouraging results as the drill was recently moved up the hill again and is being operated near the old pit.

The first work necessary will be the equipping of the property with a plant of machinery and after that the sinking of a new shaft to open up the deposit cut with the diamond drill.

Just when the work will commence is not stated, but Mr. Davidson promises to be back here in a few days when it is probable that the plans for the work will be given out.

LADIES' ANNUAL SALE.

The members of the Women's guild of St. John's Episcopal church have made extensive preparations for their annual sale of Christmas goods, which is to take place this afternoon and evening in the Scandinavian society's hall on Gold street. The ladies will have the largest display of fancy and useful articles that they have ever shown. The goods will include aprons, children's dresses, handkerchiefs, dollies, pillow cases, kimonos and other articles suitable for Christmas gifts. Coffee will be served during the afternoon and a supper will be served between 5 and 7 o'clock. The charge for the supper will be thirty-five cents a plate. The ladies extend an invitation to all of their friends to attend.

TO INCREASE MEMBERSHIP.

Mrs. Cora Sunday, deputy for the Lady Macabees of the World, has arrived in Negaunee and will spend the next two weeks here soliciting members for the Negaunee hive. Mrs. Sunday was here about a week ago, and with the assistance of one of the local members, succeeded in securing twelve applications. She plans on putting in a class of at least twenty-five before Christmas. She will spend her holiday vacation at her home in Buchanan, and will return to the upper peninsula after New Year's to resume her work.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Joe Robinson, of Hancock, looked after business here yesterday.

E. J. Humphrey of Ewen looked after business in Negaunee yesterday.

George Defraigne has returned from a visit to his family in Cheboygan.

J. H. Winter arrived home Tuesday from a week's business trip in Chicago.

D. B. McDonald, the well known diamond drill contractor, was here yesterday from Duluth.

W. McClintock and R. Rockney of Tower, Minn., were business visitors in the city yesterday.

J. R. McDonald, the deputy revenue collector in the Twelfth district, was here yesterday from Hubbell.

The members of the Negaunee board of education visited the Marquette Normal yesterday, in company with members of other school boards in the county.

J. A. Goodman, who is employed as deputy for the Macabees of the World, left yesterday for Escanaba and Gladstone, where he will be employed for several days.

Mrs. F. Bender and Miss J. Rothchild, the latter of Detroit, who spent several days in the city, visiting Mrs. Bender's daughter, Mrs. Abe Levine, returned to her home in Marquette Tuesday night.

D. S. Roe, one of the Corrigan-McKinney company's engineers, was here Tuesday and yesterday from Crystal Falls, looking over the Baras property, which the company recently took under option and is now unwatering.

The Cleveland Cliffs Iron company will pay its employees at the Negaunee, Maas and Jackson mines next Wednesday, the 14th, and the Oliver Iron Mining company will square its pay roll at the Regent properties on Saturday, the 17th.

The Negaunee National bank will hardly be able to take possession of its new building the first of the year, as there has been a delay in the arrival of the furniture. On account of this delay the change in location cannot be made as soon as had been planned.

John Stevens and Mrs. Kate E. Gilbert, both of this city, were married Monday evening at the home of William Allen on Jackson street. Irving Argall, justice of the peace, performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Allen were the witnesses, and several friends of the contracting parties were present.

H. W. Jackson, Negaunee representative of Leisen & Henes, the Menominee brewing concern, whose plant was partly destroyed by fire Tuesday, went to Menominee Monday night and returned yesterday. The concern will be able to supply its patrons, as usual, as part of the plant was saved and arrangements have been made with another brewery to furnish any additional beer that may be needed.

MITCHELL HEIRS WIN BIG SUIT

Decision of Judge Stone Made in Circuit Court in March, 1908, Involving Title to Valuable Mineral Lands at Negaunee, Reversed by Supreme Court.

Litigation was Over Half Interest in Mineral Rights to Three Lots, Claimed By the Arctic Iron Company, the Defendant—History of Involved Case.

Ball & Ball received a telegram from Lansing late yesterday afternoon stating that the decision of Judge Stone in the case of the Samuel Mitchell estate against the Arctic Iron company, involving title to one-half the mineral rights of fifteen acres southwest of Negaunee, had been reversed by the supreme court, and a decree ordered in favor of the complainants. Judge Stone in March, 1908, decided the case in favor of the defendant company. The telegram did not state the grounds on which the supreme court decision was based. The decision is an important one, as it involves title to very valuable mineral lands. The lands immediately concerned are the Harvey lots, Nos. 8, 9 and 11, located west of the Regent group and north of the Breitung hematite, containing fifteen acres, but it is said that the same conditions apply to the remaining ten of the Harvey lots, comprising in all about seventy-three acres. The plaintiffs, the Mitchell estate, whose title to one-half the mineral rights in the three lots concerned was undisputed, asserted a claim to the remaining one-half of the rights and brought suit to remove the cloud on their title. The supreme court decision presumably establishes their contention.

