

LAUGHABLE DEBATE AT WASHINGTON

Men Prominent in the Public Life of the Nation Discuss the Mooted Question Whether Whiskers Are a Greater Detriment Than a Bald Head.

Referee Throws Up His Hands, Whereupon Champ Clark Refers Whole Matter to the House Committee Now Considering the Wool and Hair Schedule.

Washington, May 2.—Whether whiskers are a greater detriment to a man than a bald head is still a mooted question. Some of the best men in public life debated the subject before the National Press club here tonight.

The hour was under Marquis of Queensberry rules and when the bell rang, the referee threw up his hands in despair. Speaker Champ Clark, called on in the emergency, declared he couldn't see any use in either whiskers or a bald head and referred the whole matter to the ways and means committee of the house, which now has the wool and hair schedule under consideration.

Dr. Wiley Is Timekeeper. The bald-headed side of the question was in the hands of Senator Robert L. Taylor of Tennessee and Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio. The chair certainly found their champions in former Senator Thomas H. Carter of Montana and "Uncle Joe" Cannon of Illinois.

Longworth Starts the Affray. Representative Longworth was the first speaker. He declared that he did not believe that a hair on the head was worth two on the chin. Whether was he willing to assume that a bald head provided he should be considered bald—was in any sense a handicap in either public or private life.

Mr. Carter a Living Exhibit. Senator Carter was introduced as "Exhibit A" for the whiskers. "No man," said he, "ever voluntarily wore a bald head. A bald head is an affliction, a standing joke, a physical infirmity. We pity but do not blame our opponents."

Mr. Carter insisted that the beard was the real thing. He ridiculed mustaches and declared that they had first called out the name of whiskers as they whisked back and forth in the breeze. "No fair maiden," he said, "ever feared a promise from a bearded man. The beard is a badge of manhood. A bearded man needs only opportunity. The first man to cut off beards was Alexander the Great. It was a brutal measure of warfare—to prevent antagonists from seizing the soldiers by the beard. Let us all wear beards and there will be no warfare in this troubled world of ours."

There is another thing about the bald-headed man. He naturally goes to prison without previous preparation. The subject is ready for the work. It takes some trouble to prepare a bearded man for that unfortunate habitation. Our opponents tonight, having neither hair nor whiskers, were compelled to take the side assigned to them. The bald-headed man will be the butt of jokes from the beginning to the end."

Senator Taylor, introduced as the "ivory-pated Moses of the Tennessee Democracy," declared that when Mr. Cannon was speaker of the house he shook pestilence and war from his horrid beard. He dwelt upon the nobility of the bald peaks of the mountains and the bald head of the American eagle circling above them in the azure atmosphere. Coming down to bald facts, he added: "When I was born, a few short summers ago, I had a bald head. My father before me had a bald head and when I opened my eyes and looked upon his burnished dome I thought all the world had bald heads and when my mother pressed her smooth cheek to mine I did not think there was such a thing in the world as whiskers."

"Once I had raven tresses," said Senator Taylor, wistfully, "but like the autumn leaves they left me. Ever since I lost them I had a horror of hair and supreme contempt for whiskers. On the other hand, I have always admired a bald head as a symbol of purity and innocence."

Uncle Joe Quotes Shakespeare. "Uncle Joe" Cannon, declaring he had never been punished in his life—at least not consciously so—referred to a writing from a man who recently was in Turkey and who declared that the saddest man he had found in the empire was a bald-headed man. He was a harem guard. "He that hath a beard," said the former speaker, quoting Shakespeare, "is more than a youth, and he that hath no beard is less than a man. Hair upon the face always has been an evidence of manhood."

When Speaker Clark was called upon to settle the dispute, he said that "Uncle Joe" had protested against his presence at the party, on the grounds that he neither had whiskers nor a bald head. Raps the Whiskerites. Mr. Clark said he would not have missed the debate for the world, despite the fact that his wife didn't want him to come. "She said there wasn't any sense in the whole performance," he said. Mr. Clark said that the reason a majority made no longer wear whiskers was because they were all trying to look like W. J. Bryan. He rather rapped the whiskerites when he said that a good looking man could afford to have a smooth face, while an ugly one had better keep his beard.

CHAS. HYDE QUITS OFFICE UNDER FIRE

In Order Not to Embarrass the Gaynor Administration, He Says, the City Chamberlain of New York Announces He Will Resign His Post at Once.

He Is Indicted in Connection With the Carnegie Trust Company Case—He Pleads Not Guilty and Claims He Is the Victim of a Wicked Conspiracy.

New York, May 2.—Charles Hyde will resign as city chamberlain at once. Under indictment and under the fire of practically every newspaper in New York, he announced tonight that, although he is a victim of one of the most wicked conspiracies in the history of the city, he will relinquish his position, in order not to embarrass the Gaynor administration. He has been the mayor's protege for years.

Indicted secretly yesterday on two counts, one charging bribery, the other with taking an unlawful fee, Hyde pleaded not guilty in the criminal branch of the supreme court this afternoon, while the grand jury resumed its investigation of the Carnegie trust fiasco. Hyde asked the public to suspend judgment, until "the motives behind the prosecution" are brought out. He specifically denies an alleged transaction with the Northern bank, upon which one indictment is based.

District Attorney Whitman gave out a statement today, explaining the indictments. It was charged, he said, that while Joseph G. Robin was chairman of the executive board of the Northern bank of New York, Hyde agreed with him to increase the city's daily balance with the Northern bank, if in turn the Northern bank would the next morning lend $130,000 to the Carnegie Trust company; that the loan was made, and the city's balance subsequently was increased.

DEATH THREATENED IN DYNAMITE CASE

Prosecuting Attorney at Los Angeles Is Warned His Life Is in Danger.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 2.—The following wire has been received by Andrew J. Gallagher, secretary of the San Francisco labor council, who is in this city looking after the interests of the alleged dynamiters, from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor: "Glad you have gone to Los Angeles. Have confidence that the men are innocent of the horrible crime of which they are accused. My greatest hope is that the people will reserve their final judgment at least until the case is tried in the courts, thereby giving greater assurance that the men will have a fair and impartial trial."

Very different in tenor was the message received by District Attorney John D. Fredericks from a person in New York signing himself, "M. J. Schmidt." This is the name of one of the men indicted by the grand jury as one of the dynamiters of the Los Angeles Times building.

Prosecutor Gets Threat. The letter, which bore the postmark, "Times Square Station," is similar, in fact almost identical, with that received by Detective William J. Burns a few days ago in Chicago. Omitting certain unprintable matter, the letter is as follows: "Mr. Fredericks, District Attorney, Los Angeles: The McNamara brothers face an accusation of which they are innocent, because I am the one who set the bomb and the Burns detectives are looking for me, but they are not smart enough to reach me. They are paid a large sum of money for their work by the capitalists so they had to pinch somebody, but you can be sure that John J. McNamara is entirely innocent. "The smart Burns detectives are looking for me in the west, but I am in New York. At 10 o'clock I will sail for Europe. When the trouble is over I am coming to this country, and let me assure you that if the McNamaras are convicted I will avenge them. I am an all-around machinist and electrician by trade and can make any kind of an explosive myself without the aid of anybody, and I will kill you and Burns like a dog as I know you both personally."

"Some Anarchist," Says Attorney. "The letter is probably from some anarchist," said District Attorney Fredericks, "but I am in doubt if the writer was Schmidt who was indicted as one of the dynamiters. The threat does not alarm me in the least and certainly will have no effect on the prosecution, which would proceed whether Mr. Burns or I were eliminated or not." The message from Mr. Gompers was received with the greatest approval by local labor leaders, who are thoroughly in accord with its spirit. The prediction was made a few days ago that $1,000,000 if necessary would be raised for the defense of the McNamara brothers, and being repeated now with new emphasis.

