FOUR MURDERER BELIEVED TO BE RUNNING AMUCK

Bloody Crimes in Colorado, Illinois and Kansas, and in Which Fourteen Lives Were Wiped Out, All With an Axe, Are Attributed to One Man.

He Charles Marzyek, an ex-convict Who Is Said to Have Sworn Vengeance on Those Who Sent Him to Prison—A Posse Now Trailing Him.

Ellsworth, Kas., Oct. 18.—That Charles Marzyek, an ex-convict sought by the county authorities in connection with the murder of the five members of the William Showman family here Sunday night, had been in Colorado Springs, where six members of the Wayne and Burnham families were slain and was acquainted in Monmouth, Ills., where three persons were murdered recently, was the starting point made today by the authorities.

Sam Showman, brother of William Showman, head of the murdered family, today started at the head of a posse on a detailed search of the county. Marzyek is believed to be hidden in the neighborhood. If he is found a battle is expected.

Community Is Terrorized.

Marzyek not long ago served a term for stealing grain from James Vopat. Last night Vopat, who is the husband of Marzyek's former wife, the ex-convict in a field near his house. Vopat and his family, terror stricken, locked their country and fled to the home of a Slav fellow countryman five miles distant.

It is believed that Marzyek is in the neighborhood until he completes his vengeance. After his sentence he would come back and all the people were responsible for his conviction and also their children. "I will put them all in hell," he said.

All the Tragedies Similar.

Evidence furnished by Mr. and Mrs. William Showman is said to have been largely responsible for Marzyek's conviction. As to a possible connection between the Ellsworth and other tragedies, Mrs. Vopat said her former husband was convicted of forgery in Colorado Springs a few months ago. She said that it was not improbable that he had been in Monmouth lately.

The same insane cruelty on the part of the slayer was evident in the Burnham and Wayne tragedies at Colorado Springs, in the murder of William E. Dawson and his wife and daughter at Monmouth and in the killing of the Showmans. In each of the murders used an axe on the heads of his victims.

Is Deserter from the Army.

Marzyek served in the Philippine war and after his return to this country deserted from the army. He had been in trouble since for forging checks and stealing. Before he went to the penitentiary he had been a constant fugitive.

MRS. PHILIP MOORE NOT A SUFFRAGIST

Women's National Federation Head Not in Sympathy With Votes for Women.

Detroit, Thursday, Oct. 19.—Mrs. Philip N. Moore, president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, who is in Detroit attending the state federation convention, is not in sympathy with votes for women, according to an interview which the Free Press publishes this morning.

"If a man wants to accomplish something, no matter what," she is quoted as saying, "how can he gain support or co-operation for it, except by going into his ward and pulling political wires? These (club) women are not bound by political ties but by common hopes and ties and aims, all of which are for the betterment of humanity, for the happiness of their homes and children."

"I wish women were not asking for the ballot. I wish there were another way for them to accomplish what they are doing in indirect ways now. But there is no denying it—the best women in the land seem to want the ballot, to feel that it is their right—and there is no use lamenting it—the ballot will be achieved soon, very soon. In my opinion, it only means doubling the vote of the good people and that other vote which is not good."

"How are things going to be made good? How are things going to be remedied in that way? I can't see how, although I admit the justice of the claims of women, according to the standard in every sense of the word. As for the woman movement—it is the determining factor in the civilization of the future the world over. Nothing can stop it."

Morris Repeats His Story.

Milwaukee, Oct. 18.—On the ground that none of the witnesses supposed to have direct information on the subject had not yet arrived in Milwaukee, the senatorial committee which is investigating Senator Isaac Stephenson's election today discontinued until a later date the line of inquiry brought out by Thomas Morris, lieutenant governor of Wisconsin, who testified that he was informed that Edward Hines, the lumberman, had "put over" the senator's election.

Meantime Wirt H. Cook of Duluth, Minn., mentioned by Mr. Morris as his informant, has been ordered to appear here as soon as possible and Robert J. Shields has been instructed to come as soon as he is released by the senate committee investigating in Chicago the election of Senator Lorimer. A dozen other witnesses who are wanted to testify in connection with Mr. Morris' statement also have been asked to appear.

HIS STATE TO FOLLOW CALIFORNIA'S LEAD

Governor Mann Predicts Virginia Will Have Equal Suffrage Within Ten Years.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 18.—Governor Mann today expressed the opinion that the women of Virginia will have suffrage within ten years. "Evolution of the democratic form of government leads irresistibly to this logical result," he said, "and however distasteful it may be to some of us, we might as well face it and prepare for its coming."

The governor declared he was not committed to equal suffrage and that he was by no means convinced that the granting of the ballot to the weaker sex would be either wise or expedient. "The theory involved in the right of women to exercise the ballot is a just theory," he said, "but the difference between theory and practice, especially in politics, is great."

ROBT. J. SHIELDS DENIES SERVING AS A LOBBYIST

Superior (Wis.) Man Alleged to Have Been Active in Lorimer and Stephenson Elections Says He Has Had No Connection With Any Legislative Matters.

He Is a Witness at Chicago—His Name Is Mentioned at Milwaukee Again, When Lieut. Gov. Morris Repeats His Story—He Will Now Testify There.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Robert J. Shields of Superior, Wis., testifying before the United States senate committee investigating the Lorimer case, today denied a charge that he had been active as a legislative lobbyist in the Wisconsin or any other legislature.

Senator Kenyon of Iowa brought forth this denial from Mr. Shields, who also had been subpoenaed to appear as a witness in the Senator Stephenson inquiry at Milwaukee.

"Is it not true," asked Senator Kenyon, "that you were in the habit of acting for the Hines Lumber company and other corporations before the committees in the Wisconsin and other legislatures?"

"No," replied Mr. Shields, "that is not true. I have gone to Madison at times during sessions of the legislature to get copies of bills pending there, but that is all. I did not appear before any of the legislative committees, nor had I anything else to do with legislative matters."

Wrestler Gotch's Name Brought In.

In the course of Mr. Shields' testimony the name of Frank Gotch, the world's champion wrestler, was brought into the Lorimer probe. Mr. Shields testified that in visiting Montreal, Moosejaw, Alberta, Seattle, Kansas City, West Baden, Ind., and Humboldt, Ia., for the purpose of securing affidavits from eight persons who, the witness said, were present on the "Winnipeg flyer" during the alleged conversation between William E. Burgess of Duluth and C. F. Wiebe, brother-in-law of Edward Hines, in which Wiebe is said to have declared that Hines "put over" Lorimer, at Humboldt, Mr. Shields saw Mr. Gotch, who also had been on the train.

"Gotch told me that the people in that portion of Iowa were not very friendly to Mr. Lorimer and that he did not want to become involved in the matter," said Mr. Shields. "Finally, Gotch consented to sign for his lawyer, who asked him if he had overheard any such conversation as that testified to by Burgess before the Helm committee at Springfield. Gotch said he had not, and his lawyer told him that there would be no possible harm in signing an affidavit to that effect. So Gotch signed the affidavit."

State Representative Robert E. Wilson occupied the witness stand during the morning session. Following a rigid examination into the alleged "bath room" incident at St. Louis and his trip to Canada during the first senatorial investigation of Mr. Lorimer's election, when he was wanted as a witness before the probers, Wilson was directed to secure certain data in relation to his banking account and return to the witness stand tomorrow.

Morris Repeats His Story.

Milwaukee, Oct. 18.—On the ground that none of the witnesses supposed to have direct information on the subject had not yet arrived in Milwaukee, the senatorial committee which is investigating Senator Isaac Stephenson's election today discontinued until a later date the line of inquiry brought out by Thomas Morris, lieutenant governor of Wisconsin, who testified that he was informed that Edward Hines, the lumberman, had "put over" the senator's election.

Meantime Wirt H. Cook of Duluth, Minn., mentioned by Mr. Morris as his informant, has been ordered to appear here as soon as possible and Robert J. A dozen other witnesses who are wanted to testify in connection with Mr. Morris' statement also have been asked to appear.

LIU GARFIELD GOES TO MEXICO.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 18.—The Ohio progressive Republicans may be compelled to organize their campaign in behalf of Senator LaFollette without the aid of James R. Garfield. Some of his friends are claiming that the pledge adopted at the Chicago conference in behalf of LaFollette is not binding, and in the face of the fact that Mr. Garfield will depart in a few days for Mexico they believe the organization of the state will have to be made up without his help.

