

MICHELLE'S LEAD IS BETTER THAN 120,000 VOTES

Not Only Is Crushing Defeat Administered to Tammany in the City, but a Severe Rebuke Is Given Up-State—Tiger's Claws Are Fied from Albany.

"Another Day Coming," Is Murphy's Comment—Fusion Control of the Big Municipality's Purse Is Overwhelming—Result Foretold by Wall Street Betting.

New York, Nov. 5.—Each successive recapitulation today affirmed the crushing defeat of the Tammany forces in yesterday's election. The organization was not only engulfed in the plurality of more than 120,000 votes with which the fusionists elected John Parroy Mitchell mayor of New York city, but in many up-state districts a severe rebuke was administered to the Tammany Democracy that has had control of the state since the days of Governor Hughes.

Murphy Maintains Bold Front. "There will be another day," said Charles F. Murphy this afternoon at Tammany Hall.

"Who said so?" retorted the Tammany leader. "Do you consider Tammany Hall destroyed?" "It is still here," was his answer.

Big Plums Plucked by Fusionists. Complete returns from the election showed today that Mitchell led Edward E. McCall, Tammany, by 121,500 votes. Charles Edward Russell, Socialist, polled a total of 32,100. McCall ran behind his ticket in all five boroughs.

With much reduced pluralities, but by a safe margin, the fusionists elected William A. Prendergast comptroller of the city and George McManey president of the board of aldermen. They kept out of Tammany's hands the presidencies of the three principal boroughs—Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx—and thus increased the anti-Tammany majority on the board of estimates, which controls the city's expenditures.

Wall Street Forecasts Accurate. The "I told you so" sentiment was nowhere more prevalent tonight than in the Wall street district, where those who follow betting pointed to the accuracy with which yesterday's results were foreshadowed in recent days. Although it amounted to the smallest total in years, $500,000 was said to have been placed in bets during the campaign.

The first odds made McCall a straight favorite, and after the death of Mayor Gaynor even money was bet on McCall until the day after Governor Sulzer was deposed, when the Wall Street bettors interpreted this as unfavorable to Tammany. The odds in favor of Mitchell steadily lengthened until, during the week preceding election, they ruled as high as five to one, but there was little McCall money to be obtained.

Only twice since 1888, it was declared in Wall street today, have the final odds quoted in the financial district been in error in foreshadowing the results of national, state and municipal elections. The exceptions were in the presidential elections of 1888 and 1892, in each of which champions the opposing candidates were Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison.

The total vote for mayor was as follows: McCall, Democratic, 121,500; Mitchell, fusion, 335,888; Russell, Socialist, 32,100.

Republicans Control the Assembly. On the basis of incomplete returns, it was estimated tonight that the next assembly will be composed of eighty-five Republicans, seventeen Progressives and forty-eight Democrats. Many of the latter are said to be men of progressive or independent tendencies.

Speculation has turned to the probable nominee for speaker. Harold J. Hinman of Albany, minority leader in the present assembly, was generally regarded as the choice of State Chairman William Barnes Jr., for the speakership. Hinman was rejected yesterday by the largest plurality he has ever received.

Sulzer's Chances Considered Slim. Friends of William Sulzer profess to see a possibility of his being the presiding officer of the assembly. It was not generally believed, however, that he would be a figure of much consequence in the race. His only hope, it was generally conceded, lay in a division of the assembly into three almost equal parts if by any chance Sulzer should loom up as a dangerous factor in the race, the Tammany Democrats would quickly join forces with the Republicans and select almost any candidate to defeat the former governor.

DEFEAT OF TAMMANY IS LIKED AT LONDON; AMERICA CONGRATULATED.

London, Thursday, Nov. 6.—The morning papers congratulate the American people on the defeat of Tammany, which, they consider, gives hope of a new birth of Democracy in America and a higher standard of civic responsibility. OLD PARTY CHAIRMEN PROFESS SATISFACTION

Voters Have Indorsed Wilson, Says Doremus—Woods Points to Republican Gains.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Both Chairman Doremus, of the Democratic congressional committee, and Chairman Woods, of the Republican congressional committee, express satisfaction with the result of yesterday's elections.

"The Massachusetts, New Jersey and Maryland voters," said Mr. Doremus, "have indorsed President Wilson's progressive policies, including the tariff, currency and Mexico. The results indicate that the manufacturing interests are not apprehensive of the tariff reductions."

"Many Republicans have been elected to public offices now held by Democrats," said Chairman Woods. "There has been a tremendous Republican gain and a tremendous Democratic loss, compared with the last elections in the same districts. The 'Bull Moose' as a party, demonstrated that they practically have no strength at all; their candidates would have received probably more votes if they had simply been candidates on an independent ticket."

ANN ARBOR AGAINST MICHIGAN'S RETURN

Proposal to Rejoin the Western Conference Is Opposed, 2,448 Votes to 960.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 5.—By an overwhelming majority, students, faculty and Ann Arbor alumni of the University of Michigan have voted against a resumption of athletic relations with the Western Intercollegiate conference.

The students' vote was: Yes, 911; No, 2,224. Faculty vote: Yes, 39; No, 49. Ann Arbor alumni: Yes, 10; No, 75.

SUFFRAGETTES HOODWINK THE LONDON POLICE

With Officers Massed to Prevent Her from Speaking, Miss Sylvia Pankhurst Gains Hall Practically Unobserved—Captive Taken Proves to Be Decoy.

London, Nov. 5.—By a clever stratagem, which completely hoodwinked the police sent to prevent her from speaking, Miss Sylvia Pankhurst was enabled to announce at the Bow Baths, in the East end of London, tonight the formation of a volunteer corps, organized under the command of Captain Sir Francis Vane, a Boer war veteran, for the protection of militant suffragettes and labor unionists. Miss Zelle Emerson, of Jackson, Mich., presided.

Just as the meeting was called to order, the statement was made that the residence of George Lansbury, former Socialist member of parliament and a warm supporter of the militant suffragettes, was surrounded by police. The crowd rushed from the Baths and found a large number of police around Lansbury's house, with a taxicab before the entrance. Mr. Lansbury arrived on the scene and was uproariously greeted as he entered his home.

The report was spread that the preparations portended the arrest of Sylvia Pankhurst. The lights in the house were extinguished and suddenly a woman rushed out and sprang into the taxicab, which, surrounded by police, proceeded to Bethnal Green. Then Miss Daisy Lansbury, daughter of the ex-Socialist member, stepped out, much to the discomfiture of the police. Meanwhile, Miss Pankhurst entered the Baths, practically unobserved. The only disorder was caused by an attack by the women on a few reporters whom they suspected of being detectives.

Huge Club Waved by Sir Francis.

Mr. Lansbury and Sir Francis Vane followed Miss Pankhurst to the platform. The Boer veteran explained that he proposed to establish a labor training corps, waving aloft a huge knotted club. Sir Francis said he was prepared to use that weapon wherever he saw women injured or wherever the oppressed needed aid. The general staff of the organization will be drawn from officers who have seen war service. Both men and women are eligible for the ranks.

When Miss Pankhurst left the meeting, she was surrounded by a body guard of East Enders and made her escape after a lively battle with the police, who were compelled to draw their clubs. The crowd retaliated with sticks, and the result was that several of the belligerents were injured, among them Miss Emerson, who was knocked down and bruised about the head. She, too, escaped arrest, being carried away by sympathizers.

COPPER ROCK OUTPUT IS INCREASING STEADILY

Daily Production of C. & H. Is Close to the 8,000-Ton Mark, Better Than the Normal, and That of Other Companies Is Creeping Up -- Federation Parades Are Not as Lengthy as Formerly -- Copper Range Consolidated Begins to Import Men.

Houghton, Mich., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—The Copper Range Consolidated Mining company expects a party of forty imported workmen at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning. These men will be the first to be brought in by this company.

Today was absolutely devoid of strike interest. While there were parades all over the district, there were no disorders. The parades were not as lengthy as were the parades in the early weeks of the strike and the wearing-down effect of the irrevocable determination of the mining companies easily can be seen. The parades indicate that the numbers of the strikers are lessening slowly but steadily.

There continues to be rumors of aggressive plans of the Western Federation of Miners, but they have not assumed tangible form if, indeed, such plans exist. Trouble was expected at Calumet Tuesday night and there was a strengthening of vigilance on the part of the deputy sheriffs and the military guards. The threatened disorder did not materialize.

The only untoward incident in the district on Tuesday occurred that night, however—the explosion of a quantity of dynamite, variously estimated, in a field near Allouez. The explosion was heard all over the north end of the region. It is impossible to learn if the dynamite was exploded by strikers, but it is believed it was and that the purpose was intimidation, an effort to scare workmen into the belief that dynamite might be used for a more serious purpose. At the request of Governor Ferris, a conference between George H. Nichols, assistant prosecuting attorney of Houghton county, and the members of the board of supervisors and Sheriff Hepling of Keweenaw county was held at Calumet Tuesday night. Governor Ferris asked the Keweenaw officials to confer with Mr. Nichols. The purpose of the conference was to learn the exact status of the strike in Keweenaw county, the necessity of retaining detachments of the Michigan National Guard in the county and such other information as might assist the state executive in determining his future actions. Mr. Nichols would not say tonight that he had reached any conclusions, only that he would advise the governor of what had been advised at the conference.

Shipments Stop Operators' Progress. The best indication of the progress being made by the mining companies is seen in the amount of rock being for the normal production daily during the producing properties.

The Calumet & Hecla today shipped between 7,200 and 7,400 tons and the officials announce that the 8,000-ton mark will be reached within two days, that output approximating better than the normal production daily during the two or three months preceding the strike.

