

THE DAILY MINING JOURNAL

A MORNING PAPER PUBLISHED BY The Mining Journal Company, Limited. Issued Daily except on Sundays. Contains Associated Press dispatches, and is especially devoted to the Upper Peninsula interests.

WARE THE GOSSIPS. By the action of the commission Monday evening E. E. McIntosh has been returned to a job he held in Marquette a considerable time ago, the office of marshal. It is an office he will be able to fill satisfactorily, for he knows the ropes, will be about, and doing and will show the gloved hand until the situation needs something more severe.

COMMERCIAL ARGENTINA. The foreign commerce of Argentina for 1913 was $873,000,000, or about $123 for every man, woman and child in the southern republic. Of this enormous trade only $82,000,000, or less than 10 per cent, was with the United States.

STATE PRESS. The Mexicans may get on the nerves of the Texas rangers to such an extent that the one Star state may turn in and solve the little Mexican problem itself. Lansing Journal.

THE ENGINEERS' DEMANDS. The engineers on fifty-eight railroads west of Chicago are planning a request for more pay. It will go forward, if the time is decided to be opportune, to a lot of companies that are already pulling wry faces over the increased cost of railroading and that are doing their level best to persuade the interstate commerce commission to authorize a 5 per cent increase in the prevailing freight rates, so that they may be better able to make ends meet, provide for betterments and have a little money left over for dividends.

THE IRON RIVER PLAN. The banks of the Iron River district have undertaken, in a measure, to work out for the farmers of Iron River and vicinity the results that the federal rural credit system will be designed to secure for the farmers of the entire country. Through their co-operation with the business men and some of the prominent land owners of the county, it is assured that a practical scheme by which the financing of increased dairy herds for the farmers will be possible and cattle will be brought in to be fattened for beef on pasturage that is not now being utilized.

RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION. It's Me for Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

BUILDING MATERIAL. From heavy timbers to finest factory work. Largest and most complete stocks of building material in Michigan. Complete line of Yellow Pine, Fir, Cypress, White Pine, Oak and Birch finish, Doors, and Front Doors, Windows and Sash, Mouldings, Turned Work, Porch Columns. All kinds of Frames and Mill Work. Stair Material, Window Glass, Art and Plate Glass for Store Fronts. Patent Store Front Material, Building and Insulating Papers and Felts. Prepared Roofings—all kinds. Tar Felts, etc. Wall Boards.

LOWER STATENOTES. CADILLAC—A sensation was created in Lake City when Sheriff Oliver Brown, of Missaukee county, arrested County Clerk Blair Scott, who is also a druggist, on the charge of violating the local option law. The arrest, which was made Saturday, was hushed until after Scott has given bonds to appear in court next Saturday.

A LAUGH OR TWO. A Measure of Safety. Little Jimmie had heard much of a recent railway accident, and he was all curiosity and excitement.

STATE PRESS. The Mexicans may get on the nerves of the Texas rangers to such an extent that the one Star state may turn in and solve the little Mexican problem itself. Lansing Journal.

FREE SEEDS? OF COURSE! Again the effort to abolish the annual free seed distribution has failed, just as it has failed every time in the past when someone has tried to put an end to this petty graft.

EDITORIAL OPINION. A Lesson from Minnesota. A pamphlet from the United States bureau of education furnishes material for some consideration as to our state institutions of higher education, giving as it does comparative figures for all universities partially or wholly supported by the various states.

NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that I, John D. Ross, an the legal owner of bounty land warrant No. 14375, for 100 acres, issued under Act of March 3, 1855, in the name of William Hall, and that said warrant having been lost, I have made application to the commissioner of pensions for a duplicate.

REPUBLIC IRON COMPANY. The annual meeting of stockholders of Republic Iron Company will be held at the office of the company, No. 736 Morris building, No. 421 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa., on Wednesday, March 18th, 1914, at 2 o'clock P. M., when an election will be held for directors to serve for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of such other business as may lawfully come before the meeting.

NOTICE TO HEATING CONTRACTORS. Sealed proposals for the heating of the administration building of the Northern State Normal school at Marquette, Michigan, will be received by Hon. Fred L. Keeler, Secretary, State Board of Education, Lansing, Michigan, on or before Wednesday, March 25th, 1914.

RADFORD, VA., MAN. Round and Nervous, Restored to Health by Vinol. A. D. Robinson, Radford, Va., says: "I was all run down in health, had no appetite and was nervous I could not sleep at night. Vinol was recommended to me and after using one bottle I noticed an improvement. Continuing its use I was completely restored to health."

A meeting will be held in the Peter White public library this evening for all interested in the proposed camera club. It is expected that a large number will turn out.

Miss Mildred Erickson was pleasantly surprised Monday evening by a number of her friends at her home on Bluff street, the occasion being her birthday. Games and music constituted the evening's entertainment, and a lunch was served.

Sister Passed Away—Mrs. Alma Carlson arrived in the city yesterday morning from Ironton, Minn., where she was called a few weeks ago by the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Anna Kidder, which later resulted in her death.