An effort to identify J. B. McNamara, alias J. B. Breece, as one of the men who transported dynamite from the Dupont Powder works at Giant, Cal., in the launch "Peerless" will be made through the medium of fingerprint prints of McNamara's hands and fingers were

ANTHONY DREXEL JAILED FOR AUTOMOBILE SPEEDING

New York, May 2.—After being chased for ten miles along a boulevard in New Jersey by a motor cycle policeman, Anthony J. Drexel, husband of Marjorie Gould, was arrested this afternoon on a charge of speeding his automobile. Bail in $1,000 was demanded, and young Drexel tendered a check, which was refused. His pocketbook yielded only $20, but when a companion offered $10 additional he was released for examination tomorrow.

COPPER CONSOLIDATION HAS THEIR APPROVAL

Owners of More Than 81 per Cent. of the C. & H. Stock Indorse the Project.

Boston, May 2.—Slightly more than 81 per cent of the outstanding stock of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company voted today in favor of the consolidation of nine smaller, subsidiary companies with the Calumet. The only protest came from a representative of the estate of the late Thomas L. Chadbourne, in behalf of Aldemar L. Chadbourne, special administrator.

When the stockholders of the Alhambra company met later in the day to vote on the consolidation question, it was announced that an order had been granted by one of the courts in Michigan preventing the stock of the company owned by the Calumet & Hecla from being voted at the meeting. The order was issued at the request of F. W. Denton, general manager of the Copper Range properties, and others. The Alhambra meeting was then postponed for a week.

Mr. Denton's action was not taken in behalf of the Copper Range company, but in the interests of the estate of the late Thomas L. Chadbourne. Mr. Denton is related by marriage to the Chadbourne family.

STEEL TRADE DATA PROVE DISCOURAGING

Stock Market Dislikes the Situation and Values Recede Very Generally.

New York, May 2.—Following a week of almost uninterrupted advance, the stock market today became mildly reactionary and gave some indications of an overbought condition. The prices receded quite generally through the list of speculative stocks, although in most of the issues a large part of the recent gains were retained.

AMERICANS ARE WARNED TO GO HOME

News Reaching Nogales, Ariz., Indicates a Very Grave Situation in Mexico, Notwithstanding the Peace Negotiations—Western Coast Is a Battleground.

HARD FIGHTING IS REPORTED IN THE STATES OF SINALOA AND SONORA

Property Is Jeopardized and Non-Combatants' Lives Are No Longer Held Sacred.

Nogales, Ariz., May 2.—Whatever the prospects of peace in El Paso and Juarez, there are no peaceful signs along the western coast of Mexico. News that dribbled into Nogales today from various quarters of the states of Sinaloa and Sonora told of almost continuous fighting. Americans in this city, familiar with the conditions across the border, tonight regard the situation as grave. Not only is the political welfare of the Mexican states affected, but United States interests are said to be in danger. Even the lives of Americans, hitherto held sacred by federals and rebels, are no longer regarded safe in the interior of Mexico.

Railroad officials who reached Nogales from Mexico today brought warnings from the rebels to remove all their families as quickly as possible into the United States, and to tell all their American friends to do likewise. Coupled with these warnings was the threat that they intended, before the end of the week, to launch attacks against all the Mexican border towns. Many American families are coming across the border.

Word came from the Magdalena district, southeast of Nogales, of the complete wiping out of a body of thirty federals under Luis Estralla by a band of rebels. Reports of heavy fighting in the neighborhood of La Colorado, south of Hermosillo, capital of Sonora, were brought across the border today. The rebels claim to have recaptured La Colorado, which had previously been the scene of bitter fighting during the rebellion.

The situation along the Southern Pacific railroad line in Mexico, which parallels the Mexican coast for hundreds of miles, is grave. All wire communication is interrupted to the southwest and only the smallest scraps of information concerning the real situation are obtainable.

TWO AMERICANS FOULY MURDERED

Douglas, Ariz., May 2.—Refugee mining men who reached Douglas today from Mexico report a wide-spread pillage in the state of Sonora from Nacozari south to the killing of two Americans in the Santa Nina mines, southwest of Ures.

A band of thirty outlaws appeared in Santa Nina camp, where S. J. Clark was employed as a watchman. Clark was absent when the outlaws appeared. His wife tried to defend the camp with a shotgun, but was wounded. The outlaws hid in the house while the woman bathed her wounds. When her husband appeared he was riddled with bullets and his wife was then murdered. The whole country along the Sonora river is without law or order.

Another band of outlaws entered the camps of the Chumita mine west of Huepac, shot the American guard and looted the commissary. Another band sacked the camps of the San Lorenzo mine, southwest of Nacozari, and when their right to loot the commissary was disputed took two Americans prisoners. El Tigre camp has also been entered for the third time and a tax of 2,500 pesos levied on the Mexicans. It was paid. Refugee American men who had been working on the El Tigre power line have reached Douglas. For seven days they worked under the guns of outlaws, who poked the Americans with their weapons and took from them their clothing and supplies.

Mining men conversant with the situation, are advising all Americans to leave Mexico. Peace Commissioners Meet Today. El Paso, Tex., May 2.—Judge Francisco Carabajal, the official Mexican peace commissioner, arrived here tonight. It was announced that he had brought full and necessary powers for treating with the rebel commissioners and that no hitch would occur on that score. He refused to discuss the instructions given him at Mexico City. It was stated that the formal negotiations would be taken up tomorrow in a tent to be erected in a willow grove on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, half way between El Paso and the insurrecto camp. Judge Carabajal will act alone, while Dr. Vasquez Gomez will represent the provisional government, advised by Francisco Madero, Sr., and a lawyer.

The rebel leader today completed the insurance party platform, which contains the composite ideas of all the governors and other officers of the provisional government. The actual basis for peace which the rebel commissioners will submit in the conference with the federal envoys is being written by Dr. Gomez tonight. Mexico City, May 2.—Announcement was made tonight that the armistice had been extended for five days more. Federal Protection Demanded. Mexico City, May 2.—Accompanied by a member of the German legation, Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson today called at the foreign office and requested protection for the Americans and Germans in the city of Cuernavaca, which has been isolated since Saturday and which is believed to be in danger by an attack by the rebels. The Mexican government is disposed to give all protection possible to foreigners. Orders have been issued for additional troops to march to Cuernavaca. The foreign office has assured the United States embassy that there is no cause for alarm.

DIETZ CASE IS TAKEN UP AT HAYWARD

Trial of the Defender of the Cameron Dam and His Wife and Son Leslie Is Opened—All Three Prisoners Accused of the Murder of Deputy Sheriff Harp.

JURY IS SECURED QUICKLY—SETTLER IS NOT REPRESENTED BY COUNSEL

He Has Had 200 Applications for the Job but He Has Little Faith in Lawyers, He Says.

Hayward, Wis., May 2.—John F. Dietz and his wife and his son Leslie were placed on trial here today before Judge Alexander H. Reid in the circuit court. They are jointly charged with the murder of Oscar Harp, a deputy sheriff, who was one of a posse which besieged the Dietz cabin at the Thorneapple dam last October and who was found dead after the smoke of battle had cleared away.

At that time John Dietz was wanted on a warrant charging assault with intent to kill a man with whom he had had a fight in Wintona, Wis. Dietz shot the man but did not kill him. There were also several other warrants out for John Dietz, and he is said to have boasted that no one could safely attempt to serve the papers on him. The trouble all grew out of a dispute with a lumber company which had built a dam in the Thorneapple river near the Dietz home. The flood waters, Dietz claimed, had damaged his land. He could not get what he claimed was a satisfactory settlement, and so he destroyed the dam and held up a large cut of logs for a year or more. The company was obliged to haul the logs away with teams.

