BOSTON POLICE DISCOVER CLEW OF IMPORTANCE

That Rev. Dr. Richeson Dined With Miss Linnell the Day the Girl Took the Fatal Dose Has Been Ascertained, They Say—Poison Vial Cannot Be Found.

Fiancee's Father Employs Counsel to Defend the Man—The Minister Known in Kansas City—Engaged There to Three Women at Same Time, It Is Said.

Boston, Oct. 22.—In their efforts to clear up the circumstances of the death of Miss Avis Linnell, the Sunday school teacher and music student for whose murder Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson is under arrest, the police have been unable thus far, it is said, to locate the receptacle which held the poison. When the girl took the dose of cyanide of potassium which caused her death, she was in a bath room at the Young Women's Christian association home, and though the house was searched immediately after her death, the receptacle has not been found. At the time of her death Miss Linnell wore a bath robe over her night dress, but this was buried with her. When the police learned of this, they surmised that the cyanide container had been thrust into the pockets of the bathrobe, and it was believed that orders would have to be given to exhume the body. Inquiry to-night, however, revealed the fact that the medical examiner's assistant had examined carefully the bathrobe and accessories there was nothing in the pockets.

Deputy Superintendent of Police Watts said today that he has information of a direct character that Richeson dined with Miss Linnell the afternoon of the day on which the girl took the fatal dose.

Resignation Not Forthcoming.

The morning worship at the Immanuel Baptist church, Cambridge, today was without reference of any kind to the plight of the congregation's pastor, Rev. V. T. Richeson. It had been reported that Richeson would resign his pastorate today, but no letter from him was forthcoming.

The minister was visited yesterday by Moses Grand Edmonds, father of Miss Violet Edmonds, his fiancée, at whose home in Brookline Richeson was arrested. With the bars between them as a grim reminder of the events which necessitated the postponement of the wedding set for Oct. 31, the accused clergyman and his prospective father-in-law had a long talk.

When Mr. Edmonds left the jail he told newspapermen that the prisoner was confident of acquittal and looked forward to the time when his name would be cleared of the charge which stood in the way of his intended marriage. He added: "Mr. Richeson will have as good defense as money can buy."

This statement, together with a further one that Mr. Edmonds, with the rest of his family, retain confidence in Richeson, was taken to indicate that the wealth of the Edmonds family would be placed in defense of the pastor.

That eminent counsel will be engaged to care for Richeson's interests was made certain afterward by the announcement that a member of the firm of Brandeis, Nutter & Dunbar already had the matter entrusted to him. This firm is head by Louis D. Brandeis.

Pastor Involved in Scandal Before.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 22.—The Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, held in Boston on a charge of murdering Miss Avis Linnell, was pastor of the Catholic Baptist church in this city from 1901 until 1904, when he resigned by request, following the sensational disclosures of three young women, each of whom accused him of being engaged to her. A scandal was created among the congregation when the three young women, two of them members of the church, made their accusations against the pastor at the close of one of his Sunday morning sermons. "All through the sermon," said a member of the congregation, "the three sat together in the front row. The sermon was an eloquent one on 'Temptation of Young Girls in a City.' Just after the service the three women approached the preacher.

"You promised to marry me," said one. "Are you going to do that?"

"You promised to marry me, too," said the second. "Are you going to do that?"

"And, me, too," said the other, crying. "How about me?"

The women all wept hysterically. The Rev. Richeson was calm, said there must be some mistake, and left the church. Then he went to Liberty, Mo. The trustees wrote for his resignation."

BELJAWSKI'S COMET HAS A FORKED TAIL, ASTRONOMERS REPORT.

Flagstaff, Ariz., Oct. 22.—Beljawski's comet has been observed at Lowell observatory every night since Oct. 10. It was located by the eye of Professor Lowell on Oct. 11. Owing to the nearness of the comet to the sun, photographic observations have been difficult, but its spectrum has been observed visually and photographed since Oct. 10. The bright sodium lines have decreased in intensity until they have become quite faint. A photograph obtained last night with a rapid prismatic camera shows that the character of the light from the comet's head and tail greatly resemble that of Halley's comet as it was seen on April 29 last year. The length of the tail visible last night was about eight degrees. A photograph showed it to be forked, the northern end being the longer and better defined.

AGED MILLIONAIRE GOES TO CLAIM A BRIDE AND TO LIVE THE 'SIMPLE LIFE.'

Minneapolis, Oct. 22.—H. C. Akeley, seventy-five years old, a millionaire who for a quarter of a century has been identified with the development of the lumber trade in the Northwest, it was learned today, is now on his way to Long Beach, Calif., there to claim a bride in the person of Mrs. Clara Rood Boyce. Mr. Akeley took steps before his departure to wind up his business affairs in this region, with a view to making his future home in California.

Just before his departure Mr. Akeley said he was seeking the "simple life." "At my age," he said, "one comes to realize that it is worthy that kills. The simple life appeals to me. I will live hereafter in California."

Mr. Akeley met Mrs. Boyce last winter, while on his annual visit to California. Mr. Akeley was born in Vermont, as was his fiancée.

BREWERS SHOW PATRONIZED BY VERY THIRSTY PEOPLE.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—The International Brewers' congress and exposition closed tonight, after more than 94,000 persons had paid admission to see "what beer is and how it is made." According to the records, these 94,000 visitors consumed more than 500,000 glasses of beer, an average of more than five each. In addition, 100,000 glasses of mineral water, 75,000 cups of coffee, 25,000 cups of tea and 15,000 bottles of soda water were sold.

SPENT ALL THEIR CASH GETTING MARRIED—$2

Feeble-Minded Bride and Groom, from Michigan, Found in a Freight Car at Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Held in the detention hospital for examination as to their sanity, a bride and groom, found asleep in a freight car by the police, today told their story in matrimony on a capital of two dollars.

George Burch, the husband, is thirty years old. His wife, Mabel, is twenty-eight. Burch said that he and his bride became engaged, but thought it best not to say so until they had secured a job. His only possession being a soiled newspaper clipping.

According to the police, Burch said that he and his wife escaped from the home for the feeble minded at Hartland, Mich., several days ago. "Mabel and I were sweethearts in the home," Burch said. "I had two dollars. We ran away and walked to St. Joseph. I spent part of the money for a license and then hunted up a minister who married us. We went that night to a basement in St. Joseph. We then started to walk to Chicago and slept the next night in a haystack. I am glad the policeman found us, as it is more than two days since we had any food. I spent all my money getting married. I don't know where we are now. I don't remember what her testimony was and that she did not remember whether her father had said anything about it."

Mr. Stannard, the prisoner, said that this referred to the doctor here at the hospital. He said that he had a heavy drinker. She said that Stannard referred to it in her presence while he was dying and said that if he got well he would never drink again. Mr. Stannard said the McClood case involved no important reasoning.

TROOPS ARE CALLED OUT TO QUELL A RACE WAR

Whites and Blacks Clash in Oklahoma—City Attorney and a Negro Are Killed.

Coweta, Okla., Oct. 22.—Ed Suddeth, a negro, was shot to death tonight by a mob who armed themselves, following a battle this afternoon between blacks and whites in which Suddeth killed J. D. Beavers, city attorney, and wounded Carmen Oliver and Stella Thompson.

Suddeth was wounded and was being strapped up to a water tank, but was cut down before life was extinct. Tonight Deputy Sheriff Flowers attempted to take the murderer to Wagoner to jail. As the negro was being lifted into an automobile, the mob opened fire on him. Probably fifty shots entered Suddeth's body.

Large numbers of enraged negroes are arriving tonight from the surrounding country, and a race war seems inevitable. The white men of the town are patrolling the streets and guarding their homes as best they can.

Militia Ordered to the Scene.

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 22.—Company F, Oklahoma National Guard, has been ordered to assemble at once and proceed to Coweta. A special train is made up to convey the troops. A long distance telephone message from the sheriff's office at Wagoner says that a large body of negroes, heavily armed, are marching from Red Bird, Okla., a negro community, upon the town of Coweta.

SENAIOR BANKHEAD WANTS UNDERWOOD IN WHITEHOUSE.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 22.—Congressman Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama is not forward as the next Democratic candidate for president of the United States by Senator John Bankhead of Alabama, in a statement today. Mr. Bankhead says that Mr. Underwood has no equal in either branch of congress in the execution of public policies, and that his capacity for organization is shown by his control of the present house majority.

CHILD UPHOLDS MOTHER IN THE STANNARD CASE

Summoned by the Prosecution, Little Elaine, Fifteen Years of Age, Proves a Strong Witness for the Defense—Matches Wits Successfully With Attorney.

Her Testimony the Talk of the Town—In Her Cell, the Accused Woman Denies Having Given Alleged Wrongs Publicity—Sue Takes Stand Today.

Ontonagon, Mich., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—As God is my judge, I never told Charlie Stannard's people that he ever laid a hand on me," Mrs. Laura Stannard said in her cell in the county jail here today, discussing the trial in which she is accused of killing her husband, Charles S. Stannard, on March 20, last, by putting strychnine in his coffee.

"My mother, who died six months before Charlie's death, never knew of my husband's violence, although she was sick in my house three months before she died. My father then came to live with us, and he saw for himself, but did not know it by my telling.

"The only thing I ever cautioned Dolly Hammes about was not to tell anybody about our family affairs. Persons who boarded at my home know how things were, but I never told anyone who had no knowledge of the situation."

The jurors today had two long walks, one of which led them down to the pier for a view of Lake Superior.

JUPITER PLUVIUS WORKING OVERTIME

Has Sprinkling Pot Still in Evidence at Philadelphia—Ball Grounds Are Soaked.

Philadelphia, Oct. 22.—Rain which began falling here again shortly before 6 o'clock tonight effectively killed all hopes that the grounds at Shibe Park would be in condition tomorrow for the playing of the much-postponed fourth game of the baseball championship series between the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Nationals. Nature has done little to dry up the field since yesterday's postponement.

The drizzling rain which fell all night finally ceased about 9 o'clock this morning. Threatening clouds, however, continued to hang over the city and the sun only managed to break through for brief intervals during the day.

Although the grounds keeper and his assistants are doing everything in their power to improve the condition of the field, it is practically certain that there will be no game before Tuesday.

SOX BEAT CUBS IN FARCICAL GAME.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—In a farcical game, in which the two teams exchanged batteries, the Chicago American league baseball team won from the Chicago Nationals today by a score of 2 to 2. The Americans freely batted the delivery of Ed Walsh, their own star pitcher, who was on the mound for the Nationals. The game was played for the benefit of St. Ann's hospital here.

AEROPLANIST FOWLER IS HAVING HARD LUCK

Eastbound Coast-to-Coast Flight Is Halted Again, This Time by Disabled Cylinder.

Beaumont, Cal., Oct. 22.—A disabled aeroplane engine brought Robert G. Fowler to the ground here at 9 o'clock this morning, temporarily halting his coast-to-coast flight. He made a distance of forty miles today, when a disabled cylinder forced him to descend. Yesterday Fowler flew from Pasadena to Riverside, sixty miles.

RODGERS ARRIVES AT SAN ANTONIO.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 22.—Cal P. Rodgers, the coast-to-coast aviator, arrived here shortly after noon today, making a fifty-mile flight from San Marcos in fifty-five minutes. The flight was uneventful. He landed with a graceful slide upon the parade grounds at Fort Sam Houston. This afternoon he made an exhibition flight over the city.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER VOYAGE ABANDONED.

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 22.—Aviator Hugh Robinson announced last night that he had given up his attempt to fly with a hydro-aeroplane from Minneapolis to New Orleans along the Mississippi river. He gave as his reason the failure of the river cities to furnish sufficient financial support. Many of the cities that had subscribed a part of the $20,000 fund for a prize to be awarded Robinson if he made the trip had withdrawn all or part of the guarantee unless promised definite dates for his arrival. The machine is in good condition and Robinson said he would be ready and able to make the flight, but the amounts still offered were insufficient to pay for the expenses incurred. Of the $20,000 fund the only city thus far which has paid its full subscription, Robinson said, is Minneapolis, where he started. Most of the cities along the river, he said, Robinson today, "are more interested in the financial returns gained from out-of-town crowds watching the free exhibitions along the waterfront than they are in the successful completion of the flight. My time can be more profitably spent in other exhibition work than in the flight to New Orleans merely for the glory of it."

The Weather

Washington, Oct. 22.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Upper Michigan: Rain, Monday; Tuesday, probably fair; moderate variable winds becoming west.

Stannard home to see the patient after his first visit. San Gourd said Stannard did have convulsions in Dr. Larned's presence. William Kinross, a neighbor of the Stannards at Greenland, testified that the Stannards frequently quarreled.

The trial will be resumed tomorrow morning, with Alvah Stannard, Mrs. Stannard's oldest son, on the stand. He is called by the prosecution, but, like Elaine, is expected to be a strong witness for the defense.

Prosecuting Attorney Jones said today that he did not believe the people would close their case before Wednesday afternoon, as there are a number of witnesses to be called.

The attorneys for the defense conferred this afternoon and sent out summonses for their witnesses. The Stannard case probably will have a bearing on the celebrated Hyde murder case in St. Louis.

