WERE VERY MUCH IN EARNEST.

The State Republican, published at Lansing, has this to say editorially of the hearing given representatives of the manufacturing interests of the state by the commission on tax inquiry at Lansing Wednesday last on the scheme proposed by the commission for state taxation of corporations:

The significant thing about the hearing Wednesday on the tentative report of the state commission of tax inquiry was the emphatic expression of belief by the hundreds of business men present that the taxation plan proposed is unfair. It was not so much by what their representatives said that this attitude was made clear, as by the quick outbursts of applause any time a speaker made the charge that the corporate excess tax would be inequitable and unfair.

The members of the commission offered those present no explanation or defense of the plan and the business men left jubilant in the belief they had convinced the commission that that feature of the report should be abandoned. Whether they have cause for that opinion will not be determined until the final report becomes public. The business interests of the state are convinced that a tax on the so-called corporate excess would be simply forcing them to bear the state burden in addition to paying local taxes.

The large number who attended the hearing gave to the commission the best evidence of the interest which has been aroused over the matter and must have convinced the members that unless they are confident they can swing public opinion there is little use of recommending the plan to the legislature, for the array of men here Wednesday in their present frame of mind is of sufficient political importance to easily prevent the enactment of a law establishing the system.

The commission has brought out the fact that undervaluation of property is general throughout the state; it has also concentrated attention on the necessity of assessing all property at its true cash value if there is to be equal taxation under the present system. In that regard alone the work has been more than worth while, but if the commission can find an equitable way of providing for state expenses without the state retaining the present state equalization fund, a great reform will be accomplished. Incidentally, the railroads and other public service corporations taxed under the ad valorem system are made glad by the situation. The plan of the board of state tax commissioners to industriously seek to bring all property to a cash value standard will result in a lower average rate for assessing the corporations of that class.

AGREES WITH ROOSEVELT.

Saturday was Andrew Carnegie's seventy-sixth birthday and he spent it at his Fifth Avenue home in New York. To a reporter who saw him he discoursed sagely on the proper course for a young man to pursue if he would make a success in life, pointing the moral of his observations with a brief outline of his own early career. Then he turned to the trust problem and its solution, which he disposed of in three short sentences, here given: "It is easily solved. An interstate commerce commission should regulate the railroads and give the maximum price for labor. That would settle it." His idea of an industrial commission corresponds with that advanced by Roosevelt, he declared. Continuing, he said: "I have a few words to say about the contributing editor: His articles are confused. He jumps from one part of the problem to another. I want it said that his idea of an industrial commission is also my idea. But still he splurges. I tell him that to his face. I say, 'Roosevelt, you're a great man, but you let it go at that.'"

DEPENDS ON THE MAN.

Governor Osborn must have taken the hearts of the Hoosiers by storm when he visited their state recently. Ever since the leading papers of the state have been booming him for the second place on the national Republican ticket. Taking note of the fact that his admirers in his home state do not take kindly to the idea of "shelving" the governor in that way, the South Bend (Ind.) Tribune argues that this would not necessarily follow. "Such a line of reasoning," it asserts, "is based on the timeworn theory that the vice presidency shelves a man so far as the future is concerned. It is true that, historically, there is some ground for this conclusion. The idea is, however, indefensible. It is particularly so in view of the growing belief that vice presidential nominees should always be of presidential calibre. The nomination of Governor Osborn for vice president, and a term in that office, might make him even a stronger candidate for popular favor in 1916."

The point is well made. No man who is not suitable for the first place on the ticket should be given the second, for there is always the possibility that the vice president may be called on to take the executive chair, with all the powers and responsibilities of that position devolving on him. Roosevelt was not shelved by being elected vice president, for in the next election he became the candidate of his party for the presidency and was elected to that office by the people. It all depends on the man. Unquestionably, "Sunny Jim" Sherman was put away for keeps when he was made vice president, but Governor Osborn is quite another kind of a proposition. There isn't a shelf big enough to hold him in the crowded rummage room where the political misfits are being constantly stored away.

PLEADS FOR DECENTY.

Bishop Chas. D. Williams, of the Episcopal church, Detroit, protests vigorously in a ringing letter published in Saturday Night against the reproduction in the Detroit daily papers of the testimony now being taken in the trial of the Kellogg divorce case, which he declares to be "probably the filthiest divorce suit that has dragged its slimy course through our courts for many a day." In view of the nature of much of the testimony given on the stand in this trial, Judge Donovan, presiding, ruled that no persons under eighteen years of age would be allowed in the court room while the trial was in progress. But the precaution taken by the judge to limit the harm to morality unceremoniously nauseating story must work is, as Bishop Williams says, "made of no avail by the action of our degraded and degenerate daily press," which places before the whole public in detail every day the prurient matter which Judge Donovan sought to keep from the knowledge of young persons of both sexes.

As Bishop Williams remarks, there is but one way to bring newspapers that subordinate decency in their news and editorial departments, to revenue-getting, and that is to punish them for their willingness to pander to the low tastes of degraded readers by making it count against their business interests. If moral people would refuse to buy such papers, or to deal with merchants who advertise in them, the managements would very soon learn that indecency doesn't pay and would censor the matter they publish accordingly.

The finding of the senate committee which has conducted the investigation into the means employed by "Uncle Ike" Stephenson to secure the seat he now holds in the U. S. senate, if it proves to be what forecasts of it indicate, will cause a broad, expansive smile to spread on the visages of persons familiar with the history of the campaign put up by the senator and his friends in that memorable contest. The committee finds, we are informed, that while there was an enormous expenditure of money none of it was paid out for votes, hence no cloud rests on the venerable Isaac's title to the seat. The lavish disbursement of cash by Mr. Stephenson through his agents did not, therefore, in the opinion of the senate committee, have any effect in determining the result, so was entirely useless, as he could have been elected without it. Furthermore, it was the primary system that was to blame for the distribution of Uncle Ike's dollars among the electorate of the state rather than his willingness to expend them in the effort to get another term in the senate. If the report of the committee proves to be as the dispatches from Washington forecast, the members of the committee will be entitled to rank among the great jokers of the age, though a goodly portion of the American people may find the humor of the production a bit too strong for them.

A young chap of but nineteen was brought to the penitentiary here a few days ago to serve a term of from six months to five years. He was sent up from one of the cities of the lower peninsula. His appearance was in his favor, giving no indication of the premature hardness that marks the precocious criminal. While questioning the young fellow relative to the influences that had led him into evil ways, the warden asked him if the judge who sentenced him had given any thought to suspending sentence and allowing him his liberty on probation instead of sending him to a penitentiary. "Yes, he said something about it," was the reply, "but he wouldn't do it 'cause so many that he had let go skipped." This serves to illustrate the necessity for exercising discretion in applying the probation law. Probably if this judge had been more careful in paroling men at the start he would not be so discouraged now. If used without wise discrimination, it will be so greatly abused that it will come to be regarded as an injudicious enactment and will fall into disuse. The same is true of the indeterminate sentence law. Both laws are of great value if judiciously administered and both can be robbed of their serviceableness through lack of care or want of sound judgment in their application.

It must give the people of Great Britain and Germany a thrill to now learn that "tween two days some months ago the two countries came within an ace of becoming involved in war with one another. The fact, if it is one, serves to show how little the people of countries ruled by a "governing class" know about what is going on in their affairs. But, for that matter, even in a republic the masses don't know much about what is happening up at the top, until after it has happened.

The war between the public prosecutor and police force on one side and the recalcitrant saloon men and Justice Jeffries on the other is convulsing Detroit. The forces that stand for law observance and decency are gaining ground steadily, however, and the hope may be safely indulged that when the trouble is over the slot machine will be out of business in that city, while the saloon dance halls and kindred places will have ceased to offend against morality and decency in flagrant defiance of the authorities. Prosecutor Shepherd's methods may be a trifle raw, but it cannot be denied that they are effective.

