CROSSLENT AS SOLONS SIT IN MEXICO CITY

No Ovarions Given General Huerta as He Goes to the Parliament Building to Formally Convene the Congress—Streets in the Vicinity Patrolled by Troops.

President Is Ready to Quit if Not Indorsed, His Message Says—But He Points Out He Jailed the Old Law-Makers—Doesn't Mention the U. S.

Mexico City, Nov. 20.—His face showing none of that whimsical humor which sometimes characterizes him, President Huerta this evening appeared before the new Mexican congress and read his message.

Few Mexican presidents have read at the formal opening sessions of congress shorter messages, and few have confined themselves entirely to one subject. It was nothing more than a terse explanation of his motive for dissolving the old congress, most of the members of which are now in the penitentiary, accused of sedition.

As outlined in the Associated Press dispatches last night, the message contained no mention whatever of the United States. Its only important feature is the declaration that the president and his cabinet are ready to step down, if the congress does not support his policy in assuming dictatorial powers, which his excuse was the preservation of the fatherland.

Crowds Not Demonstrative.

The senate and chamber of deputies met in joint session, and congress was formally declared convened at 5:30 o'clock in the evening. President Huerta came to the congress through lines of troops and the small crowds which gathered were not demonstrative.

There were no extraneous rituals to the session. It was more in the nature of a little business meeting of the president and the men converted into lawmakers during the recent so-called election.

The message General Huerta wore in its substance an admonition. The incident he related to them—that of the dissolution of the previous congress—was one by which it was intimated the legislators might be guided in their conduct as congressmen.

The reply of the speaker, Eduardo Tamariz, was brief. Not all the congressmen were present. Twenty-seven of them failed to put in appearance, and most of these were members of the Catholic party, to which Senator Tamariz had been announced that the Catholic members had held a meeting and decided not to participate in the session, and this gave rise to the baseless rumor that the speaker himself would not preside.

Conservative Element Predominates.

The new congress showed many faces familiar during the days of Porfirio Diaz, so much so that the excited roar would have felt entirely at home had he stepped into the chamber. The congress is composed for the most part of a quiet lot of men representative of the older and more conservative element, and General Huerta appeared to realize this while reading to them his message in a grim, straightforward manner, such as had not been witnessed in the chamber in recent years.

The president indulged in no eloquent effort, but now and then used a characteristic little gesture of one hand; nor was he interrupted by applause. He was applauded only upon his arrival and departure, when the members of congress and the spectators rose in their seats and added "vivas" to the handclapping. One young deputy, more enthusiastic than the rest, called for a cheer "for the man who is maintaining the national dignity."

Staff Is in Full Uniform.

General Huerta drove from the palace to the chamber through files of soldiers, most of whom were detailed from the crack Twenty-ninth regiment, whose men participated in the coup d'etat at the palace in February. He entered the building while the bands were playing the national air.

Acknowledging the plaudits and vivas of the congressmen and spectators, as he moved down the aisle, by a series of military salutes, instead of the grave bows which characterized his old chief Porfirio Diaz, General Huerta looked a stern figure. Like the congressmen, he was in evening clothes, the only touch of rank being the tri-color across his breast.

In a half circle on the platform behind the president sat his staff, resplendent in gold lace and full dress uniforms, and grouped just below, on the floor of the house, were the members of the cabinet. The only touch of color in the house was to be observed in the gallery reserved for the diplomats, most of whom were in uniform.

Only U. S. Not Represented.

The only country not represented was the United States. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the chargé d'affaires, was absent from the session. Sir Lionel Curzon, the British minister, was a few minutes late and his delay in arriving gave rise to the rumor that he, too, had been instructed to absent himself.

At least two diplomats did not see fit to follow the advice and the example of the United States. The charges of Cuba and Brazil were reminded by Mr. O'Shaughnessy earlier in the day that their governments had not recognized that of Huerta, and it was suggested that they remain away.

Assemblage Carefully Selected.

The gathering in the galleries lacked the brilliancy in the days of Porfirio Diaz and the spontaneous expression of appraisal or disapproval of Madero's regime. It was a carefully selected assemblage. Tickets were necessary to pass into the building, and the front part of the space was occupied by police and plainclothesmen.

In the entire gathering there were perhaps ten women, but none representative of the city's fashionable element, in contrast to the days when the women of high society planned long ahead of time to obtain seats.

Military Role Is Emphasized.

A technical violation of the law created comment. General Huerta's staff filed in, wearing sidearms. It is specifically provided that no armed soldiers shall ever appear on the floor of the house and custom has ordained that officers appearing in the house in uniform must do so with empty scabbards. But the sword's in evidence at the sides of General Huerta's staff appeared to emphasize the fact that this is a military administration.

Soldiers Fill Adjacent Streets.

Outside the building, throughout the session, a strong force of soldiers guarded all the approaches. Patrols rode the streets for several blocks around, and all other troops were scattered farther out. None of these, however, had trouble with the crowds. Some hundreds of curious gathered in the streets as near to the chamber as they were permitted to go, but in most parts of the city the ordinary course of business and traffic was uninterfered. From time to time, as General Huerta drove back through the lines of troops, there was handclapping, but nothing in the way of an ovation.

HUERTA GOVERNMENT TOTTERING, IT THINKS

Washington, Awaiting Events, Confidently Expects Fall of the Mexican Chief.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The Washington government believes the power of the Huerta government is slowly "crumbling and disintegrating."

Summary of the Situation.

No positive step has been taken here within the last few days to compel a compliance with the demand for the elimination of Huerta.

No preparations have been made for a blockade of Mexican ports, such as has been variously reported.

Foreign interests generally will be protected by the United States and at Mexico, in particular, a special effort will be made to protect British interests, pending the arrival of the British cruisers.

The landing of marines has not been found necessary thus far.

The parties with the Constitutionalists have been carried on in no formal way, but merely for informative purposes.

The administration, though not condoning the inhumanity of the armed strife generally in Mexico, is inclined to view with some complacency the removal by Constitutionalists and federals and those officers or men who have been deserting from side to side.

These salient facts were obtained from those with whom President Wilson discussed the Mexican situation today.

Surrender Only Question of Time.

The impression that the Huerta government is fast losing its control over territory hitherto dominated by it is based on dispatches which show also that diplomatic pressure from without is having much to do with weakening the resources of the provisional government.

The president holds the view that as a result of all the influences now at work, Huerta will slowly but inevitably be compelled to do with the force of circumstances and retire.

As to the future program of the United States, the president believes that of necessity it must be kept within the secret councils of the administration, and that publication beforehand might impair its efficacy.

Doings of New Congress Awaited.

The meeting tonight of the Mexican congress was one of the events around which interest centered here. It was not expected that the Washington government would make any further moves, until it could observe the acts of the new congress.

Huerta's message was made public today. His request for sanction of his acts was regarded as significant, as was specially the intimation that if the congress did not approve of his assumption of dictatorial powers, or previous conduct, he and his cabinet would be perfectly resigned to its judgment.

There are many people here conversant with the situation, who believe that Huerta merely wishes ratification for his acts, so that he can retire in a dignified way.

FORMER MINISTER ALDAPE SAYS HUERTA WON'T QUIT.

Havana, Nov. 20.—Manuel Garza Aldape, who, last Sunday, resigned as minister of the interior in the cabinet of President Huerta of Mexico, sailed from Havana today for Paris.

Senator Aldape said while in Havana that he was in harmony with President Huerta. He added that his services were required in France for the purpose of raising Mexican credit abroad.

MADEROS TAKE REFUGES IN AMERICAN CONSULATE.

Vera Cruz, Nov. 20.—Evaristo Madero, Daniel Madero and four others, all relatives of the late President Madero, took refuge in the American consulate here this afternoon. They were released yesterday from prison, where they were held several weeks ago, charged with sedition. It was the intention of the entire party to sail for Havana this afternoon on the steamer Morro Castle, their release having been effected on nominal bail and their understanding being that the government would oppose no objection to their departing.

The Morro Castle was watched closely

PROGRESSIVES OF KANSAS TO GO IT ALONE

Representatives from Forty Counties Decide It Better to Lose in Next Election Than Unite With Republicans—Will Have Ticket of Their Own in Every Precinct.

Delegates Wax Enthusiastic When ex-Gov. Stubbs Says Roosevelt Is Only Man Who Can Defeat Woodrow Wilson—Issues Now Declared to Be Same as in 1912.

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 20.—Progressives from forty counties in state conference here today cheered the statement of W. R. Stubbs, former governor, that Theodore Roosevelt is the only man who could defeat President Wilson for re-election, adopted resolutions calling for complete state, district and township tickets in 1914 in Kansas, and decided that the Progressives could better afford to lose in the next election than to amalgamate with the Republican party.

"Nothing has occurred since the Progressive convention in Chicago to warrant any change in viewpoint on the part of the Progressives," say the resolutions adopted.

Senators Discuss New Tariff Law.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The effect of the new tariff law on the high cost of living and on industrial conditions furnished the material for some lively passages today in the senate.

Senator Smoot produced a pamphlet setting forth that the reduction of the wool and wooten duties would not result in a material reduction in the cost of clothing. Senator Stone, of Missouri, interrupted him.

"When the tariff bill was on the floor," explained Mr. Stone, "the Republicans were prophesying industrial and financial disaster, as a result of the measure. How can the senator now say that prices will not be reduced? We have seen none of the closed factories, the ruined mills or the squalid shop houses the senator painted so vividly. Now, he tells us the cost of living is not reduced."

"Why, the average standard Republican, if he prays at all, is uttering supplications to the skies, day and night, that a panic will fall upon the country. But no panic is in sight. There will be no panic. Let the senator withhold his prophecies with regard to the cost of living until we can see the real results of the Democratic tariff law."

Senators Smoot and Gallinger denied that, as "average standard Republicans," they were hoping for industrial depression.

Urges Support of the President.

"I should like to talk about our policy in the matter, if I knew what it was," he said. "There is only one man who does know, and he is wisely keeping his mouth shut tight. But I want to say there is one duty for everyone of us to perform—and that is to stand by the president. He has information, doubtless, that no gentleman here tonight has, and he is for keeping the peace. We must stick by him through thick and thin, and we will come out all right in the end."

WANTS RECESS SO HE CAN GET HIS MILEAGE

Mr. Thomas, of Kentucky, Says He Needs the Money, and So Do Creditors.

Washington, Nov. 20.—"I want my mileage; I need it, and so do my creditors," cried Representative Thomas, Democrat, of Kentucky, today, in presenting a resolution that the house adjourn Nov. 22.

"I am from a Republican district," Mr. Thomas added, "and it takes money to get people to vote right in my district."

The representative announced in proposing his resolution that he looked ahead to getting his mileage of twenty cents for each mile traveled in coming to and leaving Washington.

"The people I owe would be glad if I got my mileage. I need it, and ninety cents of the members of the house feel exactly as I do," asserted the solon from the Blue Grass state.

The resolution was blocked by adjournment. Later Mr. Thomas struck out of the report for the Congressional Record various parts of his remarks, including what he had said regarding the need of money to get people "to vote right."

CHICAGO SCRUB WOMEN SEEKING CITY JOBS ARE PUT TO A UNIQUE TEST.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—More than one hundred women who seek to get on the city pay roll as scrub women were required to hop across a room and lift a twenty-five pound dumbbell, in a civil service examination today. The tests for physical fitness were under the inspection of Dr. E. T. Olson.

MILWAUKEE FIREMEN INJURED.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 20.—Four firemen were hurt, two probably fatally, when a street car hit ladder truck No. 12 in a fog tonight. John O'Connell and Joseph Kowalski were the most seriously injured.

by secret police throughout the day, until she sailed at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Shortly before sailing time, the Maderos presented themselves at the American consulate and said that they had received information that a warrant had been issued for the arrest of themselves and relatives, and that all of them were to be taken to Mexico City. They requested Consul Canada to give them asylum and the consul acquiesced. The consul notified Washington and is awaiting instructions as to further action in the case.

The Weather

Washington, Nov. 20.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Upper Michigan: Local rains, Friday; Saturday, rain or snow and probably colder; brisk and possibly high east to northeast winds.

WARRANT FOR ARREST FOR CHALKING SIDEWALK IS SERVED ON MISS BURNS

Washington, Nov. 20.—A policeman in plain clothes called at the National Suffrage headquarters here late today and introduced himself to Miss Lucy Burns. She shook hands and the officer politely invited the suffrage leader to appear in police court tomorrow to answer a charge of violating a district ordinance by chalking the sidewalk in front of the White House to advertise a woman suffrage meeting. Miss Burns smilingly promised to be there. Everybody had heard about the warrant, and it was an instance of the corporation counsel and the suffrage leaders were wondering when it would be served.

GOV. GLYNN CALLS FOR VOLUNTEERS

New York Executive Desires of Putting State Regime on Business Basis.

New York, Nov. 20.—If Governor Martin Glynn can find in this district enough businessmen who are willing to sacrifice their private interests long enough to devote time and service on a commission that will devise business systems for the state, he will appoint such a commission, he declared tonight.

At the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce of the state of New York here, the governor solicited the assistance of the members and of business men generally in finding "volunteers" under the banner of efficiency and economy.

"Not long ago," the state's chief executive said, "ex-Senator Nelson Aldrich said he could save the United States government millions of dollars every year, if he could conduct it on business principles. It believe what he said is true."

Governor Glynn declared he would consider it his administration's greatest accomplishment, if he could inaugurate in New York state a system such as that suggested by the former Rhode Island senator.

Former Ambassador Choate, referring to Governor Glynn's speech, said: "As for these twenty-five citizens he wants for his commission to reform the state, of the five hundred or more present, to do right ahead, governor, and pick them out. I promise you each and everyone will be glad to serve."

Mr. Choate alluded briefly to the Mexican situation.