An expert witness, is also subpoenaed as a witness in the Hyde case and is due in St. Louis tomorrow. He may not get here this week, however.

MR. TAFT DINES ON WOLF DISH AND ENJOYS IT

He Is Served With Real Buffalo Steak—A Journey Into the Bowels of the Famous Homestead Gold Mine Also Marks His Visit to South Dakota.

He Is a Luncheon Guest of Governor Vessey—Senator Crawford, Another Insurgent Meets Him, While Congressman Burke Took Him on a 60-Mile Auto Ride.

Pierre, S. D., Oct. 22.—This was the least eventful day for President Taft of his present swing around the circle. The president was the guest of Congressman Burke and is spending the night at the Burke home.

United States Senator Crawford, one of the leaders of the "insurgents" and an acknowledged supporter of Senator LaFollette for the nomination of the Republican nomination in the election of 1912, met President Taft here. Governor Vessey, another "insurgent" who is credited as a LaFollette supporter, had the president at his guest house. Mr. Taft attended services at the Pierre Methodist church this morning, and spoke after luncheon in the auditorium on peace and arbitration.

Following the auditorium speech, Congressman Burke took the president for a sixty-mile automobile ride over the prairies in a wind that was keen enough to make the president long for the bear-skin overcoat that he wore on his trip through Russia four years ago.

Returning from the automobile ride, the president held a reception in a hotel for seventy-five "boosters" from the Rosebud country, many of whom got up at 4 o'clock and motored 125 miles over the rolling hills in the sharp wind to shake hands with him. This "boosters" wore soft, white hats with artificial red rosebuds stuck in the bands. Many of them wore buffalo-hide overcoats and others bearskin coats.

At dinner tonight the president had real buffalo steak, furnished through the courtesy of the heirs of the late Scotty Phillips, owner of the largest herd of buffaloes in the world. Yesterday a moving picture camera engineered the killing of an Indian with bow and arrows of one member of the herd. The picture was saved for Mr. Taft. He apparently enjoyed it immensely.

EXPLORES THE HOMESTEAK MINE.

Yesterday, President Taft further qualified as a miner when he dropped 1,100 feet down into the famous Homestead gold mine at Lead. Two years ago Mr. Taft was taken down to the 1,200 level in the Leonard copper mine at Butte, Mont., and spent fully an hour in the drifts and tunnels. His experiences yesterday were much the same. The president began his trip through the mine by first learning the proper pronunciation of the town of Lead, which is not named after the metal lead, but for the mining term indicating a lead into a body of ore. Next he climbed a high flight of steps and crossed a long trestle leading to the mouth of one of the shafts.

The altitude at the entrance to the mine is just one mile above sea level and the president stopped to rest a few minutes before allowing himself to be locked with several members of his party into one of the steel cages used in hoisting men and metal from the bowels of the earth. It was a long, dark ride fairly well lit by a few gas lamps. The height of the Washington monument. Elevators in the monument creep to the top of that granite shaft in from ten to fifteen minutes. Mr. Taft went sailing down in the darkness yesterday at a speed which carried him to the 1,100-foot level in less than two minutes. Three-quarters of an hour later he was hoisted to the surface at even a faster pace.

All work in the mine had been suspended in the afternoon, partly to give the men an opportunity to hear Mr. Taft's speech in Lead and partly as a precaution for the president's safety in visiting the mine, it being deemed inadvisable to have any blasting while he was in the tunneling of the mine. The process of mining the ore and of smelting it was explained to the president as he walked through the damp drifts. Outside snow was on the ground and there were furies of falling flakes. Down in the mine the temperature rose to between 70 and 80.

One of the drifts followed by the president led to an enormous cave-like opening where most of the ore now is being mined. The dome of the cave was fully fifteen feet high. Miners, stationed at different levels in the enormous cut, burned calcium paper to illuminate the cavern.

"How are you, Bill?" yelled one of the miners from far above.

"Pretty good," laughed the president, "how are you up there?"

"Fine, old boy; glad to see you."

Mr. Taft also spent some time in the government assay office at Lead and gathered the ultimatum you sent to Colombia, threatening her with dire result if her senate did not ratify without amendment the 'treaty' written by the attorney for the Panama Canal company? Have you forgotten the American marines landed by Admiral Glass and sent into the Aparto region to Yabisa and Real de Santa Maria? Who was the blackmailer and the bandit then? Who has told the truth about this matter all along?

"Was it you when you told congress that the people of Panama rose literally as one man? Was it you when you boasted that you took Panama and let congress debate? Or was it you when you wrote that your action in this matter was as free from scandal as was the public acts of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln and that every action taken was not only proper but was carried out with the highest, finest and noblest standard of public and governmental ethics?"

"It is a great pleasure to gold-brick the president," said Representative E. W. Martin, in making the presentation.

"It is a great pleasure to be gold-bricked in this way," replied the president.

Mr. Taft received a noisy welcome both in Deadwood and in Lead.

CHINA ADVICES DECLARE PEKING IS IN A PANIC

Main Army of the Manchu Government, Commanded by War Minister Himself, Is Asserted to Have Sustained a Decisive and Overwhelming Defeat.

It Is Reported to Have Retreated in Disorder, Leaving Its Artillery and Supplies and Control of an Important Railway in the Hands of Revolutionists.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 22.—The main army of the Chinese government, under War Minister Yin Tehang, said to number twenty thousand men, was defeated yesterday at Kwang Shui, Hu Pei province, according to a cable received by the Chinese Free Press of this city. The rebel army of fifteen thousand, under Li Yueng, it is stated, captured the artillery, baggage trains and ammunition of the imperial army, which retreated to Shu Gou.

The cable stated that the imperial forces were completely routed and abandoned their supply train during the retreat. The mountain passes of Kwang Shui, said to be of great strategic value, now are said to be held by the revolutionists, giving them control of the Hankow-Peking railroad, over which the imperial troops are being moved.

The following was received by the Young China, a Chinese paper of the Chinese Free Press of this city: "The revolutionists control thirty-six mounted passes. Peking is in a panic."

U. S. THE BEST NATION, CONCLUDES DR. WILEY

Treats Women Right and Consumes More Sugar and Soap Than Any Other.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 22.—"If a country treats its women right and eats more sugar per head and consumes more soap per head than any other country, then it is the greatest nation," Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the government chemistry bureau, said in an address this afternoon to the National American Woman's convention. He had been introduced by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the association, as "the man who is trying to give us a fair chance to live."

Dr. Wiley began by enumerating the things that make for a country's greatness, narrowing the test down to the three requisite names. By these tokens, he concluded, America is first. "Women," he said, "are a tower of strength to every public man who is trying to do his duty. I don't know why she has been kept from the polls. Surely not because of lack of intellect. What we need in politics is more ethics rather than more intellect."

Dr. Wiley, Miss Mary Johnston of Richmond, Va., Miss Sophronista Breckenridge of the University of Chicago and Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane of Kalumazoo, Mich., were the speakers at an open meeting held at a Louisville theater and attended by more than two thousand men and women. Numbers of the city's leading professional men had seats on the platform.

Miss Breckenridge devoted her attention to the suffrage question from the viewpoint of the working woman. She expressed her conviction "that the ballot is at present a domestic necessity and that housekeeping is a public function." In a measure she blamed woman for her failure to assert herself and demand what is her right.

"Enlightened homes are jointly, by enlightened men and women, for the benefit and trust of the rising generation," declared Mrs. Crane, whose address dealt with immediate and practical municipal problems of direct and important interest to women.

LOSS OF PANAMA RANKLES IN BOSOM

Consul General of Colombia Issues Answer to Roosevelt's Recent Statement.

New York, Oct. 22.—Francisco Escobar, consul general of Colombia, in a letter to the United States, today questions the reliability of some of the latter's statements, made in a signed article on "How the United States Acquired the Right to Build the Panama Canal." The letter was made public today and is in reply to the article by Colonel Roosevelt, recently published. The consul general's letter reads, in part:

"In default of argument to the oft-repeated charges that you dealt unfairly with Colombia; that you violated a public treaty in which the United States had pledged its honor as a nation to guarantee the sovereignty of Colombia over the isthmus; that you recognized the fake republic of Panama in defiance of the accepted principle of international law, you hurt insult and slander at the unfortunate country you robbed of her most valuable possession.

"When you speak of blackmailers and bandits, Mr. Roosevelt, have you forgotten the ultimatum you sent to Colombia, threatening her with dire result if her senate did not ratify without amendment the 'treaty' written by the attorney for the Panama Canal company? Have you forgotten the American marines landed by Admiral Glass and sent into the Aparto region to Yabisa and Real de Santa Maria? Who was the blackmailer and the bandit then? Who has told the truth about this matter all along?"

"Was it you when you told congress that the people of Panama rose literally as one man? Was it you when you boasted that you took Panama and let congress debate? Or was it you when you wrote that your action in this matter was as free from scandal as was the public acts of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln and that every action taken was not only proper but was carried out with the highest, finest and noblest standard of public and governmental ethics?"

"I think Colombia can safely leave these questions to be answered by the conscience of the American people."

MUCH BLOOD IS SHED IN BATTLE IN TRIPOLI

Italians Lose Heavily in Beating Off a Desperate Attack at Ben Ghazi.

Tripoli, Oct. 22.—The fighting at Ben Ghazi between the Italians and the Turks has been of the fiercest character. After an engagement which lasted all day on Oct. 19, the Turks returned to the charge during the night. They made a savage onslaught upon the Italian camp, but were repulsed. In the morning the Italian forces occupied the city. The Turkish losses were heavy, and the Italian list numbers not less than one hundred.

There are good grounds for believing that the Italian forces at Ben Ghazi have been severely handled. It is understood that the Italian losses are much heavier than officially reported. Colonel is given to this belief by the hurried departure for Ben Ghazi of four warships and a hospital ship. There are also reports of massacres of Christians at Derna and Ben Ghazi, but no confirmation has been received.

Berlin, Oct. 22.—Special dispatches from Constantinople say that the Turkish ministry of the interior has received news that the Turks and the Arabs have defeated 8,000 Italians near Barka. The Italians lost 800 and the Turks 115 men. The Italians left large quantities of arms and ammunition on the field. The Berlin newspapers print the dispatches doubtfully.

PROVES NEED FOR ACTION.

The Mining Journal has urged that the council should take steps to have a new tax roll made, one that will correct the inconsistencies in the present roll and pave the way for an equitable distribution of the tax burden in this city.

The Mining Journal has commented that another year the mining and other outside taxing interests will not take the word of the representatives of this city as to local assessment values, but will investigate them for their own information and be ready to indicate any inconsistencies in the roll and the method of arriving at valuations.

And again: When all the rest of the county has been boosted to meet the recent valuation of the iron mines, which is admittedly very high and in excess of real worth, and when Marquette is permitted to remain as it is, or made lower, according to Alderman Hennessy and others, then what a very nice thing it will be for Marquette.

When it comes to settling down seriously to disposing of the matter, it will be found, no doubt, that Grand Rapids will have a candidate for the supreme court to succeed the late Justice Harlan.

Whether or not Governor Osborn will call a special session of the legislature continues to be an open question, as well as a burning one.

According to the rules, Turkey, at least, should have been given a choice of weapons. As it was, she was forced into a duel and then obliged to fight with knives.—Lansing State Journal.

Here's news for Michigan from Washington, D. C., that possesses great and peculiar interest. W. L. Houser, who is in charge of the headquarters of the progressive league and who is regarded as the manager of Senator LaFollette's presidential boom, states that the LaFollette workers are now prepared to "burn Michigan up" and that a campaign to that end is about to be undertaken by Senators Clapp and Crawford and George L. Record, of New Jersey.

Abundant warning is thus given the Taft men in Michigan to get out their fire fighting apparatus and to make their plans for extinguishing the prospective LaFollette conflagration.

Uncle Shelby Cullom, of Illinois, has returned to Washington from Springfield. He advances two reasons for doing so, one, that the tangle of factional politics is so bad that nothing he can do would avail to straighten it out; another, that he would quickly go broke if he tried to keep up his home in Washington and at the same time continue to pay board at a Springfield hotel.

At first glance Governor Osborn's requirement that the paroled convict, Burke, return to Canada looks as if he might be seeking to set up reciprocity in undesirable citizens. But it is not so. Burke is a Canadian product and before coming to the states he served a term in a Canadian prison.

Among other distinctions, Governor Osborn can be credited with being the best copy maker the newspapermen have found in the executive chair at Lansing for many a year. He has views on all the live questions and is not too hesitant about expressing them. In short, he is just the kind of a governor that delights the newspapermen's hearts.

It is necessary to go back to the last big boom in its copper properties to find a time when Ontonagon has bulked as large in the public's eye as it has by reason of the Stannard murder case the past few days.

With all due deference to Mr. Houser, it appears that the LaFollette missionaries will find Michigan a hard state to burn up. There was an unprecedented rainfall the past summer, and the fall has also been wet.

When it comes to settling down seriously to disposing of the matter, it will be found, no doubt, that Grand Rapids will have a candidate for the supreme court to succeed the late Justice Harlan.