Turks Deserting in Tripoli.

A message from Tripoli today says that the arrival of deserters from the Turkish forces continue. These men say that they abandoned their army because they had been wasted out with constant marches and lack of food. The Italians do not believe those narratives, suspecting efforts to deceive them as to the condition of the Turkish troops. Although the resistance of the Turks is considered hopeless and they have been invited to surrender, it is believed that it will be necessary to bombard them in order that they may say that they gave up only to force.

PRESIDENT TAFT DECIDES TO EXTEND HIS JOURNEY; WILL TRAVEL TILL NOV. 15.

Ogden, Utah, Oct. 18.—President Taft broke his long journey from Los Angeles to Butte, Mont., with a twenty-five minute stop here today. Afterward he made stops at Brigham City and Logan. The day was one of the least eventful of the trip. Its most interesting development was the announcement that the president had decided to extend his travels by two weeks or more and would not be back in Washington until after Nov. 15th.

HE BRAVES THE WRATH OF THE PROHIBITIONISTS

Secretary Wilson Addresses Brewers' Congress as He Was Scheduled to Do.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson braved the accumulated wrath of some thousands of prohibition workers throughout the country and delivered a speech at the International Brewers' congress here today just as he was scheduled to do. It was a short speech. To the not expert auditor, it consisted merely in assuring the international visitors of the same courtesy the United States has received from the European countries from which some of them come.

The secretary on his arrival today expressed himself in regard to the criticism that had been made against his participating in the brewers' congress. "They are honest, conscientious, well-meaning people, probably with the best of motives, but the great American government can not be run upon the theories they hold," was the reply of Secretary Wilson to the protests and objections that have been made by scores of prohibition societies and church organizations. "The majority of the people who have attacked me are church people. I consider that I am a good churchman myself. Our points of view differ, that is all."

RHODE ISLAND REPUBLICANS RENOMINATE GOV. POTIER.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 18.—The Republican state convention assembled here today to nominate candidates for state office. Aram J. Pothier was renominated for governor. The platform indorses the administration of President Taft and his efforts to secure arbitration among the nations. It approves the protective tariff policy.

Rallying to the Government.

Many officials previously dissatisfied with the progress of reform are rallying to the support of the government, as they now believe the chances for securing reform are greater by aiding the dynasty. Owing to the censorship, even the officials are unable to obtain reliable news, which they are now eagerly seeking from correspondents and foreign legations. The British and Japanese reports failed to confirm the announcement that the situation at Nanking is critical.

Former President Will Avoid Making Any Speech He Possibly Can Dodge.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 18.—The part which former President Roosevelt will take in the coming national campaign probably will be one of silence. This became publicly known today through a letter which he wrote to Congressman J. H. Moore, of Pennsylvania, president of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways association, declining an invitation to attend the convention. Colonel Roosevelt emphatically declared: "From now on I wish to avoid making any speech that I possibly can avoid."

Garfield Goes to Mexico.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 18.—The Ohio progressive Republicans may be compelled to organize their campaign in behalf of Senator LaFollette without the aid of James R. Garfield. FRISCO HEARS REVOLT IS SPREADING.

San Francisco, Oct. 18.—Special cables received here today indicate that the revolutionary movement is spreading rapidly at China. At Canton it is reported that the authorities are disarming the new army, in fear that the soldiers might desert to the rebel side. The sailors of the imperial navy, attached to Admiral Sat Chen Ping's fleet lying in the river there, are reported to be deserting at every opportunity and making for the revolutionary army.

CHINESE CLASH IN BATTLE THAT MAY DECIDE ALL

Whether Manchu Dynasty Will Continue to Reign or Whether Rebels Will Sweep the Empire Are Considered at Stake in Bloody Encounter in Hankow.

Except That the Engagement Has Lasted All Day and Has Been Very Sanguinary, Little Is Yet Known Concerning It—A Government Triumph Indicated.

London, Oct. 18.—A special dispatch from Hankow tonight says that the imperialists still hold the trenches, but have lost several hundred men, killed or wounded. The fighting lasted all day. The revolutionaries, after repeated but unavailing bayonet charges, fell back to Wu Chang. Trainloads of wounded were brought into Hankow.

During the battle between the land forces, the Chinese naval forces shelled the rebel position, but dispatches from Hankow indicate that the return fire from the forts was much more effective and that at least two of the imperial gunboats were badly damaged.

Peking Claims Victory.

Peking, Oct. 18.—The Chinese government claims to have won a great victory at Hankow and announces that the troops hold the station, where troop trains are arriving rapidly. Although this appears to be an exaggeration, the feeling prevails here that the government has finally achieved an important moral victory.

The belief has been held here that if the first encounter between the revolutionaries and the loyal troops proved decisive, the supremacy would be settled there and then. With other important towns outside of Hankow, Wu Chang and Han Yang have taken part in the rising. Nanking, Chang Sha, Canton and other cities of known revolutionary tendencies have not responded to the call of the insurgents, so far as can be learned. They are seemingly awaiting the result of the first encounter.

Had the rebels overwhelmingly won today's battle, it was expected the provinces below the Yang Tze Kiang would join them. With other important cities in rebellion, the government would have been unable to concentrate its strength against the three in Hu Pei province. The rebel leaders have shown the characteristic national weakness in not following up their early victories.

No news was received from Sze Chuen province today. The American legation failed to receive reports, except that Consul General Greene, at Hankow, announced that the battle had begun. The acceptance of Yuan Shi Kai's appointment as military one. It is reliably stated that Yuan Shi Kai demanded permission to raise his own division of 10,000 troops and also to cash a personal grant of 3,000,000 taels ($2,000,000). To this humiliation the recent agreed. Yuan Shi Kai is expected to start from Peking within three days.

Rallying to the Government.

Many officials previously dissatisfied with the progress of reform are rallying to the support of the government, as they now believe the chances for securing reform are greater by aiding the dynasty. Owing to the censorship, even the officials are unable to obtain reliable news, which they are now eagerly seeking from correspondents and foreign legations. The British and Japanese reports failed to confirm the announcement that the situation at Nanking is critical.

The Russian troops have been ordered to suppress immediately any excesses by revolutionaries or bandits near the railway in so far as can be learned. Further instructions. A consular report says that several revolutionists from Hankow come the report that detachments of Japanese and German infantry are expected there and a Chinese and an expedition has been issued, forbidding the export of rice from Peking. A division of the old style troops which arrived here yesterday are quartered in camps and the temples around the various city gates and in the streets in which the high officials live.

Rear Admiral Joseph B. Murdoch, commander of the United States Asiatic fleet, has telegraphed the legation that the protected cruiser New Orleans has been ordered to Nanking, the protected cruiser to Shanghai and a collier to Tien Tsin, the port of Peking, the latter bringing reinforcements to the legation guard.

The American charge here is anxious that there shall be no alarm regarding Peking, as it is not considered to be in the slightest danger.

FRISCO HEARS REVOLT IS SPREADING.

San Francisco, Oct. 18.—Special cables received here today indicate that the revolutionary movement is spreading rapidly at China. At Canton it is reported that the authorities are disarming the new army, in fear that the soldiers might desert to the rebel side. The sailors of the imperial navy, attached to Admiral Sat Chen Ping's fleet lying in the river there, are reported to be deserting at every opportunity and making for the revolutionary army.

Shanghai, China, Oct. 18.—Many native banks have closed their doors, and general business is coming to a standstill. The facts have reached an unprecedented value.

A report from Fu Chow says that immediately the victory heard that Wu Chang had been captured, he paid the arrears of the soldiers' wages, in the hope of keeping them from deserting.

Stockholm, Oct. 18.—It is stated that the Nobel prize for physics probably will be awarded this year to Thomas A. Edison.

MARQUETTE, MICH., OCT. 19.

THIS ONE SOUNDS FISHY.

Lieutenant Governor Morris' hearsy story that Senator Stephenson and Edward Hines each put up $55,000 for a pot of $110,000 to be used in securing the absence of Democratic members of the Wisconsin legislature from the joint session of the assembly and senate, thus permitting the election of Senator Stephenson by a bare majority, sounds fishy, to say the least.

