Apparently Significant of His Attitude, the Mexican Retires His Minister of the Interior—This Adviser One Who Has Been Urging Him to Yield.

Counselor's Resignation Asked at a Cabinet Meeting at Which Dictator Is Said to Have Reiterated He Will Not Surrender, but Will Play Out the Game.

Mexico City, Nov. 16.—Mammel Garza Aldape, minister of the interior, presented his resignation late last night, at the request of President Huerta. The reason for his retirement is not known, but it is believed to have been due to the activity of Senor Aldape in endeavoring to bring about compliance by Huerta with the demands of Washington to relinquish the presidential office.

Last of Huerta's Original Cabinet. Minister Aldape was the last remaining cabinet officer appointed by agreement between General Huerta and General Felix Diaz at the close of the battle in the capital in February.

PROVAL FOR VARIOUS IMPORTANT AND VALUABLE CONCESSIONS UNDERSTOOD TO HAVE BEEN RECOMMENDED BY THE HUERTA REGIME.

Mr. Bryan at the White House. Secretary Bryan discussed at the White House tonight with President Wilson the latest developments in the Mexican situation.

The official messages confirmed the press reports of the forced resignation of Minister Manuel Garza Aldape, who was endeavoring to persuade General Huerta to resign.

The prospect that the embargo on arms may be lifted during the coming week, Constitutionalists representatives here, has been considered considerably and they are eagerly preparing to buy large quantities of arms and ammunition for quick shipment to the border.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan still hope, although that Huerta will agree to terms without the necessity of such a measure as lifting the embargo, and it is likely that the American government will wait a few days for the effect of foreign pressure, before making any decision.

The continued successes of the Constitutionalists in the field, the plan of financially starving the Huerta regime and the pressure from foreign governments are the factors which the Washington policy makers are weighing.

The attitude of the administration appears to be one of patient waiting for this result.

SAY AMERICANS BEHAVE BADLY

Newspapers in Italy Complain of Acts Attributed to Jack Tars from the Fleet.

Rome, Italy, Nov. 16.—While the behavior of the sailors of the American fleet in the waters here, has for the most part been exemplary, the newspapers complain that at Naples the actions of a few bluejackets were "deplorable."

There are cited several incidents, which, although not very serious in themselves, cause not a little annoyance. In one case a sailor put a bottle of champagne in his pocket and declined to pay more than ten cents for it.

Pilot House Is Found—It Carries No Name nor Is There a Trace of the Crew—Waters Yield Body of Ernest Patton of Escanaba, a Cook on the Price.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 16.—The fears that an unknown wooden steamer had been lost with all of her crew in the gale which swept Lake Huron last Sunday night and Monday morning were confirmed today when the pilot house and a portion of the vessel were found on the Canadian shore a few miles above Point Edward.

A wrecking company has succeeded in releasing the steamer Northern Queen from the rocks at Port Frank, Ont., and that vessel is now at Sarnia, where it will be necessary for her to go into drydock for repairs.

The fixing of the identity of the overturned steamer, which has been a serious menace to navigation in Lake Huron for almost a week, as the Charles S. Price of Cleveland was the principal development in Saturday's aftermath of the storm.

William H. Baker, a diver, revealed the name of the mysterious derelict. Baker was in the water nearly an hour and when he came up he was firm in his belief that a combination of unusual circumstances and not a collision caused the sinking of the vessel.

WIRELESS CALL BRINGS AID TO BURNING CRAFT

Summed from a Point 180 Miles Distant, the Cunard Liner Pannovia Finds the Spanish Steamer Balmes in Mid-Ocean With Her Cotton Cargo Afire.

Passengers Are Transferred in a Heavy Sea and the Ship Conveyed to Bermuda—Only in the Harbor Is Blaze Quenched—Many Tons of Water Used.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 16.—The Spanish steamer Balmes, with her cotton cargo on fire, was towed into harbor this morning conveyed by the Cunard liner Pannovia. The Cunard had on board 100 passengers of the Balmes, taken off the burning ship on Friday morning.

When the Balmes came to anchor in the harbor, her hatches were lifted. Great clouds of smoke belched forth, but powerful pumps soon sent tons of water into the hold and drowed out the fire.

The fire on the Balmes was discovered on Wednesday night. The wireless operator began sending out calls for assistance about midnight. The calls reached the Pannovia, 180 miles away. She turned from her course towards New York and raced at top speed toward the spot where the Balmes had said she was in distress.

