

LAND POLICY IN CALIFORNIA TO BE FIXED TODAY

Webb Bill Is to Go to a Vote in the Senate—Is the Most Drastic of All, Yet Is Declared to Be in Strict Accordance With the Treaty With Japan.

Permitting Only Aliens Eligible to Citizenship to Hold Realty, It Bars Orientals Not Only from Owning Acreage but from Procuring Property Under Leases.

Sacramento, Calif., April 30.—An open right of way for final action in the senate tomorrow on the Webb anti-alien land act was prepared today by the floor leaders in the upper house, and before tomorrow night a concrete expression of the legislature's attitude toward Secretary Bryan's diplomatic visit will be at hand in the form of a vote on the most drastic land-holding act yet proposed.

Secretary Bryan spent the day in San Francisco. Administration leaders stated tonight that they expected the act to be passed in the present form.

The Webb bill is said to be more drastic in reaching the Japanese farmers of the state than any other proposed measure since the act was adopted today by the Japanese Association of America, representing forty or more organizations of the Japanese in Arizona, Colorado, Utah, Nevada and California.

The resolutions pledge the organization earnestly to endeavor to procure the right to naturalization as the ultimate and permanent solution of the Japanese problem on this coast.

A committee of fifteen was appointed to carry out this program in the various states in which the committee reside.

Archipelago Natives Traveling to Europe Express Hostility to Yankee Rule.

Vancouver, B. C., April 30.—"Japan would grab us easy and we could not complain," said the statement today of the leader of a party of Filipinos who are in the city on their way east and on to Europe, via the Canadian route.

When asked what would happen in the event of hostilities between Japan and the United States over the anti-Asiatic legislation in California, one of the travelers said:

"Taft was a big man, who understood us, but he was only one. If we had to deal with Taft, we might have faith in Americans, but the sort we meet in business are 'too cute' when they are trading with us. We may seem content under American rule, but we are like other people—we want freedom, and we want to govern ourselves. We are promised that will come, but promises take long to fill."

The sympathy of the visitors was with Japan in the demand that there should be no discrimination against her people.

The spokesman of the party said that while the Americans had a big army in the Philippines, it was not so much use against the Japanese, "for the reason that there are among us many, many Japanese, who have made friends with the Filipinos and who would soon find means to create an anti-American sentiment in the islands."

"The Japanese our friends, we could not fight against them," was the way in which the Filipino summed up the situation that would arise in the event of war.

UNCLE SAM TO CHARGE FOR THE USE OF HIS CASH

Beginning June 1, Secretary McAdoo Announces, Banks Will Be Required to Pay Interest at the Rate of 2 per Cent. a Year on Money Placed in Their Keeping.

Deposits Will Be Increased at Once So as to Yield Nation Income of $1,000,000 per Annum—Bonds Other Than Government Will Be Taken as Security.

Washington, April 30.—The fiscal system of the United States governing the deposit of federal funds in national banks was revolutionized today by Secretary McAdoo, of the treasury department, with an announcement that all government depositories, whether active or inactive, would be required to pay interest at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum, beginning June 1, upon deposits of the government.

Simultaneously, the secretary authorized an immediate increase of $10,000,000 in the government deposits in the national banks, making the total $90,849,984, from which the federal treasury will earn under the new interest order $1,033,000 a year.

There are indications that Secretary McAdoo intends to release still more surplus money and place it in general circulation through increased deposits with the national banks.

Restriction as to Bonds Is Lessened.

Mr. McAdoo also announced a radical change in the character of the securities which the treasury department would accept for government deposits.

Interest Never Demanded Before.

This is the first time in the history of the government that the treasury department has called upon the banks to pay interest.

Secretary McAdoo tonight declared that he did not anticipate any serious resistance on the part of the banks to the new policy.

NEW YORK MAN PROTESTS BECAUSE COLORADO WOMAN IS TO HAVE FEDERAL JOB.

Washington, April 30.—The recent announcement of the intention of Secretary Lane of the interior department to appoint Mrs. Annie G. Rogers, a leading suffragist, to be receiver of the public land office at Leadville, Colo., because he believed that "money can be handled more safely by women than by men," today brought the following letter from a New York man to the secretary:

"This notice of your appointment of Suffragist Rogers has caused great surprise, and your remarks about men."

"The women you know may be of such a type, also the men; but most of us meet women who throw away a great deal of money on their social and party hats, such as enclosed pictures of them, and nag their husbands for their hard-earned wages, and until we men are fast going to the criminal class for money for their wives to squander."

"Please use your influence to give me work and make women stay at home and keep it for the comfort of husbands and children; then the homes will not be broken up and the children run wild and unruly."

WILLIAM T. LAFOLLETTE, BROTHER OF THE SENATOR, DIES AT MADISON, WIS.

Madison, Wis., April 30.—William T. LaFollette, only brother of Senator Robert M. LaFollette, died this afternoon of heart disease, after a prolonged illness. He was sixty-six years old.

Mr. LaFollette was active in the recent Wilson campaign in Wisconsin and had been favorably mentioned for an important government position. He had held office as receiver of public moneys at the Chamberlain (S. D.) land office and as railroad commissioner of South Dakota, and was the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor of that state in 1908, being defeated in the Republican landslide.

ASK AMERICANS TO GREET THEM WITH HOSTILITY

Suffragette, Labor and Extreme Irish Leaders in the United Kingdom Oppose the Mission of the British Peace Delegates Now on Way to This Country.

Cablegrams Dispatched Urge That the Visitors Be Given a Chilly Reception, With Brickbats for Emphasis—German Workers at London Join in the Movement.

London, April 30.—A British delegation now on its way to the United States for the celebration of the Anglo-American peace centenary may encounter some hostile demonstrations.

Certain leaders of the extreme Irish and labor movements are advising their American friends to express opposition to the British mission.

Suffragette leaders are appealing to American women to denounce any friendly feelings between the two countries until England gives the vote to women.

Because Lord Weardale and other members of the delegation are connected with the Carnegie Peace Foundation, the "authorities call it the Carnegie mission."

The English labor unions will hold meetings, as is their custom, tomorrow. Representatives of the German unions will parade with them for the first time, and both English and German speakers intend to denounce "the Carnegie mission."

Message Sent to Suffragettes.

"General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, one of the leaders of the militant suffragettes, who was arrested today, succeeded tonight in smuggling out of the jail a message for the American suffragettes.

This message, which later was cabled to the Woman Suffrage Union of New York, was as follows:

"Carnegie's so-called 'peace delegates' are near your shores. None of them has raised a voice against the torture of women in English prisons. The Tory members of parliament among them won their seats on a sink-the-German-navy policy. They have all voted against home rule. Suffragettes, Irishmen and Germans should organize a national boycott against these war-provokers."

POPE PIUS ABLE TO LEAVE HIS PRIVATE APARTMENTS.

DEMOCRATS BOWL OVER ALL TARIFF AMENDMENTS PROPOSED IN THE HOUSE.

Washington, April 30.—"I think we'll finish with the tariff bill in the house by Saturday night," said Democratic Leader Underwood tonight, after an all-day debate on the iron and steel schedule.

The metal schedule is only the third of the fourteen schedules which are followed by the free list, the technicalities of the administrative provisions and the income tax plan, and many of the members of the house are prepared to see the debate stretch into next week.

All day and again tonight the Democrats with their overwhelming majority bowled over all amendments proposed by the Republicans and Progressives.

HUNGRY JOB-SEEKERS MAKE WORK FOR COPS

Washington Police Called Out to Control a Mob Besieging Civil Service Offices.

Washington, April 30.—Hungry job-hunters, among them many who had despaired of gaining the official job counter through official influence, gathered in such numbers tonight in the vicinity of the civil service commission's headquarters that the police reserves were called out.

The gathering was inspired by the fact that on May 1 the examination blanks for appointments to minor positions are given out.

Long before midnight the crowd began to assemble in front of the building and gained such proportions that the lonely watchman on guard called upon the police for assistance.

When the police arrived the mob was formed in line. The commission's doors will be opened at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Yosemite National Park Is Opened to Automobiles by Order of Mr. Lane.

Washington, April 30.—Secretary Lane today rescinded an order barring automobiles from the Yosemite National park.

"This form of transportation has come to stay," said the secretary, "and to close the park against automobiles would be as absurd as the fight for many years made by old naval men against the adoption of steam in the navy."

Before we know it, they will be dropping into the Yosemite with airships. I want to make our parks as accessible as possible to the great mass of the people."

CITY FIRE FIGHTERS DEMAND MORE PAY

Every Man at Salt Lake but the Chief Sends in Resignation, Effective May 5.

Salt Lake City, Utah, April 30.—Every active member of the Salt Lake city fire department with the exception of Chief W. H. Bywater today sent in his resignation, to become effective May 5.

Because of the refusal of the city commission to grant the demands of the men for increased wages.