Urges Support of the President.

"I should like to talk about our policy in the matter, if I knew what it was," he said. "There is only one man who does know, and he is wisely keeping his mouth shut tight. But I want to say there is one duty for everyone of us to perform—and that is to stand by the president. He has information, doubtless, that no gentleman here tonight has, and he is for keeping the peace. We must stick by him through thick and thin, and we will come out all right in the end."

REPRESENTATIVE MACDONALD PROPOSES AN INVESTIGATION.

Upper Michigan's Member Asks Congress to Conduct an Inquiry Into the Mine Workers' Strike in the Keweenaw Peninsula; Also as to Whether the Price of the Metal Is Controlled by a Combination—Lull Like the Proverbial Calm Before the Storm Exists in Copper Region.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Congressional investigation of the copper strike in the counties of Houghton, Keweenaw and Ontonagon, Michigan, is asked in a resolution presented to the house today by Representative Wm. J. MacDonald of Michigan. Relations between the employees and employers, whether the post-office service or the judiciary were being interfered with, whether the immigration and naturalization laws were being violated, and whether there was a combination to advance the price of copper to consumers are subjects Mr. MacDonald wants looked into.

Strike Zone Is at Peace.

Houghton, Mich., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—A calm such as the proverbial prologue to a storm prevailed the copper country today. The district was at peace, and had it not been that seventy strikers and strike sympathizers were arrested at Mohawk this morning on charges of violating the injunction the day's events could be reviewed in a sentence.

The strike leaders may be misjudged by strike opponents, but there is an impression that the present peace is a lull especially directed. The permanence of the dissolution of the O'Brien injunction is now in the hands of the state's highest tribunal. There are many people who believe that the Western Federation is holding its hand till the supreme court acts.

It is only fair to the Western Federation of Miners leaders to say, however,

BALMY WAVE SPREADS OVER WIDE COUNTRY

Weather as Warm as in the Middle of the Summer Is Enjoyed in the Territory East of the Rocky Mountains—Won't Last Long, However.

Cool Breezes Due Not Later Than Tonight, Reports Washington Bureau—Fruit Trees Bud, Dandelions Bloom and White Flannels Put in an Appearance.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Spring-like weather has overspread practically the entire country east of the Rocky mountains. The official explanation of the unseasonable warmth is the fact that a "low pressure" atmospheric wave has fallen over the Northern hemisphere. It is said, however, that the wave is passing, and that cooler weather should appear not later than tomorrow night.

Seventy Degrees in New York.

New York, Nov. 20.—Today was the warmest Nov. 20 in New York since official records were first kept forty-two years ago. Today the maximum was seventy degrees. Rose bushes burst into bloom this afternoon at Tarrytown, according to reports.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—Overcasts were discarded here today, the temperature reaching a maximum of seventy-four degrees. White flannels and other misdeeds of winter clothing appeared on the boardwalk, and scores of bathers were in the surf at Atlantic City, where the thermometers registered seventy-six degrees.

Kansas Temperatures Unprecedented.

Salina, Kas., Nov. 20.—The warm balmy weather that prevails in central Kansas is unprecedented for the latter part of November, and farmers today reported that fruit trees were blooming and dandelions were in flower. The maximum temperature today was sixty-eight degrees.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 20.—The temperatures over the Southwest today were abnormally high. Fruit trees are budding, dandelions are blooming and other springlike evidences are noticeable in Kansas and western Missouri.

Swimmers Paddle in Lake Michigan.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Overcasts were shed, outdoor toddlers were in shirt sleeves and a few venturesome swimmers paddled in Lake Michigan today, when the thermometer reached sixty-eight, making this the warmest Nov. 20 on record in Chicago.

FEDERATION OF LABOR WILL REFLECT GOMPERS AND BROTHER OFFICERS.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 20.—The American Federation of Labor spent practically the whole of today in considering jurisdictional disputes between various trade unions, disposing of all the controversy of agreements that have been reached or sending the matters to conferences having power to act.

The election of officers is scheduled for Friday morning. The reelection of President Samuel Gompers, Secretary Frank Morrison, Treasurer John H. Lennon and First Vice President James Dunne is conceded. John Mitchell is seeking to elect John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers, to succeed him as second vice president, but is said to have failed to line up a majority for White.

Fort Worth, Tex., seems to be likely to get the 1914 convention, unopposed.

WHITE HOUSE TURKEY A KENTUCKY GOBBLER WEIGHING FORTY POUNDS.

Washington, Nov. 20.—President Wilson, Secretary Tumulty and the members of the cabinet will have Kentucky turkey for their Thanksgiving dinners. South Trimble, clerk of the house, will furnish pedigreed bronze turkeys, raised on his Blue Grass farm. The president's bird will be a yearling gobbler, weighing forty pounds, dressed. The others will weigh twenty-five pounds. The fowls have been fattened on celery, chestnuts and red pepper.

COOK BOOK OF RECIPES FURNISHED BY 450 WOMEN IS GIFT TO MISS WILSON.

Washington, Nov. 20.—A cook book containing all the "good old recipes grandmother used to make" is among the wedding gifts Miss Jessie Wilson will take away to her new home, after the White House wedding. It has been compiled from the contributions of best recipes from 450 women, among them the wives of cabinet members, government officials, governors of many states and other official families. Some of the famous old Southern dishes from Miss Wilson's maternal grandmother's cook book have been included in the volume.

With the arrival today of Francis B. Sayre, who is married, Miss Wilson's next Tuesday, final preparations for the White House wedding were begun. Decorators have begun making the East room ready for the ceremony.

ANONYMOUS AID IS GIVEN HANS SCHMIDT

Eminent Counsel and Alienists Are Enlisted in Case of Confessed Murderer.

New York, Nov. 20.—District Attorney Whitman's office heard a report today that someone had come to the aid of Hans Schmidt, the priest, who has confessed to the murder of Anna Amund, her last September, and had made it possible for him to employ eminent counsel and alienists.

This report followed an application of Schmidt's lawyer today for the appointment by the court of a commission of two alienists to pass upon the sanity of the best known experts in the country, have examined Schmidt and believe him to be insane. Mr. O'Leary did not say how or by whom the alienists have been retained. The court will make decision tomorrow morning on the application.

Schmidt had but $700 in the bank. This, in the opinion of the district attorney, would hardly attract two medical experts and a lawyer of Judge O'Leary's standing to the case.

FIFTY COPS FAIL TO TAKE MISS SYLVIA PANKHURST.

London, Nov. 20.—Miss Sylvia Pankhurst again eluded arrest, after having delivered an inflammatory "no rent" speech here tonight. About fifty policemen were waiting outside the hall, but Miss Pankhurst came through the main entrance, surrounded by a strong body of guards. She reached her motor car and got away in safety.

Fire Set to Oxford Lumber Yard.

Oxford, Eng., Friday, Nov. 21.—A large fire is raging early this morning in a big lumber yard on the river front. Three women were seen to leave the vicinity shortly before the fire started, and a quantity of suffragette literature was found in the yards. It is presumed that the blaze was started by suffragettes because David Lloyd-George will visit Oxford today.

RITCHIE TO BOX MURPHY.

San Francisco, Nov. 20.—Lightweight Champion Willie Ritchie and Tommy Murphy will meet here in a twenty-round bout Dec. 10. Negotiations were completed today.

U.S. OF AMERICA IS FAR IN AHEAD IN AERIAL RACE

While Other Nations Are Providing Themselves With Great Fleets of Aeroplanes and Dirigible Balloons, We Lag Behind, Points Out Secretary Daniels.

Flying Craft Recognized and Proved Engines of War and Sure to Be Mighty Factors in Future Conflicts, Says Navy's Head—Urges That We Build.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 20.—"In my opinion, the newly developed art of aviation will not only tend to limit the duration and scope of hostile operations, but also aid in the control of the sea, one of the elements contributing materially to the power and prosperity of a nation."

Secretary Daniels made this statement here tonight, in the course of a public address, upon aeronautics in which he discussed the conquest of the air by the United States army and navy and the part aerial navigation will take in future wars.

Aeroplane Like Vicious Wasp.

"The potentialities of the aeroplane, when applied to the art of war, are extremely great and its proper use will undoubtedly be a dominating factor in the success of future campaigns," said he. "The principal roles of the aeroplane in naval warfare will be for scouting and reconnaissance work and for offensive destructive operations against hostile fleets and fortifications. Rash indeed will be the commander of an opposing fleet who would head his vessels against the fleet or coast of an enemy possessing a number of these vicious insects. An aeroplane, unfortunately indeed would be a commander who did not have ready at his call this means of obtaining supremacy in the air."

"A torpedo costs $8,000 and frequently is lost in practice, through deflection in direction that makes it impossible to follow it from the crew's nest of a ship. But an aerial scout can follow a torpedo's course unerringly by watching it from above. The price of one torpedo will pay for several flying machines. Experts say mines are easily 'picked up' or located by aerial scouts. One little mine may break a $10,000,000 battleship. A flying machine, costing

U. S. STEEL CORPORATION A BOON TO THE COUNTRY, AVERS CLEVELAND WITNESS.

New York, Nov. 20.—Before the United States Steel corporation was formed, it was "war" in the steel trade, according to B. F. Miles, president of the Browning Engineering company, of Cleveland, who testified today for the defense in the government case against the corporation. The country at large has been benefited by the corporation, and it has been a Godsend to the small manufacturing consumer, Mr. Miles declared.

ALL-SUMMER SESSION FEARED BY LAW-MAKERS AT WASHINGTON

Washington, Nov. 20.—An all summer session of congress next year was predicted by legislators today because of the delay which has been incident to enacting tariff and currency legislation.

When congress convenes its regular session Dec. 2 it will have before it all the great appropriation bills, each one involving matters which will be delayed through debate, the trust question, and a host of private bills which must be disposed of.

Sheriff Cruse was asked today by the Amueck and Altoner mining companies to provide guards for coal trains going to those properties. The companies have been receiving trains of coal for several days, the cars being temporarily sidetracked at the old Centennial mill siding. It is charged that men have been helping themselves to the coal and that about fifteen tons have disappeared in this manner. The sheriff established a guard.

The home of William Townsend, an employee of the Baltic, living at South Semble, was fired upon Wednesday night. Two bullets were driven through the structure. No one was hurt. Townsend has been threatened repeatedly.

Shooting at the homes of non-strikers has been common in the Copper Range (Consolidated) locations recently. No arrests have followed.

A Most Active Agitator.

The examination of Benjamin Goggia, alias Goggin, charged by Oscar Sembla with assault and battery, will be held before Justice William T. Fisher of Calumet next Monday morning. Nov. 24. Sembla charges that as he was crossing a street in Red Jacket last Sunday afternoon he walked through a space in the miners' parade and that Goggin struck him. Goggia has been mixed up in many disorders, since the strike was called four months ago and has been arrested several times. He is held by the bonds in the amount of $200, Frank Basso being his surety.

RISE IN SOCIAL TEMPERATURES.

Social temperatures are mounting at Washington. The Wilson wedding is the cause of a fine lot of chatter. Those in high official life who have received cards urging them to be among those present are in a minority. Four senators among the majority are holding out on the gift fund, and Martine, of New Jersey, is greatly concerned. Reprisals are threatened. We are seriously informed that the legislative sky is dark and ominous just because a White House young lady has chosen to have her wedding conducted according to her view of what it should be.

And to add to our apprehension over the social complications we are told that there's a pretty howdy-do because the "cabinet ladies" have announced that their calling lists will be curtailed so that they will no longer include the "congressional ladies," or, more exactly, the wives of the members of the house of representatives, for the "cabinet ladies" still intend to keep on close terms with the wives of senators. Not even the assurance that some curtailment of their calling lists was necessary to leave the "cabinet ladies" any time for their personal affairs, or that they would still have cards to the "cabinet ladies" receptions, has availed to still the rising wrath of the "congressional ladies."

If the newspaper correspondents know at all what they are talking about the feminist contingent in the homes of Washington officialdom is just now in a sadly disturbed and disconsolate frame of mind.

"THE VERDICT OF THE PARTY."

Commenting on the view of a New Yorker, referred to as "a Wall Street progressive," that Roosevelt is the man to deal fairly by capital and labor and that he will be the Republican candidate for president in 1916, the Houghton Gazette remarks:

We have to doubt at all that if Colonel Roosevelt had accepted his defeat at the last Republican national convention at Chicago like a real sport; if he had taken the verdict of the party as an inclusive evidence that it wanted to run one campaign without him; if he had abided by the rules of the game under which he had been elected to the presidency twice; if he had taken his beating at Chicago like a man; there is no doubt at all in our mind that the suggestion of this Wall Street progressive would meet with great popular favor just at the present time when there is such a hue and cry against the socialism of the Democratic administration at Washington.

This is as delicious a bit of buncombe as The Mining Journal has noted in many a long day. It would make many persons to whose attention it might be called laugh. It would make Warwick Murtha, of Detroit, who this week told how Wilson came to be elected president, laugh. Said Murtha: "There was no preferential primary (in Michigan) and Roosevelt did not get the delegates. If a primary had been held he would have captured all of them, as is shown by the fact that the state voted for Roosevelt in the election." Murtha's further assertion that Roosevelt would have run away with Wilson is interesting, but not to the point here.

The Michigan situation affords an index to the rich humor to be found in the Gazette's fine phrase, "the verdict of the party." If by "the verdict of the party" in Michigan Roosevelt should have had ten out of the thirty delegates, something cataclysmic must have happened before November when he carried the state by over 60,000. If by "the verdict of the party" he should have had no delegates to the Bay City convention out of Houghton county, as he carried it on a Progressive ticket in November there must have been rare goings on up there in the interval. If it was "the verdict of the party" that the Twelfth Michigan district should send to Chicago two district delegates and one delegate at large hostile to Roosevelt, the party must have undergone a sweeping change of mind in the few months foregoing November, when the Progressives carried the district by 5,000.

