

COUNTRY IS TO DECIDE ABOUT CURRENCY BILL

Should There Be an Insistent Demand for an Immediate Revision of the Monetary System, Legislation Will Be Enacted at the Present Session.

This the Course Adopted by the Administration—Measure Will Be Introduced and Oars Will Be Rested Awhile, Till the People Are Heard From.

Washington, June 16.—Public opinion is to decide whether there shall be currency legislation during the present session of congress.

Plan of the Administration. In the face of conflicting expressions from prominent Democrats in congress as to the necessity for currency reform during the present session, it is the avowed purpose of the administration to launch in the house and senate before Friday of this week a currency bill which will be accompanied or followed by the president's message, describing what he believes to be the necessity for banking reform.

They, according to Mr. Underwood, the plan of the house will be to rest on its oars, thoroughly discuss the new banking proposals and await the expression of the newspapers of the country and the opinion of bankers and businessmen generally as to the merits of the Democratic proposals.

Should the discussion of the bill in congress be backed up by an insistent demand from the country at large for an immediate revision of the currency system, it is believed by the administration that the senators and congressmen will yield in their pleas of personal discomfort in the approaching hot weather.

Another Change in Farm Schedule. With reference to the tariff, itself, the much-mooted agricultural schedule of the Underwood bill was suddenly upset again by the majority members of the senate finance committee late today.

La Crosse, Wis., June 16.—Charged with hitting his twelve-year-old son Frank to a cultivator alongside of a mule and working him in the field in a temperature of 120 degrees in the sun, John Freimuth, a farmer near here, was sought today on a warrant issued on complaint of the state humane officer. It is expected that he will be brought into court tomorrow.

PRÉSIDENT APPROVES PLAN FOR ALASKA RAILROADS TO BE BUILT BY GOVERNMENT.

Washington, June 16.—President Wilson today gave his approval to a plan for immediate legislation authorizing the construction of government railroads in Alaska. A bond issue of forty million dollars would be authorized for railroad development and provision would be made for the use of Panama canal machinery in the construction work.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT OPENS BOSTON CELEBRATION WITH CHARGE UP BUNKER HILL.

Boston, Mass., Tuesday, June 17.—Colonel Roosevelt, charged up Bunker Hill today, leading a big crowd of "Bunker Hill Day" celebrators in the face of a battery of flashlights. When the flashlights went off, several women screamed, saying: "He's shot! He's shot!" and caused considerable excitement for the moment. The colonel waved his hand toward them and shouted back: "It's only a miss. I've faced worse than that."

MOVING DAY IN STATUARY HALL

Capitol Images Are Shifted About to Make Room for One of Zach Chandler.

Washington, June 16.—It was "moving day" for John C. Calhoun, Peter Muhlenberg, Louis Cass of Michigan and other celebrated statues of great men in statuary hall at the Capitol. The movement of the statues was made necessary by the arrival of another addition to the group of American immortals. This was the statue of Zachariah Chandler of Michigan.

"It's sure tough on us," complained a Capitol guard as he watched the perspiring workmen pull and haul the statues into different positions. "We'll have to learn the layout of all these old guys all over again."

INHUMAN CRIME CHARGED AGAINST A BADGER FARMER; LITTLE SON ALLEGED VICTIM.

La Crosse, Wis., June 16.—Charged with hitting his twelve-year-old son Frank to a cultivator alongside of a mule and working him in the field in a temperature of 120 degrees in the sun, John Freimuth, a farmer near here, was sought today on a warrant issued on complaint of the state humane officer. It is expected that he will be brought into court tomorrow.

REBATE COUPONS SAVED BY CONWAY

Victory for West Virginia Rate Law Now Puts $5,000 in His Pocket.

Huntington, W. Va., Tuesday, June 17.—When the United States supreme court sustained the two-cent passenger fare law of West Virginia yesterday, it virtually placed in the pocket of John J. Conway, of this place, approximately $5,000.

When the law was enacted by the West Virginia legislature in 1911, the railroads appealed to the courts and continued to charge three cents a mile, giving passengers coupons entitling them to a rebate of one cent a mile if the courts decided the two-cent fare law was constitutional.

CONWAY, who was a Chesapeake & Ohio ticket agent, noted that many persons threw their coupons away and, realizing that they might some day be good, he collected them. The decision yesterday found him with about $5,000 in perfectly good coupons in his possession.

BIG CITIES SWELTER IN HIGHEST TEMPERATURE FELT IN MANY MOONS

New York, June 16.—Today was the hottest day of the year in New York city. There were a large number of heat prostrations, but no fatalities. The mercury reached a maximum of ninety-one degrees.

Chicago, June 16.—A drop of twenty-nine degrees in temperature brought relief to this city tonight, after what was, with one exception, the hottest July day on record here. The maximum temperature of the day was 98.4, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The hottest July day recorded by the Chicago weather bureau was June 9, 1911, when 98.4 was recorded.

NEW ARBITRATION TREATY SIGNED BY MR. BRYAN AND THE NORWEGIAN MINISTER.

Washington, June 16.—Secretary Bryan and the Norwegian minister today signed a treaty extending for another term of five years the special arbitration treaty between the United States and Norway which will expire by limitation on June 24. This makes fifteen such

STATES' RIGHTS ARE UPHELD IN RAILWAY CASES

Interests That Expected the Supreme Court at Washington in Some Way to Modify Its Recent Decision in the Minnesota Rate Controversy Are Disappointed.

Principles Then Laid Down Are Reiterated in Opinions Sustaining the Statutes of Missouri, Arkansas, Oregon and West Virginia—Kentucky Issue Goes Over.

Washington, June 16.—Without varying a jot from the principles laid down last week in the Minnesota rate cases, the supreme court of the United States today upheld the state railroad rate legislation in Missouri, Arkansas, Oregon and West Virginia. This legislation included two-cent passenger laws in Missouri, Arkansas and West Virginia; maximum freight rate laws in Missouri and Arkansas, and freight rates out of Portland in the Oregon cases. The only exception to the sweeping approval of state statutes was in the case of several weaker roads in Missouri.

The Kentucky case was not decided. It involves an attack upon state rates from river points to inland cities and involves, in addition, other attacks on the constitutionality of the form of a state law enabling the state railroad commission to fix reasonable rates on intrastate business. A decision in this case may be forthcoming when the tribunal meets again in October.

Opinions Handed Down By Mr. Hughes. Justice Hughes announced the decision in the rate cases today, as he did in the Minnesota cases a week ago. Wherever the point was raised that the state laws interfered with interstate commerce the justice referred to his Minnesota rate decision. He disappointed many who believed the court might, in some way, modify that decision.

"We need not renew the arguments addressed to conditions of transportation in Missouri and the relation of intrastate and interstate rates," the justice said, "for while the case has its special facts by reason of the location of the state and the use of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers as basing points in rate-making, the controlling question that is presented with reference to the authority of the state to prescribe reasonable intrastate rates, throughout its territory—unless limited by the exercise on the part of congress of its constitutional powers over interstate commerce and its instruments—is not to be distinguished in any material respect from that which was considered and decided in the Minnesota rate cases."

New York Stock Market Depressed. New York, June 16.—In spite of the resolute advance of stocks last week, and the evidences of increased buying power, the market today showed none of his recent resiliency. Short selling was resumed, and the market went downward. The decline was accelerated by the interpretation of the United States supreme court's decisions in the several rate cases.

MISSOURI CONVICT GETS AWAY CLAD IN GOVERNOR'S CLOTHING, THE SECOND WITHIN A WEEK.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 16.—H. Miller, white convict serving eight years for forgery, and who had served prison terms in Minnesota, Colorado and California, escaped from a gang of convicts making repairs at the governor's mansion here today. Previously, it developed, the convict had stolen a suit of Governor Major's clothing. It has been but a week ago that another convict, after appropriating one of the governor's suits, made his escape in a similar manner.

DELTA FOX, THE ACTRESS, DIES IN NEW YORK CITY.

New York, June 16.—It was announced this afternoon that Della Fox, famous as a vocalist and a musical comedy actress, died suddenly of acute indigestion in a New York sanitarium last night. The body will be taken to St. Louis. In private life Miss Fox was Mrs. J. D.

Calumet Mine Worker Is Killed. Calumet, Mich., June 16.—Frank Bartle, twenty-one years of age, a pipe man employed in the Red Jacket shaft of the Calumet & Hecla mine, was injured so severely this morning that he died at a hospital this afternoon. He was caught by a fall of ground. The young man leaves a widowed mother and several brothers and sisters.

LEG CAUGHT IN A GATE, NEW HAVEN BOY SWIMMER FACES DEATH FOR HOURS.

New Haven, Conn., June 16.—John Goglik, aged sixteen, stared death in the face for four hours tonight, in an unusual battle with the swift, incoming tide in the West river, for his swimming leg was caught in one of the great tide gates that prevents water from overflowing the meadows, and the efforts to relieve him were unavailing. The fire and police departments were called out and a large crowd gathered.

ADmits STOCK OF HIS CONCERN IS 'IRRIGATED'

Vice President Oxnard Tells the Senate Lobby Investigators That of the $40,000,000 Capitalization of the American Beet Sugar Company $15,000,000 Is Water.

He Puts the Blame for This Condition Upon New York Bankers, the Organizers—However, He and His Brothers Profited to the Extent of a Million Dollars.

Washington, June 16.—Henry T. Oxnard, known as the "father of the beet industry" and the vice president of the American Beet Sugar company, was the principal witness today before the senate lobby investigating committee.

Mr. Oxnard told the committee how the beet sugar company insisted upon putting in about $15,000,000 water in a $40,000,000 corporation. He told how he and his brothers had made about a million by the sale of their share of the watered stock, and gave warning that the Underwood bill with its free sugar provision would result, in his opinion, in the formation of a new "sugar trust."

"Don't you think you did a great moral wrong in putting all this water in the common stock?" asked Senator Nelson. "You know Wall street's conscience," returned Mr. Oxnard.

Mr. Oxnard said he received $10,000 a year in his official capacity, but declared it was not for "legislative work." The questioners learned that he had been fighting reductions in sugar duties for many years.

Anti-Gronna Editorial Repudiated. The committee got a surprise today when A. Y. More, owner of the Fargo (N. D.) Courier-News, and Albert M. Baker, general manager of that paper, gave their testimony about an editorial recently printed in the News, which Senator Gronna thought was a reflection upon him.

Both declared under oath that they knew nothing of the editorial until they saw it in print. The editorial, they said, was written by a man named Metcalfe, temporarily employed by Mr. Baker, was away from Fargo. Both Mr. More and Mr. Baker said that they had no reason to doubt Senator Gronna's political and personal integrity and honesty, and that they would not retract anything he had said in a public statement.

BASEBALL MEN OPEN WAR UPON GAMBLING

Men Betting on Games Are Evicted at New York and Jailed at Philadelphia.

New York, June 16.—A large number of men whom the management alleges have been laying odds on the baseball games at the Polo grounds were denied admission to the baseball park for the New York-Detroit American league game today. It is estimated that one hundred and fifty were not permitted to pass the turnstiles and that fifty who had evaded the watchfulness of detectives at the gate later were ordered from the grandstand. It is said that recently the baseball authorities have had detectives circulating in the stands to watch for bettors and that today's deportments and evictions were due to their work.

The crusade is a concerted one. It was started by Ban Johnson and both Frank Farrell, owner of the New York Americans, and Harry Hempstead, proprietor of the New York Nationals, and various other club owners have worked effectively for the abolition of the evil at ball games.

Arrests Made at Philadelphia. Philadelphia, June 16.—Accused of making bets on the Philadelphia-Cleveland baseball game, thirty-eight spectators were arrested in the grandstand and bleachers during today's contest here.

After a hearing at the night court, the majority of the prisoners were held in $500 bail for the action of the grand jury.

SEES FRANCE BEING DRIVEN TO RUIN

Nation's Decreasing Birth Rate Gloomily Discussed by Dr. Bertillon.

Paris, June 16.—The vital statistics for 1912, made public today, report 750,000 births throughout France, as compared with 742,114 for the year 1911. Dr. Jacques Bertillon, the expert, said the improvement is more apparent than real, and that the two years—1911 and 1912—have established the worst records in many years, "clearly demonstrating the influence of the evil which is driving France to ruin." The detailed statistics for 1912 are: Marriages, 311,929; births, 750,050; deaths, 692,740.

Dr. Bertillon concludes his statement by saying: "This is the true cause of the three years' military service, which is the most palliative. Soon four years will be necessary, then five—or perish."

OLD POTATOES SELL AT KANSAS CITY AT TEN CENTS A BUSHEL.

Kansas City, Mo., June 16.—Potatoes of last year's crop sold as low as ten cents a bushel in carload lots here today. Several grocers brought carloads and began offering their customers a bushel at a premium with every grocery order of a certain size.

WIDOW AT SAVANNAH SHOTS AND KILLS PHYSICIAN AND ENDS HER OWN LIFE.

Savannah, Ga., June 16.—Dr. Guy O. Brinkley, a physician of this city, was shot to death in his office here late this afternoon by Mrs. Eugene M. Whismant, a widow, who, after firing six shots at the physician, sent a seventh bullet through her temple, falling lifeless across the body of her victim. The police are searching for a woman who is said to have accompanied Mrs. Whismant to the doctor's office.

