

UNCLE SAMUEL IS AFTER THE LUMBER TRUST

Ten Trade Organizations and More Than 150 Specific Individuals Are Named as Defendants in Suits of Great Importance Filed at New York City.

Retailers Are Alleged to Be Parties to a Widespread Conspiracy to Exact Exorbitant Prices and the Courts Are Asked to Put a Stop to the Practice.

New York, May 19.—In the first federal anti-trust proceedings brought under the Sherman law as interpreted by the Standard Oil decision, the department of justice filed suits in the United States court here today against various constituent organizations of what is popularly known as the "lumber trust," alleging the existence of a widespread conspiracy "unreasonably" to restrain the lumber trade in this country.

First Suits of a Series. It is said that the suits may be the first of a series planned by Attorney General Wickensham looking to the breaking up of alleged agreements among the retailers of many of the commodities of life to maintain high prices, to force all ultimate consumers to buy from the retailers and to blacklist wholesalers who sell to others than members of the retail organizations in the various states and cities.

Ten trade organizations and more than 150 individuals are named as defendants in today's suits. The government alleges violations of the Sherman anti-trust law and seeks a permanent injunction restraining the defendants from continuing the conspiracy.

Allegations Are Sensational. The elaborate system of blacklisting attributed to the alleged conspirators, copies of circulars sent out by the various organizations classifying consumers as "proper" and "improper," extracts from reports threatening "short shrift" to dealers daring to violate the rules of the organizations and branding such dealers as "poachers" and "illegitimate" are set forth in the government's petition.

It is alleged that not only have private consumers been blacklisted, but that many of the great industrial concerns of the country have been put under the ban by the lumber dealers. The government's bill, aggregating twenty thousand words, is replete with sensational allegations.

The suit is directed specifically against retail organizations in the Eastern states, but the trial unquestionably will embrace the methods adopted by retailers and wholesalers throughout the United States.

Although the lawyers in charge of the case believe the Standard Oil decision involving "reasonable" or "unreasonable" restraint will not affect the lumber case, as it is represented to be one of simple conspiracy, nevertheless the accusatory parts of the bill conform to the decision and charge "unfair" and "unreasonable" restraint of trade of the consumer and manufacturer of lumber. Lesser stress is laid upon the alleged conspiracy between the defendants themselves.

Long-Planned Test Case. In general, the case is regarded as Mr. Wickensham's long-planned test case to have the courts determine how far combinations of retailers may go to prevent the ultimate consumer from dealing directly with the wholesalers or producers.

The government takes the position that any agreements or acts which prevent a consumer from buying where he chooses or to his best advantage are in "unreasonable" restraint of trade and violate the Sherman law. No attack on the middleman as such is intended, the department of justice holding that there is legitimate business opportunities for him.

It is known that while the department has been making a nation-wide investigation of the question as it relates to lumber, its agents have reported that the case is nearly paralleled in the marketing of many other commodities in daily use. If the government's contentions in this case are sustained, there is promise of a sweeping move upon similar alleged conspiracies. The department of justice regards the case as the most important in principle of all the anti-trust suits undertaken.

Names of the Defendants. The principal defendants in the suits are: The Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' association, a New York corporation. The central bodies of the following nine other defendant organizations: The New York Lumber Trade association of New York city; the Building Men's association of Westchester county, New York; the Lumber Dealers' association of Connecticut; the Massachusetts Retail Lumber Dealers' association; the Lumber Dealers' association of Rhode Island; the Retail Lumbermen's association of Baltimore.

The officers and directors, trustees and members of the above are named as individual defendants, as well as the officers and directors and members of the three following voluntary organizations: The New Jersey Lumbermen's Protective association; the Retail Lumbermen's association of Philadelphia, and the Lumber Exchange of the District of Columbia.

Exorbitant Prices Exact. In its bill, the government alleges that hundreds of consumers, including the largest industrial corporations in the country, have been compelled by alleged unlawful agreements to buy lumber from retailers at much higher prices than they would have paid to wholesalers. It is also alleged that, although the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' association has organized and circulated blacklists which have affected the lumber trade in Michigan and other states of the Middle West.

The bill alleges that among the organizations with which the retailers and wholesalers are in touch to prevent selling direct to the consumer is the Lumber Secretaries' Bureau of Information at Chicago.

Other Prosecutions in Prospect. Washington, May 19.—At the department of justice today it was stated that the suit filed in New York against the so-called lumber trust probably would be the first of a series to be instituted against similar violations of law as believed to be practiced.

WHITE HOUSE WILL FIGHT ANY PROPOSITION SEEKING TO AMEND RECIPROCITY PACT. Washington, May 19.—President Taft is opposed to amendments to the reciprocity agreement, no matter who is its sponsor. It became known today that the president looks with disfavor on the proposed amendments of Senator Root and Lodge, two of his personal friends and close advisers. Mr. Taft believes the agreement should go through congress as it was introduced. He will make his fight along that line, no matter what the Republican leaders attempt to do.

SECRET AGENTS AT WORK FOR MONTHS. Government's Investigation of the Lumber Business Extends to the Middle West. Chicago, May 19.—The government's suit filed in New York today against the "lumber trust" reveals the extent to which the department of justice has investigated the marketing methods of the so-called trust in the Middle West during its search for violations of the anti-trust law.

Neither the government officials nor the agents on this particular work will admit that the investigations are finished or that they have any idea of what direction the department of justice may make regarding prosecutions. The question is the same as in the New York suit, involving the right of the consumer to deal with whom he chooses.

The managers of the retail associations maintain that all their operations have been directed by the legal opinions of skilled lawyers. They are prepared to submit a strong defense to the government's attack.

FEDERAL OFFICIAL RESIGNS. Washington, May 19.—Eugene T. Chamberlain, commissioner of navigation of the department of commerce and labor, today presented his resignation to Secretary Nagel. Mr. Chamberlain was appointed from New York and has held the office since 1893. Mr. Chamberlain stated that he was leaving the government service to engage in private business.

RULES IN FAVOR OF THE RAILROADS. Commerce Commission Hands Down a Decision Affecting Passenger Fares. Washington, May 19.—The railways operating in the Central passenger association territory—including the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan—are permitted by a decision issued today by the interstate commerce commission, to exact higher passenger fares for interstate than for intrastate business where the state legislatures or state commissions have established a two-cent fare.

The carriers are forced by the state railroad commissions or by the state legislatures to apply on all intrastate passenger business a maximum fare of two cents a mile. This would result, through the application of the long and short haul provisions of the law in a maximum rate of two cents a mile throughout the passenger association territory.

In the hearings the railroads declared their intention to test before the courts the validity of the two-cents-a-mile restriction on fares in intrastate business. At present, there is no distinction between interstate and intrastate passenger business. The commission expressed the opinion "that the present condition of charging one rate a mile for intrastate traffic and a higher rate a mile for interstate traffic when the service performed is the same in both cases is indefensible."

In the territory indicated, intrastate fares are on a two-cent basis, while interstate fares are made on a scale of two and one-half cents a mile. The commission says that no proof was offered of the insufficiency of the two-cent rate to yield a fair return to the carriers, but that the carriers had asked for time in which to prepare the necessary data. The commission permits the carriers, therefore, to exact the higher rate until May 1, 1912.

The commission denies the request of the carriers to adjust their charges in multiples of five in order to avoid the use of odd pennies in change.

CONSERVATION SAID TO HELP A BIG COMBINE

In Urging the Policy, Roosevelt and Pinchot All Stated at the Reciprocity Hearing to Be Working Hand in Hand with the Lumber Trust.

All Reference to the Matter Is Expunged, However, When a Witness Making the Declaration Refuses to Divulge the Name of the Informant He Quotes.

Washington, May 19.—Senator La Follette, a vigorous opponent of the trust, tried today to get one of the speakers at the hearing on the Canadian reciprocity bill before the senate finance committee to confess who had told him that "was of the opinion that Theodore Roosevelt and Clifford Pinchot in their conservation fight were working hand in hand with the so-called lumber trust."

Leonard Bronson, appearing in behalf of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, in opposition to the bill, had declared that someone had made such a statement to him, although he himself had placed no confidence in it. After Senator La Follette had insisted that Mr. Bronson name the person, Mr. Bronson had declined to do so, it was decided satisfactorily to both sides to expunge from the records all reference to the matter.

Senator Clark of Wyoming, asked if conservation—the removal by the government from the commercial market of great tracts of timber—did not have a tendency to increase the price of lumber, to which Mr. Bronson replied affirmatively. Senator La Follette wanted to know if the same would not be true if Mr. Weyerhaeuser or other individuals held large tracts. Mr. Weyerhaeuser is a Western lumber magnate. Mr. Bronson did not answer this question, but declared that there was much difference of opinion as to the result of conservation on the market. Then he quoted the remark regarding Colonel Roosevelt and Mr. Pinchot, which, with the subsequent discussion thereof, was later expunged.

Representatives of the lumber manufacturers, cattle and sheep raisers, milk producers and cream separator manufacturers appeared today to oppose the reciprocity bill.

COURT DECREE HITS EXPRESS COMPANIES

Minnesota's Laws Concerning Taxation Upheld by State's Highest Tribunal. St. Paul, May 19.—The Minnesota supreme court today handed down a decision favorable to the state in the action to establish the state's right to certain taxes on the business and property of the United States Express company in Minnesota. The decision will increase the income of the state by about $25,000 annually.

The supreme court affirms the right of the state to collect a gross earnings tax on all interstate business and on all that business which originates in Minnesota and is sent out of the state. The court says that the state may tax the property of the express companies regardless of the fact that it is used in interstate business. The court also holds that the gross earnings tax may be collected on all express money orders issued in the state.

after a little study, that Mr. Frye still is reported to be willing to serve and waiting only for his horse to come to him. He has been in a day in his life and is conducting business at home as usual. His mind is as vigorous as ever and he is physically strong, except for the pain which pressure upon an obstinate foot causes. All the rumors that the veteran senator "may go any time" are emphatically discredited by men most closely associated with him, although they persist.

However, that may be, the senate may feel warranted in dropping the task of trying to elect his successor and let matters stand as they are. It is possible that by a fluke Senator Bacon of Georgia might be elected by the Democrats some fine day—and some of the regular Republicans would smile behind their broad palms if this should happen. The blame, they say, would properly go to the progressives who would injure them before every change, but will still cling to what they call the regulars alone. The progressive group under La Follette governs the senate in party questions as absolutely as the president governs the house. Even the refusal of part of the progressives to follow La Follette leadership has failed to break the power of the Democratic-insurgent combination—and the tail promises to wag the dog indefinitely.

