

JUDGE E. H. GARY MAKES PLEA FOR "BIG BUSINESS"

Country Can't Get Along Without Trusts, Steel Corporation's Head Tells Senate Committee—Are Essential to Industrial Development and Prosperity.

Government Should Permit Their Existence But Should Take Full Control of Their Affairs, He Says—He Advocates Also an Eight-Year Presidential Term.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Elliott H. Gary, executive head of the United States Steel corporation, made a plea for "big business" today before the senate committee on interstate commerce, which is searching for a satisfactory government trust problem in the United States.

Politics Disturbing Business.

The coming election is already disturbing business, the steel corporation's chairman added. He said that members of the courts ought to be appointed for life and that the president ought to be elected for eight years, without the privilege of reelection, so that he would be in a "position and frame of mind" where he would not be tempted to "look in any direction or towards any interests" in seeking reelection.

Judge Gary dwelt at length upon the political situation. He said he had no particular opinion in mind, but that he believed that fewer elections and less reason for seeking public or private support for political purposes would aid greatly at keeping business at a level.

Judge Gary recommended the federal license of corporations, their control by a trade commission, the publicity of all their affairs, and the sanction of certain acts which the commission might consider not to be "restraint of trade."

Professor John H. Gray of the University of Minnesota followed Judge Gary. He recommended the establishment of a commission to interpret the law, thus forcing upon the supreme court a test of that body's powers.

WICKERSHAM QUIZZED ABOUT SHERMAN LAW

Questioning Bee Follows Address by the Attorney General at New York.

New York, Nov. 29.—A voice from the balcony at the conclusion of an address by Attorney General George W. Wickersham here tonight called out: "Will the Sherman law be amended or repealed?"

Another voice sang out: "Do you think that amending or abolishing the holding company system would relieve trust conditions?"

"In my opinion," Mr. Wickersham said, "the holding company system is the greatest enemy to the destruction of monopoly ever devised by the wit of man."

Another voice: "Does the attorney general think competition will be restored?"

"Do you think the same conditions will exist under those conditions as are noticeable today?"

"I hope not. That will depend on the vigilance of our friends."

Spoke of Problems Facing Government. These quotations fairly outline a questioning bee which followed an extemporaneous address by the attorney general at the inauguration of the finance forum of the West Side Y. M. C. A.

ment have power over all or shall a grosser loss than all have power over all." In conclusion, he said:

"One of the problems that confront us today is the preserving of as much individual liberty as is consistent with our need. I am a firm believer in the necessity of having the government strong enough to demand the respect of the people. I also am a firm believer in the integrity and capacity of the American citizen. The people are not, however, competent to adopt proper measures of government by direct legislation. We cannot have proper state legislation unless the proper men are put into office, and only when judges are withdrawn from political interference can we attain that keystone of government mapped out by our forefathers. No indictment found against the people is so strong as the electing into office of men who are unworthy of carrying out their duties."

PRESIDENT ATTACKED BY MR. POINDEXTER

Senator from Washington Opens the La Follette Campaign in North Dakota.

Minot, N. D., Nov. 29.—A severe arraignment of President Taft's administration was made by Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington, who tonight fired the opening gun in the LaFollette campaign in North Dakota in an address here.

Senator Poindexter accused President Taft of repudiating his pledge to work for a tariff revision downward through his advocacy of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, of aiding and abetting the Alaskan syndicate in the exploitation of the resources of Alaska, of attempting to read the progressive Republican leaders out of the party, of pushing progressive senators and representatives through with holding patronage, and being unjustly solicitous of the welfare of the trusts and combinations of capital.

The recall of Minister Crane from China, the peace treaties with the Central American republics and the Ballinger inquiry were condemned as unprogressive. The senator made a strong plea for the nomination of Mr. LaFollette, whom he characterized as one of the world's greatest progressive statesmen, and urged the voters of North Dakota, the first state to elect a president, to support the Wisconsin man.

Osborn of Michigan, Lieutenant Governor Fitzgerald of Colorado, Governor Eberhart of Minnesota and former United States Senator Washington, speaking at a mass meeting here today, joined in the declaration that woman suffrage is a movement which is bound to sweep the country within the next few years, and were unanimous in their support of the movement and in their praise of its operation in the states where it has been tried.

AFTERNOON SPENT AT GRAND RAPIDS.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 29.—The "Western Governors' Special" train arrived here this afternoon from Kalamazoo. President Clements of the Grand Rapids board of trade acted as official pilot from the Colery City. Upon the arrival in Grand Rapids the governors and their party were met in automobiles and taken for a trip around the city. The governors, who are traveling in a special train containing exhibits of the resources of their states, left tonight for Detroit, where they will remain tomorrow.

CHICAGO WOMAN SUES GOVERNOR OF MONTANA FOR FIFTY THOUSAND.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—While Governor Edward W. Norris of Montana was here yesterday with the other Western governors, a suit for $50,000, it became known today, was begun against him by Mrs. Hallie E. Howes, a Chicago woman. The only explanation given was by her lawyer, who said it grew out of a money transaction.

All News to the Defendant.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 29.—Governor Norris, while attending a luncheon to the visiting governors here today, said when asked about the suit reported to have been brought against him in Chicago by Mrs. Hallie E. Howes of that city: "I know nothing of any such person. I never heard the name before. This is all news to me. I know of no person on earth who has basis for action against me for $50,000 or for fifty cents." The governor seemed much annoyed by the incident.

WOLGAST WON'T MEET WELSH IN THE RING TODAY

Instead, the Pugilist Is in a Hospital at Los Angeles, Recovering from the Effects of an Operation for the Removal of His Vermiform Appendix.

Champion Awakens in the Night in Great Pain and When Examined by Physicians Is Put Under the Knife as the Only Means of Saving His Life.

Los Angeles, Nov. 29.—On the eve of one of the greatest battles of his life, and one in which his title to flatic honors was held in the balance and for which he had brought himself supposedly to a state of physical perfection, Wolgast, the lightweight champion pugilist of the world, lies tonight in the Clara Barton hospital, recovering from an operation for the removal of his vermiform appendix.

The illness of Wolgast came as a bolt from a clear sky. In sporting centers the report was not believed for hours.

Wolgast retired last night, after parading a heavy supper, feeling in the fettle. At 4 o'clock he was in the hospital, being prepared for the operation. He awakened at 2 o'clock in great pain, and nothing that his training camp attendants could do gave him any relief. The doctor who was called ordered him taken to the hospital at once.

Manager Jones, as soon as he had been placed in a ward, started in an automobile for Mrs. Wolgast. He stopped on the way at Freddie Welsh's training camp and, awakening the English fighter, told him the news. For a moment Welsh was dumb. Then he said: "Well, that's too bad. I certainly hope Ad gets out of this. I don't care so much for the financial loss as I do for Ad."

On arriving at the hospital, Mrs. Wolgast was taken to her husband's room, where she remained until 8 o'clock.

Immediate Operation Found Necessary.

Dr. Pollard had called in consultation two other physicians and it was decided unanimously that an operation was the only thing that could save Wolgast's life and that if it were performed at once the patient would be reasonably sure of a speedy recovery, because of his fine physical condition and powers of resistance.

When informed of this, Wolgast said: "All right, I'll go through it, but none of that sleeping stuff for me. Just pack me down tight and then go to it. I can stand it."

It was just 9:30 a. m., when a white-capped nurse gently placed a sponge under the champion's nostrils, and it was just forty-five minutes before the door to the operating room, was again opened. Then the champion was wheeled back to his room and put to bed.

Says He Is Feeling Fine. At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon Wolgast came out of the stupor caused by the anaesthetic. "I feel fine," he said, "and am all right. I'll be up in a few days."

Dr. Pollard made a statement tonight to the effect that the operation was successful and that Wolgast would recover rapidly. Manager McCarey of the Vernon Athletic club announced tonight that he had engaged Willie Richie, training partner of Packer McFarland, to fight Welsh tomorrow and that Richie had left San Francisco for Los Angeles. Welsh agreed to this change of plan.

At 6:45 o'clock this evening the nation of the hospital announced that Wolgast was in a very good condition and was resting well.

Pugilist's Mother Much Alarmed. Cadillac, Mich., Nov. 29.—"Tell me nothing more," sobbed Mrs. John Wolgast, Ad Wolgast's mother, when she was told today her son had submitted to an operation for appendicitis. Evidently fearing the worse, she set out without waiting to put on her cloak and walked two miles to the schoolhouse to summon her other children. Later in the day a telegram was received by her, calming her fears somewhat.

Wolgast's marriage took place on his first anniversary of his winning the lightweight championship. He is regarded here as a devoted son, having presented his parents with a farm. His fortune is estimated at $100,000.

ENEMY KEEPS ITALIANS BUSY, ACCORDING TO TURK ADVICES; ATTACKS MANY AND PIERCE.

Malta, Nov. 29.—Many fierce attacks have been made by the Turks and Arabs on the Italian positions at Derna and Tobruk, according to Turkish reports. The losses on both sides approximate five hundred. The Italian forces apparently fear to advance beyond the range of the naval guns. Enver Bey has taken up a position opposite Ben Ghazi with 15,000 Bedouins, 3,500 Turks and thirty modern guns.

Red Cross Workers Tortured to Death. Paris, France, Nov. 29.—Special dispatches from Tripoli give a harrowing account of the finding of mutilated bodies of Italian members of the Red Cross society. They were apparently tortured to death in various revolting ways. An Italian who had escaped by hiding for three days in a ditch, pretending he was dead, and who witnessed the mutilation, declares that Turkish officers and women were present. Five Italians were buried alive up to their shoulders and allowed to starve to death.

WOMEN WON'T LET MR. ASQUITH SPEAK

Premier Quits London City Temple in Disgust When Interrupted by Suffragettes.

London, Nov. 29.—In pursuance of the policy of military tactics recently revived, suffragettes invaded the city temple tonight and by noisy interruptions prevented Premier Asquith from delivering a speech on settlement work. The premier, after repeated efforts to get a hearing, left the temple in disgust.

The trouble began as soon as Mr. Asquith mounted the rostrum. Scores of women greeted him with cries of "Votes for women." One of their number chained herself to a pillar and was removed only after a violent struggle during which the audience was in an uproar.

James Ramsey MacDonald, the labor leader, who spoke after Mr. Asquith had left, described the scene as an insult to the prime minister and a degradation to English public life.

AMERICAN TREASURER MUST QUIT, IT SAYS

Russian Ultimatum Sent to Persia Also Demands Payment of an Indemnity.

Teheran, Nov. 29.—Russia's ultimatum has been delivered to Persia. Russia demands the instant dismissal of W. Morgan Shuster, the American treasurer general of Persia, whose administration of the financial department has resulted in the enormous expenses incurred in sending troops to Persia.

The ultimatum, in addition to the dismissal of Mr. Shuster, insists on the dismissal of other foreigners and the understanding that Persia shall not employ foreigners without the previous consent of Russia and Great Britain. Should the dismissal of Mr. Shuster not be carried out within forty-eight hours, Russian troops will march on Teheran and the additional expenses will be added to the indemnity.

It is stated confidentially that the national council will not comply with the demand. Mr. Shuster, in an interview today, said that the cancellation of his contract, which is solely with the Persian national council.

YUAN HAS HIGH HOPES OF SAVING THE THRONE

Chinese Premier Is Negotiating for a Loan and Believes He Will Get It.

Peking, Nov. 29.—Premier Yuan Shi Kai today informed a member of one of the legations that the crisis would be terminated in eight days. As he is endeavoring to obtain a loan, his statement may mean that he expects to be successful. Yuan Shi Kai is showing a desire to conciliate the rebel provinces. It is believed that he will safeguard the constitution. The foreign legations here have received printed circulars purporting to come from the revolutionary organization, offering to buy the merchandise of any nation making a loan to the government.

No direct private or press telegrams are permitted to leave Hankow. Only government and consular dispatches are now forwarded. Military dispatches from Hankow say that the strength of the revolutionary army is decreasing. The Hu Nan troops on the rebel side refused to attack and 5,000 rebel recruits in the province of Hu Pei have become insubordinate and shot their officers.

