ASPIRES TO BECOME U. S. ARMY OFFICER

Ray Lewis Takes First Step Towards a Commission by Enlisting as a Recruit.

Hartwell T. Lewis, superintendent of the Houghton Masonic temple, was advised Monday that his son Ray, nineteen years of age, had enlisted in the regular army at Duluth. The enlistment was with the consent of the boy's parents.

Ray Lewis, a tall and good looking youth, has been a member of the Houghton Light Infantry for some time. His experience as a national guardsman led him to believe that he would like army life and that his ambition is to become an officer in the regular army.

The whole matter was talked over in a family council and Ray was given permission to follow his plan. His father signed a consent for his enlistment and he went to Duluth last week to take the plunge. His father was advised Monday that the boy had been accepted and that he would be held at Duluth until his discharge from the Michigan National Guard was forwarded to him.

There is no lack of army traditions in Ray Lewis' family history. His paternal grandfather was a soldier in the Civil war. His great grandfather was a soldier in the War of 1812 and back in the Revolutionary war Rev. John Osborn was a chaplain in Washington's army.

His father and Governor Osborn are cousins some generations removed, through an old chaplain, Mr. Lewis did not become aware of the relationship with the governor till that personage had been raised to the chair at Lansing. The governor's family history was related in extenso and Mr. Lewis found that one of the governor's forebears was Rev. John Osborn, a chaplain in the Revolutionary army.

All Over Baby's Body, Head and Face. Scratching Made Sores. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and Have Had No Further Trouble.

"On July 27, 1909, we left Boston for a trip to England and Ireland, taking baby with us. After being in Ireland a few days a nasty rash came out all over his body. We took him to a doctor who said it was chicken pox, and gave us medicine for him. The trouble started in the form of a rash over all over baby's body, head and face, at different times and it was so bad he would scratch it with all his might. The consequence was it developed into sores and we were afraid it would leave nasty scars on his face.

Fall Breaks a Man's Leg—

While shoveling the snow from the roof of a residence at Ironwood, William Trudgen fell and broke one of his legs. He is now at the Union hospital. The accident was caused by the ladder giving way.

Memorial Pulpit Installed—

A pulpit of polished brass and oak corresponding to the rest of the chancel furniture has been placed in Trinity Episcopal church at Mackinac Island and has been dedicated by the rector with an appropriate service. The pulpit is the gift of Frank Clark of Kalamazoo, in memory of his wife, who was a prominent church worker. Other memorials are soon to be placed in this church.

Hides Found in His Baggage—

J. H. Reynolds, a resident of Eaton Rapids, despite a vigorous protest, had his baggage overhauled by Game Wardens Andrews and O'Connell at Channing. Reynolds was loud in his protestations of innocence and seemed wonderfully surprised when the wardens discovered contraband hides in his boxes. He finally agreed to pay a fine of $10 and costs.

How Ironwood Was Named—

John R. Wood of Appleton, Wis., is a brother of "Jim" Wood, discoverer of the old Norrie mine, and while it may be news to most people Ironwood was named after "Jim" Wood. President Rhinelandt of the Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western railway suggested the name, "Iron Wood," and the two words just naturally drifted together. The Wood brothers are of sturdy stock, and had a big part in the early development of Michigan's iron districts.

Last Log Has Been Sawn—

Approximately a month will be required to wip up the affairs of the Ford River Lumber company at Ford River. The last stick of timber has been sawed at the mill and the office force is closing up the books for the final dissolution of the concern, which will come shortly before the first of the new year. Boats are still loading at the company's docks, but it is not thought it will be possible to move all of the lumber this fall, although practically all has been sold.

Methodist Church Dedication—

On Sunday, Dec. 10, the First Methodist church of Ironwood will be dedicated by Rev. Dr. Heff of Denver, Colo. Dr. Heff is one of Methodism's great preachers and church directors. He is also a popular lecturer. One of his lectures is "The Boys of '82 to '85," by One of Them." He was with Sherman in his march to the sea, and took part in over sixty engagements. Another lecture is "Mormonism versus Christianity." Dr. Heff spent many years in Utah, and is known throughout the Northwest. The week preceding Dec. 10 will be full of interest to the Methodist people of Ironwood, as there will be some special gatherings each day, among which will be a lecture by Dr. Heff, a pipe-organ recital and the silver anniversary of the organization of the church.

