Efforts to ascertain the exact treatment Mr. Walker is being given tonight were unavailing. The physicians declined to discuss the subject at all.

FOUND SUFFOCATED IN MUD IN DITCH

Unknown Man Believed to Have Been Helplessly Drunk Dies Near Chassell.

William Houde of Chassell, walking along the Paradise road, a short distance outside of town, at 7:45 o'clock yesterday morning found in the ditch by the roadside the body of an unknown man. The stranger was dead and it is believed he suffocated by falling face-downward in the soft mud of the ditch and was unable to extricate himself. The theory is that the man was helplessly drunk.

Justice A. W. York of Chassell was called and he took charge of the body, accompanying it to the City Jail morgue in Houghton, where it will be held, pending identification. The justice called a coroner's jury and that body will investigate the matter tonight. The jury is composed of Bert Warner, George McArthur, James Sogro, Ed Wilson, William Merrill and Desire Bruncau.

UPPER CANAL AS A SUMMER RESORT

Calumet People Negotiating for the Purchase of the Daniel Washburn Hotel.

It was learned yesterday that negotiations for the sale of the Washburn hotel at the upper Portage canal. Calumet interests, are in progress, that the price had been agreed upon and that a single hitch stands in the way of the deal. This difference is said to be a desire of the purchasers that Mr. Washburn be a stockholder in the proposition, taking $2,000 worth of the stock in the company as one-sixth of the purchase price, which is placed at $12,000.

The prospective purchasers are the Calumet people that operated the Eagle River Hotel for years, until it was destroyed by fire several months ago. The distance from Calumet to the Canal is little more than six miles by road and from the Portage Lake town to the Canal it is about ten miles. The plans are to make the Canal hotel modern in every respect, add to its attractiveness and rebuild the road to Calumet.

With a good highway from Calumet, the distance could be covered by automobile in less than half an hour, and with a little more the road between Hancock and the Lake Superior beach could be fixed up. The advantages of a little more than six miles by road and from the Portage Lake town to the Canal it is about ten miles. The plans are to make the Canal hotel modern in every respect, add to its attractiveness and rebuild the road to Calumet.

LABRUM COUNCIL MEETING.

Final Disposition of Town Hall Matter Tonight—Houghton Public Work.

The Laurium council will meet in special session tonight to make a final disposition of the matter of remodeling the town hall, which has been up for several weeks. Tuesday night the council received bids for the work and that of B. Holmstrom, $7,804, was the lowest. As this exceeds the architect's estimate by nearly $2,000 it is doubtful if the council will undertake the work at this time.

WALL STREET STOCKS.

Paine, Webber & Co. wired from New York yesterday as follows: Inquiries indicate that commission houses accounts have little faith in the trade generally. This has induced some large professional sellers to cover short commitments for the time being. The increased weakness in some of the low priced new industrial issues seemed to be the result of a bear drive. The fluctuations in the leading and industrials were extremely narrow. The money market should be studied carefully especially the movement and demand from the interior. Conditions in the money market about the proposed plans for currency legislation. ## Mining News

BOSTON & CORBIN.

Boston & Corbin is suffering from two ailments—lack of money (it recently paid a high price for a two months' loan) and failure of its ore to come up to predictions of the management either in tonnage or metal content. The former is susceptible of being remedied either by the issue of more securities or through reorganization; the latter, and unfortunately the more vital thing, depends the result of further development at length. The management is, at present at work on a financing plan, and is endeavoring to place $150,000 convertible bonds in addition to the $200,000 now outstanding. However, as the present bonds are practically unsalable at the present time, except at very great concessions, it is hard to see how additional bonds can be placed at anything like a reasonable price. The simpler way would seem to be to put the company through reorganization, assessing the present stock and retiring the bonds so that the reorganized company would have no fixed charges. Probably an assessment of $1 per share, or $2 at the outside, would pay the present company's debts and provide the new company with sufficient working capital for operating and development. An examination of the property has recently been made by a prominent mining engineer, and he estimates ore reserves as between 100,000 and 150,000 tons, or sufficient to keep the mill in operation for two years at the lowest. These estimates with an estimate of 250,000 to 300,000 tons made by the management as late as last August, and, moreover, the performance of the mill to date indicates that there was over-optimism regarding the values in the ore. However, as things now stand there is occasion for enthusiasm on Boston & Corbin, even with the stock at this low level, because it is obvious that the ore tonnage thus far developed is not of sufficient magnitude and richness to represent much value for the stock over the $200,000 bonds, even assuming that the bonds could be paid off from earnings. The future of Boston & Corbin seems to be in what is developed at greater depth, and as the Corbin district is comparatively untried it is impossible to make predictions as to this.