Assistant Chief James Paul said tonight that every one of the eighty-one men in the department would quit work Sunday night, unless the city commission met their demands.

Many of the men have been in the department for more than twenty years.

Auburn Men to Return to Work.

Auburn, N. Y., April 30.—The six hundred and fifty employees of the International Harvester company's twine mills, who went on a strike on March 23 in sympathy with the strikers at the Columbian Rope company mills, late today voted almost unanimously to accept the terms offered by the company for a settlement.

Work in the twine mills will be resumed Monday.

The terms accepted by the strikers are identical with those offered by the state board of mediation and rejected several times by the strikers.

The Harvester company had threatened to remove its plant from Auburn if the strike was not speedily settled.

Buffalo Store Employees Vote to Strike.

Buffalo, April 30.—Fifteen hundred department store employees met tonight and voted to strike tomorrow for increased wages and shorter hours.

It was claimed that bundle counter clerks now receive from $22.50 and $3 a week and that the wages of the girl and women clerks is $3.

WISCONSIN FARMER WHO QUARRELS WITH HIS WIFE BLOWS HIMSELF TO PIECES.

Ladysmith, Wis., April 30.—Blowing himself to pieces with dynamite was the method adopted by Peter Ehri, a farmer, to kill himself today. AUSTRIA BENT UPON FIGHTING IF NEED ARISES

London Is Told 100,000 Troops Are Proceeding Toward Montenegro by Land and a Strong Force Is Moving by Sea—Italy Reported Ready to Co-Operate.

Last Hope of Avoiding War Is Considered to Lie in Today's Meeting of the Ambassadorial Conference—King Nicholas Is Mounting Guns on the Frontier.

London, Thursday, May 1.—One hundred thousand Austrian troops are now moving in the direction of the Montenegrin frontier, according to an Antivari dispatch to the London Daily Mail. A large number of Austrian troops also are proceeding to Antivari by sea.

Italy Reported Ready to Co-Operate.

A Vienna dispatch to the Times says that in the event of Austria attempting to coerce Montenegro there is little doubt that she would be supported by Italy, which probably would occupy Santa Quaranta and Avlona, while Austria would proceed against Lovchen mountain and Scutari.

In order to avoid needless offending Russia, the action against Scutari would be carried out through Albania and not from Herzegovina.

Discord Among Allies Continues.

The Sofia correspondent of the Times learns that the Greek and Serbian forces now massed in southern Macedonia aggregate two hundred and twenty thousand men. They are confronted by Bulgarian divisions totalling sixty thousand men.

The Bulgarian government, the dispatch adds, is exhausting every means to arrive at a friendly arrangement with Serbia and Greece, but the danger of a conflict is still imminent.

Last Hope Lies With Ambassadors.

Rome, April 30.—It is considered here that the last hope of avoiding the gravest complications in the Balkan situation lies in the meeting of the ambassadors in London tomorrow, when the question of united action by the European powers is expected to be decided.

The general fear in Rome is that Great Britain, France and Russia, not because they desire discord, but because they do not wish to back Austria in immediate action against Montenegro, may procrastinate, thus forcing the isolation of Austria.

In such case, Italy, for the protection of her home interests, will almost certainly intervene to insure order in Albania and enforce there the decision of Europe.

Montenegro Making Preparations.

London, April 30.—The Balkan question showed no development here today. Both Austria and Montenegro, according to Vienna advices, are continuing their military preparations.

Montenegro has dispatched five thousand troops drawn from Scutari toward the Austrian frontier and has mounted heavy guns above Cattaro. Great diplomatic activity prevails in Vienna, where a council of war was held at the foreign office this evening.

ONE-ARMED MAN SAVES SEVERAL LIVES IN FIRE AT KANSAS CITY, MO.

Kansas City, Mo., April 30.—Twenty-three men were trapped here this afternoon in a fire that destroyed the Helping Hand Annex, a mission lodging house, occupying an old four-story building. Two are known to be dead.

Twenty of the men, employed about the place at night, were asleep on the third and fourth floors when the fire broke out. To a one-armed inmate is due the credit for having saved the lives of several of the lodgers.

A cigarette dropped in the rear of the building set fire to a transfer company's stable. The stables, with four horses and the lodging house, were destroyed. The property loss is $50,000.

LUTHER McCARTY IS GIVEN THE DECISION

Heavyweight Championship Claimant Out-Fights Frank Moran in Ten-Round Bout.

New York, April 30.—Luther McCarty out-fought Frank Moran, the Pittsburgh heavyweight, in a ten-round bout tonight.

McCarty had the better of the first round, but Moran evened it up in the next. In the third, the fighters' heads came together in a mix-up, slightly cutting Moran. In the fourth, Moran landed a straight left, drawing blood from McCarty's nose. The fifth was even, but McCarty took the next two. McCarty tired in the eighth, a left hook sending him to the ropes, and in the ninth Moran got in some more good blows.

McCarty finished strong, fighting coolly and landing often in the last round, while Moran, who kept boring in, was wild and missed most of his blows.

A POINT WELL TAKEN.

Both the Progressives and the Democrats are able to score heavily on belated Republican advocates of a tariff commission.

President Taft's advocacy of the plan gained him nothing more than the makeshift commission authorized by a paragraph in the general tariff law.

This headstrong attitude on the part of the Republican leaders was merely a reflection of the lack of vision that impelled them to force on President Taft a series of tariff schedules which assured the defeat and disruption of the party.

ONE POINT OF VIEW.

One objection—the most weighty one—to be found with the Teachers' federation's request for a flat 30 per cent increase in salary is its apparent proposal that henceforth teachers in the Marquette schools shall be dealt with as so many units in a body of workers who shall be paid in accordance with a cut and dried scale that shall have no reference to their respective abilities.

The thing about labor unions that most employers object to is their leveling tendency. When a man has become a full-fledged craftsman and has attained good standing in the union, he is entitled to the full scale. He can work for no less, nor is he permitted to receive any more, no matter how skillful and how useful he may be to his employer.

The proposal for a 30 per cent increase submitted by the teachers proposes this same leveling rule for the compensation of teachers. They are not to be paid with regard to their ability to give service, but in accordance with the terms of an arbitrary scale which shall put the least and the most efficient among them on the same basis.

It is a regrettable fact that there is, as a rule, inherent in the administration of the schools conditions that prevent them from profiting in the largest way from any increase in pay that may be granted. Positions are not given on the basis of a survey of temperamental qualities and competitive examinations, following which contracts are sent to the most efficient. They are determined by the personal predilections of the members of the board, and usually go to home girls. Fortunately most of these girls are efficient, but all of them are not. A 30 per cent increase in wages would not mean that the positions to be filled would be given to the most efficient applicants who could be secured anywhere.

That there are teachers in the Marquette schools who deserve the 30 per cent increase there is no doubt. That there are others who can well receive very considerable increases can well be believed. These teachers should be dealt with generously, but the board should beware of any plan that will reduce all the members of the teaching corps to a common level of compensation that will take no account of their capacities. The high claims of teachers who have proved a high order of efficiency by long and effective service can be recognized, it would seem, without the board committing itself to any leveling program that would deny to the most effective workers the higher rewards.

"ORIGINALS" IN FAVOR.

The weight between conflicting reports from Washington indicates that the "original" Wilson men will have an important part in the disposal of administration patronage in Michigan. This is not taken to mean that the "organization," National Committeeman Wood and State Chairman Shields and their associates, will be absolutely excluded from the leaves and the fishes, but it is asserted, and apparently with good grounds, that the word of the "originals," and particularly of Representative Beakes, will go a good way in determining what shall be done when there are rival candidates for the same office.

The "originals" holdily claim first blood in the test of strength at the capital. They point to the selection of their candidate, Bell, for collector at Port Huron as indicative of their strength with the administration, though it is asserted, on behalf of the organization, that no opposition was offered to Bell's appointment from any quarter.

The thing that warrants a belief that the "original" Wilson men in Michigan will fare well at the hands of the administration is the tendency it is displaying in the patronage affairs of other states to reward the men who fought loyally for the nomination of the President and the progressive principles he upheld in his pre-convention campaign. In nearly every case where the President has expressed a personal predilection as between candidates he has favored the progressive, and there have been instances in which he has even overruled recommendations of members of his own cabinet because he believed the men they proposed for given posts were not sufficiently identified with the progressive movement in the party.

While this does not of necessity mean that the President will cultivate unnecessary trouble with the organization in states where the organization was not friendly to him until after he secured his nomination, it does indicate, as suggested above, that in the final accounting the "originals" and the progressive Democrats will be shown to have fared pretty well.

IT WON'T DO.

The zeal for the methods of the militant suffragettes shown by Mrs. Belmont and other women who insist that they must be introduced in this country is difficult to understand, for so far the American women have met with a large measure of success in securing their ends by an appeal to reason.