The crew of the Balmes fought the first onslaught of the flames, but all the time it continued to gain headway. Saturday night the flames had reached such proportions that it was thought the vessel might have to be abandoned.

PASTOR STARTLES HIS CONGREGATION

Rev. Morrill, Home from South America, Preaches on "To Hades and Back."

Minneapolis, Nov. 16.—Rev. G. L. Morrill, pastor of the People's church here, after a three months' trip to South America, started his congregation today by preaching on the subject, "To Hades and Back." Among the things he said were:

"The man who goes to South America for pleasure might as well go to Hades for a pastime."

"Dante imagined he went to Hades, and wrote a poem; I went to South America and saw enough to fill an encyclopedia."

"Columbia is a paste gem of the Pacific ocean."

"Peru, with all her gold, is poor and amuses herself with lotteries, bull fights and runs."

"Buenos Ayres is beautiful and bad—the home of Yankee boys, the paradise of fast horses and faster men and women, and the red lamp moving pictures that would make Sodom blush for shame."

"Venezuela runs amuck with a revolutionary dagger in one hand while it mutilates with the other the mother bird on her nest for cigarette feathers."

Rev. Mr. Morrill advised the traveler to stay away from South America. Once there, he said, he will stay a long time, because the trains run once a week and the ships every fortnight.

"From the number of stranded Americans I talked with in South America, I am convinced that if you return, you will find that you are a different man."

"The general opinion is that the Price's hats were washed away during the storm and she filled with water. When her cargo shifted she turned completely over."

Bodies continue to be washed ashore on the Canadian side of Lake Huron, but identification of them is slow and difficult.

Asks Weather Bureau Investigation. Cleveland, O., Nov. 16.—Congressman Gordon tonight telegraphed President Woodrow Wilson, asking him to direct an investigation of the weather bureau to ascertain if it was responsible for the loss of more than two hundred and fifty lives in the storm which broke over the Great Lakes last Sunday.

The chief aim of the investigation, Congressman Gordon says, is to determine if inadequate and improper signals were displayed. He desires a presidential inquiry in preference to a congressional investigation, as it will be more expeditious. The congressman says he will go to Washington soon to give the investigation personal attention.

Shots Fired at Another Copper Country Train

Imported Workmen Traveling in Milwaukee Road Coach the Objects of an Unsuccessful Attack at Ricedale—Sunday Parades Are Noisy but Result in No Disorder—Mutterings Heard in Federation Ranks.

Houghton, Mich., Nov. 16.—[Special.]—The Northern Michigan Special of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, coming into the copper country over the Copper Range tracks, was fired upon at Ricedale this morning.

Ricedale is a station thirteen miles south of Houghton. Here it has been the custom for a crowd of men to gather every morning when the Northern Michigan Special passes and heretofore no trouble has ensued, though apparently the congregating is for the purpose of hearing if there are any imported workmen on the train.

The train this morning contained a carload of imported workmen. As it neared Ricedale, Engineer Garvin saw a man running toward the train, waving a revolver on a stick. There was a crowd of thirty or more men at the station and Garvin decided that the attempt to flag him was a preliminary to trouble. He ignored the waving overcoat and sent his train through.

As the train passed the crowd five shots were fired and a number of bricks were thrown. One window of the car containing the workmen was broken by a bullet and four other bullets bedded themselves in window frames.

As soon as the workmen were detained safely at Painesdale a crowd of mine guards started out through the woods for Ricedale, hoping to intercept the men who did the firing and who undoubtedly were from Painesdale, the nearest mining location. Nothing resulted from the search today.

Noisy Demonstrations Conducted. There were the usual Sunday parades and meetings of strikers at Hancock, Calumet and other points today. At Calumet, sixteen hundred men and women marched and were addressed by federation men in Laurium. The Quincy parade developed into a noisy demonstration against the imported men, but trouble was prevented by deputies. In Hancock, the parade, composed, it is said, mostly of socialists, was noisy but made no trouble.

Developments of the last week show that the federation leaders are not as yet prepared to give up the struggle. In spite of the fact that the mining companies in Houghton county are operating nearly all of their shafts, are filling their mines with men and are ignoring the federation in a manner that shows confidence in the outcome, the strike condition is just about as bad as it was on July 23. By this it is meant that disorder is just as imminent, that an outbreak at any point between Mohawk and Painesdale is expected by the officers at any time. There are now no Michigan National Guardsmen in Houghton county, excepting in the northernmost part, and these, with the garrison in Keweenaw county, include only about two full troops of cavalry.