Quits Publication for a Week—

For the first time during the life of the Reporter we are running no legal, which fact does not make it absolutely necessary to get out a paper Thanksgiving week, says the Rockland Reporter. We feel the whole force needs a vacation, a genuine rest, so there will be no paper issued; but the Reporter will appear promptly the following week. We hope our readers will be charitable in their criticism, as the past two weeks the Reporter has been gotten out under difficulties. When one must be editor, job printer and devil, and not an expert at any of the jobs, but have added to these housekeeper, cook, pot rasher, stoker and last but not least head nurse, we pretty nearly have our hands full.

New County Is Proposed—

That the upper peninsula will have a new county in some time in the future is a possibility for the Western Land & Securities company, which is creating a town called New Seney, and the residents of Seney are desirous that this should be done, says the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune. It is planned to take the northern portion of Schoolcraft and a portion of Alger county in its formation. The question will have to come up before the legislature, and that body will quite likely order an election to ascertain the people interested. It is not likely that the idea will be opposed to any great extent by the voters of Schoolcraft county, if the plans of the promoters of the scheme do not ask for too much territory.

Wedding Surprises Even Parents—

The biggest surprise that has been furnished St. Ignace in many moons was nooked when Sunday and various of the received through the post office, arrives announcing that Miss Daisy Bissell, daughter of P. D. Bissell, had been married at Glasgow, Mont. on Oct. 16 to Hugh A. Yoas. Mr. and Mrs. Bissell were as great victims of the jokers as were the rest of the citizens. Mr. Yoas arrived in the city about midnight and was met at the train by his wife, who piloted him to his father-in-law's home. When Mr. Bissell opened the door to admit his daughter, she for the first time broke the news to him. "Father, most any husband, Mr. Yoas!" The father was too completely stunned for utterance, but the mother, who heard the remark, proceeded to make the visitor and new son-in-law as welcome as she could. Last summer, after the close of La Salle school, where she had been teaching, Miss Bissell went on a Western trip and met the groom. Mr. Yoas is a ranchman, having a tract of 320 acres. He engages extensively in sheep farming and tax raising. The bride is a talented and cultivated member of the St. Ignace young set, and as soon as the fact of her marriage was made public she was overwhelmed with congratulations. For this winter the newly married couple will keep house for Mr. Bissell, during Mrs. Bissell's absence in Montana, however, they will return to Glasgow, Mont.

Heroine's Fate Unsolved—

Presenting "The White Squaw," a theatrical troupe held the boards here Friday night, says the St. Ignace Republican-News. Unfortunately, the stage would not accommodate the special scenery carried, but the careful acting (ignoring of the "white squaw" herself to scream over-much) was nevertheless enjoyable. An ending without customary climax, that also leaves the heroine's fate untold, created the ludicrous but perfectly natural situation of the audience awaiting a final scene that would satisfy curiosity. But even "We Won't Go Home 'Till Morning," played by the St. Ignace pianist who supplied the music for the occasion could not win information that the playwright has failed to convey; and only when at last a scene-offer, making his looking through a stage side door, unceremoniously announced, "That's all!" was the theater emptied. We don't know yet whether the "white squaw" married the Frenchman or whether by some means she got the otherwise appropriated Englishman. It was like a picture film with a few feet frayed off the end.

Newberry Mourns His Loss—

Archie S. Love, who passed away, aged forty-three years, after a long illness from cirrhosis of the liver, had been a resident of Newberry for a little over eight years, moving there when he purchased the historic house in 1903. He conducted the hotel successfully for four years, and then disposing of it to the present owner. Shortly after retiring from the hotel business, Mr. Love spent a year prospecting in the Cobalt region, where he located several good claims which were afterward disposed of at a good profit. A few years ago he became associated with J. H. Hunter in the lumber business, forming an association known as the Hunter & Love Lumber company. Several thousand acres of timber lands were purchased among the Tiquamenaw river and a mill was built. But the deceased was destined to see this business, scheme only fairly launched, before failing health compelled him to relinquish all active work. Last spring he consulted surgeons and his treatment was pronounced cirrhosis of the liver in a malignant form. An operation was performed in the hope of checking the progress of the disease, but it was a vain hope, and he returned home to calmly await the inevitable. He leaves a wife and one daughter.

Lower State Notes

TRVERSE CITY—Ottave Dominie, farmer in East Bay township, while feeding cattle, was struck in the eye by the horn of one of the herd and his eye-sight was destroyed.

MUSKOGON—Former State Representative Jerome Turner has returned home from Charleston, Va., where he was married to Elizabeth Winthrop of that city. Mr. Turner was divorced from his second wife about six weeks ago.