They have gained the ballot in several states and have agitations in several others well advanced. They have not been denied a fair hearing, nor have they, after persistent requests, been denied, as the women of Great Britain have, the right to have the issue made.

In the light of the conceded fact that the excesses of the militants in Great Britain was, in large measure, responsible for the heavy adverse vote against giving the women the ballot in Michigan, it is easy to deduce that the principal result of the adoption by any group of American women of militancy will still further alienate the support they have enjoyed and greatly increase the ardor of the campaign of counter agitation.

If the militants are counting on any false chivalry on the part of American men as an adjunct to the success of their proposed campaign of disorder and violence, they will be likely to find themselves seriously disillusioned. If militancy appears in this country in at all as extreme a manner as it has in Great Britain there will be insistence that our governments, both state and national, meet its excesses with firm and effective measures.

The advent of militancy on American shores before the appeal to the intelligence of the voters has been given a fair trial will be a sorry day for the movement, and will set it back a number of years. There should be a sufficient number of American suffragettes who see this clearly to be able to put a quietus on the plans of Mrs. Belmont and the other prospective militant leaders.

The increased wage for policemen is warranted by the kind of work the men on the force are called on to do. It is a matter of twelve hour shifts, seven days a week. The police officers will not be overpaid at the new salaries, and the increased wages should, in the long run, mean more efficiency. Now let the chief have a word to say about the hiring of all officers, and be given a reasonably free hand in dealing with them. That's the way to make the chief an accountable officer, and it proposes the only fair terms on which he can be held fully responsible for the department of which he is nominally the head.

The declaration of the Illinois Progressives against any proposed merger of the organization with the Republicans can, in a way, be taken as an answer to the "ungloved hand" address of Senator Townsend. Progressive conferences reveal a notable agreement of opinion on this point. The opposing parties are at liberty to interpret our election actions as they may and to predict the disappearance of the new party before 1916, but the Progressives continue to confer, to send out organizers and to plan for the future with an intensity of purpose disconcerting to their opponents.

The Real Star.

The division which speaks of as affording the Democrats their one chance for success was not personal. It concerned the whole spirit of government. The wreckers of the Republican party were blind and stupid men who at the Chicago convention insisted on cutting and ignoring the change that had come over the whole country.

Inasmuch as the Progressive party is today the minority, or second, party in this country it would be more fitting for the Republicans to decide to be Progressives and for Progressives to decide to be Republicans. The election showed clearly that the people as a whole have very little use for standpat Republicanism. The many Republican votes that went for the Democratic candidates were essentially progressive votes.

The vote at the council session Monday evening shows that there was virtual unanimity among the aldermen in favor of the state of saloon men reported on favorably at the previous session. The principal significance of Alderman Donovan's negative vote is the fact that the rejected applicant, Susek, is one of his constituents whereas Rustenhoven is not.

The report that William Lorimer will seek at one time a vindication and a senatorial tige is set forth with considerable detail. It would be just the luck of the G. O. P. to have Lorimer again come to the front and claim a place among its responsible leaders.

The wolves were upon us," he related to the girls he was trying to impress. "Their howling penetrated to our very marrow. We fled for our lives. But each second we knew that the ravenous pack was gaining on us.

Whenever Representative Richmond Pearson Hobson of Alabama goes campaigning for votes, he puts all his heart and soul into the job. Politeness, affability, and enthusiasm are his long suits. On one occasion during his last political fight he was given a reception at which he was introduced to a middle-aged woman who showed great interest in politics.

"This is a great pleasure, indeed," said the congressman. "I remember your husband so well. He is one of the best friends I have in the county. He did me a great service in the last campaign, and I know he's my friend in this. He always sticks to me."

"He died in Georgia fifteen years ago," said the woman. "He was a very good man."

"What's his name?" asked the congressman. "The grandfather at the appropriate moment."

"Hazel," replied the father. "Hazel," repeated the congressman. "What'd ye think of that?" he asked the priest. "With the calendar at the saints full of gurgl names—an' him nam'd his after a nut!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Earl Godwin, who writes human interest stuff for several newspapers, went to the department of agriculture in Washington one day, and secured a peck of diseased peanuts. The scientists in the department were having a hot argument as to whether or not the peanuts, if eaten, would kill human beings, and Godwin took the edibles to his office to have them photographed. He saw a big scientific man could not tell when a peanut was fatal.

"After keeping the janitor under observation for several days, and seeing that he neither pecked nor pinched, Godwin abandoned his story, and wrote to the department: "Quit arguing. The peanuts are harmless."—Popular Magazine.

JACKSON—Released a few days ago from a forgery charge after she had promised to settle, Martha Doyle, of Detroit, again faces arrest on a new charge of forgery. The complainant is Mrs. Edna Powell. The first complaint was made by the Union bank, but this case was settled. Mrs. Doyle agreed to pay the bank the amount obtained but she failed to make restitution.

PONTIAC—The city commission has laid on the table indefinitely the ordinance proposed a week ago which proposed increasing the number of saloons from 12 to 14. At the same time action was further deferred upon the application for saloon licenses by Andrews & Ashley, Fred A. Phillips, Ray L. Deuel and Brown & Bacon. Deuel and Brown both seek a license for the Hodges house bar.

GRAND RAPIDS—E. R. Thompson, of the Michigan Wool Growers' association, has received word that if wool is put on the free list by congress American manufacturers are preparing to open factories in Europe for the making of woolen goods. The argument is that most of the imports will be clothing instead of wool. The association will meet in Detroit this week to adopt resolutions of protest against placing wool on the free list and to consider methods for ascertaining exact conditions in the markets and basing prices accordingly.

SAGINAW—Sam Grange, colored, a bartender for Lewis Scott, colored, on South Water street, is in jail, and Mrs. Scott is confined in St. Mary's hospital with a serious wound in her left breast as a result of a shooting scrap which took place in Scott's saloon on South Water street. After the fracas Grange made his escape but was arrested at Bridgeport. There was apparently no reason for the trouble other than that Grange was under the influence of liquor.

LANSING—Thirty years ago R. L. Oviatt, of this place, an employe of the Seager Engine company, suffered a broken leg. Now he has made application for compensation under the workmen's compensation law.

EDITORIAL OPINION

As to the Ungloved Hand. If Senator Townsend could speak for the Republican party as a whole in pleading the reform of the judicial branch of government, it would be a constructive program in motion with the sanction and endorsement of the country.

men's compensation law. The industrial accident commission couldn't see the justice of the claim, inasmuch as Oviatt was hurt before the Seager Engine company was incorporated. Oviatt has been more or less troubled by the injured limb ever since the accident, more than a quarter of a century ago, and when it bothered him recently he believed he had a right to compensation from the engine company.

LANSING—Governor Ferris has received word from Detroit that there were a number of residents of that city who desired to appear before him and state their views against the bill passed by the legislature which provides for a horsepower tax on automobiles. The bill is now before the governor for his signature.

LANSING—Preliminary surveying of the route of Michigan's proposed new 3,000 mile trunk road, which will traverse the state north and south and east and west, will be started by engineers of the state highway department about the middle of May.

MUSKOGON—The Pontwater branch of the Pere Marquette railway, running north from Muskegon to Pontwater, will be practically rebuilt this summer, in that the old rails will be torn up and heavier ones substituted. The information received by Lieutenant Governor John Q. Ross from Samuel M. Felton, one of the road's receivers, The contemplated improvement, says Mr. Ross, is one of the direct results of the Pere Marquette reorganization.

The christening party consisted of the grandfather, the baby—a girl—the grandfather and the rest of the folks. The grandfather stood nearest the priest during the ceremony.

"What's the child's name?" asked the priest of the grandfather at the appropriate moment.

"I don't know," the grandfather replied. "He turned to the father and whispered hoarsely: 'What's his name?'"

"Hazel," replied the father. "Hazel," repeated the father. "What'd ye think of that?" he asked the priest. "With the calendar at the saints full of gurgl names—an' him nam'd his after a nut!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Season Opens Today--With a continuance of the ideal weather of the last three days, large numbers of sportsmen should take to the woods today--the first day of the trout fishing season. The followers of that old angler, Isaac Walton, have been rummaging among their old clothes and last season's tackle has been put in order. The streams are all high, however, and their condition does not promise good fishing for the next ten days or two weeks, at least. Many anglers are overlooking any possibility of coming home empty handed in their anxiety to get to the banks of the streams with rods in their hands.

Roads Are Still Wet--The roads of Presque Isle are still wet and muddy in places, and therefore the gate cutting off carriage and automobile traffic at the neck is still closed and locked. When the roads were badly eroded by the spring freshets they are being repaired, and it is expected that by the end of the week, with continued dry weather, they will be passable. Robert Hume, the custodian, said yesterday that if traffic was admitted to the island the roads would be torn up very quickly. He says they should be thoroughly repaired and given a top dressing this year. Mr. Hume is of the opinion that the road around Presque Isle should be replaced by a concrete pavement. It would pay for itself in what is saved from year to year in repairs.