But there was no such astonishing overturn either in state, county or district. "The verdict of the party" was the same in the spring months of the year as it was in November. Only in the spring of the year a lot of gentlemen who meet in clubs, and other places, thought they could safely ignore it and hull things through according to the old manner of playing the game. And there were a sufficient number of responsive newspapers, of which the Gazette was one, to make the way easy to the monumental political blunder of the half century.

Of the 4,000,000 and over voters who cast their ballots for Roosevelt in 1912 the Gazette would have difficulty finding a baker's dozen that would admit that he was "defeated" in the Chicago convention. They abide by the contention that he was robbed, and they glory in the fact that he was exactly enough of a good "sport" not to tamely submit to the robbery. No one knew better than the colonel what would have resulted if he had accepted his "defeat" in the Chicago convention. It offered the easiest way for him, and a certainty of commanding place in his party. But he has never sought the easiest way. In him is found a natural pugnacity that makes him prefer the fighting way, and when his convictions and his combative instinct are fully in accord he's perfectly happy. The fading mandarins sought to "stick up" the wrong man.

A GOOD LAW.

A new law in effect in Ohio makes it necessary for the newspaper publisher to be much more careful than he is in any other state in the union, for it provides definite requirements for the correction of libelous stories.

When an Ohio newspaper prints a false statement concerning any individual, or association of individuals, it must, upon demand, print in the next issue, or within forty-eight hours of receipt, an article containing a true statement of the case. This article must be printed without any alteration whatsoever, must appear under the same size of type as used in the libelous article, must be given an equally prominent place and must be printed without cost. The article must be sworn to by the person causing it to be printed and the newspaper cannot be held liable for any statements it contains. The newspaper company refusing to publish such an article may, upon conviction, be fined not exceeding $1,000, and the person responsible for such refusal may be fined not exceeding $500.

The law goes further and seeks to give the newspaper protection from the news faker, the person who to satisfy some grudge, or in the mistaken idea that it is smart to secure the publication of false "news," succeeds in hoodwinking a newspaper man into printing a news item for which there is no warrant in fact. For a person who furnishes a newspaper with an item, knowing that it is false, a $500 fine, or a workhouse sentence not to exceed six months, is provided.

The statute is a good one and ought to work out satisfactorily. Its stringent requirements as to the manner in which libelous statements must be corrected will be highly effective in encouraging care in verification of news, for no managing editor will like to take chances on having to eat his own stories in such a humiliating manner as is provided for by the statute.

On the other hand, the protection given the newspapers against disseminators of false news is something they are entitled to. Every newspaper has to be constantly on guard against this class of offenders.

THE PENDING PROBLEM.

It's easy to go too far in making points for commission government, just as it is easy to be disingenuous and unfair in making points against it. To show that commission government ought to be a good thing for Marquette it is not necessary to take anything away from whatever credit is due the administrators of the city's affairs under the old system.

The Mining Journal believes, as it has previously asserted, that administration of municipal affairs here has been better than the system. It believes that dishonesty in local government has been almost negligible. These conditions, however, have not been due to the system as much as to the intelligent interest shown by citizens and the newspapers in public affairs. We have had at times indifferent councils. We have also had indifferent mayors. Apprehension of public disapproval has been the principal thing that has kept them in the traces.

Thus the degree of success met with in the conduct of local municipal affairs has been attained despite the system, and not because of it, for the theory of the system is about as bad as it could be. We have a mayor whose power is confined, to all intents and purposes, to making appointments and vetoing legislative enactments of the council. We have a council, at the moment singularly unrepresentative of the property owning interests of the city, whose power is largely limited to shilly-shallying with the mayor over appointments, appropriating money for other bodies to spend and passing ordinances. Neither mayor nor council—the only men with administrative or legislative power who are directly elected by the people—have any effective control of the conduct of the city's business.

The municipal business is carried on by the boards. There are four of them. Each is a law unto itself, and the business of each is conducted without any relation to the business of the others. They are accountable only under the statutes from which they gain their authority. They are not subject to any control or review either by the voters, the mayor or the aldermen. They are perfect examples of the development to its highest degree of indirect government.

the power he once had has been taken, the eight councilmen who have no control over the money they vote to the boards and the twenty members of the four boards—so removal from the voters that they cannot under any circumstances be reached or influenced by direct action—constitute the governing body under the present system. It is a cumbersome, heterogeneous body, and in any industry that had to stand against competition its like would mean an early trip to the bankruptcy court.

It is now proposed to replace it by a commission of five men directly (mark the word, Mr. Workingman) responsible to the voters, subject to recall, and accountable to the public at every turn of a corner. Even the provisions for nominating candidates, which are now giving the city attorney concern, are meant to assure popular control. The primary law in state and county affairs makes heavier demands on the individual than the old caucus system under which the "leaders" did the voters' work for them, but who would give the primary up?

Viewing the issue in its broad essentials, it is difficult to see where the advocates of the present system have a leg to stand on. The system they propose to put in the fullest measure the control of municipal affairs directly in the hands of the voters. The men who oppose it must have some tangible reason for not wanting the voters to run their own affairs.

The Detroit Free Press discusses the resolutions of the Federation of Labor in good terms. Of the paragraph stating "Twenty-five hundred militia have been sent into the strike district and these soldiers have driven their horses over men, women and children, beating them with guns, bayonets and swords and outraging women and girls," the Free Press properly says, "It constitutes, as a whole, an atrocious lie. This language may seem plain, but there is no other way of properly setting forth the fact." Endorsement can also be given to the Free Press' further statement: "More than this, it is very near to a traitorous utterance, because in attacking with falsehoods the militia of Michigan, the Federation of Labor attacks the government with a view to undermining its influence and authority. This may not be surprising in view of the avowed policy of some of the labor leaders to try and break down the state militia in every way possible, but it is a reprehensible and bad exhibition of bad citizenship." As the Free Press remarks, even the fact that the Seattle convention was led to excesses by the example of Secretary of Labor Wilson does not excuse such false and libelous resolutions.

How to Overcome a Bad Constipation

There Is a Mild Laxative That Will Bring Safe and Pleasant Relief Over Night.

It is only natural that the simplest of ailments should be the most general, and so we have a whole nation suffering from constipation and indigestion, for they are closely allied. But common as constipation is many people do not seem to know they have it. They will complain of headache, drowsiness or biliousness, all unconscious of the cause of the trouble.

You should have a full and free movement at least once a day. If you pass a day you are constipated, and the result will be that you will catch a cold easily or have a more serious ailment. To cure the constipation and forestall still greater trouble take a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at night before retiring and by morning relief will come, without disturbance from sleep or any inconvenience.

MRS. N. FRANTZ

Legions of people use it regularly in such emergencies, some of them formerly chronic, invalids who had suffered from constipation all their lives. Mrs. N. Frantz, 67 Eighth St., Salem, Ohio, took physics for years, and worst of all, without much avail. Finally, she began to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and today she is no longer troubled and eats what she likes. Many others will tell you that they have tried most things recommended for this purpose, but have found Syrup Pepsin the only one always reliable. A bottle can be obtained at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter size being bought by families already familiar with its merits. Syrup Pepsin is mild, pleasant-tasting and non-gripping. Mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet it is effective for grownups. It is for everyone who suffers from any form of stomach, liver or bowel trouble, constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, etc. Its action will so delicately that you will forever avoid harsh cathartics, purgatives, pills and salts.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

A LAUGH OR TWO

His Fall.

"He used to be at the top of his profession, but one day he fell, and he will never again occupy his former exalted position." "You surprise me. What was his position?" "He was the apex of a human pyramid with a team of aerobats."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Quality of Quantity.

"A clergyman," says Dr. Wolf Hopper, visited a temple in his flock and cautioned him against drinking too much. The man answered that the doctor had prescribed liquor for him. "Well," inquired the minister, "has it done you any good?" "I fancy it has," answered the bibber, "for when I got that keg a week ago I could hardly lift it, and now I can carry it all around the room."

Bravely Finished Him.

"Well, my good fellow," said a victorious general to a brave son of Erin after a battle, "and what did you do to help us gain this victory?" "I replied Mike," replied Mike. "May it please your honor, I walked up boldly to the face of the enemy and cut off his feet." "Cut off his feet? Why did you not cut off his head?" said the general. "Ah! and faith, that was already off," replied Mike.

Defining Love and Life.

Philosophy in popular phraseology is one of the greatest products of the cloakrooms in the capitol in Washington. Senators and representatives, keen observers of human nature and full of ideas, pull stuff that makes the old German wizards sound foolish and insane. In the Democratic cloakroom of the house, not long ago, a statesman, having discussed at length the tariff, currency reform and the Central American situation, announced kindly:

"Now, I'll tell you fellows the difference between life and love."

"Everybody immediately expressed eagerness to know the difference."

"Life," he said, "is just one fool thing after another. Love is just two fool things after each other."—Popular Magazine.

Cockney Wit.

E. J. Nally, vice president of the Postal Telegraph company, returned from London recently on the Baltic with a Willoughby Bible, imprint of 1824, he bought at Sotheby's and a sample of Cockney wit.

"I'm Nally, vice president of the Postal Telegraph company. I've returned from London recently on the Baltic with a Willoughby Bible, imprint of 1824, he bought at Sotheby's and a sample of Cockney wit."

"Beg pardon, gov'nor, but what kind of a bloke do you call 'im'?"

"He looks to me like a sun worshipper," I replied.

Dire Distress.

"Excuse me, Wombat," said the well-dressed one, "but personal friendship prompts me to speak."

"What is it, old chap?"

"I feel that you improve your personal appearance, you may lose your job."

"I hope not."

"You need a new hat."

"Um."

"You need a new suit."

"You need shoes. Man alive, your feet are on the ground!"

"Quite true," admitted Wombat, with a sigh.

"Then take this week's salary and spruce up."

"Can't squander any money on self, old man. My wife is worse off than I am."

"Dear me! How is that?"

"She needs a new feather in her hat."

—Wm. S. Adkins, in Judge.

Valor of Ignorance.

Mr. Snipples got out of bed and slipped on his shoes.

"This must stop," he muttered irritably to his wife, "I'm going downstairs to teach that young man to keep away from my house in the future."

"John," cried his wife, "stop! Don't go."

But before she could say more he had slipped out of the door. She heard him steal downstairs to the drawing room; she heard sounds of a struggle and of the breaking of glass; she heard him drag his adversary to the hall and kick him down the front steps. Then, when

After the Coal Barons.

There began in Philadelphia yesterday a session of the Interstate Commerce commission that may have an important bearing on the household of every consumer of coal in the eastern part of the country. In brief, it can be described as a real and vigorous attempt to find out if the anti-trust laws of Pennsylvania are obeying the laws of the United States.

A recent decision as to the "commerce clause" of the interstate commerce laws held that railroads could not transport commodities produced by themselves. This means coal. But that several of the Pennsylvania roads haul coal mines and carry their own product to elevator is not doubted. How they will try to wriggle out of their responsibility at the mines will be interesting to watch; they can hardly deny that they carry coal, at any rate.

Then they will have to meet a searching inquiry as to the reasonableness of freight rates on coal; whether they discriminate against independent shippers and, if so, whether they are in a conspiracy to do it. Judging from the recent pugnacity and thoroughness of Interstate Commerce Commission hearings, there will not be much chance for the companies to dodge the facts. Indeed, one of the counsel of the Central Railroad of New Jersey had to admit yesterday that he was a dummy director in a lighterage company, a creature of the railroad.

The hope of the consumer is, of course, that if the coal barons are found to be acting illegally, a change will lower the price of coal. It may do that, but, whether or not the compelling of the railroads to obey the law will be a long step in the right direction, Boston Post.

Much Like a Whitewash.

When Representative Gordon, of Cleveland, undertook to secure an investigation into the charges that the weather bureau failed to forecast a warning of the great storm that swept the lakes and carried down a fleet of ships and several hundred men, he announced that he would lay the subject before the president rather than congress. He intimated that he would thus obtain results more quickly, and it was supposed that the method would also guarantee impartiality and a dependable verdict.

The outcome thus far, however, does not confirm these expectations. The president, who has been brought to his attention, proceeded to hand it over to the department of agriculture. Since the weather bureau is part of this department the course was partly that of an offense which should be committed, together by himself and his associates. Is it not remarkable that the conclusion now published by this board of investigators should completely exonerate the bureau, for apparently no testimony was heard except the elaborate statement prepared by the bureau itself?

It may be true that the forecasters predicted the present storm. But did they deliver their forecasts and warnings to the proper destination? Was the prediction made in time to be of service? There are a good many points involved in this inquiry, all of them relevant to the issue, and it would seem that something more than an ex-parte inquiry was required in the circumstances. It is possible to arrive at a correct understanding of the facts without getting both sides of the case? Why was no evidence sought from the shipmasters?

The whole affair looks very much like an effort to whitewash the weather bureau, and will be ineffective to relieve that agency from public suspicion unless it is made a great deal more comprehensive than it has been made thus far. If the forecasters are positive that they discharged their whole duty on this occasion, why do they not so before an impartial body and meet their accusers?—Detroit Free Press.

LOWER STATENOTES

FORT HURON—When her little pet dog was captured by a vicious bull terrier, Mrs. John Elliott became so excited that she collapsed and died a few minutes later from heart failure. She was on her way home from a grocery store. A husband, four sons, and two daughters survive.

CHESANING—Nora Russ, fourteen-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Russ, of this city, attempted to take a piece of meat from a pet shepherd dog. The dog seized the child and ripped two gashes in her face, from her mouth to her ear, and from her mouth to her eye. Twenty stitches were required to close the wounds. The child may die. Several weeks ago another child of the same family was bitten by a mad dog, and had to take the Pasteur treatment at Ann Arbor.