Sheriff Cruise believes he can handle the situation in his county with his well-organized force of deputies as a nucleus and with the assistance of the armed guards employed by the mining companies. He is, however, of the opinion that these forces will have to be augmented before the strike ends and a suggestion made by General Abbey is being looked upon with favor. General Abbey believes that the board of supervisors should meet at once and authorize Sheriff Cruise to organize a strong force of mounted deputies. He believes that a force of mounted men will do more than three times the number of foot men in preventing disorder.

Incidents of Saturday. Saturday's disorders included the firing of shots at a mine boating house at Painesdale, turbulence at Quincy and the burning of Deputy Sheriff E. Hamilton's home at Boston.

The Painesdale incident occurred the morning of Nov. 15 at 3 o'clock in the morning. Five shots were fired from a Savage rifle at the boating house of Anton Markonas, where the Lithuanian workmen recently brought to the location are housed. The five shells found at the point from which the firing came identified the rifle. No other trace of the shooter was found.

The trouble at Quincy was an attack by the parading strikers on the men going to work at No. 3 shaft. The attack was repulsed by deputies. No arrests were made.

The man whose house was burned lives at Boston, the Franklin mine location, but has been employed as a deputy sheriff at Baltic and, as he is a bachelor, his dwelling has been unoccupied. The house was burned to the ground early Saturday morning.

There appears to be dissension in the ranks of the Federation of Miners, both in Keweenaw county and at Hancock. A meeting of strikers at Alton last Thursday was broken up when about forty Hungarians quit the hall, following a dispute over benefits. A union meeting at Alton on Friday was disrupted when Finnish strikers declared that if the federation did not pay their cash benefits they would go to work. The Italians and Finns in Hancock are protesting also.

It is charged that the federation demands that the strike benefit orders be spent at the federation system of stores and that exorbitant prices on many classes of goods are charged at these places. Three tons of tomatoes for thirty-five cents is what one Alton striker claimed he got at the federation store. He could obtain the same brand of tomatoes three cents for twenty-five cents, in any other store.

There is dissatisfaction among the Finns interested in the Finnish co-operative stores because the federation demands that they deal at federation shops. They get no dividend on sales at federation stores and no rebate on their purchases, as they do at their own co-operative stores. It is claimed that at Wolverine there are half a dozen of the leaders of the strikers who have announced their intention of going back to work.

Attorneys Go to Lansing. This week no strike cases will be heard in circuit court at Houghton, but some of the injunction hearings likely will be taken up. Attorneys of both the Federation of Miners and the mining companies will appear on Tuesday before the supreme court at Lansing, in the matter of the injunction, a hearing to be held on the mandamus by which the supreme court ruled that the injunction against strike violence, issued and revoked by Judge O'Brien, must stand.

Of the strike cases tried at this term at Houghton, four have resulted in convictions, the defendants including two strikers who participated in the serious Red Jacket riots during the early part of the strike.

Major George L. Harvey of Port Huron is in Calumet to close up the brigade adjutant's office.

Joseph Stadhur, Charged With Assault, Is Found Guilty.

LABOR CONVENTION TO HAVE BUSY WEEK

President Gompers and Delegates at Seattle Have Knotty Disputes to Settle.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 16.—The American Federation of Labor will begin its second convention week tomorrow, with the prospect of having all committee reports ready.

Jurisdictional trade controversies threaten to occupy many hours of the convention's time. The most troublesome question in sight is the division in the ranks of the electrical workers, there being regular and insurgent brotherhoods with nearly equal memberships.

The controversy between the pressmen and the executive council growing out of the Chicago pressmen's strike is likely to lead to a heated strike in the convention. The international pressmen's union insists on organizing the newsboys and carriers in a union subordinate to the pressmen.

With regard to strikes, the convention has already adopted a resolution instructing the executive council to seek a federal investigation of the Colorado coal strike and the Harriman system shopmen have obtained the aid of the federation in an effort to have the two-year-old strike in the shops mediated, along with the Texas railroad strike started last week.

So far no formidable opposition to the reelection of President Gompers has appeared. Convict Labor on Roads Approved. Chicago, Nov. 16.—Convict labor on state roads was approved today by the Chicago Federation of Labor.