LIVE STEAM TO BE USED IN WASHING BOTTLES

Vandenboom Dairy Will Be Well Equipped

With New Sterilizing Machinery

F. H. Vandenboom, proprietor of the Marquette City dairy, will receive in a few days a bottle-washing machine, operated by a steam turbine. The equipment will be installed in an addition to the washing room at the dairy plant just west of the city. The new apparatus is a combined washer and sterilizer. Live steam and boiling hot water will be injected into the bottles and will clean them in a manner that will wholly eliminate both dirt and germs. The present system of using water, power, and brush, with hot water administered by hand in sterilizing the bottles, is no longer adequate. The cleanliness of the dairy will be second to none in the state, with the new equipment in use. The steam apparatus will be the first of a practical design of its kind to be installed in this part of Michigan.

To operate the equipment, a three-horsepower boiler will be installed. In the operation of cleaning, the bottles are placed, top down, in an enclosed wooden rack, the mouth of each bottle covering two jets. The movement of a lever injects boiling hot water under high pressure into each bottle to cleanse it of solid matter. Another movement shuts off the hot water and turns on live steam. Upon the steam being turned off, the bottles are taken from the racks not only thoroughly cleaned and sterilized, but absolutely dry.

New Herdsman Enthusiastic.

John K. Wilmut, of New York state, who arrived about ten days ago to become herdsman of the Marquette City dairy, is much pleased with Mr. Vandenboom's equipment. Mr. Wilmut is a middle-aged man who has been in many parts of the country and who has followed the dairying business all his life. In addition to having college training in his special line of work, Mr. Wilmut has had years of practical experience in managing herds, but never, he says, has he seen a more ideal and yet practical dairy than Mr. Vandenboom's. The cattle, he believes, are wonderfully productive, considering that the herd is made up of a large number of native animals. Mr. Vandenboom has now one hundred head, including more than twenty calves, born at the dairy, and which have been carefully bred. These calves will shortly be taken to the Tubbin farm, recently purchased by Mr. Vandenboom, where preparations for keeping them are now being made.

More than sixty head of cattle are kept in the big barn at the dairy, while eighteen head of cattle, purchased last summer, are housed in a small barn located about a hundred feet distant. While the equipment of the annex is not up to Mr. Vandenboom's standard, the animals now living in it will soon be housed in an addition to the main building. Plans for this addition are being prepared. Concrete floors, gutters and mangers, perfect ventilation and running water, such as he now has in his big barn will be regular features of all future buildings put up by Mr. Vandenboom. The interior of the big barn is cleaner than most kitchens and is absolutely without any of the offensive odors of the average cowshed. The animals are carried every day and the milk cows are as smooth and glossy as well kept horses.

Handling the Milk.

A reporter visited the dairy yesterday at milking time. After watching the milkers a few minutes, a pailful of the rich product was followed from the barn into the cooling room. Here it was strained through three thicknesses of fine muslin and into the cooler, a large vessel having sides which slope outward and over the surface of which the milk falls in a thin sheet. The vessel is filled with water which is cooled to forty-five degrees and kept in circulation. The temperature is maintained by a refrigerator in the basement through which the water passes before it reaches the cooler. Five minutes after the milk leaves the animal its temperature is reduced to that of the water and is kept at forty-five degrees until it reaches the consumer's house.

Mr. Vandenboom says that cooling is the great secret of producing pure milk. The effect is that of partial sterilization. A mixture of organic compounds such as milk changes very rapidly after it leaves the animal, but by cooling the action is hindered to a great degree. After being drawn from the animal into covered pails the milk is untouched. After cooling the milk is poured into the bottling machine and here again it is thoroughly strained. The cleaned bottles, already in boxes, prepared for delivery, are placed under spouts. A flanged injector is forced over the mouth of each by the movement of a lever, and as the plungers enter the necks of the bottles valves are automatically released, filling the bottle. The raising of a lever lifts the plungers and at the same time cuts off the flow of milk.

Fed While Being Milked.

Returning to the barn, the milking process was again watched. The cows were fed as the herdsman and his assistants worked. The ration consisted of bran, beet pulp, cotton seed meal, corn meal and oil-cake mixed. The cows are fed, all told, ten meals every day. Clover hay is fed twice a day, in the morning and in the afternoon. The hay is raised on the farm and is cut while the crop is comparatively young. Among the many other curious ration prescribed as the best feed for milk-producing cows is molasses. This is given with the last feed of hay. It acts as an appetizer, a laxative and a tonic, and is in every way an ideal food. The animals, says Mr. Vandenboom, crave it as a child with a sweet-tooth craves candy.