Matinee Today—There will be a special matinee at the Marquette Opera House at 4 o'clock this afternoon at which Savoy's and their trained bulldogs which have been such excellent entertainers for the last two days, will be the feature attraction. The act will appear for the last time this evening.

At the Grand Theater—Thru the Storm, an exciting and thrilling drama of railroad and telegraph life, will be shown at the Grand Theater today. Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne are the stars. The other pictures will be "Playing for a Fortune," a Kalem drama, and "The Mystery of the Crimson Trail," a Pathe comedy.

Received Hupmobiles—The Cleveland Auto company has received a carload of Hupmobiles, and the machines, a four and two passenger car, are now on display at its garage on Baraga avenue. The machines are sturdy cars, with up-to-date equipment, and have been commented on with enthusiasm by those who have inspected them.

Rebates Now Payable—Rebates on account of the Eastern Trunk sewer are payable at the office of City Treasurer Byrne. So far comparatively few of the taxpayers have called for their money, but they are not expected to waste much time getting it when it is generally known that the treasurer is prepared for them. The rebates amount to about 30 percent of the sums paid in.

Aisles Must Be Free—The Mining Journal is asked to direct attention to the provisions of the law governing places of public assemblage that require that the aisles and the space about the entrances shall be kept free of obstructions. This law, it is complained, is being violated in Marquette, at the risk of serious consequences in case of alarm of fire, either real or false. This practice is properly characterized as a very dangerous one.

Will Visit Silver Lake—Superintendent Retaille is planning an early visit to Silver Lake to see how Peter Moore, the aged custodian of the dam there, has put in his winter. Mr. Moore is seventy-four years of age, and for many years has spent the winters alone in his shack at Silver lake, seeing for several months only the few persons who chance to visit that out of the way place. He spends considerable of his time trapping. It is not expected that he will spend another winter there, as on account of his extreme age there is reluctance to have him left alone for so long a time.

Making Steady Progress—A glance at the advertisement of the Chatham & Phoenix National bank, of New York, in this issue will indicate to the reader the remarkable progress this strong financial institution has been making. The statement for March 4 shows resources of $29,500,000, an increase since Jan. 13 of $1,500,000. This shows remarkable progress, that L. G. Kaufman, the president, has made a wonderful record in advancing the institution and is apparently going to continue it. Mr. Kaufman was offered a place on the board of regional bank managers, but was compelled to decline the appointment because of the demands of his banking activities. To accept the appointment he would be compelled to resign the management of the large banking institutions he represents, as the law requires that the members of this board shall be free of all banking connections.

Wonderful Demonstration of Car—A. C. Watson, manager of the Cleveland Auto company, has received a copy of a telegram recently sent from the Des Moines, Ia., agent of the Chevrolet Motor company, to the offices of the company at Flint, Mich., telling of the remarkable feat of the "Baby Grand" Chevrolet car. The Cleveland Auto company has the agency for the car in this territory. The telegram follows: "During the auto show held here this week the Carter car has challenged any gear car to duplicate its feat of climbing the state road's steps, a grade of about forty-five per cent, and extending for more than a city block. The Chevrolet 'Baby Grand' entered into competition today and made record breaking time up the capitol steps, beating the Carter car over half the distance. It was a wonderful demonstration and witnessed by more than a thousand people. W. A. Oldfield."

Go-to-Church Movement.

The ministers of Manistique irrespective of creed, have decided to observe the first Sunday in May as a "Go-to-Church Sunday." The Protestant ministers and Rev. Father Schevee are working in harmony in the matter, and it is hoped that their concerted action and efforts will be productive of much good. It is hoped that every adult inhabitant of the city will attend the church of his faith on the Sunday in question and that, having broken the ice, he will be a constant attendant during the remainder of the year at least.

Stepfather Assaults Stepson.

A stabbing affray, the sequel to an encounter that occurred on the streets not long ago between two women, took place at Newberry when Caspar Ostrander made an assault upon Oscar Richardson, inflicting a number of dangerous wounds that may result fatally, says the News. The two men are related and both are of a quarrelsome disposition, having caused the officers considerable trouble in the past. Richardson is said to have started the trouble that led up to the cutting by twitting Ostrander with his attentions to a woman. This so enraged the latter that he attempted to beat up his tormentor and, finding himself being worsted in the encounter, he drew a knife and stabbed his opponent. The fight occurred at Ostrander's home, and Mrs. Ostrander in her attempts to separate the two men was stabbed in the neck and her fingers were badly lashed when she tried to wrest the knife from her infuriated husband. Ostrander has been held over for trial at the next term of circuit court. Richardson is Richardson's stepson.

T. M. Crichton for Sheriff.

With the spring primaries for city officers out of the way, citizens of the Soo and of Chippewa county in general are casting about for proper material for the county primaries in the late summer. Recognition is given to the importance of selecting men of character, of energy and ability—men whose past lives and records are a guaranty of a clean and satisfactory administration. The political pot for sheriff is already boiling. Messrs. Dickinson and Douglass, who were candidates in the 1912 primaries, have declared they will again be in the field. Last, but not least, T. M. Crichton is being mentioned as an aspirant for the nomination. While he, himself, has been silent, many friends are doing much preliminary campaigning in his behalf and advisers are that he will be a strong factor in the race. Mr. Crichton is well and favorably known throughout the county. He made his first appearance in county politics in the last primaries as a candidate for register of deeds and under circumstances then unfavorable and after a spirited campaign he lost the nomination by a small margin. Friends are predicting a victory for Mr. Crichton next fall.