The Centennial today shipped 640 tons, the South Kearsarge 610 and the Osceola 600. The Copper Range Consolidated is shipping an aggregate of between 2,800 and 3,000 tons daily from the Champion, Baltic and Trimonite mines, with the property first mined contributing 1,000 tons of this. In ascertaining the Copper Range figures today it was learned that these mines are expecting large numbers of imported workmen.

The Isle Royale has not varied from 300 tons a day for more than two months. This mine is working only one shaft. The Superior is getting out between 500 and 600 tons of rock a day, its capacity production. The Quincy is shipping steadily, about one-half of its normal output of rock going to the mill.

Union Imports Three Cars of Meat. The clamor for aid from the Western Federation for the strikers seems to be bearing fruit. It has long been the contention of the federation that it had almost unlimited money with which to maintain the union in its fight, but the evidence of this has been lacking except in small degree. There is no doubt that the strike benefits accorded by the leaders of the federation have not been sufficient to maintain the families of the strikers in anything like the comforts they enjoyed before the strike.

The leaders, their imported spellbinders and the various agitators on the union payroll continually asserted through the early weeks of the strike that money would be forthcoming. Treasurer Lennon of the American Federation of Labor asserted in his speeches that no one would suffer hunger or cold or nakedness. The federation held out promises for months, and now it is bolstering up a wavering cause with piecemeal donations.

Three cars of coal for claimed thousands of strikers were reported yesterday. Now three cars of meat are reported, the federation having received that quantity today, two cars consigned to Ahmeek and one to South Range. A daily consignment of this amount would hardly suffice to keep the strikers in food, or else their ranks have greatly dwindled. However it is announced that several cars of flour are on the way. These cars have been expected for several weeks.

"Cost" Stores May Have Adverse Effect. The Hennessy chain of "cost" stores under Western Federation auspices has not as yet been gotten into operation. If these stores do come into being, they are likely to be rather a blow to the strikers than a measure in favor of its continuance. Heretofore many merchants who have been loyal or friendly to the strikers have extended credit, have honored the federation's strike benefit orders for goods. This business sustained these merchants in their attitude toward the strikers.

The Hennessy "cost" stores promise to take the business away from these merchants, who are recognized leaders among various nationalities. The effect on their sentiments can be foreseen.

A VICTORY FOR DECENCY.

The fortunate succession of events that thwarted the shrewd scheming of Murphy and his advisers had the expected issue Tuesday. The defeat of Tammany was a rout. It saved from the wreck nothing worth saving.

To this result Murphy was the largest contributor, though the death of Gaynor was the turning point in the campaign. Murphy and his advisers rejected Gaynor for re-nomination firm in the belief that he would become an independent candidate who would split with Fusion the anti-Tammany strength. And it worked out that way. If Gaynor had lived it is improbable that even the tremendous upheaval caused by Sulzer and Hennessy would have sufficed to defeat Tammany, fighting a divided foe. Thus it came about that Gaynor, whose contributions to the cause of good government had been many, made his most important contribution by his death, which assured a united campaign against Tammany.

But Gaynor's death might not have sufficed to secure the triumph of the forces of decency in New York had it not been attended by that other historic occurrence, the impeachment of Sulzer, not as one of the Fusion candidates aptly put it, "because he was too bad, but because he was not bad enough."

The state charged Sulzer's undoing to Murphy's ire with him for a refusal to become an abject fool. Sulzer made a miserable defendant, and his substantial guilt as charged has been generally conceded. But the public refused to allow its attention to be diverted from the reasons why Murphy had Sulzer impeached. The men who ratified the verdict by which Murphy "got" Sulzer at once enlisted for a crusade to "get" Murphy.

Into the campaign in New York came, besides Sulzer, Hennessy, who had trailed graft while Sulzer was still governor. Hennessy aroused the city with charges that were given a large measure of belief. The overshadowing figures in the campaign were Sulzer and Hennessy. They put Tammany on the defensive, loosened the Chief's tongue and paved the way to the rout of the apparently invulnerable machine. They felt fat their grudge against Murphy. They ruined him as effectively as he ruined Sulzer. Thus it happens that we have the anomaly of William Sulzer in his fall performing the greatest public service that has marked his long and varied career.

Great results will flow from this New York election. Besides honest government for the city, it doubtless furthers an attempt by President Wilson and Mayor-elect Mitchell to give New York city an honest and decent Democratic organization to replace the plunderbund that has heretofore been able to speak for the party. It ought to strengthen the demand for the retirement from Republican councils of William Barnes, Jr., the state chairman and Mr. Murphy's useful and astute partner in various projects of bi-partisan politics. Best of all, it ought to mean the passage of an honest primary law under the operation of which the reign of corrupt bosses would be ended in New York as surely as it has been ended in every other state where it has been applied as a remedy. In the elections for the legislature there has been a general cleaning out of the lay figures who swayed in the last legislature as the bosses crooked their fingers. The new assemblymen and senators should be much more responsive to public sentiment than the complacent mannikins they will replace.

In the country at large great comfort and great inspiration will be gained from the New York result. To communities still in the clutch of corrupt political rings it will bring encouragement to renewed effort. Their fight for decent government will go on undiscouraged.

MARQUETTE, MICHIGAN, October 27, 1913.

Mr. W. S. Prickett, Roycroft Farm, Sidnau, Mich.

Dear Sir: This is to certify that the sample of assembled milk of your entire herd, drawn at four p. m., Oct. 24th, plated 23 hours later, showed the presence of 895 bacteria per cubic centimeter for an average of seven plates. An excellent record.

Yours truly, S. D. MAGERS, Prof. Biology, Northern State Normal.

ENCOURAGING PEACE.

Men of such widely divergent political views as Speaker Champ Clark and Minority Leader Mann united in endorsing a resolution introduced by a Missouri Democrat to express approval of the Churchill "naval holiday" proposition, remarks the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

There was, in fact, no opposition to the resolution, but it was not adopted because of inadequate attendance. Mr. Mann declaring that action by the less than 100 members present would be a travesty on statesmanship.

It is, of course, strictly none of America's business. Winston Churchill, first lord of the British admiralty, made the proposition for a "naval holiday" directly to Germany, and Germany's action is not conditioned on the action of any other power. It is clearly understood, however, that such an agreement between England and Germany would result in a cessation of naval construction by all the powers, the United States among the rest. So that indirectly this nation is very much interested.

It is not likely that the Churchill proposition will be accepted by Germany, and it is certain that any resolution of the American house of representatives would carry no weight in aiding the German government to reach a decision. Such a resolution, however, would once more officially place the United States on record as a friend of peace, and might be an encouragement to the European statesmen who are working toward the distant goal of disarmament.

AS WAS EXPECTED.

As was to have been expected, the votes cast for the Progressive and Republican candidates for governor in both New Jersey and Massachusetts exceeded in number the votes cast for the successful Democratic nominees. The belief is warranted that had the Progressives and Republicans been united in support of independent, clean and progressive candidates the Democratic aspirants would have been defeated.

In Massachusetts Bird, the Progressive, ran second. Obviously if Gardner, the Republican nominee, had not butted in to take votes away from Bird, the strongest candidate after the winner, there might have been a Democratic reverse in the Old Bay State. In New Jersey, on the other hand, Colby, the Progressive, was a poor third, and if he had given the Republican candidate the right of way no doubt the Democrats would have suffered a defeat in the President's home state.

But there will be a lot of this sort of thing until such time as the Progressives and Republicans arrive at a basis of understanding. In an effort to hasten the disintegration of the Progressive forces, the Republicans will analyze the returns to show that this will come about through the abandonment of their party by the Bull Moose. But in the elections of the week there is visual evidence that, no matter what proportion of fair weather Progressives may slough off, there is a "last ditch" element that will demand its own terms as the price of co-operation. And in these elections, again, there is visual evidence that this "last ditch" element will be sufficient to prevent the Republican party from gaining any substantial successes until its views have been substantially met.

Whether the demonstration of the inability of either the Republicans or the Progressives to get anywhere at the moment without the assistance of each other will give any impetus to a practicable movement for a reunion of the parties is problematical, and will require some time to develop. The Progressives' terms are by no means light. They are, as defined by the leaders, acceptance by the Republicans of the Progressive platform, and, in effect, this would mean the acceptance of the Progressive leadership to large extent. These are stiff terms. The Republicans, among whom the old Bourbon element is still powerful, will hesitate to accept them.

Meanwhile the general non-Democratic public should set its mind on getting all the pleasure it can out of Democratic administration and rejoicing in large measure at such non-partisan victories for good government as has just been won in New York. As the Democrats promise to be in the saddle for some time to come, it is a matter for rejoicing that they are doing as well as they are and that they are now to undertake in New York, work that has been long crying out for attention.

Secretary Bryan says that the state department has not issued an "ultimatum." That's a harsh word. What the state department has evidently done has been to issue something that means the same thing but sounds softer.

inal charges based on evidence uncovered in connection with the impeachment proceedings. It is a safe prediction that Sulzer and Murphy will keep chasing one another around the stump until both have exhausted all their ammunition.

The question now commanding the most interest in and about the precincts of Tammany Hall, New York, concerns the identity of the new leader. When the Chief musses up the game as badly as Murphy did, it follows that there will be a new leader. All avenues of approach by Tammany to the public troughs have now been closed. The dispirited and hungry in the ranks will demand their sacrifice. Murphy will doubtless have to go.

Governor Foss has added another chapter to his political experience. He has found that a man is much better fixed running as a Republican or a Democrat than as an independent. The governor wound up rather ingloriously a useful political career by leaping into a campaign on his own resources and taking up the task of improvising an eleven-hour organization. It's perhaps to be wondered at that the governor did as well as he did.

Something in the election returns to please all political tastes, but of course there's no quarreling with the fact that the Democrats are entitled to get the most joy out of them.

