Biplane Disabled at Height of 1,600 Feet, It Falls Abruptly—One Occupant Is Catapulted Into Sea; the Other Manages to Cling to Wreck and Is Rescued.

Annapolis, Md., June 20.—The navy added its first victim to the death roll of the air today when Ensign William D. Billingsley was hurled from a disabled biplane sixteen hundred feet in the air and fell into Chesapeake bay.

Billingsley, with Towers as a passenger, left the naval academy here this morning to fly some eighteen miles across the bay. About ten miles down the bay the fragile aeroplane was caught in a gust of wind.

When the aeroplane started on its dive, Lieutenant Towers clung desperately to one of the uprights between the planes.

At the hospital tonight, Lieutenant Towers was listed as "slightly injured internally" but the surgeons were in doubt as to the exact extent of his injuries.

At the naval academy hospital Lieutenant Towers is today in a state of nervous collapse, his entire body trembling and his head wagging pitifully.

THE COMMISSION'S ATTITUDE.

The tax commission made clear at its Marquette hearings that the rolls that will be finally approved in Marquette county will be its own rolls, and not those made by the boards of review.

If boards of review in possession of the figures of the tax commission scale those figures, the commission will restore them at the final hearings. The only way to secure a reduction is by the individual taxpayer appearing before the commission and proving his right to the reduction asked. Otherwise the figures will stand as determined by the tax commission's agents.

In other words, to all intents and purposes, this year the local assessing officers and boards of review might as well do their work in a purely conventional manner, with a realization that the final determinations, anyway, will be made by the tax commissioners. No need exists for boards of review wrinkling their brows over knotty problems of valuation. Unless they ascertain the commission's figures and adopt them their work will go for naught.

The attitude of the commission as revealed at its Marquette hearings was reasonable. In the main the realty valuations reported by its agents were accepted by the property owners as fair. Exceptions there were, of course, and in some of these cases it appeared as if the commission's figures were high, on the basis of the earning power of the properties involved. Personal valuations showed, in many instances, marked increases. The final figures on the commission's work are not yet available, but the increase for Marquette will not be as large as the increases for the other cities of the county, for Marquette, on its own account, had already gone a considerable distance on the road to actual value of its taxable property.

If the commission makes good on its promise to see that the counties it has revalued do not suffer in the state equalization because they have been revalued, it is clear that too much concern may be felt over its work. If Marquette county is apportioned only a fair amount of the state taxes, the commission's present activity here will merely rectify conditions within county, by putting all of its property on approximately the same basis of valuation.

When this is done the board of supervisors will have, for the first time, the data necessary to enable it to make an equitable equalization within the county. If the commission protects the county in the state equalization, it is apparent that the principal result of its work for most property owners will be that while their valuations will be higher their tax rates will be lower, and the amount of actual taxes they will pay on the basis of the same levy will not be appreciably increased.

THE MERRY WAR.

To the disinterested observer it appears that the row between the rival factions of Michigan Democrats has now reached a stage where to attempt to harmonize their differences would be a vain effort.

Provoked by a series of jabs from his opponents, largely from Representative Beakes, E. O. Wood, the national committee man, has opened with his big guns, and his discharge of interviews and statements, now intermittent, is a hindrance to his enemies in the party some concern.

The heat engendered is such that while the administration may insist, as a condition precedent to giving any patronage to anyone, on the appearance of a truce, it is patent that the struggle for dominance in the Michigan Democratic organization is one that must now be pushed to a bitter end. Either the Wood faction or the Leskes faction must finally get securely in the saddle. They cannot well, after the stress of the present strife, administer the affairs of the party in the state as harmonious co-workers.

To the observer who has no direct concern with the differences of the warring leaders it appears, in the light of the political situation in Michigan, that the Michigan Democrats have laid themselves open to severe censure by getting into such a coil over patronage. The Michigan Democrats did not perform very well for President Wilson in the campaign of 1912. It was one of the two states in which the President ran third. In many parts of Michigan, including the upper peninsula, the Democratic vote showed a distinct falling off. Governor Ferris was elected by virtue of the Republican votes he received and of the split in the opposing forces brought about by the candidacy of a Progressive. The Democrats showed nothing to be proud of. They have shown great tenacity in forcing on the attention of the administration so bitter a factional row. It might be supposed that they would fear the possibility that the administration would say "a plague on both your houses" and give both factions the same recognition by recognizing neither of them.

The outcome remains with the future, but for the moment is obscure. When the smoke clears away, however, and the parcelling of the jobs has been completed, it is likely that the "originals" and the organization men will alike be able to point to certain offices won in justification of the claim that they are closest to the throne. And they both will be able to point to plenty of scars on the party organization.

commission has outlined for itself calls for extensive work north of the straits in the months to come. Before it gets through all the other counties will be measured and fitted with new tax rolls, just like Marquette.

If mere volume of information meant anything the public should by now be fully informed about sugar. As a matter of fact, however, the long suffering public is only getting more and more confused.

Taxation continues the big problem. And there are some taxpayers in Marquette who insist that despite the activities of the tax commission it is still a long way from solved.

Whether or not the man who tipped up a race horse at the Ascot was crazy it appears that a suffragette must be given credit for the original idea.

This is also the open season for canoe accidents. The canoe, it may be stated, however, is perfectly safe when it is upside down in the backyard.—Pontiac Press Gazette.

Lansing is gloating over an increase of population as shown by a new directory. These directory populations are remarkably elastic. They generally go up grade until the time that Uncle Sam takes a census and then a general slump is registered.

