CAUGHT 'EM BY SURPRISE.

One of the interesting sidelights on President Wilson's recommendation of national primaries for the choice of candidates for the presidential nominations is the fact that again he has advanced so far ahead of his party that while there have been introduced, both by the Republicans and Progressives, bills dealing with this proposed extension of the primary system, no measure embodying it has yet been proposed by a Democrat.

But, like the well trained and responsive Democrats they are getting to be those of them who had previously recorded themselves in favor of national primaries are lifting their voices high in praise, and those of them who have heretofore been unable to see any wisdom in the proposed innovation are vying with one another to see which can take the jackknives with the least outward appearance of embarrassment.

Nor was the ally by Mr. Wilson into the Progressive camp for the presidential primary plank the only excursion he made with the purpose of carrying off the platform paraphernalia which the Progressives used with excellent effect, and entire sincerity, in the campaign last year.

THE PLAN IN DULUTH.

Discussing reports that the commission plan had been a disappointment in Duluth, and that there was general regret there that it had been adopted, the Herald recently entered emphatic denial. "The machinery of government is not an end, but a means; commission government is not a cure-all, but an implement; and it is superior to the old plan only because it is a better tool," this newspaper asserts.

"The commission plan, or any other plan, will fail where the people neglect their public duties. There is, and can be, no scheme of government that is foolproof. But the people of a community can do more under the commission plan than they can under any other form of government; and if it fails it will be for the reason that the people have failed, or because the people have elected men incapable of grasping the opportunities that the plan offers them."

The Herald remarks that in Duluth the commission has been able to deal with moral problems with an efficiency that could never have been obtained under the old form of government. It remarks that such dissatisfaction as exists with the commission arises from the fact that it has given largely of its attention to such problems, somewhat to the neglect of the business side.

In many cities commission government has for a time been handicapped by avoidable mistakes that were not unnatural, considering the sweeping changes that its introduction has involved. These mistakes have certain general characteristics and are now so well understood that there is little excuse for their repetition.

In the primary in Saginaw this week the men who secured the passage of the commission charter had things pretty much their own way. The Saginaw mayor provides that if a candidate for mayor receives a majority of the votes cast for that office in the primary, he is elected without further formality.

an engineer and a University of Michigan man, was given a vote of 4,778 as against 3,017 for Tausend, the former mayor, and 340 for a candidate named Craue. Tausend opposed the new charter and was generally supported by the men who fought it, yet his vote was some 300 under that polled against the commission plan a few weeks ago.

Speaker Clark says that if the primary choice had been followed in the Baltimore convention he would have been elected president. He might also have been elected president if prior to that same historic occasion he had not apparently been possessed of the idea that he could hunker-mugger with both the reactionaries and the progressives, and get away with it.

Neither T. R. nor any of the lesser Progressives will have any quarrel with the proposal of presidential primaries. If they had such primaries in 1912, they would have had their way in the political developments of the year. Nor will the Republicans combat the innovation, for if there had been presidential primaries in 1912 there would have been no party split, and like as not they would have remained in the saddle at Washington.

Incidentally, it may be remarked, the kind of a start Marquette will make with city administration under the commission plan will have much to do with the fate of the commission charters that are to be voted on in Negaunee and Escanaba after the first of the year.

The Detroit Free Press is unable to feel pleased even with the English the President employs in his latest message, insisting that it has lost its crispness and vitality and shows that the president has become very tired.

The parcel post will have much work to do this month. The public will help it to carry its burden satisfactorily by seeing that a good share of the Christmas business is out of the way in the middle of the month.

Recent developments at Washington have aroused the interest of Michigan Democrats in patronage matters to a new high pitch. And incidentally they are making many of the men who fought the progressive fight in the Democratic party tired, and very restless.

With moose in Schoolcraft and prairie chickens in Dickinson it appears that the game resources of the upper peninsula may, with a little care, become more varied than they have ever been in the past.

As for the state's view of the activities of the candidates for governor it is one of the distinct weariness that they should have precipitated this contest at such an early date.

A meteorological problem that is vexing many minds—Are we now enjoying last spring or next summer?

Villa expects to eat his Christmas dinner in the capital. But it will be remembered that there was once a British general who expected to eat a Christmas dinner in Pretoria, and didn't. The unexpected contributes the most color to warfare.

We are now in the very height of the season for doing Christmas shopping early.

A LAUGH OR TWO

Work for the Whistler. "James," said the efficiency expert, annoyed by the cheerful habit which his chauffeur had of whistling while at work, "you should remember that the greatest fortunes nowadays are made from the by-products of waste. Hereafter when you whistle while in the tires and save me the expense of a pump."—Harper's Weekly.

Fine Land. "Fine piece of land out here!" said the dusty, shrewd-looking man, as he descended from his automobile outside the farmer's house.

"You're right there," replied the farmer, eagerly. "It's the best to be found in the country."

"But too high a figure for a poor man, I reckon," cried the stranger.

"It's worth every penny of $50 an acre," answered the farmer, with an eye to business. "Were you thinking of settling and buying these parts?"

"Hardly," murmured the stranger, making some notes in a book. "I'm the new tax assessor."

Short Week. The Goodleys once had a parrot. Of course, it was a perfectly respectable bird, occasionally, but on Sunday evenings when Mr. Saintry naps his regular visits, it was deemed advisable to cover Polly with a cloth.

Recently, however, Mr. Saintry took advantage of a half holiday and made an extra call on Wednesday. As he was unbuttoning his coat, he was suddenly thrown the cloth over his eyes.

Greetings were then ensued the usual awkward pause, which was broken by a squeak from the covered cage.

"Well, I'll be overgladly blessed," said Polly, "this has been a thundering short week."

What Pa Thought. Conversation hung fire badly. There were several matters which the young man wished to discuss—one in particular—somehow he could not muster the necessary courage, and the silence became really painful.

"I was speaking with your father last night," he said at last, somewhat inaudibly.

"Oh, were you?" answered the sweet young thing, lowering her eyes. "Er—what were you—talking about?"

Remedy Used By Three Generations

Mothers Who Took It When Children Now Giving It to Their Children.

WM. ROSWELL TAYLOR

There must be genuine merit to an article that has stood the test of two generations of use.

In the field of medicine none has had greater success, nor retained that success to a greater degree, than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is now being used by three generations of people.

It is a medicine, but so mild and gentle a medicine that thousands of mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet, in a slightly larger dose, it is equally effective for grown-ups.

It is pleasant to the taste and does not grip. It can be used with safety and good results by anyone at any age or in any condition of health.

Thousands of families throughout the country are never without Syrup Pepsin in the house, among them Mrs. W. A. Taylor, 717 Lincoln Ave., Beloit, Wis.

By W. A. ROSS, Deputy.

ONE ON THE TOWNSPEOPLE.

The late Charles E. Brookfield, the English play censor, who is being referred to as the "last of the wits," was a great practical joker, and his jokes, like his wit, were often at the expense of some other person.

When Mr. Brookfield was an undergraduate at Cambridge, Mr. Weston made a walking tour through England, his exploit being widely known in the press.

On the day on which Weston was due to arrive in Cambridge, Brookfield and a party of undergraduates perpetrated an elaborate hoax on the townspeople.

One of the young men made himself up to look exactly like Weston in his walking costume and the others dressed up as trainer, doctor, timekeeper, newspaper reporters, etc. This outfit appeared on the streets of Cambridge while the crowd were waiting to see the real Weston and the eager folks were completely taken in.

When Brookfield's own words, "when at 5:30 a shabby, exhausted man appeared, covered with dust, the public wouldn't have him at any price," he was hoisted and made a target for missiles, being regarded as a charlatan.

PIONEER'S DEMISE COMES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Caroline Schwimien Drops Dead at Home in Marquette Township.

Mrs. Caroline Schwimien, aged sixty-nine years, one of Marquette county's pioneer residents, dropped dead at her home in Marquette township shortly after 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. She had shown no indications of illness during the two weeks past, and her health had always been the best. Heart failure was the cause of her sudden passing.

