Suffragette Who Created a Sensation by Stopping the King's Horse in the Running of the Derby Succumbs to Her Injury—Her Skull Badly Fractured.

Held a Martyr, Her Associates in the Struggle Think Her Sacrifice Will Help Win the Ballot—They Are Preparing to Hold a Big Public Funeral.

London, June 8.—Emily Wilding Davison, the first martyr to the militant efforts of women to obtain the suffrage, died today at the Epsom hospital as the result of a fracture of the skull suffered in an attempt to stop the king's horse during the running of the Derby on Wednesday last.

Only the matron of the hospital and two nurses were present at the deathbed, Miss Davison's relatives having left the building when told that there was no hope of her regaining consciousness.

Miss Davison had evidently expected to gain the track at Tattenham corner in time to intercept and scatter the field, but she was detained a moment by a spectator who interrupted her.

Woman in the Limelight Before. Miss Davison was noted for her daring feats in behalf of militancy. One of her earliest exploits was to barricade herself in a cell, and she was subjected only with the aid of fire hose.

HOME RULE FOR IRELAND AGAIN TO HOLD STAGE

Preliminary to Its Passage for the Second Time Over the Veto of the Lords, the Bill Will Be Taken Up in Commons Today—Debate May Last a Week.

Ulster Men Are Sure to Make a Vigorous Fight, but the Suggestion of "Militant Methods" Is Spurned—Talk of "Revolution" Is, in Fact, Dying Out.

London, June 8.—The home rule bill for Ireland is scheduled to come up before the house of commons tomorrow for its second reading, preliminary to its passage for the second of the three times necessary for it to become a law over the veto of the house of lords.

So far the government has not put a time limit on the debates in the house of commons, expecting the opposing bill soon will work itself out and that within three or four days the Unionist members will allow the second reading to go through, after registering their continued objections.

The house of commons, under the parliament act, which provides a means of passing Liberal bills over the lords' veto, cannot amend the bill. It must go to the house of lords in exactly the same shape as it reached that chamber last session.

As to the forthcoming fight in the house of commons, the Ulsterists have said nothing. The Ulsterists have said they can be depended upon to oppose the bill by every means in their power.

FARM SCHEDULE OF TARIFF BILL CHANGED AGAIN

Livestock, Grains, Fresh Meats and Flour and Similar Products Are to Be Free-Listed—But With a String Attached—Senate Leaders So Determine.

Duties Will Be Imposed, but Only on Shipments from Countries Which Put a Tax on Similar Products from America—President Agrees to the Plan.

Washington, June 8.—Revising their policy, the Democratic leaders in the senate have decided to put a countervailing duty on imports of livestock and grains, fresh meats, flour and other grain products.

These agricultural products are to be classed in the free list, in accordance with the recent decision after a conference with President Wilson, but they will be free-listed with a string to them.

A countervailing duty means that the United States will charge on imports of cattle, sheep, hogs and wheat flour and such products, a duty compensatory to any duty they may be charged by another country against America on her exports of the same commodities.

This decision has been reached in the senate finance subcommittee in charge of the agricultural schedule, after repeated conferences with other members of the finance committee and Democratic senators particularly interested in agricultural raw material and products.

Will Suit Everybody, It Is Thought. By the imposition of the countervailing duty, the party leaders now believe they will satisfy everybody—farmers, millers and manufacturers—since all are to be treated alike and the farmer cannot complain that his livestock and wheat are to compete with products of such countries as Canada and Argentina on an unequal basis.

Under the terms of such an arrangement as is now proposed, livestock and grains will be admitted free from countries which impose no duties on their imports from this country. Should Canada, Argentina or any other country which now have agricultural products on the dutiable list determine to remove such duties, at any time, they automatically would go on the unrestricted free list of this nation.

The agricultural schedule has been one of the knottiest problems the Democrats have had to deal with since they began the tariff revision.

MILITARY TRAINING FOR COLLEGE MEN

At Least a Score of Institutions to Send Students to War Department Camps.

Washington, June 8.—About twenty schools and universities already have signified their intention of sending students to attend the military instruction camps to be held under the auspices of the war department at Gettysburg, National park, Pennsylvania, from July 7 to Aug. 15, next, and at the Presidio, Monterey, California, from July 1 to Aug. 8, inclusive.

These are few people who would not be ready to serve their country in case of need, but it takes a higher sort of patriotism and a greater insight into actual needs to give up six weeks of the prized vacation to military training.

AWAY WITH THE LOBBY.

While there is a manifest disinclination on the part of senators who are called before the senate committee charged with an investigation into the alleged work of lobbyists at Washington to testify as to their knowledge of such a body, enough has been disclosed to establish that "lobbyists" have been at work there, and actively, ever since the extra session was convened.

That there is "powerful and concerted lobbying" is the avowal of Senator Overman, chairman of the committee having the investigation in hand. From what has reached the public to date regarding the findings of the committee, it appears that there are three distinct bodies of "lobbyists" which have been actively active. One of these is operating against the free sugar proposition, the other against free wool, and the third is fighting the proposed income tax.

There are other lobbyists at work trying to influence congressional action, but the hostility of the administration appears to be specially directed against the divisions of the lobby mentioned.

It is not at all likely that so careful a man as President Wilson would make so strong and specific an arraignment of the lobbyists without having ample warrant for the charges brought, and the public may look for interesting developments before the investigation is closed, and when the findings of the committee are given out.

If it should appear that heretofore privileged interests are seeking by insidious methods to retain advantages to which they are not entitled by prevailing upon the congress, the part President Wilson has taken in attracting attention to their work will redound immensely to his credit with the public. The "lobbyist" has had his day in this country and the great body of the American people will relish any castigation to which he may be subjected by the president in the effort he is making to rid the national capital of the pernicious presence and activities of that class of workers.

TOWNSEND'S INSINCERITY.