The foreign press generally takes the view that in Mexican affairs, whether it knows it or not, the Wilson administration is on the high road to some form of intervention.

Worse and more of it. Here's the President of China giving a practical illustration of the application of Huerta methods in governing a yellow people.

Huerta is still silent. What an interesting story he could tell if he would only talk as freely as the newspaper correspondents would like to have him.

EDITORIAL OPINION

Started 'None Too Soon.'

The movement initiated by Finnish business men to prevail upon the Finnish strikers to return to work in the mines has been started none too soon, for the time is fast approaching when not only the strikers of that nationality but all others as well will find their jobs taken. The Calumet & Hecla already has practically a normal force, and preparations are under way for the shipment of more outside men at the Abmeek, Mohawk, Osceola, Quincy and Copper Range mines. Places of the strikers will be steadily filled, and in many instances strikers will have to vacate company houses to make way for the new men. The Finnish nationality, the large interest of varied character in the strike district and can scarcely afford to have many Finnish strikers forced out, which is certain to be the outcome unless they soon heed the appeal of the more conservative of their countrymen and take their former places in the mines. An effort will be made to convince them of the true condition of affairs and prevail upon them to disregard promises of agitators which cannot be fulfilled. On the success of this movement depends much of the future prosperity and advancement of the Finnish people in the copper country.—Calumet News.

Cheaper and Better. In addition to the labor of delivering butter and eggs and assorted merchandise, Uncle Sam has, perhaps without his being aware of the fact, had another new duty placed upon him. He is now a student of the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The municipal court of this city, instead of having deputy bailiffs chase witnesses up and down the highways and byways, entrusts this work to the post-office department. The subpoenas are merely enclosed in stamped envelopes and dispatched through the mails.

The results have been most satisfactory. During one month out of 87 summonses issued, only fourteen were undelivered by the ubiquitous postmen. Had they been handled by the usual process a number returned as not served would, on the basis of past records, have been sixty-eight. Furthermore, the cost to the city was but $67.50, as against $270 under the old system, a saving which materially decreases the cost of litigation.

The success of the experiment is due, of course, to the highly developed postal system and the fact that witnesses who do not want to appear in court will try to dodge the subpoena server, whereas nobody tries to dodge the mail carrier. Court officers and bar associations in every part of the country are imitating into the new method. So far as it has been tried, it shows economy and efficiency.—Cleveland Leader.

A Triple Trade. Frank O. Smith, representative from Maryland, is the author of a highly spectacular land-swapping proposition. He suggests that the panhandle of Alaska, the state of Idaho, and several northern British Columbia from the ocean, be turned over to Great Britain in the interests of amity and good fellowship. He hints that Great Britain would be willing to give something in return, such as the British Columbia land-swapping material. Then, if the United States found itself with Belize on its hands and did not know what to do with it, there could be another exchange. Belize could be traded to Mexico for lower California.

The scheme is, of course, fanciful. But Mr. Smith has gone so far as to introduce in congress a resolution directing President Wilson to enter into negotiations with Great Britain for the transfer of the Alaskan panhandle. The subsequent swaps have been merely unofficially suggested, so as to show some ground of reason for entering the business at all.

Mr. Smith says the resolution was introduced at the request of the Universal Peace union of Philadelphia. Perhaps it is intended that the Alaskan gift to Britain be in the nature of an anniversary present to celebrate the centenary of the signing of the Ghent treaty. If such is the intention it is rather ungracious even to talk of getting Belize or any other compensation. When there is compensation a gift comes to be a gift.

It is better to consider the proposition as a gift, if it is to be considered at all. Lower California or Belize would be a miserably inadequate return for south-eastern Alaska.

But on no basis is there any reason for taking the scheme seriously. It is sufficient to imagine what it would do toward the cause of universal peace, and it is as bad business for nations as for individuals to give something for nothing when it is not a matter of charity.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Mrs. Pank Is Hornless. We don't know just what we expected from Mrs. Pankhurst on her visit to this country, but it was certainly not to show so much sentimentality than anything she has given us. As a human fiend she has proved a disappointment. She doesn't appear to have any horns at all and there are times when she appears to be almost if not actually human.

The Mrs. Pankhurst of the American lecture platform are not exactly the same. We had looked for a wild, disheveled, amoralistic, fire-breathing kind of person. We knew all about her experiences in London. Whenever anyone pointed out to her a mail box, she started a banquet by hurling brick bats through the windows, heaved a bomb at a premier or did battle with a London bobby, we saw the demonic hand of Mrs. Pankhurst in it. When she announced that she was coming to this country for a lecture tour, we knew just what she was going to do when she landed here. Possibly she would set fire to the Singer building and burn out a couple of stories, possibly she would throw a bomb at President Wilson, or perhaps she would merely smash a few windows and hand an occasional policeman a what she would do when she landed here. We saw the demonic hand of Mrs. Pankhurst in it. When she announced that she was coming to this country for a lecture tour, we knew just what she was going to do when she landed here. We saw the demonic hand of Mrs. Pankhurst in it.

But she hasn't. When she was held up at the port of entry and all but turned back to England without the privilege of entering this country she did not kick the door out of her room and throw a bowl of hot soup over the bald pate of her jailer; instead, after she had been admitted, this frail, delicate, modest-appearing woman had only words of praise for the American authorities.

ities. When after all this publicity the American people failed to show even curiosity to fill the empty seats in the halls in which she spoke there was no resort to firearms to attract them. And now, wonder of wonders, when she has reached Chicago instead of horse-shipping the mayor merely for purposes of demonstration or for pure levity or whatever else we may have ascribed as the leading motive of the militants, she loudly declares against militancy in this country and asserts that there is no need for it, and she earnestly exhorts the Illinois women to make a wise and faithful use of the ballot, which has been accorded them.

Yes, we fear she is really human. We are forced to acknowledge it, although it is a little disappointing. We had expected to see horns and cloven feet and there aren't any at all. Whatever she may be in England, she is very much Dr. Jekyll here. And this is another idol fallen, for however strongly we may have condemned her and however deep may have been our pity for her poor, mistake-making nature, we have secretly gloried in her lawlessness.—Saginaw Courier-Herald.

Charge of Navy Snobbery Refuted. A letter recently received by Secretary of the Navy Daniels, written by an officer in the navy who had risen from the ranks to a commissioned position, refuted in an explicit manner the charge that snobbery exists to a surprising degree among officers who have graduated from the government naval academy at Annapolis, resulting in a feeling of class distinction and a feeling of inferiority to the service. Such charges were made not long ago by a former assistant paymaster in the navy, and brought forth a declaration by the secretary to the effect he did not believe the charges were well founded.

The letter referred to is from a certain Lieutenant Lyons, who has served for 27 years as an enlisted man, warrant officer and finally commissioned officer. The former assistant paymaster declared that the graduates of Annapolis would not accept an officer who had risen from the ranks as their social equal; that they made a practice of snubbing him on every possible occasion and did all they could to drive him out of the service. Lieutenant Lyons says that in his own case he was treated with the utmost consideration and kindness and made to feel that in every way he was the equal of his brother officers who happened to get into the cabin through Annapolis, and that he has talked with many other officers who like himself rose from the ranks and they have, without exception, had the same experience.

For the honor of the United States navy it is well that this charge has been exploded. There should be no place in the service for officers who snubbed a man because he had won a commission strictly on his merits and by the hardest kind of work. The letter written by Lieutenant Lyons ought to encourage warrant officers to make greater effort to get commissions, and many think that the navy department ought to provide for more commissioned officers from this source. If this were done, many enterprising young men who prefer to enter commercial service and several hundred enter the navy as enlisted men, with the object of studying for commissions.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

BATTLE CREEK—A barrel of oil for the Battle Creek fire department arrived and a clerk at the Michigan Central freight house called station No. 1 by telephone and asked the firemen to come for it. The Ghost of Bygone Days.

The Smithsonian institution is a building in Washington where the relics and mementos of dead ages are kept. As soon as you enter the structure, you know that, in your mind, you are about to walk back through the dusty and cobwebbed corridors of time.

Gus J. Karger, who was the publicity adviser of former President Taft, but who is now a bona-fide newspaper correspondent, was sitting in the press gallery of the senate one afternoon, when E. L. Lowry, on a visit to Washington from New York, rushed in and was seized immediately by an uncontrollable fit of laughter. He was on the verge of hysterics.

"What's the matter?" inquired Karger. "It's so funny to see you here," exploded Lowry. "I thought you were over in the Smithsonian institution."—The Popular Magazine.

A Laconic Yachtsman. It probably happened about like this. Mr. Alexander Smith Cochran, the second richest bachelor in the world, and the inventor of the automatic system of party-cloques—look it up in the big book—that ever worked, walked into the office of William Gardner, designer of yachts guaranteed to sail intricate geometrical figures around other yachts. Mr. Cochran said: "Morning."

Mr. Gardner said, "Morning." Mr. Cochran said, "Build me a sloop to beat Lipton." Mr. Cochran said, "How big?" Mr. Gardner said, "Twenty-five footer." Mr. Cochran said, "All right." Mr. Cochran said, "Good-bye." Whereupon Mr. Cochran likely walked out, feeling that he had thrown away a fine, pretty morning in idle babble. Folks used to say of a certain senator that he was as noisy as a dumb kitchen in four feet of snow. Cochran would make that senator sound like a fire alarm on Saturday night.—Herbert Corey in New York Globe.

GREAT CARE TAKEN IN SELECTING JURY

Copper Country Striker Goes on Trial in the Houghton County Circuit Court.

