

THINKS HUERTA WILL ABDICATE VERY SOON NOW

Such Favorable Advices Come to President Wilson That He Tucks Away in His Desk a Statement He Had Intended to Issue in Regard to Mexico.

With Purse Strings Tied and Diplomatic Pressure Exerted Upon the Dictator from All Sides, There Are High Hopes the Problem Is Approaching Solution.

Washington, Nov. 13.—United support from the great powers abroad for the American policy toward Mexico, shown in a variety of quiet diplomatic activities, gave President Wilson and Secretary Bryan a confident feeling today that the elimination of General Victoriano Huerta as provisional president of Mexico would soon be an accomplished fact.

That the financial blockade instituted by the United States had effectively tied the purse strings of Europe, that diplomatic pressure was being exerted on all sides at Mexico City, that close friends of General Huerta were applying their influence and persistent reports saying that Huerta had gone into mysterious seclusion raised the hopes of the Washington government that at last it was making definite progress toward solving the Mexican problem.

London Stands With Washington.

An exchange of cablegrams with Ambassador Page, an agreement by Great Britain to leave the solution of the Mexican problem in the hands of the United States, and an announcement that no moral or financial support would be granted by England to the Huerta regime, set forth in London press dispatches, created a favorable impression throughout official Washington. It was felt that Great Britain, France, Germany and other nations now stood together in acquiescence to the plan of the United States for the elimination of Huerta.

President Wilson had prepared early in the day a statement of the situation reciting what had been attempted in the communications presented by Charge O'Shaughnessy and Special Representative John Lind, but within a few hours such favorable advices were received as to cause the president to withhold the document from publication. He stuffed it away in a drawer, with many other documents of international affairs which he had been found unnecessary to make public.

Outlook Favorable, Says President.

"There are elements in this case," said the president, "which I cannot at present discuss but which make it look to me very much more favorable than it did about the word 'favorable,' he explained that he meant 'favorable to a settlement.'"

The president spoke thus of the situation to a half-hundred Washington correspondents at their semi-weekly luncheon. His manner was calm and it was apparent that he felt decidedly encouraged by recent advices. The president is not usually quoted after such conferences, but today he permitted quotation to the extent of a single sentence. This he did allow in appreciation that might have arisen in this country over the situation described in the dispatches from Mexico City.

The president gave no details to show upon what his optimism was based, but he made it clear that a condition of settlement was the ousting of Huerta and all those who stood for the kind of government he was conducting. It was evident that the president had received important dispatches, but he declined to say whether they were from Mexico City or Nogales, the Constitutional headquarters. Later, however, it was learned from other high officials that the plan of financial isolation was bearing fruit and that the plan for Huerta's elimination was being acquiesced in by foreign governments, especially those of those which had previously recognized him and upon whom he had come to rely for aid.

The United States has offered no mediation to the Constitutionalists, but simply has endeavored to learn what protection would be promised to foreigners and their property and what would be the program of action of the Constitutionalists if they were successful by arms.

Huerta's Cabinet Reported Divided.

One of the important factors in the situation which caused Washington calmly to await developments was the report through authoritative channels that members of the Huerta official circle were now divided, some of them urging his resignation to avoid international complications. They were reported to be using every effort to prevail upon him to make a formal announcement of resignation at a fixed date.

The situation has progressed to the point, in the view of many officials, where even a definite rejection of the American demands by Huerta would not alter his future materially. Confidence prevails that he is drifting into certain bankruptcy and cannot resist much longer the pressure exerted against him.

Another influence that is expected to contribute to Huerta's overthrow is the extension of moral support to the Constitutionalists. If pressed to the extreme, the American government will lift the embargo on arms to aid the Constitutionalists in composing the situation, but there is still a hopefulness among high officials that such a step will prove unnecessary.

TREATY OF PEACE IS SIGNED.

Athens, Nov. 13.—A treaty of peace between Greece and Turkey was signed tonight. The peace delegates reached an agreement Tuesday practically on all points under negotiation.

ULTIMATUM NOT DELIVERED TO HUERTA UNTIL AFTER END OF MR. LIND'S TIME LIMIT.

Mexico City, Nov. 13.—The statement made by the minister of finance Wednesday night that he had been unable to present Mr. Lind's message to General Huerta was verified today. The provisional president had gone on a visit to a suburb, without the formality of notifying his personal friends or official associates. It was not until a very late hour last night that those entrusted with the task of giving him Mr. Lind's message were able to locate him.

City Hears President Has Fled.

Reports that General Huerta had fled from the capital were revived this afternoon, owing to the inability of those interested in his actions to find any definite trace of him.

Rumors that General Huerta was planning to take a German steamer for Europe have been current here for several days. These, however, have not been credited.

LONDON TIMES SKEPTICAL THAT FINANCIAL ISOLATION WILL MAKE HUERTA YIELD.

London, Nov. 14.—The Times in an editorial on Mexican situation this morning declines to believe that financial pressure will suffice to remove General Huerta and dilates on the enormous difficulties of an invasion. It says:

"Nobody questions the power of the United States to overcome all opposition if it makes up its mind to the necessary sacrifices, although it is not impossible that it will find, as we ourselves have found before now, that it is far easier to get into such a country with glory than to get out with credit. But the difficulties are so great and so obvious that we earnestly trust that President Wilson may even yet avoid them by wise and dexterous diplomacy."

The Daily Graphic, deprecating the criticism of President Wilson's policy, says: "The Americans are entitled to order their politics as they please. How ever much the president's motives may differ from the English practice, they merit our profound respect."

MEXICAN PRESIDENT REPORTED YIELDING

Said to Be Ready to Quit in Graceful Way, He Seeks Renewal of Negotiations.

Mexico City, Nov. 13.—Members of President Huerta's official family and working diligently for the reopening of the Mexican canal, are said to have the consent of General Huerta to make concessions which they believe will be satisfactory to the United States.

The Mexican minister of the interior, Manuel Aldape, says Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, late today appealed to him to do all in his power to induce his government to withhold action until the Mexican officials could communicate with Mr. Lind, now at Vera Cruz. He based his appeal on the allegation that they were unable yesterday to get in touch with General Huerta in order to present to him Mr. Lind's communication.

The American charge could give the minister little assurance. Seno Aldape asked if Mr. Lind could be persuaded to return to the capital or, failing that, if a representative of the government might go to Vera Cruz and confer with Mr. Lind. Mr. O'Shaughnessy expressed the opinion that either course would be useless. In the end, they agreed to present the case to President Wilson, embodying the representations of President Huerta's counselors, together with an appeal for the postponement of action directed at lifting the embargo on arms and ammunition or such other action as had been decided upon.

Thought Dictator Has Substitute Plan.

It is believed that General Huerta, through his counselors, proposes to present a plan something in the nature of a substitute. He is said to be reconciled to the idea of resigning from the presidency, but wants to submit his resignation to the new congress, the body which President Wilson, through Mr. Lind, has declared must not convene.

Huerta's friends and those in his cabinet who are attempting to induce him to yield have been informed that there are many who are anxious to get in touch with General Huerta in order to present to him Mr. Lind's communication.

The American charge could give the minister little assurance. Seno Aldape asked if Mr. Lind could be persuaded to return to the capital or, failing that, if a representative of the government might go to Vera Cruz and confer with Mr. Lind. Mr. O'Shaughnessy expressed the opinion that either course would be useless. In the end, they agreed to present the case to President Wilson, embodying the representations of President Huerta's counselors, together with an appeal for the postponement of action directed at lifting the embargo on arms and ammunition or such other action as had been decided upon.

Escaped Lioness Causes Panic in German School; One Youth Badly Injured.

Koeslin, Germany, Nov. 13.—While on exhibition before the boys of a Koeslin classical school here today a young lioness escaped and seriously injured a seven-year-old school boy and caused a panic among the other pupils. The tamer was leading the lioness through the ranks of the boys, some of whom took fright and ran. The lioness broke from its keeper's hold and pursued the boys, killing one of them with a blow on the head. Some workmen on the grounds drove the animal away from the youth, and the animal dashed into the school, where it was captured, after an exciting chase.

Would-be Assassin Caught in the Palace at Peking.

Tien Tsin, China, Nov. 13.—It is reported that a member of the president's staff of secretaries, named Chu, was arrested today in the palace in Peking. It is said, was armed with a revolver and confessed that he intended to murder President Yuan Shih Kai.

RAIL TRAFFIC IN SOUTHWEST TIED UP TODAY

Prolonged Negotiations Fail to Adjust Wage Dispute on Atlantic Division of the Southern Pacific and Sunset Lines and 2,500 Employees Go on Strike.

Engineers, Firemen, Conductors and Brakemen from El Paso to New Orleans Walk Out and Train Service Is Annulled—Appeal to Washington Futile.

Houston, Tex., Nov. 13.—Approximately twenty-five hundred trainmen and engineers on the Atlantic division of the Southern Pacific railroad and the Sunset lines went on strike at 7 o'clock tonight, in accordance with an ultimatum presented to the department of the road here yesterday by representatives of the four union organizations involved.

The walkout comes after more than six months of futile negotiations which sought an amicable adjustment of the difficulties between the company and the men. An eleventh hour appeal to the federal board of mediation and conciliation by the railroad failed to stop the walkout, and with engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen idle from El Paso to New Orleans, the Southwest tonight faces a possibility of one of the most serious tie-ups of traffic in years.

Railroad officials were silent tonight as to what efforts were being made to relieve the situation, but reports from other points indicate that preparations were being made for the coming of strike-breakers. All trains due to leave terminal points after 7 o'clock tonight were annulled until further notice, these leaving before that time, it was stated by the union officials, will complete their runs, after which crews will join the other strikers.

Will Steer Clear of His Native Land.

New York, Nov. 13.—General Zelaya tonight attributed the rumors that he was under surveillance by the government to his enemies, of whom, he said, he had many in this city. He reiterated that he had experienced no difficulty in entering the port of New York, and declared he had no intention of ever returning to Nicaragua or of engaging again in Central American politics.

Colorado Editors Want Strike Ended.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 13.—After an all-day session, during which both sides of the coal mine strike were presented to the editors of practically all the large newspapers in Colorado, the newspapermen tonight adopted a resolution declaring that the present strike would be strike-breakers. All trains due to leave terminal points after 7 o'clock tonight were annulled until further notice, these leaving before that time, it was stated by the union officials, will complete their runs, after which crews will join the other strikers.

Sale of Firearms Is Prohibited.

SEX HYGIENE LECTURES DELIVERED AT CHICAGO ARE BARRED FROM MAIL.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Lectures on sex hygiene, delivered to the pupils of the public schools here, may not be sent through the mails, according to a ruling of the postoffice department, received here today. The lectures were delivered by some of the leading physicians of this city.

The National League for Medical Freedom decided to mail copies of the addresses to parents of the pupils, together with letters instructing the parents how best to give their children further instruction on the subject. Copies of the doctors' lectures were submitted to the postmaster here, who submitted them to Washington. Today there was received a ruling that the speeches were unmailable.