Something of a sensation was caused during the session of the senatorial committee which is investigating the work of "lobbyists" at Washington by Senator Townsend of this state Friday last. The senator, on being questioned, stated "that the nearest approach to undue influence upon members of congress" of which he had knowledge was that exerted by President Wilson in the effort he is putting forth to secure the passage of the tariff bill now under consideration.

The senator was not very happy in his implied criticism of the president. It is one of the duties of the chief executive to recommend to congress the enactment of legislation which he deems essential to the welfare of the country. The larger duty includes the less, and he is quite justified and within his rights in seeking to secure by all legitimate means the passage of the measures whose enactment he recommends in his messages to the legislative body.

Months before President Wilson was inaugurated, Senator Townsend got into the limelight by announcing that he was going to use his position to embarrass the president in so far as that could be done by blocking confirmation of his appointees to federal positions. Ever since the session opened he has posed as an obstructionist—a favored role with the "standpatter" in congress and out of it. His course does not meet with the approval of the best men in his own party, but it serves to establish the fact that this erstwhile "progressive" has, since his election to the senate through the favor shown him by the progressive voters of Michigan, become a good deal of a reactionary.

Senator Townsend was a close friend of President Taft and used his persuasive voice in Michigan during the recent campaign in the latter's behalf, with an effect that may be judged from the fact that the state went overwhelmingly for Roosevelt. But Taft was a "lobbyist" in the same sense that President Wilson is, for he brought every influence that he could bear on congress to secure the adoption of measures recommended by him in his messages to that body. He even went to the extent of summoning the governor of Michigan by wire to appear before the committee which had under consideration the reciprocity pact with Canada, as an advocate of its adoption by our government. He also imported senators to give their approval to the arbitration treaty which was one of his pet measures. In his swing around the country, following the adjournment of congress in 1912, he sought to create sentiment among the people which would react upon the senators who were opposed to the arbitration treaty, in the hope of thereby coercing them into supporting it. This is much farther than President Wilson has gone in anything that he has done to bring congress into line for the Underwood tariff bill. Senator Townsend had no criticism to offer on the course taken by Taft to bring informed of Canada's industrial and financial leaders, which is beginning to be communicated to the people generally, and a vague fear is prevalent that something is going to happen in the Dominion similar to what took place in this country following a long period of forced and unwholesome expansion.

It is a pretty safe prediction that a "boom" inevitably follows a "boom." Canada has been having quite a "boom," and the signs indicate that the natural collapse is at hand.

A bulletin recently issued by the agricultural department throws light on the cause of high prices for meats. Prices are high because the small farmer is curtailing the area available for grazing purposes in the west and southwest. It follows that we are not raising cattle and sheep on great ranches in those sections to the extent that we did formerly. Also, our urban population is increasing more rapidly than the rural, which means that there are more consumers in proportion to producers than was the case ten or fifteen years ago. With supply diminishing and demand increasing, higher prices than prevailed under converse conditions come naturally and inevitably. The facts constitute a sufficient argument for admitting meats free. But if we are producing fewer sheep, ergo less wool, is not that an equally cogent argument in favor of admitting wool free of duty? The falling off in sheep-raising has come under a tariff system that accorded a generous measure of protection to the sheep farmers. If they do not respond to the encouragement thus given them there is nothing left for us to do but to look for our meat and wool supply abroad, and without hampering restrictions on its admission.

Sales of stocks reached an enormous volume on Wall street during the past week. Who sold the stocks? Not the public, for the sales came as a surprise to the ordinary run of small investors. The sellers were large operators, and there was a suspicious co-operation among these in dumping their holdings. What was their object in breaking the market as they did? Can it be that they sought in that way to intimidate the president and the congress, and thus force a modification of the program of downward revision of the tariff schedules to which the administration stands committed? And were the sales merely "wash" sales to affect prices and create apprehension in the minds of the uninformed masses, and not real transactions? Wall street manipulators have been known to play that game before with a view to fooling the public and influencing governmental action.

A Detroit woman took five bicloride of mercury tablets by mistake a few days ago, and lies at the point of death in consequence. Only a few weeks since a banker lost his life in a similar manner. A case of the same kind occurred in Chicago since the banker paid with his life for his carelessness. Is it not obvious that something should be done to protect the public against poisonous preparations which are put up in a form similar to that in which harmless medicines are prepared for ready use?

HARD TIMES AHEAD FOR CANADA.

A staff correspondent of the Boston Transcript, writing from Ottawa, presents a dismal picture of conditions in Canada. He forecasts a cessation of the period of expansion in that country which has so markedly enhanced its industrial and agricultural development during the last decade, with a resultant financial stringency that will be severely felt throughout the Dominion. A poor crop last year, with a very late spring that foreshadows a scant harvest this year, has hastened this inevitable result of the forced system of expansion put into effect by the Canadian government during that period.

The correspondent points out that with the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway nearly completed, the expenditure of a vast amount of borrowed money invested in that enterprise is about ended. With this railroad built the artificial stimulus which its construction supplied to Canadian prosperity will cease to be operative. In addition to this, the tide of promoted immigration into western Canada has spent itself, and the immense volume of money that this carried with it into the newly opened agricultural region in that part of the Dominion cannot longer be counted on to aid in lubricating the wheels of Canadian trade and commerce.

Various expedients are now being resorted to by the Ottawa government to provide employment for the army of laborers occupied during the past several years in constructive work on the Grand Trunk Pacific and in building the towns that have sprung into being in the agricultural district whose settlement the government has strenuously promoted. But these are makeshift devices which call for a continuous expenditure of borrowed money, and the time must come when the country will be compelled to face a situation created by the backward swing from an injudiciously stimulated expansion.

While the Grand Trunk Pacific was being built the Canadian railway did a very profitable business in handling the traffic created by the stupendous undertaking of providing it with a rival and competitor. Now that this stimulated business is practically at an end the traffic of the older road is showing a marked diminution. The development of the country generally along its line has not provided it with traffic to take the place of the ephemeral business provided by the construction of the new road and the building of cities and towns in the western agricultural region. As a consequence, there is a widespread feeling of apprehension among the best

But there is a right way and a wrong way, and California deliberately and insolently chooses the wrong way. It is her insolent attitude toward the nation, rather than toward Japan, that the rest of the nation objects to.—Adrian Telegram.