Dr. Brinkley, who was about forty-five years old, and single, came here about seven years ago from Suffolk, Va. He was popular socially and professionally. Mrs. Whismant, aged twenty-eight, was the daughter of a Savannah boarding house keeper. No cause has been assigned for the tragedy.

STEAM CHEST EXPLOSION KILLS A MANISTEE WOMAN AND INJURES FIVE PERSONS.

Manistee, Mich., June 16.—The steam chest of a laundry mangle in a Manistee hotel exploded today, instantly killing Mrs. Augustus Field, wife of the hotel proprietor, and seriously injuring five other persons. Mrs. Field was almost decapitated by a flying piece of metal. Peter Michelson, janitor, had a part of one hand torn off and suffered a broken leg and scalp and abdomen wounds. He probably will die. Four girl employees were badly cut and scalded.

TWO BOYS DIE IN COPPERDOM LAKE

Boat Capsized, One Occupant Perishes in an Attempt to Save the Other.

Houghton, Mich., June 16.—William Turk of Atlantic and Gus Kujala of Toivola, were drowned early Sunday afternoon in Weeber's lake, near Toivola, fifteen miles south of Houghton. Reports of the accident indicate that Turk gave up his life in an attempt to save his friend.

Another Boat That Foundered? Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 16.—Captain L. A. Garu of the steamer Jesse Spaulding, which arrived today with a large hole torn in her bow, the result of a head-on collision with Keweenaw point in Lake Superior yesterday morning, declared that his vessel had collided with the steamer Wilpen of the Shenago Transportation company of Cleveland. He did not know of the previous report that the steamer which struck him was the coal steamer William P. Snyder, Jr.

According to the crew, the Spaulding was saved from foundering only by her water-tight compartments. When the boats struck high seas were running and they were washing over the decks. The crew was ordered out and two hundred tons of ore were thrown overboard, thus raising the bow and enabling the crew to place a canvas patch over the hole.

"I am certain the Wilpen hit me," said the captain this afternoon. "I saw the bow of the coal steamer, and I got positive it was the Wilpen. I think the Snyder, Jr., hit some other boat and sunk her. Off Vermillion point we sighted six large red hatch covers. We stayed off Keweenaw point from five in the morning until nearly noon.

"The captain of the Snyder is said to have reported that the fog lifted, but where we were the fog did not lift all day."

Snyder, Jr., Badly Damaged. Duluth, Minn., June 16.—With her port bow so stove in that it will require fourteen new plates above the water line to repair her, the ore carrier William P. Snyder, Jr., today is in the bay here, after her collision yesterday with the steamer Jesse Spaulding.

On Saturday the Spaulding cleared from Duluth with a cargo of ore. Early yesterday during a dense fog in the vicinity of the coal steamer William P. Snyder, Jr., carrying a big cargo of coal, crashed together.

In a few moments the upbound boat had backed away and began sounding distress signals. Suddenly the signals ceased. It was then thought and those aboard the other boat feared that the Spaulding had gone down. The Snyder, Jr., after scouting about for a long time, could get no trace of the other boat and continued to Duluth.

FEWER SHARES FOR GREENE-CANANEA

Important Change Is Voted by Stockholders—North Butte Declares Dividend.

Duluth, Minn., June 16.—Meetings of two mining companies were held here today, affecting the stockholders.

The Greene-Canaanea company voted to change the value of its shares from $20 each to $100 each and reduce the number of shares from 3,000,000 to 600,000. The vote in favor of the change was 1,625,350, and that against was 25,118. This will mean an exchange of stock, the details concerning which will be given out in a few days.

At the Greene-Canaanea meeting also the following directors were re-elected for a term of three years: Thomas E. Cole, of Duluth; John D. Ryan, of New York, and Joseph B. Cotton, of Duluth.

MORE THAN ONE COLLISION ON LAKE SUPERIOR?

Master of the Jesse Spaulding, Severely Crippled but Safe to the Soo, Believes an Unknown Vessel Sunk in the Crash With the William P. Snyder, Jr.

He Is Sure It Was the Wilpen That Hit His Own Ship, Injuring Her So That Only Watertight Compartments Kept Her Up—Tells of Sighting Hatch Covers.

Houghton, Mich., June 16.—The steamer Jesse Spaulding, reported lost off Keweenaw point Sunday in a collision with the steamer W. P. Snyder, Jr., reached the Soo early this morning in a badly crippled condition. The Snyder, Jr., struck the Spaulding a glancing blow on the port bow and stove in several plates, making a hole partly below the water line. The crew patched the boat with canvas and made the Soo, where more permanent repairs will be made.

The reports of a presumed disaster sent out of the copper country on Sunday created a stir in marine circles. The reports were based on a message from the wireless operator on the Snyder, Jr., to the effect that the Spaulding could not be found after she had blown distress signals. A natural supposition was that she had gone down. There was no way of verifying this and all that could be done was to wait till the steamer's arrival or non-arrival at a port would clear up the situation. The reports from the Soo today show that there was no disaster, only a narrow escape from one.

LAMBASTING TOWNSEND.
 Senator Townsend has, in response to his insulting reference to President Wilson as the only active lobbyist at Washington who is endeavoring to influence the action of congress on the pending tariff bill, been visited by a storm of penance.

Of the four daily papers published in Detroit, the Free Press is alone in defending him. The Evening News, the Times and—strangely enough—the Journal have scathingly denounced his flippant arraignment of the president, while Detroit's brilliantly edited weekly, Saturday Night, declares that "we believe President Wilson will find full justification for his tactics in the temper of the time, just as firmly as we believe that he will pay dearly for any injury he may unwittingly do to the country in any of the tariff schedules he has decreed to be the test of true Democracy. It is the president, not Underwood, nor Clark, nor Reed, the country holds responsible for weal or woe."

That is the case, clearly and concisely stated. The president was elected on the pledge that he and his party would, if placed in power, give the country a revision of the tariff such as the Republican party promised to give four years previously—a promise that it failed to keep and in the election of last year was notably punished for breaking. If "downward revision" as provided for in the bill now under consideration is given us and works unsatisfactorily, President Wilson will pay the penalty for the mistake made. But he is justified in bringing to bear on congress every legitimate influence at his command to secure the adoption of the tariff policy to which he and his party stand pledged before the people, and in doing that he is not trenching upon the rights and prerogatives of the legislative branch of the government.

Discussing Townsend's charge against the president, the Providence, (R. I.) Journal says, with admirable force and lucidity:

Senator Townsend's attempt to draw a red herring across the trail of the lobbyist investigation by charging that the president is the greatest lobbyist of all is not likely to influence public opinion. The president is an officer of the government, not a representative of private interests, and it is a traditional part of his duty to press for the kind of legislation he believes to be essential. If it be true that Mr. Wilson's strong advocacy of the Underwood bill as it stands has made members of his party in the upper house reluctant to oppose it, then he has done a great public service and one quite within his legitimate rights. To waste time on hearings directed to this point will be futile. Senators can gain nothing in public estimation by delaying the passage of the tariff bill. That they can defeat it is well-nigh incredible.

The New York Sun declares that our senator "strained the meaning of the word 'lobbyist' when he applied it to President Wilson with the evident design of indicting the president for lobbying. Mr. Townsend furnished a dragnet definition. The reference made to the president is vague to the verge of vacuity." Many other of the leading papers cast as equally unsparring in their criticisms of the Michigan senator's offensive classification of the president as a lobbyist, and the most active one now trying to influence congressional action on the Underwood tariff bill.

About the most scathing denunciation of Senator Townsend in this connection that we have noted is editorially expressed by the Detroit Times. In part it says:

Senator Townsend is in Washington as the representative of his state's people. The fact is due in no small part to a situation which found him practically unopposed.

A progressive people had to vote for Townsend or find themselves again represented in the upper house of congress by Julius Caesar Burrows.

The vote nominating Townsend was not a vote against Burrows, so much as it was a vote against misrepresentation of a progressive people.

It was a vote against the retention of a senator as much out of tune with the sentiment of his people as was the speech of Townsend out of a tune with the sentiment of his people.

It was a vote against obstruction in the public acts of a man who has been succeeded by a senator who in his public speech becomes an obstructionist against the purposes and principles of a president to whom the people, Republicans and Democrats alike, have returned.

Yes, if the senator please, a president to whom the people have turned for a lobbyist.

QUITE A SAVING.
 One of the witnesses heard during the sessions of the senate probe committee last week in relation to the activities of lobbyists at Washington in opposition to free sugar told of how an enormous quantity of literature designed to create public sentiment against removal of the sugar duty was sent through the mails free under the franks of complaisant senators and representatives. He estimated that the saving in postage thus effected amounted to $28,000.

That money was practically taken out of the federal treasury to aid in protecting an industry in which but a mere fraction of the people are financially interested. It was a steal, and a contemptible one at that, regardless of the merits of the arguments contained in the documents distributed. This illustration of what the abuse of the franking privilege is taking out of the earnings of the mail service will enable the reader to comprehend why the postoffice department has been running behind all these years, whereas it should be a large earner of net revenue for the government.

Commissioner Glasgow is quoted as saying, in discussing the effects of the recent opinion. Mr. Glasgow does not comment on the likelihood that the decision will lead to a growing demand that the state commission's power shall be curbed by enlarging the sphere of action of the federal commission, as the supreme court's decision plainly shows can be done. But this is a likely result, for the railroad will doubtless strongly urge that the necessities of their operation make it imperative that there shall be one body somewhere that shall be able to tell them definitely what they may and may not do. If they must be accountable to forty-eight different commissions, administering as many sets of differing laws, it is clear that their business would be involved in chaos and it would be unnecessarily expensive to administer. It is altogether likely that the ultimate effect of the decision will not be to increase the powers of the state commission, but to confer on the federal commission, instead, added powers. If the railroads should demand this relief from conflicting state statutes, public opinion would doubtless grow to uphold the demand.

BETTER THINK IT OVER.
 While there is every reason to believe that the country will be benefited by abolishing the duties on wool, cattle, meats, and many other articles and commodities now dutiable, it isn't at all clear how admitting sugar free will help the consumer. It certainly will not advantage the producer, even though it may not injure him as greatly as we are told it will by those who insist that it will destroy the beet sugar industry in the United States.

Sugar is now so cheap that there is no urgent need for a reduction in its selling price. If other food products were equally cheap, we would hear little about the excessive cost of living. We have within the past fifteen years built up a valuable industry in this country by encouraging the production of beet sugar, and this has tended to lower the price of refined sugar.

In Michigan the state paid a bonus for a time to the beet sugar factories operating within its borders, to stimulate the industry. This had the effect of enlisting a large amount of capital in the business and starting a movement to induce farmers to engage in sugar beet culture. As a consequence Michigan has developed an important new industry which has contributed appreciably to the wealth of the state and the prosperity of its people. The state bounty was withdrawn after it was found that the act granting it was unconstitutional, but it served a good purpose in giving the industry a strong start in the state, and there was no protest against it heard from the taxpayers.

If the state was willing to tax itself to encourage the establishment within its borders of this industry it seems rather indefensible on the part of the general government now to take away the small amount of protection accorded it, which the beet sugar people say is necessary to enable the domestic producer to meet the competition of foreign producers, who have the advantage of cheaper labor. The Democrats may well give earnest consideration to the appeals and arguments of the beet sugar men before deciding that sugar must go on the free list. There can be enough pruning done on the tariff schedules without applying the knife where it may do much harm.

Editorial Opinion
Woman's Victory in Illinois.
 Woman suffrage has crossed the Mississippi river. By giving votes to women Illinois directs attention to itself as the first state east of this waterway to adopt the principle of political equality. The equality thus given is not complete. Women may vote for president of the United States, or rather for the electors who choose the president, for mayors of cities, for aldermen and for some other officers; they may not vote for constitutional officers of the state. To give them the privilege to vote for the latter an amendment to the constitution will be necessary.

Editorial Opinion
Editorial Opinion
 When it is recalled that Illinois has twenty-nine votes in the electoral college, more than those of Oregon, Washington, Kansas, Utah and California combined, the significance of the change in that state can be realized. It means that if the woman suffrage movement progresses no further women will have a voice in the selection of more than seventy presidential electors. When, in addition, it is realized that next year four more states, Montana, Nevada, North and South Dakota, are to pass on constitutional amendments calling for the enfranchisement of women the essentials of the situation can be better realized.

Editorial Opinion
Editorial Opinion
 In Massachusetts a resolution paying the way for the submission of a woman suffrage amendment to the people has been passed. In New York the senate acted favorably. In Minnesota a resolution providing for a referendum has been defeated. In Wisconsin Governor McGovern has vetoed a resolution ordering a vote in 1914. His ground was that the defeat of a similar amendment by a majority of 92,000 last November clearly showed prevailing public sentiment.

Editorial Opinion
Editorial Opinion
 Prevailing sentiment in any state, however, is not always a fixed sentiment. Oregon defeated equal suffrage three times before it endorsed. Aside from the merits of the cause, however, it is certain that in the nation's election of 1912 the tentative vote is bound to prove a large factor.—Grand Rapids Press.

