

CALUMET HORROR AN ACCIDENT, DECLARES PROSECUTOR LUCAS

Charge of the Western Federation That the Fatal Panic Was Deliberately Caused Is Disproved by Official Investigation

EVIDENCE NOW IS THAT THERE MAY HAVE BEEN SOME OUTBREAK OF FIRE

Boy With Clothing Burning Seen Emerging from the Italian Hall—Upwards of $30,000 for Relief of the Sufferers Is Raised by the Citizens' Committee and Much More Is Available—President Moyer Departs from the District Abruptly—is a Passenger on Evening Outgoing Train.

Statement that a member of the Citizens' Alliance went into the hall and cried fire.

Affidavit of Charles Myers. "From a sworn statement of Charles Myers, the manager of the tea store below the Italian hall, I find that he ran out of his store within a half minute after he heard the commotion outside."

Two Sharp Contrasts. With the perspective of two days distance on the awful disaster at Calumet Christmas eve, the death list which now reached seventy-five, two things stand out prominently and in sharp contrast.

Is Evidence There Was Fire. The county authorities, headed by prosecuting Attorney Lucas, who has the assistance of Sheriff James Cruise, Chief Deputy Priest and others, are conducting an investigation which is to bring to light astonishing facts in regard to the Italian hall tragedy.

Coroner's Inquest Monday. All these witnesses, and many more, will appear before the coroner when the inquest is held on Monday.

Prosecutor Brands Charge as False. Prosecuting Attorney Lucas this evening issued the following official statement regarding his investigations of tonight.

An Accident, Pure and Simple. Mr. Lucas and others of the investigation force are convinced that the catastrophe was the result of accident, pure and simple.

Many Escape via the Stage. At least a hundred children ran to the stage. They jumped through a window, dropped to a roof ten feet below and slid to safety.

Physicians declare that death, in most instances, was instantaneous, the children dying from the rupture of arteries or the crushing of vital organs, and the adults dying from suffocation. Scene after scene was so pathetic that strong men were compelled to turn their eyes away.

Scenes Are Agonizing. The sight of nearly a hundred persons piled into a mass six or more feet high and extending almost thirty feet toward the top of the stairs was heart-rending.

PRESIDENT AND HIS BRAVE MEN QUENCH FLAMES

Blaze on the Roof of the Mansion of Judge J. H. Neville Attracts the Attention of the Washington Party and Led by Nation's Executive a Dash to Rescue Is Made.

Pass Christian, Miss., Dec. 26.—President Woodrow Wilson found himself tonight the hero of the great coast.

Rescue Party Led by Mr. Wilson. Mr. Neville, who was alone in the building, had run to the window to watch the machine go by, when suddenly the two machines stopped and the president himself alighted.

Blaze Is Quenched Quickly. Mr. Neville hastened to comply, but before it could be of service the fire fighters had already secured the roof.

Survivors Become Desperate. Meanwhile, the remainder of the fire department arrived and ladders were raised to the windows.

Man Heard to Cry in Croatian. Mrs. Louise Lesh, who stood near the platform, guiding a line of boys and girls up the steps to the Christmas trees on the stage, to receive their presents, the children afterwards filing down the other side of the hall to the exit and so out of the building, makes affidavit to the effect that she heard the cry of fire coming from about the center of the hall, towards which she was facing.

Copper Country

TUG FAVORITE A VISITOR.

Wreckers Still at Work in Effort to Release the Waldo.

The residents of the towns along Portage lake had the somewhat unusual experience Christmas afternoon of hearing a steamboat whistle blow and seeing a steamer come up the lake on Christmas day. The steamer was the wrecking tug Favorite, coming in to give the crew an opportunity to spend Christmas in town. Portage lake navigation has been open, though only once before, for a much later period. The Reid Wrecking company kept the lake open well into January two years ago while working on the wreck of the steamer William C. Moreland. It is because of a similar condition that the Favorite is here.

The steamer L. C. Waldo was wrecked on Gull rock, Keweenaw point, early in November and the Favorite has been working for several weeks to patch her up and release her before winter sets in. Captain Canning, in command of the Favorite, would not say yesterday that he would succeed in his undertaking this fall, though he admitted the project looks good and only a few days of good weather might be necessary for the completion of the work.

The cargo of the Waldo is being lightened and it is expected the boat can be floated in a short time. Cement is being used to patch up her breaks and it is not unlikely that before long the Favorite will tow her into Portage lake for the winter.

The Favorite coaled up yesterday and went out via the upper canal in the afternoon.

NATURALIZATION CLUB REVIVES.

British-American Organization is Showing New Life.

The British-American Naturalization club, with branches in Painesdale, Hancock and Calumet, is beginning the small but its annual winter campaign for naturalization of natives of Canada and the British Isles.

The present labor troubles in the copper country undoubtedly will have the effect of curtailing the activities of the club, but each of the branches will do something in the direction of bringing new citizens to the election polls of Houghton county.

The first example was seen yesterday when the Painesdale club sent thirteen candidates for citizenship to the county clerk's office. Of these four were eligible to petition for full citizenship at this time, they being Philip Vincent, Martin Dunn, Francis Vine and Richard Hosking. Mr. Dunn arrived in the United States through Northport, Wash., in 1908. The others arrived via New York. Mr. Vincent in 1908, Mr. Vine in 1908 and Mr. Hosking in 1910. Five of the men from Painesdale took out first papers, declarations of intention. The other four are eligible to apply for second papers after they have obtained certificates of landing.

Edward Woodward, president of the British-American Naturalization club of Houghton county, was present yesterday and assisted the applicants. Mr. Woodward says that there are a large number of Englishmen and natives of British possessions who have not taken out citizenship papers. The club intends to keep in touch with these men and bring them to a realization of the desirability of becoming American citizens. Large classes of English applicants may be expected during the winter.

The club still is working on the Painesdale murder cases. It is bringing the death of John Dally, Harry and Arthur Jane to the attention of the British ambassador, in the hope that the British government will take an interest in finding the murderers.

It was announced some time ago that Rabbi Leikowitz of Duluth would be here Sunday to attend a meeting of the B'Nai B'rith lodge at the Odd Fellows temple. This arrangement has miscarried and the rabbi will not be here until Jan. 25, when he will deliver his address in conjunction with the annual initiation of B'Nai B'rith officers.

EVER HEAR OF HANCOCK?

Cadillac Not the First City in State With General Manager.

"Cadillac's new commission form of government—to be operated under the managerial plan—will go into effect on the second day of next March. As a result, Cadillac will be the first city of Michigan, and one of the first of its size in the country, to give trial to the managerial plan."

The foregoing from an exchange brings a protest from Hancock, where the city manager plan was tried a year ago and unsuccessfully. Hancock got its idea from a Virginia city and for various reasons the scheme did not work. It will be fact, it is accepted that the plan was the reason for the formation of the United City party, which won every of-hall, in the ticket office and in the dining room beneath the stage.

One blood-chilling evidence of the awful scramble for self-preservation, which made beasts of men, is seen at the Calumet & Hecla hospital. One little girl among the injured there has the imprint of a man's heel on her face.

Progress of the Relief.

It is too early yet to announce the time of the funerals of the seventy-five victims of the disaster, although in most cases the obsequies probably will be held on Sunday. Three of the victims of the panic, boys of Philip Heikinen of Wolverine, will be buried privately Saturday morning from the Wolverine Finnish church, Rev. A. L. Heidemann of Calumet officiating.

