

VILLA TRAINS HIS BIG GUNS ON STRONGHOLD

With Army of Twelve Thousand Men, the Rebel Commander Arrives in the Outskirts of Torreon—Federals Retire as the Constitutionalists Advance.

"City Will Be Mine Within a Week," Says Carranza's Fighting General—Has 40 Pieces of Artillery and Plenty of Ammunition—Attack to Open at Once.

El Paso, Tex., March 20.—The Associated Press dispatch received this afternoon from the rebel front, stating that General Villa's army had reached Torreon, bore no evidence of having been censured and was generally accepted as authoritative.

At the Rebel Front, Yermo, Durango, March 20.—The rebel army today advanced to the outskirts of Torreon and placed its big guns in position preparatory to an attack on the city.

General Villa stated that he expected to capture the federal stronghold within a week. His army, numbering twelve thousand men, has more than forty pieces of artillery and an immense supply of ammunition, probably two thousand rounds to the man.

Federal Forces Fall Back. The Constitutionalists have been moving to their bases by train, disembarking at Bermejillo and Mapimi, only a few miles north of Torreon. From these points, and from Yermo, the march over the desert was begun, the federal advance guards retreating without opposition behind their fortifications at Torreon.

The federals tore up the railroad and destroyed the bridges as they retired and the rebels followed. Today, General Villa announced that his men were in position and that the shooting of the federal trenches would begin without unnecessary delay.

Men March Across Desert. Detraining, the troops formed in columns in the intense heat. There was little loss of time in plunging into the desert, some mounted and others on foot. Great clouds of fine desert dust marked their progress.

The lips of the few foreigners in the army were cracked and swollen from the heat and alkali dust, but the Mexicans, trained to such conditions, covered their mouths with handkerchiefs and fared better. "All eyes were bloodshot. In this way, amid all the suffering which the harshest waste of arid land in Mexico can furnish, the outskirts of Torreon were reached. There was no opposition from Huerta's forces.

Villa a Fury of Energy. General Villa was everywhere, for now that the eve of battle is at hand he is a fury of energy, now grabbing the halter of a refractory mule, now criticizing the lashings of a pack saddle, or snapping orders at a lesser leader.

The rebel commander went from point to point in his private car, attached to a light engine, and wherever he alighted his horse, saddle and bridle, was instantly awaiting. "Torreon will be mine in a week," he explained jubilantly. "Never has a revolutionary army in Mexico had better men, and never have they been so thoroughly equipped. Every preparation has been made, and we can't fail."

It is no figure of speech to say that the light of battle burned in the rebel leader's eyes. They are extraordinarily wide set, so that when he looks at a visitor at close range they seem almost to cross, and their dark depths, always glowing, seem actually to flame in moments of excitement. His subordinates rarely ever argue with him, and in such moments never. It is a danger signal—one which the Scotchman, Benton, is said to have failed to heed.

Cannon Trained on Hilltops. The guns have been trained on the hilltops, while soldiers have busied themselves throwing up banks of sand around them and excavating the Mexican border ammunition. In the latter there is a supply of shrapnel, which the soldiers refer to as "Villa's pills."

It is believed here that the federals are now out of the outside world, even by wire, although the wireless stations may permit them to communicate with the national capital, seven hundred miles to the south. Villa professes to believe that he will capture the entire federal army.

George C. Carothers, special representative of the state department, arrived today and will be the guest of General Villa throughout the campaign. Mr. Carothers was smiling, but he let it out that he took $25,000 insurance on his life before leaving El Paso.

Wants Rangers Who Can Shoot. Austin, Tex., March 20.—Reports of new disorders along the Mexican border, including the attempted kidnaping of an American citizen by five Mexicans, today caused Governor O. B. Colquitt to order the ranger force recruited with "men who can shoot."

"I have instructed Captain Hughes to look for men who are suitable for the ranger service. My instructions to him are to get men who can shoot and who will shoot when necessary," said Governor Colquitt tonight.

Captain Hughes commands the ranger force in the extreme southeastern part of the state. Kidnapped Man Escapes. Two telegrams today formed the basis of the governor's action in ordering the ranger force increased. The first reported the kidnaping of an American, Charles Ballard, by five Mexicans near Carrizo Springs. The second was a petition from Cameron county citizens.

Ballard was tied by the Mexicans and hustled to the border, according to the report made to the governor; but while the party was crossing the Rio Grande he cut the rope which held him and escaped by diving. Ballard's captors shot at him without effect several times, and then made good their escape.

O'Shaughnessy, Ill., May Resign. Mexico City, March 20.—Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge d'affaires, admitted today that he was seriously considering the question of resigning. He says, however, that if he does resign it will be because of his bad state of health. Mr. O'Shaughnessy's physician is not optimistic regarding his patient's early recovery from his attack of sciatica.

Provisional President Huerta today agreed to permit the American embassy here to receive arms and ammunition consigned to it by the United States government for the protection of American citizens in the event of disturbance.

ETHEL LORRAINE TELLS OF HER MARRIAGE TO AUGUST BELMONT'S SON.

New York, March 20.—Ethel Lorraine Belmont had to undergo a searching cross-examination today when she appeared as a witness in her suit for a separation from Raymond Belmont, son of August Belmont, whom she married in November, 1912. Although she had passed as an actress, she admitted today that she had never been on the stage.