TIMELY QUIPS.

Exit Marquette.
Fortune hath a fickle way—
Fame is lost in sorrow,
Marquette on the map today
Fades away tomorrow.

Two of a Kind.
If Mother Jones were Mrs. Pankhurst, or if Mrs. Pankhurst were Mother Jones, the present situation would remain about the same in West Virginia and England.—Springfield Republican.

The Better Way.
It would be a better world if, instead of blaming people for falling, we give them credit for having tried.

Sex Equality.
Woman has her little distinctions, but she is man-like in this extent: a good deal she says she doesn't really mean.—Aitchison Globe.

Birds and Broken Hearts.

LOWER STATE NOTES.

JACKSON Postmaster poisoning caused by eating three kinds of ice cream followed by a quantity of strawberries was responsible for the death of Ruth Bernice Lewis, aged 11.

BATTLE CREEK—Earl Luhrs, a six-year-old boy, was run down and killed by an automobile driven by George H. Stuart, of Schoolcraft. Stuart claims he was driving on a private road, but the department's deficit was extinguished, or practically extinguished. It is meant to withhold credit from Frank H. Hitchcock on the fact and criticize him for making things look a little better than they were.

What this country needs is as great a willingness to praise public servants for good work as to attack them for bad work. It is doubtful which does the more harm—the practice of condemning slackness and inefficiency or the practice of refusing to recognize and applaud energy and efficiency.—New York Globe.

The Selection of Mr. Metcalf.
Announcement by the administration of his decision to appoint Richard L. Metcalf governor of the Canal Zone will be received with public disappointment. Mr. Metcalf is in a popular sense comparatively unknown. He is editor of Mr. Bryan's Commoner and is a sort of political manager for the Nebraska. The president's things appear to be his chief recommendation for the place. The natural inference is that Mr. Metcalf enters into the price of Mr. Bryan's official association with the administration. Now this may be unfair to the prospective appointee, to say the least. It is to be hoped that it is made on better grounds.

As for the public, it would much prefer to have Colonel Goethals made governor of the Canal Zone. Few men in the nation's service stand so high in the people's good-will and admiration as the former. He has shown himself to be a man of the highest caliber, a man of the highest integrity, a man of the highest courage, a man of the highest ability. His splendid work there has excited the applause of the world, and it is natural that his fellow Americans, who are proud of his achievement, feel he should be rewarded for it at the nation's expense. The great waterway which is to connect the Pacific and Atlantic, His splendid work there has excited the applause of the world, and it is natural that his fellow Americans, who are proud of his achievement, feel he should be rewarded for it at the nation's expense. UPPER PENINSULA.

George Williams of Calumet is in receipt of a letter from Phil G. Zalsman, superintendent of the Wild Rose hatchery, asking for samples of the gills of fish caught in the Steeply river near Winona. Mr. Zalsman has heard that the fish are affected and is anxious to find out just what the trouble is. Mr. Zalsman was connected with the Soo hatchery in this state for a number of years. Mr. Williams has not yet procured any of the fish but he is of the opinion that the fish in the Steeply river are not affected as those in the Pilgrim river, Brook trout all over the world have been known to have a growth on the gills, but it has never been considered a serious condition. Calumet recently Mr. Zalsman is an authority on the matter and his opinion will be awaited with much interest.

Boys Cut Telephone Cable.
Depredations of boys in that part of the copper country reached the limit when a cable containing fifty pairs of wires was cut at Tamarack by youngsters who wished to convert the copper strands into junk. The severing of the wires put twenty-two telephones out of commission and necessitated a ten-foot connection to repair the cut. Instruments in the Calumet exchange indicated "trouble" and a hussman was despatched to Tamarack. Where the lines had been removed from the poles to permit the removal of a rock burrow, the hussman located the source of the trouble and, besides cutting two boys, about twelve years of age, who were delightfully pounding on the wires with a rock. About five feet of wire, valued at $1 a foot, lay beside them. The only instrument used in cutting the strands was a sharp boulder.

Probate Estate of Ayoitte.
Petition for the appointment of an administrator for the estate of Oliver Ayoitte, who was shot and killed by Joseph Ellarey at Hermansville has been made in probate court at Menominee. The deceased man has an estate valued at about $1,000 and is to be divided among his seven children. The petition asks for the appointment of the Rev. Father Kraker of Hermansville as administrator. Ellarey, who is awaiting examination on the charge of murdering Ayoitte, will be arraigned before Justice Martin Vandenberg June 10. He occupies a solitary cell at the county jail, his only visitor since his arrest being his attorney, John O'Hara. Ellarey's wife, it is understood, will contest the role of Evelyn Thaw when the alleged attentions of the dead man, who was a cousin of her husband, The unwritten law will be the defense.

Is Paid After Many Years.
To receive a check for $100 in payment for services rendered by him as a soldier in Canada forty-nine years ago was the experience of James W. Brown of Maple Ridge last week. Mr. Brown went to Escanaba and cashed the check at the Escanaba National bank. When a lad of seventeen years, now but one year less than a half century ago, Mr. Brown was called to fight with the 49th regiment near Ottawa to protest the execution of the Fenian raiders. After a single outbreak the Fenians gave no further trouble in the district to which Mr. Brown was sent, and after three weeks of service he returned to his home. He thought nothing of the occurrence and expected no compensation for his service. For nearly a half century the affair was forgotten, but last week the excellent memory possessed by the Canadian government was proved when he received an order on the treasury of Canada for $100 in payment for his service.