Up to this afternoon, $25,000 had been pledged in Calumet. President Quincy Shaw and R. L. G. R. and Maximilian Agassiz, of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, today sent $5,000 to the fund. Large amounts have been subscribed by copper country. Mayor Marx of Detroit wired Mayor Schumaker of Red Jacket an advice that the city offers $1,000 to the relief fund.

The various citizens' relief committees are trying to bring the families around to an acceptance of their well meant offers of aid, but they had little success today. However, the committees the working and hoping that out of this death there shall come a better feeling. The citizens of Houghton county have buried the dead, and their hearts under this disaster, if the Western Federation of Miners has not.

Bishop John P. Carroll of Butte, Mont., today visited President Schumaker of Red Jacket condolences and an offer of assistance. His telegram read: "Deepest sympathy in Calumet disaster. 'Can I help you?'"

SAYS MR. MOYER WILL RETURN.

Denver, Dec. 26.—"He'll go back," was the laconic manner in which Secretary Ernest Mills, of the Colorado organization of the Western Federation of Miners, expressed himself upon learning tonight of the departure of President Moyer from the Michigan copper district. "He's no coward," continued the secretary, "and you couldn't keep him out of Calumet now. President Moyer will have the most efficient support of the entire organization in establishing his rights as an American citizen."

"Mr. Moyer had planned to come to Denver within a few days, to be here prior to a board meeting of the federation which is to convene Jan. 5, but I am of the belief he will postpone his trip here until he will have returned to Calumet."

UNIONS IN THE STATE URGED TO DONATE.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 26.—Homer F. Waterman, secretary of the Michigan Federation of Labor, went out from here tonight an urgent recommendation addressed to the various subordinate unions in the state. Each is asked to hold a meeting at once to raise funds for the strikers families at Calumet. The notice was sent after the receipt of a letter from President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners, notifying Mr. Waterman that aid would not be accepted from other than union forces.

Mr. Waterman came here from Kalamazoo to make arrangements for the state labor meeting which is to be held here Jan. 29, the date being fixed tonight. At this meeting an effort will be made to find a plan for the settlement of the copper strike.

Socialists Ask Federal Investigation.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—Resolutions asking for a federal investigation into emotions in the Michigan copper mining region were telegraphed to President Wilson today from the national headquarters of the Socialist party. The resolutions state that conditions in the region are such as to demand federal interference and that the Christmas eve panic would not have occurred had it not been for the purported privations of the miners.

GARMENT WORKERS IDLE AT PHILADELPHIA NOW FACE A TREASURY OUT OF CASH.

Philadelphia, Dec. 26.—The garment workers who have been on strike here since July 15 were notified today at a mass meeting that the treasury of their union is empty and no further benefits can be paid. It has been decided to take a vote tomorrow to determine whether to capitulate and return to work Monday. More than $300,000 has been expended by the strikers since the beginning of the trouble.

THIS WEEK'S BANK CLEARINGS.

New York, Dec. 26.—Bradstreet's bank clearing report for the week ending Dec. 25 shows an aggregate of $2,568,541,000, as against $2,926,753,000 for the corresponding week last year.

BLACK BOX TAKEN FROM RAMPOLLA'S CHAMBER

No Trace of the Receiptacle Since, Having Fallen from Bed, It Was Placed on Desk.

Rome, Dec. 26.—All the evidence adduced concerning the black box which was taken from the room of Cardinal Rampolla the day he died tends to show the cardinal was fearful that it would be tampered with.

The box, which is believed by some persons to contain the last will and testament and other papers of Cardinal Rampolla, was placed under his pillow by the cardinal the day he was forced to take to his bed with the seizure which shortly afterward caused his death.

Soon after the cardinal passed away and while the body was being moved from the bed to be prepared for the coffin, the black box fell to the floor. Some persons picked it up and laid it on the cardinal's writing desk. Since that time all is a mystery concerning the box. No one who has seen it can be found.

Whether the box disappeared before, during or after the stream of people were admitted to the death chamber to view the body of Cardinal Rampolla is not known. Hope is still entertained that the person who appropriated the box is not interested in the suppression of the cardinal's will, but carried the casket away in the belief that the contents of the will will return the useless papers.

Negotiations are proceeding between the various heirs of the late cardinal, to see whether they can reach an agreement for a division of the estate under the will executed by Cardinal Rampolla in 1880.

JAPANESE WOULD JOIN HUERTA ARMY

Fifty Oriental Military Officers, Ask Permission to Join the Mexican Federals.

Mexico City, Dec. 26.—Fifty Japanese military officers have requested permission through the Mexican special embassy now in Tokio to enlist in the service of the Mexican army, according to information received by the war office here. The request, it is said, is being given consideration.

Tokio, Dec. 26.—At a dinner given tonight by the merchants of Tokio in honor of Senor De La Barra, Baron Makino, the foreign minister, in a speech favored the strengthening of trade relations between Japan and Mexico. The opposition press is attacking the foreign office for its alleged timidity in the reception of Senor De La Barra, declaring that it fears that any enthusiasm shown for the Mexicans would cause resentment in the United States.

Situation of Foreigners Worries.

Washington, Dec. 26.—The situation of foreigners in Mexico who have incurred the ill will of the rebels is again giving some concern to state department officials. Today the Japanese ambassador called upon Acting Secretary Moore to request that the United States government do what it can to protect Japanese in El Paso and in other border points.

There is some apprehension that the Japanese may be made to feel the weight of resentment by the Constitutionalists because the federals are receiving supplies of ammunition and arms from Japan, although it has already been pointed out that these goods are being delivered under contracts made by Japanese merchants last April.

Acting Secretary Moore promised to instruct the American consuls in the rebel country to extend the same care to Japanese as they would to American citizens.

Rebels Advancing Upon Ojinaga.

Juarez, Mex., Dec. 26.—The rebel march to attack the federals at Ojinaga, opposite Presidio, Tex., was proceeding as fast as the artillery of the rebels could permit, according to reports today.

Luis Estrada, an agent of the federals, gave out information at Presidio, that the federals had no intention of remaining at Ojinaga to permit the rebels to attack them. He said the federals probably would move westward along the Rio Grande toward Juarez. This report was given no credence by the rebels.

CHICAGO PRODUCE QUOTATIONS.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—Butter prices in Chicago today continued unchanged from those of last Monday; creameries were quoted at 22¢38 cents. Eggs, unshelled; receipts, 3,232 cases; eggs at market, cases included, 28½¢@29½¢ cents; ordinary firsts, 26¢@31½¢; firsts, 31¢@31½¢. Poultry alive, unchanged; springs, 12¢; cents; fowls, 13¢; turkeys, 18¢; dressed, 22¢.

UNDER CZAR'S BAN.

European court society is waiting to see whether the czar's private order forbidding the marriage of his niece, Princess Irene Alexandrovna, daughter of the czar's sister, Grand Duchess Xenia, to Count Semnarokoff Ekstou, son and sole heir of Princess Youssouffoff, the richest woman in Russia, will be carried out.

The marriage has been officially declared off, but St. Petersburg society is inclined to believe that the match was a genuine love affair, and that regardless of the wishes of the czar or other members of the royal family the marriage will take place.