MORRICE—W. E. Davis was badly burned about the face and head at his store here by an explosion of his gasoline tank, which he was painting. When Mr. Davis held a lighted match in the interior to see if the tank was perfectly dry, the explosion followed.

KALAMAZOO—Kalamazoo painters, at a meeting of the union, decided to ask for more pay and shorter hours. The painters are now working eight hours a day, but they want the time cut to six hours. They also ask more pay for the six hours' work than they now get for eight hours.

JONESVILLE—Three children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Ellis of this village in less than a year. About eleven months ago, Mrs. Ellis gave birth to twins, and now a son has been born. All three youngsters are in a flourishing condition.

HILLSDALE—An elopement resulting in the marriage of Grace Eldred, seventeen, and Fred Clark, nineteen, in Windsor a week ago, has just been brought to light here. The couple said they eloped because the girl's parents objected to her marriage.

FLINT—After a contest which lasted nearly two years, Mrs. Elie Armstrong has obtained a divorce from Fred Armstrong on charges of cruelty. She alleged in her bill that he would not give her any money for clothing and was so negligent that it was impossible to live with him. The court awarded her $3,000 as permanent alimony.

MT. CLEMENS—Frank Dubay, an employee of a local meat market, is suffering from a fractured nose, the injury having been received in a peculiar manner. Dubay went into the refrigerator to remove from a hook a fifty-pound sausage. The timber upon which the hook was fastened came down and the sausage struck Dubay on the nose. A surgeon fixed him up and he resumed his work.

LANSING—State Game Warden W. A. Oates has received reports from his deputies operating in the upper peninsula near the straits that four moose have been seen in that section by hunters and settlers and he is planning with the co-operation of his field men, hunters and settlers, to protect the herd, if possible, in the hope that ultimately a fair-sized herd may be induced to locate in that section.

ZELAND—Because Dick DeWeerd, a farmer, who was driving along the road near Hudsonville, failed to turn out and permit F. J. Titus to pass him in his automobile, Titus had him arrested for alleged violation of the law. A hearing was had before a jury in Justice Rousenroad's court and a verdict of "no cause of action" was returned. DeWeerd claimed that he did not hear Titus blow his automobile horn and did not know he was behind waiting for a chance to pass.

LANSING—Insurance Commissioner Palmer announces that President H. G. Austin of the Old Colony Commercial Life Insurance Company of Chicago has paid the penalty of $810 assessed against the company for failure to take out agents' licenses and the company has been reinstated in Michigan. "The financial condition of the company was not involved in any way," said the commissioner, "and the company is able to take care of all its contracts."

JONIA—Miss Emma R. Arnold, fifty-five, killed by a street car in Chicago, was the daughter of the late W. D. Arnold, a pioneer here. She went to Chicago, where she was to spend a month with her sister, then going to Texas for the winter. The night before she left here she had a premonition that something might happen and, crying, told her friends she hated to go. "The remains have been brought here."

FORT WAYNE—William Walker, twenty-seven, a telephone lineman, cleared the mystery surrounding the disappearance of his wife, when he confessed to the police that he killed her the night of Sept. 24 and buried her body in the garden back of his home. He directed the coroner to the spot and the body was found. Walker said his wife's disappearance was found in company with two men. The police say they had no evidence against the man, but that he confessed when accused. He is in jail.

KALAMAZOO—Livina somewhere in this city is the smallest man in Michigan. He is not only the smallest, but the cheapest. A sherry ball was given at the New Burdock Hotel for the benefit of the Lake Farm Home for Boys. Tickets sold for $1 each. When the cash was counted it was found that some one had cut a dollar bill in two, nested it together in such a way that it looked like two bills, and given it to one of the ticket sellers, securing in return for his cut-up dollar bill two tickets.

UNION CITY—The several hundred employees of the Peerless Portland Cement company of this city, are looking forward to two substantial gifts. One of these will come on Thanksgiving day, when every workman will be given a fat turkey, this having been a practice with the company. The second gift will come at Christmas time, when every employee who has been with the company throughout the season will be handed a check amounting to a half-cent to a cent an hour extra for every hour they have labored since last spring. It is said that these checks will average $40 each.

OXFORD—A movement has been started here to secure special legislation to cover the case of Mrs. Celia Mulford, widow of the late Jacob Mulford, a veteran of the war of 1812. Mrs. Mulford is a resident of this village, is eighty-five years of age and manages to live and support an aged sister on a pension of $12 a month received from the government. She owns her home, a small cottage, and is paying taxes upon it, although under a Michigan statute the widows of war veterans are exempt from taxation up to the amount of $1,200. The reason for the exception in Mrs. Mulford's case is that she is one of the very few widows of veterans of an earlier war, one not specified in the statute in question.