The effort to procure a jury yesterday in the circuit court at Houghton in the case of Lazo Malkovich, the first striker to be taken as an indication that great care is being taken in selecting the jury for these cases is to be exercised. Malkovich's case is of a minor nature. The man is charged with assaulting John Memere an employee of the Calumet & Hecla, July 24, the second day of the strike.

That the attorneys for the Western Federation of Miners, who are defending the strikers in these trials, consider that any opinion on the strike is inimical to the interests of their clients was shown yesterday in Attorney Kerr's examination of jurors. One case may be taken as typical.

The talesman examined an employee of a mining company. He said that he had no knowledge of the case at bar and had no opinion of any sort regarding it. Mr. Kerr asked him if he had an opinion regarding the strike, out of which this case grows. He had no such opinion. The attorney questioned the juror regarding possible conversations on the strike. He admitted talking about it and, after repeated questioning, admitted that in such conversation it would be rather difficult to not express an opinion one way or the other on the merits of the strike.

The juror having admitted this, the attorney succeeded in getting him to admit that as between witnesses who are strikers and witnesses who are not he would be bound to favor one set of witnesses or the other. In answer to a question, he admitted that he would like to have a juror in his frame of mind try a case in which he was defendant.

Mr. Nichols, for the prosecution, impressed on the juror the fact that the merits of the strike are not to be looked upon as any other case in court, without consideration of any general set of circumstances. The juror declared he could enter the trial of the case with that fact in mind, that he had no prejudice either for or against the defendant. He was retained for the time.

The jury finally was obtained at 2:15 o'clock. The trial will proceed today.

Next Case Not from Strike.

A little variety will be given the proceedings in the case following that of Malkovich. It is not a strike case. John Lovinski of Painesdale is charged with assault with intent to injure, by holding a gun over the head of Axel Immonen of Calumet. The case, through its prominence in the justice court, has become known as "the trying gun case," it having been charged at the outset that Lovinski smashed Immonen over the head with that particular culinary utensil when Immonen called to collect a sewing machine bill. It is now contended that a trying gun was not the weapon alleged to have been used. Just what the weapon was will appear at the trial.

Another feature of this Lovinski case that holds some interest is that it will mark the first appearance as a trial lawyer of Harold Schulte, the youngest member of the Houghton county bar. Mr. Schulte was detailed by Judge O'Brien to defend Lovinski because the latter declared he could not afford to hire a lawyer.

BUYS THE IVERSON FARM.

The consideration was not made known.

VERDICT AGAINST C. & H.

Supreme Court Affirms Judgment of $5,000 for Victor Asplund.

In dispatches yesterday morning it was announced from Lansing that the supreme court had affirmed the verdict of $5,000 given in the Houghton county circuit court against the Calumet & Hecla Mining company in favor of Victor Asplund. Asplund was an employee of the company and suffered an injury that lamed him permanently. The verdict in his favor was the first one ever returned against the Calumet & Hecla though others have since been given. The Asplund case has been before the supreme court since last January. LeGendre & Driscoll were the plaintiff's attorneys.

SAILOR RETURNS TO DUTY.

Dennis Sullivan Leaves to Board Ship for the West Indies.

A group of friends were at the Mineral Range station at Hancock yesterday when they boarded the St. Paul train for Chicago, whence he will proceed to New York to board one of Uncle Sam's battleships for the West Indies to spend the winter. Sullivan declared that it would not be another bringing of the country should return to Hancock. His visit was made pleasant, friends doing everything possible to show that they appreciated his home-coming. Carrying a small book in his pocket, he admitted that he had written the names of Hancock men, Sullivan promised to send them cards from the different ports his ship may touch.

REPRESENTS THE COUNTY.

Dr. Conrad Goes to Anti-Tuberculosis Convention as Delegate.

Owing to the admittedly sincere interest taken in the anti-tuberculosis campaign in Houghton county, Mayor F. J. Bowden of Houghton decided that if he could bring it about the county should be represented at the annual convention of the Michigan Association for the Prevention and Relief of Tuberculosis at Kalamazoo Thursday and Friday.

Mayor Bowden recently received from Mayor Connable of Kalamazoo an invitation to name a Houghton delegate to the convention. This invitation was backed up by a proclamation by Governor Ferris. The mayor did not at the time of the receipt of the invitation give the consideration that later reflection brought out and yesterday he proposed to Mayors Ojala of Hancock and Schumaker of Red Jacket that the three municipalities should unite in sending a delegate.

Confident that the executives of the other towns would co-operate in defraying the expenses, Mayor Bowden asked Dr. G. A. Conrad, health officer of Portage township, to act as the delegate. The doctor consented and left yesterday for Kalamazoo. Mayor Bowden had not last night received answers from Mayors Ojala and Schumaker, but he is satisfied their municipalities will endorse the pro rata expense and is acting on his own judgment in naming the delegate because of the short time intervening.

On his return from the convention Dr. Conrad will make a report to the three councils. At the convention he will be in a position to report from Houghton county a splendid interest in the campaign, as shown by a county sanatorium, a county association and a visiting nurse.

GYMNASIUM IS POPULAR.

The popularity of the gymnasium work given at Calumet under the direction of Physical Director Johnstone of the Y. M. C. A. is growing almost daily. Particularly in the junior boys' and the businessmen's classes is this shown. Businessmen's classes are held nearly every evening of the week, as well as at 8 o'clock. The total attendance in gymnasium classes last month was 832, compared with 208 for the same month a year ago. In the businessmen's classes, 254 took the gymnasium work last month. A preparatory class for boys ten, eleven and twelve years of age has been started.

GO TO ISHPERING SATURDAY.

Members of Calumet commandery, Knights of the Golden Eagle, will leave on Saturday morning for Ishpeming to attend the first annual gathering of the Golden Eagle commanderies of the state. Twenty-five or thirty men will make the trip. The commandery held its last special drill in preparation for the Ishpeming contests last evening.

In dispatches yesterday morning it was announced from Lansing that the supreme court had affirmed the verdict of $5,000 given in the Houghton county circuit court against the Calumet & Hecla Mining company in favor of Victor Asplund. Asplund was an employee of the company and suffered an injury that lamed him permanently. The verdict in his favor was the first one ever returned against the Calumet & Hecla though others have since been given. The Asplund case has been before the supreme court since last January. LeGendre & Driscoll were the plaintiff's attorneys.

It was announced yesterday at the headquarters of the Houghton Light Infantry that the proposed inoculation of members of the company with typhoid serum has been postponed. The treatment will not now be attempted till the next annual state encampment.

At the last drill, last Thursday night, a poll of the members showed that thirty-five of the men were willing to undergo the immunization at the time. Major Apled, chief medical officer of the National Guard, suggested the poll, thinking to give the inoculation to such members as were willing, it not being compulsory when the soldiers are not on active service. The major decided that thirty-five men is too small a number to treat and he postponed the action till the encampment.

Impressed with the precautions being taken in inoculating members of the National Guard against danger of attack by typhoid, many people of Calumet are taking the inoculation. The inoculation, as has been proved through a term of several years, is practically certain to prevent typhoid. The period of immunity is about one year, it is stated.

Among thirty-two thousand men of the regular army who were inoculated while in Texas two years ago, there was but one case of typhoid, although there was an epidemic of the contagion in the state at the time. In many of the towns of southern Michigan, where most of the militiamen come from, typhoid fever is rife. Those of the militiamen inoculated here will, however, be immune for a year from the time they take the treatment, when they can again be inoculated.

There is said to be absolutely no danger attached to the inoculation, as in smallpox, where sometimes fatal consequences follow vaccination. The inoculation for typhoid fever is performed with bacteria that have been killed.

TRAFFIC SHOWS DECREASE.

Portage Lake October Commerce Is Less Than in 1912.

The statistical report of the commerce through Portage lake and the canals for the month of October was given out yesterday by Superintendent George H. Banks. The report shows that the traffic in October 1912, was in excess of that recorded during the month just closed by more than 130,000 tons.

In the report, the tonnage of the vessels using the waterway is given, but the actual commerce is shown in the item of total cargo, from which the foregoing computation was made.

From two preceding reports the following information is taken for purposes of comparison with the current report:

October, 1912—Total vessels both ways, 256; total tonnage, 361,811; total soft coal bound up, 135,193; total copper bound up, 299,574. Total cargo bound down, 19,851. Total tonnage bound down, 151,100. The figures are in tons.

STRANGE MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

The Koreans marry very young, generally between the ages of twelve and fifteen. For a woman to reach twenty without marrying is considered a terrible crime, according to World Wide Magazine.

Royal Quality

It is the high quality of Royal Baking Powder that has established its great and world-wide reputation.

Never experiment with so important an article as the human food.

Every housewife knows she can rely upon it; that it makes the bread and biscuit more delicious and wholesome—always the finest that can be baked.

It is economy and every way preferable to use the Royal, whose work is always certain, never experimental.

There are many imitation baking powders, made from cheap ingredients. They may cost little per pound, but their use may be at the cost of health.

DELINQUENT LIST LIGHT.

But Three at Hubbell Fail to Pay Taxes to Village Treasurer.

Village Treasurer Marcotte of Hubbell has made a record in the collection of taxes this year. Mr. Marcotte is now finishing his second term, so cannot be a candidate for reelection next spring. According to the returns just made to the county treasurer, but $10.50 was returned as delinquent. This amount is due from three property owners, two of whom were unable to pay while the third is said to have a penchant for paying his taxes to the county treasurer.

HAS NEW STEEL TARGET.

The Houghton Light infantry has received from the war department two Aiken sliding targets of steel construction to be set up on the Houghton range next summer. These targets are of the type in use at Camp Perry, O., where the national rifle competitions are held, and their addition to the company's equipment will give the Houghton Light infantry one of the finest rifle ranges in the state service. It is somewhat interesting to recall that the day on which the company was first organized last summer for its annual school of rifle instruction was the day Governor Ferris called on the state troops to quell the strike riots. The company thus was deprived of its rifle practice. The company shortly is to begin its annual course of winter indoor practice.