The senate committee has shown its desire to follow up every possible lead by issuing subpoenas for all the men Lieutenant Governor Morris mentioned as playing any part in the startling bargain of which he asserts Mr. Cook told him.

The Mining Journal is in receipt of a letter from an envious Ishpeming fan inquiring whether the winner of the pending Athletics-Giants series will have to play the Marquette-Delta county league champions before the question of baseball supremacy can be regarded as finally settled.

Warden Fuller, of the Ionia prison, addressing a gathering of Ingham county farmers, dwelt at some length on the fact that in 1901 the state taxes were $1,793,000, while in 1911 they are over $6,000,000, a 260 per cent. increase.

The committee investigating his election will likely travel far afield if it follows the trails of all hearsy stories that will probably be called to its attention. Some wild recitals, many of them without a scintilla of proof, have been abroad in regard to the manner in which Uncle Ike was made senator.

MICHIGAN FOR TAFT.

There was no delegate from Michigan present this week at the progressive conference at Chicago which proclaimed Senator La Follette the progressive candidate for president in 1912.

President Taft, and they are not ready to follow ultra-radical leadership. There is, no doubt, considerable friendship in the ranks for Senator La Follette and a presidential primary would probably result in his receiving a considerable vote, even in Michigan.

The pending series of world's championship games differs from other series fresh in the public's memory in that it is proving productive of some really high class baseball.

"Strenuous days ahead for Taft," says a newspaper head line. But it won't be a circumstance to the strenuous days that are ahead in 1912.

Alleviating a Leak. Major John J. Dixon of the state boxing commission of New York said apropos of certain remedies for ticket speculating:

"These remedies promise to alleviate the evil about as well as the old landlady of the Nola Chucky boarding house alleviated the leaking roof of her place."

"A drummer put up for the night in a Nola Chucky boarding house. His room was under the roof. In the middle of the night, awakening from a dream that he was being drowned, he found a terrific thunder storm in progress, and the rain streaming in on him through a leak."

"Landlady! Landlady!" he yelled. "And in reply to his yells the old landlady staggered upstairs and into the room with a big washtub. She plumped the washtub down on top of the drummer, who gave a grunt of surprise and pain, and then she said, as she turned to depart: 'There, son, now yer all right, an' just as soon as the tub fills up you yell agin, an' I'll have another empty one ready for ye.'"

Chauffeur's Tongue. Senator T. Coleman DuPont was showing a Wilmington lawyer his new camping motor car—that wonderful car, with its bath, its tent, its beds, its electric light and electric cooking stove, wherein Senator DuPont will observe the building of his $1,500,000 state road.

"Motoring is a wonderful thing," he said, as he turned away from the garage, "and as soon as we abolish reckless speeding it will be the most popular thing in the world. It is anything but popular now among the great motorless majority."

"I heard two Washington women talking about an elderly bachelor the other day. 'He's got chauffeur's tongue,' said the first woman."

"Chauffeur's tongue, eh?" said the second. "That is one of those new diseases, I suppose, like aeroplane staggers. What does chauffeur's tongue come from? Speeding?"

"No," said the other woman. "From running people down."

Golf Mentality. While John D. Rockefeller was showing the Rockefeller family association over his Pocahontas Hills estate last month, the talk turned to golf, and the host said with a genial laugh:

Here and There

John Milton wrote (prophetically, we grant) as follows regarding the teaching of the classics in some modern institutions: "And though a linguist should pride himself to have all the tongues that Babel cleft the world into, yet if we have not studied the solid things in them, as well as the words and lexicons, he were nothing so much to be esteemed a learned man as any yeoman or tradesman competently wise in his mother dialect only."—New Orleans Picayune.

In their effort to make the Panama canal exposition in 1915 the "biggest show on earth," the people of San Francisco have thrown their modesty to the winds and instead of placing the show in San Francisco, they have put San Francisco in the show. That is just what the plans adopted for the exposition mean as the exposition buildings have been placed here and there throughout the city so as to visit them all, the guest within the city gates must traverse the entire municipal area. In other words, San Francisco itself will be the Panama exposition. The plan that has been adopted is probably the most unique ever devised.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

During the year $157,325,100 was paid as pensions, a decrease of $3,498,154 from last year, making the total amount paid in pensions since the foundation of the government $4,230,381,730. There were 55,185 names dropped from the roll and 26,200 added, leaving a net loss of 28,985 pensioners. The total number at the end of the year was 822,008, the smallest since 1892. Methods of economy resulted in a decrease of the cost of administration by $140,546, the amount being $2,617,127, the lowest since 1882.

The trustees of Burns cottage and monument have purchased and placed in the museum at Alloway the cairngorm brooch presented by the Dumfries volunteers to Burns, and an old wooden snuff box, which it is believed belonged to the poet. These articles were given by Mrs. Burns to Miss Grace Haugh, who, with her parents, for many years resided in a house adjoining that occupied by Burns at his death. Miss Haugh gave these relics to her nephew, William Pearce, and they have now been acquired by the trustees of his daughter, Mrs. S. R. Hunter, Winnipeg, Canada.—London Globe.

Lower State Notes

DETROIT—William F. Jewell, one of the best known educators in the state, and president and treasurer of the Detroit Business university, died following injuries received when he was struck by an automobile. He was 73 years old and leaves a widow, one daughter and two sons.

LANSING—After an examination of his daily balance sheet Auditor General Fuller announced that there was only $226,000 left in the general fund with which to meet the state's obligations until the next tax season in January. This is $104,000 less than was on hand the middle of October last year.

DAVISON—While hunting ducks on Pleasant lake Harlan Perry aged 19, was killed by the accidental discharge of his own gun. He attempted to pull his gun toward him by the muzzle. One of the hammers caught and the gun was discharged. The charge of shot entered Perry's neck, killing him almost instantly.

DETROIT—Articles of incorporation have been sent to Lansing from Saginaw, signed by twelve directors of the Eastern Michigan State Fair association. An ambitious program is laid out and the capital stock is named at $100,000. Officials of the Detroit state fair are concerned over what is to be competition from an unexpected source.

BAY CITY—William Crook, aged sixty-two, brigadier-general for the Michigan Central on a switch bridge at the DePont De Nemours chemical plant, was almost instantly killed when a switch engine caught him on the bridge away from the draw platform. He was not run over, but sustained a crushed skull, being thrown several feet by the impact.

PONTIAC—Oakland county supervisors will tackle the problem of placing the sheriff on a salary basis instead of under the fee system and also providing employment for prisoners at the county jail. Two resolutions introduced by Supervisor W. H. Orin brought the matter before the board and both questions were turned over to committees for investigation.

JACKSON—Theodore Henry, a Detroit lawyer, was shot in the back when a revolver in the hands of Bert Taylor was accidentally discharged. The accident happened on a Detroit-bound interurban car near Leon. The injured man was brought back to this city and placed in the White Cross sanitarium. The injury is not serious.

HILLSDALE—Following the evidence furnished by anti-saloon league detectives, Vern Wineald, Will Morlock, W. J. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wheeler, Melvin Marshall and Paul Friend were arrested, charged with violating the local option law. The examinations of all were set for Friday. Other investigations are pending. Boyd already faces trial on a similar charge at the present term of circuit court.

CADILLAC—Charles Belaska, aged about thirty-eight years, was instantly killed in Peters' camp, four miles north of Cadillac, when he was sawed and stepped back after he had saved through a large trunk to watch the tree fall. It changed direction just far enough to take down another tree in its fall. The second tree fell towards Belaska and he was struck on the neck, which was broken. The man was instantly killed.

OWOSSO—Judge Miner has handed down an opinion in the suit of Mrs. Adelia Clark against D. T. Gustin for breach of contract, in which Mrs. Clark's farm was at stake. Several years ago Mrs. Clark decided the farm to Gustin after signing a contract with him to keep her the rest of her life. In her suit the woman charges that he had failed to do this and asked that the deed be set aside. The court refused to do this and gave the woman the choice of living with Gustin's family or accepting $6 a week. She is over sixty years of age.