GRANT—Lying, perhaps fatally wounded by a freshly loaded shotgun wound, at the home of Eugene Cavender, five miles east of Grant, George Hotelle, son of David Hotelle, of Easley township, is paying the penalty for attempting to use his gunstock as a boat oar. Standing upon one side of Rogue river, near Rice Lake, and desiring to cross to the opposite side, the victim called to young Cavender to come across and ferry him to the other side. Cavender complied with the request and when he reached the opposite side Hotelle, in seeking to aid him, placed the stock of his gun upon the boat and attempted to draw the boat to him, when the gun was discharged, the shot shattering Hotelle's leg at the knee.

HOLLAND—Rev. G. F. Brownback has resigned the pastorate of the Congregational church at Saugatuck and has left for his new field of labor in Susquehanna, Pa. In the course of his farewell sermon he severely arraigned his parishioners by making the statement that he pitied the next victim who came to the church and also stated that at times he had been without bread in the house, because the church failed to pay his salary. John Koning, treasurer of the church, refutes Brownback's charge by claiming that although the first year the church was $100 behind in salary, the deficiency has been paid in full, besides a Christmas purse and other donations.

LANSING—In view of the discussion of a plan to use the taxes which now go into the primary school fund for state expenses rather than for aid of the schools, Auditor General Fuller has compiled some interesting figures relative to the state of that money. The figures show that forty-eight counties in the state receive more primary school money per capita than they pay in state taxes, while thirty-five receive less. Gogebic county pays an excess of state tax per capita of $2.32, which is the largest of any county in the state, while Iosco county secures $2.04 of primary school money in excess of the state tax paid by the county.

FLINT—Herbert N. Bush, a merchant, went into Justice Torrey's court and pleaded guilty to a violation of the labor law in permitting girls in his employ to remain in his store longer than ten hours a day. He paid a fine of $10, the minimum under the law. The complaint was made by Miss Luella M. Burton, deputy state labor inspector. Bush stated that his violation had been unintentional, as he was not aware the girls could not be in the store longer than ten hours, provided they were not required to work more than that number. In closing the Bush case all the cases started by Miss Burton have been wound up. There were four complaints and in each the defendant pleaded guilty to unintentional violations.

MARSHALL—Living with his wife and three children, the oldest fourteen years and the youngest two, in an old tumbledown store, next to an old mill at Marango, county officials found Walter Sheldon and uncovered the worst case of desertion in the annals of the county. The investigation was brought on by complaints by neighbors. The officers found the father sitting in the house smoking a cigar and, according to neighbors, he smokes as many as six a day. The food was half a dozen biscuits, a half sack of flour and half a dozen frozen potatoes. There was little or no fire in the old broken-down stove. According to the oldest son, the father has not bought any fuel for the family for five years. The children were brought to this city and placed in a home until the officers can decide on what to do.

A CERTAIN CURE FOR CATARRH

The mucous membranes of the nose and throat are exposed to the irritating influence of dust, impure air, etc., and for this reason are the places Catarrh usually first manifests itself. But these are simply exciting causes, the inflammation and discharge being really produced by an impure and vitiated condition of the blood. It is well enough to use some local treatment to cleanse these membranes, but any one can readily see that if the inflammatory matter is left in the blood, such treatment cannot possibly have any permanent effect. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by purifying the blood of all impure catarrhal matter and irritating germs and at the same time builds up the system by its fine tonic effects. When S. S. S. has purified the blood, the mucous surfaces are all nourished and made healthy. There can be no inflammation of the membranes then, because the blood is pure, and every tissue receives nourishment instead of irritating matter. Our book on Catarrh will give proper advice as to what is best to use as a local aid while S. S. S. is purifying the blood. This book is free, also any special advice you may feel you need. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

It is not enough to make pure beer, it must be kept pure until it is poured into your glass. Beer is a saccharine product. The slightest taint of impurity injures its healthfulness. Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass, the scientists say, gives protection against light. Purity above everything else distinguishes Schlitz beer from common beer.

We use the costliest materials—we age Schlitz for months to prevent biliousness—it will not ferment in your stomach.

Schlitz is sent to you in Brown Bottles, thus protecting Schlitz purity from the brewery to your glass.

Without all these precautions no beer can be healthful, and who knowingly would drink beer that was not?

If you knew what we know about beer, you would say, "Schlitz—Schlitz in Brown Bottles."

