

INSURRECTOS ESTABLISH A GOVERNMENT

With Juarez as the Capital City and With the Formal Appointment of a Cabinet, the Madero Administration Begins the Transaction of Business.

First Order Issued Grants Permission for the Repair of the Railroad—Absence of Looting Shows Rebel Army Well Disciplined—Many Men Enlisting.

Juarez, May 11.—Mexico's provisional government became an established fact today with the naming of a cabinet by Francisco I. Madero, Jr., provisional president, and with the establishing of a capital at the captured city of Juarez.

Dr. Vasquez Gomez, minister of foreign relations. Gustavo Marrero, minister of finance. Venustiano Carranza, minister of war. Federico Gonzalez Garza, minister of the interior.

Secretary of War Carranza will have charge of the railways and telegraphs and his first act was to grant permission for the repair of the Mexico Northwestern railroad. Gonzalez Garza will have charge of the mail service, and Secretary of the Treasury Carranza will direct the affairs of the customs house.

Army Well Disciplined. That the insurrecto army is more than an armed mob was shown today in the complete absence of looting and of intoxication and the quickness with which the captured city was cleared of its dead and wounded.

In the meantime, the insurrectos are not overlooking the possibility of an attack from Colonel Rabago, who is reported approaching from Chihuahua with a relief force.

Federals Wouldn't Fight. Now that the battle of Juarez has been fought and won, even the insurrecto leaders are wondering somewhat at the easiness of the capture of a city that appeared almost impregnable.

Nogales, Mex., May 11.—Five hundred Mexican federal troops, comprising the garrison which evacuated Agua Prieta yesterday, passed through Lomas Junction today, on their way toward Hermosillo. They traveled in a special train, Lomas Junction is only a few miles distant from Nogales. Consternation has been caused here by the fact that the Agua Prieta federals, who were summoned upon to reinforce the garrison in Nogales, are proceeding southward, instead. This is taken to mean that Nogales is to be left to its fate.

Insurrectos Planning State Government. Agua Prieta, Mexico, May 11.—The rebels here will have the preparations for the establishment here of their provisional government for the state of Sonora. Rebels Threaten to March Upon the Capital Unless Diaz Resigns at Once. San Antonio, Tex., May 11.—"Unless Diaz resigns and peace is made at once, General Madero, my brother, chief of the revolutionary movement, will be leading a force of 20,000 men through the streets of Mexico City in less than a month. This is no idle talk. It is the military plans which he has made." This statement was made here today by Alfonso Madero.

Rebel Chiefs Determined. Juarez, Mex., May 11.—The rebel chiefs will consent to no peace terms at present, except a definite understanding regarding Diaz's resignation. The insurrecto leaders want to march to Mexico City. The rebels now have a tremendous amount of ammunition and artillery and are believed to have sympathizers in Mexico City ready to assist them. That there is more than a threat in the talk of an attack on Mexico City has been evident by the part it has taken in the discussion among the rebel military leaders.

News was received today of the establishment of revolutionary agencies in London and Paris, ready to apply for recognition when the insurrectos win another decisive battle or take Mexico City.

MAKE PLANS TO PROTECT LIVES OF FOREIGNERS

Diplomatic Representatives in the City of Mexico Will Co-Operate in a Program of Self-Defense Should Mob Violence Force Action of the Kind.

There Is Some Fear of Anarchy Following in the Wake of the Revolutionary Movement, and the Precautions Taken Have the Approval of the Government.

Mexico City, May 11.—A movement for the protection of the foreign residents in this capital in the event that mob violence should follow in the wake of the revolutionary movement through the country was initiated today by the diplomatic representatives of the larger countries. It is proposed that each country shall appoint a committee, all of the committees to work together to form a program for self-defense in case of need.

The movement was initiated by Henry Wilson, the American representative, as dean of the corps. At his invitation, the ministers or charges d'affaires of Great Britain, Germany, Italy, Spain and Belgium met and appointed a committee headed by Minister Coloman y Coloman of Spain, to place the plans before the minister of foreign relations of Mexico. Minister De LaBarra approved the plans as being possibly a wise measure.

There are, roughly estimated, 23,000 foreigners in the capital, including 5,000 Americans. Minister Coloman y Coloman explained that the intention of the diplomats was the protection solely of the homes of their respective countrymen and that there was no intention to attempt to protect other property of foreigners.

Peace Negotiations Reported Resumed. The government officials, who early today appeared greatly depressed by the fall of Juarez, took a more hopeful view of the situation tonight. The change was based, perhaps, upon the reported renewal of negotiations for peace which Minister De LaBarra declared were already under way this afternoon.

A flood of dispiriting rumors swept over the city today, causing many anxious inquiries, particularly from foreigners. The most startling one was to the effect that General Diaz had resigned the presidency and that Senor Espinosa, minister of education, who was yesterday appointed minister of the interior as well, was to be made president temporarily. General Diaz's resignation was said to have been given to the supreme court during the afternoon. Minister De LaBarra denied the truth of the report. The other rumors failed of confirmation likewise.

Robert H. Shields of Houghton left yesterday for Lansing to attend an important meeting of the state tax commission. At this meeting, an expert who is to conduct the re-valuation of the mining properties of Michigan will be appointed.

PROGRESSIVES BLOCK PLAN OF STANDPATTERS

Mr. Gallinger of New Hampshire, the Choice of the Republican Caucus, Falls of Election as President pro Tem. of the Senate—Seven Ballots Taken.

With Insurgents Paired Against the New Englander or Voting for Mr. Clapp, and With Democrats Supporting Mr. Bacon, a Deadlock Is the Outcome.

Washington, May 11.—The incapacity of the Republican party in the senate to control a caucus edict without the aid of the progressives was demonstrated today, when after more than two hours of effort and as the result of seven ballots the senate failed to elect Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire as president pro tempore to succeed Senator Frye of Maine. Mr. Frye's recent resignation was based on poor health.

Today's deadlock was due to the opposition of the progressive Republican senators, five of whom voted against and three of whom were paired against Mr. Gallinger. Senator Cullom of Illinois placed Mr. Gallinger in nomination. The nomination of Senator Bacon of Georgia by Senator Martin followed. Senator LaFollette performed the same service for Senator Clapp of Minnesota.

Upon the first ballot it was apparent that while all the progressives did not cast their votes against Mr. Gallinger they were so paired as to render ineffective the vote of the absentees. Senator Borah announced his desire to vote for Mr. Gallinger, but stated that owing to a pair with Senator Works, who was unfriendly to Senator Gallinger, he could not do so. Mr. Dixon was paired with Mr. Cummins and Mr. Kenyon with Mr. Bourne.

Majority Vote Impossible. The first ballot totaled seventy-three votes, of which Mr. Bacon, the Democratic candidate, received thirty-five; Mr. Gallinger, the Republican candidate, thirty-two, and Mr. Clapp four, while Mr. Bacon voted for Mr. Tillman and Mr. Clapp for Mr. Bristow. Senators Bristow, LaFollette, Groun and Poindexter voted for Mr. Clapp. Messrs. Cummins, Borah, Works and Crawford, progressives, were all absent, but paired for Senator Clapp except Mr. Crawford, who was ill. All the Democratic votes were cast for Mr. Bacon except that of Mr. Bacon himself. Thirty-seven votes were necessary to a choice.

The only change in the second ballot was that Senator Gallinger, who had refrained from voting, voted for Mr. Lodge, increasing the total vote to seventy-four and making thirty-eight necessary to elect. The figures for each candidate were unchanged throughout the voting, until on the last vote Senator Bradley retired and Senator Taylor of Tennessee was paired with him.