SAGINAW—The decision of the state tax commission, made public at the meeting of the board of supervisors Tuesday morning, fixed the assessed valuations of the county as equalized at $5,05 per cent for the city and $4.95 for the twenty-seven townships. When the board of supervisors met in October the majority of the board fixed the equalized value at sixty and forty, and from this the city members appealed. The state board's figure for the city are $4,922,042, or $1,000,000 less than the county valuations would have made it. This is the second decision this month on an appeal. The first was given at the request of two townships in Midland county.

LANSING—Members of the board of pardons, in session here, spent considerable time in the discussion of the remarks made by Judge Smith of Pontiac, when he was sentencing Ralph E. Jossman, who looted the Clarkston bank. In his remarks Judge Smith took a rap at ex-Governor Osborn for pardoning Lee Hagle, who was convicted of looting a bank in Oakland county. While none of the members cared to be quoted, they were unanimous in saying that Jossman has no chance of a pardon as long as Governor Ferris is in the chair. Some time ago many influential citizens of Grand Rapids asked the governor to pardon a man convicted of embezzling money from an institution in that city. "I have no sympathy for that sort of man at all," was the answer of the governor. As far as the Hagle case is concerned, the members of the board say that at the time the pardon was given, the feeling and sympathy in the immediate vicinity was with the prisoner. Governor Osborn held the pardon up for a long time, because Judge Smith bitterly opposed it. The board of pardons is compiling a book of information for

HASTINGS—Unable to raise $37.25 to pay a fine and costs for non-support, Viscount Philip Comas Gordon Lenox, of Charlotte, is in all awaiting friends to come to his rescue. Gordon Lenox, a romantic young Englishman, whose escapades have appeared in the state press in the last three years, was arrested upon complaint of his irate father-in-law, George Housh. Mrs. Gordon Lenox has come to Hastings, Michigan, to see her husband, who is being held in the pattern mill. The young Englishman pleaded guilty and must pay a fine or go to jail for sixty days. He has offered his touring car as security to anyone furnishing the required fine, since he is "broke."

FLINT—Joe Larkin, alias Burke, twenty-one years old, alleged pickpocket, is in jail as the result of a tip given the authorities by a woman, who goes by the name of Mrs. Burke, but admits she has been traveling with Larkin as his affinity. She was prompted to tip off the young man, who says he kept her in luxury, because she says he went out with another woman in Detroit last week. The woman says Larkin "worked" the football crowds at the Yale-Brown football game in New Haven, Conn., a few weeks ago and secured a rich haul of jewels and money. She told of the alleged theft of $225 and two diamonds from one man. Mrs. Burke is staying in a rooming house in a respectable section of Flint.

"AN UNDERSTANDING HEART."
King Solomon's prayer, "Give thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people," is the prayer, sometimes uttered and sometimes not, of the judges who must pass upon the constitutionality of laws for human betterment, writes Chief Justice John B. Winslow, of the Wisconsin state supreme court, in the Survey. The judge of an understanding heart sees the reason behind the law, realizes the slow change in written constitutions as well as the rapid change in social conditions and tries to judge fairly of an eighteenth century constitution which forms the charter of liberty for a twentieth century government. It is not easy for a man who tries not to falter with either his conscience or his reason to extend the law and to judge in spite of the difficulties. Judge Winslow shows by citing decisions from the Wisconsin supreme court.

"CASCARETS" THE BEST LAXATIVE

If Constipated, Bilious, Headachy, Stomach Sour—Clean Up To-Night!

Get a 10-cent box now. You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out, here is your chance.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, indigestible, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

MINER EXPECTS TO REAP A FORTUNE

Amorigo Penacchioti of the Quincy Procures a Patent on an Invention.

Amorigo Penacchioti of Quincy has received from the commissioner of patents in Washington a patent on an improved self-regulating water-feed for boilers. Penacchioti was a miner at the Quincy for several years until a few months ago, when he sought work in a foundry that he might study machinery in the shop.

Mr. Penacchioti intends promoting patents on the invention in France and Italy before arranging to sell the device. He has applied for a patent on an improved miners' lamp and expects to hear from Washington any day. The lamp is not as heavy as those in use, though double the size. It will work automatically and has two compartments. When the oil in one compartment is consumed the wick in the second section ignites of its own accord.

Will Remain in America.

Mr. Penacchioti will not return to Italy to live in case he reaps the expected profits from his inventions. He intends remaining in this country.

By men who have known Penacchioti for years he is regarded as a genuine. After toiling all day in the mines and after working by lamplight in his room on drawings, he would remain awake in bed for hours revolving in his mind some new phase of the problem he was trying to solve.

Excellent Ceremony, Followed by Banquet, Held by Keeweenaw Lodge.

Keeweenaw lodge, F. & A. M., was the host of almost the full membership of the grand lodge of Michigan and of the officers and many of the prominent members of the Masonic fraternities of the copper country Wednesday night on the occasion being the dedication of the lodge's new home in the new Laurium postoffice building, Third street. Officers of the grand lodge had charge of the ritualistic ceremony of dedication and acceptance of the hall. It was a dignified affair, following the customary and arranged and appointed lodge rooms, a banquet was served for the members and visitors at the Laurium bank hall.

With Rev. A. E. Healy of Ironwood, formerly of Oscoda and Pewabic, presiding at the board as toastmaster, a program of toasts was given, toasts being responded to by several of the officers of the grand lodge and several of the visitors from lodges of the district.

SPARROW BOUNTY DECEMBER 1.

Boys of the Copper Country Prepare to Go A-Hunting.

The boys of the copper country, as are boys all over the state, are preparing to make life miserable for the English sparrow, for the youngsters will be able to collect two cents a head on the birds for three months, beginning with the first of December. County, township and village clerks everywhere in Michigan will pay the fee of two cents a head for the dead sparrows.

The boys are warned by the state game warden's department that they must be careful not to kill any of the song birds or other protected birds, for the laws are to be rigidly enforced. The boys are not permitted by village or township ordinances, either, to use sling shots, rifles, airguns or any such weapons within the limits of the municipalities, so they will have to go out of town for their hunting unless they wish to be haled into juvenile court and to have their weapons taken from them and destroyed.

CAPTAIN JOHN VICKERY TO WED.

Announcement has been made of the coming marriage of Captain John T. Vickery of New York city, who is in the copper country in charge of force of about one hundred detectives in the strike troubles, to Miss Anna Frances Dunn, sister of John Dunn, wealthy manufacturer of East New York city. The wedding, it is announced, will take place at the home of the bride, Dunsmere on Lake George, on Christmas eve. Captain Vickery will remain in Calumet until shortly before the date set for the wedding. Following the wedding Captain and Mrs. Vickery will go west, spending their honeymoon in southern California and the southwest. Captain Vickery has made a great many friends during the three months or longer that he has been in the copper country.

B'NAI BRITH CELEBRATION.

It has been decided by the B'nai Brith lodge at Hancock that the annual B'nai Brith day will not be celebrated next Sunday. The observance will take place later. B'nai Brith day is in celebration of the formation of the national order. The fraternity is an independent Jewish charity organization and maintains the Jewish orphans' asylum at Cleveland and the Jewish national hospital for consumptives at Denver.

GREAT TIMBER BELT FOR SALE

United States to Sell Philippine Tract of Two Billion Board Feet Dec. 10.

Washington, Nov. 20.—That the Philippine forests are inviting American enterprise is the statement of the United States bureau of insular affairs of the war department, which has just issued a statement that the fifth big sale of Philippine timber, offering opportunities for lumbermen in the United States, will open December 10.

While there are American firms operating in the Philippines, it is pointed out by the officials of the bureau that the Philippine timber offer will give lumbermen chances for profits not exceeded by any other field in the world. The forest officers of the Philippines state that the islands contain 200 billion feet of merchantable timber for which there is a large demand and that practically all of it is owned by the government and is available under very favorable terms. In almost all cases the forests can be easily logged by the most improved machinery and methods.

Many Fine Hardwoods. The timber itself, it is pointed out, includes structural material of great value, in addition to many fine hardwoods, particularly suited to cabinet work. In this latter class some of the most plentiful woods may be sold in competition with mahogany, such is their beauty of grain and richness of color.

Manila, only two days' distance from Hongkong and China, which has largely exhausted its timber, furnishes a ready market. Japan, Australia, and even the United States will take Philippine lumber, which is admitted free to this country. One of the commonest Philippine timbers, offering a very close cabinet finish, well, has been sold on the Pacific coast where it serves the same purposes as the finest redwood, which is somewhat resembles, as high as $80 per thousand board feet.

A 20-Year Concession. The Philippine bureau of forestry in this first sale which is being called to the attention of American lumber operators, offering a 20-year concession which gives exclusive rights to a tract comprising about 95,000 acres, which contains nearly two billion board feet of timber.

The expiration of his eighty-fourth year of life finds Mr. Kappler in excellent health and spirits and with as much an enjoyment of his birthday festivities as any of the younger people of his family. His son Frederick was born forty-seven years ago on his father's birthday anniversary. The other members of the immediate family are three brothers who live in Saginaw. The father and son are respected citizens of the Houghton county communities in which they make their homes.

A complete report of this body of timber, which can be had at the office of the director of forests in Manila or at the bureau of insular affairs in Washington, shows that the region occupied by the main body of the tract presents ideal logging conditions. This report shows railroads can be built easily and cheaply and that the entire timber belt can be logged at a minimum of expense and trouble. The amount of timber produced varies from 12,500 up to 30,000 board feet and more.

In the four principal types of forest, embraced in the area, much valuable material can be secured from even the least desirable type, and the most valuable types will according to figures of the bureau, provide a handsome profit for an outlay comparatively small in value.

The Japanese ambassador Viscount Chinda announced today that his "present" had arrived. He refused to divulge its nature, however, or to state whether it was a "personal gift" from him or one from the emperor of Japan.

The executive staff of the White House has arranged to give Miss Wilson a gift which will probably take the form of a silver vase or urn.

First in Everything. First in Quality, First in Results, First in Purity, First in Economy.

Upper Peninsula. Woodsmen Busy in Gogebic. Probably more men will be employed in the woods of Gogebic county during the coming winter than ever before.

RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARDS. Calumet Baking Powder. NOT MADE BY THE TRUST.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER CO. CHICAGO.

Principal Kinds of Woods.

The principal kinds of woods are the laurels, excellent construction timbers and somewhat comparable, in mechanical properties, to the Pacific coast redwoods; yuccal, one of the most valuable because of its great strength, and its resistance to destruction by white ants; apitong, quite comparable to the hard pines of the United States, and various other hardwoods which have already found a place as substitutes for mahogany.

It is required that the successful applicant shall furnish a capital sufficient for the immediate prosecution of the work, the amount in this case being placed at not less than 100,000 pesos, Philippine currency, equivalent to $30,000.

It is proposed that all bids for this timber shall be opened in Manila on December 10. For the benefit of prospective purchasers in America, however, the attitude of the log buyers is another factor that is causing worry to the jobbers. The buyers are not offering the prices that they did a year ago—by about $2 per thousand feet in some cases. The only wood that keeps up in price is basswood, a scarce article. Labor is another puzzle. Many men are out of work in the cities, but they are not the kind of men that are available or useful for the woods labor.

MISS WILSON GETS ONIONS FOR GIFTS

Also Cheese, Soap and Pickles Until the White House Seems Like a Storage Plant.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Five bushels of Bermuda onions marked from "An Unknown Friend," a fifty-pound cheese, six boxes of soap, more than fifty-seven varieties of preserves and pickles from as many housewives and a whole hog of popcorn confection have swarmed into the White House waiting gifts from unknown admirers of the thirteen presidential bride, Miss Jessie Wilson.

Among other "freak" gifts which are filling the White House larder and every available inch of space are wash quilts and many more beseeching the chine, case of washing powder, canned goods, brushes, mops, two rag carpets, a pyramid of tin pails and every variety of cooking utensils.

These gifts come in by express and freight and the White House mail is a regular letter to the bride enclosing pictures and wishing to exchange with Miss Wilson; jewelry boxes, pill boxes and every kind of little box in which senders expect a bit of the wedding cake to be placed and returned to them; pieces of wedding cake from other brides for Miss Wilson to "dream on"; handkerchiefs and silk stockings by the dozens; letters begging for bits and scraps of the wedding gown for cracy quilts and many more beseeching the chine, case of washing powder, canned goods, brushes, mops, two rag carpets, a pyramid of tin pails and every variety of cooking utensils.

Members of the immediate Wilson family are wondering where they are to lay their heads when the Cousins cut arrives en masse at the White House. The sleeping quarters will be taxed to utmost capacity. Extra beds have been provided and each bedroom and dressing room will have double beds.

The leading spirit in the wedding preparations is Miss Ruth Hall, a pretty Princeton friend of the Wilson girl who has come to attend her mother to Washington to spend the winter.

Two original rugs have been selected as the joint gift of the New Jersey delegations in the house and senate. It was announced because of the previous publication before they sent in their gifts that the French ambassador and Mine Jusserand would present a $1,400 silver vase that they have now sent in its place.

It is understood that unless the White House gives out the list of gifts from cabinet members they will not be made public by the cabinet women. This action, it is understood, was upon the suggestion of Mrs. William Jennings Bryan.

The Japanese ambassador Viscount Chinda announced today that his "present" had arrived. He refused to divulge its nature, however, or to state whether it was a "personal gift" from him or one from the emperor of Japan.

Upper Peninsula.