Typhoid at Munising.
Several cases of typhoid fever in the village indicate a possibility if not a probability that the disease may become epidemic, reports the Munising News. Whether the cases will be developed so far are due to contaminated water or to unclean milk is not yet apparent. That they originate either in the one or in the other appears to be a reasonable view of the case. For a long time the water supply has been under suspicion, though the last few months by order of the common council seemed reassuring. There has not been in recent years, if ever, an official inspection of the dairies, whether consisting of one cow or of many times that number, which are furnishing the people with milk. About two years ago the village president was authorized to employ a milk inspector to test the milk sold and to inspect the dairies, but so far those important duties have been neglected. The physicians are unanimous in their advice to the people to boil all drinking water. At best the situation is grave and calls for serious consideration and prompt action and co-operation on the part of all citizens.

the team of 1909. Captain Ribson is noted for his riding, and remarkable work with the mallet. Captain Cheape's strong forte lies in his hitting and horsemanship. Captain Edwards combines both accuracy and length in his strokes and also is noted for his team work.

The admiral of Captain Lockett claim that he is the longest driver and hardest rider in English polo today. During the practice play since the arrival of the team in America the work of the invaders has been a revelation to those who have watched their game and caused the four to be installed favorites in the wagering.

One Veteran on U. S. Team.

In selecting a team to oppose this powerful combination, the Polo association started the American followers of the game by naming Louis E. Stoddard, No. 1; Devereux Milburn, No. 2; Foxhall Keene, captain and No. 3; Malcolm Stevenson, back. The selection of this cup-defending four, which was made less than a week before the initial game, proved a most radical and unexpected move, since it broke up the famous Meadow Brook "big four," which regained the trophy in 1909 and successfully defended it two years later. Of that veteran combination, Milburn was the only player to be retained, and he was shifted from back to No. 2.

History of the Cup Matches.

The silver cup, the struggle for the possession of which has aroused such international sporting furor, until recently has resided in a safe deposit vault in New York City. It was first offered by the Westchester Polo club of Newport, R. L. to be known as the International Challenge Polo Cup. An English team sent by the Hurlingham Polo committee won the cup the season year in two straight matches. Four years later W. McCreey, F. J. Mackey, Foxhall Keene and L. McCreey attempted to regain the trophy. They lost the only game played. In 1902 another attempt was made, England winning two out of three games. Successes crowned the efforts of the "Big Four" in 1909, for England's cup defenders were defeated in two straight games. England returned to the attack in 1911, but Whaley, Milburn and the two Waterburys proved too strong and the challengers lost two games by scores of 4 1/2 to 3 1/2 and 4 1/2 to 3 1/2.

The grand lodge officers will this summer visit every county seat in the state.

Lot Being Prepared—James Sinclair, who last week was awarded a contract for the erection of M. W. There will be several novel features, such as booths and special entertainment. The sale will be held by courtesy of the Knights of Superior lodge No. 28, whose meeting night it is but who voluntarily gave up the hall to the women's lodge.

New Cottages—Middle Island Point is still one of the most popular places within easy distance of the city. The point is fairly well populated and still new cottages are being erected. Among those who have either recently completed building cottages and who are building are Rev. Bates G. Burt, W. W. Osband, Perry Hatch, Harlow Clark and C. A. Hager. Mr. Hager's cottage was completed late last summer.

Dredging Beside Dock—T. L. Du-Rocher's largest clam-shovel outfit was taken yesterday to the slip on the south side of the L. S. & L. Railway company's ore dock at Presque Isle, where it removed a good many cubic yards of material.

The material was dumped from a scow into the outer harbor. Mr. Du-Rocher received an order from the company to remove some of the "high spots" in the slip and the work was completed in one day, the clam-shovel operating satisfactorily even in this unusual kind of work.

Kaw-Baw-Gam in Service—H. O. Bell has put his launch Kaw-Baw-Gam into commission and has it stationed in front of his boat house on the west side of Presque Isle. He is offering excursions around Presque Isle at fifteen cents for each person whenever he can get a boatload of passengers. The launch is thirty-five feet long and is equipped with a powerful engine and is a seaworthy craft. It is provided with a canopy and curtains for use in stormy or rainy weather. In addition to the excursion service around Presque Isle, Mr. Bell will take parties to any of the islands in Presque Isle bay or to the camps along the north shore.

Engines Come Together—Switch engine No. 80, backing across Front street with a train of empties, was struck last evening by an extra freight train which was running east. Fortunately both trains were moving slowly and no damage resulted, except that the foot board on the switcher was broken. Both engines left the scene under their own steam. The collision occurred exactly at the Front street crossing and attracted a crowd. The blinding effect of the new street lamps at the corner of Front street and Baraga avenue and the fact that the engine men are not used to them as yet is said to have been the cause of the accident. The lights on the freight engine were not seen by the crew of the switcher.

Commission Meets—The park, cemetery and street commission held a brief monthly session Saturday afternoon. The chief business was the settling of two sewer claims, one from C. E. Nebel & Sons, contractors employed on the North Marquette sewer, and the other from Herman Stensrud, who is constructing the eastern trunk sewer. Mr. Stensrud's claim was the first for this large improvement and the total allowed and ordered paid was $4,000, which sum is less 10 per cent. of the price of the actual work done. The commissioners made plans for finishing the basketball court on the playgrounds at the corner of Front and Bluff streets. A communication from E. J. Johnson, one of the prime movers in the playgrounds idea, was read. Mr. Johnson heartily advocated everything that would tend toward the improvement and enlargement of the playgrounds and especially urged that the basketball court be finished with clay. Arrangements have been made whereby the clay can be procured at the prison without cost. The South Shore railway having agreed to haul enough of it for this purpose free of charge. It is to be loaded at the prison by convict labor, without cost to the city, but hauling from the car to the playgrounds will be paid for by the city. The usual monthly claims were allowed and the meeting, upon motion, was adjourned.

MARQUETTE DEFEATED IN YESTERDAY'S GAME

Ishpeming Team Wins Interesting Contest at the Fair Grounds by Score of 13 to 5.

In its third game of the season, played yesterday afternoon at the fair grounds, in the presence of a fair crowd of spectators, the Marquette baseball team was defeated by the Ishpeming nine by a score of 13 to 5. The pitchers were hampered from the outset, the opposing batters taking fifteen hits from Sholtus, in the box for Marquette, Goulette and Tompan, pitching for Ishpeming, were found for twelve hits by Marquette players. Marquette's defeat was largely due to seven errors, all at critical times.