Isn't it somewhat absurd to say that the people will not vote money enough to adequately support the schools when they are now voluntarily taxing themselves for the larger part of what it costs to maintain them? And if they are relieved from paying state taxes will it make any difference if they pay into the school district treasury what they are now paying into the state treasury? It isn't where it goes that galls when it comes to paying taxes. Having to pay is what hurts.

Woodrow Wilson is coming to Michigan. He will spend two days in the state, visiting Detroit and Grand Rapids, and will be sumptuously and enthusiastically entertained by the "progressive" element in his party in both cities. The New Jersey candidate has a big following among the Democrats of Michigan and stands a fair show of having the Wolverine delegation in the national convention ranged behind his banner.

Now, then, you guessers: Who was the senator who wrote to Roosevelt a few days since offering to support him for the presidency if he would consent to become a candidate? If it was one who is hankering for the nomination himself it was a mighty shrewd play—or would it be if what the said senator was angling for was the support of some politician less astute than the sage of Oyster Bay.

The business concern that expects to build a success on its ability to hoodwink the public in any manner or degree for any considerable interval is foredoomed to failure. The public is a trifle slow about discovering that it is being imposed on, but it is sure to make the discovery in time and relentless in taking vengeance when it finally senses the imposition practiced on it.

Very few will hold it up against the Steel Corporation that it beat Rockefeller out of the cream of his bargain in those Mesaba ore lands. On the contrary, quite the reverse. It is emblematic of just fit and right that anybody who can turn the trick shall throw the hooks into the wily old oil king.

"Champ Clark says the Democrats will win in 1912 unless they nominate a man who will divide the party." Or if the Republicans don't buy 'em up. So their show isn't very promising after all—they split up and sell out so easily.

John Hays Hammond might just as well have kept his story about Oom Paul where it has lain all these years. The old Boer president is dead, and the rule, nil mortuis nisi bonum, is always a safe one to apply.

Thirteen football players dead and forty-seven suffering from serious injuries is the record for that game in this country during the year to date. Is it worth the price?

The "back to the farm" movement is getting under way. John L. Sullivan has become a husbandman and refuses to leave his fields to run for congress.

According to the story told by the Merritts of Duluth, Rockefeller's clerical agent was a more dangerous man to deal with than his lawyer.

SAVED MANY FROM DEATH. W. L. Mock, of Mock, Ark., believes he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business. "What I always like to do," he writes, "is to recommend Dr. King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard colds, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, la grippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well today because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe it's the best throat and lung medicine that's made." Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free of regular 50c or $1.00 bottle. Guaranteed by The Stafford Drug Co.

Four girls "we heart trouble" of so serious a nature that they cannot take gymnasium work, while seven are tubercular. Trollope was a great smoker and made no attempt to conceal the store of cigars in his library. One wall of the room was devoted to a row of separate cupboards, or bins, each with a separate glass door and filled with cigars stacked across each other like timber, so as to allow free circulation of air. On wet days the doors were kept closed, and on fine days were left open. A pointed stud was stuck into the wood above the door of the bin in use. As soon as a bin was emptied the stud was moved to above the next door, and the empty receptacle refilled from the big chest of cigars which Trollope obtained direct from Havana.—London Chronicle. Surrounding by flowers and the congratulatory messages of official and personal friends, United States Senator Shelby M. In his study the table was heaped at foot deep with newspapers commenting upon his recently published book, "Fifty Years of Public Service." Among them was a note of appreciation from Theodore Roosevelt, whom, in the preface, Mr. Cullom likens to Andrew Jackson in spite of the fact that the colonel never expressed little respect for "Old Hickory."

inches around the "waist," stands three feet nine inches high, and measures in circumference fifteen ten feet eight inches.—Strand Magazine. One wonders why so many novels are written. Yet consider the statement just made by the managers of the play adapted from "Ben Hur." They have paid $250,000 in royalties to the estate of its author and expect to pay much more before the public tires of it. The book itself has had a sale of over a million copies, never in a cheap form, and has probably earned another quarter of a million for the author. "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," a little book of only 20,000 words, has paid to its author as book and play about $10 a word, and "David Harum" produced a fortune for the heirs of the man who wrote it. Aside from the glory of satisfaction, every novelist, whether man or woman, is expecting to create some day a "Ben Hur" or "David Harum."—New York World. Comparative statistics regarding the state's health are given in a bulletin issued by the Michigan health department. The average in 1908-1910 was: January 227, February 192, March 208, while this year, during the same months were: January 308, February 307, March 308. Tuberculosis finds more victims during March, April and May of each year. Comparative figures for these months are: 1910, March 292, April 170, May 182; 1911, March 216, April 140, May 184. Diphtheria victims are most numerous during the winter months. In January, 1908, 1909 and 1910 the average was 298, while this year there were 260. The figures for October this year showed 451 cases, compared with 323 during the same months in the three previous years. Measles get more victims the first six months of each year. Judge Streeter has set next Friday as the time for hearing the arguments on the motion for a new trial in the case of Mrs. Gustava Rastella vs. John Maki, the Michigan Bonding & Surety company, and the others.

Preserving Trial Records. The fact that Court Reporter Ingram has been asked to furnish the defense in this case with a complete transcript of the record makes interesting a new departure of that official.

The reporter's notes are the record and the only record of what took place in the trial. It is only in a small minority of the cases tried that he has to transcribe these notes, as in cases that are appealed or have new trials granted.

It is not unlikely that the most important matter, at least the most interesting to the public, at the hearing of court will be the case of Matti Hendrickson, charged with the murder of Mrs. Ida Kaarela of St. Mary's three weeks ago.

Baseball Pictures at Grand—Local baseball fans were much interested in the moving pictures of the recent world's championship baseball games between New York and Philadelphia, which were shown at the Grand theater yesterday afternoon and last evening. The pictures gave an excellent idea of some of the famous plays of the series, the views taken above the Philadelphia baseball park, showing the entire field in panorama, being especially thrilling and exciting.

Firemen's Dance Next—One of the important social events of this week will be the annual firemen's ball, which will take place at Fraternity Hall Wednesday evening. The story in song continues with a description of the orphan's career and hardships, which is said to make a most pathetic story which will prove very interesting. Tickets are now being sold by officers and members of the Army.

WEDDED YESTERDAY.

Roberts-Messier Nuptials Solemnized at St. John's Church.

Miss Agnes Messier, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. King Messier, of this city, and Elrich Roberts, of Negaunee, were united in marriage yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at the St. John's Catholic church, Rev. Fr. Jolocy officiating. Miss Louise Jacobs, of Ishpeming, attended the bride and J. E. Roberts, a brother of the groom, acted as best man.

A wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 925 W. Washington street, which was profusely decorated with chrysanthemums and ground pine. The bride was attired in a beautiful empress gown of pearl gray with veiling and carried a bouquet of white roses. Only the relatives and immediate friends were present.

The couple left on the evening train for Negaunee, where another reception was tendered them last evening at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roberts. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts will make their home at Negaunee.

MUST KNOW AT ONCE.

Those Who Will Attend U. P. Press Meeting Should Notify P. O'Brien.

The Mining Journal received a telephone message from P. O'Brien secretary of the Lake Superior Press association and editor of the Iron River Reporter, stating that he has less than ten upper peninsula editors had notified him of their intention to attend the proposed meeting of the association in Chicago next Monday and Tuesday. It is thought that many more than that number from the newspaper fraternity will take advantage of the opportunity to see the live stock show and the irrigation congress, and Mr. O'Brien urgently requests that all who will be in Chicago at that time notify him of their intention at once.

Unless a larger number signify their intention of attending the meeting in Chicago, Mr. O'Brien states that it will be necessary to call it off altogether. Unusual efforts have been made to secure a good program and several addresses well worth hearing will be given. The time of the men who have been engaged to speak before the upper peninsula editors, however, is valuable, and Mr. O'Brien does not care to ask them for that favor unless he is assured of a representative attendance.