It has been learned that the czar's order was brought about by representations made by Dowager Queen Alexandra of England to her sister, the Dowager Empress Marie. The count is at present an undergraduate at Oxford university and the reasons put forward by Queen Alexandra toward the stopping of the marriage are said to have arisen from an undergraduate escapade, in which the young count figured prominently.

Empress Marie was deeply interested in the proposed alliance, and she took the matter up with her son, the czar. Within a few days the formal announcement was made that the wedding would not take place.

ROYAL Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Recognized everywhere and by experts as the very highest grade of baking powder—superior to other brands in purity, leavening strength and keeping quality.

Made from pure cream of tartar, the product of grapes, and the most healthful and useful of leavening agents.

Its use insures the bread, biscuit and cake against contamination from the cheap, improper or injurious ingredients from which lower priced baking powders may be made.

FEDERAL LEAGUE WANTS J. TINKER

President of New Baseball Organization Has Conference With the Former Cub.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—Joe Tinker, former manager of the Cincinnati team, and President Gilmore, of the Federal Baseball league, held a conference this afternoon with reference to bringing Tinker into the new league. According to Tinker, the conference was without result, except that they agreed to continue the negotiations tomorrow or Monday.

Tinker refused to confirm or deny the report that he had been offered $36,000 for three years in the Federal league. In discussing the offer, he commented, however, that he could not make that much money in three years in the National league.

"There is some thing behind this Federal league," Tinker said, "and the proposition that has been made to me is a good one. I know I could make more money than if I stayed in organized ball. They have offered me some stock on which I now have an option, and if arrangements can be made I will take it the same as Clarence did here. He was given ten shares, and paid for it out of his dividends."

Injunction Suit Threatened.

If Tinker signs with the Federals, he may be enjoined by Charles Ebbetts, of the Brooklyn team, according to Charles W. Murphy, president of the Chicago club. Murphy declared today that the reserve clause in the player's contract would be made the basis of an injunction suit that will prohibit the player being used by the Federal league.

TRADING IN STOCKS LEAVES THE PRICES LITTLE CHANGED.

New York, Dec. 26.—The rise in stocks which began a week ago was carried further today, with leading agents of the central figure. The market failed, however, to show the sustained strength of recent days. Offerings were heavier, and the general run of quotations revealed few important alterations at the close of the day.

Wheat goes to a lower level.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—Winter crop prospects, believed by some observers to be the best ever known, carried wheat prices today to a lower level. Final prices were as follows: May wheat, 90½¢; July, 86½¢; December, 85½¢; July, 68½¢; standard oats, 39½¢@40½¢.

AUSTRALIAN WHIPS PAL BROWN.

Melbourne, Australia, Dec. 26.—Hughie McEghan, the Australian lightweight, today won the decision over Pal Brown, an American pugilist, in an exciting twenty-round bout. Ten thousand spectators witnessed the fight. By winning today McEghan evened up the score with Brown, who defeated him on points in a twenty-round bout at Sydney in October.

A PAINTING BY INNES.

A picture of sunlit woods that is valued by critics at $25,000 has been brought to light by Mrs. Jonathan Scott Hartley, daughter of George Innes, the artist, who died nearly twenty years ago. Recently she remembered that her father had a habit of painting over unfinished pictures when a new idea seized him. Among her keepsakes she found one covered with white paint. After this paint was removed the picture underneath was pronounced one of Innes' best works.

BATTLE TO DEATH FOR LOVE OF GIRL

While Mexicans in California Kill Each Other, Fickle Maid Flees With Third Suitor.

Padena, Calif., Dec. 26.—With long knives and a revolver, Elburte Garcia and Donquino Dominguez, young Mexicans, fought a battle today for the love of a girl. Both were fatally wounded and the fickle maiden in the meantime disappeared with a third man, also a Mexican.

While Mexicans in California Kill Each Other, Fickle Maid Flees With Third Suitor.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 26.—Word reached here today from Pineville, Ky., that Solomon Jackson and Tate Sanders of that city fought a peculiar battle there yesterday, in which both lost their lives. The men had trouble over a lawsuit and it was suggested that they clasp their left hands and, with a pistol in the right hand of each, "shoot it out." Standing hand in hand, they killed each other.

HAZEL DEAN FINDS HAVEN IN COUNTRY

Girl of Mystery, Still a Puzzle, Vanishes from Spotlight in New York City.

New York, Dec. 26.—Hazel Dean has gone to the country—and that is perhaps as much as New York will ever know about one of the most baffling and helpless bits of human foibles that the turbulence of the great city ever cast up. No body knows where Hazel came from. Nobody knows her real name. Nobody but Hazel and the police magistrate knows where she has gone to in the country.

Several weeks ago, very late one dark night, a pathetic little figure, muffled to the ears in a big coat, darted into one of the entrances of Central park and scurried down a by-path. She did not enter from the great Avenue gate. Past the benches with their belated loungers and lovers she sped, past the gas lights, and into a secluded nook behind a large rock as though it was a favorite rendezvous, and stopping there she produced a phial and swallowed something.

A park policeman, who unknown to her, had been following the fitting figure, ran up and dashed the phial from the girl's hand before she could swallow any more of its contents. Shaking with dry sobs, the little figure was hurried to a hospital. There she said she was Hazel Dean, sixteen years old, an artist's model. She admitted she had taken bicarbonate of mercury because she wanted to die. She seemed impatient because the doctors prevented her from accomplishing her desire.

beautiful girl of obvious refinement and good breeding. Her speech and manner betrayed excellent education and training. She seemed to want to gain nothing from her misrepresentations and admitted falsehoods. She shunned notoriety, refused to talk for publication, declined offers of marriage and stage propositions. Her pictures were published broadcast, yet no one ever appeared to claim relationship with the girl. Nobody was found who knew her. When she was placed in the hospital she said that she had tried to die because a girl could not make an honest living in New York. She said she came here to pose for artists and met with insults. Penrya Stanlaws, an artist of prominence, interested himself in the model, and he and Mrs. Stanlaws took her home to their studio apartment, where she lived for several weeks. The Stanlaws kindly told the child—for Hazel is little more than a child—that her story if untrue, should be corrected as it reflected on all artists, many of whom were his very best friends.

Is Sent Into Country.

The girl then said readily that her story was a fabrication. She said that she had met with nothing but courteous treatment from the artists for whom she posed and they paid her enough to enable her to live. Pressed for the reason why she wanted to die, she said simply that she was tired of living. Was there a love affair? The girl told one story after another, only to deny each in turn and each denial left her mystery deeper than before.

Finally she was entirely well. Her body was nourished and the color came back into her cheeks, the sparkle to her eyes Stanlaws and his wife could not keep her. She was still a ward of the court. Dozens of offers from kind-hearted and reliable people came to give the girl a home. The magistrates investigated the offers and selected a home in the country for the girl. She said she was willing to go there, and that perhaps is the end of Hazel Dean, an absorbing mystery of brief span, so far as the public is concerned. Mysteries are not long-lived in New York.

FREE MEALS FOR MOTHERS.

Paris has five restaurants for nursing mothers. They are located in the poorer quarters of the city, and two meals daily are served, consisting of meat soup, vegetables and unlimited bread.

It began in a tiny shop in the Julien-Lacroix alley in October, 1904, with a cash capital of exactly ten francs. The patronage was represented by one mother. Day by day, however, the number of mothers increased, rising to four hundred by the end of the first year and eight hundred by the end of the second year.