 New Jersey's Gag Law. Doubtless the Socialists of this country are duly grateful to one of the lower courts of New Jersey for having found Alexander Scott, editor of a journal of their persuasion, technically guilty of the offense of criticizing the Paterson police, for which a statute of the state provides a penalty of not less than one or more than fifteen years' imprisonment. There is hardly any other asset so valuable to such a cause as a fully fledged martyr, which is the character in which Scott now appears, not only to those who believe as he does, but to the public in general. Of course, it is proper and even necessary to the preservation of peace and order that incendiary speeches or incendiary editorials should come under the inhibition of the law. Incitement to violence and disorder should be halted by the strong arm if it cannot be checked in any other way, but the editorial in question was hardly of that character.

We believe that the New Jersey editor kept on what should be the safe side of strict justice. We believe no other state has so drastic a law, and the lack of discrimination that it involves is demoralizing. Governor Pennington was able to secure the passage of a gag law to prevent the criticism or cartooning of public officials, but it was ridiculed into contempt, and no attention has been paid to it. The law which the Socialist editor has unwittingly challenged is not ornamental to "Jersey justice."—Boston Transcript.

tering the den and finding the younger with pen, ink and paper.
 "I am writing a letter to Mamie Jones," replied Bessie, glancing up from her work.

"But, my dear," smilingly interposed the mother, "you don't know how to write."

"Oh, that doesn't make any difference," said Bessie, resuming the letter, "Mamie Jones doesn't know how to read."—New York Times.

Their Reason.
 Miss Elsie De Wolfe was defending in New York the actions of the militant English suffragettes.

"If the men treated us over here," said Miss De Wolfe "they they they they the suffragettes in England, then we'd adopt militancy, too."

"But," said a banker, "but look at the English suffragettes' latest move. It's abominable. They're poisoning dogs. Right and left they're poisoning dogs. To poison a dog—is there any rhyme or reason in that?"

"I suppose the English suffragettes," she said, "are poisoning dogs because the dog is the friend of man."

Sacrifice.
 Louis J. Horowitz, the skyscraper builder, who in 20 years—not the age of 37—has risen from a position of $3 a week to one of $100,000 a year, was talking in his Riverside Drive apartment in New York about success.

"I go to bed at nine," he said, "and I get up at five. I play a little, but my play is exercise every day. I'm not in good trim for my office. I play to work—as other men work to play."

Mr. Horowitz mused a moment; then, in his terse epigrammatic way, he said, shaking his head:

"Success demands sacrifice! Two men set out to achieve fame. One succeeded. The other lived."

Not the Same.
 Annette Kellermann, the swimming champion, was showing a young man in the waters of Long Island, a few new strokes.

The young man was not a very apt pupil. He lumbered along, with a good deal of splash but not much speed, and after swimming 20 or 30 yards he pulled like a grampus.

Miss Kellermann took him to task.

"You don't breathe right," she said.

"If you did it wouldn't tire you so. As to the upper part of your body you use exactly the same muscles—you use exactly the same muscles, remember—in swimming as in sawing wood."

"Oh, no, I don't!" said the young man.

"Oh, no! Believe me, Miss Kellermann, when it comes to sawing wood I use the muscles of some other chap."

Wasted Energy.
 Enrico Caruso, at a dinner preceding his departure for the Covent Garden season in London, said that, when he grew too old to sing, he would probably teach.

"Teaching the voice is a difficult task," he continued. "It is a fine thing to be a good teacher. Some pupils are stupid."

"You can no more hurry a voice than you can hurry a flower; but most pupils want to become star singers in a month or two."

"A woman said to one of my friends, a superb teacher:

"I'm going abroad next month, and I want 25 lessons in voice culture before I sail."

"Impossible!" said the teacher.

"Why impossible?" said the woman.

"I could take two lessons a day some days."

"Or, better still, said my friend sarcastically, 'you could take the whole 25 lessons all right, one after the other. A day would do it, then?'"

"Splendid!" cried the woman. "We make it tomorrow!"

LOWER STATE NOTES
CHARLOTTE—Mr. and Mrs. Joel Smith will celebrate their seventieth wedding anniversary here July 4. They are aged ninety-five and ninety-three respectively. They were pioneers in this district.

KALAMAZOO—Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Representative William L. Fitzgerald, of this city, to Miss Agnes Nolan, of Berkeley, Cal. The ceremony will take place in the latter city June 28.

KALAMAZOO—For fear the new church they are building might be destroyed, the African Methodist, of Kalamazoo, have stationed a night watch at the edifice. The property is soon to be condemned for school purposes, but the trustees are continuing the construction of the edifice.

PORTLAND—Henry Bates, manager of the Bates foundry, shot and killed himself while shooting blackbirds. His body was found by his brother Thomas. The trigger of his gun apparently had caught on a barbed wire fence. Bates was twenty-nine years old, and had a wife and a two-year-old son. He was an expert with a shotgun.

CADILLAC—The lumbermen's strike in Cadillac is over, at least for a time. F. F. Doree, the Chicago Industrial Workers of the World organizer, left here in disgust because he was unable to get out more than thirty of the 347 members of the union in this city. With him went W. S. Wilson, a plumber, who gave up a good position to become an agitator. Doree says he is going to Chicago to get help and will soon return.

MT. CLEMENS—A movement is on foot to force the Eastern Michigan Edison company to furnish the city with better lighting. The city is still ruminating under the proposition of having no electric lights on moonlight nights. Many women are afraid to go out on the streets when there are no lights. Mayor Nank is at the head of the movement and says that a city the size of Mt. Clemens should not be run under the charters of fifty years ago.

SAGINAW—Fred Schroette turned in the alarm for a fire at the Jackson and Church C. S. plant, and a few minutes later dropped dead from heart failure. He had been watchman for a number of years. He discovered the flames in the roof and blew the whistle for assistance. He was told to step outside and had no sooner done so than he collapsed. There is a strike in progress at the plant, and just after the fire the police were called to protect the strikers from the strikers.

ADRIAN—As a result of a recent inspection of all of the buildings in the business section of town, under the direction of State Fire Marshal Henry Wolf, Jacob Breedon, one of the several

TOWNSEND'S CHARGES MEET LITTLE FAVOR

Some Conservative Republican Papers Call Accusing President as Lobbyist Foolish.

Washington, June 16.—Senator Townsend's charge that President Wilson is a lobbyist has not aroused enthusiastic editorial approval. Many of the conservative Republican papers keep still about it. The Baltimore Sun calls the Townsend testimony "foolish talk." Other independent and Democratic papers assailed Townsend, while here and there he is given editorial commendation. Here are quotations taken at random from Eastern and Southern papers:

The New York Sun says: "Senator Townsend of Michigan strained the meaning of the word 'lobbyist' when he applied it to President Wilson with the evident design of indicting the president for lobbying. Mr. Townsend furnished a dragnet definition. The reference made by Mr. Townsend to the president is vague to the verge of vacuity. About all he accomplishes is to remind readers of James Bryce's famous book of the passage in which he says of the president in his relation to members of the legislature: 'Public opinion governs by and through him no less than them, and makes him powerful even against a popularly elected legislature.' In this case President Wilson has a popularly elected house behind him and the house is regarded as the true representative body."

Reactionary Agrees With Townsend. The Philadelphia Press, a reactionary Republican, echoes the Townsend charges of the president's powerful influence in an editorial. The Press says: "The man, not a member of congress, who is doing the most lobbying for his bill is the president himself. His labors for it are persistent, untiring and powerful in their influence. The whole commotion which has been set up is clearly only a building scheme to intimidate the men who are so audacious as to try to save their business by pleading with the senators who have the prosperity of the country now in their keeping."

The Pittsburg Dispatch, a conservative or later some opposing senator was certain to do what Senator Townsend of Michigan did yesterday—accuse the president of being the most effective lobbyist of them all. As one of the chief complaints against the "lobbyists" is that they profess to influence and represent public opinion, technically the president's activities bring him within that designation. But outside the ranks of rabid partisans it will be recognized that the warning about the insidious lobby and the retort that the president is the most active lobbyist are equally for partisan effect. The Townsend declaration was simply an effort to turn the tables on the president, to pay him back in his own coin. Both appeal to the prejudice of the partisan."

Hasn't Much Effect. The Providence Journal says: "Senator Townsend's attempt to draw a red herring across the trail of the lobby investigation by charging that the president is the greatest lobbyist of all is not likely to influence public opinion. The president is an officer of the government, not a representative of private interests, and it is a traditional part of his duty to press for the kind of legislation he believes to be essential. If it be true that Mr. Wilson's strong advocacy of the Underwood bill as it stands has made members of his party in the upper house reluctant to oppose it, then he has done a great public service and one quite within his legitimate rights. To waste time on hearings directed to this point will be futile. Senators can gain nothing in public estimation by delaying the passage of the tariff bill. That they can defeat it is well-nigh incredible."

The Baltimore Sun in an editorial entitled, "Loose Logic" says: "Such foolish talk as Senator Townsend indulged in before the lobbying investigation in committee Friday, if honest, is due to an utter misconception of the tariff bill situation. It follows that any Democrat in congress who enters into any log-rolling attempt to change the schedule of the Wilson bill is guilty of a something closely akin to party treachery."

It will be noted that the Sun calls the pending tariff bill, not the Underwood bill, but the Wilson bill. The Sun is an exceptionally well informed paper and has excellent Democratic sources of information. Another View Like Senator's. The Atlanta Georgian takes a view not unlike that of Senator Townsend. It is one of the Hearst papers and has been hostile to Wilson. It will be recalled that Mr. Hearst wanted Clark nominated at Baltimore and that he chose an early opportunity to try to make it hot for Wilson. The Georgian says: "What about the president? On several occasions he has gone to the capital and lobbied legislators to state his side of the tariff question. Is the president then a lobbyist? Mr. Wilson would probably deny the charge hotly. Yet what is the difference? Mr. Wilson's business is being president and he believes that that business will be best served by the pending tariff. The sugar growers and the wool growers and the others are in the business of raising sugar and wool and they believe that their business will be best served by the pending tariff."

The New York Evening Post says: "Senator Townsend's discovery that President Wilson is the chief of the tariff lobbyists is an admirable bit of partisan fooling."

MAKING ORIENTAL SWORDS.

The manufacture of the exquisite swords of Japan is attended by curious religious ceremonies. On the walls of the houses in which the work is done are representations of the god of the swordmakers and the chief goddess, Ame Terasu. There are also rectangular bits of prayer paper and ropes of straw—charms to keep away evil spirits. No woman is allowed to enter the place, since the presence of women is supposed to be conducive to the appearance of demons, who would certainly bring disaster to the honorable sword. Prayer is offered before the work begins, and various religious rites must be performed before any one of the swords can be declared well and truly made. Just before the final polishing and sharpening of the swords they are offered, one by one, for the blessing of the sword god. The weapon is placed in front of the kakemono on the wall, where these weapons have been made from time immemorial. But almost equally famous are the swords of Khorassan. The best Eastern blades are, however, at least equalled today by those of European manufacture, which is evident when we note that European swords are often met with in Asiatic hands, though in most cases they have been remounted in Eastern style to suit the fancy of their owners. The particular treatment of the steel used for the manufacture of Asiatic swords had not a little to do with the reputation for the latter, for the damascene, or "watering," of choice Persian and Indian arms gives a most attractive appearance to the work. Much of the same thing was in evidence in the making of "Damascus" gun barrels until it was discovered that fluid steel was preferable for the latter, at least from the manufacturer's point of view. In the case of sword steel the "watering" effect is produced by a process of crystallization, so that when the metal is forged out a more or less regular pattern is seen running through it. The effect is pleasing to the eye, though it is said that the quality of the metal is neither better nor worse for being treated in this fancy manner.—Harper's Weekly.

Today's weather: Generally fair; not quite so warm.

Yesterday's temperatures: Seven a. m., 76 degrees; noon, 76; 7 p. m., 68. Highest, 78; lowest, 68.

James Norton, of Ewen, was a business caller in Marquette yesterday.

S. S. Runsey, of Duluth, was a business visitor in Marquette yesterday.

M. T. Thorsen, of Escanaba, attended to business in Marquette yesterday.

The Masonic party announced for Friday evening has been postponed.

The Pythian Sisters will meet this evening at 7:45 o'clock in Fraternity Hall.

J. W. Bonen, of Escanaba, called on friends in Marquette Sunday and yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Shaw, of Cincinnati, O., arrived in Marquette yesterday on a visit.

Robert Rohl, of Centralia, Ill., spent yesterday in Marquette visiting his father, Carl Rohl.

W. F. Morgan, dock agent for the L. S. & I. railway, left last evening for Chicago, on a business mission.

Peter Rasmussen, the Negaunee dry goods and clothing merchant, was in Marquette yesterday afternoon.

Carl Rohl left last evening for Morris-town, Minn., to visit his sister. He will return with her in about one week.

Christian Hansen, superintendent of public works in Negaunee, spent last evening visiting friends in Marquette.

D. M. Wilson, of Negaunee, agent for the Underwood Typewriter company, spent yesterday here attending to business.

Miss Clara Fasshender will leave this morning for Ann Arbor, where she will spend the summer visiting friends and relatives.

J. V. Moran, of Detroit, one of the firm constituting the Michigan Brokerage company, was in Marquette yesterday on business.

Miss Rhea Lewis will leave tomorrow morning for a lake trip to Toledo, O., where she will spend three weeks visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. R. G. Payne, and daughter, of Montrose, lower Michigan, arrived in Marquette yesterday to spend a week visiting relatives and friends.

John Costin, of Virginia, and sister, Mrs. Mary Shea, of Eveleth, Minn., arrived last evening to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Johanna McCarthy.