MAKE CHANGE NEXT SUNDAY.

New Dam on Dead River Will Be Put Into Service at that Time.

Taking advantage of the mild weather of the last few days, Powell & Mitchell have been rushing the concrete work at the new dam on Dead river building for the light and power commission, with the result that the structure is nearly finished and it is planned to turn over the water into the new dam next Sunday. The contractors are under contract to make the change in thirty-six hours and some fast work will be necessary to do it in that time.

While the change is being made it will be necessary to shut down the larger generating unit and the city will be dependent upon the small generator for lights until the change is made. It is expected to begin the work about midnight Saturday night and it should be completed before noon on Monday. The work of making the change will be under the direct supervision of Engineer Gochmuer, representing the light and power commission.

It is not expected that the dam will be entirely completed this week, but the work will be far enough along so that the water can be turned into it. A few men will probably be kept at work for some time before the contract is finished entirely. The new dam will afford sufficient head of water to run the city electric plant or week without any additional supply from the river above.

ARCTIC EXPLORER WRITES OF ESKIMO TRIBE NEVER BEFORE VISITED BY A WHITE MAN.

Winnipeg, Manitoba, Nov. 27.—The Winnipeg Historical society has received a letter which has created much interest. It is from V. Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, and it describes how this intrepid traveler of the Far North had lived with a race of Eskimos, many of whom had never seen a white man. Stefansson says he visited over five hundred uncivilized Eskimos, nearly all of whom had never seen a white man, yet who were more admirable in character and in deportment than civilized people generally are.

Some time ago a letter reached New York, telling of these Eskimos, and now the explorer, who has been gone over two years, supplies additional details in a letter which was written June 24, this year. The letter was written at Langton bay, in a corner of Franklin bay. Of the five hundred Eskimos, two hundred had never seen a white man, nor had their ancestors. About one hundred and fifty had seen white men only once before. These had once visited a schooner near Victoria island in 1906. None of these Eskimos had guns and three-fourths of them had never heard the report of a gun.

Lower State Notes

OWOSSO—An epidemic of smallpox has broken out at Shattsburg, a small village south of here, and all schools have been closed and no church services will be held until the plague is stamped out.

OWOSSO—Six boys living in Ovid were caught playing cards in the Young Men's Christian League rooms Sunday night and as a result that little village has been all agog. Prosecutions have been threatened, but the matter has been settled by each of the boys paying $5 into the treasury of the league, because "the league needed it."

KALAMAZOO—Already held tight by a potato trust Kalamazoo is now threatened by milk dealers, who intend to advance the price of milk from seven to eight cents a quart. Potatoes have been selling from twenty-five to fifty cents a bushel higher here than in any other place in the state. Now the milk dealers want to form a "combine."

IONIA—Bert Hackathorn, proprietor, and Charles Stewart, clerk of the hotel, have been arrested here on warrants charging them with violating the local option law. Sheriff Taylor confiscated a barrel of beer bottles and a small quantity of liquor. Both gave bail to appear for examination Dec. 1.

GRAND RAPIDS—When Michael Krakowski, an employe of the American Box Boarding company, died some time ago his entire estate amounted to $1.20, which was due him from the company. Several creditors claimed this amount and as the company did not care to divide it, the matter was taken into probate court. An administrator has been appointed and the amount will now be divided as equitably as possible.

CHEBOYGAN—Aug. Carlson, charged with manslaughter, was acquitted in the circuit court. Carlson shot his cousin, Otto Carlson, while hunting some time ago and was released when the coroner's jury directed that death was accidental. The neighbors were not satisfied and he was re-arrested on a charge of manslaughter. The case occupied only one court day.

IONIA—George Austin, a Pere Marquette railroad conductor, on trial here for the alleged embezzlement of car fares, was acquitted by a jury in the circuit court. About $300 was alleged to have been embezzled, but the evidence showed that Austin intended to misappropriate the money, which the company owed Austin. He merely held it back pending a settlement, keeping all his cash slips and reports, which he made no effort to conceal.

LUDINGTON—As a result of an increase in the rules of the Knights of the Modern Maccabees it is possible the Ludington ten will sever its connection with the parent order. The knights here have already begun to test the right of the head camp to enforce the increase it has established and if it is shown the legal right for the increase exists, then the break will be made. In that event a local independent order will be organized, among several hundred Maccabees in this city.

CADILLAC—Bert Osterhout, a former railroad conductor, on the Pere Marquette railroad, has received a check for $7,500 in settlement for injuries received in a wreck at Ellendale several months ago, when he was severely scalded that for many days his life was despaired of. His wife and two other members of his family submitted to the removal of sheets of skin from their bodies to be grafted upon burned portions of his body. Osterhout now wears a gutta serena face. He will be permanently incapacitated.

HOLLAND—Rev. and Mrs. Elisha C. Wright have just observed the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage. They celebrated at the home of their children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright. Two days before Mr. Wright reached his eighty-third birthday anniversary. Mrs. Wright is three years his junior. Mr. Wright was born in New York state and Mrs. Wright in Vermont. Their marriage took place in 1851 at Lochee, Mich. Mr. Wright became a preacher when twenty-five years old, and was active in the pulpit for forty years. Since retiring from active service he has owned and operated a mill at Howell. Mr. Wright was a member of Company G, Fifth Michigan infantry, in the Civil war and became a sergeant. The couple are the parents of ten children.

PONTIAC—In dismissing the bill for divorce filed by Samuel Anderson of Orion and also the cross-bill filed by his wife, Judge Smith in the circuit court declared that the divorce laws are not for the purpose of separating couples after trivial quarrels, but are intended to enable the innocent partner, who has been wronged, to secure their release from an intolerable life and to lessen the number of persons in a community who are neither married nor single. He declared that the charges made were greatly exaggerated and not well substantiated. In conclusion, the court stated: "Without intending any reflection upon any one attorney, I express the sincere belief that the members of this bar ought not to take the time of the court to hear such cases, nor ask for a decree. If they do they may expect to take them to the supreme court to secure one."

KALAMAZOO—The death of J. Gore Galleher, the doctor who predicted his own death, has revealed the fact that he was leading a dual life. Galleher was engaged to marry a Kalamazoo girl named Miss Bennett Kennedy. The wedding was to take place the last of this month, it is said. Since his death it has been learned that Galleher had a wife living in Fort Wayne, Ind., and that he spent a portion of each week at his home in that city. A daughter is said to reside in Detroit. Galleher came here six years ago from Fort Wayne and always posed as a single man. Although he was nearly sixty years of age, he fell in love with Miss Kennedy, a girl of twenty-one, and was her constant companion until his death. It was at her home that he died. Miss Kennedy is prostrated over the affair.

LANSING—A "holiday fire bulletin" is being sent out by Insurance Commissioner Palmer, as state marshal. The bulletin warns officials of the dangers through the careless handling of electric wiring and inflammable material during the Christmas season. It prohibits the use of tissue paper, cotton and other inflammable materials near open gas jets and in wrapping electric light bulbs. "The decoration of Christmas trees in public places with any of these materials is considered a crime by this department and you are requested to urge people to refrain from its use," reads the bulletin.

ARIZONA COMMERCIAL.

With Arizona Commercial stock selling at ten cents per share, the equity—there is a $1,000,000 mortgage on the property—is given a value of but $12,000. This is the equity which only a comparatively short while ago was selling in the stock market for $60,000,000. The 3 per cent. bonds are quoted at 40, and at this price the $1,000,000 bonds are worth $400,000, or a total of $412,000 for the entire property. It is said that at the foreclosure sale there are parties, other than the reorganization committee, who stand ready to bid $50,000 for the property. If such a bid materializes, it would, of course, give the bonds a valuation of 50, against current price of 40. The reorganization committee has met with a very gratifying response to its plan. Of the bonds there have been deposited, $807,500, with $49,000 more on the way, a total of $856,500. Of the 120,000 shares of stock 99,700 have been deposited. When the new company starts out it will have a working capital after underwriting and reorganization expenses, of about $200,000. It will have no bonds, 260,000 shares of outstanding stock and 40,000 shares in the treasury upon which an option has been given.