After a milk pail is full, a boy takes it from the milker and on the way to the cooling room weighs it. Forty to fifty pounds of milk a day is a large production for one animal, yet several cows at the dairy give more. One animal produces fifty-six pounds daily, and is the pride of the new herdsman. The Vandenboom cows are unexercised and are pastured only during June and the early part of July, the only time in the weather. Exercise is bad for cows, it is contended. The development of the exterior muscles takes energy and strength from the cow's enormous and remarkable digestive system. In a well-ventilated, lighted and clean barn, eating only what is right for its system and the proper amounts of foods judged to give the animal everything necessary for its complex and delicate system, cows do much better than if allowed to find food in sparsely vegetated pastureland. The turning of hay, grain, beet pulp and molasses into milk at the rate of forty pounds a day is, Mr. Vandenboom says, enough work for any animal and to exercise it and expect it to thus increase the production is as much folly as taking out in the evening for exercise horses that have been driven behind a plough all day. The dairy produces now about eight hundred quarts of milk a day.

A Remarkable Bull.

Mr. Vandenboom has a year-old Holstein bull, weighing 1,200 pounds, that he considers to be the largest bull for its age in existence. Cattle experts from all parts of the country have examined the animal and declare it to be the largest for its age they have ever seen, and yet it gives fair promises of growing to still greater size and weight. The animal is fourteen months old, to be accurate, and is in a state of perfect health. It was unusually large at birth and has been developing perfectly. One thousand pounds is considered heavy for one-year-old bulls.

TRADE SECRETS—No. 5.

A florist would not get very far in business without a greenhouse—would he? And after he has his greenhouse and his plants he has to give them careful, individual attention. He has to watch the temperature, water them, see that each plant has the soil adapted to its healthy growth. You young men and women whose young lives are just about flowing can no more bring them to perfection without a bank account than a florist can succeed without a greenhouse. And you need a bank that fits your requirements. A child needs different banking treatment than a man—a merchant than a farmer. Here in Marquette you find a Bank of Personal Service in the Marquette National Bank. It meets your business needs. For whatever you do that is your business.

Escanaba Man Makes Violins.

James Ashland of Escanaba has finished making a violin that is pronounced by skilled players to be an exceptionally fine instrument. Its back and sides are of birdseye maple, while the face is of New York spruce. The violin is not only pleasing to the eye, but is beautiful in tone. Mr. Ashland first began making violins when he was a lad of twelve and since that time he has devoted much of his time to this occupation.

Several of the homesteaders of the peninsula have raised funds to send contesting delegates of their membership to Oklahoma City.

SECTION HAND HIT BY PASSENGER TRAIN

By Applying Emergency Brakes Engineer Fisher Saved Escanaba Man from Death.

The passenger train on the Northwestern line that pulled out of Ishpeming Tuesday morning this side of Escanaba struck John Murray, a section hand, and had it not been that John Fisher, the engineer of this city, applied the emergency brakes, Murray perhaps never would have known what struck him. It is now thought that he will recover.

The Escanaba Press gave the following account of the accident: "John Murray, a section hand in the employ of the Northwestern railroad company, miraculously escaped instant death this morning when passenger train No. 216, south bound, struck him and threw him several feet against a pile of ties. Murray is in the Delta county hospital suffering from a broken jaw, a fractured rib and many cuts and bruises.

"The accident happened directly opposite the Oliver Coal company's crusher about midway between Escanaba and North Escanaba. Engineer Fisher saw the man walking towards the tracks from the south and sounded his whistle believing that he would stop. Apparently paying no attention to the warning Murray walked straight ahead. When the engineer realized that the man was making no endeavor to get out of harm's way, he threw on the brakes but it was too late to stop the heavy train and a second later Murray's body was hurled through the air.

"The train was brought to a speedy stop and the unconscious man was placed aboard the train and brought to the Northwestern depot. An ambulance was summoned and he was taken to the Delta county hospital where it was found that his left jaw was broken, that one rib on the left side had been fractured and that he was otherwise cut and internally injured.

"The cylinder of the engine struck Murray but it is thought that he obtained the major portion of his injuries when he landed on the tie pile. "The injured man is about sixty years of age and has been employed as a section laborer by the Northwestern company for over twenty-five years.

DAHLGREN IS NOW WITH SUPERIOR TEAM

Former Star Twirler of Escanaba Nine was Bumped in His Initial Game.

Cy Dahlgren, pitching star of last year's Escanaba baseball team, made a miserable showing last Sunday, when he pitched his first game for the Superior team in the Northern league. Dahlgren was a member of the Superior team two or three seasons ago, and he was a puzzle to most of the opposing teams through the entire season. On Sunday he was given the biggest kind of an ovation by the Superior fans, and when he did not last out the first inning they were greatly disappointed.