LA SALLE. President Shaw of La Salle Copper company says: "The ground so far opened necessitates a reasonably large tonnage to secure profits at a fair price of copper. The area developed on the Kearsarge lode contiguous to No. 1 shaft is now adequate for such a tonnage; but the present low price of copper and the lack of suitable stamping facilities make production at a profit impossible. While No. 1 shaft is being suitably equipped, the expense of further development work can well be deferred until conditions warrant production, and steps are being taken to temporarily discontinue operations at this point. NEGAUNEE HAS SNOW ORDINANCE Records Show Council Adopted Measure Compelling the Clearing of Sidewalks.

Negaunee has an ordinance requiring property holders to keep their sidewalks clear of snow and ice. It was discovered yesterday in looking over the records of council proceedings of twenty-two years ago, when P. B. Kirkwood was mayor of the city. It specifies punishment for neglect, and also provides for the clearing of sidewalks at the property holder's expense, should he refuse to do it himself.

The ordinance leaves no loop hole for the offender, and covers all cases. So far as can be learned the ordinance has never been enforced. Down town, the business men take good care of their sidewalks, and there are no complaints. In the residential sections, however, they are not as careful, and sometimes are tardy in clearing away the snow. They are liable to prosecution. The city authorities say the property holders here are less prone to neglect their sidewalks than in the residential sections, but nevertheless, think that the ordinance should be called attention to. Almost every city in the upper peninsula has a snow ordinance similar to the one following:

"An ordinance relative to keeping the sidewalks clear from snow, ice and other incumbrances.
"It is hereby ordained by the common council of the city of Negaunee:
"Sec. 1. No person shall allow the accumulation of snow, sleet, or ice on the sidewalk adjoining any premises owned or occupied by him or her to a greater depth than one inch for a greater length of time than twelve hours after the cessation of any storm of snow or sleet, or within twelve hours from the time of service of said notice, or posting of the same, or that the same will be done by the city authorities and the expense for the same collected from the owner or occupant in an action of debt or assumpsit, as such expense may be collected by special assessment on the property adjoining such sidewalk, in the manner described in chapter eight of the city charter.
"Sec. 2. In every case where snow or ice shall accumulate on any sidewalk in the city for a longer time than that specified in section 1 of this ordinance, it shall be the duty of the city marshal to serve a written or printed notice on the owner or occupant of the premises adjoining such sidewalk, or by posting such notices in some conspicuous place on or near the sidewalk, to the effect that unless such snow or ice is removed within the time specified in the notice, the city marshal shall remove the same, and the cost of such removal shall be a lien in favor of the city against the property of the owner or occupant of the premises adjoining such sidewalk, in the manner described in chapter eight of the city charter.
"Sec. 3. Any person or persons who shall hinder or obstruct the city marshal or any person authorized or employed by the authorities of the city to clean snow or ice from any sidewalk in the city, shall on conviction thereof be punished by a fine not less than ten dollars and not more than fifty dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding sixty days.
"This ordinance shall take effect March 30th, 1889.
"Adopted, Feb. 29th, 1889.
"CYRILLE BOULE, Recorder.
"PHILIP B. KIRKWOOD, Mayor.

THANKSGIVING DAY.
Will be Observed as Usual Here With Feasting and Special Church Services.

Thanksgiving will be celebrated in the "good old fashioned way" in Negaunee tomorrow. The butchers and grocers have been working overtime filling large orders for all kinds of food stuffs, and hundreds of turkeys have been sold among residents of the city. Although prices are high, the bird still seems to be the popular basis for the dinner. Fruits of all kinds have been selling heavily during the past two days. Cranberries of all grades, from small ones the size of a pea, to big ones that look like plums, have been in great demand for over a week. Vegetables and condiments of all kinds are being sold in astonishing quantities. People will load their tables with the best the land produces in accordance with the national custom, and the entire city will join in a hearty Thanksgiving for the blessings bestowed upon them during the past twelve months. Trains have daily been bringing in out-of-town guests and relatives who will join with local families in celebrating the day.

Special Thanksgiving services will be held in nearly all the churches of the city. At St. Paul's church there will be Thanksgiving mass, prayers for the civil authorities and the litany of the Saints at 8:30 in the morning.
At St. John's Episcopal church, the special Thanksgiving services will be scheduled for tomorrow morning have been cancelled, owing to the absence of Rev. R. T. Hicks, the rector, who has been called to Calumet on account of the death of his cousin, Captain Provis Richards.

