PROPOSITION GOES TO VOTE OF PEOPLE

Question of Abolishing the County Road System Is Submitted by the Baraga Board.

The question of progress aside, one of the most important propositions to be determined at the Baraga county spring election on April 6 will be the proposed abandonment of the county road system. Baraga county has had the county system in operation for several years and it has been a continual cause for trouble.

The conflict between various factions resulted two years ago in the removal from office by Governor Osborn of two of the road commissioners, and now the county board is considering the abandonment of the system. The consideration follows charges of graft, inefficiency, squandering of public money and other things sometimes aired in political quarrels. Baraga county has ordinarily more internal political strife than any other county in the peninsula.

The following is the notice calling for the vote on the question of doing away with the county road system: "Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the board of supervisors held on the third day of February, 1914, the following resolution was adopted, viz: 'Whereas there has been submitted to this board petitions signed by more than ten freeholders, residing in each of the several townships and incorporated villages in this county, petitioning the board to submit the question of rescinding the vote by which the county road system was adopted, therefore, be it resolved, that the question of rescinding the county road system be submitted to a vote of the electors of the county at a general election to be held on Monday, the sixth day of April, nineteen hundred and fourteen.' Notice is further given that said question will be stated on the ballots to be used at said election, as follows: Shall the vote to which the county road system was adopted be rescinded by the county of Baraga?"

Question of Electric Light Rates.
The Red Jacket council will on Thursday night discuss with the village the proposition of electric lighting for the coming year. Some time ago the council received a petition, signed by a number of taxpayers, protesting against the adoption of a long-term contract with the Houghton County Electric company. The long-term contract, however, gives a reduction in rates and it is felt by some of the members of the board that it is up to the council to save every cent possible.

Those who signed the petition of protest and all other parties interested are to appear before the council Thursday night, when both sides will be given an opportunity to thresh the matter out. It is probable that the Houghton County Electric Light company will also have a representative present.

In Laurium the matter of procuring lower rates has also been considered, but it is probable that the Laurium board will also enter into another contract for five years. It is believed that before the expiration of such a contract some other plan for reducing rates may suggest itself. Every few years the plan for establishing a joint municipal plant by Red Jacket and Laurium is suggested, but the idea generally dies a-borning.

CHALLENGES PEQUAMING TEAM.
The Mining Journal is in receipt of the following communication from Baraga county: "We, the members of the Baraga hockey team, wish to announce that we claim the championship of Baraga county until defeated by the Pequaming team of Pequaming. This latter team claims the laurels as a result of a recent game with L'Anse, and as Baraga has not been defeated by Pequaming as yet this season the Baraga players and fans wish to see the two teams clash. The Baraga boys are ready to meet Pequaming in any enclosed rink in the upper peninsula at any time and for any amount."

NEW YORK STOCKS.
The stock market was more active and weaker in the early trading Saturday, but with good support a sharp rally followed. This did not hold, however. Stocks were pressed for sale towards the close and, on the whole, slight losses were made. The bank statement was more unfavorable than expected. Sentiment is somewhat more pessimistic due to the St. Paul trouble, and a further reaction is feared. Good stocks are beginning to look cheap. The total sales at New York Saturday were 296,900 shares. Closing prices follow:

Suit for Damages Filed.

Last week papers were served at Iron Mountain on Sam Anderson, produce merchant, in two actions for damages, one for $10,000 and the second for $2,500. Lynn Stark, of Chicago, is made co-defendant. The first action, for $10,000, is instituted by Frederick C. Cowling, twelve-year-old son of John Frank Cowling, and the second suit for $2,500 is commenced by Mr. Cowling. The suits are the outcome of an accident to the boy which occurred June 24, 1913. With a number of other boys, the youngster had been employed to sort potatoes at the warehouse of the defendant, who had let down a hole in the floor through which the potatoes were hoisted from the lower floor and struck on the floor in such manner as to fracture his skull and inflict other injuries. For a time his condition was critical. It is also alleged that, as a result of the fall, the boy's mental faculties have been seriously impaired, that his injuries are permanent and his general health destroyed. It is the allegation that the defendants were guilty of gross negligence in failing properly to guard, fence and protect said hole. Lynn Stark, of Chicago, who is made co-defendant in the suit, is one of the largest dealers in potatoes in the country. He and his associates own many warehouses, and it is alleged he is a part owner of the Iron Mountain warehouse. Mr. Cowling, in his own behalf, filed a bill of particulars against his son and the recovery of the large sums he has been forced to expend for surgical and medical treatment.