However, even without the assurance of the Iron Ore, Marquette has felt pretty certain that its taxing conditions would be scanned with close and critical eyes next year.

Anyway, there is no occasion for immediate concern over the initiative, referendum and recall in Michigan. All three of them are as yet good ways from enactment into statute law.

Editor Baldwin, of the Journal, says that franchise grabbers are after the municipal lighting plant. We had no idea that Escanaba was as metropolitan as all that.

Incidental to playing baseball, it must strike the disinterested onlooker that the world's championship contenders are also playing a great deal of baby.

A Laugh or Two

Poor Fellow! Colonel E. H. R. Green, discussing his 6,000 proposals of marriage, said: "My female wooers appear to be of a mild, shrinking nature. They are not at all like the wife of a friend of mine down Texas way."

"This man belongs to the Tarpon Club, and I once heard two clubmen talking about him."

"Poor George tells his wife everything he does," said the first clubman. "Yes," said the second, "and he does everything she tells him."

What Father Took. He came down the garden path a sad, sorrowful figure. She watched him with anxious eyes.

"How did father take it?" she asked. "He took it—well," replied the young man. "O, I'm so glad, George!" she cried, pressing her hands together.

"Are you?" replied George, slipping formally by her side. "Well, I can't say that I am, dear. At first your father wouldn't listen to me."

"Why didn't you tell him that you had $25,000 in the bank, as I told you to?" "I did, after all else had failed," answered George dejectedly.

"And what did he do then?" "Dot!" echoed the young man, passing his hand wearily through his hair. "He borrowed it!"—Answers.

Feared the Worst. A South Dakota railroad is noted for its execrable roadbed. A new brakeman was making his first run over the road at night and was standing in the center of the car, grimly clutching the seats to keep erect.

A tourist in the mountains of Tennessee once had dinner with a querulous old mountaineer who yarped about hard times for fifteen minutes at a stretch.

"Why, man," said the tourist, "you ought to be able to make lots of money shipping green corn to the northern market."

"Yes, I orter," was the sullen reply. "You have the land, I suppose, and can get the seed."

"The why don't you go into the speculation?" "No use, stranger," sadly replied the cracker, "the old woman is too lazy to do the plowin' and plantin'."—Kansas City Star.

Harlan Wanted Drink, Too. Of Supreme Court Justice John Marshall Harlan, who was a rare Kentucky gentleman in every sense of the word, a legal friend told this story at the Manhattan club last night:

"The judge was dining to the west. He entered the smoking compartment of the Pullman to get a drink of water. As he lifted the glass he sniffed suspiciously. Turning to the three men in the room, he said: 'It seems to me that some one has been drinking liquor out of the glass.'"

"Yes—sir," stammered a little man in the corner. "I used the glass for that purpose."

"Raising his voice, the justice asked: 'What did you do with the bottle?'" "New York World.

PONTIAC—Oakland county will require $7,500 less for its maintenance next year than it did this, according to the report of the ways and means committee.

CADILLAC—A boarder probably saved the life of Mrs. John Sundberg, 50 years old, when he knocked a portion of whisky and Paris green from her hand just as she was about to swallow it.

HOLLAND—Ed Kampe, a stranger who reached Holland broke and was accommodated with a night's lodging in the city jail, showed his appreciation of the hospitality accorded him by writing a note which was found pinned on a counterpane in the cell.

JACKSON—The Jackson county supervisors have made the discovery that the county has been paying the expense of prosecuting in the local court convicts in Jackson prison who have committed crimes in that institution while they were inmates.

MUSKEGON—Outgoing boats and trains are being watched by the Muskegon police in the hopes of capturing the bank robbers who entered the safety deposit vault of the Farmers' bank at Montague.

ROMEO—An inventory of the local municipal electric light plant has been made by representatives of the Detroit Edison company, with a view to making a bid for it should the plant be offered for sale.

IONIA—When Warden Fuller of the reformatory appeared before the ways and means committee at Lansing last spring and asked for an appropriation to buy 40 acres of land adjoining the reformatory premises at $20 per acre, he was told by a member of the committee that it didn't pay to buy land for state institutions, as the superintendents didn't know how to run farms.

PROPER TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

The first thing to be done in the treatment of Catarrh is to begin the use of a medicine that will have a direct effect on the source of the disease; in no other way can any curative progress be made.

It is the most penetrating of all blood purifiers, thoroughly, yet gently, expelling all catarrhal matter and impurities from the circulation, and by its fine tonic properties strengthening and building up the system in such healthy manner that it is enabled to overcome the depressing effects of Catarrh.

Some local treatment is often desired to open the air passages of the head and nose and relieve the congestion and "ticking" of the throat, and other unpleasant symptoms.

There are many helpful measures which may be resorted to, and there are others which may be harmful, and to aid Catarrh sufferers we have prepared a special treatise on the disease which will be of great value to any who suffer with this trouble.

Today's weather: Unsettled; stationary temperature. Yesterday's temperatures: Seven a. m., 39 degrees; noon, 43; 7 p. m., 40; highest, 43; lowest, 38.

Mrs. G. T. Boyer is critically ill at St. Luke's hospital.

Mrs. Julia A. Hanson and daughter, Miss Hanson, left last evening for Chicago.

Marquette aerie of Eagles will give a dance in Owl's Hall Wednesday evening.

Oscar Brush, who has been visiting his brother, Ed Brush, left for Chicago last evening.

W. G. Smith, day baggageman at the South Shore depot, has returned from a trip to Detroit.

H. C. Dow, of the Lake Superior Iron & Chemical company, went to Milwaukee last evening.

The funeral of Miss Elizabeth Crowley will be held at 8:45 Tuesday morning from St. Peter's cathedral.

Mayor Jacobs will leave this morning to attend a mining congress, which opens on Tuesday in Chicago.

Rev. Bates G. Burt returned Saturday from Omaha, where he attended the National Prison congress as a delegate from Michigan.

Dr. J. O. Von Zellen returned Saturday from New Brunswick, where he went three weeks ago on a moose hunting expedition.

The Marquette high school football team was defeated by the Ishpeming high eleven by the score of 11 to 0 at the fair grounds Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Hixon have returned from their bridal trip and will immediately go to housekeeping at the corner of High and Ohio streets.

J. A. Michaelson of Grand Rapids, district passenger agent of the South Shore road, and A. W. Martin, of Duluth, traveling passenger agent of the same road, were in the city yesterday.

Carl Meeske, Jr., arrived home from Princeton in his Hupmobile, where he has been hunting with Joseph Larochele at the latter's camp. He had the good fortune to bag a deer and also a good string of partridges. He reports the road to Princeton to be in very good condition.

Talk by Dr. Dawson—All Sir Knights and Ladies of the Maccoebes are invited to attend the meeting of Queen City tent at Fraternity Hall tonight, at which Dr. Dawson will give a talk on his travels in China and Japan. Dr. Dawson has recently completed a tour around the world.

Mrs. Barrett Arrested—Marshal Manning arrested Mrs. Myrtle Barrett yesterday afternoon, and a charge of disorderly conduct will be placed against her in justice court today. Mrs. Barrett was driving on Washington street when arrested. She is the woman who was thrown out of a buggy and severely injured on Front street last Fourth of July evening.

U. C. T. to Give Party—Marquette council, United Commercial Travelers, will give a dance and card party at Fraternity Hall Friday evening. It is planned to give a social during the winter, one the last Friday night of each month, and this will be the first of the series. Trombly's orchestra will furnish the music and lunch will be served in the lodge rooms above the dance hall.

S. S. Ormsbee Hurt—S. S. Ormsbee, of the firm of S. S. Ormsbee & Co., is confined to his home as the result of a fall received while working at the store Saturday evening. Mr. Ormsbee was standing on one of the movable ladders back of the show cases, in attempting to move which he lost his balance and fell to the floor. He struck on his feet but with such impact that he was badly shaken and he had to be taken home in a carriage. No bones were broken but he felt very sore yesterday.

Molders Had Good Time—A meeting of the Marquette molders' union was held at Siegel's Hall Saturday evening at which two candidates were initiated, after which lunch was served and an interesting program enjoyed. Harry Webb, who sang at the Bijou last summer, is a member of the union and favored those present with several songs. Since he left Marquette a few months ago, Mr. Webb has visited in London, Bristol and Plymouth, Eng. The molders greatly appreciated Mr. Webb's kindness in entertaining them Saturday night.

Ticket Agents Busy—South Shore ticket agents were busy Saturday evening as the result of the order which went into effect Saturday, requiring receipts to be given for all tickets sold to points in Michigan. Special receipt stubs have been attached to most of the tickets sold, and as it takes as long to make out the receipt as it does the ticket, it is impossible to wait on as many people in the same time as before the receipts were given. The public are advised to arrange to buy their tickets before the train starts, in order that it may be possible to wait on everyone.

ENFORCE HEALTH LAWS.

State Board Cautions Local Officers to Do Their Duty This Winter.

The death rate in Michigan during August of this year was about 25 per cent less than during August, 1910, and the infantile mortality was less by about 60 per cent. The state board of health points to this record as an example of what may be accomplished by a vigorous enforcement of the health laws, and in a recent bulletin cautions local health officers to continue their vigilance. The bulletin says: "The situation before us now is what to do for the winter. The health laws are adequate to the situation. More attention must be given to the enforcement of these laws. There are laws enough to cut the mortality rate 50 per cent in a single year if they were enforced. There is too much effort upon the part of a great many physicians, health officers and householders to treat a case of contagious disease 'gracefully.' The most 'graceful' way to treat a case of whooping cough is to isolate the patient from contact with any susceptible individual, and placard the house so the public may have unquestioned warning. The most 'graceful' way to deal with a case of smallpox is to isolate and quarantine the patient, placard the house 'smallpox' (not 'chicken pox'), and institute vaccination as is indicated by exposures. In fact, the most 'graceful' way to handle any of these cases is to be honest with the public. If there are cases of smallpox in a certain community the public is entitled to know it and to expect proper protection. The health officer who persists in placarding those as chicken pox (even when admitting he knows they are smallpox) is a disgrace to the public health service. "If a health officer does not agree with the diagnosis of a given case as reported to him by the physician in charge, he must institute such preventive measures as would cover all factors of the controversy. The public must be protected while these controversies are being settled, and the persons responsible for furnishing this protection will be held to account. Time is ripe for a more vigorous enforcement of the public health laws."

BEAVER NUMEROUS.

Are Doing Much Damage in the Woods This Fall, It is Reported.

According to hunters and others who have been out in the woods within the last few weeks, beaver appear to be more numerous than for many years, and in many places they are doing great damage to land and small timber. Many new dams are being built by the busy little animals and thousands of trees are being cut down to furnish material for them. The beavers seem to be especially active in the woods north of the city and one colony is determined to build a dam where they will overflow a portion of the road from Big Bay to the Huron Mountain club. This dam has been blown over several times, and it has been on several occasions, sometimes in a single night. In the opinion of most woodsmen the law protecting beavers should be wiped off the statute books. Not only are they doing much damage to young trees, but it is claimed that they are building dams where they make large areas of land wet and swampy that otherwise would be open to agriculture. Some woodsmen assert that beaver destroy trout and other fish, but this is denied by others. The beaver have few friends among upper peninsula woodsmen and they are almost unanimously of the opinion that the sooner they are cleaned out the better it will be for the country.

A GOOSE WAR.

Announcement has been made that the German authorities have suspended the importation of live geese from Russia on the ground that there is a considerable amount of disease prevalent in the frontier districts of that country.

Coming as this prohibition does, immediately prior to the period when imports of live geese increase rapidly, the question is serious alike to breeders in Russia, who will have large quantities of birds thrown on their hands; to German goose fatteners, as they will be unable to fill up their pens, for the home production is totally insufficient to meet their requirements; and to housewives in Germany, who will find the already high price of what is an important article of food advanced still further and probably be prohibitive. Russians state that there is no justification for this regulation; that it is a trade move in the interests of German dealers to force down prices and as a measure of fiscal protection to their goose breeders.

Germany imports annually about 8,000,000 from Russia, where these birds are bred in vast numbers throughout the western and southwestern governments. They are bought from the raisers by travelling dealers, who drive them in huge flocks to the frontier stations, where they are entrained for despatch to Berlin and other cities.

The cars used for this purpose are built in four decks, each car holding about 1200 birds. Special trains are run in the season, consisting of a dozen to thirty-five cars, in accordance with the supply. As many as 50,000 geese have been known to arrive at Magerviehof Markt, Berlin, on a single day.

PLAIN SUCCOTASH.

No man living ever said a word against succotash. He may discard chicken pie, sweet potatoes, tomato bisque, or clam chowder, but succotash he never turns from. There is a romance in the name. It dwells in the smile of the Great Spirit, and is, too, the lovely relic of Indian life. A man who eats succotash revels in the chase and the sunlit joys of the prairie. Succotash is made up of dreams and good things—beans and corn romping together and joining you with a hearty join the mele. Of course, you will.