Woodsmen Busy in Gogebic. Probably more men will be employed in the woods of Gogebic county during the coming winter than ever before, reports the Ironwood News-Record. Between five and six hundred will be at work in Ironwood township alone, and there will be hundreds in Erwin, Bessemer, Wakefield, Marquette, Watersmeet and Carlson township. Other hundreds of men have gone or will go out of the county into Wisconsin to cut timber for Ironwood's saw mills—there are three of them and another in sight—and Ironwood's mines. Some of the timber being cut in Ironwood township will come to Hancock, much of it will be taken elsewhere to be saved. The Stearns Lumber company now has 5,000,000 feet on skids in town 48, range 49, Ironwood township, and will operate two camps, employing between two and three hundred men, in the operations. The Stearns Lumber company, owned by G. E. Stearns and J. W. Broderick, of Ironwood, will lose seven hundred on sections 14 and 23 in the same town for the Schroeders, and Joe Defer, of Saxon, will cut several million of feet on the Montreal River Lumber company's lands, in town 48, range 48. Settlers and small jobbers will cut many hundreds of thousands of feet of logs, thousands of pieces of mining timber, and hundreds of cords of wood in town 48, range 47, most of which will be hauled by teams to Ironwood from lands lying north of the South Shore railway, a small portion of the logs will go to Bergland and Ewen. The largest operators in the east end of the county will be the Wm. Bonitas Lumber company and R. C. Shier, whose cut will be made in Watersmeet and Carlson townships and the southern end of Ontonagon county.

Party This Evening—The committee in charge of the Kappa Alpha Pi dancing party this evening at Fraternity Hall refused those attending to present their invitations at the door. The Cleveland orchestra will furnish the music.

Shipments of Deer Heavy—Although it was impossible yesterday to obtain an accurate estimate of the number of deer sent to Marquette by hunters in the woods, it is thought that between 400 and 500 huge deer have been received so far, and there are still ten days of the season left. The kill is heavier than for some years.

Dumping Mine Rock—During the past several days the South Shore railway has been dumping mine rock along the embankment of its right-of-way on the lake shore east of town, where it was weakened by the recent storm. The storm caused more damage along the right-of-way immediately east of the city than any other that has occurred in recent years.

Storm Warning Ordered—The weather bureau last evening received the following instructions from Washington: "Low northeast storm warning 10 p. m. Lake Superior. Disturbance over southeastern Colorado and western South Dakota, moving east. Risk to high easterly winds Friday. Southeast warnings ordered on Lakes Huron and Michigan, Detroit and Toledo."

No School Nov. 28—A vacation from Wednesday, Nov. 26, until Monday, Dec. 1, will be given the students and teachers of the Marquette public schools, according to a decision reached at a meeting of the school board last evening, to allow the teachers who live out of town to visit their homes for Thanksgiving. Other than this, only routine business was transacted.

Registration Today—Boards of registration will meet in the several wards today, that persons not now properly registered in the wards where they reside can qualify for a vote on the proposed new charter a week from tomorrow. Persons who have lately moved from one ward to another, or who are newcomers to the city, and all new voters, should register, or they will be denied the right of passing on the charter.

Flyer in Potatoes—Officers of the Centurion, which will clear for the lower lakes on the final trip of the season today, have taken a little flyer in potatoes. They purchased something over 400 bushels at the prevailing price here, sixty cents, and expect to sell at Cleveland at an advance of twenty or twenty-five cents. Over 300 bushels were purchased at the Marquette prison, where the crop this year was largely in excess of the needs of the institution.

Will Soon Lay Off Work—Work on the Waupun sewer contract, which has been progressing rapidly this fall, will soon be stopped for the winter. Herman Stenzel has the contract. Theodore Waecher, foreman in charge, says he does not expect to be able to work his men more than two weeks longer, at the outside. The use of the steam trencher aided the rapid progress of the ditching. An entire new sewer system is to be installed, to be completed by next November.

Four Matinees Next Week—Four matinees will be given at the Marquette Opera House next week. Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday are the days. On Thursday, Thanksgiving, a continuous matinee will be given, commencing at 2:30 o'clock and continuing until 5 o'clock. Special pictures will be produced. The big soap opera act of the Hendrick Belle Isle company, "Fun in a Deestrick Skule," will open its engagement Wednesday afternoon. The troupe will give two performances Thursday afternoon, and two at the regular evening shows.

Hotel Inspector Named—Marquette traveling men have been informed that James F. Hammel, of Lansing, a former mayor of the city, who is wellknown in the upper peninsula, has been appointed hotel inspector, under a law passed at the last session of the legislature. Mr. Hammel is now chief clerk of the labor department and his new duties will be incidental to that position. The law under which he will act provides strict requirements for sanitary conditions in the hotels and an adequate provision of the services. It was strongly urged by the traveling men, who look to it to correct the bad conditions they have had to put up with in the hotels of the smaller towns of the state.

CREW OF LEAFIELD NEVER HAD CHANGE

Captain Baird Reports Seeing Lost Steamer Dive to the Bottom of Lake Superior.

Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—The Algoma Central steamer Leafield rests on the bottom of Lake Superior, and her entire crew was lost in the recent Great Lakes storm, which caused the Leafield to founder, according to the version of Captain Baird of the Harmonic, the vessel which last sighted the ill-fated craft.

Captain Baird said today on arriving from Fort William that the Leafield, which carried steel rails, created a huge wave and then suddenly dipping forward, dived straight toward the bottom without any of the crew having a chance to put on a lifebelt. It is thought that the shifting of her heavy cargo hastened the Leafield's end.

Purported Message from the Dead.

Menominee, Mich., Nov. 20.—A message written in the face of death by Chris Koenen, United States marshal and custodian of the barge Plymouth, who lost his life with six others in the storm of Nov. 9, was found today in a bottle five miles from Pentwater. It was addressed to his wife and children, and reads:

"We were left up here in Lake Michigan by McKinnon (captain of the tug James H. Martin). He went away and never even said goodby. Lost one man yesterday. We have been in storm forty hours. I felt so bad I had to have another man write for me. I may see you in Heaven, dear ones."

Koenen's body was washed ashore near Manistee last Friday.

John Thompson's Return to Hamilton, Ont., Puts Sudden Stop to Funeral Plans.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 20.—While relatives and friends surrounded the coffin in which lay the body of a young man identified as John Thompson, a victim of the recent storm on the Great Lakes, the real John Thompson today rapped at the door and was admitted to the home, his mother collapsed and was made seriously ill.

Young Thompson's father did not know what had become of his son, who was employed on the Great Lakes, until he learned the body of a John Thompson, fireman on the lost steamer Caruthers, he went to Kettle Point and identified it as that of his son. The body was shipped to the parents' home in this city, and preparations were being made for the funeral when the young man suddenly returned very much alive. He explained he had been in Montreal during the great storm and had just heard of his reported death. Before going to his home Thompson stopped at a hotel conducted by James Duffly, Duffly, who had been at the Thompson home and seen the body there, fell in a faint, thinking he had seen a ghost.

DECLARE WAR ON COLDS.

A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation" has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "don'ts" which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

"Don't sit in a draughty car."
"Don't sleep in hot rooms."
"Don't avoid the fresh air."
"Don't stuff yourself at meal time. Overeating reduces your resistance."
To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. Sold by All Dealers.

Mr. Voter and Taxpayer: Do you know that three-fifths of your taxes this year went to the school, library and fire and water funds?

Do you know that out of each $15.00 per $1,000 valuation the general fund received but $5.80?

Do you know that since last year it has been necessary to increase the general fund about $12,000 to make up for the reduction in liquor licenses and the extension of the present health department?

Do you know that your school and library tax has increased over $25,000 in the last seven years?

Do you know that this increase is absolutely beyond the control of your city government, regardless of the form of government you have?

Do you know that the increase in your fire and water tax for the past four years has been to provide a sinking fund to pay off bonds?

Do you know that if it were not for

THE DEBT HABIT

The Debt Habit is one of the greatest dangers of our time—yes, of any time. Is it growing upon you? Once you paid your bills every week—then every month—and now? There is one way to get out of this habit. Take a small portion of your income and deposit it regularly—just as you get it—in a MARQUETTE NATIONAL Savings Account. By this method you will build a sinking fund. It is the only way!

Debt and Death are two words singularly connected not only in sound, but in fact; for the former frequently hastens the latter.

Discussions of City Charter

IN OKLAHOMA CITY.

Oklahoma City is one of the really new cities of the United States. It is new from its foundation up. It is made up of ambitious, energetic, progressive persons from all parts of the United States who are looking for opportunity. In 1900, Oklahoma City had a population of 10,000. In 1910 it had a population by the United States census of 64,205, with a modern city with a metropolitan business district of skyscrapers and fine public edifices. It had grown 650 per cent. in ten years! Today it is near the 100,000 mark and is one of the fine cities of the Southwest. As soon as it grew to be a real city, Oklahoma City adopted commission government.

The following letter tells its own story:

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 3, 1913.
Commission government in Oklahoma City has reduced the cost of operation from $782,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, the last year under the old form, to $618,000 for 1912, and $577,000 for 1913.

All purchases and sales and contracts are let on competitive bids and the individual attention of commissioners to the work of their departments secures to the city the best results and value received for its money expended.

Each commissioner is elected by the whole city, this doing away with ward or local jobbery.

All business is transacted in open meetings, monthly statements published and yearly audits made and published so the people are kept fully advised.

Ward politicians and the down-and-outs continue to threaten recall and persist in trying to harass and annoy the officials, but the large majority of the people pay no attention to them.

The business people are satisfied and there is no longer any doubt as to the efficiency and economy of the system.

W. H. WHITE, GRANT,
Mayor of Oklahoma City.
PUBLICITY COMMITTEE.

The extra low tax last year, the new fire hall and the eastern trunk sewer assessment the general fund tax this year would have been over $200,000 less, or about equal to the average for the past six years?

Do you know that outside the health department, and regardless of the increased cost of fuel, supplies, etc., the other departments of the present city government are not costing any more than they did six or seven years ago? Does this look like extravagance or mismanagement to you?

Do you know that Marquette has better sidewalks, is better lighted and has better water service than many towns very much larger, and at less cost?

Do you know that our tax levy next year for the general fund should be about $20,000 less than this, providing the schools do not need more? And this reduction will not be on account of any particular form of government you may have then, but because that is the amount of extraordinary expense taken care of this year.

Don't let the supporters of the proposed charter use the tax question to draw your attention from its main defects. The present charter needs some revision, but did we vote to throw it out body and breeches for an unknown conglomeration of pieces and patches gathered from the charters of various cities that have nothing in common with us? Why were not numerous good features of our charter, kept through years of experience, acquired in this new charter?

For example, the present charter requires an accounting system, that experts have pronounced as good as can be had, for safeguarding the expenditure of all city funds. Why was not this feature kept in the proposed charter? Instead you will find that Chapter 9, Section 28, merely provides that all bills shall be paid on the O. K. of the commissioner in charge of the department to which it belongs and the official under whom the work was done. Very simple? Yes, and what a beautiful chance for some one who cared to take advantage of it. After the bills are paid what becomes of them? Thrown in the waste basket perhaps. At any rate, proper numbering and filing for future reference is not compulsory.

Under the present system you can refer back for years and find every bill the city has paid and every bill is sworn to by the person making it or some authorized agent. Would any large business corporation pay out thousands of dollars each month under such a system as is proposed for the city to adopt?

This is only one of many such defects from which your attention is being diverted by a loud clamor over this year's tax rate.

J. E. TOBIN, JR.,
Secretary.

MINE DETECTIVE IS SLAIN AT TRINIDAD

Man Awaiting Trial for Killing Union Organizer Is Himself Victim of a Bullet.

Trinidad, Colo., Nov. 20.—G. W. Belcher, a detective employed by the coal operators, was shot and killed while on the main street here tonight. A man who is believed to have fired the shot is under arrest.

A few days before the strike was declared in the southern coal fields, Belcher shot an organizer of the United Mine Workers of America, who came here from Denver. He was one of the detectives called here from the West Virginia strike fields.

Louis Zancanelli, a Greek miner, is the man in the custody of the military authorities, charged with the shooting. The killing threw the city into a furore of excitement. Troops are patrolling the business district. Three other suspects are under arrest.

The circumstances of the shooting are not known. Pedestrians who were within a few feet of the detective when the shot was fired saw Belcher fall. Zancanelli was found to have a revolver and a membership card in the United Mine Workers of America.

Aug. 20, G. W. Belcher was shot in the leg in a revolver battle with Gerald Lippitt, a United Mine Workers organizer, in which Walter Belk also figured. Lippitt was killed and Belcher, together with Belk, was placed under bonds of $10,000, charged with the killing. Belcher had figured prominently in a number of clashes between strikers and armed guards.

The shooting has precipitated the establishment of a military court for the trial of all persons charged with offenses in connection with the strike, and tonight General Chase issued a formal notice to that effect.

President Is Striving for Peace.

Washington, Nov. 20.—President Wilson is giving serious consideration to the many questions involved in the Colorado coal strike, with a view to settlement through federal agencies.

Representative Keating, of Colorado, had a long talk with the president today, and presented several telegrams urging a federal investigation. The president already has asked both sides for a statement in the case, and Senators Shafroth and Thomas have asked the president if there is not some way by which the board of mediation and conciliation could interpose its good offices.

Representative Keating urged that the department of labor endeavor to compose the situation. Secretary Wilson on his return from the Pacific coast will stop in Colorado to discuss the strike with both sides. Mr. Keating said he would press his resolution for a federal investigation by a congressional committee of five.

High Court Upholds Use of Troops.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 20.—The state supreme court today granted the petition of Governor Ammons for a writ of mandamus to compel State Auditor Keohan to sign certificates of indebtedness to cover the expense of maintaining the Colorado National Guard in the coal strike zone.

ILLINOIS SUFFRAGE LAW IS ATTACKED IN COURT.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 20.—The fight against the Illinois woman suffrage law began here when a suit seeking to set aside the vote by which women voters carried a $250,000 bond issue for the purpose of erecting new courts was filed by eleven residents of East Peoria, a village which strenuously opposed the bond issue. It is hinted that the liquor interests of the state are behind the suit. Their interest in the woman vote lies in the fact that local option will be submitted in many localities at the spring elections.