Mrs. Schwimien had visited town Wednesday afternoon, and had done some shopping, returning to her home at the farm in Marquette township at about 5 o'clock. She did not complain of illness to any of the members of the family and ate her supper, at 6 o'clock, as usual. On leaving the table, she seated herself in a chair in an adjoining room, and within a few minutes passed away suddenly. The only indication of any illness Mrs. Schwimien suffered a sinking spell, but recovered in a short time. Although she was of advanced age, Mrs. Schwimien was active and was a frequent visitor in Marquette.

Her husband, who owns a farm three miles west of the city, survives her, also several sisters and brothers. They are Mrs. Mary Fassbender, who lives at the farm; Mrs. Anton Wickert, of Marquette; Dan Weiland, Marquette; August Weiland, Rice Lake, Wis.; and two sisters and several brothers in Germany. There are three grandchildren, Francis Fassbender, Caroline and Fred Wickert.

Mrs. Schwimien has been a resident of Marquette county for nearly fifty years, she and her husband having come to the United States from their native home in Germany. During the greater part of her residence in this country she lived in Marquette township, at the farm.

A number of relatives from outside points will be here for the funeral, which will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home. Rev. William Koepke, pastor of the German Lutheran church, will conduct the service. Interment will be in Park cemetery.

NEW YORKERS TO PLEAD FOR WALDO

Mayor-Elect Mitchel Is Urged to Retain Police Commissioner in Office.

New York, Dec. 4.—When Mayor-elect Mitchel gets back from Panama he won't find any lack of advice as to whom he shall appoint police commissioner. Max Neuburger, a dealer in furs at 149 Fifth avenue, is going to see that Mr. Mitchel has the advice on this point of as many thousand merchants as he can get to agree with him that Commissioner Waldo is the best man in town to succeed himself.

Mr. Neuburger said he already had 5,000 signatures to the petition and that he expected to get many thousands more before Mr. Mitchel came back. He is busy sending out letters and petition blanks to swell the chorus of Waldo adherents.

Just a Personal Move.

"This is purely a personal movement, started on my part," said Mr. Neuburger. "I don't represent any organized movement or any association. My desire to see Mr. Waldo continued in his job comes entirely from my belief, based on my own experiences with him and the men under him, that he is doing good work in putting the department on an honest, dignified basis."

When asked as to what he thought of the condition of the department brought about by the Rosenthal scandal and the cases growing out of it, and of Mr. Waldo's attitude toward the investigation of the police at the time, he said:

"I believe that Mr. Waldo did have something put over on him, but it can't happen again. He knows the job now. And then, during the investigation, he was certainly held down by Mayor Gaynor. He could not do anything except under Mr. Gaynor's orders."

"A new man in his place might be fooled the same as he was, but give Mr. Waldo free rein and I have all kinds of faith in him."

In his circular Mr. Neuburger says: "In all fairness to Commissioner Waldo I will add that he is not in any way personally responsible for this movement in his behalf."

"The great fusion victory of November 4 is still in our minds," his petition begins. "We are about to enter a new era of municipal government. The high type of men elected assures New York a sound business administration. In line with this, the enclosed petition is self-explanatory."

What Petition Says.

The petition, which is addressed to Mr. Mitchel, after congratulating him on his election, reads:

"We urgently petition you in the selection of a police commissioner to take into consideration Rhineland Waldo, Esq., whose present administration of the office, has been marked by tremendous improvements in the general efficiency of our police department and who instilled into the 'army' comprising the police force, as well as a feeling of loyalty to the municipality of New York."

"To make a change in the commission now would surely weaken the magnificent and comparatively new structure, quite exclusive of the fact that it would retard and possibly nullify the completion of additional plans for setting the new high standard of efficiency in the police department."

FUTURE MRS. ASTOR WON'T LIVE IN CITY

Miss Huntington Insisted on a Country Residence Before She Said "Yes" to Suitor.

New York, Dec. 4.—Miss Helen Dinsmore Huntington, twenty years of age, and the fiancée of the "richest bachelor" in the world—Vincent Astor—who when she becomes Mrs. Astor will be in line to become ruler of Manhattan's "400," declines this much-sought-for position in the world of fashion and riches. And she cares so little for the life of the city—"with its nerve racking round of pleasure and social 'duties'"—that she has set her foot down firmly and sharply and the son of the gallant Astor, who bravely met death on the Titanic, has heeded the tap of his fiancée's slippers, her ultimatum, and given up his New York residence.

"I will marry you," the young girl is said to have told Astor, "but upon one condition—that you live in the country. I would never live in the city; I love the country, my dogs, motoring, tennis, the summer in the woods and the winter with its snows and cold, and never so long as we live would I care to be away from the things I love—and if—"

"I will give it up, move into the country and we will be happy," hastily answered Astor, and the match was made. Vincent Astor is twenty-two years of age. He is a modest, retiring young man despite his $65,000,000, his hotels, his many homes, theaters, apartment and tenement houses. Grim business-scarred trustees manage his vast estate. But the bride-to-be is not penniless, for she is the granddaughter of the late William B. Dinsmore, multi-millionaire, and her mother is well known in New York, Newport and Tuxedo.

So the couple will make their home at Fernelife, the Astor estate on the Hudson, and the young millionaire will make his home into a modern Utopia, so far as labor conditions go, at the request of his bride-to-be.

BRAVE WOMAN HELPS FIGHT ARMED ROBBERS

Men at Van Fleet, N. J., Bursted in on Family and Demanded Railroad's Money.

New York, Dec. 4.—Wm. T. Van Fleet, station agent of the Central railroad of New Jersey at Enderne, N. J., two miles east of Somerville, who with his wife and two small children occupies living apartments above the station, was at dinner with the family when two men burst into the room. One of them had a revolver and, leveling it at the station agent, ordered him to turn over the money in his possession.

Before going to dinner Van Fleet had taken $500 from the ticket office and placed it under the stairs leading to the dining room.

The station agent is a wiry, athletic young man. He leaped from the table and seized the man with the revolver. A struggle followed. Van Fleet attempted to wrest the revolver from the robber and, failing, tried to turn the barrel of the weapon on him. Suddenly he seized the man by the throat and choked him till he fell, breathless and exhausted.

He could have got the revolver then had not the second man, who had been standing over Mrs. Van Fleet and the children, gone to his companion's assistance and with a blackjack beat the station agent half insensible.

Mrs. Van Fleet attacked the second man, the children lending what aid they could. The woman fought desperately and was holding her own with the thief when a third man entered the room. He waved a long knife and threatened to kill the mother and her children. To save the children Mrs. Van Fleet drew back.

Van Fleet was regaining his strength and was about to get to his feet. The man with the knife leaped forward and drew the keen knife blade across his hands, cutting them severely. Then he held the knife close to Van Fleet's throat.

The man with the revolver, who had been choked and mauled by Van Fleet, got his breath and stood up. He placed the revolver against Van Fleet's temple and said:

"Now, where's that money hidden?" He threatened to shoot unless Van Fleet spoke and the man with the knife threatened death to Mrs. Van Fleet and the children.

Although it was plain the robbers did not mean to kill Van Fleet until they learned the hiding place of the money, he feared they would harm his wife and children and, with the revolver still against his head, he led the way under the stairs.

The men took a drawer which held the money and rushed out. The drawer was found later in a contractor's hut near the station.

STRIPLING OF TWENTY TO ACT AS MANAGER

Edward Morris, Jr., Chosen as General Director of Big Packing Industry.

Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—Edward Morris Jr., second son of the late Edward Morris, elected vice president and general manager of the great packing firm of Morris & Co., has taken up his duties.

Thus the younger son, and not his older brother, Nelson Swift Morris, succeeds his father and becomes the first of the third generation of Chicago packers in active control of the great concern. He is only twenty, but for the past few years he has been actively engaged in learning the details of the packing business, the most intricate, and yet the most interesting, business in the world, under the direction of his father.

Edward Morris is young, just over twenty, but he has a refreshing capacity for hard work and a faculty that is his own for grasping the detail of a big problem. He has worked very hard in the two years that have passed since his graduation from the Chicago Latin school. And in that time he mastered a vast amount of the details. His work has been chiefly in the buying and selling branches, and he has never flinched when the work involved disagreeable trips into the uninviting parts of the yards—no matter how bad the weather or how unpleasant the hazards.

