

GOES TO DEATH ADMITTING HE SLEW HIS WIFE

Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., Pays the Toll Exact by Law, Maintaining to the Very Last the Remarkable Nerve He Had Exhibited Since Taken Into Custody.

Confessing the Murder and Believing Himself at Peace With His Maker, He Does Not Flinch When Led to the Electric Chair—Shock Is Fatal Instantly.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 24.—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., went to his death at dawn today, the self-confessed murderer of his young wife, although the confession was not made public until four hours after he had paid the toll exacted by the law.

Told Ministers of Guilt Days Ago. The confession was made public in the review of a downtown hotel by the Rev. Benjamin Dennis, one of the ministers who had labored with Beattie.

Beattie's attitude at the trial and during the imprisonment that awaited only on his death was a study for a psychologist. He read the newspapers avidly.

STORY TOLD BY MRS. PATTERSON IS BADLY RENT

State Scores Tellingly When for Three Hours It Directs a Cross-Examination at the Woman on Trial at Denver for the Murder of Her Husband.

Testimony of the Defendant Is Attacked Relentlessly and in Two Vital Points It Is Left in a Shattered Condition—Damaging Admissions Are Forced.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 24.—Against the two vital points of the story that Gertrude Gibson Patterson, charged with the murder of her husband, told upon the witness stand—the cruelty and abuse of her husband and the charge that he had expelled her from the home—Mrs. Patterson's testimony was today badly rent.

Own Letters Offered Against Her. Led to repeat various instances of his alleged abuse and forced to declare that, naturally, at the time she felt toward him the greatest of indignation and contempt, she was confronted by letters she herself had written to her husband.

TWO MEN FOUND GUILTY BY JURY IN THE TAR CASE

Third Defendant Tried at Lincoln Center on the Charge of Assisting in the Outrage of Which Miss Mary Chamberlain Was the Victim Is Acquitted.

Four Others Who Had Admitted Having Had a Hand in the "Party" Are Arraigned and Sentenced to a Year in Jail, the Limit Under the Law.

Lincoln Center, Kas., Nov. 24.—Two of the defendants of the "tar party" case—John Schmidt and Sherill Clark—late today were found guilty of assault and battery by a jury in Judge Grover's court that had been out continuously since 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

Guilty Pay Cost of Prosecution. In addition to the sentences, the court ruled that the men must pay the costs of the prosecution. An effort was made by the attorneys for Fitzwater and Clark to have the court entertain a motion to grant an appeal to the supreme court, on the ground that the sentence was excessive.

STATEMENT IS GIVEN OUT BY THE COLONEL

Having Received Many Letters Offering Political Support, One of These from a Certain United States Senator, Roosevelt Issues an Announcement.

New York, Saturday, Nov. 25.—Theodore Roosevelt, when asked today regarding the report that he may again be a candidate for president, told a World-Herald correspondent that a statement might be made as follows: The World this morning says in a special dispatch from Oyster Bay, dated yesterday: "Colonel Roosevelt finds it difficult to understand the comment," the statement reads, "that has followed upon his article in the Outlook regarding national laws and business interests. He has said exactly the same thing many times before. He cannot see why it should be assumed that this article indicates that he is ready to take any personal part in the coming campaign."

BURNS HAS BEEN BLABBING.

Reports from Los Angeles give out that a serious split has developed between the prosecutor who has charge of the trial of McNamara, accused of having dynamited the Times newspaper office...

Burns was in this state recently, and delivered a lecture before students of the university at Ann Arbor. There was some question raised at the time regarding the good taste of having a "sleuth" invited to discourse to a student body at the state university...

The row between him and the prosecutor rather foreshadows failure of the attempt to convict McNamara on the charge lodged against him, which is that of murder in connection with the destruction of the Times building.

MERCY MISAPPLIED. A person convicted of a brutal crime in Milwaukee a year ago is now asking for release on the ground that the time served is "punishment enough" for the offense committed.

"The Free Press would be the last to uphold the outworn doctrine of an 'eye for an eye,' it has ever inveighed against regarding imprisonment merely as a means of punishment inflicted by society upon those who break its laws.

As a remedy for this evil result of misdirected benevolence it was suggested that aid should not be given to families of wife deserters until legal punishment had been inflicted on the offending husband.

At a hearing given representatives of the manufacturing industries of the state by the state commission of tax inquiry at Lansing Wednesday over three hundred of these were present to submit their objections to the corporate excess tax scheme and argue against its adoption.

ton inhumanity, brutish viciousness, and the murderous disregard of life. "To seek to turn loose upon society before their time the possessors of such qualities, is to flout the memory of their victims and let down the bars to further like criminality.

"Whenever appeals are made in behalf of those who have bestially blighted life or taken it, on the ground that they have suffered enough, think of the suffering of their innocent victims, their anguish, their irreparable injury, and ask whether in simple justice society is not compelled to make a warning example of the perpetrators."

A BOYCOTT ENJOINED.

A decision of considerable importance and interest has just been rendered by the United States court of appeals in New York, in affirming a preliminary injunction secured against the so-called New York building trust, to prevent the latter from boycotting the non-union manufacturers of wood trim.

The boycott has always been regarded by the courts of this land as an unfair and technically illegal method of business procedure, opposed to public policy and therefore to be denounced and suppressed.

PROMOTES PAUPERISM. Charitable people in Detroit who constitute the membership of an organization known as the Associated Charities have discovered that by aiding the families of wife deserters they are increasing the number of desertions and promoting pauperism.

At a meeting of the organization held Tuesday, by J. L. Hudson, its president, in the chair, Miss Margaret Dupont, one of the active workers of the association, read an interesting and instructive paper on the subject.

The "Regular" Salvation Army is seeking to put the "American Salvation Army" out of business. Can't the last-named organization invoke the aid of the anti-trust law on the ground that the older concern is trying to maintain a monopoly?

its assailants, and it appears that sentiment against it is steadily growing throughout the state. But however the plan may fare, the discussion of taxing methods which has resulted from the work of the commission will have valuable results ultimately, for it is bringing to light numerous defects in our taxing system that need only to be fully disclosed to ensure having them corrected at no distant day.

The National Christian association is hot after the secret societies. In session at Kenosha, Wis., a representative body of the organization adopted resolutions denouncing secret orders as "agencies of Satan" engaged in the vicious work of breaking down christianity and, incidentally, destroying the homes of the people by causing divorces, etc.

Justice Jeffries, of Detroit is manifestly averse to aiding the officers who are trying to force keepers of drinking places in that city to comply with the requirements of the liquor law. The prosecutor and police officers are having much difficulty in getting him to issue warrants in cases of violations brought to his attention.

The La Follette managers sent a circular letter to C. W. Post. The wealthy breakfast food manufacturer of Battle Creek, inviting him to take the initiative in arranging for a meeting there in the interest of the Wisconsin senator's presidential candidacy.

The senate committee which has been conducting an inquiry into the method by which Lorimer secured his election has finished its work for the present. During the session at Washington last summer, which occupied thirty-four days, forty-five witnesses were examined.

Dr. Frederick Cook, who located the north pole at point much south of where the scientists insist it belongs, lectured at Cadillac Tuesday night. He asserted in the course of his discourse, that the reports sent out relative to the reception accorded him at Copenhagen recently were false and libelous, and that he is going to bring damage suits against the New York Times and other papers responsible for the publicity given them.

It is intimated that the president's message to congress at the opening of the pending session will be a brief one. But we have known briefs to be tiresomely long. If the president wants another term the shorter he makes the message the better will be his chances of getting it.

La Follette's admirers are now taking straw ballots among themselves whenever a bunch of them are together for the purpose of showing that their favorite is the choice of the people for the presidency. That's all right. When it comes to casting real ones there will not many of these go into boxes for Bob.

Here and There

Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey is at the head of the movement to have the memorial to the women of the Civil war, which is proposed by the military order of the Loyal Legions, take the form of a university in Washington. Mrs. Mussey explains that there is not a university in Washington to which women are admitted on equal terms with men.

The real D'Artagnan and Dumas' splendid hero will be honored together by the erection of a statue at Gers, in Gascony, Charles de Batz-Castellane, Seigneur d'Artagnan, who was killed at Maestricht, had a career as varied and quite as heroic as that described by the novelist. He fought in many campaigns and was Louis XIV and Richelieu.

More than $1,000,000 worth of raisins were exported from the United States in the last fiscal year, the quantity, 18,500,000 pounds, being far in excess of the total exported in any earlier year. The imports during the year amounted to only 2,500,000 pounds, against 10,000,000 pounds in 1900 and as high as 50,000,000 pounds in certain years prior to the development of production in the United States.

The two largest gold bars ever received at the United States assay office in Seattle reached the scales of the office recently, one bar weighing 1,730 Troy ounces and valued at $31,000, the other weighing 1,684 ounces worth $30,300. The shipment came from Fairbanks and thence to the steamship Alameda for shipment to Seattle. Fairbanks shipments, it is said, will be made through the winter over the Valdez trail, which is now in good shape for traffic.

All this began five years ago. The first year the malarial in the school children dropped to 60 per cent, and the year following it fell to 20 per cent, and the next year it was only 3 per cent, and from that it fell the following year to 1 per cent, and last year there was no more malaria.

The Rayo Lamp. It Never Flickers. The long winter evenings give a woman a splendid chance for sewing or embroidery; but her eyes suffer from the strain unless she has a good light. The Rayo is the best lamp made. It gives a strong, diffused light that is remarkably easy to the eyes. There is no glare to it; no flicker. It lights up a whole room. The Rayo is an economical lamp, too. You get the most possible light-value for the oil burned; and the Rayo itself is a low-priced lamp. Yet it is a handsome lamp—an ornament to any room in the house. The Rayo Lamp is easily lighted without removing shade or chimney; easy to clean and rewick. Made of solid brass, nickel-plated; also in numerous other styles and finishes. City Brevities

Today's weather: Probably fair. Yesterday's temperatures: Seven a. m., 19 degrees; noon, 26; 7 p. m., 25. Highest, 26 degrees; lowest, 18.

