

INCOME TAX IS PRODUCTIVE OF MANY RIDDLES

Treasury Department at Washington Is Swamped With Letters and Telegrams Seeking Light on a Multitude of Problems—Law Is Effective Today.

all Is Confusion in Wall Street and for Once in Its Career the Big Money Center Does Not Know Which Way to Turn—Endless Litigation in Prospect.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The income tax, the most revolutionary revenue-raising law conferred on the American people since its foundation, starts tomorrow upon the path that is to bring millions into the public treasury.

Its collection will strain the resources of the fertile minds in the treasury department and will be accompanied, it is not doubted here, with a thousand complications not now foreseen.

Individuals Need Not Worry Yet. The man in the street who knows he makes more than $3,000, and who is normally responsible for his share of the tax, does not need to begin worrying about its payment for the present.

Wall Street Is at Sea. New York, Oct. 31.—That part of New York which is referred to vaguely as "Wall Street" is at sea today.

At 7 o'clock tonight a group of men perched from the darkened caverns of one of the largest banks in the downtown district.

Endless Confusion Exists. The ruling in question has given rise to endless confusion. In cases in which funds are not registered, the names of their owners often are not known.

For the last two weeks, Wall Street has been flooded with booklets, diagrams, charts and pamphlets purporting to summarize and clarify the law.

DR. LINDGREN SELLS INTEREST IN HOSPITAL

REV. FATHER POULIN WRITES FROM ABROAD

Wellknown Finnish Physician Goes to Duluth, Where He Will Reside in Future.

Former Pastor of Ishpeming Church Describes Trip to Foreign Countries.

Dr. I. Lindgren, who several years ago started a hospital in Ishpeming, coming to this city from Negaunee, where he had practiced for a year or more, left last night for Duluth, where he will engage in business. Dr. Lindgren was accompanied by Mrs. Lindgren and Dr. O. E. Peterson, the latter for the past several months Dr. S. G. Main's assistant. Dr. Peterson plans on opening dental parlors in Duluth.

Dr. Lindgren has disposed of his interest in the hospital to his partner, Dr. Henry Holm, who had charge of the institution during the past year, while Dr. Lindgren was in Europe. Dr. Holm also returned from a two months' visit to European countries.

During the years he has maintained a hospital here Dr. Lindgren has had Finnish patients from all parts of the Northwest, and at times it has been overcrowded.

Duluth is an excellent field for Dr. Lindgren, as there are many Finnish people in and near that city and on the Mesaba range. While he has not yet made any plans for opening a hospital, his friends here believe that he will take steps to that end at an early date.

Dr. Lindgren is now largely interested in real estate in Helsinki, Finland, where he has spent the greater part of the past three years. Among his holdings is an extensive flat building.

MEETS TRAGIC DEATH.

W. E. Wells, Business Man Known Here, Killed in Montana.

Wesley E. Wells, former general superintendent of the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railway company, who was known to many here, was killed Thursday at Kalispell, Mont., where he resided for some time. Mr. Wells gave up the superintendency of the Escanaba & Lake Superior line to accept the position of vice president and general manager of the Somers Lumber company, with headquarters at Kalispell. The message announcing his tragic death contained no details as to how it occurred.

Mr. Wells was born at Menominee, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Wells, still reside. He was a self-made man, having started work as a woodsman. He was advanced to the post of scaler, and later held the position of head sawyer in the mill of his uncle, J. W. Wells, at Menominee. When the construction of the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railway was proposed by the I. Stephenson company he went to Wells. He located the route for the road and also superintended its construction.

cheerfulness and other characteristics of these natives while at work is very interesting and amusing. One day was spent here. A visit to the market finds an assortment of strange native products and merchandise. The gay color of costumes, the apparent happiness of the people is a sight never to be forgotten. There are fine stores, such as we find in our big cities. Another day is then spent in Puerto Cortez, the Atlantic seaport of Spanish Honduras, a typical Spanish town of 2,000 inhabitants, where there is plenty to see and plenty of souvenirs to take away as mementos of this quaint little city.

"Finally we reach Barrios, a low and over warm town of 2,000 inhabitants. Here is the gateway of Guatemala city which is reached by rail. I leave in a couple of hours and will send you another letter from Panama in twelve days."

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Walter Ruez has returned from a several weeks' visit in Chicago, Milwaukee and Fond du Lac.