Town Lots

TO BE HELD AT

New Seney, Mich

THURSDAY, OCT. 26, 1911

New Seney is located at the junction of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic and Manistique Railways, in the heart of the best agricultural district in the state. The reclaiming of 150,000 acres of the richest muck lands in the United States, where settlers are buying for their own use, will result in bringing in hundreds of families in the very near future. The soil is rich and fertile, the water pure and abundant, and the climate exceptionally healthful. The hunting, fishing and boating are the best in the northern part of the country, and all natural resources and conditions unite to make New Seney an ideal point for building one of the most important towns in the Upper Peninsula. Contracts have already been closed for $50,000.00 worth of new buildings to be erected in New Seney, including a $22,500 hotel, a bank building, drug store, general store, school house, church and a number of residences.

All lots will be listed at low prices. The choice is sold at public auction and the cost of each lot is determined by adding the amount bid to the list price of the lot selected.

Terms are one-third cash, balance in five annual payments with six per cent interest. If full cash payment is made a discount of five per cent is allowed.

Special Excursion Train

The Western Land Securities Co.'s "Special," with sleepers and dining car attached, will leave St. Paul over THE SOO LINE Tuesday, October 24th, at 10 p. m., arriving at Sault Ste. Marie at 11 a. m. Wednesday, where ample time will be given for inspecting the beautiful city and extensive American and Canadian government works. From "The Soo" the party will be given a delightful automobile and vehicle ride through a prosperous farming district 30 miles to Rudyard, where the train will be in waiting, arriving at Seney the same night. The train will leave Seney Thursday evening, after the sale, arriving in St. Paul Friday a. m. Round-trip tickets $15. Sleeper berths for constant occupation during trip $3.50. Regular meals 75c each.

Four Days' Suffering Leads to Shock, Pneumonia and Death.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 22.—Miss Mary Elizabeth Graham, aged seventy years, who was rescued in her home at Kenton, Del., after being imprisoned beneath a folding bed four days and nights, has passed away from paralysis and pneumonia. She lived alone in a house she owned. When preparing to retire she sat on the bed and the slats gave way, dropping her to the floor and causing the bed to fall completely over her. Her cries for help were in vain. The day following the mishap her niece stopped at the house, and failing to get response concluded her aunt was away. Subsequently the niece and several neighbors

Black Mike celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday last week.

In the morning he finished digging a grave for an old friend. Then he considered his own future. "Faith, I'll dig me own an' have it right," said Black Mike. He did, and at the head he placed a sign, "Reserved exclusively for Michael Griffin, Esq." "I'll be needin' it some time," explained Mr. Griffin.

Red Mike Griffin viewed the proceedings from the fence. "Twa'd be a joke if I stole Black Mike's grave from him," he said.

IS NEW YORK CITY'S LARGEST TAXPAYER

Market Value of the Astor Realty Holdings There Is Estimated at $150,000,000.

New York, Oct. 22.—There has been obtained an authoritative statement of the realty holdings of the Astor estate in this city. It shows that the total assessed valuation of the property on Manhattan Island owned by Colonel John Jacob Astor, his cousin, William Waldorf Astor of England, and the estate of William Astor, the father of the present John Jacob, in which various members of the family hold interests, is $107,959,300. The Astor estate therefore is New York's largest taxpayer by a wide margin. Of this enormous amount of realty scattered all over the city, William Waldorf Astor is the greatest holder, his possessions being assessed at $50,290,000. John Jacob Astor pays taxes, according to the present tax records, on $41,202,800, while the holdings of the William Astor estate are assessed at $10,466,500. Despite the increased assessments in recent years, it is safe to say that the entire Astor holdings are not taxed on much more than 60 per cent of what the holdings would bring at private or public sale, so that the marketable value of this $107,959,300 worth of property would doubtless reach $150,000,000.

The list as now prepared shows nearly seven hundred parcels of real estate, much of it in the choicest parts of the city. It is difficult to say at first glance which is the more surprising, the magnitude and value of the holdings or the wide distribution of the properties. Every section of the city is represented, and in nearly every section a large part of the best properties bear the imprint, as it were, of the Astor name. The Fifth avenue holdings are enormously valuable, so are the Broadway portions, many of the later being in the Times square district, where values have jumped miraculously within the last few years. There are blocks in the best apartment house district on the west side, and the east side tenement house area contains whole rows of houses from which a steady income flows into the Astor coffers.

The Waldorf-Astor Hotel stands out as the most valuable single piece of property held by the Astors on the tax books. The Thirty-fourth street half, owned by John Jacob Astor, is assessed at $8,360,000, while the Thirty-third street half, owned by William Waldorf, and which has just been transferred in trust for his son, Waldorf, is valued at $5,350,000, or a total of more than $13,000,000. The Hotel Astor, in Times square, is assessed at $4,000,000.

The founder of the Astor fortune has been dead but sixty-three years, and the $20,000,000 which it was estimated he left has increased to many times that amount. The figures from the tax books represent but a portion of the real Astor fortune. No estimate is made of the holdings of the affiliated members of the family, the Chauncys, Van Alens, Jays, Draytons, Kanes, Laugdons, Delanos, and others, who inherited from time to time valuable portions of the old Astor estate. The enormous growth of the estate is due in great measure to the marvellous growth of New York and its business and residential expansion, which almost overnight has made portions of the city hitherto deemed of little value worth millions.

WILL ASK THE COURT FOR FOURTEEN JURORS

McNamara Prosecutor Wants Two Alternates Impaneled to Act in Case of Sickness.

Los Angeles, Oct. 22.—District Attorney John D. Fredericks will ask Judge Bordwell to impanel two alternate jurors in the trial of James R. McNamara. The appeal will be based on section 1089 of the California penal code, which gives the presiding judge authority to select one or two alternate jurors when, in his discretion, a case will be of such long duration that there is danger of illness or death in the ranks of the twelve men selected to try the case.

The alternates will be selected after the regular jury is chosen. Their selection will be by the same method as that employed in securing the first twelve men. The defense will have two temporary challenges and the prosecution one. The alternates will occupy seats near the jury box during the trial and perform the same duties as the regular jurors. In case a member of the jury is incapacitated, one of the alternates will take his place and the trial go on without delay. If their services are not required, the alternates will be discharged when the case is placed in the hands of the jury for a verdict.

The Kind Marquette Readers Cannot Doubt.

Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. The test of time—the hardest test of all.

Thousands gratefully testify. To quick relief—to thorough, lasting cures.

Marquette readers can no longer doubt the evidence. It's convincing testimony—twice-told and well confirmed. Marquette readers should profit by these experiences. Mrs. C. Carlton, 340 Alger St., Marquette, Mich., says: "I still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly, as the cure they effected several years ago has proven permanent. I willingly verify the statement I gave for publication in their praise at that time. My kidneys were weak and caused my back to ache intensely. The kidney secretions were almost unnatural and annoyed me. I often became dizzy and nervous and was subject to headaches. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the Stafford Drug Co., effected a complete cure."

DIORITE SCENE OF FOUL MURDER

Dominick Vono, a Former Employee of the Marquette County Gas & Electric Company, in This City, Shot Down in Street Saturday Night at 9 O'Clock.

John Toddea, Suspected of Crime, Tried to Leave County, but Was Captured by Officers Collins and Olds Ten Minutes Before a Train Was Due to Leave.

Dominick Vono was murdered Saturday night in one of the streets of Diorite. John Toddea, a resident of the location, is suspected of having committed the crime. Vono was shot in the neck, and it is thought that he lived but a short time after the shot was fired, but his body was not found until it was cold in death. Although the officers could not find any one who admitted that they heard the shot, it is believed that Vono was murdered at about 9 o'clock. It was about 10 o'clock when one of the drivers of the Diorite Store company's who had been working late, came upon the body in the road, about two blocks from the store.

The police officers have already secured pretty strong circumstantial evidence against Toddea, and they are convinced that it was he who fired the fatal shot. Toddea was arrested in Ishpeming by Deputy Marshal Collins and Officer Olds about twenty minutes past 12 o'clock yesterday morning, as he was about to take the South Shore train bound for Duluth.

News of Murder Telephoned. The news of the murder was telephoned from Diorite to the ticket agent at the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway station, who was requested to notify the police without delay. Officer Olds was found and he went to the home of Deputy Marshal Collins and told him what had happened. It was then about 12 o'clock. Mr. Collins decided to take the South Shore train and to get off at Clarksburg and walk over to Diorite.

When the officers reached the railway station Toddea had just appeared at the ticket window. He asked the agent for a ticket to Chicago, stating that he wanted to get there in a hurry, and was told that there would be no train to Chicago until Sunday. Toddea then asked for a ticket for any place. He showed uncertainty and the officers became suspicious of him. The agent told him he could sell him a ticket either to Saxon or to Duluth, and he bought one for the former place. After he had purchased the ticket the officers invited him to accompany them to the station. Mr. Collins tried to "pump" some information out of Toddea, but he would not talk. Later it was learned that he had come down from Humboldt, which is over two miles from Diorite, arriving about midnight. It is believed that soon after the murder was committed Toddea left his home and walked to Humboldt, taking the first train that came along, which happened to be the freight.

Yesterday morning Toddea admitted to Acting Prosecuting Attorney M. J. Kennedy, Sheriff Lehman and Deputy Marshal Collins that he was a resident of Diorite, but he at first denied that he knew anything about the death of Vono. He told conflicting stories, but denied emphatically having had any trouble with the dead man. He said that his sister-in-law, Mrs. William Talarico, had taken a revolver from Vono about 8 o'clock in the evening, when he had called at her home, bringing with him some bottles of beer and some wine, with which he treated Toddea and others.

Both Had Been Drinking. According to Toddea and his brother-in-law, Tony Hazzora, the latter of the Salisbury location, both Vono and Toddea drank heavily Saturday. Toddea, who had worked at the American mine for two years, prior to less than two months ago, when he lost his job, was not as full as Vono, according to Talarico's statement. Vono was night shift last week and drank much liquor Saturday. Talarico, who was placed under arrest yesterday morning by Sheriff Lehman, and brought to the city jail, said that Vono had appeared at his home between 7 and 8 o'clock, and that he was feeling unusually good. He said that Vono was inclined to be playful and that he "got on his knee and 'joshed' him. Both Talarico and Toddea say that Vono purchased a thirty-two calibre revolver at the Diorite store during the afternoon. This was the revolver that Mrs. Talarico took from him about 8 o'clock.

Toddea Had Revolver. At 9 o'clock, or shortly after, Toddea called at Talarico's home and handed the revolver to Hazzora, who says that he was then preparing to go to bed. He says that he did not know anything about the murder and that he did not ask Toddea where he got the revolver, or why he was giving it to him. Hazzora did not see Toddea after that. He says that he did not know he had disappeared from Diorite until yesterday morning.

When Toddea's pockets were searched in the jail seven revolvers for a thirty-eight calibre Smith & Weston revolver were found. If it is found in the post mortem examination that Vono was shot by a thirty-two calibre revolver, evidence that Vono was killed by his own gun. If it is found that the bullet is from a thirty-eight Smith & Weston shell, the officers believe it will indicate that Toddea had another revolver and that if he fired the fatal shot, he threw it away when committing the crime. In this event, it would seem that he had two revolvers in his possession. Yesterday Toddea denied that Mrs. Talarico had given him Vono's weapon, or that he carried a gun of his own.

Sheriff Lehman Makes Arrest. Sheriff Lehman was notified of the murder early Sunday morning and he left Marquette on the first train, going direct to Clarksburg, and walking from there to Diorite. Soon after reaching there he decided to arrest Hazzora and he brought him back to Ishpeming with him, arriving shortly before 12 o'clock. The body of Vono was brought down at the same time and was taken to William Leininger's morgue. The bullet did not pass through Vono's neck.

Hazzora denied any knowledge of the crime. The first he knew about it he said, was about 10 o'clock Saturday night, when Manager May, of the Diorite store, and others called at the house to ascertain if the people living there knew anything about the murder. He said that Toddea, who had been there to give him a revolver, was the only one who had come into the place from the time Vono left until Mr. May and others arrived.

Toddea, Hazzora and Talarico married three sisters. Hazzora went up from Salisbury to go hunting yesterday with Toddea and Talarico. According to his statement he did not drink as much liquor as either Toddea or Vono.

When Deputy Marshal Collins asked Toddea why he left Diorite in such a hurry Saturday night he said he suddenly made up his mind to go to Chicago. He said that he had a brother-in-law living there, that he had been corresponding with him and that he would have left there so hurriedly if he had not been drunk. He had a good job at the American mine, but stayed home a week and when the boss wanted a part time man to take his place he refused to take the new job. He said that he met some men looking for the murderer while on his way to Humboldt. He stopped and talked to them, and they told him that a man had been shot.