Was County Clerk for Thirty Years.

Michael A. Powers, who died recently at Milwaukee, was a former official of Ontonagon county. He was a native of New York city, where he was born in 1845. He is survived by the widow, three sons and four daughters. Mr. Powers went to Hancock when a boy and worked in the Franklin stamp mill, then under the superintendency of the late S. E. Cleaves. It was while engaged at this work that he met with an accident which cost him his left arm. Although the parents were poor, they managed to send him to a Canadian college for one term and on his return home he went to Ontonagon county, where for a time he clerked in the Welsh store at Greenland, then one of the largest establishments in the county. At the election in 1868 he was elected

MADE FERVENT PLEA FOR HOME RULE

Rev. Father John Dumphy Gave Principal Address at St. Patrick's Banquet.

The annual banquet of Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, and the Ladies' auxiliary, held last evening in St. John's hall, was attended by fully three hundred guests and brought to a close the celebration of St. Patrick's day. The observance opened when, at 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning, the members of the division and the auxiliary assembled to attend high mass in St. John's church, which was celebrated by Rev. Father J. A. Keul, who spoke on "The Priests of Ireland." It was an eloquent address and was greatly appreciated. The full membership of both lodges was out, and the A. O. H. marched to church in a body from St. John's hall, where they assembled.

Rev. Father John Dumphy, of St. Paul, vice-rector of St. Thomas college, was the principal speaker at the banquet last evening. His address was on the subject, "Are the Irish Irish? Self-Government." A fervent plea for home rule, and was enthusiastically applauded.

The musical program, which followed the banquet, was one of exceptional merit, and all those who participated responded to it. A tenor solo by Ed. J. Hickey, baritone solo by Clarence Shea, soprano solo by Miss Anna Hennessy, and a bass solo by Henry Nevins were thoroughly enjoyed. Excellent numbers by Lundahl's orchestra were included in the musical program.

Rev. Dumphy's Address.

"Oh! blest are the lovers and friends who shall live
The days of Thy glory to see."
"More than a century has passed since this noble sentiment thrilled the fervid and patriotic soul of Thomas Moore. Today that poetic vision of Eric's future glory is about to pass from the realm of dreams and fond aspirations to the initial stages of reality. Ireland is today full of joyous expectancy. Her eyes are dim with glorious tears, expressive of that inward joy that men with heaven. For today, she has almost within her gentle grasp the golden fruit of a long and glorious struggle. Her thanks are due to her valiant and patriotic sons:

"Who rowing hard against the stream,
Saw distant gates of Eden gleam,
And did not dream it was a dream."
"The present position of Ireland on the political chessboard is one of supreme interest, not to Nationalists merely, but to Unionists as well, and to all political observers. When at last the Sun of Emancipation rises in its full and verdant shores, may the spirits of her illustrious dead guard and direct her destiny through every vicissitude of time, through every vicissitude of fortune, until, in the words of immortal Emmet, she takes her place among the nations of the earth."

"It is the laudable ambition of all the children of the scattered Gael to see Ireland free and independent. It is the divine right of every nation to control her own national interests, to enjoy her own national ideals. It is the divine right and duty of every nation to wield the sword against the despot who would wrench from her grasp the heritage of freedom and nationality. For centuries Ireland has suffered great political wrong at the hands of her ambitious and powerful sister. She has been dishonored and treated with contempt; forbidden to make her own laws; forbidden to raise her own flag over her own national capital. In the face of black discouragement and despair she has for centuries maintained her persistent struggle for justice, until the sunlight of liberty has at last, begun to dawn upon her political horizon. Let us hope that when the emblem of her freedom floats over historic College Green she will labor to surpass even the fame of her ancient glory."

Home Rule Approved.

"A little over a year ago the British house of commons witnessed one of the most memorable scenes. Political rivalry had filled the spacious galleries to their utmost capacity. Intense excitement prevailed, intense interest was visible on every countenance. After several months of tempestuous debate and ultra-violent resistance and hostility the Asquith home rule bill passed its third reading. A wild scene of indescribable tumult followed, in which the shouts of triumphant jubilation were mingled with the angry hisses and derisive cheers of a defeated opposition. It was a moment not unlike that which saw the birth of the new American republic, when her valiant sons burst asunder the arbitrary chains with which a foreign and misguided despotism would have bound them."