The bill sets forth that the woman suffrage act is unconstitutional in that it conflicts with the constitution of Illinois which allows women to vote only in the election of school appropriations and for school officers.

It is claimed the Illinois constitution must be amended.

MINERS IN FRANCE STRIKE FOR AN EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

Lens, France, Nov. 20.—Forty-five thousand coal miners are on strike in the Pas de Calais basin. The miners demand a work-day of eight hours. Reinforcements of police and a detachment of troops have been dispatched to the district, notably to Bethune, where serious trouble is anticipated.

CHICAGO PRODUCE QUOTATIONS.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Butter prices in the Chicago market today were unchanged, creameries at 22 1/2 to 32 cents. Eggs, unchanged; receipts, 2,311 cases; eggs at mark, cases included, 28¢ to 33¢; ordinary firsts, 30¢ to 32¢; firsts, 34¢ to 34 1/2¢. Poultry, unchanged; springs, alive, 12¢; fowls, 10¢; turkeys, 17¢.

UNITED CIGAR STORES AND PHARMACY CHAIN TO GO TO NEW HANDS.

New York, Nov. 20.—A holding company with a capitalization of perhaps $40,000,000 will shortly be formed to take over and operate the long chain of United Cigar stores and the Riker-Hegeman-Jaynes drug stores, numbering nearly 1,000. The government is now investigating the tobacco concern under the anti-trust act. George J. Whelan, the founder of the United Cigar Stores company of America, and his associates are behind the new organization.

Official confirmation was obtained today of the persistent reports that Mr. Whelan and his associates had purchased control of the Riker & Hegeman company. The price at which the shares were obtained is withheld. There will be no change in the management of the drug company but Mr. Whelan and his associates will be given representation on the directorate.

FIND THEIR TRACTS WHOLLY UNDERWATER

On Complaint of Buyers, Officials of Florida Land Company Are Indicted.

Kansas City, Nov. 20.—Eight officials and agents of the Florida Fruit Lands company were indicted by the federal grand jury here this afternoon on a charge of conspiracy to use the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of one hundred and eighty thousand acres of land in various states. Some of the purchasers said their tracts were entirely under water and could not be reached save by the use of boats.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The Florida Fruit Lands company case has come before the department of justice several times. The state government did have under consideration in 1911 a scheme to purchase the Everglades, but when the company procured its lands the covenant with the state declared that no burden lay upon the state to drain the lands. They have not been drained.

TRANSACTIONS IN STOCKS SMALLEST IN MONTHS; PRICES GO STILL LOWER.

New York, Nov. 20.—Prices on the stock exchange today broke to a lower level. Nothing occurred to arouse the market from its lethargy, and trading continued to be of abnormally small proportions. The day's total was the smallest of months.

The coppers responded to the easier tendency of the metal markets here and abroad. Offerings were reported to have been made in Europe on the basis of 15 1/2 cents, and while the larger producers are quoting 15 1/2 cents in the domestic market some sales are said to have been made at a lower rate.

Gloomy reports came from the steel trade, most attention being paid to statements that foreign manufacturers are becoming more aggressive in their campaign for business in this country.

Grain Prices at Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Fair business in winter wheat for export helped the December option today, but the May closed unchanged. Final prices were: December wheat, 86 1/2¢ to 86 3/4¢; May, 90 1/2¢; December corn, 71 1/4¢ to 71 1/2¢; May, 70 1/2¢ to 71 1/4¢; standard oats, 40 1/2¢ to 41 1/2¢.

TELEPHONE MAN TELLS OF TRUST ATTEMPT TO ABSORB THE INDEPENDENTS

Chicago, Nov. 20.—An attempt by the American Telephone & Telegraph company to absorb independents with an appraised value of four hundred million dollars was made a year and a half ago, according to B. G. Hubbell, president of the Federal Telephone & Telegraph company, of Buffalo, who testified here today for the government in its prosecution of the American company on charges of violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Mr. Hubbell asserted that Theodore N. Vail, president of the Western Union Telegraph company and a director of the American company, and H. P. Davison, a member of J. P. Morgan & Co., tried to engineer the huge deal. To begin with, according to Mr. Hubbell, there was declared with the American Telephone company a trust providing that the alleged trust should not take over any of the independents until an appraisal of the various companies had been made. Less than two months after this arrangement, said Mr. Hubbell, the American took over secretly the Kansas City Telephone company, and nothing further was done toward effecting the merger.

CONSERVATION CONGRESS WANTS WATERPOWER RIGHTS RETAINED FOR THE PUBLIC.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Monopolistic control of water power in private hands was denounced, with the declaration that no water power rights owned by the public ever should be removed from public ownership, by the National Conservation congress, which adjourned late today.

The climax of the water power fight came after the committee on resolutions to which had been referred divergent reports from the waterways committee, submitted that the matter had been taken from its hands by action of the convention yesterday in adopting general principles upon which all the waterways committee agreed. No mention of the majority or minority reports, which differed as to state and federal control of water power projects, was made in the resolutions committee's report to the convention.

The congress elected Charles L. Park of Lakewood, N. J., as president to succeed himself.

PUGILIST EDWARD HAGEN IS PUT OUT IN 7TH ROUND BY BATTLING LEVINSKY.

New York, Nov. 20.—Ed Hagen, the latest seeker for the heavyweight championship, was knocked out in the seventh round of a ten-round bout with Battling Levinsky, the Philadelphia light-heavyweight, here tonight. Gumboat Smith was to have been Hagen's opponent, but a damaged eye received in his recent fight with Sam Langford caused Smith to withdraw and Levinsky was substituted to meet the man from the North-west. Levinsky weighed 170 pounds, while Hagen was sixteen and one-half pounds heavier.

"SEPTEMBER MORN" SHOWER FOR JUDGE BEN LINDSAY.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 20.—Judge Ben B. Lindsay is overstocked with "September Morns." When complaints were made that merchants were selling pictures of undraped women, the judge announced he considered "September Morn" a work of art, instead of an insult to refined people, and incidentally said he would place such a picture, if he had one, framed in his court room. They came by the score.

BADGERS WILL GIVE MAROONS HARD FIGHT

More Than a Thousand Rooters to Accompany Gridiron Idols to Stagg's Town.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 20.—The last scrimmage of the year was held yesterday at Camp Randall in preparation for the Chicago game. Today the men left for the Windy city, where on Saturday they will battle for the premier honors of the western conference.

The men were reported in the pink of condition. The only ailing member of the squad, Captain Landberg, is again in form, and will give a good account of himself. Full of fighting spirit, and pumped full to the brim with football knowledge, the men went at their work last night as though they were facing Stagg's men, instead of the scrubs.

The Badgers are drilled to a high point of perfection, and if Chicago triumphs, as their supporters haven't the slightest doubt, it will be because the Chicago team is perfect. Nothing less than perfection will be able to sweep away this new creation of Juneau.

ALIENISTS' VERDICT THAT MRS. CLAUSSEN IS INSANE IS SUBMITTED TO COURT.

New York, Nov. 20.—In a report submitted to the court of general sessions today, Mrs. Ida von Claussen, who in 1906 threatened to sue President Roosevelt for $1,000,000 for not having her presented at the court of the king of Sweden, was declared to be mentally deficient.

The report was that of a commission of alienists, whose findings already had been made known and which today was formally presented so that Mrs. von Claussen might contact it if she wished. At present she is under indictment for sending a threatening letter to Charles Strauss, an attorney. Her counsel today asked and was granted a continuance, both as to the indictment and the insanity report.

On April 3, last, the indictment alleges, Mrs. von Claussen wrote a letter to Attorney Strauss, threatening to shoot him if he did not obtain for her a valid decree of divorce. Mrs. von Claussen contended that at the time of her arrest several weeks ago, shortly after her return from abroad, she had been prevented from marrying a millionaire while in Europe, because of a faulty divorce decree.

YES, HE'S SOME SMOKER.

Connecticut Boy, Aged Three, Puffs Up Three Cigars Daily.

Winsted, Ct., Nov. 20.—John Lippe, Jr., three years, son of John Lippe of Waterbury, has been smoking three cigars a day for two years without visible effect on his constitution. He also smokes cigars and a pipe. The boy seems to take delight in inhaling the smoke and will block one nostril and blow the smoke out of the other. His mother says when the boy is with her in the business section he stops in front of every tobacco store they come to and cries for the cigars he sees in the window. The boy's father is an inveterate smoker.

ON INCOMES.

Incomes are now being taxed. It is, therefore, desirable that something should be known about them. An income is anything which you cannot live upon expressed in terms of lawful money. Lawful money is anything which will be accepted by the members of a state legislature, or a police captain, or your wife. Incomes were created for two purposes; to lie about and to live beyond. Many people who will not have to pay any are complaining to their friends and neighbors about the way they are oppressed by the income tax. This is one of those natural phenomena which no scientist has been able to explain.

Incomes vary in size according to how many people have worked for you in the past or are working for you at present. No income is without honor somewhere, except in the family it is vainly attempting to support. Here it is generally despised and looked down upon.

An income tax is an effort on the part of the government to make you feel that you are wealthy. Also to support the government in its main business in life, namely, living beyond its income.

NORTHWESTERN MEN HESITATE TO CHANGE

ANGELINE DRIFTS BEING WORKED OUT

Thirty Men Laid Off, Because Ore on Which They Worked Petered Out.

Railroad Employees Offered Places on the New Division Taking Time to Decide.

But few of the engineers, firemen and conductors of the Peninsula division of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, who were a short time ago notified that they might take places on the new Peoria division have decided to make a change.

Among those who has given notice that he will accept a train out of Peoria on the new division is Hugh Lyons, who has been pulling both freight and ore trains out of Ishpeming for some years past. Mr. Lyons' wife was formerly Miss Nora Tobin, sister of James Tobin, of this city. He does not expect to leave for the new division until spring.

The Peoria division penetrates a new country, but the officials believe that in time it will be one of the most important on the system. A large acreage of farming lands can be bought at reasonable prices, and several new towns are to be laid out.

The upper peninsula employees of the Northwestern system will keep close track of the developments between now and spring, and if conditions on the new division look as favorable to them as they do now some will make a change. Several of the older engineers on the Peninsula division will be retired in a comparatively short time, making places for the younger men. Some of the engineers called on this division have served for more than a quarter century.

Working conditions on the Peninsula division were never more favorable than at present. The company has some of its best equipment in use, and its shops are in excellent order. The roadbeds are also in fine condition.

"There has been a wonderful change for the better on the Peninsula division in the past few years," one of the company's old employees said yesterday. "We now have fine rolling stock, with good plows to fight snow storms. I cannot recall a time when the trainmen on the Peninsula division were as well satisfied as they are now, and I doubt if many of the men called to the new division will go there. Most of them are married and have families in Escanaba. If they left it would be months before they would be as comfortably located as they are now, but their chances for promotion would be better and they would perhaps make a little more money."

OLD RESIDENT PASSES.

Magnus Otto Bryngelson, an old and well known resident of Ishpeming, died Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Peter A. Carlson, 741 Empire street. The deceased had been ailing since early last spring and his death was not unexpected. He was eighty-eight years old and came to Ishpeming in 1886. Two sons, who live in Minnesota, and two daughters, Mrs. Peter A. Carlson and Mrs. Louisa Nelson, of this city, survive him. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon with services at the Swedish Mission church at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Anderson.

and the opening hall is being arranged by them. A number of Masons from Ishpeming and Negaunee will be present.

MANY DEER KILLED.

Ishpeming Men Hunted in Same Vicinity With Many Lower Michigan Men.

Steve Simons, Dan Spencer and Cornell Steffens have returned from a ten day's trip at McRae, a station on the Escanaba & Lake Superior railway, where they hunted in company with six Menominee men. The party got eleven deer, Messers Simons and Spencer cash getting two.

A member of the party yesterday said that in the district where they hunted there were between 200 and 300 lower Michigan men, most of whom lived in tents along the railroad track. Deer were hung up at every camp. One train arriving at Channing this week had aboard fifty deer, consigned to lower Michigan points.

ORE SHIPMENTS LIGHT.

Storm Caused a Set Back in Ore Movement from Mines.

The ore shipping season will soon end, at least as far as Ishpeming mines are concerned. The movement has been falling off lately. The yards were blocked for several days following the recent storm, and this caused shipments to slack up.

The shipments over the Northwestern line from Ishpeming mines have been light all season, as most of the tonnage is handled by the South Shore and Lake Superior & Ishpeming lines. The Northwestern ore traffic from this district originates principally on the Cascade and Swanzy ranges. The Northwestern is handling the greater part of the ore from the Menominee range, but the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul line is now entering into competition with it at most of the Menominee properties.

The greater part of the ore that comprised the cargo of the Henry B. Smith came from the Republic Iron & Steel company's Hartford mine in Negaunee. A duplicate of this shipment is now being loaded by the South Shore company.

Why a Man Should Insure

A man's wife is dependent upon him for support. Support means money. Few men save much; they are in danger of losing what they do save, which is followed by an early death leaves no estate for the wife's support. A few dollars paid now for life insurance means several thousand dollars when it is most needed.

Children need support, money, shelter, food and clothing, as well as the wife, but children need more—an education—one that takes years and much money to get; the education they would get if their father lived. Insurance of a sufficient amount will assure the wife and children all the necessities of life, and some of the luxuries and an education.

A man's first creditors are his wife and children, next his father and mother. Business, however, does not recognize love and devotion, but demands dollars for dollars. A man should insure heavily enough to—

Pay off all debts, taxes and mortgages, and have enough left to support his wife for life and his children to maturity.