ST. MARY'S MINERAL LAND.

There are no unusual developments in the affairs of the St. Mary's Mineral Land company to occasion the advance in the stock from $42. The only logical reason that may be advanced is that the company has paid $3 in dividends this year and the same amount in 1912. This might be argued to justify a price better than $50 a share for the stock on basis of the market price for other $3 dividend stocks, such as Copper Range and Utah Copper. The St. Mary's Mineral Land company as the owner of about 115,000 shares of stock in ten different copper companies, has improved its financial position by the recent improvement in the coppers. For instance, the advance in Hancock in the past two months has alone added $100,000 to the value of St. Mary's assets as the holder of 20,000 shares. The present price for St. Mary's stock is practically the same as a year ago.

NOTES OF MINING NEWS.

Victoria No. 6 shaft, which recently entered copper ground at a depth of about 800 feet, is cutting a plat at what corresponds to the eleventh level of the old workings. A fair showing of copper is being had.

The Quincy dividend of $1 a share is payable Dec. 23 to stock of record Dec. 1. With the payment of this dividend, Quincy stockholders will have received $19,280,000 in dividends since the formation of the company.

New Baltic's exploratory shaft has attained a depth of 500 feet where a plat is being cut preliminary to drifting. A lateral will be sent north at this depth to intersect the copper course opened in that direction on the 300-foot level in which a remarkably good showing is made.

The hydraulic machine which is to do all the prospecting work on Nipissing next year was tried successfully recently. It threw a stream of 4,800 gallons per minute with a head of 415 feet. It will be driven by a 650-horse power motor installed on Gault lake.

Tamarack has now reached a point where operating losses are said to be turning to a profit. This condition has been made possible by the discontinuation of all development work and confining operations to production alone. Tamarack is now shipping about 1,400 tons of rock daily to its mill. The mine is opened up well ahead and this increased production can be brought about with but little difficulty. The company has laid off a number of its surface employes and in other respects has curtailed expenses.

The Royale is in good copper ground in the old Huron acreage. Drifts south from No. 2 shaft and north from No. 4 shaft on second, third and fourth levels are each faced in copper. The furon workings between these faces have been unwatered below these depths and are slowly being drained of the balance of water which has long occupied them.

Centennial is now operating shafts Nos. 1 and 2 and in the latter is getting under the reef course of ground being opened by Wolverine. Both shafts are well equipped. No. 1 is bottomed at the 3200-foot level, and No. 2 is 3400 feet deep. The shafts are only ninety-three feet apart on surface and diverge as depth is attained at the rate of about twenty-five feet to each level. The company is working an average of twelve drills daily. Production is not being forced, due largely to the fact that until recently the metal market precluded the possibility of Centennial making any money on its output.

Some negotiations are understood to have taken place this week in connection with a possible sale of the Live Oak property to the Miami Copper company, and rumor has it that an offer of 30 in new Miami 6 per cent. bonds was to have been made. There has seemingly been a halt in the negotiations, and it is barely possible that the consolidation in the Southwest will involve additional properties.

Upon orders received from headquarters, the Keweenaw Copper mine was closed down yesterday, and the rails are being taken up from the Mandan shaft of the property, says the Keweenaw Miner. The supplies are to be shipped to Phoenix, and nothing is known as to the future operations at the property until after the meeting to be held some time next month, when plans for the future operations of the company will be decided upon.

John D. Ryan and associates are understood to have secured control of the Live Oak Development company. Negotiations were under way for some time as the result of an offer made by the Miami Copper company to pay $30 a share for Live Oak stock, in Miami bonds at par, but apparently the Ryan interests made a better bid, as Miami's offer was refused. The Amalgamated interests will therefore enter the porphyry camp of Arizona and already as a result Facts About Indigestion and Its Relief That Should Interest You.

Although Indigestion and Dyspepsia are so prevalent, most people do not thoroughly understand their cause and cure. There is no reason why most people should not eat anything they desire—if they will only chew it carefully and thoroughly. Many actually starve themselves into sickness through fear of eating every good-looking, good-smelling, and good tasting food, because it does not agree with them.

The best thing to do is to fit yourself to digest any good food. We believe we can relieve Dyspepsia. We are so confident of this fact that we guarantee and promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to every one who will use it, who is not perfectly satisfied with the results which it produces. We exact no promises, and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely, nothing could be fairer. We are located right here and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of our offer.

We want every one troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and buy a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Take them home and give them a reasonable trial according to directions. Then, if not satisfied, come to us, and get your money back. They are very pleasant to take, they aid to soothe the irritable stomach, to strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, and to promote a healthy and natural bowel action, thus leading to perfect and healthy digestion and assimilation.

A 25c. package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets furnishes 15 days' treatment. In ordinary cases, this is sufficient to produce a cure. In more chronic cases, a longer treatment, of course, is necessary, and depends upon the severity of the trouble. For such cases, we have two larger sizes which sell for 50c. and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Stafford Drug Co.

of conferences between Mr. Ryan and W. R. Thompson, president of the Inspiration Copper company, the belief is grown that a merger between this property and Live Oak will be brought about. During the summer a merger between Miami and Inspiration was pending, but these negotiations were broken off owing to inability to agree on terms.

From the low of 1911, the market value of thirty-seven representative Boston copper shares has appreciated $134,664,957. The advance in Amalgamated, representing an appreciation of $30,849,180, stands out prominently, as does the appreciation of $22,559,331 in Utah Copper. From the low of 1911 Wolverine and Osceola have each advanced 17 points; Alouez, 16; Calumet & Hecla, 50; Lake and Mohawk, 13 each; Copper Range, 13 1/4; Old Dominion, 12 1/2, and Quincy, 11 points. This advance has been brought about within a period of from two to three months as with a few exceptions, the current year's low prices were invariably recorded during either August or September.

Ile Royale has succeeded in reducing its mining costs to a point where something other than unprofitable operations will mark its future career. From thoroughly reliable sources it is learned that during October the company made its copper at a cost of 8 1/2 cents at the mine, a figure that compares most favorably with many of the low-cost producers of this district. Eastern expenses, including transportation and selling commissions will bring the total cost up to ten cents, which compares with 11 1/2 cents during 1910.

OUTPUT OF LIQUORS THE PAST FISCAL YEAR EXCELLED ALL RECORDS.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The annual report of R. E. Cabell, commissioner of internal revenue, makes several startling declarations.

All records were broken in the past fiscal year in the production of alcoholic liquors. The internal revenue receipts were $329,526,290, the greatest in the history of the government.

The corporations making returns under the new corporation tax law numbered 270,202, with an aggregate capital of $67,886,430,519. The aggregate net income to the stockholders was $3,360,250,642.

The year's production of distilled spirits amounted to $175,423,395 gallons, nearly seven million gallons more than in the previous banner year of 1907. The production of beer, ale, etc., amounted to $63,216,851 barrels, nearly four million barrels more than in the previous record year of 1910.

(Official.)

Marquette, Mich., Nov. 20th, 1911. An adjourned regular session of the common council was called to order at 8 o'clock p. m. by the mayor, the Hon. John H. Jankovic.

Present—Aldermen—Astre, Donovan, Ekstrom, Fassbender, Hennessy, Madigan, Schauer and Seully—8.

The record of the session of November 6th, approved. The bill of Wm. Henry for janitor's services at City Hall, amount $32.06, was presented, and, on motion of Alderman Astre, allowed and paid.