U. S. Troops Held in Readiness.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The United States is keeping in readiness at Manila an expeditionary force of from 2,000 to 2,500 soldiers for immediate dispatch to China for the purpose of protecting foreigners and to keep open the railway communication between Peking and the sea. This, it was declared by the state department today, is not to be considered an intervening force in favor of either the rebels or the imperialists, but is merely the United States' part in complying, together with the other powers signatory to the Boxer protocol, with the provisions of that document. The order for starting the troops awaits only word from American Minister Calhoun at Peking.

Nanking Forts Exchange Shots.

Nanking, Nov. 29.—The rebel and imperial forts exchanged occasionally shot and snipe. As winter approaches they are becoming bolder, attacking railways and in many instances following children home from school in the dusk of evening.

MRS. PATTERSON IS THINKING OF GOING ON STAGE

Acquitted of Her Husband's Murder, She Hints She Will Appear Before the Footlights—Verdict of the Jury Is Popular and Is Cheered by the Crowds.

To Go Into Vaudeville Would Be Cheap and Degrading, the Woman Says—She Would Like "Even a Tiny Part" in Some Really First-Class Company.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 29.—Gertrude Gibson Patterson, accused of the murder of her husband, Charles A. Patterson, whom she shot to death while the couple were dining together in the city temple on Sept. 25, last, today was declared not guilty by a jury in the district court.

As the clerk finished reading the verdict, Mrs. Patterson sprang to her feet and caught the outstretched hand of her attorney. From outside the court room came a great roar of cheers; inside, the crowd was quiet and orderly. But as court adjourned and Mrs. Patterson stepped forward to thank the jury, the crowd surged around her, overwhelming her with congratulations, and her efforts to reach the jury were in vain. Later four of the jurors called on her as she was making ready to leave the jail. To these she expressed her thanks and through them her gratitude to the others of the jury.

Women Strive to Kiss Her.

When Mrs. Patterson stepped from the court building for the first time to make a journey to the jail for her effects, the space between the court room and the jail was packed with a cheering crowd. On the arm of her attorney she struggled through the crowd—men trying to shake her hand and women striving to kiss her. Behind her, both hands waving in the air, came her father, shouting his joy. Close behind him came the mother and sister, both in tears.

At the jail the preparations for leaving were quickly made, and as Mrs. Patterson passed through the jail rotunda to go to her hotel the 150 or more prisoners gave her a round of cheers.

At no time in the deliberations of the jury were there more than two votes for conviction. Four ballots were taken.

Her Plans Indefinite.

Tonight Mrs. Patterson is with her parents, who are from Sandoval, Ill., for the trial. Of her plans, she had this to say: "I don't know myself what I am going to do. My father is anxious to take me back to Sandoval at once, but I can't leave Denver for a few days, at least, as I must close up some business matters."

"The stage? No vaudeville, positively not that—I think that would be cheapening and degrading—but I should like a part—even a tiny part—in a really first-class company. I think I could get it. But all that is most indefinite. Truly, I don't know what I am going to do."

Mrs. O'Shaughnessy to Be Freed.

New York, Nov. 29.—Mrs. Frances O'Shaughnessy, who yesterday, on the ground of insanity, was acquitted by a jury on the charge of having murdered her husband "to save his soul," was paroled today in the custody of her counsel and Dr. William Mahan of the Manhattan state hospital. Judge Foster reserved final disposition of the case until he receives a report from her custodians.

MYSTERIOUS MAN ARMED WITH DYNAMITE IS KILLED BY FALL FROM A TRAIN.

Gary, Ind., Nov. 29.—A man bearing letters addressed to O. Schim of South Chicago jumped or fell out of the vestibule of the eastbound Twenty Century Limited on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad tonight, and was killed. A mystery attaches to the death, in the discovery within a few feet of the body of a quantity of dynamite and what appears to be an electrical device for discharging it.

Traumen found a few feet away seven sticks of dynamite which had fallen upon the snow. A search of the man's pockets brought to light cards bearing the name O. Schim, as well as letters and a deed to some real estate. In the pocket was a quantity of electric wire, and almost beneath the body was a long black box, apparently some electrical contrivance about the size of a paving brick. It bore loops for attaching wire, had a small incandescent lamp on one end and contained an induction coil. The police believe the dynamite was carried by the man.

Gary, Ind., Nov. 29.—The victim of the accident was identified tonight as Peter Schomb, dynamiter for the Illinois Steel company. It is believed he took the wrong train and jumped off when he discovered his mistake.

WOLF HUNT IN KANSAS TODAY.

Hiawatha, Kas., Nov. 29.—The wolves of Wolf Creek valley in Brown county are doomed. The day of their death has been set for Thanksgiving when the farmers will join in a drive that is intended to exterminate the animals. All summer the wolves have been bold, coming from the woods and carrying off sheep and lambs. As winter approaches they are becoming bolder, attacking calves and in many instances following children home from school in the dusk of evening.

ONE PERSON MEETS DEATH IN A FIRE AT TOLEDO O.; TWO OTHERS BADLY HURT.

Toledo, Nov. 29.—One life was sacrificed and two others may be added to the list as a result of a fire which destroyed the home of Jacob Rubin early today. Rosa Rubin, a daughter, eight years old, was burned to death. A son, Harry Rubin, twelve years old, leaped through a small window and suffered internal injuries which it is thought will prove fatal. The father of the family was away from the city on business.

ICE ON PORTAGE LAKE IS ALREADY SO THICK IT BLOCKADES STEAMERS.

Hancock, Nov. 29.—The steamer Minnehaha of the Chicago & Duluth line and the freighter Plankinton, bound down from the head of the lakes, encountered ice six inches thick in Portage lake today and were caught in the ice fields. Tug boats worked several hours, without liberating either craft. The Zillah, with two tows, became blockaded at Portage Entry, but late today was reported to be making slow progress.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 29.—The steamer that sought shelter in the harbors of Lake Superior and St. Mary's river because of the snow storms and blizzard yesterday and last night began moving again this morning. Ice is making fast, but the big carriers were able to force a passage today without assistance from tugs.

BUSINESS IN STEEL SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Orders Are Increasing and Price of Bars Is Advanced $1 to $1.50 a Ton.

New York, Nov. 29.—An advance of $1 to $1.50 a ton in the price of steel bars for delivery after Jan. 1 was announced today by the Republic Iron & Steel company and the United States Steel corporation.

John A. Topping of the former concern made public a statement to the effect that steel bars will sell hereafter on spot delivery at $1.10 a hundredweight, Pittsburgh basis, and $1.15 for future delivery. The steel corporation announced that it was selling bars for delivery during the first quarter of 1912 at $1.15, and at $1.10 for spot.

Orders for steel are coming at the rate of about forty thousand tons a day, the steel corporation announced, and operations are now about 75 per cent. of capacity. If the orders increase, the operation of the plants will have to be expanded to take care of them, the announcement continued. At the office of the United States Steel corporation no details concerning the rise in bars were obtainable, all inquiries being referred to Pittsburgh.

Little surprise was expressed at the increase announced by the Republic company, one of the largest independent producers. It was shown that the company was getting a considerable share of the new business under the reduced price schedule. So far as could be learned no price advances in other products are immediately contemplated.

COPPER SHARES ARE ESPECIALLY WEAK

Losses the Rule at the Close of the Day's Trading in the Wall Street Market

New York, Nov. 29.—Traders were bearish today and stocks gave way. The pressure on the market could not be attributed to any unfavorable influence from without, for the day was busy with events bearing directly upon securities values. Apparently it was the work of professional traders who, taking advantage of the general reluctance to buy stocks at this time, attacked the market.

As a result of the heavy selling of the week, the short interest is believed to have been enlarged considerably, and for a time today it appeared as though the bears had over-reached themselves. A quick bull movement after the opening in a number of stocks in which there was a vulnerable short interest sent up the prices quickly. But the bulls did not possess sufficient strength to maintain their advantage and the list sold off again. The attack upon the market was continued until some of the active issues showed losses of two points or more from yesterday's close. Moderate covering the last hour reduced the losses.

The copper stocks as a group were especially weak, being sold on trade reports of a falling off in the demand for the metal.

Call Money Goes to 6 per Cent. Call money rose to 6 per cent. today, as compared with 3 1/2 per cent. at the close yesterday. This rate is the highest of the year. It was the opinion of bankers that with the month-end needs satisfied, the market will become easier, and that there was no reason to look for anything in the nature of stringency. The financial resources are regarded as ample, especially in the view of the fact that European credit can be drawn upon at any time. Moreover, there probably will be a return flow of money from the interior in the near future.

Copper Metal Quotations. On the New York Metal exchange today, standard copper was called quiet, but spot and the November and December contracts were quoted at 12.75 to 13.07 1/2 cents, the January at 12.80 to 13.10 and the February at 12.85 to 13.10. The London market was steady, the spot at £58, 18s. 10d and futures at £58, 13s. 9d. The customs house returns show exports of 25,715 tons so far this month. New York dealers quote lake copper at 13.12 1/2 to 13.25 cents, electrolytic at 13.12 1/2 to 13.25 and casting at 12.62 1/2 to 12.87 1/2.

LIFE TERM NOW FACING DOCTOR IN JACKSON JAIL

In Custody Since Sept. 7, Charged With the Murder of His Wife, J. Frank Sudman Makes a Signed Confession of His Guilt of the Crime.

He Quarreled With the Woman, the Physician Says, and When Afterward She Complained of Feeling Ill He Gave Her a Dose of Deadly Poison.

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 29.—Dr. J. Frank Sudman, the Jackson physician in custody since Sept. 7, charged with the murder of his wife, today made a signed confession of guilt, in the presence of county officials. The physician's attorneys said after the announcement that the prisoner would plead guilty in the circuit court on Saturday morning. The punishment is life imprisonment.

Sudman was arrested a few hours after his wife's death and when apprehended a vial of poison was found in his possession. He denied his guilt, claiming that his wife had a headache early in the day and that he gave her medicine, but not with criminal intent.

In his confession the physician says that his act followed a quarrel with his wife. Shortly after the quarrel, he said, she complained of being ill and he gave her some peppin and soda, in which he had mixed potassium cyanide. He said he did not leave the house until after she was dead.

In his confession Sudman expressed the desire that his children be prohibited from visiting him in prison until they are grown up.

Emil's father was the owner of a revolver and Emil invited his chum to come to see it. The boys went into Emil's house. Further details the police have been unable to learn, but the revolver was discharged and the Schapanski boy was instantly killed. Emil has disappeared.

DETROIT'S MIDNIGHT PROWLER ATTACKS 12-YEAR-OLD GIRL.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 29.—The recent epidemic of night attacks upon women of the East side was followed last night by a brutal midnight attack on Elizabeth Krell, twelve years old, in her home, 142 Hancock avenue, east. Her father, Michael Krell, recently came here from Toledo and his home is within a short distance of that of Herbert C. Duckett, who is under arrest and was identified by several women as having attacked them on the street. Mrs. Duckett, who has retained confidence in her husband, recently reported that a note proclaiming Duckett's innocence had been left at her home by a mysterious stranger, whom she had seen loitering in the neighborhood. The child will live.

DIVORCE IN SIGHT FOR UPTON SINCLAIR

Referee Who Has Been Hearing Testimony Recommends that Decree Be Granted.

New York, Nov. 29.—Upton Sinclair, the author, will get his divorce from his wife, Meta F. Sinclair, if the court approves the recommendation made today by Referee W. S. Keely, who has been taking testimony in the case since Oct. 23.

With the recommendation for an interlocutory decree went the referee's report of the testimony, containing interesting details of life at Arden, the summer camp of the Sinclair colony, while Harry Kemp, the Kansas poet and correspondent in the case, was a boarder there with other literary persons.

Ellen Barrows, stenographer for Mr. Sinclair, testified that Kemp was in company with Mrs. Sinclair almost all the time he was at Arden, and they frequently took long walks together. Once she said, Mrs. Sinclair remarked to her of Kemp: "He makes me very happy; he has the most beautiful soul I ever knew."