"No wonder then that Ireland's illustrious leader, who for thirty years has battled in her sacred cause, exclaimed: 'For my colleagues and myself this is a very serious and solemn moment. We have met with disaster, defeat and discouragement, but, never, even when faced with the tragedy and the loss of our great and incomparable leader, Charles S. Parnell, did we despair of the ark of this day. I believe there is not a people or a country in the civilized world which will not welcome as glad tidings of great joy the announcement that the British nation has at last undone an old national wrong. In the words of William Gladstone, the tide has now more run out and the star of Ireland has once more mounted in the heavens.' That was, indeed, a glorious and memorable day in the history of Ireland, a day of glorious jubilation to Ireland's friends throughout the world. She now awaits with anxious expectation the dawn of a still more glorious morn, when home rule shall receive the stamp of England's privy seal, and when:

"Thy proud, unspilt blood shall see
That man hath yet a soul, and dare be free."

Is Fit for Self Rule.

"It has often been alleged that the Irish are unfit for self-government. They lack that persistency of purpose and force of character which are essential to governmental efficiency. We are not entirely surprised even at this hyperbole of slanderous tongues, especially when we remember that it takes its origin from two such monsters as prejudice and jealousy. Even still is there not everywhere a percentage of biased churls to whom everything Irish is identical with ignorance, vulgarity and degradation. There is only one explanation of it all, it is prejudice and that prejudice was in no small measure created and fostered by the calumny of Irish landlords and their minions, whose paramount interest it was to sway the destinies of Ireland. Hence has arisen that inflexible determination of the conservative British parliament to reject home rule bills and maintain the anomaly of an Irish government seated at Westminster. In the spirit of chivalry, however, we would fain imitate Pope's ideal critic:

"Who to a friend his faults can freely show,
And gladly praise the merit of a foe."

Some English Champions.

"In justice to Great Britain we must say that there are and have been Englishmen who have not been duped by the insidious misrepresentation of Irish landlordism. Ireland has found and still finds upon English soil some of the greatest and most cherished friends—men, who, large of head and heart, yearn to see justice done to Ireland, and denounce in unmistakable accents the unfortunate circumstances which have till now kept her in bondage. Mr. Gladstone, Lord Salisbury, Mr. Asquith, Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Balfour are only a few among the many illustrious Englishmen who have supported the cause of Irish nationalism with all the fervent enthusiasm of Ireland's own most ardent patriots. We would recommend our critics to consult these impartial statements on the question of Ireland's capabilities for self-government. We should probably then have less of this calumnious hyperbole, so offensive to the ears of justice and reason. Let me quote the words of Mr. Gladstone, when he introduced the bill 'Go,' he said, 'into the length and breadth of the world, ransack the literature of all countries, find if you can a single voice, a single book in which the conduct of England towards Ireland is anywhere treated of except with profound and bitter condemnation. Are these the traditions which we are exhorted to stand? No, they are a sad exception to the glory of our country.'

The Great Constitution.

"We fully and frankly allow that the English constitution is in itself a magnificent instrument of government, that it has contributed immensely to the advancement of civilization in many lands, and brought redress to countless victims of slavery and oppression. But while we allow all this, we nevertheless, stoutly maintain, and we have unquestionable statistics to support our contention, that British rule in Ireland has largely been a failure; has been, in fact, a caricature of Britain's traditional legislative tact and ability. The truth is Ireland was never fully conquered by England. Other peoples have acquiesced in British domination, but Ireland has always been restive under the British yoke, and could never be induced to relinquish her claims to autonomy."

"Liberty, that
is something spiritual and cannot be crushed by bullets and bayonets. You may restrain the exercise of liberty, but you can never pluck from the heart of a people the spirit of freedom. The long struggle between coercion and this spirit of freedom in the hearts of Irishmen was at times fierce and relentless, and when at last coercion had signally failed, and when the only legal alternative was self-government, then the cry was raised 'The Irish are a perverse race, a thriftless, slothful and drunken people, who lack those elements of character essential to national self-government.'

But we must remember that they proceed from prejudice, and that prejudice is even notoriously prone to the logical fallacy which gives us the general for the particular; the fallacy which gives the rule when truth would expect the exception. The Irish lack persistency of purpose. How then explain the fact that against mighty antagonists they have persistently rejected compromise and strenuously fought for their national heritage? How explain the tenacity with which they have clung to their faith in the deluded days of persecution? Panegyric is not at present our purpose. We only give expression to public sentiment, yea, even to British public sentiment, when we aver that the mental and moral caliber of the Irish people rivals that of the most enlightened and progressive of nations."

The Irishman's Part.

"In every department of public life, ecclesiastical, military and civil, Irishmen have in every period of history played a conspicuous and honorable, even a brilliant, role. True, we have our exceptions. But have not other nations their exceptions likewise? True, we have our quota of bilious unfortunates, and have the Scotch and English no bilious unfortunates, are the Germans, French and Scandinavians, all eminent for sobriety? Have not these nations, too, their percentage of Bacchic devotees? "

"Compare the liquor bill of Ireland with that of Scotland and England and draw your own conclusions. You will find that the degree is not one of abstinence, but consists in this, that the Irish toper is less methodical than his neighbors. The man of the Rose or Thistle usually begins with a 'square meal' before he piles his glass; the man of the Shamrock generally despises, though unwisely, such gastronomical precautions."