Huge Eggs, These--H. F. Desjardins displays, in the north window of his Third street drug store, eight eggs laid by a black Minorca hen in as many days. The eggs are twice as large as ordinary hens' eggs, have pure white shells and are of perfect shape. It is believed the eggs have double yolks, a condition which, though abnormal, is not unusual except in a case such as this, where the hen produces one every twenty-four hours for eight days in succession. Six of these eggs weigh as much as one and a quarter dozen of hens' eggs of average size and nine would weigh as much as two dozen ordinary eggs.

Street Cars to Presque Isle--After a week's interruption of the service, caused by the Dead river flood, the Marquette City & Presque Isle Railway company is again running street cars to Presque Isle. The work of rebuilding the damaged roadbed was nearly completed yesterday. For the time being passengers for Presque Isle will be transferred from the regular cars to the small car in use north of the city. The cars will have to walk but 150 feet in making the change. This service was commenced yesterday noon. The bridge will be repaired at once. The company is looking for an idle pile driver to use in making the repairs.

John McLean Dies--John D. McLean died Tuesday evening at St. Luke's hospital at the age of fifty-eight years, after a several months' illness. Mr. McLean lived at 205 West Ohio street, and had been a resident of Marquette for thirty years, having conducted a fishing business at the foot of Washington street, a large part of this time. He is survived by his wife, five sons and three daughters. The former are John, Clifford and Donald, of this city; Kenneth, of Cheboygan, and Thomas, of Cleveland. The daughters are the Misses Bella and Martha, of Detroit, and Miss Ella, of Williston, N. D. The funeral arrangements will be announced after word is received from the children living out-of-town.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. MINNESOTA SUFFRAGIST ELMINATES WORD "OBEY" FROM HER WEDDING VOW.

Kenosha, Wis., April 30.--Mrs. Adelaide Norris, aged sixty, of Champlain, Minn., a leader among the suffragists of her own state, during defiance to customs and laws here when she required Judge W. Taylor to marry her to George E. Gay, of Augusta, Me., with a ceremony in which the word "obey" was eliminated. Mrs. Norris had been advised by the judge that the Wisconsin laws demanded a ceremony which provided that the wife should obey, but the bride declared that there wasn't a man in the world that she would obey. She kept the court busy examining court decisions for an hour before the ceremony was permitted to take place. Although all traces of the word "obey" were provided that the wife should obey, but the bride declared that there wasn't a man in the world that she would obey. IN PRISON FOR LOVE OF MOTHER

Oklahoma Convict Surrenders Because of Paternal Affection.

Oklahoma, City, Okla., April 29.—Because he loved his widowed mother more than he loved liberty, M. S. Chance, who escaped from the state reformatory at Granite on June 1, 1910, has voluntarily returned to prison to serve the remainder of a two-year term for horse theft.

Chance returned to Oklahoma when 23 years old, the hero of a revolution in Mexico. He was a soldier in the remnant regiment of Colonel Meeley, a deserter from the United States army.

Will Claim Sweetheart. "I didn't need to tell that little girl in California that I was an escaped convict," says Chance, "for she probably would never have known it, so well did I conceal my identity. But, I am glad that my name will not have a stain when I return to claim her. I wanted most of all to see my mother and four little sisters. My mother is old and ill, and she needs my care and attention. Since leaving one sister has died of tuberculosis and another one is ill."

Chance pleaded guilty to horse stealing at Sulphur in 1909, and was given a sentence of two years in prison. He served nine months and eight days in the penitentiary at McAlester, pending the erection of the reformatory at Granite, and was transferred to that institution in May, 1910.

Made Quick Escape. "I didn't stay at Granite long enough to get acquainted with the warden," says Chance. "I don't even know his name. Four days was enough for me with so many chances. Another chap and I had one day, for four days and nights my comrade and I were hiding in and around El Paso. He was a bad fellow, so I deserted him and went into Mexico."

Near the line of California Chance struck up with Captain Jack Stanley when he was planning to raise an army to capture the adjoining state of Mexico and annex it to the United States. The first day out they engaged in four battles with the Mexicans. Chance and some of the other cowboys then scattered over California.

Went Under Assumed Name. Chance went under an assumed name. He let his mustache grow. He associated occasionally with men in California whom he had known in Oklahoma, but never was recognized. Every meeting with these men, however, was a signal that he had better move into another community, and he was constantly changing jobs.

Young Chance is a stepson of the late Judge Scott Hawkins, of Tishomingo, who for eight years presided over a tribal court of the Chickasaw nation. His mother now has a valuable farm near Sulphur, and Chance expects to operate the farm when he gets his liberty.

He came direct to the governor's office in Oklahoma City and freely made a statement of his career and intentions. Governor Crouse was so much interested in the case that he dictated a letter to Warden Clyde Reed of the reformatory requesting that the usual punishment given deserters be revoked in his case.

WANTS TO BE EMPRESS OF THE AEGEAN ISLANDS. London, April 30.—"Empress of the Aegean Isles" is the title claimed by a lady who is living in West Kensington, London. There she has lived for twenty years. She is a widow of a colonel in the British artillery. She has stated the grounds of her claim in a letter to each ambassador of the great powers in London and to each of the Balkan powers in the British army. The lady has based her claim on the fact that she is the daughter of Theodore Christoforo Paleologos, who in 1863 was proposed as a candidate for the Greek throne.

The West Kensington widow's father was descended from the family of a prince of Genoa, who married a daughter of the then emperor of Constantinople. That emperor, it is alleged, bestowed upon this prince of Genoa the rule of Chios, Mytilene, Lemnos and Imbros, which were held by the family until 1514, when the Turks captured the islands.

Eugenia, the West Kensington widow, asserts in her representations to the peace delegates that she has evidence to prove that she is the direct and only surviving descendant of these former rulers of the Aegean isles and that if the peace delegates decide that the Aegean isles shall be neutral territory she should in all justice become the ruler. It appears that this is not the first occasion on which Princess Eugenia of Paleologos, as the West Kensington lady prefers to be styled, has put forward her claim.

WILL ESTABLISH MISSION IN WILDS

Rev. Staffeld of Owosso and Three Sons Will Leave Home.

Owosso, Mich., April 29.—With the ambition to devote the remainder of their lives to bettering mankind, Rev. C. C. Staffeld, a local Evangelical German minister, and his three sons will soon leave comfortable homes to establish a huge mission farm in the wilds of Africa. To give the project his undivided attention this summer, Mr. Staffeld has resigned his pastorate here and has gone to Saginaw to join two of his sons, Paul W. and R. M. Staffeld, who are in the real estate business there. The third son is also an Evangelical minister, Rev. D. W. Staffeld of Brooklyn, N. Y. About September 1 the quartet will depart for Africa.

Rev. Mr. Staffeld is a man of gigantic stature and looks to be still in the prime of life, though he is a Civil war veteran. He has for years been a minister, fulfilling the drudgery of small churches, but always with his dream to leave a monument behind him when he died. His enthusiasm affected his sons, who are now fully as earnest as he.

While in Germany some years ago visiting his birthplace, Mr. Staffeld, then a layman, met the German minister, who explained that he desired to start a colony for the blacks in German East Africa, similar in scope and intent to the farm schools of Booker T. Washington in America.

The secretary consulted with the Kaiser, and found the ruler inclined toward the plan. Mr. Staffeld was told that he could buy 15,000 acres of suitable land for $6,000 or 25,000 acres for $8,000, on which to establish the colony. The government's cooperation and protection were also assured.

The Staffelds decided to buy the 25,000 acres, and the purchase has been completed with the exception of a few details. These are being closed up by correspondence, and it will probably not be necessary to visit Germany again.

"We are going into a wild and uncultivated country," said Rev. Mr. Staffeld, recently, in discussing his plans, "and some of it might easily be described as uninvited. There are all sorts of wild animals there, and the natives live in ever-present fear of them.

"Clearing the land will be a stupendous task. We will start at immediately, and get a little of it under cultivation. This work will be pursued until all available land is producing. Owing to the warm climate, we expect to raise fruit and vegetables in abundance. The prairie will support herds of cattle. We will, of course, raise our own cattle and horses."

The erection of buildings—homes, schools and churches—and the cultivation of the land, will be performed by natives, whom we will hire. In this manner we will make their acquaintance, and begin our task of civilizing and Christianizing them. We expect to follow Booker Washington's plans quite closely in educating the Negroes and raising their standards above the standards of their descendants in the southern states.

"When our farm is self-sustaining and our churches and schools flourishing, we expect to turn over everything to some missionary society. But that will not be some years yet." There are three Michigan ministers already at work in German East Africa, two of whom hail from Reed City and a third from Flint. The latter is Rev. G. Zeemer. It is probable that he will be superintendent of the staffed farm, as he is a good executive and a man of wide experience with the natives. The work which the Staffelds is undertaking is entirely voluntary, and not under the supervision of any church or society. Rev. Mr. Staffeld, the elder, expects to die in Africa, and he does not believe the colony will be properly organized during the life time. The family is well to do in a comparatively small way.