Detroit's sensational press has now shown a picture of the wife in the shooting scrape with a doctor was the victim of an enraged husband. In the picture the wife holds her infant baby in her arms. It seems as if they might at least have spared the baby.—Detroit Times.

The hush-up and cover-up idea is a survival of the dark ages. We are in an age of arc-lights and search-lights and flash-lights nowadays. A LAUGH OR TWO.

Nothing but Honor. In 1862 an intimate friend of President Lincoln visited him in Washington, finding him rather depressed in spirits as the result of the reverses then repeatedly suffered by the federal troops.

A Soft Answer. That a clever as well as a soft answer often turns away wrath is aptly illustrated by an anecdote printed in the Pittsburg Dispatch:

Lack of Obstacles. A Scotsman who had worked for many years on the railroads among the Highlands of Scotland went to the United States in his later years and settled on a section of homestead land on the plains of the far west.

Baggage. Nat Goodwin was at the club with an English friend and became the center of an appreciative group. A cigar man offered the comedian a cigar, saying it was a new production.

Roosevelt and the Flag. If Mr. Roosevelt has not been having a "perfectly corking time" in Boston, it was not for lack of good intention on the part of the varied circles that have sought the privilege of entertaining him. His is the gift of stating in powerful phrases even elementary truths. He certainly could not be accused of dealing with glittering generalities when he addressed his remarks before the Hayes Square Outing club in Charlestown to a situation which has given Massachusetts reason for grave concern during the past year, and has caused the state to take action which more clearly defines her sovereignty and within her borders es-establishes additional protection of the national flag against defiance and insult.

The colonel's references to these incidents were in his characteristic manner of a kind to win approval from all patriotic citizens to whatever party they might belong.

Wasted Energy. Enrico Caruso, at a dinner preceding his departure for the season in London, said that when he grew too old to sing he would probably teach.

Timely Quips. Shows Something. The amount of "conscience money" returned to the government is not half as much as it used to be. This shows that there is less stealing or less conscience.—New Orleans Picayune.

Too Bad. It's up to the bald man now. He buys a hair tonic, or saves the money for the fly campaign, according to his strength or weakness in the barber chair.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Hereafter applicants for police jobs in Wichita will have to compete with their own sprint 100 yards in sixteen seconds or less. Evidently Wichita doesn't love a fat man.—Chicago Record Herald.

New Excuse. Chicago woman, arrested for selling watered milk, was acquitted when she said, by way of excuse, that her cows were such early risers they ate dew-laden grass.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Legal Note. The New Jersey anti-lapin law gives half the line to the complainant. That doesn't help the married man any, but it affords an opportunity for impunctious and chronic bachelors.—Cleveland Leader.

EDITORIAL OPINION. Tampering With the Pay Envelope. A mill girl in a Massachusetts town testified in court that she worked for $2 a week.

The Paterson Plan's Failure. Why has the Paterson strike, now in its fifth month, gone on so long? Because of the L. W. W.? No.

Markets

[From Geo. F. Inez, Ishpeming.] Boston, June 20.—Market today was dull and reactionary although declines were small. Foreign copper quotations were very weak and this caused some unsettlement. We think the London selling of metal more of a speculative character.

A MOUNTAIN OF ALUM

A Marvelous Geological Curiosity Near Gila River in Southwest New Mexico. What is declared to be "one of the most marvelous geological and natural curiosities in the whole world" is a mountain of alum two square miles in extent and nine hundred feet high, near the Gila river, in southwest New Mexico.

The deposit is so pure that any grade of manufacturing alum can be produced cheaply as compared with that from other sources. For many uses it can be marketed in its natural state, and so immense and pure is the deposit that there is no doubt it will control the markets of the world.

Most of the aluminum produced in the United States has been from bauxite, shipped from Arkansas to the reduction plants, mostly at Niagara, and seems logical to suppose that the future supply will originate and be reduced at the Gila river.

FACE DISGRACEFUL WITH RASH Large Scabs Would Form, Fester and Break. Itching and Burning. Kept from Sleeping. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Sloux Falls, S. D.—"My trouble of skin disease started merely as a rash on my face and neck, but it grew and kept getting worse until I was almost unrecognizable. It was just on the one side of my face, but it soon scattered to the other side. I suffered a great deal especially at night on account of its itching and burning. I would scratch it and of course that irritated it very much. This rash was on my face for about two years sometimes breaking out into worse and forming larger sores. It kept me from sleeping day or night for a couple of months. My face looked disgraceful, and I was almost ashamed to be seen by my friends.

"A friend asked me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I would bathe my face with hot water and a lot of Cuticura Soap, then I would put on the Cuticura Ointment. In less than two days' time the soreness and inflammation had almost entirely disappeared, and in four days' time you could not see any of the rash. Now my face is without a spot of any kind. I also use them for my scalp and hair. They cured me completely." (Signed) Miss Pansy Hutchins, Feb. 6, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 22-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

A MOST WONDERFUL CURE. Joseph D. Underhill, of Doland, S. Dakota, says:—I have received great benefit from your White Wine of Tar Syrup. I had a deep seated cough and the doctors gave up all hopes of my recovery and pronounced it consumption. I tried everything that we could hear of, but it did not do me any good. Finally one of my friends prevailed upon me to use your White Wine of Tar Syrup. I took 1-2 bottles and an entirely cured. Such medicine I can recommend to those who are afflicted as I was.