"An exchange says of his performance: "Superior groveled in the dust before the lowly Virginia tribe, 5 to 4 at Hisslop yesterday, but the combat was not won without a bitter struggle. After a collection of dismal innings had passed it looked a hopeless task for the Red Leggers when, with one down in the ninth, the Curtis gang started one of the grandest little rallies yet staged in our midst. They dribbled the score up to within a couple of pegs of the Virginia total and victory seemed within their grasp.

"At this crucial period Rubie Waddell, former big league pitching phenom and one of the greatest characters in our national pastime, was injected into the fray and fulfilled the duty delegated to him by Boss Shannon. Rubie retired the Sox while the Sox were still a score on the bad and stilled the bellman that raged in the enclosure.

"What proved equally as bitter as the loss of the game was the humbling of Cyrus Dahlgren, favorite extraordinary, who came 1,000 miles from the balmy south to do pitching stunts for the old hum. folks. The spectacle was a sad one and there were but few dry eyes when the peer of Minny league hurlers was led to the bench after a brief tenure on the hillcock.

Grand Welcome for Cy.

"Cy started the heaving doings for the locals. His appearance on the slab was the signal for a grand welcoming. Each fan and fanette among Hisslop Park patrons in 1912 chalked up a Superior victory and waited merely to see what the score would be.

"With the famous parrotella at the helm Rubie Waddell or any other world leater could have nothing on our athletes. "It was believed that Rubie Waddell was to start, but at the last minute Shannon decided that Rubie was not in condition for a tough tussle. Accordingly, Tony Faeh, who did some tall heaving stunts here on the first trip, was shoved out on the peak.

"Breyette, first man up, started the wrecking which ultimately proved the undoing of Cyrus. With one mighty swoop Mike busted Cy's delivery for two bases. Then Cy lost his compass and appeared unable to distinguish the home plate from Elevator S. Shannon was walked. Cy steadied and struck out Collins. Content with this feat he issued a pass to Roberts, filling the sacks. Curtis grounded in front of the plate. Cy fielded the ball and had Breyette plucked at the plate, but threw low in his hurry to get it there and the diminutive Freeman was safe, when Ford let the pickup get away from him. Cy succeeded in striking out Falskin for the second down.

"Stewart, a new Virginian, celebrated his entrance into the Northern loop by sending a sizzling single through the box. Shannon and Collins scored on the play. Perch let the ball trickle through his pins and Cutere also scored. Drummell shot an easy grounder to McCurdy. Mac booted it and Stewart scored. Faeh made little effort to work at the plate and was an easy strikeout, victim. Virginia scored five runs in the half."

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL CLOSED YESTERDAY

Large Force Will Be Employed Remodeling Buildings on Pearl and Pine Streets.

St. John's parochial school, which is to be rebuilt during the summer months, was closed yesterday, and the work of remodeling both the school and the Sisters' home will be started at once. It is hoped that the school rooms will be ready for use at the opening of the fall term in September.

Charles Johnson has been awarded the contract for the Sisters' dwelling to the northeast corner of the lot. J. S. Wahlman, who has the building contract, has removed the veranda that extended across the east and south sides of the Sisters' dwelling, and his carpenter are to begin work at once. Mr. Wahlman will employ a good-sized crew on the job, as the contract calls for almost a complete new building. About the only thing left undisturbed in the school structure will be the walls and partitions. Extensive changes will be made in the hall on the third floor. The assembly room will be considerably larger. The stage on the east side is to be removed. There will be entrances to the hall from both the east and west sides. New stairs will be erected in the west end, with entrances leading to Pearl street on the south and Front street on the north.

The plans, prepared by Ed F. Schilling of Detroit, call for several changes in the exterior appearance of the building.

How do you feel when your breakfast is late?

Kind of grouchy, eh? Well, it is aggravating to have the cook overleap herself. Then to add insult to injury, the old coal range balks.

The cook, to hurry matters, dumps on an armful of wood, which only serves to fill the house full of smoke, which doesn't improve your temper a little bit. Let us suggest that right now. #### SCORED HEAVILY IN LONDON.

Blanche Bates comes to the Ishpeming theater tomorrow evening in A. E. W. Mason's powerful play, "The Witness for the Defense," which scored heavily in London. This play was quaced at the St. James Theater on the twentieth anniversary of Sir George Alexander's management of that famous playhouse. "The Witness for the Defense" tells a thrilling story of a young wife who murders her brutal husband and is acquitted after a nerve racking trial. She returns to England from India, where the dead was committed and wins the love of a young British officer. Circumstances compel her to reveal the terrible secret of her life to her fiancé, but the woman's instinct guides her unerringly to this confession that only strengthens his love for her. The success of the play discloses picturesque glimpses of Kipling-esque India and rural Sussex.