It is the first instance in the history of Chicago that the management of one of the great packing houses has descended to the third generation. Out at the great yards, where he is a familiar figure to his men, they call him "Young Ed," they are repeating stories of his friendly, gracious manner, and swearing by his personal prowess.

For, like his father, Edward started to work for the company as a boy, and in a minor capacity. For the last two years he has been engaged in buying hogs, cattle and sheep, and similar work, where he came cheek and jaw with the men. His father left him $3,000,000, but that, apparently, hasn't worried him much nor bothered his health. He has been too busy. And now he's going to be busier still, because he has come into his big job.

He is a good sportsman. He can ride any horse in the yards, and he can drive a far ball on the links. He goes on fishing trips every summer. His shooting is not exceptional, but always hard and clean. He has lived outdoors nearly all his life, in company with his uncles, Charles H. and Harold Swift, for he is a grandson of Mrs. Gustavus Swift.

ORDINANCE IS TO BE REVISED

Requirements for Electric Wiring Will Be Made Less Drastic Than First Proposed.

The council Wednesday evening passed for the time the proposed ordinances regulating electric wiring and the storage of calcium carbide in the city limits. Drafts of the ordinance relating to the inspection of electric wiring had been sent to the aldermen, and City Recorder Olds is now preparing copies of the carbide ordinance.

The aldermen, it is said, are not satisfied with some of the proposed regulations for electric wiring. For one they object to giving the inspector power to compel property owners to rewire buildings that have not been wired according to the underwriters' code. This, the aldermen say, might result in unnecessary expense for many property owners. The aldermen favor an ordinance requiring a high standard of work in the future, but they do not favor compelling property owners to rewire their buildings unless their wires are in a dangerous condition.

It was thought that the proposed ordinance would be presented Wednesday night but following the discussion prior to the session it was decided to pass it for the time.

The officers recently elected by the Ishpeming fire department were approved by the aldermen.

On recommendation of the committee on water works the request of Mrs. Maret Foscoe, who petitioned to be exempted from the payment of water taxes, was denied.

SUBMITTED TO OPERATION.

Mrs. Andrew Sandberg, who has been in Chicago for the past month or so visiting her son, Charles Sandberg, and family, last Monday submitted to an operation at Augustana hospital, which was performed by Dr. Ochsner. It was a complete success. Ed F. Sandberg, her son, who is also in Chicago, has informed friends here that his mother will probably be able to leave the hospital in about three weeks.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barker, 718 Michigan street, have the sympathy of their many friends in the loss of their only child, Margaret, aged eight years, who died suddenly Wednesday afternoon. The child was out a short time before she passed away. She had been ailing for about three weeks, but had not been confined to the house. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Grace Episcopal church. Services will be conducted by Rev. C. G. Zeigler, the rector.

DEATH OF MRS. PETERSON.

Mrs. Albert Peterson, residing on East North street, who had been a sufferer for a year past from heart trouble, died yesterday afternoon, after having been in a precarious condition for several weeks. The deceased was reared in Ishpeming and was well known here. She was thirty-one years of age and is survived by her husband and one son, who is eight years old. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with services at the house, conducted by Rev. Hill, pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran church.

CROAKING EGGS.

That young unhatched crocodiles utter an audible croaking cry within the eggs in which they are laid is averred by Knowledge, and it adds the cry is so loud and distinct that it can be heard when the eggs are buried under one or two yards of sand.

Dr. W. A. Lamborn has recently tested the fact at Lagos, on the West African coast. He heard a croaking noise from below a dry path and, digging in the path to investigate the cause, he discovered 13 crocodile's eggs at a depth of about 18 inches. All the young crocodiles hatched out within half an hour of being dug up.

So far back as 1899 Dr. Voeltzkow noticed that unhatched Madagascar crocodiles uttered a cry from the egg at a depth of two yards and that any shock, as of a heavy tread near the egg, caused the baby crocodiles to produce this sound "with the mouth closed, as we produce hiccough sounds." In this way they inform the female crocodile when she visits the nest, that they want her aid, whereupon she scrapes the sand away and they emerge.

FORMER RESIDENT PASSES IN BUTTE

Word Received Yesterday of the Death of Michael Wall, Who Was Born in This City.

Patrick Cronin, the financial secretary of Ishpeming division, Ancient Order of Hibernians, yesterday received a telegram informing him of the death in Butte, Mont., of Michael Wall, a former well-known resident of this city. No particulars as to the cause of his death were given, but it is believed that he died suddenly, as friends here who received letters from members of his family early in the week were not informed that he had been ill.

Mr. Wall left here with his brother-in-law, Matthew Dennison, and his family, about ten years ago, and had since resided continuously in Butte. He was born in Ishpeming fifty-two years ago, and spent all of his life here until he departed for the West.

For twenty years or more before leaving Ishpeming, Mr. Wall was in the employ of the Oliver Iron Mining company as engineer and fireman, and at Butte he worked as an engineer at a mine of which his cousin is superintendent. He had many friends in Ishpeming.

Besides the Hibernians, the deceased was a member of St. John's court, Catholic Order of Foresters. He is survived by his mother and Mrs. Dennison is his only sister. It is believed that the funeral will be held in Butte.

EAGLES ELECT OFFICERS.

Wednesday evening Ishpeming aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Past President—Arvid Swanson. President—Julius M. Egan. Vice President—Julius Tislov. Chaplain—Ed H. Adams. Secretary—A. A. Bjurman. Treasurer—Charles A. Sandberg. Conductor—Martin Selsback. Inside Guard—Alfred Laparich. Outside Guard—M. I. Kultula. Trustee—W. H. Beckerleg, Ingval Oien and Thomas Quimlan. The installation will take place in January.

SPECIAL PICTURE TONIGHT.

A special Kalem two part drama, "Breaking Into The Big League," will be shown in tonight's pictures at Ishpeming theater. Other pictures will be "The Kiss of Retribution," a Vitagraph drama; "A Jungle of Flirtation," a Pathplay comedy, and "Fahiti, the Picturesque," Pathplay travel. Charles DeFur and Lillian Estes are presenting the vaudeville act the last half of the week.

MANY FOREIGNERS LEAVE.

Natives of European Countries Are Going Home for Christmas.

H. S. Waltermier, traveling passenger agent for the Erie Railway system, who was in Ishpeming yesterday, said that the passenger traffic on the Erie lines has been exceptionally heavy the past few weeks, due largely to the large number of foreign born people who are departing for the old country, to spend the holidays. The exodus from the Northwest is the heaviest in several years.

A few days ago the Erie company ran a special train out of Chicago for New York, carrying 245 passengers who sailed yesterday for foreign shores. Most of them were Finns and Italians.

The Ishpeming foreign ticket agents yesterday received notices from the management of some of the boat lines not to book any more passengers out of New York for boats leaving up to and including the 9th, as all of them had been booked to their capacity.

Comparatively few foreigners are now coming to this country, but it is expected that they will begin to return in January.

REMOVING TILE.

The tile floor in the entrance to the city hall was removed yesterday and will be replaced, temporarily, with concrete. The foundation of the tile had sunk nearly two inches, and the officials were afraid that some person might stumble at the entrance, and fall down the steps. New tiling, with a foundation that will extend down to solid ground will be put in next summer.

PYTHIANS FROM MARQUETTE.

Five members from Zenith lodge, Knights of Pythias, attended a meeting of the Marquette lodge Wednesday evening, and invited the Marquette members to attend the fair in Braaster's Hall. Accordingly a party of Marquette men came up by special train last evening. They were hospitably received and spent a few hours at the fair.

WEATHER CUTS DOWN EARNINGS

Open Fall Sets Back Timber Movement and Railroads Have Little Coal to Haul.

Railroad officials in the Northwest report that the mild weather is having the effect of seriously decreasing traffic. So far no timber has been hauled from the lumbering districts, as until there is snow the timber cannot be brought to the sidings. As a rule, timber shipments are fairly well advanced at this time of the year.