STATE DEMOCRATS IN A BITTER ROW

Chairman Wood Declares "Originals" Levying Assessments on Candidates. Washington, June 20.—Governor Ferris and State Chairman Shields will probably be requested to lead President Wilson the story of the last senatorial election in Michigan. The story the president may hear is likely to prove a revelation to the people of Michigan.

National Committeeman Wood suggests that a statement from them may be expedient in view of the charges which had been made in Trenton and Washington in review today, to participating organizations may be responsible for failure to elect a Democratic United States senator in place of William Alden Smith. It is intimated that the story coming from the organization and the governor will be sensational.

The president will be informed that the governor and Chairman Shields declined to enter a concerted plan to influence Republican or Progressive legislators to throw over the obligation put upon them by the primary system. They refused, as Mr. Wood states in an authorized interview today, to participating in any "disgraceful scheme to debauch and nullify the senatorial primary."

Nine Republican votes in combination with the Democrats and Progressives would have been needed to overthrow Senator Smith and insure the election of Lueking.

Discovers a Holdup Scheme

In a fiery interview National Committeeman Wood charges that assessments have been levied in the name of the "elipse" upon candidates for postmaster offices, that the latter sent out states that the money is being spent for traveling expenses. In the interview it is also declared that information has come to Mr. Wood that representatives are going over the state to look into the matter and the letter indicates a plan to maintain a patronage lobby in Washington. He gives notice that charges of this method of assessment have been filed with the postoffice department at Washington, and that any candidate who contributes to any such scheme, his interests will stand little chance of landing a postoffice.

Are Sending No Scouts Out

"We two are acting as a unit. We shall send no men out. We shall get all the information we can from proper local sources—chairmen, officers and members of the various party committees, members of the legislature, defeated candidates for office, the rank and file of Democrats and patrons of postoffices. We solicit advice from every source to the end that each candidate may be given a full opportunity. All of this will not cost the candidate a penny.

"If every case where candidates may have paid money to representatives of this wonderful job-distributing gang, charges will be filed as fast as the information can be secured. The letter clearly indicating the levy of assessments in the upper peninsula for the self-styled originals has already been filed with the president and the postmaster general is earnestly endeavoring to select men first for their efficiency, character and general reputation and special fitness for presidential postoffices, always giving full consideration to the candidate's record for party services.

Contributors Will Lose Out

"It is a foregone conclusion that candidates who think it necessary to bolster their claims by paying money to representatives of this self-styled original campaign will stand as much chance of being appointed if the facts are shown as an unball would of lasting through the summer in Washington.

"I have direct information by letter and wire that a man from the upper peninsula is traveling through the entire district, acting as an ensign and stating that he is authorized to look into local situations and forward endorsements to the so-called original combine. The upper peninsula letter clearly implied that it was deemed necessary to maintain a lobby in Washington and one of their forces, more indiscreet than the rest, said that it was intended to do this by relays. Whether the trips of Messrs. Pensford, Anketell and Maguire are in furtherance of this relay scheme I am unable to state.

To Explain Senatorial Campaign

"Statements have been made in Washington about the last senatorial campaign, both before and after the November election. Men have repeatedly cast insinuations and reflections upon the organization. In view of these I suggest that Governor Ferris and Mr. Shields present to the administration the complete facts concerning the senatorial campaign.

"The time has come when the public if it does not know, should be informed and I now state that I shall request the governor and the state chairman to inform the administration how they were requested to be a party to a disgraceful scheme to debauch and nullify the senatorial primary.

"Both Governor Ferris and Chairman Shields refused to take part in any plan which contemplated having either Republican or Progressive members of the legislature betray the people who had directed them by ballot in the senatorial primary for whom they should vote.

TELLS OF MASSACRE PLAN

University of Michigan Professor and Family Back from Turkey. New York, June 20.—Back from the Balkan war and the terrors of a Turkish massacre of foreigners nipped in the bud, Professor J. R. Allen, of the University of Michigan, with his family, returned on the Cunard steamer Panonia, arriving from Mediterranean ports.

Professor Allen has been in Constantinople for the past two years in charge of the Roberts school. There were many moments of danger to the little party during the war. Once the Turkish government had made preparations for a great massacre and again when the Turkish army was beaten it was feared that a great massacre would take place and the government gave orders to be in readiness to flee.

"The plot to kill the foreigners was one of the most blood-curd arrangements ever known in modern history," said Professor Allen. "The government had a large number of Kurds ready to be brought into the city and orders had been given to the priests to incite them to a frenzy and cause them to run amuck among our people. The idea of the Turk was to swing 20,000 troops into Turkey as soon as the Kurds started, and after a number of days the great massacre would be checked and the Turk could say to the civilized world that he was master of the situation.

"When the Balkan army opened fire at Tebatidja this scheme had to be abandoned, for the Turks had their own troubles to look after. It was the battle of Tebatidja, Nov. 17, embassies had heard of the plot and made protest to their governments.

One of the big engines of the London & Northwestern Railway company has just completed a distance of two hundred miles. A locomotive travels, on an average, only about twenty thousand miles a year, so this performance is equal to a hundred years' service on an ordinary basis. As a matter of fact, the engine in question has worked five times as hard as the average, and has accomplished its task within a period of twenty years.

I give you permission to use my name for your remedies have done for me." Mrs. ROY SIMMS, R. No. 6, Box 34, Zanesville, Ohio.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. THE WET AND DRY LINE.