The recorder submitted Special Concrete Sidewalk Assessment Roll No. 20. The recorder presented proof by affidavit of Ed. J. Madigan of the due publication of notice by the recorder of the making of Special Concrete Sidewalk Assessment Roll No. 20 for the cost and expense of the construction of concrete sidewalks in front of and adjoining private lots and premises in the city, that the same was on file with the controller for public examination; which affidavit was placed on file.

Opportunity was then given for all persons interested in said assessments to be heard in relation thereto.

All the assessments on said roll were then separately reviewed, corrected and approved to the satisfaction of the council, and nothing was known as to the future operations at the property until after the meeting to be held some time next month, when plans for the future operations of the company will be decided upon.

Whereas, All persons interested in said assessment roll and the properties therein having been given an opportunity to be heard in relation thereto, and the same having been fully considered, and all useful revision and correction of said roll having been made to the satisfaction of the council, and the amounts of the several assessments as revised and corrected and approved by the common council have been extended and set down in a separate column thereof.

TURKEYS REASONABLE IN LOCAL MARKETS

Two Dealers Announce a Price of Twenty Cents a Pound for Thanksgiving.

The Thanksgiving dinners of the residents of Ishpeeming will cost less than was anticipated a few days ago, when it was learned that turkeys were selling at from twenty-one to twenty-two cents per pound, wholesale. A couple of the local merchants are offering turkey at twenty cents per pound. F. Braastad & Co. made this announcement in yesterday's issue of The Mining Journal, and those familiar with poultry market conditions were surprised to find them offered at such a reasonable figure. In today's issue the A. W. Myers Mercantile company announce that they also are selling Thanksgiving turkey at twenty cents per pound.

F. Braastad & Co. yesterday received a great many orders for turkey, but Mr. Braastad last evening stated that he is prepared to supply an unusual demand, as he has purchased several thousand pounds of choice stock. Many of the turkeys that will furnish the greater part of the Thanksgiving meal in some of the Ishpeeming homes, were on display yesterday in the markets and they are choice birds. Some of the local dealers were yesterday holding their turkey at twenty-two cents per pound, while on Saturday they sold at twenty-four cents. One dealer remarked that even at twenty-two cents he would not play even, as he paid that price wholesale.

The weather the past few days has been decidedly against the poultry market, and it is expected that a great many turkeys, chicken, ducks and geese that were held by the farmers and commission men will now be thrown on the market, but it is doubtful if turkeys will sell anywhere in the upper peninsula below twenty cents, while from twenty-three to twenty-five cents will be the prevailing price in many places. Turkey at twenty cents per pound is a lower price than that paid last year. A great many thousand pounds will be disposed of here, as at this price people can afford to buy them, while at twenty-five cents they would be considered a luxury. One of the dealers, yesterday stated that a great many chicken will be sold for Thanksgiving and he also said that there is a fair demand for ducks and geese, which, it is expected, will be sold as cheap, proportionately, as turkey.

Braastad & Co.'s store for some time prior to about a year ago, when he resigned. The groom is one of Negaunee's prominent business men, being at the head of the plumbing firm of P. Barasa & Co. They will make their home in Negaunee.

ROLLER SKATER A MARVEL.

A crowd of good-sized proportions was present at the Elite roller rink last evening to see Professor T. A. Turner perform on skates. The spectators found the program to be a veritable marvel. The exhibition was first class. One of the feats of the performer was to jump over twelve chairs. Another one was a spinning act. In this act the professor, with a chair suspended from his teeth, spun for four minutes, making seven revolutions, each second, or more than sixteen hundred altogether. Professor Turner will appear at the rink each night this week. Thursday afternoon at 3:30.

Rev. Fred W. Wyman of Malmo, Neb., has accepted the pastorate of the Swedish Lutheran church in this city, though he will not take charge of the congregation until some time next spring. This announcement was read at the church meetings Sunday. The call was extended to Rev. Wyman about three weeks ago, and a few weeks ago he spent a couple of days in the city, preaching two sermons while here.

Rev. O. A. Landell of Ogemaw, Wis., who is in charge of the church work here temporarily, has moved his family into the parsonage and he will remain until Rev. Wyman's arrival. Rev. Wyman has been pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church at Malmo for the past seven years, since he was ordained from the Lutheran seminary at Rock Island, Ill. He is well liked by his parishioners, and the people generally have expressed regret at his decision to leave there. He is married and has two children.

HELP THE CLERKS BY SHOPPING EARLY

Advantages of Early Christmas Buying Are Many and Folks Should Observe Them.

The holiday business has been fairly launched in Ishpeeming, and according to the local merchants sales of gift goods are increasing rapidly. The holiday shoppers who buy now will make their selections from unbroken stocks. It is already obvious that the Ishpeeming merchants will enjoy a good holiday business. Most of the merchants now have at least a portion of their goods on display, while others will be showing their complete lines before the close of this week. There has been more or less demand for holiday goods for nearly a month past and a number of the dealers have already set aside many goods that will bring cheer to the hearts of Ishpeeming people at the Christmas time.

Holiday shoppers who buy early will save the merchants and their clerks a great deal of worry and hard labor during the closing days of the buying season. The great army of employees in the stores will appreciate the presence of the early shoppers and they will do more to aid those who come early to make their selections than would be possible for them to do later in the season.

Any move that can be instituted to get people to buy early will be appreciated by the merchants and their employees. If the ladies of Ishpeeming and vicinity could be made to realize how much inconvenience and worry they would escape were they to do their shopping at times during the day when there is no rush on, they would adopt that plan. There are times in every day, even during the busiest season, when the clerks are not rushed, and it is at these hours that the employees would appreciate the visits of patrons. Usually between the hours of 11 and 12 and 5 to 7, when some of the clerks are off for their meals, the crowds in the stores are the largest. According to the clerks, the best time to do holiday shopping is between 8 and 11 a. m. and 1 and 4 p. m.

Speaking of the worries of a clerk, an employee of one of the stores, yesterday said: "It is hard work to stand up all day and the clerks become tired and irritable as the time wears on, and are not in the mood to take the trouble and pains to show goods to the day, and as the earlier hours we are really as interested as the buyers and gladly offer suggestions and display our different lines. The trouble is that many women who don't wish to be hard on the clerks are nevertheless very kind and only human; we can and will help if the patrons will only try to make it easier for us, and they could do this if they wouldn't try to cram all their trading into the last three hours of the day."

"If I were going to buy goods there are many reasons why I would go to the stores early in the morning, or early in the afternoon. I have seen customers come in about 11:30 in the morning, when half the clerks were at lunch, and when a clerk was waiting on a customer the other customer would be come impatient and walk up to them and stand by and listen to the conversation. The first customer would then become nervous, or finally make a hurried purchase, or say she would come back again. The time to buy is when the store has its full force of clerks, in the middle of the forenoon or the middle of the afternoon."

"It is a mistake for people to delay doing their holiday shopping until the last week or so. The clerks are then all worn out and of course the stocks are badly broken and the stores jammed with buyers. I can see many reasons why it is to the advantage of people to do their Christmas shopping early. By doing this we will have an opportunity to examine the different stocks carefully and have the goods delivered at any time they desire. By buying early the customers will be better satisfied as they will have the knowledge that they made their purchases to the best possible advantage."

"If our women patrons only knew how much we appreciate early holiday shopping they would not let their purchases go until the week before Christmas, and we will all be glad if the holiday rush would start now and end in time to give the clerks and the merchants time to rest up a little before Christmas, so that they could enjoy the holidays the same as other people."