Visits by Mrs. Sinclair and Kemp to New Jersey coast resorts were testified to by other witnesses. Mr. Sinclair, himself, testified that he had introduced Kemp to his wife three years ago in Battle Creek, Mich., the author said that Kemp had given assurance that his friendship for Mrs. Sinclair was purely platonic.

It appears by the report that Mrs. Sinclair's attorney moved to dismiss the suit, on the ground that Mr. Sinclair had condoned his wife's acts.

HAS A BAD LOOK.

Among the crimes against good government there is none more cowardly and detestable, or more far-reaching in its evil consequences, than jury-rigging.

If the story that comes to us from Los Angeles, Cal., is true, there has been an audacious attempt made there to forestall the prosecution in the McNamara case by corrupting a juror who was expected to be one of the panel selected to try the accused dynamiter.

The public is aware that an enormous sum has been contributed for use in the defense of McNamara and his associates who are awaiting trial.

When some three hundred representatives of the manufacturing interests of Michigan had a hearing before the tax inquiry commission at Lansing last week the commission heard what they had to say, but asked no questions and offered no suggestions or explanations.

If the committee that conducted the investigation in the case of Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin should, as is intimated in the forecast thereof sent out from Washington, hold that the primary system compels a candidate for that office to spend an inordinate amount in the contest for the nomination it will make an opening for a lot of interesting discussion.

LET US ALL GIVE THANKS.

The people of Michigan have good reason to observe this holiday with hearts attuned to thankfulness, for they have enjoyed a year of peace and abounding prosperity.

The farmers have been favored with splendid crops, and they are finding a ready demand at good prices for all they have to sell.

Later discoveries in regard to the matter in which the battleship Maine was destroyed leave no doubt that the vessel was blown up by a mine, and not wrecked by an internal explosion.

The Detroit News gives this piece of political information in its "State Politics" column, which denotes that the farmers below the straits are still sore on Taft.

How can we save The oaks and beeches? Proceed to raze In lengthy speeches.

Bridge. I sat playing bridge at midnight While the clock was striking the hour. And I wished my coin diminished Where once I had seen it tower.

Disappointed. In "Yesterday with the Fathers" Dr. William Wilberforce Newton gives an entertaining anecdote concerning one of the "Fathers" and an observant small girl.

A Little girl in Old Trinity church, becoming restless during the preaching, asked her mother to let her go home.

After the third refusal from her mother, she remarked that the bishop would not like to see a little girl go out of church while he was preaching, and that he was almost done now, the child answered in a high falsetto:

"No, mother, he is not going to stop. I thought so now for three times, but he has gone and blowed himself up again."—Youth's Companion.

A Close Shave. Kansas people may not believe it, but former Senator W. A. Peffer once threatened to cut off his whiskers.

"What do you mean?" asked the other, in surprise. "Simply that Peffer drinks," said the man. "I saw him take a nip at a hotel bar myself today."

The friend challenged the statement, but the man stood pat. He was absolutely sure of it.

Finally, a friend went to Peffer and said: "Senator, I defended you against a serious charge a few minutes ago and now I want you to tell me the truth. I challenged the statement of a man who said he saw you take a drink of liquor today."

The senator shrugged his shoulders, looked sorrowfully down at his long whiskers and remarked: "Colonel Manning must either cut off his whiskers or I will cut off mine." Colonel Manning croaked his life.—Kansas City Journal.

is one too hard on our poor marquis and earls. A Chicagoan, I understand, was being shown through a New York picture gallery by his nephew. He paused before a striking portrait.

"That, uncle," the nephew explained, "is a portrait of Napoleon Bonaparte—the man the Duke of Wellington got the best of."

"The uncle frowned and said angrily: "Dum them foreign noblemen! How much did he lend him?"

In casting up the score against street musicians it must never be forgotten that one of England's foremost humorists—John Leech. The strain of ceaseless application to his work rendered Leech abnormally sensitive to street noises of all descriptions, and street music in particular drove him frantic.

In ten years the number of horses in Paris has fallen off about 25,000, or 72,488 horses in 1911 as against 96,688 in 1901. Yet in the country districts of France the number is increasing.

Mrs. Anna Kirkpatrick, 102 years old of St. Paul, is perfectly happy but wants to die. Mrs. Kirkpatrick spent her birthday a few days ago in bed, having suffered injuries in a fall a short time ago.

If asked the name of the strongest animals, most persons begin with the largest, the elephant, and continue with oxen, horses, etc. This is, of course, correct, insofar as their total horsepower is concerned, but for real strength, proportioned to the size and weight of the animal, one must go to the insect world.

It is announced from Rome that Pope Pius X will soon publish a document addressed to Catholic priests of the world, making important changes in the Roman breviary. This breviary is the service, in printed form, which every priest is required to recite daily.

There is a short crop of cabbage in Germany this year and sauerkraut, usually an article of export to the United States, is in great demand for domestic requirements. Hungary and Russia have been exporting fair quantities this far, and some contracts covering German sauerkraut sold in the American market have been cancelled and the difference in price paid.

LaLonde-Turner Wedding—Fred LaLonde, the popular guide at the Huron Mountain club, and Miss Ellen Turner, of Chicago, were united in marriage by Rev. Father Jodoey in this city Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The groom is well known about Big Bay and the club grounds and his many friends are extending their congratulations. The bride is a Chicago girl, who has spent some time at Huron Mountain as maid for the family of one of the club members.

Burkholder, the director. There are 209 pupils taking domestic science, and the expense during the past month was seventy-four cents a day or three mills a day for each pupil. Supplies used amounted to $14.81, distributed as follows: Groceries, $11.07; meat, $3.37; stationery, $5.00; milk, $1.62; supplies, $1.18; laundry, $1.09.

Three pictures are on the program: "Straight to the Square," "Jewels of Allah," and "The Door Keeper."

J. E. Williams Dead—James Richman received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of his father-in-law, J. E. Williams, which occurred at Montreal, where he has been living with a daughter, Mrs. David Mason, for some time. Mr. Williams conducted a barber shop in the city for many years, first coming here in 1873. He resided in Marquette until about fifteen years ago. The body will be brought to this city for burial and the funeral will be held at James Richman's home Friday afternoon. Mr. Williams was about eighty years of age and is well remembered by all the older residents.

Holiday for Schools—The public schools and the Normal school were dismissed last evening until next Monday, and a large number of the Normal students left for their homes last evening. For many years it has been the custom to give a vacation Thanksgiving week from Wednesday until Monday, as little can be accomplished by coming back for the Friday following the holiday. Under the new law definitely providing for the school holidays, State Superintendent Wright gave it as his opinion last fall that it was illegal to close school the Friday following Thanksgiving, but the board of education in Marquette, as well as in most other upper peninsula cities, has authorized the three days' vacation, as in former years.

Weber, the fast "V" center of last year, will play a forward position. There will also be some change in the K. of C. team. The game will be followed by dancing at Anderson's Hall. A special train over the South Shore road will leave here at 7:15 p. m., and, returning, will leave Ishpeming at 12:30 a. m.

ROOSEVELT TUNNEL OPENS A NEW ERA

Taps Cripple Creek Underflow and Makes Hitherto Inaccessible Ores Easy to Reach.

Cripple Creek, Colo., Nov. 29.—The main water courses lying under the Cripple Creek district, which have baffled mining engineers for years and made deep mining impossible, and which were the goal of the Roosevelt drainage tunnel that has been in progress of boring since 1907, have been tapped. This was a great event for Cripple Creek, and vindicates the judgment of the engineers who planned the scheme and the pluck of the companies which have spent over half a million dollars in putting through the tunnel.

With the gush of the torrent that broke through the heading and nearly cost the lives of many men and mules, came what experts declare to be the dawn of a bigger Cripple Creek. For years deep mining has been impossible because of the heavy flow of water, which tests have shown that some of the richest veins in the district lie below the working limit. It has been found that with depth the ore bodies increased in value and frequency, hence the anxiety of the mining men to overcome the obstacles between them and the riches they knew to exist. For five years the lower levels of the largest mines have been submerged and there was no way to dispose of the water.

The accomplishment of the purposes of the Roosevelt tunnel can hardly be appreciated except to those familiar with mining. Long has it been said that Cripple Creek had not been scratched, and the reason was obvious, but now the obstacle is removed and an era of unprecedented production and prosperity is sure to result.

Three Miles from Portal.

A heavy flow of water was tapped in the heading of the tunnel and by the Fuller cross cut from the tunnel level of the C. K. and N. vein. The flow in the heading was encountered at a point 15, 956 feet from the portal, a distance underground of more than three miles. The maps of the district show the heading to be now within the territory of the Gold Belle Gold Mining company's estate and tapping the main underground water courses.

The flow from the two watercourses is estimated at about 20,000 gallons per minute and a veritable torrent is pouring into Cripple Creek and down to the Arkansas river. The miners, when taken out through the intermediate shaft, were high in water. A laborer, Frank Johnson, lost his footing and was being swept away when Gus Swenson, "the Big Swede," seized him and saved him from being drowned. The mules were driven out through the portal and were stable off their feet in some places. The shaft in the tunnel near the intermediate shaft is under water. The water in the 1000-foot level of the El Paso shaft already has drained out and mining operations will be commenced at this depth at once. For the last two days the miners were drilling in dry ground, chiefly Pike's Peak granite, and when the drill holes tapped the water, casualties might have resulted had it not been for the precautions taken by Superintendent Fuller.

The driving of the deep drainage tunnel was commenced in July, 1907, and its cost to February, 1911, amounted to $523,694. One life has been lost in the work. Since last February, $90,000 additional has been subscribed by the mining companies and the work continued.

Pioneer of Escanaba Passes—

After being ill for but an hour Mrs. Eli P. Royce, one of the pioneer residents of Escanaba, passed away at the home of the family. Mrs. Royce was eighty-two years of age and is survived by her aged husband, Attorney E. P. Royce, who is now in his ninety-second year. She had made Escanaba her home for a great number of years, going to the district when Escanaba was but a village. She was known to a host of people and through her many kindly acts of unostentatious charity was loved and revered by many of the poor families of the city.

Fish Spawn Scarce This Season—

A carload of birdseye maple was shipped out of Crystal Falls the other day, destined for France. The logs were cut on the lands of Sawyers, Goodman & Co. west of the Dunn mine. Mr. Holbrook, a representative of the Munising veneer factory, has been in Crystal Falls for nearly a month, selecting birdseye maple from the timber on the Sawyer-Goodman tract. He expects to be at work most of the winter, as the company intends to cut most of its lands and it is necessary that he keep ahead of the sawyers. The plan he follows is to take a crew of men and cut out and log the timber as he finds it in the woods. He pays a stumpage of $25 per thousand feet and does his own logging. This price looks steep on paper, but when it comes to getting out the timber it is found that a forty doesn't produce much birdseye. If he succeeds in getting a thousand feet off the average run of hardwood, he is doing well.

Lumber Company Has Big Farm—

In the township of Breen, Dickinson county, the Morgan Lumber and Cedar company is operating one of the most successful farms in the upper peninsula, under the direction of Richard W. Pierce, Jr., the manager of lumber business. During the past season the company had two hundred acres under cultivation and a considerable acreage is being added to the farm each season as the timber is removed and conditions permit. The principal crops harvested this season included 200 tons of timothy hay, 3,000 bushels of oats, barley, rye and peas and 2,400 bushels of potatoes. Mr. Pierce has been experimenting successfully with alfalfa. He has two and a half acres planted and this season he harvested three crops—over six tons—from the field. This is about three times the average crop, and now that the roots have become firmly established he anticipates much larger crops. Mr. Pierce is enthusiastic regarding the results secured and contends that conditions in the upper peninsula are well adapted to the successful growing of alfalfa. The Morgan company also maintains on the farm a fine herd of Holsteins. Mr. Pierce says that the Holstein breed withstands upper peninsula weather conditions much better than other breeds, and he has had experience in the premises.