She had met young Belmont, who is 31, she said. They had discussed marriage many times and planned in detail their married life together.

"He figured out on a piece of paper one day while we were lunching that he could marry me and allow me $100,000 a month to run the house," she testified. "I'll take what dogs I have in my kennels on Long island and move them to Jersey and we'll raise beagles," he told me. He said there was lots of money in beagles, and he knew how to raise them."

Mrs. Belmont declared that at present she had only about $1,000 left of a lump sum of $200,000 and other amounts that her husband had given her before her marriage. She said she had received only $50 from him since the wedding. The case was adjourned to next Friday.

LIGHT IS SHED ON ROCHETTE AFFAIR

Inquiry at Paris Brings Into View a Secret Page in Country's History.

Paris, March 20.—Two former premiers of France, Joseph Caillaux and Ernest Monis, and the chief public prosecutor of the republic, Victor Fabre, were questioned today by a parliamentary committee concerning their acts and their motives in hindering the trial of the banker, Henri Rochette, who, it is averred, duped investors out of $2,000,000 and ultimately escaped punishment.

The death of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro, at the hands of Mme. Caillaux caused this secret page in the history of the country to be reopened. Many of its phases, still obscure, are likely to be unrolled by this inquiry with its background of intense public feeling.

Fabre testified that he had received an order from Premier Monis to postpone the trial. It was during the postponement that Rochette escaped to Mexico. Monis' explanation of the postponement was that Caillaux had asked him to procure postponement because the disclosures might bring losses to the savings banks and affect public loans.

No political interest was mentioned. M. Caillaux, late minister for finance, said that Rochette's lawyers had asked the postponement, saying that their client's health was bad. He declared that he transmitted this desire to Monis.

Monis' explanation of the postponement, as testified, was that the trial was postponed on the direct order of M. Monis. Calmette's funeral was held today. There was no great disorder.

LETTER EMPEROR WILLIAM IS SAID TO HAVE WRITTEN AROUSES MUCH DISCUSSION.

Berlin, March 20.—A letter credited to Emperor William and in which he is said to have expressed strong attention to the views is attracting much attention in the press. The letter is understood to have been written by his majesty to the Landgrave of Hesse, who was a princess of Prussia and was converted to the Catholic faith on Oct. 9, 1901. A Catholic newspaper of Aix-la-Chapelle declares that the letter contains the clause: "I hate the religion which you have adopted." The letter is said to have been found among papers of the late Cardinal Kopp.

ATTITUDE OF PRESIDENT TOWARD THE RAILROADS HELPS THE STOCK MARKET.

New York, March 20.—An advance which began in the Eastern railroad stocks today ultimately extended through the market, which showed material improvement at the close. Railroad shares were most conspicuous in the day's dealings, and their strength was associated with intimations from Washington that the administration favored an advance in freight rates for the Eastern lines. United States Steel lagged behind, but in the end it made a good showing. Coppers were helped by expansion of the export movement of the metal and a reported increase in the domestic consumption.

GRAINS UNDER PRESSURE.

Chicago, March 20.—Argentine corn today put unmistakable pressure on all kinds of grain. Largely in consequence, the future deliveries of corn here finished somewhat heavy. Closing prices were as follows: May wheat, 93 3/4 cents; June, 88 3/4; May corn, 69 1/2; June, 69 1/4; standard oats, 41.

LONDON MAKES READY FOR ANY IRISH CONFLICT

Preparing to Deal With Various Eventualities That May Arise, the Government Begins a General Redistribution of the Military Forces in the Emerald Isle.

Sensational Newspapers Print Flaring "War in Ulster" Headlines; but Cooler Opinion Is That "Combat" Is Yet Remote—Rival Leaders Counsel Calmness

London, March 20.—"War in Ulster" is the startling headline which the sensational London newspapers are displaying in the largest type.

The government began to dispose its regular troops in Ireland today so that they may be in a position to deal with any situation that arises. The cooler men among the loyalists and the Ulster Unionists, however, believe that nothing resembling war is yet in sight.

Troops Are Shifted About. The army council some time ago considered the possibility of home rule and instructed Lieutenant General Sir Arthur Paget, who commands the Irish garrison, to take all necessary precautions to maintain order and safeguard property. A general redistribution of the forces in Ireland therefore was begun today.

Two regiments were sent from the south to reinforce the Ulster garrisons, while the troops in Ulster were moved to new stations in conformity with the customs that in the event of hostilities, or rioting soldiers should not be compelled to encounter people with whom they had formed friendships. In pursuance with the same rule, some Irish recruits were sent to England.

The possibilities of a coalition between the British soldiers and the Ulster volunteers resulting from the superheated political feeling is recognized, but the leaders on both sides are trying to exert a pacific influence. John Redmond, the Nationalist leader in parliament, today telegraphed the Nationalists in Belfast an urgent appeal to abandon a parade arranged for Sunday in Londonderry, which it was thought would likely result in rioting. Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, and the members of the Ulster council invoked calmness on the part of the volunteers.

Cabinet Men Discuss Situation. Four cabinet ministers spoke of the Ulster situation at different meetings tonight.