British Employers Organizing. London, Nov. 16.—The employers of the United Kingdom are forming a new union and purpose to raise a guaranteed fund of $250,000,000, in order to protect themselves against strikes by the trade unions and other labor organizations.

CAIRO (ILL.) NEGRO FIGHTS WITH POLICE TO HIS DEATH

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 16.—A pistol fight between a negro and the police, followed by the bombardment of the colored man's home, today resulted in the death of the negro and the serious injury of half a dozen other persons who were in the mob that rushed into the house when the negro stopped fighting.

The trouble started on the street between the negro and a policeman. Other officers ran to the aid of their companion and the negro was driven to his house. In the siege that followed, scores of shots were fired into the house, the negro firing at intervals. When he failed to return the fire, there was a rush into the house.

Gilchrist was found dead of a bullet wound. The door gave way, dumping the police and those who had joined them. One person suffered a broken leg and another a broken arm. Others were severely bruised and cut.

TARIFF CHEAPENS HOUSES SLIGHTLY

Reductions Mean Most to Middleman—No Difference in Nails and Little in Lumber.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The new Democratic tariff law will afford some saving to the home builder—but it will be slight. This prediction is made after claims and counter-claims of Democrats and Republicans have been stripped down to bare figures.

In the aggregate, many dollars will be saved in the duties taken off lumber shingles, lathes and other building material. But, concretely, the saving to the individual homebuilder will be small but highly acceptable. In some sections of the country, retail prices may go down on a few articles such as planks and shingles. Large contractors may be able to save material costs on large quantities of steel and lumber.

ROUGH LUMBER FREE

The new law places lumber, rough and saved, on the free list. The old, "indirect" tariff on imported lumber was about seven per cent. Unless Canadian and other foreign imports come in great quantities, it is not generally believed that the 7 per cent reduction will force down retail prices in this country.

Shingles and lathes may be some cheaper to the consumer in the northwest and on the Pacific coast—the largest manufacturing district—but freight rates and middle-men's cost, it is conservatively estimated, will "eat up" much of the tariff tax removed.

Last year $15,500,000 worth of saved boards and planks were imported, their cost being increased by duties of $1,178,000. But our own lumber mills produced $84,000,000 worth and last year exported $51,600,000—about three times the amount imported. Imports of both logs and finished lumber are expected to increase largely under the new tariff law, but hardly enough materially to affect the final retail prices to the consumer.

Lathes May Be Cheaper. Canadian and other foreign lathes imported without duty, may force retail prices down, however, as $1,620,000 worth (646,795,000) were imported last year, paying a duty of 20 cents a thousand. Lathes imports are expected to increase to compete with the American product, and possibly to force a retail reduction of as much as 10 cents a thousand. But this means at best only a few dollars on the lathing of an ordinary home.

The same situation obtains regarding shingles. Last year shingles worth $1,194,000 were imported, paying duties of $254,000, to compete with a home production of over $30,000,000 worth. Should imports free of duty greatly increase retail reductions to the purchaser will be quite a saving. A duty of about 3/4 of 1 cent a pound has been taken off wire nails, but the American nail is so much superior and past imports so small, that the American producer practically dominates the market. This makes unlikely a retail price reduction.

Little Competition Here. Sand and stone are kept on the free list but foreign competition in these building materials has been kept down by high freight charges. A duty of 8 cents a pound is taken off cement in the form of raw materials, and probably will remain negligible.

Duty on window glass has been reduced about 16 per cent, but American products also dominate the glass market, controlling retail prices free from foreign invasion. Lime, tiling brick and paints are other articles upon which duties have been reduced but in which foreign competition is small.

"BIG" MEN MISSED IN WASHINGTON CROWDS

Faces of Many Strange to Man in Street—Others Are Recognized by Everybody.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The daily movements and habits of public men in Washington are always interesting. Some members of congress who have been here for more than twenty years are not known by sight to more than a handful of residents of the capital, while others are to be identified by almost any observant person who walks the streets.

Senator Lee S. Ayerman, of North Carolina, because of his distinguished presence; Senator Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin, with fighting gray-blue eyes and a militant pompadour; Senator Thomas P. Gore, the blind Senator from Oklahoma; Senator James E. Manning, of New Jersey, who spends much time on the streets conversing with the people; Senator William J. Stone, of Missouri, and Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, are familiar personages.