Vono Formerly Lived Here. Dominick Vono, the murdered man, had been working on the trestle at the American mine for about two years, and he was a comparative stranger there. He went to the mine from Ishpeming, where he had been in the employ of the Marquette County Gas & Electric company as a track laborer for several years. Manager M. J. Kennedy yesterday said that Vono was an exceptionally good worker and that he never drank to excess, so far as he knew during the time he was working for the company. He was a short, dark complexioned man, and wore a dark mustache. His age was about thirty years. Toddea will be twenty-three years of age in December. He was married two years ago at Houghton and soon after his marriage moved to Diorite. He has a wife and one child. Hazzora is about thirty years of age. He has lived at the Salisbury location for some time and is employed at the Salisbury mine. He also lived in Houghton for a short time prior to two years ago, when he came to Ishpeming.

who had worked at the American mine for two years, prior to less than two months ago, when he lost his job, was not as full as Vono, according to Talarico's statement. Vono was night shift last week and drank much liquor Saturday. He said that he had a brother-in-law living there, that he had been corresponding with him and that he would have left there so hurriedly if he had not been drunk. He had a good job at the American mine, but stayed home a week and when the boss wanted a part time man to take his place he refused to take the new job. He said that he met some men looking for the murderer while on his way to Humboldt. He stopped and talked to them, and they told him that a man had been shot.

Vono Formerly Lived Here. Dominick Vono, the murdered man, had been working on the trestle at the American mine for about two years, and he was a comparative stranger there. He went to the mine from Ishpeming, where he had been in the employ of the Marquette County Gas & Electric company as a track laborer for several years. Manager M. J. Kennedy yesterday said that Vono was an exceptionally good worker and that he never drank to excess, so far as he knew during the time he was working for the company. He was a short, dark complexioned man, and wore a dark mustache. His age was about thirty years. Toddea will be twenty-three years of age in December. He was married two years ago at Houghton and soon after his marriage moved to Diorite. He has a wife and one child. Hazzora is about thirty years of age. He has lived at the Salisbury location for some time and is employed at the Salisbury mine. He also lived in Houghton for a short time prior to two years ago, when he came to Ishpeming.

Corner Print, who was notified of the murder Saturday night, will conduct the inquest some day this week.

Later—The post-mortem examination was finished last night. A 38-calibre bullet was found.

IS A STRONG PLAY.

Attraction Here Thursday Evening Has Many Character Parts.

"Checkers," which will be seen at the Ishpeming theatre Thursday evening, bids fair to join the brief of plays whose success is perennial. It is now in its eighth season, a remarkable record for any play, and indications are that before the public tires of it, it will have been played as many times as "The Old Homestead" or "In Old Kentucky."

"Checkers" is no novelty. It is merely a strong, clean, interesting play of American life, with no problem, no suggestive lines, no false sentiment, no "smart set" and no woman with a past. It is a play fit for the youngest theatre-goer, and the oldest theatre-goer will enjoy taking that same youngster to see it. The company for this season is a capital one. Robert Gyranagh will be seen in the role of Checkers. Dave Brabam, who has a remarkable record for the number of performances in the part of "Push" Miller, the race track tout, in "Checkers" is still with the company. Miss Florence Heston, now in the third year of her connection with the company, will be seen as "Pert," Checkers' sweetheart, Joseph Wilcox, who

Classy Clothes for Men

Every man owes it to himself and his friends to be well dressed. Yes, a man's friends have a claim on him; they may think highly of a man's character and his abilities, and yet wish that he would look "more presentable." There may be differences of opinion as to what he meant by well dressed, but there is no excuse for any one not to be spic and span when there's Gately's to come to.

We have done all the style study for you—materials, making, fit—all have been given expert attention. Yours just to pick and choose.

Street work for the season will be wound up within a week or two, when repairs now being made on Michigan, between Third and Fifth streets, are completed. Little new work has been done the past month. On Michigan street about four feet of surface is being cut down on the north side of the thoroughfare, and the dirt removed from there is being used to fill in the opposite side. When the grading is completed the surface will be macadamized with gravel.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, will, within a few days, finish up its new work in the Nebraska hill location, where all of the streets have received attention during the past eight or ten weeks. It has been decided not to macadamize the last two blocks graded on East Bank street until spring. The extending of the sewer and water pipe lines through this thoroughfare was a difficult task, as the street bottom is composed entirely of rock, dumped there many years ago, when the Cleveland

Y. M. C. A. TOO HEAVY FOR GWINN

Visitors Lost by 0 to 16, but Put Up a Strong Fight from the Start to Finish.

In a fast game between the Y. M. C. A. and Gwinn club football teams at the Union park Saturday, Ishpeming won by a score of 16 to 0.

A number of players suffered minor injuries. Two minute quarters were played, and the Y. M. C. A. eleven secured the first touchdown, when Gill was sent through the line after ten minutes of play.

The second touchdown came in the second quarter, after a ten-yard run by Holt, and the third touchdown was made in the third quarter, when Holt was sent through the line. Holt kicked the first goal, but failed on the last two.

The Gwinn players put up a stubborn defense, but on the offense consistent gains were lacking, and only once did the team make the third down. Both teams were repeatedly compelled to resort to kicking and only one forward pass was made in the game. It was tried by Gwinn, and was unsuccessful.

Two of Gwinn's men were forced to retire from the game after the first half. Robar, who had sprained his ankle, was relieved by August Henriksen, an Ishpeming boy, who proceeded to play a star game. Ed Johnson of Ishpeming also went in in the second half of the game in place of Bill Johns, who injured his knee. Johnson played a very good end.

The main feature for Ishpeming was the playing of Harry Holt, a former star on Yale, and later assistant coach at the same college. Joe Gill and Elsey Hayden also shared the honors. Gwinn's stars were Carso, Gunville, Sather, Olson and Johns.

In the last quarter Gwinn repeatedly held the Y. M. C. A. for downs. Three successive times when the Y. M. C. A. had worked the ball to Gwinn's thirty-yard line and, Gwinn having held, Holt dropped back in position to drop kick. C. Fogerberg, Gwinn's center, tore through the line and intercepted the passes from the "Y" center to Holt, the ball going over to Gwinn in each case.

W. H. Norman, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., refereed the game. The Y. M. C. A. eleven will go to Gwinn next Saturday and a good game is expected, as the Gwinn team will practice every evening this week. Most of the local men will remain over in Gwinn next Saturday to attend the dance, to be conducted by the football boys.

DEATH OF MRS. HARRINGTON. Wellknown Resident of Ishpeming Passed Away Saturday Night.

Mrs. James Harrington, of Greenwood street, died Saturday night at 10:30 o'clock, after an illness of about ten days. During the first few days of her sickness Mrs. Harrington's condition was precarious, but she improved after that and it was thought until a short time before she passed away, when she was taken with a relapse, that she would recover.

The deceased was one of Ishpeming's oldest residents and she was highly esteemed. She was married in the copper country. Her husband has been dead about twelve years. Her age was about fifty-five years and the survivors are four sons, John, Cornelius, Will and James, and one daughter, Miss Minnie Harrington, all living in the city. Will, who is studying for the priesthood at St. Thomas' college, in St. Paul, was called home from there ten days ago. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from St. John's church.

BLACK RIVER FALLS SAFE. Mayor McGilivray Speaks of Conditions in Wisconsin City.

J. J. McGilivray, mayor of Black River Falls, Wis., who recently appealed to the governors of all the states and the mayors of all the cities of the country for aid for the flood victims reports that the funds are not being contributed as generously as he had expected. Mr. McGilivray was in Milwaukee one day last week, when he reported that further damage from the flood, which wiped out the business section of the city, is not expected. He said, however, that if the two remaining dams were to break it would doubtless wipe away what remains of the town. One of the dams is twelve miles away and the other eighteen miles.

Mr. McGilivray stated that other quantities of provisions had been received in the city and that there is no danger of any one being hungry. Speaking of the way the people of the neighboring towns responded to the call for aid, he said:

"We are in pretty good shape. As an illustration of the way our sister towns responded in our hour of need. At 9 o'clock on Saturday morning, the day after the business section of the city was wiped out, we managed to establish telephone connection with many towns throughout the state. By 12:45 p. m. of the same day a wagon load of provisions arrived from Eau Claire and 5:40 o'clock there came a wagon load of groceries from La Crosse. Before sunrise on Sunday morning several wagon loads of groceries came from Chippewa Falls and Baraboo."

Mr. McGilivray stated that stores have been established in barns, basements, churches and elsewhere, where they will be maintained until the business section is rebuilt.

"But there is where we need help," said the mayor. "We have been deprived of our earning power. We have no money. We are, practically speaking, bankrupt. We have 2000 people who were dependent on the stores and factories in the town for their support. This support has been wiped away."

"We intend to reclaim the flooded district and turn the river back into its old channel. But it will be a costly proposition. As a starter, it will cost $5,000 for a cofferdam. Then we have got to finance our business again."

"Thus far we have received about $4,000 in money and funds are being raised in many cities that have not yet reported. The other day I got a check from as far away as Utah."

HOME FROM GRAND LODGE. W. T. Cole, who attended the annual convention of the grand lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in Saginaw last week, representing the Gwinn lodge, arrived home Saturday. John Armstrong and Richard Carlson, who represented Alhambra lodge, of this city, and Captain J. H. Dunstan of the Saluberry, one of the representatives of the Neguague lodge, have also returned. Mrs. Nora Conlin, wife of Thomas Conlin, editor of the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill, was elected grand lodge. It is expected that Mrs. Conlin, who has been one of the upper peninsula's most prominent members of the Rebekah organization for some years, will advance to the executive chair at the next grand lodge session.

TO THE OLD COUNTRY. Mrs. James Olds, Mrs. Harry Jones and son, and William Stansbury, all well known residents of the Lake Angelina, left last night for their native places in England. They will sail Wednesday from New York on the "Compania."

It will be the second visit that Mrs. Olds has paid to her old home in three years, and the last time she went over she was accompanied by her husband, Mr. Stansbury has been in poor health, and he is making the trip in the hope that it will improve his condition. His family lives here. Mrs. Olds and Mrs. Jones and her son expect to be gone about three months.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF. The Ishpeming band gave a dancing party Saturday evening in Braastad's hall.

Ed Nolan and his sister, Miss Sadie, arrived home from school Saturday, to remain a short time.

H. Jason, a former resident, now located in Menominee, visited in the city the latter part of the week.

George and Peter Marlborough of White Law, Wis., spent Sunday visiting James Connelly and family.

The members of the Soja club were on Friday evening the guests of Miss Olga Eggen, at her home on Third street.

The son of Stephen Collins, aged about ten years, sustained a fracture of an arm Friday by falling from a fence near his home.

C. S. Sullivan, manager of the Royal moving picture theater, came down from the copper mines Saturday. He left last evening for Escanaba.

Mrs. T. M. Tromberth left Saturday for Racine, Wis., where she will visit her brother, Al George, and sister, Miss Lizzie George formerly of this city.

Mrs. W. T. Potter and her mother, Mrs. C. M. Jennings, arrived home Saturday from Mt. Clemens, Mich., where they spent the past few weeks.

Charles Keefe, employed as a time-keeper with B. J. Goodman, is confined to the Ishpeming hospital with a fractured leg, caused by a horse kicking him.

Miss Nellie Sullivan, who teaches school at Anasa, spent Saturday and yesterday in the city, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan of North Third street.

Rev. Oscar Sandahl, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church in Marquette, conducted services at the Swedish Lutheran church in this city yesterday afternoon.

Rev. John Reynolds, superintendent of the Janesville, Wis., district of the Methodist church, is spending a few days in the city, visiting James H. Williams and family, 211 Davis street.

Menominee range papers report that Mrs. Thomas McKenna, a former resident of Ishpeming, for some years past residing at Quinnesec, was recently stricken with paralysis. Her condition is not what you eat but what you digest assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, heaviest, and healthiest persons are moderate eaters. There is nothing that will cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people simply contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge all in Marquette who suffer from any stomach derangement, indigestion, or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Bexall's Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine, they are not perfectly satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them. We honestly believe them to be without equal. They give very prompt relief, aiding to neutralize the gastric juices, strengthen the digestive organs, to regulate the bowels, and thus to promote perfect nutrition, and eradicate all unhealthy symptoms.

We urge you to try a 25c box of Bexall's Dyspepsia Tablets, which gives 15 days' treatment. At the end of that time, your money will be returned to you if you are not satisfied. Of course, in chronic cases length of treatment varies. For such cases, we have two larger sizes, which sell for 50c and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Bexall's Remedies in this community only at our store. The Stafford Drug Co.

CAUSE OF ALARM. Loss of Appetite or Distress After Eating a Symptom That Should Not Be Disregarded.

Appetite is just a natural desire for food. Loss of appetite or stomach distress after eating indicate indigestion or dyspepsia. Over-eating is a habit very dangerous to a person's good general health.

Upper Peninsula

Seek Farms in South Dakota—C. Peterson, John Dahlberg, Erick Anderson and Dr. A. S. Winn of Escanaba have left for Gregory, South Dakota, to participate in the land drawing to be held soon at the Rosebud reservation. They will remain at Gregory until after the drawing, returning home about two weeks hence.

Mecca for Young Attorneys—Delta county is coming to be the Mecca for young lawyers, if arrivals of the past few days can be taken as a criterion, says the Escanaba Press. Attorney W. L. Fitch has just come from the Soo and has opened an office in the First National bank building. Attorney Richard Nebel and Attorney Glenn Jackson have each recently opened offices at Gladstone. Delta county now boasts more attorneys, according to its population, than any other county in the upper peninsula.