PLINT—Fred Middleton, twenty-one years old, was arrested by sheriff's officers for the authorities at Regina, Saskatchewan, where he is wanted for murder. The warrant is sworn out against Frank Miller, but it is stated that Middleton used this name as an alias when he lived at Cartersville, Montana, not far from the Canadian boundary. Middleton is alleged to have shot a man named Beals. The shooting occurred near Moose Jaw. Middleton denies that he is the man and states that he never lived in the Canadian northwest. He has volunteered to return to Canada without any requisition.

PORT HURON—When Charles Smith, aged 18 years, a resident of Detroit started out from that city in a small duck boat to spend the day in St. Clair with friends, he did not think that he would be forced to spend about six or seven hours on Lake St. Clair with good chances of losing his life. But this was the experience that he had. He succeeded in catching a tow from a large steamer coming up. While in the middle of Lake St. Clair his boat capsized and he was compelled to sit upon the overturned boat for hours. Late in the evening he was sighted by one of the crew of the steamer Metelos and brought to this city.

HOLLAND—Sherlock Holmes detective work was done by Deputy Sheriff Dornbos in tracing clues in a robbery case, in which John Trubbergen, a farmer, lost chickens and John Venhuizen, another farmer, lost about a barrelful of cabbages, onions and carrots. Dornbos examined the tracks left by the horse used in carrying off the booty. The tracks of the rubber tired rig used led to nothing, but there was a peculiarity about one of the hoofs of the horse employed that put the officer on the track. He knew one such horse in the city, and only one, and as a result of his investigations John Flieman and Herman Perier have been arrested. Deputy Sheriff John Klies helped Dornbos in the case and the two officers believe they have evidence enough to convict the men. Chicken feathers and the barrel of vegetables were found in the Flieman barn by the officers. The accused men have been released on bail.

Shot a White Deer—Charles Irish, of Sidaw, shot a white buck deer about one and three-fourths miles southwest of that village yesterday. The animal was pure white with the exception of a few gray spots on the neck. It had six points on each horn and weighed about 200 pounds. White deer are a freak and are very rare in the upper peninsula, one being killed on the average, about once in two years. Usually they are very small, and the one killed yesterday is one of the largest ever brought down by a northern Michigan hunter.

In his new position, Mr. Donovan will make an inspection of each of the upper peninsula lodges annually, and by virtue of his office is a delegate to the national convention of Elks, to be held at Portland, Ore., next July. There are three district lodges in Michigan. The Elks have lodges at Sault Ste. Marie, Manistique, and Marquette.

OPPOSE PROPOSED PLAN.

Bessemer Citizens Declare Against Separation of State Taxes.

At a meeting held in Bessemer Monday evening, its citizens formed a Taxpayers' association, and resolutions were adopted unfavorable to the separation of state and county taxes as recommended by the special tax commission recently appointed by Governor Osborn. The resolutions follow:

"Whereas, The tentative report of the special tax commission, now considering sundry proposed changes and revisions in the state's general tax system, recommends a divided tax levy upon corporations, such as our mining companies up here, by which a portion of such tax would go direct to the state, and

"Whereas, The division thus proposed practically means the diversion from our taxable local property for state purposes only of a large portion of the taxable valuations now subject to local assessment and sharing in the expense of local government and which would entail proportionate increase in the taxation upon remaining local property, and

"Whereas, Said tentative report recommends an extra state tax of $250 per annum upon all dealers in liquors, which, also, practically means the diversion of one-half of local license funds to the state, now before

"Resolved, By the Bessemer Taxpayers' association, that we are unalterably opposed to all such unfeeling interference with the recognized American right to local self-government and we insist that all interests, local and state, are best served in maintaining the time-honored custom of leaving the levy and collection of taxes with the local authorities—outside of railroads and other public utility corporations whose holdings are state-wide, hence properly subject to state taxation only.

"Resolved, further, that the delegates selected by this association to represent it at the called open conference at Lansing the 24th inst., be and they are hereby instructed to protest against these proposed infringements upon the admitted local and individual prerogatives in our general system of government under delegated power from the people themselves.

Theatrical

"The Aviator." Presented by a capable company, "The Aviator" at the opera house last evening was very favorably received. Will Herbin and Miss Genevieve Trousdale, who take the leading parts in this modern comedy, appeared in this city two years ago in "The Man on the Box" and they made fully as good an impression as they did on their former visit. The two head-roles are supported by a strong, well-balanced company, and, as it deserved, "The Aviator" was given an enthusiastic reception. A Bleriot monoplane in flight was the feature of the third act. Tonight the same company will present "The Man on the Box," at popular prices, and the players deserve to be greeted by a capacity house.

"Checkers." "Checkers," described by the critics of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston as a dramatization not only equal but superior to the book from which it is taken, will be seen at the Marquette theater next Monday evening. The play has had twenty most successful engagements in New York during the past six years. It brings with it the credentials of success in the shape of warm newspaper praise from theatrical authorities in every city of America, and the very enviable boxoffice statements showing that the success from a financial point of view is quite as great as from the artistic. The play is described by William Winter of the New York Tribune as "the greatest racing play since the days of 'The Flying Scud.'" Opie Reed, the noted novelist, has spoken of it as "one of the choicest, strongest and prettiest representation of a bit of everyday life that I ever saw on the stage."

Sanctuaries in England.
Dr. Cox in his book "Sanctuaries and Sanctuary Seekers in Medieval England" prints a hitherto unpublished list of fugitives in Westminster, bearing date June 25, 1532. It contains fifty names. As many as eighteen of this number had sought protection for debt. Eleven were accused of murder or manslaughter and sixteen of felony; one, whose crime was "robbery committed upon the sea," looks like a pirate. One of the fugitives from justice had been there for almost twenty years. No one of distinction appears among them; all were vulgar criminals who by ingenuity or good luck thus contrived to escape or postpone punishment. Clearly the raison d'être of the place had ceased to be.

The last fugitive of note seems to have been John Skelton; he had libelled Wolsey and escaping arrest from the Cardinal's officers took sanctuary, where he was "well received" by the abbot, to whom Wolsey was naturally a persona ingrata. There was a curious attempt to retain the institution by the legislation of 1540, when, in obvious imitation of the Hebrew cities of refuge, eight towns were declared to be sanctuaries, but with well defined limitations; no place was to receive more than twenty men.

The towns selected did not like the honor. Manchester succeeded in transferring the privilege to Chester, and Chester again to Stafford. Early in the seventeenth century the whole system ceased to be. London possessed another sanctuary in St. Martin le Grand. It seems to have been a disorderly place; it had no strong controlling force such as existed at Westminster. Of provincial sanctuaries the most famous were at Durham and Beverley.—Speciator.

A RAPID FAMILY.
Only twenty-nine years old, twice a wife, and grandmother of twins, is the record of Mrs. E. W. Bender of Atlanta, Ga. Now at thirty-one she is grandmother of three. Mrs. Bender is said to be the youngest grandmother on record. Her appearance is youthful, and she often has been taken for much younger. Mrs. Bender was married to E. F. Moore in Columbia, S. C., in 1872, when she was twelve years old. When she was thirteen her first baby was born. That child, a daughter, was married in 1899 to Edward Sinclair, and in January, 1910, gave birth to twins. In January, this year, a third child was born to the Sinclairs. The grandmother's first husband died and she is now the wife of E. W. Bender.

Upper Peninsula

Fall from Wagon Is Fatal—
Advices from Raber, in the eastern portion of the upper peninsula, report that Henry Madill, seven years old, was killed at the home of his grandfather, John Svenson, near that place, by falling from a wagon.

Shipping Livestock to Chicago—
That Delta county is developing into a livestock raising country was indicated this week when the National Pole company shipped three cars of choice fat steers and two cars of hogs to the Chicago market. The same concern has made several livestock shipments to Chicago in the past, but never in such quantity as just recorded.

Hit by Stray Bullet—
John Choynoski, a Sault Ste. Marie youngster, was struck in the leg by a stray bullet fired by hunters in the woods near Fort Brady. The boy, who is about fifteen years of age, declares that he does not know who fired the shot and two companions who accompanied him home could not tell, they say, where the shot came from. The wound was not dangerous but it bled profusely. Choynoski walked to his home without much difficulty.

Bucket Brigade Won Battle—
Flames threatened to destroy the business portion of the village of Powers, Menominee county, last Sunday, and after two buildings were consumed only effective work by members of the volunteer fire department saved the nearby structures. The buildings burned were warehouses back of the hardware store of Kell Bros., and for a time it appeared that the DeMars jewelry store would be destroyed. The side of the latter was charred a deep black by the intense heat and several times it was on fire.