Duluth on the night following the Zbyszko-Lehto match here, and the lovers of the sport believe they will be able to judge whether Lehto or Pilakoff is the better wrestler by the showing each will make against the big Polish giant. Lehto is said to have improved a great deal in his mat work during the past year, and that he is now considered ably heavier than he was when he wrestled in this city on last Washington's birthday, defeating Kalla Pasha, a big Chicago wrestler, who outweighed him some thirty pounds. The admission prices for the Lehto-Zbyszko match will be $1 for all lower floor and balcony seats; seventy-five cents for gallery; and $1.50 for ring-side seats. Seat orders

Ishpeming PULP WOOD BRINGING STARVATION PRICE

Operator Claims That Pulp Wood Trust Has Killed the Industry in This Section.

“While the federal authorities are in the ‘trust busting’ business, they should turn the search light on the pulp trust, which, in my opinion, has been operating in the United States for the past four or five years,” said a prominent timber dealer yesterday. “This pulp trust, or whatever you may call it, is doing a great deal of injury to the small operators and owners of spruce stumpsage, not only in the upper peninsula, but in other sections, where this grade of timber is available.

“The price of pulpwood has been dropping gradually each year since 1907, while that of products of the paper mills is being increased. It is my opinion that the pulp people, judging from the prices charged for paper, could afford to pay $12 a cord for spruce instead of $5.25 or $5.50, the prices now prevailing. With the high values that are placed on spruce and other stumpage in this section, none of the operators can make money, or even make a decent living, at prices now being offered for the timber.

“The large operator has a better chance to pull out a small profit on his pulpwood than has the smaller dealer, as the trust is paying the big fellow twenty-five cents per cord more than the small jobbers receive. The latter are being paid off at the rate of $5.25 per cord for spruce delivered on cars.

“During the years 1906 and 1907, the operators received $7.75 per cord for their pulpwood. This being the highest price that the jobbers of the upper peninsula have ever been paid for this timber. The average price of the paper mill products have been advanced from 25 to 50 per cent, while the charges on spruce stumpage has increased more than 100 per cent. In 1906 and 1907, good spruce stumpage could be bought for from fifty to seventy-five cents per cord, while at present the operators are obliged to pay from $1.50 to $2 per cord for it, and in most cases the timber is much farther away from the shipping point than it was four years ago. This also adding to the operating expenses.

Stumpage Prices Exorbitant.

“The prices now asked for stumpage of all kinds in the upper peninsula is exorbitant, and until the owners of timber lands come down on their figures, lumber of all kinds will continue high. The state tax commission which has been boosting the valuations on mines and other properties, would do well to look into those placed on timber lands, especially by parties who have tracts to sell. If the commission should tax these land owners in proportion to what they ask for their stumpage, they would be more willing to sell and the price would naturally come down. Stumpage that could be bought for from $500 to $800 per forty acres four years ago is now held at from $1,000 to $2,000.

“Timber operations in the upper peninsula, and especially in certain parts of it where the train service is inadequate, is now more expensive than a few years ago, when timber could be had nearer the railways. The scale of wages paid to workmen is now as high as it has ever been and with the increased cost of keeping horses the operators should get better prices for their timber than they received a few years ago.

“The pulp combination seems to have its game down to a science, as it does not work any district strong enough to place the jobbers in a position where they can demand better prices than are offered. The pulp men will buy fairly heavy in one district this year and in another the following year. On account of there being a number of paper mills in Wisconsin and Upper Michigan, more or less pulp timber is sold here every year, but in some of the more distant districts the operators get a chance to dispose of it only every second or third year. I know of quite a number of owners of pulp stumpage in this section who have positively refused to sell their timber at the prices offered by paper mill agents, and they intend to let their spruce stand until they can get better prices. Many of the larger dealers who are operating mills are cutting their spruce into lumber and bolts, rather than sell it at the going prices.”

Prices of Lumber Too Low.

The timber operators on the Menominee range are complaining about the low prices offered for timber of various grades. They report that the outlook for logging and lumbering in that section is not very bright. Up to this time not one of the old individual jobbers has started to work and they give as their reason that the price of logs is so low, and the price of stumpage and supplies so high, that it is utterly impossible to make both ends meet. The only parties operating in the Menominee district are those who own their stumpage and are in a position to get the timber on at a profit, or are working to keep their teams from ‘eating their heads off.’

The prices on various grades of timber quoted by a Menominee range operator are from $6.50 to $9.50 for hemlock, the latter price being for logs of extra length or of large size. The ordinary hemlock logs bring $6.50 per 1,000 feet; maple is quoted at $6.50 and birch in the larger logs at $11; basswood, $15; cedar, $9, and green pine, $20. Dry pine is not wanted.

Most of the mining companies operating in the Menominee field are this season cutting their own timber, instead of buying from the jobbers. A number of the corporations own stumpage in the district and they figure that they can get out the timber more cheaply with their own crews than by having the work done on contract. Sawyer-Goodman & Co. are at present the heaviest operators in the Menominee district. Besides getting out timber the company is also doing considerable railroad building, leading to its timber tracts.

One day last week Sawyer-Goodman & Co. shipped a carload of bird's eye maple from the Menominee range to Europe. The logs, which were a select lot, were cut near the Dunn mine. It is said that $25 per 1,000 feet was paid for the bird's eye maple stumpage. This price seems excessive but in view of the fact that this quality of timber is very scarce, the owners would not let it go for a lower figure.

It's Different. NO DUST. SHINE STAYS. BLACK SILK. STOVE POLISH. GET A CAN TODAY.

AN INSPIRATION IN SCRAPS. Adversity Mothered Queer Occupation When One Clever Woman Battled Wolves at Her Door.

In a small New England town there is a little woman—she is hardly so tall as the average girl at fourteen—who earns a good living for herself and several others by making small bags.

"My bags are all made of samples or mill ends, which are nothing more or less than manufacturers' scraps. I get them for very little compared with the price the same goods bring retail.

"I always was handy about using scraps," she explained to a visitor who asked how she established her business.

"Long ago I was a factory girl. I worked in the silk factory and used to make all sorts of pretty and useful things out of the bits of silk that were to be had for the asking in those days.

"Having made up my mind to what seemed my fate, I offered the place for sale and went into town and got work in the silk mills. I got the promise of employment to begin the following week.

"I stopped and asked the price of the house, and he told me such things. Naming his price the manager remarked that a good thing might be made through utilizing such scraps.

"That night I slept with the idea uppermost in my mind before going back up I got with the determination to make that lot of samples into bags and take them to the city. I did it in three days.

"I had enough orders when I went back home after two days in the city to stop at the silk mill and tell the manager that I wouldn't come back to work, but would like the refusal of all his mill ends and samples. I've been taking all the orders ever since.

"Very often some one pattern becomes a craze and then we have a time of it getting enough to fill orders from regular customers. I say we, because, of course, I don't begin to do all the work.

"I have five women whom I keep busy for as many more half the time. Some are plain bag makers just like myself, others do the braiding and fancy stitching, while still others only embroider.

"I had enough orders when I went back home after two days in the city to stop at the silk mill and tell the manager that I wouldn't come back to work, but would like the refusal of all his mill ends and samples.

Markets. WALL STREET STOCKS. Paine, Webber & Co. yesterday wired New York as follows: The market displayed considerable strength during the forenoon trading, due primarily to the higher range of prices for American issues in London and the absence of unfavorable occurrences over Sunday.

There was quite a little professional selling in an effort to dislodge long stock, on the theory that the president's message being filed with the government printers today marked the beginning of further political agitation.

It strikes us as likely to be much more of a two-sided affair than heretofore, but unless something decidedly adverse occurs, we would give preference to the long side on the declines.

The use of safeguards as a means of protection under existing conditions seems advisable. The day's prices were: Amalgam 63 1/2, N. Y. C. 107 1/2, Am. Loco 37, N. & W. 119 1/2, Am. Smelter 73 1/2, N. Pac 112 1/2, Anaconda 122 1/2, Reading 115 1/2, Atchafalaya 107 1/2, Rock 112 1/2, B. & O. 103 1/2, So. Ry 112 1/2, C. & O. 107 1/2, Pa. Ed. 112 1/2, Erie 112 1/2, Steel 112 1/2, Gr. North 127 1/2, Steel Pfd 106 1/2, U. S. Steel 112 1/2, Mo. Pac 29 1/2, Wabash Pfd. 21 1/2.