Of the many points of order raised, the most serious—that one presented by Mr. Root—related to the right of a senator to refrain from voting on account of a pair. Mr. Root contended that under the rules all senators are required to vote when their names are called. Mr. Bailey replied that the custom of the senate has so sanctioned pairing as to render it equivalent to a rule. He declared he would rather be expelled from the senate than obey an order to break a pair.

LaFollette Proclaims Independence. Mr. LaFollette, in behalf of the progressives, related to the criticism was directed, bitterly replied to Mr. Root. He said: "I do not recognize the right of any senator to make a point against me or against anyone voting as I vote that we are voting against our party. I do not recognize the right of any senator to cast his vote for the purpose of causing to be disposed of the public business. I do not purpose to be outlawed because I cannot agree to support any man who may be agreed upon by such a secret meeting." The chair ruled that a pair could be recognized only as an excuse for not voting, and by a vote the senate held this to be a valid excuse.

After the fifth ballot Senator Cullom sought adjournment until Monday, but his motion was voted down, the Democrats prevailing.

feated Pittsburg in a batting feat today, the home team getting seventeen hits with a total of nineteen runs.

United States Steel was the sustaining force of the list. The manner in which that stock resisted attack acted as a stimulus for the rest of the market. An attempt to force a break in Steel was made at the opening, but the price barely wavered and the bear traders were forced to cover at rising prices. Some improvement in the steel trade was reported from Pittsburg, although the change is too slight to relieve the situation. The movement of iron ore has fallen off, despite the recent reduction in prices. The April shipments of Lake Superior iron ore from the upper lake docks were little more than one-fifth of the amount forwarded in April of last year.

The copper metal market was somewhat easier today, the prices here reflecting the weakness in the London metal market. Sales of several million pounds to domestic consumers were reported. On the Metal exchange, standard copper was called weak, with spot and the May and June quoted at 11.55@11.60 and the July and August at 11.55@11.63. The market at London was quiet, with spot at $33, 10s and futures at $34, 1s, 3d. The customs house returns show exports of 8,160 tons so far this month. New York dealers quote lake copper at 12.57 1/2@12.59 cents, electrolytic at 12.12 1/2@12.50 cents and casting at 11.87 1/2@12.

BOARD OF EDUCATION IS AFTER POINTERS

Hancock Officials Go to Neganuee to Inspect That City's Fine New High School.

George C. Bentley, Jacob Baer, Thomas Conaghan, George Rupe, J. H. Jastberg and C. A. Wright, constituting the Hancock city board of education, left yesterday morning for Neganuee for the purpose of inspecting the high school in that city.

This is the first of a series of visits of inspection which the Hancock board will make with the intention of getting ideas to be incorporated in a new high school, which is to be erected in the near future, probably within the year. The board will visit various upper peninsula cities, probably including Marquette and Escanaba, in the present trip, and may go outside the peninsula if it is considered profitable to do so.

Hancock is in great need of a new high school building. The present structure is over-crowded and there is no possibility of enlarging it into a modern schoolhouse. The increase in Hancock's population made necessary a new school building, the E. L. Wright school, little more than a year old. This new building was expected to relieve the congestion, but it has not and the high school is again crowded.

The Neganuee high school has been recommended to the Hancock board as a model school building. It may be that this school will suit the ideas of the members and that no other trip will be necessary.

FINE OUTING IN SIGHT.

Boys to Camp Under Auspices of the Calumet Y. M. C. A.

It has been proposed that the annual camp and outing of the boys of the Calumet Young Men's Christian association be made an encampment for boys of the upper peninsula this year or at least for the boys of the copper country. The plan has been discussed by a number of those to whom it has been broached so far.

This evening there will be a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building of those who have attended the state and local camps in years past, and plans for this year's camp will be discussed. The summer outings or encampments have always been very successful and well attended and have been of great benefit to those who took them in. It is proposed to make this year's camp the best attended ever held by the Calumet association and also to pitch it at some place not before visited. It has been practically decided to locate the camp at Grand Marais harbor, which lies just east of Eagle Harbor on Keweenaw.

This is one of the most ideal of all the beautiful camping spots on the Keweenaw peninsula, its natural advantages being many. Grand Marais harbor is 300 yards or more long by 100 or 200 yards wide. The water is clean and pure and is warmed through the summer by the sun, making it perfect for swimming and for boating and fishing. The little bay is almost landlocked, there being but a narrow entrance from the lake, making it a sheet of water that the heaviest winds sweeping across the surface of Lake Superior would no more than merely ruffle. From the harbor can be seen the big freighters and ore carriers that pass around the point. There is a long sandy beach on the east side that is just right for wading and wallowing about in the shallow, warm water and there are many ideal spots for pitching tents. Trees of the primeval forest give shade to the numbers of boys for the annual camp this year will likely be limited to about fifty. It is expected that this number and perhaps more will want to go, for the outing will be a jolly and pleasant one and there will be enough older heads to take care of the youngsters. The physical director of the association and several assistants will go along with the party. The trip from Calumet likely will be made in wagons, perhaps part of it by rail, although this has not been decided upon as yet.

At the camp the boys will be required to do all their own housekeeping. They will take plenty to eat during the ten days or so that they will be in camp and will provide themselves with other necessities that cannot be damaged or, if they are, it won't make much difference. They will also take their own bedding and cooking and eating utensils. Some of the boys can hardly wait for camping time to come.

START THE SCHOOL CENSUS.

The census enumerators in the various school districts of Houghton county have been named and the census will begin next Monday. The work must be completed before June 1.

R. MADERO FORMERLY A MINING STUDENT

Houghton People Taking an Unusual Interest in the Revolution in Mexico.

Unusual interest is taken in the Mexican revolution by Houghton people because of their acquaintance with Raul Madero, brother of the insurrecto chief, Francisco I. Madero. Raul Madero is fighting with the army under Garibaldi and was present when Juarez was taken on Wednesday, figuring in the dispatches as being General Navarro, the federal commander, covered when Garibaldi was negotiating for the surrender of the city. Raul Madero was a student at the Michigan College of Mines when the revolution began.

There is another Houghton interest in the situation at Juarez, and this is found at the offices of the Stone & Webster Electric Light company and the Houghton County Traction company. Stone & Webster operates the El Paso Electric Railway company, which furnishes street car and lighting service to Juarez. All of the officials of the company are known to the officials here and the latter are watching developments at Juarez with interest.

Mr. Hart's Experience. C. D. Hart, bookkeeper in the Houghton office, was connected with the El Paso office in 1908, at the time when the Yaqui Indians were conducting a little rebellion against the Mexican government. The Indians had burned a ranch about twenty miles from Juarez and were supposed to be marching upon the city. Juarez was garrisoned at the time by a handful of Mexican troops, a bijou army which an American baseball team could put to rout. The jefe politico or mayor of Juarez became greatly excited over the impending siege. He began making preparations for the defense. The walled barracks of the fort was lighted by four arc lamps, one at each corner. The jefe politico achieved the brilliant idea that if he could have large lights backed by reflectors their glare could be directed to the eyes of the besieging Indians and they would be blinded and at the mercy of the garrison, which would be in the dense darkness behind the lights. He asked the El Paso office to send men over to put a sheet of water in the lake, making it so that the light would be reflected in the water. The lamps were backed by screens and the stage was set for war. But the Indians never came. They got no nearer to Juarez than the ranch which they burned.