A writer in Blackwood's Magazine, who is familiar with courts and customs in the United States, gives this picture of the bibulous advantages and disadvantages of a state line town:

"In the city of Bristol, whose main street is the line of Virginia and Tennessee, the vagaries are droll. The place has in turn been wholly prohibitive, wholly wide open, and then one-half of the city permitting liquor and the other half prohibitive. For the second time it is at present in the latter divided condition. A convivial Tennesseean crosses the main street, loads up with the vintages of Virginia, tucks back over the line and does his whooping and hollering in Tennessee, where he is arrested for drunkenness and fined. This sort of thing engenders warm blood and tears up social fraternity like a civil war.

"In another place a consignment of hay came over the state line. The authorities, suspecting it was not all of a nature suitable for strictly graminivorous animals, made a raid on the wagon and found the bales were largely made up of ingeniously packed whiskey bottles. The consignee of the goods could not be found. So rapid is the footing now in places that it is related that railroad travelers' hand grips have been ransacked for the taboored article. Soon we may expect to hear of the use of a stomach pump or to learn that it is an indelictable offense to carry a corkscrew."

GIVE THAT BOY A CHANCE.

You wouldn't want to work unless you got something out of it—would you? The boy feels the same way about it. Start him with a Bank Account at the Marquette National Bank. $1.00 gets an account opened in his own name. Then help him to earn something this summer. Teach him to add it to his Bank Account. Why not give the boy a chance?

UNITED STATES COURT OPENS JULY 8 AT SOO

This Year Has Cleared the Court Docket of Nearly Two Hundred Old Cases.

The summer term of United States circuit and district court for the northern division, Western district of Michigan, will convene at Sault Ste. Marie, July 8, F. J. Schultheis, deputy clerk, is at work on a docket, which next week will go into the hands of the printer. The term will not be a long one. A few criminal matters, several equity and law cases and divers chancery matters will come up.

All cases of the present court year, which ends next month, have been pretty well disposed of. At the beginning of the year there were 191 cases pending, many of which had been carried for years. A new ruling of the supreme court governing the disposition of equity cases is largely to be thanked for the clean state at the present time. Ninety-seven admiralty cases on record last year have most all been settled or discontinued, and the few that are left will be finally disposed of at the Soo next month. Of the 191 law and equity cases on the calendar a year ago, 169 have been disposed of, and at present only fourteen equity and sixteen law cases are on record. This condition is a novel one, as for years prior to the new ruling of the supreme court, which went into effect last fall, there have been hundreds of old cases awaiting disposition.

Four old cases, the last of six or seven in which the same corporation has been the defendant, are rapidly on their way to final disposition. The action in each of these cases was a foreclosure proceeding against the Michigan-Lake Superior Power company, operating at the Soo. The cases were started in 1903. The plaintiff corporations, however, have consolidated, so the case of the Real Estate Trust company is now the only one pending, and this is believed to be fairly on the way to settlement. The Central Trust company, of New York, Mason & Hoge Co. and the Stanley Electric Manufacturing company were plaintiffs in three other cases which have since been discontinued. The case of the Real Estate Trust company vs. the Lake Superior Power company, in which the plaintiff landholder sues for the right to foreclose will probably be taken up at the term of court in the Soo next month.

Judge Sessions Here Wednesday.

Judge C. W. Sessions, of Grand Rapids, will be in Marquette Wednesday to hear chancery matters which were continued from the last term of court. Clerk Schultheis has not yet been informed of the titles of the cases to be taken up. Judge Sessions will come to Marquette as an accommodation to the solicitors.

The grand jury drawn for the July term of court at the Soo must report Wednesday, July 9, but the traverse jurors need not report before Monday, July 14. While waiting for the report of the grand jury, the court will busy itself with civil matters and in going over the docket. By the time the traverse jurors arrive the calendar will have been arranged and the jury work planned, both for criminal and civil cases.

J. S. Courtney, United States jury commissioner, Clerk Schultheis and W. A. Ross, deputy United States marshal, have drawn the following names from the traverse jury box and the deputy marshal is now serving the summons:

STATE FIRE MARSHAL ASKS FOR SANE 4TH

Issues a Warning and Precautionary Suggestions to Public, in a Bulletin.

In a bulletin from his department, issued this week, C. A. Palmer, the state fire marshal, gives an impetus to the sane Fourth movement. He points out that in 1909 there were twenty cities in the state that held sane Fourth celebrations, and he says that the number of fatalities and serious injuries from Fourth of July accidents has shown a steady decrease. He asserts that there was not a single injury in the cities of the state where the Fourth was sane observed last year.

"Each year our celebration of Independence day is marred and our satisfaction and pleasure made less keen by accidents which apparently in many cases might have been avoided," says Palmer. "It may be well that in the celebration of this day in which we all take so much pride should co-operate with the fire chiefs and others whose duty it is to combat conflagrations and to prevent the same where possible.

"Perhaps it is not amiss for this department to give a few words of direct admonition, caution and warning at this time.

"In the use of fireworks it is best to select a place for the display which is not adjacent to buildings or inflammable material. Care should be used in throwing explosives where they are apt to start a fire or smolder and break out at any time without any preliminary warning. After the evening or afternoon enjoyment it would seem advisable to make an examination and see that stoves are not smoldering which later might cause fire. An ounce of prevention on July 4 is worth several tons of cure on July 5.

"Last year the fire losses in Michigan as a direct consequence of the Fourth of July were less than ever before and it is to be hoped that the people of this great commonwealth will this year reduce that record.