BIGGEST EXPENSE ACCOUNT OF MAYOR-ELECT MITCHELL IS FOR LESSONS IN BOXING.

New York, Nov. 13.—Two hundred and seventy dollars for boxing lessons and a course in physical training is the largest item of expense contained in the campaign expense account of Mayor-elect John Purroy Mitchell, filed today. The memorandum covering this item does not state why Mr. Mitchell thought it necessary to learn how to box.

PANAMA CANAL BUILDER IS TO BE KEPT ON THE JOB; PRESIDENT SO ANNOUNCES.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Colonel George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal, is not to retire, as has been reported recently. On the contrary, he is on terms of the closest friendship with President Wilson, Secretary Garrison and the Washington administration. This was made plain today by President Wilson, himself.

GENERAL ZELAYA DENIED AUDIENCE

Secretary Bryan Refuses to Receive Exile Who Once Was Nicaragua's Dictator.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Jose Santos Zelaya, former dictator of Nicaragua, now in New York, was today denied an audience by the department of state. The former dictator sent an emissary to Secretary Bryan to ask for an appointment, but did not communicate the nature of his business. Mr. Bryan declined to see him.

Secretary Bryan later announced that General Zelaya was not under surveillance. This led to a report that the United States will not proceed against Zelaya under the immigration laws, that no request has been received for his arrest and extradition to Nicaragua, where, it is understood, he is under indictment.

Will Steer Clear of His Native Land.

New York, Nov. 13.—General Zelaya tonight attributed the rumors that he was under surveillance by the government to his enemies, of whom, he said, he had many in this city. He reiterated that he had experienced no difficulty in entering the port of New York, and declared he had no intention of ever returning to Nicaragua or of engaging again in Central American politics.

Incidentally, General Zelaya mentioned General Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico, whom he met in France recently, and how during the course of the conversation General Diaz had said that he had every intention of returning to Mexico in the near future, but that he would reside there quietly in the event of his being allowed to re-enter the country.

General Zelaya said that he was glad of the opportunity to vindicate himself in the matter of the deaths in Nicaragua of Leonel Giron and Leroy Cannon.

"Giron and Cannon," he said, "were American soldiers of fortune who espoused the cause of the National party, which was opposed to my administration. They were convicted of high treason and sentenced by court martial to death. Unhappily, they were executed. I had nothing whatever to do with it, other than that I was head of the republic at that time."

Regina and Price in Collision?

Tonight there is being asked the question: Does another steamer lie beneath the wreck of the overturned vessel in Lake Huron thirteen miles north of here? This is the theory advanced by Milton Smith, assistant engineer of the ill-fated steamer Regina. Mr. Smith had a premonition of the approaching danger and left his ship at Cleveland the day before it rode into the thick of Lake Huron's gale and foundered with all hands on board.

Mr. Smith arrived in Port Huron tonight from Thorold, Ont., where he went to help establish the identity of the men whose bodies were in the

TOLL OF STORM ON LAKE HURON MOUNTS HIGHER

Never in Its History Has That One of the Inland Seas Been the Scene of So Many Disasters—Loss of Life Is Now Estimated at 150 at Least.

Bodies of Sailors from Five and Perhaps Six Ships Wash Ashore, as Does Wreckage from Two Others—The Steamer John A. McGean Among Vessels Sunk.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 13.—Each hour today added to the total of disasters which occurred on Lake Huron during last Sunday's storm and tonight the end was not in sight.

The bodies of sailors of five and perhaps six vessels were found on the shore of the lake; wreckage from two other boats, still missing, was cast up by the sea, and no trace had been seen of still another vessel.

Never in the history of Michigan's maritime existence has Lake Huron been the scene of such a succession of catastrophes. Conservative estimates of the loss of life on the lake fix the total at one hundred and fifty at least. The damage to vessels and cargoes will be several millions of dollars.

Bodies Flout to Canadian Shore.

Lying in various morgues along the Canadian shore are bodies of sailors from the steamers James Carruthers, Regina, John A. McGean, Wexford and Charles S. Price. It is practically certain that those vessels were lost with all on board. There are also a number of bodies unidentified. Perhaps these are of sailors of the unidentified freighter which lies bottom-side-up in Lake Huron, thirteen miles north of here. Many still think she is the Regina.

Wreckage of the steamers Argus and Hydrus has been cast ashore. Neither of these boats has been heard from since the storm swept the lakes. The freighter Isaac M. Scott is also missing. Marine men said today that there was a possibility that this craft is safe. No wreckage from it has been found.

This afternoon word was received from Captain E. F. Price, Mr. Smith had sighted the wreck of an unidentified steamer while his tug was passing Port Austin. She is believed to be a total loss. She may be one of the boats already reported missing.

Greatest among the Lake Huron tragedies unfolded today was the confirmation of the loss of the steamer John A. McGean, a 432-foot freighter. Twenty-eight bodies of her crew have been washed ashore.

Regina and Price in Collision?

Tonight there is being asked the question: Does another steamer lie beneath the wreck of the overturned vessel in Lake Huron thirteen miles north of here? This is the theory advanced by Milton Smith, assistant engineer of the ill-fated steamer Regina. Mr. Smith had a premonition of the approaching danger and left his ship at Cleveland the day before it rode into the thick of Lake Huron's gale and foundered with all hands on board.

Mr. Smith arrived in Port Huron tonight from Thorold, Ont., where he went to help establish the identity of the men whose bodies were in the morgue there. The first body he identified was that of John Grundwater, chief engineer of the Price.

"Are you sure?" asked the coroner. "As sure as I know my own name is Smith," he replied.

"Well, this man had one of the Regina's life preservers wrapped about his body," said the coroner.

Smith's theory is further strengthened by the fact that the bodies of the men who went down on the Regina and the Price were found in precisely the same position on the shore, some of them even clasped in each other's arms. This practically substantiates the belief that the overturned vessel on Lake Huron is either the Regina or the Price. It also is thought that the vessels collided with such force that one of them either is piled on top of the other or that one of them is sunk completely from sight.

That the accident occurred with terrible suddenness is established in Smith's identification of the Price's steward, Herbert Jones, Superior, Wis.

"There he was," said Smith, "lying there with his apron on, just as if he was about to prepare a meal or had just prepared it. Evidently the poor fellow did not even have time to look after his wife, who was also on board, which shows how quickly the boat must have gone down."

Tug Lafayette Reported Missing.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 13.—The tug Hebard left today in search of the tug Lafayette, of the Great Lakes Towing company, of Cleveland, which is reported to have gone down in the vicinity of the Huron islands, in Lake Superior, during the recent storm with a crew of twelve men.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 13.—Investigation among the various tug owners of Cleveland indicates that the tug Lafayette was not a Cleveland boat. The Great Lakes Towing company says it has no boat of that name.

Wreck Sighted Near Lorain.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 13.—Captain Ned Baker, of the steamer Rufus P. Hanney, late today reported sighting the wreck of a small vessel, probably a large, near Lorain, O. No wreckage could be found which might identify the boat and only her spars protruded above water.

Midland Queen Safe in Port.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 13.—The steamer Midland Queen, reported missing today, is safe in Montreal. This information was received here tonight in a telegram from the manager of the steamship line which owns the vessel.

JURIES AT LOS ANGELES TO GET JUDICIAL CHARGES BY MEANS OF PHONOGRAPH.

Los Angeles, Nov. 13.—Instructions from judge to jury by phonograph is planned by Superior Judge Curtis Wilbur for the Los Angeles county court. It is asserted that phonographs would avoid the confusion now caused when juries return to the courtroom and ask for a repetition of the judge's instructions. When the instructions are first given to the jury, a concealed machine will record the speech.

PRIVATE BANK'S VAULTS, SUPPOSED TO HOLD $30,000, IS FOUND TO CONTAIN $5,338.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Receivers for a private bank owned by Solomon Lewinsohn today broke open the safe where the depositors' money, amounting to $30,000, was supposed to be. The receivers found a cash total of $5,338. Lewinsohn was not found.

Stanton Company's Mines to Import Men at Once Wolverine and Mohawk Are to Ship Into the Copper Country Within a Few Days Not Less Than 1,000 Workers--Strikers Parade All Over the District--At the Superior, the Whole Procession of 117 Persons Is Arrested on Charge of Violating the Injunction.

Houghton, Mich., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Another wholesale arrest on charge of violating the injunction of the circuit court was made this morning at the Superior mine by deputy sheriffs, assisted by a detachment of the Michigan National Guard stationed at Doigville. The crowd arrested made up about all of the usual morning parade of strikers at Superior, aggregating 117 persons, including six women.

The parade was unusually noisy and it made an attempt to break through the guard around the location and rush the shafthouse, which the miners were entering to go underground. The demonstration took on such a serious aspect that the deputy sheriffs sent out a call for the soldiers and the paraders were rounded up and headed for the county jail. The deputies, soldiers and strikers marched through Houghton and down the hill to Houghton. The strikers retained their United States flag and took the matter good-humoredly. The women sang as the crowd filed out into the jail yard.

Served With Notices; Then Released. In this, as in the cases of other alleged violations of the injunction, the persons arrested were served with notices to appear before Judge O'Brien at a hearing and were then released. Their hearing is set for Nov. 24.

The men arrested are: Emil Mark Adam Deppa, Edmund Lorma, John Hakkinen, Joseph Borich, Fabian Rantola, Bernard Tissa, Felix Stefanich, Felix Bois, Jacob Stimma, Vimoa Branigan, Antoon Pola, Gabe Johnson, Blaise Chapp, John Vernon, John Balich, Frank Brunau, Sam Koponen, Alex Bronich, Nick Mumber, Mike Kneez, Pasquale Laurer, Jasper Polnich, Frank Stimer, Vimoa Stimma, Joseph Gasparovich, John Racc, Joseph Rovic, Fabian Vimosok, Leonard Puzziatti, Sam Mamilo, Sakari Mannin,

TALE OF GRAFT IN NEW YORK IS GUSHING FORTH

Prosecutor Whitman Announces That His Investigation of the Charges That Tammany Has Extorted Money from Contractors Is Reaping Important Results.

He Has Procured "a Tremendous Amount of Evidence," He Says, Whereat It Is Predicted That Many Indictments Will Follow—Politicians to Be Questioned.

New York, Nov. 13.—Although George H. McGuire, the Syracuse bonding agent, was today still in too nervous a state to continue his testimony at the John Doe inquiry into charges that Tammany had extorted money from contractors doing state work, District Attorney Whitman announced today that he had procured "a tremendous amount of evidence."

The evidence unearthed by Mr. Whitman's investigators is the strongest that has yet come to light and, in the opinion of those close to the situation, will form the basis for numerous indictments. McGuire, who collapsed on the witness stand several days ago, has assured the district attorney's office that he will make a clean breast of all he knows in connection with the extortion of money by politicians from contractors.

Conners to Be Questioned.