John Burns, president of the local government board, said: "Home rule is a question mainly for Ireland itself. We have no more desire to yield to lawless lawlessness than to lawless lawlessness." Thomas Wood, secretary of state for Scotland, said: "We will carry home rule by agreement if we possibly can, but without it if we must."

Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, declared that the government's proposals gave Ulster freedom from coercion for six years and that the scheme of Andrew Bonar Law meant immediate coercion if a referendum went against Ulster.

Sir John Simon, attorney general, said the government proposed to go steadily on, adding: "Whatever happens, we will see that law and order are unflinchingly observed in Ulster."

Strength of Volunteers in Dispute. In view of the partisan claims regarding the number of men of the Ulster volunteers, statements of Colonel Dacourt, military correspondent of the London Times, and H. W. Nevins, a Liberal (ministerial) writer of the Nation, who have been touring Ulster, are important.

Colonel Dacourt says that the 110,000 men enrolled are in the flower of their age and in excellent physique. Mr. Nevins estimates that between sixty and eighty thousand men would respond to a call for the mobilization of the volunteers. He thinks the rifles of the volunteers obsolete and of several different patterns and that ammunition is scarce.

"In scattered groups," continues Mr. Nevins, "they would try to harass the regular army sent to occupy the country. The movement, therefore, is not a bluff proper. Neither is it formidable from a military point of view."

Army Resignations Rumored. When inquiry was made at the war office tonight concerning the report that a hundred army officers in the Curragh camp had resigned rather than serve in Ulster, War Secretary Seely's secretary admitted that similar rumors had reached the war office.

It was impossible tonight to obtain confirmation of the report that the war office actually sent a kind of ultimatum to the Curragh regiments, but it appears certain that some officers resigned as a protest against being ordered to Ulster.

London, Saturday, March 21.—The Daily Mail's Dublin correspondent claims to have visited the Curragh camp and says that he ascertained that more than one hundred officers, mostly of the cavalry branch, have resigned.

Supposed Excitement in Belfast. Belfast, Ireland, March 20.—The whole of today was crowded with surprises and suppressed excitement for the people of Belfast. The dramatic entry in to Belfast of Sir Edward Carson, Unionist leader, fresh from his defiance of the government in the house of commons, and his reception by General George Richardson, retired commander of the Ulster volunteers, furnished the excitement.

Troops tonight were moving all along the Ulster border. Motor cars with dispatch riders sent from Belfast Thursday volunteered to act as couriers in all parts of Ulster returned today. It is believed they carried orders arranging for a quick mobilization of the Orange forces, if this should become necessary.

NATON'S HEAD WOULD LIKE TO KNOCK AROUND

Mr. Wilson Tells the Press Club at Washington That It Would Be a Great Pleasure if, Unobserved and Unattended, He Could Go Where He Chose.

Feels Sometimes Like Disguising Himself and Be a Free American Citizen Once More—Reads Detective Stories as One Means of Forgetting He Is President.

Washington, March 20.—Woodrow Wilson unbuttoned himself to the members of the National Press club, of Washington, today, telling them how he felt, as president of the United States, how difficult it was for him to imagine himself as the chief executive.

Wilson, who was in the picture of Woodrow Wilson, the man drawn by himself, on the occasion of the "housewarming" at the Press club's new quarters. The president did not intend to have his remarks reported, but later, at the request of the club, the unusual speech was made public. "In part, Mr. Wilson said:

Articles About Himself Confuse Him. "I was just thinking of my sense of confusion of identity sometimes when I read articles about myself. I have never read an article about myself in which I recognized myself, and I have come to have the impression that I must be some kind of fraud, because I think a good many of these articles are written in absolute good faith.

"I tremble to think of the variety and falseness in the impressions I make—and it is being borne in on me so that it may change my very disposition—that I am not a real person, but a machine who has a thinking machine inside which he adjusts to the circumstances. I am not aware of having any detachable apparatus inside of me.

"You may not believe it, but I sometimes feel like a fly from a far from extinct volcano, and if the lava does not seem to spill over it is because you are not high enough to see into the basin and see the caldron boil.

Easy for a Fellow to Blunder. "If you just calculate the number of blunders a fellow can make in twenty-four hours, if he is not careful and if he does not listen more than he talks, you will see something of the feeling that I have.

"I am listening; I am diligently trying to collect all the brains that are produced in the world, and I am not making more blunders than it is inevitable that a man who has great limitations of knowledge and capacity should make.

"I never think of myself as the president of the United States, because I never have. I have been identified with that office. I feel like a person appointed for a certain length of time to administer that office, and I feel just as much outside of it at this moment as I did before I was elected to it.

"I have no blunders when I am identified with that office. I feel like a person appointed for a certain length of time to administer that office, and I feel just as much outside of it at this moment as I did before I was elected to it.

Too Much "Personally Conducted." "The minute I turn up anywhere I am personally conducted. The curator and the assistant curators and every other blooming official turns up and they show me so much attention that I don't see the building. I would have to say, 'Stand aside and let me see what you are showing me.'

"Some day, after I am through with this office, I am going to come back to Washington and see it. In the meantime, I am in the same category as the national museum, the monument, the Smithsonian Institution or the congressional library, and everything that comes down here has to be shown the president.