The fine weather has also decreased the demand for coal and other fuel, and the reports for the railroads in the northwest show a falling off in the coal movement of several thousand cars, as compared with former years.

The Upper Peninsula railroads have not yet started to handle timber from the lumber camps, but it is said that a great quantity has been cut and will be hauled as soon as there is good sleighing. Many railroads now have much idle rolling stock, whereas usually there is a shortage at this time of the year. The shortage becomes more acute as the winter advances, and the heaviest demand for cars for the lumber trade occurs in January and February.

It is expected that the movement of timber from the district south of here will be exceptionally heavy as soon as there is good sleighing.

C. L. Kennedy, an official of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company is quoted as follows: "It is the quietest season that I remember. The timber movement is practically nothing at all, while the coal movement is away behind the tonnage of the last year. Not only that, but the weather seems to have affected other lines. Business in general is very quiet."

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

A. A. Miller, of Calumet, was here yesterday.

Captain Charles Champion, of Beacon, was a visitor in the city yesterday.

Twenty-eight births and seven deaths occurred in Ishpeming in November.

Alex Noall, master mechanic of the American mine, was here yesterday.

Mrs. Alfred Lean, 655 Park street, has a bed of pansies in bloom in her yard.

W. F. Kerwin, of Menominee, attended to business in the city yesterday.

C. H. O'Rourke, of Ontonagon, was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Mrs. W. H. Johnston entertained the members of the Bridge-Whist club Wednesday afternoon.

W. H. Johnston and Captain F. E. Keese, of the Oliver Iron Mining company, spent yesterday in Duluth on business for the corporation.

Hubert Raiskey, son of F. H. Raiskey, who left a few weeks ago for Duluth, has been taken down with typhoid fever, and is confined to a Duluth hospital.

Births recorded in the city yesterday were a son to Mr. and Mrs. Isaac F. Johnson, 709 Morris street and a son to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Swanson, 627 North Third street.

Einar Salminen, who has the contract for improvements at Dr. Henry Holm's hospital, Division street, has finished the laundry room and has started on the new operating room.

The employees of the Oliver Iron Mining company will receive their wages for the last half of November, as follows: Stegmiller mine, Swanzy range, Friday, the 12th.; Superior mines, Saturday, the 13th.; and Queen mines, Negaunee, the 15th.

The officers of the Young Men's Christian association last month began keeping a record of the members using the gymnasium. The showing for November was exceptionally good, 1,544 members having either attended classes or played in games.

Members of the Literary class of the Ishpeming high school will this evening present a comedy, "The Lamentable Tragedy of Julius Caesar." In addition to the playlet, several musical numbers will be given. The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock and the admission will be fifteen cents.

The members of the Girls' Literary society have prepared artistic posters for their entertainment, to be given this evening at the high school. The tickets, which are fifteen cents, can be obtained from the members of the society. The program will consist of a Swedish dialect recitation, music, dancing, and a comedy sketch, a take-off on "Julius Caesar."

Treblelock Bros. are making several improvements in the basement under John Penglass's business block, Main street. A new concrete floor is being laid, and new pillars and partitions are being put in.

Because of the growing interest in volleyball, and to save time for the members, the officers of the Y. M. C. A. have decided to divide the 4 o'clock Business Men's class into two teams. A record of the scores will be kept until the close of the season, when the winners may offer their apologies to the losers. The teams will be:

No. 1—Rev. Allen, Bronson, Johnson, Needham, Neimi, Goodney, Rev. Haller and Robbins.

No. 2—Moss, Cansfield, Thompson, Townsend, Oakley, Swanson, Skogberg and Hendrickson.

Upper Peninsula

Has Never Had Accident.

The Keweenaw Central railroad, which closed this week for the winter, has never had an accident of any sort and no person has ever received an injury on one of its trains. This is considered a remarkable record for any road, no matter how small, and the officials of the line are proud of it.

$5,000 Bond Issue Election Carries.

A special election was held in Wakefield on Monday to decide the proposition of bonding the village in the sum of $5,000 for the purpose of purchasing a distributing plant to furnish the village with electric light. The plan was carried by a vote of eighty-two to sixty. It is understood that the village will own the equipment, but will purchase the power from the Gogebic & Iron Railway & Lighting company.

Miners Returning to Copper Region.

A party of thirty-one English-speaking miners, who left this region for the iron country when the strike started four months ago, returned to Hancock yesterday and have taken positions at the Quincy mine, reports the Hancock Journal. Yesterday they had their first experience with the new eight-hour schedule and were pleasantly impressed with the fact that miners in their street clothes were seen on Quincy street at 5:30 o'clock.

Man's Skeleton Is Found.

A skeleton found by woodsmen near the I. Stephenson company's camp 14 in Dickinson county is believed to be all that is left of the body of Gust Gustafson, a woodsman who disappeared from the camp a year ago. When Gustafson was reported missing searching parties scoured the woods for several days, but found no trace of the man. It is believed the unfortunate man either died suddenly from an affected heart or met death by accident.

Praises the Good Will Farm.

P. N. Peterson, county agent, returned to the city yesterday, after taking Goldie Wood, an eight-year-old neglected girl of North Escanaba, to the Good Will Farm at Houghton, says the Escanaba Press. This was Mr. Peterson's first visit to the peninsula's home for dependent children and he is enthusiastic over the work accomplished there. "The atmosphere that surrounds that place is that of the real home," said Mr. Peterson. "The farm is now caring for twenty-eight children. All those of proper age are attending school and are being provided with every influence that will develop them into men and women of strong character."

Council Still Deadlocked.

The Iron Mountain Tribune says: The lighting question is just the same. The city council last evening did not accomplish anything in this respect. The two factions are tied and it is impossible to do anything. Several motions and amendments were made and they were won or lost according to which side they favored. A mathematician figured out that the question would be decided in fifty-two years, six months and three days. Lights are needed in various parts of the city, and from the looks of things they will be needed for some time to come. In the meantime, all that we can hope is that there will not be a total eclipse of the moon.

Council Votes City Engineer a Trip.

A split in the Soo common council occurred this week when a vote was taken on the question of sending City Engineer Mellberg to the Good Roads congress which will be held in Philadelphia from Dec. 9 to 12. Alderman Connolly moved that the engineer be allowed an amount not exceeding $150 for his expenses to attend the meeting. The motion was seconded by Alderman Armstrong. Acting Mayor Purvis asserted that he did not think the condition of the city treasury warranted the expense. When the ballot was taken, those who voted in favor of sending the engineer Fined for Selling Moose Meat.

One of the Sault Ste. Marie men was arraigned before Judge Runnels the other day and assessed a fine of $10 and costs for selling moose meat which had been brought from the Canadian Soo. The moose is among the protected game in Michigan, but its sale is permitted across the river. The Soo dealer was not aware that he was violating the law.

Youthful Hunter Shot Himself.

With his right arm in a steel plate, John Casey, the ten-year-old son of Thomas Casey, of Dick, Mich., lies in the Soo hospital as a result of an accident suffered while he was hunting with an elder brother, near his home. The two were walking in the woods when the trigger of the shotgun which the younger boy was carrying became caught in some twigs and was discharged, the contents of the gun lodging in the lad's right arm just above the elbow. The physician reports that the boy is doing nicely and thinks he will recover without the amputation of his arm, although the tissues are badly torn and lacerated.

Shot a Snowy-Barred Owl.

Emil Tolonen, bookkeeper at the First National bank of Hancock, is considered fortunate by his fellow sportsmen and friends. He is the owner of a large snowy-barred owl which he shot near Ontonagon last week. The bird, which is a rare species in this part of the country, is a large creature. It measures five feet from tip to tip of its wings. This species of owl lives mainly in the northern part of the northern hemisphere, north of the United States, but migrates as far south as us during the winter months. They are usually found along the shores of the great lakes or at some large river.

He Died from Pneumonia.