"But the Irish as a people are unprogressive; yes, the Irish in Ireland have been in the past somewhat unprogressive, but we fail to see how a people in chains could have been otherwise. Here in great-hearted America, and in other countries where the flag of freedom waves in the sunlight, the Irish are at least as industrious and progressive as

STATE WARDEN PLANS MANY GAME REFUGES

New Work of Conserving Birds Will Soon Be Undertaken in State of Michigan.

W. R. Oates, state game and fish warden, who is in Marquette after absence of several weeks, expects before the close of the present year to have established four or five, or more, game refuges on state lands.

After much inquiry and study, Mr. Oates has decided that the refuges shall consist merely of designated tracts, affording proper cover, which will not be fenced, but on which hunting will be prohibited.

A recent state law permits owners of lands to dedicate them as game refuges on which hunting shall be prohibited.

The game refuge work will be carried on for the present in the lower peninsula as it is there that it is most needed, for most of the game birds are near extinction.

Mr. Oates has, for the past several months, been making a careful study of this game refuge question, and before his term comes to a close he hopes to have it on a permanent footing in Michigan.

BEES ARE COLOR BLIND TO RED

It was recently explained by Sir William Ramsay that everybody is to a certain, but different, extent color blind, which is to say that there are certain hues which one may indeed distinguish, but which one does not place in the right order among the gamut of colors.

Some people are blind merely to two colors and are normal for all the rest. Sir William Ramsay, in himself an example of this idiosyncrasy and it is improbable that any two persons have exactly the same color vision.

BOUND OVER TO CIRCUIT COURT.

The preliminary hearing in the case against Mrs. Elizabeth Fashion, adjourned from last Thursday, was continued yesterday afternoon in Judge William VerRan's court, and she was bound over to the next term of circuit court.

Mrs. Fashion, who is charged with attempting to poison her husband, was given until Thursday afternoon to raise $2,500 bonds. Dr. N. J. Robbins, who was appointed at the first hearing to make an analysis of some coffee which is said to have contained poison, was the only witness heard yesterday. He testified that the amount of lysol in the coffee which he examined was about a teaspoonful, and was sufficient to kill if taken internally. He said that five drops of the stuff would be a large enough dose to cause death.

WILL PLAY BALL AT GWINN THIS YEAR

Team Has Been Organized and Will Begin Practice When Spring Is Advanced.

At a recent meeting of the Gwinn baseball association officers and a board of directors were named to take charge of the team's affairs for the coming season.

A number of important improvements will be made at the baseball grounds. A roof will be built on the grandstand and the diamond, which is one of the finest in the county, will be treated with a clay dressing. The outfield will be scraped and all of the grass and stones will be removed.

Practically all of the members of last year's team are still in Gwinn and the fans there expect to see the same class of ball played there last season, when the team won the amateur championship of the upper peninsula. The management is now ready to book games with any independent team in the Northwest.

Preparations are being made for the annual Easter Monday ball, for the benefit of the team, and it is expected that one of the largest crowds that has ever turned out will be in attendance. The Gwinn orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music and an admission of fifty cents will be charged.

P. W. Herwas has been chosen manager of the team, and the following officers were elected: President—A. G. Buckman. Vice President—Captain William Jory. Secretary and Treasurer—Chester D. Masters. Directors—Clayton, Quayle, Victor Carlson, John Lehman, Robert Trudgen and Dr. M. M. Main. It is expected that several fast players will be brought to Gwinn. Positions will be secured for them at the mines. The members of last year's team who are still in Gwinn are Wilfred Messier and William Johns, catchers; Del Laneville, pitcher; William Dabb, first base; Ed Haglund, second base; Dr. M. M. Main, shortstop; Chester Kuder, third base; Arthur Berryman, Arthur Gunville, Ednar Lindberg, Clayton Quayle and

Carl Oien, outfielders. Einar Swanson, who pitched for the team last season, has an offer to sign with one of the Wisconsin-Illinois league teams, but it is doubtful if he will accept, as he desires to play another season with Gwinn.

REV. RUTLEDGE IN BAD WITH OFFICIALS

Anti-Saloon Man Called a "Four-Flusher" by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney.

Rev. C. H. Rutledge, a former resident of Ishpeming, who was well known here and throughout the upper peninsula, is, according to a Detroit paper, having trouble in the courts there similar to his experiences in Marquette county on numerous occasions. The assistant prosecuting attorney of Wayne county seems to have taken a dislike to Mr. Rutledge, and on one occasion he called the anti-saloon leader a "four-flusher." A Detroit paper had the following to say: "A piece of four-flushing to cover up his own blushing was the way Assistant Prosecutor Paul Voorheis characterized a letter from C. H. Rutledge, superintendent of the law enforcement department of the Anti-Saloon league to Prosecutor Shepard criticizing Assistant Prosecutor Philip H. Robinson for dismissing cases prepared by Rutledge against alleged Sunday saloons."