THANKSGIVING TOURNAMENT.

A tournament of various games, including volleyball, basketball and indoor baseball, and runs or dashes will be held in the Calumet Y. M. C. A. gymnasium the morning of Thanksgiving Day. Members of all classes will participate.

STRANGE MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

The Koreans marry very young, generally between the ages of twelve and fifteen. For a woman to reach twenty without marrying is considered a terrible crime, according to World Wide Magazine.

Magazine. A peculiarity of these weddings is that they would appear to be a matter of interest to every one, except the parties mostly concerned, who often see one another for the first time on the wedding morning. This is because in a Korean household the boys are kept apart from the girls, the father and the sons occupying the front of the house, and the mother and the daughters living in the rear of the establishment. Moreover, in their social life the boys are not allowed to mix with the girls, sex. The parents and friends arrange the match, in accordance with their own interests, and if both parties agree and the bargain is concluded, the formalities are of the simplest. There is no religious ceremony and no legal contract.

Early on the wedding morn the best man arrives to tie the bridegroom's pigtail in a knot on the top of his head, and this not only remains forever as an outward and visible sign of his condition, but entitles him to wear a hat for the first time in his life and to be treated as a man and enter public life. He may be a mere child, twelve years of age, but he has no longer any right to play with his boy friends, and must choose his associates among old men. He has now all civil rights and is expected to behave accordingly. If, on the contrary, a man is unable to afford the luxury of a home and a wife, he may reach the age of fifty, but he must still wear his pigtail down his back, has none of the advantages of citizenship, and is expected to play with kites, marbles and such like. Any folly he may commit is excused in the same way as the naughtiness of a child who is not responsible for his actions.

The wedding ceremony itself is most simple. The whole function consists of a procession, when the bride and bridegroom are conducted by their respective relations to a dais. There they are put face to face, and probably, as already stated, see each other for the first time. They merely glance at one another, bow, and the knot is tied indissolubly.

Despite the many reforms which the Japanese have introduced into Korea since their annexation of the country after the Russo-Japanese war, it still retains its ancient and old-world traditions. Indeed, the "Land of the Morning Calm" remains today the quaintest country on the face of the globe, a topsy-turvy world of picturesque people, possessing many strange and curious customs.

This is all the more remarkable when we remember what Japan has done in her attempts to develop and modernize the country. All the principal Korean cities now boast of large Japanese settlements, with wide streets, fine buildings and up-to-date shops. Roads have been built, railways opened and the various towns placed in telegraphic communication with one another. The cultivation of cotton and silk has been introduced and several mines have been opened. Indeed, there are now over half a million Japanese settlers in the country, and all the important officials and government posts are held by the energetic sons of Nippon. Nevertheless, the moment you get away from the purely foreign quarters you are in old Korea, where everything is as quaint, out-of-the-common and non-progressive as it is possible to imagine.

You cannot escape the old-world atmosphere even in Seoul itself, despite its broad streets, electric trams, electric light and modern buildings. The Korean still appears in public in the costume of his ancestors, the kaftan—a flowing white robe of linen, surmounted by an absurd-looking black horsehair top-hat. The custom which allows the women of the upper classes to take outdoor exercises at night is still observed, though the men are no longer excluded from the streets at such hours, as was the case before the coming of the Japanese. The natives still worship the god of the mountains, and every village and mountain pass boasts of its shrine, where sacrifices are offered.

QUICK THOUGHT SAVES LIFE.

If an airman once loses control of his machine his fate is as good as sealed, and there are some men so plucky, so wonderfully full of resource, that even in the most awful dilemmas they never lose their heads, but will snatch at any desperate chance and somehow manage to come out unhurt.

Sabbling is such a man. In July last, relates Pearson's Weekly, he was flying with a passenger and had reached a height of fully a thousand feet when a gust of wind caught his plane. There was a sharp snap. One of the levers controlling the planes had broken. Scrambling acted on the instant. Scrambling swiftly out of his seat, he crept forward and operated the planes directly by hand. The machine veered swiftly earthward, but though it was smashed on landing, neither of the men were hurt.

One of the Egbert brothers, acrobats, was on top of a coach near Liverpool when a wheel came off and the vehicle upset. It came quite natural to him to wait till the coach was half over, then jump wide, landing on his feet. It was exactly in this fashion that the well-known airwoman, Madame de Laroche, saved her life at Rheims. Her machine was brought down by the wash of another aeroplane passing too close, and she managed to keep her head and jump clear.

Monsieur Le Blon, by his quickness and cleverness on one occasion saved not only his own life, but those of a number of other people.

This was at the Doncaster flying week three years ago. It may be remembered that the weather was very bad. Le Blon was flying in a gale when a heavy gust surging behind the monoplane swung it broadside on, heading off to the right. He tried to regain his line of flight, but the machine refused to come round. Then he descended quickly. But by this time he was almost on the rails bordering the course. He touched earth at forty miles an hour.

Immediately in front were the white posts and rails fronted by a ditch. Le Blon was equal to the emergency. He jerked forward his elevating lever and, like a horse rising at a fence, the plane jerked forward and over the obstacle. But now a worse peril confronted him. He found himself charging at the speed of an express train straight for the packed ranks of spectators.

Again he threw himself on his steering column and swung it over, leaving his body forward. With a great swoop the plane leaped into the air. So close was it to the crowd that the wind of its passage sent hats flying this way and that. But it rose—rose to fifty feet, and then came hurtling down. The wheels crumpled, the propeller flew to fragments. But no one was hurt.

Birmingham, Ala., F. L. Willis, benefited greatly from asthma and bronchitis. He writes: "I got no relief until I took Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It entirely removed those choking sensations, and never failed to produce an easy and comfortable condition of the throat and lungs." For sale by All Dealers.

New York Stocks.

New York, Nov. 5.—Early London cables showed American stocks off from 1/2 to 1 1/2 points in New York and an unsettled and lower market was looked for in New York, but as is usually the case, the market acted contrary to expectations. After some scattered selling at the opening the market stiffened up and advanced from 1 to 2 points, closing at practically the high for the day. The Boston copper share market showed firmness, and closed with fractional gains. There was a quiet picking up of Mohawk, Alouez, Copper Range, Osecola. These stocks should be good for from 5 to 10 points when the strike is declared off and production on a normal scale resumed.

KEWEENAW COPPER.

The work on the property of the Phoenix Consolidated Copper company, a subsidiary of the Keweenaw Copper company, was commenced this week, when the erection of the machinery transferred from the Maudan shaft was started, says the Keweenaw Miner. A temporary hoist has been erected near the collar of the shaft and this will be used until the large hoist has been installed. Steam was raised and the whistle was sounded at this place for the first time in a great number of years. The old incline shaft is about 350 feet south of the old stone dry. The debris that had accumulated about the collar of the shaft for about fifty years has been cleared away and the shaft openings show that the old shaft was one with a double track, the tracks being oak instead of rails, as are used nowadays. They were about thirty-inch tracks, so the skips must have been small. An old map which General Manager Uren dug up and which was made in 1860 shows that all the copper rock was worked out for a length of 350 feet on the lode and that from a depth of 250 feet the rock was stoped out to grass roots. The last work was done on this particular part of the property, it is thought, about 1865, or fifty years ago. The character of the rock taken out in the openings at that time was satisfactory. The rock was milled at the old stamp mill on the west bank of Eagle river. General Manager Uren has placed Captain Carlson of the Trimountain in charge of the mining operations, and Samuel Jenkin, of the Maudan is in charge of the machinery. Great interest attaches to the re-opening of this particular part of the mine. The old-timers speak highly of the showing as they remember it. The expense of re-opening the mine will be comparatively light, for the reason that practically everything needed, except fuel, is already on the ground and owned by the company. A force of twenty-five men is engaged in the work. When the shaft is cleaned out and the permanent hoist is erected a larger force will be employed. Two old-timers are connected with the enterprise, they being President Thomas F. Cole and General Manager Uren, and that their faith will be shown to be justified is felt by all who have knowledge of the property.

"Sings Talks and Talky Sings" is the announcement of the offering of Mania Hendricks, booked for the Marquette Opera House Friday and Saturday of this week. Miss Hendricks has been well received in western venues. She has a number of catchy songs, and makes several quick changes of costume.

Miss Laura Clement, of Baraga avenue, was pleasantly surprised at her home last evening by thirteen of her friends, the occasion being her thirteenth birthday. Games were played, lunch served, and the time was passed pleasantly.

Miss Clement was presented with a set of prayer beads mounted in gold.

S. J. Mitchell has returned from a visit to Green Bay, Milwaukee and Chicago. While in Chicago he procured the agency for the Argo electric vehicles, and he expects to receive within two weeks a five-passenger coupe that he will use for demonstration purposes. Mr. Mitchell, who is also the agent for the Chalmers-Detroit, expects his new Chalmers here next week.

Mrs. Robert Richardson, 1025 High street, has just returned after a five months' absence from the city, during which she visited several members of her family who reside in cities between Marquette and the Pacific coast. Guess the Pictures—A month's pass to the Grand theater will be given to the first two persons who correctly guess the names of the manufacturers of the motion picture films at the theater this evening. The pictures will consist of a two-reel special, a short travelogue, a comedy and a story of the New York fire department.

Fancy Work Sale—The Dorcas society of the Swedish Lutheran church opened its three day sale of fancy work and party sash yesterday at the church. A 6 o'clock supper was served last evening, and supper will be served again tonight at thirty-five cents a plate. The members of the society have some attractive work on display and the sale is attracting a good attendance.