SUCCESSFUL MUSICAL COMEDY.

Despite the numerous successes credited to them, Frank Pixley and Gustav Anders have never wrote a second musical comedy that achieved anything like so great a vogue as "The Prince of Pilsen." For ten years this happy conceit has toured the country, attracting great audiences to its every performance and never suffering in the critical reviews by comparison with any newer works by either American or foreign writers. This year "Jesse" Dandy is again in the role of Hans Wagner and associated with him is a specially selected cast. "The Prince of Pilsen" will be presented at the Ishpeming theater next Wednesday evening.

FERRISURGES RESPECT FOR DECORATION DAY

Secretary of C. H. Towne Post, G. A. R., Receives Copy of Governor's Proclamation.

The Memorial Day exercises under auspices of Charles H. Towne Post, G. A. R., will be held in the auditorium of the high school instead of at McDonald's opera house, as at first planned. The program will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

Governor Ferris has issued a Memorial day proclamation, a copy of which was yesterday received by the secretary of Charles Towne Post. It is as follows:

"Decoration and Memorial Day has come to mean more to the American people than any other day set apart for paying tribute to patriotism. It is a day that recalls sacred memories. These memories become more sacred with every added year, because the ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic are becoming thinner and thinner. Those who are with us now will soon join the Grand Army of the Dead. To the earlier Decoration Days have been added, new memories of thousands of Spanish American war veterans who had done their lives for a more glorious America.

"Let the people of Michigan make next Decoration Day the most beautiful in all her history. This should not be a day for recreation and amusement but rather a day for consecration. Flowers for the dead become a kindly spirit, but flowers for the living of the Grand Army of the Republic are an expression of love and valor.

"The thirtieth of May is set apart for appropriate exercises in every school house and church in Michigan whereby our boys and girls may be encouraged to cherish an abiding love for both our beloved and our heroic living.

"Therefore, I, Woodbridge N. Ferris, governor of the state of Michigan, do hereby issue this my proclamation and heartily urge the observance of Friday, May 30, 1913, as Decoration and Memorial Day.

"Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, this eighth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, and of the commonwealth the seventy-seventh."

WOODBRIDGE N. FERRIS, Governor.

By the Governor: "FREDERICK C. MARTINDALE, Secretary of State."

BASEBALL MEETING TODAY.

A meeting of committees representing Ishpeming, Negaunee, Marquette and Gwin will be held here this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Manager Brand, of the Gwin team, and former Manager Rydholm, of the Marquette nine, will be among those attending the meeting. Since the baseball season has opened the desire of the fans in this county for a league has grown much stronger than it was a few years ago, and it is now thought that a county league can be organized.

IS PLACED IN CHARGE OF MINES

Position of Late Captain John Deacon Is Given to John E. Nelson, of This City.

John E. Nelson, who for the past seventeen years has been employed at the Hartford, Cambria and Lillie mines, has been promoted to the position of superintendent of the properties, which are operated by the Republic Steel & Iron company. Mr. Nelson succeeds the late Captain John Deacon, who passed away last week. He is a thoroughly capable mining man and has worked up, from the bottom, starting as an underground miner at the Lillie mine seventeen years ago.

January 1, when the late Captain Deacon left for the south, Mr. Nelson was made acting superintendent, and served in that capacity up to the time of Captain Deacon's death. Previous to 1904, Mr. Nelson held a number of positions at the mines of the company, working for a time underground and later holding several positions on surface. In 1904 he was given a position in the office of the company as time keeper, in which capacity he worked until 1906, when he was promoted to the position of cashier. He held this office until the first of this year, when he acted as superintendent for the late Captain Deacon. He was made superintendent of the company's properties several days ago and enters upon his new duties immediately.

Mr. Nelson is an expert accountant and it was largely through his efficient work in this line of work that he was given the superintendency. He has been an alderman of the city of Negaunee for several years, living in the First ward, and he also is chairman of the finance committee of the council. He has been a resident of Negaunee for more than twenty-five years.

Mining Engineer.

Todd Kennedy, of Gilbert, Minn., will succeed E. J. Pearce as mining engineer at the Republic Iron & Steel company's properties and will assume his new duties at once. # SIXTEEN WILL RECEIVE HONORS

That Number from Among Members of June Graduating Class of the Northern State Normal School Are Candidates for the Phi Epsilon Society This Year.

Few Weeks Intervening Before Commencement Day Will Be Both Busy and Interesting—Ninety-Four Students to Have Diplomas Bestowed Upon Them.