GRAND RAPIDS—Victor L. Palmer,

former financial head of the defunct Michigan Duggs company in Kalamazoo, stood mute when arraigned before United States Judge Sessions on a federal jury indictment accusing him of using the mails for fraudulent purposes. A plea of not guilty was entered by the court. His trial was set for the term beginning March 17. Palmer did not seem to be worried during his arraignment. He was accompanied by two attorneys, his father, George W. Palmer, and his uncle, Charles A. Palmer. Palmer was arrested in Kalamazoo by Deputy United States Marshal E. J. Robinson, of Grand Rapids. It is charged that Palmer sent out misleading letters to various banks throughout the country regarding the financial status of the concern. It is also alleged that one of these was mailed when the company was insolvent.

Court Decision Closes Saloons.

Circuit Judge Fead of the Alger county circuit has filed an opinion in the proceedings instituted by William E. Johnston, of the board of Rock River to rescind its action of last July in accepting and approving the surety company bonds offered by Axel Johnston and Edward Levy as liquor dealers. The Michigan laws provide that upon the filing of a protest signed by a majority of the board of a township bond cannot accept surety company bonds from saloon keepers. On July 1, 1913, such a protest was filed with the Rock River board signed by William E. Mead, C. C. Brown and more than one hundred other persons claiming to be qualified electors, and on July 3, a suit was begun in the circuit court by Mr. Mead, alleging that the township board intended to grant the liquor license and asking for an injunction to restrain the board, says the Mining Journal. A preliminary hearing was had before the circuit court commissioner and the injunction denied. WOULD BARE INCOMES OF THE CONGRESSMEN

Lafferty Proposes a Measure Prohibiting Acceptance of Fees Outside of Salaries.

Washington, March 8.—Congressman Walter Lafferty, Progressive, from Oregon, proposes to let the public know how it is that men can enter public life in Washington and within a few years become wealthy. Failing in this he intends to secure the enactment of a law which will prevent congressmen and senators from accepting any fees or emoluments aside from the salary they receive from the government. To bring about one or the other of these results Mr. Lafferty has introduced in the house two bills. The purpose of the bills is well described in their titles, which are quoted:

"Requiring senators and members of the house of representatives to file a yearly itemized sworn statement of all fees, compensation or other things of value donated to or received by them for services rendered or to be rendered.

"Making it unlawful for senators and members of the house of representatives to accept any compensation other than salaries and allowances received from the government."

Mr. Lafferty calls attention to the fact that Senator A. C. Bacon died a con-

SECRETARY WILSON'S AUTO CAUSES A STIR

Right to Buy One Out of Department's Contingent Fund Is Subject for Attack.

Washington, March 8.—Just what kind of an automobile Secretary of Labor Wilson purchased out of government moneys in his control, how much it cost, and whether he had any right or license to "blow himself" at Uncle Sam's expense is a debatable and much debated question just now. It has seemed to many that the former miner who has been placed at the head of a governmental department to look after the interests of the laboring men ought not to be "putting on airs," and ought to be willing to "walk like common folks."

Still there are two sides to the question. One is to the effect that opponents of the department of labor have seized upon this little item of expense to embarrass the secretary. They contend that it is part of the concerted campaign which is being made to discredit the department of labor and drive Mr. Wilson from the cabinet because of radical utterances at Seattle. The first big kick against this extravagance came from Chairman Fitzgerald of the house appropriations committee. He charged that the labor secretary violated the law in taking money from the contingent expense fund to buy an automobile for himself.

TAX WILL BE PAID ON MANY INCOMES

Returns from the Upper Peninsula Exceed Expectations of Revenue Collector's Office.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 8.—Belated returns are still coming in to the income tax department of the revenue office here, but neither number nor amount will reach the earlier expectations of the income tax collectors.

Before the order was received from Commission Osborne compelling secrecy regarding the new tax, it was given out here that 1,700 individuals had filed and that nearly half that number were expected. It is predicted that the number of individuals in the Fourth district of Michigan coming under the income tax does not exceed 2,500. The district embraces all of the upper peninsula and about half of the lower peninsula.

The returns from the Lake Superior country exceeded expectations. There are a number of individuals in the upper peninsula affected by the law, and some of the incomes are surprisingly large. The mining and lumber corporations are expected to exceed all others in the size of their respective taxes, but not the slightest intimation was given concerning the exact amounts of either.

Little Deception Is Practiced.

Questionable returns have been laid aside by the inspectors and these inquisitive men will soon begin calling on the well-to-do farmers and business men who are suspected of having larger incomes than were represented on their returns.