How Ishpeming Scored.

Ishpeming made four runs in the first inning, six in the sixth and three in the eighth. Marquette scored one in the first and four in the second inning. The sixth inning was particularly disastrous for Marquette. In this inning Mack Embloom was hit by a pitched ball, walking to first and advancing Mack to second. Simpson was put out, third to first. Manley singled, and then Geelan hit for two bases, scoring Mack. Johnson, at short, dropped Adamson's drive, scoring Embloom and putting three men on bases. Tuma singled, scoring Geelan and Manley. Nicholls was put out, short to first, and Tompan fled to Devine, who again let the ball drop, scoring Adamson and Tuma. Mack came up again and was put out, pitcher to first.

In the first inning Mack hit for two

HOME-COMING WILL BE A BIG AFFAIR

Committees Have Been Granted
Liberal Appropriations and Will Now Begin Work.

That Ishpeming's Home Coming and Fourth of July celebration will be a big affair is evident from the preparations the various committees are making. The members of the general arrangement committee, together with the chairmen of the various sub-committees, held a meeting Saturday morning in the Oliver Iron Mining company's office, when plans for the celebration were thoroughly discussed. Appropriations were also made for the different committees and the amounts that will be at the disposal of the committees are the largest that have ever been appropriated for a celebration in Ishpeming.

The committee on sports intends to engage attractions for every day in the week and there will probably be a balloon ascension every evening at 7 o'clock, with two ascensions on the Fourth, in the afternoon and evening. Several big outdoor acts will be put on twice daily during Home Coming week and a very liberal appropriation has been allowed for bands. It is intended that there shall be music at least three or four days during the week.

It is expected that Sparks' Animal show, which is coming through this section, will be an attraction on Tuesday or Wednesday of Home Coming week. A representative of the shows was in the city a few days ago, when he made partial arrangements for booking the attraction.

The parade committee will have more money at its disposal than for any previous celebration ever held in Ishpeming, so the prizes for the best representations in the different divisions will be liberal. The committee has received a large number of special designs for automobile floats and these will be turned over to Ernest Ludlow, chairman of the automobile section. The complete decorations can be purchased from the concern which makes a specialty of that line of business, or they can be built by the auto owners from designs furnished. Every automobile owner in Marquette county will be invited to participate in the parade and it is expected that this feature will be one of the most attractive that has ever been seen in the upper peninsula.

Members of the parade committee will within a few days call on the merchants and ask them to prepare floats. The mechanics at the various mines, also the proprietors of mechanical shops in the city, will be asked to put floats in the industrial section, which was an important feature of the big parades given in the last two Fourth of July celebrations. Special attention will also be given to calisthumpian features. The committee on Saturday appointed James Bryden marshal of the day, with instructions to appoint his assistants. The parade will be formed on the grounds opposite the Oliver Iron Mining company's office and the line of march will probably be down Pine street to Front, on Front to Main, on Main to Division, on Division to the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's shops on Seventh to Cleveland avenue and on Cleveland avenue back to Main. From Main the procession will move to Division and back on to Pine to the starting point. The secretary has already sent out about 500 home-coming invitations to former residents of the city, and it is expected that fully 1,000 more will be mailed within the next week or ten days, as the names are coming in very rapidly. Invitations are going to every state in the union, also to some of the foreign countries. Several hundred of them will be sent to the copper country and Minnesota towns and it is expected that the delegations from both these sections will be quite large. The secretary has been instructed to purchase a suitable badge for the home-comers. The former residents will be requested to register at the Y. M. C. A. office, where the badges will be given out. An appropriation of $500 has been awarded for fire works, which will probably be set off on the evening of the Fourth on the hill north of Lake Bancroft. H. G. O'Keefe, chairman of the fire works committee, has had a special program prepared by a fire works concern, containing seventy-five different designs, many of which will be of a comic order. Mr. O'Keefe was instructed to place the order at once. An expert will come to the city to superintend the display.

FRANK GOODMAN WILL BE MANAGER

Son of B. J. Goodman to Have Charge of Properties of Montreal Mining Company.

Word has been received here that Frank Goodman, son of B. J. Goodman, Sr., of this city, has been promoted to the position of general manager of the Montreal Mining company, with headquarters at Brownwood. The company operates five properties on the Gogebic range. Mr. Goodman has heretofore been employed by the company as assistant manager. He will succeed George Abbel, who has served in the capacity of general manager for the past twenty-seven years. Mr. Goodman's service as assistant general manager covers several years, he having been engaged in mining work since 1903.

Mr. Goodman is a graduate of the Michigan College of Mines at Houghton, where he received a degree as mining engineer in 1903. After his graduation he was employed in mining engineering work in New Mexico, and later at Lark, Utah. He left Utah for about a year, but returned to that state to build a tunnel three miles long through the mountains for one of the mining companies. He was successful in this engineering feat, and after finishing his work there was offered a position with the Montreal Mining company. Mr. Goodman is a thorough mining man who is familiar with all phases of engineering work.

REUNION NEXT SUNDAY.

A reunion of members of the Swedish Lutheran church will be held next Sunday evening. Invitations have been sent to all persons who have been confirmed in the church during the past forty-two years, or since the class was organized. In the morning a class of children will be confirmed by Rev. Fred Wynnan, the pastor. The church books show that 1,030 members have joined the church, the majority of whom still reside in Ishpeming. However, there are members in nearly every state of the Union and also in several of the foreign countries.

GWINN VICTOR IN ONE-SIDED GAME

Swanson, the Team's Southpaw, Had the Indian Sign on the Negaunee Players.

The Negaunee baseball team lost its first game in the County league series to Gwinn yesterday by a score of 13 to 0. The Negaunee men played a ragged game. Their throwing was particularly wild, and was responsible for a number of Gwinn's runs. Although the visitors hit both of Negaunee's twirlers, Andrews and Ford, rather hard, they had but one earned run, made in the first inning. The first two men up were retired on infield flies, but Kuder drove the ball to the center field fence for an extra sack. Johns followed with a single, and scored Kuder.