Logging Operations—

Superintendent Cleary reports it probable that Sawyer, Goodman & Co. will continue logging operations at their Dunn mine camp near Crystal Falls throughout the winter. For the past few years this company has operated only during the fall, shutting down when the snow got so deep that the Dunn mine branch of the St. Paul road could not be kept open easily. This winter it is said that the logs will be decked when cars cannot be procured. The company has been doing a lot of railroad building this fall and Mr. Cleary has the tract of timber opened up to ideal conditions. The rails are not laid on all of the grades, but that is an easy matter to accomplish when the time comes. D. F. Boyle & Co. will log extensively at Balsam. This concern has recently purchased a tract of hardwood between Balsam and Lucas and has several years' work there. The operators are fitting up a cordwood mill and will cut out all of their timber into wood. The plan is mainly of their own design and in the nature of an experiment that will be watched with interest by those in the business. Mr. Boyle will have charge of operations, assisted by Otto F. Dahms. The camps of Conley & Dahms at Balsam are being enlarged to accommodate the increased number of men and teams.

buy their own mittens or go without. Through a resolution presented to the council at its regular meeting this week the custom of supplying water works employes with this necessary article of wearing apparel will probably be stopped. It seems that in former days the council took pity on the employes and issued rubber boots and other little accessories to the work were put on the free list, so to speak. This week a bill for $2 was presented by the Soo Woolen Mills and Alderman Purvis immediately objected to passing the bill. "I have to wear my own mitts and I see no reason why the water works crowd shouldn't buy theirs," said the alderman. Other members were of the opinion "that they ought to cut it out," and the matter was finally referred back to the recorder for investigation.

Each member of the council and all city officials were given an opportunity to show their big heartedness when a subscription paper to raise funds to assist in getting the next state grange meeting for the Soo was passed. The sum asked was $75. City Attorney McDonald gave as his opinion that it would be impossible to vote any sum for the purpose from the city treasury. Mayor Short came to the rescue and suggested a general subscription, heading the list with $10. Within a few minutes $98 was raised.

Lower State Notes

MIDDLEVILLE—Richard Green, thirty-seven years old, who was shot by his own gun in a hunting accident near Bowen's mills, is dead of his injuries. He leaves three sisters.

LANSING—Mrs. Frank P. Glazier has left 5,000 more postal card requests at the executive office asking for the release of her husband, the former state treasurer, now in prison. Up to date, 15,000 such postal cards have been received.

MILLERSBURG—The price of potatoes has been sixty-five cents per bushel last week and the farmers are feeling prosperous. Angus McDonald, of this town, raised 1,100 bushels on four acres of ground and sold them for $650, or a trifle over $160 per acre.

BALDWIN—While jumping cars on a train switching on the tracks in the village fifteen-year-old Clarence Drilling, son of Fred Drilling, had his foot completely severed. Boys have been repeatedly warned to keep away from the trains, but this is the first serious accident.

GRAND HAVEN—Heap & Sons have begun the construction of the addition to their factory building, preparatory to installing a new fireless boiler plant, for which they are to receive a bonus of $5,000 from the board of trade. They will move the plant that they own in Muskegon here and add it to the one in Grand Haven.

ME. AMORA—Governor Osborn will deliver the address of welcome at the nineteenth annual meeting of the Michigan State Association of Farmers' clubs in the state senate chamber in Lansing, to be held Dec. 5 and 6. The program also includes an address by R. H. Rawl, chief of the dairy division of the department of agriculture, Washington.

ANN ARBOR—While dressing in her room on the third floor of the Honinger home Miss Ruth Mortenson's clothing caught fire from an oil stove. She rushed down stairs and into the yard, where neighbors beat out the flames. She was so badly burned she may die.

HOLLAND—The most unique instance in anniversary dates on record is credited to the family of Nicholas Hofsteen, 105 W. Third street. Three generations came within an ace of having been born on leap year day, their anniversaries falling on February 28. The principals are Henry Farma, seventy-seven years old; his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Hofsteen, forty-two years and his granddaughter, Leslie, who is one year old.

OWOSO—The Ann Arbor railroad, which recently invested $625,000 in gas-line motor cars, is experiencing considerable difficulty in operating them since cold weather set in. It is necessary to keep all windows in the cars closed and the fumes from the engines become so strong that engineers are overcome. The officials are trying to solve the problem.

EATON RAPIDS—Nine cases of typhoid fever and two deaths is the record of misfortune that has come to the George Brininstool family of this city since the middle of last August. The Brininstool family, including the father, mother and six children and the father of Mrs. Brininstool, have been afflicted with the disease during that time, the grandfather of the children having died two weeks ago and the father this week, while the mother and two of the children are still critically ill.

TRAVERSE CITY—There has developed so much interest in scientific fruit growing that the Western Michigan Development bureau has started a movement directed toward getting books bearing upon fruit growing and agriculture added to the public libraries in western Michigan and to the school libraries in the several districts in the twenty counties that make up the western Michigan territory.

BUCHANAN—The new plant of the Buchanan Electric Steel company is completed, and preparations are being made for starting work on the large furnaces. The Celler Tool company, the stockholders of which are interested in the Buchanan Electric Steel company, has developed and placed on the market a new pattern of twist drill and its business has increased by leaps and bounds. Last month the pay roll was the largest it had been any time this year and new men are being taken on almost daily, while the entire force is working until 10 o'clock each night. The hammer room is being operated night and day.

LANSING—The public domain commission have in the state nursery at Higgins Lake Forest reserve, Roscommon county, a few thousand of the following varieties of seedlings which they will dispose of to those who desire to plant them in Michigan. The price per thousand is just enough to cover the actual cost of production and includes the packing, boxing and delivery to the railroad station. Seedlings of western yellow, Scotch and white pine can be ordered in as large or small quantity as desired and shipments will be made as long as the weather will permit.

MENDON—Though this village recently bought the Parkville dam and power equipment for $10,000, it is shy on money to operate it, a proposal to bond for $7,000 for this purpose having been voted down by the people. The common council is considering an offer of the Seiver Bros' Electric company of Burr Oak, which wants to purchase the entire holdings of the Mendon electric lighting plant and equipment, which includes the Parkville dam. The Burr Oak company offers to pay $11,085 and wants a thirty-year franchise and a contract to light Mendon for ten years, at the end of which time Mendon is to have the privilege of repurchasing the plant at a price to be determined by experts.

MUSKEGON—The socialist party of Muskegon has demanded that Alderman Byron Wells of the Eighth ward resign from the city council within two weeks. In case he does not resign he is to be expelled from the socialist body. The alderman voted to give a contract for lighting the city to the Grand Rapids-Muskegon Power company and voted against a plan for a municipal plant. Wells was elected on a socialist ticket and members of the organization say he violated the socialist platform when he voted to give a contract to a corporation and turned down municipal ownership, one of planks in the socialist platform. Alderman Wells has not yet decided whether he will resign or not.

BATTLE CREEK—That fifty $1,000,000 will be expended in building in Battle Creek next year and that at least 200 residences will be constructed in this city and suburbs is the statement of a prominent local contractor who gave these figures. This contractor apportions the 1912 expenditures as follows: New Masonic Temple, $50,000; city hall, $150,000; Post improvements on West Jackson street, $40,000; flats, $30,000; business blocks, $500,000; residences, $200,000; incidentals, $50,000. All of these figures except the flats business blocks and residences are firm while there is seldom a year that less than $50,000 is expended on flats. Business blocks will more than double in all prices in 1912, while $200,000 for residences is a remarkably low estimate. This would require only 100 residences at $2,000 each, or 200 residences at $1,000 each—and over 200 homes were built in Battle Creek last year.

DETROIT—Seated on the bar across the front of an automobile which had run him down H. A. Lockwood was driven feet first through a plate glass window in the front of the store building at 116 Woodward avenue. He escaped with only a slight cut on the hand and a bruise on the leg. The automobile was only slightly damaged. The car was driven by P. J. McManus. Lockwood had just allowed another machine to pass in front of him and started toward the walk, when he saw the McManus machine coming too swiftly to stop in time. With rare presence of mind, Lockwood, who is a heavy man, jumped into the air and came down, sitting on the rail which serves as a shock absorber on the automobile. Then the car swerved from the street and the accident resulted.

PLENTY OF BIG GAME IN PINE TREE STATE

Deer So Numerous Fodder Is Scarce—Many Moose, Too—Caribou Gone.

Bangor, Nov. 29.—A spirited argument is going on among the hunters and guides just now as to whether Maine's deer population is increasing or decreasing, and there is a wide difference of opinion on the subject, although the fact that nearly 200 deer carcasses were brought to Bangor in one day last week, and more than 100 on several days recently, would seem to show that the game is plentiful in some sections of the state.

Emery Sweet of Oxbow, a registered guide, says the deer are decreasing because of wanton slaughter by some of the visiting hunters and the killing of hundreds by logging crews for food. The law allows each woods camp to take six deer in a season, but Guide Sweet says that he has often seen as many as a hundred deer skins around a camp in one winter. The crews cutting ties for the railroads are the worst offenders, says Sweet, and in Aroostook county there are fifteen or twenty of these crews at work every winter.

On the other hand, Chairman Wilson of the state fish and game commission declares that Maine has all the deer that can find a living in the woods—that if there were any more deer some of them would starve to death, and in this opinion he is supported by Tim Pollard, chief warden. Pollard says there are more deer now than there would have been if none had been shot in the last three years. "The deer," says Pollard, "are getting along all right, but with the big storms and the deep snow comes trouble. The animals soon eat all the food within reach—the small branches and twigs—when that supply is gone, and they cannot cruise around in the woods because of the deep snow, they starve to death."

"Why," says Commissioner Wilson, "last week a guide named Turner, who operates all over Maine and has just returned from a trip to Canada, was at my camp in the Bangor region and gave it as his opinion that we ought to allow people to shoot more deer than now, because there isn't food enough for all we have. He said he could take me up into Aroostook county and other game regions and show me hundreds of carcasses of deer lying around the swamps where they had died of starvation."

"Exactly," said Pollard. "Everything has been eaten up clean, and they've nothing to live on. That is why I say that there are more deer in Maine today than there would have been had not a deer been shot for the past three years. Any great increase in numbers would have meant general famine, disease and death."

Both officials agree that there is plenty of game of all kinds in the woods, except caribou, which animals left Maine some years ago and have never returned, save in a few cases close to the Canadian border, where a few have been seen from time to time. Moose are more plentiful now than at any time in the past ten years, and the record of receipts at Bangor is ahead of last year's at this time. This is especially true of Washington, Hancock and lower Aroostook counties.

The falling off in deer receipts at Bangor is in large measure, Commissioner Wilson says, to the fact that hundreds of hunters now come and go in motor cars, so that their game is not carried by rail, and consequently not recorded. About 1,200 licenses have been granted to non-resident hunters this season, or sixty-nine more than in the corresponding period of 1910.

Warden Pollard says the caribou will never come back to Maine until the deer leave. Many years ago the deer left Maine, and then the caribou flocked in. Caribou are rather dainty, and they would starve to death in a state where 100,000 or more deer are greedily devouring all the food that tempts the caribou appetite.

PASTOR AT PLYMOUTH SLAPS AT JOHN ALDEN

Cherished Story of Miles Standish and Other Traditions Get Body Blows.

Plymouth, Mass., Nov. 29.—Several long-cherished traditions among descendants of the Pilgrims have been given body blows by Rev. W. W. Dornan, pastor of the Church of the Pilgrimage. According to Mr. Dornan, the naive query of Priscilla, "Why don't you speak for yourself, John?" is merely poetic fancy. John Alden never came to Priscilla Mullins as spokesman for Miles Standish, but courted Priscilla for himself, says the pastor. He also affirms that Captain Standish did not want Priscilla, anyhow. Pastor Dornan assails the story about the crack in Plymouth Rock. He says we have the wrong date for the landing of the Pilgrims, and intimates that the Pilgrim fathers, and mothers, too, hardly let their husbands and wives get cold in the ground ere they married again.

Fixes Pilgrims' Landing.

Pastor Dornan said: "It is not my purpose to antagonize, but many of the old traditions connected with Pilgrim history are absolutely groundless."

"First, I would say that the Pilgrims landed here the 21st of December, 1620, and not the 22nd, as most persons believe. When the historians figured out the dates after the changing from the Gregorian to the Julian calendar they forgot when they subtracted the necessary ten days that all the events took place over a century back, and I find that the 21st, was the real date."