Dr. E. L. Drake has gone to Chicago to meet his son Llewellyn, who is returning from the University of Michigan to spend the summer at his home in this city.

George D. Westerman, traveling secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, arrived in Marquette Saturday from Calumet, to attend to business several days.

Miss Lucille Burkholder, instructor in home economics the last year in the Marquette public schools, will leave Wednesday morning for Toledo, on her way home to spend the summer vacation.

Mrs. George E. Blake, of Port Huron, is visiting her husband in this city. Mr. Blake is employed in Northern Michigan by the state tax commission. His wife will remain in Marquette until November.

Rudolph Doerr has arrived from Boyne City to spend several days in Marquette on a business mission. Mr. Doerr is a draftsman for the Lake Superior Iron & Chemical company, which maintains an office in Marquette.

Joseph Love, a driver in the fire department service, arrived home yesterday from a two weeks' vacation, during which he visited his old home in Lower Canada. While away he spent some time in Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Mrs. Fred Reinhardt left last evening for St. Paul, Minn., where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Paul R. Potter. Mrs. Potter will leave shortly for Montana, where her husband has accepted a position with a western railway company.

Among the persons who came to Marquette to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Bernard were Mr. and Mrs. George Marchand, of Duluth, Mrs. Pearl Reidinger, of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Beaudry, of Houghton, and James Bernard of Milwaukee.

While driving his automobile at Ishpeming Sunday afternoon, James Moran, Jr., ran into a transmission pole, damaging his car so that it was necessary for the party it contained to return to this city by train. The car was taken to a Marquette garage for repairs. The windshield and front wheels suffered the greatest damage.

Funeral this Morning—The funeral of Mrs. Johanna McCarthy will be held this morning at 8:30 o'clock from St. Peter's cathedral. John Costin, of Virginia, Minn., Dan Shea, of Eveleth, Minn., and Miss Agnes McCarthy of Lansing are in the city to attend it, and Mrs. M. Maney, of Ashland, Wis., is expected this morning.

Stuck by Stray Bullet—While attending a family picnic in the meadows back of Hotel Superior Sunday afternoon, Earl Lattrell, age twelve years, was struck by a stray .22 calibre rifle bullet. The shot inflicted a flesh wound just above the knee of the boy's right leg. He was taken to his father's home, at 426 McMillan street, where medical treatment was administered.

Perfumes Atmosphere—Manager Jopling has installed in the orchestra pit of the Marquette Opera House a censor for sweetening the air of the auditorium. The equipment is operated electrically and is somewhat on the principle of the ozonator. A vessel in the lower part of the contrivance is filled with perfume. A wick of delicate fabric carries the moisture out of the vessel. An electric fan causes the vapors from the wick to be wafted through the house, permeating the atmosphere with a delicate odor. The ozonator produces a clean, wholesome air rich in oxygen, which makes the atmosphere of the house pure and eliminates the stuffy, musty smell that often becomes noticeable in an inclosed assembly hall, thereby lessening the possibility of contamination by germs. Operating both instruments at the same time the effect produced is ideal. Manager Jopling has installed the censor subject to approval.

Going One Better—In observance of the thirteenth birthday of Miss Blanche Liret, 109 Fisher street last Friday, June 13, 1913, the young hostess entertained thirteen of her young friends. This was, however, not the full extent of the "hoodoo" series, for little Miss Liret's name contains thirteen letters. If the "jinx" didn't get her Friday, she need have no alarm or the rest of her life, say her friends.

Auto Went Into Ditch—As he was driving a party of friends to Ishpeming Sunday evening, Paul Rauer, manager of the Ford garage, Champion street, had the misfortune to tip the occupants of his machine into a ditch in the vicinity of Eagle Mills. In passing another car he had to drive close to the right side of the road, onto soft ground, and the wheels on the right side of the car sank into it. Mr. Rauer made a quick turn of his steering wheel, but the car tipped into the ditch. Another car, carrying five persons of the same party, was close behind, and with the assistance of these the car was righted. It was driven back to Marquette under its own power. Mr. Rauer said last evening that many exaggerated stories had been told of the accident. The total damage amounted to less than $2 to repair and the car was ready to run an hour after it had been brought to the shop. None of the passengers were hurt.

Four Murder Cases.

Yesterday at Crystal Falls Judge Flannigan called the circuit court for Iron county to order with one of the heaviest calendars on record. The criminal calendar is again a heavy one, with four murder cases and several other high crimes charged against the defendants.

It is expected that court will remain in session more than a week. In the civil list the personal injury cases outnumber all others. It was thought that after the new compensation act went into effect personal injury cases would lessen in number. The reason that so many confront the court this term is that many cases were started before the law went into effect and have been carried over from term to term.

Deer Captured at Escanaba.

After it had swam the entire distance across the bay, a deer was captured by Roy O'Brien and Harold McCarthy just off the Reiss cool docks in Escanaba. The animal was a doe. The young men were working on the dock. They sighted the deer in shallow water, seemingly almost exhausted. The animal, when they approached, started out in the bay, but after going a short way it turned and swam back. When close enough the deer was picked up and carried to a near-by house, where it was allowed to rest. The game warden probably will order it released.

Body Found in River.

As William School, Sr., was crossing the Buckeye dam, near Fisher-Morrison Lumber company's yard at Iron River, he noticed a man's arm sticking out of the water. Upon closer investigation he found a man's body lodged against one of the piers of the bridge. Owing to the length of time the remains had been in the water it was impossible to recognize the corpse as that of anyone who had been a resident of the village. However, Mrs. Ida Holmi, residing at Stambaugh, claimed it was the body of her husband, who had left home about seven months ago. She identified it by a patch on the right sleeve of the shirt and the shoes. In speaking of the matter Mrs. Holmi said: "My husband left about seven months ago with about $1.75 in his pocket and I have not heard from him since. He was usually employed in the mines, or in the woods. He was addicted to the drink habit, often using intoxicating for a month at a time. He often threatened to kill himself. The body was buried in the Stambaugh cemetery."

MINERS QUIT WITHOUT CALL FROM THE UNION

West Virginia Men Beyond Control, Says Leader of Labor Organization.

Charleston, W. Va., June 16.—With the renewal of the industrial war in the Paint and Cabin Creek mine districts universally reported, the United States senate mine strike committee today continued the examination of witnesses. During the day miners, detectives and agents of the mine operators came down from the strike regions with tales of a new strike declared and the district again thrown into disorder.

"The local union of the United Mine Workers of America has not called a new strike on Paint and Cabin creeks," Thomas Haggerty, a member of the miners' international board, declared tonight. "But we cannot be sure of the men who are working up in the field," he said. "The operators have not lived up to the agreement under which the men went back to work, and which was drawn by Governor Hatfield. We have tried to prevent another strike, but I am convinced that the miners up there have already decided not to continue their work under the conditions which prevail there now. Meetings were held yesterday and the men expressed dissatisfaction with conditions. They decided to strike and the union cannot control them."

A committee of miners from the Cabin Creek field came to Charleston today to gain the United Mine Workers' permission to call a general strike.

Detective Agency Chief Testifies. The testimony presented to the senate committee today was largely routine. Thomas L. Feltz, vice president of the detective agency which provided the mine guards for the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek operators during the strike, was the principal witness. Mr. Feltz denied that any of his men were on the armored train which fired on the strikers' camp at Hollygrove in February.

Scores of witnesses called by the miners today testified that the principal trouble in the strike district was caused by the conduct of the guards.

FEDERAL BULLETIN SHOWS THAT MONEY BUYS HEALTH FOR BIG CITY CHILDREN.

Washington, June 16.—A bulletin by Miss Julia Lathrop, chief of the children's bureau of the department of commerce, issued today, recommends means for preserving the lives of infants and also contains a report of what has been done to decrease infant mortality.

Under the supervision of the bureau baby-saving campaigns have been conducted in several cities with the result, says the bulletin, that infant mortality has been brought in these cities actually below the rate in rural districts. A reduction of from 30 to 40 per cent. in these cities is noted. New York and Philadelphia are the principal cities involved in the campaigns.

The bureau deduces from the results of these campaigns that health is purchasable. More money to conduct the campaign, however, is needed.

TUBERCULAR STRIP IN A CHILD'S SPINE IS REPLACED WITH BONE FROM ITS SHIN.

Philadelphia, June 16.—By one of the most delicate operations known in surgery, David App, the three-year-old son of John App, is being restored to perfect health at the Children's hospital.

The operation, performed last Friday by Dr. John H. Jepson, involved the removal of a tubercular infected strip in the child's spine, which was made whole again by the addition of a piece of healthy bone taken from the left shin of the patient.

The healthy bone measured four inches in length, was about a half-inch square and was sewed with chromic catgut. Surgeons say that if the boy's spine had been operated upon he would probably not have lived more than a few years.

JUDGE BALDWIN TAKES A HAND IN CHICAGO'S GRAND JURY TANGLE.

Chicago, June 16.—The solution of Chicago's grand jury controversy, in which two grand juries were impaneled to investigate the same matter—the election of the state's attorney of Cook county—was forecasted today when Judge Baldwin impaneled the election records out of the reach of either of the rival grand juries. The ballots are the principal direct evidence which would be considered by the grand juries impaneled by Judge Kerston and Judge Cooper. Judge Baldwin made a personal inspection of the vault where the ballots are stored and ordered additional steel bars placed over the ventilator. Judge Baldwin will call a special grand jury to act in place of the two now in existence.

WASHINGTON'S WATER POWER.

Washington has more idle water power on hand than she knows what to do with, for as yet only a small percentage is put to use. The mountain streams are full of waterfalls, and already those close to the big industrial center, are being harnessed to do man's work. In places, power plants are located in the very heart of the mountains and transmit electric current for industries something like a hundred miles away.

A scheme is now on foot to harness the Columbia river and to take from it power greater in excess than that generated by Niagara Falls. The states of Oregon and Washington are back of the project, and if the undertaking is put through it will be one of the largest engineering feats of the kind ever undertaken.—Technical World Magazine.

45,000 VETERANS AT GETTYSBURG.

Authorities to Bring in Food and Provide Many Hospitals.

Philadelphia, June 16.—Forty-five thousand veterans of the Civil war, wearers of both the blue and the gray, have asked the Gettysburg anniversary commission to provide accommodations for them during the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the war's most famous battle next month. These figures do not include any of the thousands of expected visitors.

Under the most favorable conditions there would be many cases of illness among these old soldiers during the encampment, says Dr. S. G. Dixon, state health officer. But a much greater number is feared because of the heat, the excitement and the strain of travel incident to the pilgrimage. Among other provisions for caring for the sick, arrangements have been made with hospitals in cities within a radius of forty miles to receive cases from the emergency hospital to be installed on the field. Harrisburg, Lancaster, York, Chambersburg and Hagerstown, Md., will give aid.

An estimate of the accommodations at Gettysburg's five thousand inhabitants can offer to the crowds of visitors indicates that twenty-five thousand at most can be given sleeping quarters. Food will perhaps be available for a greater number, but the pressure of passenger train service probably will limit the amount of food which can be brought into the town. To provide against famine among the veterans, the anniversary commission has arranged that all supplies for them be brought in before they arrive.

COPPER OUTLOOK.

It is good opinion that the copper producers' statements will, for the immediate future, show an accumulating supply of copper on the hands of the refineries, reflecting a general contraction in those industries upon which the copper producer must chiefly rely for the consumption of the metal. Copper stocks have more than discounted a 12½-cent market; however, and it remains to be seen if the immediate outlook for a recession in the market for the metal is followed by a further lowering of the copper share price level.

Statistically the position of copper could not be stronger. On June 1 the world's supply, including stocks at all important European points, was 157,000,000 pounds, or close to the lowest point since the Copper Producers' association came into existence—January 1909. This stock of copper represents less than three weeks' consumption, and in almost any other line of industry would be deemed a dangerously small margin of safety. It is to be expected that for the next few months at least, a restriction in the takings of copper by home manufacturers, the declining exports from this side—and the adverse tide has already set in—coupled with record-breaking refinery outputs, should make for a few "unfavorable" monthly statements by the American Producers' association.

Copper at the moment is held nominally at 15 cents, but transactions are so small as to be insignificant. Some small dealers are said to be offering at 14½ cents. The big agencies are well sold ahead, and are not forcing matters. The American Smelting & Refining company, which sells for most of the porphyries, is sold thirty days ahead, and Mr. Ryan, for the United Metals Selling company, is probably equally well covered with future contracts. It will be strange indeed if copper does not break below 15 cents, but as above stated, so far as this prospect affects the holders of copper shares, it has been more than discounted.

The money markets are not conducive to any artificial "holding" of the metal market, even were the largest interests disposed—and they are not—to work to this end.

CAPTAIN NICHOLAS HAS BEEN PROMOTED

Former Ishpeming Man Made Superintendent of a M. A. Hanna Company Mine.

Captain W. J. Nicholas, a former well known mining man of Ishpeming, who received his early experience in mining at the Lake Angelina property and who for some years past has been mine inspector for liability concerns, has taken the superintendency of the Barrows mine at Barrows, operated by the M. A. Hanna company. During the greater part of the time Captain Nicholas was employed by liability concerns he has also done special mine inspection work for the Hanna company.