Swanson, in the box for Gwinn, was in great form. He allowed but four scattered hits, including a triple by Dyer and a double by Ford. He fanned a dozen men, hit one and walked one. Andrews could not get his curves breaking right. In the third, when Gwinn scored six runs, but three clean hits, two of them doubles by Kuder and Ford, were made. They were, however, first misplays, and Haugland, the first batter, was hit by a pitched ball. Ford went on the mound for Negaunee in the sixth inning and in the four remaining sessions he was touched for seven clean hits, including a triple by Kuder in the sixth.

The visitors were charged with but two errors, fumbles by Swanson and Kuder, and both were excusable. Messier, a former Negaunee player, was behind the bat for Gwinn, and he caught a good game. Aside from Swanson's pitching, the playing of Brandt at second, Kuder's stick work and Robear's fielding were the features for Gwinn, while Heinenon, at second, was the best performer for Negaunee. He had seven putouts and four assists, with two errors, both of which were excusable.

LITTLE EXCITEMENT AT SOCIALIST MEETINGS

Negaunee Police Have Not Further Interfered With Meetings on Iron Street.

The Negaunee Socialists held a meeting Saturday evening on the corner of Iron and Tobin streets without any further interference from the police. W. M. Wilkinson, of Laurium, W. J. Roberts, former mayor of Ishpeming, and Edward J. McJury, of Chicago, were the speakers. As was the case on the three preceding evenings, a large crowd congregated on the corner, but as soon as it was seen there would be no excitement, it dwindled noticeably, and only a few hundred people listened to the addresses of the speakers. Taking advantage of the advertising they have received the past few days, the Socialists are planning an active campaign in Negaunee, and addresses by Mr. Wilkinson, are scheduled for talks weekly.

The Socialists, it is said, intend to put up a hard fight in defense of the men arrested last week for disorderly conduct, and collections were taken up Saturday night to help defray the expenses of fighting the several cases. Attorneys have been secured and preparations are now being made for the trial, which is set for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

It is not likely that there will be any further disturbance at the meetings this week, as there will be no interference by the city officers. The meetings Friday and Saturday evenings were conducted in an orderly manner.

T. J. FLYNN IS DELEGATE

Will Represent St. Paul's Court of Foresters at State Convention.

T. J. Flynn, one of the officers of St. Paul's court of the Catholic Order of Foresters, will leave today for Menominee, where he will attend the biennial state convention of the order, which will open in that city Tuesday morning. It is expected that delegates from more than fifty cities will be in attendance at the convention, which will close Wednesday night.

The four hundred members of the three Menominee courts of the order and the seventy-five or more visitors will meet tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock at the Odd Fellows' block in Menominee, and will march to church of the Epiphany, where a solemn high mass will be celebrated. Following the church services, the convention will open at 10 o'clock in the Odd Fellows' hall. The address of welcome is to be made by John O'Hara, city attorney. Following the first day's session a dinner for the delegates and the state officers will be served in the Odd Fellows' hall. It will be followed by an open meeting at 8 o'clock in the convention hall, Wednesday evening, at which time the delegates will be held and delegates will be chosen for the national convention to be held in Louisville, Ken.

HARLEY MAKING GOOD.

Former Member of Negaunee and Ishpeming Teams Playing Great Ball.

"Bill" Harley, left fielder for the Negaunee and Ishpeming teams last season, is playing a star game with the Cleveland Federal League nine. In a game last Friday Harley's work was sensational and was the feature of the contest. In four times at the plate he secured a single and a double and he made some of the greatest catches in left field that had ever been seen on the grounds. On his playing a press dispatch says: "Good fielding featured throughout. Probably the man who contributed in no mean manner to the fielding efforts of the day was Harley, left fielder-extraordinary of the Cleveland team. Harley plays on a miniature mountain in left field, but he never minds a little thing like that. He runs back and forth, up and down, as nimbly as a mountain goat and the way he drives his bat into his territory show a decided facility for sticking to his glove hand is remarkable. His catches all were of the difficult order."

LOCAL LACONICS.

The city employes were paid Friday and Saturday.

S. M. Hegel, of Marquette, was a Negaunee business visitor Saturday.

P. J. Verville, of Hancock, was a Negaunee business visitor Saturday.

Sidney Phare was up from Gwinn Saturday and Sunday, for a brief visit with friends.

Manistique Commencement Plans.
 Baccalaureate services for the graduating class of 1913 at Manistique will be held at the opera house Sunday evening, June 15. The annual sermon will be given by Rev. G. G. Harper, Rector of the Episcopal church. The commencement will take place Friday evening, June 20. Professor Samuel B. Laird of the Ypsilanti Normal college will deliver the address. The class of 1913 is the largest in the history of the school. Twenty-nine students, nineteen girls and ten boys, will receive diplomas.

Famous Engineers Visit Soo.
 Coming unheralded, a distinguished party of Englishmen reached the Sault on the steamer City of Detroit. The visitors were members of the British Society of Engineers and included many men famous for their engineering inventions. Officials of the Business Men's association were in ignorance of the visit and accordingly no plans were made for entertaining them. The visitors included T. C. Pullinger, automobile engineer; Charles Wheeler of London, engineer for the postal department; and John B. Dunlop, of Dublin, Ireland, inventor of the pneumatic tire. The party spent two hours in the two Saults and then proceeded up the lake.

Will Celebrate the Fourth.
 Iron Mountain will celebrate the Fourth of July—patriotically, safely and sanely. This was determined at a well-attended meeting of business men held at the council rooms and called by Mayor Neuens. The meeting was presided over by Editor Housings. John M. Garvey acted as secretary. A so-called committee composed of John B. Eslick, Frank Fugere and James D.