Prisoners' Bond Surrendered. There was no attorney for the defense today, Dietz conducting his own case. He was again committed as a prisoner to the custody of the sheriff when R. H. Mason of Milwaukee, special representative of the Illinois Surety company and the indemnitors who had insured Dietz's $40,000 bond, announced that the company had surrendered the bond, wishing to protect the indemnity company.

In the examination of the jurors, Dietz asked them if they would be influenced against him and his family by the "despotism of the lumber trust." All the adult members of the family were in the court room. The jury was completed this afternoon. Judge Reid asked Dietz, Mrs. Dietz and Leslie whether they had an attorney. "All answered 'No.' "Is it your preference to proceed without an attorney?" asked Judge Reid. "All nodded their heads affirmatively. "Are you able to employ an attorney?" asked the court. "Well," said John Dietz, "I have had about two hundred applicants for jobs. I might as well tell you that I have not got too much faith in lawyers, since one told myra (his daughter) that the lumber company had one hundred witnesses to impeach her testimony and we would have to fight the battle with the devil's club."

When the court ordered the calling of the roll of the jurors, John Dietz asked leave to waive a jury trial. The court said it had no authority to do this.

DANGEROUS APPEARING MAN ARRESTED AT THE RESIDENCE OF MRS. ELSIE VANDERBILT

New York, May 2.—A man with a long knife in his hand and who the police say was tampering with the lock at the entrance to Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt's home on Madison avenue, was arrested tonight. He was later identified as Crest Merlo, a chef at a well-known restaurant. Although he declared he was merely waiting for his wife who was visiting one of Mrs. Vanderbilt's servants, he was held at the police station and it was said that Mrs. Vanderbilt would appear as complainant against him tomorrow. Mrs. Vanderbilt is the divorced wife of Alfred G. Vanderbilt.

REPORT THE KING OF SPAIN IS GOING TO SWITZERLAND IS CONSIDERED PREMATURE.

Paris, May 2.—So far as can be ascertained, the reports that King Alfonso of Spain has been ordered by his doctors to a sanitarium at Leysin, Switzerland, are premature. The newspaper L'Intransigeant, yesterday asserted that the king is gravely ill of tuberculosis and that he would pass the coming winter at Leysin. Nothing is known at Leysin of the royal visit.

MCLELLAN ATTENDS CAMORRIST TRIAL

New York ex-Mayor an Interested Spectator at Viterbo—Sees Disorderly Scenes.

Viterbo, May 2.—Two features made the trial of the Camorristas today of more than ordinary interest. These were the presence of George B. McClellan, former mayor of New York, in whose term of office Lieutenant Petrosino arrested Enrico Alfano, the alleged head of the Camorra, for which arrest Petrosino is believed to have paid the penalty of his life, and the confrontation of Abbatemaggio, the informer, by Corrado Sortino, whom he had accused of being one of the actual assassins of Cuocolo.

The scenes of disorder were even more marked than usual, the prisoners in a cage interrupting the witness incessantly and shouting curses on his head. Abbatemaggio told again the story of the Camorra and the details of the Cuocolo crime. Mr. McClellan, who appeared an object of great interest to the caged prisoners, remarked upon the unusual methods of the court, which he considers, however, in many respects admirable.

While Abbatemaggio repeated the details of the murder of Cuocolo, Sortino stood before him and at times it seemed as though the two men were about to spring at each other. Carabiniere were placed as a guard between them and the two prisoners, the one in the witness stand and the other before the bar, were forced to content themselves with benevolent glances and the clenching of fingers.

Though the morning session was a stormy one, that in the afternoon presented still more disturbed conditions. Several times a violent outbreak was prevented only by the intervention of the guards. Sortino defended himself with skill and pointed out impossibilities and contradictions in the statement of the former.

At one time, Sortino turned in the direction of Mr. McClellan and said, ironically: "If we are acquitted here, we will go to America, where you will accuse us of the murder of Petrosino."

Rah for conservation!

Just as might have been expected, Vice President Corral of Mexico never said it.

Well, there's at least one supreme court decision that meets with the general idea of what it should be.

An Escanaba man has gotten $10 because he was bitten by a dog. That's a great deal better than getting rabies.

Water, water everywhere, and if the people vote right on the bonds Friday presently there will be some good water to drink.

It will perhaps be granted that the Canadian reciprocity issue comes up at an inopportune time for many representatives and senators who will be candidates for re-election next year.

As Battle Creek has a population of 28,000 there would appear to be good basis for the prediction that there will have to be either some consolidations or some failures in the newspaper business there, without much loss of time.

The further Mr. Berger of Milwaukee goes, the more enthusiastic he gets. He has now consigned the supreme court to the discard, following on the heels of the United States senate. But Mr. Berger will doubtless begin to get his feet back on earth when he begins to reap some of the harvest of trouble that is ripening for him in his home town.

Lieutenant Governor Ross, of Muskegon, is referred to as a possible candidate against Representative McLaughlin next year. He is also regarded as a possible candidate for governor, in the event that Governor Osborn does not finally seek that second term.

The Lorimer case is now before the senate again. The La Follette resolution designating a committee of five members who are instructed to investigate the manner in which the election of the Illinoisian was obtained has been referred to the committee on contingent expenses without debate.

The Grand Rapids Herald is inclined to the belief that if the bill providing for a reapportionment on the basis provided for by the house is accepted by the senate and becomes a law Governor Osborn will reconvene the legislature, possibly in the early part of 1912, in special session, to redistrict Michigan so as to provide for the election of the thirteen representatives.

STORING UP TROUBLE. Attorney General Wickersham should deal gently with the progressives and their political tenets. His chief is looking for renomination and if he gets renominated he will want to be re-elected.

It will be recalled that Mr. Wickersham, on a previous occasion, made a similar bad break. It was following the enactment of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, and before the administration had ascertained the real temper of the country in regard to that measure.

This Wickersham gentleman appears to be an admirable attorney general and a very sizable man, but his generalizations about political conditions possess little weight. He has never had the endorsement of the voters as an aspirant for any office.

If Mr. Wickersham must, whenever he talks, hold forth against the progressives it would be a good thing for the administration to find ways for keeping him so busy that he will not be able to accept any speaking engagements.

The election of 1912 will be decided largely by voters who have cast off the shackles of party and who will never again rally in response to any of the old battlecries.

MERRY WAR IN THE HANCOCK COUNCIL

Dispute Over the Mayor's Appointments Is Productive of a Lively Ruction.

There promises to be merry war in the Hancock city council tomorrow evening. The mayor's appointments of Monday night constitute the cause. It appears that the nominations would not have been entirely valid if the council had approved them, though there is such an involved condition of affairs that a final exposition of the matter cannot be made just now. It appears that Mayor Dodge has four aldermen with him and four against him. The mayor made a list of appointments, in the main agreeable to all of the members of the council. But he wished to abolish the office of city surveyor and he wished to remove Joe McGrath, head teamster for the city, and replace him with Nick Muziger. McGrath's friends claim Muziger has but recently returned to Hancock and that he actually is not a resident or an elector. McGrath has been teamster for ten years at least and is a very popular city employee, even if his office is not an exalted one. Hancock is operated under a Michigan statutory charter for cities of the fourth class. City Attorney Calumet, who is to be superseded by S. E. Lawton, if the appointments of Mayor Dodge go through, claims that the mayor must appoint a city surveyor, because the office is provided for by the charter. Because of the vote on the appointments Monday night, as was stated in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal, Alderman Gallen voted that the city officers be declared vacant. Mayor Dodge could not vote on a tie on the appointments, but he did vote when this question was tied. Here the opposition enters with a demurrer, claiming that neither the mayor nor the council may not declare an office vacant excepting for cause. The whole matter is a delightful muddle, showing principally that the mayor and council are not in harmony. Tomorrow night's meeting should be productive of a bit of a ruction which will be pleasing to many of the older residents of Hancock.