Girl Saved from Watery Grave—Miss Emeline Hall, daughter of Fred J. Hall, a former resident of Iron Mountain, now living at Ontonagon, is a heroine, having rescued a young woman from a watery grave. The Ontonagon Herald says that Miss Hall, accompanied by a young lady friend, was walking on the pier when she heard calls for help. An investigation proved that a small boat containing two small boys and two young women had capsized in fifteen feet of water. Miss Wilkinson, one of the passengers, was able to swim and regained the boat. The second—Miss Morrison—had gone down twice when Miss Hall and her companion, by lying flat on the pier, were enabled to reach the struggling girl and hold her above water until male help arrived.

Injustice to Outside Hunters—County Clerk Quarstrom has received a letter from State Game and Fish Wardens Oates in which that official declares that, acting in accordance with the opinion rendered by the state law department, he will not issue permits for removal of deer from Michigan, says the Iron Mountain Press. The opinion may be good law, but it is rank injustice to non-resident hunters who pay $25 for a license to hunt in the state. However, as a result of the decision but few hunters will come to Michigan and the game department will be the loser to the extent of several thousand dollars.

Wounded Hunter's Fearful Experience—After shattering the bone of his right leg with a charge of buckshot through the accidental discharge of a gun, John Cleary, a homesteader living three miles north of Kates, on the Escanaba & Lake Superior railroad, remained for three days and nights in the woods, without food or drink and exposed to the elements, until discovered by two hunters. The injured man was carried five miles out to the track and was taken to the Delta county hospital at Escanaba. It is stated that undoubtedly his life will be saved, but whether it will be possible to save the limb cannot yet be determined. Cleary, who formerly was employed as a section hand on the E. & L. S., was hunting for birds, with one barrel of his gun loaded with buckshot. When the weapon was accidentally discharged, the contents of the shell passed through his boot, shattering the small bone of the right leg, splintering the large bone and tearing a hole in the limb. He attempted to stop the flow of blood with a handkerchief but with poor success. Realizing his serious predicament, he crawled over windfalls and through swamps on his hands and knees until exhausted, covering approximately a mile in the three days and nights. He was without food of any kind and at no time was he able to find a pool of fresh water. Finally, when death seemed near, he heard the sound of shots from a ridge nearly a half a mile away. Gathering up his remaining strength, he crawled in the direction of the shots and was able to cover less than 500 feet when his strength gave out. Luckily the hunters came in his direction as they were passing. After hours of work the injured man was taken out to the track and was sent to Escanaba.

After exposure, and when you feel a cold coming on, take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It checks and relieves. Use no substitute. The genuine is a yellow package always. The People's Drug Store.

Realizing his serious predicament, he crawled over windfalls and through swamps on his hands and knees until exhausted, covering approximately a mile in the three days and nights. He was without food of any kind and at no time was he able to find a pool of fresh water. Finally, when death seemed near, he heard the sound of shots from a ridge nearly a half a mile away. Gathering up his remaining strength, he crawled in the direction of the shots and was able to cover less than 500 feet when his strength gave out. Luckily the hunters came in his direction as they were passing. After hours of work the injured man was taken out to the track and was sent to Escanaba.

RUSSIA HAS SUGAR BUT CANNOT SELL

Brussels Convention Prevents the Huge Surplus from Being Put on the Market.

Washington, Oct. 22.—While the United States and most of the world suffers a sugar famine, Russia has more sugar than she knows what to do with. While the housekeepers of this free country are putting up with sugar at eight cents per pound and more, the women of Russia have the comforting knowledge that, after they use the supply now provided for retail trade, there is an old surplus of 600,000 tons upon which to draw and a still further might be surplus about to be tapped up through the present beet sugar campaign.

Russia has enough sugar to lighten the world's famine and to bring prices down to somewhere near an average figure. But Russia cannot ship her sugar and the United States could not freely buy it even if she could ship it.

This complication is one of the most startling results of artificial interference with the general laws of trade. Russia is now a party to the Brussels convention, whereby her export business is limited to 200,000 tons per year. Whatever sugar beyond that she raises must be used at home or it must rot at home. The Russian export business has been under this limitation since 1908.

Crippled Russia's Trade.

Five years prior to that the Brussels convention was in force, but with Russia being a party to it, indeed other sugar-producing continental countries entered into the agreement partially with a view to crippling Russia's export trade in sugar. The result of the convention was that the United Kingdom being a party to the agreement and a great consumer of sugar, prohibited the importation of Russian sugar altogether. Thereby the other sugar-producing countries of Europe were satisfied and a way was found to regulate commerce in beet sugar.

The original Brussels convention expired in 1908 and England gave notice that she would not consent to its renewal upon the old terms. Thereupon, rather than to forsake the entire plan of regulating the trade in beet sugar, the other continental countries let Russia into the combination with the understanding that she should export not more than 200,000 tons of sugar per year. Russia accepted these terms, probably little dreaming that her output would almost double and that she would in three years hold the key to the entire sugar situation.

Small Hope for Consumer.

The only hope for the general use of Russian sugar in the world at large lies in a difference of opinion about the interpretation of the agreement of 1908. Some contend that it merely prevents Russia from sending more than 200,000 tons per year into countries which joined in the agreement. Others contend that it prevents Russia from sending more than 200,000 tons per year into competitive territory. The latter view is the one which the American government chiefly holds. The authority upon which the American government chiefly relies holds that by the Brussels convention the Russian government was prevented from shipping more than 200,000 tons per year into competitive territory including the United States.

Duty Adds to Price.

Probably a serious effort will be made to get Russian sugar into the United States. But even if Russia, by hook or crook, finds a way to sell some of her surplus in the familiar world market, it is at all clear that the householders of the United States would reap a great benefit. Should Russian sugar enter an American port, it must pay not only the usual duty of a little less than 2 cents per pound, but also countervailing duty of about 7-10 of a cent per pound. Pretty nearly all of this duty could undoubtedly be added to the retail price of the sugar. This countervailing duty is levied because of the bounty paid by Russia. The tariff law of the United States levies, in addition to the general rate, a special duty upon sugar equal to the bounty or other advantage given by the exporting country. As a matter of fact this countervailing duty has prevented the importation of Russian sugar for a long time.

The world shortage of sugar means big profits for the sugar factories of the United States which are engaged in manufacturing domestic sugar, either cane or beet.

Farmers Lose on Beets.

The farmers growing sugar beets will probably not secure any advantage over the usual year because the factories contracted in advance for their supply of beets, and the price paid, fixed in advance, did not provide for the farmer to share in the unanticipated advantage. Indeed, the best growers of Michigan have been having troubles of their own rather more than in sugar average season, for a wet and cloudy fall has lowered the sugar content of beets and has seriously interfered with harvesting. Nor will the American consumer get much benefit from the domestic sugar industry, because the domestic price is always fixed by the world price, plus approximately the amount of the duty on refined sugar.

The sugar output in the United States does not approach the point of producing domestic competition. As a matter of fact, sugar made in Michigan and sold there costs more to the consumer than duty-paid Cuban sugar costs the consumer in New York city. The usual rule in fixing the price of beet sugar in the neighborhood of a factory is that it shall approximate the cost of cane sugar at the seaboard plus the cost of transportation of cane sugar to the beet sugar center in question.

The sugar shortage and the high price in this country naturally make the consumer wonder whether the United States would not be better off without the sugar tariff. McKinley, with protective tariff ideas, never assented to the present high tariff on sugar, but came as a present to the Republican party from the Democratic Wilson bill, where it first appeared. McKinley's view was that it was cheaper for this country to encourage sugar production by a bounty system.

MR. TAFT WILL DELAY NAMING NEW JUDGE

President Awaits the Assembling of Congress Before Nominating Harlan's Successor.

Washington, Oct. 22.—President Taft will not name a justice of the supreme court to succeed John M. Harlan until congress meets. Presidents have very generally observed a rule not to make vacant appointments to the supreme court. Public men here at the capital believe that the new justice will be a Republican. President Taft has already appointed two Democrats to this court, and has promoted Edward Douglass White, a Democrat, to be chief justice. The probability is that the new justice will come from the West or the mountains. Much speculation as to who the new justice will be is already taking place, but the fact is that no one here has any information as to what the president is likely to do. In making judicial appointments Mr. Taft has been trained from consulting with even his best friends. He said at the outset of his administration that he intended to take the whole responsibility for judicial appointments made during his term, and he has lived up to this policy. He feels that he knows the judiciary of the United States and is able to select a good man for the supreme bench. The probability is that he will consider a large number of men before he finally makes up his mind.

Some of the president's closest friends here think he might appoint Charles N. Brannan, the present secretary of the department of commerce and labor to the place. Mr. Brannan was recommended by the opinion prevails that Frederick W. Lehmann, the solicitor general, will be chosen by the president. Both Nagel and Lehmann are from St. Louis. It is well known that the president regards each of these men as a possible nominee. Mr. Lehmann was recommended to the president for a place on the supreme bench last year by Senator Cummins of Iowa and Senator Borah of Idaho, both progressives.

Mr. Lehmann began the practice of law in Iowa and afterward removed to St. Louis. He was a consistent Democrat up to 1896, but left the Democratic party that year after the nomination of Bryan and was active in organizing the Gold Democratic movement which nominated Harmon B. Bulkeley. He has been voting the Republican ticket as a rule since 1896. He is classed as an independent in politics. Mr. Lehmann is generally regarded as one of the ablest lawyers in the United States. He was the first president of the American Bar association. Much of the important work in the preparation of the cases brought by the government against the trusts has devolved on him. He made the principal Attorney General Wickersham, Justice Horace E. Deemer of Iowa, Secretary Knox, Henry A. Wise of New York, Senator Sutherland of Utah, Senator Kenyon of Iowa, Senator Borah of Idaho and Chief Justice Callahan of the court of appeals of New York.

Timely advice given Mrs. C. Willoughby, of Marengo, Wis. (R. No. 1) prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. Doctors had said her frightful cough was a "consumption" cough and could do little to help her. After many remedies failed, her aunt urged her to take Dr. King's New Discovery. "I have been using it for some time," she wrote "and the cough has almost gone. It also saved my little boy when taken with a severe bronchial trouble." This matchless medicine has no equal for throat and lung troubles. Price 60c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by The Stafford Drug Co.

Here is what one patient says: Judge George J. Hundley, Judge of the 5th Judicial Court, Farmville, Virginia.

"I can say with absolute certainty that your tablets are the most wonderful remedy for indigestion and intestinal troubles ever discovered. I have been benefited beyond description. The merit of the medicine is beyond question."

Northern Pacific, James McCrea of the Pennsylvania, William C. Brown of the New York Central and Vice President J. C. Stubbs of the Union Pacific, are associated with this exposition in an advisory capacity. Within fifteen or twenty years the state, with its own capital, together with capital furnished by corporations and individuals, will have practically converted the swamp mysteries of the Everglades into productive land capable of supporting a population. When William McKinley was governor of Ohio he visited New York to talk informally with some of the railway and business men familiar with the far West. McKinley was much concerned over a statement made by one of the railway men that the United States was growing more rapidly, relatively, than its food production. In the course of fifteen or twenty years, it was then said, our own people will consume the wheat raised and after that he will be compelled to import what will be said McKinley, "means that the farmers will demand a heavy protective tariff on wheat, and if that is granted it would change the center of political gravity from an economic point of view."

McKinley was then told that our wheat belt could be greatly increased provided the federal government or the states of the remote West would adopt a large-scale irrigation system. One of the essential conditions for the success of adequate irrigation as great an area of new wheat lands would be created as the area of the wheat belt at that time cultivated. Irrigation and reclamation were subjects which President McKinley had thought of in mind when he assumed the presidency. He was prepared to advocate most generous support by the government.

WHAT I WENT THROUGH

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through in the change of life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold, I had creepy sensations, and I could not sleep at night. I was finally told by two physicians that I also had a tumor. I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it had worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it has helped others you may publish my letter."—MRS. NATHAN B. GREATON, 51 N. Main Street, Natick, Mass.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

WALL STREET STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co. Saturday wired from New York as follows: The weakness in Columbus and Ohio, which was a feature today, was an echo of the statement, which was not good. There is some anticipation of an adverse dividend action. Press reports from west indicate that there is no letup in sight so far as the administration attitude towards corporations is concerned. In fact, as we look back over speeches and messages, the same policy has been in evidence since the president's message of Jan. 7, 1910. On the other hand business has not been an aggressive character since that date, although many are still hopeful. We are of the opinion that, regardless of party affiliation, the issue to be met and settled will be as between conservatives and radicals, and after the period of regulation has passed, it will be one of restoration, and both business men and labor will be found working for the common good. We advise discrimination in the purchases of securities, both as to the period of their issue and as to the dividend record of the stock. Opportunities for quick turns should not be neglected, as the lack of public participation makes the action of the market highly professional. The day's closing prices follow:

Of the market at Boston, Paine, Webber & Co. Saturday said: Both markets held their advance fairly well today, but the aggressive buying failed to continue and there was little feature except the dullness. Amalgamated, Steel and Union Pacific were the most active stocks in New York and North Butte was the only copper to show any fluctuations in the local market. A very large sale of copper is reported to have been made yesterday around 12 1/2, and the prospect of a further advance in the price is favorable. Closing quotations follow:

You Can Bake Better

If you always use Calumet Baking Powder, because it always gives best results, with any kind of flour.