Collector Clapperton believes that there was no deliberate evasion practiced and attributes the faultiness of the returns to ignorance of the law. A number of new inspectors will soon be appointed to carry out this end of the work, but these men will be appointed from Washington and will not be under the jurisdiction of the head of the service here. Among those who have evaded the law without fraudulence instead are men who received no blanks and believed that they were under no obligations to apply for them. The law leaves this entirely to the honesty of the individual, but is relentless in its investigation of those who willfully or otherwise evade the law.

The penalty for failure to file on time is a fine of from $50 to $1,000 and an automatic addition of 50 per cent of the tax. For fraudulent returns the penalty is a fine not to exceed $2,000, imprisonment for one year, or both, and an addition of 100 per cent of the tax.

SECRETARY WILSON'S AUTO CAUSES A STIR

Right to Buy One Out of Department's Contingent Fund Is Subject for Attack.

Washington, March 8.—Just what kind of an automobile Secretary of Labor Wilson purchased out of government moneys in his control, how much it cost, and whether he had any right or license to "blow himself" at Uncle Sam's expense is a debatable and much debated question just now. It has seemed to many that the former miner who has been placed at the head of a governmental department to look after the interests of the laboring men ought not to be "putting on airs," and ought to be willing to "walk like common folks."

Still there are two sides to the question. One is to the effect that opponents of the department of labor have seized upon this little item of expense to embarrass the secretary. They contend that it is part of the concerted campaign which is being made to discredit the department of labor and drive Mr. Wilson from the cabinet because of radical utterances at Seattle. The first big kick against this extravagance came from Chairman Fitzgerald of the house appropriations committee. He charged that the labor secretary violated the law in taking money from the contingent expense fund to buy an automobile for himself.

speech touched up the reaction of the labor secretary and pleaded a return to pure democracy. "I am sorry for the secretary of labor who wanted a seven-passenger touring car and a $1,300 electric," he said. "We set quite a pace in this extravagant capital. But when a cabinet officer buys an automobile out of his contingent fund, why can't the fish commissioner or any other governmental official do the same thing?"

Congressman Buchanan came to the defense of Secretary Wilson. He said the true statement of facts was that all the cabinet officers were allowed a carriage and horses by the government. Congress refused to give Mr. Wilson an automobile. Later he was given a pair of crippled horses which had seen long service for another department. He traded this pair of spavined animals in part payment for a $1,900 automobile, not a $7,000 limousine, as had been stated by Mr. Fitzgerald. The horses were accepted at $800 and Mr. Wilson paid the remaining $800 out of his contingent fund. And yet congress after a long agitation refused to purchase automobiles for the speaker and vice president a few years ago.

BULL FIGHTS GO ON DESPITE WAR RAGES

Sunday Crowds at Mexico City Fill Arena Where Toreadors Show Their Skill.

Mexico City, March 8.—A world's championship crowd goes every Sunday, despite the war, to the bull fight in the great steel and cement ring at Condesa.

The uproar grows. The judges hang up a sign, "$500 fine for throwing objects into the ring."

Suddenly a new bull dashes into the arena and drives its horns into a horse. The yells of the crowd turn to cheers.

STORY OF SACRIFICE IS REVEALED BY WILL

Nurse Who Put Off Wedding Three Years Gets $50,000 from Wealthy Employer.

Orange, N. J., March 8.—A tale of sacrifice that she might serve her employer until his death, even though it interfered with her marriage, has been revealed following the reading of the will of William Runkle, who died Jan. 31.

Following her graduation as a nurse from the Post-Graduate hospital, New York, fifteen years ago Miss Tully became a nurse to Mrs. Runkle, who was then in ill health.

A short time before Mrs. Runkle's death, three years ago, Miss Tully had planned to be married to Marcus Lynce, head coachman for Mr. Runkle who receives $5,000 under his employer's will.

The will also gives permission to her to take whatever furniture she may desire from the home-estate. A sister of Miss Tully, Mrs. Della Fanning, also gets $5,000 under the will.

THWING CALLS HALT TO VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Unversity President Gives Warning Let It Be Carried to the Point of Delirium.

New Haven, Conn., March 8.—Vocational enthusiasm of today may easily become a delirium," said President Charles F. Thwing of Western Reserve University in his annual address as president of the Religious Education association here.

Does he kick a good deal? He shall become a drunkard, or a salesman of boots and shoes. No. Such extreme nonsense will be checked by its own foolishness.