Theater Opening Tonight. Houghton New Picture Palace, the Star, Ready to Entertain.

Houghton's new moving picture theater, the Star, which has just been erected for S. L. Phillips by Contractor John J. Michels, will be open tonight with a select program of photoplays. King Kamehameha orchestra will provide music for the first performance.

The beautiful theater left the hands of the decorators last night and this morning is ready for the opening. D. J. Bell of Chicago, originator of the Kinograph projecting machine, arrived yesterday morning to install the machine and make everything ready for the first night. He says the Star is one of the prettiest theaters he has ever seen. Mr. Phillips gives great credit to Contractor Michels for adding his building to Houghton's most creditable array of handsome business houses. Mr. Michels designed the facade of the building, which is a striking theater front, an architectural triumph, and he also made a speed record in the construction of the building.

The contract for the theater was let Feb. 17 and work commenced Feb. 23. Mr. Michels lost two weeks through unfavorable weather and two more through changes which were made in the original plans, so that in completing the building on May 12 he consumed actually only a month and a half. The theater is put into the theater the best that is in him and it will stand as a monument to his skill as a builder.

Elks' Annual Show. The Calumet lodge of Elks at its meeting Wednesday night decided to accept the offer of Rufus K. Lowe of Chicago, the Elks' show producer, to put on "The Big Noise," a musical comedy has been done successfully by a number of lodges. Exalted Ruler Thomas has the matter in charge and expects to close negotiations at once.

Calumet Automobile Data. George Martin, clerk of Calumet township, yesterday received from Secretary of State Martindale a report on the automobiles in the township. There are seventy-five automobiles registered as being owned by Calumet township residents.

Development in Jom. Calumet is Taking a Renewed Interest in the U. P. Bureau.

The revival of interest in the work of the Upper Peninsula Development bureau, begun by the Houghton banquet Monday night, has affected Calumet and now the businessmen of that section are going to start a development boom. The businessmen who attended the Houghton meeting propose to hold a similar meeting at their end of the county, for the purpose of helping along the campaign, interesting every one possible in the great work of helping to advance the district. They feel that too North-west and going into districts that are sparsely settled, whose farms are far apart, where settlements and cities are few and where there is little or no market for anything they might raise. And they leave behind them a district added materially to the prestige of the district, which has a large tonnage that averages higher than ordinarily in the district.

A dispatch from Duluth, under date of yesterday, says: Private advices received by Duluth from Bisbee, Ariz., are to the effect that an ore strike on the 500-foot level of the Shattuck mine is one of the most important ever made in that property, and one of the very important strikes in the history of the Warren district. In spite No. 14, a large body of high grade ore has been opened up, which averages 18 per cent. copper just as it is broken, and has averaged up to that per cent. ever since it was first encountered. Up to the present the limits of this ore body are unknown, and it is being worked both ways. No. 22, crosscut, which really is a part of this strike, is working south, or back into the hill, while the other end of the strike is going a little east of north. The ore has shown no falling off in grade during the extensive development covering many weeks. The new ore body adds materially to the prestige of the Shattuck, which has a large tonnage that averages higher than ordinarily in the district.

It is a whitefish famine. The time has gone by when whitefish are brought from Lake Superior in tons. It was reported yesterday in Houghton that whitefish are bringing twenty-six cents a pound in the Chicago market. A fisherman from Houghton, who has sold 400 pounds of whitefish to Houghton Wednesday noon. The whole lot was snapped up by a man who at once shipped the fish to Chicago. This is about the largest catch of whitefish brought to Houghton this spring.

Notes of Copper News. Calumet & Hecla has reduced its price from 12 1/2 to 12 cents, thereby signaling that company's entrance into the market and also making the price for the better grades of lake copper.

The output of the Lake Superior mines for April is estimated at 18,053,137 pounds of fine copper, which is 1,621,697 pounds less than in the previous month and 1,420,322 pounds less than in April, 1910.

A meeting of the directors of the Keweenaw Copper company was held in the company's office in Hancock Wednesday. The officers were re-elected. The shaft which the company is sinking at the foot of the Kearsarge lode is now 900 feet down. At a depth of 1,300 feet the diamond drill has disclosed a wide lode carrying good copper values. The shaft is now being sunk at the rate of about eighty feet a month and it is expected that this rate of development during the present year will be continued. No assessment on the stock is contemplated at present, the company having sufficient means to carry on its work during the current year.

HOW ONE PASTOR IS FIGHTING EVIL

Mount Morris, Mich., May 11.—Michigan churchmen who desire to see an advance movement among the rural churches might do worse than to visit this little town of less than 1,000 inhabitants and see for themselves how one pastor, backed by his people, is beating the devil in winning the whole town for righteousness. Rev. N. D. Potter and the Baptist church form the combination. They are using a gymnasium as their tool.

That the example is within the means and abilities of other towns and churches is evident from the meager apparatus in use. The gymnasium would make a "city feller" smile. It is a bare room in the church basement, with floor space twenty by twenty-five feet and a ceiling eight feet above the floor. Less than $100 worth of dumb-bells, Indian clubs and floor mats constitute the equipment. But this small room was the busiest place in the town during the cold weather and the interest centering there continues to control the amusement hours of old and young in Mount Morris.

No Time for Church. When the new pastor took up his work one year ago he found the usual church conditions. Lodges and clubs, dances, card parties and dances, kept the recreation period of old and young so full that there was no room for the church or for religious interest—all that was forgotten. In summer it was Sunday baseball that furnished a bone of contention. The three churches, the Roman Catholic, which is strong, the Methodist and the Baptist.

The Baptist pastor started a series of Friday night socials in the church to offset a regular Friday night dance that he saw was playing havoc with his children, for that is his main object in life.

It must be said, too, that his aim is not simply to pull the youth into his church membership for the sake of the church. Thus far he has not added a single member to his church as a result of the interest in athletics. His purpose is to put himself into the lives of others for their own sakes and let consequences take care of themselves. This spirit is really what has made the pastor strike if his demands are not accepted to the whole town.

He Plays Ball, Too. Besides the idea, Mr. Potter had some physical capital, such as a body weighing 207 pounds, well trained, and an experience in general athletics. While a student at Albion college he learned some of the things that are necessary to succeed in general athletics. He has had charge of all the classes himself and the job has kept him busy. But he does not begrudge the time spent in getting hold of young people and children, for that is his main object in life.

VENISON FOR THE INFIRMARY. Game Warden MacDonald of Calumet Gets One Out of Season.

The inveterate deer hunters of Houghton were almost shocked yesterday to see an express wagon containing the freshly slaughtered carcass of a deer. They believed for a time that they had been deceived regarding the opening of the hunting season. But investigation proved that the deer was consigned from Calumet to the county infirmary, the point to which all seized game is sent by the game warden.

This deer was delivered to Game Warden MacDonald of Calumet. It was found in the woods with its neck broken and was killed to put it out of its misery. Mr. MacDonald sent it to the poor farm and the inmates of that public charity probably will have roast venison for their Sunday dinner, which goes to show that there is some fun even in being in the poor house.

City Brevities

Andrew Birney, immigration agent for the South Shore railroad, was in the city yesterday.

United States Steamboat Inspectors Gooding and York were at the Soo yesterday on official business.

The Methodist Home Missionary society will meet with Mrs. L. A. Sherwood, corner Arch and Spruce streets, at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The Baptist Woman's Missionary society will meet with Mrs. L. A. Sherwood, corner Arch and Spruce streets, at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

A missionary meeting of the Woman's society of the Presbyterian church will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon with Mrs. F. M. Summers, 355 East Hewitt avenue.