The baking can be made with more certainty of good results; it will be more uniformly raised—it will be lighter—it will be tastier—it will be more wholesome, because the materials in Calumet are so perfectly adapted to all baking requirements and then so carefully proportioned that failures are almost impossible.

Besides it is more economical than the trust brands—and so far superior to the cheap and big-can kinds that a comparison cannot be made. You can bake better with Calumet.

One can will prove it—Try and See. Ask your grocer. He has it or can get it for you. Refuse a substitute. Received Highest Award World's Pure Food Exposition.

VICTOR ELISON IS A SUICIDE

Shot Himself Saturday Night at 7:10 O'Clock, After Two Years of Ill Health.

Victor Elison, aged thirty-two years, shot himself in the heart Saturday night at about 7:10 o'clock at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Samuel Dahlberg, on the Ishpeming road. His body was found, lying on the floor of a summer kitchen adjoining the house. The motive for his act is not known, but his relatives believe that it was prompted by a spell of melancholy brought on by his physical condition. For the past two years he has been ailing, and lately he had complained of not being able to sleep. He often told the people with whom he lived that he was going to kill himself, but they paid no particular attention to his threats. When the family and boarders in the Dahlberg household heard the shot they were frightened, but even then did not think that Elison had carried out his threat until Peter Sachrisen, who lived with them, found him in the shed with a bullet hole over his heart, and a thirty-eight calibre revolver lying on the floor near him.

Victor Elison came to Negaunee about three years ago from Baraga, where he had been working on the section for the South Shore. He lived and boarded with his aunt, Mrs. Dahlberg, from the time of his arrival until his death. While in Negaunee he worked on the section at various times and also did masonry work. For the past two years his health had not been good, and he complained frequently of pains in his head and of insomnia. He often told the members of the Dahlberg household he would do away with himself sometime if his health did not improve, but no one took his words seriously. Lately he had suffered with a lame back and he became more melancholy and despondent than ever.

Saturday evening, after supper, he again told his aunt, before the rest of the family, that he was going to kill himself, and at about 7 o'clock went upstairs. There he met Adelaide Dahlberg, a daughter of Mrs. Dahlberg, and told her the same thing. He went into his bedroom and remained there a few minutes, then went downstairs and out into the back part of the house. A few minutes later, when the family had already retired, the shot was heard, followed by the sound of a heavy object striking the floor. No sound of a fall was heard, and it is thought from the posture in which the body was found that Elison fired the shot sitting on the floor.

Justice VerRan, who lives next door to the Dahlberg house, was immediately notified, and he telephoned the police. When they arrived with Dr. Robbins, Elison was dead, and it was found that he shot himself through the heart, making death almost instantaneous. The body was removed to Johnson's morgue, where it was viewed yesterday afternoon by the coroner's jury, composed of Ed Faulk, Phil Hogan, Irving Argall, Andrew Erickson, H. W. Jackson and Wilfred Royce.

Victor Elison was born in Dalaberg, Sweden, Aug. 3, 1879. He came to America in 1903, going directly to Baraga, where he secured a job on the section. About three years ago he came to Negaunee. He had one brother, Hilmer Elison, living in another town. Four other brothers, Axel, Anton, Evan and Erlend, and one sister, Ellen, live with his father and mother in Sweden. Three aunts, Mrs. Samuel Dahlberg of Negaunee, Mrs. Andrew Dahlberg of Baraga and Mrs. Joseph Johnson of Alstede, Michigan, are his relatives. The funeral will be held Wednesday.

Joseph Verrellino, formerly an insurance agent in Negaunee, has lately taken up a different line of work, and is now selling lots in Norton's steel plant division, just out of Duluth. Saturday night Mr. Verrellino took four men from Negaunee up to the site of the location, and expects to sell them land. The policy of the firm he is working for is to secure purchasers by showing them exactly what there is about the real estate it offers that makes it desirable. Anyone who has an honest intention of buying real estate in the company's plot will be taken to the site, expenses paid by the company, and "shown." Norton's steel plant division of New Duluth, is nine miles out of the city of Duluth. By the first of September, 1912, a trolley line will have been constructed between it and the city. The property faces the new steel plant on two sides, and is in an admirable position relative to the prospective growth of the city.

CONCERT A SUCCESS. The concert given Saturday evening under the auspices of Victoria Castle, No. 17, Knights of the Golden Eagle, proved successful in every way. The selections rendered by Miss Thomas justified all that had been said previously in her behalf. She has a beautiful modulated soprano voice which shows careful cultivation. Her interpretations and expression are praiseworthy. The other numbers offered by local talent were appreciatively received by the large audience. Following the concert a few of the younger people of the gathering remained for dancing, the music for which was rendered by an orchestra of three pieces.

VISITS NEGAUNEE LODGE.

Mrs. Alberta Droelle, State Commander, Inspects Local Organization.

Mrs. Alberta Droelle, state commander of the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World, visited Negaunee Friday and Saturday, meeting the local lodge in Kirkwood's Hall Friday evening. A school of instruction was given for the benefit of the fifty candidates, and plans were made for the initiation of the class and the public installation of officers. Mrs. Droelle expressed herself well satisfied with the work accomplished by the Negaunee lodge, and was pleased by the reception given her at the meeting. From here she went to Marquette Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Droelle visits all the lodges in the state about once a quarter, and is kept busy making the rounds.

The order, which is the largest and strongest woman's organization in the world, is nineteen years old this month. At a recent Detroit celebration, nineteen of the first original hives sent representatives. In every phase of the celebration everything was divided into nineteen units. The novelty made the "birthday party," as Mrs. Droelle called it, a most unique affair.

During the nineteen years of its existence the order has gained membership and strength by rapid strides. Its total membership is now 113,000, scattered over fifty-five states and provinces of this continent. The mortality experience of fifty orders has been taken into account in determining the rates of the L. O. T. M. O. T. W., which are based on the table of the national fraternal congress. They are graded justly according to ages, and are adequate to meet the promised benefits. The order has a $5,000,000 reserve fund, which is kept as emergency money, and which is invested in government and municipal bonds. An average annual disbursement of $200,000 is made among the homes of the sick and disabled members. Nine million dollars has been paid out, according to the books of the supreme finance keeper, in insurance and benefits during the nineteen years of the order's existence. These facts and figures were brought out at the anniversary.

Miss Bina M. West, who was supreme record keeper for eighteen years, was elected to the post of supreme commander at the Detroit meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pratt of Gwinn, and A. J. Brandt, of Princeton, stopped off in Negaunee over night on their way to Gwinn from Milwaukee, having made the trip by automobile. Just a week ago yesterday, the party stopped in Negaunee over Sunday on their way down to Milwaukee. The round trip was made in exactly one week.

CHINESE AND MANCHU.

In the thirteenth century Kublai Khan founded the Mongol dynasty and ruled over a reunited China. A hundred years later the Ming unseated the Mongol and extended the Chinese power into part of Manchuria. At the end of the sixteenth century, in Manchuria, outside the Chinese province, Nurhachu was born. He became a mighty leader. He founded the Manchu empire of the north, his son, Tai-Tsung, added to his conquests, and his grandson, Shun Chin, became lord of China.

In 1644 the Manchu dynasty was proclaimed the Ta-Ching, or great pure dynasty, and the capital was moved from Moukden to Peking. The Manchus were humane conquerors. They only insisted on head-shaving and the Manchu queue. The Chinese civil officials were left at their posts, but Manchu garrisons were introduced.

That was the beginning of Manchu rule in China. Thus the foreigner has ruled the land for two centuries and a half. That is not a long time in the life of a nation, least of all in that of China. There has been some fusion of the races, but it has been slow. Large classes still

BIG POTATO CROPS GROWN AT PAW PAW

Ways of Culture Long Advocated by Jason Woodman Prove Worth Impressively.

Paw Paw, Mich., Oct. 22.—While most Michigan potato growers will consider themselves mighty lucky if their fields this year yield crops up to the normal Michigan average of ninety bushels to the acre there are several Paw Paw district farmers who will harvest more than three hundred bushels to the acre. And they will do this in spite of a season that has held many discouragements for the raisers of tubers from the dry, hot weather in the early summer to the excessive rains of the early fall. Their success is due not to chance good fortune, but to following skilled methods of potato culture—methods developed in this region that have proved their practical worth time and time again. They are the methods which Jason Woodman, member of the state board of agriculture, and former lecturer of the state grange, has been preaching to the farmers of Michigan for years.

Mr. Woodman himself expects to realize about three hundred and twenty-five bushels an acre from his seven and one-half acre field. This may be increased to 350 bushels an acre with another growing week without frost. This is compared with 370 bushels last year and 390 bushels the year before. The decrease this year is due to the unfavorable weather conditions that have sent the price of tubers up to a figure that dismays the thrifty housekeeper.

How Big Crops Are Grown.

While in the great majority of Michigan potato fields the stands this year are comparatively thin or the plants have already begun to shrivel up, the Woodman stand is luxuriant and thick and the plants are still a vigorous, healthy green.

The essential feature of the potato growing method that has produced these results are as follows: First, a clover soil, sandy loam with natural drainage, fertilized with twelve to sixteen tons of manure to the acre; second, thick planting with whole potatoes, the rows about three feet apart, and the hills in the rows about one foot apart, using Rural New Yorker and kindred varieties; third, spraying with Bordeaux mixture to prevent blight. In other words, the essentials are rich land, thick planting, and spraying. On poor lands the combination could not be expected to work out with like success.

The soil of the Paw Paw potato fields is much like that of the potato region east of Greenville, richer in some places and not so rich in others.

The thick planting practice is the result of experiments covering a number of years. The usual way among potato growers is to plant the potatoes from thirty to thirty-six inches apart each way. Mr. Woodman in his experiments, began to reduce the distance between the plants in the rows. He reduced gradually down to twenty inches, and found that he got just as many pounds of potatoes to a hill as he did when the hills were farther apart. Now the distance between the hills in the rows is about one foot, with three feet between the rows.

Whole Potatoes as Seed. Experiments were also made in planting whole potatoes as seed as well as cut potatoes. In 1905 the experiment showed that the whole potatoes as seed yielded twenty-five more bushels to the acre than the cut potatoes.

The theory governing the use of whole potatoes as seed, a theory that has practically demonstrated itself as correct, is that some eyes sending forth sprouts are stronger than others. If the potato ## is cut the seed may contain all strong eyes or all weak eyes and the weak eyes will not produce a good stand. Moreover, a potato that is cut is more liable to be damaged by baking in dry hot weather, such as prevailed this summer.

Small potatoes are used on the theory that the small potatoes come from hills containing a large number of potatoes. Their use has been tried out for seven seasons and it has been demonstrated that with potatoes weighing from two to four ounces used as seed the number in the hills tend to increase and more set.

Sprays for Blight. The blight appeared in the Paw Paw district in 1902, doing great damage. In 1906 Mr. Woodman began to spray for blight, using the Bordeaux mixture. His first experiment resulted in a yield of eighty-five bushels more to the acre on potatoes that were sprayed than on potatoes that were left unsprayed.

The blight spores usually attack the potato vine through the under side of the leaf, which is tender, avoiding the upper side, which is tough. Therefore, in spraying for blight, apparatus has to be used that sends the spray to the under side of the foliage. It is essential that the vulnerable surface of the leaf be given the protective armor of vitriol and lime. Spraying is begun just as soon as the foliage is six inches high and is kept up to the new foliage develops through the summer.

By protecting the vines from blight, the potato plants instead of losing their vitality in September, keep right on growing until the first killing frost. And every week they keep on growing, adding a number of bushels per acre to the crop. Where plants are not blighted, the rains, unless too persistent, help the growth.

The record yield of potatoes for the Paw Paw region under this new scientific growing method is 425 bushels to the acre. This was made two years ago by Mr. Luckins on especially "fat" land which had been well fertilized.

The potato fields that go over 300 bushels to the acre this year will bring in a good return to their owners. A return many times greater than the $32 an acre that has been the average for Michigan during the last ten years. And their prosperity in this regard is all due to the use of scientific growing methods.

ONE HARD WORKED MAN.

Perhaps we do not realize it, but the president of the United States is one of the hardest worked men in the republic. The head of the big corporation, E. H. Gary, for instance, can slip away to Europe and the organization will run itself until he returns, but the president, surrounded as he is by a corps of capable assistants and advisers, must be on the job practically every day in the year.

Today William H. Taft is the busiest official who lives in the world. A governor can get away from official cares—although his pay may be docked if he stays away too long—but the president must get his vacation in dribs and drabs. His vacations consist of 15-minute intervals in which nobody actually is waiting to see him.