U. OF M. SOCIETIES MAY BE ABOLISHED

Have Been Given Until March, 1915, to Justify Existence—Reforms Demanded.

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 30.—The fraternities, sororities and house clubs of the University of Michigan have been given until March, 1915, to justify their existence. If at the expiration of that time they shall have failed to do so, either they will be taken under the control of the university senate, and lose their self-government, or else they will cease to exist in the university.

This is the ultimatum given them by the university senate, after listening to a report based on rigid examinations of every group of students in the university senate, and composed of Professors Alfred Lloyd, A. G. Hall, Charles Tilden and Joseph Barsley.

Many Reasons Cited. Law scholarship among the Greek letter students has been deplored for a long time past, and this, together with reports of irregularities in house parties, customs of fraternity and sorority rushing and pledging; the great number of parties; the conduct and status, financial and moral, of the defunct "hop"; the low general scholarship of students living in house clubs; the fact that practically no limit was placed on the number of social activities a student might undertake entered into the indictment.

A Long Investigation. The investigation which was started last June has been rigid, and the committee received some of its best help through efforts on the part of the fraternities themselves. These were the fraternities and house clubs which realize the one salvation for all fraternities, sororities and house clubs at Michigan is to incite the active members to a better standard of scholarship.

A chart prepared by Registrar Hall of the relative standings of fraternities, sororities, house clubs, athletes and the independent and unclubbed students, shows the following scholastic standings, all classes of students: A Greek letter group heads them all, the co-ed sororities.

—Normal Average— 3. All unorganized students. 4. Professional societies.

—University Average— 5. All home clubs. 6. Men's clubs. 7. Professional fraternities. 8. Varsity athletes.

—Passing Grade and Below— 9. General fraternities. That tells the tale.

Give Them Two Years. The committee in its report to the university senate recommended first that no rules relating specifically to the life of students in the various house clubs be imposed until March, 1915, unless circumstances now unforeseen should arise requiring such a measure.

Secondly, the committee recommended that the clubs an opportunity to show cause why they should exist. They recommended that scholarship statistics showing as fairly as possible the relation in average scholarship of each club to the general student body, should be published annually, and that a committee be created to meet in conference with the fraternities as often as necessary, and that the different societies be asked to take some definite action before February, 1914, upon reconsideration of their house rules. They advocated reforms in the present methods of rushing, pledging the initiation of new members, and they suggested that certain provisions be made for a certain minimum of credits to be earned during residence at the university before a student may be considered eligible to membership.

A MILLIONAIRE GARDENER. A man who worked formerly as a gardener in Boston went to England, where he died a millionaire. It transpired that he had made a fortune in Wall street while he was still a laborer, and that he had retired with his family to spend the remainder of his life in England.

Have Color in Your Cheeks --Be Better Looking-- Try Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—a liver in your mind—your body heavy, bad good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for cod liver oil—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

The Olive Tablets oil the bowels—yet have no oily taste. They are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. If you want a clear pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get the cause. Olive Tablets act on the liver—bowels like cod liver oil—yet have no dangerous or effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

WOOLWORTH'S WONDER.

Astonishing Dimensions of New York City's Latest Skyscraper.

New York, April 29.—The new Woolworth building is already more than half rented. When filled it is expected to return 6 per cent on the total investment of $13,500,000, of which $4,000,000 represents the land cost.

As this is the tallest occupied building in the world—eighty feet higher than the Metropolitan tower—and 200 feet higher than the great pyramid—and is surpassed as a structure only by the Eiffel tower in Paris, its exact height as narrated by Mr. Woolworth at his dinner to the architect, Cass Gilbert, many of interest. Mr. Woolworth said named a height of 750 feet to the architect, who told him he might go a few feet higher. When abroad he read the building was to be 770 feet high, and was a bit startled. When he returned the architect said it was about 787 feet and when measured it was found to average 792 feet, 1 inch. From the corner on Broadway the height was 791 feet, 6 inches, and it was six inches higher on the other corner and 793 feet, 9 inches on Barclay street. The foundations went 21 feet below the sidewalk to bedrock, making a total height of 913 feet, 1 inch for the structure. The height above sea level is 947 feet, 2 inches.

By its combination of Italian, French and Renaissance architecture with Gothic details, in creating white stone and terra cotta, the result is a building unique and one of the most beautiful in the world. The foundation was begun Nov. 4, 1910. The structure contains over 17,000,000 bricks, 24,000 tons of steel girders, twenty-eight elevators, about ten thousand feet of space. It has fifty-five stories, is the largest building ever erected by an individual and is free from debt. It has four self-contained fireproof and smokeproof stairways. There are stairs enough to climb a mountain 4,000 feet high. It has been built as an income producing property, and by position and character will be a great advertisement.

Steel sufficient to build the Third Avenue Elevated railroad structure from the city hall to the Harlem river at 120th street was placed on a lot of 152x197 feet in ten months. There are eighty-seven miles of electric wiring, and the lamps would light the forty miles of water front around Manhattan. Its six 2500-horsepower boilers could lift 100 tons of material placed on a lot of 1000 pounds at the caissons. Occasionally, wind pressure increases this by 40,000,000 pounds. It can withstand a wind pressure of 250 miles an hour.

The building contains twenty-seven acres of rental space, and elevators and corridors take up thirteen acres more. Its elevator shafts total two miles, and a round trip in each equals four miles. There are forty-three miles of plumbing, 53,000 pounds of bronze and iron hardware, 3,000 hollow steel doors, twelve miles of marble trim, twelve miles of slate base, 383,325 pounds of red lead, 50,000 cubic yards of sand, 15,000 yards of broken stone, 7,500 tons of architectural terra cotta, the most complete in the world, 2,000,000 square feet, or 28,000 tons, of hollow tile, 1,050,000 square feet, or 28,000 tons, of terra cotta partitions and firing. No wood has been used. There are three thousand exterior windows whose glass, with that of the interior windows, would cover about three acres, or Union square. Its tenants will number about ten thousand.

Special trains from Washington and Boston brought men of national prominence to the dinner given by Mr. Woolworth on the twenty-seventh floor.

PET HEN CAUSES DEATH OF TWO.

Roosted on the Gas Jet and Turned on the Deadly Fumes.

Passaic, N. J., May 1.—A Leghorn hen of which Herman M. Muller, a retired mill foreman of Passaic, and his wife had made a household pet in their advanced age, was responsible for their death in the home they owned at 80 Semel avenue at Garfield, a Passaic suburb. Their bodies were found in a bedroom when police, summoned by their son, Alvin Muller, forced an entrance to the residence.

Death has been due to asphyxiation by gas, according to the county physician, Samuel Armstrong, although there was no odor of gas in the house when the bodies were discovered. Evidently the couple had been dead several days and the gas, which was supplied by a 25-cent meter, had been shut off automatically, that which had escaped having filtered through crevices in the doors and windows.

The body of Mrs. Muller lay in bed and that of her husband on the floor near a door leading to a hall, indicating that he had been overcome while attempting to escape from the room. The gas which killed the couple had poured from a jet a few feet above a gas range in the kitchen, adjoining the bed room. The police suggested the theory of suicide, but the son of the couple strongly protested. He said his father, who was sixty-two years old, and his mother, who was fifty-seven, were in comfortable financial circumstances and in good health. As he discussed the case with policemen in the kitchen, the Leghorn stalked in from a closet.

"What's the hen doing in the house?" asked a policeman.

"Just a pet of my parents," said the young man. "They kept her in the house for company."

As they spoke the hen flapped her wings and jumped to the top of the gas range. From there she jumped to the bracket of the gas jet and clatched the open stop of the jet with her talons.

"That's her favorite perch," exclaimed the son. "Why, say!" he exclaimed. "I must be low."

The police agreed with him that the hen had turned on the gas and caused the death of the couple.

INSIST U. S. WON'T BUY MEXICAN LAND

Federal Officials Point Out That Country to South Couldn't Sell Now if It Desired.

Washington, May 1.—The report that Mexico is preparing to cede to the United States all of Lower California and the states bordering on the Rio Grande river—Sonora, Chihuahua, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas—upon the payment of $30,000,000, is characterized as pure fiction by state department officials.

"Absolutely nothing is being done by the United States for the acquisition of additional territory," said an official of the state department. Certain Americans with large interests in some of the northern states, it is said by officials of the administration, are responsible for the report.

Seriously speaking, some officials said the proposition was absurd. They pointed out that the Mexican constitution strictly prohibits the disposal of any Mexican territory to any other nation. It was said also that the United States government could not enter into any negotiations with Mexico for the acquisition of Mexican territory without specific authorization from congress and that certainly no steps could be taken without an appropriation from congress.