Mr. Dornan denounces those who allowed the figures of 1620 to be inscribed on Plymouth Rock. He said:

"I consider that act one of the grossest sacrileges ever perpetrated. That rock is far more sacred than the temples of old which are guarded with jealous care."

Miles Standish Tale Exploded.

"Show me," he said, "where is there any history which says that Captain Miles Standish ever courted Priscilla Mullins. The doughty captain, fresh from the loss of his beloved wife, Rose, would naturally have looked back to her sister in England, and the only instance I have ever heard in history was some mention of this fact. John Alden courted and won Priscilla Mullins for himself and himself alone."

"The Pilgrims did not believe in living single long after the death of a wife or husband. The mother of Peregrine White, the first white child born in America, was married to Governor Winslow when she was but twelve weeks a widow, and he was but eight weeks a widower."

SERIOUS OUTLOOK FOR MEN.

The Increasing Competition of Young Unmarried Women May Be Productive of Grave Consequences.

In the New York Times the other day there was an interesting letter signed "Prudence" about the latter days of unmarried men. The writer quotes the statistics of one of the life insurance companies to the effect that nearly 41 per cent of men 56 years old are dependent on their families for support. This dependent condition of nearly half the men nearing the farther boundary of middle age the writer attributes to the competition of young unmarried women in employments which 25 years ago fell almost altogether to men. Nowadays, it seems, the less efficient and valuable men are crowded out of such employments, as they grow old, by women, or, if they lose their places, fail to get new ones. Then if they have families they fall back on them for support, but if they have none, their predicament is grave.

This writer finds that there are many more bachelors of mature years than there used to be—men who have avoided marriage because they thought they could not afford it under current conditions of living, and who, very commonly, have spent all their earnings on themselves and saved nothing. The fear of self-denial has prevented them from marrying women without property, and the same fear has prevented wage-earning women from marrying them. That is comprehensible. A woman who earns a fairly good living may not be willing to give it up to marry a man who also earns a fairly good living, but who does not consider that he earns enough for two. If he thinks that, she will be apt to agree with him.

If the increased wage-earning of women is going to keep more of them single, and also diminish the capacity of men to support families, and even themselves, it will have serious consequences, comments Harper's Weekly. Society seems not to be adjusted yet to the new working woman. Somehow she must contract the habit of getting married. If her husband can't support her as she is used to being supported, she must support herself and perhaps him. We are used to having men marry rich women and live on their wives' incomes, but not so much accustomed yet to having them share their wives' wages. Perhaps our minds have got to learn new attitudes in this matter. It looks as if the wages fund had not been so much increased, but that a large part of the proportion of it now paid to women is deducted from what used to be paid to men. The women, then, must undertake a share of the support of the human family that is proportionate to the share they receive of the means to support. Where the money goes responsibility follows.

It looks as if the men would have to buck up considerably if they expect to hold their place as lords of creation.

Miss Sadie Donahoe, who spent the past couple of weeks visiting her cousin, Mrs. Sam Byrne, in Houghton, has returned to the city.

C. A. Childs, manager of J. Sellwood & Co.'s dry goods store, has arranged an attractive display of linen in the store window.

Johnny Jones, son of J. P. Jones of Milwaukee, formerly of this city, is here on a visit to his grandmother, Mrs. J. Connors, and family, of West Barnum street.

The funeral of the late Fred Nault was held yesterday morning from St. Joseph's church and was largely attended. Services were conducted by Rev. E. P. Bordes, the pastor.

Hugh Campbell, the artist, who has been working in Braastad & Co.'s window for the past several weeks, is now doing his painting in the room on the second floor, where the holiday display has been arranged. Mr. Campbell has a great many orders for pictures and it will be some time before he will complete his work here.

While the supper is being served this evening by the bachelors of the First Methodist Episcopal church, music will be furnished by the Sunday School orchestra. The charge for the meal will be twenty-five cents for adults and fifteen for children. Many tickets for the supper have been sold.

The Misses Lillie and Helen Braastad left last evening for Chicago, where they will spend a few days with their sister, Miss Borghild Braastad, who is a student of music at the Chicago university. They were accompanied by Miss Evelyn Ekykn, of Kansas City, who has been visiting at the Braastad home the past few weeks.

A meeting of the Ishpeeming nest of Owls will be held tomorrow evening in the Swedish Home society's hall. The society has engaged quarters in the Old Fellows hall, and the first meeting will be held there next Tuesday evening. The future meetings will be held on the first and fourth Tuesday evenings of each month.

The ladies of Grace church guild are preparing a large variety of fancy and useful articles, all of which will make very acceptable Christmas gifts, for their annual sale, which is to be held next Tuesday, beginning at 2 o'clock, in the guild hall. Light refreshments will be on sale during the afternoon, and a chicken pie supper will be served, commencing at 5 o'clock.

It's the only safe way. Best for biliousness, headache, dyspepsia, chills and debility. 25c at The Stafford Drug Co.

"There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever, and was coughing up blood. Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased them, and three bottles cured them," says Mrs. R. A. Donaldson, of Lexington, Miss. For sale by The People's Drug Store.

PROPERTY HAS BEEN DEEDED TO THE CITY

Site on Which Ishpeeming's New Fire Hall Will Stand Formally Turned Over.

The committee representing the city council, consisting of Mayor McCorkindale and three aldermen, has purchased the Superior Lumber company's property, on Lake street, which is to be used for a new fire hall and other city purposes. The price agreed upon for the property has been paid over to the Superior company and the latter has been given a lease of the property until May 1, at $25 per month. It is understood, however, that the company will vacate that portion of the ground upon which the fire hall will be located prior to that date if the council decides to begin building operations before the expiration of the lease.

At the last regular meeting of the council, Mayor McCorkindale reported in behalf of the committee, stating that a delay had occurred in effecting a transfer of the property, due to a misunderstanding regarding the terms of the lease, but since then the members of the committee and officials of the company reached an amicable agreement and both parties are now thoroughly satisfied. The purchase made by the committee in behalf of the city will be reported to the council at its regular monthly meeting, next Wednesday evening. It is anticipated that steps will be taken following the council session for the securing of plans and specifications for the proposed fire hall. Several prominent architects in the upper peninsula and elsewhere, have expressed a desire to be granted the privilege of submitting sketches, and it is likely that the competition among them will be rather keen.

It is the desire of the councilmen and members of the board of public works to make the fire hall one of the most modern and complete to be found in this entire section. The building will be equipped with the very latest conveniences for the effective operation of the department, and all of the new apparatus necessary will be purchased prior to the completion of the structure.

In view of the large area available for the building, a good-sized structure will be provided in order that there shall be ample room for all purposes. The upper story will be equipped with a fine hall for the members of the department and there will be extra space allowed for additional equipment that may be needed in the future.

It is expected that the new fire hall site will be a busy place next summer, as the highway department will store its equipment in the yards and it may be necessary to make a number of improvements in the buildings now on the ground. Gravel for street building will be dumped there and the grounds will be used for other city purposes.

NO WORK TODAY.

Thanksgiving Will Be a Day of Rest for Ishpeeming Toilers.

There will be no work in any of the mines of Ishpeeming today. All of the mercantile establishments, banks, library and brokerage office will be closed all day. The barbers will work until 11 o'clock, and the postoffice will be open for a short time at the noon hour.

There will be services in most of the churches this morning, and this evening there will be several entertainments, exclusive of those given in the moving picture theaters. At the First and Salisbury Methodist churches members of the Bachelor club will serve supper, beginning at 5 o'clock. At 8 o'clock the men will take charge of entertainments in the church auditoriums. These affairs are annual events with the men of the two church congregations and they are usually well attended by the parishioners, as well as by many of their friends. Splendid programs have been arranged for the evening. The Presbyterian, Baptist and First Methodist congregations, will hold their annual union services this morning at 10 o'clock in the Presbyterian church. The Presbyterian choir will render special numbers and Rev. J. G. Haller, pastor of the Methodist church, will preach the sermon.

There will be special services this evening at 10 o'clock in the Swedish Lutheran church, conducted by Rev. O. A. Landell, the pastor, and this afternoon members of the Ladies' Missionary society will conduct a social in the Young People's hall, concluding this evening with a program appropriate to the day.

There will be services this morning at 10 o'clock in Grace Episcopal church, with a special musical program by the choir. This evening the Assembly will give the second of its winter series of dancing parties in the Anderson hall. A number of guests are expected from Neegaunee and other parts of the county.

CENTRAL DELIVERY SYSTEM A SUCCESS

Delivery Plan Advocated by Ishpeeming Merchant Discussed by Escanaba Paper

The views of an Ishpeeming merchant on the delivery system as it is conducted by the dealers here, published in Monday's issue of The Mining Journal, reached a much discussion among the businessmen as well as the people of the city. The merchant referred to the fact that the plan of making all of the deliveries through one company from a central station is being successfully operated in Escanaba, and that the businessmen there like the plan much better than the old system, as it has reduced the cost of conducting their enterprises, and has also lessened their troubles and enables them to sell their goods at a lower price than formerly.

Commenting on the Ishpeeming business man's views, and referring particularly to the success of the delivery system in that city, the Escanaba Morning Press says:

"Following the success that has been achieved in this city by the central delivery system, attention is being called to the system in many other surrounding cities of the upper peninsula.

"Escanaba is now being pointed out by the merchants of other cities as one of the municipalities where an advanced step has been taken to solve the goods delivering system to the benefit of both the merchants and their patrons.

"Established here by the Escanaba Dealers Credit & Delivery association is an experiment, the central delivery plan has now reached the stage where it may be pronounced a successful success. The delivery of goods from the stores to homes in all parts of the city is, under the system in vogue here made at certain hours of each day and the cost, it has been found, is well below the old individual delivery system.

"The fact that all of the merchants of the city who joined the central delivery association when it was launched are still members of the association, and new firms have been taken in from time to time, is in reality the best argument that can be offered as to the success of the central delivery plan.

"In Ishpeeming the business men are facing much the same problem that is offered here before the establishment of the central delivery system.

"An Ishpeeming man, who lived at Ann Arbor for some years, yesterday spoke of the central delivery plan as it is conducted there, declaring it to be the biggest kind of a success. He said that the patrons of the stores are given an hourly service during ten hours of the day and that the merchants would not go back to the old system under any circumstances. He said the people of the city are receiving much better delivery service than they did when goods were brought by the merchants' own deliverymen. The delivery teams are operated on schedule time and the patrons of the stores can always depend on receiving their goods promptly. He said he often wondered why the merchants of Ishpeeming did not get together on the delivery proposition and organized a company through which all deliveries would be made from a central station.

MARRIED YESTERDAY.

Ishpeeming Girl Becomes the Wife of a Grand Rapids Veterinary Surgeon.

Miss Lucy Stark, who recently resigned the position of cashier with the Metropolitan Life Insurance company here, and who left the city Sunday evening for Grand Rapids, Mich., was married there yesterday to Dr. Thomas L. Bott, a veterinary surgeon, who has a big practice in that city. The marriage ceremony was solemnized in the parsonage of one of the Catholic churches.

Immediately after the marriage Dr. Bott and his bride left Grand Rapids for Stockbridge, Mich., where they will spend a week or ten days visiting his folks. They will return to Grand Rapids after the first of the year.

The bride, who is a daughter of Anton Stark, was born and reared in Ishpeeming and she has a great many friends here, though her husband has only a few acquaintances in this city. He has been in business in Grand Rapids for several years past and is said to be very successful.

CLEVER ENTERTAINMENT.

High School Students Delighted Large Audience in Musical Farce.

The flirtations of the "Worst Man" with the bevy of summer girls, a clever and amusing play, was presented at the high school Wednesday evening by the Girls' Literary society, assisted by Carl Taleen. The parts were all very cleverly taken. Elsie Cooke, as Elizabeth, sang the woes of the maidens and the meaning of love with spirit and eloquence. Ruth Swanson took the role of "Impatience," the maker of the wonderful doll. Especially pleasing was the little song, "Time Was When Men and Hearts Were Found Together." The seven other maidens—Carrie Hawes, as Josephine Babette; Mary Maloney, the demure Prudence; Estelle Hooper, the charming Priscilla; Lenore Trygslund, the gushing Ethelinda; Mary Dundon, the pert Janette; Carrie Molloy, the coy Marianna; Marie Horgan, the gentle Susanna—all interpreted very cleverly the varying degrees of coyness, coqueness and coquettishness that the parts demanded.