Already subpoenaed are being prepared for several political leaders. Among the number, Mr. Whitman announced, was William Conners, of Buffalo. Mr. Whitman also announced that he would investigate the charges in Buffalo by John A. Hennessy, William Sulzer's investigator of graft against Norman E. Mack. "I shall go the limit in this investigation and endeavor, at least, to purify the state," Mr. Whitman said. "If I do not succeed in obtaining indictments, I shall have the satisfaction of purging the state of a condition which permits graft. I shall have the co-operation of the attorney general, and of the county attorneys."

"More people are coming to me with information now than came in the Rosenthal case or any other investigation I have ever conducted. They are supplying me with a tremendous amount of evidence."

Mr. Hennessy said this afternoon that he had given the district attorney the names of three hundred contractors who said they had "yielded to the extortions of grafting politicians."

CHICAGO CAR LINES ARE TO OPERATE AS ONE; CITY SANCTIONS MERGER.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Unified operation of the surface transit lines, universal transfers and a five-cent fare all over the city will go in effect Feb. 1, 1914, as the result of the adoption by the council of a unification ordinance tonight. The intervening time will be necessary for the organization of the management of the combined companies, under the title of the Chicago Surface Lines. Henry A. Blair, chairman of the directors of the Chicago Railway company, will head the merger, and Leonard A. Busby, president of the Chicago City Railway company, will be the chief operating officer.

Public sentiment is greatly aroused over this incident, particularly as Sergich and his wife hurried their little one only Wednesday afternoon and the poor man was beaten up by thugs almost during the funeral.

Sergich was in need of medical attention. One of his fingers was neatly chewed off, several stitches being necessary, and when he appeared again, his alleged assailants in justice court this morning his head and face were covered with blood.

Sheriff to Discharge Waddell Men.

Sheriff Cruise announced today that he would discharge the service of Houghton county on Saturday all of the employees of the Waddell & Mahon corporation now employed by the county. In the future, all of the work of the sheriff's office will be conducted by Houghton county men employed as deputies. This order does not affect the Waddell men employed by the mining companies. Houghton county has only twenty-seven of these men in its employ.

Brutal Assault at Calumet.

Frank and John Stadhauer of Calumet are held at the county jail tonight, charged with a most brutal assault growing out of the strike. A third man is sought by the police. The complaining witness is Jacob Sergich, a non-federated man working at the Oceola. Sergich was attacked by three men, he claims, at the door of the rectory of St. John's Croatian church. Red Jacket, as he was going into the rectory, to thank Rev. Father Medin for

A CABINET MAN AMUCK.

There can be no doubt as to the purpose Secretary of Labor Wilson had in mind when he delivered his socialistic address before the Federation of Labor convention at Seattle Wednesday.

He hoped to encourage the striking copper miners in Michigan to hold out to the bitter end in the expectation they would finally be enabled to win through support given them by the government.

He hoped to encourage the coal mine strikers in Colorado, who are defying the authority of the state, to persist in that course. He apparently hoped to afford encouragement to the lawless elements in labor organizations everywhere, and the words that he spoke will bring cheer to the hearts of strike promoters such as Mahoney, Moyer, Haywood, Miller, Walker and Taylor.

Coming from a member of the President's cabinet, this radical and unsettling expression of opinion is certain to do infinite harm, and, in speaking as he did, Mr. Wilson showed himself utterly unfit for a cabinet position.

In view of the effect it is certain to have, by reason of his position, the address of Secretary Wilson at Seattle can be regarded in the light of a national calamity.

His attack upon the Calumet & Hecla company is along exactly the same lines as one recently uttered by a "soap box" orator on a street corner in Marquette, who, as did Secretary Wilson, referred to the amount paid out by the Calumet & Hecla company in dividends in such a manner as to give the impression that about all the money disbursed by that corporation since it was organized had gone to its stockholders.

Unfair statements, distortion of facts and incendiary appeals to class prejudice might well be expected from an itinerant agitator, such as the "soap box" orator referred to, but we have a right to look for something better from the head of a department of the federal government who holds a seat as a member of the President's cabinet.

Thus far The Mining Journal has found much to commend in what President Wilson has done and sought to do. One thing he must not do, if he is not to lose in some degree the sympathy and support of order-loving people; he must promptly, and effectively, rebuke the member of his cabinet who spoke so indiscreetly before the Federation convention at Seattle. In no other way can he repair the mischief done by his secretary's ill-timed and unwise address.

TEMPERED ENTHUSIASM.

Out in the state the announcement by A. J. Groesbeck, Republican state chairman, that he is willing to sacrifice himself that the party may prosper and, therefore, is willing to have the office of governor forced upon him, is received with tempered enthusiasm.

Mr. Groesbeck believes that he is, pre-eminently, the man to bind the bleeding wounds of the G. O. P. in Michigan because he was largely instrumental in putting over Senator James, of Hancock, for chairman of the spring convention, a move designed to placate the progressive Republicans.

Some of the lower state papers are, however, sure that Mr. Groesbeck will not do at all in that role for the reason that he is, more than any other Republican in the state, identified with the factional row of 1912.

Thus we find that the Lansing State Journal, after commenting that "Mr. Groesbeck certainly has no small opinion of himself and his talents," remarks: "It is interesting to note that Mr. Groesbeck calls himself a progressive, but while interesting it is also puzzling, Mr. Groesbeck's stand at Bay City, when he insulted every member of the Republican party who did not hold his ideas, and his later efforts against the initiative, referendum and recall—acknowledged doctrines of the progressives—make his statement puzzling. The solution probably lies in the fact that Mr. Groesbeck is marching to the rear, instead of to the front, and believes that all those hurrying past him are reactionaries, while he alone is progressive. Undoubtedly Mr. Groesbeck cannot be made to understand the fact that his candidacy injures his party and his nomination would wreck its chances for success."

Much in the same strain the Hastings Banner, one of the strongest Republican weekly papers in the state, comments, without any degree of favor, on Mr. Groesbeck's announcement. "His qualifications for the governorship may be all his friends believe, but his selection as a candidate would be nothing short of monumental folly if the Republicans have either hope or desire to carry Michigan," it remarks. "Mr. Groesbeck's part in the famous convention at Bay City so angered those who did not want Mr. Taft renominated that they would like nothing better than a chance to even up scores with him in the campaign next year. We are not pretending to pass upon the justice or injustice of Mr. Groesbeck's actions at Bay City, but to select a man whose nomination would be the signal for digging up buried tomahawks would seem to be about as wise as to attempt to pacify an angry bull by waving a red flag in front of him. There must surely be other Republicans available for the governorship whose nomination would not be considered as an affront to those who were indignant over what the Bay City convention did."

NEED OF CLEAR THINKING.

Speaking of the proposed commission charter at Saginaw, the News of that city remarks: "If the new charter isn't perfectly satisfactory in every respect the people can amend it; they can initiate their own amendments and carry them through. If the officials they elect are not satisfactory the people can remove them. If ordinances are not satisfactory the people can repeal them. If ordinances they wish are not adopted the people can initiate and pass them. If there is anything they don't like about the city government or its administration the people can change it."

The proposed Saginaw charter may differ in some respects from the Marquette charter, but in both the principle of direct responsibility and the initiative and recall are embodied. The Marquette charter, like the one offered at Saginaw, proposes a large extension of the direct power of the voters.

Now The Mining Journal experiences no difficulty at all in understanding why thoroughly ripened and confirmed thirty-third degree "standpatters" should take serious umbrage at the proposal to introduce in municipal affairs such a large measure of direct action. They are opposed, in principle, to extension of popular rule, and they still shy at the initiative, referendum and recall, though now they have become even orthodox Republicans.

It is, however, somewhat puzzling to understand why a workingman, or a body of workingmen, should be opposed to a legislative program that proposes largely to increase his power. When a workingman, or a body of workingmen, takes such a stand the conclusion is almost forced that it is to be attributed either to misty thinking or to no thinking at all.

Any legislative system proposing to replace indirect by direct selection of officials, with the initiative, referendum and recall, proposes a great and sweeping increase in the power resting in the hands of the individual voters, or, in practice, in the hands of the workingmen. When a workingman, or a body of workingmen, opposes a plan proposing increased direct action he opposes a project that would increase greatly his influence in shaping the conduct of affairs. As no man willingly consents to take a lessened influence in affairs when he can have a greater, it follows that the workingman who fights against direct action takes his position because he is in a mental fog with reference to the facts involved.

Under the system in effect here, the important business of the city is far removed from the workingmen, in the hands of appointive boards whose members fill five year terms, who are not subject to recall and who are never removed. These boards are not even responsible to the elective mayor and the elective council, and have in many instances—sometimes to the profit of the city—carried out policies that the elective mayor and the elective council have opposed. And on these boards, it will be recalled, the workingmen have had little representation, not for the reason that they could not have furnished good members, but because the mayors they helped to elect did not see fit to search out the men who could have ably represented them.

The workingman has had little part in the city government largely because it is an indirect government. But now some workingmen are quarreling with a proposed system of direct action that would greatly increase their power, and thus we have the interesting spectacle of these men aligned with many other excellent men who oppose all movements to increase the measure of direct action in politics because they say the masses of the voters—who are the laboring men—are not to be entrusted with any large share in public affairs.

To prevent misunderstanding, The Mining Journal may say explicitly that this comment is intended as an argument neither for nor against the charter. Neither is it meant to convey the idea that the boards would have done either better or worse if there had been more workingmen on them. It is designed simply as an encouragement to clear thinking, and thus may be dedicated to the great majority of voters of Marquette who are capable of clear thinking. If it in any degree discourages the utterance of buncombe in connection with the pending charter discussion and other public affairs it will have abundantly served its purpose.

MR. HELME WINS.

State Dairy and Food Commissioner Helme was successful in the first bout of the case he started against Dr. Jacob, superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, because his deputies were refused admission to the institution for the purpose of inspecting the food being served to the men confined there. Justice Gaine found Dr. Jacob guilty, but withheld sentence pending an appeal. The case is regarded as a test of the law under which the deputy food commissioners were acting.

The hearing was marked by introduction of evidence to the effect that unfit food had been served at the Detroit institution, but, in a measure, this evidence is discounted because the witness was a discharged employe. At the same time, it has been a matter of general report that the food at the Detroit House of Correction has not compared with that served in the state prisons.

The interest that may well be manifested in this Detroit case arises largely from the fact that the House of Correction has been held up as a model for the state prisons. It has earned a profit at times as high as $40,000 a year for Detroit, and the newspapers have been wont to ask why the state prisons should not do as well, neglecting to note that there were confined at the Detroit House of Correction a large number of men sent up on short terms from the counties, or held as federal prisoners, whom the institution was paid to keep, besides having the use of their labor.

It has been common report concerning the Detroit institution that the men are worked harder there and enjoy fewer privileges than the convicts in the state prisons, and, as noted, the food has not been regarded as comparing favorably with that served in the latter. Yet as long as the Detroit House of Correction turned in a net profit on operation the local press, with no eyes for conditions under its nose, assumed that there was nothing there open to criticism.