"If one only knew an exhibition appearance to assume, I would like to have it pointed out, so that I could practice it before the looking glass and see if I could not look like the monument. Being regarded as a natural exhibit, it would be much simpler than being shaken hands with by the whole United States.

Would Like to Don Disguise. "It would be a great pleasure, if unobserved and unattended, I could be knocked around as I have been accustomed to being knocked around all my life; if I could resort to any delightful quarter, to any place in Washington that I chose. I have sometimes thought of going to some costume—some theatrical costume—and buying an assortment of beads, rouge and coloring and all the known means of disguising myself, if it were not against the law.

"You see I have a scruple as president against breaking the law, and I don't disguise myself, and not get caught I would go out, be a free American citizen once more, and have a jolly time. I might then meet some of you gentlemen and actually tell you what I really thought."

NO EVIDENCE IS FOUND PRISON LABOR CONTRACTORS RAISED A LOBBY FUND.

Washington, March 20.—"There is no evidence here of any $50,000 fund," said Senator Overman, chairman of the senate lobby committee today, at the conclusion of the committee's investigation of reports that such a sum was being used in Washington by representatives of prison labor contractors to defeat the pending Hughes bill to restrict the marketing of convict-made goods.

The chairman's remark was addressed to Edward Boyle of Chicago, former treasurer of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections, who as local representative of manufacturers having prison labor contracts had opposed the so-called anti-convict labor legislation for years.

McDermott to Have a Hearing. Washington, March 20.—Before the house judiciary committee acts upon the report of its sub-committee on the recent lobby inquiry, a hearing will be granted Representative McDermott of Illinois and James A. Emery, counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers. The committee, after discussing the report all day, adjourned tonight until Tuesday, when both of the men named will be given an opportunity to make statements.

The sub-committee submitted resolutions of censure for McDermott, Emery and others for their connection with alleged lobby activities, and during the day's meeting the expulsion of the Illinois representative was proposed.

Will Show Now That A Coal Trust Exists. Attorney for Mine Workers Says Union Welcomes the Damage Suit Against It.

Denver, Colo., March 20.—Horace N. Hawkins, attorney for the United Mine Workers of America, today made a statement regarding the damage suit filed at Trinidad.

"This suit will give the United Mine Workers of America the opportunity to show in court that Mr. Rockefeller's company and other companies that are allied with the Colorado Fuel & Iron company constitute a gigantic trust operating in violation of law and engaged in oppressing the people in the prices charged for coal," said Attorney Hawkins. "We welcome the litigation and will insist upon its trial. The other workers who are sued for $1,000,000 will have back of them all organized working men throughout the United States."

What the Company Alleges. Trinidad, Colo., March 20.—Charging a combination by the United Mine Workers of America to injure the business of the coal companies and asking for damages to the amount of $1,000,000 and body judgments against President John P. White, Vice President Frank J. Hayes and a score of others, a suit was filed today in the district court of Las Animas county by the Colorado Fuel & Iron company.

The defendants are charged with "most violent, riotous, unlawful and felonious conduct in the directing of the strike. It is charged that the strikers' tent colonies were so constructed, guarded, patrolled and managed as to strike terror to the minds of those who might wish to seek employment" with the company and that "the defendants caused rifle pits to be constructed around the tent colonies." It is charged also that men were restrained in the tent colonies when they desired to "return to work" and that men brought in to the company to fill the places of the strikers "were threatened and intimidated."

Mitchell to Testify Monday. Washington, March 20.—Congressional hearings on the Michigan copper strike situation will be resumed here Monday when John Mitchell will testify. The committee today considered the question of getting further evidence on the connection of John D. Rockefeller with mining companies in the Colorado coal fields, but no action was taken.

MAYOR OFFERS REWARD OF $5,000 FOR RECOVERY OF PHILADELPHIA BOY. Philadelphia, March 20.—Mayor Blankenburg tonight issued a proclamation offering a reward of $5,000 for the recovery of Warren McCarrick, alive, and the arrest and conviction of his abductors. The boy was last seen March 12. He is eight years old.

Detectives who have been working on the case for the last week today declared that the boy's fate is as much a mystery as when his disappearance was first reported. Many clues, several from out-of-town points, have been run down without result, and the theory that the youngster was drowned in the Schuylkill river while wading in his new boots is gaining additional support from the detectives believe that it is hardly possible that the boy seen in Elmira, N. Y., is the missing lad. Warren McCarrick's hair had been cut short before he left home. The lad seen in an Elmira barber shop getting his hair cut was accompanied by an Italian, so the dispatches say.

MR. TAFT APPREHENSIVE LEST REVISION DO HARM TO ANTI-TRUST STATUTE. Minneapolis, March 20.—It would be better to leave the present anti-trust statute unchanged than to risk losing the advantage gained through years of judicial interpretation, in the opinion of William H. Taft, as expressed in his closing lecture before the law school of the University of Minnesota here late today. He advocated the enforcement of the present law and would add thereto, wherever found necessary, but declared much might be lost to the business world by repealing that which has been found effective.

Mr. Taft emphasized his conviction that trades unions and farmers should not be exempt from the operation of the anti-trust act.

Washington, March 20.—A bill proposing that all patents and copyrights controlled by a so-called trust shall be forfeited by the government was introduced today by Representative Campbell, of Kansas.