S. T. McReavy, the Mangum lumberman, was in the city yesterday.

C. H. Lavigne, of Champion, was a visitor in the city yesterday.

H. L. Roscoe and R. E. Margenau, of Houghton, spent yesterday in the city.

Edward Church left last evening for Chicago on a business trip.

B. Creeley and Paul Schook, of Crystal Falls, are visitors in the city.

Marquette news will be found on pages 4, 5, 8, 9 and 12 this morning.

Mrs. Dan O'Neill, who has been in the hospital, has returned to her home.

G. F. St. John left yesterday to make a short visit with his parents, who live near Detroit.

The Salvation Army will give a song service Thanksgiving Day, entitled "Christie's Old Organ."

U. G. Gilbert, of Negaunee, was brought to St. Mary's hospital yesterday, suffering from bronchitis.

H. J. Payne was in the city on business yesterday, returning to his home in Iron Mountain last evening.

H. W. Bitters left last evening for Milwaukee, accompanied by his little granddaughter, who has been visiting here for several weeks.

E. C. Bridgman left last evening for Milwaukee and Chicago and from thence he will go to his former home in Jackson. Mr. Bridgman's plans for the future are unsettled.

The Ladies auxiliary to the A. O. H. will give a card party in Keough's Hall next Tuesday evening, which will be followed by refreshments and dancing. All will be made welcome.

The benefit card party and dance given Thursday night at Bureau's Hall for Miss Anna Rice, formerly of this city, who is ill in a hospital at Rochester, Minn., was largely attended and netted about $65.

Robert Blumberg left last evening for Chicago, where he will attend the land show. He took with him the peaches which were raised by Mrs. Selander, West Ridge street, last summer, and which attracted much attention at the Marquette county fair.

Traveling Men's Party—A crowd of fair size attended the dancing party given at Fraternity Hall last evening by Upper Peninsula council, U. C. T., and made merry until nearly one hour this morning. Luncheon was served in the lodge rooms above the dance hall about 11 o'clock. Trombley's orchestra furnished the music.

Sister is Not Dead—The telegram received by Miss Lizzie LaValle a few days ago, announcing the death of her sister, Mrs. Thomas O'Neill, at Butte, Mont., has proven to be without foundation in fact, and Mrs. O'Neill is still living and well. Miss LaValle received the telegram from her brother, who had read of Mrs. O'Neill's death in a newspaper.

Tionesta Here Yesterday—The steamer Tionesta tied up at Spear's dock yesterday. The Tionesta is the last Anchor Line boat of the season and she is taking on and unloading the last package freight to be handled at upper lake ports. The steamer Republic arrived with coal early last evening. The Pontiac finished unloading coal at Spear's dock yesterday and the Thompson will be unloaded today.

For Seventeenth Time—For the seventeenth time in as many terms of court, notice of hearing at the December term of circuit court has been given in the case of Lydia Cadotte against Frederick Cadotte, an action for divorce. Mrs. Cadotte filed her bill in September, 1907, charging cruelty, and long ago the defendant permitted an entry of "pro confesso" to be made. However, the case has been continued from term to term for over four years, at the request of Mrs. Cadotte's attorney, J. L. Hoffmann.

Preach on Same Subject—The pastors of the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian churches have arranged to preach on the same subjects tomorrow and next Sunday morning. The theme of the sermon at all three churches tomorrow morning will be "The Double Standard Case," and at next week all three pastors will discuss "The Licensed Saloon." This arrangement is made in an attempt to follow up the work begun here a few days ago by Mrs. Leona T. Field, one of the officers of the state W. C. T. U.

ELKS PLAN TEMPLE.
Have Made Offer for Lot on Washington Street Owned by Frei Estate.

For some time the Marquette lodge of Elks had in mind the building of an Elks temple in this city, and yesterday an offer of $4,200 was made the Frei estate for the lot on Washington street, between Fred Donckers' store and E. H. Bush's saloon. This lot is occupied by an old brick house, which has been vacant for several weeks. It is understood that the Frei heirs have been asking $4,500 for the property, but one of the three owners recently expressed a willingness to accept the price offered by the Elks, upon which the offer was made. Late yesterday afternoon another of the Frei heirs professed to have heard nothing of the Elks' offer, and was not prepared to say whether it would be accepted. Members of the Elks lodge, however, confidently expect that the deal will be closed within a few days at the price named.

It was stated yesterday that it is the intention of the Elks to build a temple in Marquette in the immediate future, but that the purchase is being made in order to secure a building site in a desirable location while one is available. There are very few available properties left in the business district, and it is considered good business to acquire a site before it is too late. The lot is ninety feet deep with thirty-eight feet frontage. The tentative plans for the temple contemplate a store room on the ground floor, which would be rented, with the Elks' club rooms and meeting room on the upper floor.

INSANE CONVICT LOOSE.
Former Inmate of Marquette Prison Escapes from Ionia Hospital.

News was received here last evening that Cornelius Neontesdyke, a former inmate of the Marquette prison who about two years ago was sent to the hospital for the criminally insane at Ionia, had escaped from that institution and was at large. This man was first sent to the Marquette prison for robbery. He was paroled but after committing rape was returned to serve out his sentence. During his second period of imprisonment his mind began to weaken and he was finally sent to Ionia.

Stontesdyke was considered as trusty at the Ionia hospital and took French leave while working in the boiler room Tuesday night. He weighs 150 pounds and is of light complexion. He is forty-five years of age and five feet, five inches tall. A reward is offered for his recapture.

Warden Russell also received a telegram last evening from Inspector Downey, of Detroit, stating that Ed Jones, out on parole from Marquette, was in custody in that city. Jones is under sentence for larceny and was paroled June 23 last, by the pardon board, together with a number of other prisoners. The telegram did not state in what way Jones had violated his parole. An officer of the prison will be sent to Detroit at once to bring Jones back to Marquette.

FELL THROUGH DOCK.

Two Men Narrowly Escaped Death While Loading Warriner With Ore.

To fall through one of the ore pockets of South Shore dock No. 4 into the hold of the schooner Warriner and to escape without fatal injury was the experience of two dock employes shortly before 6 o'clock last evening. Both the men were foreigners and their names were not known, either by the dock office or at the hospital, last evening. One of the men caught himself at the bottom of the pocket but the other went into the hold of the boat. The unfortunates were rushed to St. Luke's hospital and medical aid summoned. At first it was thought they were probably fatally injured, but after examination, the attending physician gave his opinion that both would recover. Both men were badly bruised; one of them had a few teeth knocked out and the other suffered a broken nose.

LOVERS OF MUSIC WERE CAPTIVATED

Rudolph Ganz, Pianist, Held Audience Enthralled in Recital Last Evening.

There is little that can be said to be more difficult than to attract the continued and sympathetic attention of an audience during an entire recital by means of piano playing alone. Rudolph Ganz, the Swiss pianist, accomplished more than this at the opera house last night by holding as in a spell the music lovers of Marquette, and in this way adding another to the long list of his sweeping triumphs. In the work of Mr. Ganz there was disclosed his wonderful hand technique, his entire muscular organism, from the back beneath the shoulders to the tips of his powerful, attenuated and agile fingers seemed to vibrate with joy in communicating his will to the instrument before him. But technique is only a means of expression. That which made Mr. Ganz' success last night a possibility and bids fair to achieve for him a place among the enduring great in his profession is his own splendid personality: his intelligence, sincerity, temperament, sanity, energy, originality and dominating will.

Mr. Ganz was great even in his minor numbers. Such tone nuancing and such coloring of tone were perhaps never before heard in this city, and it is doubtful if either here or elsewhere there could have ever been recorded a more vivid portrayal of that which in nature is so close to personal experience or dear to the human heart. In his own compositions, as well as in those of Bloniet and Mendelssohn, birds were made to carol and the human voice to sing, to laugh and to sigh. Man himself was made to dance and then to weep, as the artist's moods with accelerated motion transformed from mirth to sadness or from frivolous and gay to the seriousness of introspect and contemplation. Water distilled in the dew, descended in the rain drops, bubbled in the spring, murmured in the brook, leaped in the cataract, raged in torrential rivers and shimmered in the outspreading lakes or expansive ocean. The wind whispered in the zephyr and lashed with fury in the tornado. Foliage bloomed, flowers unfolded and all the beauties of nature animate and inanimate seemed to spread out like a panoramic vision. Mr. Ganz' "Etude Caprice" fairly scintillated with humor; his "Melodie in G" was as charming as the melody of Mendelssohn and his "Marche Fantastique" rivaled the oddities of the unique Debussy.

It was in the major numbers, however, that Mr. Ganz' greatness reached its height. Either "Liszt's Variation on Bach's 'Weinen, Klagen,'" with which the program was opened, or Beethoven's "Appassionata Sonata" that followed it would have furnished the required scope for his apparently limitless resources of technique and his powers of interpretation. Every motif in these unspeakably great compositions was delineated with a clearness that musicians of every degree could understand, and even the layman could appreciate and enjoy. The full capacity of the instrument seemed to have been exhausted here and the entire gamut of every emotion appeared to have been run. It was genius reaching up to its full stature; it was undying hope and inspiration; it was a moment in mighty flames; it was an energy that defied all but rational limitations, thought and intellect, that burst with the power of an electric storm. It was all this and more, for the tremendous achievement of Mr. Ganz in these compositions, among the greatest, confessedly of musical literature, cannot be described in the limitations of a newspaper article or even remotely set forth through the power of words.