The question of whether Mexico may dispose of national territory was several years ago when the question of selling a concession to Japanese subjects on Magdalena bay came before the department of the interior of Mexico. The Mexican government wished to give a fishing concession to a colony of Japanese. The Mexican congress held that could not be done. The concession finally was sold to a Mexican, who later leased or sold the rights to fish to an American corporation, and the latter disposed of the rights to fish to some Japanese. At no period of the transaction was there a transfer of title to land by the Mexican government.

There is only one way in which the territory in question could be obtained by the United States other than grabbing it as spoils of war, and that is by amending the Mexican constitution. It was pointed out at the state department that this would be difficult in view of conditions in Mexico.

In control of the Mexican government machinery is General Victoriano Huerta. He holds that position by might. Fighting Huerta in the states reported as about to be ceded to the United States are Mexicans who call themselves "Constitutionalists."

They were followers of the late President Madero and are insisting that the present government turn over the governmental machinery in Mexico City to the Madero or Constitutional party from which it was wrested, it is charged, by Huerta.

eastern capitalists to merge the Commonwealth and Union companies into one concern, which would buy the control of the Michigan United Railways and the Springfield Light, Heat & Power Co., the latter an Illinois company. The latter is Rev. G. Zeemer. It is probable that he will be superintendent of the staffed farm, as he is a good executive and a man of wide experience with the natives. The work which the Staffelds is undertaking is entirely voluntary, and not under the supervision of any church or society. Rev. Mr. Staffeld, the elder, expects to die in Africa, and he does not believe the colony will be properly organized during the life time. The family is well to do in a comparatively small way.

Season Opens Today--With a continuance of the ideal weather of the last three days, large numbers of sportsmen should take to the woods today--the first day of the trout fishing season. The followers of that old angler, Isaac Walton, have been rummaging among their old clothes and last season's tackle has been put in order. The streams are all high, however, and their condition does not promise good fishing for the next ten days or two weeks, at least. Many anglers are overlooking any possibility of coming home empty handed in their anxiety to get to the banks of the streams with rods in their hands.

Roads Are Still Wet--The roads of Presque Isle are still wet and muddy in places, and therefore the gate cutting off carriage and automobile traffic at the neck is still closed and locked. Where the roads were badly eroded by the spring freshets they are being repaired, and it is expected that by the end of the week, with continued dry weather, they will be passable. Robert Hume, the custodian, said yesterday that if traffic was admitted to the island the roads would be torn up very quickly. He says they should be thoroughly repaired and given a top dressing this year. Mr. Hume is of the opinion that the road around Presque Isle should be replaced by a concrete pavement. It would pay for itself in what is saved from year to year in repairs.

Huge Eggs, These--H. F. Desjardins displays, in the north window of his Third street drug store, eight eggs laid by a black Minorca hen in as many days. The eggs are twice as large as ordinary hen eggs, have pure white shells and are of perfect shape. It is believed the eggs have double yolks, a condition which, though abnormal, is not unusual except in a case such as this, where the hen produces one every twenty-four hours for eight days in succession. Six of these eggs weigh as much as one and a quarter dozen of hens' eggs of average size and nine would weigh as much as two dozen ordinary eggs.

Street Cars to Presque Isle--After a week's interruption of the service, caused by the Dead River flood, the Marquette City & Presque Isle Railway company is again running street cars to Presque Isle. The work of rebuilding the damaged roadbed was nearly completed yesterday. For the time being passengers for Presque Isle will be transferred from the regular cars to small cars in use north of the river. They will have to walk but 150 feet in making the change. This service was commenced yesterday noon. The bridge will be repaired at once. The company is looking for an idle pile driver to use in making the repairs.

John McLean Dies--John D. McLean died Tuesday evening at St. Luke's hospital at the age of fifty-eight years, after a several months' illness. Mr. McLean lived at 205 West Ohio street, and had been a resident of Marquette for thirty years, having conducted a fishing business at the foot of Washington street, a large part of this time. He is survived by his wife, five sons and three daughters. The former are John, Clifford and Donald, of this city; Kenneth, of Cheboygan, and Thomas, of Cleveland. The daughters are the Misses Bella and Martha, of Detroit, and Miss Ella, of Wilkeson, N. D. The funeral arrangements will be announced after word is received from the children living out-of-town.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. MINNESOTA SUFFRAGIST ELIMINATES WORD "OBEY" FROM HER WEDDING VOW.

Kenosha, Wis., April 30.--Mrs. Adelaide Norris, aged sixty, of Champlain, Minn., a leader among the suffragists of her own state, flung defiance to customs and laws here when she required Judge W. Taylor to marry her to George E. Gay of Augusta, Me., with a ceremony in which the word "obey" was eliminated. Mrs. Norris had been advised by the judge that the Wisconsin laws demanded a ceremony which provided that the wife should obey, but the bride declared that there wasn't a man in the world that she would obey. She kept the court busy examining court decisions for an hour before the ceremony was performed. But she carried her point and went through a ceremony without promising to go any further than to "love and cherish." Both Gay and his bride are said to be wealthy.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 30.--Pennsylvania is to test the mothers' pension system, Governor Pennell having approved the act passed by the legislature providing for a county system of pensions for mothers under the administration of a commission of from five to seven women to be named by the governor for each county availing itself of the provisions of the law. The trustees are to investigate all cases and may recommend payments to any abandoned mother or widow who is unable to maintain her children at home. Payments shall not exceed $12 a month for one child, $20 a month for two children, $25 for three children and $30 a month for each additional child. An appropriation of $200,000 is made.

Frederick, Md., April 30.--The remains of Barbara Fritchie, Whittier's heroine, have been removed from the old Reformed cemetery, where the body had lain since buried in 1862, to a vault in Mount Olivet cemetery, preparatory to the selection of a final resting place. The remains of her husband, John Casper Fritchie, who died years before his wife, were also taken up. Although all traces of theasket had disappeared the bones of Barbara Fritchie were in a good state of preservation. It is proposed to erect a memorial monument, probably in Mount Olivet, where the remains will be placed.

THREE REELS OF PICTURES

UPWARDS OF THIRTY STOCKS FALL TO NEW LOW RECORDS IN THE NEW YORK MARKET.

New York, April 30.--Irregular movements marked the course of today's stock market. The leading issues were inclined to improve. At the same time, more than thirty stocks touched new low levels for the year. Most of these stocks were of secondary importance, although the list included Southern Pacific, New Haven and Baltimore & Ohio. Taken as a whole, the movement was uncertain and confusing. Although leading, Lehigh Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and a number of other prominent issues ruled a point or more higher at times, this improvement could not be said to reflect a growth in confidence or buying power. The demand seemed to arise chiefly from short coverings, and whenever stocks were offered, other than the speculative favorites in which there had been heavy selling recently, it was necessary to make sharp concessions to find a market.

Have Color in Your Cheeks --Be Better Looking-- Try Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

These Olive Tablets oil the bowels—yet have no oily taste. They are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil.

If you want a clear pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause. Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. "Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

WOOLWORTH'S WONDER.

Astounding Dimensions of New York City's Latest Skyscraper.

New York, April 29.—The new Woolworth building is already more than half rented. When filled it is expected to return 6 per cent. on the total investment of $13,500,000, of which $4,000,000 represents the land cost.

As this is the tallest occupied building in the world—eighty feet higher than the Metropolitan tower and 200 feet higher than the great pyramid—and is surpassed as a structure only by the Eiffel tower in Paris, its exact height as narrated by Mr. Woolworth at his dinner to the architect, Cass Gilbert, may be of interest.

From the corner on Broadway the height was 791 feet, 6 inches, and it was six inches higher on the other corner and 787 feet, and when it was measured it was found to average 792 feet, 1 inch.

The building contains over 17,000,000 bricks, 24,000 tons of steel girders, twenty-eight elevators and 13,200,000 cubic feet of space. It has fifty-five stories, is the largest building ever erected by an individual and is free from debt.

Steel sufficient to build the Third Avenue Elevated railroad structure from the city hall to the Harlem river at 129th street was placed on a lot of 152x197 feet in ten months.

The building contains twenty-seven acres of rentable space, or Union square, and corridors take up thirteen acres more. Its elevator shafts total two miles, and a round trip in each equals four miles.

Special trains from Washington and Boston brought men of national prominence to the dinner given by Mr. Woolworth on the twenty-seventh floor.

PET HEN CAUSES DEATH OF TWO.

Roosted on the Gas Jet and Turned on the Deadly Fumes.

Passaic, N. J., May 1.—A Leghorn hen, which Herman M. Muller, a retired mill foreman of Passaic, and his wife had made a household pet in their advanced age, was responsible for their death in the home they owned at 80 Second avenue at Garfield, a residential suburb.

The bodies were found in a bedroom when police, summoned by a son, Alois Muller, forced an entrance to the residence.