H. W. Zerbel was presented with a veteran Old Fellows' jewel at the meeting Wednesday night, he having been a member of the order for twenty-five years.

"Zeke" Tallion, champion slugger of the Marquette baseball team last year, arrived in the city from Sault Ste. Marie, where he has spent the winter, last evening.

Bert Freed, of the Marquette baseball team, returned from lower Michigan yesterday with a pitcher, Smack by name, whom he recruited at Boyne City. Several other prospective members of the team are expected today.

The fire department was called out twice yesterday to extinguish chimney fires. The first call came about noon from the corner of Michigan and Oak streets, and the second at 5:30 last evening from the McLean residence on Bluff street, between Fourth and Fifth streets.

Grand Theatre Program—The Grand today will show five pictures this afternoon and evening. Among them will be two fine Western pictures, "The Sheriff's Chum," "Nell's Last Deal." Tomorrow afternoon eight pictures will be shown at the matinee.

Thieves Entered Saloon—Clifford Garceau's saloon on West Washington street, until recently conducted by Ed. J. Bernard, was burglarized Wednesday night, about $18 being taken from the till. Entrance to the building was gained through a basement window. The cash register was left unharmed. There is every indication that the burglary was committed by an amateur, and it is believed that the thief was some one who is thoroughly familiar with the building.

High Wind Yesterday—A high south wind blew all day yesterday, raising clouds of dust on all the streets and making getting about unpleasant. It also resulted in at least two chimney fires. Telephone men report that the wind has caused them a great deal of trouble and that some of the long distance lines are temporarily out of commission. Northwest storm signals were displayed at the weather bureau but up to last evening no wind was from the south.

Meeting of School Men—A meeting of members of boards of education and school superintendents of Marquette and Alger counties will be held at the court house today, beginning at 10 o'clock. State Superintendent L. L. Wright will preside over the meeting and will be prepared to explain the revised school laws, as passed by the last legislature. Round table discussion of various school administration problems will be encouraged, and the meeting is likely to prove of great interest and value to all who attend.

Circuit Court Monday—The May term of circuit court opens next Monday morning with Judge Flannigan on the bench. The jury has been ordered to report at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. The forenoon will be taken up going over the calendar and assigning the various cases for trial. On Tuesday, the petitions of aliens for final citizenship will be passed upon. In the examination of candidates for citizenship, Judge Flannigan will probably be assisted by one of the United States naturalization examiners.

Theater Managers Elect—At the meeting of the Northwestern Theater Managers' association, held in Milwaukee yesterday and which was attended by A. F. Kowpeck of this city, C. A. Marshall, of Duluth, was re-elected president of the association; P. H. Haber, of Fond du Lac, secretary and treasurer. The following directors were elected: J. D. Cuddihy of Calumet, John E. Williams of Oshkosh, C. D. Moon of Eau Claire, Marcus Heinman of Madison and J. B. Arthurs of Green Bay. Arrangements were completed for the routing of a number of big shows through this territory and all together next season promises to be a most successful one.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO.

Marine Notes

The Collingwood cleared for the Canadian Soo yesterday afternoon with ore from the South Shore dock, and the Samuel Mathew was expected to clear for the lower lakes during the night. The Castalia is expected in from Houghton today, where she has been unloading coal. At the L. S. & I. dock, the Angeline is expected today.

Low water is cutting heavily into the carrying capacity of vessels, especially those bound to haul 10,000 to 12,000 tons. The largest ore cargoes this season in 12,000-ton vessels averaged about 10,000 tons, while in the vessels built to carry between 8,000 and 9,000 tons, the cargoes do not come up to within 700 to 800 tons of capacity. In other words, vessels built to carry 12,000 tons, are hauling about 84 per cent. of capacity, while 8,000 and 9,000-ton boats are carrying about 9 per cent. less than capacity cargoes. The difference between the drafts of 1907 and 1910 was so large that the carrying capacity of 1910 was 8 per cent. less than in 1907 on the vessels of 12,000-ton capacity. The reduction of loading depth will enter prominently this season into the capacity of fleets than in many years. The larger vessels are harder hit than the smaller ones, and as the big fleets are composed of the largest vessels, they will suffer most, if the present stage of water continues.

After lightening 359 tons of hard coal the steamer I. W. Nicholas was released from Crab Island shoals late Wednesday. She arrived at the Soo at midnight. Her forepeak is leaking and divers are making an examination. Temporary repairs will be made here.

Frank Lang, 28 years old, a wheelman on the steamer Sappho, was on a trip with some companions working outside the Sault Ste. Claire at Detroit, when he apparently became dizzy and fell into the river. Several life preservers and ropes were thrown to him, but he failed to catch any of them. Harbormaster Ellison recovered the body within an hour after the accident. Lang's home was at Rhode Island, N. Y.

Railroad Making Improvements—The Ann Arbor railroad has started work on an important program of improvements at Menominee. The principal task will be to increase the carrying capacity of the slip and make ready for more extensive business. At the present time the slip will hold thirty-one cars. It will be enlarged to a capacity of seventy-five. The yards will be doubled in size and will also be repaired. It is the intention of the company to increase the size of the dock so that the new No. 5 car ferry can make port. The crew that is now in the city will be unable to perform this work, but a dredge boat and a pile driver will be engaged and it is understood that these operations will be started soon. Business for the Ann Arbor company has started out better than any year heretofore. The No. 3 is making almost daily trips to Menominee, it being used instead of the No. 4 because it is a larger boat and can handle more freight. When the dock is fixed up, the No. 5 is expected to make frequent trips to Menominee, as the amount of freight to be hauled will demand a larger boat than even the No. 3.

Upper Peninsula

A Hotel for Skane—Emil Lundberg contemplates the erection of a ten-room, two-story hotel and boarding house at Skane, Baraga county. A building of this nature has been badly needed for years. It is practically impossible to get accommodations now, except at the homes of settlers.

Fighting Editor Appeals—Formal papers providing for the appeal of the case of ex-Sheriff F. L. Aronson of Delta county against F. L. Baldwin, editor of the Escanaba Journal, have been filed at the office of County Clerk J. A. Senner. The case is a civil action brought by Mr. Aronson on a charge of libel. On the trial in the circuit court a verdict for the plaintiff was given. An application for a new trial was later denied and the Journal's publisher has now taken an appeal to the supreme court.

Ironwood Orator Triumphs—Rhinehart Thaler, the Ironwood High school's representative, won first place in oratory at the division contest held recently at Park Falls, Wis., with "Emmett's Last Speech" as his topic. He was given first place by all three judges, his percentage standing being very high. Representatives of seven high schools took part in the contest. The young man has now added to his laurels by taking first place in the district contest held at Superior, Wis.

Captured Wolf Cubs Alive—The sight of five cub wolves in a basket attracted considerable attention in an Ogdan avenue street car at Menominee the other day. Henry Wilson of Holmes township brought the animals in charge and killed them by knocking them in the head. Mr. Wilson then made an affidavit that he had caught the wolves in Menominee county and put in a bill for the bounty.

Has Settled the Case—John Trotter of Iron Mountain, who had brought suit against the Chicago & Northwestern railroad for damages of $50,000, has settled the case out of court. The litigation had reached the stage where testimony was being taken. The plaintiff was employed as a brakeman and lost both legs in an accident in the Northwest. As he previously had refused to accept $10,000 in compensation it is surmised that the case has been settled for a greater amount.