The late John M. Drake, Jr., superintendent of the Bennett mine at Hibbing, died following a short illness from pneumonia. A graduate of the Michigan College of Mines at Houghton, Mr. Drake went to Hibbing nearly five years ago. He remained then but a short time, returning this spring from Ironwood, Mich., where he had been employed by the Oliver Iron Mining company. Upon his arrival at Hibbing this year he was placed in charge of the Bennett property, operated by the Meridian Iron company. The present location was built up and the ore mined and shipped under his supervision. Mr. Drake was about thirty years old. His widow and an infant survive. His father and several brothers live in Portland, Ore. The body was sent this week to Houghton, the home town of Mrs. Drake.

Banks Little Affected by Strike.

The showing made by the banks of Houghton county in their latest statements is deemed significant. It would naturally be expected that after a strike of the proportions of that of the copper miners had been in progress six months there would be an aggregate shrinkage of many millions of dollars in the totals of the banks. As compared with the statements of June last, however, there is a shrinkage of less than a million dollars. This showing is considered evidence of the fact that the mines are working good forces of men and that the strikers are losing. On June 4 the aggregate resources of the banks of Houghton county totaled $19,098,000, and on Oct. 21 the aggregate was $18,108,000. The deposits dropped from $15,019,000 to $14,017,500. The totals are well above those of a year ago.

Ex-Official Is Summoned.

Charles Lefebvre, Sr., a resident of Escanaba for the last twenty-five years and one of the city's best known French Canadian citizens, passed away this week, after an illness of but four days with pneumonia. Mr. Lefebvre became ill with a cold on Thanksgiving day. He considered evidence of the fact that the illness, but on Sunday pneumonia developed. For many years Mr. Lefebvre was a prominent figure in political circles of the city. He served as a member of the city council for four years and for a number of years was street commissioner. For the past few years he had been engaged in driving the stage and carrying mail between Escanaba and Ford River. It was while following his regular work that he contracted the cold which resulted in his death. Mr. Lefebvre was born in Canada and went to Escanaba twenty-five years ago. He was sixty-four years of age. He is survived by two sons and two daughters, all of whom reside in Escanaba and are: Charles Lefebvre, Jr., Mrs. Nellie Merlier, Joseph Lefebvre and Miss Edith Lefebvre.

FUR PROTECTS ANKLES.
Does Work That Silk Stocking and Pumps Can't Do.

New York, Dec. 4.—Wearing fur around her ankles was the concession made recently to chilly winds by one fashionably dressed woman, who evidently found the blasts of winter too severe for her thin stockings and pumps. Instantly feminine minds grasped the possibilities. They began to make combinations of cobwebby stockings with the varied fashionable furs. Sets of purple hosiery with amber colored fur, white stockings with black fur anklets or black with ermine bands, ermine with anklets or chinchilla or squirrel have become the fad.

SANTA FE RAILROAD SAVES MUCH MONEY FROM WASTE.

Kansas City, Dec. 4.—The Atchinson, Topeka & Santa Fe has proved that there's millions saving pennies. The wastes of a big railroad corporation have a lot to do with the dividends on the stock, for whatever waste is saved and sold is just that much profit for the company and its owners.

Even the sawdust and shavings of the railroad shops are saved and used either for packing ice or for heating the furnaces.

The clothes and cotton waste used in wiping the machinery are saved and used for starting the fires in locomotive furnaces.

Tons and tons of waste paper are collected in all the little railway stations, and when there is a big pile it is sold to paper houses.

Said Henry Lautz, assistant to the general manager for the Atchinson, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad:

"We don't know just how much of a saving is made every year by these little waste accumulations, but it amounts to thousands of dollars and tons every year."

"The accumulations of ordinary iron and steel scrap on the Santa Fe system exceeds 50,000 tons a year. About half of it is available for use after being worked."

"All the sawdust that accumulates in the various shops is saved. What is needed is used for packing ice for shipment and the rest is burned in the furnaces in the shops, thus cutting down the coal bills. In the Topeka shops alone the sawdust and shavings exceed a carload each day, so it makes no small item in the fuel bill."

"Waste paper is one of the big items of savings for every company. In the Topeka offices the waste paper gathered up by the porters and baled amounts to about a ton each day."

"A few months ago the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad sent out a notice to all its employees asking them to use one additional inch of each lead pencil before it was thrown away, and the company said that this would mean a saving of $4,000 a year."

CARNIVAL NEXT WEEK AT THE GUILD HALL

Women of St. Paul's Are Making Arrangements for a Two Days' Entertainment.

The women of the guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church are making preparations for a carnival and entertainment to be given in Guild Hall Thursday and Friday, Dec. 11 and 12. The carnival will be one of the most extensive the guild has yet undertaken. Plans for the two days' entertainment are well advanced. Mrs. Charles Hild is in charge of the general arrangements; Mrs. D. F. Charlton will have supervision of the entertainment features on the first floor of the building, and Mrs. Morgan Jopling will have charge of the carnival on the second floor.

The carnival will be conducted during the evenings of both days and on Thursday afternoon the guild will hold its annual sale. There will be dancing in the assembly hall both evenings, this to be interspersed with vaudeville sketches, all of which will be original. Several of these have already been rehearsed under the direction of Mrs. Charlton. The "civens" will be held in the gymnasium on the second floor. Augmenting it will be a number of side shows, featuring high-class attractions. Numerous booths, in which all manner of sweets will be on sale, will be distributed throughout the building. These will be under the direction of Mrs. John Mangum.

In many respects the carnival will be similar to that conducted by the guild several years ago. The vaudeville sketches will be put on by the best home talent. During the two days of the carnival the entire building and its equipment will be open to the guests of the guild. The swimming pool will be available at all times. The bowling alleys will be open, and the pool and billiard tables may be used.

The women of the guild will conduct their annual sale Thursday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. Tea and sandwiches will be served during the afternoon. Fancy articles will be on display, as will artistic calendars containing Marquette views. There will also be a table of rare antiques.

POINTS A MORAL.

Journal Finds Lesson for Detroit in Marquette's Action.

Commenting editorially on the adoption of commission government here the Detroit Journal says:

"The men of Marquette have voted for a new charter bringing the commission form of government. This is the first city of the upper peninsula to adopt the new mechanism."

"The charter was carried, as usual, over the heads of many objecting politicians. In fact, the Marquette Chronicle remarks:

"Perhaps some voted for the new charter because of antipathy against the present city officials."

And to the same purpose the Daily Mining Journal says:

"The voters of Marquette Saturday demanded a larger measure of business in the conduct of city affairs. As politics has been one of the principal obstacles in the way of business administration in Marquette, by the same token they demanded that they hear less of piffing politics in the future."

The opposition to the new charter was quite formidable in appearance. It not only included some political politicians. It was aided by the very able criticisms of City Attorney Brown. Mr. Brown declared he was not opposed to direct primaries or to the commission form of government, but he found serious fault with the charter as formulated.

There was an intellectual as well as a political opposition to the new system, and yet the people of Marquette overwhelmed both.

The new charter of Detroit is not nearly so novel as that of Marquette. Marquette has a radical change in city government. A mere modification is proposed for Detroit. Yet Detroit's progressive citizens must contend with a bitter reactionary spirit among the politicians. They will fight as hard or harder than the Marquette opponents of commission government.

The reason is that the new charter, by its non-partisan ballot, does away with "piffing politics."

But in Marquette and Saginaw and all the other cities which have adopted progressive charters, the people voted for progress. A long line of Michigan cities have stepped out ahead of Detroit under the home rule act. Marquette now steps out with them, and Detroit is still to make her decision.

Is there any doubt of what that decision should be? Is there any doubt of what it will be? Shall not Detroit also take her place among the twentieth

HOPE TO REUNITE TITLED PAIR.

Friends of Marlborough and Wife Expect to See Them Start Life Anew.

London, Dec. 4.—It is learned from a high authority that as soon as certain matters can be arranged without attracting too much notoriety, the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough will start their lives anew and resume together their recognized position in society.

Public indications are not lacking to support this and lead to the inference that the serious differences that caused the duke and duchess unofficially to dissolve matrimonial partnership several years ago, are being bridged over.