Interesting Question at Houghton. The regular monthly meeting of the Houghton village council tomorrow night also will be an interesting session, this because of the Park addition matter. It is to be held at the village hall, where it has been decided by F. W. Nichols, agent for the Park Addition company, and Dr. L. L. Hubbard, owner of the finest residence in the addition, that they will attend the meeting. The question before the council is that of inducing the addition to become a part of the village corporation. While the addition is so called the designation is a misnomer, as the addition is not a part of the village and pays its taxes to Portage township. Trustee Hartman is the protagonist of the plan to bring the addition into the village. He argues that the addition, by its proximity to Houghton, receives benefits for which it should be taxed and pays its taxes to Portage township. Haas Building Case. Another matter with interesting phases which will come before the Houghton council tomorrow night is that of the Haas building. Ed Haas, president pro tem of the council, in his private capacity as one of the owners of the Haas building at Quincy and Sheldon streets two weeks or more ago petitioned for permission to move this structure west on Sheldon street. Businessmen of the block between Quincy and Dakota streets protested, claiming that the moving operations would block traffic in the street and hamper their business. Mr. Haas had consented to a postponement of action on the petition a week ago, but left the impression that if he was not permitted by the council to move this building there was little likelihood that future buildings could be moved if the courts could prevent it. Mr. Haas argues that he is to replace the old building with a modern business block of brick and stone and that businessmen on the street should be content to put up with the temporary inconvenience for the sake of the resulting permanent improvement to the village.

MOTOR CAR FATALITY IS DEPLORED GREATLY

Sympathy Both With Driver of Automobile and Victim of Accident Is General.

As was stated in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal, Joseph Rybak, fifty years of age, employed as a lander at the South Keweenaw mine, died at an early hour Monday morning as the result of being struck by Fernando Peterman's automobile at 9:30 o'clock Sunday night, the accident taking place near Wolverine in Keweenaw county. Rybak died at Stowdown, Calumet, and was on his way to work with the night shift of the South Keweenaw mine. Mr. Peterman and a party of four friends were driving toward Wolverine in Mr. Peterman's big touring car. He saw Rybak ahead when the car struck an upgrade near the Schoolcraft cemetery on the county road running to Wolverine. Mr. Peterman blew his horn to attract Rybak's attention and the latter kept on the left side of the road. The car was going at a moderate rate of speed which was not slackened, as it was believed the man was sufficiently warned and that he would continue his course. But as the car came up to Rybak, he swerved and was immediately in front of the car, which struck him and dragged him a considerable distance. Rybak was picked up and taken to Dr. McFar's residence at Wolverine. He was given temporary attention and later was taken to the Calumet Public hospital in Laurium, where he was found with several fractured ribs and serious internal injuries. In spite of the most expert attention and the most strenuous efforts to save his life, Rybak succumbed to his injuries before daylight Monday. The unfortunate man leaves a large family.

FAVOR ENCAMPMENT CHANGE. Copper Country Militiamen Would be Pleased to Go to Port Huron.

The big problem at present before the state militia is that of the proposed change of the National Guard encampment site from Ludington to Port Huron. Copper country militiamen are not averse to the change and it is probable that their attitude is that of most members of the rank and file of the militia throughout the state. The trip to the annual encampment is about all the reward the soldier gets during the year for his round of work, the small drill pay being hardly worth considering. For the trip to their principal rendezvous, the militiamen would like to have that trip taken in a different direction every year. He would then see new scenes and add to his experiences. The novelty, however, is still under consideration. The militiamen would like to see the new route to Ludington and Port Huron, but they would like to see the trip through one or any other new place this year.

MAY HAS A COLD PREMIER. Day Celebrating Licenses, Fishing and Moving Was Chilly.

The queen of the May and her glee-some lads and lassies would have had a very nice chilly time trying to do a maypole dance on the village green last Monday, if such a thing could have been found in the copper country. The green was missing in the natural order of things and the warm spring sunshine was missing through the vagaries of the weather. The mercury dropped to 20 degrees above zero and with a steady wind, it was a very trying day. The first day of May in the copper country was more like a March day. But there was no lack of celebration, because the first of May signifies the opening of the fishing season, the season when people like to pay rent money in quarterly or various reasons and the day on which the liquor dealer hies himself to the country treasurer to pay $500 for a sheet of red cardboard.

TOWNSHIP AFTER BREWERIES. Beer Companies Will be Made to Pay Retailers' Tax, if Possible.

The Calumet board has demanded that the brewing companies doing business in the township and which are supplying the house trade from their warehouses shall pay the retailers' liquor license fee of $500 a year or cease their retail business. This it claims, is in accordance with the state law. The brewing companies have objected to paying the license fee, although they may do so on protest. They wish to delay the payment of the fee until a case of this nature in Allouez township, Keweenaw county, which has been appealed to the state supreme court, is decided.

Major E. G. Heckel of Houghton, commanding the upper peninsula battalion of the Third regiment, Michigan National Guard, received orders from Colonel J. N. Cox, adjutant general Monday to leave at once for the camp of instruction at San Antonio, Tex. Major Heckel departed for the Southwest yesterday. The major is the second copper country officer to be ordered "to the front." Captain Jesse Meads, commanding the Calumet Engineers, already has reported in Texas.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES. Monthly Report of Calumet Charitable Organization Is Out.

Miss Freida Larson, now secretary of the Calumet Associated Charities, yesterday gave out her report for April. Aid was given eighty-seven families during the month. Permanent employment was procured for four persons and temporary employment for eighteen. Forty families were supplied with clothing. It is announced that there are many boys of school age who need clothing, and the charities ask for contributions.

SINGS WITH THE ST. PAUL.

Miss Romsdahl of Calumet to Appear With Symphony Orchestra.

Miss Mildred Romsdahl, a well-known soprano of Calumet, whose singing has attracted widespread attention of late, will be heard in concert the night of May 31. She will be presented by A. K. Cox, who brings to Calumet on that date the St. Paul symphony orchestra. The orchestra will appear under auspices of the Calumet Y. M. C. A. Miss Romsdahl has a clear, sweet and very powerful voice and her technique is said by the highest critics to be almost flawless. This talented young lady is being urged by many friends and others who have heard her sing to take up a musical career and she will likely do so. The singing of Miss Romsdahl on May 31, with accompaniment by the full symphony orchestra, will be a great treat to Calumet music lovers.

LAURIUM YOUTH MISSING. Isaac Hoyem, 17 Years of Age, Not Seen Since Sunday Afternoon.

Isaac, the seventeen-year-old son of Sivert Hoyem of Laurium, who has been missing since 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, seems to have dropped completely out of existence. No trace of him can be found. The father of the missing lad, accompanied by several others, searched through the woods and fields about Laurium Monday and yesterday, but found no trace and heard nothing of the young man. Young Hoyem is 5 feet 7 inches tall, wears a grey suit and a green gaiter cap. When he left home he had no money in his possession and had expressed an intention of going anywhere in particular. The missing youth is a boy of excellent habits. His principal Sunday diversion has been taking long walks. There is absolutely no reason to believe that he has run away from home.

J. A. HINSEY KILLED BY A STREET CAR

Pioneer in Electric Traction and Political Power at Milwaukee Dies at Los Angeles.

Milwaukee, May 2.—John A. Hinsey, once a power in Milwaukee politics, died at Los Angeles yesterday from the effects of being run down by a street car. He was seventy-eight. It was an odd freak of fate that Mr. Hinsey should be killed by an electric street car. He was one of the pioneers of the country in electric traction and built the first electric railway in Milwaukee. He was known as "the Hinsey line" and attracted attention all over the country. Mr. Hinsey came to Milwaukee in 1863 and entered the employ of the Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, later the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, a special agent for several years in the position until December, 1910, when on account of failing health, he retired on a pension. He was born in Berks county, Pennsylvania, Aug. 10, 1833.