The audience was distinctively a musical one and could not have been more intelligently enthusiastic. Every number was received with repeated applause and at the close of the program the demonstration was so over powering and prolonged that Mr. Ganz graciously added another number. The Ladies Musical club are to be heartily congratulated upon the artistic success for which they were responsible, and particularly for their courage and discrimination in bringing to Marquette such a master as Rudolph Ganz.

"The Private Secretary" Tonight. An exchange speaks as follows regarding C. James Baneroff and company, who will present "The Private Secretary" at the opera house this evening:

"The Private Secretary" is brimful of fun from beginning to end. It is not exaggerating to say that there is a laugh every minute, and sometimes two or three. Do you like to have a good, hearty laugh? Then by all means see "The Private Secretary."

The play was given at the Grand on Saturday, and the leading role, and the company played to large audiences. A star actor himself, Mr. Baneroff has surrounded himself with an able company and every part is in capable hands. The curtain falls on Saturday bespeaks the appreciation of the audience.

"The fun is given in three doses—that is, in three acts. The story centres around the life of Douglas Cattermole, who has a rich uncle who is very anxious that his nephew shall 'sow his wild oats' before he settles down. Douglas gets a chance to do some sowing, so as to carry out the wish of his uncle, but the events which lead up to it are very amusing, and there is a mixup every minute. Douglas takes over the position of a private secretary, which has been held by Rev. Robert Spaulding, and holds down the job until he is discovered. In the role of the Rev. Robert Spaulding, Mr. Baneroff showed marked ability. He has a part difficult to undertake and do well, but his work is excellent. Edwin Hodge, as Douglas Cattermole, was good, and his partner, Harold M. Cheshire, as Harry Marsland, was also good. One of the most interesting characters is the uncle of young Cattermole, referred to on the programme as Mr. Cattermole, CACT T-E-R M-A-L-E, as he himself would spell it out from time to time. Miss Nell Cave, a spiritualist, did well, and the two young girls, Miss Rhea Bacon and Miss Betty Courtney, were charming in their parts."

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Western District of Michigan. Whereas, on the thirteenth day of November, 1911, Leo O'Brien, by John W. Shine, attorney at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and executor for the estate of the late John O'Brien, died in the district court of the United States for the Western District of Michigan, against the steam tug "Gale," her boats, tackle, apparel and furniture, in a cause of wages, filed and returned.

And whereas, by virtue of process in due form of law, to me directed, returnable on the fifth day of December, 1911, I have seized and taken the said steam tug "Gale," and have her in my custody.

Notice is hereby given that a district court will be held in the United States court room in the city of Marquette, Mich., on the fifth day of December, 1911, for the trial of said premises, and the owner or owners, and all persons who may have or claim any interest, are hereby cited to be and appear at the time and place aforesaid, to show cause, if they have, why a final decree should not pass as prayed.

ISHPEMING MAN A MINE MANAGER

W. R. Bauder Will Succeed George Harris, Jr., of This City, at Ontario Properties.

The Cobalt Daily Nugget one day last week contained the following special from Porcupine, Ont., announcing that W. R. Bauder, formerly in the employ of the Oliver and Breitung companies, on this range, has taken the management of the McIntyre-Porcupine mines which was reported in The Mining Journal some two weeks ago:

"W. R. Bauder, a graduate of the Michigan College of Mines, has taken over the management of the McIntyre-Porcupine Mines, in succession to George Harris, Jr. Mr. Bauder has gained his experience in the Lake Superior district, on the Marquette range, and on the Mesaba range, in Minnesota, and judging by the success that has attended him in former undertakings, he will prove his ability to handle the big proposition confronting him in the McIntyre property."

The George Harris referred to is a son of Captain George Harris of this city, who was one of the pioneer mining

THANKSGIVING TURKEY WILL NOT BE CHEAP

Choice Stock Is Wholesaling Here at Twenty-One to Twenty-Two Cents a Pound.

Many here are of the impression that turkeys will be quite reasonable in price for Thanksgiving, owing to the very low figure at which chickens have been selling for the past few weeks. The poultry dealers in some sections of the Northwest, have latterly been expressing the belief that turkeys would be cheaper than last year, but the weather of the past week has been favorable for the keeping of poultry and as a result the price has advanced and the market is now quite strong.

Turkeys for the Thanksgiving trade have sold in Ishpeeming at from twenty to twenty-two cents per pound, according to the quality of the stock. In view of this fact, it is not now anticipated that choice turkeys will retail at less than twenty-three to twenty-five cents per pound. Last year turkeys were sold at from twenty-one to twenty-five cents retail. If the weather had remained mild turkeys would have been more plentiful and the price lower, but the poultry commission men always hold their turkeys for higher prices during the Thanksgiving season when the weather is cold. When the weather is mild they dump their stock on the market and frequently are forced to get rid of their poultry in short order. If a soft spell should occur between now and next Thursday it is possible that some of the commission men might attempt to unload their surplus stock on the retailers throughout the country, but according to a representative of one of the poultry houses in the city yesterday there will be no drop in the price so long as the weather remains cold.

The local representatives of the beef concerns report larger sales of turkeys than last year to the trade here, so there will be no shortage of turkeys. The greater part of the big beef concerns, which handle a large proportion of the poultry trade in this section, buy their live turkeys in Iowa, Kansas and other Western states, and dress them at their packing houses, shipping them with their meat orders.

It is expected that chicken, which has furnished the Sunday dinner for a majority of Ishpeeming people during the past six or seven weeks, on account of the very reasonable prices prevailing in the local markets, will be cheap for Thanksgiving. There appears to be plenty of chickens on the market. In yesterday's issue F. Braastad & Co. announced a further reduction to eleven cents per pound for chicken. One of the beef men said that this was cheaper than it could be had in Chicago or any of the other leading markets. Mr. Braastad has been buying his chickens direct from the farmers in Wisconsin and other nearby states and has been purchasing them in large quantities, and for this reason has been able to sell them to his trade at a very low price. J. J. Leifer has also had an unusual run on chicken, which he has also purchased direct from the farmers.

The beef man expressed the opinion that chickens will be considerably higher for Thanksgiving than for a month past, as they will then be scarce and hard to get. It is his belief that chickens will be as high proportionately during the holiday season as turkeys.

DEER BEING SLAUGHTERED

Lower Peninsula Hunters Are Getting Their Share of Venison This Season.

The freight train from the Western division of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway, passing through Ishpeeming yesterday morning, contained two and one-half cars filled with deer carcasses, secured by lower peninsula hunters, who have been camping at various points between Nestoria and Duluth ever since the season opened. Most of these are now pulling up stakes and leaving for home. Many have passed through the city this week on the early morning South Shore train.

A number of heavy shipments have been made by freight the past ten days, but the consignment of Thursday night was by far the heaviest that has been shipped over the South Shore system for some years. It was impossible to ascertain how many deer there were in the three cars, but a local man who got a glimpse of them as the freight stood on the track here estimated the number at several hundred.

It is said that very few of the hunters who have been in the district west of Nestoria have failed to use up their three tags, as deer are plentiful and it has been an easy matter to shoot them since the heavy snow fall of a week ago. The snow in places in that section is from two to four feet in depth and the deer are really at the mercy of the hunters, as they cannot travel very fast. It is expected that many more deer will be slaughtered in that section before the close of the season.

Henry Kemmick, an engineer on the Omaha road, who recently shot a deer from the cab of his engine, an account of which appeared in The Mining Journal early in the week, may pay dearly for his venison, according to the latest report. It is said that Henry may find himself involved in a complication of legal tangles, which may result in a conviction for violating the game law on two scores.

Kemmick shot the deer Sunday night. According to his own story, it was wandering on the right-of-way of the railway near South Range. The feat was a somewhat difficult one, as the shot was fired from a moving locomotive. Kemmick's engine being employed at the time in helping an Omaha coal train climb the grade at that point.

Dwight Kennedy, a game warden at Superior, read an account of the feat of marksmanship, and started an investigation of the story. If it is found to be a true account, Kemmick will be called upon to relate it in court, and may be charged with hunting deer without a license, but he will also have to answer for "shining" deer, it being claimed that the headlight of the locomotive hypnotized the wily lord of the forest and actually lured him onto the right-of-way. Under both the Wisconsin and Michigan laws "head lighting" is prohibited.

LAKE SUPERIOR DIVIDENDS.

The year 1911 shows an increase of one in the number of publicly owned dividend-paying Lake Superior copper properties over 1910 and 1906, Ahmeek declaring its initial dividend a month ago. The eight dividend paying companies—namely, Ahmeek, Calumet & Hecla, Copper Range, Quincy, Mohawk, Osceola, Wolverine and the St. Mary's Mineral Land company—during the current calendar year will pay $6,190,265 in dividends compared with $6,771,240 last year. The Calumet & Hecla will disburse $2,400,000 this year, or 38 per cent of the total. In 1905, 1906 and 1907 there were nine dividend paying companies; in 1908, six. The most important change during the past seven years has been the passing of Tanarack from the dividend ranks. After forty-three consecutive payments covering a period of nineteen years Tanarack discontinued dividend payments in 1907, after disbursing $9,420,000. Tanarack paid $7 per share in 1907, $8 in 1906 and $5 in 1905. The dividend payments during 1911 by the eight companies will be as follows: Calumet & Hecla, $2,400,000; Quincy, $440,000; Copper Range, $1,359,140; Ahmeek, $100,000; Osceola, $721,125; Mohawk, $150,000; Wolverine, $540,000; St. Mary's, $480,000.

"Y" TEAM WINS SERIES.