The Ladies Aid society will hold a bazaar of fancy and useful articles in the basement of the church during the afternoon and evening, and a Thanksgiving supper will be served at 5 o'clock in the evening. A small admittance will be charged, the proceeds to go toward cancelling the debt incurred in making the improvements in the church, recently finished.

STOLE A DEER.
Sheriff Curran of Escanaba Arrested William Pickett in Sands.

Sheriff Tim Curran, of Delta county, was in the city Monday on his way to Sands, where he arrested William Pickett, a young man well known in Negaunee, on a charge of having stolen a deer at Escanaba and sold it to a hotel keeper.

One day last week it is alleged that Pickett came to Negaunee in Escanaba with a drayman, and picked out a deer from a pile laying on a truck. Claiming the carcass as his, Pickett had no difficulty in getting it from the express agent. From the depot he carried it to a hotel keeper and sold it for a paltry sum. When the theft was discovered and the local authorities were put to work upon the case, the offender had disappeared. Later in the week Sheriff Curran found the deer and the identity of the thief, and finally traced Pickett to Sands, Monday morning the sheriff came to Negaunee and consulted with the local officials, later going to Sands. He found his man and returned with him to Escanaba on the evening train. What disposition was made of the case yesterday could not be learned.

Will be Observed as Usual Here With Feasting and Special Church Services.

Thanksgiving will be celebrated in the "good old fashioned way" in Negaunee tomorrow. The butchers and grocers have been working overtime filling large orders for all kinds of food stuffs, and hundreds of turkeys have been sold among residents of the city. Although prices are high, the bird still seems to be the popular basis for the dinner. Fruits of all kinds have been selling heavily during the past two days. Cranberries of all grades, from small ones the size of a pea, to big ones that look like plums, have been in great demand for over a week. Vegetables and condiments of all kinds are being sold in astonishing quantities. People will load their tables with the best the land produces in accordance with the national custom, and the entire city will join in a hearty Thanksgiving for the blessings bestowed upon them during the past twelve months. Trains have daily been bringing in out-of-town guests and relatives who will join with local families in celebrating the day.

Special Thanksgiving services will be held in nearly all the churches of the city. At St. Paul's church there will be Thanksgiving mass, prayers for the civil authorities and the litany of the Saints at 8:30 in the morning.
At St. John's Episcopal church, the special Thanksgiving services will be scheduled for tomorrow morning have been cancelled, owing to the absence of Rev. R. T. Hicks, the rector, who has been called to Calumet on account of the death of his cousin, Captain Provis Richards.
At the Mitchell Methodist church there will be a Thanksgiving service at 10:30 a. m., the subject being, "What Hath God Wrought?" The Ladies Aid society will hold a bazaar of fancy and useful articles in the basement of the church during the afternoon and evening, and a Thanksgiving supper will be served at 5 o'clock in the evening. A small admittance will be charged, the proceeds to go toward cancelling the debt incurred in making the improvements in the church, recently finished.

PREPARING FOR THANKSGIVING

Services to Be Held at Several of the Churches Thursday Morning—Union Meeting at Presbyterian Church, With Sermon by Rev. Bridges—Social Events.

Merchants Busy Taking Care of Holiday Trade—Baskets Being Prepared by Visiting Nurse Association to Be Sent to Families Where Cupboard Is Bare.

Thanksgiving is in the air. In spite of the storm yesterday, people were doing their Thanksgiving shopping, and the usual efforts to provide good dinners for the poor are being made. As former years, the holiday on Thursday will be generally observed as a "home day," and family reunions will be everywhere in evidence. The criticism often made that the American people are losing sight of the spirit of Thanksgiving does not hold with much force in this city, as local people observe the day much as it was and is observed in the smaller New England towns and cities.

Baskets are now being prepared by the Visiting Nurse association, which will be sent out Thanksgiving morning to about thirty-five families. Each of these baskets will contain a roast or a chicken, potatoes, vegetables, some kind of fruit and other delicacies. The necessary provisions are now being collected at the offices of the L. S. & L. railroad. These baskets will be sent out to families with whom the visiting nurse has had personal dealings, and who would have no Thanksgiving dinner otherwise. Throughout the winter the Visiting Nurse association tries to provide the necessities of life to a few worthy poor families, and on Thanksgiving the association tries to give these families something in the nature of a treat.

The Salvation Army will not send out Thanksgiving baskets, but will reserve all their efforts in that direction until Christmas. The Army will observe Thanksgiving by giving a musical play at the Salvation Army Hall Thursday night, entitled "Christie's Old Organ."

Services at the Churches.