Of the market at Boston, Paine, Webber & Co. yesterday said: Coppers opened very strong, on the report of a further advance in metal, but the buying was not very aggressive and later in the day profit taking and liquidation caused a small reaction.

Isle Royale advanced to 27 1/2, with a later reaction to 26 1/2. The general situation is very much improved and we feel very bullish on the future of the copper, and look for at least a ten-point further advance with only small setbacks.

The closing prices were as follows: Adv. 5 1/2, Sup. 27 1/2, S. & B. 25 1/2, All 25 1/2, Tam 25 1/2, Erie 25 1/2, A. Com. 25 1/2, E. R. 25 1/2, B. & O. 25 1/2, C. & O. 25 1/2, Pa. Ed. 25 1/2, Erie 25 1/2, Steel 25 1/2, Gr. North 25 1/2, Steel Pfd 25 1/2, U. S. Steel 25 1/2, Mo. Pac 25 1/2, Wabash Pfd. 25 1/2.

Heinze, has been redeemed by the Heinze interests. Developments at Adventure during the course of the next few weeks should be interesting, as the company is driving a crosscut on the 1500 level for the purpose of intercepting what are known as the No. 2 and No. 3 veins. These veins lie 450 and 850 feet, respectively, from the shaft. Something over two years ago, Adventure obtained high mineralized ores from these veins in diamond drilling, and the new shaft was sunk with the sole purpose of exploring these veins. No. 1 vein was cut in the shaft, and while it showed some copper did not offer great encouragement. The company called an assessment of $1 a share last July, so that it is sufficiently financed for about another year.

SIX MIXED UP IN FREE-FOR-ALL FIGHT

Justice Argall Fined Crowd Who Kicked Up a Row at Palmer Saturday Night.

Six offenders were arraigned before Justice Argall yesterday morning and entered pleas of guilty to assault and battery and disorderly conduct. They were brought in from Palmer yesterday morning by Constable Frank Lequia, following a drunken brawl and a free-for-all fight in front of the town hall at 1 o'clock Sunday morning. The instigator of the trouble was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery and settled by paying a heavy fine. The others were fined lesser amounts for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

VENISON SHIPMENT CONFISCATED—
Deputy Game Warden John Andrews, Jr., confiscated a box of venison on late evening's Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul passenger train, between Channing and Iron Mountain, says the Iron Mountain Tribune-Gazette. The box contained ten pounds of meat. It was shipped from Loughton by E. Davids to E. Nicholls, Congress Hotel, a leading hostelry in Chicago. The game warden will shortly effect a settlement in court with the parties concerned for the infraction of the law.

Governor Fills Hunting License—
Governor Osborn has returned to the State from his hunting camp in the wilds of Chippewa county, making the hike of eight miles from camp to the railroad with a heavy pack on his back. He says that he has not felt as well or as strong in months and will return to his work with renewed vigor. The governor would have remained in the woods until the close of the hunting season, he said, had it not been for the fact that he is to act as host to the eleven governors of Western states who are coming to Michigan this week. The governor filled his hunting license early in the season, and remarked on his return that it was hard work to hold himself within the bounds of the game laws, as he had frequent opportunities to do otherwise.

WOODSMAN DIES IN SNOWBANK—
Booze and exposure were responsible for the death of Arthur King, who was found frozen near the old Cullum bridge, crossing the woods trail, in the snow and went to sleep. The night was bitterly cold and he perished from exposure. The other two men spent the night in the woods, but were sober enough to keep moving and thus kept themselves from freezing. King's body was brought to Negaunee and held for several days, pending an investigation and while inquiries were made for his relatives and friends. Nothing could be learned, however, and the body was buried at the expense of the county.

SICK CHILD DIES IN SLEIGH—
A pathetic demise in Delta county took place when the five-year-old son of William Weweker died of diphtheria in a sleigh while being taken to Escanaba for treatment. The little fellow had been ill two or three days and the father had gone to the city to consult a physician. From the symptoms as described by the father, the doctor judged the case to be one of diphtheria and so informed Mr. Weweker. He advised that the child be taken to Escanaba. The little boy was wrapped in warm clothes and placed in a sleigh at his home, about twelve miles out the Flat Rock road. The child appeared to be fairly well, but when the rig had reached Flat Rock, the little fellow spoke to his father and almost immediately expired. The parents wanted to have the body taken to Escanaba for burial, but Coroner Dube refused to allow this, on the grounds that it would be unlawful to take the remains of a person who had died of a contagious disease into the city. The body subsequently was interred in the graveyard at Flat Rock. Coroner Dube then superintended the funerals of the child.

Distressing Fatality at St. Ignace—
As already mentioned in these columns Frank O'Donnell of St. Ignace, father of Mrs. Patrick E. Gallagher, was found drowned in that city. He was discovered lying with his face downward, and in a few inches of water, in the lake in front of the Chicago Meat market. The body had been noticed earlier by longshoremen and others passing, who took it to be an old coat or some such object. Mr. Gallagher says the old man retired to rest early at night. He must have arisen and, being subject to spells in which he was irresponsible, wandered out, unheard by anyone, and got into the water and fell down. O'Donnell was a native of County Donegal, Ireland, coming to this country with his family some thirty years ago. He lived on Beaver Island for eight or nine years and there buried a son and finally his wife; after the death of the latter, he made his home with Mrs. Gallagher, with whom he lived for the past eighteen years. Besides this daughter, two others survive—Mrs. Jerry Brophy of Escanaba and Mrs. Rolo of Birch, near Marquette. The bereaved members of the family would like to transport the remains to Beaver Island to rest beside those of his wife and son, but the season of the year precludes this. The funeral took place at St. Ignace yesterday, with services in St. Ignace's church.

DECEMBER TERM OPENS MONDAY

Twenty-Nine Criminal Cases Are on the Docket, in Four of Which Murder or Manslaughter Is the Crime Charged—Long Session of Court Is in Prospect.

All of the Homicide Actions Likely to Go to Trial and to Be Bitterly Contested—Seven Charges of Theft of Various Kinds—Liquor Law Violations.

Twenty-nine criminal cases, in four of which either murder or manslaughter is charged, represents the alleged violations of the penal laws, which are to come up for hearing at the December term of circuit court, which opens next Monday. Besides the long list of criminal cases there are the usual number of civil and chancery actions, and everything points to one of the longest terms of court held in this county for some time.

It is almost certain that all four of the cases in which a human life is alleged to have been taken will be tried and that the allegations of the prosecution will be bitterly contested. There are seven cases in which the crime of larceny, robbery or burglary is charged and eleven alleged violations of the liquor laws. The offense in almost every liquor case is that of selling to minors, the officers at Ishpeming and Negaunee having rounded up a number of liquor dealers in an attempt to stop the practice of selling intoxicants to boys.

First of the murder cases on the calendar is that in which John McAuliffe is the defendant. McAuliffe is alleged to have killed James Gaffney, a Negaunee liquor dealer, and because of the prominence of the parties involved, the case will be followed with extraordinary interest. It is understood that McAuliffe's defense will be insanity, and if so, there is likely to be a good deal of expert testimony introduced, and the case may drag along for some time.

Much interest in Nadeau Case. Another of the murder cases comes from Negaunee, and it, too, will be followed with great interest. This is the case against William Nadeau, a former policeman, who is alleged to have shot and fatally wounded one Matt Saarikoski, a young miner who a short time before had been ordered off the streets and to his boarding place by the officer. There is a good deal of dispute as to who fired the shot in this case and a stubborn defense undoubtedly will be made.