JOBLESS MEN AND RAILROAD DIVIDE HONORS

Southern Pacific Company Is Only Partly Successful in Skirmish in California With 150 Stragglers from Kelley's Army—Strategy Is Employed Against Hoboes.

Cars in Which Workless Ones Assemble Are Shunted Onto Sidetrack While Rest of the Train Speeds Ahead—But 50 of Band Succeed in Scrambling Aboard.

Redding, Calif., March 20.—Strategy rather than force was the final choice today of the Southern Pacific company in dealing with one hundred and fifty stragglers from "General" Kelley's army here from Sacramento Wednesday night on a freight train. The outcome found both sides partly victorious.

The skirmish grew out of an attempt of the men last night to ride north on a freight train. Railroad police put them off. Early today the men took possession of another freight. The company refused to move it and sent for special officers.

Late today a switch engine hauled the cars to a siding a mile south. Before the men could realize what was intended, the three cars in which they had huddled were cut free and a locomotive was rapidly hauling the main section northward. Fifty scrambled onto the morning train before it gathered too much headway and the others were left behind.

Peace Declared at Los Angeles. Los Angeles, Calif., March 20.—The city of Los Angeles today declared peace today. Morris Rose, one of the leaders, and twenty-seven "privates" of the disrupted band arrested today were released; the city provided a site for a camp and, in return, the band will feed itself while recruiting, instead of carrying out its threat to quarter 2,600 hungry men on public charity. Within ten days it will march from Los Angeles, to join the remnant of "General" Kelley's army quartered on its own acre in North Sacramento.

FEDERAL LEAGUE ASKS INJUNCTION IN EFFORT TO KEEP WM. KILLIFER. Grand Rapids, Mich., March 20.—The first legal shot of the baseball war of 1914 was fired here today by the Federal league in filing with the United States district court for the Western district of Michigan a petition asking for an injunction to restrain William J. Killifer, Jr., formerly catcher of the Philadelphia Nationals, from playing baseball with any club other than the Chicago Federals.

Killifer signed a three-year contract with the Chicago Federals, but afterward was persuaded that the reserve clause in his old contract with the Philadelphia club held him legally to Philadelphia, and he joined his former club. The suit involves the legality of the reserve clause, one long regarded as one of the bulwarks of organized baseball. The suit was brought in the Western Michigan district because Killifer is a resident of Paw Paw, Mich.

The complaint, which was signed by Charles Weeghman, president of the Chicago club of the Federal league, told of the signing of the contract by Killifer in which he agreed to play for three years for the Chicago Federals for a total of $17,200, or $5,833.33 a year. The contract expressly stipulated, the court was informed, that Killifer agreed to devote his entire time and attention to the service of the Chicago Federals. The court was also informed that $300 was advanced to Killifer on account, and was secured by him and is still retained. Failure to report for practice, in accordance with his contract, was alleged against Killifer.

Because of the absence of United States Judge Sessions, it was impossible to procure a temporary restraining order, as originally planned. The prayer for this was stricken from the bill and, instead, April 3 was fixed as the date for the hearing on the question of a temporary injunction.

EDITORIAL OPINION

The Next President. George Harvey, editor of the North American Review and formerly of Harper's Weekly, repeats his prophecy that United States Senator William E. Borah of Idaho will be the next Republican nominee for president.

Whenever you hear a man say that he understands women you can safely put him down as a pretender.

E. O. Wood has started a row with the mayor of Flint. Probably just a training stunt in preparation for another tussle with the "originals."

After looking over the long list of Americans murdered in Mexico, one begins to wonder whether a declaration of war wouldn't mean a saving instead of a sacrifice of life, after all.

It is a daring fight in a just cause, and every American who understands the circumstances will wish well to the Hellenes of Albania.

For Americans the lure of the Canadian Northwest has become much less effective than it was a year or two ago.

SAGINAW—The annual report of the Saginaw Street Car company to the council showed a deficit of $1,000 with $37,000 as net earnings, and depreciation of $38,000. Last year's deficit was $10,000. The company carried 7,000,000 passengers on twelve five-cent cars, but declares it still lost money.

LISTEN MOTHER DO BE CAREFUL

If Child is Cross, Constipated, Sick, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour wastes.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the four wastes, the sour bile and fermenting food, pass out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy. Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

GOLFERS ARE EAGER FOR AN EARLY START

Portage Lake Club Expects the Coming Season to Be Best in Its History.

A few of the hardier golf players of Duluth got out on the Northland club links last Sunday and played a round. As soon as the news reached Houghton the golf fever began to rise in the members of the Portage Lake club.

The golfers are all the more eager for an early start this year, because they have been keeping in form at Flora's indoor golf school.

Five to fifteen players have been at work every afternoon during the winter at the indoor game. Better scores are expected this summer as a result and the best golf season in the history of the club is expected.

Harry Flora is praised highly by the members for his conduct of the indoor golf school, the Portage Lake club being about the only one of its size in the United States to maintain such a school.

The club has not as yet made plans for the season's events, but one expected feature is a series of team matches with other upper peninsula clubs.

Will Improve the Course.

Two new putting greens will be built this summer, and there are other improvements under consideration.

Tom Bendelow of Chicago laid out the Portage Lake links, but his project has not been entirely completed.