The meals cost seven cents apiece. It is reckoned that the price of a bottle of sterilized milk feeds two persons: mother and infant. The mothers pay nothing and there are no formalities of any kind. No inquiry is made as to the religion, the nationality or even the name of the patron. To be a nursing mother is equivalent to a free meal ticket.

The patronage of the five little restaurants is floating and variable. Some mothers find better luck and drop out. The customers increase markedly in numbers toward the end of each month when funds are lowest, and, as might be expected, there are many more of them in winter than in other seasons of the year.

Act Makes Her Criminal.

Hazel had once become a prisoner, and but for the kindness of strangers would have gone to the island, for by the laws of the Empire state attempted suicide here brings either the sought for death or imprisonment. It is a crime against the state to take one's life and if one does not succeed in killing oneself, imprisonment is the penalty.

Since then Hazel has been a bewildered mass of contradiction. She is about the only poor girl who ever achieved the spotlight of publicity in big New York, who did not go on the stage. Hazel is pretty and had offers to go on the stage, but refused them all. Pretty girls who get their pictures in the New York newspapers and do not go on the stage usually marry. Hazel received many offers of marriage, but spurned them all. She declared she would never marry.

The girl admitted that Hazel Dean was not her right name. She amended it with Helen Fitzgerald, and then admitted that Helen might not be her right name any more than Hazel. She said she came from an old southern family, and wanted to hide her identity that her people might not be humiliated. She followed that up with an admission that she was an orphan without any relatives and came from somewhere near New York.

The most mysterious thing about Hazel was that she seemed to be fibbing with an object except to keep her real name a deep dark secret. She is a

LONDON MEN GROW EFFEMINATE.

They're Wearing Colored-Top Boots; Yellow Waistcoats, Too.

London, Dec. 26.—Will men follow the fashion set by women and start wearing boots with colored tops? A fashionable shop in the West End has a stock of men's boots for evening wear, the tops of which are made from colored broadsides. Two shades seen are deep brown and deep purple.

Other novelties for men include yellow waistcoats, made from chamois fabric similar to that used in the manufacture of gloves. White evening waistcoats, with black piping and black buttons, also are being made. Another style is faced with "tango" colored silk.

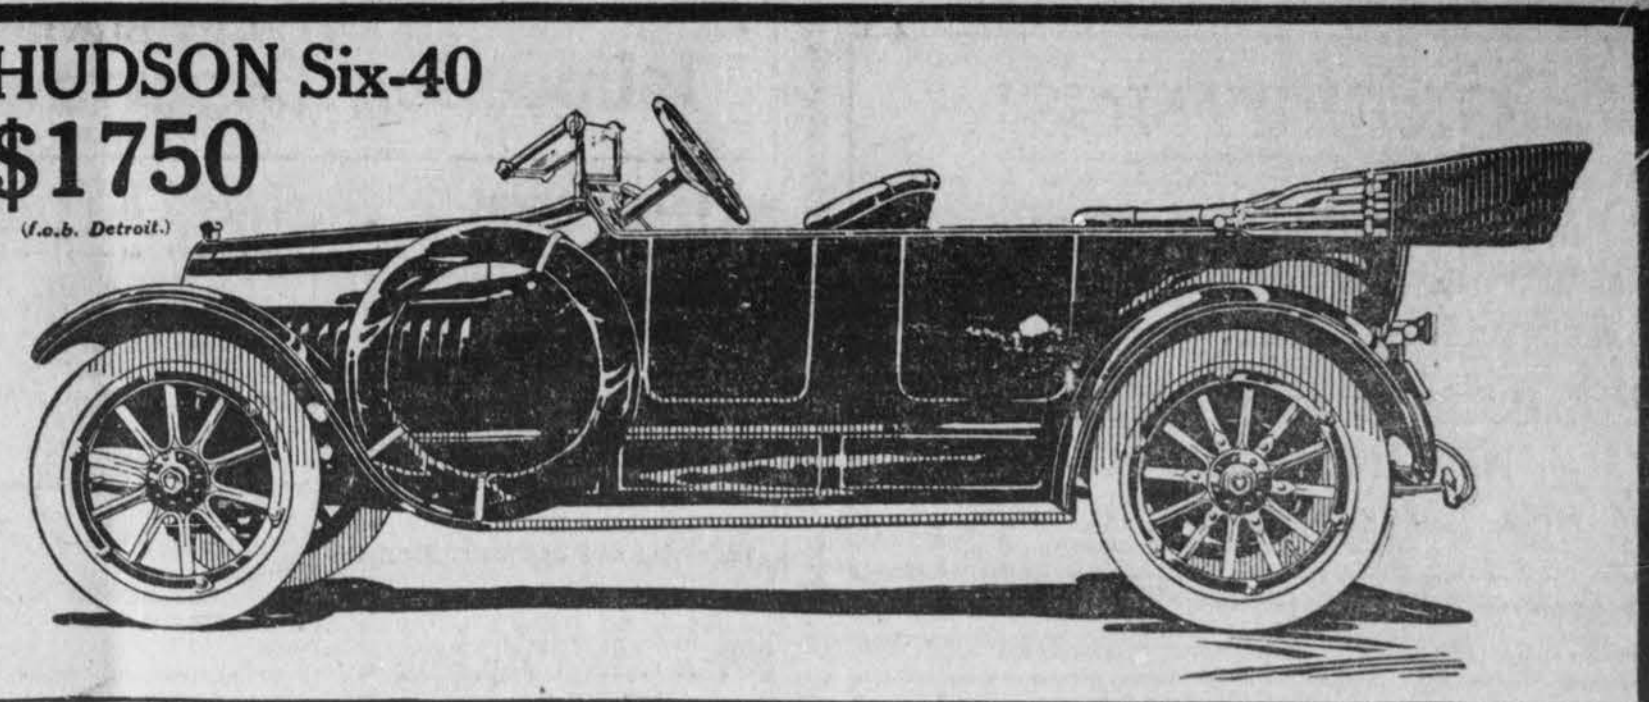

The obsession for fur this season has led to the adoption of a trimming for women's underclothing, and in Paris sets of lingerie and night dresses are being decorated with furless ermine, embroidered with black silk or mock jewels to match the color of the garment. Another novel idea is the blouse of old lace.

Women's hats already have been attacked on the ground of eccentricity, but they promise further surprises. The chief feature is that they continue to increase in height, until they resemble nothing so much as an exaggerated Scotch "bonnet," trimmed with ostrich set at right angles to each other on the left hand, or two nodding "query" plumes in front.

Perhaps the most revolutionary changes of all are to be found in the children's attire. Now the object seems to be to make little girls replicas in miniature of their mothers. As for small boys, the general aim appears to be the attainment of eccentric and grotesque effects.

WAS SHE CROSS-EYED?