Life-Long Railroad Man. Mr. Hinsey spent practically his whole life in the railroad business. He at first served as a brakeman and a conductor, but soon found his life's work as a special agent, a work in which he won a national reputation. The same qualities which made for success in his business helped him to become a factor in local politics and at one time Mr. Hinsey was the acknowledged leader of the Democrats in Milwaukee. As alderman and later as president of the council Mr. Hinsey impressed his personality on the life of the city in a way that has never been forgotten. He early saw the possibilities of electric traction and for several years he agitated and talked electric railways until at last he succeeded in getting capital interested and the Hinsey line was started.

While the West Side Street Railway company's line, owned by Washington Becker, was electrified before the Hinsey line was completed, Mr. Hinsey persisted and carried his enterprise to completion. The line began at Milwaukee and Michigan streets, ran northward on Quelea street, westward across the Oneida street bridge and over Wells street to Sixth street and thence northward to the old baseball park at Wright street. The company was later absorbed by the Milwaukee Street Railway company.

Mr. Hinsey's political activities in Milwaukee covered a period of about twenty years. He ran for mayor on the Democratic ticket in 1886 and was defeated by Emil Waller in one of the hottest political contests in the history of the city. He was familiarly known as "Boss" Hinsey. In 1894 the headquarters of the Milwaukee road was moved to Chicago and Mr. Hinsey had not of late years exerted any particular influence here.

For many years Mr. Hinsey was one of the big men in the Knights of Pythias and he also was well known in other organizations.

S.S.S. REMOVES BLOOD HUMORS

The intimate relation of the skin to the blood is shown by the fact that impurities or poisons of any character are usually manifested in some form on the outer cuticle. Humors in the blood produce what we term in general, Skin Diseases. These are divided into several classes known as Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Pimples, Rashes, etc., and each of these troubles indicate the presence of humors or acids in the circulation. The humors and acids by their irritating nature, cause the delicate flesh just beneath the outer skin to ulcerate and discharge, and soon the body is disfigured with eruptions which often are torturing to the sufferer because of soreness or intense itching. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., can have no curative effect on skin diseases. Such treatment can perhaps soothe the irritated flesh, but the real cure must be accomplished by purifying the blood. S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by purifying the blood and removing the humors from the circulation. It neutralizes all impure acids, cools the over-heated blood, and builds it up to normal strength. Then the skin instead of being irritated by acid impurities and humors, is nourished, soothed and softened by pure, rich blood. Book on Skin Diseases and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

On the shirt will appear the letter "M" in monogram, instead of the word "Marquette" as on the suits worn last season. The new uniforms will give the team a natty appearance.

Ventilation at the Grand—Two large exhaust fans have been installed at the Grand theatre. They are of the latest Westinghouse pattern and are guaranteed to keep the air in the theatre fresh, drawing out the bad air, and bringing in fresh air from out of doors, keeping the room clean and cool without creating a draught. Today the management will show "Across the Plains," "Between Two Fires," "The Inherited Taint," "The Secret of the Forest," and a roaring comedy, "Tribulations of Jiggers."

Visited Vandenberg's Farm—The physiology class of the Marquette High school, about thirty-five in number, visited the Marquette City dairy plant, west of the city yesterday afternoon. The boys are studying milk and the trip was made for the purpose of learning modern methods for keeping milk sanitary. Mr. Vandenberg showed the boys every courtesy and before their return, he served lunch to the whole party. The boys came home highly pleased with their trip.

Annual Tax Sale—The annual tax sale was held at the court house yesterday, with fewer bidders than usual and no spirited competition for any of the descriptions offered for sale. A large part of the land offered for sale went begging, as no one cared to pay the service taxes for it. The sale concluded before noon, and the unsold descriptions were offered a second time in the afternoon, with little better success than at the morning session.

Huggins Will Sue—John Huggins, who was recently sent up from Negaunee for vagrancy, says he will sue the officers here for false imprisonment. Huggins was a bookbinder and because of a dispute over his stand was arrested for vagrancy and sent to the county jail, in default of payment of a fine of $40. He has just been released, on payment of his fine to Sheriff Lehman. He says that the charge was a false one, that he was not a vagrant, but was able to look after himself. He also says that he was denied a proper hearing and that the papers committing him were made out before he was arraigned. His request that he be allowed to get a lawyer was refused, he states.

Alleged Theft Unproved—A young man, LaCoy by name, who is employed on the new dock work, was brought before Justice Byrne yesterday afternoon on complaint of James Hassett, who declared that LaCoy took an overcoat, a razor and two fountain pens in one of the pockets, while the coat was hanging in Crossman's restaurant last Sunday. The coat was returned to the restaurant a few hours later, according to Hassett. LaCoy declared that he did not take Hassett's coat and that he knew nothing about the razor and fountain pens. He said that the coat Hassett thought was his belonged to a fellow employee at the dock, and he had a witness to support his statement. The case was dismissed on the ground that the evidence was insufficient.

Damage Suits Again—Notice of trial has been received by the county clerk in the cases of Solomon Risku and Samuel Hoopkin against the Cleveland City Iron company. When these cases are taken up at the May term of circuit

DO GHOSTS HAUNT SWAMPS?
No, never. It's foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malarial germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Proutwell of Lenoir, N. C., "and I've had the health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only. 50c at The Stafford Drug Co.

City Has Many Taxpayers—

According to statistics furnished the board of education by City Assessor Cudlip, there are over 2,000 taxpayers in Iron Mountain. The returns from the recent elections would indicate that a large number of them take no interest in the affairs of the community.

Farm Property Burned—

The residence and barns of Eugene Lynch, a prosperous German township farmer, were destroyed by fire last week. The fire originated from a defective chimney. Mr. Lynch also lost all of his farm implements. He carried no insurance.

Jack Tar Seriously Injured—

John Rasmussen, son of Mrs. Fred Clare, Sr., of Whitetale, Schoolcraft county, and who joined the United States navy about a year ago, was recently severely injured by a fall from a mast to the deck. He was unconscious about a week. It is expected that he will pull through.

Business Change at Newberry—

F. S. Hazen of the Soo has purchased F. L. Harris' saloon property at Newberry and has been granted a license by the village dads. Mr. Harris announces that he has retired permanently from the liquor business and will establish a summer resort at Millescoquin lake.

Postoffices Record Year—

The cash receipts at the Iron Mountain post-office for the year ending March 31st were the largest in the history of the city, totaling $16,267. The largest amount received in any other year was $15,000. This increase of business means an advance in the salary of Postmaster Crues.

Physician Chops Off Finger—

Dr. James Bogan, of Mackinac met with a painful accident the other afternoon. He was splitting wood, when the axe slipped and practically severed the forefinger of his left hand. Accompanied by Mrs. Bogan, he left at once for Detroit, where he entered Harper hospital. He will be back at his post in a day or two.

Knife Wound Proves Fatal—

Steve Latosky, who was stabbed in the breast by George Hall, mention of which was made some days ago, is dead from the effect of his wound, says the Iron River Reporter. A warrant has been sworn to, charging young Hall with the crime of murder. The hearing is set for an early day, but it is not probable that the case will ever go to the circuit court, as Hall is said to be of feeble mind and not accountable for his act.

Streets to Be Sprinkled—

A number of the merchants made the rounds of the business places at Crystal Lake the other day, interviewing the proprietors in regard to a street sprinkling for the city. The men met with a hearty response all along the street and subsequently a committee waited upon the common council to learn if that body would furnish the apparatus to do the sprinkling if the business houses will pay for the labor. The proposition met with favor and a water wagon will be in duty shortly.