"All chiefs of fire departments and others whose duty it is to see that the laws in relation to the use of explosives or the prevention of fires are enforced are directed to exercise unusual caution."

MRS. CAROLINE MARTIN DIES IN INSANE ASYLUM; MOTHER OF OCEY SNEED.

Trenton, N. J., June 20.—Mrs. Caroline B. Martin, mother of Mrs. Ocey Sneed, who was found dead in a bathtub in her home in East Orange several years ago and for whose death her mother was tried and convicted on a plea of manslaughter and sentenced to seven years in the state prison, died here tonight in the state hospital for the insane, to which institution she was sent. The cause of the woman's death is uncertain and an autopsy will be performed tomorrow.

Miss Wardlaw, Mrs. Martin's sister, committed suicide in the Essex county jail during the trial, while she was being held there as a material witness. The motive for the murder was alleged to have been a desire to procure Mrs. Sneed's insurance.

BULGARIANS INSIST UPON JOINT OCCUPATION OF DISPUTED TERRITORY.

London, June 20.—Bulgaria, in a note sent to Greece, has assumed the same attitude that she took in her voluminous note addressed to the Serbian government yesterday. The note says Bulgaria declines to cease the concentration of her troops on the Greek line or to demobilize her forces, unless Greece consents to a joint occupation of the disputed territory.

According to reports current at Saloniki, Bulgaria will require another ten days to complete the concentration of her forces against Serbia and Greece. Numerous small skirmishes between the opposing armies are reported.

DOCTOR FOR THE PROSECUTION TESTIFIES AT PELKEY TRIAL.

Calgary, Alta., June 20.—Medical evidence tending to show that Esther McCarthy died in the prize ring May 24 as the direct result of a blow to the jaw administered by Arthur Pelkey was presented by the crown today at the trial of Pelkey, who is charged with manslaughter. While differing on minor points with Dr. H. H. Mosher, who conducted the autopsy on McCarthy's body, Dr. M. Merritt, the crown's principal witness, agreed that the clot of blood on McCarthy's brain had been caused by the blow delivered by Pelkey in the first round of the bout. When adjournment was taken, indications were that the trial would not be concluded before next Tuesday.

PRICES IN WALL STREET AGAIN DRIFT DOWNWARD.

New York, June 20.—By slow and easy stages the stock market went downward today, as was the case yesterday. The force of the recent upturn seemed entirely to have spent itself, and although the volume of business was light and there was no appearance of further pressure at any time the small offerings were sufficient to move the far-inroads on the gains which followed last week's early break. Canadian Pacific, Lehigh Valley, Smelting and Interborough preferred were the weak spots in the list. The copper stocks were sold on a report of further declines in the metal markets here and abroad.

MICHIGAN CENTRAL INDICTED.

Detroit, Mich., June 20.—A federal grand jury here late this afternoon returned five indictments against the Michigan Central railroad, charging that it has illegally given concessions and failed to observe its published tariff and schedules relating to the assessment of charges for detention and demurrage of cars in Detroit. Under the Elkins act of 1903, the aggregate penalties which could be imposed on the five indictments, in case convictions are procured, would total $1,940,000.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY.

The monastic gloom which has pervaded the Abbey of Westminster for so many years has been dissipated. The abbey has now a new lighting scheme which makes it the best illuminated of our abbeys and cathedrals. Electric light has been installed in every nook and corner and it banishes forever the atmosphere of ecclesiastical gloom that is usually associated with churches.

The new scheme of illumination has taken three years to perfect, and the abbey has now 250 electric lamps, hanging in groups of four and six from the distant roof, and the electric current is supplied from a cable in the street.

Prior to the present installation all the lamps stood upright at the corners of the pews. The electric lights are so arranged that the minute print of the average prayer book can be read during evening services in the remotest retreats of the building.

STORY OF POCAHONTAS.
One of the Many Myths of American History for a Long Time.

In the three hundred years since the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth Bay we have developed a distinctive American mythology. Many of the most picturesque stories of our early annals are purely apocryphal, while others are open to general suspicion. Tales once accepted as infallible are now regarded merely as interesting companion pieces to the lurid tales of the Olympian gods and the juvenile pleasantries of "Alice in Wonderland."

Perhaps the most interesting and romantic incident of our colonial days was the capture of Captain John Smith by the Indians in Virginia, in 1607, and his dramatic rescue by Pocahontas. According to the old-remembered tale, Smith, having been captured by the redskins, was doomed to death by Powhatan, the chief of the tribe. After he had been fastened according to the manner of the Indians in preparing a victim for execution, two large stones were brought in. The captive was fastened in a reclining position with his head resting on the stones. The executioners stood with axes poised for the fatal stroke. It was the setting for a perfect melodrama, which Captain John Smith tells in the following language:

"Pocahontas, the king's dearest daughter, when no entreaty could prevail, got his head in her arms and laid her own upon his to save him from death; where at the emperor was contented he should live to make him hatchets and her bells, beads and copper."

The story is an entire fabrication, inspired by the manner of the Indians in London shortly after escaping from the Indians, and in 1608 wrote and published an account of his American voyage under the title of "A True Relation." In this work he gave an entirely different account of his captivity among the Indians and his subsequent release, making no mention whatever of this dramatic incident.

Pocahontas really existed, for she married John Rolfe, an Englishman, and accompanied him to London. Here she created a sensation, was lionized by English society, and died in 1617. Her son, Thomas Rolfe, went back to America; and through him she was an ancestress of the famous John Randolph of Roanoke and other prominent Virginians.