The reconciliation of the most popular duchess in all England and her husband is something for which friends of the couple at court have hoped for years. Queen Mary has tried to bring it about. She has used all the arts of diplomacy for two reasons, because she is particularly fond of the duchess and because of the pair's children.

A third reason for the reconciliation is the keen anxiety of the duke to be included in the next Tory cabinet. This is practically impossible under the present condition of his matrimonial affairs.

The recent opposition of the duke to Lloyd George's land reform plans, together with his obvious desire to enter public life, has marked him for an important post in the next Conservative government. He has been mentioned as possible secretary for the colonies or board of agriculture.

Municipal Orders Will Draw Interest.

According to a decision by City Attorney H. J. Rushton, the city of Escanaba is at the end of its money-borrowing power. The city is unable to secure additional loans through the present month, but at the next council session it will probably be necessary for the aldermen to authorize the mayor and city clerk to issue orders bearing 6 per cent until funds are placed at the disposal of the municipality to meet its obligations. Attorney Rushton held that it would be unlawful for the city to negotiate further loans from the banks on its general credit and offered as the solution of the temporary financial difficulties that all orders bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent. The orders will be accepted at the banks at their face value and will be held by the banks until such a time as the city is able to meet its obligations.

City White Wings Are Reinstated.

At this week's meeting of the Menominee common council, the motion to discontinue the white wings of the city was rescinded by Mayor Kartheiser, at the instance of Chairman Nowack of the street committee, of the sweeps in the street cleaning department. The mayor and the committee chairman were reversed the council voting to reinstate the men and to keep them at work until such time as, in the opinion of the street commissioner, the weather made their retention impracticable. Alderman Pengilly started the argument by directing attention to the mayor's action and suggesting that the city should not be burdened with the expense of the white wings. Chairman Nowack argued that the city could not afford to keep the street sweeps and, furthermore, there was no need of their retention during the winter. Councilman Bushek wanted to know by what authority anyone could discharge the sweeps without first going to council. The information about the authority not forthcoming, Mr. Pengilly offered a motion to put the men back to work. The motion was carried, twelve to one, Mr. Nowack still holding out.

Comedy at Meeting of City Council.

Here is what the Iron Mountain Tribune-Gazette says of a meeting of the common council in that city this week: "We have seen some comedy stunts pulled off in Chicago and other cities and it cost anywhere from twenty-five cents up to $2. Last evening we witnessed some of the most comedy in the world. A nice comfortable chair and table and a view of the stage. It cost the large sum of nothing. The first act

Mining News

LAKE SUPERIOR STRIKE.

The Boston News Bureau says: The granting of an eight-hour day and $3 minimum wage to the miners in the Lake Superior copper district is, of course, a concession by the operating companies, although it is less than was asked by the strikers who wanted eight hours and $3.50 minimum. It means increased cost of operation, although not so great as would appear at first glance. This for two reasons—a very considerable amount of work is done by contract which is not affected by the present offer. The new schedule applies to work done on the day basis and while the shift is considerably shortened, the eight-hour day will now mean eight hours actually "on the job." This differs from the old system where time consumed going to and from work was counted as part of the shift, which previously has averaged a little over ten hours—depending on the depth of the various mines. The inauguration of the new schedule is one month ahead of time, the operating companies having previously announced their decision to make the change on Jan. 1 next.

The recognition of the Western Federation continues to be the bone of contention and apparently the only reason why the strike is not officially declared off. The mine operators are hopeful, however, that the new schedule will make this less and less an issue and that within a reasonable time operations will be back on a normal basis. There are plenty of men to be had, the only trouble being that many of them are not experienced miners. Trammers, however, who before the strike were notably scarce, are plentiful and the operators hope to take the most intelligent and gradually break them in as miners. It is predicted that by spring at the latest the Lake Superior district will be overrun with men looking for work. The mine managers will, however, in no manner allow their determination to ignore the Western Federation and will employ no man who retains membership in the Federation. The strike will be fought to a finish on the lines originally planned. It is the general belief that the new schedule will cause large desertions from the ranks of the Federation.

Back Pay Allowed Injured Man.

The state board of arbitration, sitting in the claim of William Hartley of Menominee against the Holt Lumber company for back pay, under the employers' liability law, returned a verdict of $8,825 for the injured man, aside from all other payments and allowances that have been made. The case attracted considerable attention, as it was of long standing and the plaintiff is still suffering from the results of an accident that injured his eye and face. The board was made up of Dr. B. Reeves, of the industrial accident board at Lansing, and L. D. Eastman and City Attorney J. J. O'Hara of Menominee. The board decided to allow half pay under the law for twenty full weeks of total disability, at the rate of $44 a week, and to allow 280 weeks of partial disability at the rate of $22 a week. The casualty company had paid some money on account of the claims and when it was all figured out it was found that the plaintiff had $8825 due him. The plaintiff was working for the Holt company at Ontonagon when he was hurt. Attorney Eastman represented the injured man, Maryland Casualty Company and prosecuting Attorney Fred Haggerson of Menominee was counsel for the plaintiff. A point that will interest all working men is that the board of arbitration refused to allow for hospital tickets. It did allow for three weeks' medical service, which the company consented to pay without protest.

SOME BIG PECAN TREES.

Like the Persian walnut, the pecan long has been grown in this country, but its commercial possibilities were neglected. Some of the trees are of enormous size and known to be very old. In Millidgeville, Ga., an old pecan tree stands which is known to have been planted by the Indians over 100 years ago. The owner values it so highly that he has recently taken out $200 fire insurance on it because it has become so closely surrounded by buildings that it is endangered. The largest pecan tree on record is near Little Falls, Okla. It has an altitude of 130 feet, a spread of 110 feet, and a trunk circumference of twenty-three feet taken four feet from the ground. In Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas and other sections pecan trees may be found in forests, reaching 170 feet in height.

CALIFORNIA WOMAN SERIOUSLY ALARMED.

"A short time ago I contracted a severe cold which settled on my lungs and caused me a great deal of annoyance. I would have had coughing spells and my lungs were so sore and inflamed I began to be seriously alarmed. A friend recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saying she had used it for years. I bought a bottle and it relieved my cough the first night, and in a week I was rid of the cold and soreness of my lungs." writes Miss Marie Gerber, Sawtelle, Cal. For sale by All Dealers.

WILL MAKE DAILY WATER ANALYSIS

City Health Officer to Test Teal Lake Samples Every Twenty-Four Hours.

At the meeting of the city council held last evening, Health Officer Dr. C. J. Larson was instructed to purchase the equipment necessary to enable him to make daily analyses of water samples taken from Teal lake.

In a communication to the council, Dr. Larson said that he would make the test every day and would keep a record of the analyses. He said that the cost of the apparatus, which would amount to about $100, would not be an unnecessary expense to the city, as it would do away with the shipping of samples to Lansing each month for analysis, and which costs $6 a shipment. Dr. Larson will establish a laboratory in his office. He extended an invitation to the members of the council to inspect it.

Other Council Business.

The council decided that the flat rate granted to the city for the street lighting service shall be changed to a straight meter rate of five cents per k. w. The change will date from Dec. 1. Superintendent Hanson of the board of public works was instructed to advise the officials of the Marquette County Gas & Electric company to remove all of their electric wires now on insulators owned by the city. Recent fires due to the Marquette county company's wiring coming in contact with the city wires caused this action of the council.

The matter of purchasing a thirty-five gallon chemical tank for the fire department was referred back to the fire committee.

The unanimous vote that the members of the charter commission be paid $3 a meeting for each of the twelve times they met while drawing up the tentative charter proposing the commission form of government. The secretary will receive $24 meeting extra. The determination of the extra fees of the attorney will be left to the mayor.

WATER WAS HIGH.

Supt. Hansen's Report Shows Increase in Level of Teal Lake.

The level of the water in Teal lake raised five and a half inches last month. It was the largest raise in water in the lake in a number of months, and was due to the heavy rains and the melting of the snow that fell during November. The level has been falling steadily for several years.

Chris Hansen, superintendent of the board of public works, reported to the council last evening that the water work plant had used 122,305 tons of coal during the month of November, 1912. During the month of November, 1912, 189 tons of coal was used. It is estimated that 44,739,946 gallons of water was pumped last month.