When Charlotte M. Yonge issued her historical romance, "Unknown to History," some years ago, she startled her readers by informing them that Mary, Queen of Scots, was cross-eyed. Adherents of Mary Stuart immediately took up the question, and the arguments for and against this theory were carefully balanced. It was discovered that in an excellent portrait by Lodge, an artist who made special claim to accuracy, a distinct cast was apparent. Further, Mr. Leaders, in the book, "Mary, Queen of Scots, in Captivity," described the eyes as pictured in the famous Sheffield portrait in these words: "She has a very decided cast in the right eye, which the artist, with some skill, has rendered less obvious by representing her as looking toward the left." This cast is also noticed in the picture of Mary as Dauphine made in 1559, and in the miniature given by James I. to his secretary, James Edgar. Cross-eyed or not, however, Mary Stuart was certainly either beautiful or she bewitched people into thinking her beautiful. This was the unanimous verdict of friend and enemy alike. Even Knox called her face "pleasing," which the authentic portraits of her face hardly ever are. Even Elizabeth recognized something "divine" in her hated rival. The populace of Edinburgh cried, "Heaven bless that sweet face." And finally, Miss Agnes Strickland, who gave such long study to the Queens of England, after examining her portraits, said: "Nothing can be more lovely, refined and intellectual than her features." If there was anything peculiar about the eyes of Mary Stuart, so careful a biographer as Miss Strickland has entirely missed it.

This New Light Six-40 Came Yesterday
The Most Talked-About Car of the Year

Yesterday came the new HUDSON Six-40—the car which marks a new era in Sixes. It is the greatest innovation in all HUDSON history. Come at once and see it.

Thirty Attractive Features

- New streamline body.
- Seats from 4 to 7 passengers. Two disappearing tonneau seats.
- Hand-buffed leather upholstery.
- "One-Man" Pantaste top. Quick-adjustable side curtains enveloped in the top.
- Gasoline tank in cowl dash. All instruments and gauges within reach of driver.
- Extra tires carried ahead of the front door.
- Integral windshield, rain-vision, venting.
- Deco patented system of electric starting and lighting. 11-inch parabolic headlights with special dimming attachment. Electric tail light, dash light and portable inspection light.
- Concealed hinges. Concealed speedometer gear. Speedometer sunk in cowl apron.
- Wheelbase, 123 inches.
- Weight, 2,990 pounds.
- Tires, 34 x 4. Demountable rims with one extra rim.
- Left side drive.
- Electric horn. License carriers. Tire holders. All tools complete.
- Entrance to front seat from either side.

The Six That You've Waited For

Here is a Six, with 123-inch wheel base, which weighs under 3,000 pounds. That's very much lighter than equal-powered Fours.

Here is a Six, with small bore and long stroke, which consumes less fuel than any same-class Four.

And here is a Six of the most distinguished type which sells much below any comparable Four.

Think of that! The Six has long held every other advantage, and now it excels in economy.

The Six is the wanted car. Nobody really doubts that. Practically all high-grade American makers now build Sixes alone, or Sixes for best.

But the price, weight and operative cost have barred the Six to thousands. Now the HUDSON Six-40 takes down those bars.

Here is the lightest car of its size and power. It has the lowest operative cost. The price is below any Four of its class. And that car is a Six.

This is Howard E. Coffin's latest achievement. The same Mr. Coffin who, years ago, brought down the cost of Fours.

It will open your eyes to see what a car can be sold at that modest price.

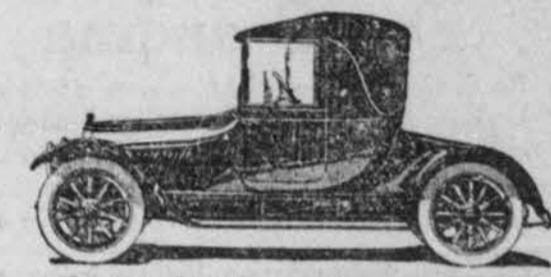

Come, Ride in It

Come and find out what luxury of motion one gets in this ideal Six. Note the smoothness, the flexibility, the quick acceleration, the total lack of vibration. Note how slow you can go, how quickly pick up, and what grades you can climb without changing from high gear. You will never again be happy with a Four.

The Handsomest Car of the Year

This new car has the same streamline body as the latest HUDSON Six-54. And all must agree that these two cars are the handsomest cars of the year.

They follow the latest European practice—no angles at the dash. All the accepted world standards are brought out in this car. The finish, the equipment and upholstery accord with the latest ideals. Up to six months ago there was no car at any price which offered so many attractions.

Yet the price is $1,750 f.o.b. Detroit.

This is the same Cabriolet with the top and side windows down.

The advance sale on this car has broken every HUDSON record. The first month's output was sold to users before the first car was completed. The December output will be only 550—hardly more than one car for each HUDSON dealer. So any man who may want this car early should come and see it now.

Count Your Blessings

At the close of the year is a good time to take an inventory, and at the same time it might not be unprofitable to count your blessings, after the cheerful habit of Mrs. Wiggs, when troubles swarmed like stinging bees around her.

If you have health—radiant, glowing health, that sends you weary with a good day's work to a dreamless refreshing sleep and wakes you to the opportunities of another day—the first and greatest of Life's blessings is yours. If there is work waiting every day for you to do, the second greatest blessing is yours. If you have a home and friends, a blessing precious beyond calculation is yours.

A comfortable savings account is another blessing to be reckoned. The home and the nest-egg that have been attained by regular saving is more precious than the mansions and riches of the very wealthy. If you have health, work, home and friends, and a good savings account, the counting of these blessings cannot help but add to the joy of a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

WHAT JOHN ROGERS DID.

Some fifty years ago there was a popular demonstration of interest in a purely American sculptor, and his work could be found in thousands of homes. This artist was John Rogers, born at Salem, Mass., October 29, 1821; died at New Canaan, Conn., July 26, 1904; and he worked in the belief that the vast majority of the people of the United States would appreciate and enjoy the reproduction of characteristic and familiar subjects in art more than they would enjoy classic forms and figures from mythology.

If popular fancy and large sales of his productions were a proof of his correct views, Mr. Rogers must have felt entire satisfaction. One factor of his success, however, must be counted, and that is that he chose so many of his subjects for characters and incidents in the Civil War, and the minds and hearts of the people were in touch with these.

Up to the age of thirty years John Rogers was a clerk and mechanic, and all the while he had a restless longing to be doing something artistic. While he was working in a machine shop at Manchester, N. H., Rogers occasionally visited Boston to enjoy a change of scene. One day he saw there a man modeling figures in clay, and as he watched him Rogers realized that this was something that he could do.

From this time on he devoted his leisure to modeling; but as he had to give fourteen hours a day to work in the shop, he did not make rapid advance. He had saved his money and finally decided to go abroad to see the great works of sculpture, and then to take up some art work that would give him a living.

He was gone eight months, and visited Paris and Rome. His observations led him to the determination to become an American sculptor, and to found a style of his own. He came home and experimented to get a good clay composition, and an Italian taught him all the details of casting. He was acting as clerk in the mayor's office at Chicago when a large fair for charity was held, and for this he modeled his first public work, "The Checker Players."

The attention and commendation bestowed upon this encouraged John Rogers. Then the war began, and he saw the opportunity of popularizing his figures from mythology.

In 1860 he exhibited his "Slave Auction" at New York city, and he was at once acclaimed a sculptor of merit. He dared to take a new studio in an attic at 599 Broadway, New York, and there began his successful career.

Rogers modeled his figures in ordinary clay. He then made a bronze cast, and this was the mold for the perfected copies, done in the clay composition he had invented. Some faithful portraits were produced in certain groups, one, "The Cecil of War," being notable. In these scenes from the life of Rip Van Winkle, Joseph Jefferson was his model.