Carl Taleen deserves no little praise for his rendition of the "Worst Man's" rather difficult mingling of limpness and eloquence. The audience thoroughly appreciated Mary Brazil, as Topsy, from the time she first entered till she cake-walked off at the end of the play.

The music, which was taken from the operas of "Pirates of Penzance," "Patience" and "Pinafore," was bright and catchy throughout, and added much to the beauty of the play. The choruses and dances were given with a vivacity that won enthusiastic encores. The High School orchestra, which appeared for the first time this year, played very creditably. Altogether, the entertainment was one of which the high school may well be proud, and for which the Girls' Literary society deserves high praise.

SURPRISED THEIR FRIENDS.

Herbert Johnson and Miss Olive Uren Married Yesterday Afternoon.

Miss Olive Uren, teacher at the Salisbury location, and Herbert Johnson, son of J. L. Johnson and a civil engineer at the Oliver Iron Mining company's offices, were married at the rectory of the Grace Episcopal church at 5:30 last evening, the Rev. Carl Ziegler tying the nuptial knot. Though it was suspected that the wedding of the couple was impending, the exact date had been kept a profound secret, and the first news of its having happened, was when the couple telephoned relatives to meet them at the railroad station to extend congratulations.

The bride was attended by Miss Nancy Dawe and Garfield Dawe supported the groom. Mr. Johnson worked at the Oliver office until noon yesterday, while the bride taught school all day, sending in her resignation to Superintendent Scribner last evening by special messenger. Both bride and groom are well known in Ishpeeming and have a wide circle of friends. Mr. Johnson is a graduate of the Ishpeeming high school and of the Michigan College of Mines, while Mrs. Johnson is a graduate of the Normal school at Marquette. After a short wedding trip the couple will make their home in this city.

Mr. Turner will skate the entire mile on one foot. In addition to the race, Mr. Turner will introduce a block social, in which all of the skaters will participate. This is something new here. It is expected that the skaters will be well pleased with it, and that it will be a feature in the rink in the future. Prizes will be given to one couple and four skaters are liable to win them as are good ones. Professor Turner will also give an exhibition this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Among his specialties will be skating on stilts.

FREAKS OF BULLETS.

Stories of Happenings on the Field of Battle.

At the battle of Pencil Orchard, when McClellan was making his charge of base, a Michigan infantryman fell to the ground as if shot dead, and was left lying in a heap as the regiment charged position. The bullet that had hit him, states a writer in Harper's Weekly, first struck the barrel of his gun, then glanced and struck off a button of his coat, tore the watch out of his vest pocket, and struck the man just over the heart, where it was stopped by a songbook in his shirt pocket. He was unconscious for three-quarters of an hour, and it was a full month before the black-and-blue spot disappeared.

At Pittsburg Landing a member of the Twelfth Michigan infantry stopped to give a wounded man a drink from his canteen. While in this act, a bullet aimed at his breast struck the canteen and buried itself in the leg of a horse. The canteen was split open and dropped to the ground in halves.

At the second Battle of Bull Run, a New York infantryman was passing tobacco to a comrade when a bullet struck the plug, glanced off and buried itself in a knapsack. The tobacco was rolled up like a ball of shavings and carried a hundred feet away. Directly in the line of the bullet was the head of a lieutenant, and had not the bullet been deflected, or returned substitutes. For sale by all dealers.

eyes filled with tobacco dust, and had to be led to the rear.

At Brandy Station one of Custer's troopers had his left stirrup strap cut away by a grape shot, which passed between his leg and the horse's blistering the skin as if a red-hot iron had been used. He dismounted to ascertain the extent of his injuries, and, as he bent over, a bullet knocked his hat off and killed his horse.

In the same fight a trooper had suffered several days with a toothache. In a hand-to-hand conflict he received a pistol ball in right cheek. It knocked out his aching tooth, and passed out through the left corner of his mouth, taking along part of an upper tooth. The joy at getting rid of the toothache was so great that the trooper could not be made to go to the rear to have the wound dressed.

P. O. DEPARTMENT A "QUESTION BOX"

Freak Letters Ask Everything From Remedies for Aches to Spiritual Advice.

Washington, Nov. 29.—On almost every mail train that rolls into Washington there is a sack which contains a letter of no peculiar nature that officials of the postoffice department, to most any one of whom the letter may be addressed, are seriously considering the creation of a new office for the handling of freak mail matter. Letters come addressed to the postmaster general which ask questions, the answers to which only persons possessed of occult and supernatural powers could give. Their range is wide and when the postmaster general's private secretary opens one of them he stands an even chance of being confronted with a request for a recipe for apple butter, a prayer that he find a long lost relative or a demand that he recommend a superior brand of needles. At present the greater part of this small matter is turned over to Jesse L. Suter, who disposes of it in such manner as he thinks most appropriate.

Then there are the Santa Claus letters which are extremely numerous during the two months prior to Christmas. All ready they have commenced to come in. With these epistles, nearly every one of which is appealingly pathetic, different action is taken. Charitable organizations, newspapers or private individuals who are philanthropic enough to wish to play the role of Santa Claus may receive them if they give the postoffice department sufficient evidence of their good intentions. Applications are received and if the party involved is believed to be sincere in his desire to assist the poor children who appeal, he is given the letter.

Those "Santa" Letters.

November 3 Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock issued the following order in regard to Santa Claus mail:

"Postmasters are authorized to deliver all letters arriving at their respective postoffices between December 16 and January 1, inclusive, which are addressed plainly and unambiguously to 'Santa Claus' without any other terms of expressions identifying the person from whom such letters are intended, to responsible institutions or individuals in the town or city of address who may desire to use them exclusively for philanthropic purposes. In the event that these letters are requested by more than one such institution or individual, the postmaster shall distribute them in such proportion as he may deem proper.

This practice has been much abused by newspapers which have used this medium to advertise their publications. A stop was put to this practice by the postoffice department in 1907.

The following letter of the "freak" character was received a short time ago:

Wants Treasure Finder.

"Dear Sir—I will write you a few lines asking you if you have an instrument that would go to hidden treasures, gold and silver. If you handle any thing like that let me know in return mail. I know lots of hidden treasures, but can't locate them without an instrument and what kind of a trial could you let me have one. As ever your truly,

The writer was evidently in need of a divining rod of extraordinary powers.

Another correspondent writes to criticize the postoffice department in this wise:

"Mr. Hitchcock, I will see by the enclosed envelope that the Chicago postoffice can't find Grand Tower, Ill. Will you please let them know that we have it in the state and oblige?"

A bereaved young man writes to the department asking for assistance in his search for his adopted father, who has been missing 10 years. The writer is particularly solicitous to know if the man in question is dead and whether or not he has left a will. Such requests sometimes attain the desired result. Only a short time ago an aged woman found through the medium of the department a son who believed her dead. She was rescued from abject poverty to prosperous circumstances by her son, who had grown wealthy.

Pathetic Aid Appeal.

The Santa Claus letters are peculiarly interesting. One was received this week from a woman who wrote in Italian. She writes from Astoria, Long Island, and is probably an emigrant who had proceeded but little distance from the port where she landed, and says:

"A mother of five children asks aid of Santa Claus to make Christmas day joyful to my dear children. With many thanks in advance.

"TERESA BOZONTO."
From Zanesville, O., comes the following:

"Dear Santa Claus,
"I am a Poor Little Boy 6 years old and my little brother is 4 years old, my Papa can't get us any Christmas Toys. Can you send me and my little brother a wagon, a few oranges a little candy, and some Nuts, a Ball for me and a Ball for my Brother and a horse, a little dog, a little r--ng whip, 2 horses one for Brother and what you can spare for us. By, By, santa, I will look for them on Christmas Eve. I like you santa Claus."

"from Paul and Emel."
A letter addressed to Mr. Santa from two little boys of 6 and 9 years, whose father is a blacksmith, which the writers would rather have written to John D. Rockefeller, but not knowing his address are falling back on Santa Claus as an expedient. A sister is mentioned, and it is intimated that she wants a ring. A space marked off on the paper gives the circumference of her finger.

Doesn't Want Much.

Another, who characterizes herself as a "good little girl," says that she "wants everything that would be nice for her." A wide field is presented by the postoffice department to the curiosity seeker and to the philanthropist. It is believed that practically all of the children who write to Santa Claus are deserving, but in many of the letters, the hand of an elder person may be traced.

A majority of the letters come from western states. The Santa Claus letters are retained until after Christmas and are then destroyed, while most of the freak letters, if beyond the pale of reason, are disposed of shortly after they are received.

CATUS AS TELEPHONE POLES.

Sahara cactus for telephone and telegraph poles is the latest idea and one that is to be tried out. It sounds plausible and it is believed that it will be more economical than the old style of poles. Its test is to come from Tucson, Ariz.

The giant saguaro will not be saved and set up nor will they be transplanted, but the growing plant will be used as pole where it is found practicable. Where they can be found in what approaches alignment, so that the line will not have to zigzag so much, the Sahara up to the canyons through which the line will pass are to be utilized for the purpose of attaching brackets to which the wires will be fastened. And so the secret is out.

Along the proposed line it is difficult to set poles, owing to the rocky nature of the country traversed. Not only in this case, but it is difficult to get the posts up there in the hills to set, while the Sahara are right there in many instances, and while not in uniform distance, this is not considered important.

WHEN THE BIG GUNS LET GO.

The effects of two ten-inch turret guns fired simultaneously on board a war vessel are rather astonishing. A correspondent on board the vessel says:

"For several moments I wondered what hit me, and where I was hit. The glass that protects the chronometer from the weather, and the windows of the chart-house, the glass of which is one-third of an inch thick, were smashed to atoms. An ink bottle that stood on the table in the chart-house jumped about six inches, and every drop of ink spraying out, but the bottle dropped back to the spot from which it jumped. Three water bottles and three tumblers were on the table in the smoking-room, all being full of water. When the guns were fired, the water bottles and the tumblers jumped into the air. Three gentlemen who were in the room also left their seats. The bottles and tumblers fell back into their old places, but every drop of water had been spilled upon the table, though nothing had been broken." This suggests a rather unpleasant outlook for the sailors in case of a battle.

A FATHER'S VENGEANCE.

Would have fallen on any one who attacked the son of Peter Bondy, of South Rockwood, Mich., but he was powerless before attacks of kidney trouble. "Doctors could not help him," he wrote, "so at last we gave him Electric Bitters and he improved wonderfully from taking six bottles. It's the best kidney medicine I ever saw." Backache, Tired feeling, Nervousness, Loss of Appetite, warn of kidney trouble that may end in dropsy, diabetes or Bright's disease. Beware! Take Electric Bitters and be safe. Every bottle guaranteed, 50c at The Stafford Drug Co.

Ely's Cream Balm has been tried and not found wanting in thousands of homes all over the country. A place in the family medicine chest among the reliable household remedies, where it is kept at hand for use in treating cold in the head just as soon as some member of the household begins the preliminary sneezing or snuffing. A quick relief put a stop to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bad case of catarrh.

Mining News

BUTTE MINING LOW GRADE ORES.

Repeated statements have come to the effect that the Butte mines or at least some of them, show richer ore at greater depth, and yet in the face of these assertions the average copper yield, as shown by the last annual reports, was slightly lower than before. This is explained by the fact that constantly increasing economies in both mining and smelting make it possible to mine ore at a profit which had heretofore been left in the mines as unprofitable rock. This also explains why, during the past year, old golds (stope fillings) have been mined from the Boston & Montana and other old properties and sent to the concentrator.