A union Thanksgiving service will be held at the Presbyterian church at 10:30 Thursday morning, which will be attended by members of the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian congregations. The Thanksgiving sermon will be preached by the Rev. J. S. Bridges, pastor of the Baptist church. As usual, the offering will be turned over to the Salvation Army. A special appeal is made by the three pastors in behalf of this offering, as the needs of the Army this year are great. One of the best ways to express gratitude to one's own blessings is to give to those who are less fortunate.

Special music will be rendered at this union service, the program that follows having been prepared: Anthem, "Ye Shall Not Hunger Nor Thirst"; Anthem, "The Spirit of the Springs into the Valleys"; Anthem, "When thy Heart With Joy O'erflows"; Anthem, "Clouston." The choir will be composed of the following well-known musicians: Miss Norma Ross and Miss Nettie Sylvester, soprano; Miss Agnes Withey and Miss Nellie Fryfogge, contraltos; Rev. P. E. Amstutz and Edward Gilbert, tenors; E. W. Allen, baritone; Claire Drake, bass; Mrs. J. J. Broer, organist; Miss Hazel Brown, pianist.

At St. Paul's church a Thanksgiving service will be held at 10:30 a. m., with a sermon by the pastor, Rev. Bates G. Burton, on a subject appropriate to Thanksgiving. A part of the program rendered at the musical service held last Sunday evening will be repeated at this service. Thanksgiving services will be held at the Swedish Lutheran church at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. It will be a high mass service with music by the choir. The pastor, Rev. Oscar Sandahl, will preach a Thanksgiving sermon.

Several Social Events.

The Thanksgiving holiday will be marked by several social events. This evening will take place the annual Thanksgiving ball, given in Fraternity Hall by the Marquette fire department. This promises to be one of the most successful parties ever given by the firemen. More than ordinary efforts have been put forth in the way of decorations. Supper will be served during the evening at the Hotel Clifton.

PURCHASE HIAWARDEN INN.

Catholic Diocese to Take Over Gladstone Building for School. Some time ago, the Marquette diocese of the Catholic church secured an option on the Hiawarden Inn at Gladstone, and today this option is to be closed by the diocese taking over the property. The site includes a full block in the heart of the city and a building originally cost about $30,000. The price to be paid for the whole property by the diocese is understood to be $9,500, and it is generally considered to be a great bargain.

The church intends to use the Hiawarden Inn as a parochial school and a home for the Sisters. It is said to be well adapted for such a purpose. Some alterations and repairs are to be made the coming year, and it is expected that the institution will be opened next fall. The Gladstone parish is in charge of Rev. Father Bennett.

Message from Former Ward Gives Pleasure to Warden of Branch Prison.

Yesterday's mail brought to Warden Russell the communication here given from a paroled man whose parole term expires this month, and who has made a highly creditable record for integrity and efficiency in a position of considerable responsibility since he was granted his liberty on conditions: Marquette, Wis., Nov. 26, 1911. Hon. Jas Russell, Warden, Marquette, Mich.

Dear Sir—I am mailing to my first friend for his endorsement my final report in the matter of my parole. Thanksgiving finds me grateful for much this year. I feel specially grateful to you for your many kindnesses and your interest in my welfare. While you have been my keeper for six years, I never felt that you were but a keeper. I have always looked on you as a friend, and I feel sure that under your care I have been greatly benefited and am a better man for it.

I am deeply grateful to you, Warden for the many things you have done for me, and I wish you a bounteous Thanksgiving, a Merry Christmas, and many years more as Warden. I have done well this year and my prospects are bright for the next, and I hope that the reports you will hear from me in the future will be such as will make you glad that you helped me as you have done.

The writer's name is not given for a reason that calls for no explanation. The warden says he is constantly receiving letters of similar tenor from paroled men who have gone out from the institution and are making good. There are now about a dozen men paroled from the Marquette prison holding good positions in Detroit and doing well, the city parole officer, Mr. Wm. H. Venn, acting as first friend for them and assisting them both by good advice and by obtaining positions for them when they need help in that way. Some of the men paroled go wrong, inevitably, but the bulk of them are making good, a fact that the warden says is proof of the value of the parole law as a factor in effecting the redemption of persons convicted of penal offenses who have not become obdurate criminals.

POWELL & MITCHELL HAVING HARD LUCK

Portage Lake Breakwater Contract Is Being Carried Out Under Difficulties.

Hard luck has been the portion of Powell & Mitchell, the Marquette contractors, who have the job of repairing the upper canal breakwater at Portage Lake. Almost from the minute that they took the contract they have had fate against them, even up to the time when they hoped to give up for the season and prepare for a fresh start next spring.