Rutledge charged that he had obtained evidence of Sunday liquor sales against Frank J. Verden and Richard Kading, Grosse Pointe township, and that (an assistant prosecutor) came before Justice Austen without properly preparing the cases. Rutledge wanted to know who was "playing horse" about Sunday violations. "Rutledge" came to us," said Mr. Voorheis, "with a statement that he had cases prepared for preliminary against these saloonkeepers and asked which justice would be the best to try them. I suggested one justice, but Rutledge objected to him, saying he was on 100 good terms with saloonmen and the Justice Austen was chosen at the suggestion of Rutledge. Mr. Robinson went on the appointed day for the preliminary examination and found Rut-

BYRNE IS NEW POSTMASTER

Spirited Contest for Marquette Patronage Ended When Name of Wellknown "Original" Wilson Man Was Sent to the Senate Yesterday by the President.

Judge O'Brien Credited With Being Principal Influence in Landing the Appointment—Four-Cornered Contest Aroused Interest Throughout the District.

Word was received in Marquette yesterday afternoon that the long contest for the Marquette postoffice had been settled by the nomination of P. S. Byrne. The confirmation of the appointment is expected to follow at once, and Mr. Byrne will doubtless take office early in April. The term of J. D. Mangum, the present official, expires April 5.

The appointment of Mr. Byrne is attributed, in large measure, to the fact that Judge O'Brien, of Calumet, interested himself in his candidacy to the limit, doing everything in his power to bring it to a favorable issue. Judge O'Brien, who left a few days ago for Washington, arrived there yesterday morning. It is believed, and it is possible that he put the finishing touches on the effort to land Mr. Byrne. Mr. Byrne also has been in Washington the past few days, as has E. O. Wood, of Flint, the national "smittenman."

It is suggested that perhaps Judge O'Brien and Mr. Wood were finally in agreement that Mr. Byrne should be named.

An "Original" Wilson Man.

Mr. Byrne is an "original" Wilson man. He was for Wilson for president from the time that the Democratic pro-campaign campaign began to take shape, and he worked in close understanding with Judge O'Brien and other supporters of the President in the Twelfth district. He attended both the district and state conventions as a Wilson delegate, and supported Judge O'Brien at every turn. This goes far to explain the interest the Judge has taken in his candidacy.

When Mr. Byrne filed his application for appointment to the Marquette office he sought to reach the Washington end of the matter through the leaders of the "originals," and his papers were placed in the hands of Representative Beakes.

About the same time J. S. Courtney, another wellknown Marquette Democrat, also sought the appointment, but he lost his bid with the organization, having been an organization man throughout the campaign of 1912. His application went to Mr. Wood and to State Chairman Shields, and was backed up by men friendly to the organization.

M. C. Scully Enters.

The third entry in the field, in chronological order, was M. C. Scully, another wellknown upper peninsula Democrat and collector of the customs district of Superior under President Cleveland.

Mr. Scully, like Mr. Courtney, has been affiliated with the organization and was friendly to it in 1912. His support came largely from this source, and was strong enough, it is said, to make supporters of Mr. Byrne more apprehensive of defeat by him than by Mr. Courtney. J. J. Cleary, of Escanaba, and J. F. Corcoran, of Crystal Falls, the two delegates from the Twelfth to the Baltimore convention, endorsed Mr. Scully and likewise Messrs. Preston, of Mackinac Island, and Stiles, of Menominee, of the district members of the state central committee. Another endorsement he had was that of T. J. Dunder, of Ishpeming, the Democratic county chairman, and who was recently named for the Ishpeming postoffice.

Where Mr. Wood and Mr. Shields stood as between Mr. Scully and Mr. Courtney appears to be involved in some doubt.

The fourth entry in the race was P. J. Caven, who only interested himself in it a few weeks ago, when it appeared that the spirited contest between the three entrants to date might make it possible that the nomination would go to a fourth candidate. Mr. Caven secured some good endorsements, but naturally found that the ground had been pretty thoroughly covered by the earlier candidates.

The contest for the Marquette postoffice has been a spirited one and the candidates went far afield for support and endorsements. During the past year they have been engaged in framing up their cases in the most effective manner and they left little undone to assure success. The outcome had been generally regarded as in doubt, and among Marquette Democrats there is a disposition to credit the strong stand of Judge O'Brien for Mr. Byrne as being the determining influence.

New P. M. Wellknown.

F. S. Byrne, the appointee, has been a resident of Marquette practically all his life, he having come here with his father, S. E. Byrne, and family, from Baltimore, Md., when he was two years old, a little over forty years ago. He is thus wellknown in the city and county, and among prominent Democrats throughout the district and the state, as of late years he has taken a decided interest in party affairs and has been a frequent attendant at important conventions.

For several years past he has been chief clerk with the M. M. & S. E. railroad, and is highly regarded by the officials of the company in whose employ he has been. He is a skilled accountant, and is well equipped for the office. His appointment will be well received in the city.

WEDDED YESTERDAY.

Miss Aida Aubain and Roy Kelly married at St. Peter's Cathedral.

At 6 o'clock yesterday morning, March 17, at St. Peter's cathedral, Miss Aida Aubain of Lake Linden, and Roy Kelly of this city, formerly of Hancock, were united in marriage by Rev. Father Manderville. They will make their home in Marquette. Mr. Kelly is employed in the editorial department of The Mining Journal.