Several additional hazards, in the form of pits and bunkers, and when the plan is carried out completely the Portage Lake course will be one of the best sporting courses in the country, for a nine-hole course.

The management of the course last year was more successful than in previous years, the grounds were in better condition, fewer balls were lost and conditions all around were much improved.

The same conditions will prevail this year and these, combined with the form shown by the players at the indoor game, promise that the club will have a much lower handicap list.

The annual upper peninsula tournament will be held this year at Ishpeming and already there come to the copper country rumors of renewed activity by iron country golfers.

BIG ODD FELLOWS' GATHERING.

Calumet Team Will Exemplify First Degree at Painesdale.

A special train will leave the Copper Range station in Calumet at 6 o'clock this evening and will pick up Odd Fellows all along the line, conveying them to Painesdale, where a class of twenty-five candidates for membership in the Painesdale lodge will receive the first and second degrees.

The Calumet team will exemplify the first degree and the Painesdale team will put on the second. The ceremonies will be held in the auditorium of the Paine Memorial library.

Following the business of the session, a banquet will be served in the library dining room. The gathering this evening is the largest that has been planned on the South range in many months.

LAKE SUPERIOR TO GO WITHOUT SEALS

Expert Puts Quietus to Project for Stocking Waters With Fur-Bearing Herd.

Something like the gull egg albumin factory that once was proposed by a Soo booster as a project for the shores of Lake Superior is the suggestion that comes up year after year to stock Lake Superior with fur seals.

In the natural course of events the suggestion came to Secretary Price of the Copper Country Commercial club, and he wrote to Washington about it, willing to see if there might be anything in it.

The letter Mr. Price received yesterday from H. M. Smith, of the federal bureau of fisheries, would seem to settle the question once for all. The text of the letter follows:

"The bureau of fisheries does not think that it will be profitable to undertake the stocking of Lake Superior with fur seals from the Pribilof Islands. The natural habitat of these animals is in the sea, where there is an abundance of natural food and also opportunity for extended migratory movements of several thousand miles from the cold waters of the Bering sea to the semi-tropical waters of the California coast."

"Were it desirable to undertake the introduction of fur seals into Lake Superior, its successful accomplishment is a matter of much doubt. The only fur seals known to survive for any length of time in fresh water are the two which have been retained in a pool here at the bureau for about the last four years. The female is already old enough to breed, but it may be a year longer before the male reaches maturity. It is a matter of much interest as to whether they will breed when all age requirements have been met."

"Furthermore, nothing is known as to what would be the effect of a fur seal herd upon the fishes inhabiting Lake Superior, and the bureau would not care to recommend the establishment of a fur-seal herd as the first experiment of the kind in waters having the extent and fishing interests possessed by the Great Lakes."

"Inasmuch as the bureau writes in an authority on such matters as fisheries and seals and other fresh water and salt lake animals, the members of the Commercial club and State Forestry department at the present time and from all indications fur-seals will not be installed in the waters of Lake Superior."

Foxes on Isle Royale.

The matter of stocking Isle Royale with foxes has also been considered by the Commercial club and Secretary Price states that it is probable that the experiment will be made. At any rate it may be tried with a few foxes at first, and if results are satisfactory more will be placed on the island. There is no reason why foxes should not be placed on the island and get along fairly well and many members of the Commercial club are desirous of attempting the experiment and watching the results.

CATARRH OF THE PHARYNX.

Clearing out your throat every day, all day. That is what you have been doing for months. Possibly years. A little mucus covers the pharynx.

If you were to go to a doctor he would tell you that you have pharyngitis. If you were to look into your own throat you would find just back of the soft palate a red, lumpy, granular appearance of the back part of the throat. Pharyngitis the doctors call it.

Perhaps he would call it, follicular pharyngitis. It causes you constant annoyance. You are always making slight disturbances when seated in an audience. Can't hold your throat still. Stringing, bothers you. Worse in the morning.

A-hem! A-hem! A-hem! That is the way you are going nearly all day. Sometimes in the night when you wake up. You ought to gargle your throat with salt water every morning. Cold salt water. That clears out the throat perfectly and makes it ready for treatment.

Peruna is the treatment. Begin with a teaspoonful before each meal and at bedtime. Try it for a week. You will be convinced. Of course, Peruna will not entirely relieve you in a week. That is too much to expect of any remedy. But it will benefit you so much you will be convinced. Yes, it will. It has done this for many thousands of people.

Follicular pharyngitis. Big words. Almost as bad as the disease. But if you take Peruna for one month regularly, you may forget that you ever had such a disease. Then you will have a perfect right to forget the big words too.

People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

TO OBSERVE INDEPENDENCE.

Danish Residents of Copper Country Ate Planning Program.

There are not a great many Danish people in this country, probably not more than a hundred, and most of them live in Calumet and vicinity. Plans are afoot among these people, however, for the special observance on June 5 of this year of the "constitution" day of Denmark.

That date, this year, will be the sixty-fifth anniversary of the promulgation of the present constitution of this little country, a constitution under which the Danish people have prospered greatly.

"Grundlovs Dag," as it is known among the Danes, is observed with affectionate reverence by the grateful people who do not forget that it was the "good" King Frederick VII who granted the constitution.