Death has been due to asphyxiation by gas, according to the county physician, Samuel Armstrong, although the bodies were no odor of gas in the house when the bodies were discovered.

The couple had been dead several days, and the gas, which was supplied by a 25-cent meter, had been shut off automatically, that which had escaped having filtered through crevices in the door and windows.

The body of Mrs. Muller lay in bed and that of her husband on the floor near a door leading to a hall, indicating that he had been overcome while attempting to escape from the room.

The police suggested the theory of suicide, but the son of the couple strongly protested. He said his father, who was sixty-two years old, and his mother, who was fifty-seven, were in comfortable financial circumstances and in good health.

"What's the hen doing in the house?" asked a policeman. "Just a pet of my parents," said the young man. "They kept her in the house for company."

As they spoke the hen flapped her wings and jumped to the top of the gas range. From there she jumped to the bracket of the gas jet and clutched the open stop of the jet with her talons.

"That's her favorite perch," exclaimed the son. "Why, say!" he exclaimed. "It must be low."

The police agreed with him that the hen had turned on the gas and caused the death of the couple.

INSIST U. S. WON'T BUY MEXICAN LAND

Federal Officials Point Out That Country to South Couldn't Sell Now if It Desired.

Washington, May 1.—The report that Mexico is preparing to cede to the United States all of Lower California and the states bordering on the Rio Grande river—Sonora, Chihuahua, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas—upon the payment of $30,000,000, is characterized as pure fiction by state department officials.

"Absolutely nothing is being done by the United States for the acquisition of additional territory," said an official of the state department. Certain Americans with large interests in some of the northern states, it is said by officials of the administration, are responsible for the report.

Seriously speaking, some officials said the proposition was absurd. They pointed out that the Mexican constitution strictly prohibits the disposal of any Mexican territory to any other nation. It was said also that the United States government could not enter into any negotiations with Mexico for the acquisition of Mexican territory without specific authorization from congress and that certainly no steps could be taken without an appropriation from congress.

The question of whether Mexico may dispose of national territory was up several years ago when the question of selling a concession to Japanese subjects on Magdalena bay came before the department of the interior of Mexico. The Mexican government wished to give a fishing concession to a colony of Japanese. The Mexican congress held that could not be done. The concession finally was sold to a Mexican, who later leased or sold the rights to fish to an American corporation, and the latter disposed of the rights to fish to some Japanese. At no period of the transaction was there a transfer of title to land by the Mexican government.

There is only one way in which the territory in question could be obtained by the United States other than grabbing it as spoils of war, and that is by amending the Mexican constitution. It was pointed out at the state department that this would be difficult in view of conditions in Mexico.

In control of the Mexican government machinery is General Victoriano Huerta. He holds that position by night. Fighting Huerta in the states reported as about to be ceded to the United States are Mexicans who call themselves "Constitutionalists." They were followers of the late President Madero and are insisting that the present government turn over the governmental machinery in Mexico City to the Madero or Constitutional party from which it was wrested, it is charged, by murder.

PLAN HUGE MERGER. Companies in Four States Consider $35,000,000 Concern.

Grand Rapids, April 30.—The merger of all the Hopedale Hardy & Co. interests, involving companies with an aggregate capitalization of $12,321,500 preferred stocks and $25,000,000 common stock, making one of the largest combinations of utility properties in the country, is under consideration.

The properties to be merged, with their present capitalizations, are said to be: Commonwealth Power, Railway & Light Co., controlling gas, electric light and power and street railway properties in Michigan; Union Railway, Gas & Electric Co., controlling gas and electric properties at Evansville, Ind.; Peoria and Springfield, Ill., and traction at Jamesville, Wis.; Springfield, Ill., and De Kalb-Sycamore Interurban; Michigan United Traction which holds a lease of the Michigan United Railway Co., and also the Kalamazoo, Lake Shore & Chicago Railway; Springfield, Ohio, Light, Heat & Power Co., owning gas and electric light property at Springfield, Ohio, and the Manistee Power Co., of Manistee, Mich.

Louisville, Ky., April 30.—Rumors of a plan to consolidate the Commonwealth Power Railway & Light Co., of Michigan and the Union Railway, Gas & Electric company of Michigan, which have been current during the last two days, were not reflected today in the quotations on the stock of these companies in Louisville, where the stock is largely held.

Local financiers, however, were inclined to believe reports of the plans of eastern capitalists to merge the Commonwealth and Union companies into one concern, which would buy the control of the Michigan United Railway and the Springfield Light, Heat & Power Co., the latter an Illinois company. This would bring about a corporation with a capitalization of about $50,000,000, which would aim to control many railways and lighting companies in Indiana, Michigan and Illinois.

IN PRISON FOR LOVE OF MOTHER

Oklahoma Convict Surrenders Because of Paternal Affection.

Oklahoma, City, Okla., April 29.—Because he loved his widowed mother more than he loved liberty, M. S. Chance, who escaped from the state reformatory at Granite on June 1, 1910, has voluntarily returned to prison to serve the remainder of a two-year term for horse theft.

There was an additional incentive which brought this young man from a ranch in California to the governor of Oklahoma. It was a girl. Some day that girl expects to become his wife.

Chance returned to Oklahoma when 23 years old, the hero of a revolution in Mexico. He was a soldier in the remnant regiment of Colonel Mesley, a deserter from the United States army.

Will Claim Sweetheart. "I didn't need to tell that little girl in California that I was an escaped convict," says Chance, "for she probably would never have known it, so I would not reveal my identity. But, I am glad that my name will not have a stain when I return to claim her. I wanted most of all to see my mother and four little sisters. My mother is old and ill, and she needs my care and attention. Since leaving one sister has died of tuberculosis and another one is ill."

Chance pleaded guilty to horse stealing at Sulphur in 1909, and was given a term of two years in prison. He served nine months and eight days in the penitentiary at McAlester, pending the erection of the reformatory at Granite, and was transferred to that institution in May, 1910.

Made Quick Escape. "Ed didn't stay at Granite long enough to get acquainted with the warden," says Chance. "I don't even know his name. Four days was enough for me with so many chances. Another chap and I fled one day. For four days and nights my comrade and I were hiding in and around El Paso. He was a bad fellow, so I deserted him and went into Mexico."

Near the line of California Chance struck up with Captain Jack Stanley when he was planning to raise an army to capture the adjoining state of Mexico and annex it to the United States. The first day out they engaged in four battles with the Mexicans. Chance and some of the other cowboys then scattered over California.

Went Under Assumed Name. Chance went under an assumed name. He let his mustache grow. He associated occasionally with men in California whom he had known in Oklahoma, but never was recognized. Every meeting with these men, however, was a signal that he had better move into another community, and he was constantly changing jobs.

Young Chance is a stepson of Tishomingo, who for eight years presided over a trial court of the Chickasaw nation. His mother now has a valuable farm near Sulphur, and Chance expects to operate the farm when he gets his liberty.

He came direct to the governor's office in Oklahoma City and freely made a statement of his career and intentions, requesting that the usual punishment given deserters be revoked in his case.

WANTS TO BE EMPRESS OF THE AEGEAN ISLANDS. London, April 30.—"Empress of the Aegean Isles" is the title claimed by a lady who is living in West Kensington, London. There she has lived for twenty years. She is a widow of a colonel in the British artillery. She has stated the grounds of her claim in a letter to each ambassador of the great powers in London and to each of the Balkan delegations. She says that she wants to be Aegean empress if the isles are decided to be neutral territory.

She has produced several oil paintings and has a wide knowledge of eastern literature. She has three sons and one daughter, two of the former being officers in the British army. The lady has based her claim on the fact that she is the daughter of Theodore Christopoulos, who in 1862 was proposed as a candidate for the Greek throne.

The West Kensington widow's father was descended from the family of a prince of Genoa, who married a daughter of the then emperor of Constantinople. That emperor, it is alleged, bestowed upon this prince of Genoa the rule of Chios, Mitylene, Lemnos and Imbros, which were held by the family until 1514, when the Turks captured the islands.

Eugenia, the West Kensington widow, asserts in her representations to the peace delegates that she has evidence to prove that she is the direct and only surviving descendant of these former rulers of the Aegean isles and that if the peace delegates decide that the Aegean isles shall be neutral territory she should in all justice become the ruler.

It appears that this is not the first occasion on which Princess Eugenia of Palaeologos, as the West Kensington lady prefers to be styled, has put forward her claim.

Will Establish Mission in Wilds. Rev. Staffeld of Owosso and Three Sons Will Leave Home.

Owosso, Mich., April 29.—With the ambition to devote the remainder of their lives to bettering mankind, Rev. C. C. Staffeld, a local Evangelical German minister, and his three sons will soon leave comfortable homes to establish a huge mission farm in the wilds of Africa.