Reviewing the social changes which have taken place in American colleges since the Civil war, President Thwing pictured the contrast between the fresh men class at Harvard in 1877, when practically all its members were sons of lawyers, merchants and ministers.

"Nothing has done more to undermine the influence of the pulpit in recent days than the attempt to deliver judgment on questions of business or politics on the basis of a merely casual study of the facts," declared President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale.

"Who form his precepts upon such a casual study is like a lawyer who knows less than the jury, or a doctor who understands his disease no better than his patient.

Dr. Hadley's address further was an appeal for higher education. It was needed, he said, in the solution of the moral questions of the present day more than it ever was before.

College Fraternities Have a Defender.

A college president spoke in defense of college fraternities. President William DeWitt Hyde of Bowdoin college, addressing the convention, said:

"The remedy for the evils of irresponsible fraternities is more fraternities and more responsibility. Have enough fraternities or clubs like them to include practically the entire student body; publish their relative rank and stimulate a wholesome rivalry in scholarship, in character, in contribution to the social, athletic, artistic and dramatic and literary life of the institution; admit freshmen early for better or worse, and hold upper-classmen to account for their influence over them; weed out upper-classmen who fail to realize this responsibility for lower classmen in their group;

London, March 8.—Frederick Townsend Martin, a wealthy New Yorker, social worker and author, died here today from heart disease.

In his writings Mr. Martin criticised caustically the extravagances of high society, which he asserted had been "eating cancer-like much of the best manhood and womanhood of the country."

Mining News

The copper output of the Copper Range properties for February was the largest since July. The combined output last month approximated 2,110,000 pounds, compared with 1,965,000 pounds in January.

The annual report of the Mass Consolidated Mining shows an excess of liabilities of $18,658 as of Dec. 31, 1913, compared with surplus assets of $9,347 at the close of the previous year.

In calling an assessment of $1 per share, the directors of the Victoria Copper Mining company issued the following statement to stockholders:

Indigestion, says a noted authority, is not caused by a lack of digestive juices, but by an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach, which promotes food fermentation, thus retarding digestion.

WOULD ACCEPT NEW HOTEL MANAGEMENT

Manager of Wisconsin Company Impressed With Opening Afforded by Ishpeming.

Ishpeming business men are now discussing the plans for purchasing and remodeling the Nelson house, the details of which are being worked out by the industrial committee of the Advancement association. It is generally agreed that a hotel such as it is proposed to make the Nelson House would be a fine acquisition to the city.

That the proposition favorably impresses D. C. Sargent, manager of the Wisconsin Hotel company, who recently inspected the property and gave a detailed estimate as to what the proposed improvements would cost, the probable earnings of the house and the returns that might be expected, is evident from the fact that he has asked, if the plan is carried out, for an opportunity to take over the management for the company he represents.

The Wisconsin Hotel company not only manages hotels, but it also builds them, but it has not gone into the latter phase of the Ishpeming proposition to any extent. It is understood, however, that it would take in hand the remodeling work if its services are desired. The company now has three large hotels under its supervision. One of them is the New Delta, opened a few weeks ago in Escanaba, and another is the Palmer house of Fond du Lac, Wis. The plan contemplated provides that the Nelson would hold from ninety to 100 rooms. The hotel now has but forty sleeping rooms.

Mr. Sargent, in a letter to A. C. Harrington, chairman of the Advancement association's industrial committee, warns against the use of cheap material in the building and advises that if anything is done, first-class fixtures be installed. The property, he says, can be remodeled for a less expenditure than his estimate, if cheap material is used, but he has found in his experience as a hotel builder and manager that it does not pay to use anything but first-class material.

Writing from the Palmer House, Fond du Lac, under date of the 6th, to the industrial committee of the Advancement association, Mr. Sargent says:

"Ishpeming Advancement Association, Attention Mr. A. C. Harrington, Ishpeming, Mich.:

"Dear Sir: I would like you to let me know what developments have taken place since I was in your city. The more I think of your hotel proposition, the more kindly disposed I am towards it, and I would thank you if you would take the trouble to write me and let me know, if in your opinion, it will be likely that my services would be required.

"There are plenty of people who would be glad to catch on under most any terms and take a chance, while if you do business with us, you will be doing business with a responsible corporation, who would care at all of their obligations, and you could feel positive without experimenting at all, that we should run the hotel in a high-class and satisfactory manner.

"Kindly let me hear from you at your earliest convenience, and oblige.

"Very Truly Yours,
"D. C. Sargent, Manager."