Police Chief Finds Explosives—

Following the swearing out of search warrants by F. L. Baldwin of Escanaba and C. H. Rutledge of Ishpeming, two slot machines were seized by Sheriff T. J. Curran of Delta county. One was taken from the saloon of Hilarie Cousineau at Schaffer and the other from the saloon of Frank Perow at Bark River. In the machine seized at the Schaffer saloon a total of $245 in nickels and over $4 in machine checks were found, while in the Bark River machine three nickels and forty machine checks were found. Both machines were demolished at the office of Judge O. V. Linden at Escanaba and the contents were confiscated by the officers.

Highway Contract Awarded—

There was a considerable difference in the bids for grading the county road from Wakefield to Danham, Gogebic county. The contract went to John Brogan, railroad contractor of Green Bay, Wis., whose price was the lowest, by over $1,200. Following were the bidders and the amounts for which they offered to do the work: John Brogan, Green Bay, $19,495; Gust Freden, Norway, $20,825; Oxnam & Sutherland, Ironwood, $21,027; Alquist Bros., Wakefield, $21,208. There are several miles of road to be cleared and graded, but three miles of this are an abandoned railroad grade, which will simply have to be widened out and ditched, considerably lessening the cost. Marquette township is busy on road construction this spring as usual. It has built a good, substantial pole bridge across the Presque Isle river and has one mile of the right-of-way cleared east of Ironwood, this being on the road to Lake Gogebic. It is understood that it proposes to put this road through to the lake this summer, and, if so, it will be possible to drive from Ironwood to Lake Gogebic before next winter. Watersmeet township, it is said, intends to do something worth while in the road building line this summer. This is to clear and grade a stretch of three miles along the survey of the county road.

NEW IRON FIELD LOOKS PROMISING

Formations Near Beechwood Resemble Those of the Iron River District.

Several prominent mining men of the Lake Superior region are said to be keeping a close watch on the work of the prospectors in the neighborhood of Beechwood, a station on the Chicago & Northwestern railway, eight miles west of Iron River, where a body of high grade ore was recently encountered by Gust Lindahl, a resident of the district. Mr. Lindahl had been conducting exploratory operations with a churn drill and he made the discovery on his farm. The mineral was encountered at a depth of approximately 225 feet.

Not enough work has yet been done to show the importance of the Lindahl deposit, but the fact that a high grade iron bearing formation has been determined to exist is a matter of no small moment, particularly as it is thought that the new district will be found to be a continuation of the formations in the Iron River region.

It has been reported at various times during the past dozen years or more that the country near Beechwood and westerly a number of miles was mineralized. Settlers have repeatedly told of finding chunks of ore, presumably of the host variety. These reports have not attracted any particular attention, however, and while attempts have been made to interest mining corporations in the field, the present work at the Lindahl tract is the first systematic exploration that has been conducted.

The fact that highly important discoveries have been made the past few years in the Iron River district, where a dozen or more new mines are now being developed, furnishes encouragement for those who are beginning to conduct prospecting work in the new district. A number of the farmers have sunk shallow test pits without finding anything of importance. There are very few outcroppings and it has already been proved that the ore that does exist lies well beneath the surface and that the only practical method of exploring is to puncture the ground with drills. This has also been the experience in the Iron River district.

Oglebay-Norton & Co., operators of the Bristol mine, at Crystal Falls, are reported to have made some big sales of ore from that property, and it is the understanding that the mine will be wrought to its capacity throughout the year. The Bristol is the largest mine in the Crystal Falls district in point of shipments, at least, and during a single season it has sent out more than 400,000 tons of ore, though its output last season was but 279,000 tons. A large tonnage of ore is in stock, all of which was mined during the winter, and shipments from the stockpile have already been started. An important work in hand at the Bristol is the opening of a new shaft, from which the greater portion of the product in future years will come. The shaft will be one of the largest and finest on the Menominee range. A feature of the shaft will be that the wall plates, dividers and end pieces will all be of steel instead of wood. The shaft will be lathed with tamarack and hemlock, and should a fire break out the only damage that could result would be the destruction of this plank.

MEETING THIS EVENING.

The last meeting of the Big Brothers club of Ishpeming for the fiscal year, ending May 31st, will be held this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock, in the Young Men's association building. A short program, consisting of music and literary numbers will be given. Among those taking part will be Gerhard Alexis, organist of the Swedish Lutheran church, who will give an instrumental solo; a quartet composed of Messrs. Alexis, Hult, Viking and Ericson will render a selection; and Charles Hayes, president of the club, and R. J. Wise, secretary of the club, will give short talks. Among the business to be considered will be the summer and fall work, open air meetings during the warm weather, camp

WANT WRESTLING MATCH.

K. J. Wirtanen and Charley Cutler May Meet in Ishpeming.

K. J. Wirtanen, the well-known Finnish wrestler, who formerly resided in the copper country, desires a match here with Charles L. Cutler, a brother of "Kid" Cutler, who was defeated by Karl Lehto at the Labor temple in Negaunee a few months ago. While Cutler was no match for Lehto, he would give Wirtanen a hard contest, as he is heavier than the young Finn, and besides he has had more experience on the mat. Wirtanen has taken on several pounds in weight since he was last seen in a match here and he has been wrestling some of the best men in his class in this country. After leaving the copper country he made a tour of Minnesota and won most of his matches. He received excellent training under Karl Lehto and he is one of the cleverest Finnish wrestlers in the United States. In case the match between Wirtanen and Cutler is arranged, it will take place the middle of this month.

LIGHTED BY ELECTRICITY.

Diorite Store and Other Buildings Being Wired by Ishpeming Man.

A. G. Russell, who has been busy the past several days wiring the Diorite Store company's general store at Diorite, has also been given a contract to wire the homes of Dr. Spinks and Richard May, manager of the store. The line has been extended from the electric plant at the American mine, which will generate power for the lights at the location, and the service will be started within a few days.

TO VISIT IN ENGLAND.

Ishpeming Business Man Will Spend Two Months at Old Home.

Joseph Gill, who conducts a confectionery store on Main street, will leave this evening for his old home in England, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Ruth, and they expect to be away two or three months, visiting relatives. Both of Mr. Gill's parents are still living in England, his father being ninety years of age and his mother eighty-seven.

MAY GO TO MESABA.

"Rube" Goulette, who twirled for the Ishpeming baseball team during the early part of last season, has an offer of a position at Coleraine, Minn., where he is wanted to pitch for the baseball team. Goulette has been employed steadily for the past few years at the Lake Argeline mine and has done well there, but the offer he has received from the Minnesota town may prove an inducement for him to leave here. Goulette twirled several very fine games for the Ishpeming team during the three years that he was on the pitching staff and he is still capable of doing good work with proper coaching and good support. It is said that he was recommended to the Coleraine team by Case Downing, formerly of this city, who twenty-five years ago was conceded to be the best pitcher in the upper peninsula.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

MISSOURI HORSES FOR ARMY.

Washington, April 29.—The quartermaster general of the army has entered into a contract with F. G. Guyton of Lathrop, Mo., for 500 horses, 3 and 4 years old, at a cost of $155 per head. The horses will be delivered at Lathrop and Kansas City, commencing before July 1, and with the delivery completed before Oct. 1.

The quartermaster general and Secretary of War Dickinson have taken issue with Comptroller Truscott of the treasury in regard to his inferential decision, holding that there is no legal authority for the purchase of these young horses. The comptroller's ruling was based on a disallowance of the payment of public funds for the maintenance of a farm at Fort Reno, Ok., on which it was proposed to raise feed for the horses. Army officers do not believe that there will be any obstructions placed in the way of the acquisition of the Missouri steers, assuming that it was the intention of congress to permit their purchase in connection with the remount service.

Gately's Spring Suits

Are now $5.00 less than any previous year.

It is simply second nature for Gately's to show more choice in more value at less price than any other concern. Because Gately's count on the volume of business they do, and their enormous purchasing power enables them to "buy for less and sell for less."

