ment nothing said by a newspaper will change you. If you don't like it you don't need to be instructed as to your political duty.

The session was not specially corrupt one. But in the choice of senator, in the Levy election bill, and in the handling of the charter question Murphy shows whither he is headed. Pity Dix, pity the state, and pity particularly New York City if Murphy gets his hands on the next assembly, an assembly that will have no kickers in it and that will do as it is told.

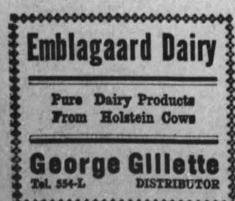

We vote "yes" or "no" on the question as to whether we want Murphy to run things. The contest in no sense is between Democrats and Republicans. It is not even between selfish political organizations. It is simply and solely as to whether Murphy shall be state boss and city boss. If he gets the assembly city boss. he will be in control, for here in the eity Mayor Gaynor so hates Hearst that he is willing to help Murphy, and Governor Dix has shown himself no bulwark

National Republican Progressive league was star, ed the prediction has been made by some politicians here that in time it would become a tail of the La Follette kite and consolidated with the La Folle te headquarters in the Evans building. Weeks have passed since the "Chicago convention" of the La Follette boomers, and the two organizations are as far apart as ever. Senator Bourne still sits aloof across the street and writes his progressive literature at a lone desk, He is the active physical principal of the greater Progressive league, just as much so as he was of the Roosevelt third term New Zealand Women Exercise movement. While the senator sits at a lone desk in Washington, he has plenty of "company at a distance," Other progressive senators are with him in spirit if not in action. Later the Bourne desk will lose its loneliness.

The endeavor, and it is a solid one, of the Bourne organization. is to secure presidential primaries. They are attacking the citadel of the national committee, which has the frowning walls and the beetling battlemen s of the mediaeval fortresses of Walter Scott. Behind the walls there are only two or three militant ones who can be depended upon to aid the besiegers, and these friendly inclined are under constant watch. The rapid progress of the movement to give the political power back into the hands of the people has heartened Bourne, Bristow and Borah and others to their task. Eventually they will win, so all Wash ington believes, but they probably know that they cannot win within the year. nor perhaps within four years, but of final success they have no doubt. They see the virtue of keeping up the siege and the sapping and mining operations. The newspapers of the country generally have interpreted Mr. Taft's Hamilton club speech as meaning that he has an idea that the outcome of the next national election may not be what he and his Republican followers might wish Perhaps the President thinks, as others have thought, that he is to lose the support of all the progressive senators and representatives who have been at all ac. tive in opposition to some of his policies. There has been nothing seen or shown at the greater Progressive league headquarters in this city to make it at all certain that the president after he has been nominated will not be given active support by the progressives who thus far have declined either openly or by intimation to join the ranks of the fighting La but it was none the worse off for that, Follette. There is said to be much of A movement which has a considerable consin's headquarters over the reluctance cites no apposition commensurate in Old party leaders here say that there is always a disposition to magnify the evils "which are sure to result" from dissensions in the party prior to the convention. The insurgents of the Bourne-Bristow-Borah type would like to see some man other than Mr. Taft nominat. ed but they will not bolt the ticket if the other man fails to appear in the field. The insurgent cloud over the party field is not as heavy as it looks.

"RED RUIN" IN

WAKE OF SUFFRAGE Franchise Without "Breaking Up Their Families."

Wellington, New Zealand, Nov. 8.-The affect upon New Zealand politics of granting the franchise to women is a question which has been far more keenly debated outside of New Zealand than within it. Prior to their enfranchisement the question was never made a party one, and there has hardly been a question at all since. It has, sometimes been said that the women of New Zealand obtained the franchise without having had to work for it. This is not correct.

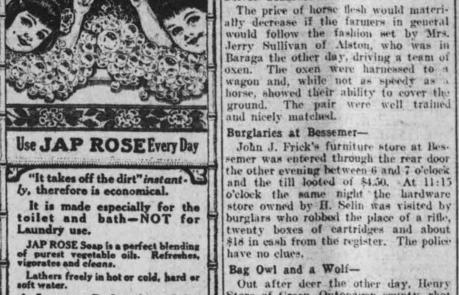

For several years a considerable agitation had been carried on in favor of the reform by the Women's Christian Temperance union, and during the last year by some other organizations. Public meetings and petitions were the principal instruments of this agitation. Petitions containing the signatures of 10,000, 21.-000 and 3,000 women were presented to

Indeed, seeing that he was, even then, fairly near the eldoroform line, and was about to enter perhaps his most important sphere of work, it would have been rather like giving Oxford a worn-out man if he had said he agreed with the theory. He confessed, however, that he had propounded the theory that a man should refire from active work at sixty. "And wiser men than I shall ever hope to be have said so," he declared, "You will find it all in Monthigne. It is enforced in the army and havy and civil service, "But, even when 1 did say it-and it was really a joke at the expense of university professors in general; we are most of us near the border line of sixty, or beyond it-I made a special exception of myself. So Sir William Osler intends unblushingly to return to the land where, most of all, the "chloroform at sixty" tradition clings to his name.

of $2 per share per annuam. Old Dominon is earning considerably more than this, but an increase in the dividend is not looked for, unless there is substantial advance in the price of copper. Old Dominion is looking better today than ever before and is being most economically operated by a competent management. Its copper cost is about nine cents, a very marked reduction within he past two years. It is outputting 5.000,000 pounds of copper, so that on 121/2 cent copper, it should show net earnings of about $7,50,000 per annum The property is equipped to output over 30,000,000 pounds although the policy is not to expand operations on the present ow price for the metal. Thus, if Old Dominion can show present earnings of 121/4-cent copper with restricted produ tion, it is in a very comfortable sition and can well afford to wait better metal prices before considerin larger output and large dividends.

Italian Consul at Duluth Says Soldiers in Tripoli Are Not Cruel.

The Mining Journal yesterday received a telegram from M. Castigliano, royal consular agent of the Italian government at Duluth, denying the allegations of cruelty of the Italian soldiers in Tripoli at Duluth, denying the allegations of cruelty of the Italian soldiers in Tripoli as reported in recent press dispatches. The telegram was as follows: "The royal embassy at Washington is authorized to deny absolutely the alle-gations of cruelty of our soldiers to the Arabs. On the other hand, the Arabs gations of cruelty of our soldiers to the Arabs. On the other hand, the Arabs themselves have been guilty of the most cruel atrocities to our soldiers. The morale of our army at Tripoli and Cyrene is very high.

"We have not lost a single battle nor any position since the beginning of the war. We occupied and hold our position at Tripoli, Benghazi, Trobruck, Derna and Khoms. Generals Frugoni and Chaurand have arrived at Tripoli with a new expedition. The Arabs are no robelling against the Turks."