He did two excellent large pieces of sculpture. One was a statue of Abraham Lincoln, exhibited at the Chicago World's Fair, and the other was a statue of General John F. Reynolds, who was killed at Gettysburg. To do this last Rogers built a plaster at Stamford, Conn., and had the studio model finished in less than a year. The Reynolds statue was placed in Philadelphia.—Boston Globe.

EXPERIENCES OF JOSEPH PULITZER

An interesting anecdote of Joseph Pulitzer's early days, which he told with great relish, related to his experiences as fireman on a Mississippi ferry boat. His limited knowledge of English was regarded by the captain as a personal affront, and that fire eating old timer made it his particular business to let young Pulitzer feel the weight of his authority.

At last the overwork and the constant bullying drove Mr. Pulitzer into revolt, and he left the boat after a violent quarrel with the captain.

Whenever Mr. Pulitzer reached this point in the story, and I heard him tell it several times, his face lighted up with amusement and he had to stop until he had enjoyed a good laugh.

"Well," he would conclude, "about two years later, when I had learned English and studied some law and been made a notary public, this very same captain walked into my office in St. Louis one day to have some documents sealed. As soon as he saw me he stopped short as if he had been shot and said: 'Say, ain't you the damned cuss that I fired off my boat?'

"I told him that I was. He was the most surprised man I ever saw, but after he had sworn himself hoarse he faced the facts and gave me his business."

Perhaps the most characteristic of all Mr. Pulitzer's stories about himself was one relating to an occurrence which took place after he had become editor and part proprietor of the Westliche Post, after he had given great notice to a certain judge in St. Louis and the latter declared one day from the bench that before the sun set he would seek out Pulitzer and shoot him down like a dog. If my memory serves me, Mr. Pulitzer was in court when this threat was made—in any case it came to his ears—and he immediately issued an "extra" announcing the proposed assassination and stating that he would remain in his office until the setting of the sun in order that no hitch might occur in the program.—Alleyne Ireland, in Metropolitan Magazine.

MICROBE OF CANCER.

Dr. Boes, professor of pathological anatomy at the University of Montpellier, France, who has been making extensive investigations into cancer, claims to have discovered the microbe of the disease. It is of the protozoa type, he said, and is found principally in water. A large number of insects, fish and warm-blooded animals act as carriers.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

NEW REGULATIONS FOR PARCEL POST

Beginning Jan. 1, Scope of the Service Will Be Given Another Extension.

James Clancey, the Ishpeming postmaster, has received from A. E. Burleson, postmaster general, the new regulation as to weight limit and postage rates for fourth class mail matter that are to go into effect on the first of the year.

It is expected that the increase in the weight limit will necessitate the employment of more men in the mail service. The popularity of the parcel post has been thoroughly demonstrated during the past three or four weeks, and its rapid expansion is generally predicted.

John Delbridge, the assistant postmaster, yesterday said that more parcel post packages were received at the Ishpeming office Christmas day and yesterday than were handled during the entire Christmas season in 1912. The business this year was, in the aggregate, much greater than any one connected with the postal department anticipated.

When the new weight limit is in effect there will be many heavy packages to be delivered, and it will be necessary to use wagons in all of the larger cities.

The new regulations provide:

"On and after Jan. 1, 1914, the limit of weight of parcels of fourth class mail for delivery within the first and second zones will be increased from twenty to fifty pounds and in the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth zones from eleven to twenty pounds."

"The rate of postage on parcels exceeding four ounces in weight in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth zones shall be as follows:

"Third Zone—Six cents for the first pound and two cents for each additional pound or fraction thereof.

"Fourth Zone—Seven cents for the first pound and four cents for each additional pound or fraction thereof.

"Fifth Zone—Eight cents for the first pound and six cents for each additional pound or fraction thereof.

"Sixth Zone—Nine cents for the first pound and eight cents for each additional pound or fraction thereof.

"All regulations or parts of regulations in conflict herewith are hereby repealed."

"On and after Jan. 1, 1914, gold coin.

Markets

(From Geo. F. Ruez, Ishpeming.)

In spite of wire trouble, the volume of business was larger Friday than it has been recently. The Lake stocks acted especially well, and hundreds of orders to buy were unfilled because the limits were too low.

Wolverine sold at 47, Oseola at 78, Copper Range at 37 and others in proportion.

New York Stocks.

Despite considerable profit-taking, the New York market closed Friday with new high marks throughout the list.

The buying of Reading, Steel and Amalgamated was the feature. Amalgamated sold at 7 3/4, Steel at 69 3/4, and Reading at 17 1/2.

The total sales were 478,200 shares. Closing prices were:

FEWER BOATS NEXT SEASON.

Total Carrying Capacity of Great Lakes Will Be Reduced.

As a result of heavy losses last season, it is estimated by Captain Monahan, of Duluth, United States inspector of hulls, that the number of freighters operating on the lakes will be reduced by eight next summer. While several new boats will be built, the number will fall short of making up the loss in carrying capacity. The specifications covering the construction of some of the new boats are reported to have applied the lessons of the 1913 losses.

The large number of hatches are a weak point in the present type of one and one-half deckers. They are under a severe strain when tons of water pour over the deck of a ship. It is believed that the loss of some of the boats in the storms this year was caused through their hatches giving way.

MARRIED IN VIRGINIA.

Miss Hilma Hedstrom, a wellknown Ishpeming girl, who has been living with Dr. Joseph Vandeventer, and family, in Leesburg, Va., for the past two years, was recently married in that city to L. G. ### FIRESIDE CLUB PROGRAM.

Among the several musical numbers that will be given at the Fireside club meeting, in the Y. M. C. A. lobby, tomorrow afternoon, will be a piano solo by Miss Merle Trembath, a saxophone solo by Harold Williams, and a violin solo by Cecil Collins. The meeting will be held at 3:30 o'clock.

TO ATTEND BANQUET.

Several of the Marquette county employees of the Carpenter-Cook company will go to Menominee today to attend the annual banquet of salesmen and heads of departments this evening in the Hotel Stephenson. The delegation will be made up of H. G. O'Keefe, John N. Olson, Leo Schilling, H. C. Hanrahan, H. R. Goodman, John Brandlund and A. Lindholm. They will return tomorrow morning.

AN INDEX OF HOAXES.

Practical Jokes Which Dame History Has Accepted—Some of the Best of Them.

Hoaxers exist in every profession and walk of life: they flourish in every age and clime; they ply their art either as a means of livelihood, or from the sole desire to gull the credulous public. It was the latter which incited that prince of practical jokers, Theodore Hook, to perpetrate the most audacious of all hoaxes, the Berrers street hoax; that for the time roused all London to laughter and indignation. Hook bet a guinea that a certain modest dwelling in a quiet thoroughfare leading out of Oxford street would become the most notorious house in town, and set about winning his wager by addressing over a thousand letters, containing orders, to tradesmen, with the request that they would at a certain hour on a certain day deliver their goods at a certain house in Berrers street. Besides the unfortunate shopkeepers, who suffered much loss through damage to their goods, others were included in the "fun." The lord mayor, the lord chief justice, the archbishop of Canterbury, and the commander-in-chief were among the many victims that fell into the trap, and duty arriving at the appointed spot, experienced most unceremonious treatment amid the turbulent and exasperated throng.