And perhaps there may not be a great deal to criticize. But the public will not be slow to remark the point that there is not a single state institution to which the deputies of the pure food department would not be able to secure entrance at any time of the day or night, without having to bring a suit at law to establish the right.

The federal officials charged with the administration of the new migratory bird law, for the present, largely direct their energies to educational work. They will explain why the law was enacted and the interest that every person ought to have in securing general observance of its requirements. The birds are a national resource, and the humble insectivorous birds are more valuable in the aggregate than the game birds. They are the natural foes to the pests that decrease the value of the growing crops. Without them yields would be greatly reduced and in some instances would perhaps wholly cease. These birds should be closely protected as a matter of national economy. To this end educational work in the schools will possess a considerable value, and the plan to reach the foreigners through their consuls should give satisfactory results. No effort should be spared to make the public understand the wanton wastefulness and mischief involved in killing insectivorous birds. They are the farmers' best friends. Without their help the farmer would have a hard time forcing a living out of the soil.

President Wilson and Postmaster General Burleson might finally get the Michigan patronage situation off their hands by issuing an ultimatum to the effect that they will give jobs only to such persons as National Committeeman Wood and Representative Beakes are able to agree on. One advantage of this rule from the administration viewpoint would lie in the fact that it would require the Michigan Democrats to do their lumbering at home instead of at the capital.

For the assets of the R. C. H. Automobile company at Detroit, in which over $2,000,000 was invested, but a little over $100,000 was bid this week. Every industry, no matter what its possibilities, has its lemons. And there are other stock certificates besides those of ill-fated mining ventures that are preserved solely as souvenirs.

Mr. Mellen, late president of the New Haven, says he thinks men in offices of the kind are overpaid. He says he would have worked as hard as he could for $25,000, and intimates that he was overpaid at $75,000. That has all along been contended by the stockholders who did

Every Home Needs This Great Remedy

No Home Can Afford to Be Without a Mild, Reliable Laxative-Tonic.

MRS. M. F. SMITH

No well-regulated home should be without a laxative, for there is scarcely a day in a family of several persons that someone doesn't complain of a headache, of sleeplessness, or show the first signs of a cold.

A laxative, then, becomes a necessity or what was a trifling congestion at the beginning may run into a serious cold or fever. No harsh remedy is needed, but simply a mild laxative- tonic that will make the liver active and stir up the bowels.

People who have tried a great many things, and are themselves heads of families, who have seen the little pills run to big ones, will tell you that there is nothing better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which you can obtain at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, the latter being the family size.

Among the great believers in Syrup Pepsin for constipation in old or young, and as a general household emergency remedy, is Mrs. M. F. Smith, 710 N. Cherry St., San Antonio, Tex. To use her own words, she says she will bless Dr. Caldwell for her dying day for she believes that through his remedy, Syrup Pepsin, she found the way to permanent good health.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is scientifically compounded and its purity is vouchsafed for. Mothers give it to tiny babes, and grown people, taking a little larger amount, find it equally effective. It is mild and gentle, pleasant-tasting and free from gripping.

It does not hide behind a high-sounding name and is absolutely free from any prohibited ingredient. Families who once use Syrup Pepsin forever after avoid cathartics, salts, pills and other harsh medicines, for these only do temporary good, are nauseous and a shock to any delicate system. Such things should never be given to children.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

do not approve of the policy carried out under the Mellen regime. But why didn't Mr. Mellen express these interesting ideas on the subject of salary while he was still on the New Haven payroll?

President Wilson's cabinet seems to serve very well as long as it is so busy it has no time to talk, but whenever leisure presses on its members and they take to the stump and the chautauqua platforms there is usually the devil to pay.

To the man on the street it looks as if the Mexican "situation" cannot run along much further without all the parties concerned getting down to brass tacks.

Judging by the number of breakwaters that have been washed out in the fall storms some measures will have to be taken for protecting these useful works.

General Huerta, also, is a pretty nifty writer of ultimatums.

EDITORIAL OPINION

The Woe of the Illini.

What fatality pursues Illinois in the matter of senators? It gets rid of a "Billy" Mason to find it has a Hopkins. It tries Hopkins out and discovers it has made a place for Lorimer. Lorimer's smell is still in the air when the odors of J. Ham Lewis strike the nose.

Only the half-hearted will refrain from extending sympathy to Secretary Bryan on having such a friend on his hands, and to President Wilson on being compelled to keep on terms with a donkey of such braying power. With one blast Jim Ham is able to rattle a cool-headed President to depress a professionally optimistic secretary of state, to destroy poor Pindell, and to write himself down most conclusively as an ass as great in his way as Blaine of South Carolina.

As a clothes tree Jim Ham has won distinction. Also as a producer of a special brand of whiskey. Why is he not willing to stick to what he knows about?—New York Globe.

for public service corporations which would actually be compulsory. Uncle Sam and the state governments—often in opposite directions—are revising the changes which the railroad can make for freight and passenger service. The House Chamber of Commerce is today protesting against the increase of rates which the Boston & Maine thinks it needs. Mr. Mellen incidentally suggests that the interstate commerce commission should take a hand in limiting the salaries of railroad presidents and other high officials.

Yet no one can understand our American long-range system of government without realizing that of all nations on the earth we are the least fitted for taking over a great industrial enterprise like the railroads. In private hands today they are the best in the world. Run from Washington, by Bryan and Curley and Holston, they would surely prove among the worst. And this is saying a good deal.—Boston Herald.

LOWER STATE NOTES

HANOVER—The first hunting fatality in this vicinity this season occurred when Arlei Williams, a young farmer of Shalaki township, was accidentally shot and instantly killed by his brother, Will, who was hunting rabbits.

FLINT—Murray G. Goldberg, confidential clerk of Morris Kolbaker, whose store was looted $3,000 here, was arrested on suspicion. A formal charge probably will be made. The strongest point against Goldberg is that he was seen in the Kolbaker store the night of the robbery. Goldberg is a brother of Samuel Sanders, alias Goldberg, who is held with Henry Fell on suspicion of being connected with the local robberies, as well as the Detroit safe cracking jobs. The men claimed they were cousins at first, but later admitted they were brothers. Murray Goldberg is not suspected of participating in the Detroit job. The local and Detroit police are working together on the Detroit and Flint jobs which, they say, are closely associated and will result in more arrests.

"CASCARETS" FOR LIVER-HEADACHE

You're Bilious and Constipated—Clean Up Inside and Feel Bullly.

Get a 10-cent box now! You're bilious! You have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are pale and anorexia, you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate an inflamed stomach. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels are cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet, and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

Mr. Mellen as a Prophet. Not the least interesting paragraph in the recently published revelations of Charles S. Mellen is his prediction that the government will not long "run the railroads." He has expressed the view before, but never with so much spirit of conviction as now. With the profits of railroad investments sternly regulated, he believes private capitalists will not care greatly to stay in the business. And if they are indifferent on the one hand, the radical pressure on the other would be likely to control the situation.

The public is now running the railroads in everything except to supply money for their operation. Through the Erdman act, and a supporting public opinion, Uncle Sam is regulating the rate of wages of train employees. And the recent Republican candidate for governor in this state recommended an arbitration Pattengill of Lansing, former state superintendent of public instruction, assisted by President Charles McKewey and Professor S. H. Clark of the University of Michigan.

In common with the other towns of the district, the schools of Houghton will be closed today, to give teachers an opportunity to attend the institute. Superintendent Doelle has arranged for special street car service, leaving at 7:35 o'clock this morning from the East Houghton terminals.

LOWER STATE NOTES

GRAND RAPIDS—What is believed to be a plan for supplying the village of East Grand Rapids with water from the Grand Rapids mains without cost to the village was discovered when it was found that the city mains had been tapped and connected up with two mains that pass through the village. When Superintendent Cuthbert investigated the diversion of the city's water he found that President O'Keefe of the village declared that it was made simply so that the village could test out its new water works system.

LANSING—De Hull N. Travis, of Flint, member of the state board of pardons, favors a law to compel the board to publish notices of hearings, when the board is considering the application of convicts who seek paroles or pardons and are serving sentences for crimes in which the communities are interested. Member Travis says: "The more I see of this work the more I am inclined to favor the fullest publicity in the consideration of applications for parole in all public interest cases, such as murder and the offenses against woman and children." Governor Ferris is in favor of such a law.

GRAND RAPIDS—That fifteen college men under a competent head could do more to lessen crime in Grand Rapids than the entire police and detective force was the assertion of Detective William J. Burns. He declared that false mistakes, a mysterious air, and rubber heels were but memories in crime detection, and that keen wit and brain work could accomplish what ordinary detective methods never could. In a lecture to the citizens of Grand Rapids to co-operate with the men and women who are fighting the invasion of vice in an effort to make the country clean and wholesome.

OPPOSE EXECUTION OF WOMAN.

New York, Nov. 11.—Shall the state of Connecticut exert its legal authority to take the life of Bessie J. Wakefield, a girl mother and condemned slayer of her neglected husband? "No," say some prominent women of the city.

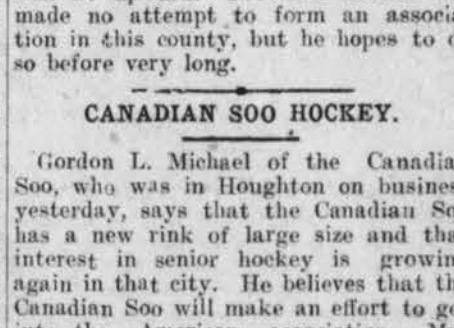

And so, says Dr. George Pease, Shears, graduate professor in the Polyclinic hospital, writer on medical and allied topics and one of the country's most noted obstetricians. Dr. Shears said tonight that the execution of a woman should be permitted in a civilized community.

"There is a tremendous difference between the male and the female criminal. Woman has to bear physical burdens of which man knows nothing. I believe that woman, because of her physical makeup, is to a great extent controlled by her emotions," said the doctor.

"For this reason a great deal of allowance should be made for acts committed by women in the violent stress of emotion. It is a grave question whether a jury made up of men is qualified to pass upon the guilt or innocence of a member of the opposite sex."

"I do not believe the people of Connecticut will permit the execution of Bessie Wakefield," said Mrs. Harriet Stanton Lincoln. "The time has passed when such a barbarous thing can be done in a civilized community. The abolition of capital punishment will be the next step."

Markets

[From Geo. F. Rues, Ishpeming.]

The initial quotations in New York Thursday morning showed declines. The market continued very dull, with a sagging tendency, up to the last half hour when some rather aggressive buying advanced prices to Wednesday night's closing prices. London copper warrants were quiet and steady, closing unchanged. The Boston copper share market was very dull, with the trading confined to old-lot transactions. The closing prices show but few changes. Keweenaw was the only stock to receive any attention; it advanced to 2 1/2. Final quotations at Boston were: prospective bridegroom, Floyd L. Scott, is deluged with love letters from champion cooks, pretty girls, red rose sending girls and other kind of girls who profess their love for him. He has even received a letter from a young woman who declares she is a reporter on a Detroit paper. Out of consideration for the girls, Scott refuses to make public the names of the would-be sharers of the $10,000 which a wealthy uncle has offered him if he will marry by October 21, 1913.