In 1624 Smith published another account of his American experiences under the title of "General Historie of Virginia." In this volume, for the first time, appeared the story of his romantic rescue by the Indian maiden. Furthermore, the records of Smith's voyage, written by contemporaries, contain no allusion to the incident, which, had it occurred, must have been widely known.

In a biography of Captain John Smith, Thomas Fuller, a friend and contemporary author, says:

"It soundeth much to the diminution of his deeds that he alone is the herald to publish and proclaim them."

Beyond question, the story was born of Smith's conceit, his ambition to concoct a thrilling tale, and a desire to capitalize the interest aroused by the visit of Pocahontas to England.

GERMAN STAGE DEVICES.
"Germany," says Professor George P. Baker of Harvard, "is far ahead of us in successful stage devices. In three Berlin theaters the revolving stage is in constant use. Several scenes are set on the waits between the scenes and acts are materially shortened. Its use in the New Royal theater has made Faust possible of presentation without overtaxing the audience."

"Where ground space is at a premium the Germans have contrived by means of the revolving stage to lower part of the scene below the floor level or to raise it as desired. Chiffs may be raised on one trap and dungeons be lowered on another. Aside from the speed with which this enables a manager to change his sets, it also makes possible the weirdest and most fantastic effects. A stage the size of a palace may be reduced to the proportions of a hovel by adding a second proscenium arch within the stationary one."

"We must insist that our stages shall be just as plastic as the German. The revolving stage, the suffusing lighting which gives the effect of distance, the elevator stage and the simple background of curtains for Shakespearean plays, all must come."

FROM ILLINOIS ON MOTOR CYCLES
Two Former Residents Are Riding Up from Moline to Attend Home-Coming.

George Erickson and George Jacobson, former Ishpeming residents, who for the past three years have been in the employ of the Marcellus Blow works, Moline, Ill., and who are on their way to Ishpeming to attend the home-coming celebration, are making the trip on motor-cycles. They left Moline Monday, and started north after spending a day in Chicago. They are expected here Monday.

Messes. Erickson and Jacobson had no intention of visiting Ishpeming until they received the home-coming invitations. They then made up their minds to arrange for vacations, and were granted a month's leave of absence. They have been riding motor-cycles for some months and are experts with the machines.

Mr. Erickson is a brother of Mesdames John A. Olson, James Blackney and S. H. Collick of this city. Mr. Jacobson's parents left here a few years ago for Amasa, on the Menominee range, where they now reside. After remaining in Ishpeming through home-coming week, Mr. Jacobson will go to Amasa on his motorcycle, to spend a week or so with his folks.

A number of former residents who have received home-coming invitations have notified their friends here that they intend to visit Ishpeming. Nearly 1,500 invitations have been sent out to various parts of the country, and it is expected that the home-comers will begin to arrive within the next week.

Children's Parade.
There seems to be a misunderstanding about the children's parade. This parade, which will take place Wednesday evening, will be in two sections, one section to be composed of babies, with their escorts pushing the go-carts, and the other of boys and girls from 7 to 12 years of age, marching. The latter division is in charge of Miss Winifred Lacey who has extended an invitation to all of the girls in the city between these ages to take part.

Both divisions promise to be attractive. Many motor-cycles are now working out plans for the decoration of go-carts. The committee will offer prizes for both sections. It is likely that a special prize will be given for twin babies.

HAS AN ASSISTANT.
Dr. S. G. Main Has Engaged Copper Country Dentist.

Dr. Otto E. Peterson, of Calumet, has been engaged by Dr. S. G. Main to assist him in his dental parlors in the Odd Fellows block, and is expected to arrive here tomorrow. Dr. Peterson was in Ishpeming this week, but went to Calumet on a few days' visit to relatives. He is a graduate of the Chicago college of dental surgery.

Dr. Main now has one of the most attractive dental parlors in this part of the state, as a result of improvements recently completed. His waiting room has been provided with new mission furniture and the walls have been tastefully decorated. The former reception room will be used as Dr. Peterson's work room, and Dr. Main will operate in his present quarters. Dr. Main has built up an excellent practice and is regarded as one of the most reliable dentists in the upper peninsula.

LEARNING TO SWIM.
Boys Making Excellent Headway in Classes at the Y. M. C. A.

The boys who have been taking swimming lessons at the Young Men's Christian association pool since the 14th, are making excellent progress. Up to yesterday twenty-six of the smaller boys had learned to swim. Although they had taken only three lessons. There will be no classes Tuesday, Midsummer day, and the campaign will close on the 28th.

Paul A. Leonhardt, who is directing the work, expects that at least twenty more of the smaller boys will be able to swim well before the close of the campaign. Those who have already learned are Lewlyn Harris, Edgar and Elmer Wahlman, Osborn Williams, Leslie Atwell, John Uren, Stewart Wilcox, Adolph Erickson, Michael Anderson, Albert Seom, George Padlock, Arthur Hooper, Arvid Gunnerson, Clyde Atwell, William Harnala, Henry Korpal, Bernar Larson, Howard Nichols, William Lattunen, Esley Lutey, Francis Benedict, Douglas Stevens, Jalmer Anderson, Simon Trevarrow, Joe Conway and Ray Henry.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.
John Hakala has departed for Finland, for a visit to his old home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walters, former residents, are expected to arrive in Ishpeming this morning from Antigo, Wis., on a visit to their son, Rufus Walters and family of Second street.