As the result of a bet between the duke of Montague and Lord Chesterfield that the former would, by advertising an utterly impossible performance, find fools enough to fill a playhouse, it was announced that on Jan. 10, 1749, on the stage of the Haymarket theater, a person would get into a tavern quart-bottle, and while there sing several songs. On the evening appointed for the accomplishment of this marvelous feat the house was packed from floor to ceiling, among the expectant audience being no less a personage than the duke of Cumberland. For a while all sat in patient silence, but, on the curtain rising, catcalls and whistles soon swelled to open riot. Someone now threw a lighted candle upon the stage, and a general stampede for that part of the house immediately followed, and in the melee that ensued the duke of Cumberland lost his sword.

The papers, especially those of the Jacobite party, made great fun of this affair, and in Old England appeared this burlesque advertisement, having reference to the duke of Cumberland's loss.

"Found entangled in the slit of a lady's demolished smock petticoat, a gill-headed scoundrel of martial temper and length, not much the worse of wearing, with the Spey curiously engraven on one side, and the Scheldt on the other; supposed to be taken from the fat sides of a certain great general in his hasty retreat from the Battle of Bottle Noddes, in the Haymarket. Whoever has lost it may inquire for it at the sign of the Bird and Singing Land, in Rotten Row."

A hoax equally diverting, and with no harmful issue, was that originating with Daily, the manager of the Dublin theater, who wagered that within twenty-four hours he would introduce a perfectly meaningless word into the English language. To effect this he chalked on every wall to which he could gain access the four letters Q U I Z, which at once set all Dublin wondering as to their significance, wondering in vain, the sole result of the general bewilderment being the circulation of a word that has remained current till the present day.

"Astounding News by Express, via Norfolk—The Atlantic Crossed in Three Days! Signal Triumph of Mr. Monk Mason's Flying Machine! Arrival at Sullivan's Island, near Charleston (S. C.), of Mr. Mason, Mr. Robert Holland, and Hon. Mr. Harrison Ainsworth, and four others, in the Steering Balloon Victoria, after a passage of Seventy-five Hours from Land to Land! Full Particulars of the Voyage!" was the announcement that headed an article in the New York Sun, giving an account of an aerial voyage across the Atlantic. Nearly everybody believed in the preposterous statement, and the circulation of "the sole paper that had the news" increased by leaps and bounds. The title of "The Balloon Hoax," is included among the tales of Edgar Allan Poe.

The imposture of Chatterton—too well known to need retelling—was surpassed in audacity by that of the youth Ireland, whose Shakespearean forgeries formed the subject of Pav's novel, "The Talk of the Town." It is to be noted that the universal acclaim with which some spurious signatures and minor documents of the poet were received, he had the hardihood to "discover" some unpublished plays, by the master's hand, one of which, "Voluptuous," was produced by Sheridan at Drury Lane. Its stilted bombast, however, disgusted and undeciphered the critics and public, and Ireland, finding his position no longer tenable, made full confession of his knavery. More extraordinary still was the hoax perpetrated by the erudite George Psalmanazar, when successfully personating a converted native of Formosa. What little knowledge he possessed of the East was supplemented by invention. He composed an imaginary language, while from his brain was evolved a fictitious history of Formosa. This, owing to the palpable errors it contained, led to detection, people refusing to credit the statement that the natives sacrificed 18,000 male infants annually.

PREJUDICE AGAINST FOOD.

Walter C. Hamm, American consul at Newcastle-on-Tyne, discusses in the Daily Consular and Trade Reports the prejudices which English people have held against green corn. Only now, says he, are there indications that this contempt for food prized in America is giving way to intelligent appreciation.

Sweet corn, on the cob and canned, is at last appearing on tables and green corn is actually being featured in grocers' windows. Only a short time ago attempts were made by American exporters to establish a corn trade in the English counties, but without success. Most of the consumers ridiculed the food while the working people could not understand why Americans ate green corn—a product, in their estimation, fit only for cattle.

The green corn conquest of England recalls the struggles which other articles of food went through before they were popularly accepted. We here in the United States really do not appreciate our ample food products to which some nations are strangers. Even the banana is a victim both of misunderstanding and trade restriction. The United States annually consumes millions of bunches of bananas. They sell here for as low as ten cents a dozen. Yet in France bananas are a luxury. Grape fruit is looked on with doubt in Germany. Over there they say that grape fruit is bitter. Perhaps we have had to acquire a taste for it. But the consumption of grapefruit is increasing year by year.

Prejudice against certain articles of food is not uncommon in the history of the world. The history of the garden tomato is evidence of this. Grandmothers today can remember the time when the tomato was the "Indian love apple" and nothing more. Perhaps the day is coming when we shall eat with relish fruits and articles of food which we now disregard or perhaps regard with fear. Luther Burbank and the other great horticulturists are making aristocrats out of plebeian plants. Burbank has made the cactus bear as a fruit tree. It is well for us to take heart when we contemplate present food prices. When eggs and meat prices become prohibitive, we may find nutritious substitutes.—Indianapolis News.

OVERCROWDED CARS.

A narrow car, seats filled with persons attempting to read newspapers while the car swings and jolts along its way; aisles jammed with men and women; boys and girls and tiny children, swaying and rubbing one against the other, coughing and sneezing, pushing and pressing—what a sight for a progressive age; what a sermon for the moralist; what a despair for the student of public health and hygiene! Endless problems are presented by this picture, seen daily in nearly every American city. Most important is the menace to health from the thousands of bacteria, hidden in the throats of diseased men and women, and sprayed directly into a stagnant air, moist and unmovable in the absence of sufficient means of ventilation. Virulent organisms are inhaled into the throats and lungs of tired workers and tiny children, who form an excellent host for their quick cultivation. The fare for the ride is small, but the cost cannot be estimated in terms of dollars and cents.—Journal of the American Medical Association.

MANY UMBRELLAS FOUND.

Carelessness seems to be a growing habit in London, for the report for 1912 of the Commissioner of Police, just issued, shows that the lost articles sent to Scotland Yard numbered 84,876, an increase of no fewer than 13,258 on the previous year. The articles included: Bags, 10,164; jewelry, 2,233; opera glasses, 748; purses, 3,423; sticks, 2,002; umbrellas, 32,250; watches, 365. Of these 26,865 articles, valued at $200,260, were restored to their owners.

GERMAN UNIVERSITIES IN 1913.

The number of students matriculated in the universities in the German empire, which has doubled since 1896, has risen further during the last summer. As compared with the previous year, the increase is 7,851, and compared with the summer semester of 1903 is about 24,000. The increase during the last ten years is as great as the entire attendance at the German universities thirty years ago. The annual increase for the last year is somewhat smaller than the previous year, so that it may be assumed that the high point of the increase has been passed, which in view of the overfilling of many learned professions may be regarded as desirable. If to the number of matriculated students, the number of those admitted to the lectures is added (3,079 men and 1,027 women) there are at present attending the German universities 64,462 persons (56,913 men and 3,436 women as compared with 50,002 men and 2,959 women in the previous year). As to the attendance of the different departments, theology showed a marked increase with 2,882 students as compared with 3,338 in the previous year, but the principal increase is seen in the department of medicine, to which university students have given the preference for some years. The medical departments have 14,750 students as compared with 13,409 in the previous year and 8,282 five years ago. The next largest increase is in economics and agriculture. Dentistry decreased as a result of higher entrance requirements and longer time of study from 789 to 635 and law from 11,087 to 10,396 and finally students of philosophy from 16,944 to 15,471.

ORGANIZATION MEN NAMED FOR POSTS

Selections of Candidates in Western Michigan Is Deemed of Great Significance.