Partly Personal Against Gallinger. A little analysis shows how difficult if not impossible it would be to break the deadlock by compromise. The La Follette animus is directly against Senator Gallinger for more reasons than that he is regular. It is partly personal. La Follette was a candidate for a position on the committee on interstate commerce. Senator Gallinger was chairman of the committee on committees on the Republican side. La Follette directly charges that Gallinger promised him places on both finance and interstate commerce. Senator Gallinger and his friends flatly deny that any such promise ever was made. The question is clearly one of veracity, as far as the public is concerned, and while the insurgent group might be willing to vote for someone other than Gallinger, they will never permit Gallinger to be elected. Senator Lodge has been mentioned as a compromise candidate, but he is not and cannot be, under the present circumstances. The Republican caucus unanimously nominated Senator Gallinger and it cannot desert its nominee. Nor will Senator Lodge permit a Republican vote to be cast for him as long as Senator Gallinger is in the field. For him or any other regular to stand as a candidate would be grossly discourteous to the senior senator from New Hampshire, and is unthinkable from the regular standpoint. It is probably true that Senator Lodge would be acceptable to both sides if the question concerned itself only with his acceptability, but, as already indicated, that is not the point. The contest is a factional one, with neither side inclined to yield anything to the other, no matter how personally acceptable any representative of either faction may be.

Senator Frye May Serve Again. The situation may be somewhat relieved by the discovery that the resignation of Senator Frye as president pro tempore has not been and cannot be accepted by the senate except through the election of his successor. The so-called Everts resolution under which Senator Frye was elected provides in terms for the filling of a vacancy by election only. Hence the senate lawyers are agreed,

WANTS THE SENATE TO HURRY MATTERS

Democratic Steering Committee Seeks Progressives' Aid in Pushing Legislation. Washington, May 19.—Determined to speed up the senate in the consideration of several measures now pending, the Democratic steering committee today adopted a program that it will endeavor to enforce with the aid of the progressive Republicans. The program includes the immediate consideration of the resolution providing for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the joint resolution providing for the direct election of senators and the bill re-appropriating the representation of the states in the house of representatives.

Madro Postpones Southern Trip. Francisco L. Madro, Jr., will not visit Mexico City until Senor De LaBarra is installed in power. He then may go to the capital to assist in tranquilizing the country.

If the rebels in Lower California or other hands hitherto fighting independently do not lay down their arms, Madro's insurrecto army will be turned loose on them. No peace agreement will be signed, but the interim between now and the time De LaBarra becomes president will be utilized in getting the Mexican congress to enact laws covering most of the points which it had been thought should be contained in a peace agreement.

This is the explanation which one of the most prominent insurrecto leaders made tonight of the status of the peace negotiations. Bull fighting to be abolished. Gambling and bull fighting are to be abolished by the Maderists, when they get into power. Race track betting may be "doomed," too, according to Abraham Gonzales, who is expected to be provisional governor of the state of Chihuahua.

PROGRESSIVES HOLD BALANCE OF POWER

Senate Deadlock Shows Rule of the Old Guard a Thing of the Past. Washington, May 19.—The senate is hopelessly deadlocked over the election of a successor to William P. Frye of Maine as president pro tempore. It demonstrates that the Republican majority no longer can have its way in legislation of any kind if it is to depend on the votes of the regulars alone. The progressive group under La Follette governs the senate in party questions as absolutely as the president governs the house.

Even the refusal of part of the progressives to follow La Follette leadership has failed to break the power of the Democratic-insurgent combination—and the tail promises to wag the dog indefinitely.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES DEVOTES ANOTHER DAY TO THE STATEHOOD MEASURES. Washington, May 19.—Renewed attacks upon the recall feature of the Arizona constitution from the Republican side and Democratic criticism of the unamendable features of the New Mexican constitution held the attention of the house throughout another day's consideration of the statehood resolution.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S DECISION IN MORSE AND WALSH CASES EXPECTED NEXT WEDNESDAY. Washington, May 19.—President Taft will not announce his decision on the applications for the pardon of Charles W. Morse of New York and John R. Walsh of Chicago until next Wednesday, when Attorney General Wickensham is expected to return from New York.

NO PEACE IN MEXICO TILL DIAZ RETIRES

While a General Armistice Is in Force, the War Will Be Declared Officially Only When Minister De LaBarra Becomes the Provisional President.

After That, if the Rebel Detachments Fighting Independently Do Not Lay Down Their Arms Madero's Insurrecto Army Will Be Turned Loose on Them.

Juarez, Mex., May 19.—Peace will not be declared as in effect in Mexico nor will the general armistice be terminated until the moment Senor De LaBarra becomes provisional president in succession to President Diaz.

Madro Postpones Southern Trip. Francisco L. Madro, Jr., will not visit Mexico City until Senor De LaBarra is installed in power. He then may go to the capital to assist in tranquilizing the country.

If the rebels in Lower California or other hands hitherto fighting independently do not lay down their arms, Madro's insurrecto army will be turned loose on them. No peace agreement will be signed, but the interim between now and the time De LaBarra becomes president will be utilized in getting the Mexican congress to enact laws covering most of the points which it had been thought should be contained in a peace agreement.

Gambling and bull fighting are to be abolished by the Maderists, when they get into power. Race track betting may be "doomed," too, according to Abraham Gonzales, who is expected to be provisional governor of the state of Chihuahua.

Mexico City, May 19.—Although the government officials deny knowledge of any plot to capture or assassinate Francisco L. Madro, Jr., the revolutionary leader, or to interfere with him should he come to the capital, the story that such a plan had been effected served today to tighten the public tension.

Residents of the capital are speculating on the probability of the probable action of the rebels should they give full credence to the report, true or not. It appears to have interested Madro to an extent that has caused him to postpone his trip to the capital to consult with Senor De LaBarra concerning peace. By the conservative element it is doubted if proof of the story can be supplied, and without proof it is not believed any of the rebel leaders will show a belligerent spirit.

Story Overheard by Newspaperman. The source of Madro's information concerning the alleged plot is not known here. A Mexican newspaperman overheard a group of men high in the government discussing a plan to capture Madro, proclaim anew that Diaz is president and inaugurate a campaign by the federal troops with General Reyes at their head. This conversation took place in the Central Hotel and the reporter immediately carried the news to his paper. Fifteen minutes later there was delivered to the newspaper an Associated Press dispatch from Juarez in which it was said that Madro had postponed his trip because of a plot in this city to capture him.

At the police headquarters it is admitted that anonymous letters have been received telling of the existence of a conspiracy. No names were given in the letter and the police are trying to learn the identity of the plotters. The government officials express regret that they should be suspected of such treachery.

Washington, May 19.—Cooler weather not later than Sunday in all regions affected by the hot waves was promised tonight by the weather bureau. Steward Webb, Jr., tonight confirmed the report of the marriage of young Webb and Mayor Gaynor's daughter Gertrude at Wilmington, but said it could not be regarded as an abandonment, because there were no known objections by either family.

STOCKS END DAY AT SMALL LOSSES

For the Time at Least the Buying Movement Appears to Have Spent Itself. New York, May 19.—The trading in stocks today fell off largely after three days of heavy dealings, and the enthusiastic buying movement appeared to have spent itself, for the time at least. The reactionary tendency which appeared in the latter part of yesterday's session was extended today and the market was uncertain, with a heavy undertone. Stocks moved up and down within a small range and the closing prices showed small losses for the market leaders. The weakness was attributed to the lessened demand from the short interests, which had covered extensively earlier in the week, and to the fact that the higher prices had the effect of diminishing the outside demand.

Amalgamated Copper was among the active stocks, rising a point, only to fall back again. It attracted a large following, by reason of the continued reports of a substantial improvement in the copper metal market and the belief that there still existed a large short interest in this stock which was attempting to recover. On the New York Metal exchange, standard copper was called dull, with spot and the May and the June quoted at 11.70@11.80 cents, the July at 11.75@11.85 and the August at 11.75@11.90. The market at London was dull, with spot at $34.10 and futures at $35.15, 3d. The custom house returns show exports of 16,702 tons so far this month. New York dealers quote lake copper at 12.25@12.37 1/2 cents, electrolytic at 12@12.25 and casting at 11.75@11.87 1/2.

Bradstreet's bank clearings report for the week ending May 18 shows an aggregate of $3,076,434,000, as against $2,873,838,000 in the corresponding week last year.

The Red Jacket department will ask the association at the Bessemer convention to select Red Jacket for next year's tournament.

Both Parties Will Now Appeal to the Country, the One for the Pact, the Other Against It, and the Campaign Will Extend to Every Province. The house of commons adjourned until July 18 and the senate until August 9.

Both sides have arranged programs of meetings covering practically the whole recess and extending to every province. The Liberals will conduct a campaign of education in favor of the ratification of the reciprocity agreement and the opposition members will endeavor to arouse the country against it.

Opposition Leader Borden leaves next month for a tour of the Canadian West and it is reported that he will have a lively trip, as the grain growers are organizing Pro-reciprocity demonstrations at each speaking point. Members of the cabinet will stump the country in the interest of reciprocity.

DAILY MINING JOURNAL

A MORNING PAPER PUBLISHED BY THE MINING JOURNAL CO. (LIMITED)

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

MARQUETTE, MICH., MAY 20.

Mr. Bryan calls Carter Harrison of Chicago a wonder. Is Mr. Bryan building fences again?

When peace is finally signed, sealed and ratified in Mexico how lonesome the newspaper readers will be.

It remains to be seen whether Count Zeppelin will be persistent enough to build another Deutschland.

It begins to look as if the other teams in the American league had decided that those Tigers might as well be the 1911 champions as anyone else.

There doesn't seem anything left for the wisecracker who have been telling Governor Osborn's political fortune to fall back upon but the vice presidency.

Straw hats are with us, a little ahead of the date when fashion says they should be donned.

Mr. McRae's statement in regard to the senatorship indicates that while he might be disinclined to enter a knock down and drag out contest to secure the office, he would be more than pleased if by any manner it chanced to come to him easily.

Nobody has yet offered an adequate explanation of why President Snyder should use so much of the time for which he is paid by the state in bucking Canadian reciprocity.

When Governor Osborn told the president that he can count on Michigan in 1912 he was talking by the book.

Victor Berger, of Milwaukee, is disgruntled at the Standard Oil decision, because you "can't change the ownership of the oil trust."

Rudyard, Chippewa county, has organized a vigorous branch of the Upper Peninsula Development bureau.

Beginning Monday of next week pretty much all of the Soo will go to bed, get up and work by sun time, instead of standard time.

Four years ago Ida M. Tarbell wrote: "The day of the Standard Oil company in its old form is over."

Arthur H. Tuttle, of Lansing, is presently to be United States attorney in the eastern district of the state.

A Washington dispatch relates that Governor Osborn, Senator Smith and Representative Young called on President Taft this week to again urge on him attendance at the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Michigan College of Mines at Houghton.

The element in Michigan which is favorable to reciprocity, and this we believe to be in the majority, have watched the performance of N. P. Hull and his associates in Washington with a great deal of impatient interest.

Because there is too much ore in stock at the mines, at the lower lake docks and at the furnaces the Oliver Iron company's mines at Ishpeming will be wrought but four days a week, instead of six, for an indefinite period.

elsewhere in the county operated by the same company are to continue to be worked as usual, because the former are owned by the Oliver Iron company, while the latter are leased and there are royalty obligations that have to be met, whether they are worked at all or not.