Up to within a year the lowest grade of ore that could be sent direct to the smelter was 6 per cent. copper ore, whereas, today 5 per cent. ore is good smelting material. It is expected that this improvement will continue and that a still lower grade of ore can be sent direct to the smelter, and that one now regarded practically as waste will be found profitable concentrating rock. This, of course, serves to reduce the average, notwithstanding the fact that some of the mines grow richer with depth. There seems no doubt about the excellent condition of the Butte mines. There is evidence in the fact that millions of dollars are being spent in permanent improvements and new equipment. Curtailment of production is evident at every mine, and it is asserted that the Amco and associated companies would send to the smelters 5,000 tons more of ore every day if it was now mined.

What did more than all else to create an impression abroad that the Butte mines were becoming poorer or were being mined rapidly depleted, was the phenomenal situation regarding North Butte several years ago. North Butte for a year or two mined on the richest copper ore deposit the world has ever known. Those phenomenally rich shoots have been mined out and the North Butte has merely continued the average of the district. It is not at all likely that North Butte will ever again be the rich mine it once was, but it is a good mine nevertheless and will long continue to be so.

HANCOCK CONSOLIDATED.

Hancock's discontinuance of shipments of rock from No. 3 lode is generally understood to have been simply a matter of business acumen, the test having run long enough to show just what the formation has in average values for the district. The directors will hold a meeting within a month, when the matter of additional financing will be discussed. The company has been expending an average of $20,000 monthly for some time past. There was little if any profit from the recent milling operations, the total amount of rock shipped being too small to make operations profitable for the mining company. It will be eight or nine months before the Hancock No. 2 shaft will run into the Pewabic formation and open it up, so that some provision for additional funds will be made for the comparatively near future. There is some talk of bond issue, but the more general impression prevails that another assessment will be levied.

CALUMET & ARIZONA.

The officials of the Calumet & Arizona profess great hope for the future of the property. All are now satisfied that the policy of consolidation, which at one time was opposed, was the best thing for all interests concerned, including the original shareholders of the Calumet & Arizona. The underground conditions at the two properties were never better than at the present time. This is particularly true of Calumet & Arizona, where the ore reserves have been augmented during the past year, notwithstanding the fact that the production of copper has increased to the rate of 50,000,000 pounds per year. The officials state that the Calumet & Arizona at present is earning more than the dividend disbursement.

RAVEN.

The Raven Copper Mining company is working about thirty men just now in retimbering the shaft near the surface and doing a small amount of development on the 1100-foot level. The company has been disappointed in not receiving the big compressor which was ordered over two months ago. A compressor secured in Salt Lake will be delivered not later than the first of December and Manager Packard expects to have it ready for operation by the middle of the month. As soon as it is in working order the mine will be unwatered on the lower levels. The water extends from seventy-five feet below the 1100-foot level down to the lowest depth, the 1500-foot level. After this has been accomplished the developing of the lower levels will be commenced and from the 1,300 down some rich ore is looked for. A building has been about completed for the compressor and the foundation is ready, so that there will not be any delay when the machinery arrives. The lensers at the shaft are working on the break yesterday, with fairly good success. In September they realized a little over $2,200, and somewhat less in October, but averaging the months they have been making a very good profit.

The United States supplies from 65 to 75 per cent. of the cinematograph films used in Great Britain.

Markets

WALL STREET STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co. yesterday wired New York as follows: The market during today's session appeared to be braced itself against a resumption of political agitation. A prominent operator was credited with having sold sixty thousand shares of Standard yesterday and about the same amount today, but judging by the action of the market, the same could hardly have been in the nature of general liquidation or else it might be said that the offerings were very well absorbed. The advance in call money rates, while in a way natural, was the subject of much adverse comment but preparations for the December first disbursements, which are estimated at 100,000,000 and a desire on the part of the banks to hold their loan account in check in anticipation of a call for condition on the part of the controller of currency was doubtless in great part the cause of the flurry in money. While the stock market is admittedly much more of a two-sided affair than heretofore, we continue to adhere to the view that the buying side on occasional downturns will present attractions for moderate turns, although it may be well to be safeguarded as a means of protection against the probable occurrences incident to the convening of congress on the eve of the presidential year. ### Bottom "Coppers."

Of the market at Boston, Paine, Webber & Co. yesterday said: The advance in Hancock was the feature of the local market today. Hancock was credited with apparently rich veins having been opened at the 3100-foot level, but not enough work has been done to identify it. The buying of the stock came principally from the lake district. Live Oak was also notably strong, selling at 1/2 all day. North Butte was slightly better, with no news from the property yet. East Butte, Franklin, Indiana and Algoma were unchanged. Reports from the metal market are still very encouraging and a further advance in the price of copper is indicated for next week. W. B. Thompson as controlling interests in the respective companies. Up to this time however, terms of consolidation have not been reached. While Miami and Keystone may eventually enter a merger of the Globe Bank nothing tangible regarding the two properties has been considered. This week Inspiration officials were approached by a man who wished control, he said at $12.50 a share, but his overtures were not seriously considered.

AN EXPENSIVE SLIP.

A well dressed man was hurrying along the Bay de Passy, when he slipped and falling forward dashed his elbow through the window of a wine shop. The proprietor rushed out to claim the price of his window and a large crowd gathered to see fair play. The man who had broken the window protested that he had no money. "Search him!" shouted some one in the crowd. There was no policeman about, so the wineshop keeper and a few friends took the law into their own hands, searched the man's pockets and found a £20 note.

A HARLAN GOLF STORY.

The death of Justice Harlan leads to the revival of the famous Harlan golf story—for he was the champion golfer in the Supreme Court and was as fond of the game as Taft is. He was playing one day on the Chevy Chase links with an Episcopal bishop. The right reverend gentleman struck at the ball several times in succession, missing it each time and barking his Episcopal shins. The bishop, however, said nothing. He couldn't afford to. He knew Harlan was watching and listening, and Harlan was a very strict Presbyterian. So the bishop took it out as far as possible in looking his feelings and keeping silent. Justice Harlan, nevertheless, was shocked. "Bishop," he said, in a tone of rebuke, "that is the most profane silence I ever heard."

Rue's Market Letter.

George F. Rue, broker of Islipening, yesterday said: "The New York market was rather heavy today and closed with losses throughout the list. The copper metal situation continues to improve and copper shares are in excellent demand on all week spots. Hancock was the feature on the Boston Exchange today, on the report that one of the Quincy veins had been encountered in Shaft No. 2. It opened at 21, Live Oak and reacted to 22 1/2. Live Oak and Inspiration are being accumulated around 30 1/2 and 30. The following was sent out from Boston today, "A merger of Live Oak and Inspiration properties has been undertaken by John D. ### CHRIS JOHNSON IS IN TROUBLE

Arrested for Buying a Deer and Attaching a License There-to on Nov. 27.

Chris Johnson, a well known local saloon keeper, was arrested Tuesday by Sheriff Curran of Escanaba for bringing home a deer with his license attached to it, which he probably did not shoot. Tuesday evening he was taken to Escanaba and yesterday afternoon he faced the charge before Justice Glaser. The case, however, was not completed, and was continued until Dec. 12, when it will come up for final disposition. Johnson was released on $200 bonds.

Yesterday's Escanaba Morning Press has the following to say about the case: "Because it took Chris Johnson, a Negaunee man, but two hours to fill his hunting license at Lathrop on Oct. 27, he will be brought to Escanaba today on a charge of placing tags on deer not killed by him. The warrant for his arrest was sworn out yesterday before Judge Emil Glaser by Deputy State Game Warden William Harrington and Herman Leisner, and Sheriff T. J. Curran left the city on the afternoon train to serve the warrant. "It is charged that Johnson secured his hunting license on Oct. 26 and on the following day left Negaunee on the morning passenger train for Lathrop. It is charged that he returned to Negaunee on the afternoon train of the same day with a deer that was frozen stiff, causing the officers to draw the conclusion that it was not killed by him. "An investigation of the matter was made and it is expected that much interesting information will be divulged at the trial of the action in Judge Emil Glaser's court today. "It appears that when Johnson got off the train at Negaunee he was met by a couple of deputy game wardens. He had in addition to the deer, six partridges and some rabbits in his possession. The game wardens are making an attempt to get the man who sold the game, and if found he probably will be brought up both as an offender and as a witness against Johnson. "Chris Johnson has been prominent in several mix-ups of late. During the first week of August he was slashed with a knife by Monti Mursu, whose case comes up at the December term of circuit court. He also faces a charge of violating the liquor laws, which is on the calendar for trial in the December term.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Negauneeites Have Been Favored During the Past Year.

A short list of the things Negaunee people should be thankful for has been suggested to the Mining Journal reporter.

First of all, Negaunee people should be thankful that they live in a live, growing city, which though small, has every advantage of the best in the country, every modern convenience, water, light, electricity, a capable city government, and a goodly number of stores adequately stocked with the necessities and luxuries of life.

Although the times are not easy, Negaunee people should be thankful that the mining situation has not affected this city as it has others in the upper peninsula. According to travelers, there is greater prosperity here than in many other towns.

One thing has been suggested that the people of this city ought to be thankful for; something which perhaps is not generally appreciated. Negaunee is the richest town in its size, with the possible exception of Kimberly, British South Africa, of any in the world. Kimberly is the center of the diamond mining activity in Africa, and has a higher assessed valuation, compared to city population. With this exception, Negaunee has been assessed higher than any other town or city of the size in the world, according to actual comparison of figures. These are only a few of the many things that the whole community should be thankful for.

There will be a Masonic party in Kirkwood's Hall tomorrow evening.

NEGAUNEE HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Pupils of the high school and a number of visitors enjoyed an entertainment given by the Senior class yesterday afternoon. The program consisted of several numbers by the orchestra and two farce comedies, played by members of the Senior class. These plays were to be given last night but had to be postponed on account of the weather. One of the plays, "The House Trap," is particularly enjoyable. It opens with an engaged couple exchanging views on the woman's suffrage question. The prospective husband has made a speech before the legislature and is being severely rebuked by his fiancée, who has lately joined the Suffragist club. She is loudly proclaiming the bravery of women, when her artful spouse suggests the presence of a mouse. She flies to a chair and is joined by the mail, who comes in to announce guests. The guests, having become tired of waiting to be admitted, come in unattended, and take to safety.

on the chairs. From this precarious position they join the debate about women's rights. At last one is inspired with the idea of escaping by making a rush. This is accomplished with much noise and confusion and the original occupants of the room are left. Soon the debate grows tiresome to both parties, and he being unable to convince her that there is no mouse in the room, she consents to be carried out. School closed yesterday for the Thanksgiving holiday and will be resumed on Monday.

GETS THIRTY DAYS.

William Piggott of Negaunee Pleaded Guilty to Stealing a Deer.

William Piggott, a well known man about Negaunee, a paroled convict of the Marquette prison, who was arrested at Sands Monday, by Sheriff Curran, of Delta county, was arraigned Tuesday before Judge Glaser at Escanaba. He pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing a deer at the Escanaba and Lake Superior depot one day last week and was given thirty days in the county jail. The animal belonged to Henry Bohonenkamp. The case was investigated by Deputy Game Wardens Harrington and Leisner, who appeared in court to press the charge against him.

NEXT RACE SCHEDULED.

Harley Davidson Goes to Jai Roller Rink in St. Louis in January.

Harley Davidson, who is spending the week in Negaunee giving roller skating exhibitions at the Palace roller rink, will again complete to hold his title as the world's champion next January at the Jai Alai roller rink in St. Louis.

Mr. Davidson has a standing challenge to meet any skater for his title, but insists on a $1,000 wager and thus far no skater has accepted it. The management of the Jai Alai rink in St. Louis, where Mr. Davidson appeared recently, persuaded him to compete in their international world's championship races, which will decide who is the best skater at one, two, three, five, and ten miles, with $1,500 in purses. The races will last a month, from Jan. 15 to Feb. 17.