The last of the series of three games of indoor baseball between the regular "Y" team and the Miners' nine, was played Thursday evening, the former winning by a score of 11 to 5. Elyksen and Mann were at the battery for the "Y" nine, and Hoppe and Manley filled the points for the Miners. The O. C. boys club defeated the Business boys nine Thursday evening in a score of 12 to 9. The battery for the former was Nelson and Peters, and for the latter, Gustafson and Miners. On Thursday afternoon the Giants and Phillies, playing the world's series, met in the fifth contest, the Giants winning by a score of 22 to 14. The Giants have won three and lost two out of the five games played.

The sixth game is to take place this morning. In case the Phillies win the teams will be a tie, each having won three, and the final game will be played some day next week, probably Thursday.

LOVE DIED WHEN RIDICULED.

Husband's Fall Brings Wife's Laughter and Divorce Suit.

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 24.—Because he says Mrs. Glendora Norton, to whom he was married in June, 1906, laughed when he crawled up the icy steps of his home with crutches and then slipped and fell down them again, Thomas F. Norton, a traveling salesman, has filed a suit for divorce. Norton alleges that his foot was injured in a race with a dog, and that he was compelled to use crutches as a result. In addition to laughing, Norton claims his wife declined to unlock the door and compelled him to hobble around to the rear before he could get in.

BARGAIN PRICES!

FRIDAY and SATURDAY Nov. 24-25

It is not customary to cut prices before Thanksgiving and as a rule no merchant can afford it and if it was not for a big deal our New York syndicate put through the past week, we could not and would not do this.

They have bought the entire stocks, made up during the past few weeks, of a number of the largest and best manufacturers at prices almost ridiculous. This happened on account of the extremely mild, rainy and backward fall season, but today it is different, winter is here right and it is our good fortune that this purchase was made last week instead of this week. This large purchase means in all nearly 500 garments and this season's biggest sale is right now.

Reversible Coats, Polo Coats, Fischue Coats, those pretty loose Coats with large shawl collars, etc., values up to $25.00, on sale this week at	$12.50
Another purchase of show room Sample Dresses, no two alike, for street wear, afternoon wear and evening wear going at	Half Price
Plush Caracul and Velour Coats, values up to $50.00, bought so we can sell them at $27.50, $19.50, and	$12.50

Ishpeming EFFECTIVE METHODS OF LAYING DUST

Eastern Road Maker Presents
Facts of Interest to Upper Peninsula Builders.

Owing to the fact that the officials in charge of street and highway construction in the cities of the upper peninsula have experimented more or less with dust laying materials, a statement from Frederick T. Elwood, commissioner of public works of Rochester, N. Y., submitted to the 1,400 members of the National Road Builders' association, who met last week in that city, and which was attended by V. S. Hillyer, superintendent of the Marquette County Road commission, is of special interest. He says:

"The attempt to solve the dust problem has been a matter of interest and study for the past few years in all of the cities of the country. The department of public works of this city has not been behind in the problem. Much time and study have been given the subject.

"The old practice of sprinkling macadam and dirt streets with water has never been satisfactory. Almost always, despite the most careful inspection, the drivers flood the streets, thus wasting the binder from macadam roads and causing depressions sometimes to such an extent that a newly laid road may be ruined in a single season.

"Calcium Chloride Effective.
"Various oils have been tried here with more or less success. The tracking and the lighting brown just left on the surface after the oil has penetrated the road proper seem a strong objection to this process. The use of a granulated calcium chloride has been tried in this city during the past summer, resulting in a success that warrants further consideration. It has been found that the chloride leaves a hard, compact surface, which stands the wear of all ordinary traffic very satisfactorily. An application about once in every five weeks keeps the streets almost perfectly dustless, even under speeding automobiles. The average application, as used in this city was 1.02 pounds per square yard, and the average cost per application, eighty-four cents per 100 square yards. The average cost per season of thirty weeks was $4.19 per 100 square yards. These figures include the cost of material, cartage and labor of spreading. The average cost of sprinkling the same streets, based on the cost for the last three years, was $1.94 per 100 square yards, or a little less than one-half the cost of treating with calcium chloride; but at these times, on hot, windy days, when it is impossible to keep the dust from rising under the sprinkling system, while under the chloride treatment the weather conditions have no effect. Then, too, under the latter treatment, the life of the pavement would be lengthened a number of years and the cost of repairs greatly reduced. The cost of treatment with calcium chloride would be lessened considerably if the work were done on a large scale, owing to the difference in the freight rates in carload lots and the first cost of the material in large quantities."

Practically every road man in attendance at the convention conceded that the city of Rochester and Monroe county are among the pioneers in road building under modern methods, and the statement from Commissioner Elwood was an important one.

Asphalt Pavement Wears Well.
E. A. Fisher, city engineer of Rochester, also presented some interesting facts relative to pavement and general street construction work within the city limits. The combined length of the improved streets in the city of Rochester is about 350 miles. Of this distance sixteen miles are surfaced with dressed Madena stone; sixteen miles with common Madena stone; seventy-five miles with asphalt pavement; fifty-two miles macadam; twenty-eight miles macadam; one mile, bitulithic, and twelve miles gravel and miscellaneous.

Asphalt pavement, including six-inch foundation and excavation below the finished grade, cost about $1.90 per square yard, warranted for five years. The brick pavement was put in at about the same cost as asphalt, while dressed Madena rock stone cost $2.90 and macadam about $1.40 per square yard. The oldest asphalt pavement is twenty-six years old and the pavements not under guarantee have been in use nearly seven years.

The average cost of maintenance of these pavements, based upon $1 per square yard for surface repairs is about 6.5 cents per square yard.

According to Mr. Hillyer no finer streets are to be found anywhere in the country than those in Ishpeming. When taking into consideration the quality of material used, the streets here, he says, will outwear many of the streets that he has seen throughout the country constructed of similar material. The most perplexing problem that the street and road makers of the country now have confronting them is what are the best materials to use for laying the dust and reducing the cost of repairing.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Nicholas May and wife were down from Dixie yesterday.
Jacob Mattson and wife, 224 Jasper street, and the parents of a daughter.

Two disorderly cases were disposed of in the municipal court yesterday.

Mrs. J. Hare gave a shower last evening in honor of Miss Lucy Stark.

A. G. Lanz, of Escanaba, transacted business in Ishpeming yesterday.

R. H. Skelly has returned from a month's visit with relatives in California.

J. R. McDonald, internal revenue collector for the Twelfth district, was in the city yesterday.

Thomas Clancy has returned from Ann Arbor, where he went to witness the Michigan-Pennsylvania football contest.

Harry Holt is back from the East, where he spent a couple of weeks assisting with the coaching of the Yale university football team.

The Misses Helen Duncan, Gertrude Main and Mary Outhwaite entertained with a delightful dancing party last night at the Anderson hall.

Miss Mary Earle, kindergarten teacher in the High street school, has returned from Chicago, where she was called three weeks ago on account of the illness of her mother.

Mrs. J. R. Thompson has returned from the East, where she spent a few weeks visiting relatives. She was accompanied by Mrs. Blake, who will visit her.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church congregation will conduct a ten-cent social this afternoon in the church parlors, and they invite their friends to attend.

Robert H. Shields, upper peninsula member of the Michigan state tax commission, was in Ishpeming for a short time yesterday afternoon, having come over from Negaunee, where he rectified an error in the assessed valuation of the Volunteer property, on the Cascade range.

J. Larson, in the employ of the Green Bay Corncise company, yesterday finished the steel ceiling in J. J. Leffler's meat market.

Mr. Larson is an expert in big line and he put up the steel as fast as two inexperienced men could have done the work.

Coroner William Prin conducted an inquest at Republic Thursday to determine the cause of the death of the late Emil Freeman, who was killed in the mine early last week. The jury, which was composed of Republic men, returned a verdict of accidental death.

Mrs. O. Touhamati, who was mistaken for a deer while in the woods about four weeks ago, and shot through the shoulder by a hunter from the North Lake location, and who had since been confined to St. Mary's hospital, Marquette, was removed to her home on her husband's homestead yesterday. It is now thought she will not be permanently crippled, in spite of the fact that part of the shoulder bone was shattered.

Rev. Canfield, pastor of the Mitchell Methodist church, Negaunee, will speak tomorrow afternoon at the men's meeting in the Young Men's Christian association's building. The meeting will be held at 3:30 o'clock, and all men in the city are invited.

Alex. Lasstrom, deputy sheriff at Republic, yesterday sold the machinery of the Erie mine, a few miles out from the town, to satisfy claims of the creditors. The machinery was attached some time ago by Republic business men. The property was operated for a time by the Erie Mining company, but work was suspended about eight or ten months ago.

Lower State Notes

QUINCY—The saloonmen of Branch county have organized their forces and begun an active campaign for the re-submission of the local option question before the people of this county.

LANSING—The mortality report for October, issued by Secretary of State Martindale, shows that 2,790 deaths occurred in Michigan last month. Reports of 4,681 births were received by the department.

JACKSON—George H. Lumley, well known throughout the county as keeper of Dad's Tavern at Michigan Center, near this city, was found guilty by a jury of having violated the liquor law. A day of sentence was granted for ten days.

BIG RAPIDS—Peter Hopp is the first man in this county to get his two deer, the limit allowed by law. They were shot near Hungerford. This makes seven deer shot in the same neighborhood since the season opened.

NILES—Edward C. Edwards was struck by a train in the Michigan Central yards here and both legs were cut off near the hips. He died instantly. Edwards was a molder at the Round Oak stove works, Dowagiac, but resided here. He was single.