The Ishpeming and Gwin baseball teams will meet tomorrow afternoon at the Union park grounds. As the Gwin team includes a number of former Ishpeming men, it is expected that the game will attract the largest crowd that has assembled at the park this season. Ishpeming defeated Gwin two weeks ago at Gwin.

Tomorrow will be children's day at the Salvation Army. Appropriate programs will be given at the usual hours, Monday evening at 8 o'clock an ice cream social will be held in the barracks and Tuesday the members of the Many mothers think their children are suffering from indigestion, headache, nervousness, weakness, costiveness, when they are victims of that most common of all children's ailments—worms. The pleasant repose one enjoys on hot, sultry days and evenings while sitting under a great spreading elm tree in a shaded garden, is possible on your own porch or veranda, owing to the advent of the Aerolux Porch Shade.

Besides building the Aerolux shade from specially prepared woods, its manufacturers offer it in a great variety of colors, which are so thoroughly weather proofed that whether they are of a soft olive hue or a deep, rich brown, exposure to sun, rain or snow does not effect them.

This enables one to employ them not only as a means of making a summer sleeping porch, but it also enables those who desire the more rigorous pleasure of sleeping in the fresh air in the winter time to do so in perfect security.

Aerolux Shades admit, by reason of their excellent construction, just the proper amount of light and fresh air and although those on the porch may observe passers-by perfectly, yet the occupants of the porch themselves remain in absolute privacy, unseen.

There is one pattern of Aerolux Shades called the Combination Shade, which may be raised from the bottom and lowered from the top, or the shade may be manipulated by strong cords, so as to assume any desired size between the floor and the ceiling, with an opening above and below simultaneously.

Of all shades; of all kinds and descriptions, the Aerolux is positively the only one possessing the wonderful No-Whip attachment; and the holding of a shade with this self contained, adjustable attachment, is the invention and patent of the Aerolux and therefore will not be found on any other porch shade.

This attachment holds the shade at the proper rigidity in any wind and thereby prevents the disagreeable, flapping so common with other shades and does this without straining the shade.

This shade will last almost indefinitely; and while bamboo porch screens will fade and quickly wear out upon being exposed to the elements, the Aerolux maintains the same beautiful and new appearance that it possesses the day it was put up.

Any porch may be equipped with Aerolux Shades for from $2.50 up, depending upon how large the porch is; a sum so small that the purchaser is repaid time and time again by the comfort obtained. Thereafter, the expense per year of having a veranda or sleeping porch equipped with Aerolux No-Whip Shades is simply the few moments of time that it takes to put them up, while on the other hand the keen pleasure and ultimate satisfaction resulting from their use can only be appreciated by those who have used them.

The Aerolux Shade must not be confused nor even compared with cheaply constructed, flimsy, bamboo porch screens which do not afford protection from the sun, for the Aerolux is something entirely different. Bamboo porch screens may cost but little, but on the other hand they can hardly be said to ever give satisfaction and they are the most expensive in the end.

AEROLUX PORCH SHADES are made in three grades and in a great variety of colors.

MR. LAUTNER BREAKS THE ICE

Introduces Resolution to Adopt a Commission Form of Municipal Government, With a Mayor and Four Aldermen Who Are to Be Elected at Large.

Charter Board Tables It Until the Meeting Monday Night, in Order That It May Be Given Mature Consideration With Every Member of Body in Attendance.

As a means of defining a path for future progress toward the reorganization of a revised charter for the city, J. E. Lautner, commissioner from the Fifth ward, introduced at last evening's meeting of the charter commission a resolution to the effect that the commission proceed at once to frame a mayor and four commissioners, or councilmen, having all the powers of the present municipal organization and to be elected at large.

The commission has about come to the conclusion that it must either consider commission form of government or some other form totally different. The fact that it considers commission form does not preclude the commission from modifying it as it sees fit, should it be adopted.

Because of the absence of Commissioner W. A. Ross, who was at the 8:30 yesterday on official business as deputy United States marshal, the commission decided to postpone action on the resolution until every member is present, and upon motion, the matter was laid on the table until a meeting next Monday evening. The commission will not meet Tuesday evening.

Mr. Lautner's Resolution.

The resolution follows: "Whereas, the legislature of this state, by Bill No. 279, public acts of 1909, commonly called the home rule bill, has given cities power to revise their charters, and

"Whereas, the provisions of this bill have been compiled with is the election of a charter commission, composed of one member from each ward and three from the city at large, for the purpose of framing a charter from the city of Marquette;

"Resolved, That the said charter commission shall immediately proceed to frame a charter for the city of Marquette providing for the election of a mayor and four commissioners, who shall be vested with legislative power, and provide for the appointment of a clerk, a treasurer, and a board of health, and to elect the qualified electors of the city at large and to incorporate in the said charter all necessary powers for the government of the city not inconsistent with the constitution and general laws of the state."

Last evening's session was characterized by much discussion on the part of the commissioners, who up to this had guarded their ideas regarding the proposed revision rather closely, and who had listened for several meetings to the utterances of prominent citizens, board members and city officials for the purpose of gathering information. Since deciding that it would be safe to conclude its business within ninety consecutive days, in order to avoid any possibility that the standing of its work may be jeopardized by failure to comply with the provisions of the home rule act as amended in 1913, the commission has plunged directly into its work.

Schafer and Van Evera Speak.