Secretary A. C. Carton, of the public domain commission, has just returned from a trip through several western states, and he is better satisfied than ever before with Michigan's policy of conservation.

At that, no one can blame Madero for being pretty well pleased with himself and the world. It is apparent that he is the logical man to be the successor to Diaz in the presidency.

The Illinois senate agreed with the Helm investigating committee that the evidence obtained by the probers warranted their conclusion that the seat in the senate temporarily filled by Mr. Lorimer was obtained by bribery and corruption.

The Hancock Copper Journal compliments the majority of Marquette aldermen on their action in relation to the petition for the use of the streets for a carnival, which was rejected this week, saying: "The Marquette council is one of the municipal bodies of the upper peninsula which has had courage enough to stand back of its convictions and to refuse to grant the use of its streets to the collection of hardy gurdies, cheap gambling joints, hoochie coochie shows and penny grabs which masquerade under the title of a 'street fair'."

Because there is too much ore in stock at the mines, at the lower lake docks and at the furnaces the Oliver Iron company's mines at Ishpeming will be wrought but four days a week, instead of six, for an indefinite period.

Help for All

Andrew Carnegie once suggested as an epitaph for his own tombstone what he said was the secret of his success: "Here lies a man who surrounded himself with men abler than himself."

Many able people are working for you, scientists, inventors, manufacturers, all trying to make something you want. Do you use your brains and their efforts—"surround yourself with them"—or do you plod along by yourself, years behind the times?

Take your own home. Have you your share of modern improvements there—money-saving, labor-saving, health-promoting? One of the most important of these is a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove. A New Perfection stove never overcooks a kitchen. It saves you strength. It saves fuel and time. With the New Perfection oven with the glass doors you can go on with your ironing or any other work, and still be sure at a glance the joint is roasting properly.

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

Dealers everywhere; or write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)

So marked has been the interest of Catholics in the Gibbons Memorial hall at the Catholic university that a building planned at first to cost $100,000 is now enlarged to cost, perhaps, as much as $250,000 and has dormitory space for 150 students. The style is to be Tudor Gothic, and its location on the university campus will make it the beginning of a noble architectural row. It will itself be 265 feet long and forty feet wide. Work is soon to begin, so that at least the hall may be partly completed when the celebration of the cardinal's jubilee anniversary takes place in October next.

Big things doing in Germany these days. The thirty-six mortgage banks there have about $2,618,000,000 loaned out on mortgages, practically all of it on city property. That is about $350,000,000 more than the public debt of Prussia, taking in the bonds issued to build the great system of Prussian railways, which are a perfect network over the country. One of the mortgage banks has outstanding mortgage loans of some $260,000,000. The average returns on the loans have ranged from 4.22 per cent in 1905 (as in the three years following) to 4.34 in 1909, with 4.33 in 1910.—New York Press.

One of the chief improvements of the steam engine was due to a boy's laziness. A Glasgow boy, Humphrey Potter, was set by James Watt to open and shut two stopcocks alternately in a wheel of a steam engine. Humphrey got tired and by connecting the stopcocks by strings with the beam that went up and down made the engine open and shut them itself. Laziness proved to be the mother of invention. Every steam engine today has the lad's improvement.

Washington dispatches report that an amendment to the constitution changing the date of the presidential inauguration and of the beginning of the terms of senators and representatives in congress will be submitted to the state legislatures before the extra session ends. It is said that Representative Henry of Texas, whose resolution proposing a similar amendment was defeated in the house of representatives in 1910 by a single vote, has secured assurances of support from two-thirds of the members of both houses and that he will soon ask the lower branch to act on a new resolution which he has prepared.

Pay as high as $30 a day is the lure that draws Americans into the insurrecto army in Mexico, according to G. S. Wilson, a "soldier of fortune" who has served in Chicago. "I believe that fully 75 per cent of the insurrectos do not know why they are fighting," Wilson says. "They love Madero and honor him for his philanthropy, and his name is sufficient to rally them. On the other hand, there is only one reason why Americans are in the ranks of the insurrectos. They are paid at high rates, some of the so-called crack shots getting as high as $50 a day from Madero. Several of the Americans also are ex-convents and men who do not hesitate to face any kind of danger."

The total production of asbestos in the United States for 1910 was the greatest yet recorded, 3,693 tons. This was an increase of 20 per cent in quantity over the production of 1909. The United States has long held first place as a manufacturer of asbestos goods, but the raw material for that purpose was freely drawn from Canada, at present the chief source of the world's supply. Georgia and Vermont are our chief asbestos producers, the former of amphibole and the latter of chrysotile varieties, the latter being reported by manufacturers to compare favorably with that from Canada. The production in Wyoming and Idaho has advanced, but in those states the industry is still in the development stage and has not become permanently established.

CAPTAIN REID TO CHANGE HIS PLANS

Wrecking Master Finds the Moreland in Much Worse State Than He Supposed.

Captain James Reid, the veteran wreckmaster, spent today at the Moreland wreck at Eagle River this week, and came back to Houghton uncertain as to the plan under which he will attack the wreck. He found that the steamer is in much worse condition than when she was left last fall and his plans must be changed accordingly.

The Moreland has two breaks, which are shown by openings in her sides, as has been explained before. Captain Reid finds that these breaks have widened. He does not know how far they extend below the water line. This is the point which makes him pause. As soon as he resumes operations on the wreck and can get a diver down to examine her he will know better how to proceed.

Taking it for granted that the breaks are not serious, Captain Reid will patch up the openings with boards and canvas and will pump out the wreck. If he finds that the pumps can free the steamer of water and that she has buoyancy enough he will start at once with her for the canal. It may be that he will have to trim her remaining cargo to ballast her and he expects now that this will complete the wrecking operations.

But if the patching of the steamer is not sufficient to keep her free of water and if the pumps do not succeed in freeing the steamer, the captain will build three bulkheads. One will be across the after portion of the steamer, at the after break. The other will be at the after end of the section which is broken out of the steamer's middle and the third will be at the forward end of this shaly section. The captain then will have what is virtually a tandem of three boats.

He is confident this latter plan will succeed if the other fails.

MINE APPRAISER CHOSEN.

Robt. H. Shields Returns from Official Visit to New York.

Robert H. Shields of Houghton, member of the state tax commission, arrived home yesterday from New York, where with Mr. Thompson, of the commission, he had been to interview a number of men who had been considered for the position of mine appraiser for Michigan. They recommended to the governor J. R. Finley of New York.

Mr. Finley is a consulting mining engineer, with offices in New York. He is a graduate of Harvard. He has been recommended by many high authorities in all parts of the country and the board considers that he is an ideal man for the position. Governor Osborn has been in Lansing yesterday, so that it is possible he may already have approved Mr. Finley's appointment.

The preliminaries leading up to the appointment of a state mine appraiser have consumed four weeks of valuable time. The state tax commission, under the law which compels the revaluation of the mining properties of the state, has the appointing power, but the appointment must be approved by the governor and the board of auditors. The first delay came when the governor refused to meet with the state board of auditors. Another came in the governor's refusal to appoint a man from the Michigan College of Mines, or any man from Michigan. He suggested a man from some mining college without the state, but later all mining colleges were eliminated. The result was the choice of Mr. Finley.

There remain three months in which to revalue all of the mining properties of the state, the report being required by the state board of equalization late in August. The time is short and the tax commission hopes there will be no further delay. Some of the experts considered the appointing power, but the commission refused to accept the position, on the ground that the time allotted is not sufficient.

MACCABEE ANNUAL REUNION.

The Knights of the Most Excellent Order of Houghton county will hold their annual midsummer gathering at Calumet June 10, going there as the guests of Sampo, Calumet and Laurium tents. This was decided upon at a meeting of the representatives of the several tents of the county Wednesday evening. Nine tents will participate in the reunion. There will be a parade, followed by a mass meeting at which there will be addresses and other numbers. There likely will be a banquet, to be followed in the evening by a dancing party. Great Commander George Lovelace and Great Record Keeper A. M. Gray, it is expected, will attend the gathering.

APPLICANTS FROM SIXTEEN COUNTRIES

May Term of Houghton Court Will Consider 236 Petitions for Naturalization.

In the forthcoming naturalization proceedings at the May term of the Houghton circuit court, seven potatoes and one republic will lose the allegiance of a total of 236 subjects, that is if the hearings result in the admission of all to the citizenship franchise in these United States of America. Judge Street-er has set May 29, May 31 and June 5 as the dates of hearings.

There are sixteen countries represented by those who wish to forewear their old allegiance, and as many of these countries are ruled by one head in the person of king or emperor, the number of crowns which will be foreworn is only about half of the number of states represented. The countries and the number of applicants from each follow: Canada, 14; Wales, 2; Switzerland, 1; England, 30; Austria, 8; Russia, 2; Greece, 1; Finland, 29; Italy, 2; Ireland, 4; Scotland, 4; Norway, 1; Poland, 1; Sweden 10 and Germany 1.

For several terms of court the crown to lose the greatest number of subjects has been the crown of Great Britain, Britain and Ireland. George loses eight, Nicholas II, emperor of all the Russias, loses thirty-two, through the combined defection of Finns, Poles and Russians. The Swiss confederation loses only one citizen. Francis I, emperor of Austria and apostolic king of Hungary, is foreworn by thirteen subjects from Croatia and Austria. William II, German emperor; Gustav V, king of Sweden; Haakon VII, king of Norway; and George I, king of the Greeks, are the other rulers whose total of subjects is reduced by the impending naturalization hearings.

CHARLES WRIGHT FUNERAL.

Remains of Hancock's First Citizen to Be Interred at Houghton.

The funeral of the late Charles A. Wright, Sr., of Hancock, who died suddenly at the Amphitheatrum Wednesday night, will be interred tomorrow afternoon at Forest Hill cemetery, Houghton.

The funeral service will be conducted at the Wright home by Rev. James Pascoe, superintendent of the Houghton district of the Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. Mandus Barrett of the Congregational church, Mr. Wright's pastor, is ill and unable to conduct the service.

CIRCUIT COURT PROSPECTS.

Judge Street-er Returns from Keweenaw County—Baraga Next?

Judge Street-er returned yesterday from Keweenaw, having conducted the May term of the circuit court of that county at Eagle River during the week. The term was unusually long, but it dealt with no serious cases. There were a few statutory and minor law violation cases, two of the latter being continued. Two wife desertions were released on suspended sentence.

Judge Street-er has not announced his program for next week. The Baraga county term was adjourned some time ago, till May 23 and the Houghton county term is scheduled for next Monday. Judge Street-er probably will announce today his arrangement by which these terms will not conflict. The petit jury summoned for the Houghton term is instructed to report in Houghton at the court room next Thursday morning.

MUNICIPAL HEALTH PROBLEMS.

Laurium and Hancock Working on Plans to Guard People's Welfare.