MONROE—But for the prompt action of Chief Foreman Jones and Engineer Lloyd of the D. U. R. power station, Mrs. E. Sanford would have been burned to death in her home. The two men saw the flames issuing from the house and ran to the rescue of Mrs. Sanford, who was lying helplessly ill in bed. They carried her out of the burning building.

SOUTH HAVEN—Dr. R. L. Dixon, of the state board of health, is making a probe into the origin of the typhoid epidemic in this city. Thomas Ainsie, sanitary engineer, will assist in the efforts to stamp out the mauldy. There are fifty cases of the fever at present. Two of the cases are in the family of Mayor Charles Funk.

TRAVERSE CITY—Traverse City may have a street railway. If local capitalists will take $50,000 worth of bonds and if the common council will grant a franchise satisfactory to the company, St. Louis interests propose to build the railway. The company stipulates that the franchise can be so drawn that interurban or other companies will not be barred from entering the city.

BAY CITY—The South End Business Men's association has secured the location in Bay City of the Brown Motorcycle company of Detroit, and has also taken a block of the company's stock. The organization is not yet complete, but the company will probably be capitalized at $50,000. It will manufacture several styles of motorcycles.

SAGINAW—Believing the city can collect $4,000 for concrete work done in paving between the tracks of the Michigan Central road, the city council, this evening, the council will instruct the city assessor to spread the tax under the state law, rather than the local one upon which the city was defeated in the circuit court by the company several months ago, when it tried to collect. The other railroads in the city all paid the tax.

MT. CLEMENS—A jury in charge of Coroner H. L. Scott, called to determine the cause of the death of Clarence, nine-year-old son of George Wolvin, absolved from blame Nicholas Biewer, under the wheels of whose automobile young Wolvin was killed in front of St. Mary's parochial school. It was shown that the boy, while crossing the street, stepped in front of the car, which witnesses stated was being driven by Mr. Biewer at eight miles an hour.

KALAMAZOO—"I wouldn't be surprised if this old heart of mine should stop ticking within the next twenty-four hours," said Dr. J. G. Galleher to a friend. A few hours afterward Dr. Gal-

LEHER was stricken with heart failure and died. He spent the last evening at the home of Miss Kennedy, to whom, it is said, he was engaged. It was while at her home that he was stricken. Miss Kennedy is prostrated with grief. Dr. Galleher was one of the best known physicians in this part of the state. For years he bitterly fought the Academy of Medicine, a local organization of doctors.

JACKSON—Struck by an interurban car on the Edgemoor crossing, between Madison and Leslie, Paul Darling, president of the village of Leslie, was instantly killed. Darling, who was evidently running in an effort to catch the car man in front of it and before the motor man could set the brakes, was ground to pieces beneath the wheels.

LAKE CITY—Losing the road while driving through the woods from a hunting camp in Kalkaska county, Hugh Norton, twenty-three years old, left the rig to find the track. The team started back toward the camp with a boy asleep in the sleigh. The boy was awakened by the horses, and as yells brought men from the camp. They went to search for Norton and found his frozen body. Norton is survived by a widow and one child.

MUSKEGON—The Muskegon Traction and Lighting company and the Grand Rapids & Muskegon Power company are fighting each other, and the city enjoys the fight. The Grand Rapids & Muskegon company closed a deal with the city whereby they were to furnish power at a price much lower than that made by the other company. Following this the Muskegon Traction and Lighting company gave out the statement of a reduction in the price of gas from $1.20 to $1 per thousand.

OWOSSO—W. G. Smalley, a Shiawassee township farmer, aged seventy-five, is believed to be dying as the result of a peculiar accident. Smalley was driving home from Owosso when he was struck by an attack of heart disease and fell to the bottom of the wagon box, with his head protruding over the side and against the wagon wheel. His team kept going and a hole was ground almost through the old man's head. He was badly cut about the face also.

MUSKEGON—Muskegon society, especially the exclusive Country club, is considerably upset over the news that Frank Jones, formerly head of the American Electric Fuse company in this city, and now serving a term in Ionia reformatory for embezzlement, is writing a novel in which are incorporated several characters taken from the Muskegon social set. Mr. Jones told a friend who has just returned from visiting him at the prison, that he was going to use some of the Muskegon people in his book and he intimated that there are a few who will not appear to advantage. Jones is employed in the greenhouses at the prison, but finds time to work on his novel and also write short stories.

PONTIAC—Local option will be an issue for the third time at the election next April. This was decided at an enthusiastic meeting of delegates from all parts of Oakland county held at the Central Methodist church here. Rev. R. M. Traver, pastor of the First Baptist church, was elected chairman and will be aided in the campaign by a business committee. Petitions asking a resubmission will be circulated at once and at the meeting $1,972 was quickly subscribed by enthusiasts for carrying on the campaign. President G. W. Morrow and Attorney Filney Marsh of the State Anti-Saloon league were present and delivered addresses. The campaign this time will be in conjunction with the state league's program.

DETROIT—The directors of the First National bank have elected Emory W. Clark president of that institution as the successor to John T. Shaw, who died last week from injuries sustained in an automobile accident in Ohio. Mr. Clark has been vice president and a director of the bank since his connection with it began in 1904. His father, Lorenzo E.

PROPOSAL TO 250 WIDOWS FROM BACHELORS' SOCIETY.

Arizona Ask California Police to Find Wives for Them.

Santa Monica, Cal., Nov. 24.—The Outman (Ariz.) Bachelors' association has proposed to the 250 Santa Monica widows who hold the balance of power in the city election. The proposal is official and is the biggest matrimonial offer of history.

It arrived in the form of a letter to Chief of Police Barrett, signed with the names of sixteen directors of the association. All steps toward a reply either jointly or severally by or for the widows will be postponed until after the election Dec. 5.

The widows are wanted at home on that day. Any attempt to lure them away will be resisted with injunction proceedings. The letter says:

"We have an equal number of bachelors, ranging in age from twenty-one to forty-one years. We also have a Bachelors' association. If you could find it convenient to communicate with some of these fair widows and notify them of our intentions, should those fair widows intend to get married, I am authorized to state that husbands await them here."

The letter describes by name about fifty members, and concludes: "The names are only a small margin compared with the great number of bachelors employed at Tom Reed mining camp."

ELLERBECK

The trees were raised by Osterman & Sons, near Hamburg, Germany. They were raised from seed and when one year old transplanted in rows and cultivated for three more years. They are now four years old, from 12 to 22 inches high.

They should be transplanted in larger pots or boxes, or on the lawn in the spring. They will make beautiful decorations around the house. With little care they will grow into beautiful trees, as they are very hardy.

At Christmas time, when all other kinds of trees are dead, their green needle-shaped leaves are a pleasure to see in the window or on the porch. They will thrive best in a cool room, or out of doors.

These trees should reach us in about ten days, but we are booking orders now.

These imported little Christmas Trees will be planted in pots and sold exclusively by us at - 10 CENTS EACH

NEW COURSES ARE ADDED AT M. A. C.

Students From All Over the United States Will Take Up Various Subjects.

East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 24.—One of the neatest and best short course agricultural bulletins that has ever been prepared at the college is being issued from the president's office to the prospective students of the popular course which is given every year for the benefit of the many farmers who cannot take the time to come to college for the regular course...

The bulletin is profusely illustrated, giving the reader an idea of the character of the work carried on and the way that subjects are dealt with in the class room and laboratory. The reading matter covers the aims of the various courses that are taught and the work covered by each. To show how popular this course has proven to be the bulletin says that in 1897 when the class first met there were forty-seven enrolled and last year it numbered 330. In this enrollment are found sixteen-year-old farm boys working beside gray haired men and also university graduates.

The course in general agriculture begins Jan. 2 and extends over a period of eight weeks. In this course the study of breeds, farm mechanics, veterinary science, soils, farm crops, feeds and feeding, horticultural and farm forestry are given. In order that the short course may still further benefit himself, a second year's work is given which includes, besides the advanced work on the previous year's subjects, bacteriology, entomology, chemistry and physics.

Two creamery courses are given extending over periods of eight and six weeks. The work consists principally of butter making and creamery management, going into the bacteriology and the practical work that is necessary to operate a creamery; the cheese course, extending over a course of four weeks, is given in conjunction with the creamery. One of the most popular courses given is that relative to poultry. The widespread interest in this work draws men and women from all over the country to take this course at M. A. C. East year there were students from Illinois, New Jersey and Missouri enrolled. It covers a course of eight weeks. The work is all practical, being given over to care and management of poultry plants, feeding, breeding, disease, incubation and actual demonstrations in killing, dressing and marketing. The excellent poultry plant at the college gives a student an excellent chance to meet the needs of the practical poultryman.

The fruit course draws a greater number of students. As this course has proven so popular in the past, it has been lengthened from four weeks to six in an endeavor to cover the ground that is necessary in this work. Practical lectures will be given upon the requirements of the Michigan grower, these to include propagation, planting, cultivation, cover crops, spraying, pruning, harvesting, marketing and a study of the varieties. These will be supplemented by work in the laboratory to make cuttings, bud, grafts, judge nursery stock and make the different kinds of spray mixtures.

SAVED MANY FROM DEATH. W. L. Mook, of Mook, Ark., believes he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business. "What I always like to do," he writes, "is to recommend Dr. King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard colds, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, la grippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well today because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe it's the best throat and lung medicine that's made." Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free or regular 50c or $1.00 bottle. Guaranteed by The Stafford Drug Co.

Wisconsin Team Wants a Game.—Manager Robert Fraser of the high school football team has received a challenge from the Chippewa Falls (Wis.) high school squad, says the Menominee Herald-Leader. The Badgers want a game with the locals either on Nov. 25 or 30 for the championship of Michigan and Wisconsin. Manager Fraser says he will wait until word is received from Detroit or Muskegon before answering the Chippewa Falls boys. If both Muskegon and Detroit refuse to meet the local squad, it is probable that the Falls team will be given a game here.