Suffered Serious Injuries—Ruth McLean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McLean, Hampton street, suffered serious injuries from the explosion of a railroad torpedo she picked up on the South Shore tracks, near the Hampton street school building, while on her way home from school late Tuesday afternoon. Not knowing what the cap was, she struck it with a stone and caused it to explode. Her right hand was mutilated and her right eye was so badly injured it had to be removed.

Father Pirson, superior of the convent of the Sacred Heart throughout the United States, left yesterday for Fairhaven, Mass., his headquarters, after spending several days in Marquette with Rev. Later, it is expected he will start a college at the colony.

Snow and Rain Tonight—A heavy wind storm from the northwest, accompanied by snow and rain, is expected to sweep the upper peninsula late tonight. Last evening saw the first of the storm, but the wind was from the southwest, and it was warm. Yesterday the Canadian Northwest was brewing a wind storm just above Montana, and the territory above Oregon had both wind and snow, sweeping southeast. This is expected to reach here late tonight. The wind last evening at 6:45 o'clock attained a velocity of thirty-six miles an hour—four miles short of a gale. At 7 o'clock it had abated slightly, and according to the weather bureau was blowing at a rate of thirty-four miles.

Will File Plea—City Attorney Brown yesterday received a telegram from the attorney general of the state advising him to file a plea of general issue in the tax case of the Pioneer Iron company against the city. Mr. Brown does not expect that the case will come to trial until some time next year, as it is likely that the Pioneer Iron company will also protest its state and county taxes, which are based on the same valuations, it is protesting in its suit against the city. It is not known, either whether the case will be noted for trial on the calendar for the December term of circuit court. Mr. Brown believes that the case may prove intricate and that the obtaining of the proofs for the city may involve a considerable expenditure.

New Book Deals With Development of Michigan—Covers the 1673-1835 Period.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—"Chicago and the Old Northwest, 1673-1835," is the name of a newly published book which gives the most clear picture of the first development of the region that has yet been constructed. Many traditional notions are upset in the story. It was written by Milo M. Quaife, professor of history in Lewis Institute.

The book is of special interest to Michigan readers for two reasons: It deals with the old Northwest, in the history of which Detroit and Mackinac in particular, and Michigan in general, played so important a role. Until the very close of the period covered (1673-1835), Chicago, from the special viewpoint of which the book is written, was far more intimately connected both politically and economically with Detroit than with the settlements of southern Illinois. From Detroit, vessels came round the lakes with merchandise for Chicago and other Michigan points, carrying back the furs and other products of the interior. This connection may perhaps be concretely illustrated in two ways: John Kinzie, whose permanent residence at Chicago dates from 1804, was intimately connected by business and family ties with Detroit, and as late as 1816 described himself as a citizen of that place; again, down until 1832, the affairs of the Chicago Indian agency were administered from Detroit.

By Governor Cass, rather than from St. Louis, the other great center of control for the tribes of the interior of the country.

Consequently the narrative sets forth over and over again the close connection between Detroit and other points on the upper lakes, and Chicago. During the terrible Fox wars, which filled the first half of the 18th century, expeditions frequently passed on the one hand, from Wisconsin round Lake Michigan to Detroit; on the other hand, in the reverse direction. The story of the famous story of Detroit by the Foxes in 1712 is narrated in spirited fashion and the author brings to light many another thrilling feat of arms, whose fame, hitherto has been threatened with oblivion.

Pontiac's Conspiracy. The story of Pontiac's famous conspiracy is tersely told; three of the points at which he struck in this great effort to destroy every English post in the interior, lay within the state of Michigan—Mackinac, St. Joseph, and Detroit. The garrisons of the first two were massacred—that of St. Joseph in three minutes' time, if the account of an eye witness may be credited. Detroit was one of the three ports west of the Alleghenies to defy successfully the red warriors.

In the Revolution Detroit played an even more prominent role, being the center of British control of the Northwest. So it became the goal, never, alas, to be attained—of the ambitions of the dauntless George Rogers Clark; and from Detroit, expedition after expedition was launched across Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois, against the Spanish stronghold of St. Louis and the Americans in lower Illinois and Kentucky. The story of these heroic campaigns, on the outcome of which hung the fate not only of Michigan, but of all the lands between the Alleghenies and the Mississippi, is told in detail by the author.

From Kingsbury Papers. Of equal interest to Michigan readers will be the story of the garrison life at Chicago of Northwestern posts in the opening decade of the 19th century. The materials for this narrative are drawn chiefly from the papers of General Jacob Kingsbury, who for so long commanded at Fort Detroit and at Mackinac, and for a time was the superior officer in charge of all the Northwestern posts.

Professor Quaife is the first historian who has ever been permitted access to this important collection.

The prominence of Detroit in the narrative is nowhere more marked than in the description of the battle of the War of 1812. On the outcome of General Hull's campaign depended the fate of Fort Dearborn and all the interior north and west of Ohio. From Detroit along the old Chicago trail came the Indian runner Winemac, bearing Hull's fatal order to Captain Heald at Chicago to evacuate Fort Dearborn. At almost the same time another runner carried along the same trail to Chicago the news of the American defeat at Brownstown, the reception of which encouraged the Indians to attack Heald's little force within sight of Fort Dearborn, itself.

St. Joseph River Valley.

Equally prominent is the narrative of the affairs of the St. Joseph River valley. It was by way of the St. Joseph that La Salle first entered Illinois in 1679, and his Fort Miami at the mouth of the St. Joseph was the earliest fort of the interior. The French center of control in this region was transferred to Fort St. Joseph, where Niles, Michigan now stands. The English succeeded the French here in 1763, and the same year were massacred by Pontiac's warriors. In 1781 a Spanish expedition from St. Louis captured St. Joseph, and largely on the strength of this Spain proceeded to lay claim, in the peace negotiations of 1783, to the vast territory between the Ohio, the Great Lakes and the Mississippi. In the War of 1812, and again in the Black Hawk war of 1832, the St. Joseph River valley was prominently concerned. Michigan regiments marched to the relief of Chicago in 1832, and the terror inspired by Black Hawk's valiant warriors spread far over northern Michigan. All these stirring events receive adequate and impartial treatment at the hands of the author.

CITIZENS PETITION FOR STATE TROOPS

Strike-Breakers and Police Are Injured and Cars Wrecked in Riot at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Nov. 5.—An effort to resume street car traffic, which has been tied up since last Friday night by a strike of the conductors and motormen, resulted today in the serious injury of seven strike-breakers and two policemen and the entire demolition of the cars taken out.

A crowd of several thousand persons, many of them armed with bricks, surrounded the cars and prevented their progress, while a downpour of missiles from roofs and windows of buildings along the route threatened the lives of the strike-breakers and police.

Indications were tonight that the militia would be called out tomorrow. A committee of seven of the civic and commercial organizations presented a unanimous request to Governor Balston, asking for troops. Governor Balston would not state what action he would take.

COLORADO TROOPS SEIZE A FEW MORE FIREARMS

Trinidad, Colo., Nov. 5.—General Chase returned here today, after a day spent in Walsenburg, Roscoe and Ludlow. At Ludlow, thirty-five rifles and pistols were found, and 5,000 rounds of ammunition were taken from the tent colonies. Another box of ammunition was taken from the agent at the Ludlow station, to which point it had been consigned.

WRECKAGE OF TRAIN ON FRENCH RAILROAD YIELDS MANY BODIES.

Melun, France, Nov. 5.—When darkness caused a suspension of operations to-night, thirty-nine bodies had been recovered from the wreck of the Marcellus. Paris express and others are believed to be under the ruins. Several persons in a dying condition are still pinned beneath the wreckage. The express was in collision late last night with another train. No Americans were injured.

AVIATOR FLIES TO PARK AS GIANTS AND THE SOX PLAY A GAME AT EL PASO.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 5.—The Chicago White Sox defeated the New York Giants, 10 to 7, in the world's tour game at Washington Park here today. The game was interrupted in the third inning when Aviator Earl Wagner, of Milwaukee, alighted on the diamond. Mathewson pitched the opening inning for New York and was succeeded by Hearne.

MIKE YOKEL, WRESTLER, KEEPS THE CHAMPIONSHIP; DOWNS JOE CARR TWICE.

Minneapolis, Nov. 5.—Mike Yokel of Salt Lake, middleweight champion wrestler, tonight successfully defended his title in a match with Joe Carr, of Minneapolis. The men fought for one hour, twenty-two minutes and twenty-seven seconds in the first fall. Near the expiration of the time, Yokel worked Carr into a dangerous hammerlock and, finally adding a half-nelson, pressed him to the mat.

SENTIMENT IS BEARISH YET WALL STREET SEES AN ADVANCE IN STOCKS.

New York, Nov. 5.—Although today's stock market was under virtually the same influences as those which depressed prices recently, there was a general advance. Trade reports, especially from the steel and iron industries, were anything but encouraging and the Mexican situation reached a point where the street was prepared for highly important news at any time. That stocks rose under these conditions implied no change of sentiment, which remained bearish. The rise indicated merely that the overhanging unfavorable influences, so far as they can be gauged at present, had spent their force on the decline and that traders were awaiting further developments. The trading was highly professional.

CHICAGO WHEAT VALUES DROP.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—More favorable weather and crop advices from India and Argentina today pushed wheat values downward. Closing prices were: December wheat, 84 1/2@84 3/4 cents; May, 80 1/2@80 3/4; December corn, 68 1/2; May, 69 1/2; standard oats, 39 1/2.

GOVERNMENT ACTS IN THE NICK OF TIME

Alleged White Slaver Is Indicted With Statute of Limitations About to Take Effect.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Arthur Carey, a furnace salesman, of Green Bay, Wis., was indicted here today for violation of the Mann act. The federal grand jury acted only a few hours before the statute of limitations, covering Carey's alleged offense, became operative.