Fishermen Are Fined—J. A. Berg and Charles Hill, Gladstone fishermen, were fined $10 and costs each when arraigned before Judge Emil Fisher at Escanaba, charged with fishing with gill nets in Little Bay de Noc. In addition fifty pounds of fish in their possession were confiscated and turned over to the city poor department and their nets were destroyed by burning. By a special act passed by the legislature several years ago it was made unlawful to fish with nets in Little Bay de Noc north of a line drawn from Gladstone point to Squaw point. The fact that the men were fishing in prohibited waters was discovered by State Game warden Herman Leisner and their arrest followed.

Denies the Alderman's Charges—Narcisse Blanchett, who for several years has held the position of poor commissioner in Escanaba, vigorously denies the charges that have been made against his department by Alderman George Shipman and printed in the Escanaba Journal. He asserts that every charge made by the alderman is absolutely without foundation and is manufactured out of whole cloth. To substantiate his claims Mr. Blanchett has invited Alderman Shipman and the publisher of the Journal to go over the books of the department with him and if a single allegation made by Mr. Shipman is found to be true he will resign immediately.

Bonding Proposition Abandoned—No proposition to bond the village for street improvements will be submitted to the voters of Newberry this year, the entire program having been abandoned owing to the discovery of unexpected local obstacles. According to the provisions of the charter under which the village is operating it would be impossible to float bonds for more than $4,500 for street improvement purposes. There are two ways in which this obstacle can be overcome. The village may adopt a new charter, or it may boost its assessment roll up to actual cash values and thus increase the bonding limit. Either of these plans would require several months to accomplish, and for the present at least the city fathers have decided to abandon the whole scheme.

There is a strong sentiment among the councilmen favorable to the erection of a steel and brick power house to replace the present wooden structure. An appropriation of $4,000 has already been made for improvements to the power house equipment and the village dads argue that it is poor business policy to have all this expensive equipment contained in a wooden structure, with the attendant danger from fire. Estimates on the cost of a new building are being secured and a proposition to bond for this purpose may be submitted later.

A Warning to Townships—A case was tried at the last term of the circuit court for Mackinac county and a verdict was rendered which township boards everywhere will do well to accept as peremptory notice that all highways must be made safe and kept safe at little patchwork in May or June will not suffice) or the towns will have to pay cash for resulting damages to vehicles, animals and persons, says the St. Ignace Republican-News. James Highland brought suit against the township of Gardfield because of the death of his horse, valued at $200. Mr. Highland was returning home from Newberry, one night in October, with a wagon-load of ground feed. When seven miles from Pagadine, on the Eckley hill, the wagon fell into a deep rut in the road, knocking the horse into a ditch, the animal receiving injuries from which it died soon after. The jury gave a highland verdict of $200, the value of the horse. Here in Mackinac county it has been customary to do a little work on the roads in the spring, and then leave them until another spring arrives. But along in September and October the roads get dangerous in places.

Railroad Making Improvements—The Ann Arbor railroad has started work on an important program of improvements at Menominee. The principal task will be to increase the carrying capacity of the slip and make ready for more extensive business. At the present time the slip will hold thirty-one cars. It will be enlarged to a capacity of seventy-five. The yards will be doubled in size and will also be repaired. It is the intention of the company to increase the size of the dock so that the new No. 5 car ferry can make port. The crew that is now in the city will be unable to perform this work, but a dredge boat and a pile driver will be engaged and it is understood that these operations will be started soon. Business for the Ann Arbor company has started out better than any year heretofore. The No. 3 is making almost daily trips to Menominee, it being used instead of the No. 4 because it is a larger boat and can handle more freight. When the dock is fixed up, the No. 5 is expected to make frequent trips to Menominee, as the amount of freight to be hauled will demand a larger boat than even the No. 3.

Soo High School Commencement—The Sault Ste. Marie High school will graduate this spring the largest class in its history. The class comprises forty young men and women. The diplomas will be presented at exercises to be held at the Central M. E. church the evening of June 16. The board of education has engaged William Byron Forbush, Ph. D., LIT. D., of Detroit, to deliver the commencement address. The subject has not as yet been announced. Dr. Forbush had his apprenticeship as a teacher, a leader of boys' clubs and a father of sons. In 1901 he wrote "The Boy Problem," now in its seventh edition, a book which is said to have had more influence on social work with boys than any other of recent times. Eight years before he had founded the Order of the Knights of King Arthur, now the largest boys' fraternity in the world. Three years before he organized the General Alliance of Workers With Boys, out of which has grown the organized street work for boys in America, and he is frequently called in by institutions for expert counsel as a "consulting engineer" for work with boys. May 25 the high school pupils will give their annual entertainment which will be on a more elaborate plan than for some years past. They will stage and produce, probably at the opera house, Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream," for which they have been rehearsing under the direction of the faculty for some time.

MOTH BALLS FOR MOLES.

Our new lawn was completely ruined by ground moles, and many dollars' worth of bulbs which we set out were eaten. After trying traps and other devices, we were about to give up in despair when a florist told us to push moth balls down into the tracks, writes a contributor to the Woman's Home Companion. These drove them away completely—the odor of the balls permeating the ground.

CAPTAIN M'ENCROE RESIGNS POSITION

Veteran Mining Man Put in Fifty-Three Years' Service With One Company.

Captain John McEncroe has resigned the position of underground superintendent of the Oliver Iron Mining company's hard ore properties, in this city, and will get out of the harness tomorrow, after more than fifty-three years of continuous service. Captain McEncroe has for some months contemplated giving up his position, and he will now take a well-deserved rest. He does not intend to resume mining work. It has not yet been decided who will succeed him.

Captain McEncroe has the distinction of having been in the employ of one mining company for more years than any other man in the Lake Superior region, and it is doubtful if there is a man in the employ of the steel corporation who has served any of the subsidiary companies for a longer time than has Captain McEncroe.

Another singular feature about Captain McEncroe's record is the fact that he has been employed continuously at the one property successively in the capacity of miner, captain and underground superintendent. It has been many times said of Captain McEncroe by men who are in a position to know that he is an authority on hard ore mining. When Captain McEncroe looked at a piece of ground and pronounced it unsafe, or when he passed an opinion as to the value of a hard ore mine, his judgment was never questioned by those familiar with his ability and his record in the mining industry. It is doubtful if there is another iron mine in the Lake Superior country that has been better looked after, or operated with greater judgment, than the property in charge of Captain McEncroe. The fact that fewer accidents have occurred in the mine under his charge, in proportion to the number of men employed, than has taken place in many other properties in this and other districts of the Lake Superior country is proof of his great ability as an iron ore miner.

Has Unusual Record.

Captain McEncroe's record as a miner is quite as interesting as it is unusual, and his retirement from active service with the Oliver company will leave a vacancy in the ranks of the local officials that will be greatly regretted by his associates.

Captain McEncroe spent his early life in Detroit and the possibilities of the Lake Superior country were made known to him by an older brother, who came to this region in 1847, shortly after ore was discovered in the Jackson mine, in Negaunee. In 1854 John, who was then a mere lad, decided to journey north. He first located at Sault Ste. Marie, where he spent a short time, then there he went to Marquette, securing work as a laborer.

Young McEncroe took a position in 1856 at the Eureka mine, located a few miles west of Marquette. The mine was operated under supervision of A. B. Ward, and the ore, which was found in small deposits, was shipped to the Wyandotte furnace. The ore was limited in quantity and the property was not operated for a very long period.

At Lake Superior Since 1858.