Joseph Verrellino, formerly an insurance agent in Negaunee, has lately taken up a different line of work, and is now selling lots in Norton's steel plant division, just out of Duluth. Saturday night Mr. Verrellino took four men from Negaunee up to the site of the location, and expects to sell them land. The policy of the firm he is working for is to secure purchasers by showing them exactly what there is about the real estate it offers that makes it desirable. Anyone who has an honest intention of buying real estate in the company's plot will be taken to the site, expenses paid by the company, and "shown." Norton's steel plant division of New Duluth, is nine miles out of the city of Duluth. By the first of September, 1912, a trolley line will have been constructed between it and the city. The property faces the new steel plant on two sides, and is in an admirable position relative to the prospective growth of the city.

SURVEY OF 1910 IRON TRADE

Pamphlet Issued by U. S. Geological Survey Contains Valuable Information—Lake Superior District Produced 81.6 per Cent. of All Ore Mined in Country.

Minnesota Produced Over Half of Total and Michigan Nearly One-Fourth—Hull-Rust Mine at Hibbing Was the Largest Producer—Cuban Production Increasing.

A pamphlet dealing rather exhaustively with the production of iron ore, pig iron and steel in the United States in 1910 has just been published by the United States Geological Survey. The treatise was prepared by Ernest F. Hubbard and contains much valuable information regarding the iron industry, part of which directly concerns iron mining in the Lake Superior district. The Lake Superior district produced 81.6 per cent. of the iron ore mined in the United States last year. The next largest amount, 12.12 per cent., was mined in the Southeastern district, including Maryland, the Virginias, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, Georgia and Alabama. In the Northeastern district, including the states of Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Ohio, 4.38 per cent. was mined, in the Mississippi valley district, 1.9 per cent., and in the Rocky mountain district, 1.51 per cent. The iron ore marketed in the United States in 1910 amounted to 56,889,734 tons, valued at $140,735,007 at the mines, or an average of $2.47 per ton. The 1910 production exceeded that of any previous year by about 5,000,000 tons, the largest production up to that time having been 51,720,819 tons in 1907. Iron ore was mined in twenty-eight states during the year, four of which, Idaho, Montana, Nevada and Utah, produced ore for duxing purposes only.

Minnesota Mined 56 per cent.

Minnesota is by far the largest ore producing state in the Union and Michigan is second. Michigan's ore is of better quality than that of Minnesota, and this state's percentage of total value of ore produced is higher than its percentage of total production. The ore producing states rank as follows in amount produced: Minnesota, 56.19 per cent. of the total; Michigan, 23.39 per cent.; Alabama, 8.44 per cent.; New York, 2.66 per cent.; Wisconsin, 2.02 per cent.; Virginia, 1.59 per cent.; Rocky mountain states, 1.52 per cent.; Pennsylvania, 1.30 per cent.; Tennessee, 1.29 per cent.; New Jersey, .92 per cent.; Georgia, .53 per cent.; Missouri, .41 per cent.; North Carolina, .11 per cent.; Kentucky and West Virginia, .11 per cent.; Connecticut and Massachusetts, .06 per cent.; Texas, .05 per cent.; Ohio, .04 per cent.; and Maryland, .02 per cent. The great bulk of the hematite ore comes from the Lake Superior district and from Alabama, the brown ore from the Appalachian states and the magnetite from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. All the iron carbonate is mined in Ohio. The Lake Superior district produced 46,000,000 tons out of a total of 51,000,000 tons of hematite produced. Brown ore, magnetite and iron carbonate made up about 5,000,000 tons of the total production.

There were 451 iron mines operated in 1910, of which 151 produced over 50,000 tons of ore each, the largest amount produced by any one mine was 5,100,000 tons, from the Hull-Rust mine at Hibbing. Other mines that produced over a million tons were: Red Mountain group, Bessemer, Ala.; Fayal, Eveleth, Minn.; Mahoning, Hibbing, Minn.; Morris, Hibbing, Adams, Eveleth, Norrie group, Ironwood, Mich.; Newport, Ironwood; Shenango, Chisholm, Minn.; Canisteo, Coleraine, Minn.; Burt, Hibbing, and the Leonard, Chisholm. The largest producer on the Marquette range was the Lake Superior at Ishpeming, 321,370 tons.

The Mesaba range produced 66 per cent. of the entire Lake Superior output and about 33.75 per cent. of the entire production of the United States. The Menominee, Penokee-Gogebic and Marquette ranges are next in importance, the Menominee producing a little more and the others a little less than the state of Alabama, which is the next in importance as a producer after Minnesota and Michigan. The Vermilion range, the last in importance of the five Lake Superior ranges, produced more ore than the state of New York, which is fourth in importance as an ore-producing state.

Foreign Trade in Ores.

More ore was imported as well as exported in 1910 than in 1909. The imports of 1910 exceeded those of 1909 by 53 per cent., and the 1910 exports showed an increase of 41 per cent. Of the importation of 2,591,931 tons, about 56 per cent. came from Cuba, 17 per cent. from Spain, 10 per cent. from Sweden and most of the rest from Newfoundland. The total exports of ore amounted to 644,875 tons.

Concerning the iron ore industry in Cuba, the pamphlet says: "The iron ores which have been mined in Cuba up to the present time consist largely of hematite and magnetite ore and are obtained near Santiago. Recently large deposits of Brown ore have been attracting considerable attention, especially those of the Magari and Mon fields in Oriente province, and those of the Cubitas field in Camaguey province. No ores of this type were reported mined in 1909, but there was a considerable production in 1910." Ore shipments from Cuba have increased steadily since 1904, and last year they amounted to 1,417,914 tons, an increase over the preceding year of nearly a half million tons. The United States produces more than twice as much ore as any other country, Germany being the next largest producer. Other important ore-producing countries are Great Britain, Spain, France, Russia, Sweden and Austria-Hungary.

More than $50,000,000 worth of soap is made and sold in the United States every year.

NEW FERRY AT ST. IGNACE.

Chief Wawatam Will Be Put in Service Across Straits Shortly.

Chief Wawatam, the new car ferry of the Mackinac Transportation company's fleet, arrived at St. Ignace last week. The new boat, which was built at Toledo and is said to be the finest vessel of her type afloat, will be used in the Mackinac City-St. Ignace run as soon as a few changes can be made in the landing slip at St. Ignace.

The new ferry is of steel and was constructed at a cost of $400,000. She is 352 feet over all, 62 feet beam and 25 feet deep. The machinery is all below the main deck, which is unobstructed save by supports of the upper deck partially down the center. On this deck there are four car tracks, and the ferry's capacity is 25 standard cars of 36 feet length. As an instance of the mammoth build of the boat—her forward shaft is 39 feet long, 14 inches in diameter, and weighs ten tons.

Chief Wawatam is well proportioned and has about one-half greater carrying capacity than the Sainte Marie, the other ferry on the Mackinac City-St. Ignace run. The appointments of the boat are first class in every respect, and she has every convenience to be found on many vessels in regular lake passenger service.

BOUNTY SYSTEM CALLED FAILURE

Poisoned Meat Most Effective Means of Exterminating Wolves, Say Experts.

That the money paid by states and counties as bounties for killing wolves is largely wasted is the belief of government experts who have been studying practicable methods of exterminating wolves, coyotes and other varmints. They contend that the best way to get rid of wolves is by the use of poison, placed on meat. Much can also be accomplished by killing the young when they are in their nests.

"The problem of the extermination of predatory animals," says a guard of the forest service, "is one that calls for determined and persistent labor along lines that are practical, at the hands of men who are accustomed to the country, thoroughly understand the habits of the wild animals and are familiar with the means of their extermination."

"Where hunters are employed the use of poison as a means of extermination stands first. Its advantage lies in the ease and rapidity with which it can be handled. Where the labor of a half dozen men would be required in setting and watching a line of traps, one man could easily cover the same country with poison. The greater the number of baits the greater the chances for killing."

"For bait fresh rabbit meat is the best, but if this is not to be had, ham, fresh liver, mutton or beef tallow, bacon or quail are fair substitutes. The quail, if broiled, and the breast meat used is almost equal to the rabbit. Never use anything containing a bone. Never touch the bait with the hands or any part of the body. Strychnine is the best poison. Ordinarily, as much as can be held upon the point of a large blade of a pocket knife will prove fatal to any animal. This quantity should be put in the center of a square of paper, the sides of which must be gathered together around the poison and the ends securely tied, forming a capsule. Dip the capsule in a can of melted mutton or beef tallow, using wooden tweezers to handle it with, and hold it there until it is well coated and then drop it into a long-necked bottle. When the bottle is well filled with capsules you cork it tight so that the contents will not be exposed to barn or house odors."

"Each of the poisoned capsules is put in a piece of meat, which, in turn, is dropped into a fruit jar and shut up tight. Every precaution must be taken not to touch the meat with anything that will leave an odor. Always drop the bait from a horse, leaving it in some place where wolves cross or travel. "Never dismount, but take particular note of the position of each bait. Deposit the baits in the afternoon and gather them up in the morning. Do not leave them out all day."

The government employees claim that hunters who kill wild animals for the bounty do not exterminate, for the reason that they do not want to "kill the goose that lays the golden egg." They kill the wolves and coyotes, but protect the females.

The professional hunter or trapper is tricky. Two brothers made a small fortune operating in different states. One lived in Arizona, where wolves are abundant, and the other in Wisconsin, where sheep are plentiful and bounties high. The man in Arizona shipped scalps to the one in Wisconsin, who, in turn, collected a bounty for each one from the county.

Vernon Bailey of the bureau of biology, in discussing the bounty system, says: "It has everywhere proved an incentive to fraud, and thousands of dollars are wasted annually in paying bounties on coyote scalps offered in place of wolves, and on scalps of dogs, foxes, crows, badgers and even cats, which are palmed off for wolves and coyotes. In order to reduce this deception to a minimum the government has issued a 'key to animals on which wolf and coyote bounties are often paid.'"

UNITED STATES MARSHAL'S NOTICE.

PIONEER MERCHANT ENTERS INTO REST

David Murray, in Grocery Business Here Since Early '60's, Has Passed Away.

In the passing of David Murray, who died at his home on East Ridge street at 8 o'clock Sunday morning, Marquette has lost a pioneer merchant and one whose memory went back farther into the early history of the city than any other person living here. In partnership with B. P. Robbins, Mr. Murray opened a grocery store in Marquette in the early '60's, and continued in that business until his death. He had been confined to his home with illness for the past two weeks and his demise was not unexpected.

Mr. Murray was born in Dumfries, Scotland, in 1832, and was seventy-nine years of age. When a young man he emigrated to Cleveland, where for a time he was connected with the firm now known as Wm. Edwards & Co., wholesale grocers. In 1852, he entered the employ of Daniel Merritt, father of D. H. Merritt, of this city, who was a contractor. Mr. Merritt took a contract to build a dock at Engle River in 1853, and Mr. Murray came with him to the upper peninsula of Michigan.

In the fall of that year, Mr. Merritt and Mr. Murray came to Marquette for the purpose of building an ore pier for the Cleveland Iron company, but before the work was started Mr. Merritt contracted smallpox and died, leaving Mr. Murray out of a job. Late in 1854, Mr. Murray obtained a position as clerk in Campbell Bros' general store, where he was employed until early in the '90's.

About that time B. P. Robbins came to Marquette to work for Peter White, and after he had been here a short time he and Mr. Murray formed a partnership, buying out Robert Nelson's store, which was located on the east side of Front street, between Spring street and Baraga avenue. Their store was burned in the fire of 1868, but a shack was hastily put up in which the business was conducted until a store could be rebuilt.

The partnership of Murray & Robbins was continued until the death of the latter twenty-four years ago, after which Mr. Murray conducted the business alone, his son, Fred, having been associated with him for about twenty years. Murray's grocery has been at its present location for about forty years, and the business will be continued under the management of his son.

Mr. Murray married Miss Robbins, a sister of his business partner, in 1860, and she lives to mourn his death. He also is survived by three children: Mrs. L. E. Dunham, of Cleveland; Dr. W. R. Murray, of Minneapolis; and Fred W. Murray, of this city.

The funeral will be held from the house at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Bates G. Burt, and interment will be in Park cemetery. Mr. Murray was a member of the Marquette lodge of Elks.

Theatrical

"Checkers" Tonight. "Checkers" described by the critics of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston as a dramatization not only equal but superior to the book from which it is taken, is announced for an engagement at the opera house tonight. The play has had twenty most successful engagements in New York during the past six years. It brings with it the credentials of success in the shape of very warm newspaper praise from theatrical authorities in many cities of America, and the very enviable box-office statements showing that the success from a financial point of view is quite as great as the artistic. The play is described by William Winter of the New York Tribune as "The greatest racing play since the days of 'The Flying Scot.'" Olin E. Ross, the noted novelist, has spoken of it as "One of the choicest, strongest and prettiest representations of a bit of everyday life that I ever saw on the stage."

"The Hottest Coon in Dixie."

"The Hottest Coon in Dixie," which will be offered at the opera house Thursday night, Oct. 26, promises to be one of the novelty attractions of the season. It is a musical comedy played by an all-star cast of colored performers. The company comprises forty members with a band, orchestra and a chorus of colored girls. There will be a street parade about 4 o'clock in the afternoon.