Carey is charged with transporting Laura Flecker from Silver Lake, Wis., to Antioch, Ill., on Nov. 6, 1910. The law requires that the indictment be made within three years of the violation of the Mann act. Carey was held to the federal grand jury at Green Bay on Monday. No grand jury was in session in Milwaukee, and Carey was rushed to Chicago before it was too late for the government to prosecute him.

Miss Flecker has refused to have any part in the prosecution of Carey. She endeavored to prevent his arrest, and went so far as to point a revolver at the deputy marshals. She alleges that she walked across the Wisconsin-Illinois state line with Carey.

Carey has a wife and three children in Chicago. He left them several years ago and asserts that he subsequently received notice that divorce proceedings had been started. He married again and his second wife died. Then he met Miss Flecker, who was seventeen years old at the time.

PROSECUTION CLOSES CASE AT DONAHOE-STEIFEL TRIAL; FUNK IS ITS LAST WITNESS

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The state today rested its case against Daniel Donahoe and Isaac Steifel, the lawyer and detective charged with having conspired to defame Clarence S. Funk.

Mr. Funk put the finishing touch today on the testimony for the prosecution by taking the witness stand and declaring that he never saw Mrs. John C. Henning before she testified in the trial. The witness also disclosed what the state alleged to be the motive for the attacks on Funk, this by repeating a portion of his testimony in the Lorimer investigation.

The court would not allow Mr. Funk to testify that he had been watched by detectives, one of whom told him that he was in the employ of Edward Hines. The names of Hines and Lorimer were brought in when Mr. Funk reiterated his sensational statement before the Lorimer investigating committee, in which he declared that Hines had asked him for $10,000 toward a $100,000 fund that had been used to "put Lorimer over."

WOMEN THE CHIEF VICTIMS OF ALLEGED LOTTERY SCHEME. Chicago, Nov. 5.—What was said by the officials to have been an extensive gambling scheme, in which more than five hundred women participated, and to which the women were attracted through the mails, resulted today in a federal indictment against Mrs. Sarah Foster. The women are charged with conducting a card game and lottery and offering prizes to those who paid membership fees. It was alleged that at one time Mrs. Foster had several thousand members procured by advertisements sent through the mails.

Washington, Nov. 5.—An entirely new feature was tentatively written into the administration currency bill today by the senate committee, after a full day of heated wrangle. The new plan was characterized by Chairman Owen, chief administration supporter in the committee, as "equivalent to a central bank."

He said the committee had adjourned with the matter "up in the air."

The new scheme would provide for the centralization of one-half of the reserves to be held by the regional banks in the proposed new system. This proportion would be placed under the complete control of the federal reserve board, and would be located in Washington, to be administered for the aid and convenience of the entire banking system.

As finally voted on, the proposition was a modification of a plan proposed by Senator Reed, of Missouri, who suggested it as a means of composing the wide differences among the members of the committee. Senator Reed and Senator Hitchcock joined with the Republicans in voting for the plan, which was opposed by Senators Owen, Pomerehne, Hollis, O'Gorman and Shafroth.

SOUTH AMERICA REPORTED TO BE M'ANIGAL'S GOAL. Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 5.—Jail officials received instructions today to ship to Tampa, Fla., all the effects of Orrie E. McManigal, the confessed dynamiter, who was taken from the prison Monday. Information from other sources gave McManigal's destination as Havana, Cuba, whence, it was said, he is due to sail for South America.

POETS AT PARIS DESPIL OSCAR WILD'S MONUMENT. Paris, Nov. 5.—A band of twenty poets, composed for the most part of poets, today stormed the Pere Lachaise cemetery and tore off and carried away the covering of Epstein's monument over the grave of Oscar Wild. Up to tonight the authorities had taken no steps to replace the covering.

ROBBED FOR EXCITEMENT. Denver, Nov. 5.—Ralph Arnold, seventeen years old, son of Henry C. Arnold, a retired United States army officer charged with robbing the home of Mrs. Pauline Swanson and the home of Mrs. Lily Sasse, two blocks from his own home, says he robbed for the excitement it afforded.

The police believe also that lieutenant shown young Arnold last July when arrested for riding the residence of Mrs. R. W. W. Kingston has had something to do with his recent burglaries. He was not prosecuted for the theft on returning the stolen property.

Arnold, who was a South Denver high school student and prominent in school athletics, confessed the two robberies to Deputy Chief of Police Leyden.

"I don't know what made me steal," he said, "unless it was the excitement. I didn't need the money. I found doors open in both instances and, remembering how easily I escaped punishment for my other theft, I was too weak to resist the temptation. I am very sorry now, but I think my parents will stay by me and I will be free in a few weeks."

The police discount the young man's optimism. They believe they can connect him with other recent robberies. Diamonds worth $100 were stolen from the Sasse home and jewelry worth $200 is admitted to have been stolen by him from Mrs. Swanson.

Mrs. Evelyn Williams, twenty-three years old, employed by a lumber firm in the Gas and Electric building, from whose presence Arnold is said by the police to have gone to his last burglary, says she has known the boy only 10 days, and believes him "a perfect gentleman." He made presents of candy to her.

The new plan was characterized by Chairman Owen, chief administration supporter in the committee, as "equivalent to a central bank."

He said the committee had adjourned with the matter "up in the air."

The new scheme would provide for the centralization of one-half of the reserves to be held by the regional banks in the proposed new system. This proportion would be placed under the complete control of the federal reserve board, and would be located in Washington, to be administered for the aid and convenience of the entire banking system.

As finally voted on, the proposition was a modification of a plan proposed by Senator Reed, of Missouri, who suggested it as a means of composing the wide differences among the members of the committee. Senator Reed and Senator Hitchcock joined with the Republicans in voting for the plan, which was opposed by Senators Owen, Pomerehne, Hollis, O'Gorman and Shafroth.

SOUTH AMERICA REPORTED TO BE M'ANIGAL'S GOAL. Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 5.—Jail officials received instructions today to ship to Tampa, Fla., all the effects of Orrie E. McManigal, the confessed dynamiter, who was taken from the prison Monday. Information from other sources gave McManigal's destination as Havana, Cuba, whence, it was said, he is due to sail for South America.

POETS AT PARIS DESPIL OSCAR WILD'S MONUMENT. Paris, Nov. 5.—A band of twenty poets, composed for the most part of poets, today stormed the Pere Lachaise cemetery and tore off and carried away the covering of Epstein's monument over the grave of Oscar Wild. Up to tonight the authorities had taken no steps to replace the covering.

ROBBED FOR EXCITEMENT. Denver, Nov. 5.—Ralph Arnold, seventeen years old, son of Henry C. Arnold, a retired United States army officer charged with robbing the home of Mrs. Pauline Swanson and the home of Mrs. Lily Sasse, two blocks from his own home, says he robbed for the excitement it afforded.

The police believe also that lieutenant shown young Arnold last July when arrested for riding the residence of Mrs. R. W. W. Kingston has had something to do with his recent burglaries. He was not prosecuted for the theft on returning the stolen property.

Arnold, who was a South Denver high school student and prominent in school athletics, confessed the two robberies to Deputy Chief of Police Leyden.

"I don't know what made me steal," he said, "unless it was the excitement. I didn't need the money. I found doors open in both instances and, remembering how easily I escaped punishment for my other theft, I was too weak to resist the temptation. I am very sorry now, but I think my parents will stay by me and I will be free in a few weeks."

The police discount the young man's optimism. They believe they can connect him with other recent robberies. Diamonds worth $100 were stolen from the Sasse home and jewelry worth $200 is admitted to have been stolen by him from Mrs. Swanson.

Mrs. Evelyn Williams, twenty-three years old, employed by a lumber firm in the Gas and Electric building, from whose presence Arnold is said by the police to have gone to his last burglary, says she has known the boy only 10 days, and believes him "a perfect gentleman." He made presents of candy to her.

ELKS DECIDE TO CHANGE QUARTERS

Ishpeeming Lodge, B. P. O. E., Will Have Club Rooms in C. L. Anderson's Block.

The Ishpeeming lodge of Elks will give up its club rooms in the Anderson block, corner Main and Pearl streets, and will take quarters in C. L. Anderson's newly remodeled property on Canda street. The change was recommended by a special committee, of which A. J. Yungbluth was chairman, appointed to report on the subject.

Mr. Yungbluth, for the committee, submitted a sketch of the interior of the proposed rooms, together with an estimate of the cost of new furniture that will be needed. Included among the equipment will be billiard and pool tables.

Mr. Anderson made the committee a favorable offer, considering the size of the place, number of rooms and the conveniences provided. The Elks will occupy the entire second story, which has a floor space of fifty-two feet in length by forty-two feet in width.

The rooms have not been occupied since the building was remodeled, and they are well suited for club room purposes. The entrance is on Canda street and the hall leading from the top of the stairs extends across the building. The main room in the front, which will be used as a lounging and reading room, is twenty-two feet square. The other room on the front will be used for billiards and pool. The partition next to the hall will be removed, adding seven feet to the length, and providing ample space for two tables. This room is sixteen feet two inches in length by thirty-one feet in width.

To the rear of the quarters there will be two card rooms, one twelve by eighteen feet, and the other nine by sixteen feet. The dining room is twelve by sixteen feet. The buffet is fifteen by nine feet and the kitchen nine by six feet. There are two lavatories and a bath room on the floor.

The rooms are well lighted with windows at front and rear, and skylights in the roof. The front has three large plate glass windows, two in the large room and one in the room that will be used for billiards and pool. The kitchen is to be provided with a gas range.