Captain McEncroe entered the employ of the Lake Superior Iron company April 1, 1858, being one of a crew of ten men working under Superintendent Gilbert D. Johnson.

Captain McEncroe's first work for the company was done as a miner and he was employed in the open pits and cuts, south of the company's office building. His pay at that time was twenty-five cents per day. In 1860 he was promoted to the foremanship of one of the pits, which was operated only during the season of navigation. In the winter months he worked in the Cavanaugh pit, named after Simon Cavanaugh, the first foreman in that part of the mine. In 1865 he was made foreman of an open pit, also of the surface work. He held this position until 1873, when he was placed in charge of the mine work of all of the company's hard ore pits.

Among First to Use Dynamite.

Captain McEncroe was one of the first miners in this region to use explosives and he relates many interesting experiences with black powder, glycerine in liquid form, and dynamite in the early days. Explosives did not come into general use until 1869, when they took the place of black powder. During the early years of the use of giant powder, as it was known, there were many fatal accidents, and it took the miners, especially the new comers—a long time to become accustomed to it. In the early days glycerine oil was used in liquid form and many fatal accidents resulted from the careless handling of it, though it was a notable fact that fewer accidents occurred at the mine operated under supervision of Captain McEncroe than at other properties in this district.

Captain McEncroe also saw the introduction in mining work on this range of rock drills of various kinds, as well as the introduction of diamond drills. The Rand rock drill, which was one of the first to be introduced, and which is still used with great success, was first operated under Mr. McEncroe in 1878. By the aid of drills and the glycerine explosive mining in the hard ore properties was greatly facilitated.

Underground Every Day.

There have been very few working days during the more than fifty-three years that Captain McEncroe has been in charge of the Lake Superior properties that he has not spent many hours underground. During his long term of service, it is said that he has traveled a greater number of miles on ladders than any other mining man who has ever lived in this region. For many years he used the ladders in preference to the skips, in order that he might look over the workings as he went through them going from surface to the underground or in returning to surface. In spite of his advanced years the captain has always gone underground twice a day, remaining there the greater part of the time when the men were at work.

Captain McEncroe may not continue his residence in Ishpeming. It is possible that he will move to Detroit or Buffalo. He has always held a warm place in his heart for Detroit, because of having spent his boyhood there, and members of his family now reside in Buffalo.

CONCRETE WORK.

Ishpeming Contractors Will Put in Many Foundations This Season.

Treblecock Bros. have a number of concrete jobs in view for this season, and nearly thirty men are at present employed in this branch of the concern's business. The firm manufactures blocks for foundations and buildings and it is having a better demand this year than ever before, as concrete foundations are now being generally constructed here, because of the scarcity of desirable building stone.

The firm is completing a concrete foundation and walk at James Heard's dwelling, corner Fifth and North streets, and a crew is working at Charles Simons house, on Superior street. This dwelling is to be raised three feet and a basement will be put under the entire structure. Concrete blocks will be used for the walls.

A basement and concrete foundation has just been completed at A. Kinnison's home, at the Junction location.

The firm has a crew employed in Negaunee putting in a block foundation under the Finnish Temperance society's hall, on Case street, where 2,500 blocks will be used. Early next week a crew will be sent to Marquette to begin work on the concrete walks and driveway at the government building, on Washington street. Some 45,000 square feet of concrete will be laid.

You will save money during this sale on ladies' ready-to-wear garments at the Fashion Suit company, Main street.

SACRIFICE SALE.

William Leininger, the Main street furniture dealer, announces in this issue a special sale, commencing tomorrow. A Minneapolis man, who has had several years experience with this work, will have exclusive charge during the seven days the sale is in progress. Everything in stock, including furniture, rugs, ranges, pianos, lace curtains, chinaware, etc., will be marked down and the sale will be conducted on a cash basis.

That it is a wonderful remedy for Nasal Catarrh is proved by the ever-increasing mass of testimony. It does not dry out nor rasp the tender air-passages. It allays the inflammation and goes straight to the root of the disease. Obsolete old cases have yielded in a few weeks. CULEBRA CUT MAIN FACTOR AT PANAMA

Balance of the Work at the Isthmus Big Waterway Is Easy.

Panama, May 11.—The highest point of efficiency in the digging of the Panama canal was reached in the central division last month, when more earth and rock were taken in any other month of the canal history.

Most of the material excavated in March was taken from Culebra cut, and there remains to be excavated from that section of the canal about 22,000,000 cubic yards, work enough for thirty months.

Col. Goethals told the members of congress in February that the excavation in Culebra cut need not delay the opening of the canal beyond the completion of the locks.

John Meehan, the veteran steam-ship captain of the Panama Canal, is explaining the matter to a tourist, who happened to be sitting at his table in the Culebra Hotel recently.

There is one feature of the work in Culebra cut that is moving more smoothly than the slide and the every day persistent, and that is the train system. The cut is nine miles long and does not average over 500 feet in width at the present stage of the excavations.

Now as the cut becomes narrower, and it does as the ditch deepens, it will be more difficult to handle the trains, and the amount of excavation each month will decrease.

Upper Peninsula

Many Gasoline Tugs—To show to what an extent gasoline power is used at the present time it can be mentioned that there are no less than ten gasoline fish tugs being operated from the port of Manistique.

Many Dogs Slaughtered—Since the anti-hydrophobia campaign was instituted at Iron Mountain the police of that city have killed 175 dogs. It is probable that the total number exterminated will exceed two hundred.

Minnows Not Extinct Yet—Fishermen who have deplored the extinction of the minnow in these waters were agreeably surprised to find the water of the bay a shining mass of minnows the other morning around the Central Avenue dock, says the Gladstone Delta.

Becomes a Mine Superintendent—John E. McIntyre, former mining engineer for the Sunday Lake and Brotherhood companies at Wakefield, Gogebic range, and a son-in-law of Ed Barnaby of Ironwood, has succeeded H. F. Ellard, formerly of the Ashland mine at Ironwood, as superintendent of the San Antonio Copper company in Mexico.

County Sells Bonds—Schoolcraft county has sold to E. H. Rollins & Co. of Chicago $40,000 of an issue of $90,000 worth of bonds authorized for highway construction work.

Sets Loggers Good Example—James Finn created a little excitement in Alger county the other day by burning pine slashings where he has been lumbering for several years.

Illustrates the Slides. Col. Goethals told the members of congress in February that the excavation in Culebra cut need not delay the opening of the canal beyond the completion of the locks.

What happened was that the sugar above the mine and the knife dropped off the toe of the little mound slid down and partly covered the place where the knife had removed the other sugar.

Wonderful Train Work. There is one feature of the work in Culebra cut that is moving more smoothly than the slide and the every day persistent, and that is the train system.

Now as the cut becomes narrower, and it does as the ditch deepens, it will be more difficult to handle the trains, and the amount of excavation each month will decrease.

FARMERS IN IOWA HUNT FOR WOLVES

Animals They Seek Are Doing Much Devastation Among Live Stock.

Keokuk, Ia., May 11.—Not since the days of early civilization in the Middle West, when wild animals nightly came from their lairs to prey upon the unprotected stock of the pioneer settler, has there been such a pillage as is now going on in Lee county, Ia.

For two weeks a pack of timber wolves has been thriving on the stock of the farmers of Monroe and Jackson (outside) townships. More than 100 men, comprising in their numbers the younger in knee pants and the gray-bearded old man, have joined in the wolf hunt, which is now becoming a nightly occurrence.

The new compressor plant installed by Anaconda with which the Mountain View mine has been equipped has been started up, although no effort is being made to hoist the full complement of ore.