Upper Peninsula

Will Retire from School Board.
 Dr. J. A. Crowell and E. E. Brewster, who have served on the Iron Mountain board of education for more than twenty years, will not be candidates for reelection. They feel that some others should take up the duties. F. C. Cole and J. O. Bixt will be candidates. Both are well qualified.

May Bond Laird Township.
 A special election has been called at Alston, Houghton county, for June 30 for the purpose of giving the taxpayers a chance to pass on the proposition to bond Laird township for the sum of $10,000 for highway improvements. The principal highway it is proposed to repair is the old Baraga and Ontonagon county road, which passes through the township. The bonds proposed are to run for ten years and carry not to exceed 3 per cent. interest.

Postmaster Wants Motorcycle.
 Postmaster H. W. Coburn of Escanaba reports a greatly increased business for parcels post during May over preceding months. During the month of May 1,724 parcels were delivered by vehicle. These weighed 4,577 pounds and the postage was $329.25. In April, 1,522 parcels, weighing 3,638 pounds, were delivered and the postage was $295.38. The great increase in the deliveries kept a carrier busy about five hours each day and Mr. Coburn contemplates asking the postoffice department for a motorcycle. This would greatly facilitate the work.

Bicycle Riders to Court.
 The Soo police department is determined to enforce the ordinance regulating the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks. One day last week nine officers against the law were haled into police court, where they listened to a lecture from Judge Rummels. The judge promised a fine or imprisonment, or both, if the bicycle riders did not adhere to the law. The youngsters promised to respect the law hereafter. There is provided a fine not to exceed $10 and imprisonment for thirty days in jail in case the fine is not paid for those who persist in riding on the sidewalks. Riders are required to keep their wheels on the right hand side of the street and shall not take their hands from the handle bars while riding."

Hermit a Suicide.
 Unable to work because of illness and too proud to go to the poor house, Fredrick Engel, a recluse living near Hermansville, chose self-destruction in preference to charity. The body of the aged hermit was found in a small camp, a bullet-hole through the head telling the tragic story. A muzzle-loading gun with a string tied to the trigger and then to a nail in the floor explained the manner of suicide. The man had been dead four days when found. A note, written in a small memorandum book found on the body, gave the reason for the rash act. The note was as follows: "Fredrick Engel lives no more. Forget me not. Even if I want to work I cannot, because my side pains me so, and will not go to the poor house. I want rather die." Engel went to Hermansville about ten years and took up farming. He never associated with the townspeople and little was ever learned of his past. He was about sixty-five years old. The body has been buried at Hermansville, interment being in the potter's field at the expense of the county.

ANNUAL REPORT IS PUBLISHED

Electric World, a Leading Periodical Devoted to the Power Furnishing Industry, Runs the Marquette Yearly Statement in Its Columns This Month.

After Being Urged Many Times, Publishers Give the Document Their Attention and Then Give Up More Than an Entire Page to It on Strength of Its Showing

The Electrical World, a periodical devoted to the electrical industry, in its issue of May 31, published for the first time the annual report of the light and power commission of this city in response to a request by Charles Retailic, superintendent of the city's electric business.

High Interest on Investment.

The article contains five tables, the first on revenue and expense; the second on disposition of income; the third on plant investment; the fourth on taxes generated and paid; and the fifth on unit costs.

Under the head of "return on investment," the writer has the following to say in appreciation of the financial status of the electric light and power business in Marquette:

"Allowing for 5 per cent depreciation, which is probably more than ample, the following showing is made for returns on the investment: Net earnings from operation, $48,383; depreciation, $20,084; balance, $28,299, the percentage of return on investment being 7.03 per cent.

Under the head of manufacturing expense, the total is $7,775. Under this same head the expense of operation is $6,546, while that of maintenance is $1,229.

Under disposition of income, the total income includes profits of $421 from the sale of merchandise and $272 unaccounted, making altogether $49,075. The final surplus March 12, 1913, the end of the fiscal year, was $4,113.

In another table, the editor of the Electrical World has analyzed the energy generated and sold in a most interesting manner. The total energy generated at the plant was 2,689,896 kilowatt hours during the last fiscal year.

Energy purchased amounted to 111,875 kilowatt hours. Of this total output there was a loss of 26 per cent, in distribution, or 595,806 kilowatt hours.

The total output of 2,602,675 kilowatt hours and the total consumption of 2,576,869 kilowatt hours in transmission between the plant and sub-station. In street lighting purposes, 280,790 kilowatt hours were used, while at the plant itself 59,424 kilowatt hours were used.

A two-reel Vitagraph feature, "The Strength of Men," will be the feature of this evening's performance at the Grand theater. The picture teems with thrilling adventures and intense climaxes.

ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION.

"Judge" Ball, Sitting in Mock Trial, Will Hear Breach of Promise Suit.

As an entertainment of innocent fun, connected with dignity, the mock trial to be held Wednesday evening at the Marquette Opera House will be an event of unusual interest.

The facts of the case as provided in the information now in the hands of the officers of the "court" are meager and the testimony promises to be full of ludicrous disclosures.

RAYMOND HOLZHEY TO LEAVE PRISON

Will Be Released in August or November, According to Decision of Attorney.

It will be up to Attorney General Folger to determine whether Raymond Holzhey, who has been confined in the Marquette prison almost since the institution was first opened, will be given his liberty Aug. 1, or whether he will have to wait until November for release.

Secretary Austin, of the board of pardons, will now ask the attorney general for his opinion as to how good time should be figured. If the attorney general says it should be computed on the basis of 365 days to the year, Holzhey will have to linger on at the Marquette prison until November.

In any event Holzhey will be at liberty before the snow flies. He will gain his liberty as a result of clemency exercised by former Governor Warner, who, at the close of his last term, commuted Holzhey's sentence to forty years. This course was urged on Governor Warner by many influential men in Michigan and by all the prison officials, and so great is the confidence in Holzhey inspired by his unique prison record and the newspaper notices of him, that he possesses that the governor's course with regard to his case aroused practically no criticism.