Mrs. Ives of Rudyard, Mich., is in the city, visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles Johnson of West Johnston street.

John S. Olson, of the A. W. Myers Mercantile company, has been ill and confined to his home the past two or three days.

Miss June Leininger entertained a number of her young friends at her parents' home on Fourth street, Thursday evening.

The first meeting of the season of the members of the Ishpeming Snow Shoe club, will be held Monday evening in Carpenter-Cook company's office.

Matt Lohberg, proprietor of the clothing and men's furnishing goods store in the Kottuna block, corner of Division and First street, is ill with typhoid fever.

The teachers of the Grammar school presented their associate, Miss Signe Peterson, who on Thursday was married to George Winter of Negaunee, with a beautiful Grecian hand hammered gold trimmed vase. Mrs. Winter's bouquet of the seventh grade presented her with a set of silver coffee spoons of Colonial design.

The women of the First Methodist Episcopal church congregation have been successful with their rummage sale in the Nolan block, corner Cleveland avenue and First street. It will be continued until late this evening. Persons having men's clothing that they would like to give away are asked either to send it to the store or leave word about it there.

The Lyman H. Howe company was greeted by a second capacity house last evening at the Ishpeming theater. The company will fill its winter engagement here Feb. 5 and 6, presenting an entirely new program. One of the big features of the winter program will be Panama canal pictures. Other features will be the Yosemite Valley and Salmon fishing on the Columbia river.

Eugene Packard, who recently resigned his position as bookkeeper with the Consolidated Fuel & Lumber company, will leave tonight for Clinton, Ia., where he has accepted a position with the Joyce Lumber company. He will be accompanied as far as Chicago by his wife and two children, who will spend the next month or so with relatives in Traverse City. Mr. Packard will be employed in the Joyce company's wholesale department. This concern has over twenty branches and does a large wholesale, as well as retail business.

An eight-reel matinee will be given this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Ishpeming theater. Because of the Howe engagement at the theater the

BRAVERY WINS MAN'S FREEDOM

Joseph Bascolo Released from the Marquette Prison Yesterday, Following Commutation of His Sentence by Governor, Because He Helped Save a Life.

When Ogle Attacked Another Convict Over a Year Ago Bascolo Aided in Overcoming the Assailant—Served Time on the Charge of Manslaughter.

Largely as a reward for his bravery in grappling with John Ogle, a colored convict who ran amuck in the Marquette prison April 2, 1912, and preventing him from perhaps killing other convicts, Joseph Bascolo, an Italian convict sent up from Iron county for manslaughter in October, 1909, was released yesterday. Bascolo was given from six to fifteen years, so before he could be let go his sentence had to be commuted by Governor Ferris and a parole granted. Acting on the recommendation of the prison officials, and guided by his own inquiry into the case, the governor decided to give Bascolo this unusual recognition. He was greatly helped to freedom, also, by an unusually good record in the prison. He had been perfectly behaved there, and had never given any trouble.

Bascolo, who left for Iron River yesterday, was in fine spirits at his release, and assured everyone that he was going to be a "good man." He is an undersized man, of light complexion and light hair, very different from the usual Italian type, and his small stature made his feat in grappling with Ogle all the more creditable. Bascolo killed another Italian in a brawl, but he has always insisted that he acted in self defense. A disposition exists among those who know of his case to believe that there is foundation for this claim.

Knifed Two Men.

The exhibition of bravery that won the governor's attention for Bascolo occurred early in the morning of April 2 last year, in the overall shop, where he was one of the 200 men at work. Ogle stole upon a prisoner named Banks and stabbed him with a dagger he had improvised out of a blade of a heavy shears.

At the first attack Banks fled for his life, between two of the long tables where the convicts sit at work. Ogle was almost at his heels, but when he arrived midway up the aisle he gave up his pursuit of Banks and attacked Henderson, another convict, sitting at one of the work tables. It was at this juncture that Bascolo grappled with Ogle and stayed his deadly work. A moment later the officers were on him, and felled him to the floor. The officials at the prison have always been of the opinion that if it had not been for Bascolo's timely interference Henderson would probably have been killed outright by Ogle. Both Banks and Henderson were seriously wounded, and were in the hospital for several weeks.

The assault in which Bascolo figured was not the first to Ogle's account. Two years earlier he had attacked and stabbed another prisoner with a pair of shears. At this time he was taken before Judge Stone, who sentenced him to an additional term for the crime.