Although the Laurium council has not decided what to do in regard to the noisome open sewer extending along the eastern boundary of the town and has taken absolutely no action in its regard, the board will consider the proposition thoroughly at the coming regular meeting. Dr. Arminen contends that the sewer to be either covered or fenced in. Agitation against this open sewer has been cropping up every summer for the past several years. Now the state health authorities are on the job and the council and the owners of the land through which the sewer passes will order something and do it quick. Cows from which milk for hundreds of families is obtained, it is claimed, feed and drink about this open sewer. It is proposed to close the ditch that the cows cannot get near it.

Health Officer K. V. Arminen of Hancock announces that people having cesspools which are in any way defective might expect to have the city water shut off without notice until the defect is repaired. Repeated notices have been ignored and the health officer now is going to exercise his authority in a more drastic direction. Such defects breed disease and, as Mayor Dodge announced at the council meeting Tuesday evening, "every effort must be made to prevent an epidemic of any kind in the city this summer." Dr. Arminen contends that most infant diseases originate from this very source. The campaign is one of the first steps in the warfare against the house fly.

DRAINING ONTAGON SWAMP.

Horses Wearing "Snowshoes" a Unique Sight Afforded by the Work.

A number of horses working on the almost liquid ground of a swamp is a unique sight afforded at Ontagon. The horses are equipped with what are called snowshoes, but in reality look more like mortar boards. The land being drained is a large morass. Canals are cut through it and the water drained off into the Ontagon river. The land is plowed after it is drained. It was found impossible to work horses on it, until some one in a farous mood suggested "snowshoes." T. A. Green, who is doing the work, immediately tried the idea. Steel plates 10 by 12 inches were secured, slightly turned up in front. Holes were placed in them, fitting the corks in the horse shoes, and in this way they were fastened on. All four feet got the board attachments. The horses were then turned loose in a dry field until they became accustomed to navigating in the new footwear. They were then placed at work on the drained land and the idea was found to be a great success. The horses work over the swamp just as if it were a pavement and don't seem to notice the "snowshoes" at all, now they have to wear them every day. Since the steel plates were tried out and found to work successfully, experimenting has been done. Wooden shoes are being used and are found to be equally as effective and a great deal lighter.

DETROITERS' ADVANCE AGENT.

William R. Orr of the Board of Commerce Committee in Houghton.

William R. Orr of Detroit, business manager of Saturday Night, arrived in Houghton last night from Marquette. He is acting in the role of advance agent for the Board of Commerce extension to Houghton and Hancock in June, the dates for the Lake Superior trip being June 7 to 12.

Mr. Orr says that the Board of Commerce is coming up for the purpose of cementing trade relations with the merchants of Houghton, Hancock and the copper country. He insists that the members are not looking to be entertained, and even requests that the businessmen of the copper country refrain from anything of the sort. The Detroit businessmen are coming to the copper country on business, but they may do a little entertaining themselves if any is to be done.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL.

Ontagon Township to Erect a Structure Costing $50,000.

Last year Ontagon township was bonded for $50,000 for the erection of a high school. This week the site was selected. It consists of four acres, part of a large tract owned by the Agricultural society, the purchase price being $500 per acre. Building plans have been submitted by several architects, but no definite action has as yet been taken. Mr. Chubb of Chicago, who designed the Ishpeming and Negaunee High schools, is expected to arrive in town in a few days. Mass Bros. of Houghton have also submitted plans. The contract for the construction work will be let within the course of the next ten days or two weeks.

The building will be modern and up to date. It will be of either brick or sand stone and for its size will be second to none in the state. Provision will be made for a manual training department, and also for domestic science and sewing for the girls. The courses for the manual training department have not been decided on, but the department will very likely include blacksmithing, machine and carpenter shops and a mechanical drawing room.

EVERY REBEL HIS OWN CHIEF, BUT ALL FOUGHT FIERCELY—A UNIQUE CANNON.

El Paso, Tex., May 19.—[Correspondence.] The battle of Juarez has been waged fiercely since Monday, and at noon today the insurgents have captured the town. Armistices were made and renewed by Madero and the Mexican government for the purpose of discussing terms and arranging peace. During a lapse of an armistice and before another could be arranged, Madero's men slipped from their leath-er and at any time might have begun an attack on Juarez in support of the revolution, but their leader's orders. The fight was begun by a few disaffected, lawless, vicious Mexicans and foreigners who joined Madero and came to Juarez with the idea and purpose of fighting. They did not intend to sit idly around for weeks talking peace; Madero was in bitter ignorance of the plans for the attack, as were a number of his leaders, including his brothers and General Pascual Orozco, who were lounging around the Hotel Sheldon in El Paso. When advised of the fighting they ran madly for an automobile and rushed to the foot bridge over the Rio Grande, opposite the El Paso smelter, thence to Madero's headquarters, to find out what it was all about.

By this time the rebels camped along the river, lounging and dozing in the shade of rocks and canons, had become aroused and inflamed, and ran with shouts and yells to the attack of Juarez. A hot conference was held by Madero and his chiefs, and the latter were hastened to call off the revolutionists. Orozco and his captains rode to the front, commanded, begged and pleaded with the rebels to return to camp, but all in vain. The pent-up spirit of human passion had broken its bonds, and was irresistible. The rebels swept on from out of canons, gulches, and over hills, from the Mesas (or tablelands) to the north-west came the cavalry riding like avenging spirits to the call of war.

At that moment Francisco I. Madero lost all control of the destructive forces he had brought together. Toward four o'clock in the afternoon, when dozens of men were lying dead over the fields to the north of Juarez, and wounded men were struggling back into camp, reluctant consent was extorted from Madero for a general attack. Then the remaining few who had been obedient to his commands moved on to Juarez and joined the bloody battle, which has strewn the streets of Juarez with death and desolation.

The federals were quickly driven back from their trenches and outposts into the city where they joined the main body of troops in the center of the town. The rebels in the meantime occupied the federal trenches, advanced down the banks of the Rio Grande, and took possession of the customs guard house, running off or killing the customs guards. Thus they occupied a commanding and important position. Down Lerdo and Conterico streets, leading into the heart of Juarez, the "foreign legion" under the command of Garibaldi advanced and took the bull ring, enclosed by a high and circular wall, from which point they slaughtered the federals and demolished high buildings, and silenced machine guns everywhere. During Monday afternoon the federals shelled isolated groups of insurgents in the hills to the north, without any effect whatever, as the rebels were well sheltered and advancing down deep gulches where no shells could reach them.

The government was using explosive shells, with spectacular, but not deadly, or dangerous effect. All during Monday night rebels surrounded Juarez and penetrated as far as possible into the town, firing all the while. Tuesday morning at dawn the real battle began. The insurgents drove the federals back into their fortified places, both sides fighting terrifically. Almost the entire population of El Paso was awakened by the rattle and boom of rifle and canon, bursting bombs and falling shells. By eight o'clock the insurgents advanced a canon along the high banks of the big irrigation ditch which flows through Juarez, using the houses as breastworks. Another was planted on the high ground, a mile to the north, and a bombardment began, but strange to say neither gun seemed to produce any effect or hit anything.

The canons were made at the Pearson lumber camp at Marcella, out of 6-inch shafting; the one on the hill was reputed to have a range of fifteen miles, but it seemed to be about 14½ miles short of its reputation. Several times the ball kicked in the dust half a mile from town, and finally the gunners decided to put in a double charge. Limited the result that it shot both ways—the breach of the gun blew out and ignited the powder, with a terrific explosion.

ONE BET WENT WRONG.

It has always been the theory of Edward Mozart, the vaudeville manager, that one may do business to better effect over the telephone than by a face-to-face interview. He even stuck to his principle when he tried to sign up Silent Tate the other day. Tate does a novelty act, and as he is perhaps the worst stutterer on the stage he wisely does not try to talk. Mozart knew this, but he called Tate on the long distance anyway. Tate was then playing in Boston. "Listen to me," said Mozart, when he got Tate on the wire. "Don't try to talk. This is Eddie Mozart. I want to sign you for four weeks on the big time. I'll pay you $200 hundred dollars a week. You will open in Pittsburgh on April 1. Now, think it over fifteen minutes, and then I'll call you again. I don't want to hold the line while you are trying to make up your mind. When you hear your bell ring, begin saying 'yes' or 'no' before you take down the receiver. Good-by."

First Game Sunday—The first public baseball game of the season will be played at the fair grounds Sunday afternoon, Marquette and Ishpeming being the opposing teams. This will be the first opportunity that the local fans have had to see the new players in action and a large attendance is expected. Wallbridge is slated to do the pitching for Marquette.

Child Died Suddenly—After an illness of only two days, Mabel Beckman, aged seven years, daughter of Andrew Beckman, 523 North Fourth street, died at her parents' home at noon yesterday. Death was caused by appendicitis complicated by pneumonia. She is survived by a father and mother, two brothers and four sisters. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 from the house and at 3 o'clock from the Swedish Lutheran church.

Two Arrivals at Prison—Sam Gentle and Antonio Ferro were brought to the Marquette prison yesterday from Gogebic county by Sheriff John Rowett. Both have been convicted of larceny from the person and are under sentence of from one to five years, with three years recommended. These two men held up John Nuzzo, of Ironwood, who was coming from Hurley, just across the Michigan river, last March, and took his watch and what other valuables he had on his person. The holdup took place only a few feet on this side of the Michigan-Wisconsin state line.

Takes His Last Voyage—John Farrell, a Great Lakes vessel captain in the early days, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alexander Scott, 1027 North Fourth street, at the age of eighty-five. He had made his home in this city since 1903. Death was due to old age and he had been failing for some time. Captain Farrell was at one time master of one of the largest boats on Lake Erie. He made his home in Buffalo, where his family was reared. His wife died a few years ago and he is survived by seven children, four daughters and three sons. Two of the daughters are nurses, members of religious orders, one at Chicago and the other at Kingston, Ont. The other children are Charles, James and Martin, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Thomas Smith, reside in this city. The body will be taken to Kingston, Ont., for interment.

He emphasized the readjustment of the common schools to the industrial situation of the present day, and suggested that, if it did not seem advisable to lessen the number of subjects taught, it might be a better plan to make them more practical. He declared that boys and girls upon leaving the high schools should be so prepared that they are able to begin their work in earnest and become successful citizens.

Mining News

OJIBWAY.

Not many of the non-producers are rounding into shape for production as fast as Ojibway. Development work in ground tributary to the No. 1 shaft has already placed long runs of excellent copper ground in sight on the upper levels and promises like results at greater depth on the 1500-level. The 650 and 800-levels in this shaft are particularly good. A development of considerable importance is the recent disclosure of commercial copper ground in the No. 2, or South shaft, which in its upper levels shows little of value in the ground so far opened; but at depth and on the 1,500 level reveals what may safely be termed commercial ground though not the equal of that opened at so many points in the North shaft. The north laterals in No. 2 shaft bring improvement as they reach out and this betterment appears to spread at depth, the distance between shaft and copper growing less, until at the deeper level the commercial ground is found to extend across the line of the shaft. The No. 1 shaft has been in copper ground from the grass roots downward for 1,600 feet, and on only one level shows signs of poverty, a fault apparently having thrown the deposit to one side.

OLD DOMINION.