Sixteen members of the June graduating class of the Northern State Normal School are candidates for membership in the Phi Epsilon honor society, organized in the spring term of 1911. These candidates have been selected from students who have taken the life certificate or regular two-year course and who have shown marked teaching ability, scholarship, character, initiative, spirit, initiative, social qualities and loyalty to the school. The rule of the society is that not to exceed 15 per cent of the members of any graduating class shall be selected for membership, and then not earlier than the second term preceding their graduation. The society is intended to promote a stronger and higher type of professional and educational spirit, accomplishing this by educational addresses and other agencies, candidates for diplomas in June. The individual work of each between now and commencement day will decide just how many will receive diplomas. It is expected that this full number will be graduated. Eighty-three of these are in the life certificate course, ten are in the graded school course and one is taking up a rural certificate course. Twenty-six of the class are Marquette young men and women. Four members are young men.

Many Interesting Functions.

The annual dinner and reception of the Phi Epsilon society will be the second event of commencement week this year. It will be held Saturday evening, June 21, at the school. The preceding evening, Friday, June 20, President and Mrs. J. H. Kaye will give their annual reception to the seniors and members of the faculty at their home.

The first of the public functions is the baccalaureate sermon, Sunday afternoon, June 22, at 3 o'clock in the Normal assembly hall. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Walter H. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church.

The two weeks before commencement will be busy and interesting. There will not only be the annual series of functions, but the preparations for each will be commenced days in advance. The programs are not yet complete. The first feature of commencement was given on Arbor Day, when the seniors celebrated Evenden Day, formerly observed during commencement week, because of the lateness of the season, however, it was decided to change the date. It has been difficult, since the custom was adopted, to succeed in planting trees in June that would grow. The spirit of the day is to leave a tree which in maturity will adorn the campus as a monument to the class that planted it and to stand as a mute reminder of the development 't is meant at once to typify and inspire.

"In College Days."

The evening of Monday, June 23, the day following the baccalaureate sermon, the senior class will present at the Marquette Opera House "In College Days," a farcical comedy, introduced incidentally into which are a number of songs originally written and sung by students of the University of Nebraska. The rehearsals of the comedy and the songs have been going on under the direction of Miss Mosher, in tractor of the department of reading and dramatic art, and during the last two weeks the students have been working assiduously in the difficult roles. The production is to be totally different from any class play ever before given by Normal students.

The commencement exercises, proper, which will mark the wind-up of the school year 1912-13, will be held Tuesday morning, June 24, at 10:30 o'clock in the Marquette Opera House. The address will be given by Dr. Nathaniel Butler, professor of education at the University of Chicago. Dr. Butler has not informed Mr. Kaye as to his subject. A program of musical numbers, to be participated in by members of the graduating class, will also be given. At the close of the exercises the presentation of diplomas will take place. After the commencement program the graduates will attend the annual alumni dinner to be served at 1 o'clock and to be given, it is likely, following the custom of the last two years, at the Tuna and Country club, West Washington street. This feature has not as yet been arranged, however.

Other Future Functions.

One of the happiest events which lead up to commencement, if it is not a part of the commencement week exercises, is the annual junior party given in honor of the seniors, to take place this year Friday evening, June 13, in the Normal gymnasium. This affair is one of the leading social events of the school and one in which all students and their guests may participate. Plans have long been in preparation.

Another public function which has become an annual event and which is closely allied with the winding out of the school year and commencement is the annual concert of the department of music, introducing the best talent in the school. This will be given some evening during the coming week. Miss Linton, professor of music and her assistants and the members of the music classes have been working for some time on a program. Inasmuch as an unusually large number of students have taken up music during the last two years and some gifted musicians have developed, the concert promises to be an entertainment of even more than usual high merit.

At the close of next week, Saturday afternoon, May 31, the annual upper peninsula high school track and field meet will be held at the fair grounds under the auspices of the Normal Ath-# LETIC ASSOCIATION. This is one of the leading features of the busy and interesting spring term and promises this year to be more of a success than it was last.

SPECIFICATIONS READY SOON.

L. L. Wright Arrives in City to Consult With President Kaye of Normal.

Luther L. Wright, state superintendent of public instruction, arrived in Marquette yesterday to consult with President J. H. Kaye, of the Normal school, relative to the plans and specifications for the new $100,000 central building. Charles K. Kuenzli, the designing architect and originator of the Normal group, were instructed, as soon as the appropriation bill had passed legislature and the governor's signature was promised, to prepare the specifications. The drawings that have been prepared, although entirely tentative, have been closely adhered to in settling upon the final plans. The architects are now busy with the working drawings.