BATTLE CREEK—BATTLE CREEK'S

Various girls asked for meetings, one even suggested taking him to church. Another smitten maiden, who says she is a stenographer, begs for a date, saying she cannot live without him and signs with "oceans of love." She says her father threatens to put her in a school and entreats him to "save her." She signs the letter by saying: "I know you will think me bold and presuming in addressing you thus, but the truth is out—I love you." The youth is overwhelmed with offers, but is not keeping the appointments.

KALAMAZOO—The $25,000 suit for damages against Representative Charles A. Wampler of Van, Bureau county, started by Charles Lewis of Bangor, the defeated Republican candidate for the state legislature at the primary election, was ended when Representative Weidenfeller made a complete retraction of the charge. The case was on trial in circuit court at Paus Paus, when attorneys for both sides started negotiations for a settlement out of court. Weidenfeller in his retraction says: "Whereas, such statements were then made by me in good faith, but it appears that they were not true. Now, therefore, knowing that they are not true, I hereby withdraw and retract each and every one of the said statements, and do hereby admit that I was wrong in circulating and publishing the same in the manner and at the time above set forth, or in any manner whatsoever. Several Americans in London recently applied to an agency for an automobile in which to go sightseeing. There was difficulty in getting one on such short notice, but when the hour arrived a luxurious limousine car was placed at their disposal. The chauffeur proved well informed. When they returned they remarked that they had never had such a car or such a driver. "Well, it is not often that one like this is for hire," was the reply. "Did you notice the coat of arms on the door? That automobile belongs to Lady —," naming one of the wealthiest American heiresses married to an English peer, "but she is out of town." The Americans who had the use of Lady —'s car are wondering whether she or the chauffeur enjoyed the profits.

A PRAIRIE DOG TOWN

A prairie dog settlement in Colorado is estimated to contain one-half billion inhabitants. Were the snakes, owls, rabbits, lizards and horned toads which live with the dogs to be counted in, the population of the place would reach the billion mark.

The figures are not strictly accurate, comments a writer in Dumb Animals, for the government has never counted these dogs in the census. But anyone who has seen such a city knows there are more than one hundred dogs to the acre and this city is 140 miles long by 50 wide, containing 4,480,000 acres.

They dug burrows with so many chambers that the railroad which is being put through their city will have to destroy a large number of dogs and their homes in order to avoid accidents from caving in of tracks.

The city was founded centuries ago. It has been known to be about its present size for 50 years. "Families grow rapidly and the young ones stay at home till there is not room enough for all and some are pushed out to dig homes for themselves."

They live on four kinds of food, carous, roots, of wire grass, tender green shoots of sagebrush and greasewood. These are the only specimens of plant life found in the western deserts where prairie dogs are native. In spite of the sameness of their fare they manage to keep sleek and fat on food which a ground squirrel would consider starvation diet.

Masonic Dancing Party—The last dancing party to be given in the present Masonic hall took place last evening, with the ideal orchestra furnishing the music. A supper was served. Arrangements for this function are nearly completed. A turkey supper is planned.

Primeau, Jr., active in the arrangements for the reunion of U. of M. men of the county in Marquette tomorrow expects that thirty or more will be present to hear the address given by the Michigan-Pennsylvania game and to attend the supper at Keough's hall at 6 o'clock. It will be served by the Cloverland restaurant. In the evening a sangerfest and informal social entertainment will be given. Many U. of M. men are in the woods hunting, marking the opening of the season.

Sale of Copley Prints—The Marquette chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution is planning for a sale of Copley prints, to be conducted Dec. 2. Mrs. F. B. Spear, Jr., chairman of the committee, having this sale in mind, will take orders in advance for anything in this line. She is provided with full catalogues of these prints and will, upon request, include any desired line or the works of any particular artist in this large collection to be displayed here next month. Other features of the sale will be a delicatessen table, displaying a great variety of home cookery; a candy table, with a tempting array of homemade candies, and bags of piping hot chestnuts. Tea will be served during the afternoon.

Those Dancing Pictures—Again last evening Marquette theatergoers were disappointed, but not to such a great extent as Wednesday. The motion pictures showing how to dance the turkey trot and the tango arrived all right, but the reel showing the Viennese hesitation waltz did not come, nor did the special music which is supposed to accompany the films. The turkey trot and tango reels were shown, however, and were witnessed by two large assemblages. The third reel and the music will be here today. Marquette dancers were shown last evening that there is a great deal more to the tango than is generally believed. The tango is made up of all steps from the one-step to the seven-step, and what is danced here generally as the one-step is more of a turkey trot.

Ross Kids Please—Opening with an announcement resembling one that might come from a real prize ring, the two Ross Kids, the vaudeville attraction at the Marquette Opera House the last half of the week, took two capacity audiences by storm last evening. The boys are fourteen and fifteen years of age, are small, but are well and trimly built. Their biceps and shoulder muscles are as hard as any fully developed man's, and both are agile and quick. Their act, "A Day in a Gymnasium," consists of rope jumping, exercising springs, shadow boxing and a three-round boxing bout. The rope jumping, springs and shadow work precede bag punching, and they wind up with the boxing bout. The boys dig in hard, and not infrequently one of them goes on the stage with a discolored eye. They are excellent boxers, and their footwork is good. The older of the two boys has a pivot punch that is formidable, but the other kid's ducking saves him nearly every time.

LOUIS G. KAUFMAN.

Sketch of Marquette Man in New York Topics.

The November number of New York Topics contains the following interesting sketch of L. G. Kaufman, president of the First National bank:

"Personally charming, intellectually unusually interesting, Mr. Louis G. Kaufman, president of the Chatham & Phenix National bank of New York, is one of the most striking figures in both the social and business worlds of today.

"I confess I entered the Chatham & Phenix National bank in some trepidation. May I see Mr. Kaufman? I asked, trying to appear as calm and businesslike as I did not feel. His desk was pointed out to me and I saw a magnificent-looking man with broad shoulders, massive head and splendid, unassuming chin bending over his papers. His personality was instantly compelling, and I understood, even at a glance, how so comparatively young a man had already won such prominence.

"In answer to my request for a few moments' interview, Mr. Kaufman's keen blue eyes gleamed up through his dark, heavy lashes, and I felt that his gaze had instantly penetrated every hidden corner of my character. He seated, he said with a charming courtesy that put me at once at perfect ease, and then in a rich vibrant voice he answered frankly and simply all the questions I asked about his life, his hopes, his ambitions and his family.

"The brief story of his career is that of a man with ambitious and powers too big for any life outside of a vast metropolis. Born on November 13, 1873, at Marquette, Mich., he received his education at the public and high school of his native town, and studied engineering at the Michigan mining schools, graduating at the early age of sixteen. After spending some time at work in a California gold mine, he returned to Marquette and secured a subordinate position in the Marquette City Savings bank, and after seven years of steady promotions he was elevated to the position of cashier manager in 1898. In 1901 he was made vice president of the First National bank of Marquette, in 1906 he became its president, and was also honored by being chosen president of the Michigan Bankers' association.

"In August, 1910, Mr. Kaufman, whose business ability had made itself felt throughout the country through his work as a member of the executive council, American Bankers' association, received a call to the presidency of the Chatham & Phenix National bank of New York City.

"I had long felt," said Mr. Kaufman, "that the wilds of the Middle West did not offer opportunity for all the work I wish to accomplish. For a time I was intensely interested in mining, but I soon realized that the banking business is the heart and essence of all the economic life of the world today, and I was not content to work at anything else. In the same way, I felt that only in the mighty metropolitan life of a great city could a banker actually touch all the tremendous vital forces that create and express his work, and it is my life's ambition not to feed upon and enjoy the civilization of today, but to be of value to it, in helping to build up, the industrial life of the country in which I live. So I came to New York, Mr. Kaufman added simply, and there was a wonderful light in the keen blue eyes.

"The social side of Mr. Kaufman's life is also striking. On January 8, 1900, he was married to Miss Marie Julia Young, daughter of Mr. Otto Young, of Chicago, and six healthy and beautiful children have blessed their union. They have a handsome country home, an attractive shooting lodge in Michigan and luxurious winter apartments at the Ritz-Carlton. Mrs. Kaufman, who was a noted belle before her marriage, is even more beautiful as a young matron than she was as a girl. Tall and graceful with rich brown hair waving softly over a classic brow, her dark sea-blue eyes reveal a soul that motherhood has deepened into a wonderful beauty of womanliness. Wholesome and human, Mrs. Kaufman is a great sportswoman, excelling in all healthy outdoor games. She won the tennis tournament in mixed doubles last spring at the Short Hills Country club; carried off the prize for graceful dancing at the charity fair at the Ritz-Carlton last winter, is a good shot, a splendid swimmer and is also an ideal hostess at the delightful house parties for which her country home is famous. But Mrs. Kaufman lives not merely for pleasure. She is interested in all the big social reforms and charities of the day. Not all the prominent business men of the day are so fortunate in having life-comrades whose natures so satisfyingly complement their highest hopes and aspirations as is Mr. Louis G. Kaufman. There is no telling what the united life-work of this couple will mean for the betterment of their country, for added to opportunity they have the souls to conceive and the power to accomplish. "Lovely," said Mr. Kaufman in answer to my exclamation when he showed me the beautiful ethereal face of his wife in a recent photograph that stood on his desk. "Of course she is lovely! There's not another woman in the world like her!" and the stern lines on the strong face of the man of the world softened into a wonderful tenderness as he gazed at the pictured face before him, and I understood suddenly the inner secret of the man's inspiration and achievement."

DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Marquette Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are frequently symptoms of kidney trouble, and a remedy which is recommended for the kidneys should be taken in time.

Doan's Kidney Pills is a good remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has acted effectively in many cases in Marquette. Follow the advice of a Marquette citizen. Mrs. Leonard Richer, 4047 Rock St., Marquette, Mich., says: "One of my family had kidney and bladder weakness and had little control over the kidney secretions at night. We tried remedy after remedy and spent a great deal of money but nothing brought relief until Doan's Kidney Pills were used. They improved her health and acted beneficially in every way. The public endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago still holds good. I still think they are the best kidney remedy anyone can buy. The one of our family who took them has not been bothered by her kidneys or back since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

MORE BOTTLES SOLD EACH YEAR.

It is easy to understand why an increasing number of bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is sold yearly. Thos. Veran, 286 Edward street, Houghton, Mich., gives an excellent reason when he writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has always proved an effective remedy, quickly relieving tickling in the throat, and stopping the cough with no bad after effects." For sale by All Dealers.