The city electric light plant generated 2,200 kilowatts in November and the Cleveland Electric company supplied the city with 47,300 kilowatts, making a total of 49,500, as against 44,540 kilowatts generated in November, 1912. The receipts of the electric light plant for the month were $2,111.81 compared with $1,923.18 for November, 1912.

CONTRACT AT NORWAY.

Negaunee Firm Will Install Heating Plant in Parsonage.

Swanson Bros., the Negaunee plumbers, yesterday closed a contract to install a hot water heating plant in the Swedish Lutheran parsonage at Norway. A hot air furnace was put in the house a short time ago, but was unsatisfactory. Messrs. Swanson expect to complete the installing of the plumbing and heating fixtures in the Bates school building at Iron River next week. The job was one of the largest ever undertaken by them. They recently put in an overhead hot water heating system in the Coming Nation hall at Ishpeming.

The firm now has a large force of men at work putting in the drains in the administration building under construction at the Marquette Normal. They have the contract for the plumbing work at the building.

WILL GIVE RATES.

W. L. Bedford, agent for the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway, yesterday received notice from the general office at Duluth that the company will offer a special holiday rate of four cents a mile for the round trip for the convenience of students who are attending the colleges in the lower part of the state.

HIGH SCHOOL PARTY.

The members of the senior class of the Negaunee High school will give their annual party this evening in the high school gymnasium. Dancing will commence at 8:30 o'clock and will continue until 12. Brotherton's orchestra will furnish the music. Punch and wafers will be served. The members of the class have spent the greater part of the week decorating the gymnasium with the class colors, blue and white, and with pennants. The party tonight will be the only big high school function this year. The juniors will hold their annual party in April or May.

HOW TO BANKRUPT THE DOCTORS.

A prominent New York physician says, "If it were not for the thin stockings and thin soled shoes worn by women the doctors would probably be bankrupt." ALL CLOTH SIGNS ARE PROHIBITED

Chief of Fire Department Is Instructed to Enforce Regulation Strictly.

Chief Julius Johnson, of the Negaunee fire department, has received a notice from the state fire marshal, pertaining to the use of cloth advertising signs.

Although the merchants have been warned not to put cloth signs in front of their places of business, some of them still persist in the practice, but, Mr. Johnson said, yesterday hereafter the law will be strictly enforced.

The following letter was sent to all the fire chiefs of the state: "Gentlemen—After a careful investigation by this department, we have become absolutely satisfied that the use of cloth advertising signs in front of stores, vacant buildings and billboards is a decided fire hazard and a menace to life and property.

"You are, therefore, directed to see that all such are promptly removed wherever they are in use in your city, and I sincerely hope you will start a prompt and forceful campaign to eradicate the use of this method of advertising in your city."

FRIENDS HONOR MICHAEL CURLEY

Former Wellknown Negaunee Man Banqueted on Occasion of Visit to Coleraine.

Michael Curley, a wellknown former Negaunee man, was given a fine reception in Coleraine, Minn., last week, on his return from Arizona, where he has spent the past two years with Harry Clark, a former master mechanic at Coleraine. He was a guest of honor at a "welcome" banquet Saturday evening at the Hotel Arcana, over 100 of their friends and acquaintances being present.

Chief Curley and Clark both formerly held responsible positions in the Coleraine district. Mr. Curley was the town's first mayor, and was closely identified with the early development work of the district, first as secretary to the general superintendent, then as chief clerk and later as superintendent of the Canisteo and Hill mines. Harry Clark's duties called him to every point of the district. When the National Ski Tournament was pulled off, he was president of the Inasca Ski club.

Of the banquet a Coleraine paper said: "Saturday evening an even one hundred men gathered together for a stag supper and polka at the Hotel Arcana for the purpose of reviewing old acquaintances with these former city boys. It was an occasion of mirth and music with good fellowship, and an attempt to undying friendship. It was no ordinary banquet, for lack of it was the deep sentiment that only comes with comradeship, that bond stronger than iron, deeper than mere acquaintance, richer than ordinary friendship. It was the responsive expression of fealty that dominates and unites and binds together the men that make up the Canisteo district."

The program was made up of music stories and remarks by some of the most prominent men of the district. William (Booster Bill) Hathaway and Peter Foley, former well known Ishpeming men were among the entertainers. Mr. Hathaway recited one of former Superintendent Curley's favorite poems—"The Face on the Barroom Floor" and Mr. Foley told a number of French dialect stories. Ole Mangseth, the well known ski rider, who has appeared in numerous ski tournaments in this country made an after dinner speech.

Mr. Curley was called on to give an account of himself and to explain the near-international complications that were narrowly avoided when he shot up a Mexican's deevy roosters.

Mr. Curley is now visiting with his sister Mrs. S. A. Curley, of Baraga, and will arrive in Negaunee in a few days. For the past year Mr. Curley has been in charge of exploration work for the Callumet & Arizona company, under John C. Greenway, in the district near Bisbee, Ariz.

PAY TO RETAIN JOBS.

Foreign Laborers Are Reputed Victims of Padrone System.

Mason City, Ia., Dec. 4.—The padrone system, of which many foreign laborers are the victims, was revealed here to officers by several merchants of this city who related their investigations of what foreigners who owed them bills did with their money.

The men told the merchants that it is impossible for them to pay their bills because of the large sums of money they have to pay to retain their jobs. The merchants' inquiry revealed that the men were paying in many cases from $10 to $25 a month to shop foremen and bosses of gangs to hold their jobs.

These allegations mainly implicated foremen or heads of gangs employing foreign laborers in the local yards of Pio

MUST DRINK IN STREETS.

Dillonvale (O.) Citizens Can't Find Room in Bars Law Allows.

Columbus, O., Dec. 4.—Located in the hills of Jefferson county, surrounded by a score of mining camps and hamlets, most of which are in dry territory, the saloons of Dillonvale are unable to find rooms large enough to accommodate their thirsty patrons. They have appealed to the state board. In the old days Dillonvale, with 4,000 transient population, and three thousand more within patrolling distance, supported twenty-one saloons. Under the law it has four. Bars have been lengthened, more bartenders employed, but Saturday the rooms were so packed that many patrons had to go out in the street to sip their foaming drinks, giving their places near the bar.

SESSION WAS A NOTABLE ONE

Charter Presented to Francis M. Moore Consistory at Closing Meeting Yesterday Afternoon—Three Hundred Scottish Rite Members Banqueted Last Night.

Class of Seventy-Six Candidates Took Consistory Work—Installation of Officers Marked Concluding Ceremony—Nobles of Mystic Shrine Here Today.

The closing of the second meeting of Francis M. Moore consistory, Scottish Rite Masons, was marked yesterday by the presentation of the consistory's new charter and a banquet last evening at which more than three hundred Scottish Rite Masons were in attendance. In many respects the meeting of the consistory has been one of the most notable Masonic gatherings ever held in this part of the state. A class of seventy-six candidates has received degrees since the meeting opened Tuesday afternoon. While the class was somewhat smaller than that at the first session of the consistory, nevertheless the number of degrees exemplified was greater and the attendance was fully as large. Twenty members of the class were from this city. Today the annual meeting and election of Ahmed Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, will be held. This event will bring about three hundred visitors to Marquette, some of these coming from the lower peninsula.

Yesterday's work in the consistory commenced at 10 o'clock in the morning with the exemplification of the nineteenth degree or the degree of the Grand Pontiff, this work being put on by Marquette members. At 1:30 p. m. the twenty-first degree or the degree of the Patriarch Noahite was exemplified by Houghton members, with William B. McLaughlin presiding. The thirty-second degree or the degree of the Sublime Princess of the Royal Secret, was exemplified at 3:30 o'clock, with George Tucker, commander-in-chief of Francis M. Moore consistory, presiding.

Charter Formally Presented.