Because of the opening up of large bodies of concentrating ore, Old Dominion may find it desirable to enlarge its present concentrator. Definite plans have not yet been formulated, but another 500-ton unit may be installed, which would double the milling capacity.

The management is now making improvements in the present concentrator which are expected to give a 25 per cent increase in capacity irrespective of the possibility of adding the new unit. The electric locomotive put in the fourteenth level in March ran very successfully through April and is expected to make a material saving in underground transportation cost. Another locomotive of similar size will be installed on the sixteenth level immediately. The new Kingdom shaft is down 350 feet, and work is under way sinking the "A" shaft to the 1400-foot level. The new "high line" connection with the Arizona Eastern railroad main track will be completed and ready for operation by June 15. This will be a decided improvement in the company's transportation facilities, as the grade into the works will be reduced from 4 per cent to 2.8 per cent maximum. A shed over the smelter ore bins is being erected and a system which will give practically a perfect mixing of the ores will be completed by June 1.

ANACONDA.

While the Anaconda and other producers in this district are undoubtedly living up to the curtailment agreement, and it seems to be generally accepted that consumption is equal to, if not in excess of, production through the country, there still remains the fact that the big surplus is disappearing very slowly, and unless consumption increases at a much greater rate than it has for the last few months, it will be a long time before the curtailment agreement can be released, states a Butte correspondent. Some complaint is heard here that the "porphyries" are not curtailing as much as they should do, and it is believed that should competition be renewed, it will be found that the deep mines in the district will be able to mine as cheaply as any in the country. General Superintendent John Gillie of the Anaconda company, declared some time ago that the Butte properties could produce copper as cheap as any mine in the United States. For the past few years the Amalgamated company has been gradually reducing the cost of production by the introduction of certain economies, and in the past year the merging of the different companies have admitted of a number of economies which could not otherwise have been brought about. The introduction of economies has been fairly started, and there are yet many to be become effective which will be found to fully justify the statement made by Mr. Gillie. One of a compressed air plant operated by electricity, which in time will mean the saving of a coal bill of upwards of $2,000,000 year.

GREENE-CANANEA.

About the only construction work to be completed by Greene-Cananea at its smelting plant is a flue dust chamber. In this connection it might be interesting to know that about 10 per cent of Greene's copper production is recovered from flue dust, on which basis 4,500,000 pounds could be credited from this source last year. The Greene management expects to save $1,000,000 a year as a result of its large plant expenditures. Not the least of the economies to be effected will be the substitution of oil as a fuel in place of coal. Except perhaps for a few pounds used in blacksmith shops, no coal has been used at the Greene property for some time. Not only has the operating force necessary for running the plants under the old system been cut down to a minimum, but a higher efficiency in the use of fuel oil has also been developed. Electricity forms the motive power rather than steam at both mines and smelter, and the saving here, while not figured down to a dollar and cent basis, has thus far been a material one. Dr. Ricketts, general manager, who has been abroad for some time, has just returned to Cananea, much improved in health. The Sierra de Cobre mine, purchased some time ago from Phelps, Dodge & Co., has been giving excellent results, shipping some 10,000 tons of ore a month. This ore carries about eighty pounds of copper to the ton and has brought up the average. The Elise mine has been yielding the big production, although none of the properties has produced to capacity. Commencing with the three months' period ending Sept. 30, the Greene company may issue quarterly statements.

NOTES OF COPPER NEWS.

Hancock is shipping steadily at the rate of 7,000 tons of rock monthly. No official information concerning the mill run is forthcoming for the reason that short tests are never satisfactory and draw an annoying amount of criticism of a kind that does nobody any good.

Mayflower drill hole No. 13 is getting out of the shattered zone in which it has been driving for several weeks past, and better progress in drilling is possible. The hole has attained a depth of 1,200 feet and is expected at any moment to enter the unidentified copper bearing lode disclosed in No. 11 hole, and on the property of St. Louis Copper company.

Holders of more than a majority of the 250,000 outstanding shares of Butte-Balaklava Copper company have deposited their shares with the City National bank of Duluth, under an agreement running for one year from May 1, 1911. According to the agreement, the stock is deposited because the litigation in which the company is involved makes it desirable that no interests antagonistic to the company should be able to secure control.

The Boston copper share market is receiving favorably the decision. It clears the way for the dissolution of the Amalgamated Copper company and the absorption of all its properties into the Anaconda company and permits the Anaconda to enlarge its operations practically without limit, for there is no danger of anybody or any corporation being able for any length of time to make a monopoly in copper or copper production. Of course it is, however, clear from the decision that any company or combination of companies seeking a monopoly in "unreasonable restraint of trade," would be subject to legal restraint and dissolution.

WHERE WOMEN WEAR THEM.

There is at least one place in Europe where trousers for women are the fashion, and they are real trousers, too, made of good wearing material, not the modern jupe-culotta, with its veilings of choice cloths. The women of Champery, the well-known health resort in Switzerland, have from time immemorial worn honest masculine trousers. They wear them not to attract attention to themselves, but simply for the sake of convenience, for they have to perform tasks which need freedom of the nether limbs. They not only perform all a woman's usual tasks, including the bringing up of very large families, but to a great extent the care of the cattle is left to them. In summer they labor in the fields and in winter they toil about the steep hillsides through deep snow, often on skis, feeding and looking after the stabled cows and goats. Sometimes they carry large wicker baskets on their backs filled with all manner of articles from faggots to babies. The weight of these baskets would tax the strength of a strong man unaccustomed to them.

The Champery women in spite of all their hard work are handsome. They are tall and well set up, with masses of dark and often curly hair, dark eyes and bright complexions.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS.

Property owners who desire to have the city construct their concrete walks during the present season are requested to file petitions for the same in the office of the Park, Cemetery and Street Commissioner, where blanks are furnished for this purpose.

It is important that all such petitions be filed at an early date, in order to make it possible for the commission to properly arrange the sidewalk work for the season. Price on all standard sidewalks will be 10 cents per square foot and for lawn walks a price of 15 cents per square foot will be charged.

Dated Marquette, Mich., May 17th, 1911. THE PARK, CEMETERY AND STREET COMMISSION. J. P. Anderson, Secretary.

SCHOOL FOR STREET HAWKERS.

A benevolent young woman in Boston has actually undertaken to give instruction in the proper method of intonation to a class of street hawkers. Miss Wentzell says: "Any of the men who come to me regularly can be heard a block away." Such are the dubious advantages of a Boston education. On the second day of the course six pupils appeared, one of them bringing a box for the instruction to sit on. Of the six members of the class two peddled strawberries, one is described as "an old clothes expert," and the others were junk dealers. All were equally bent on developing sonorous and resonant voices.

JUNIOR RECEPTION BRILLIANT FUNCTION

Nearly 1,000 People Attended Annual Party Held Last Night.

It is doubtful if a more successful school party was ever given in Ishpeming high school by the junior class last night at Braastad's hall. Over 800 invitations were issued and nearly 1,000 people were present. There are seventy-two members in the senior class and sixty-five in the junior and most of these, together with many of their parents and other relatives, were present.

Members of the junior class worked several days on the decorations, which were especially attractive, many declaring the hall never presented a more inviting appearance. The decorations represented as nearly as it was possible to make them do a Japanese garden. Extended lengthwise through the hall and suspended about a foot from the ceiling, were bands of crepe paper and some 1,500 butterflies of blue and yellow paper were suspended some six or seven feet from the ceiling.

There were three beautifully decorated booths and the platform occupied by the orchestra was also attractively decorated. The booth in the northwest corner of the room was decorated with the junior colors, yellow and white, and the one in the northwest corner with the senior colors, yellow and blue. On the front of the senior booth, across the top, "1911" was shown in electric lights, and across the top of the junior booth, "1912" was displayed. The letters "I. H. S." ornamented the top portion of the musicians platform. Special lights also studded the top of the platform and an illuminated ornament, decorated in the senior colors, hung from the center of the ceiling.

In the southwest corner there was another attractive booth from which light refreshments were served. Colored lights were used with excellent effect. As the dancers glided over the floor the butterflies kept swinging to and fro.

The attendance was not confined to Ishpeming people, as delegations were present from Marquette and Negaunee and other parts of the county. Trembly's orchestra furnished the music.

The party was in charge of the following committees: Arrangements—Henry Johnson, Power Bargh and Herbert Potter. Decorations—Rudolph Johnson, chairman, Estelle Hooper, Myrtle Rowe, Maria Horrigan, Clyde Mitchell, Len Moody, David Magnuson, Iernan Johnson and Edwin Lioret. Reception—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Scribner, Miss Clara Fitzpatrick, Miss Eleanor Blanchard, C. W. Downman, Charles Burt, Arvid Hendrickson and Donald Hayden.

WAS PROMINENT IN BUTTE.

Brother of C. M. Murphy and Mrs. James McGee Highly Respected.

The Butte Inter-Mountain had the following account of the life and death of the late Jerry D. Murphy, brother of C. M. Murphy and Mrs. James McGee of this city, who died a week ago yesterday in Butte, Mont.

"Jerry D. Murphy, a pioneer of the city, died last evening at the family residence, 620 South Montana street, after an illness extending a little over three months. The deceased came to this city 33 years ago, and was one of Butte's best known citizens.

"He was a staunch Democrat and always took an active part in every campaign since coming to the state. He was the oldest member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in the city, and is responsible for the organization of the first division in this city, over 30 years ago. This is No. 1 division, which still meets regularly in Hibernia hall, Centerville, and is in a prosperous condition. Mr. Murphy served under Sheriff Eugene Sullivan, his brother-in-law, and P. H. Regan as undersheriff. During the past few years he has been in the employ of the Anaconda Copper Mining company.

"About four months ago Mr. Murphy's health commenced to decline, and accompanied by Mrs. Murphy, he went to Los Angeles to consult with specialists, but they could do nothing of a permanent character for him, and after a few weeks returned to this city. Up to the very last Mr. Murphy was perfectly conscious and recognized his numerous friends as they called to see him.

"Mr. Murphy was born in Richmond, Va., August 2, 1855, but when still a child he removed with his parents to Rockland, Mich., where he was raised. In 1878 Mr. Murphy was seized with the western fever and came to this state, where he has since remained. In 1883 Mr. Murphy was married to Miss Nora Sullivan, who survives him, along with four children, two sons and two daughters, Emmet and Jerry D., and Misses Kate and Mary Murphy, all of whom, along with Mrs. James McGee, a sister, from Ishpeming, Mich., were at the bedside when death came. A brother, C. M. Murphy, of Ishpeming, Mich., who was here a short time ago, also survives him."

WILL TRY TO OUST TONY JACOBSON

Salt Lake Men Dissatisfied With Management of Columbus Consolidated Property.

Arthur L. Maas, formerly of Negaunee, now located in Salt Lake, Utah, and L. A. Jeffs and C. H. Gibbs, former residents of the copper country, are heading a movement to oust Tony Jacobson from the management of the Columbus Consolidated Mining company, in which a number of Marquette county people are financially interested. Letters have been received by the stockholders here from Mr. Maas, soliciting their proxies for the stockholders' annual meeting, which is to be held in Salt Lake on the 6th of next month.