The Virginian refers to him as follows: "Captain W. J. Nicholas, who for some time has been mine inspector for several different liability concerns, interested in mines in this section, has resigned to accept the position of superintendent of the Barrows mine at Barrows, operated by the M. A. Hanna company."

"Captain Nicholas is a practical mining man of wide experience, having worked himself up from the bottom of the ladder. He was mining captain at the Bangor mine, Biwabik, for several years previous to entering the employ of the mine liability insurance companies and was also at one time mine foreman for Pickands-Mather company."

"Captain Nicholas, in company with Captain Alfred Martin, assistant general superintendent of the M. A. Hanna company, will leave Monday for Barrows to enter upon his new duties."

"The Barrows is a new mine. Therefore the responsibility which Captain Nicholas will assume will not be slight. His family will not follow for two or three months. They have been residents of this city for about three years and have a wide circle of friends who are pleased to learn of the captain's deserved promotion."

PARADE FEATURES.

Military Display on Fourth in Charge of C. Thomas and S. H. Collick.

The fraternal societies have been asked by the parade committee for the Home Coming and Fourth of July celebration to put in floats representing their organizations. This feature will add considerable interest to the parade, which promises to be the largest and most attractive ever seen in Ishpeming.

The military division will be in charge of Colonel Charles Thomas and Captain S. H. Collick. It will include military, cavalry, artillery and marine displays. The needed costumes have already been ordered and the construction of the artillery equipment has been started. The war veterans of Ishpeming and Negaunee, who will be guests of the parade committee, will ride in carriages at the head of the military division.

Ernest Ludlow, chairman of the automobile division, yesterday said that many machines will be decorated for the parade. Mr. Ludlow suggests that cars can be decorated at a very little cost by using evergreens and wild flowers. He has a book of designs, many of which are beautiful, that may be consulted.

PROFIT ON TEXT BOOKS REGULATED

Under New Law Dealers Cannot Charge More Than 15 per Cent. Advance on Cost.

L. L. Wright, superintendent of public instruction, has directed the attention of school superintendents and county commissioners to the law which was passed by the last legislature, regulating the sale of school text books in Michigan, and which goes into effect Aug. 14. Among other things it prohibits dealers in text books from charging more than fifteen per cent advance on the net wholesale price.

According to figures compiled by Mr. Wright from schools where free text books are used, the cost per capita does not average over sixty cents a year. The per capita cost in the townships of Marquette county, where the free text book system has been introduced, is within this figure, and it is said that the Negaunee school board has for some years past been supplying books at an average of from fifty-seven to sixty cents per capita.

In order to obtain free text books it is necessary for the taxpayers to petition the board of education to submit the question at the annual election.

Provisions of the New Law.

Among the provisions of the new law are the following:

"Section 1. No person shall offer any school textbook for adoption, sale or exchange in the state of Michigan until he shall have complied with the following conditions:

"1. He shall file copies of all textbooks sold by the company manufacturing such book, in the office of the state superintendent of public instruction with a sworn statement of the usual list price, the lowest wholesale price, and the lowest exchange price at which said book is sold or exchanged for an old book on the same subject of like grade and kind but of a different series.

"2. He shall file with the state superintendent of public instruction a bond running to the people of the state of Michigan, with a responsible surety company authorized to do business in the state of Michigan as surety thereon, in a penal sum to be determined by the state superintendent of public instruction, not less than two thousand dollars nor more than ten thousand dollars, conditioned as follows:

"(a) That he will furnish any of the books listed in said statement and in any other statement subsequently filed by him within five years to any school district and any school corporation in the state of Michigan at the lowest price contained in said statement and that he will maintain said price uniformly throughout the state.

"(b) That he will reduce such price automatically in Michigan whenever reductions are made elsewhere in the United States, so that at no time shall any book so filed and listed by him be sold in the state of Michigan at a higher net price than is received for such book elsewhere in the United States.

"(c) That all textbooks offered for sale, adoption, or exchange in the state of Michigan, shall be equal in quality to those deposited in the office of the state superintendent of public instruction as regards paper, binding, price, illustrations, subject matter, and all other particulars that may affect the value of such textbooks;

"(d) In case he shall prepare an abridged or special edition of any of the books so listed by him, and shall sell such special edition elsewhere at a lower wholesale price than the wholesale price scheduled with the state superintendent, he shall file a copy of such special edition together with the price therefor, as above stated, with the state superintendent of public instruction;

Teachers Cannot Be Rewarded.

"Section 2. No person shall secure or attempt to secure the sale of any school textbooks in any school district in this state by rewarding or promising to reward any teacher in any school in the state or by securing for him any position in any other school. No person shall offer or give any commission, money or other valuable thing, promise of work or any other inducement to any teacher or school officer in any school district for any vote or promise of vote or for the use of his influence for any school textbook to be used in this state. Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent any person from giving, or any school officer or teacher from receiving, a reasonable number of sample copies of school textbooks for examination with a view to obtaining information as to the book or series of books for which such officer shall give his vote.

Fifteen Per Cent. Profit on Sales.

"Section 3. It shall be unlawful for any dealer in textbooks to sell any books listed with the state superintendent of public instruction as hereinbefore provided at a price to exceed fifteen per cent advance on the net wholesale price as so listed.

"Section 4. School districts are hereby authorized to purchase textbooks from the publishers at the prices listed with the state superintendent of public instruction as hereinbefore provided, and to sell said books to the pupils at said listed prices or at such prices as will include the cost of transportation and the cost of handling.

"Section 5. School districts are hereby authorized to purchase textbooks from the publishers at the prices listed with the state superintendent of public instruction as hereinbefore provided and to designate a retail dealer or dealers to act as the agent of the district in selling textbooks to pupils. The said dealer or dealers shall at stated times make settlement with the district for such books as have been sold up to the stated time. Said dealer or dealers shall not sell textbooks at a price which shall exceed a ten per cent advance on the net wholesale price as listed with the state superintendent of public instruction."

LET YOUR OWN JUDGMENT RULE

Do not let our enthusiasm for our Brass Beds influence your decision. Use your own judgment and purchase here only when you are satisfied that we can give you a bed fully worth the price we ask for it.

We will give you complete information about the beds we offer. Every detail of construction will be shown and you will have ample opportunity to inspect any or all of the various patterns in our collection.

Knowing how the beds are made, and their dependability and excellence, we are confident in the opinion you will have if you simply give them a fair examination.

That is why we say—use your own judgment. Accept as much as you wish to accept of what we will tell you, but let the decision be yours, not ours.

We will furnish with this bed a steel fabric spring, guaranteed for twenty-five years, a cotton felt mattress covered with fancy tick, weight forty-five pounds; one pair of pillows with a fancy tick covering, weight five pounds per pair, filled with choice feathers.

The pattern we illustrate is a Special Offering we have for a Limited Time Only, and at the price should interest everybody.

A BONUS EARNED.

People at sea bet upon all sorts of contingencies. An emigrant ship from England was recently approaching the Australian coast, and an interesting event was expected at any moment in the married people's quarters. Considerable speculation and excitement was developed over the question whether the happy event would take place within or without the three-mile limit. A great cheer went up when it was officially announced that the little stranger was legally an Australian and had earned the five-pound baby bonus of the commonwealth. A minute or two earlier and the child would have been a native of Stepney, London, to which parish children born at sea belong.—London Daily Chronicle.

GETTING READY FOR ASPHALT.

Removal of Surface on Cleveland Avenue Will be Started This Morning.

A steam roller was operated yesterday on Cleveland avenue, in the block between Main and First streets, tearing up the surface. A crew of men will be put to work this morning removing the gravel and preparing the foundation for the asphalt work. It will lay about 2-1/2 inches of asphalt on the three blocks to Third street. A bet will be made to finish the work by the fourth, but if any time is lost on account of unfavorable weather it is likely that not more than two blocks can be completed. Trobriek Bros., whose operations were delayed Saturday by the rain, will finish the concrete work today, and tomorrow several men who have been employed on the Cleveland avenue job will be sent to Michigan avenue, where the firm has a big contract. It will lay about 2,000 lineal feet of sidewalk, gutters and curbs on the Main street and concrete walks will also be laid in the school yard. The contract also includes a foundation under the fire hall. William Trebilcock will accompany the crew, and he expects to complete the job within two or three weeks.

The concrete work on North Main and Canada streets will not be started until after the fourth. The Michigan State Bell Telephone company has its crew working on Main street making temporary changes of poles and wires.

SEVEN BIRTHS RECORDED.

Seven births were recorded at the office of the city recorder yesterday. They were a son to Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Greenman, 220 N. Main street; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Romulus Morin, 300 E. Pearl street; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jensen, 702 E. Ridge street; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Westrom, 613 E. Ridge street; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coniglia, 512 E. Ridge street; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoeking, 811 N. Second street; and a son to Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Cleven, 513 Cleveland avenue.

CAR STRIKES POLE.

A Sampson car, owned by Joe Morin, of Marquette, struck a telephone pole Sunday afternoon near Union park, breaking off the right front wheel. The driver was extricated with those in the rear seat of the car at the time, it is said. None of the occupants of the car were injured. The car was taken to Ruffledge's garage in Ishpeming, where it is being repaired.

EARLY MURAL DECORATIONS.

It is probable that the earliest wall paintings were those of the Egyptians. Those people employed a distemper containing dissolved gum, and their principal pigments were white chalk, a vegetable yellow, ochre, Ethiopian cinabar, blue powdered glass stained with copper and charcoal black. The walls of Assyrian and Babylonian dwellings were treated in much the same way, and the practice of painting on walls coated with plaster was certainly in vogue in Assyria. It has been believed that the Greeks understood this fresco work, apparently on the strength of a phrase occurring in Plutarch, "to paint on a wet ground." Vitruvius also speaks of a wet ground and says that colors placed upon a surface so prepared are permanent, which certainly is characteristic of true fresco work.—Harper's Weekly.

JAMES LOONEY AND CARL RICE NO MORE

Hancock ex-Postmaster Dies, Aged 87—Former Houghton Man Passes in Arizona.

James B. Looney, former postmaster of Hancock, died Sunday night at his home in that city. Death was due to the infirmities incident to his advanced age. He was born in county Kerry, Ireland, eighty-seven years ago.

Death of Carl Rice.

Announcement of the death of Globe, Arizona, of his brother, Carl Rice, was received Sunday by J. H. Rice of Houghton, president of the Houghton National bank. The deceased had been for the past three years clerk of the Superior & Boston mine at Globe, of which mine his brother, William G. Rice, is president.

Mr. Rice was taken ill with pneumonia a week ago. Death resulted on Sunday. William G. Rice was present and he and Mrs. Rice, widow of the deceased, left Globe yesterday morning for Houghton with the remains. They probably will reach Houghton on Friday. Carl Rice was forty years of age, son of Mrs. Katherine Rice of Houghton. The brothers named and a sister, Mrs. Joan Edwards of Houghton, also survive.

Mr. Rice was a native of Houghton, reared in the village. It is said that he probably had more close friends than any young man in Houghton county when he lived here. He was physically attractive and his disposition and character were magnetic. He was employed as clerk at the Lake Superior smelter, Dollar Bay, for some years, but left this important position to take a similar one at the Helvetia mine in Arizona eleven years ago. Later he prospectored and for the past five years has been with the Superior and Boston.

Stockholders of Butte & Ely met with Thos. F. Cole Thursday and presented objections to the rate of the proposed exchange of stock for shares in the Consolidated Copper Mines company. One share of new stock being offered for one and a quarter shares of Butte & Ely. Mr. Cole said the rate of exchange announced could not be changed, but that the majority shareholders of Butte & Ely should take the exchange or retain the old stock in Butte & Ely. Some of the stockholders in Butte are talking of taking the matter into the courts.

EAGLES' MEETING WILL OPEN TODAY

State Convention of the Fraternal Order in Session at Hancock This Week.

Coming to attend the state convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, which opens in Hancock this morning, a delegation of Detroit members reached Hancock Sunday evening. The arrival was entirely unexpected by the Hancock committee, but with a little hustling arrangements for the accommodation of the visitors were made. The second delegation arrived yesterday morning. The Sault Ste. Marie aerial comes in a private sleeper attached to the early morning train.

At an informal gathering yesterday morning state officers of the order registered as follows: President—John McLaughlin, Calumet. Vice President—Leonard C. Clapp, Traverse City.

Treasurer—E. A. Goff, Battle Creek. Secretary—B. S. Graham, Lansing. Trustees—M. W. Ryan, Alpena; H. F. Boyle, Kalamazoo; James F. Jewell, Houghton.

Past Junior President—Robert Graham, Grand Rapids. The degree team of Boyne City also reached Hancock yesterday morning. Headquarters have been established at the Scott Hotel, with the general information bureau at the Cote pharmacy.

It is expected that Muskegon will make the strongest fight for next year's convention. Muskegon was Hancock's bitterest opponent last year, but gracefully withdrew toward the close of the meeting and voted unanimously for the copper country city. Hancock members, as well as some of the state officers, yesterday expressed themselves in favor of Muskegon. Rumors were current in an upper peninsula circle would be in the field, but this report was given little credence.

Morning Session at 9:30.

The convention will come to an official opening this morning at 9:30 o'clock when the delegates and state officers will be welcomed to Hancock by Mayor Ojala. The president of the order and other state officers will respond. This gathering will take place in the Rouleau hall. Richard Hosking, president of the Hancock aeris, will deliver a short address of welcome and his remarks will be responded to by James F. Jewell of Houghton, one of the state trustees. This afternoon will be spent on a sight-seeing tour to mines in different parts of the county and also to the Michigan College of Mines. A business session will be held at 7:30 this evening.