Accused of Abusing Family.—Charged with assaulting his wife, Isaac Parker was arraigned before Judge O. V. Linden at Escanaba. Because the defendant had not fully recovered from a spree, the case was adjourned. Mrs. Parker, with her three children, was in court and asserted that the defendant was possessed of a most vicious disposition. In addition to the assault upon her, she said that Tuesday night he put one of their sons, eight years old, who had been ill, out of the house and after locking the door told him that he could never return. The mother and the remaining two children later escaped and went to the home of Mrs. Parker's mother. The defendant has been engaged for several years as a woods foreman in the district about Escanaba and is known to many lumbermen of the peninsula.

Is Successful Football Coach.—Attorney Thomas Riley of Escanaba, who served as coach for the University of Maine football team this season and whose squad won the collegiate championship of the Pine Tree state, is visiting at Ann Arbor, before returning to his home. He arrived in Ann Arbor in time to attend the Michigan-Pennsylvania game of last week and is now visiting with old schoolmates there. The University of Maine team, after being coached throughout the season by the Escanaba attorney, defeated Bowdoin for the first time in eight years and carried off the championship, thus bringing to the coach unusual honors.

More Electricity for the Soo.—The new head race of the Chandler-Dunbar canal in the St. Mary's rapids, supplying the Edison-Sault company's power house at the Soo, is practically completed. The head gates are now closed and the work of dredging out the cofferdam at the head and the dyke adjacent to the power house has been started, three dredges being employed. It is expected that within ten days the company will be receiving all of the benefits that come with the extensive improvements that have been going on for the past several months under the direction of the government. The head race will furnish MATCH WITH MARQUETTE.

A bowling game has been scheduled by the management of the club with a five-men team from Marquette for Thanksgiving Day, and all of the members of the association interested in bowling are requested to turn out and compete for places on the team. The team will be chosen from those making the most consistent high scores in practice matches, which will take place Saturday evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. The following are especially invited to compete, as being of high standing last season: Hammond, G. Hirwas, N. Trudgion, Robare, Hoien, C. D. Masters, Dr. D. R. McIntyre, Dr. M. M. Main, Edmar Lindberg, A. Kroedahl, C. Aintson, Ed Goodman, Osmond Rodgers and John Peterson.

BAND REGISTERS KICK.

There has been no little controversy going on since President Taft visited Marquette between the members of the Gwinn band as a whole, and members of one of the Negaunee organizations. The bands played in Marquette when the president paid the Queen City a visit and when the Negaunee players returned home they found that one of their instruments, a cornet, was missing. Word was sent to the Gwinn officials that the band men had stolen the horn. Police officers and private detectives got busy on the case. It was found that the Gwinn boys were falsely accused and that the instrument was not even seen by Gwinnites. That ended the affair for the time being. Last week a Negaunee man, who was in Gwinn on business, revisited the charge. The Gwinn men wish to state that they had nothing to do with the missing horn, and will take action if further accusation is made against them.

SHOT DEER IN TOWN.

Pete Tonsignault shot a 225-pound buck on Tamarack street Tuesday afternoon. The deer are being driven in from the woods and every morning numerous tracks are seen on the county road between Gwinn and Austin by men going and coming from work.

GWINN BRIEFS.

Will Dabb visited friends in Ishpeming Sunday. Dr. Olmstead paid a business visit to Negaunee Friday. Richard Quayle transacted business in Ishpeming Wednesday. Fred Coran of Princeton, brought in a large buck Sunday. Gilbert Marquette spent the week end visiting friends in Champion. Harry Plack spent the forepart of the week in Ishpeming on business. James Williams of Negaunee spent the week visiting with Ernest Hawke and family.

Miss Hannah Herwis, of Ishpeming, visited the week end with Gwinn relatives. Mrs. William Maddeford visited a few days last week with relatives in Negaunee. Miss Rosa Anderson, of Carlisle, is visiting with J. M. Johnson and family at Princeton.

Miss Ruth Kinsman of Ishpeming is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. George Davis. Miss Jean Nelson has returned from Ishpeming, where she visited relatives and friends. Eli Connell and E. C. Thompson of Marquette visited with Gwinn friends Sunday.

A meeting of the directors of the Gwinn club was held Tuesday evening in the clubhouse. J. E. Austin and Dr. D. R. McIntyre spent the greater part of last week in Milwaukee.

Miss Sophie Jacobson, of Ishpeming, visited Sunday with Dave Anderson and family of Princeton. The Gwinn band serenaded G. R. Jackson and family at their residence Sunday afternoon.

Miss Myrtle Prin has returned to her home in Ishpeming, after a two weeks visit with Gwinn friends.

Mrs. A. D. Bohrer spent a few days visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rough, in Negaunee, last week.

Mrs. Samuel Davis, of Ishpeming, visited the week end with Captain Thomas Trebilcock and family at Princeton.

George Popin, of Gwinn, killed a large doe near Gwinn Friday. He says he expects to secure its mate before his license expires.

Ernest Larson, who has been employed at the Stevenson mine for the past month, has returned to his home in Ishpeming.

Miss L. M. Davis, superintending nurse of the Gwinn hospital, left Saturday for Riverside, Cal., where she will spend the winter.

Dr. M. M. Main spent last week in Ishpeming looking after the practice of his brother, Dr. S. G. Main, while the latter was on a hunting trip.

Miss Elathar's position in the English department of the Gwinn high school, the latter having resigned two weeks ago.

Dennis Driscoll, of the Oliver force, spent Sunday at his home in Negaunee. George Medlyn of Princeton spent Sunday with his folks in Ishpeming.

L. F. Bacon and A. C. Brandt tramped to Little Lake on snow shoes Sunday. This being Mr. Brandt's first experience on the "big shoes," a crowd of the "boy wonder's" friends accompanied the pair on foot to witness the fun.

Quite a number of Ishpeming and Negaunee boys working on the range will spend Thanksgiving at their homes. A number of them plan to attend the Ishpeming fire department's annual ball, to be given Thanksgiving eve, in Braastad's hall.

To Get Its Beneficial Effects. Always Buy the Genuine SYRUP OF FIGS and ELIXIR OF SENNA manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. Sold by all leading Druggists One Size Only, 50¢ a Bottle

Miss Dorothy Paulson, who has been visiting at the home of her brother, Oscar Paulson, and family for the past three months, departed Tuesday for her home in Cadillac, Mich.

Arrangements are being made for a concert and dance to be given by the Gwinn band in the auditorium of the Gwinn club Thanksgiving evening. The band will be assisted by outside and local talent.

A party of well-known Italians of Calumet, who have been hunting in the vicinity of Princeton for the past few weeks, returned to their homes Saturday with their licenses filled.

John Bissonette of the Oliver Iron Mining company's painting department, has completed repainting the interior of the Stegmiller mine office, and residences of Captain Thomas Trebilcock and Severi Oien.

The following births have been registered in Gwinn: A son to Giuseppe Rosa and wife, of Princeton; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Aho, Gwinn, a daughter; John Johnson and wife, Gwinn, a son, and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Kovisto, of Austin, a boy.

The Gwinn football team will give the last of a series of dancing parties in the clubhouse Saturday evening, Dec. 2. Trombly's orchestra will furnish the music. The admission will be seventy-five cents per couple.

The funeral of the late Louis Lamplier, who was killed Tuesday at B. J. Goodman & Son's mill, Little Lake, was held Wednesday, with interment in the Gwinn cemetery. The deceased was known to quite a number here.

Lester ("Red") Folk, who had a leg fractured in a football game between the Marquette Guild Hall team and the Gwinn eleven early in the season, left on Monday, with the aid of crutches, for his home in Pontiac, Ills. He plans on returning to Gwinn about the first of next year.

Deer, partridge, rabbits, guns and dogs are much hunted in the range towns since the hunting season opened. There are few men on the range who do not hunt game of some sort. Most of those who have been out after deer this season have been successful, while hundreds of rabbits and partridge have been brought in during the past few weeks.

The ladies of the Royal Neighbors of America society which was recently organized in Gwinn, with something over twenty members, will give the first of a series of dancing parties Saturday evening in the Old Fellows' hall. The hall will be specially decorated for the occasion and Trombly's orchestra will furnish the music. It is expected that a large attendance will be present and cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

The junior class of the Gwinn club has taken up pyramid building, tumbling and wrestling, and the boys are practicing daily in the various events. Two more teams have entered into the boys' basketball league, under the name of the Browns and White Sox. The Miglets are in the lead in the percentage column. The winning team of the series will meet the girls' team in a number of games.

The big snow storm of last Friday and Saturday put the roads on the range territory in bad condition, but all the principal thoroughfares were opened up within a few days. The snowfall was by far the heaviest that ever occurred here in November. The snow was welcomed by the many range men who had been waiting for a change in the weather before going hunting, though the fall was much heavier than Europe wished for, as it is now difficult to get around in the woods. In many places in the woods the snow is from two to three feet in depth.

JUMPS ON THREE. But Hunter Couldn't Hold on and Injured Deer Makes Getaway.

Bangor, Me., Nov. 24.—One of the most exciting deer stories to reach Bangor thus far this season comes from Newburgh, where Bernard Lake recently had a thrilling adventure with a large buck. Lake received painful injuries about the face which were aggravated by the fact that the animal escaped.

Mr. Lake was on his way to Newburgh Centre and was armed with a small calibre rifle. He was near David Newscomb's pasture when he saw the buck not far from the road and fired. The deer sprang into the air and fell over backward. Lake attempted, hastily, to reload his rifle, but the shell jammed in the chamber. As the deer was attempting to regain his feet, Lake dropped the rifle and rushed forward to the struggling animal, seized his horns and jumped astride the buck's neck.