Alderman Schafer, of the Fifth ward, attended last evening's meeting. Mr. Schafer addressed the commissioners and answered numerous questions regarding his opinions on the various forms of city government, administration of finances, methods of electing councilmen and allied topics. He was on the carpet for about an hour and a half. J. R. Van Evera, who also was present, reiterated the statements he made at a meeting a week previous concerning ideas he believed should be included in a business-like municipal government. The strongest argument in favor of a change, he said, had been advanced by R. P. Byrne, city treasurer, who at a previous meeting had announced that the daily cash balance of the city, amounting to $100,000, had little in the banks without drawing a cent of interest. This money cannot be touched to reduce a cent of the city's indebtedness, because it is deposited to the order of the five boards. This condition Mr. Van Evera declared to be diametrically opposite to all ideas of good business. Commissioner Clark asked Commissioner Lautner, who introduced the resolution for a commission of four councilmen and a mayor, whether he would vote for a commission-manager form of government or a commission-manager form. Mr. Lautner replied that he believed the manager could be made a feature of the commission form, but it should be included in the authority invested in the five men, that they shall decide to the best interests of the city whether they shall or shall not employ a city manager.

As an evidence of the commission's new activity along the line of plunging directly into its work, Commissioner Clark asked City Attorney Brown how the work of framing the charter should be approached, according to Mr. Brown's judgment. Mr. Brown replied that after the needs and situation had been closely studied and ascertained, the main idea should be established. Then the next step should be to decide the method of election, whether by wards or at large. Whether the candidates shall be elected on non-partisan ballot is another question that should be decided early. The construction of the electoral machinery is another thing that should be taken up, then the financial sustenance of the organization it creates, and after that the charter itself, which clothes the structure with power to exist and act.

Commissioner Gannon made a plea for active work on the part of the commission. He is one of the men who favor a commission form of government and, with Commissioner Lautner, he expressed his ideas regarding it. One hundred and twenty-five cities have adopted the system in the hour of extreme need, and have prospered under it. But one of three cities had wanted to change back to the old form.

There is a decided increase in feeling in favor of commission form of government, and it is noticeable that those who originally felt inclined to oppose exchange of this kind now concede, since the matter has been sifted, that it is apparently a good thing. There was less strong opposition apparent last evening than at any previous meeting.

EQUIPMENT SHIPPED.

Two Thirty-Foot Boats Sent to Marquette for Naval Reserves.

J. H. McNeel, commanding officer of Marquette division, No. 4, Second Battalion, Michigan Naval brigade, yesterday received word from the bureau of construction and repair of the navy department, Washington, D. C., that two thirty-foot motor whaleboats, with complete outfits, had been shipped from the New York navy yard to be used here in drills by the Marquette division.

The commanding officer also has been notified that fifty Lee-Remington rifles, with bayonets, cartridge belts and gun slings, had been shipped from Hampton for the use of the Marquette division. This equipment was formerly used by the second Hancock division, recently disbanded and mustered out by order of the state military board.

Drill night for the Marquette division next week will be Wednesday, instead of Monday, as is usual, due to the fact that Fraternity Hall will be in use for the Michigan State Telephone company operators' annual dancing party.

CORPORATIONS ARE ASSESSED HIGHER

Valuation of the Pioneer Furnace as Real Property Is More Than Doubled.

The state tax commissioners concluded their work in Marquette city last evening and left for their homes in the lower part of the state. The morning was spent in session at the city hall, when a number of taxpayers came in for a final hearing, and the afternoon was devoted to a visit to some of the properties on which assessments were claimed to be excessive. The field men, however, are still here and will busy themselves for two or three days with the figures. By Tuesday they expect to have these spread on the assessment rolls and the totals footed up.

Some big boosts in corporation-owned real estate will help the general taxpayer by reducing the tax rate. The small property owner will in all probability find that he has been benefitted by the visit of the state tax commissioners, despite the fact that his own valuation may have been boosted several hundred dollars. Personal property, however, has probably received a higher boost than real estate, although the increase is distributed fairly well. The commissioners are not yet ready to give out the figures on personal property. Last evening, however, some of the changes in the assessments of real property owned by corporations were made public.

The Pioneer Iron company, owner and operator of the Pioneer furnace in North Marquette and the largest single taxpayer in the city, was on the rolls for real property assessed at $525,000. The assessment of the real property of this corporation, made on the basis of its own statement, together with the figures of the commission's experts, is $1,088,000, or more than double the valuation at which it has been assessed by the local officers.

The Lake Shore Engine works, which has been on the rolls at $25,000, has been raised to a valuation of $95,000.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's power plant, or that part of it which is assessed as city property, which was originally on the rolls at $60,000, was elevated in valuation by the commission to $100,000.

The water front property of the South Shore railway was also boosted, but the exact figures on this were not to be had last evening, as they are spread over numerous descriptions and have not been tallied.

One personal property assessment, that of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's stockpile at Presque Isle, was increased on the basis of the company's sworn statement, backed up by the commission's appraisal, from $114,000 to $214,000.

These increases in assessments, together with the boost in personal property, will more than make up the loss of the $225,000 assessment of the L. S. & L. concrete ore dock. These increases, if applied to last year's tax roll, when the budget was considerably smaller, would reduce the tax rate appreciably. Giving the changes and their results a fair comparison, the general property-holder will benefit by the commission's review and revaluation.

Considering the amount of increase in some cases, the commissioners feel that there has been little protest on the part of those who have entered have voiced their sentiments, these have more the sound of lament than of complaint. All changes are justified.