Boy Hunters Shot—
Raymond of Escanaba was shot through the hand and his companion, Alfred Peterson, received a bullet in his shoulder through the accidental discharge of a rifle while the youths were hunting near the city. Foster had just shot at a crowd of men employed. During the present year there were employed in and about the mines of the county 3,104 men. The production of ore for the same period was 2,069,417 tons. The number employed during the present year has been 2,883, with a production of 1,753,174 tons, a difference in favor of 1910 of 221 men employed and 316,243 tons of ore mined. During the year 1910 there were nine fatal accidents among 3,104 men, a fraction over two and one-half per thousand men employed. During the present year there have been three fatalities among 2,883 employed, a fraction over one to the thousand. I wish to call attention to the matter brought up in Marquette county by Inspector John T. Quinn as noted by the Marquette papers, relative to the establishment of a mine rescue station. I consider the subject worthy of the very earnest consideration of your honorable body and of the mining men throughout the county generally. A station centrally located, equipped with the necessary apparatus and with a competent person in charge could, with the assistance of the mine officials, organize and drill a corps of men at each of the mines in the use of the oxygen helmets and could result only in good both to life and property."

Bursting Meteor Spectacular Sight—
A number of Escanaba people witnessed an unusual sight the other evening when a meteor shot across the sky from the southeast and, traveling north-west, suddenly burst. The bursting of the big, fiery ball had all of the characteristics of a bursting Fourth of July bomb, filling the entire northern sky with a brilliant light for an instant and being followed by a fearful detonation. The phenomenon was witnessed not only by people in Escanaba but by residents of Harris and intermediate points. After the explosion the air appeared to be filled with fire and persons who witnessed the sight are certain the meteor struck the earth at some point not far from the city. The ball of fire as it traversed the heavens traveled at almost incredible speed.

Bunch of Partridges Confiscated—
From a St. Paul freight train at the Iron Mountain station, Game Warden Andrews confiscated a shipment of thirty partridges. The birds were consigned to T. F. Moore, South Clark street, Chicago, and the shipper was Wm. Gray. The box containing the birds was delivered at the Sagola station by Harvey Lehmann, son of William Lehmann. Papers were served on young Lehmann and he was arraigned in Justice Woodard's court. He alleges that he is an innocent party in the transaction, notwithstanding which he has been bound over to the circuit court for trial. The man claims that he only hauled the partridge to Sagola for Gray and is not responsible for their being shipped.

Will Paint Jurist's Picture—
August Klagsdal, artist, has returned to Marinette, after a trip to upper peninsula points. He has closed negotiations for painting the portrait of Judge Steere for three different counties, Alger, Luce and Chippewa. He expects to get a similar contract from Schoolcraft county later. Judge Steere has been elevated to the supreme bench and the boards of supervisors of the various counties have decided to have his portrait in the court rooms. The artist has the honor of an order from Mayor Short of the Soo and will paint a portrait of that gentleman to be hung at the Short home. Mr. Klagsdal is the artist who painted three portraits of Judge Stone and three of Judge Grant for upper peninsula counties.

Cigar Makers Protest—
The cigar makers of Escanaba have risen in protest against the practice of business men of that city in smoking cigars manufactured out of town. The members of the union urge the merchants to patronize the home manufacturer. A resolution adopted is as follows: "Whereas, it has been brought to the attention of the Cigar Makers' union of Escanaba that many merchants of the city are in the habit of smoking outside-made, trust and child labor cigars; and whereas, in no section of the country is a better grade of cigars, as to quality and workmanship, made than right here at home, and far superior to the fake cigars palmed off on innocent dealers by promises of big inducements and prizes; and whereas, we challenge the unreasonable and unjust policy that deprives us of the very means which would benefit the merchants by increased sales, etc.; therefore, resolved, that we hope they will desist from such a ruinous policy. We ask nothing but what is due us—a fair exchange."

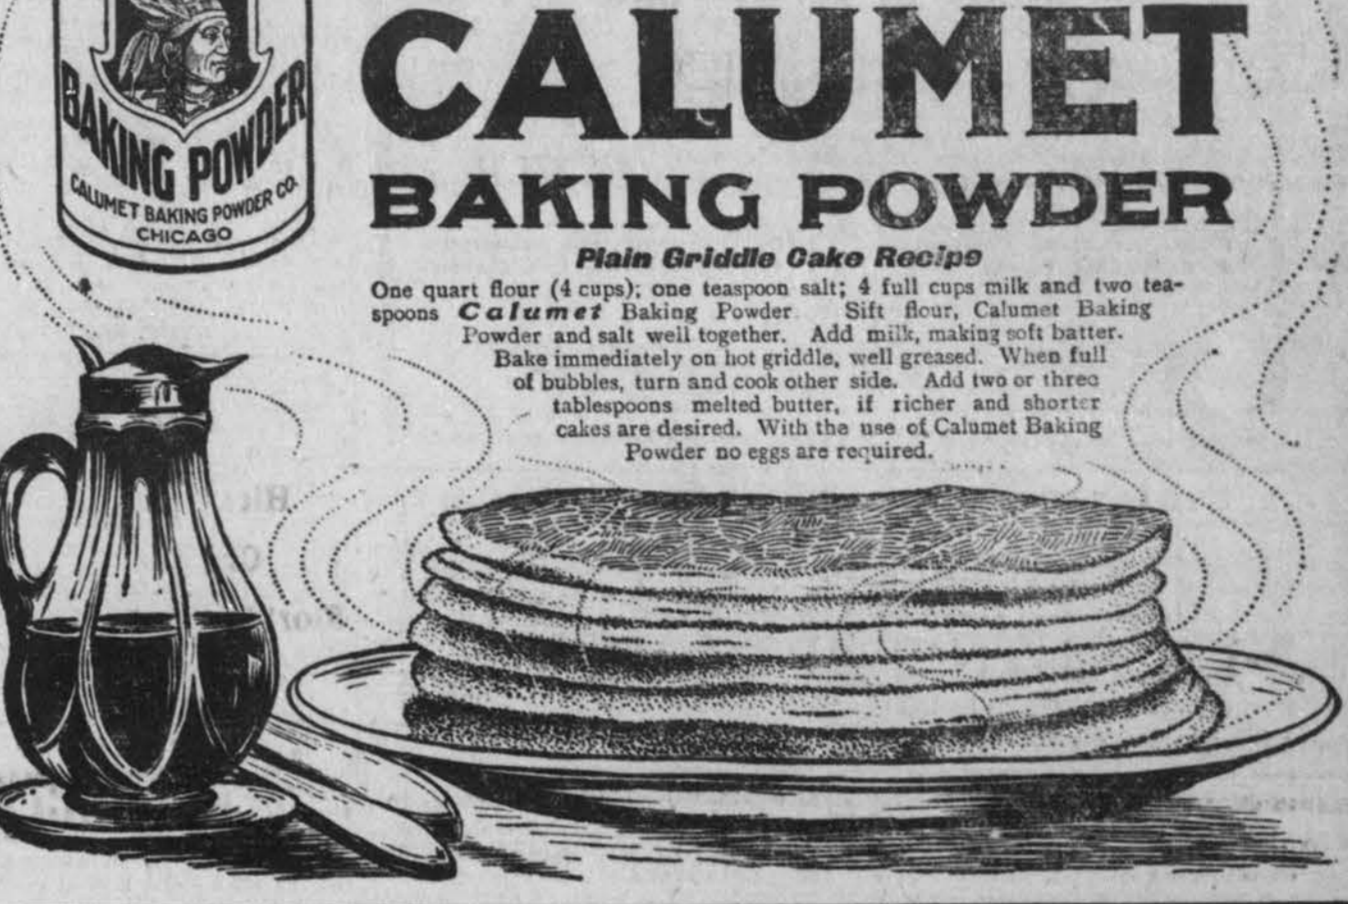

Broken Back Cannot Be Repaired—
Arthur Rousseau, lingering at the threshold of death with a broken back, has been removed to his home in Naden, Menominee county. After having his spinal column fractured by a rolling log on a skidway, he suffered several days in Ashland, Wis., after which he was transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital, Menominee. A thorough examination was made of his condition upon his arrival at the latter institution and Dr. R. A. Walker, who had charge of the case, reported that nothing could be done to save the man's life. The house was fractured near the middle of the back and his condition was such that he could not stand manipulation or rigid treatment of any kind. While at the hospital he expressed a hope of living at least a few weeks. This made his condition pitiable and

SOME TIPS ON CLEANING.