Discussions of City Charter

To the Editor of The Mining Journal: When we think of the possibility of the unpopular use, or abuse of the autocratic powers granted the commission; we are met by prompt suggestion of recourse to the "recall," as the all affective instrument and ever ready remedy to compel compliance with the popular will. Without this recall, the commission form of government, as proposed for this city with five year terms for commissioners, is lacking one of the spokes in the wheel necessary to make it run.

It seems to me rather strange that with the cities of Battle Creek, Pontiac and Traverse City, having practically the same laws for governing their city as the charter commission are placing before the people for adoption or rejection on the 29th, the charter here should meet with so much criticism from the city attorney when the question of its legality was passed on by a qualified attorney of the city.

LABOR SESSION IS BRIEF

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 13.—There was only one brief session of the American Federation of Labor today, and the delegates spent the afternoon and night in committee meetings.

AMENDMENTS OF THE NEW CHARTER CAN BE MADE ONLY BY AN ELECTION HELD IN ALL OF THE WARD OR PRECINCTS OF THE CITY, AND THE NUMBER OF SPECIAL ELECTIONS THAT CAN BE HELD IN ANY ONE YEAR IS LIMITED BY THE HOME RULE LAW AND THE CHARTER TO TWO.

George P. Brown. To the Editor of The Mining Journal: Regarding the opinion of the city attorney in your issue yesterday, in which he calls attention to the elements to certain features of the revised charter, I will ask the electors to consider a similar case to the one he quotes. The city of Battle Creek, Mich., revised its charter and submitted it to electors for approval on Monday, April 7, 1913. On the same day, and at the same election, they elected a mayor and board of aldermen under their old charter, to serve for a term of one year. The electors voted to adopt the revised charter, which went into effect on the 15th of April. On May 12 they held their primary nomination for the office of mayor and commissioners. On the 19th of May they elected these officers, who a few days after took office. The adoption of the new charter legislated the mayor and council out of office by the vote of the people, in making a law for the government of their city. The men legislated out of office had still over ten months of their term to serve, and if they could have retained their offices they would probably have done so, for the issue was fought hard by the opponents of the change to commission government.

Still we have not heard of any "guerrilla warfare" such as is being waged today in the city of Battle Creek. The retention in office by the provisions of the charter of the men appointed by the present mayor and council was nothing more than fair and just to the men now holding these offices. This also applies to the present mayor and council. These men are performing their duties and my personal opinion is that a commission government going into effect would make very little difference to them.

The same applies to the office of treasurer and recorder. The light and power commission was created a municipal department of our city by a special act of the legislature. The same was the case with the board of fire and water commissioners, park cemetery and street commission, the police commission and the Peter White Public Library board. The school district was also created by a special act of the legislature and known as school district No. 1 of the city of Marquette. Sections 4, Bill 279, laws 1909 called the Home Rule Law reads "Each City may in its charter provide:

"(P) For altering, amending or repealing any special act affecting any existing municipal department, but the department in control of the public schools shall not be construed to be a municipal department."

This section was a bone of contention. I personally wired the attorney general at Lansing and here is the reply received from one of his deputies: "Under Section 4 P. Home Rule act revised charter may provide for repealing any act except one affecting public schools. Andrew B. Dougherty, Deputy Attorney General."

The revised charter now under discussion is practically a copy of the Battle Creek charter except some chapters taken from Pontiac's charter. A few sections were taken from Traverse City as being applicable to our city. Some new sections were made, but these apply particularly to new powers to gov-

GOOD TIMBER.

One thing that both ends of the district are agreed on is that the voters undoubtedly will have a lot of first-class timber to select from, between the present prospective candidates and others who may be induced to enter.

THE TROUBLE WITH THIS PLAN IS THAT THE LOWER PENINSULA PARTY WOULD DO THE SAME THING AND THEREBY AROUSE SECTIONAL FEELING TO SUCH A NICH THAT EACH OF THE TWO CANDIDATES IN THE REGISTER PRIMARY WOULD BE SOLIDLY BACKED BY THE VOTERS IN HIS SECTION.

IN SUCH AN EVENT THE ODDS WOULD BE WITH THE LOWER PENINSULA MAN, AS THAT PART OF THE DISTRICT HAS 12,000 MORE POPULATION THAN THE UPPER PENINSULA.

WHATEVER WAY IT WORKS OUT, IT CERTAINLY IS AN INTERESTING SITUATION RIGHT NOW, AND FULL OF POSSIBILITIES.

Waycross, Ga., Woman Found Relief in Vinol.

Did you ever cough for a week? Then just think how distressing it must be to have a cough hang on for two years.

Mrs. D. A. McFee, Waycross, Ga., says: "I had a very heavy cold which settled into a chronic cough which kept me awake nights for fully two years, and I felt tired all the time. The effect of taking your cod liver and iron Vinol, is that my cough is gone. I can now get a good night's rest and I feel much stronger in every way. I am 74 years old."

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cod's livers, aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so efficient for chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. The Stafford Drug Co., Marquette, Mich.; also The F. P. Wilson, Drug Co., Ishpeming and J. E. O'Donoghue, Negaunee.

LOWER IS DETERMINED.

But the lower peninsula half of the district appears equally determined that one of its leading citizens get the congressional honor, and the struggle will be well worth watching.

Prominently mentioned for the nomination on the Republican ticket, which nomination in the new district will assure election, are five men from the upper peninsula half of the district and two from the lower peninsula half.

The upper peninsula men are: Sherman T. Handy, mayor of Sault Ste. Marie; member of the executive committee of the Michigan State Agricultural society, which conducts the state fair in Detroit; and speaker of the state house of representatives in the 1901 legislature, of which he was elected a member from Iron county.

M. M. Larmonth, prominent Sault Ste. Marie attorney.

Joseph E. Bayliss, of Sault Ste. Marie, at present the member of the legislature from this county and previously sheriff of Chippewa county for four years. Mr. Bayliss is a real estate dealer.

Otto W. Fowle, of Chippewa, who was a member of the state senate from the Thirtieth senatorial district in the last legislature.

James C. Wood, of Manistique, attorney and present state senator from the Thirtieth district.

The lower peninsula men are: Dana Harrison Hinkley, of Emmet county, manufacturer; now in his second term as a member of the state house of representatives.

Frank D. Scott of Alpena, city attorney of his home town and now serving his second term as state senator. He is president pro tem. of the state senate, ruling the body when Lieut-Gov. Ross is not present at sessions.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Within a few days the light little U. S. Coast Survey Service steamship Bache, now lying at the lightship service wharf, will leave the Chesapeake on an expedition that may outrival in its tangible results many of those taken by our distinguished visitor, the Prince of Monaco, in his noted steam yacht, in gathering from the depths of the Atlantic ocean specimens of fish and other sea life.

In addition to the officers of the Bache, there will be on board two experts from the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries, who will classify and preserve the fish and other objects taken from the deep waters of the seas, fathoms below the surface, by the ingenious nets and traps fashioned for this remarkable work. The Bache is here primarily to be equipped with a small wireless outfit, with good receiving but small sending radius, and also to change her commanding officers. She is to be commanded by Captain Charles C. Yates, assisted by executive and other officers of known ability. The men to represent the bureau have not yet been selected but will be named at an early date.

To Be Thoroughly Equipped. Before leaving Washington, the deep sea sounding apparatus and the mechanical appliances that will be used to dredge the bottom of the ocean for specimens of marine life are to be placed on board, together with other recently devised paraphernalia that is to be used in the operations. While the cruise will be largely for the benefit of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries, and will be under its capable direction, the information that will be gathered as to the ocean bottom and the varying depths of water will be used in correcting existing charts.

Upon leaving the Chesapeake, the Bache will head for the Bermudas, and from Cape Henry to the islands dredges will be pulled over the bottom of the seas that intervene. From the Bermudas she will lay her course for the Florida coast, and specimens of sea life will also be secured on this leg of her cruise. In all cases, the specimens are to be carefully preserved and will finally be placed on exhibition in the national museum.

This expedition to gather fish and sea life is something new for the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey Service which has hitherto confined its operations to collecting reliable information regarding shoals and currents, etc. For the benefit of mariners—had dragging the ocean's bottom for curious and rare specimens of sea life is nothing new to the commanding officers of the ganey little Bache.

JOHN R. COLLINS
BACK FROM MEXICO

IshpeMING Man and His Family
Had Difficult Time Getting to the United States.

John R. Collins, Mrs. Collins and four children arrived in the city yesterday from Mexico, where Mr. Collins had been in charge of diamond drilling operations. Their home-coming was unexpected by relatives here, who had no idea they were on the way until they received a telegram Wednesday night from Mr. Collins to the effect that they were about to leave Chicago.

According to Mr. Collins' story he and his family were driven out of Mexico by developments of the revolution. He hoped to be able to continue his work there, but the situation became so desperate that he concluded that it would not pay him to take a chance.

The Collins family made but slow progress getting out of Mexico. In order to get home they had to come by Cuba, and the trip was expensive. Before getting out of Mexico they had several trying experiences. Among them was a horseback ride through a wilderness for a distance of some fourteen miles. As two of their children are babies this mode of traveling was neither pleasant nor convenient.

Mr. Collins, who is now one of the oldest and best known diamond drill men in this district, has had charge of exploration in nearly all the foreign countries during the fifteen years or more he has been away from IshpeMING. He has operated drills in South Africa, Spain and in a number of the other European countries. His two oldest children speak Spanish. He and Mrs. Collins also have a knowledge of that language, as for some two or three years while in Spain he was employed in a remote district with natives for drill helpers, as well as for servants.

Mr. Collins intends to return to Mexico as soon as the country is settled.

A short time before getting out of Mexico Mr. Collins saw General Felix Diaz, who on the 6th was assassinated in Havana by Pedro Guerrero, a young Mexican.

SHOT FINE BUCK.

Gordon Jaedecke, who with his mother, Mrs. Bessie Jaedecke, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ongie, is enjoying an outing at Camp Florence, south of IshpeMING shot a buck that weighed 220 pounds. The deer has a fine pair of antlers and Mr. Jaedecke will have the head mounted.

JAMES DONAHOE'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late James Donahoe, who died Monday in Sault Ste. Marie, was held yesterday morning from St. John's church, and was largely attended. Although the deceased lived away from IshpeMING the greater part of the past fifteen years, he was well known and had many friends here. He was a member of St. John's court, Catholic Order of Foresters, and a delegation from the court attended the obsequies. Services at the church and cemetery were conducted by Rev. J. A. Kent. Relatives from out of the city in attendance at the funeral were Mrs. James Kennelly, of Escanaba, Mrs. John O'Donnell, of Norway, and John Mellale, of Iron River, Mich.

ORGANIZED FOR WINTER.

The "Snow Pankers" is the name of an indoor baseball team organized by a number of IshpeMING men, who now challenge any similar aggregation in the county. Fred Jandreau has been chosen captain and manager, and he expects to have the team ready for the first game in the course of a week. Saline has been signed as pitcher and Sam Harper, who was successful as a catcher during the past summer will be on the receiving end of the battery. "Doc" Emblom will play third base for the "Pankers."