It is said that many of the Utah stockholders are dissatisfied with Mr. Jacobson's management of the company's affairs. If those interested in the movement to remove him are successful in securing proxies for a sufficient amount of the stock to control the meeting, he will be asked to resign and another man will be elected in his place.

The opposition to Mr. Jacobson will not be the only important business that will be considered by the stockholders at the annual meeting, as it is reported in Salt Lake that the Columbus Consolidated and the Columbus Extension are to be merged. It is said that the Columbus Extension is far the richer property of the two, and it is thought that by consolidating the companies, the new company will soon be able to pay dividends.

published the following relative to the proposed merger:

"There have been mergers and rumors of mergers covering Ala and the Cottonwoods properties lying thick and fast for years, but one which has been least talked about, and which will prove to be one of the biggest things ever participated in in that part of the state will be the reported pending merger of the Columbus Consolidated and the Columbus Extension. And one of the most interesting features of the situation is the fact that the little property will swallow the big one—in other words, the Extension people are said to have bought up sufficient stock of the Consolidated to swing control, and that in the near future the merger of the two properties will be announced.

"The Consolidated has the power and the machinery and the mill facilities which the Extension requires. The Extension is now opening up one of the biggest bodies of milling ore ever discovered in the district. It must have a mill or the use of a mill. There stands the Columbus mill conveniently near, and naturally enough the ambitious Extension has a covetous eye on that much-needed mill.

"Every year the eastern stockholders make a flash-in-the-pan attempt to wrest the control of the Consolidated from the Jacobsons, but have as often failed, and this year they will be farther from their goal than ever, as a still larger block of the stock is said to have fallen into the hands of the local people.

"When Mr. Jacobson was called up last evening and asked for a statement, he did not care to be quoted.

"Should the merger company incorporate for 1,000,000 shares, it would have sufficient to give share to stockholders of both companies, and still have left over a 400,000 block for the treasury, as both the old companies are capitalized low—300,000 shares each."

Mr. Maas' Letter.

The letter received by the stockholders in the upper peninsula from Mr. Maas is as follows:

"The mine has produced ore to a value of more than $2,000,000. It is located in a district that has produced many millions and has possibilities of a large production in the future. The mine is thoroughly equipped—has good buildings for all purposes, and a complete milling plant capable of treating one hundred tons of ore per day. The company owns and operates a hydro-electric power plant which is a most valuable asset to this camp.

"Yet with all these advantages you are aware that the market value of the stock has so depreciated that the present price represents but a small percentage of what you paid for it.

"To those of us who are in more or less close touch with the existing conditions, it appears that the greater part of this disaster can be charged to inefficient and extravagant management.

"It is true, of course, that lacking a paying deposit of ore, no management can make a mine a dividend payer. On the other hand, a poor management can keep a good mine in the rank of the non-runners. The present management of the Columbus Consolidated has had every opportunity to make good for the stockholders, and the status of the company at this time goes to show very conclusively that it:

First: Lacks intelligence in the proper method of development.

Second: Lacks intelligence in the actual operating of the property.

Third: Lacks intelligence in ascertaining the geological condition of this district.

Fourth: Has shown gross extravagance.

Fifth: Has not used the resource of the company for the best interests of its stockholders.

"As you undoubtedly observed at the time, the heavy depreciation in the market price of this stock was just prior to the last assessment levy, and unquestionably due to heavy sales of the stock by stockholders who possessed advanced information to the detriment of the stockholders as a whole."

BUSY MAN'S SYSTEM SAVES MUCH TIME

How One Treasury Assistant Accomplishes Ten Times as Much as Another.

Washington, May 19.—Robert O. Bailey, the new assistant secretary of the treasury—once a star man of the Associated Press and later private secretary to Secretary of the Treasury Franklin MacVeagh—has ten times as much routine business to his desk as any of his two associates and five times as much as the other. The detail work of the office in other words, is enormous, and Mr. Bailey has devised a system of his own to handle it.

He has official charge of the office of the supervising architect, the bureau of internal revenue, the public health and marine-hospital service, the life saving service, the revenue cutter service, and the division of appointments. To accommodate and classify the flood of documents pouring in continually from these six branches, he has designed a standing mahogany desk with six boxes lying side by side on the top and six drawers under each in which completed matters are filed. Much of the business of the office is done by memorandum, so when a memorandum is dictated a carbon copy is made and thrown into the box of the division to which it refers. It thus forms a part of the current day's papers and is not displaced until an answer is received, when it is filed with the answer in the drawer below, thus giving the complete record of the case. All mail relating to the divisions goes into these boxes, thus keeping the desk of the assistant secretary clear. A photograph is used for dictation, consequently Mr. Bailey is able to conduct the affairs of his office without any human impediment whatever. The system has been in operation for some weeks and Mr. Bailey has discovered that he can tell at a glance just the status of work in every division under his charge, keep his desk clean and if necessary run shorthand on clerical assistance, except stenographers, without materially interfering with the business of the office.

Some Historic Treasury Cans.

Thanks to the co-operation of Assistant Secretary Bailey, acting on the suggestion of a newspaper man, Secretary MacVeagh, and a few personal friends are now carrying on a history of the treasury. For thirty-two years a pile of pine logs bound together with heavy iron straps have constituted the platform on the east side of the treasury building where countless billions of dollars of United States gold, silver and paper currency have been shipped in and out. Probably more real money has passed over this platform than over any similar structure in the world. The platform was removed recently, along with the impressive but useless stairs, and a new one is being built. Mr. Bailey had one log turned into canes. They take a high polish, with the light shades of the grain showing picturesquely through the dark luster of the finish. The canes, of course, their owners hold priceless.

NEW SEMI-PRECIOUS STONES.

Apricotine from Delaware Bay and the Lake Superior Agates.

The so-called "Swiss lapis," so much shown by the gem dealers is none other than a slightly porous jasper treated with Prussian blue. And this is by no means the only dyed stone.

A very deep and permanent emerald green tone is given to a translucent chalcedony which was originally designed to imitate, as a substitute for, chryso-prase, but has found favor and is much sought after on its own merits.

This is regarded as an entirely different stone from chryso-prase, and is a beautiful apple green variety, translucent, whose name, indicating a golden lark, was bestowed upon it by ancient Greeks.

Plasma is another name for a darker green jasper, of which the bloodstone of India is a variety; although the plasma of lighter color (pale sage green and sometimes slightly tinged with a brownish lavender tint), is known as heliotrope, and this stone is very attractive, owing to its slight translucency and soft, neutral colors.

Who is not familiar with the well-known redstone or "tiger-eye," so popular in years gone by, and now enjoying something of a revival? The cleverest effect of this gem is imparted by selecting the thin-cut, yellow stone, which should have considerable translucency, and believe it is safe to say that practically any stone that will allow cutting into the cabochon shape and will accept a high polish, showing some pleasing color or combinations of color, may well be termed a new gem.

Primarily, of course, among this class of stones are the quartzes, of which perhaps the latest-named is the apricotine, a beautiful, translucent, water-worn pebble found on many of our tide water or estuary beaches, although the best examples are from the shores of Delaware bay in New Jersey.

This stone is of very rich pink, reminding one of a slice of a ripe apricot, from which fact it takes its name, and when the pebble is polished it is worthy of fashionable treatment. Approached in color only by certain shades of coral, it has the advantage of being translucent and oftentimes with a shimmering light somewhat similar to the aventurin.

Many new agates are now being exploited, the commoner forms being the so-called Lake Superior agates, but properly speaking these are the beautiful striped and interlarded little carnelian pebbles found upon the smaller lake beaches throughout the States of Minnesota and Wisconsin. These are mostly in the reddish and pale pinks and sometimes in the darker blood red sards and are really very beautiful when due regard is given to the agatized lines by the skillful lapidist.

Pink amethyst, a North Carolina native gem, is a ferruginous quartz or, properly speaking, an amethyst with varying shades of the true amethystine violet alternating with a rich rose pink; the latter color being due to an admixture of iron stain, giving a peculiar and pleasing contrast of blended colors.

A BURGLAR'S AWFUL DEED

May not paralyze a home so completely as a mother's long illness. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a splendid remedy for women. "They gave me wonderful benefit in constipation and female trouble," wrote Mrs. M. C. Dunlap, of Leadville, Tenn. If ailing, try them, 25c at The Stafford Drug Co.

Upper Peninsula

Caught a Monster Fish—

William Lalonde, a commercial fisherman at St. Ignace, caught a lake trout in his pond nets the other day that weighed, dressed, forty-two pounds. He also got a freshwater salmon weighing eight pounds.

Bonding Proposition Defeated—

By a vote of seventy to forty-five, the people of Garden township, Delta county, this week voted down a proposition to bond the township to allow the construction of a school building. A large number of the taxpayers opposed the proposed expenditure, because of the claim that taxes would be raised to a prohibitive rate.

Prizes Offered People of the Soo—

Fifty dollars in prizes has been offered by the management of the Soo News, to be distributed among the residents of the Lake city. The prizes will be given to those who are the most successful in beautifying the yards and premises of their homes this year. The News has offered this sum without reserve, leaving the management of the competition to the members of the Civic Improvement league. The ladies have taken hold of the proposal with enthusiasm.

Brook Trout Fry Planted—

Superintendent Marks of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's fish hatchery near Munising has been busy for some time past planting his excellent annual crop in the streams and in other bodies of water in Alger county. As usual the crop was a good one and consisted of many of many hundreds of thousands of healthy brook trout fry. Recently the following plants of brook trout fry have been made in the vicinity of Munising: Sturt creek, 20,000; Long lake, 25,000; Round lake, 20,000; Au Train river, 25,000; Sliapook river, 30,000. Brook trout fry have also been planted in the Bay Furnace creek and in the Berdan farm creek. Superintendent Marks has recently received 50,000 healthy looking steelhead eggs from the Pacific coast. The fry will be planted in the Au Train and Miners rivers.

Want Sunday Laws Enforced—

As the result of agitation at Gladstone for a more rigid enforcement of the Sunday laws, petitions requesting the prosecuting attorney and sheriff of the county to close the saloons, pool rooms and theaters on the Sabbath were placed in the several churches of the city last Sunday and were very largely signed. These petitions will be presented to the officials entrusted with the enforcement of the laws. It is stated that in case these officials fail to comply with the request of the petitioners a still higher power will be appealed to. The promoters of the agitation at Gladstone are seeking to extend the movement to every part of the county and they have already requested the Escanaba members of the County Ministerial association to place similar petitions in their respective churches next Sunday. The Escanaba clergymen are now considering the matter.

City Avenue a Lake—

Stranded in the middle of the Hartnett avenue lake, which occupies the principal thoroughfare connecting Escanaba with North Escanaba, several motorists were forced to call on men with tools to rescue their machines, after the storm yesterday, says the Escanaba Press. The lake extends over a distance of nearly a quarter of a mile and unknown autoists plunged unsuspectingly from the wave-battered beach. As the shallows of the shore were left the autoists encountered a heavy sea and some of the machines were carried bodily over the shoals where once sidewalks were built. In some instances the unlucky autoists managed to gain shore, but others were forced to call on North Escanaba residents who were waiting on the shores with ropes and who pulled the cars to safety. When not a lake the Hartnett avenue thoroughfare is a disagreeable sand heap without even the regular features of an ordinary lake bed.