Mackintosh coats are not difficult to clean at home, and the best plan is to dip the whole garment in cold water, and then, dipping a scrubbing brush in suds made with ordinary yellow soap, to scour the whole of it from top to bottom with them, the coat being meanwhile laid flat on the table. It must be given several rinsings, but must never be wrung nor placed near the fire to dry.

Rubbing, in the case of dark furs, with bran wrung out in boiling water, or with oven baked bran in the case of the more delicate furs, will work wonders. Care in the latter case is necessary to prevent the bran from tingeing brown in the oven, and only a moderate heat should be allowed. Furs should hang in a breeze for a day and then be thoroughly brushed according to the lie of the hairs of the peltry.

Afterward they should be well shaken, and then, if necessary, provided with clean linings. A little benzine will remove the grease on the collar of a stole caused by a girl's long hair. It is always possible besides, to wash the silk facings of stoles.

Former Wellknown Ishpeming Man Met Death Yesterday in the Quincy Mine.

William Richards, of West Division street, received a telegram yesterday afternoon, advising him that his brother, Joseph, had been instantly killed by an air blast in the Quincy mine, at Hancock. The announcement of Mr. Richards' death will be a great shock to his many friends in Ishpeming, as he was well known and popular here. He lived in the city many years before moving to Hancock.

The deceased was a member of the Ishpeming City band for a number of years and on his arrival in Hancock he joined the Quincy band. He was regarded as one of the most efficient band men in Marquette county, and he had no equal in this region as a performer on the baritone instrument. He also played for several years with Trombly's orchestra.

The deceased was married in Ishpeming to a daughter of the late Captain Harry Wills, and his widow and several children survive him. It was not known yesterday whether the remains will be brought to Ishpeming for interment, but it is likely that the funeral will be held here, as the remains of several relatives of the family are buried in this city.

FLOUR AND COFFEE WILL NOT BE CHEAPER

Commercial Man Says That Prospects for Cheaper Commodities Are Not Encouraging

"The wholesale and commission jobbers are expecting higher prices on coffee and flour during the winter months," said a representative of a wholesale house yesterday. "Flour is bound to go higher, as the wheat crop is short. After the wheat was harvested it was found that it had shriveled up considerably, as a result of the heavy rains during the early part of the season, followed by excessive heat. Although flour has not advanced any since ten days following the election in Canada, we are expecting higher prices."

"The coffee situation has not changed much in the past few weeks, but the market is very strong. No. 7 Rio green coffee, which furnishes the basis for all cheap grades of coffee, is selling in New York at fifteen cents per pound. This is the highest price asked for this quality coffee in many years. The better grades of Rio coffee have not been affected by the startling advances in the price of the cheaper grades."

Sugar is now wholesaling at 8.75 per hundred. The jobbers are now trading among themselves and they are not depending to any great extent upon the New York market. The jobbers believe that as long as they can find sufficient sugar without going into the New York market, they will succeed in keeping the price down, but just as soon as they have to deal more extensively with the refineries the price will be boosted, as there seems to be an understanding between the operators of the refineries to keep the market up. The beet sugar output of the country has relieved the situation during the past two or three weeks, but it is feared that the jobbers will have to go back to the refineries for their sugar within the next month or so, as soon as the superfluous stock of beet sugar has been consumed.

John Arbuckle and others who are now clamoring for the removal of the tariff on sugar know that such a change in the law will not result in as great benefits to the people generally as they try to make appear, as they are working largely in their own interest, this observer says. It is a well-known fact that a number of American sugar men have recently invested heavily in Cuban plantations, and it is to their interest to have the duty removed. Claude Speckles of San Francisco, Cal., who is now the highest sugar man in the west, is largely interested in Cuban properties, and it is understood that he is working with Arbuckle in an effort to have the tariff removed. If the tariff is removed it will undoubtedly effect the sugar beet industry of this country, but it will also probably result in bringing down the price of sugar, at least for a time, until the big plantation men get absolute control of the situation.

The beet sugar industry has grown considerably during the past few years, and some expensive plants have been constructed. Should Speckles and others get control of the sugar situation, many of the beet sugar plants will probably be forced out of business.

ROYAL ISHPEMING

"Al Martin's Game"

When Bill Denton, a society man, arrived in the West, he was tricked and robbed by Al Martin, a miner in hard luck. Not only did Martin take his money, but he took a letter of introduction to a big rancher and a photograph of the rancher's pretty daughter Helen. With these he impersonated Denton and Helen fell in love with him. Because of Helen's love the miner had been changed into a different man. He emptied his canteen down Denton's throat, put him on his horse and brought him to the cabin. Then he dragged him to Helen's home and confessed everything. Cupid, instead of pulling out the arrows that he had shot into Helen's heart, only laughed and shot in a whole lot more.

WALL STREET STOCKS.

Paine Webber & Co. yesterday wired from New York as follows: Looking at the stock market from a broad viewpoint today we see evidence of profit taking by that element which made purchases at a lower level and with the aid of the buying to cover short commitments, they were enabled to take profits on a market which could absorb the same. When some of the short interest was eliminated the stock market followed a natural reactionary course. The stock market, like business, which has been trying to emerge from uncertainty, will no doubt back and fill before starting up until the matter is made clear. This applied to investors, speculators and to labor. The closing prices were:

Table of Wall Street stock prices including Am. Lumber, Am. Smelter, Anaconda, etc.

Boston "Coppers."

Of the market at Boston, Paine, Webber & Co. yesterday said: The market opened strong and continued to advance in the early trading, after which it looked like a liquidating source and at the close market acts as if it were headed lower. In the local market Western Telephone was the feature for activity and strength up from 20 to 27, on well founded rumors that this company would be absorbed by the American Telegraph & Telephone company on a basis of about 30 for the common. Inspiration has also been well absorbed during the past week and looks higher. On any further decline tomorrow they can be bought for a time, at least. The day's closing prices were as follows:

Chicago Wheat.

Paine, Webber & Co.'s Chicago correspondent had the following to say of the wheat market in that city yesterday. No one could put his finger on any one feature in the news of today which caused the big bull market in wheat. There developed the largest volume of trade seen in this market for many months, the public taking a large share in the making of prices on the advancing market. The strength appears to be the result of bullish conditions which have been accumulating for some time and the present activity may be regarded as a wave of speculative strength growing out of conditions in the cash wheat trade in the southwest, the miserable condition of the spring grain in the northwest, a fresh show of strength in all foreign markets, and the possibility of accident of some kind to the Argentine crop before the harvest is reached. It was a big bull day but there was enough profit taking both early and late on the swells to keep the trade in a healthy way. The closing prices were: May wheat, 107 1/2; corn, 65 1/2; oats, 50 1/2; pork, 15.62; lard, 9.10. December wheat, 101 1/2; corn, 65 1/2; oats, 47 1/2; January pork, 15.57.

Ruez's Market Letter.

Geo. F. Ruez, broker of Ishpeming, yesterday said: "The New York market opened strong and continued so during the morning session. During the afternoon some rather heavy selling of Steel caused the balance of the list to sell off. Prices closed off from 1 to 2 points and at the low for the day. The Boston coppers, with the exception of Inspiration were quiet. The buying on Inspiration for some time past has been very good, and makes it appear as if merger plans are being worked on again. It sold at 7 1/2 today. Late London cable received this afternoon reads, Prospects more favorable for copper metal, confidence seems to be returning."

Mining News

BUTTE & SUPERIOR.