GOOD FISHING REPORTED.

Good Catches at Nestoria, Huron Bay and Alston Are Announced.

Copper country trout fishermen seem to be having good luck, though on streams somewhat remote from the older fishing spots of Houghton county. Several good catches were reported for the week-end.

Mayor Davidson of Houghton took a small party, consisting of Ed Rompf, Superintendent Snyder of the Houghton County Electric Light company and Garvin Bowden, to Huron Bay in his motor cruiser last Friday, returning Sunday night. They brought back big baskets of brook trout and whitefish, which last named variety rapidly is coming to be included among sporting fish because of its scarcity.

Wellington Washburn was a member of a party that fished out of Nestoria Saturday and Sunday. All brought back full baskets and they all speak highly of the accommodations provided for them by Landlord William Swainston of the Nestoria Hotel, who makes a special effort to entertain fishermen. The streams around Nestoria are said to be alive with big trout.

Leo Barry, the Olston horse dealer, was in Houghton yesterday. He said that streams around Alston are teeming with fine trout and Houghton fishermen are passing up a good thing by not going out that way.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

Dayton-George Case Occupies the Attention of the Court.

The Houghton county circuit court was occupied all yesterday morning with the case of Mabel Dayton vs. Elias George, a suit to recover $100 paid by the plaintiff to George for a cloak. George delivered a cloak to the woman, but she had ordered a fur cloak and the one delivered was cloth. Miss Dayton offered in evidence a receipt purporting to come from the merchant, an acknowledgment of the $100, which receipt he denied signing. He admitted that he received the $100, but contended that the coat was worth the money and that the receipt shown implied a contract that he did not enter into. The case went to the jury early in the afternoon.

BOUND OVER TO CIRCUIT COURT.

Earl Carr, formerly of Ishpeming, arrested last week in Calumet on a charge of attempted criminal assault on the person of a nine-year-old girl, was yesterday bound over to the circuit court by Justice Jackola. In default of bail, the defendant was remanded to jail.

Katherine J. Norton, New Bedford, Mass., says: "I had a terrible pain across my back, with a burning and scalding feeling. I took Foley's Kidney Pills as advised, with results certain and sure. The pain and burning feeling left me, I felt toned up and invigorated. I recommend Foley's Kidney Pills." For backache, rheumatism, lumbago, and all kidney and bladder ailments, use Foley's Kidney Pills. For sale by All Druggists.

INFANTRY CHALLENGE ENGINEERS

Houghton Militiamen Would Shoot Against the Calumet Company.

The Houghton Light Infantry rifle team has issued a challenge to the Calumet Engineers for a team match to take place some time during the summer. The challenge has not as yet been made formally, but the Engineers have been given to understand it will be forwarded in due form and the Engineers are awaiting it in order to accept it.

Both companies are making extra efforts to develop rifle shooting among the members. The Calumet company is handicapped slightly now by a lack of an adequate outdoor range as the Tamara track range is in process of repair. The Houghton company is shooting every Sunday.

MISS STOCKLY MARRIED.

Member of Hancock High School Faculty Wedded in Chicago.

Announcement was made yesterday of the marriage in Chicago Sunday of Miss Est. Stockly, teacher of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stockly of Hancock. The young woman was a member of the Hancock High school faculty. The announcement of the wedding came as a complete surprise.

Miss Stockly left Hancock Saturday afternoon. She was married to A. Carl Marmon, a construction engineer. The young man is in the employ of the Lakawana Construction company of New York and was located at Hancock for several months last summer while his firm was completing work at the Quincy mine.

Mr. Marmon was recently transferred from Chicago to Cleveland, this being responsible in a measure for the wedding at such an early date.

FARM BUREAU MEETING.

Leo M. Geismar Will Outline His Scheme for Farm Instruction.

A meeting of the directors of the Houghton County Farm bureau will be held today for the purpose of receiving from L. M. Geismar, the county farm expert, his general scheme for carrying out the objects of the bureau. At the same time the directors will designate one day that will be spent in his office by the expert. This day is to be set apart in order to give farmers an opportunity to communicate with the expert for the purpose of making appointments, also to give them an opportunity for personal interviews.

Geismar in Action.

One apparently unimportant incident will show the value of Mr. Geismar's services to the county. A. N. Baudin, cashier of the Houghton National bank has a few apple trees on the grounds at his home on Agate street. These trees have not been producing fruit and Mr. Baudin asked Mr. Geismar to look them over.

The expert took one look at the trees, just now beautiful in their foliage, trees offering at last a luxuriant screen against the sun if not offering any prospect of fruit. Mr. Geismar took one look at the beautiful trees and then he drew his trusty pocket knife and proceeded to prune those trees down till they looked like skeletons of their former selves, till he scattered the grounds with brush. "There was too much wood in your apple trees, Mr. Baudin," said the expert.

Mr. Baudin's trees probably will bear a little fruit this fall and a year hence should produce a crop. The minor advice now that they have not to dissipate their strength in keeping up an excess of leaves and twigs.

BACCALAUREATE ADDRESS.

Rev. Reuben Crosby Talks to Hancock High School Seniors.

The First Congregational church at Hancock was filled with people Sunday evening when the baccalaureate address to the commencement class of the Hancock public schools was delivered at a union service of the church and congregations. Rev. Dr. Bettys and Rev. Matz Barrett, pastor of the church, took part in the service. Rev. Reuben Crosby, of the First Methodist Episcopal church, gave the address. Special music was offered by the choir, the choir sang a solo. The union service was a new feature and it is understood that in the future the services will be of this character.

Mr. Crosby chose as his subject, "The Life of an Honor Graduate," based on the Hebrews, eleventh chapter, 24 to 26 verses. Mr. Crosby said that the eleventh chapter in the epistle to the Hebrews was approximately called the honor of the Bible school and the picture gallery of the Scriptures. "Here," he said, "is displayed the men and women of old and Bible times who have been held and daring, strong to do exploits and in various kinds of service have won distinction and been decorated with God's Victoria cross, the token of his special favor and approval. My purpose is, first of all, to take a brief and hurried glance round the gallery, then take one of the portraits for special consideration and attention."

The speaker presented a series of word pictures until he came to that of Moses, which he styled the portrait of an honor graduate who was learned in all the learnings of the Egyptians, qualified by training and character for leadership in church, state or social life. "What was right then and for him is not wrong for you here and now," he said. "If a man can succeed better in Russia with the backing of the czar; if the favor of the emperor is an advantage in Germany; if the patronage of the king would open doors in England, or the endorsement of President Wilson be a benefit in America, surely in a world where God has sown a man who has His indorsement and guidance would succeed."

better than one who lives in open opposition to His Almightyness." The speaker wished for every graduate the best blessing of heaven and said that would surely follow. In conclusion, Mr. Crosby has shown the larger life Moses lived here in God's order and plan. Mr. Crosby called Moses back to witness to the wisdoms of the choice from the eternal outlook which was now His with the result that has proved that no man gives up aught for God who does not receive a hundred fold here and in the world to come, life everlasting.

Markets

[From Geo. F. Rues, Ishpeming.]

Boston, June 16.—The market opened strong at high levels for this move. Shortly, however, there was quite a little selling pressure by traders who were fortunate enough to take advantage of a sharp advance. Around noon stocks were again freely offered on rumors of crop damage, and also dry hot weather in the spring wheat states of the Northwest. Lake was the weak feature, selling off to 6 on unfavorable showing in annual report. We do not look for much reaction from this level and believe the trend will be gradually upward. The closing prices were:

Daily Market Letter.

The New York market opened strong and fractionally higher, but a considerable profit taking resulted in declines ranging from 1 to 3 points. This reaction is only natural after the sharp advance of last week.

The Boston market acted in sympathy with New York and closed off from 1/2 to 1 point.

The weakness in Lake was the only feature. This state broke firm on a selling basis on the poor annual report.

North Butte declared regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents payable July 19th to holders of record July 3rd.

Greene Cananea stockholders today voted to change the par value of the stock from $20 to $10, which will reduce the number of shares from 3,000,000 to 600,000.

The foreign visible supply of copper in England, France and about June 16 was 29,301 tons, a decrease of 333 tons in the past fortnight.

The market is improving daily. It is reported that some large electric users are bidding 15 cents for electrolytic but so far as can be learned no business has been done. The strike at the Nichols Refinery will, it is believed become a factor of importance if it continues much longer as it takes 1,250,000 pounds of electrolytic copper each day. The plant is closed down. The closing prices:

NOTES OF MINING NEWS

The Cale interests have now accumulated more than 100,000 acres of undeveloped and undeveloped mining ground in the eastern section of the Butte district, and have paid in excess of $1,000,000. It is rumored that the property may be turned over to North Butte, but whether the same will be purchased by a new company organized has not yet been determined positively. Though some of interests favor giving the property to North Butte, it is certain it is not going to the Anaconda company. Thomas F. Cole has been in Butte lately, looking after that and other properties.

A rumor that the directors of the Winona have decided to shut down the property is denied. For the past few months the company has very nearly broken even on operations, and if sufficient framers could have been procured the output could have been increased to permit a profit. The question of a shutdown has never been officially considered by the directors and it is hardly probable such a step will be taken with the metal at its present level.

All hope of a final dividend on Old Dominion "trust receipts" is shattered by Vice-Chancellor Howell's decision to grant Mr. Hyman an injunction. Another long delay will ensue before the litigation is finally settled, as the case may be appealed even after the decision is rendered in the hearing now set down for the latter part of September. In the meantime about $2,000,000 in cash and securities are tied up awaiting final adjudication as to who are the beneficiaries of this long-drawn out litigation.

The liquidation of 25,000 shares of Utah Copper held as security for a loan is the explanation made in New York for the recent weakness in that stock. The company's production is now approaching normal, and earnings are more than double dividend requirements.

ISHPEMING'S HOME COMING.

Officers of Celebration Extend Invitation to Swanzy Range People.

Inasmuch as the undersigned were unable to secure the names of all former residents of Ishpeming living on the Swanzy range, for the purpose of sending them personal invitations to the home coming and Fourth of July celebration, we take this means of inviting them to attend. We also extend an invitation to all other residents of the Swanzy district, and we assure all who visit us during the week of June 30 that they will be heartily welcomed.

The committees are now arranging their program and they believe that the entertainment, especially the program on the Fourth, will be the most attractive ever offered in the upper peninsula. There will be special railroad rates from all points in the district.

FRANK E. KEESE, Chairman. ED J. BUTLER, Secretary.

RESIGNS POSITION.

Annar Kroghdahl Will Join Staff of Mine Rescue Car at Ishpeming.

Resigning his position as shift boss at the Stevenson mine, Annar Kroghdahl has accepted an offer to join the staff of the mine rescue car, which left Ishpeming yesterday for Ironwood. He will succeed G. W. Grove, of Ironwood. Mr. Kroghdahl is thoroughly competent to serve in the new position. He has been working on the Swanzy range for the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company since that company entered the field, and has devoted considerable of his time to a thorough study of first aid work.

BASEBALL DANCE A SUCCESS.

Large numbers were present Saturday evening at the dance at the Gwinn club given by the members of the baseball club. The hall had been prettily decorated for the occasion and presented an attractive appearance. The guests enjoyed several hours of dancing, the music being furnished by the Gwinn orchestra. The proceeds will go to the baseball team.

Muffins

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.

When muffins are on the breakfast table, nobody cares for meat or eggs and this will be served more often if this meal were not prepared so hurriedly that there is no time to make them. If K. C. the double-raise baking powder is used, the batter may be stirred up the night before, put in the pan ready for baking and nothing to do in the morning but bake them.

One-Egg Muffins

2 cups flour; 2 slightly rounded teaspoonfuls K. C. Baking Powder; 1 teaspoonful salt; 1 cup sugar; 1 cup melted butter or lard; 1 egg; 1 cup water or milk. Sift dry ingredients together three times. Add to this the unbeaten egg, melted shortening and water or milk. Then beat all together until perfectly smooth. Oil muffin or gem pans and have oven slow until the muffins come to the top of the pan, then increase the heat to the top of the pan, and brown the muffins. This recipe makes 12 large muffins. Raisins or currants may be added if desired.

Graham Muffins

1 cup graham flour; 1 cup pastry flour; 2 level teaspoonfuls K. C. Baking Powder; 1 to 2 level teaspoonfuls sugar; 1 level teaspoonful salt; 1 egg; 1 1/2 cups milk or water; 2 to 3 tablespoonfuls melted butter; mix and bake as One-Egg Muffins. Graham batter should always be quite soft to insure light and moist muffins. To get 48 other recipes as good as these, send us the certificate packed in every 25-cent can of K. C. Baking Powder, and we will send you "The Cook's Book" by Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill. Handsomely illustrated. Jaques Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

MARQUETTE WON FROM GWINN SUNDAY

Largest Crowd That Ever Witnessed a Ball Game on the Range Turned Out.

The Gwinn baseball team, which was defeated Sunday by Marquette by a score of 13 to 9, is not faring very well on its own grounds this season, as it has lost both its games there. The attendance Sunday was the largest that has ever witnessed a ball game in Gwinn. The batting honors were about even, the Gwinn mine having secured ten hits off Jensen, while Swanson was touched for nine.