Oliver James Can't Be Overlooked. Because of his great size and his habit of wearing an overcoat thrown loosely over his back, Senator Oliver James is one of the pets of Washington residents. The man or woman who walks the streets of the capital or who strolls in the parks about the district is liable to meet Senator James at any turn in the road. In the summer evenings, when others are fanning for relief, he and Representative Thomas J. Heffin, of Alabama, get in a carriage and tell the driver to drive through the speedway and the other cooling drives. In the winter, when the chilling winds are driving everybody in, Senator James, with overcoat drooping from his back, saunters along Pennsylvania avenue.

Every street urchin knows him, and many a messenger boy profits by the friendship of the big Kentuckian. Senator J. Ham Lewis, the Lion of Washington's Peacock Alley, is new in the senate, but there is not an elevator man, a street car conductor or motor-man who turns the corners of the senate office building, or anybody else who travels near the capitol or the congressional office buildings who does not know J. Ham Lewis, the Democratic whip of the senate.

Every afternoon, when his work is over, Senator Lewis sallies forth in cutaway suit, white vest, tall hat, tany bouquet, silk handkerchief showing, and cane and gloves in the right hand, and wends his way homeward. Every spear of his wonderful head is in its place and every step graceful. He fills the way with "style."

What sort of a looking man is Senator Root, or Senator Bacon, or Senator Simmons? is frequently asked by persons who do not go to the capitol. But almost any man or woman who goes out in Washington can say with certainty: "There goes Tumulty, Tom Heffin, Yardaman or Ollie James, Billy Hughes, Champ Clark."

Majority Leader Underwood of the house would be recognized instantly by Washington society leaders or gallery visitors, but not by Tom, Dick or Harry. He is to be found at one of three places—his office, his home or at the home of some friend. He never loafs or strolls about town.

Minority Leader Mann of the house always sticks close to his office and his home. Very few persons outside of congress know him personally. But he is so much like his pictures, which show a luxuriant growth of beard, that everybody will recognize him when he passes in the street.

Some clever politicians who are known to everybody "back home" move about Washington quietly and constantly without being taken for a popular congressman. Senator Thomas S. Martin of Virginia, Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, William E. Chilton of New Virginia; A. J. Gronna of North Dakota, Francis E. Warren of Wyoming and John R. Thornton of Louisiana, swing out on a street car or jostle through a crowd without ever being suspected of representing states in the United States senate.

Martine Carries His Hat. Senator Martine carries his hat by his side, swinging near the knee, and it is said of him that he never puts it on until he starts up the steps to his apartment.

Senator Robinson looks the part of the friend of the people of Arkansas. His hobby is the freckle faced boy. "My face was one solid freckle when I was a lad," said he to a friend in the senate one day, "and I was discouraged until a traveling man came along and told me that he had been all over the world, but he had never seen a freckle faced fool or a red-headed tramp. I took courage, I try to encourage boys with freckles."

Senator Vardaman wears white unless it is snowing. He always looks as if he had just stepped out of a hand box. No one appeals to him in vain. He is over ready to give time to the man, woman or child who has a tale to unfold. Sometimes between the senate office building and the capitol he is accosted a dozen times. If the person approaching is a woman of comely the large black hat.

Representative Carter Glass of Virginia, chairman of the senate committee on banking and currency, is not a large man, but down in the Old Dominion he is known as a fighting man. "The chap who picks a quarrel with Carter Glass would be fool enough to take a strange dog by the ears, one of the things warned against in the Bible" is a saying in Virginia. Mr. Glass has cardinal locks and freckles. He is said to be the quietest man in the house until somebody "riles" him.

BOLD ESCAPE BY BANDITS; STEAL THE JAILER'S KEYS

Litchfield, Ill., Nov. 16.—Two men and a woman, charged with holding up an Illinois Central train crew, escaped from the jail here today by fishing the jailer's keys into their cells by means of a bucket handle, attached to a broom stick. A few hours later a posse started in pursuit, but late tonight the three had not been taken. One who escaped was W. L. Fowler, identified by the authorities of Palestine, Ind., as the bandit who broke jail in that place while awaiting trial on a charge of robbing a bank of $6,600. The others are Alexander St. Cyr and Rose Tapp, who was in man's clothes when arrested.

CATHOLIC PRELATES INDORSE WAR AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS

ISHPEMING GETS PYTHIAN CONVENTION

One Day of Week to Be Given Over to Excursion to Eagle Harbor, Lodge's Home.