The Black Rock mine of the Butte & Superior company is showing up well on the 900-foot level. A new body of ore has been opened up giving a width of twenty feet and carrying an average of 23 per cent zinc and 11 ounces of silver to the ton. On the 1000, 1200, 1400 and 1600-foot levels the ore bodies are showing up even better than on the 900 foot level. According to a report given out, the Butte & Superior company, during the month of August, produced more concentrates at the Basin works than at any time in the history of the company. The saving was about 65 per cent of the mineral content of the ore treated and the profits are said to have been $105,000 for the month. No such showing was made during the past month for the reason that a portion of the Basin plant was closed down for over two weeks during the installation of a new slime plant. The company's officials state that the net earnings this month will fully equal those of August, and some unforeseen accident occurs. Inside of two weeks work is expected to be commenced on the new concentrator of the company which is to be erected near the mine. The first unit will consist of 5 tons capacity and will have every known modern piece of machinery for the economical and speedy treatment of the ore. The water for the new concentrator will be come from the Black Rock mine. It is perfectly clear, contains no acid and will not require any filtering or settling. Among the new work going on at the mine is the building of concrete ore bins at the collar of the shaft and a new crushing plant will be put in shortly. The ore crushing plant at Basin is inadequate and in time all the ore will be crushed and the mine before being sent to the concentrator. In planning the new concentrator President Wolvin has had the advice and assistance of D. C. Jaeschke of the Utah Copper company and Chief Engineer Bradley of the Ray Consolidated, and Mr. Wolvin says that the plant will be one of the most perfect in the country. It is expected to save 9 per cent of the mineral contents of the ore.

EAST BUTTE.

The East Butte property is in remarkably fine shape, according to R. H. Gross, president of the company. Mr. Gross is continually striving to introduce new methods and systems for the purpose of reducing the cost of production and consequently increasing the financial standing of the company. His latest proposition is the introduction of a crushing plant, upon which work has been started and it is to be finished in about two months. It is for the purpose of entering fine dust and fine concentrates and consists of a chain of pans into which the fine dust and concentrates are carried and then put through heat that ignites the coke in the dust and the sulphur in the concentrates, which are sent to the smelter. The entire product makes an especially fine smelter material. The scheme is not a new one, altogether, as it is being worked quite successfully in several smelters throughout the country.

Mr. Gross says that the company is turning out about 100 tons of copper every month and its earnings so far this year will average better than $30,000 a month. The company is not pushing production and will not attempt to increase the output until the market conditions improve, which he believes will be the case inside of a few months. In talking about the copper situation he said that there was not a manufacturing industry in the country today in nearly as good condition as the copper industry. The East Butte is getting nearly all its output from the 800-foot level and the present indications are that this level will furnish enough to supply the smelter for a long time to come. It was on this level that the rich strike was made several months ago. In the 1,000 and 200 foot levels a large amount of development work is being done and a considerable amount of ore is being blocked out.

BUTTE PRODUCTION.

The copper production of the Butte district for the month of September was 1,200,000 pounds less than it was in August, as the following official figures of the Anaconda and Inspiration Washoe smelters, 15,900,000 pounds; Great Falls, 5,400,000 pounds, making a total of 21,300,000 pounds. Besides this the East Butte smelter turned out 1,000,000 pounds, bringing the grand total for the district up to 22,300,000 pounds as compared with 23,500,000 pounds in August. In the East Butte production is included the ore from the Butte Alex Scott, which is about 50 tons a day and the ore from the Butte-Balaklava company, which is about 200 tons a day, while in the Anaconda company smelter's production is included the North Butte company production, which was about 2,100,000 pounds for last month, and the Tolumine output which was about 500,000 pounds. During the three remaining months of the year the production will not vary much from that of September, as the Never Sweat mine will be closed down for several months and just as soon as the High Ore is put in commission, which will be within two or three weeks, another mine will be closed down to equip for operation under the compressed air system. Some figures have been prepared tending to show the immensity of the mining business in this district so far as the Anaconda Copper Mining company alone is concerned. Here are a few of them: Ore mined yearly, 5,000,000 tons; value of coke consumed at the smelters, $2,050,000; value of coal burned, $2,000,000; value of limestone used at the smelters, $1,377,000; value of lumber used $380,000; value of copper produced, $30,000,000; value of silver produced, $5,000,000; value of gold produced, $1,500,000. In addition, there are half a dozen independent mines operated and also the smelter of the East Butte company.

TUOLUMINE.

While the Tuolumine company could have paid its regular dividend now due, the directors decided to pass the same on the ground that the extensive improvements required such a large outlay of money it was not advisable to pay out any more money until the building of the railway spur from the mine to the railway connection and the new surface equipment were entirely paid for. The company is undoubtedly earning good profits under conditions now existing, but President Hepey reached the conclusion that the proper thing, from a purely business standpoint, was to pay off the indebtedness before dividing up any more of the earnings with the stockholders. The new surface plant will be in operation about the latter part of December and then it is proposed to increase the output from 100 tons a day, the present production, to 400 tons a day. The Tuolumine company has commenced shaft sinking again and the mine is to be deepened to 2,000 feet.

About the first of the month a depth of 1,800 feet will be reached and a station cut, after which the sinking will go on until the 2,000-foot mark is reached when another station will be cut. The new steel hoist, which will be in operation by the last of the year, will have a capacity of lifting from a depth of 3,500 feet and it will be provided with 6,000 feet of rope. The material for the steel galloways frame arrived. It will have a height of ninety-eight feet and will be one of the largest and most substantial in the entire country.

ANACONDA.

A one-twelfth interest in the Pennsylvania mine, a former Boston & Montana property now belonging to the Anaconda Copper Mining company, is claimed by some fifteen people. In an action filed to recover their portion of the value of the ore alleged to have been extracted since February, 1897, it is stated that while they do not know the exact value of the ore, they believe it to be more than $25,000,000. The plaintiffs ask for an accounting, and that they be given the value of the ore extracted from the ground in question. The action, which is brought against the Anaconda and the Boston & Montana companies, came as a surprise in mining circles at Butte and was the first intimation those who are well posted had that there was even any doubt as to the ownership of the Pennsylvania property. It is alleged that the plaintiffs have been the owners of the one-twelfth interest since Feb. 8, 1897, and are entitled to possession of the same as the defendants have no any right, title or interest to the claim.

CHINA GOOD MART FOR AUTOMOBILES

Rich Natives Want Cars Luxuriously Fitted Up But Do Not Care for Speed.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The manner in which American motor car manufacturers are invading foreign markets is strikingly shown by figures collected by Vice Consul General David M. Figgari of Singapore. In 1909 the imports of cycle motor cars and accessories into the Straits Settlements from the United States were valued at $5,557; last year they had reached a value of $38,239, and the United States was second only to Germany, France and Belgium. Writing of the motor car conditions in his district, Mr. Figgari says:

There are 100 miles of road in Singapore, 800 miles in the whole of the Straits Settlements, and 3,439 miles in the Federated Malay states. The Singapore district is noted as the greatest center for its excellent motor roads. The present population of Singapore is estimated at 325,000, as against 228,555 in 1903. In 1909 about $37,000 worth of cars was imported and $150,010 worth was exported to other countries. As these rubber plantations always shown in the last directory, the possibilities of the market can readily be seen.

Not only are machines necessary for the managers of large plantations, but the Chinese who possess most of the wealth of this district are willing to spend large sums for cars luxuriously fitted out, and which will hold a family of six or eight. As a rule, the wealthy Chinese of Singapore have special cars for pleasure purposes. There is an excellent illustration of the local market for a car costing $8,000 gold purchased by a wealthy Chinaman from the settlement of Malacca. Money is no object where the question of luxurious fittings is concerned. It is probable that if a high-priced American car were shown in the market and prospectively buyers were given trial runs, it would be the opening wedge of a profitable trade.

A few years ago there were less than half a dozen American cars in the market. These were introduced by the traveling salesmen of a New York general import and export house. Later a local agency was established, advertising space about five inches square was obtained in the newspapers, and up to date over fifty cars have been sold in Singapore, with the sales rapidly increasing. Practically the entire increase in the sale of American machines here is due to the activity of this one firm. The car referred to has practically displaced all foreign cars of the same grade, and at the present moment other garages are endeavoring to decide which American car shall be imported to compete with it. This has occurred with a low-priced car.

One important feature of the local trade which has to be either met or overtopped is the insistence of buyers on special fittings. British and foreign manufacturers do not standardize their cars to the same extent as do Americans. Consequently quotations are made without including lamps, tops, extra tires, etc. As a result, all orders differ from each other as to fittings. Chinese are more difficult to satisfy in this respect than Europeans. Two cars of the same response, build, wheel base, etc., may sell for prices differing $500, due solely to the fittings which, in many cases, amount to as much as 40 per cent of the value of the car. An invoice shown by a local importer covers just such a case. The car was purchased by a European, and the invoice was styled as "conservative." Special paint, decorations, upholstery, lamps, wheels, tires mudguards, top, wind shields, etc. were included in the specifications. Within the total of the fittings on this invoice was taken it was found to be 35 per cent of the price of the car.