In connection with the reference of his case to the attorney general, Holzhey's career is being reviewed by the lower state newspapers, with many fanciful touches. One of the favorite fictions about Holzhey is the story that he was made over from a potentially desperate and dangerous criminal into a well behaved and well balanced man by the prepping of his skull. This story has been repeated so many times that it now finds ready acceptance. But there is no basis for it.

Holzhey's plans for the future are as yet indefinite. He is a man of considerable mental grasp and a tireless worker. He has many friends who will assist him in getting squared away for his tussle with life. Among them are the officers of the Marquette prison and various men who have from time to time had to do with the Michigan prisons.

Among the latter is John R. Van Evera, who was formerly warden of the Marquette prison, and who has always felt great interest in Holzhey. Mr. Van Evera worked unceasingly to gain clemency for him, and he will be one of the men who will seek to see that he is well placed when he leaves the Marquette prison the coming fall.

WILL ERECT FOUNDATION.

Monument to Chief Kaw-Baw-Gam to Have Handsome Base of Boulders.

Robert Hume, custodian of Presque Isle, who last fall discovered and placed at the head of Chief Kaw-Baw-Gam's grave a beautiful half-ton boulder found included in the schist formations on the west shore of the park, has planned a handsome foundation for the unique but fitting monument. The park cemetery and street commission will doubtless leave the details of having this plan carried out to him. The base will cost the city very little and will set off in a proper manner one of the most wonderful natural landmarks that has ever been seen.

The boulder, it will be remembered, is of two kinds of granite. Diagonally through its center runs a strip of finest pink granite, hard and weather-proof, while the matrix of this strip is of gray mica-granite not nearly as hard and more easily affected by weather. The result of this combination is one of the most perfect banded headstones that can be imagined. The proportions of the boulder made it naturally perfect for this purpose and to chip off a corner were to spoil its natural symmetry.

Mr. Hume plans to build a pyramid of small granite boulders such as may be picked up on the lake shore, washed smooth and round by the storms. Concrete is to be used as a binding material and the pyramid is to be a composite of concrete and these boulders.

The apex of the pyramid will be cut off, leaving a flat bench just large enough to hold the boulder. The monument will stand directly at the head of the graves of Kaw-Baw-Gam, last chief of the Chippewa, and his wife, on the east side of Presque Isle at the left of the road coming up the hill from the picnic grounds.

SHERIFF'S POSSE SCOURING COUNTRY

Man Hunt for Austrian Murderer Going on in Chippewa County Is Unsuccessful.

Last evening Joseph Tovens, a Chippewa county Austrian who shot and killed two deputy sheriffs Friday night when they tried to arrest him for slaying Joseph Toebel and his wife, was still at large. Sheriff Bone and a posse have been scouring the country and the police of the upper peninsula have been warned to be on the lookout for him.

Tovens committed the crime Friday night at Brimley, a short distance from the Soo. He and Toebels had ridden out of the Soo together on South Shore train No. 7. It had been noticed on the train that the two had quarreled. As soon as they left the train at Brimley the quarrel developed into a fight. In the scuffle Tovens shot Toebels and the Indian, while still living, according to the last reports from Brimley, is in a precarious condition. There is not much hope for his recovery.

Sheriff Bone, who was notified at once, ordered deputies at Brimley to make the arrest. These were James Sutton and Albert Scribner. At midnight they found Tovens asleep in his room. Upon their entering Tovens was awakened. Before the officers could make a move to defend themselves, Tovens had whipped a revolver from beneath his pillow and had shot both men dead. Five shots entered their bodies at vital points. The murderer escaped easily and has not been seen since.

The feeling of hatred aroused against Tovens at Brimley is said to be so strong that if captured by Brimley men violence would be attempted. Officers do not believe he has gone very far, for it is believed he had little money. The Marquette police and the sheriff's office have been notified to be on the lookout for Tovens and all trains are being closely watched. The entire rural population in the eastern end of the upper peninsula is said to be terrorized by the thoughts of having such a desperate character at large. The case is one of the most startling that has been recorded there in many years and the double tragedy and ensuing man-hunt have created much excitement.

TRAVELERS VICTORIOUS.

The baseball team representing Upper Peninsula council, No. 186, United Commercial Travelers, again defeated the Longyear & Hoize nine in fast and exciting game Saturday afternoon. In part due to the cold weather and the poor condition of the grounds, the score ran up to 15 to 11. Smith, shortstop for the travelers, made one of the longest hits ever seen on Longyear field, wallowing the sphere so that it soared over the fence Marquette's home nearly struck a window in the water works pumping station. Smith scored a home run on this accomplishment, crossing the plate before the fielder got his hands on the ball. Glyn, pitcher for the travelers, also did well.

The U. C. T. nine lined up as follows: T. Nault, catcher; Glyn, pitcher; Smith, shortstop; Webb, first base; Sears, second base; Murphy, third; Fredlund, E. Lund and Kraft in the field.

The Longyear & Hoize team was composed of the following players: Carr, Bjorklund and Beckman, fielders; Murray, catcher; Morrison, pitcher; Sigel, first base; Scholtus, second base; Lindquist, third base; Campbell, shortstop. Messrs. Gehrand and Burtless umpired the contest.

WILLIAM WOOD ACQUITTED.

Boston, Mass., June 8.—After deliberating throughout the night the jury yesterday acquitted President William M. Wood of the American Woolen company of the charge of conspiracy to injure the textile strikers at Lawrence by "planting" dynamite. A disagreement in the case of Frederick E. Atteaux was reported. Dennis J. Collins, who turned state's evidence, was found guilty on two counts and not guilty on the other four counts of the indictment. The first count charged conspiracy to injure the textile strikers and the second count conspiracy to injure unknown persons. The other counts alleged conspiracy against certain persons and a plot to damage property. Collins' case is still open, but the fact that he was not called for sentence lends color to the report that by giving evidence for the prosecution he has earned a suspension of sentence. The prosecutor would not predict regarding the matter of another trial for Atteaux.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased part, there is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube when this tube is inflamed you have a running nose, or impaired hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.