Thompson, Towle & Co. says: Up to the time the Miami mill started, no claim had been made that the company would be able to produce copper for less than nine cents.

Mining News

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

The tributors in the Michigan mine have produced ninety-six tons of mineral to date, of which one-half goes to the company under the terms made with the tributors, who bear the entire expense of mining.

The Atlantic has suspended operations and the mine will remain shut down indefinitely. The activity has been concentrated to exploratory work in section 16.

A deal has been closed for the transfer of 2,833 acres in Isle Royale, Lake Superior. The land now comes into possession of the Island Copper company, which was organized by Thomas F. Cole and associates of Duluth some few years ago, but which has been inactive since the formation of the company.

In a few weeks the Batte-Balaklava company expects to resume mining operations in ground which, it is stated by the officials, is not included in the restraining order secured by the Anaconda company some time ago.

The new compressor plant installed by Anaconda with which the Mountain View mine has been equipped has been started up, although no effort is being made to hoist the full complement of ore.

Thompson, Towle & Co. says: Up to the time the Miami mill started, no claim had been made that the company would be able to produce copper for less than nine cents.

SENATE MUST PASS RECIPROcity BILL

Until It Does, the Democratic House Will Not Agree to Adjournment.

Washington, May 11.—The Republican steering committee of the senate knows the conditions under which this session of congress may be brought to an end. The conditions have been communicated to this committee by Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee of the house by virtue of that chairmanship the minority leader in the house. The Republican leaders in the senate were somewhat concerned about what the Democrats of the house might expect of the senate, and so they sent an emissary to consult Chairman Underwood.

The chairman of the ways and means committee said to the representative of the Republican steering committee of the senate substantially this: The house intends to keep grinding away until all the measures included in the Democratic legislative program have been disposed of. Under no circumstances will we agree to end this special session until the Canadian reciprocity bill has been signed by the president.

The Democrats of the house say that the adoption of an order by the senate postponing action on the free list bill the revision of the wool schedule or any of the other Democratic house measures, until the regular session would probably be regarded by the house as sufficient notice that the senate will not act on these pieces of legislation.

The annual report for last year showed earnings amounting to $1.36 per share as compared with $2.60 in 1909 and $4.60 in 1908. One of the troubles last year was the decline in the price for copper, the North Butte receiving an average of 12.77 cents as compared with 13.11 cents in 1909 and 13.33 in 1908.

The main trouble, however, was the gradual increase in the proportion of second grade ore sent to the smelter. The percentage of high grade ore to the total output was 35.4 per cent in 1908, 18.8 per cent in 1909, and but 9.3 per cent in 1910.

It is evident that costs were higher with the larger percentage of second grade ore treated. The output was in fact 11,700,000 pounds smaller in 1910 than in 1908, while the number of tons treated was but 9,000 less.

The average number of pounds of copper to the ton was but 61.6 pounds in 1910 as compared with 89.29 pounds in 1908. The rich ore opened up in different places, as stated, is therefore of great importance and may result in restoring the low costs and large output per ton or more that marked the earlier history of the property.

The general manager of the property recently stated that with the showing of high grade ore in the Speculator shaft and the big undeveloped ore tonnage, the prospective future of the property is as promising as ever in its history. The company, he said, is in better condition physically as well as financially than a year ago. The outlook then is for a better year for the North Butte and with the improvement expected in metal prices there is reason to believe that the stock will be one of the leaders in any stock market movement that takes place.

ARIZONA COMMERCIAL.

The Arizona Commercial crosscut running north on the 1000-foot level has been directed to intercept the Old Dominion fault. The crosscut proved the vein to be thirty-one feet wide at this point, fifteen feet of which assayed from 3 per cent to 7 per cent copper, with some rich copper lenses that will run from 15 per cent to 20 per cent copper. The remainder of the vein is low-grade copper material. Drifts are now being run on the footwall side of the vein, both to the east and west, and have advanced about 50 feet from the crosscut in either direction. When these drifts have gone another fifty feet, or 100 feet from the crosscut, the vein will again be explored

COLLINS AND RY. REACH AGREEMENT

South Shore Road to Have More Room for Tracks West of Passenger Station.

Samuel Collins, Sr., and the management of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railway company have finally reached an agreement whereby the latter will be able to use some of the land for its tracks that Mr. Collins has had possession of for many years past.

At the time additional tracks were put in last year, made necessary by the erection of the new passenger station, Collins protested against the rails being laid on any portion of the land included in his lease, which he secured in 1873 from the Jackson Iron company.

Mr. Collins yesterday said that there will be no further disagreement between him and the management of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railway company, as all matters in dispute have been amicably adjusted.

Mr. Collins has had possession of the land that he has relinquished to the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railway company ever since 1873, and his almost constant fight since that time.

A BIG IMPROVEMENT.

Finnish Temperance Society Doing Important Work at Its Property.

Trebilcock Bros., the concrete contractors of Ishpeming, have been awarded a contract for the improvements at the Finnish Temperance society's building, on Chase street.

The building was raised two and one-half feet. Charles Johnson, the Ishpeming house mover, did this work under a sub-contract from Trebilcock Bros.

BUYING MANY FRUIT TREES

Judging from Heavy Buying Nurserymen Say That Upper Peninsula Farmers Are Going Into Horticulture More Extensively This Year Than Ever.

Especially Good Success Has Attended the Efforts of Those Who Planted Apple Orchards Several Years Ago—Experience of One Well-known Orchardist.

A recent brief investigation among the agents for nursery concerns reveals the interesting fact that this spring many thousands of fruit trees have been purchased by upper peninsula farmers in all sections of the district and that this year will see the most extensive planting of orchards in the history of this region. One nursery salesman reports sale of 3,000 trees and it is known that similar success has been achieved in all of the counties north of the straits this year.

The reason for this sudden spread of horticulture is found in the remarkable success which has attended the efforts of those upper peninsula farmers who six and eight years ago started orchards and carefully cared for them since. The returns are wonderful, the yield being phenomenal and the fruit of the highest quality and most delicious flavor. Chippewa county apples last year captured first honors at the state fair, thus showing the superiority of northern grown fruit.

Horticulturalists who have given the subject study confidently expect to see the upper peninsula as famous for its apples as is western New York today.

In this connection the experience of Magnus Nelson, one of the pioneer fruit growers of the upper peninsula is interesting. In 1872 Mr. Nelson purchased forty acres of land from the Chicago & North-western railroad and allowed himself to be talked into planting a few apple trees by a smooth tongued agent. The farmer felt sure that apple trees would not grow in this climate but the agent insisted that he had trees that were iron clad and that could not be killed by a sledge hammer. Mr. Nelson bought fifty trees, and although they failed to make good everything the agent claimed for them, they proved the point that apple trees would grow in the upper peninsula of Michigan.

Not an Orchardist.

When he planted his first trees Mr. Nelson knew nothing about apples. He was poor and he watched his experiments with interest, because on them depended his daily bread. He continued to plant apple trees, each year with better success, and made a study of them and the conditions under which they thrived.

Selecting his trees with care and devoting the attention to the details of their cultivation, he reached the climax of his success as an apple grower, one year, when he planted six hundred trees, out of which he lost only one.

From that time his position as a successful apple grower was assured, and he is today not only the foremost apple expert in the upper peninsula, but one of the most prosperous and progressive farmers in the state.

To Mr. Nelson belongs the distinction of opening the eyes of lower Michigan people to the splendid utility of apples grown above the straits. One year he was appointed a delegate to the Farmers' institute at Grand Rapids. A display of apples had been advertised for this occasion and although he had not much to show from as it was in February, he picked out the best he had and carried about a peck with him.