At 5:30 p. m. John J. Carton, thirty-third degree, deputy sovereign commander for Michigan, formally presented Francis M. Moore consistory with its charter. Dispensation for the consistory was granted Feb. 24, 1913, and the charter was issued a short time ago. It is an unusual occurrence for a charter to be issued the same year that dispensation is granted. Mr. Carton was accompanied here by Frederic B. Stevens, 33rd of Detroit; William A. Van Syckle, 33rd of Detroit, commander-in-chief of Michigan Sovereign consistory, and Richard D. Swartout, 33rd, Grand Rapids.

The presentation of the charter was followed by the installation of the officers of the consistory, as follows: Commander-in-Chief—George Tucker, First Lieutenant—Commander—Robert H. Shields, Second Lieutenant—Albert J. Young, Orator—Murray M. Dunnean, Chancellor—William H. Johnston, Treasurer—Louis Pennell, Secretary—Eliot C. French, Master of Ceremonies—Edward S. Rice, Hospitaler—Percy G. Teeple, Engineer and Senechal—Samuel R. Kaufman, Standard Bearer—Francis H. Hatch, Guard—Harry R. Fox, Sentinel—Demetrius F. Charlton, Consistory Candidates.

The following is a list of the candidates who took the consistory degrees: Marquette—Fred B. Bred, Donald M. Begole, William J. Burton, William Gordon, Thomas C. Howie, H. E. Kellan, Alex P. Meads, George W. Pettit, D. W. Powell, John Q. Roberts, Alton T. Roberts, Charles F. Schuch, John D. Lewis, Alexander E. Scott, Peter Schultze, J. E. St. John, Charles A. MANLY MEN SEEK WORK IN WOODS

This Is No Time to Strike, Comments F. J. Schneider, for There Are Several Applicants for Every Job That the Logging Operators Have to Fill.

Open Fall, While a Detriment to Jobbers on Low Lands, Is a Benefit to Others—Is Not Now Expected That There Will Be Hauling Until January.

"This is no time for lumbermen to strike," said F. J. Schneider last evening, commenting on the walkout of a good share of the force employed at the camps of the Lake Independence Lumber company at Big Bay. "On an average, twenty-five men a day are calling at our offices, looking for work, and we have nothing to offer them, as our camps are full. The lumberman who has a job at the going wages will do well to stick to it, for employment is hard to get."

JAMES N. FOHRMAN COLLAPSES IN COURT

His Condition Is Serious—Trial Will Be Resumed This Morning, if He Improves.

The trial of James N. Fohrman, of Ishpeming, charged with a statutory offense and also with felonious assault, was halted yesterday morning, when the defendant collapsed in circuit court. His condition during the day was such that the case could not be continued. Provided there is an improvement warranting the procedure, the trial will be resumed this morning, when court opens at 9 o'clock. The respondent's health has been poor for the last few months, and it was expected that the strain of the trial would prove severe for him. He is a man, sixty-four years of age and, since his arrest about two months ago, his condition has gradually grown worse.

Mr. Fohrman became seriously ill a few minutes before the court opened yesterday morning, and he was unconscious throughout the day. His condition had shown no improvement last evening and, owing to his advanced age, there is some doubt as to whether he will recover. The case was at first postponed until 1:30 o'clock, but the defendant had shown no improvement at that time and the trial was put over until this morning. The only testimony taken has been that of several young girls who are said to have frequented Fohrman's music store and rooms in Ishpeming. Several other witnesses are to be examined.

Personal Injury Suit.

The court is now busy with the suit for damages brought by Albin Laakkari against the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company because of injuries received while the plaintiff was in the employ of the company at the North Lake No. 2 shaft. The case was before circuit court in February, 1913, but it did not reach the jury. Letourneau & Driscoll are the counsel for the plaintiff. Considerable difficulty was experienced in impaneling a jury, as many of the veniremen are in the employ of the defendant company or have had business dealing with the corporation.

Laakkari maintains that on May 4, 1911, he was overcome by gas while working in a raise sixty feet above the first level and that he fell down the raise, suffering injuries from which he will never wholly recover. It is claimed by the plaintiff that the defendant company was negligent in not providing sufficient ventilation to remove the poisonous gases, following blasting. The case will probably go to the jury this morning.

FUNERAL SUNDAY.

Miss Mabel Welland Will Be Interred in Park Cemetery.

The funeral of Miss Mabel Welland, who passed away at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening at St. Luke's hospital, after an illness of three days, will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist Episcopal church, with interment in Park cemetery. Miss Welland was seventeen years of age and had lived in Marquette the greater part of her life, coming here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Welland, from Superior, Wis. Recently she was in the employ of the F. M. Woolworth company. She was a member of the M. E. church. Miss Welland was known to many Marquette young people, by whom she was well liked.

SUPERIOR HIVE OFFICERS.

The annual election of officers of the Superior hive, No. 217, L. O. T. M. M., was held yesterday afternoon at Fraternity Hall, the following being chosen: Commander—Carrie Keough, Past Commander—Margaret Kern, Lieutenant Commander—Emma Rose, Record Keeper—Minnie Marvin, Finance Keeper—Mary Fryfogle, Chaplain—Sophie York, Mistress of Ceremonies—Eva Wanberg, Sergeant—May Grishy, Sentinel—Martina Fennessy, Picket—Mary Fraser, Pianist—May V. REPORTS BIG INCREASE IN CURES OF CANCER

Dr. Bloodgood Tells Results of Campaign Against Disease.

Baltimore, Dec. 4.—Dr. Joseph Coit Bloodgood of the American Society for the Control of Cancer says: "Of a hundred cases of cancer of the tongue that I have studied, seventy were observed during the twenty years preceding 1898 and thirty since that time. The earlier cases of cancer, precancerous lesions, in which 100 per cent of cures can be expected, have increased from 23 to 33 per cent since 1898."

"The incurable cases have decreased from 18 to 10 per cent and cures have increased from 21 to 50 per cent. The last figures do not include the precancerous lesions, statistics showing 23 to 33 per cent increase, but refer only to fully developed cancer."

"All of this means that persons afflicted with cancer of the tongue are coming for treatment earlier. The delay of a week in the treatment of an ulcer or a wart on the tongue or mouth may make the outcome of what appears a very insignificant thing a question of life or death."

Dr. Bloodgood is not convinced the enthusiasm over radium as a cure for the disease is justified. He maintains it should not be used experimentally in any cases except those in which an operation cannot be performed.

Wage Cut Causes Discontent.

The walkout at Big Bay was due in part to discontent with the wage restrictions recently made effective in Marquette and Alger counties, and in part to dissatisfaction with a readjustment of the company's operations, due to the unusual conditions caused by the open weather. Three or four camps have been abandoned for the time. The company is not particularly concerned at the walkout, as many men are seeking employment, and it will soon be possible to organize skilled forces for carrying on the work, it is said.

In the lumber camps wages for good men run, on the average, from $26 to $30, with $2, about the top. Some men get less than $26, but they are men who are found to be inefficient, and their number is comparatively few, for the operators weed their forces out until they are composed largely of skilled men.

The trouble at Big Bay is attributed largely to the fact that the men there did not understand that labor conditions have undergone a marked change, compared with what they have been in the past few winter seasons. They did not realize that there are two or three men looking for every job, and they have doubtless been of the opinion that they would have little difficulty finding other work in the woods. In this they are likely to be disappointed, for there has been a constant stream of workmen and unskilled labor seeking work in the woods, through Marquette, for a number of days past.

Doesn't Hinder All.

The open fall, unprecedented for many years, is a hindrance to some operators and a benefit to others, a Marquette lumberman asserted yesterday. "It all depends on the nature of the land where the work is being carried on. Our firm, for instance, is operating on high land, and the open fall has been a clear gain for us. We have been cutting and making roads to better advantage than we would have been able to if there had been two or three feet of snow on the ground."

"On the other hand, the open weather has seriously set back the work of jobbers who expected to cut in the low lands and in swamps. They would have been better off if there had been an early freeze and early heavy snows. As it is they have to mark time until the weather changes, or make eleventh hour arrangements to undertake other work."

"I do not now expect we will be able to do any hauling until well into January. The open period promises to continue for some days longer, and it will probably be three or four weeks, anyway, before the ground is thoroughly frozen and there will be snow enough to make good roads."