It is probable that some sort of a public program will be arranged for the day and that the pastor of the Norwegian-Danish M. E. church of Calumet, Rev. P. W. Pedersen, will be the principal speaker.

Both men have positions in Greek stores in Calumet.

OCTOBER SAILS JUNE 2.

Passenger Schedule on Anchor Line Will Be About the Same.

The Anchor Line announces its schedule of passenger boat sailings for the coming season. It is similar to that of last year. The rates are the same. The Octobra, opening the schedule, will sail from Buffalo on June 2. The Tionesta will sail from the same port eight days later. The schedule continues with the sailing of the Juniata on Sept. 21.

In light of the mild winter, an early opening of navigation is expected. In past years an urgent demand of the mines for coal has resulted in a steaming of a few days on the weather map. This year, however, the ice had cleared, so that it was unnecessary for that as a result of a smaller consumption for several months during the strike all the mines have an abundance of coal on hand.

PRICE OF FISH KEEPS UP.

Hancock Authority Says Lenten Food Is as High as in 1913.

The price of fish is the same this year as during the Lenten season of 1913, if it is taken into consideration. William Egan of Hancock, who disapproves with a report from Port Washington that the price is lower.

"The price of fresh lake trout is eighteen cents a pound, the same as a year ago," said Mr. Egan yesterday. "Of course we might buy the frozen lake trout at a lower price, but that is not the case in Wisconsin. There are three different grades of this class of fish, the best selling for something like sixteen cents a pound. The trade here, however, asks for fresh fish in preference to the other."

Beer Bros. have, as usual, experienced a great deal of trouble in getting fresh fish to Hancock this year. The fish has been scarce and has been unable so far to get more than four hundred pounds a week. The demand for fresh fish was demonstrated yesterday, when before the noon hour there was not a trout to be had in this part of the city.

The fact that more difficulty is experienced catching fish through the ice than in the past is not a new thing. It was reported, prevailed at other places and for the first time in years the price of fish during the Lenten season took a sharp drop.

Markets (From Geo. F. Rees, Ishpeming.)

BOSTON COPPER.

The extremely firm prices maintained during the past few weeks under what appeared on the surface to be unfavorable conditions has discouraged covering by the market.

It is expected that a satisfactory settlement of the New Haven-Boston & Maine difficulties will be announced today or Monday. The feeling is more confident.

The railroads will be granted a fair increase in freight rates in all classes where it is shown that they are warranted. This course would give the market a substantial advance.

The copper exports from Jan. 1 to date total 103,344 tons. Friday's closing prices at Boston follow:

New York Stocks.

The market at New York Friday acted extremely well without there being any actual occurrences of a nature to stimulate activity. Nothing definite has yet been announced relative to the New Haven conference, but a well-defined suspicion exists that a settlement is

WOMAN WAS ONCE OREGON GOVERNOR

Secretary to Senator Chamberlain Bears That Distinction—Began as Stenographer.

Washington, March 20.—Mrs. Carolyn B. Shelton, secretary to Senator George H. Chamberlain of Oregon, and clerk to the senate committee on foreign affairs, is the only woman now on the senate rolls who at one time has been "acting governor" of a big state.

Mrs. Shelton enjoyed the distinction of being an "acting governor" some years ago when Mr. Chamberlain was governor of Oregon. There was no such office as lieutenant governor in that state at that time. The constitution provided that in the absence of the governor, his secretary should be "acting governor." It was only in the event of the death of the chief executive that the secretary of state succeeded to the governorship.

Many times during the temporary absence of Governor Chamberlain Mrs. Shelton was acting governor.

In 1909 Chamberlain was elected to the United States senate, and on Feb. 27 of that year he left for Washington to take his oath of office, but yet having relinquished his governorship. Accordingly for a week Mrs. Shelton was "Mrs. Governor."

Is Not a Militant.

Despite her career as a woman of affairs, Mrs. Shelton is essentially feminine, and not a bit militant. She is prone to attribute her success to the fact that she entered public life with the intention of remaining with him for eighteen years.

Mrs. Shelton has shown that she has a natural aptitude for the law. While Chamberlain was state's attorney for Multnomah county, Oregon, in which Portland is situated, his stenographer took the intricacies of criminal law with marked enthusiasm. And when, as governor, Chamberlain inaugurated prison reforms throughout the state, he had no more able assistant than his woman secretary.

In the years during which Mrs. Shelton has figured in a man's world she has had to make secondary all those little frivolities so dear to the average woman's heart. She likes the social side of life, and when Chamberlain was governor she assisted in practically all the social functions at the state mansion.

It was a part of her understood duty, Mr. Chamberlain said, to attend to the reform campaign with Governor Chamberlain. It was natural that she should have ideas on the pardoning power. She doesn't believe in it. She believes in prisons and in capital punishment, but she doesn't believe in "cruel and unusual" punishment. It was Governor Chamberlain who did away with the lock-step, stripes, flogging and other forms of harsh punishment in Oregon, and Mrs. Shelton shares his ideas in this connection.

If Mrs. Shelton believes in prisons and capital punishment she also believes in giving the man "civet out" every chance possible, and she says he doesn't get it. She advocates the formation of societies to aid the ex-convict.

Mrs. Shelton believes in "hunches." She admits it, and says that other things being equal, she always follows them. She regards woman's intuition as a pretty safe guide generally.