PUMPING WATER FROM SHAFT.

During the past week the work of pumping water from the shaft of the Gwinn, or Smith, mine has been begun, and operations at the mine are expected soon to commence. The mine has been closed during the past year. When running full hand this property employs more men than any mine on the Swanzy range.

Miss J. Kidder has returned from Neagame, where she has been the guest of friends during the past week. She has been visiting Miss E. Hoglund, of Gwinn, and left yesterday for her home in Crosby, Minn.

Captain Bone, who recently accepted a position as captain at the Stevenson mine, to succeed Captain Perkins, will move his family to Gwinn this week. They will occupy the Jacobson home on Elm street.

O. D. McClure, master mechanic of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, was down from Ishpeming to look over the new rotary engine at the Princeton mine, which broke down Thursday. The engine has been repaired.

Rev. W. J. Ellis, of Marquette, conducted services Sunday at the Gwinn Episcopal church. The church is soon to be dedicated by Bishop G. Mott Williams, of Marquette.

Martin Sather, physical director of the Gwinn club, is giving swimming lessons three afternoons a week. Any person who is unable to swim is asked to call at the club and make an appointment.

Charles Isaacson, employed at the machine shops at Austin, has been constructed a set of chimes for G. B. Jackson's Franklin car. The chimes are worked by the exhaust from the engine.

Daggett Farmer Shot to Death.

John Sundberg, a pioneer farmer of Menominee county, residing two miles west of Daggett, was found dead in his cornfield, a bullet hole in his head and a rifle at his side. Whether the man committed suicide or the shooting was accidental is not known. If a suicide, no reason is known for the rash act, as the deceased was in comfortable circumstances, had no domestic troubles, and was enjoying apparently good health. Sundberg took his rifle to his cornfield to shoot crows. The field is a short distance from the house, and when Alvin Sundberg, a son, heard a shot, he went to learn if his father had succeeded in shooting one of the birds. The younger Sundberg was horrified to find his parent lying on the ground with a bullet wound in his head. Death must have been instantaneous. The deceased was sixty years old. For the last twenty-five years he had been engaged in farming near Daggett. Besides his wife, he is survived by one son, Alvin Sundberg, and one daughter, Mrs. Albert Berkland.

Ironwood Girl Bride of Western Man.

Miss Mildred Abel, only daughter of George H. Abel of Ironwood, and Thomas Harbne Monroe of Tacoma, Wash., were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents Wednesday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edwin D. Wood of the Church of the Transfiguration in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends of the young people. Miss Margaret Snell of Tacoma, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Edith Thomas and Miss Geneva Johnston. James V. Monroe of Tacoma, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and George H. Abel, Jr., and John Abel, brothers of the bride, were the groomsmen. The out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's father sister and brother, Judge W. H. Snell, Miss Margaret Snell and James V. Monroe, Tacoma; the bride's grandmother, Mrs. H. M. Birdsall, and her cousin, Miss Florence Birdsall, Pasadena, Cal.; Miss Martin Wiggins, Gilbert, Minn.; Mrs. R. D. Blackburn, Hancock, Minn.; Mrs. Niven, New London, Wis.; Mrs. Fred Hart, Boston, and old friends of the family from several cities of the Gogebic range, the bride is one of Ironwood's fairest daughters. She was born in Gogebic county, and has lived there all her life. Mr. Monroe is one of Tacoma's successful young business men. He is engaged in the wholesale dry goods business. Mr. and Mrs. Monroe left for Chicago, and from there will go to New York city to visit the bride's paternal grandparents and will spend some time at Atlantic City. They will return to Tacoma in about a month.

Mail Carriers to Report Fires.
The official postal guide recently issued directs the attention of postmasters and rural carriers to an order of the department at Washington that the carriers report to the proper authorities, all forest fires detected along their routes. This order was issued at the request of the secretary of agriculture. For several years in some parts of the country a sort of informal understanding has existed between forest rangers and mail carriers. The effectiveness of this co-operation was a strong argument in favor of its extension. Many fires have been discovered by rural carriers and put out before much damage was done. The plan as outlined in the guide is for the carrier to report a fire to the nearest forest officer on his route, or, if no officer lives on the route, to have him notified by some responsible citizen. Co-operation with the game wardens and the several state fire wardens will take place in this state. To make fire fighting and the warning of such fires easier for the carriers, the state and national foresters are supplied with post road maps and postal guides containing the addresses of the different postmasters. The postmasters in turn are supplied by the foresters with the names, addresses and telephone numbers of forest officers residing on or near the carriers' route. This plan is expected to reap good results and contribute much toward the suppression of forest fires.

County Hospital a Burden.

Although definite figures will not be made public until the board of supervisors meets today a report prepared by A. H. Rolph, auditor, will show that the Delta county hospital in thirty years has cost the taxpayers over $100,000. The report will show that up to the time Superintendent E. M. Olmsted assumed charge the average annual loss was $3,000, while the annual loss during the incumbency of Mr. Olmsted has averaged $1,000. The annual deficits, with the cost of the hospital buildings and the present value, make up the big total that the institution has cost the taxpayers. For several years Superintendent Olmsted has urged that the hospital was a losing proposition and a needless luxury, as in every instance the hospital has been paid in full for the care of every county and township case and the annual deficit represents, therefore, the amount that has been actually lost by the operations. Members of the special committee, named at the last meeting of the board, will strongly recommend that the county dispose of the institution.

NOTICE.

The Board of Education of School District No. 1 of the city of Negaunee will receive sealed bids for the erection of a manual training building, including heating, plumbing and electrical work, according to plans and specifications prepared by John D. WILL TAKE APPEAL TO CIRCUIT COURT

Jury Found Matt Koivisto Guilty of Exceeding Speed Limit—Fine Was Imposed.

A jury in Judge Irving Argall's court yesterday morning returned a verdict of guilty in the case of the People vs. Matt Koivisto, charged with having exceeded the speed limit. A fine of $25 and costs of $10 were imposed. Mr. Koivisto has taken an appeal to circuit court, where the case will be tried in September. The complaint was signed by August Ricklad, a policeman, and charges that May 24 Mr. Koivisto drove through the main thoroughfares of the city at a rate exceeding ten miles an hour, the speed limit set by a city ordinance. A. V. Jurma, of Ishpeming, defended Mr. Koivisto.

Several witnesses were examined during the trial yesterday morning. The first witness called was Officer Ricklad, who testified that he saw Mr. Koivisto in his car near the Negaunee postoffice and that he drove down Tobin street as far as Jackson street and from there through the city square up Silver street to the South Shore depot. The speed of the car was so great that it threw mud upon the sidewalk. As he crossed the Northwestern crossing, Mr. Ricklad declared that the speed of the car was, in his judgment, nearly forty miles an hour.

George Price, the second witness for the prosecution, related that he was standing near the crossing at the time the car drove up the hill to the depot, and that its speed was from twenty to twenty-five miles per hour. He followed the car to the depot, the attention of a number of people having been attracted by its excessive speed. Mr. Price said that Mr. Koivisto narrowly averted striking two boys who were playing on the hill at the time. Thomas Allen, another witness, also said that Mr. Koivisto was driving from twenty to twenty-five miles an hour. Mr. Koivisto and J. J. Wentala were the witnesses put on the stand for the defense. The defendant claimed that his machine was not in proper running condition and that his speed at no time exceeded ten miles an hour. Mr. Wentala's testimony was similar to that of Mr. Koivisto, he asserting that Mr. Koivisto was going from eight to twelve miles per hour.

TAX COMMISSION SENDS VALUES UP

Negaunee Board of Review Reduced Some of Its Figures and Raised Others.

The city council, acting as a board of review, will complete its work today, after being in session every day, including Sunday, since June 9. The sessions of last week were private, but today's meeting will be open to the public.

The board last week went over all the figures presented by the tax commission, which had been working in the city for several weeks revaluing all personal property and real estate. In some cases the valuations presented to the city assessor by the tax commission were from two to three times higher than had previously appeared on the tax roll. The board of review cut down the tax commission's figures on a large number of properties, but in a few cases the increases were not very large. The members of the board considered that the valuations of the tax commission on many of the residences, also on a few of the business blocks, were higher than they should be.

A few property owners called at the city hall yesterday and protested against their valuations. A number of business men entered protests on the valuations placed on their stocks of merchandise. These protests, together with any that may be entered at today's session, will be considered before the board adjourns this evening. The advances in the valuation of the stocks of merchandise by the tax commission were as large, proportionately, as were the values placed on real estate.

The valuations of mine properties were not changed either by the tax commission or the Negaunee board. The members of the commission informed the city officials, however, that a mining man will go over the mining properties before the October meeting, with a view to rearranging the valuations, and it is expected that a number of important changes will be made in the mine valuations at the October meeting, upon recommendations of the commission.

If the mine valuations are not increased in proportion to the increase in the valuation of the personal and real estate properties of the individual taxpayers, the latter will pay higher taxes than they did last year. The belief that the city officials express is that the increase will not be very large, as the rate will be considerably lower. The rate last year was $1.22 on each $100 valuation. The mining companies operating properties in the city paid nearly 93 per cent. of the taxes. Of the total sum the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company paid more than 60 per cent. The amount of taxes collected in 1912 was $243,834.50. Of this sum the mining companies paid $221,437.54, leaving $22,397 as the amount paid by the individual property owners. The amount of the percentages paid by the several mining companies was as follows:

Cleveland-Cliffs $149,047 69 61
Republic 17,533 34 7
Breitings 9,186 82 4
Jones & Laughlin 37,354 64 16

FIVE BIRTHS.

The births of five children have been recorded at the office of the city recorder during the past week, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Maurizio Leonville of the Rolling Mill location on June 4; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Emil Aho, of Maas street on June 9; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Marquette, of Peck street; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Steve B. Donithorne, Jr., of Merry street; and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Konstu Kokko, of the Ishpeming road location.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Lloyd Stoll of Marquette, was in Negaunee for a brief visit Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Herman, of Munising, are in Negaunee for a few days' visit.

William Pohlman, of Detroit, spent yesterday in the city on a business mission.

Dr. and Mrs. C. N. Portum, of Marquette, spent Sunday in Negaunee visiting with friends.

Miss Esther Remillard, of Marquette, visited with Mrs. Mayme Thibault, of Peck street, Sunday.

Mrs. G. M. Bellmer and daughter, of Lake Linden, are visiting Negaunee friends for two weeks.

The Finnish Benefit lodge gave a picnic Sunday afternoon at the grove near the Maas mine. It was largely attended.

The board of review, which has been in session the week past, held its first public session yesterday at the city hall and will close its meetings this afternoon.

The Finnish Lutheran churches of Negaunee and Ishpeming held a picnic Sunday at the Cleveland park, most of the delegates to the church convention at Ishpeming during the latter part of the week attending. The band accompanied the crowd, several hundred people having been present.

Henry Schwartz, son, Edward, and daughters, Agnes and Louise, left Sunday night for Los Angeles, Cal., where they will make their home. Mrs. Schwartz and sons, Charles, Paul and Joseph, have been here during the past winter. Mr. Schwartz is one of Negaunee's oldest residents.

Rapid headway is being made with the work now being done by the board of public works on West Iron street. The tracks of the street railway have been moved over into the center of the street in the block from Tobin to Cvr streets and work was commenced yesterday on the block between Tobin and Gold streets. As soon as the tracks are in position, the work of macadamizing the street will be begun.

Mining News

WESTERN COPPER MINES.

J. B. Hayden of Hayden, Stone & Co., Boston, who spent the most on my recent western trip, as on my previous trips, was the steady improvement in operating conditions at practically all the large copper-mining properties. In the underground mines, man and machine teaming are giving way to motor skips are replacing cages. On the surface, wooden structures are being supplanted by steel and concrete. Everywhere hand labor is disappearing and steam or electricity, the latter often generated by water power, are taking its place. The net result of this is that in spite of higher wages and more expensive material the cost of copper is being kept down to a very reasonable figure. I doubt if there is any line of industry in which more intelligence and ingenuity has been displayed in meeting changing economic conditions than in the production of copper.

"Next to this, I was struck by the certainty and regularity that marked the operation of the well-managed porphyry mines. They have been well called 'copper manufacturing enterprises.' All of the so-called Jacking properties are actually exceeding in performance, official estimates. Regarding the individual properties, the feature at Chino, most interesting to me was the excellent possibility of adding to its reserves. It is not impossible that these will be increased 50 per cent. The actual development of such an addition would warrant a corresponding increase in productive capacity.

"Ray Consolidated is a triumph of efficient organization. To produce copper from underground, from ore running about 1.7 per cent., at a cost of nine cents, as this company is now doing, is nothing short of phenomenal. It means the entirely successful working out of its system of mining, in many features of which the company has been a pioneer. "Utah Copper, at the time of my visit, was treating 23,000 tons daily. Perhaps what this means can best be realized by saying that this would fill a train of about 400 large cars every day, and that for every ton of ore the company is moving, approximately, two tons of capping. The face of exposed ore has been greatly extended, both vertically and laterally, since my previous visit.

"Mention should also be made of the splendid showing of high-grade ore at the Calumet & Arizona, of the satisfactory development and efficient management of the Old Dominion, and of the interesting possibilities of the Silt-tuck-Arizona and East Butte mines. Strictly as mining propositions these properties, in their respective classes, have a great deal of merit."