In the third murder case John Tatta, of Diorite, is the defendant. It is alleged in this case that Tatta was the slayer of Benjamin Vono, the killing taking place at Diorite one Saturday night about the middle of September. While it is understood that a plea of not guilty will be entered, the theory of the defense in this case has not been outlined. As the parties in this case are not generally known throughout the county, it is not expected to attract the interest of the two previously outlined.

The fourth trial of the same character is an action for manslaughter, brought against Samuel P. Robinson, of Northland. Robinson was tried a year ago for the murder of Clement Schmidt, a homesteader near Northland, and was convicted by the jury of manslaughter. At the last term of court, he was granted a new trial by Judge Flammigan, who held that an error had been made in the court's charge to the jury at the first trial. Robinson has already served about a year in prison.

Following are the cases listed on the calendar:

SOME OF BENEFITS OF DETROIT CRUISE

E. P. Monteth Discusses Interestingly Boosting Upper Peninsula Movement.

"Since the Upper Peninsula Boosters' cruise to Detroit, Sept. 5, I have had many conversations with different people regarding its object—whether for business or pleasure exclusively or a combination of both," said E. P. Monteth, of this city, yesterday. "I have tried to give them the facts and to convince them that the trip was the opening wedge for a perfect understanding and more harmonious feeling between the citizens of the lower and upper peninsulas of Michigan, and that in consequence all are more than ever convinced that the great opportunities of the upper peninsula, which have so long been dormant, will be improved."

"I believe every gentleman who was on that trip came home with the most kindly feeling for the citizens of Detroit as a whole and the chamber of commerce in particular for their whole-hearted and kindly treatment. It certainly will never be forgotten, and I believe, too, that upon our return we felt more of a sense of pride in being citizens of the upper peninsula than ever before."

"We saw those wonderful factories, employing thousands of men—enough within themselves to support a large city," we said. "We will commence now and each do his best for the establishment of plants best adapted to our different cities and villages. We have plenty of wood suitable for furniture; iron in great quantities for all purposes, iron castings and structural steel; we have as fine farming country as lies out of doors; we raise the finest apples, plums, berries and every kind of small fruit known in this zone. No country has vegetables to compare with those of the upper peninsula."

"Where, a few years ago the copper country was obliged to rely on Chicago and Milwaukee markets for their potatoes, they now produce enough so that last fall Houghton and Keweenaw counties alone shipped out over 200 carloads of a quality which commanded the highest price in the market."

Lake Superior Apples the Best.
"It may be a surprise to some to know that apples raised along the south shore of Lake Superior in quality are unsurpassed, if equalled, in the United States. Oct. 1, I visited Stewart's Cove, twelve miles north and west of Marquette, lying directly on the lake. Mr. Stewart has apple trees which were planted three years ago, that bore from one-half to one and one-half bushels of apples each this season, and trees of six years growth that averaged ten bushels of apples each. I never saw such plums as those we gathered there. While there Mr. Stewart informed me that his cherry trees were filled this season. In small fruits he has black, white and red currants, black raspberries, and cultivated blackberries. There is nothing in the results here that surpasses those raised by Mr. Stewart on his farm. I give this simply as an illustration of what I saw."

"There are, I know, farms in this locality that are growing many, if not all of the same kind of products. At Skaneateles, Mr. Von Zellan has an apple orchard which produced over 4,000 bushels of apples this fall. They are marketed at Houghton, Hancock and Calumet at from $1.00 to $1.25 per bushel.
"No great enterprise can today be successfully conducted without combined capital. No man alone would think of equipping a large factory wholly on his own money. 'In union there is strength,' and today it takes the united capital of many men to accomplish great results. "Think what it means to a city to have a plant employing 7,000 men, enough to support a city of 30,000 people. I have received from firms we visited while in Detroit, replies to a few questions I propounded to them, which I believe will be of interest to all readers."

Factories Start Small.
"To show what benefits are to be derived from small beginnings, the manufacturers of the Packard motor cars, now of Detroit, commenced business in Warren, Ohio, in 1899. The pay roll consisted of seventeen men. The pay roll in August 1911 numbered 7,575 men, and the amount paid out in wages that month was $224,407. The output of 1912 touring cars, without taking into consideration the truck end of the business, will be in excess of $15,000,000. The floor space occupied by this concern is thirty-three acres at present with four acres under construction. Think what one factory like the Chalmers Motor company of Detroit would mean to any of our upper peninsula cities, employing 2,500 men at an average wage of twenty-eight cents per hour; a plant occupying thirty acres on which are fifteen buildings with a floor space of 750,000 square feet.

"We have in the upper peninsula thriving plants, too, which give employment to quite a goodly number of people. What would Big Bay be, were it not for the employment of over 350 men the year round by the Lake Independence Lumber company? Hancock certainly would miss the Portage Lake Foundry and Machine shops, employing seventy men at the average wage of $2.25 per day outside of the salaried positions. Chassell was what is known as a dead town up to 1902, but with the advent of the Worcester Lumber company came life and prosperity. Three hundred men are now employed the year round at an average wage of $2.15 per day. The Marble Manufacturing company of Gladstone is a fair example of what pluck will accomplish. W. L. Marble commenced the manufacture of the Marble safety axe in a little shop, but the demand so increased in the line of sportsmen's goods that more space was required, until today the name of the Marble Arms and Axe Manufacturing company is known throughout the United States and many foreign countries, where these goods are being shipped. At present, they are occupying 30,000 square feet of floor space, employing sixty people at wages running from $1 to $4.75 per day. The factory is one of the finest in the country in point of modern equipment."

Lake Shore Engine Works.
"The Lake Shore Engine works, at Marquette, the largest shops north of Milwaukee, manufactures everything in the line of equipment for the mines of northern Michigan. The company makes their own castings and turn out pieces weighing as high as fifteen tons. Few realize the large and varied lines manufactured by the company, among which are steam and electric hoists, diamond drills and supplies, bicycle parts, drill sharpeners, Corliss engines, exploring outfits, mine skips, buckets, cages, as well as bridge trusses, tanks, steel structural material for building, railroad castings and fire escapes. Marquette would certainly miss this plant were it to be moved from here, throwing out of employment from 175 to 200 men at an average wage of $65 per month."

"The upper peninsula has many other industries which space forbids my mentioning. Every person is directly interested in the Upper Peninsula Development bureau. The man who has money to invest, the man who has a will, a piece of wild land, a farm, a village lot or his land to sell, every person is bound to be interested.
"To sum it up in a few words the trip to Detroit not only made us enthusiastic determined to improve and progress in our own fair upper peninsula, but also made us more keenly appreciative of the great possibilities lying within her borders, and we boosters have home determined to boost."

IS A BOOSTER.
Duluth Paper Speaks Highly of W. W. Walker, of South Shore Road.

Monday's Duluth News Tribune contained the following sketch of W. W. Walker, general freight agent of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway, who was elected a director of the company at the recent directors' meeting, and who, it is believed, will become general manager of the road after Dec. 1.

"W. W. Walker's connection with the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway extends back a period of over sixteen years, during which he has passed through the several desks, both in the passenger and freight department, up to his promotion to the position of general freight agent seven years ago.
"During a residence of over fifteen years in Duluth, Mr. Walker has been closely identified with the social and business life of the city. He is president of the Country club, having been honored by election to that position at its last annual meeting and he has also served in official capacities in the Curling, Kitchi Gami and Commercial clubs.
"As general freight agent of the South Shore, his influence has been directed towards promoting the development of northern Wisconsin and northern Michigan, recognizing the possibilities of these territories in building up local freight traffic for his road and conferring advantage to this city, to which it is tributary."

"Marked results in that direction have already been attained through the organization of the Northern Michigan Development bureau a little less than a year ago. That district is conceded to offer exceptional opportunities to settlers in the character of its soil and other resources, and following the inauguration of an active campaign, promising settlements have been established.