In an interview with a Mining Journal reporter, Mr. Davidson said he felt confident of defending his title to the world's championship. He is thirty-eight years old, though some of his critics claim him to be over forty. Racing is his daily routine. Mr. Davidson says he never really stops training, and hasn't noticed any change in his speed since he last contested, which was last year. "I find that I am faster this year than any year previous, and I think I will be able to defeat any and all of the young skaters again at St. Louis. Though I am confident of my own speed, I owe my success to the fact that I never overestimate my ability." Mr. Davidson gives a remarkable performance. He considers trick skating a good deal more dangerous than racing, but not nearly so hard. He considers that the hardest trick he does is to clear seven chairs laid on the rink, in a backward jump, in which he turns completely around in mid air. Davidson is probably the fastest and cleverest roller skater in the world, though he claims no titles as an acrobat or fancy skater. He has on display in the window of O'Donoghue's music store a rare collection of medals for his various championships, also a fine set of photographs.

Stamping of fancy work, all kinds, also instructions in this line, Mrs. I. Lallerstadt, 502 North First Street. 11-15-2w.

BACK FROM TRIP ON NORTH SHORE

Just Returned from Cruising Expedition in Country North of Michipicoten Harbor, H. E. Kellan Tells of Some Interesting Observations While in Canada.

Traveled Sixty Miles Along Shore of Lake in Row Boat in Stormy Weather—Is a Barren District—Canadians in the Backwoods Have Peculiar Ideas of U. S.

Henry E. Kellan returned to the city a few days ago from a six weeks' cruising trip in the country north of Michipicoten Harbor, on the north shore of Lake Superior. Coming home, he traveled in a row boat sixty miles down the river to Michipicoten bay and to Michipicoten, where he took a steamer for Sault Ste. Marie. During the greater part of this trip it was stormy weather and the party had some experiences that they will remember for some time. Mr. Kellan states that the trip from Michipicoten to the Soo was the roughest in his experience on the lakes.

On the way down the north shore to Michipicoten Mr. Kellan and party camped one night at the foot of Chief Nenebshoo's, about which many legends are told. These legends are the work of nature but the imaginative Indians believe they are the handiwork of Nenebshoo, a legendary chief of extraordinary bravery and prowess. The steps consist of three bluffs and plateaus extending up the face of the rocky shore of the lake. Above the top step is another bald bluff, which is known as Nenebshoo's clock. The Indians say that Michipicoten island is a beaver skin which Chief Nenebshoo threw away. Every Indian leaves a package of tobacco for the departed chief when he passes by the rocks.

Mr. Kellan was not very favorably impressed with the country north of Michipicoten Harbor. He states that it is very rocky and hilly and that the only timber found there is spruce and white birch. With the exception of birds, there is little game and during his entire stay in the country, Mr. Kellan saw but one moose track and one deer track.

Indications of Iron.

The variations of the compass indicate that the district contains iron formations, but owing to the rough nature of the country and its distance from a railroad, exploring and developing mines in that locality will be very expensive. The nearest railroad is the Canadian Pacific, seventy-five miles north, with a mountainous country intervening.

Canadians in the Michipicoten district have queer ideas regarding the United States, according to Mr. Kellan. They are still rejoicing over the defeat of reciprocity, believing that the measure would have spelled ruin for the Canadians. On the other hand, they are of the belief that this country is in a dreadful condition because of the defeat of reciprocity and that the people here are starving. Mr. Kellan states that he had much amusement drawing out ignorant residents of that part of Canada concerning their ideas of the United States.

With the advent of the Conservative government, Mr. Kellan states that there is a great deal of political unrest throughout Canada. The people anticipate that many political heads are about to fall, and business is being retarded by the feeling of uncertainty everywhere in evidence. Mr. Kellan is of the opinion that the rule of the Conservatives will be short lived and that in a few years Canada will again be dominated by men of liberal views, and that its people will be clamoring for reciprocity with the United States just as hard as they are opposing such a policy today.

Party Last Evening One of Most Successful in Company's History.

All former records for attendance were shattered last evening at the annual ball, given by the Marquette Fire Department in Fraternity Hall. It is estimated that fully 200 couples were in attendance, and in every way the function proved a complete success. Trombley's full orchestra furnished the music and about midnight a fine luncheon was served by Mrs. Sullivan at the Hotel Clifton.

Special efforts had been put forth by the committee on decorations and the hall was in gala attire. A red, white and blue color scheme was adopted in the decorations, in the working out of which between 8,000 and 9,000 yards of crepe paper were used. The walls and ceiling were literally covered with bunting, flags, banners and other patriotic insignia. Several electric pieces were comprised in the decorations, one being an immense red ocell at one end of the hall, above which were the letters, "M. F. D." Opposite the orchestra balcony was the word "Welcome" in white in candelants, and other electrical pieces were two large red, white and blue stars.

A novelty was instituted in the program, which were flaming red placards tacked about the hall, on which appeared the names of the members of the fire department wore their dress uniforms. Taken all in all, it was a wonderfully pretty as well as enjoyable dancing party.

SHIPPING SEASON TO CLOSE TODAY

Last Boat Will Be Loaded This Forenoon—South Shore Dock Finished Yesterday.

The shipping season at the South Shore docks closed with the clearance of the steamer Castalia about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Figures compiled last evening show that the total amount of ore shipped from the South Shore docks this season was 1,319,756 tons, which is 63,420 tons less than was shipped from the same docks in 1910. The last boat to be loaded at the L. S. & I. dock, the schooner Thompson, is expected to be ready to start down the lake before noon today. She will be towed by the steamer Republic, which was loaded yesterday afternoon. It was estimated last evening that the total season shipments from the L. S. & I. dock will be 890,000 tons, as against 1,864,724 tons last year. This would make the total ore shipment from Marquette for the year 2,209,756 tons, or a decrease of about 1,940,000 tons compared with 1910.

Compared with the records made by other upper lake docks, the South Shore has made a good showing this season. The total ore movement from the upper lake docks is estimated at 32,000,000 tons, or ten millions less than last season. The South Shore has come as close to reaching the record of the previous year as any dock on the lakes, excepting the Great Northern dock at Superior, which has handled more ore than ever before. The ore mined under the terms of the Hill lease was shipped over the Great Northern dock, which accounts for its heavy shipment.

The L. S. & I. dock, on the other hand, has had one of the poorest years in its history. There was no ore of any consequence moved until well along in June, and since that time there has been no rush, except possibly during the past few days, due to a spell of bad weather which put a number of the boats behind their schedule. The iron market has been dull all season, and with a big supply of ore left over at Lake Erie docks, the furnace interests have been buying very sparingly.

ABOLISH CIRCUIT COURTS.

Changes in Machinery of Federal Judiciary Effective Jan. 1.

After Jan. 1, 1912, the cumbersome name—United States Circuit and District Courts for the Sixth Circuit and the Western District of Michigan, Northern Division—which has been the official designation of the federal court in this city, is likely to be shortened, as at that time all of the United States circuit courts will be abolished. Inquiry among federal court officials has revealed that they have no very clear idea of the difference between a district and a circuit court, as the terms are used by Uncle Sam, and as the business of both courts here has been transacted at the same time, comparatively few people know that there are more than one United States court in the city. At last the government has decided that the circuit court is a useless appendage to the legal machinery and it is to be abolished.

On Jan. 1 seventy-seven United States circuit courts will cease to do business at 276 different places. The elimination of the circuit courts is one of the reforms provided in the new judiciary code, enacted by congress March 3, 1911. The code provided after the latter date there should be only the district courts, nine circuit courts of appeal and the United States supreme court.

The existence of circuit courts since 1801, when the circuit courts of appeal were created, has been regarded as expensive and superfluous. Twenty-nine of the circuit judges will not lose their jobs as they will continue to sit in the circuit courts of appeal and help out in the district courts.

All clerks of circuit courts will have their positions abolished and the same restrictions will be placed upon the amount district court clerks may draw as a salary. Hereafter it will be impossible for any clerk to receive more than $3,000. The passing of the circuit courts is but one of the results of the new code. After Jan. 1, the chief justice of the United States supreme court will receive $15,000 per annum and each associate justice $14,500.

WOULD NOT REFUTE NOR CONFIRM RUMORS

A. B. Eldredge, Returning from Montreal, Has Little to Say About Reported Changes.

A. B. Eldredge, who will become president of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad, tomorrow, returned last evening from Montreal, where he was in consultation with some of the directors of the railroad and with officials of the Canadian Pacific, a which company has a controlling interest in the South Shore. Beyond the statement that W. Walker had been elected vice president and general manager of the South Shore, Mr. Eldredge refused to make any statement as to the truth or falsity of rumors as to other changes in the official management of the road.

A Duluth report has it that Mart Adson is shortly to resign as general passenger agent and that he will be succeeded by James Mauey, now assistant general passenger agent. A Duluth paper also reports that Stewart S. Lewis has received official notice of his appointment as general freight agent, succeeding Mr. Walker. Mr. Lewis has been assistant general freight agent for a number of years. Mr. Eldredge stated last evening that he knew nothing about either of the reports.

Mr. Eldredge also stated that he did not know whether Mr. Walker intended to move to Marquette, or whether he would continue his residence in Duluth. "That is a matter that is entirely up to Mr. Walker," said the new South Shore president. There has been much speculation as to whether the Duluth offices of the road would be moved to this city or whether the general offices in Marquette would be moved to Duluth or whether the offices would remain in both cities, as at present. Mr. Eldredge stated last evening that nothing of that sort had been determined, but that he did not anticipate any material departures from the policies of the former management of the road.

Mr. Walker is expected to be in Marquette Friday, at which time it is probable that various details of management will be discussed. The official notices of the changes in officers will also be sent out on Friday.

THANKSGIVING GALA DAY IN PRISONS

In All States Convicts Look Forward to Today as One of Few Big Holidays.

If you were in prison you wouldn't feel much like giving thanks, would you? Yet the prisoners in penitentiaries and jails have special reason to be thankful on Thanksgiving day, for it is then that they get one of the best dinners of the year, even better in many places than those served on Christmas and the Fourth of July.

Thanksgiving Day is celebrated in the poorhouses and prisons as well as in the palaces and churches. It means for the pauper as well as for the prince and sometimes means more to the poor man than to the millionaire. There are no more contented Thanksgiving diners than those who will partake of their dinner behind the bars at the branch prison here and elsewhere, and no better appetites are to be found than theirs.

Thanksgiving Day is one of the great days in the state prisons. Christmas, Fourth of July and Thanksgiving are the three milestones that mark off the convicts' year, for on those days they are usually granted greater privileges than at any other time. And on those days they enjoy a bountiful repast of much better quality than usual.

In the almshouses also Thanksgiving is marked by a specially good dinner and a relaxation from work and discipline. Some of the specially favored prisoners will receive boxes of food from friends, and there is great rejoicing. The usual pall of misery is lifted for a day, and smiles are seen on sad faces and light in eyes long dimmed by grief or sorrow.

At the Marquette prison today, a dinner better than is likely to be served in the majority of Marquette homes will be given the inmates. The shops will be closed and the convicts will enjoy the privileges of the yard during the day. The employees of the state tax commission, who are working in the city, have been invited to take dinner at the prison, and it is expected that several of them will give talks to the convicts in the chapel. Mayor Jacobs will also be a guest at the prison.

CHINAMEN GO FREE.

Deportation Proceedings of Long Stand-Have Been Dropped.

Attorney C. D. Hille and Joe Pong, a prominent Chinese resident of Chicago, were in the city yesterday closing up a number of Chinese deportation cases that have been hanging fire in United States court here for about two years. About two years ago the immigration officers rounded up thirteen Chinese in the upper peninsula, who could not produce acceptable "choc chees," or certificates of residence, and who, consequently, were alleged to be in this country in violation of the Chinese exclusion act.

Nearly all of these cases were tried before Judge Denison in Marquette, four of them being dropped later, one because of the government officers, one because of new evidence showing that a mistake had been made, and three because of the services of the defendants in the prosecution of Felix Wagner, who was convicted of Chinese smuggling. The others were submitted to Judge Denison as subjects for deportation to their native land. After having the cases under consideration for many months, Judge Denison on Sept. 29 issued an order releasing all the defendants from custody and dismissing the cases, with the provision that the government officers might have sixty days in which to make an appeal. This sixty days has expired and no appeal has been made, so the defendants are free. Applications for certificates of residence were made for the nine Chinese by Attorney Hille yesterday, and they will be issued as soon as the papers can be made out. This assures these Chinese immunity from further embarrassment or prosecution.