For the last eleven days from May 21 to 31, inclusive, the new plant of the Butte & Superior company milled 7,776 tons of ore, an average of 706 tons per day. The average assay value of the ore was 20.35 per cent. zinc. The extraction was a little better than 88 per cent, showing consistent improvement over recent monthly figures. What is

SEWER ROLLS ARE CONFIRMED

Council at Special Meeting Last Evening Ordered Collection of Special Assessments for Two Improvements—Old Charges Are Placed Upon the Tax Roll.

Cost of Eastern Trunk Sewer, All but $8,000 of Which Is Still Unpaid, Was Among the Letter—An Extension of Time Refused—Last Deed Costs $200.

The common council met for an hour last evening for the final confirmation of two special assessment rolls covering the construction of two sewers, one in Pine street from a manhole in the eastern trunk sewer at the intersection of Fair avenue and Pine street to the corner of Park street; another in Waldo street, from manhole at the corner of Presque Isle avenue to a point several hundred feet west of the west line of Presque Isle avenue.

The Pine street improvement calls for a ten and twelve-inch tile sewer, while the Waldo street improvement calls for a six-inch tile sewer. No one was present to object, so the aldermen proceeded to confirm. The procedure reminded the councilmen of the night the eastern trunk sewer roll was acted upon. A special meeting, such as last evening's, had been called, but there were no spectators near property holders present to voice their sentiment on the assessments, and silence answered the mayor's question: "Is there anyone here to object? If not we are ready to proceed with the confirmation of the roll." Both proposed improvements are of minor nature and will cost the property holders but little as compared to the benefits they will receive. Both sewers have been wanted for a number of years.

Special Assessments Spread on Roll.

The committee on finance and taxation reported a list of the following special assessments still unpaid that were, on motion, ordered spread on the tax roll, thereby giving the treasurer the same powers of forcing payment as he has in the case of taxes:

- Concrete Sidewalk Assessment No. 19, confirmed Dec. 19, 1912.
- Concrete Sidewalk Assessment No. 20, confirmed Nov. 20, 1911.
- Concrete Sidewalk Assessment No. 21, confirmed Feb. 3, 1913.
- Assessment No. 129, confirmed April 15, 1912.
- Assessment No. 130, confirmed July 15, 1912.
- Assessment No. 131, confirmed Aug. 19, 1912.
- Assessment No. 132, confirmed Aug. 19, 1912.
- Assessment No. 133, confirmed Sept. 3, 1912.
- Assessment No. 134, confirmed Sept. 3, 1912.
- Assessment No. 136, confirmed Dec. 2, 1912.
- Assessment No. 137, confirmed Feb. 17, 1913.

Some discussion arose as to whether the last item, the special assessment on the eastern trunk sewer, should be placed on the tax roll. Alderman Jopling started the discussion. He arose to suggest that a motion introduced by him some time ago had as its object the extension of time for paying the assessments and that as the cost of the sewer was a heavy burden to many taxpayers he believed all due consideration should be given.

Alderman St. John said the finance committee advised the heavy burden to many, but inasmuch as on Nov. 1 the contract time will have expired and the full bill will have to be paid, it is necessary to make some start to get in the cash. The last time the time was extended, the limit was set as June 27, while the assessments originally shown have been paid three months ago.

Alderman Hennessy was one of those who believed the time ought to be extended as far as possible and asked the city attorney whether there was any way of settling around the point. His views on the matter were supported by Alderman Madigan. The city attorney reported that any other method of collecting the assessments would be inefficient, for by the time the full amount would be brought in the payment of the contract would be delayed.

The cause of the delay in payments of assessments, even by those who could afford to do so without waiting, was discussed. Mayor Fassender declared that most everyone was holding off payments, supposing the city would be considerate in making its collection of the heavy burden. So far but $8,000 has been paid on the roll.

Alderman Shaner asked whether the finance and taxation committee had not been asked to report on the matter of extending the time for payment of the eastern trunk sewer assessment, and Alderman Scully, the chairman, replied that the matter had been referred to the committee, and that its report consisted of the inclusion of this assessment with the bunch that are to be spread on the tax roll.

The council then adopted the report of the committee, without alteration, by unanimous vote.

Last Right-of-Way Deed.

City Attorney Brown presented a deed for a right-of-way for the eastern trunk sewer through a forty owned by J. M. Longyear et al. the last of these valuable documents. The deeds were ready for delivery several months ago, having been prepared by J. E. Sherman. Mr. Longyear's associates, however, protested that they had not been consulted in the matter and inasmuch as the burden of the special assessment fell especially heavy upon their shoulders, since the sewer had a longer course over their property than over any other single parcel of land, they demanded compensation equal to the amount of the assessment. When the council agreed to take some of the burden off the property holders within the assessment district, Mr. Longyear's associates agreed to cut down their demands. They were much disappointed, however, to find that the amount charged to the general fund designated very slightly their share of the burden. Finally they agreed to turn over the deed for a consideration of $200.

This proposition submitted by Mr.

Brown caused no little furore in the council chamber. Alderman Schauer was the first man to his feet and demanded an explanation of why the matter should have come up at this "eleventh hour," he expostulated over the fact that the deed had already been laid through the greatest part of the property, which lies east of Pine street. He and other members of the council, he said, understood that all deeds had been delivered and the city had already been assured of a complete right-of-way. Mr. Brown agreed that he had supposed so, too, but that he had mentioned previously the fact that the deed had been held up on the very eve of delivery.

There was much discussion over whether the sum should be paid. This was the first demand made on the council and with the expense of the sewer daily piling up there was no disposition to take such a proposition gracefully. The first recourse was to appeal to the city attorney for a way out of the difficulty. Mr. Brown informed the aldermen that condemnation proceedings would be the alternative, but these could not be started before the September term of court. He argued that the delays might cost the city much money, as the property owners could ask and probably get an injunction prohibiting further work on the sewer until the settlement of the matter. He argued that a jury trial and a test of the situation in a condemnation at the expense of the city as plaintiff would cost at the very least $200, and probably more, with attorney's fees, and that in the end a jury would scarcely see but what a defendant in such a proceeding was entitled to at least $200. He argued the aldermen to accept the proposition as the most graceful way out of the difficulty, also the cheapest. This view was adopted and the payment of the $200 was voted.

Alderman Schauer asked whether the committee on public buildings and grounds had anything to report on the matter of charging rental for office space in the city hall, and learned that it had not. He suggested that inasmuch as this committee had been ordered to report at last night's meeting it might "get busy" and do something.

Alderman Schauer made a motion that the city attorney draft an ordinance requiring the licensing of a city plumber to tap sewers, inasmuch as some of this work in the past has not been carefully done and in cases where the sewer is on one side of the street instead of in the middle the property owners on the opposite side have to stand the added expense of ditching the street in connection with it. The city plumbers' duties shall be to bring the sewer to the curb-line.

On the suggestion of Alderman Hennessy, Dr. A. W. Deadman, city milk and dairy inspector, arose to discuss an amendment to the milk ordinance making it unlawful for the milk dealer to use milk bottles stamped with another's name or trademark. Such an ordinance is in operation in Milwaukee. The Marquette milkmen have had no little difficulty and had gone to considerable expense because of the general circulation of milk bottles. Alderman Hennessy moved that the matter be referred to the committee on ordinances and rules, to prepare such an amendment. The motion was supported and unanimously carried.

REWARD IS OFFERED.

Sheriff Moloney Receives Description of Joe Tobias.

Chippewa county is offering $500 reward for the capture of Joe Tobias, the man who shot and killed Deputy Sheriff James Sutton and Allen Scribner, who was called to assist in arresting the man about ten days ago, after he had stabbed an Indian near Brimley. The notice of reward is accompanied by a description of the escaped murderer.

Tobias is described as a man twenty-five years of age; height 5 feet 6 inches and weight about 140 or 150 pounds. His nationality is given as either Russian, Polish or Austrian and he has a small, round face, small black eyes, very dark complexion, and when last seen had a black mustache. He has a habit of looking down when spoken to. He was dressed in a dark blue suit and had a soft, black felt hat. He stoops slightly when walking and toes in a trifle. His general appearance is that of a laboring man and he is somewhat slovenly and careless in dress and manner. It is said he has a scar on the back of one hand, caused by being grazed by a bullet.

VAUDEVILLE-MOTION PICTURES.

U. B. A. Time Next Week.

The Marquette Opera House announces that beginning the first half of next week regular twice-a-week changes in vaudeville will prevail. A contract has been closed with the United Booking agency, now working upper Michigan in conjunction with Sullivan & Conscience, for two good "acts" every week. Siegel & Matthews, who were to present a musical sketch Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, failed to put in an appearance, but fortunately Miss Neville arrived in the city yesterday afternoon with her pet Skye terrier and after a consultation with Manager Jopling accepted a contract for the first three nights of this week. Miss Neville presents a novel singing, talking and dancing sketch, introducing original cabaret features. Her performance is delightful and it pleased two well-filled houses last evening. Unless something new in the vaudeville line turns up for the last half of the week—and nothing is expected—Miss Neville may remain until next Monday. She has a large repertoire of new songs and dances and can vary her program any number of times with little trouble.

ROLL OF HONOR.

Forteen High School Students Establish Attendance Records.

A roll of honor, containing the names of fourteen students who have perfect attendance records to their credit has been compiled at the Marquette High school. Badges indicating the year or number of consecutive years of perfect attendance have been bestowed. The best record is that of Miss Evelyn Wilson, a junior student, who has been neither absent nor tardy since she started school. If her record remains unchanged another year she will have equalled the record of a Lansing girl who received honors for twelve years' perfect attendance and whose accomplishment was heralded far and wide. So far as is known the Lansing student is the first to make a perfect record in her entire school life.

The record of Grant McCauley, who is a sophomore, but who, in his eleven years of attendance upon the public schools, has never been absent nor tardy, vies with that of Miss Wilson. Miss Grace Johnson, Miss Ada Wilson and Lois Parr have each nine years' perfect attendance to their credit, while Miss Marion Reinhardt has not been absent nor tardy in six years. This year's roll of honor contains the following names:

Eleven years—Evelyn Wilson and Grant McCauley.

Nine years—Ada Wilson, Lois Parr and Grace Johnson.

Six years—Marion Reinhardt.

Three years—Mamie Clune.

Two years—Marie Aytotte and Alma Bauer.

One year—Clyde DeHaas, Elvera Frei, Clara Hansen, Mabel Hansen and Marie Pelissier.

STANDING OF THE TEAMS.

Negaunee Nine Stands at Top of Percentage Column of County League.

Team	W.	L.	P.C.
Negaunee	3	1	.750
Gwinn	2	2	.500
Ishpeming	2	2	.500
Marquette	1	3	.250

In winning from Ishpeming Sunday in its fourth contest this season, the Negaunee team of the Marquette County Baseball league placed itself at the top of the percentage column. Marquette defeated Gwinn at the latter's grounds Sunday by the score of 13 to 9, the first victory for the team this season.

The contest at Gwinn was featured by the playing of Abbie Ripelle in left field. Ripelle is an old diamond star and for a number of years has played in Marquette-Alger County, the old Marquette County and in the Marquette-Delta County leagues his now somewhat corpulent figure decorated the landscape in left field. Sunday's game is the first in which Ripelle has participated for two and a half years. It was indicated that his long absence from the diamond has not seriously impeded his ability. Abbie took his brother Horace's place in Sunday's contest.

Sih Larson entered the game Sunday as first baseman; Johnson, who he succeeded, going to his former position in center field. Larson played last year in the Iron-Copper league. Another new man in Sunday's game was Larmond, an old Marquette player who has not been here for the past few seasons, but who has been performing with the An Train and Trout Creek teams. Larmond took Weiser's place in right field, with practically three new men in the outfield and a new first baseman, Manager Rydholm feels that he has materially strengthened the team. The next game is to be played here Sunday, with Negaunee as the contender.

KILLED BY LIGHT.

Those who have studied the strange inhabitants of the Mammoth Cave in Kentucky say that the celebrated blind fish from that cavern, when placed in illuminated aquaria, seek out the darkest places, and it is believed that light is directly fatal to them, for they die if kept in a brightly lighted tank. The avoidance of light seems to be a general characteristic of the sightless creatures dwelling in the great cave. An authority tells of seeing an eyeless spider trying to avoid the light and animals from the waters of the cavern hiding under a grain of sand on the stage of a microscope. It is thought that the light in these cases is in some manner perceived through the sense of touch.—Harper's Weekly.

A MOST WONDERFUL CURE.

Joseph D. Underhill, of Doland, S. Dakota, says:—I have received great benefit from your White Wine of Tar Syrup. I had a deep seated cough and the doctors gave up all hopes of my recovery and pronounced it consumption. I tried everything that we could hear of. Finally one of my friends prevailed upon me to use your White Wine of Tar Syrup. I took 1-2 bottles and am entirely cured. Such a blessing I can recommend to those who are afflicted as I was.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Owing to other business interests which need my own personal attention I have sold my local business, The Washington Shoe Store to Messrs John Lammi and Alfred Tallback who need no introduction to the residents of Marquette. On that occasion I take pleasure in thanking the public for their cordial patronage in the past and trust that the present owners will be as cordially received. With best wishes to all, I am most respectfully,