ISHPEMING NEEDS AN ASSEMBLY HALL

Loss of Popular Ballroom in the Braastad Building Is Cause of Much Regret in City.

"Braastad's hall will be greatly missed here," an Ishpeming man commented Saturday. "It has been greatly appreciated by the members of the organizations that have been holding dances and other entertainments there ever since it was opened nearly eleven years ago. Without a hall of equal capacity the wonderful success of such parties as have been held by the Ishpeming fire department, the Knights of Pythias and the Railway Trainee association is duplicated. There is no other hall room in the city that approaches the Braastad hall in size.

"Provision of a large hall here is a matter that should now receive the attention of the city officials and the Ishpeming Advancement Association. The committees in charge of the celebrations to be held next summer had planned to use the Braastad hall for their gatherings. The Pythians are to receive a class of some 500 candidates. The firemen planned to hold dances at Braastad's hall two or three nights during the tournament week; the Sons of St. George were to hold their banquet there. The plans of these three organizations will now have to be changed.

"Since Mr. Braastad's announcement that he is to use the floor space of the hall for his mercantile business, the members of the fire department, the Knights of Pythias and the Sons of St. George societies have discussed the question of how they can provide for their big meetings. I believe the city officials should take the initiative in devising ways and means of providing an assembly room that would be as large, if not larger, than the Braastad hall.

"It has been suggested that the city utilize the old fire hall site for a public hall. While the lot would not be large enough, it is said that the two properties adjoining on the south, one owned by the Anderson estate, the other by the Simons, can be acquired at a reasonable price.

"A one story assembly building, with basement and heating plant, would provide a fine hall. It would not provide much return on the investment, but the city could well afford to provide and maintain a place of this kind, which could be erected for less than $10,000, exclusive of the cost of the two lots referred to.

"The abandonment of the Braastad hall for amusement and other public purposes is the most serious loss that the city has suffered in a long time, and I sincerely hope that a movement will be started to provide a substitute for it."

ATTENDED ORDINATION.

Nearly 200 Ishpeming friends of Rev. Walter Lally, son of Michael Lally who was yesterday ordained as a Catholic priest by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Eis in the Marquette cathedral, attended the service, making the trip by a special train that left here at 8 o'clock. The train was made up of three coaches, all of which were filled.

Rev. Lally will spend the greater part of this week in Hancock with his classmate, Rev. John Holland, who was ordained a year ago. He will return to Ishpeming Friday or Saturday and next Sunday will celebrate his first solemn high mass in St. John's church. Rev. J. A. Keul, the pastor, will preach the sermon, and several clergymen from various parts of the upper peninsula will assist with the service.

WILL GIVE A FAIR.

Sir Humphrey Davey lodge, Sons of St. George, under whose direction the State convention and reunion of the society will be held here next July, will conduct a bazaar in the Anderson Hall April 15, 16, 17 and 18, to raise funds for the entertainment of the visitors. It was planned to hold the bazaar in the Braastad Hall, but as Mr. Braastad is to utilize his hall for another purpose, the Anderson Hall has been engaged. The members of the society are now working out the details of the entertainment program.

SKIPPED WITH FUR AND CASH.

Saturday noon two youngsters went into the Fashion Suit company's store and approached B. H. Silverman, the proprietor, asking him if he bought raw furs. Mr. Silverman replied that he did. The boys had a skunk fur and this he bought and paid for. While he was conversing with Richard Trombath, Mr. Silverman told the boys to take the fur to the back part of the store. He noticed shortly that the boys did not return. Investigation revealed that the youngsters had disappeared through the back door, taking with them the fur and the money they had been given for it.

Catholic Clergyman, Who Has Many Friends Here, Has Pneumonia.

Rev. Father Corcoran, of Iron Mountain, who has many friends in Ishpeming, is critically ill with pneumonia at his home in that city. The Escanaba Press yesterday said:

"Rev. Father Corcoran, of Iron Mountain, is critically ill at his home, suffering from an attack of pneumonia, complicated with pleurisy. Mrs. Anna Corcoran, his mother, was called to Iron Mountain Friday and last night a messenger received summoning all of the remaining members of the family to the bedside, as the stricken priest's condition is very serious. Father Corcoran was brought up in this city and was ordained as a priest here. Following pastorates at Manistique and Schaffer, he was several years ago assigned to an important pastorate at Iron Mountain, where he has since been located.

"Although it was known by relatives that he had been suffering from a severe cold for the past week, it was not thought that his condition was serious until his mother was summoned to the bedside."