According to the Grand Rapids Herald, President Wilson has made nominations of Democrats to succeed U. S. Marshal Whelan and U. S. District Attorney Wetmore, of the western district of Michigan. The resignations of these officials were recently requested, despite the fact that their terms still have two years or so to run. They have not resigned, as per Democratic request, but it seems that the President has gone right ahead and sent in the names of their Democratic successors. It has been said that the two Michigan senators would put up a stiff contest to prevent confirmation. Both of the present officials, who are wellknown in Marquette as a result of their frequent visits here on court business, are particular friends of William Alden Smith, who was highly indignant when he learned that their resignations had been requested.

Berlin, Dec. 26.—The world's toyland is Germany, and Santa Claus capital and headquarters, is not at the north pole, but at Sonnenburg (Sun Mountain), a town in the duchy of Meiningen, on the edge of the great Thuringian forest. Almost the entire population of the city of fifteen thousand inhabitants is in the employ of Santa Claus. Every house is a workshop for Santa. Germany exported toys to the value of $20,000,000 last year. From the rails made on the shops by old Kris Kringle this year, the figures are expected to reach between $24,000,000 and $25,000,000.

PETITION FOR VAN EVERA IN

While There Is Some Talk of F. H. Begole, It Is Believed That the Mayoralty Contest Will Be Confined to the Three Candidates Now in the Field.

Ten Aspirants for Positions as Commissioner Have Now Come Forward, and It Is Expected That Four or More Will Hand in Petitions Before Evening.

The petition placing J. R. Van Evera in nomination for mayor was filed with City Recorder Donovan yesterday morning. It was the third petition for this office placed with the recorder, William Fassbender and J. H. Jacobs having also qualified for a place on the primary ballot.

Yesterday there was further talk that F. H. Begole would be a candidate for mayor. Although Mr. Begole made a definite statement to The Mining Journal early in the week that he would not seek the office, but would endorse the candidacy for commissioner of Ernest L. Pearce, who is associated with him in the management of the Lake Shore Engine works, a number of men have been seeking the past few days to have him reconsider this decision and announce that he is in the field. Up to last evening they had not secured his authorization to file a petition.

As, in the meanwhile, Mr. Pearce has filed for the commission, it is not likely that Mr. Begole will enter in the contest, and it will probably lie between Mayor Fassbender, J. R. Van Evera and J. H. Jacobs.

Contradicts Jacobs.

A city official who is thoroughly familiar with the course of public business during the administration of Mr. Jacobs as mayor for two years prior to last spring, last night flatly contradicted Jacobs' assertion that he is to be thanked for the electric pumping plant at the water station and the extension of the city intake.

The project of extending the intake was considered long before Mr. Jacobs' election as mayor, as the voters of the city well know. It was first given form following the occurrence of the crocota trouble, after the North Marquette furnace was placed in operation, and was continuously before the water board for a period of several years, as the records of the board and the files of the newspapers will show.

Mr. Jacobs had no important part in framing public sentiment in support of that project and had no important part in carrying it out, either. His influence on the board of fire and water commissioners was entirely negligible and his contribution to the success of the intake extension plan exists wholly in his imagination.

initiated eight years ago by members of the light and power commission who, as has frequently been related, went to the water board with the plan, only to have it rejected. In the succeeding years it was many times informally discussed by members of the board and was referred to in the newspapers. For a number of years before it was actually undertaken it was looked forward to as an improvement to be taken up when the time was ripe for it. The plan for outdated Jacobs' election as mayor and he contributed nothing to carrying it out.

Was a Clog on Business.

"The experience of the water board with Mr. Jacobs was the experience of all the other boards. When he favored them with his presence as an ex-officio member, the problem presented was one of keeping him sidetracked and corked up so that the working members of the board might be able to make some orderly progress with the matters they were called together to consider.

"Only when the flood of the then mayor's fantastical suggestions and bewildered stories was shut off was it possible to go ahead with business. This condition was so generally a matter of remark about the city hall, as well as among all persons making any pretense of following municipal affairs, that the former mayor's assumption to himself of whatever credit attaches to the extension of the intake and the installation of electric pumps is a rich, ripe, fat joke, fully in keeping with the part he has for some years past allotted to himself in municipal affairs."

Last Day for Filing.

Today is the last day for filing petitions for places on the primary ballot. For commissioner the candidates now in the field are M. E. Asire, G. W. Ackerman, E. L. Pearce, George Agnew, J. E. Sherman, E. J. Sink, J. T. Gillett, Herman Schauer, J. H. Lewis and Michael Hennessy. It is expected that petitions will be filed today for John G. Stenglein, Jacob Werner, J. H. O'Keefe and Matt Burke, and it is possible that other candidates may also enter the field.

The voters will not have long to make up their minds about how to vote the primary ballots, for the tryout will occur on Jan. 12. On that date two candidates for mayor and eight candidates for commissioner will be named for places on the election ballot.

The election will follow two weeks later, Jan. 26.

SANTA CLAUS VISITS CITY'S POOR CHILDREN

Salvation Army Conducted Christmas Entertainment in City Hall Last Evening.

Several hundred children gathered in the assembly hall of the city hall last evening to attend the annual Christmas festival of the Salvation Army. The festivities lasted for two hours. The entertainment was by far the most elaborate ever carried out by the Marquette corps and the number of needy children who were not reached by Santa Claus on Christmas eve and who were present last night was larger than usual. Each child was presented with a toy and with candy and nuts.

The assembly hall was prettily decorated, three large Christmas trees, gaily decorated, gracing the stage. Appropriate Christmas decorations were draped about the room. The entertainment commenced at 7:30 o'clock with a program of musical and literary numbers and informal addresses by members of the Marquette corps. The Marquette City band played at intervals throughout the evening. A Punch and Judy show was a feature of the program that was thoroughly enjoyed by the children.

MORE ABOUT THE CHRISTMAS MONEY CLUB

OPERATED BY

Marquette County Savings Bank

Under Copyright Class A, XXc., No. 349,609.

YOU MAY JOIN THE CLUB TODAY — or any day thereafter up to January 31st, 1914, though membership cards are dated Dec. 29th, 1913.

If you can't come to the bank, just send the money and we will send you a card.

The big vital purpose of the Christmas Money Club is to provide everybody with an ample supply of CHRISTMAS MONEY. The plan is so delightfully simple and the sums involved are so small that it is a pleasure to provide for them, and it becomes a growing wonder that these small sums deposited in the bank could bring such large returns at Christmas time. And everyone is eligible for membership. It is a Club, made up of professional and business men, mechanics, clerks, school teachers' husbands and wives, boys and girls, and you may take our word for it, that the happiest man on earth is a man with a growing bank account. You may start the weekly payment with one cent, two cents or five cents. These divisions bring checks for $12.75, $25.50 and $63.75 respectively.

The plan in part provides:

DIVISION 1—By depositing one cent the first week, two cents the second week, three cents the third week, and so on for a period of fifty weeks, about Dec. 15 you will receive a check for $12.75

DIVISION 2—By depositing two cents the first week four cents the second week, six cents the third week, and so on for a period of fifty weeks, about Dec. 15 you will receive a check for $25.50

DIVISION 3—By depositing five cents the first week, ten cents the second week, fifteen cents the third week, and so on for a period of fifty weeks, about Dec. 15 you will receive a check for $63.75