Following is the lineup:
Harper, catcher; Saline, pitcher; Dobbs, first base; Jandreau, second base; Emblom, third base; Heston, right short stop; Gleason, left short stop; "Cy" Harper, left field; and Fisher, right field.

Games can be arranged by communicating with the manager.

LOOKING OVER MINES.

Captain Will Ninnis, who was a pioneer miner on the Marquette range and is now superintendent of the Brodheadton and one or two other properties on the Gogebic range, with headquarters at Wakefield, is here on a visit. While in the county he will inspect a number of mining plants. His company plans to install some new machinery at its Gogebic range properties.

Captain Ninnis left IshpeMING in 1892 for the Gogebic district. He had worked

FIREMAN NARROWLY ESCAPES INJURY

Edward Stacey Thrown from Running Board of Northwestern Locomotive.

Edward Stacey, of Crystal Falls, a fireman for the Chicago & Northwestern railway between Ishpeming and Escanaba, had a narrow escape from death, or serious injury, yesterday afternoon, while riding the running board of his locomotive as it was pulling into the yards from Escanaba. He was thrown to the ground, and was severely bruised. His escape is considered remarkable, as the locomotive was traveling at a fair rate of speed. The accident occurred shortly before 2 o'clock, and Mr. Stacey was unconscious for about half an hour.

At the Negaunee hospital yesterday afternoon, several hours after the accident, Stacey said that to repair the hole which had gone out on the running board through the front window of the cab and was standing on the left hand side of the locomotive as it was pulling into the yards. As the locomotive was passing under the South Shore trestle, a short distance from Iron street, he was struck by one of the timbers, and was forcibly thrown to the ground, a distance of about ten feet. He narrowly escaped falling under the rear wheels of the locomotive.

Stacey's absence was not noticed by the engineer, Tom Garland, of Escanaba, until the train had proceeded some distance. On investigation the train crew found his limp form lying along the side of the track. He was rushed to the Negaunee hospital, it being thought at first that his injuries were of a severe nature. Closer examination, however, showed that he suffered only severe bruises.

Several accidents of similar nature have occurred in the same place during the past ten years. Brakemen have been thrown from the tops of boxcars when they failed to stoop as the train passed under the bridge.

RINK WILL HAVE 90,000 FEET AREA

Negaunee People Will Be Provided With Lots of Room for Ice Sports This Year.

Negaunee's municipal ice rink will undoubtedly be the largest in this part of the upper peninsula. As it is to be 200 feet square, it will have a skating surface of 90,000 square feet. The rink will be made as soon as there is a prolonged spell of cold weather.

Ishpeming's municipal rink will have an area of 30,000 square feet. As the Negaunee rink will be more than four times as large as the one made last year there will be plenty of room for hockey games at the same time the rink is being used by other skaters.

The grounds have been made ready for flooding the past few days and when the weather turns cold it is thought that a good skating surface can be made within forty-eight hours. The rink is to be located on the tract that the board of education has prepared for a school playground. The surface is level and the rink can be made at little expense to the city. The cost of maintenance will be small.

Two pipe lines were laid this week to the grounds, one on the east and west ends, and four poles have been set up for the lighting of the place. Two 100-watt tungsten lamps will be used, and if more light is needed additional poles will be set up. Everything is now in readiness for flooding the grounds.

The rink was well patronized last winter, and proved a popular place of amusement.

During the past week there has been much talk of a hockey team and already a schedule with neighboring cities is being discussed.

BASKETBALL SEASON OPENS.

Practice Has Been Started at Negaunee High School.

The basketball season at the Negaunee High school opened this week and candidates for the school team are practicing after school. The first day twenty young men turned out and the number has since increased. The prospects for a strong team are excellent and games will be arranged with neighboring high schools.

Some of the students are showing interest in volleyball ball, a new game here. All of the necessary equipment will be received shortly and a school team will be organized.

WILL OPEN HOTEL.

Richard DePola and John Tavarnese this week reopened the East Jackson hotel on Jackson street, which will hereafter be known as the Roma hotel and restaurant. Mr. DePola is well known among the Negaunee Italians, having formerly been engaged in the shoe repairing business in the Wear-U Well store. The men have secured a two-year lease on the building.

COMPLAINTS RECEIVED.

Since the recent fall of snow many complaints have been made to Marshal Newcomb by residents in the vicinity of the Jackson school in regard to children coasting on the sidewalks. The practice must be stopped, the marshal asserts. Complaints have also been made by the teachers at the Jackson school.

FIRST QUARTERLY CONFERENCE.

Rev. W. E. Marvin, superintendent of the Houghton district of the Methodist Episcopal church, will be in Negaunee Monday to conduct the first quarterly conference of the Mitchell Methodist church. The conference was to have been held during the early part of the present week, but, owing to the death of Mrs. C. L. Adams, of Calumet, it was postponed.

Now is the time to order your chin-chin overcoat. Peterson & Willers, ladies' and men's tailors, Negaunee, 10-27-13.

The snow has been removed from Iron street, crews of men having been engaged on the work the past two days.

Soo Liquor Men Bound Over.

Two of the twenty-nine liquor cases up for trial at the Soo were disposed of in justice court when George McCauley and William Mackie, charged with selling liquor to Indians, were bound over to the December term of the circuit court. Both of the defendants furnished the required bail of $400. The examinations in the other cases will not be taken up until December. All the defendants are bartenders or saloon keepers.

Alms House Has New Keeper.

Louis Cousineau, keeper of the Delta county poor farm, has been deposed and Thomas Peletier of Garden has been chosen to fill the vacancy. Complaints during the regime of Mr. Cousineau have been numerous. The Mirror was recently in receipt of a communication from the inmates of the home, in which communication Cousineau was accused of various injustices. Superintendent of the Poor F. M. Olmsted was advised and he stated that the majority of the charges were unfounded, that while the keeper had been neglectful in a few instances he had been an excellent worker and had treated the inmates with consideration. Certain conditions, however, induced Mr. Olmsted to dispense with the services of Cousineau, who had been the keeper the last three years. The new keeper is a man, Mr. Olmsted is confident, who will assist him in the management of the farm, served there for four years as a nurse and her familiarity with conditions will doubtless serve to increase the efficiency of the new regime.

Lodge Has Unique Record.

It almost appears that to belong to Tamarack camp, Modern Woodmen of America of Hubbell, means a member is immune from death. The branch was organized twenty years ago by District Deputy C. J. Byrns of Ishpeming, until recently collector of customs at Marquette, and for several years a national director of the order. The camp started out with a membership of twenty and since its first meeting has initiated 120 members. The present membership is seventy-six, a decrease of twenty within the past two years. The decrease is accounted for partly by removals to other towns and again when members dropped out several months ago at the time the increase in rates was threatening. The record of Tamarack camp is unique. In the twenty years of its existence not a member has died through sickness, and only one member was claimed by death, this being several years ago when a man was caught in a shaft at one of the mills and was instantly killed. Officers of the camp say there would be no need of talking increased rates if the record of other camps was as good as that of Tamarack camp.

Escanaba Has a Pulmotor.

The Escanaba Traction company has received the first pulmotor ever sent to the Delta county metropolis. Made in Germany and uniquely contrived, the machine is almost human in its action and it is a certainty that the pulmotor will, if success by mechanical means is possible, bring about the recovery of an overcome man when all else has failed. Several rubber hoods or masks come with the machine and can be readily shaped to fit the face of anyone. Immediately upon placing the mask the oxygen is turned on from the supply tank and a small gauge denotes the pressure as soon as the human-like lungs start their operation. Two tubes are attached to the face hood, one carrying the oxygen to the victim and the other carrying it away as it comes out of the lungs. The air is forced into the lungs and then forced out again, thus assuring certain resuscitation to the asphyxiated, drowned or electrocuted victim. The oxygen tube carries enough air to last forty minutes and the Escanaba company has three extra tubes of oxygen. The traction company is making an attempt to interest the city in the pulmotor and is urging it to purchase a half-interest. The machine is already at the disposal of the public.

Shot by Hunter—Dead.

Shot while at work, it is believed, by careless hunters, James McDonald, eighteen years of age, a section hand employed by the Northwestern road at Beechwood, met death Wednesday. McDonald was engaged in tightening bolts on the rails and was at work alone, a mile west of Beechwood. There were no witnesses to the accident, but surrounding circumstances point to the fact that after being shot McDonald attempted to crawl to Beechwood, along the track. He had progressed for about 400 feet when the westbound Northwestern passenger rounded a turn, less than a hundred feet away. The engineer and fireman saw the man lying between the rails when almost upon him and made every effort to stop the train but failed. The stricken man was lying directly between the rails and when caught by the engine was whirled under the wheels and terribly mangled. That the man was still conscious when hit by the engine is believed by the train crew, as while they were making a vain effort to stop he raised his head just as the engine was approaching the body. The train was stopped and when the crew went back the mangled body was found. Four hundred feet east of the point where the man was struck his tools were found, where he had been at work. At the same place was found a piece of his mackinaw, which had evidently been torn up by him in making a handage to stop the flow of blood from a wound. The young man's father who was engaged as tank keeper at Hendricks dropped dead two years ago and the family had lived in Escanaba and this vicinity for many years.

Lock City Short of Cash.

It probably will be necessary for the Soo to negotiate a temporary loan of $10,000 or $15,000 shortly. Comptroller Field advised the council this week that the city had only $5,349 in its treasury, this being mostly school money, a portion of which would be drawn in a few days. Mayor Handy proposes to use the water works money, which amounts to $5,000 to conduct the city until the next council meeting. The only source of revenue until the tax collections begin on the first of December are the collections on delinquent taxes. These are in the hands of the county treasurer, but will be turned over to the city as soon as possible. At the next meeting the council will in all probability negotiate a small loan to pay the expense of the city until the tax money is collected.

DECLARE WAR ON COLDS.

A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation" has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "don'ts" which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold: "Don't sit in a draughty car." "Don't sleep in hot rooms." "Don't avoid the fresh air." "Don't stuff yourself at meal time. Overeating reduces your resistance." "To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. Sold by All Dealers.

FEARED THAT SMITH IS LOST

Steamer That Left Marquette Harbor in Height of Storm Sunday Evening Has Not Yet Been Reported at Soo, and Marine Men Believe That She Foundered

Owners Yesterday Sent Telegrams in All Directions Seeking to Gain Information About Her—Three Men of Nottingham's Crew Drowned at Whitefish Bay

Apprehension that the steamer Henry B. Smith, which cleared Marquette harbor shortly before six o'clock Sunday night, had foundered some time that night or Monday deepened into almost a certainty yesterday, when her owners, W. A. and A. H. Haswood, of Cleveland, sent out messages seeking to get trace of her when the Soo reported that she had not passed the locks.

While there was considerable anxiety inquiry about the Smith Wednesday, it was felt by many that she would turn up at the Soo within a short time, with the report that she had finally been compelled to turn into the teeth of the storm and seek shelter, but yesterday when it was learned that she had not yet reported at the Soo marine men expressed a fear bordering on a conviction that she had gone down in the storm.