Shortly after his attack on Banks and Henderson, Ogle, whose mind had been regarded as weak, went insane, and he was taken to the Lonia asylum, where he is now confined.

FOURTEEN QUESTIONS ASKED.

Must Swear to Answers Regarding Horse Power of Autos.

Owners of automobiles have received from Secretary of State Martindale application blanks which must be filled out with information in order to obtain licenses in 1914.

The last legislature eliminated the annual license fee of $3 and requires that all motor vehicles be taxed at the rate of 50 cents per horse power. The new license will be placed on sale today and considerable confusion is expected to result. It is expected that the placing of these application blanks will facilitate matters somewhat.

There are fourteen questions that must be answered and sworn to before a notary before an automobile can procure a license for 1914. The horsepower of the machine, the diameter and length of the cylinders, if a gasoline engine, and other information pertaining to the machine, must be given. The law provides a heavy penalty for a false statement, and it is expected that the owners will carefully investigate before making answers to the questions.

Secretary Martindale expects that nearly 70,000 licenses will be issued from the state department next year. Although the new number plates cannot be used before January 1, 1914, they are placed on sale two months in advance of that date in order to prevent a general rush the last day of the year. Already a number of requests for some special numbers have been received.

OPERATORS MEET.

Condition of the Lumber Market May Mean Retrenchments.

Woods operators and jobbers in this district are greatly concerned at the unfavorable outlook for the coming season, which they now assert promises to be one of the most disappointing in years. Market and labor conditions are both pronounced unsatisfactory, and to prevent serious losses it is said that a readjustment of the early plans for the winter work will have to be made.

Because of the disturbed conditions and to meet the situation an informal gathering of the operators was held in Marquette early this week. As a result, an organization was effected and arrangements are now underway for holding a larger meeting, at which new districts will be represented and at which it will be possible to take action that will meet with the approval of a great majority of the operators. The movement is in line with the efforts being made in other parts of the Lake Superior district to adapt the winter's logging to the market conditions.

Considerable apprehension is felt that the lumber market will soften further and that some camps that have already been placed in operation will have to be closed. The jobbers believe that the conditions have become such that there should be some readjustment of wages. For the past several seasons wages in the woods have run unusually high, and have thus contributed largely to production costs.

WOLF BOUNTIES $5,930.50.

That Was State's Share of Cost of Warfare on These Animals.

While in Lansing this week State Game Warden Oates announced that a compilation by the department clerks showed that the wolf bounties paid by the state last year amounted to $5,930.50. In addition the wolf hunters received county bounties to a considerable amount of money. Despite the persistence, and in many cases organized, warfare on the wolves and the steady settling up of the country it is the prevailing opinion among men qualified to speak on the subject that the wolves are increasing in the upper peninsula country and that they are more responsible for keeping down the number of deer than the hunters.

State Game Warden Oates expects that the provision of the law permitting a non-resident hunter to take one deer out of the state will have the effect of increasing the number of hunters of that class who will come to Michigan. On the other hand, because of the added license requirements there will undoubtedly be a large decrease in the number of unaturalized aliens in the woods. "I fully expect 30,000 hunters in the woods north of the straits this year," Mr. Oates is quoted as saying. "I am considering the hiring of two expert wolf hunters the coming season. I think the state would be saved money by doing this. Of course the hunters would not be paid by the county."

On his return from his present trip from Lansing Mr. Oates will spend the rest of the month, until the close of the deer season, in the upper peninsula in charge of his deputies.

IT'S A LIVE ONE.

Zeb Zarrow Troupe One of Best of Recent Attractions.

Two more large houses were entertained by the whimsicalities of the Zeb Zarrow troupe at the Marquette Opera House last evening. The habitual seekers of picture-vaudeville entertainment are authorities for the statement that this is one of the best acts that has been offered in the house, and the occasional visitor to the theater is inclined to agree that it probably is. The Zeb Zarrow combination are so fast in action that in comparison chain lightning appears to be loafing on the job, and their stuff is new. A surprisingly large amount of it is actually funny, in the best sense of the word. The basis of the Zeb Zarrow act is trick riding, but there's a great deal else to it. In short, in their diverting hodge-podge there's pretty much everything but singing, and there can be no singing for the act is entirely in pantomime. The Zeb Zarrow troupe is well worth seeing.