The next annual convention of the Knights of Pythias will be held in Ishpeming. Although members of Zenith lodge, of this city, have been preparing for the meeting for several months past, not until Saturday was official notice received, that it is to be held here. Plans for the combined meeting of the grand lodge and the Upper Peninsula Pythian league, which will hold its eleventh annual session here, are already being made. Up to this time, all of the league meetings have been held in June, but it is understood that the time will be changed to September, the month for the grand lodge convention.

In presenting arguments in favor of Ishpeming, Zenith lodge offered to arrange for an excursion train, to be run from here to Eagle Harbor, where Justice H. Rathbone, founder of the Pythian order, taught school in the early '60's, and where the preliminary draft of the Pythian ritual was made. One day during the convention week will be given over to the excursion. In accepting Ishpeming's invitation the grand lodge decided to hold a ceremonial at Eagle Harbor in honor of Mr. Rathbone.

It is anticipated that many of the Pythians in the copper country will go to Eagle Harbor that day and that the meeting there will be an important one. It is probable that one of the copper country degree teams will be invited to confer the degree in connection with the ceremonial.

Several of the supreme officers will be among the visitors to Ishpeming and they will also make the trip to Eagle Harbor.

That the grand lodge will be well taken care of here is evident from the interest that the Ishpeming Pythians have aroused in the proposed meeting. This will be the most important lodge gathering ever held in Ishpeming and several hundred visitors will be here. Besides providing a program that will contain many interesting features, the Ishpeming lodge will make an effort to procure a class of five hundred candidates, to be initiated during the convention. This will be the largest class of Pythians ever adopted at a single meeting in Michigan.

MASTER MECHANICS HAD FINE MEETING

Oliver Iron Mining Company Officials Well Entertained on the Menominee Range.

The annual meeting of the Oliver Iron Mining company's master mechanics in the Lake Superior district, held recently on the Menominee range, the Iron River-Stambaugh Reporter says: "The meeting opened Thursday in Iron Mountain and closed Saturday in this city. Representatives from the general offices at Duluth and from the Mesaba, Gogebic, Marquette and Baraboo districts were in attendance. There were about twenty-five of the engineers present, and the meeting was very successful. The itinerary arranged by a committee of the company employees at Iron Mountain was followed without deviation, until the party arrived here. On account of the weather being inclement Saturday, visits to the James, Homer and Spring Valley plants, which had been contemplated, were not made.

"The mechanics assembled Thursday morning at the Chapin mine shops at Iron Mountain at 8:30 o'clock and spent the forenoon visiting points of interest at that property. After lunch at the Millman Hotel, the party left in automobiles for a visit to the Chapin mine compressor plant and hydro-electric installation at Quinnesec Falls, and later in the afternoon visited the hydro-electric plant of the Peninsular Power company at Twin Falls. Dinner was had at the Millman at 6:30 and at 8:30 an evening business meeting was held in the city center rooms.

"Friday morning the engineers took another automobile trip, this time visiting the Aragon mine at Norway, looking at the centrifugal pumps at the West Vulcan mining property and inspecting the electric power plant of the Penn Iron Mining company at Sturgeon Falls. They returned to the hotel, where lunch was had at 1:30 p. m., and at 2:30 the party left in automobiles for Niagara, where they visited the paper mill of the Kimberly-Clark company. Returning to the Millman, they had dinner at 6:30 and the evening was entertained at a smoker at the Elks club rooms.

"Saturday morning they left on the 8:45 train for Iron River. The train was late and a contemplated visit to the north of town scheduled for the morning was postponed. Lunch was had at the Boyington Hotel, after which the party left in automobiles to visit various mining properties. The Davidson and Forbes mines, north of the city; the Rogers mine, of the Munro Mining company; and the Bengal shaft of the Verona Mining company were inspected. The meeting closed with this trip, and the visiting members left Saturday evening for their homes.

"Those in the party here were S. S. Rumsey, chief engineer; W. A. Gow, assistant engineer; S. W. Tarr, engineer of construction; W. S. Schwede, electrical engineer; M. N. Willis, architect; and E. Dudley and M. Busbeck, all of Duluth; M. Prisk of Ely, Minn.; E. J. Moreau of Soudan, Minn.; John Tresler of Coleraine, Minn.; James Williams of Virginia, Minn.; Richard Tvearthen and R. C. Knight of Eveleth, Minn.; C. Murphy of Ishpeming; J. Williams of Norway, Wis.; Thomas J. Pascoe of Norway; W. N. Rowe of Hibbing, Minn.; Malcolm McLeod of Chisholm, Minn.; and B. B. Hooper and George J. Eisle of Iron Mountain. B. J. Haggerty of this city attended the meeting in Iron Mountain and took lunch with the party at the Boyington, as did Victor D. Laing and J. S. Wall, also of Iron River."