No man need do more than that—but none can do less and die with his face to the light. No man dies twice; if he could he would be heavily insured the second time. The poorer a man may be, the greater the need of insurance. The rich man needs insurance to protect his estate. It's not a man's fault if he dies. It is man's fault if he dies and his death means a loss to those who trusted him and a burden for his friends to bear.

Two weeks ago William D. Hill of Iron River went on a hunting trip and as a result of running several slivers in his hand he is suffering from a severe attack of blood poisoning. This week his youngest daughter, just recovering from a long siege of illness, fell out of a chair and out in her forehead a severe gash which necessitated the physician taking seven stitches.

Mayor Advocates Garbage Collection.

That the Soo might be provided with a system whereby the garbage of the city could be readily taken care of was the line along which Mayor Handy addressed the council. "I think," declared Mayor Handy, "the city ought to have a system whereby it could let somebody have a contract to look after the garbage. This should be collected from every building at least once every week. The cost should become a general charge, the same as the refuse on the streets. For the disposal of garbage is just as necessary to the public health as cleaning the streets. I would be in favor of passing an ordinance for eating for garbage either by laying the city take care of the matter or by letting the job by contract. There is only one way to establish a thoroughly sanitary system and that is to make garbage collection a general charge against the city. Sanitation is as important as education." The council deferred action on the proposition.

It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

Playing Ball in Philippines.

Ernest Burke of Escanaba has received from Nat Hynes former outfielder of the Marquette baseball team, a card sent from Manila, Philippine Islands. "Nat" is holding down a central field position on the Manila team of the island league. The league is composed of four clubs—Army, Navy, All-Philippine and Manila. Besides playing baseball Hynes is teaching athletics in the Manila public schools. The card was written by Mr. Burke just a month or two days before it arrived at Escanaba.

New Depot Is Assured.

A communication from officials of the St. Paul railroad in regard to the proposed new passenger station in that city was received by the Iron Mountain council this week. According to the fire ordinances, the company could not build as planned. The building is to be one story high and if kept within the regulations would be an eyesore instead of an ornament. The walls would have to extend through the roof and the company did not feel like building such a structure. The officials stated that if they were not allowed to build as planned, it would probably be a year or more before the building could be completed. The council voted unanimously to accept the plans.

Fined for Playing on Sunday.

As they were at the depot, ready to leave the city, Paul Herrick and John Russell, actor at the Star theater, were arrested at the Soo by Deputy Dennis Sayers under a civil warrant, charged with violating the state law in regard to Sunday shows. The hearing was held in justice court before Judge Runnels. Attorney M. M. Larnmont acted for the defendants, and Prosecuting Attorney Thomas J. Green in behalf of the people. The court heard the evidence from several witnesses who had attended the performance and decided that the two men were guilty of violation of the law. Judge Runnels fixed the fines in each case at $1, with costs amounting to $4.50. In imposing the fines, Judge Runnels stated that the maximum fine as defined by law was $5, but owing to the fact that this was the first case of the kind in the Soo court he would be lenient.

SEARCH FOR LOST HUNTER STARTED

Woods Near Northland Being Scoured in Hope of Finding Trace of Wm. Terry.

A large party of searchers left Northland, in the southern part of Marquette county, early yesterday morning to look for William Terry, of Kalamazoo, Mich., who has been missing since Sunday from a hunting camp three miles north of Northland. The men will make a thorough search of the county where the missing hunter was last known to be alive, but little hope is held for finding Terry either alive or dead, as the father of the young man and others have found no trace whatever of him. An organized search of the territory has taken the tracks of the Escanaba and Lake Superior railway and the Escanaba river, will be continued for three days.

Health Officer Makes Complaint.

Dr. Cruse, health officer of Iron Mountain, made a complaint to the council this week in regard to the way that meat has been handled in the city. It is said that a quarter of beef can often be seen at the stations, with little protection. A dog can chew on it or it is allowed to get dirty, and then if not properly washed there is danger of disease. Dr. Cruse also spoke in condemnation of ice cutting at Crystal and Mud lakes, into both of which sewers empty. Besides, last year, nearly all of the city garbage was dumped into Mud lake. The doctor said that if something was not done to prevent ice dealers from cutting ice from these lakes, he would take the matter before the state board of health.

Sparrow Bounty Soon.

Village clerks and other registrars are looking forward almost with dread to the commencement of the sparrow bounty season, which continues through the months of December, January and February. In compliance with the state law, a bounty of two cents a head is paid on all sparrows killed in the state. The law provides the boy or other person shall present the heads to the nearest village or township clerk, who will issue a certificate to the hunter which will be replaced with an order for the bounty when presented to the township clerk. It is the handling and destroying of the birds that is so distasteful to the village clerks, and aside from that, the bounty law is unpopular, for it is felt it has a tendency to cultivate cruelty among the boys. The youngsters are warned, however, that the law provides a penalty for the unlawful killing of song birds.

Will Make Cycle Cars.

The Dudley Tool company of Menominee has decided to engage in the manufacture of cycle cars. The car will have four wheels, two seats, a motor of about 380 pounds and will retail for about $385. It will be equipped with a thirteen-horsepower engine and a two-cycle motor. The wheel base will be ninety-six inches. The engine used in the new car will be imported, but all the rest of the parts will be made in Menominee. The company expects to turn out from five hundred to one thousand cars this coming winter. The officers of the company are: Henry Tiedeman, president; J. H. Tiedeman, vice president; W. J. Tiedeman, secretary, and A. Gruenewald, treasurer. It was made known to deliver cars about Jan. 1. One of the completed cars has been traveling about the streets of the two cities for several days.

Indians to Play "Hiawatha."

In company with Thomas F. Mahoney, director of exhibits of the United States land show to be held in Chicago, eighteen Indians from the Soo and ten from Garden River left for the Windy City, where they will carry on rehearsals for the play "Hiawatha." Two Indians joined the party at Trout Lake and six more at Petoskey. The play will be put on in a large open air amphitheatre constructed for the purpose. Said Mr. Mahoney: "We have gone so far as to take trees from this vicinity to be used in the production. It will be a forest scene, with running water and all of the various other settings. We have spent $3,000 on this one show and have given it wide publicity in 250 of the leading papers about Chicago. Western Michigan will open the exhibit. There will be large displays from nearly every state in the Union. The purpose is to bring the city people and agricultural people together."

The program will include piano solo by William Collins, Victrola music, and a current topic, "The Panama Canal," by E. Flannery.

Pittsburg Wires, Safe Arrival of Art Treasure at Madrid.

Pittsburg, Nov. 20.—A cablegram to Mrs. W. J. Holland has notified her of the safe arrival in Madrid of Director Holland, who is presenting to King Alfonso and the Spanish people a plaster cast of the diplocom.

At the last moment a hitch in the ceremonies was caused by the discovery that the 100-foot lizard was too long to be housed in the Madrid museum. It will be placed in the engineers' college.

The creature, however, is said to suggest admirably a fine example for a double inclined plane a real engineering factor.

DON'T TRUST CALOMEL

Thousands Experience Bad After Effects from This Dangerous Drug.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute Is Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a laxative and liver tonic in a combination of vegetable materials mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers. He distrusts of the uncertain drug eventually started him years ago, towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he has been for several years in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little, sugar-coated, olive-colored tablet.

The result of seventeen years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets. They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, and their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients, as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

PORTUGAL ON VERGE OF NEW REVOLUTION

Republic Pronounced a Gigantic Failure After 3 Years' Trial—People Discontented.

Lisbon, Nov. 20.—After three years' trial the republic of Portugal may be set down as a gigantic failure. The recent royalist attempt failed for lack of proper organization and support, but the affairs of the republic are drifting in other national crises, in which syndicalists, monarchists and opportunist politicians of varying strength will contend for supremacy, and the condition of Portugal may be much worse before it is better.

After a lapse of three years there is a disconcerted disarray in the affairs of the republic. The republic was an ambitious and unpopular government, floundering in a maze of intricate and bewildering legislation; prisons more crowded with political suspects than they ever were in the time of Franco the Dictator; a depleted treasury despite a carefully manipulated "surplus"; troubled emigration, deep factional intrigues, and behind everything, the shadow of that malevolent secret society, the Carbonari, which seals the lips of the people through fear, and makes the bomb a factor in practical politics.

The first republican cabinet of poets, philosophers and professors has vanished with its Utopian visions, and the provisional president has taken a tram back into obscurity—a shattered idol, accompanied by his umbrella of state.

Instead we have the "one-man government" of Dr. Alfonso Costa, who is content to dominate affairs with the modest title of premier, and it is this government, under the nominal presidency of Senator Arriga, that is trying to withstand royalist intrigues from without and republican counter plots from within.

One Party Starting Up Bombs.

The men who conspired together to make the republic are now arrayed against each other in the guise of hostile political parties, the more names of which mean nothing to the outside world. One such party, with Syndicalism as its cornerstone, is aving to anarchy in suburban cellars, against the day when its incendiaries will again attempt to overthrow the government and plunge the country into anarchy.

Another party of so-called "Evolutionists"—less violent in character—is equally active in trying to undo the Costa regime for its own ends.

Then there are the monarchists, watching the internal struggles of the republic with grim satisfaction, and hoping to profit by the chaos they expect will follow when their enemies wage open war on each other.

Much of the responsibility for republican disaffection and party strife rests with Alfonso Costa and his chosen friends. His relentless treatment of enemies and disregard of former allies, his oppressive financial schemes and overbearing personal ambition have combined to weaken the republic and caused anti-monarchists of three years ago to plot treason against the new flag they helped to raise.

His extreme measures against the church and his priests have antagonized many who began by supporting his policy of disarming the monks in suburban schools. The government has contrived new taxes, and the cost of living, already excessive, is rising higher and higher.

These facts contribute to the unpopularity of a regime which promised better things than the Brazagnans ever gave the people. For nothing else will come out, doubtly enough for a sign that these promises were to be redeemed.

Patience is now well-nigh exhausted. No relief can be expected from a government which rules by terror, so the government trembles on the verge of the melting pot. When it tumbles in, no man can foresee what will come next, whether another republic, a dry-cleaned and renovated monarchy, or a syndicalist nightmare following a general holocaust.

The syndicalists are in themselves a far greater danger to the republic than the monarchists. Formerly the supporters of Costa, they now hate him and all his works. Premature disclosures of their plot to bring down the government a few months ago by the simple expedient of first blowing it up filled the prisons with them. Since that time they have worked without ceasing for a sweeping revenge.

Machado Santos, the revolutionary hero, who is in sympathy with them, has declared in his newspaper, Intransigente, that "the government must go." Machado Santos is very popular with the navy. He was a paymaster when the revolution hoisted him into a niche among the night-over-night heroes, and the syndicalists look for the navy's support in their next campaign.

They are trying to solidify the working classes by adroitly explaining that the harder struggle for existence is due to the "bandit-plutoocrats" now in office.

Incredible as it may seem, a working alliance between syndicalists and monarchists is seriously discussed, even favored by some leaders on both sides. Syndicalists know that the army is strongly royalist again, and that the monarchist exchequer would likewise be of valuable assistance in their next revolt.

Some monarchists have declared their belief that the syndicalists would be willing to accept "moderate and reasonable recompense" for their services in helping to restore the monarchy. One of them added cynically, "Anyhow, let the syndicalists open the dance; afterwards we can select the music."

Syndicalist leaders themselves have no illusions about monarchist pledges, but they think it possible to control the situation after utilizing the monarchists to help to turn out the present government. The secret attitude of these two factions towards each other is characteristic of all factions. No man trusts his neighbor.

Alone, the monarchists seem incapable of accomplishing a coup d'etat. They plot day and night, it is true, for they have no other occupation. They talk exhaustively in shuttered drawing rooms, in groups of fewer than five, and in cafes across the frontier, but they lack a leader with powers of organization. Their conspiracies have been half-hearted and abortive. The personality of their king apparently does not inspire them deeply.

The working classes in Lisbon and Oporto—even those who will cheer for the republic—are becoming more and more discontented because of the rise in food prices. Bread, potatoes, oil and dried fish, the necessities of life, all cost more than they did three years ago.

In the provinces, the illiterate peasants who are unable to follow the mysteries of government at Lisbon, but who realize that it is costing them much more to keep body and soul together, are selling their homes and going abroad to start afresh.

Three times as many people will leave Portugal this year (nearly all from the land) as left last year. In order to escape the prohibitive emigration tax which is imposed for the purpose of keeping them in the country, they are fleeing from this land of liberty like fugitive criminals.

It is understood that the Homestead Mining company for the current year will show mining profits equal to $13 per share. Reductions for construction and other charges will reduce the divisible net to between $10 and $11 per share.

WILL RECEIVE MORE AWARDS

Marquette County to Get Allowance from State on Marquette-Green Garden Road, Which Is Part of Trunk Highway—Some State Money Is Already Paid.

Development to West Is Held Up for Present by Inability of Baraga County to Agree on the Program of Development—Some Surveying in the East.

Some time in January the Marquette county road commission expects to receive additional awards from the state, amounting to something over $2,000, for the construction of the Marquette-Green Garden macadam highway. The county was given the usual awards on this road following its completion, and the added amount to be received is allotted because it has been incorporated in the system of trunk highways provided for by the last legislature. Already the county has received the additional awards on the Marquette-Negaunee highway, something over $3,000, paid over the latter part of the summer.

The concrete bridge over the Pesseche river, for which Powell & Mitchell have the contract from the state, is another highway improvement in Marquette county being provided by the state because its highway funds have been incorporated in the proposed upper peninsula trunk line system. This bridge will be 240 feet in length and if the county had to build it at its own expense its cost would make a considerable hole in the appropriation for road betterment. The county will also get a state award on the three miles of road being constructed between Michigan and Champion when it is brought up to the state requirements, and it will be possible to obtain additional awards east of the city by properly surfacing with gravel, or other specified material, the road east of Green Garden that has been graded this year and will be further improved next year.