THEY ARE THE MOST APPRECIATIVE AND CONGENIAL PEOPLE I HAVE EVER MET

Mr. J. F. Gruenheck, the proprietor of the Ishpeming Cloak and Suit Co., who also conducts a very large department store in Fond du Lac, Wis. makes the following complimentary remarks about the people of the Upper Peninsula. He says:

You talk about a "Great Sale!" Well, everyone who was here will tell you it was, beyond a doubt, the most wonderful merchandizing event ever attempted or heard of in this part of the country.

Friday and Saturday this store was literally packed and jammed with people. Sometimes over 150 customers crowded in, eager for their share of the great bargains.

Not expecting such a rush our service was limited; however, the bargains were so conveniently arranged that practically all the people gladly and politely waited upon themselves. It kept the clerks on the jump to wrap up the goods and make the change.

Mr. Gruenheck says he has been in the dry goods business for nearly 35 years, but never has he seen people so considerate and good natured. Without this feeling on the part of the people it certainly would have been impossible to take care of one quarter of the trade that came to this Great Sale.

Speaking of the loss he was taking, he just smiled and said: "The stock is our accumulation of profit during our business career of four successful years in this city. The people of Ishpeming and vicinity have loyally supported this store, so why should they not have an opportunity to make money by sharing in the good things we now offer. This is our way of showing our appreciation. It certainly is a source of great pleasure to see how they appreciate it.

Mr. Gruenheck returned to Fond du Lac Saturday evening to spend Sunday with his family and attend to his business in that city.

He will be back to Ishpeming about the middle of the week and in the meantime he has requested us to "keep open house"; that is, to keep open from 9 in the morning until 9 in the evening in order to accommodate those people unable to get here before six. We want them to get their share of the savings in this Great Sale.

He says, "Above all, let every one help themselves." He believes the goods are marked so cheap that we should not ask or urge anyone to buy unless they can see it for themselves.

Many small lots have been marked down still lower for today's sale and from the comments of the people expressed during the past two days we believe that today will be the banner day of them all.

Yours truly,
S. REE, Manager.

UPPER PENINSULA

Stonington Farmer Loses House.

Fire on his farm last week burned the dwelling house of Christ Larson at Stonington to the ground. The fire started in the roof and Larson was able to save most of the contents of the building. Larson got up early and after making a fire in the kitchen stove went to the barn. Afterward he noticed that the roof of the house was on fire. He will rebuild at once.

Man Gored by a Bull.

Charles Hawkey, foreman of the National Pole farm at Whitney, escaped being gored to death by a bull only after the maddened animal had tossed him over a high board fence. Dr. A. S. Snyder found that although no bones had been broken the man had suffered painful bruises and possibly some internal injuries. Hawkey was leading the animal to a pasture and when he turned his head

LOCKET IS ROBBERS UNLATCHING.

Last week Dan McCarty of Escanaba was arrested under suspicion of being one of the robbers of the Wells store. When he was searched at the station he had a chain around his neck with a locket attached, containing a picture of John Nelson, who died last recently. Mrs. Nelson was at once notified and upon an investigation by her, it was shown that the locket, which had been closed, had been robbed of practically all of its valuables. When given the "third degree" by the chief the man confessed and stated that George Ruther, who he said had assisted him, had gone to Green Bay and he was to meet him there, when they were to divide the spoils. The Green Bay officers were notified to be on the lookout for the man, but they missed him. Then Milwaukee was notified and word came that the police there had the man.

New Pastor at Escanaba.

Rev. C. L. Randall, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dowagiac, Mich., for the last several years, has accepted a call for the First Baptist church of Escanaba and with his family has arrived there to make his future home. Rev. Randall was prominent in Dowagiac and it was with a sense of regret that his resignation was accepted. Mrs. Randall was prominent as a charity and church worker.

Much Thieving Going On.

Many reports are received at police headquarters of robberies taking place at the hotels where lumberjacks stay, says the Escanaba Mirror. The majority of them are instances wherein the woodmen have come to the city with their "stake." They get drunk, and are "rolled." When they get over the spree the money is missed. The police are making especial effort to stop the practice. Chief Iverson has instructed the men on the force to arrest all suspicious characters.

Workman Dies from Injuries.

Andrew Swizak, aged twenty-eight years and single, received injuries at the paper mill at Munising, from the effects of which he died in the hospital the next night. It is said the man was handling a big stick or a piece of scantling when somehow he got tangled up with a pulley which went to pieces and a fragment of this struck him. For the last nine months he had been employed by the Munising Paper company. He had been in this country one and one-half years. It is said he had a brother in Chicago. Burial was at Munising.