Mr. Wright said last evening that the drawing and specifications would be ready by the end of June. The work will probably attract builders and contractors from all over the country, especially men who make a specialty of school building contracts. Marquette county contractors also expect to bid. By the latter part of July a contract will be let. It is the wish of the board to have the work all done under one contract. There will be no delay in getting the work under way, once the contract is let, and it is expected to have the foundation completed by the time winter weather will interfere.

A gymnasium of the dimensions suggested in the tentative drawings, and an assembly room seating between fifteen and eighteen hundred persons, will be features of the building. The library, offices and class rooms, lobby, dome and staircases, as provided in the original drawings, will be a part of the working plans. The structure is to be principally of brick, although the front will be of Marquette brown sandstone. One or all of three quaries producing this variety of stone will have to be operated some time between the date of letting the contract and next spring, when the material will be used, in order to supply the stone.

Mr. Wright says there is no hitch or friction in the plans for the erection of the central building at the Normal and enormous amount of preparatory work that must be accomplished before a contract can be let is going on nicely, although it has been but a week or so since the activity was authorized.

THREE CASES.

Judge Byrne Had Busy Day With His Criminal Docket Yesterday.

What with his usual civil court business and his abstracting three criminal cases which came up yesterday for examination gave Justice Samuel E. Byrne a busy day. Prosecuting Attorney Kennedy was down from Ishpeming to conduct the examination of Leo Rivers and Howard Stewart, charged with larceny from the person of one Oscar Jarvis; Carl Roberts, of Chocoma, accused of causing a recent bushfire which resulted in several thousand dollars' worth of damage to the Chocoma farming district, and William Corbett, of Chocoma, who was arraigned on a charge of desertion previous against him by his wife, who says he has not supported her for the last year.

But one person, and he the complaining witness, was examined in the larceny case. Jarvis, who is alleged to have been robbed of $40 when he was thrown out of an automobile at Eagle Mills last Thursday night, after he had paid the drivers to take him to Negaunee, told the same story in court yesterday as he did previously and which was published in Monday's Mining Journal. He talks no English and his testimony had to be taken through an interpreter. He claimed that the two defendants, Rivers and Stewart, were the ones with whom he had been taken to Negaunee. The hearing was adjourned. C. E. Barton has been engaged as counsel by the defendants.

Carl Roberts appeared for examination, but because of pressing business his hearing was adjourned until after the May term of circuit court, which commences Monday. E. D. Mosher, deputy game and forestry warden, is the complaining witness.

William Corbett, the alleged wife deserter, was held to circuit court under bonds of $200, which he furnished. Corbett lives at Chocoma. About a year ago he refused to support his wife and family, it is said, and since then has not lived at home, although he was still in Marquette county.

COUNTY BOARD VOTES TO BRING PRATER HERE

Dickinson Expert Will Assist the Superintendents of Poor in This County.

After an extended discussion of the advisability of bringing W. A. Prater, of Iron Mountain, now in charge of poor relief work in Dickinson county, to Marquette county to assist the superintendents of the poor in revamping the present system, the supervisors yesterday voted, twenty-five to thirteen, in favor of the proposal. The conditions under which Mr. Prater will come to the county are outlined in the following letter to H. S. Thompson, chairman of the special committee named to look into the status of poor relief:

Mr. Prater's Letter.

"Your letter of the 21st received and in reply would say that it will be impossible for me to give up the work in this county entirely before November next, as I have promised to stay until the fiscal year is finished. There are some matters pending that may make my stay here somewhat permanent. My agreement with the board here holds me to a three months' notice of resignation so that would prevent me accepting an immediate position in your county.

"As I understand the situation, therefore, the board do not wish to nor under the present conditions can they, adopt the system we have here entirely. You wish to retain your board of superintendents of poor, but wish through them to adopt as much of our system as can be used with them. If I am right in this, I think I can make you a proposition that will suit you and also will not cost as much as it would for me to give up the work here and take up the work there, before you are in a position to make full use of the system.

His Proposition.

"My proposition is this: To come to Marquette county for two or three days each week, as I can arrange and work each district with the superintendent of that district. Make a thorough investigation of each of the permanent charges, and make a card index in each district with all the information I can gather of each case. Work out a duplicate system whereby all the cards will also be in the office of the secretary of the court house, and be kept revised to date. To use in this investigation the affidavit, and contract, in regard to property qualifications, and also with regard to residence and relatives.

"In this way each superintendent of that district will be able to understand my method and also shorten the time it would be necessary for me to take in the work as in the main he would know where the parties lived and we would cover the ground quicker.

"I am not at all unwilling to work with any or all the officers connected with this matter, and as far as possible assist you to get matters on the best possible basis. This plan would involve extra expense for me as I will have to pay my stenographer for her extra work and I will have to travel to and from the hotels probably every week. To use in this investigation the affidavit, and contract, in regard to property qualifications, and also with regard to residence and relatives.