To give the project his undivided attention this summer, Mr. Staffeld has resigned his pastorate here and has gone to Saginaw to join two of his sons, Paul W. and Ernest, who are in the real estate business there. The third son is also an Evangelical minister, Rev. D. W. Staffeld of Brooklyn, N. Y. About September 1 the quartet will depart for Africa.

Rev. Mr. Staffeld is a man of gigantic stature and looks to be still in the prime of life, though he is a Civil war veteran. He has for years been a minister, fulfilling the drudgery of small churches, but always with his dream to leave a monument behind him when he died. His enthusiasm affected his sons, who are now fully earnest as he.

While in Germany some years ago visiting his birthplace, Mr. Staffeld talked with the kaiser's secretary and explained that he desired to start a colony for the blacks in German East Africa, similar in scope and intent to the farm schools of Booker T. Washington in America.

The secretary consulted with the kaiser, and found the ruler favorably inclined toward the plan. Mr. Staffeld was told that he could buy 15,000 acres of suitable land for $5,000 or 25,000 acres for $8,000, on which to establish the colony. The government's cooperation and protection were also assured.

The Staffelds decided to buy the 25,000 acres, and the purchase has been completed with the exception of a few details. These are being closed up by correspondence, and it will probably not be necessary to visit Germany again.

"We are going into a wild and unventilated country," said Rev. Mr. Staffeld, recently, in discussing his plans, "and some of it might easily be described as uninvited. There are all sorts of wild animals there, and the natives live in ever-present fear of them."

"Clearing the land will be a stupendous task. We will start that immediately, and get a little of it under cultivation. This work will be pursued until all available land is producing. Owing to the warm climate, we expect to raise fruit and vegetables in abundance. The prairie will support herds of cattle. We will, of course, raise our own cattle and horses."

The erection of buildings—homes, schools and churches—and the cultivation of the land, will be performed by natives, whom we will hire. In this manner we will make their acquaintance, and begin our task of civilizing and Christianizing them. We expect to follow Booker Washington's plans quite closely in educating the Negroes and raising their standards above the standards of their descendants in the southern states.

"When our farm is self-sustaining and our churches and schools flourishing, we expect to turn over everything to some one else."

THOMPSON-NELSON NUPTIALS YESTERDAY

Wellknown and Popular Young Couple United in Marriage on Swanzy Range.

E. C. Thompson of Ishpeming and Miss Mary Nelson were united in marriage yesterday at 12 o'clock, noon, at Gwin at the home of G. R. Jackson, brother-in-law of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. M. Allen, pastor of the Ishpeming Presbyterian church. Miss Jean Nelson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and William R. Myers was best man. The ceremony was performed in the living room, which was decorated with ground pine and red roses. As the bridal party entered the room, Carl Sackler of Ishpeming, cousin of the bride, played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride was attired in a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of white and pink flowers. Her veil was caught back with lilies of the valley, and she carried a shower bouquet of the same flowers. The only ornament she wore was a crescent of sapphires and pearls, the gift of the groomsmen. The bridesmaid wore a becoming gown of white and carried a bouquet of Kilmaree roses.

Following the marriage a luncheon was served in the dining room, which was decorated with ground pine, white roses and smiles. The marriage was attended only by relatives and close friends of the family from Ishpeming, and by members of a girls' club to which the bride belonged.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson received many beautiful gifts. They departed last evening for Chicago and Byron, Ills. In the latter city they will visit Mr. Thompson's parents. Upon their return they will make their home in Ishpeming.

Mr. Thompson is one of the assistant mechanical engineers for the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company. He had general charge of the construction of the company's power dam on Carp river, under Master Mechanic O. D. McChute, and also superintended the construction work at the company's storage dam at Forty Acre falls, north of Ishpeming, which was completed last fall.

Mrs. Thompson, who is a daughter of W. S. Nelson, was born and raised in Ishpeming, and has lived in Gwin for the past four or five years, or since the family moved there. For a few years past she had been employed as a teacher in the Gwin schools.

RURAL DELIVERY TO START TODAY

Joseph H. Thomas Will Cover Route West of Ishpeming Until Carrier Is Appointed.

James Clancy, the postmaster, has appointed Joseph H. Thomas as mail carrier on the rural route that includes in West Ishpeming, the North Lake and Dexter locations, and the farms near those places. The appointment is a temporary one. He will cover the route until the department decides on which one of the applicants is best qualified for the position.

Mr. Thomas will begin work today. He will make one delivery a day six times a week, leaving the city following the arrival of the morning mail trains. The route is nearly twenty-five miles in length.

Parcel Post grows.

The parcel post business at the Ishpeming postoffice is increasing steadily as is also the domestic mail order business. The latter has been larger the past two months than during any corresponding period in eight years.

The parcel post business is developing throughout the country, and it will grow more and more popular as time passes. The postal department has sent instructions to the various offices as to how eggs should be packed. Since the introduction of the new system many packages of merchandise have been destroyed by eggs. According to the Ishpeming postoffice employees, eggs are the most troublesome produce that is being shipped by parcel post.

Most of the parcel post packages being received here are delivered by a special carrier employed for that purpose, but the regular carriers take out as many packages as they can handle.

The general business at the Ishpeming office has grown considerably the past few months, and if the work keeps up at its present rate another carrier will soon have to be added.

ARE MAKING GOOD.

Ishpeming Couple Are Receiving Fine Press Notices in Lower Peninsula.

Will Deveraux and wife, the latter formerly Miss Edith Prin, are making good in vaudeville in the lower peninsula, where they are receiving many favorable press notices. A short time ago they had an opportunity to go out with an opera company, Mrs. Deveraux was to play the leading part, and she had started rehearsals. The company's plans were changed, however, and they returned to vaudeville.

On their next night at the Lyric theater in Alpena. The Alpena News said: "Deveraux & Prin brought down successive houses at the Lyric theater last night with their rendition of the spooky melody, 'The Ghost of the Violin.' With stage darkened and the only light shed by a lantern, the pair sang the song in a way fit to send the shivers down one's spine. There were a half dozen songs in all and although 'The Ghost of the Violin' was the best of them, they were all good."

"The two will be on the bill again tonight and with them there will be Dayton flood pictures with Pathe's weekly and a number of interesting and amusing picture plays. It's a bill that you can't miss."

A revival meeting brought about the desire of the former Escanaba resident to make things right.

Widow Granted a New Trial.

Judge Flannigan has granted the petition of the plaintiff for a new trial in the case of Anna Elis of Escanaba vs. the Protected Home Circle. This is an action in which the plaintiff seeks to recover $1,500 insurance which her husband carried in the fraternal order at the time of his death two years ago. The husband, a former Menominee man, was found dead one night on the veranda at his home on South Jennie street. It was supposed to be a case of suicide and the coroner's jury so determined, although the evidence justifying the verdict was purely circumstantial. The policy which Elis carried in the Protective Home Cir-provided that the amount of the insurance would not be payable in case of suicide. Mrs. Elis, the beneficiary named, brought suit by her attorneys, A. H. Ryall and J. L. Loelk, against the society. The claim of the plaintiff was that there was no positive evidence to support the suicide theory, and that, as a matter of fact, Elis may have been murdered. The defense was conducted by Attorney John Power. The court agrees with plaintiff's attorneys that there was an error by the admission of certain testimony bearing upon church customs, and it is because of this that the new trial is granted.

Veteran Mail Carrier Resigns.

Richard James, the veteran of the Iron Mountain postoffice staff, has resigned, owing to continued poor health. Mr. James held the position of carrier ever since the service was established in Iron Mountain, some twenty-two years ago. He is one of the best known men in the city and is held in high esteem by a large circle of friends. Always attentive and obliging to a degree, the residents on Mr. James' route learned of his resignation with regret. He is succeeded as carrier by his son William.

Carmody Case Still a Mystery.

Constant watch and constant inquiries on the part of the county and city officials have failed to locate little Leslie Carmody, who disappeared from his home at the Oliver Hotel at Escanaba, Pictures of the lad and his father, who it is thought may have kidnapped him, have been sent broadcast over the country, but as yet they have failed to bring the desired results. The bay about the merchants' and Stephenson's docks has been carefully watched, in hopes that the body of the child might be located. It has come to be the general opinion about the city that the child has been kidnapped and that in time his whereabouts will be learned.

The roof of the house was badly damaged, but the firemen prevented the blaze from spreading to other parts of the house.

Month Added to Rainbow Season.

Fishermen in this state may have another month to fish for rainbow trout, according to a bill which passed the legislature before its adjournment, making the closed season for this fish from Sept. 30 to June 1. This gives the month of September for this sport, instead of its closing on Aug. 31 as formerly. The bill which makes this change was introduced in the house by Representative Bayless and its passage in the senate was helped along by Senator Wood. The immediate effect clause was attached to the bill in both houses. The closed season for brook trout is from Sept. 1 to April 30. The season for small and large mouthed salmon has been changed, making it illegal to take these fish between Dec. 1 and June 14.