The animal seemed to grow stronger with every second and Lake bethought him of his pocket knife. He relaxed his hold on one horn in order to get his right hand into his pocket. As he did so the animal suddenly renewed his struggles with more vigor than ever and Lake was thrown heavily to the ground. The hoofs of the buck struck him in the face, bruising him painfully, breaking his eye-glasses and partially stunning him. The animal made good his escape to the woods nearby.

Mining News

RAY CONSOLIDATED.

For several months past the behavior of Ray shares in the market has prompted the inquiry "What is the matter with Ray?" comments the Engineering & Mining Journal. It is possible in recognition of this that the management on Oct. 25 issued an interim report, reviewing operations since April 1, 1911. It is only fair to say that the management has been quite frank in nearly all particulars, having stated facts without regard to what impression they might create.

Ray Consolidated has not yet attained anything like its full capacity, nor is it likely to make any material gain before the early part of 1912, while it will probably be well toward the end of next year before the estimated maximum will be reached. This is because the mine development is not yet sufficiently far advanced to permit the mill to be supplied with even half of its capacity. This being the case, there is no good reason to hurry the completion of the mill.

For the same reason the ore now being extracted is materially below the average estimated for the whole ore body. The grade of the ore varies in different parts of the mine and uniformity in the grade despatched to the mill is not to be expected until the ore can be drawn from many places in order to equalize variation. In other particulars also the full benefit of the hold system of mining that has been inaugurated at Ray, which gives some promise of successful results, both as to low cost of mining and high percentage of ore extraction, is dependent upon the extension of the system over a large area. The consummation cannot be attained immediately.

At the same time the company has been handicapped by the necessity of shipping its concentrates to El Paso for smelting. This is reckoned as imposing an added expense of more than 15 cents per pound of copper as against the cost of smelting at Hayden under the contract with the American Smelting and Refining company. The Ray company is not quite frank with respect to the history of its proposed smelting plant, which is referred to as being "in process of erection" and "turned over to the smelting company at cost." The smelting company began its operations with earthwork and grading, and in fact upon a site other than what was contemplated by the Ray company.

It is doubtful if the Ray treasury permitted the prosecution of the construction of the smeltery and the directors evidently were disinclined to appeal to the stockholders for more money, wherefore the transfer of the smelting plant, not plant, to the American Smelting and Refining company. The latter evidently has it in mind to develop an important smelting center at Hayden, taking ores from many other producers than the Ray Consolidated, which will be enabled by railway extensions that are projected. Under its contract the Ray Consolidated will probably be as well off as if it were going to do its own smelting.

There does not seem to be anything fundamentally the matter with Ray Consolidated. The disappointment, if there be any, has been the result of the ambition of its management to make a colossal production and in being in too much of a hurry to do so.

COPPER SITUATION.

The statistical position of copper has been improving throughout 1911, says the Engineering & Mining Journal. At the first of the year the total visible supply stood at 358,649,373 pounds; on Nov. 1, at 311,823,242 pounds, a reduction of nearly 47,000,000 pounds, making it practically certain that the full year will continue the record of 1910 in showing an excess of consumption over production. The present stock—311,823,242 pounds—looks large, but in fact is only about 15 per cent. of the world's consumption, or less than two months' supply, and the fact that the surplus is incapable of immediate delivery, a good deal of the reported European supply being always afloat, or otherwise unavailable, while the refiners are obliged always to carry a sizable inventory in meeting the specifications of their customers. We have previously estimated that about 100,000,000 pounds of copper must always be locked up in these ways, most of it being refined copper.

We still hear forebodings of evil to come from the new production that must be made in 1912. The indications that we made long ago is now, however, well established, namely that the new production of 1912 will, for physical reasons, be less than contemplated and that the attaining of their maxima by the new mines will extend over a longer period. This will give consumption a longer time in which to expand and in this connection it is to be remarked that the fears of two months ago that consumption in Europe was likely to experience a check have been fully dispelled, while there is now some hope that American consumption will soon begin to improve.

It is the continuance of the strong demand from Europe that has been especially responsible for the improvement in the market during the last week. Most of the sellers of electrolytic copper having disposed of their accumulations and most of their expected supplies up to the end of 1911, balanced, were soon obliged to go to those who still had nearby copper and pay the advance in price that was naturally asked. This condition in itself shows that the supply of copper immediately available is not so large as the statistics indicate. In fact the proportion of unsold Lake copper has been abnormally large for many months back, and of the electrolytic surplus, as we have previously pointed out, a considerable proportion represents the normal and necessary consumption, which in some cases, we understand, has been already cut down to the minimum. For the moment the outlook for copper is fairly auspicious. The real test will come in 1912 when the new production begins to be felt distinctly and when the older producers may become tired of exercising restraint upon their admitted ability to produce about as cheaply as anybody if desired.

A MAIL CARRIER'S LOAD

Seems heavier when he has a weak back and kidney trouble. Fred Duehren, mail carrier at Atchison, Kas., says: "I have been bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and had a severe pain across my back. Whenever I carried a heavy load of mail, my kidney trouble increased. Some time ago, I started taking Foley Kidney Pills and since taking them I have gotten entirely rid of all my kidney trouble and am as sound now as ever." For sale by all dealers.

CITY MARKET NEEDED.

Farmers Should Have Some Place to Gather When They Come to the City.

The open space just off the East end of Iron street, which is labeled "Marquette street," upon which are a few houses and the blacksmith shop of Joseph N. Ikela, at present is the only place in town where the farmers who come in from the surrounding country may tie their horses while they do their shopping and marketing. During the past week over forty farmers came to town and left their horses tied to the few hitching posts along this "street." These people come to town mostly on Saturdays and Mondays and patronize local dealers liberally, being both buyers of merchandise and sellers of produce.

lacking in the city has been the subject of comment among townpeople, and the opinion often is expressed that the city could easily and inexpensively provide a place where the farmers could gather and leave their horses while they made the rounds of the shops and stores. The fact that so many have made use of "Marquette street," which is nothing but a wide, short, blind alley, has led to the suggestion that it could easily be converted into a market by setting a few more hitching posts and installing a public fountain. Other conveniences could be added as they were found to be needed, and the cost of upkeep would hardly be noticeable. It is generally appreciated that the farmers about Negaunee are given too little consideration, considering the amount of business they bring to the city.

charge of the work has been meeting frequently and doing a great deal of work. However, all of their plans have been kept from the public.

SUPT. ORR SCHURTZ TAKES ADVERSE STAND

Assails Proposed Plan of Separation of the State and Local Taxes.

Supt. Orr Schurtz, of the Negaunee public schools, in a signed communication published below, assails the plan of Chairman Knox of the Republican State Central committee for separating state and local taxes, under which the tax from corporations would be applied to the maintenance of state government and the institutions, leaving it to the people to tax themselves at their discretion for the support of the schools. Mr. Schurtz contends that, should the suggestion be followed out, the schools would be robbed of their biggest source of income and that the schools of the state could not be kept up to their present standard of efficiency.

Below is the communication. "Editor of The Mining Journal:— "Inasmuch as my daily reading of your editorial page has led me to believe you intend to be fair in your treatment of important public questions, I venture to request you to give space for a few words.

"I deem it a public duty to take strong issue with your editorial of the 24th inst., advocating diversion of the primary school fund, derived from the taxation of corporations, to the "maintenance of the state government and institutions." Briefly stated, your proposition is to deprive the schools of this state aid and to tax the people of each school district for their entire support. For instance, you would have the state take away from the people of Negaunee the $20,000 or more they are now receiving annually toward the support of their schools, and compel them to tax themselves this large amount in addition to what they already are assessed. You want the schools of Negaunee, Marquette, and every other city, village and township in Michigan robbed of the tax now paid by the corporations, and the people allowed "to tax themselves at their own discretion for the support of the schools." You profess to believe, at least you intimate strongly that the public is growing to believe this change should be made. You never made a guess so remote from the truth. Put this proposition up to the people today and it will be snowed under by an avalanche of adverse votes.

"You are mistaken, egregiously, in your opinion. Chairman Knox of the Republican State Central committee, who is advocating this iniquitous thing, is altogether too intelligent to believe that the people of the state want it for a minute. If he really thinks so, let him write into the next Republican state platform a plan advocating this robbery of the public schools, nominate their state ticket and go before the people on this issue. He will soon find out how eager that people are to make a present and then go down into their own pockets and dig up the deficiency. Mr. Knox will be entirely satisfied with just one such appeal.

"There never was a more carefully veiled attack on the public schools and the public school system than this specious plea that it is for the good of the people of the state that the change be made. Mr. Knox and every man that favors depriving the schools of this primary fund and compelling the people to tax themselves to make up the large deficit knows that it will very seriously cripple the schools if it is ever enacted into law. They know the people cannot and will not tax themselves sufficiently to keep the schools up to their present equipment and efficiency. It would mean at once cheaper buildings, cheaper teachers, poorer text-books, less apparatus, inferiority everywhere in the school system. Do the people want it? Will they stand for it? If Mr. Knox really wants to know, let him see that the proposed change is but into the next Republican state platform. He will get his answer, and it will be a long ways from an uncertain answer. I have never cast any but a Republican vote, but I can imagine myself sitting up all night to get the first ballot, favoring such a change, into the box. And I can imagine thousands of other Republicans all over the state likewise foregoing a night's sleep that they may go "early and often to the ballot box" in order to help Mr. Knox out on his pet scheme.