Blamed for Man's Disappearance.

Harold Swanson, of Gladstone, was arrested last week by the Detroit police. While the technical charge is larceny the man is connected with the sudden and mysterious disappearance a year and a half ago of William McKee. He was arrested in response to telegrams sent by Sheriff Curran. William McKee suddenly disappeared from Gladstone. All effort to locate him has proved futile and that he was killed and robbed for his money and possessions is now the belief of McKee's friends. It is claimed that a gun that belonged to McKee was sold by Swanson to a Flat Rock farmer.

Stolen Goods Are Recovered.

A mystery which had been baffling the Escanaba police was cleared when John Smith, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Joseph Perron, of Marquette county, confessed at the county jail that he was guilty of the robbery at the L. Stephenson company store at Wells, says the Escanaba Mirror. To substantiate his claims, he told the police the stolen goods were being held at the E. Johnson saloon, 331 Stephenson avenue. Chief of Police Iverson went to the saloon and found the goods. Smith was arrested for robbery at Camp 7 of the L. Stephenson company. When Sheriff Curran saw the man he recognized him at once as one implicated in the robbery of the Fried & Schram store. Smith had been released on parole by Judge Flanagan last year. Before Justice Glaser Smith waited examination on the burglary charge. He was bound to court for trial. Prosecuting Attorney Strom said that inasmuch as the two robberies were committed on property owned by one company, the more substantial charge of robbing the Wells store was preferred.

CHRONIC STOMACH TROUBLE CURED.

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. Is it not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago," says P. H. Beck, of Wakelee, Mich., "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by All Dealers.

JOHN DIAMOND IS HANDY WITH PEN

Man Who Enticed Former Negaunee Girl Still Held in Jail in Marinette.

John P. M. Diamond, who enticed fifteen-year-old Esther Anderson, who at one time lived in Negaunee, to leave Escanaba with him, and who is now in the Marinette jail, held on a serious charge, has furnished another interesting story for the press. The Marinette Eagle-Star says:

"John P. M. Diamond, serving a ninety-day sentence in the workhouse for his relations with fifteen-year-old Esther Anderson, whom he brought here from Escanaba on a promise of marriage, appeared in a new role when burning letters of love, written from jail and workhouse cells to the girl, came to light. These epistles disclose the man who may face a federal charge of white slavery as a poet."

"In the letters he professes an undying love for the girl over and over again. 'Nights and days I can never draw my thoughts from you. You are all that I have in the world and without you I die,' he begins the one written in the jail. 'Neither of them has been answered and both will remain unanswered. Esther, who is working at the Traveler's Home, asserts, 'I am afraid of him, and I never want to see him again,' said the girl. 'I hope those government officials give him a long time in prison,' she said. 'I have told the people who have been kind to her at the hotel. 'The letters have been turned over to District Attorney Edward Miller, and will be taken by him when he goes to Milwaukee, where he will acquire United States District Attorney Guy D. Goff with the facts in the case. It is the letter from the workhouse on Feb. 22 that contains the poetry. This was the day after his arrival from the county jail and before his attempted escape which resulted in placing him in the shades."

"The letter ends with a plea that the girl go with him to the minister's house, making it evident that at this time Diamond had well formulated plans of escape from the workhouse. The only explanation of the ending was given on the back of the last sheet, where was written, 'I will explain all later.'"

F. D. DAVIS PROMOTED.

F. D. Davis, former superintendent of the Negaunee schools, who for a number of years past has been one of the district agents for the Detroit Life Insurance company, making his headquarters at Escanaba, was recently elected to the position of upper peninsula manager of the company. Of his promotion the Escanaba Press had the following to say: "At the annual meeting of the Detroit Life Insurance company, recently held in Detroit, F. D. Davis, of this city, was re-elected a director and vice president of that company. The executive committee at their last meeting also appointed Mr. Davis to the responsible position of upper peninsula manager previously held by President O'Brien. "This company has made an unparalleled record for the production of business and Mr. Davis has led the agency force of the state each year in the production of personal business. "He has now secured the services of W. W. Berry, formerly of the Berry Jewelry company, who will take general charge of the business in Delta county."

Mr. and Mrs. James McNeil will in a few days leave for Canton, O., where they will spend three months visiting their daughter, Mrs. George A. Willie. They were given a farewell surprise by a number of their friends Thursday afternoon at their home on Mackenzie avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. McNeil are pioneer residents of Negaunee. Mr. McNeil came here in 1870, having been one of a party of twenty millwrights who came to this city from New York on the last day of December of that year, to work on the construction of the concentrating works erected near the North Jackson in 1871.