Fast Team for the Soo—

Manager Charles Field makes the announcement that the Sault Ste. Marie team for 1911 will be "the strongest amateur or semi-professional baseball aggregation the upper peninsula has seen since the days of Barbeau, Eddie Cloutte and Len South." It certainly looks good to the fans and the lineup is being strengthened by new arrivals. A Detroit player by the name of Finlan is the latest recruit to report to the manager. He will be given a try-out at short. The Escanaba club has been secured for July 1, 2, 3 and 4. Last year the Sandy City team was fast, outplaying the Lock City nine, and is said to be even better this year. Simon Johnson, the Bay Mills fisherman and who never loses a game, will be within reaching distance, will have a reserved seat in the grand stand today and tomorrow, when Boyne City will be the outside attraction. Mr. Johnson has offered a prize of $5 in cash for the first home run of the season made at the Soo park.

Council May Abolish Two Offices—

In spite of the fact that Mayor John S. Lindsay did not reappoint Dr. A. J. Carlson as city chemist and Dr. W. J. Firkas as city veterinarian at Escanaba and left those offices vacant, the two men still hold their positions, under a ruling given by City Attorney A. H. Ryall. After the matter had been brought to the attention of the council by Alderman John Garrity it was found that the two offices were created by ordinance and could only be vacated by repealing the ordinance. After a lengthy discussion, during which Alderman Garrity and Alderman Shipman made strong pleas for the retention of the city chemist as a safeguard to public health, the council was instructed to prepare an amendment to the present ordinance giving the council the power to declare the offices vacant. The amendment will be presented to the council next Monday night and the matter will then come to a show-down.

Death Is Victor in a Race—

Death won a race that was being made to save a baby's life and in doing so benefit Mr. and Mrs. John Akos of Kates, Marquette county, of their dear, lost possession. Early in the morning their three-months-old son, Lyall Bernard, was taken ill with convulsions and his condition became so serious that it was decided to take him to Escanaba, where he could be given the medical care not obtainable at Kates. Mr. and Mrs. Akos therefore started for the city on an Escanaba & Lake Superior special train with the ailing child, but their hopes of saving his life were in van, for the little one died shortly before the train arrived at its destination. The parents did not know the child had really passed away until they were so informed by Dr. John O. Gross, who with them upon landing at St. Ignace, having previously been notified by wire. The shock to the parents upon learning the child had ceased to live was terrible. They took the remains to the home of Mrs. Akos's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas J. Weber, 1314 Hale street, Mrs. Akos before her marriage was Miss Mary Weber of Escanaba. Mr. Akos is an engineer on the Lake Superior railway.

Big Rainbow Trout Netted—

Superintendent Marks of the fish hatchery at the Soo has placed in the government pond at the foot of the locks three rainbow trout weighing fourteen, sixteen and twenty pounds respectively. These fish were netted in the rapids by Pete Pigeon, along with ten other big ones, all of which will find a home in the pond during the summer season. Another fish netted was so large that it broke the meshes and got away. It is estimated that it weighed anywhere from twenty-five to thirty pounds. Superintendent Marks secured a special permit from the state commission to take these fish. The distribution of brook trout and whitefish from this hatchery has been completed. The 10,000,000 whitefish were planted at DeTour and in Lake Huron and the 2,250,000 brook trout were placed in the streams of the upper peninsula. The rainbow and lake trout fry will be ready for planting—the latter part of the month, which will be up to the business at the station for the year. It is expected that the contract for removing the hatchery from the rapids to the proposed new location at the east end of Brady park will be let next month. The last legislature appropriated sufficient funds for this work and the money will be available July 1.

Public Library Not to Close—

For a while during the meeting of the city council this week it appeared that the Carnegie Public Library of Escanaba might be compelled to close its doors within a comparatively short time for lack of funds with which to meet running expenses. It transpired that through some misunderstanding or clerical error the bills for the alterations and improvements made to the library some time ago were paid out of the library fund, whereas the library trustees claimed, they should have been defrayed from the general or contingent fund of the city. The bills amounted to $1,550.40 paid lack of this amount from the library fund would so diminish it that it might be necessary to close the library, it was declared. These statements were made in a communication from President J. J. Cox of the library trustees, who requested the council to have the bills paid out of the library fund from the general city fund. Alderman Kirkpatrick moved that the request of the trustees be not granted and then a lively discussion started. Alderman Kirkpatrick and Garrity led the fight in support of the motion and Alderman Swan, Feltner and Powers fought for the transfer and the continuance of the library's usefulness. Following a flood of more or less fervid oratory a vote on Alderman Kirkpatrick's motion was taken and it was lost by a vote of 7 to 6. Alderman Priestner then moved that the request of the trustees be granted and this motion was carried.

Escanaba Standard Oil Center—

Should the common council decide to grant a request of the Standard Oil company it will establish a large oil distribution plant at Escanaba. This possibility was developed when an ordinance was introduced providing that the company should be given the right to occupy and maintain on a certain piece of ground within the city limits, for a term of fifty years, oil tanks, warehouses, etc., for the storage of gasoline, kerosene, naphtha and other mineral oils. An animated discussion followed the introduction of the proposed ordinance, in which opposition was offered by Alderman Garrity and Powers, while Alderman Swan led the forces in its support. The opposition took the ground that there was no necessity for immediate action upon the matter, which should be carefully investigated first. It was later, however, through whom the company had secured an option on eight acres of ground, was asked to explain the proposition. He stated that the necessity for early action arose from the fact that the option upon the land would expire May 29 and that it would not be renewed by the owner, the Riparian Land company, represented by E. D. Mead. This land, Mr. Beggs stated, although within the city limits, is isolated from other property and no buildings could ever be located nearer than half a mile to it. It is situated on the north shore of the bay, about midway between the Reiss Coal company stock and the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company's tie preserving plant. Mr. Beggs said that the company plans, if the ordinance is passed, to make Escanaba its distributing point for the upper peninsula. Two tanks of 1000 barrels capacity each, a large warehouse, a shop for co-operation repairs and a dock are proposed. The oil would be brought in in bulk by water or rail, transferred to the tanks and shipped in barrels or other receptacles to all parts of the peninsula. At the conclusion of the discussion it was decided to refer the ordinance to the ordinance committee for investigation and to have the council meet again next Monday evening to take action upon it.

City Treasurer Turned Down—

City Treasurer M. H. Cain failed to get satisfaction from the Menominee common council at its meeting this week, when he asked that the city pay some of the expenses incurred in his department in buying stamps, paying for advertisements and for other incidentals, aggregating in all $103.70. In the course of his remarks he stated that he had always been honest, in spite of the fact that he had on several occasions been the subject of the expenses of the city in buying stamps, paying for advertisements and for other incidentals, aggregating in all $103.70. In the course of his remarks he stated that he had always been honest, in spite of the fact that he had on several occasions been the subject of the expenses of the city in buying stamps, paying for advertisements and for other incidentals, aggregating in all $103.70. In the course of his remarks he stated that he had always been honest, in spite of the fact that he had on several occasions been the subject of the expenses of the city in buying stamps, paying for advertisements and for other incidentals, aggregating in all $103.70.

When I was elected to this office I was made this promise: Two members of the finance committee told me that there would be no change from the fee system. To run the office during the past year it has cost me $103.70 and the city is asking me to pay $44.95 of it. Heretofore the city treasurers have not been forced to pay these expenses, and when the taxes were higher and the office was being run on a salary basis, the treasurer making more there was no kick to have the office placed on a salary basis. Our tax roll this year was only $166,000; three years ago it was more than $180,000, while last year it was $170,000, and it has been as high as $200,000. There was no holier than putting the treasurer on a salary basis. As it has been customary for the city to pay these expenses, as I have mentioned, I don't think there should be a change made at this time. The finance committee refused to allow the bill, and now it is left for me to pay.

Alderman Juttner, a member of the committee, made an objection to the bills. "We have stood two years for the city treasurer's bills which properly belong to his department," said Mr. Juttner. "The law provides that the city treasurer collect these taxes. He is allowed to do it anyway he wants to. It has been the custom for the city treasurer to turn all bills over to the finance committee. I think we should make some change so when the bill comes to the finance committee, they should be granted and this motion was carried.

Further prayer was stopped by Alderman Schwelbenbach's motion to adjourn.

A Poor Weak Woman

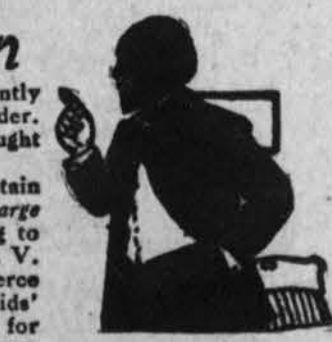

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

GRAND ARMY TO CONDUCT EXERCISES

Civil War Veterans Will Observe Memorial Day in Negaunee This Year.

The memorial day exercises, under direction of Charles H. Towne post, No. 8, Grand Army of the Republic, will be held in Negaunee this year on the afternoon of May 30. The program will be completed at a meeting of the old soldiers in Ishpeming next Tuesday evening.

The exercises will be held at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The old soldiers have asked for the use of the auditorium of the new high school. If their request is not granted the exercises will likely be held in McDonald's opera house. The city officials have offered the veterans the use of the new fire hall, but there are not enough chairs there to accommodate a large audience.

Or Schurtz, superintendent of the Negaunee public schools, will act as chairman of the meeting, and the principal address will be delivered by Rev. R. T. Hicks, rector of St. John's Episcopal church. Prayers will be offered by Rev. D. Plamette, pastor of the [Methodist] church, and there will be several musical numbers by the school children, also selections by one of the Negaunee bands.

The memorial Sabbath exercises will be held in one of the churches in Ishpeming on Sunday, the 28th. A committee will be appointed to decorate the graves of the departed soldiers in the morning of the 30th. The Ishpeming veterans will come over on the street car leaving there at 1 o'clock and they will meet at the intersection of Iron and Cyr streets by the Negaunee veterans and the band. A delegation of former members of the Grand Army of the Republic will accompany the old soldiers and they will fire the salute at the graves in the cemetery. The veterans and their escorts will be provided with carriages for the ride to the cemetery.

There are now only thirteen Civil War veterans living in the two cities. All of these, with the exception of E. C. Anthony, are members of Charles H. Towne post. Mr. Anthony is a member of Albert Jackson post of Marquette. Charles Towne post has thirty-five members. O. B. Robinson, who was a resident of Ishpeming for a number of years, left there some ten or twelve years ago, and Richard Carey, the other non-resident member, recently left Ishpeming for Detroit, to reside. The surviving members in this city are Thomas Bashaw, James O'Brien, James McNeil and Peter Trudell. The surviving members in Ishpeming are T. M. Day, John Thomas Gaynor, Thomas Welsh and J. B. Wilbur.