The Elks will move from their present quarters, which they have occupied for ten years or more, about the first of the month, and they are planning a house warming. A steward, who will devote his entire time to taking care of the place, will be employed.

The members of the lodge expect to start a campaign for new members, and it is expected that the excellent club quarters will be a big inducement. The quarters will be among the most convenient in the county and the location is ideal, being opposite the Nelson House, a half block from the railway stations and a half block from the postoffice.

RECORD SHIPMENTS FROM HEAD OF LAKES

More Ore Has Already Been Shipped This Season Than Was Forwarded in 1912.

Although the ore shipments from the Marquette harbor up to the first of this month showed a falling off of nearly 140,000 tons, compared with the shipments for a similar period in 1912, the docks at the head of the lakes exceeded all previous records in the same period. Reports on the ore traffic up to the first of the month from all of the ports at the head of the lakes showed that 37,942,412 tons had been shipped. This is 2,348,118 tons more than was shipped in the corresponding period of 1912. It is also several thousand tons more than the total shipments for 1912. With about three weeks remaining of the shipping season, the ore movement of last year will be largely exceeded.

Last month 5,539,832 tons of ore were shipped from seven docks at the head of the lakes. The Great Northern docks at Alouze lead with 1,954,291 tons in October and 12,166,741 tons up to November 1.

Nearly three times as much Cuyuna ore has been shipped from the Soo dock in Superior this year as in 1912. The movement of Cuyuna ore up to the first of the month from this dock was 680,213 tons.

In 1913 the Duluth, Missabe & Northern line handled 1,689,324 tons, compared with 1,689,427 tons up to Nov. 1 of this year. The Great Northern 1,942,563 tons, compared with 1,954,291 tons, and the Duluth & Iron Range 1,393,794 tons, compared with 1,311,661 tons. The Soo Line hauled 61,108 tons this year, against 82,272 tons last year. The Chicago & Northwestern hauled to the Ashland docks 640,998 tons in 1912, compared with 380,998 this season. The Soo Line hauled to the Ashland docks 219,108 tons, compared with 116,654 tons. The movement of ore from the mines on the Marquette range has been falling off gradually the past week or more, since the freezing weather set in. The Ishpeeming railroad men expect the season to close a little earlier than usual, and unless the weather is favorable toward the close of the month they expect that very little ore will go out in December.

IMPROVED FREIGHT SERVICE.

Shipments from Detroit and Eastern Points Are Making Better Time.

The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic and Michigan Central railway systems have greatly improved their freight service from Detroit and other Eastern points, and employees of the South Shore company here predict that they will never be handled to better advantage than ever before. The South Shore management is endeavoring in every way possible to improve the service. A few days ago a bill of goods came through from Detroit here with that freight station, while there have been instances in which freight shipped out of Detroit has arrived in Ishpeeming within four or five days.

The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic company is now doing a bigger freight business here than any previous time in its history. The road is well equipped to handle the increased traffic to good advantage.

TO GIVE AID TO FARM WOMEN.

Washington, Nov. 5.—"It used to be a case of improving crops and increasing beef yield. But now we're going to improve human life—and particularly women's lives—on the farm."

This statement by United States Secretary of Agriculture Houston was the keynote of an interview in which the secretary declared that while he did not anticipate establishing a distinctive "women's bureau," he was favorable to the creation of a rural sanitation section and, perhaps, a home economics branch.

Hundreds of tabulated replies to a circular letter asking suggestions for aid by Uncle Sam to the women on the farm are to be inspected immediately by the secretary. These letters are pouring in by every mail, and while scores of suggestions are made, the big plus is for the installation of piped water in the farm house, bathroom and sink as an aid to good rural sanitation.

"I hope we may be able to establish a branch to attend to this," Secretary Houston said. "I would like to see a home economics section, but that is different from a woman's department, for it really would be a greater benefit to the farm man than to the women."

"I hit upon this idea of determining the farm woman's needs after receiving a complaint that the government had neglected them. Then I recalled that in college I used to hear a lot about 'what is the matter with the freshmen,' so I asked the freshmen themselves. I determined to follow the same idea in this instance. It is in line with the development of the human side of the department of agriculture."

he accidentally struck himself with an ax, inflicting a gash over the kneecap. John Healy is relieving him at the tower.

The Misses Mary and Josephine McEnroe will leave within a few days for Buffalo, where they expect to reside in the future.

The Women's Sewing society of the Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. Thomas Walters, Jr., tomorrow afternoon.

E. R. Nelson and family are now living in Mrs. Earl Walton's new dwelling, in the old Catholic cemetery plat, on North Main street.

W. H. Moulton, of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's sociological department, is on the Mesaba range this week, on business for the company.

Upper Peninsula

Palatka Congregation to Build.

The trustees of the First Presbyterian church of Palatka, Iron county, have adopted plans for a campaign to raise a church erection fund. It is proposed to build a structure at a cost of $6,500 and to start the building work on May 1, 1914.

Sold Goods Without License.

J. W. Beachy, of Calumet, who was arrested on Iron river on complaint of W. H. Merrill, on the charge of selling merchandise without a license, has raised examination, and decided to stand trial in the circuit court at the December term. Beachy was selling women's cloaks in the store of Mrs. L. M. Pryne at the time of his arrest and claims that he was in her employ and selling the goods for her. The hearing was continued several times.

Puncture-Proof Tire.

R. G. Ferguson, Marshal N. Hunt, Henry Hickler and F. B. Raymond, representing the Soo syndicate which is interested in the manufacture and marketing of Robert J. Wynn's new puncture-proof tire for automobiles, have been in Akron, Ohio, lately. The Good-year Rubber company of that city has been interested in the Soo man's patent and recently completed a model of the tire. The company has presented a proposition for its manufacture, which is being considered by the Sault Ste. Marie stockholders.

A Fur Farm.

L. D. Carrier of Detroit has purchased an eighty-acre tract of land a few miles north of Laketon, Luce county, and will engage in the fur-raising business on a large scale. A good-sized lake is situated in the center of the land and the entire tract has been enclosed with a fine woven wire fence to keep the animals from escaping. Mr. Carrier will raise beaver, muskrat, skunk and foxes and is now advertising for animals with which to stock his farm. This is a new enterprise in this region, and Mr. Carrier's venture will be watched with interest.

Advertising Scheme Criticized.

The Iron River Reporter publishes this comment: "Elsewhere in this paper will be found the writup on Iron county and its agricultural interests by G. E. Vandercreek, who was here with Colonel Mott ten days ago and was entertained at the Caspian clubhouse. The article has several errors, principal among which is the number of mining companies and operating mines in the county. The statement that there are ten important mining companies operating twenty-three mines is certainly far away from the truth. The west side of the county alone has double that number of mining companies and these are operating nearly thirty mines. The men who usually get up these articles are smooth writers and fit from town to town in a hurried manner and hence their stuff cannot always be depended on for its accuracy and truthfulness, but they invariably get the money. Were the same amount of money spent in circulating the newspapers of the peninsula we believe that Cleveland would receive far more benefit, for, week in and week out, they are everlastingly boosting, and yet their efforts are hardly ever appreciated. The outside newspaper never boasts unless there is a bunch of filthy lures in sight, and their stuff usually carries its own trademark and hence the average reader can easily tell why it is written. Probably the home newspaper is to blame for not going after this class of business more aggressively."

Woman Dies from Burns.

Mrs. Ed Dumas, living at the Santiago settlement, near St. Ignace, used gasoline to light her kitchen stove, with results that proved fatal the same evening. She drew the oil from a barrel in the yard. Her husband used gasoline in his threshing machine operations. When she threw a little of the liquid on the blaze in the stove the fire ran up into the can. She went to blow it out and in hastily raising the can to her face, sprinkled some of the gasoline on her clothes. A blaze immediately enveloped her.

St. Ignace City Tax Rate.

The tax rate now being known, St. Ignace taxpayers are able to figure exactly what they will have to pay between Dec. 1 and March 1 of next year for the tax levy of 1913. City Assessor H. L. Monteith is spreading the taxes on the assessment roll. The rate is a trifle over six and one-quarter cents on the dollar, or, to be exact, expressed to the ultimate fraction 6.281 per cent. The total bill for taxes is $27,180.59, made up as follows: State, $4,849.05; county, $6,250; city, $6,840; school, $9,241.59. While the rate this year is higher than in recent years, this is caused by the increased levies in the state and county taxes. The amount asked for city purposes differs little from that of last year. St. Ignace has experienced a far heavier tax rate in years gone by. Sixteen years ago it reached all but nine cents on the dollar and two years later it exceeded ten cents.

Has Much Timber to Cut.

The Connors & McCafferty Cedar & Logging company, incorporated with a capital of $40,000, will have six seasons' operations on the tract of 13,700 acres purchased from the Van's Harbor Land & Lumber company. The officers of the new company are: S. J. Connors, president; C. G. Hewitt, vice president, and A. C. McCafferty, secretary and treasurer. Mr. McCafferty will manage the affairs of the company, and the head office will be at Cooks, on the Soo line. The tract purchased by the company lies in eastern Delta, and western Schoulerauft counties. Practically all the pine has been cut, the remaining amounting to only 1,500,000 feet; but the lands are heavily timbered with hardwoods, spruce, cedar and hemlock. A conservative estimate of the timber standing is as follows: Two hundred thousand cedar posts, 4,000 cedar poles, 35,000 cedar ties, 2,500 cords of spruce pulpwood, 2,000 cords of boxwood, and 4,000,000 feet of logs. The company already has one camp established four miles northwest of Cooks and his five jobbers at work. The company is building a railroad seven miles long, to connect with the Soo line at Cooks. Four miles of the steel will be laid this fall. The company has already contracted for the sale of all the cedar products to the MacGillis & Gibbs Co.,