State Law Names Route.
The trunk highway between Escanaba and the western limit of Marquette highway is definitely specified in the state law providing for the proposed system of public roads. It is the highway from Escanaba to Wells, from Wells to Tenary, from Tenary to Carlsland and from Carlsland to Marquette by way of Skandia and Green Garden. This route was recommended by the state officials by the routing commissions of Marquette, Alger and Delta counties, and met with their approval. Marquette county has a macadam road as far as Green Garden, and the past season has been grading the dirt road from Green Garden to Yalmat. The appropriation for next year is for grading as far as the junction with the Duke's crossing road.

Beyond this no provision for work in Marquette county has been made at this time, but Alger has undertaken considerable work this side of Tenary and Delta county has undertaken to improve its part of the proposed highway. In the course of a few years there is no doubt that there will be a road of standard width, well graded and ditched, from Marquette to Escanaba. When completed it will represent a long and desirable link in the trunk highway. It will prove much of a handicap in carrying on the work, but it is one of the objective points to which the road commissions of the three counties are working.

Baraga Lies Behind.
West from Marquette the proposed trunk highway will extend to the county line near Michigan and it will ultimately be continued on to the copper country through Baraga county.

At this time Baraga county is the greatest obstacle in the way of opening up good highways between Marquette and Houghton counties. The stumbling block has been one of the stubborn opinions in the county as to just what should be done. Until the situation is ironed out there, not much progress can be made in connecting up Marquette and Houghton counties with good automobile roads.

The disinclination of Baraga county to move is particularly irksome to Houghton county residents, as until the missing links in Baraga county are supplied the automobile drivers in that district will not be able to take the route by way of Marquette county. Marquette, within a few seasons, will have a fine highway all the way to its line. An ironwood paper asserted in a recent issue that only next year there will be a fine system of highways between the north end of Lake Gogebic and Marquette, but V. S. Hilyer, the Marquette county road superintendent, last evening said he was unable to see how this could be possible, unless some miracle is performed within a few months, as Marquette county is now shut off from the west by the lack of good roads in Baraga county, and there can be no telling when they will be supplied.

Surveys to the East.
In connection with the state highway system, surveys have been undertaken in the eastern counties of the upper peninsula, but it will likely require some years' work before there will be a good trunk road in that direction, as the counties are comparatively small and have nowhere near the resources in wealth boasted by the counties of Marquette, Delta, Dickinson, Menominee and Iron, which have been foremost in good roads work in this part of the peninsula. Schoolcraft county has built some good roads, but much work remains to be done there and in Mackinac. The Escanaba-St. Ignace section of the proposed state trunk road will traverse Delta, Schoolcraft and Mackinac counties.

Marquette commissioners and people generally in this county, however, are more interested in the opening of the road to the west than they are in the prospective developments to the east. The establishing of good highways between this county and Houghton is the most important road development to be looked forward to in the upper peninsula in the next few years.

The Old Charter Has Been Condemned. Shall the New Be Adopted?

History shows that to obtain greater political freedom it has always been necessary to fight entrenched interests. In those fights it has been the rule for the opponents of reform to cry: "Let existing conditions alone! Do not try experiments!" It is not surprising, therefore, that there are those who declare for the old charter and oppose the new. The old charter has been condemned by the people of the city, who have voted emphatically in favor of its revision. By revision a better charter is sought. There has been formulated a new charter that is fundamentally different from the old, in that it declares for what is known as "commission government."

The fate of the new charter should depend upon whether the people are willing to try the "commission" form of government, rather than retain the old condemned form. The questions to be considered are: Is the new charter an advance? May government under it be more economical and efficient? These questions will be discussed by us in a series of short daily articles.

"BUCK" LAW GAVE GOOD RESULTS

Conservation Commission Pleased With Its Operation in State of New York.
Failure of the attempt to procure the approval of the last legislature for a "buck" law has not dimmed the interest of the men who insist that Michigan will have to have such a law if its deer hunting is to be preserved, and who see in it a measure that would greatly decrease the number of accidents in the woods. They intend to do what they can to make converts to the plan, and will seek every opportunity to urge their views on Michigan hunters and legislators.

One of their number hands The Mining Journal the following Albany, N. Y., dispatch showing the results that have been obtained in New York, where a buck law was recently placed on the statute books: "With the close of the deer season tonight the conservation commission announced that although nineteen hunters and guides had been killed in New York this fall only five had met death while hunting deer. Of these two had been mistaken for deer. The commission attributed the comparatively small loss of life to the enforcement of the recently passed 'buck' law which it characterizes as 'not only a great protection to the deer but also a gratifying conservator of human life.' This buck law requires a hunter to take no deer except those having horns three inches long. This requirement makes hunters shoot carefully, the statement says. 'That the passage of a 'buck' law would greatly increase the difficulty of a successful deer hunt in Michigan there can be no doubt.' The Marquette sportsmen admitted, 'but in every populous state where there is any deer hunting left they have had to come to it, and we will have to come to it in Michigan. Each year the timber reserves are being more and more opened up and the encroachments of settlers on the forests are constantly driving the deer into restricted areas. We will soon have to protect the deer to save the deer. To move serious mistake in connection with the Michigan game laws was ever made than the fixing of the October season effective last year. The slaughter of deer was excessive. The restoration of the November 10-20 season was worked considerable improvement, but too many deer are still being killed. They withstand the ravages of the wolves and the increased annual hunting, the deer must breed prolifically and to make this possible the deer must be saved. 'All sportsmen who have a desire to save hunting in the upper peninsula forests over a long period of years should look up for themselves the gratifying results in preserving the deer and the comparative freedom from accidents suffered by the buck law in other states. An accident they will be considerably impressed and will be inclined to help the agitation for a buck law in Michigan.'

VIOLATORS ARRESTED.

One Had Brook Trout and the Other Hunted Without a License.
Near Dorsey this week Game Warden E. D. Mosher, of Marquette, and Jay Marks, of Muskegon, arrested two lower state hunters, George W. Millard and Cecil Thorsby, of Genesee county. Millard had brook trout taken out of season in his possession. The fish were found packed to a board hidden under a table in the party's tent, some of them weighing as much as a pound. Thorsby had killed the two deer to which he is entitled under the law and so had exhausted his license, but he was found following a trap line with his rifle in hand, ready to knock over another deer if he managed to get a good shot. Fines amounting to $15 each were imposed. The fines were made somewhat smaller than usual for the reason that the men were short of funds and it was desired to leave them enough money to get home with.

FLAYS CRITICISMS BLIZZARD BREEDS

Counsel for the Lake Carriers' Association Scores Censure of Boat Men.

"It is unfair to criticize anyone, even including the weather bureau, for a condition of things unprecedented in the history of the lakes and not likely to occur again." In these words, Harvey D. Goulder, counsel for the Lake Carriers' association and an authority on lake marine, explained the views of vessel owners on the Great Lakes, regarding the storm of Nov. 9, which claimed nineteen ships and 260 sailors. Goulder further said: "It is most unfortunate that men who have no direct knowledge of the business, as well as men who may have some interest to serve, should criticize vessel owners in connection with the recent cyclonic storm on the Great Lakes. 'Every important fleet on the lakes holds its meetings in winter and so far from any bonus being offered for hazardous work, a thing that never was heard of, every effort is made to impress upon everybody that the owners are for 'safety first' in everything about navigation and operation of the ships. 'This has been going on for years and newspapers have many times published accounts of such meetings in which this is the prime object. 'I can perhaps best quote a brief extract from a letter written by me to you as recently as Sept. 18 of this year in reiteration of this idea: 'Do not overload your vessel. See to it that you always have an abundance of fuel on board. Be careful that your hatches are properly secured and your ship is seaworthy before leaving port, even though you might suffer some delay doing so. Remember, I am relying upon your judgment as to when to seek shelter. 'The safety of the lives and property intrusted to your care must be your first consideration. See that you have oil bags and a supply of sea oil on hand for full weather. 'I want to caution the masters of all our vessels, particularly the smaller steamers and barges, not to overload them. Keep your boat at all times so that she will have plenty of buoyancy for the fall gales. 'It is unnecessary to go further than this extract to express the actual spirit and the real true feeling and effort of the managers of our lake vessels. 'While there may exist more or less rivalry, there is no reason to doubt that the masters of the ships have become deeply imbued with the spirit and it is thoughtless and unfair not to understand that the lake masters rank high in their profession comparable with any in the world, and it is unfair to criticize anyone, even including the weather bureau for a condition of things unprecedented in the history of the lakes and not likely to occur again. 'As well might someone or anybody be criticized for the earthquake and fire at San Francisco. 'The whole must be summed up in this, that it is one of those awful things which occasionally happens and about which it is not just to criticize. 'In some of our conversations of dividends and that because the vessels are insured the owner or the master is indifferent to safety and that the season is protracted for gain as against safety denotes ignorance and is untrue. 'A large percentage of the ships go uninsured either wholly or in part and here at the headquarters of the lake business, where accurate information is so accessible and shows that this calamity came well within the ordinary sequence of navigation, it is cruelly unjust to make caustic comments.'"

BISHOP BURT IN CITY.

Was Guest of Honor at Dinner at M. E. Church Last Evening.
Bishop Burt, one of the leading divines of the Methodist church, who is paying his first visit to the upper peninsula, was the guest of honor at a dinner at the church parlor last evening that was attended by a large gathering of the members. Following the dinner there were brief exercises. Rev. Smith, the pastor, called on Rev. Marvin, the moderator of the district, who spoke briefly on the necessity of bringing enthusiastic interest and inspiration to the work of the church. Bishop Burt's talk on the work of the Methodist church in Europe consisted in large part of highly interesting reminiscences of royalties he had met and seen. His talk was greatly enjoyed. In connection with the bishop's visit to the hospital it was decided an operation was urgent. Intestinal paralysis developed and caused his death.

AN EXCELLENT ACT.

Ergott's Lilliputians a Vaudeville Turn of Highest Class.
One of the best vaudeville acts that has been shown at the Marquette opera house since it was opened for popular entertainment began a three nights' engagement last evening before two enthusiastic crowds. It is Ergott's Lilliputians, a team of a man and two midgets, in finished athletic thrillers, with a sensational finale. The Lilliputians are the most finished pair of acrobats that have ever been seen in Marquette, either in opera house or under canvas. Their work is so wonderfully developed that it is difficult to see how it could be improved upon or made more strikingly to show the wonderful things that can be accomplished in developing the possibilities of

UNITED STATES FAR IN THE REAR

Secretary Daniels Deprecates Lagging of This Nation in Contest of Air.
but a small sun, would mean the ship's safety. The dirigible balloon likewise will play as important a part in naval warfare as the aeroplane, and possibly will have a greater effect on naval strategy and tactics. United States Poorly Equipped. "The United States army has seven, teen machines, with a total personnel of twenty-four officers. Seven more machines are in sight. There is at present no definite organization, and no plan of co-operation between the army and navy. The latter possesses only four hydroplanes and three flying boats, though it is proposed to buy three more. "The war aeroplane and war airship are today recognized and proved engines of war by leading nations of the earth. In practice, our recognition is little more than theoretical. Scouting and information in land operations is being given over to the aeroplane and the lighter dirigible, and scouting, information and mining in sea operations is being given over to the hydroplane and larger dirigibles, while the large and armed rigid dirigible, capable of carrying several tons of explosive and making long sustained flights is designed both for scouting and for making offensive attacks on ships, arsenals, docks, etc. An army or fleet of the present day operating in war without an efficient air service against one with such service, it has been aptly said, would be like a blind man fighting another of equal power with all his faculties. "It is true that the United States occupies a position differing materially from European nations bordering on each other or separated by narrow waters easily patrolled by air craft. And therefore we have not been forced by the pressure of an immediate danger to meet the progress of possible enemies. This is no doubt the reason we have lagged behind other nations in developing and utilizing our own gift to the world. Our scrupulous efforts to avoid all entangling alliances, makes it less probable that we will be involved in the wars of the future, if there are any; nevertheless, we may not forget that with the Panama canal as well as our coast fortifications to be protected not only from attack by land and water, but also from the air, steps must be taken to train a sufficient and efficient naval air service able to cope with the best air fleets of the world. If a time of crisis or sudden national peril were to come upon us now, the service of the aviation reserve would be beyond estimate. I am one of those who believe in this future, and wish suitable assistance from congress, to bring aeroplanes in my service abreast of the important position it holds in the various navies of the world. "What Europe Is Doing. "The United States produced the first aeroplane and the first hydro-aeroplane, and European nations eagerly grasped at the chance to utilize them in their armies and navies. "France has led in the development and use of heavier than air machines and has a larger aerial war fleet than any other nation. She is said to have now 600 aeroplanes, 900 aviators, twelve dirigible balloons and 400 balloon pilots. One authority says she will spend next year $7,500,000 on military flying. Another authority states that the military grant in 1912 was about $4,600,000; while a national subscription of about $900,000 was raised, in addition, which has already supplied seventy-two aeroplanes, with ninety-eight more to come before this year is ended. "France has, for the most part, relied upon her aeroplane service for scouting, mining and the command of the air by the destruction of a possible enemy's air craft, though she has nineteen dirigibles with five more building. "German's Battle-Airships. "While France was devoting her genius to perfection of the heavier-than-air craft, Germany, at enormous cost in men and money, took the lead in the development of the lighter-than-air machine. The latest model of battle-airship in the German navy has a speed of 43.7 knots per hour, carries a useful load of 14,000 pounds and, with crew and ballast, can carry fuel enough for thirty hours at full speed and go 1,371 knots; or at half power for sixty hours; at thirty-six knots, and go 2,100 knots. The ship is armed with two one-