Another feature to be taken into consideration is the indifference of the wealthy Chinaman as to horsepower. He does not want speed for pleasure; he wants comfort and luxury; and the fact that one car is ten-horsepower stronger than another will not constitute a decisive argument in its favor if the fittings do not appear as good.

Before Having an Operation

Please Read These Two Letters. The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to an operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before. Then after that suffering Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored her health.

HERE IS HER OWN STATEMENT. Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement—I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for several months without much relief, and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. To-day I am well and strong and to all my own household, I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise every woman who is afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. Orville Rock, R. R. No. 5, Paw Paw, Mich.

Rockport, Ind.—"There never was a worse case of woman's ills than mine, and I cannot begin to tell you what I suffered. For over two years I was not able to do anything. I was in bed for a month and the doctor said nothing but an operation would cure me. My father suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so to please him I took it, and I improved wonderfully, so I am able to travel, ride horseback, take long rides and never feel any ill effects from it. I can only ask other suffering women to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation."—Mrs. Margaret Meredith, R. F. D. No. 3, Rockport, Ind.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will prove to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful—or that either of these women were paid in any way for their testimonials, or that the letters are published without their permission, or that the original letter from each did not come to us entirely unsolicited. For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit. Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands from the clutches of disease. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

A MYSTERY OF MIGRATION.

The Hordes of Butterflies That Light on the Same Limb in Flight South.

Once again on their annual pilgrimage, which never has failed in the last ten years, thousands of beautiful monarch butterflies all the same color and all the same species, swarmed on the limbs of trees in the yard in the rear of the home of Mrs. W. D. George, Dayton avenue, the other afternoon, hanging in great clusters so thick in places the trees seemed spotted with brown.

About 3 o'clock they began to come, hundreds in a flock, flying as straight as if guided by an unseen hand. Past hosts of other trees they flew unhesitatingly, and with an unerring instinct sought resting places on the limbs of the very tree that has been the temporary shelter of thousands of their ancestors in years gone by.

More singular was the quest of the butterflies of former years that had sought out this resting place over night on their journey south. Nine years in succession—so long has Mrs. George kept account—they came to one particular long limb of a box elder in the yard, literally concealing it with their clusters.

Other limbs on that tree were ignored as the butterflies yesterday ignored other trees in adjoining lots. This was their resting place for the night—no other would do. Unerringly they found it, hanging low to the ground, and never did they leave it until sunrise.

Last year this limb was cut off, so when the butterflies returned this year the old place of vantage was gone and they clustered on the outer branches of this and other trees in the yard. But in the one yard they stayed, loyal though the old home was gone.

What guides them to one spot in St. Paul is a scientific mystery made more involved because it is said butterflies live only one year, hence none from last year could have guided them this season to the trees. Mrs. George, who has watched them for years and has seen thousands come and thousands go, offers no explanation for the ever recurring visit.

"This butterfly is known commonly as the milkweed butterfly," said A. G. Riggle, assistant professor in the division of entomology of the state agricultural school, when consulted recently. "The scientific name is Antioxia plexippus, and it belongs to the family Lymanidae. It derives its common name because the caterpillar from which it comes feeds almost entirely on milkweed.

"These butterflies are gregarious to birds and hence are able to congregate as they do with impunity. They have a northern migration in the spring and a southern in the fall, different from that of birds in this way, that the female butterflies come north about the time the milkweed begins to grow in the spring, lay their eggs and die soon after. Hatching from these eggs are the caterpillars that feed on the weed, eventually changing into butterflies, which fly still further north, where the females again lay eggs.

"And so generation after generation is produced, the adults migrating further and further north, until we find them late in the season often as far north as Hudson's Bay. In the fall they gather in great flocks and fly south.

"They are great fliers and we know they can cover 500 miles at least, because specimens have been taken on the ocean that distance from shore. The monarch is a native of America, but is now practically cosmopolitan, being found almost everywhere on the globe."

CORONER'S VERDICT.

Jury Finds Martin Morris Accidentally Killed at Negaunee Mine.

The inquest into the death of Martin Morris, who was killed a week ago Monday at the Negaunee mine, was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Justice Verdan's office. After the testimony of all who were working and saw him fall, or who knew anything about the conditions of the scaffold upon which the two men were working, was heard, the jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

It was definitely brought out at the inquest that the plank upon which Morris and his partner, Ole Laiden, were working broke and did not slip. Morris hit the concrete foundation of the pillar of the trestle upon which the men were working, and suffered a broken neck, dying almost instantly. Laiden fell out and landed farther away, striking a pile of wooden slabs, sustaining minor bruises and a bad cut down the side of his nose.

DENTISTS' OUTING.

The Iron Country Dental society will hold its quarterly meeting at Dr. Jarvis' camp, near Island Lake, sometime during the week. The date will be kept in mind Saturday for the camp to be gone till Sunday or Monday.

At this meeting new officers for the ensuing year will be elected. Those for the year just closing are, President, Dr. R. W. Boyer, Marquette, and secretary, W. J. Morse, Marquette. The last quarter's meeting was held at Dr. Boyer's camp near Marquette.

STATE COMMANDER COMING.

Mrs. Alberta Droelle, state commander of the L. O. T. M. O. T. W., will be in Negaunee Friday, and a special meeting of the Negaunee lodge has been called for Friday night. Mrs. Droelle has been in the copper country during the early part of the week, and she notified the officers of the local lodge of her intended visit yesterday morning by long distance message. The purpose of her visit is to inspect the lodge, and to hold a school of instruction.

STOPPED OFF HERE.

Alice Nielsen, and her company of operatic artists, who have just filled an engagement in the copper country, visited Negaunee music houses yesterday, and remained long enough to partake of breakfast in the Breitung House. They came down on train No. 8, which gets in here at about four-thirty in the morning. They travel in a special sleeping car, which was sidetracked here. The party, which numbers about twelve members among whom are Miss Nielsen and the famous tenor Ricardo, returned to their car after the morning meal.

LOUISE SEEKS REHABILITATION.

The ex-Crown Princess Louise of Saxony—Mme. Toselli, "ex-Queen of Saxony," as she prefers to be known among her friends—is contemplating a residence in London in an effort to rehabilitate herself in some sort of society. She has paid that city a second visit since the publication of her sensational "memoirs," staying with Lady Willshire at the house which Sir Arthur Willshire has just taken in Elm Park gardens, and is again expected for an indefinite visit next month.

Lady Willshire, who is an old friend and who, in the intervals of calling Louise "mam'am" or "your royal highness," addresses her by her Christian name, will befriend the ex-princess in her endeavors. The princess occupies two rooms on the first floor of the Willshire house, a boudoir decorated in pink and white and a bedroom decorated in green and white, which are spoken of with veneration in the Willshire family as "the princess' apartments."

The princess has also taken a villa in Brussels to fall back on, and will also join the Willshires at Montreux for a portion of the winter season. She now sends Lady Willshire endless telegrams, beginning "Darling Rie, I am coming to you on Thursday," in full, like a letter, ending, "Always yours affectionately."

When staying at the Willshires she goes into the kitchen and cooks, being proud of her cooking. And the servants adore her. She also digs in the garden, the result being that her neck and arms are very brown, and she does not look very well in evening dress. She is not beautiful, but is certainly quite fascinating. As an instance of her attractiveness to men, take this:

She recently went to a chemist's shop in Fulham road with "Dear Rie," and the chemist fell in love with her. He telephoned Lady Willshire and asked for a copy of the "memoirs" which the princess sent him autographed.

The princess is very free in conversation and one night nearly galvanized the servants in relating in English several intimate court secrets and scandals of Saxony. It was afterwards suggested that French was a better medium for such conversation.

Lady Willshire is very delicate and has a great struggle to keep going during the visits of the princess.

Experiments in abrasion conducted at a French mint have proved that aluminum coins will be less rapidly worn by use than coins made of gold, silver or even bronze.