Salary and Expenses.

"My proposition then would be this, if the above statement of the situation is correct and given with the approval of your board, I will take no work as outlined giving two or three days per week as the situation warrants for $7.50 per day and my expenses. I would suggest that if this is accepted that the superintendent of the district where I work, furnish the livery, or auto, as may seem best, so that we can cover the ground with the quickest possible time. I will guarantee that I will put in as good time as I can get out of your superintendent.

"If there are suggestions or changes that you would make to this plan or if it would not meet with approval of your board and could be changed without materially affecting my proposition please let me know."

Mr. Thompson and other members of the board strongly endorsed bringing the Dickinson county official to this city on the terms outlined above, the members of the special committee expressed themselves as satisfied that Mr. Prater could give the county good service, with the co-operation of the superintendents, and, above all, the supervisors themselves. Supervisor Siebenthal urged that the county should give some one to direct the work, someone who can look at the various cases impartially. In order to accomplish a more equitable distribution of funds each beneficiary must be examined individually as to his or her means of support, and in many cases it will mean cutting down the expenditures it is advisable, he urged, to have an outsider, a specialist such as Mr. Prater, direct the work.

Protest That Action Is Hasty.

Supervisor Zerbel, a new member of the board, representing the Fourth ward of the county, arose at this point to protest that he believed any action taken at present would be hasty, inasmuch as within ninety days the widow's pension bill, passed by the last legislature, will go into effect, with a result that many widows who are now supported entirely, or in part, by the county will be benefited. A large number of names, it is believed, will go off the relief lists as soon as this law goes into effect. Having carried the list as it stands at present for some time, Mr. Zerbel suggested that to carry it a few weeks longer would do no harm. The reductions as a result of the operation of the new law might result in a saving that would obviate the necessity of changing up any part in the present distribution system, he argued.

Supervisor Yungbluth, however, urged that inasmuch as the board could get Mr. Prater on satisfactory terms at the present time, it was advisable to do so at once. Any examination of the poor relief records would take some time and a work so extensive and important should be undertaken at once, he asserted. He asked M. J. Kennedy, the county attorney, who was present, to enlighten the gathering of the voters penion law, but Mr. Kennedy said he had not had an opportunity to study it and only had a vague idea of its scope.

Following Mr. Yungbluth's remarks, Supervisor Siebenthal moved that Mr. Prater be instructed to come to Marquette at once under the terms outlined in his letter. This motion was seconded, but the call for an aye and nay vote resulted in a split, the negative side, although in the minority, voicing their protest in no uncertain tones. The roll call resulted as follows:

man Powell appointed J. F. Zerbel to take his place.

Following the suggestion of Chairman Powell, Charles Johnson moved that the special Morgan Heights committee be retained. The motion was seconded and unanimously carried. Mr. Yungbluth, chairman of the committee, then spoke on the advisability of appointing an advisory board of physicians to assist in planning innovations for the sanatorium and the work of preventing tuberculosis in the county in general. He said that the matter had been talked of informally by the committee which favored the appointment of such board of Drs. Robbins, of Negaunee, Fretz, of Ishpeming and Harkin of Marquette, who are now working for the county in one capacity or another. The erection of a cottage for the help will result in giving much more room for patients in the hospital building and will allow of an interior ward for advanced cases, whose health is so delicate as to make exposure on the porch dangerous.

The intention of the committee is to secure the help of the advisory board in getting patients who are now being treated at home to come to the sanatorium. Mr. Yungbluth expressed belief that much can be accomplished with three good physicians interested in the hospital. On the motion of Supervisor Trembath, the committee was authorized to appoint the three physicians it suggested for the board.

County Clerk Jenks read communications from the Association of Probate Judges and the association of County Clerks, both of which are to meet in July, and asked that they be placed on file. Mr. Jenks will attend the clerk's convention. He will leave Marquette on the afternoon of Wednesday, June 25.

NEW EXPLOSIVE SHATTERS RAM.

Norfolk, Va., May 21.—The ram Kataldin lies a wreck under sixteen feet of water in Chesapeake bay, where she was sunk after being fired on by the battleships Delaware and Rhode Island and the monitor Talahassee. The battleships tried torpedoes containing a new kind of explosive against the armor of the old vessel and she was torn from stern to stern. The death dealing projectiles pierced her armor as if it were paper. Her decks were ripped nearly her entire length. Several torpedoes went all the way through her. Then the big ships opened up on the ram with twelve-inch shells containing the same kind of explosive used in the torpedoes. The damage that followed was terrific.