The latest hard luck was the grounding of a scow late Monday afternoon loaded with rock. Ed Mitchell, who is in active charge of the contract, last week laid off the quarrymen who have been getting out rock at the old Central mine in Keweenaw county and expected to suspend work entirely this week, after he had placed the last three scowloads of stone brought down from the quarry by the Keweenaw Central and Copper Range railroads.

Monday seemed to be an ideal day for the completion of this plan. The tug Valerie towed the three scowloads of stone to the breakwater and moored them outside the west breakwater, some 1400 feet off shore. Here they were to have remained till the traveling cars could pick up the mammoth rocks and deposit them at the outer edge of the breakwater, below the surface. Lake Superior has been giving Ed Mitchell the battle of his life all summer and all fall. Whatever it was that angered the Father of Waters Mr. Mitchell does not know, but he does know that the old lake held the grudge Monday afternoon. Just when everything was going well, a nor-wester came up and the lake began to buffet the tug and scows. The Valerie started to tow the three unwieldy scows into the shelter of the basin, but one of the towlines broke and a scow was slammed up onto the sandy shore, and she is likely to stay there for some time.

This is only one instance of the hard luck that has followed the Marquette contractors. At the very beginning of their operations they found that the site selected at Agate Harbor for the quarry, from which the big boulders required for the work were to be taken, brought with it a law suit, certain Keweenaw county people having a previous claim on the site. Mr. Mitchell settled with them and the work proceeded.

The work was only fairly well started when one of the big scows transporting the stone from the quarry to the breakwater sank and stopped operations till it could be released. Frequently storms wrecked the entire plant on the breakwater, throwing the travelling derrick from the track and bearing up the rails. Mr. Mitchell finally decided that water transportation from Agate Harbor was too dangerous and he located another quarry at the Central mine, bringing the rock into Houghton by rail and shipping it by scow from Houghton. This necessitated a big expenditure for a powerful derrick to handle the rock at Houghton. The latest accident, that of Monday afternoon, was almost disheartening. But Mr. Mitchell is going to stick it till he has the last three scowloads in place. Then he will put in the winter trying to find some means of conciliating Lake Superior.

BOATS COULD NOT REMAIN AT DOCKS

Ore Shipping Completely Tied Up Yesterday by Storm and Consequent Undertow.

The closing up of ore shipments for this season at the Marquette docks was given a severe setback yesterday, and nothing at all in the way of loading vessels could be accomplished on account of the undertow, which is believed to have been the heaviest for several seasons, according to Captain Cleary, of the life saving crew, and all day the waves washed over the breakwater, while the combers even came into the slip between the two L. S. & L. docks at Presque Isle. All of the boats at the docks had to anchor in the harbor as the lines would not hold against the undertow.

Had the storm been delayed two days, the last vessels would have been loaded, but now it may be that some of them will be unable to get out before the expiration of the insurance for several seasons, according to Captain Cleary, of the life saving crew, and all day the waves washed over the breakwater, while the combers even came into the slip between the two L. S. & L. docks at Presque Isle. All of the boats at the docks had to anchor in the harbor as the lines would not hold against the undertow.

There are two boats yet to load at the L. S. & L. dock, the steamer Republic and the schooner Thompson. The Republic left the coal dock at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, but it was so rough that she did not leave the upper harbor. The Thompson has several hundred tons of coal on board, which cannot be unloaded until the sea quiets down. The steamer Warner started out on Monday, but turned back as the storm came on and she is waiting in the harbor for better weather. The P. B. Armour and Amaranth also sought shelter in the local harbor yesterday. As storm warnings were displayed early Monday forenoon, it is thought that all the boats on this part of Lake Superior got into shelter before the blizzard broke.

Observer Patrick stated last evening that the high north wind was likely to continue all of last night and probably would not subside until about noon today. Very cold weather is predicted in the northwest, but Mr. Patrick expects the thermometer to keep well above zero here, as the wind is blowing from off the water.

Railroads were operated under difficulties yesterday, and all of the mails were late. The Northwestern train from Chicago was two hours behind time, while the St. Paul did not arrive until after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The South Shore trains also were behind their schedules, but they were put through in better shape than those of the two Chicago roads. Though but little snow fell, the high wind drifted it badly, and it was almost impossible to keep the tracks and switches clear.

Because of the continued severity of the storm, the street commissioner did not attempt to plough out the sidewalks yesterday, and most pedestrians sought the streets or street car track. The city snow plows will be started out early this morning.