Miss Aubain is a daughter of Nelson Aubain of Lake Linden, and has lived in Marquette for the last several months. Mr. Kelly came to Marquette from western Canada, where he was engaged in newspaper work.

The witnesses of the ceremony were Miss Aida Aubain, of this city, and George Aubain, of Lake Linden, a brother of the bride. Lawrence Aubain, another brother, of Cobalt, Ont., was also here for the wedding. A wedding breakfast was served at the Clifton Hotel.

MUCH CRITICISM OF COMMISSION

Friends of Former Marshal Manning Caustic Yesterday in Their Comment on His Removal by Mayor Begole and Other Members at Monday Night Meeting.

Purchase of $10,000 of Outstanding Water Bonds About to Be Completed—Aggregate Saving on Small Items of Expenditure Will Be a Considerable One.

The change in the marshaling effected by Mayor Begole and the commission Monday evening was a live topic of discussion yesterday, and there was some nipping criticism of Mayor Begole for making the change and for the commissioners who approved it, particularly of Commissioner Sink, who had expressed himself as intending to vote against any successor to Mr. Manning on the floor of the commission chamber, if necessary.

FORTUNE FAVORS MINNESOTA MAN

Offers to Sell Land Cheap and Suddenly Finds Great Riches—Jas. McCahill's Luck.

St. Paul, Minn., March 16.—Dame Fortune carries on many desperate flirtations with men who seek for minerals and one of the best was in Minnesota during that period in the early days of the Mesaba range, when the late James McCahill was trying to find somebody that could locate an iron mine on his property in the Hibbing district. Mr. McCahill paid $10,000 for the timber and the land where subsequently the great Shenango mine was located. He sold the timber for $11,000 and retained the land.

Mr. McCahill then gave an option for lease at twenty-five cents a ton to one concern, but the exploration was fruitless, and the option was abandoned. The owner offered to sell the land to one party for $500. The offer was declined, and later Mr. McCahill determined to accept $300 if he could get it. With this resolve in mind he called on Daniel G. Cash, a Duluth attorney, and offered the land at the reduced figure. Mr. Cash pondered the matter and, recalling that Mr. McCahill owed him $100 for attorney's fees, replied that he would take the land providing the $100 obligation could be cancelled by the deal. This would give Mr. McCahill but $200 cash, and he needed more money, but finally directed Mr. Cash to draw the papers. The papers were drawn, but Mrs. McCahill declined to sign them at the price, and Mr. McCahill returned to Mr. Cash with this information. The latter tore the papers up. That was where Mr. Cash lost an opportunity to become a multimillionaire and where Dame Fortune was keeping faith with Mr. McCahill, in spite of his efforts to get rid of land worth $100,000 an acre for $3 an acre.

Unable to sell the land, Mr. McCahill renewed his efforts to get somebody to option the land for lease, and explore it again. He ran across the late O. D. Kinney and put the proposition up to him. Mr. Kinney agreed to explore the ground if he were given an option on a basis of two cents per ton royalty. This was agreed to and the papers were drawn. The drillers for Mr. Kinney started the first hole near one of the old drill holes and the drill went into excellent iron ore ten feet deeper than the other.

That was the beginning of proving up a property which is said to contain 40,000,000 tons of merchantable iron ore. McCahill became a millionaire almost overnight and the good fortune for others did not end there. A. P. Snyder of Pittsburgh got hold of an option on a twenty-five-cent lease, and it is now one of the great assets of his Shenango Furnace company. Mr. McCahill lived many years after acquiring his great wealth to enjoy the blessings which it can bestow and left an estate which represents several millions.

Will Buy in Bonds.

Mayor Begole yesterday received a telegram from C. E. Dennison & Co., of Cleveland, accepting the proposal to deliver $10,000 of water bonds of the issue of $25,000 put out in 1901 on the terms proposed by the commission and promising immediate delivery. The bonds will be retired by drawing on the $24,000 now carried in the credit of the water plant.

Instancing the material savings that can be effected by close attention to minor details of the business, Mayor Begole yesterday cited the fact that the bill for the city hall for February was $13, as against an average monthly bill last year of $08. The saving was $55 and that it could be made shows that electricity was formerly burned for nothing as if it was furnished for nothing at all.

The bill for the water plant last month was $14, or $1 more for the city hall. We will suggest to them that next month it should be about $5," commented Mayor Begole, who believes that the aggregate saving from watching the small items of expenditure will be large.

To Have Purchasing Agent.

After April 1 Marquette will have a purchasing agent. It has not been decided who will be named to undertake the duties, but it will be one of the present officials of the city. He will have direct charge of all purchases for the city and will be expected to see that they are made at the best going rates.

The new bookkeeping system planned by the expert accountants who recently completed the audit of the city books and closed the accounts up to the first of the year will be inaugurated the latter part of the month, and will, it is expected now, be effective from the first of April. The material and books required have all been ordered.

ELOQUENT SPEAKER HEARD BY HIBERNIANS

Prof. Rohan, of Marquette University, Delivered St. Patrick's Day Address.