When he arrived at the exhibition hall in Grand Rapids he found apples on display from the best fruit belts of lower Michigan. He was charged with the exhibit if they considered the apples good and they said they would like to see anyone beat them.

"Well," Mr. Nelson replied, "these are all No. 2; now let me show you some No. 1 apples," and he uncovered the fruit grown in the upper peninsula. The apples made good his boast and were a surprise and a revelation to the people of lower Michigan. Mr. Nelson says that he was proud to prove that the upper peninsula could produce something besides politicians, and to carry home premiums on his apples won in open competition with the far famed orchards of the "fruit belt."

TENNIS CLUB MEETING.

Plans for Season of 1911 Were Made Last Evening.

The annual meeting of the Marquette Tennis club was held last evening, and officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows:

President—Dr. E. L. Drake.
Vice President—Dr. T. C. Hebb.
Secretary-Treasurer—H. J. W. Barbary.
Because of the sale of the lots on which the tennis courts on East Ohio street are located, but one court will be used this year, instead of three as heretofore. The two courts on the east side of the tennis grounds have been taken over by M. E. Asire, who will shortly begin filling in the lots preparatory to building a house there. The club, however, has leased the west court, and in case more than one court is needed the next lot to the west can be leased and fitted up for a second court.

The court will be prepared for playing this week and the club members hope to have the season under way by next week. As the membership of the club is not as large as it might be, a special committee was appointed last evening to interview former members of the club and to solicit new memberships.

EXPECTS TO RE-ENLIST.

Benjamin Lawrence Likes Naval Life, Especially in Asiatic Waters.

Benjamin Lawrence, who returned to his home here this week after having served four years in the United States navy, has been twice around the world during the term of his enlistment. He expects to leave Marquette within a few days for Seattle with the intention of re-enlisting on the Pacific coast though he may not do this immediately as he has four months in which to make up his mind, and provided he does re-enlist within that time, he will draw full pay for the time he has been out of the service.

Mr. Lawrence says that he enjoys naval life and has made a good record while in the service. Early in his enlistment he was assigned to the battleship Rhode Island, on board of which he went around the world with Admiral Robley Evans' fleet. For the past year he has been on the Michigan, on which he returned from Australia just before his enlistment expired. On both vessels, he held a position in the postoffice department.

"Of all the countries in the world that I have visited," says Mr. Lawrence, "I like Australia best, because it is a 'white man's country.' No Chinese, Japanese or negroes are permitted to land in Australia and its people are much like and fully as progressive as Americans. The cities are beautiful, clean, with well kept streets and are up to date in every way as American cities. When I go back into the navy, I shall endeavor to enlist on a vessel that is likely to be stationed in Asiatic waters most of the time."

CHIMNEY FIRES ARE HELD PREVENTABLE

At Least One Man Favors Fining People Who Turn in Alarms Without Cause.

From the number of chimney fires that have resulted in fire alarms being sent in since the new fiscal year began in March, this year bids fair to establish a record for chimney fires in this city, despite the fact that more chimney fires occurred during the past fiscal year than ever before during the city's history. The large number of chimney fires during the past year or more in Marquette, compared with other cities of about the same size in this locality, shows that there is either something wrong with the chimneys here or that the people are more afraid of chimney fires than in other cities.

Every time the fire department is called out, it costs the taxpayers from $10 to $15, and when there are fifty or more such fires in a year, it amounts to quite an item. Last year in Ishpeming there were only two or three chimney fires to extinguish which the firemen were called upon, and the general public wonders why Marquette should have any more fires than his sister city.

Numerous business men have suggested that the new fire warden would do well to make a careful investigation of the methods employed at Ishpeming to prevent chimney fires.

Discussing this subject yesterday, a prominent Marquette man declared that he could not remember of a chimney fire ever having resulted in the building or any adjacent building catching fire. While fires frequently are caused by defective chimneys, which either leak or get so hot that they set floors or a roof afire, it is very seldom that chimney fires do any damage, even if left to burn out themselves.

"In my judgment," he continued, "chimney fires should be put in the same class as false alarms. Marquette people have gotten into the habit of calling out the fire department every time they see a chimney burning, the alarm being as often turned in by an outsider as by the owner or resident of the property. An ordinary chimney fire is nothing to be at all frightened about and some means should be devised to prevent alarms being turned in every time one occurs. It might be a good plan to put the same penalty for turning in an alarm for a chimney fire, when the building itself is not burning, as for turning in a false alarm. The present custom is resulting in a big expense with nothing gained in return.

REAL ESTATE IS UNUSUALLY ACTIVE

Quite a Number of Residence Properties Have Changed Hands This Spring.

Real estate appears to be unusually active in Marquette this spring and sales and purchases are reported almost daily. Among the deals that have been closed within the past week or ten days are the following:

Asire & Palmer have purchased from the Peter White Land company five vacant lots on the north side of East Michigan, between Pine and Spruce streets, and six vacant lots on the north side of East Ohio street, between Pine and Spruce streets just east of the city rock crusher, including the site of the tennis courts. Several of the Ohio street lots have already been sold, one to R. A. Manhard, two to M. Lieberman, Drake, and one of them has been taken over by M. E. Asire, who will begin the construction of a house there this summer, which, however, will probably not be completed before another year. Two lots have also been sold to M. Clara Drake. The Thomas Miles house on East Michigan street has been sold to Fred Donckers.

The Viggars house on High street, between Ohio street and Hewitt avenue, has been sold to Ed. K. Williams, an engineer on the South Shore. Mrs. Mary G. Deasy has purchased the Lynn property on North Third street. A fine residence on Center street has been sold to Mrs. D. Belrose.

In the Marquette Land company's addition near the Normal school, a lot on Longyear avenue, north of Center street, has been sold to Thomas Farney; one on Summit street to William Dupras; one on Center street to Philip DeCook, who is now building a house there, and one on Fitch avenue near Center street has been sold to Gustaf Striele.

Asire & Palmer are putting up a store building at the corner of Presque Isle avenue and Center street, which will be occupied by Con Wellman as a grocery store. This building will be ready for occupancy within the next week or ten days, when Mr. Wellman will move from his present location in South Marquette.

Under No Other Conditions Can One Carry Concealed Weapons.

Black hand operators, hold-up men, casual gun-toters, and women with long barber hat pins, will all feel the weight of the new law signed last week by Governor Osborn, regulating the carrying of concealed weapons.

The old law against carrying weapons has become worn out and ineffective. There was always the excuse that a gun, knife or billy was necessary to protect one's own person against some special danger. There are cases where persons apply for permission to go armed. If such people hold positions with banks or with other concerns where they might be called upon to guard property, they should be sworn in as special officers. It is a difficult matter to take the responsibility of allowing people to carry a gun.

The new law requires that no one shall have concealed on his person any weapon except through special permission obtained from a board made up of the sheriff, prosecuting attorney and police officers, where there is an organized police force—the chief of police.

The reasons for carrying the weapons are to be set forth in an application and at any time a permit may be revoked. Mining companies, banks and other corporations may secure bank permits authorizing their employees to go armed in protecting property. The board of regulation shall meet each month.

In the list of dirks, daggers, stilettos, brass knuckles, and other weapons of offense, hat pins with points more than ten inches long are included and imprisonment for not more than two years and a fine of not more than $500 confronts the woman who decorates herself with the rapier hatpins now in vogue.