ICE HARVEST IS EXCELLENT

Cut of Marquette Dealers Has Been Large and the Quality of the Product Better Than for Several Years Past—Season Much Later Than Usual.

Dead River and Lake Michigan Were Two Principal Sources and Ice Averaged from 22 to 28 Inches in Thickness—Second Crop Not of Consequence.

Despite the fact that the early part of the winter was marked by unusual thaws that threatened the ice industry, the cut this season has been larger, and the quality of the ice better, than for several years past, according to Louis A. Riedinger, manager of the Lake Superior Ice company, which has just completed its 1914 harvest. Fifteen hundred cords of excellent ice has been cut by this company for use in Marquette, and in addition, a number of contracts with various firms throughout the county have been filled.

The quality of the Dead River ice has been much better than usual, and the company cut the bulk of its harvest on this stream. There was little snow to contend with, and the ice was of almost uniform thickness in all parts of the river, which facilitated the work considerably.

The season has been an exceptionally late one, due largely to the thaws during December and January, which prevented until this month the formation of ice to any great thickness. However, when zero weather did come it held up for over a week, and formed ice of good thickness and excellent quality. The season was two weeks later than usual. The bulk of the harvest was finished only a week ago, where as usually the cut is completed about Feb. 10 to 12.

The last period of cold weather did not come until after the middle of February, which caused the ice men some concern as only a small portion of their cut had been made previous to that time. Thursday of last week the Lake Superior company finished the last of its contract jobs, which work was done after its own houses were filled.

Worked Force at Michigan.

During the early part of the season the Lake Superior company worked a force at Lake Michigan, where fine ice was secured. From this lake the company supplied the South Shore railway, several of the mining companies at Ishpeming and Negaunee, and filled other contracts in the western part of the county.

Marquette friends of John F. Ryan, a wellknown insurance man, who, for a number of years, was a resident of the city, learned with regret Saturday of his sudden death early that morning at Escanaba. Of his passing the Escanaba Press says:

"John F. Ryan, of Marquette, who for a number of years was a resident of this city, one of the best known insurance men of the upper peninsula, suddenly dropped dead from a seizure of the heart in this city early Saturday morning. Over exertion, caused by running from his rooming place on Wells avenue to catch a street car, brought on a sudden attack of heart failure from which he could not be resuscitated, death coming within a few minutes following the attack."

Why we like to sell Stein-Bloch and Kuppenheimer Clothes--

To make a sale is one thing. To make a lasting friend is another. Some men's clothes store are satisfied with the first—we count the second as a good deal more to the point.

EXPERIENCE has taught us that just one thing will make lasting friends—the square deal from the start. Therefore we are more satisfied when a new customer selects a Stein-Bloch or Kuppenheimer suit or overcoat.

Then we know we have him for keeps. And the same rule applies in selling a customer a Knox or Mallory Hat or Hannan or Bostonian Shoe.

GO TO CHURCH MARCH 15TH.

Why we like to sell Stein-Bloch and Kuppenheimer Clothes--

To make a sale is one thing. To make a lasting friend is another. Some men's clothes store are satisfied with the first—we count the second as a good deal more to the point.

EXPERIENCE has taught us that just one thing will make lasting friends—the square deal from the start. Therefore we are more satisfied when a new customer selects a Stein-Bloch or Kuppenheimer suit or overcoat.

Then we know we have him for keeps. And the same rule applies in selling a customer a Knox or Mallory Hat or Hannan or Bostonian Shoe.

CALUMET & ARIZONA.

Calumet & Arizona is commencing to derive the benefit of the large expenditures made in the construction of its new smelter, as its production is now running very close to 70,000,000 pounds of copper per annum, against about 50,000,000 pounds with the old plant. On this enlarged production and its low operating cost—7.02 cents per pound in 1912—Calumet & Arizona should be earning at the rate of 88 per share on present price of copper. This compares with 85 dividends now being paid although any increase would not seem to be imminent in view of the rather large payments which the

Per share	6.50	7.00
Dividends per share	5.00	4.25
Surplus for year	1,000,000	1,600,000

While the above compilation shows that the company earned $2,000,000 in excess of dividends in the past two years it should be borne in mind that the smelter cost nearly $3,000,000, of which about $1,700,000 was paid during 1912. The working capital therefore, which stood at $2,500,000 Dec. 31, 1912, was probably reduced to approximately $2,000,000 at the close of 1913.