STILL IN MEXICO.

Government Officials Now Aiding Arthur Waite to Get to the States.

James Olds received a telegram Saturday from Secretary of State W. J. Bryan, stating that Arthur Waite of this city, who has been trying to get out of Mexico since early in September, is safe, but without funds to pay his transportation to Ishpeming. Mr. Bryan further advised that the American consul is looking into Waite's case, but that he cannot do much, as Waite is not an American citizen. Waite came over from England with his aunt, Mrs. Olds, a year ago last June, and after working a few months at the American mine, he went to Mexico to join a brother, who has been located there for about twelve years. Some seven or eight weeks ago Mrs. Waite came out from England, expecting to meet her husband in Ishpeming upon her arrival, he having advised her that he would leave Mexico so as to reach Ishpeming by the time she arrived.

Mr. Olds endeavored to send Mr. Waite money a couple of weeks ago, but he could not get it to him. He made another attempt Saturday through the officials of the Northwestern railway company, who do business with the transportation people operating lines in the town where Waite is detained. They also wired Mr. Bryan, advising that they were endeavoring to send Mr. Waite money, and asked if he would assist them.

Mr. Waite has written relatives here that he has had some exciting experiences during the two months that he has been trying to get out of Mexico.

DON'T BE MISLED.
Marquette Citizens Should Read and Heed This Advice.

Kidney trouble is dangerous and often fatal.

Don't experiment with something new and untried.

Use a tested kidney remedy. Begin with Don's Kidney Pills. Used in kidney troubles 50 years. Recommended here and everywhere. A Marquette citizen's statement forms convincing proof.

It's local testimony—it can be investigated.

Mrs. J. J. Cleary, 322 Rock St., Marquette, Mich., says: "One of my family had a bad attack of kidney trouble and could hardly straighten. Don's Kidney Pills relieved him right away. Since then he has used them several times when he has taken cold in his kidneys and they have always helped him just as much as they did at first. I publicly endorsed Don's Kidney Pills some years ago. I can only repeat that they are a grand medicine for kidney troubles."

WOODMEN HEAD CAMP TO CONVENE IN TOLEDO

Much Discussed Rate Question May Be Settled at Triennial Gathering.

The triennial head camp session of the Modern Woodmen of America will be held next June in Toledo, O. Other cities that were making a strong pull for the convention were New York, Cleveland, Chicago, Kansas City, Columbus and Colorado Springs, Colo. At the last convention held three years ago in Buffalo, the delegates were undecided as to where the next convention should be held, and the matter was finally disposed of by giving the executive council authority to name the place. The convention will likely open on the first Tuesday in June.

The membership of the society has increased greatly in the vicinity of Toledo and the various camps there maintain one of the largest and most efficient forestry divisions in the jurisdiction. At every camp session held during the past twelve years or more Toledo has sent many splendidly drilled forestry teams to the encampment and it has also sent one of the finest bugle corps to be found anywhere in the United States. The percentage of increase in membership in Toledo has been higher than in any other city in the United States, on a population basis.

The coming session of the head camp will be probably the most important that the society has ever held, as it is expected that the much discussed rate question, will be definitely settled.

The camp delegates to the county conventions will be named in February and the county meetings for the selection of delegates to state conventions will be held a month later. The state meetings will be held a month or six weeks before the head camp session.

It is expected that there will be an interesting fight in Michigan, although it is thought that delegates favorable to the administration will carry the state.

PRAIRIE CHICKENS AT GREENWOOD

J. G. Johnson, who a few months ago, left Ishpeming for Greenwood, to live on the Johnson farm with his brother, Oscar, was down from there Saturday to invite the game wardens and some of his friends up to his place to see a flock of prairie chickens. These chickens are rare in this section. The birds, Mr. Johnson said, came there following the big storm of a week ago, and they have since been making their home on the farm. They are quite wild and it is impossible to get near them. Mr. Johnson has counted twelve in the flock. As prairie chickens are protected under the law, Mr. Johnson will do his best to keep hunters from killing them, and he is throwing out feed in the hope that they will remain.