After the case was decided adversely to the Mitchell interests by Judge Stone, it was appealed to the supreme court, where it has since been pending. It was first argued before the supreme court in April, 1909, and about a year later, the court requested that the case be re-argued, indicating that the justices could not agree upon a decision. The second argument was heard last June and the final decision was rendered yesterday. Ball & Ball have represented the Mitchells throughout the litigation and Messrs Shaull and Eldredge the Arctic Iron company. Captain Mitchell was living when the case was heard in circuit court and at that time he testified that from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 tons of ore were located on the lands in question, making their value very great. The property has been actively explored by the Athens Mining company, to which Captain Mitchell gave a lease with the understanding that it would accept the burden of litigation over the lands. It is understood that the Cleveland Cliff

Iron company interests are prominent in the Athens Mining company.

History of Lands.

The issues in the case were mostly those of law, there being virtual agreement as to the facts. James Reynolds, a Marquette county pioneer, owned a large tract of land at Negaunee. In 1857, he deeded to Chas. T. Harvey the entire surface and one-half the mineral rights of a large area, including the acreage involved in the present case. Thereafter, in the late '60's, Mr. Harvey plotted the land into thirteen lots, all of generous proportions. In 1867 and later Harvey sold several of these lots, giving warranty deeds without any reservation of mineral rights. Captain Reynolds bought three of these lots under the same kind of conveyance.

Reynolds and Harvey in 1871 made a co-operative mining lease to Edward Breitung in the main on the same land, but Reynolds' lease covered the mineral rights on a portion of these lots, while Harvey's did not. In 1882, Breitung purchased the entire mineral reservation owned by Reynolds in the Reynolds-Harvey land and May 7, 1883, he deeded that portion of Section 6 lying north of the 10th line drawn through the center of the southeast quarter of Section 6 and a large part of the balance of the and east thereof, to the Arctic Iron company. This included the larger portion of the lots in question. The south end of the lots on the death of Edward Breitung passed to his son and widow. The plaintiffs' contentions in the case were, first, that Harvey's deed to them gave them the right on partition of the premises to have set off to them the lots mentioned, Nos. 8, 9 and 11; second, that it gave them the further right to require that Reynolds should not deal with any of the common property except by partition until he ratified Harvey's act in deeding to them the entire of these lots; third, that they, having an equitable lien on the entire co-tenancy, for the purpose of having their purchase made good, the moment Reynolds dealt with the balance of the co-tenancy property he destroyed their right against the property by him (Reynolds) conveyed away and it would now be inequitable that they should not have all that their deeds called for; fourth, that they have maintained adverse possession of the land since 1867, thereby gaining title.

COLORLESS VERDICT.

Coroner's Jury Made No Attempt to Fix Blame For Wightman's Death.

Coroner L. P. Cray yesterday impaneled a jury, composed of R. J. Kelly, Wesley Sweet, W. J. Small, D. Cameron, David Nasen and John Johnson, who held an inquest over the body of Harry Wightman, killed at the Pioneer furnace Tuesday afternoon, and found that he came to his death by being accidentally caught in a revolving shafting. The jury made no attempt to fix the responsibility for the accident. All the furnace employees who were eye witnesses to the tragedy testified before the jury. The evidence failed to show how Wightman got caught in the shafting, as no one saw him until he was revolving around with it. It is probable that his clothing caught in a set screw at a collar. The shaft was about six feet above the floor. When the motor was turned off and the shaft began to slacken its speed, Wightman's body dropped to the floor, all of his clothing except one glove and his shoes being wound about the shaft. He was living but unconscious, and he died three hours later at St. Luke's hospital.

SPLENDID MEETING AT NORMAL SCHOOL

School Boards and Superintendents of Three Cities Had Profitable Session.

Twenty members of the boards of education and school superintendents of Marquette, Negaunee and Ishpeming met at the Normal school yesterday and held an exceptionally enjoyable and profitable meeting. The forenoon was spent looking over the Normal school, particularly the equipment in the department of science. A splendid dinner was served at noon by the domestic science department, to which all did ample justice.

At the business session in the afternoon, several excellent addresses were given. President Kaye spoke on "The Relation between the School Board and the Superintendent." He held that the board should take full charge of the administrative and material side of school management and that the superintendent should hold sway in professional matters, such as employing teachers, arrangement of furniture and other strictly educational matters, all of course, to later have the approval of the board. He also advised the board to judge and employ its teachers and superintendents by the sole standard of efficiency. "The Relation between the School Board and the Superintendent in Germany," and emphasized that our greatest mechanical inventions and best handiwork are created abroad, although there is more progressiveness in this country. He claimed that this condition was due to more systematic training of the hand and mind being taught in Europe in the schools than was the case in this country.

Dr. Fracker's subject was "What Constitutes a Good Teacher." He maintained that a normal school should not graduate a student simply because she passed an examination in the studies pursued, but that she should also be required to meet a proper moral and physical standard.

Dr. Downing expressed the opinion that school courses should be adjusted according to environment. In the upper peninsula, he thought that special attention should be paid to agriculture and to forestry, in which fields this section will undoubtedly make great strides during the next few years.