NEGAUNEE HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

A magazine rack has been placed in the back of the assembly room of the high school, on which current magazines are kept for reference in connection with the regular work. In former years a magazine library was a regular feature of the high school work, but several years ago it had to be discontinued on account of improper usage by the pupils. The magazines are subscribed for with the idea of bringing current events into the regular work. The rack is of oak and was made by the pupils of the manual training department three years ago.

The boys of the high school held a meeting Monday at 4 p. m. to organize a debating society. Officers were elected as follows: President, Gilbert Christensen; vice president, Clyde Roberts; secretary, John Thomas; treasurer, Ben Lowenstein. A program committee—Morgan Quinn, William Schwartzberg and Clyde Roberts—was elected. The boys will give programs before the school and at their meetings, and will enter the oratorical contests.

Preparations for the Senior entertainment next Wednesday evening are rapidly being completed. The class will present two plays, "The Mouse Trap" and "An Unlikely Story." "The Mouse Trap" deals with the subject of woman's suffrage, which is receiving so much attention throughout the world. Regular gymnasium practice has been started. Each class has a night a week in which to play basketball or indoor baseball. Later in the season class teams will be organized and will play regular scheduled games, after school. The teams will be changed from time to time to give all a chance to play.

Start the week right by using White Lion Flour, which is absolutely guaranteed to give satisfaction. For sale exclusively at Haupt's Grocery. 11-25-11

LEAVING FOR EUROPE.

Five Finnish laborers will leave tomorrow night for their native country, John Tynkkes, Kousta Koski, Juhani Laine, Emil Poikainen and Olli Taivavuori. They will sail from New York on the Cunard liner "Lusitania" for Liverpool, where they will take a steamer for Helsinki, the capital of Finland.

Fewer have left Negaunee this week bound for the old country than during any week within the past three months. From now until Christmas the travel will be lighter, it is expected.

The past few months have been banner months for the steamship transportation agents in this city, they having sold more tickets than at any time since the panic of 1907, when foreigners departed for Europe in droves.

ECZEMA ITCHED SO I COULDN'T STAND IT

Began by Little Pimples. Scratched Until Blood Came. Kept Getting Worse. Could Not Sleep Nights. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and the First Day They Relieved Itching. In 3 Weeks Eczema Cured.

"I suffered with eczema on my neck for about six months, beginning by little pimples breaking out. I kept scratching till the blood came. It kept getting worse. I couldn't sleep nights any more. It kept itching for about a month, then I went to a doctor and got some liquid to take. It seemed as if I was going to get better. The itching stopped for about three days, but when it started again it was even worse than before. The eczema itched so badly I couldn't stand it any more. I went to a doctor and he gave me some medicine, but didn't do any good. We have been having Cuticura Remedies in the house, so I decided to try them. I had been using Cuticura Soap, so I put me a box of Cuticura Ointment, and washed off the affected part with Cuticura Soap three times a day, and then put the Cuticura Ointment on. The first day I put it on, it relieved me of itching so I could sleep all that night. It took about a week, then I could see the scab come off. I kept the treatment up for three weeks, and my eczema was cured.

"My brother got his face burned with gun-powder, and he used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The people all thought he would have scars, but you can't see that he ever had his face burned. It was almost awful to look at before the Cuticura Remedies (Soap and Ointment) cured it." (Signed) Miss Elizabeth Getzler, Forrest City, Ark., Oct. 16, 1910.

Although Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet on the skin and hair, will be sent, post-free, on application to Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 17B, Boston.

OFFICIAL NEWS NOT RECEIVED

Scheduled Meeting of Directors of South Shore in New York Yesterday Seems to Have Slipped a Cog—President Fitch Expected to Resign—Slate Prepared.

Believed That A. B. Eldredge Will Be New President, With W. W. Walker General Manager—A. M. Sutherland, Western Division Superintendent, Has Resigned.

It was the belief of Marquette officials of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad company that a meeting of the directors of the road would be held yesterday afternoon in New York city, at which the resignation of President W. F. Fitch would be submitted and his successor elected, but, contrary to expectations, no news of such a meeting having been held had been received in this city up to a late hour last evening, nor could the representatives of the Associated Press in New York learn that any meeting of the directors of the South Shore had taken place.

If no meeting was held yesterday, someone or something has slipped a cog and it is probable that definite news regarding the matter will be received today. All afternoon yesterday a telegram was expected from New York announcing the result of the meeting, but, much to the surprise of South Shore officials, none was received.

Though no official information would be given out by any of the South Shore officials in advance of the report of the action taken at the directors' meeting, it is confidently expected by those close to the railroad company's affairs that President Fitch will be succeeded by Arch B. Eldredge as president, and by W. W. Walker, of Duluth, as general manager, Mr. Fitch having held both offices for many years. Mr. Eldredge is at present chief attorney for the company and Mr. Walker is general freight agent. One report has it that the change will become effective Dec. 1.

Walker For General Manager.

Under the slate of new officials, which is generally credited with having been made up for some time, it is believed that the burden of the actual executive management will fall on Mr. Walker, who is an experienced and well-liked railroad man, and who has shown his ability to "get the business." Mr. Walker has visited Marquette with unusual frequency during the past few months, and his visits have been regarded generally as having to do with his impending promotion. It is said that Mr. Walker's elevation to the position of general manager will in no way affect the duties or position of C. E. Lytle, general superintendent.

As stated in The Mining Journal a short time ago, Mr. Fitch is retiring from the South Shore because of his advanced years. As he puts it, "I want to get out and give some of the younger fellows a chance." It is generally expected that Mr. Fitch will be given some honorary office in the re-organization in recognition of his long and faithful service to the company.

President Fitch is a splendid example of a self-made man, having worked up from the bottom to the top in the railroad business. He entered the employ of the South Shore as general manager over twenty years ago, and about ten years ago he was elevated to the presidency and general management, which position he has filled since that time. Prior to coming with the South Shore he had worked in various capacities for the Chicago & Northwestern and the Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley railways. Mr. Eldredge became general attorney for the South Shore system in 1899, a position which he has since held. While his specialty has been railroad work, Mr. Eldredge has won distinction in general legal practice and is one of the most highly regarded attorneys of the state. Just now Mr. Eldredge is engaged in one of the greatest legal battles of his career, the fight to have the two-cent fare law in Michigan declared unconstitutional.

Sutherland Has Resigned.

In connection with the presumed impending shake-up among the officials of the South Shore road, it is announced in the Superior department of yesterday's Duluth News-Tribune that A. M. Sutherland, superintendent of the western division, has resigned. The News-Tribune says:

"Five years with one railroad, twenty-one with another and twenty-two years and four months with a third, is the record of A. M. Sutherland, of Superior, who has just resigned the superintendency of the western division of the South Shore railroad. It is in this position that he has held for the few months over twenty-two years, having come to the road with W. F. Fitch and continuously acted as superintendent since. He is now sixty-seven years of age.

"Mr. Sutherland, who has resigned with the intention of quitting the railroad business entirely and taking up farming for his declining years, began his railroad career when he was but sixteen years of age, as a section worker on the Grand Trunk in Canada, making gradual advancement until he went with the North-Western railroad. He remained with that road for twenty-one years, acting as engineer and roadmaster, and, quitting, went with the South Shore as superintendent. In April he will move with his family to Ingalls, Mich., where he has bought property, and where he has a brother who has been station agent for thirty years.

"Wednesday night Mr. Sutherland was surprised at his home, 243 West Twelfth street, by a party of four railroad men, who as representatives of the others of their branch of the service, presented him with a handsome solid gold watch, chain and charm, the latter being of the Knights Templar and Royal Arch designs combined. Those in the party were: G. H. Ryerse, engineer; R. Clemenson, conductor; J. Malloy, station agent; F. M. Cole, office agent for thirty years.

M. C. M. TOO MUCH FOR K. OF C. FIVE

Last Year's Basketball Champions Defeated Last Evening by 31 to 22 Score.

For the first time in two years, the Knights of Columbus basketball team was defeated on its own floor last evening, the victorious opponents being the Michigan College of Mines five. The final score was 31 and 22. The crowd in attendance is believed to have been the largest that ever attended a basketball game in Legion hall, and the players on both sides were greatly handicapped by the many people on the sidelines.

The defeat of the K. of C. five was due to the better physical condition of the Houghton players and to the brilliant work of the M. C. M. center, Dempsey, who was in the game every minute and who made a half dozen clean baskets from the center of the hall. Dempsey's accuracy in throwing baskets was really the sensational feature of the game, which was one of the best ever played in this city.

During the first half it was nip and tuck all the way and the period ended with the score a tie, 13 to 13. In the second half the superior condition of the visitors began to tell, and the defensive work of the locals was less vigorous. The M. C. M. defense, on the other hand, continued almost impregnable until the last while of the game, when the K. C.'s made only one goal, the other seven points recorded being made on free throws after fouls had been called. Considering that the K. C.'s have done but little practicing this year and that the lineup is slightly different from last year, the Marquette boys made a very creditable showing.

In Dempsey, the K. C.'s lanky center, Joe Ring, found a foeman worthy of his steel. Though Ring was several inches taller than his opponent, Dempsey was enough quicker and had enough greater endurance to offset the disadvantage of undersize. The duel between the two centers was one of the most interesting features of the game.

In the first half each team made four baskets and each added five points on fouls. In the second period the visitors made eight goals, five of which were negotiated by Dempsey and were long throws of the sensational center.

The two teams lined up as follows: Knights of Columbus—Ring, center; Connell and Layne, forwards; Meyers and Christensen, guards.

M. C. M.—Dempsey, center; Sparks, Pryor and Perkins, forwards; Newkirk and Thibier, guards.

After the game a dancing party was greatly enjoyed. The evening was enlivened by the presence of about twenty-five students from the Houghton mining school, who lustily cheered for their team during the game. The students will inspect the Pioneer furnace today.