It was remarked that even if the Smith had forced her way up the lake in the storm, by yesterday, the fourth day after she left Marquette, she should have succeeded in making her way to the Soo, and when reported inquiries failed to throw any light on her whereabouts it was generally concluded that she had been another sacrifice—this time a needless one—to the storm.

It is the theory of marine men that the hatches became loosened and that the big craft became waterlogged and sank to the bottom of Lake Superior. While little is known here concerning the crew of the Smith, it is believed the steamer carried in the neighborhood of forty men.

Wreckage Found Yesterday.

Wreckage was found on the shore near the Presque Isle dock yesterday morning, but there was no way in which it could be identified and Captain Cleary, of the Life Saving crew, asserted that it might be wreckage from the Waldo, which was cast on a reef off Gull Rock, Manitowish, about a week ago. Monday morning, which docked in Marquette late Wednesday, yesterday reported the sighting of a dead body of a sailor, supported by a life belt, eleven miles southeast of Marquette Wednesday. It is possible that this was the body of one of the Smith's men. The fact that no other steamer is reported to have lost men in the neighboring waters points strongly to that conclusion.

Captain Was Foolhardy.

While there is a natural reluctance on the part of marine men to direct criticism against Captain James Owen of the Smith, it is evident from their guarded comments that they feel that he erred grievously in taking his ship from a safe harbor and entrusting it and its crew to the mercies of as heavy a storm as was raging when he left port Sunday night. It was felt at the time that he was pursuing a rash and foolhardy course, and marine men freely predicted that he would be compelled to put about and make for shelter. Captain Cleary prophesied that the Smith would be back in Marquette harbor within a few hours.

All the evidence bearing on what Captain Owen did on leaving Marquette indicates that shortly after getting away he put his ship about and sought to regain shelter. Captain Fox, of the Choctaw, which was in port with coal during the storm, asserts that the Smith put about less than half an hour after leaving the harbor. It is generally believed that he realized the danger of trying to make the Soo with the weather so heavy and decided to seek the shelter of the east shore of Keweenaw point, in the hope that he would be able to ride out the storm. But from the time she left Marquette harbor to the present hour there has been no word of the Smith.

The three days' storm over the weekend had certain deceiving features. The weather bureau's report that there were two storms has been noted. About noon Sunday a perceptible lull in the wind occurred and was noticeable through the afternoon. It is possible that Captain Owen considered that the storm was petering out. Within a few minutes after he left the harbor, however, it had greatly increased in intensity and it raged with more violence through Sunday night and Monday morning than at any previous time during its three day period.

Last night Captain Cleary said it was just possible that the Smith had forced her way much farther to the north shore than Keweenaw point and in fighting the storm had sustained damage that called for temporary repairs when the weather settled. There was a chance, he believed, that these repairs may have held her up for what has seemed an unreasonable time, and that she would still turn up safe, but Captain Cleary at the same time indicated that he believed this chance was an outside one, and that the Smith had probably been overwhelmed by the waves and sent to the bottom.

The Smith was one of the largest steamers on the lake. She was carrying the 600-foot class, with an average carrying capacity of 10,000 tons, and was of recent build. She was fully as staunch as steamers of her class, but her deck was all cut up with numerous holes, and it has been generally held by marine men that boats of her class are not the best risks in the heaviest of the lake storms.

Three Drowned at Whitefish.

Another belated report of the havoc wrought by the weekend storm relates that three men of the crew of the steamer Nottingham, downbound with grain, were lost at Whitefish bay. The Nottingham grounded on a reef between Sand island and Parisian island. The men lost were drowned while they were seeking to make their way to the shore.

The Nottingham was feeling her way slowly in an endeavor to make a safe anchorage Monday. She went on the reef hard and all Monday and through Tuesday morning she pounded away in the grip of the storm. The Nottingham's food supplies were low and her fuel had given out, the firemen having been compelled to use grain in an effort to keep the fires from going dead underneath her boilers.

Finally in desperation a yawl boat with a wheelman, an oiler and a deckhand was lowered for an attempt to reach the shore and send an appeal for assistance. The boat no more than struck the water when it was dashed against the steamer's side and the three men in it were quickly swallowed up. The Nottingham weathered the gale, and the men who were on the steamer were saved. It is expected that it will be possible to lighter and release the steamer.

URGES ATTENTION TO TONNAGE TAX

Marquette Man Says Situation Can Be Handled to Better Effect Now Than Later.

Urging that while it is by no means certain the state grange will undertake the passage of a tonnage tax law the situation is one that will bear watching, a Marquette man familiar with the attitude of the grange, and who has been through one fight of the kind, advises that steps be taken now to head the movement off. He said yesterday: "The fact that the executive committee of the grange has been reported favorable to an attempt to secure a tonnage tax law by use of the initiative does not of necessity mean that such a campaign will be undertaken, for it is possible, if not probable, that the committee's recommendation will not be acted on favorably. At the same time, owing to unusual conditions furnished by the controversial aspect of the copper country strike, the proposal may be pushed vigorously when otherwise it would gain but little attention.

"At this time there is already sufficient interest in the tonnage tax below the straits to make it worth while for the copper peninsula counties to give some consideration to the matter. It is my belief that the time to kill the tonnage tax this year is in the inception of the movement in its favor. If opposition to it is delayed until the proposal is before the state in an attempt at direct legislation a bad situation will be created."

Urges Attention to Matter.

In the opinion of the man who outlined his views to The Mining Journal, the upper peninsula interests should present their side of the case to the grange leaders, and he asserts that they would receive a fair hearing. "These men are, in the main, actuated by a desire to be fair, and they take up with the tonnage tax idea so readily because they lack the specialized information about the mining industry that shows them the impracticability of the tonnage tax," he continued.

"Senator McNaughton, a member of the executive committee of the grange, is a reasonable man who would give consideration to any facts placed before him. He was in the house during the session of 1909, and at that time considered pushing a tonnage tax bill. He gave up the plan because he was convinced by study that the principle of the proposed move was wrong. I am surprised that he should now be referred to as a prospective supporter of the tonnage tax at this time.

Strong Feeling Against Companies.

"On a recent trip to the lower part of the state I found evidence of some interest in the tonnage tax proposal and a great amount of feeling against the mine operators of the upper peninsula, growing out of the copper country strike. In large measure it is due to a misunderstanding of conditions at the mines that has been brought about largely by the efforts of the labor leaders. But whatever the reason, the condition is one that exists and is to be reckoned with. If any initiative legislation was proposed it would find expression in a blind hitting out in any way that was likely to reach the mines.

"This is one phase of the situation that makes it important that the tonnage tax issue should be met in its first stages. If it were placed before the masses of the voters just now it would get a surprising lot of support, irrespective of its merit."

INTEREST IN COMING DUEL.

Greeks Following Developments in Canadian Editor's Case.

Because he printed what are alleged to be false accounts of atrocities committed by the Bulgarians during the Balkan war, J. Reid, managing editor of the Montreal Morning Leader, Montreal, Canada, has been challenged to a duel by a Bulgarian army officer. Reid will not personally fight the duel. A Greek named George Karakitsos, an officer in the Greek army, has offered to take Reid's place. The duel is to be with swords, according to John Pappadakis, proprietor of the candy kitchen on West Washington street, who translated an article printed in a Greek paper, for the information of The Mining Journal.

Karakitsos and Pappadakis come from the same state in Greece, and although they do not know each other the Marquette man has often heard of Karakitsos, and his prowess with the sword. The name of the Bulgarian, is not given; nor is the time the duel is to take place announced.

FIREMEN'S ANNUAL BALL NOVEMBER 26

Fraternity Hall Will Be Beautifully Decorated—Supper at the Hotel Clifton.

A beautifully decorated hall, an attractive program of dances, and a supper at 11 o'clock at the Hotel Clifton are some of the arrangements now being made by the Marquette Fire department for the annual ball to be given in Fraternity Hall Nov. 26. Professor McElhenny, leader of the Ideal orchestra, has promised some of the newest numbers for the party.

The supper at the Clifton is to be a feature of the dance. For the last fifteen years the firemen have given a supper at this hotel in connection with the dance, and the quality of the meal, the service given, and the good fellowship that prevails are well known to all guests at their dances and friends of the firemen.

The following committees have been appointed: Arrangements—T. J. Maney, chief; J. J. Donovan, Martin Delaney, T. J. Downs and J. Siegel.

Reception—M. Mullaly, Phil Hopkins, R. F. Mullaly, P. Donovan, Frank LaBonte, William Johnston, F. V. McGuire, C. LaFave, R. J. Kelly.

Floor—C. A. Siegel, Fred Price, Doll LaBonte, John Kind, E. J. Bernard, James Bullock, James Devine, J. Shelkey, Ed. Douchinias, Art Warner.

Dancing will commence at 8:30 o'clock and continue until 11 o'clock, when the entire party will go to the Clifton for supper. At 12 or 12:30 o'clock, dancing will again be resumed, and will continue until early in the morning.

The arrangements committee, which also has charge of the hall decorations, is planning an innovation for the dance, but will not give an inkling of its character. They prefer to have it a surprise for those attending.

STATE OFFICIAL GAVE OPINION

Deputy Attorney General Said Old City Officials Could Be Replaced by New.

The issue of The Mining Journal for July 3 throws some light on one of the questions in connection with the proposed commission charter raised by City Attorney Brown. In a letter printed in The Mining Journal yesterday Mr. Brown raised the point that possibly chaos would arise if the commission charter was adopted and officers elected under it, for the old officers, he believes, would still hold title, and there might be a conflict of authority.

The men who made the new charter, however, had excellent authority for their assumption that with its adoption and the election of the officials for which it provided the terms of the old officials would automatically terminate, for A. B. Dougherty, deputy attorney general, July 2 answered a query from The Mining Journal on the subject as follows: "Amended charter need not make any provision for present officers serving out their terms under Section 4D, home rule act."

With this authority the members of the commission felt that they were fully warranted in drawing the charter as they did. At that time Mr. Brown said he would be interested in the reasoning on which the opinion of Mr. Dougherty was based, and asserted that he was unable to agree with him.

Mr. Brown yesterday was reminded of this telegram, and recalled it, but that he was unable to see any warrant in the law for Mr. Dougherty's opinion. "Members of the charter commission pointed to the unqualified opinion of the deputy attorney general as abundant warrant for the provisions of the charter by which it is proposed to have the commissioners take office immediately.

"I don't know where we could have obtained more authoritative guidance on this point than by application to the attorney general's office," one of them remarked. "The fact that we had such an opinion shows that we acted in good faith. In my opinion the additional fact that commission governments have been introduced in several Michigan cities where the terms of the old officials had not yet expired, shows that the objection raised by Mr. Brown on this point is without sufficient foundation.

"If the attorneys generally held that there was any doubt on this point, it stands to reason that in some of the cities where the commission plan has been fought to a finish the question would have been raised and pushed to some issue."