Now then, some folks are crying "Hard Times." We haven't felt any—and don't want to—so we took full advantage of every cash buying concession, and we therefore bought even heavier than usual for this spring. Which fact coupled with a preference for plenty of business at less profits makes the head lines exactly true, and places Gately's value beyond all hope of competition.

FOOD EXPERT WILEY ON A NEW TRAIL

He Will Look Into Headache Powders—Many He Regards as Very Dangerous.

Washington, May 1.—Headache powders are to be made the subject of special investigation by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry. For a long time, Dr. Wiley has been alarmed by reports of deaths in different parts of the country caused by the use of headache powders, and a case which has just occurred in Washington has determined him to begin a campaign of elimination of not extermination. Mrs. Kate Paxton died at the Casualty hospital after taking a large dose of headache powder and the coroner learned that she was in the habit of resorting to this supposed panacea for pain. Hardly a day passes, Dr. Wiley states, that he does not receive a similar report from some part of the country. Every headache powder sold contains large quantities of either acetanilid phenacetin, antipyrine, or caffeine, all of which more or less affect the heart. No physician would think of prescribing more than one or two grains of any of these drugs, he said, but the headache powders contain from 4 to 6 grains. Under the law as it now reads, the health authorities have absolutely no way in which to regulate the sale of headache powders except to see that the ingredients are pure and conform to the provisions of the pure food and drug laws. "It is doubtless true," says Dr. Wiley, "that a large number of people are af-

HARRY E. PIERCE IS MAKING GOOD

Former Negaunee Man Is Making Strides in the Theatrical Business.

Harry E. Pierce, who spent his boyhood in Negaunee, and who for the past nineteen years has been associated with the Lyceum theatre in Duluth, the last few years as manager, has given up his connection with the play house and will hereafter devote all of his time to the management of his road companies and his scenic studios, one in Duluth and the other in Superior. Mr. Pierce has several relatives in Negaunee.

Mr. Pierce is one of the best known theatrical men in the Northwest and during the past few years he has handled the greater part of C. A. Marshall's booking business for the twenty odd theatres in the Northwest circuit. By keeping in close touch with the managers in the circuit, as well as with the booking agencies and producers, Mr. Pierce has had an excellent opportunity for a schooling in the theatrical profession.

Some three years ago, when he and James Morrissey, who is also connected with the Lyceum theatre, decided to put a company on the road, they met with a number of set backs, and at one time it looked as though they stood a good chance of losing $10,000 on their initial venture.

Their first company was known as the H. E. Pierce players. The company filled an extended engagement in the Lyceum theatre and it also played open time in other houses on the circuit. The discouragements met with during the first few months of the company's existence were enough to dishearten even old producers of means, but Mr. Pierce felt certain that he and his partner would win out in the end. Their company finally began to show a little profit and in less than two years had two companies on the road producing "The Squaw Man." This attraction made money for them from the start and this season they have also made money with a company producing "The Man On The Box." Both of these plays have this season been in western and Canadian territory and it is said that they will come to Duluth showing a good amount of their owners.

Mr. Pierce and his business associate were prompted to engage in the scenic studio business in order to save money in preparing scenery for their own productions. By advertising this branch of their business, they soon secured contracts from other producers and at the present time their Duluth studio furnishes employment to a number of painters and merchants. Mr. Pierce will probably move from Duluth to Superior, where his main studio will be located.

During the year 1910, Mr. Pierce has been associated with Manager Marshall of the Lyceum theatre, he has earned the reputation of being one of the best informed theatrical men in the Northwest. He has made many friends by his courtesy and fair dealing. Messrs. Pierce and Morrissey will probably send out at least two new shows next season.

MAKING GOOD HEADWAY.

Concrete Work at Maas Mine Shaft is Progressing Satisfactorily.

The New York Foundation company, which has a contract for the concreting of the Maas mine shaft from surface to a few feet below the ledge, is making good headway with the work, but it will be nearly three months before boistering can be resumed. The men are now working under air pressure, but they are at present able to work eight hours. Before the task is completed the working hours will be considerably reduced, as the time for working must be shortened as the air pressure in the shaft is increased. The air was started with a nine-pound pressure and as the work advances it is gradually increased. At the present time a fourteen-pound pressure is maintained.

Within the next week or so the management expects to put in the concrete at the rate of fifteen feet a week. Up to this time the concrete has been lowered into the shaft by means of a bucket, but chutes are being constructed and after they are in place the quantity of concrete handled will be increased considerably. The concrete walls are now going in from a point 109 feet below surface and they are completed for a distance of nearly forty-five feet. After this lift is finished the work will be resumed below the foot point. The shaft will be connected to a depth of about 190 feet.

When the work is completed the shaft will be more substantial than formerly, as the timbers were in bad condition when the concrete work was started. The pressure against the shaft timbers above the ledge was unusually heavy and the timber would not have withstood it much longer. The improvements at the Maas will result in a considerable curtailment in the output this year, but once hoisting operations are resumed the company will be able to raise a larger tonnage than formerly.

BODY OF INFANT FOUND.

Was Discovered in Barn At Rear of Iron Herald Building.

Monday evening about 8 o'clock when Charles Johnson, one of the employees of The Iron Herald, entered the barn at the rear of the office to get some wood, he saw a bundle lying on the floor in a corner and, upon investigating, he discovered it to be the body of an infant, about a week old, wrapped in a sheet. Marshal Jackson was notified and the remains of the infant were removed to Undertaker Dave's morgue, where the body is being held pending an investigation. Coroner Frie was called over from Ishpeming, but no inquest has been held as yet.

The police are of the opinion that the infant belonged to some poor family, who did not have the means to bury it and decided to dispose of it in this manner.

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW.

Increase in Orders During Past Few Days Was Unexpected.

It is reported from New York that the steel mills report a sudden and unexpected increase in orders for railroad equipment and supplies received in the last two or three days, making the total for last week nearly 70,000 tons and for the month of April 152,000 tons. Export business was less.

Railroad orders for locomotives and cars were larger, including ninety-five engines for the Southern railroad, but for the month of April the equipment showing was a poor one. Bridge orders were especially light.

Among the features of interest in the structural line, was the awarding of the steel contract, 8,000 tons, for the Continental Fire Insurance building, New York city, to Milliken Brothers. Bids went in on 80,000 tons steel shapes for the elevated extensions, and plans for the Hell Gate bridge, now in the hands of fabricators, call for 35,000 tons. Building contracts placed during the week aggregated only 16,000 tons, but for the month of April they were over 90,000 tons.

Although the blast furnace output was cut down 5 per cent by the steel companies in a week, the decrease in finishing mill capacity was less.

Dolph Wheeler, who was re-elected poundmaster for the ensuing term, started work on the job yesterday. During the winter he was employed as second man at the fire hall. Jerry Bennett, driver of the hose team, who resigned about a month ago, but was re-appointed by the council, also resumed work yesterday.

Many of the Negaunee members of the Ishpeming council of the Knights of Columbus will attend the card party and hop to be given tomorrow evening in the Anderson Hall. Each member can invite one prospective member and a lady. It is expected that there will be 250 to 300 people present. Dancing will start at 8:30 o'clock, continuing until 12 and refreshments will be served at 10:30.

treasurer need be engaged. In his place, the moving picture impresario needs only a neat-looking girl cashier, posted in a glass cage as close to the sidewalk as the law will permit—in order, I suppose to get a patron's money before he has time to change his mind about going inside. For there is no denying that the film habit distinctly lacks "class."

Managers go into the game because the risk is almost nil, and thousands of people patronize it simply because they haven't the price to pay for flesh and blood entertainment. In fact, cheapness is rampant all along the line of the kinetoscope, even to the pay that the writers of the scenarios draw. Although it is much more difficult to devise a wordless play than one in which dialogue can be used, the authors receive for the most part only $10 to $25 per piece.—Matthew White, Jr., in Munsey.