In numbers sufficient to fill the spacious room, the Marquette Hibernians and the members of the Ladies' auxiliary and their friends gathered last evening at the Baraga auditorium to attend the annual St. Patrick's Day entertainment and hear Professor M. G. Rohan, of Marquette University, Milwaukee, lecture on themes appropriate to the occasion. The program was one of the largest and most successful of the kind ever arranged by the Irish societies of the city in commemoration of the natal day of Ireland's patron saint.

Professor Rohan's first appearance on the program was in a formal lecture on "General Impressions of Ireland." It was at the same time a historical review and a forecast. In eloquent phrases and with much oratorical power, he sketched those chapters in Irish history that were typical of the people's development and most typical of the race, and then passed on to a survey of Ireland in the present day. This entailed a review of the fight for home rule under the Liberal government, which he showed he expected would eventuate in success, and he voiced eloquently the sentiment that it was but another stage in Ireland's progress, the ultimate goal of which is ultimate and complete independence.

Later in the evening Professor Rohan favored the assembly with an illustrated lecture on "Beautiful Ireland." He presented one hundred or more artistically colored slides showing the most remarkable scenic attractions of the island and accompanied them with appropriate comment. This lecture possessed unusual interest and was followed by with those attention. Professor Rohan was introduced by James Russell.

An excellent musical program was presented by Peter Behan, Miss Marceline Knowles, Miss May Goggin, the Messrs. Heinen and May Mulvey, Miss Julia McAuliffe and W. E. Crowley. Features were enthusiastically demanded.

The final number was the singing of "God Save Ireland" by the assembly. Yesterday morning the Hibernians and the Ladies auxiliary members attended mass at St. Peter's in a body, escorted by Klammert's band, the musicians playing patriotic Irish airs.

NAVIGATION TO OPEN IN HURRY.

Lakemen Expect It Will Start Two Weeks Earlier Than Usual.

Anticipation of an extraordinarily early opening of lake navigation is already stirring Superior dock owners. More than thirty big lake carriers are moored in the harbor, and crews of men are expected shortly to put the vessels in readiness for the summer's work.

Ordinarily navigation does not open before the second of third week in April, and repair crews are not set to work before the latter part of March. Owing to the extremely mild winter, shippers believe that the lakes will be free of ice nearly two weeks earlier than usual this year and they want the big boats in readiness. The coming of the repair crews would indicate that the season is expected to begin as early as the first week in April.

Among the boats which will be put in readiness at Superior are Alleghany, Cuyler Adams, J. J. Albright, J. K. Dismick, J. S. Ashley, F. C. Ball, Thomas Barham, Matthew Andrews, Bransford, Buffalo, W. K. Bixby, Cadillac, J. Q. Riddle, E. N. Oll, E. J. Erling, Omega, Mary Elizabeth, D. J. Kerr, Fomberg, G. J. Grammer, Pollock, M. A. Hanna, W. H. Gratzwick, Hemlock, Northern Wave, C. O. SODA SWEETENS ACID STOMACHS, ENDS DYSPEPSIA

When we enunciate sour food, acid fluids and we belch gases it doesn't mean the stomach is lacking in digestive juices, says a noted authority who states that nearly all stomach distress and indigestion is a result of acidity; meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the digestive organs. This irritating acid retards digestion and promotes food fermentation. Then everything eaten sours in the stomach like curdling soured milk in a can, forming gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon, producing a heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest or we enunciate food, constantly belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, bloating, water-brash and nausea.

He tells us to get a package of 10 grain Sodagen tablets, any pharmacy and take one tablet after time followed by a tumbler of water. This will instantly neutralize acidity, stop fermentation, absorb the gases and sweeten the entire digestive system.

A wellknown local druggist says these 10 grain Sodagen tablets are an old favorite Antacid used by thousands of men and women because of their harmless nature, being composed of Soda, Magnesia and Calcium Carbonate, U. S. P.

SCALY PSORIASIS ON ARMS AND LIMBS

Small Dots Grew Larger. Scales Formed. Looked Horrible. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Troop H, 6th U. S. Cavalry, Camp McCoy, Sparta, Wis., "I was troubled with psoriasis for nearly two years. Portions of my arms and limbs were affected mostly with it. It appeared in scaly form, breaking out in very small dots and gradually grew larger and white scales formed when about the size of an ordinary match-head. The looks of it was horrible, which made it very unpleasant for me. It itched a little at times.

"I tried several remedies, but the trouble seemed to grow worse instead of better, and I tried several treatments which cured me for a month, but it always broke out again. One day a friend saw the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the paper and I sent for a sample. They helped me, so I purchased two more boxes of Cuticura Ointment and some Cuticura Soap and they completely cured me. It took three months for Cuticura Soap and Ointment to complete my cure." (Signed) Walter Mahony, Oct. 22, 1912.

Although the Cuticura Soap and Ointment are most successful in the treatment of affections of the skin, scalp, hair and hands, they are also most valuable for everyday use in the toilet, bath and nursery, because they promote and maintain the health of the skin and hair from infancy to age. Sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.