Donations of flowers to be used in decorating the graves will be appreciated by the veterans. The sons and daughters of the veterans are invited to bring flowers to the exercises and to aid with the work at the cemeteries.

WILL RUSH THE WORK.

Jafet Rytkenon, who is erecting a new block at the corner of Iron street and Pioneer avenue, is urging the contractors to complete the structure as quickly as possible, as he wishes to have the moving picture theater, which will be opened about July 4, Swanson & Sons of Ishpeming have the contract for the concrete block work, which was started Thursday. The block walls will go up much faster than brick walls, as the blocks are eight inches in length and eight inches high. Mr. Rytkenon has laid several applications for office rooms on the second floor and he has decided to fit up some rooms for that purpose. August Allen has taken a four-year lease on the ground floor for theatre purposes.

The public should have something to say regarding the laws under which the railroads operate. After all, the railroads are created by the public and the public should control their creatures. When the interstate commerce commission was first appointed and announced certain rules under which railroads should operate there was a general outcry from railroad officials. To a man, they opposed the idea of any public commission interfering in their private business. We now know that a railroad is a public, not a private business. And some of us have concluded that the public has a right to control railroads and other corporations.

Mr. Bush has just finished his first official inspection of the property of which he has charge and his plans for the physical rehabilitation of the road are only in the making. When completed and carried out Missouri Pacific will rank as the equal of any road west of the Mississippi river.

CAMPERS ANNOYED.

Foreigners from Swaney Range Are Damaging Resorts Near Little Lake.

The owners of summer resorts near Little Lake are this year being put to more trouble and expense than ever before by parties breaking into their places, and also using and damaging their boats. During the winter A. C. Seass's camp was entered and dishes, guns and other valuable articles were carried away.

During the past few weeks the campers' boats have been generally used by foreigners from the Swaney range. Last Sunday Mr. Seass caught two fellows with his boat on Bass lake, they having smashed the lock that was used to fasten it to the dock. The camp owners have decided to have arrested and presented any one hereafter found using their boats without permission.

WARM SPRING WEATHER.

Thermometers in various parts of the city the past two days registered from eighty-four to eighty-six degrees above zero around noon. Some of the older residents say that this is the warmest temperature they had ever seen in Negaunee in May. At 6 o'clock Thursday evening it was seventy-eight degrees here and at 9:30 it was seventy-six degrees. It was sixty-four yesterday morning at 5 o'clock, four degrees higher than the previous morning at the same hour.

HAS MADE GOOD RECORD.

C. O. Stensrud laid off a part of his crew at the cemeteries Thursday. There are a number of bodies still to be removed, but Mr. Stensrud expects to have the last of them transferred by the first of the month. He has made a record in the work. During the fall and winter it was underway just fifty-five days and this spring the men have been busy less than a month. More than 8,000 bodies have been transferred in some eighty days of actual work.

WANT MORE MEN.

Superintendent Joseph Hodgson, of the Breiting mines, yesterday advised the Mining Journal that from 100 to 150 additional men can be used at the company's better pits in this city. Some additional orders for ore have recently been booked and the management expects to keep the extra men steadily employed for some time. The new hands will be put to work as soon as they are engaged.

LOCAL LAONICS.

Ed Peurre spent the past few days on the Menominee range on business. C. A. Goodrich, of Vulcan, attended to business in Negaunee yesterday.

The entrances at the Bijou theatre in the Sundberg block, are being improved. Chris Johnson has completed installing all his bar fixtures in his hotel.

Charles Augustson, the contractor, is building a veranda at the home of Mrs. John Best, on Peck street.

J. R. McDonald, internal revenue collector of Hubbard, was in this city yesterday on official business.

D. D. Smith, Marquette county agent for the Mitchell automobile company, Thursday received a five-passenger car for James Billings of Ishpeming.

Frank Anderson, who intends to erect a building on Cyr street, on the lot immediately south of Captain John Deacon's property, is digging trenches for the sewer and water connections and the lower part of the lot is being filled.

A large number of Negaunee young people attended the reception and hop given last night at Braastad's hall by the members of the Junior class of the Ishpeming high school, in honor of the seniors.

The Finnish Fish club will conduct a hop tonight in the Scandinavian society's hall. Dancing will start at 8 o'clock, continuing until 12. Salo's orchestra will furnish the music. The charge will be thirty-five cents for men, with ladies free.

Anton Hendrickson is putting in a concrete floor in the Cherry Hall building, on Gold street, which is to be used by the Negaunee Laundry & Dye Works. The machinery is now being installed and the management expects to put the laundry into operation about the first of the month. The dry cleaning department will probably be ready about the middle of June. Mr. Hendrickson is also to put in a concrete walk at the home of Mrs. William Saw on Park street.

The Negaunee league baseball team will meet the Gwinn team tomorrow afternoon, commencing at 2:30 o'clock, at the Union park grounds. It is expected that the Gwinn players will be accompanied by a good-sized delegation. They will come up on the Northwestern train in the morning, leaving again that evening.

A number of Negaunee people plan to attend the dance to be given Monday night in Braastad's hall for the benefit of the Ishpeming baseball team. Special street cars will be at the disposal of local people at the conclusion of the party. Tickets to the ball will be seventy-five cents per couple. The receipts will be used to help defray the expense of maintaining the ball team during the season.

ISHPEMING CEMETERY REMOVAL NOTICE.

The contractors engaged to remove the bodies from the old Catholic and city cemeteries to the new cemetery has found a large number of unmarked graves, and is having difficulty in such cases in giving notice to relatives. To facilitate this work it is desired that all persons having friends or relatives buried in unmarked graves should immediately furnish to Mr. Charles O. Stensrud, contractor, or to Mr. Thomas M. Wells, and Mr. Dan Shea, superintendents, information as to the names of persons buried, and the location of their graves, particularly within the following described portion of the Old City Cemetery, to wit: A strip beginning at the dividing fence between the City and Roman Catholic cemeteries, extending thence easterly 400 feet, and the entire width of said cemetery.

On account of the difficulty also in finding relatives in many instances where the graves are marked, all persons having information that will assist the contractor or superintendents are earnestly urged to communicate with them at once.

Similar notices will be published from time to time as the work progresses to other portions of the cemetery.

ONE IN EVERY 177 HAS AUTO

There Are at Least Sixty-Five Automobiles Owned in This City, Fifteen of Which Have Been Purchased This Season—Others Are Expected Here Soon.

Building of Inter-City Roads in all Parts of Upper Peninsula Has Been Important Factor in Steadily Increasing Popularity of Motoring Locally.

One out of every 177 inhabitants of Marquette has an automobile. An approximately correct enumeration of the automobiles owned in this city has been taken recently, which shows that there are at least sixty-five cars in town.

Considering that five years ago an automobile was quite a curiosity in Marquette, this is a surprising showing. It is still more remarkable that with sixty-five cars in the city, the automobile craze has only begun, local agents predicting that more automobiles will be sold to Marquette people during the next twelve months than have ever been sold within an equal period of time.

The automobile fever has struck this city later than many other places, but there is no denying that Marquette is not now along with almost every other hamlet, village and city in this country.

What more than any other one thing has made automobiles popular in Marquette the last two or three years, is the building of good roads. It is not many years ago that Marquette was practically isolated from other cities in the upper peninsula as far as the highways were concerned.

There are three automobile agencies in this city and, as would be supposed, a majority of the cars purchased by local people were bought through one of these agencies.

WILL OPEN BIDS TODAY.

Probable That Light and Power Commission Will Let Contracts for Dams.

Bids for the construction of two dams on Dead river will be opened at the office of the light and power commission today.

Through the public press and in other ways the commission has notified contractors of the two dams to be constructed, but up to a few days ago it was feared that there would be few if any bidders for either job.

SYMONDS DISCUSSES TWO-CENT FARE LAW

Menominee Legislator Says That all Principal U. P. Railroads Are Affected.

Representative Symonds, of Menominee county, one of the most energetic workers for the two-cent fare law for upper peninsula railroads, expresses the opinion that all the principal railroads north of the straits will have to grant the two-cent fare.

The law as it stands in Michigan today is different than in most of the other states having a two-cent fare. In some of the states the courts have declared the two-cent fare unconstitutional as being confiscatory.

"The law as it stands in Michigan today is different than in most of the other states having a two-cent fare. In some of the states the courts have declared the two-cent fare unconstitutional as being confiscatory.

"This law provides that tracks over which regular passenger service is not maintained throughout the year shall not be counted in the mileage hereafter. Just how many miles of this kind of track the Northwestern and other upper peninsula roads have, the railroad commission is unable to state, but it has promised to make an investigation.

"The Northwestern officials themselves realize that if the law is enforced, this road will come under its terms. This road sent every available man from the upper peninsula as well as some officials from Chicago to fight the two-cent fare bill. They had a larger representation there than all the other roads in the upper peninsula put together.

If, as it is claimed, the Northwestern will not come under the law, why anxiety on its part to defeat the law? The "So" road with less than half the passenger trains run by the Northwestern and counting in its extra tracks earned $1,180 per mile, so that under the new law unless its earnings fall off to a surprising extent, it will well over the $1,200 mark.

"The legislature has done its duty. It has made the railroad law uniform through the state. It is now up to the railroad commission to see to it that the law is enforced and that the victory so hard fought for in the legislative session of 1911 shall not be lost to the people through subterfuge."

SAW SEVERAL BATTLES ACROSS BORDER LINE

W. E. Gowling, Who Has Been in Southern Arizona for Five Years, Has Returned.

W. E. Gowling, brother of Thomas Gowling and a former resident of this city, has returned to Marquette after having spent five years in the Bisbee, Ariz., mining district.

Mr. Gowling states that the Americans in southern Arizona are almost to a man in sympathy with the revolutionists and also a general belief exists that in time Mexico and Central America as far south as the Panama canal will be annexed to this country.

General Madero, says Mr. Gowling, is a well educated, capable man, but is a man of peace by nature and hence is not a good commander of an army. If Madero had his way, there would be no fighting, and he has made himself unpopular with his forces by counseling a peaceful course when the soldiers were anxious for a fight.

BIG PARTY COMING.

Advance Man of Detroit Board of Commerce Junket in the City.

W. R. Orr, of Detroit, publisher of Detroit Saturday Night, and one of the vice-wires of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce, 400 members of which will make a trip to Lake Superior waters on the steamer City of Cleveland early in June, was in Marquette yesterday.

While in Marquette Mr. Orr talked over the visit of the Detroiters with a number of people. He said that an erroneous idea had gotten abroad that the Chamber of Commerce was on a business seeking mission.

The City of Cleveland, on which the party will travel, is one of the finest steamers on the lake, and was built at a cost of $1,500,000. It was put in the commission only last season.

Excursions to Birch and Big Bay will be run over the Marquette & Southeastern railroad Saturday and Sunday, May 20 and 21, and May 27 and 28, tickets being good to return until the Sunday night following their sale.