BOARD AT ODDS WITH COUNCIL

Latter Holds That Street Commission Should Make Only Such Improvements as Are Specified in the Annual Budget, as Authorized by the Aldermen.

Other Side Contends That Public Is Better Served When the Commission Determines Where and How Its Money Shall Be Spent—Lively Ruction On.

The criticism of the park, cemetery and street commission voiced at the council Monday night was the subject of considerable comment yesterday. Aldermen Hennessy and Schauer declared that the commission had not adhered as closely to the annual budget as it should, it being their contention that it was the function of the common council to say where and how moneys appropriated to the commission should be expended.

Certain improvements authorized to be made on the Washington street park brought up the discussion. Last spring the council voted $825 for this purpose, to lay concrete walks diagonally across the park both ways. The commission did not get at the job until so late last fall that it was impossible to lay concrete on account of frost and in place of concrete a crushed stone walk was built, the top of which is so rough that no one walks on it. The commission expended in this walk something less than $300, leaving about $530 of last year's appropriation unexpended.

The two aldermen mentioned declared that this is only one of several instances in which the street commission did not follow the instructions of the council. They believe that inasmuch as the council appropriates the money with which should be improved the streets and parks, it should have the say as to how the money should be spent, and that the sole function of the commission is to do the work in a proper manner and at as little expense as possible.

Council Has Broad Powers.

According to City Attorney Brown, the charter gives the council greater powers in this respect than they have heretofore seen fit to exercise. It has been customary for the street commission to submit a budget every spring, stating what streets needed improvement, and the amount of money that would be needed to carry out the plans for the year. After getting the money, the commission has in the past put a liberal interpretation on the budget, and if other work was considered more urgent than certain improvements specified in the budget, the commission has not hesitated to do it and leave a part of the budget work undone. The city attorney is not inclined to blame the commission for adopting this course, inasmuch as the council has never been very particular in specifying where and how the appropriation to the commission should be expended.

Aldermen Hennessy and Schauer declare that the street commission has on different occasions juggled the budget to the personal advantage of members of the board and against the best interests of the general public. At the council meeting Monday night, the improvement of two blocks on Front street was cited. This improvement, according to Alderman Hennessy, was not included in the budget for the year it was made, and improvements specified in the budget were left undone in order to finish the Front job, in his opinion, because a member of the commission and a member of the council happened to live on that street. It is further asserted that various improvements that would be of special benefit to members of the street commission have been made during the past two or three years, the money used for which could have been put to better advantage, from the general public's standpoint, if spent elsewhere.

The Other Side of It.

Not all of the aldermen take this view of the matter, but on the other hand, believe that the commission is in a better position to dictate where and how the money shall be expended on streets than the council. The commission being further removed from politics, it is urged that the body would be more likely to spend its money where it is most needed, than would the aldermen, who always have their political fences to look after. As an example of the results of the council dictating what street improvements shall be made, it is claimed that at the solicitation of one of the aldermen, the Genesee street bill was improved last summer, notwithstanding that the cost of the improvement was greater than the value of the abutting property. Friends of the commission hold that by giving the commission wide powers and reasonable discretion in the expenditure of the annual appropriation, there is much less chance for graft to creep in than if the council dictated how and where the money should be spent.

This the merge war goes on, and until a truce is declared and the matter settled there is likely to be a good many ructions and disagreements between the council and the street commission.

WILL EXCHANGE LAND.

State and Government Enter Into Mutually Beneficial Agreement.

An important measure signed by Gov. Osborn recently is the Clark bill, which permits the state public domain commission to exchange state lands.

The purpose of this measure is to enable the state to transfer certain lands situated in the northern part of the lower peninsula and in the upper peninsula to the United States government for lands held in this state by the federal government. At the present time there are hundreds of acres of state lands crumpled every square mile of the upper peninsula and in the upper peninsula to the United States government for lands held in this state by the federal government. At the present time there are hundreds of acres of state lands crumpled every square mile of the upper peninsula and in the upper peninsula to the United States government for lands held in this state by the federal government.

BUREAU IS MAKING SPLENDID PROGRESS

U. P. Development Leaders Meeting With Success in Raising Funds—Work Begun.

Dr. R. C. Allen, state geologist, and members of his staff have not completed a very exhaustive soil survey of the upper peninsula and have graphically portrayed the results of their years of labor on a big soil survey map of the district. In the preparation of this soil survey, members of the state geologist's staff have crumpled every square mile of the upper peninsula's area.

As a result of this exhaustive and scientific exploration, the state geologist makes the startling declaration that, in proportion to its size, the upper peninsula has more tillable agricultural land than the lower peninsula. This startling declaration, the state geologist is prepared to prove by indisputable data. This scientific verification of the claims being made by the leading men of the peninsula in its agricultural possibilities is very gratifying and will be most useful in the campaign being conducted by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

The latter has already undertaken negotiations through the state geologist for the publication of a soil survey map, which will show the fertility of the various areas in the upper peninsula, and the character of the soil. This map will be one of the most valuable features of the publicity material used to promote the district north of the straits.

Marine Notes

Wreckers have succeeded in releasing the steamer John Sharpless from Galloo Island, Lake Ontario. The steamer, which was wrecked last week, was looking freely and in bad shape. The wrecked boat was towed to Lake Vincent.

The water at the Soo canal at the present time is so low that several steamers that have been loaded for more than eighteen feet depth have had to lighten before they can get through the canal. At the present time it is estimated that the draft at the Soo is 17.5 feet, which is the lowest on record, and it is estimated that the loss to some of the fleets that have started out with a heavy load will be very heavy. Until there is an increase in the present depth all the vessels for Lake Superior will be compelled to load light.

"IN TOBERO" PLEASD A LARGE AUDIENCE

Mining School Players Gave First Class Show at Opera House Last Night.

No apology need be offered because "In Tobero" happened to be presented in Marquette by an amateur company last night. Not many professional companies deserve or receive a more enthusiastic reception than was accorded to the dramatic stars of the Michigan College of Mines last evening. The show was good from start to finish, and the large audience in attendance will long remember "In Tobero."

The mining school boys have spared no time or expense to make their first dramatic production one worthy of their college. It is staged with special scenery for all three acts, the costumes were made especially for the production, and the singing and dancing numbers have been rehearsed until they go with professional precision and smoothness. The whole company scored heavily with Marquette people last night, and C. F. Schaber and H. G. Kroeger, who took the leading women's parts, simply took the audience by storm. There was no suggestion of burlesque about the show, as had been anticipated by many. It being a first class musical comedy, with bewitching chorus girls, prima donnas, leading men, comedians, etc., and every part was taken by a mining school student.

"In Tobero" was produced and in all its effects was directed by Mr. Schaber, who took the part of a dancing girl. He made up excellently as a girl and his ballet dancing was a revelation. Mr. Kroeger was in the part of a Boston school teacher, and he too handled the role in a manner that might well be the envy of many a professional actress. It was he—beg pardon, Athens—who wore the sensational harem skirt, which had been so much advertised. The skirt was all that it was cracked up to be, too.

One of the most pleasing features of "In Tobero" is the singing, both the solos and choruses. The heaviest solo parts are taken by E. H. Richards, as Maxmillio, the leader of the revolutionists; E. H. Stillwell, as the band leader, and E. H. Condit, as Harold Keller, about whose adventures the plot revolves. All are beautiful singers and they were supported by a musical and splendidly drilled chorus. The play closed with the singing of the new M. C. M. song, written by Mr. Schaber, which was a most fitting climax for the three hours of delightful entertainment. The boys carry their own orchestra, of which John M. Longyear, Jr., is the leader, and the excellent work of the orchestra added much to the success of the production.