ROOSEVELT GIFT TO MUSEUM.

Colonel Contributes $2,000 to Complete South America Expedition.

New York, March 20.—Theodore Roosevelt will give to the American Museum of Natural History $2,000 and, when he returns to New York in May, will assist in raising $4,000 more to carry on explorations in South America. This offer was made in two letters from the Colonel, made public at the museum. Colonel Roosevelt stated that his son, Kermit, Anthony Fiala and several others in the party had suffered from slight attacks of fever, but otherwise all had enjoyed excellent health. The only condition attached to Colonel Roosevelt's offer was that the museum should expend the money in completing the work of exploration he had begun. It was said at the museum that this would be agreed to, and Colonel Roosevelt's offer has been accepted. The letters containing the offer and other information about his trip were received by Professor Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the museum, and Frank M. Chapman, curator of ornithology, at the museum.

Colonel Roosevelt said the region touched by his party was productive of wonderful scientific results. One river was discovered, he wrote, and many mammals and birds obtained. Colonel Roosevelt is bearing the expenses of Henry and Miller of the museum staff, who are in his party. He speaks highly of their work in his letters, and says he wants them, and not himself, to write a book of the trip. In the course of his journeys the Colonel's rifle has brought down a giant tapir, some white-tipped peacocks and several bush deer. Regarding his offer to finance future explorations, Colonel Roosevelt, writing from St. Louis De Caeres on Jan. 5 to President Osborn, said, in part:

"When I get back I am anxious to help send Miller to complete his work around Mount Duda, to ascend to the top and thoroughly to work the neighborhood from the standpoint of the mammalogist and ornithologist. He ought to have about $5,000 for the trip. I will subscribe $1,000 and do my best to help raise the remainder. I shall also help with $1,000 in sending Cherry back to the museum, to work thoroughly these upper Paraguayan marshes. They offer a wonderful field. I earnestly hope that Chapman has been favorably struck by my proposal, that you will be struck by it and that my request will be granted."

As regards himself, the Colonel adds: "I am only too delighted to have the chance of having such men as Cherry and Miller with me." He says he is proud of being connected with the museum. A letter to Dr. Chapman, which was of a later date, was sent from Tapira, Matto Grosso, Jan. 16. It tells of the material acquired with his rifle and of the health of the party. He said in part: "We have done well since I wrote you. Miller now has some 250 mammals. These include not only the jaguar, giant anteater and marsh deer but the smaller and bigger peccaries, two species of tapir, I think, and two or three species of the bush deer, with simple one-spiked antlers. I shot two species of the latter myself two or three days ago, which are certainly distinct. Both were adult bucks from the same place, and one was a third the weight of the other. Of the big or white-tipped peccary we have a bear and two sons, shot by Colonel Bombin and myself. So far we have all been in good health. Fiala was laid up for a day, Kermit has had some fever, and Cherry and Harper have had touches of fever, but nothing serious."

PROGRESSIVES RAP THE ADMINISTRATION

Democrats Are Charged With Failure to Keep Promises—Living Prices Are Higher.

Washington, March 20.—"One year of Democratic rule," a Progressive view, a statement put out by Chairman Hinebaugh of the Bull Moose congressional committee, is somewhat different from the similar document emanating from Democratic headquarters recently. The Progressives tout the Democrats with having depleted the national treasury, with failure to keep their promise to reduce the high cost of living and declare President Wilson their only asset, whose value is being sustained only by the desire of the people to give them a fair chance to make good.

The Hinebaugh statement takes figures from the administration's bureau of labor statistics comparing the retail price index for 1913 with those of the same date in 1912. Of fifteen staple articles twelve are higher in price and three are lower. Thus potatoes, "the poor man's food," had advanced 43.7 per cent; fresh eggs had gone up 21.9 per cent; pork, beef, fowl, milk and lard all had risen and only sugar, butter and flour showed very slight decreases.

Clothing Is Higher.

With clothing, as with food-stuffs, prices are rising instead of falling. The Democrats said shoes would be cheaper, yet the manufacturers have given warning that "ten-dollar shoes" may be expected in the near future. In this connection a sly dig is given to the state department when attention is called to the fact that France, Germany and Russia imposed a duty of 40 to 60 cents a pair on American shoes, as against 20 to 25 cents on shoes imported by those countries from England.

Financial vexations of the administration are also given attention in this Progressive statement. It says that reports of receipts under the Decretis tariff law are disheartening.

Income Tax Yields Only $50,000,000.

For February, for instance, the tariff reports show that the receipts were $100,000,000 less than in the previous year, while the reduction in national expenditures was infinitesimal. Economies have been made by laying off a few men in the shipbuilding yard, and barring the entry of army horses to horse shows. But the pork bills are yet to come. Reports also show that the income tax will yield only about $300,000,000, which is 40 per cent below the Democratic estimate.

The statement concludes that the first year of absolute Democratic control of the government shows this party made up of ordinary politicians, not statesmen.

WALKS 10,000 MILES IN CHINA.

Dr. George Hadden, Missionary, Finally Finds Wife and His Son.

San Francisco, March 20.—Wandering for three years through the wildest parts of central China in search of his wife and child, Dr. George Hadden, a missionary from Ireland, encountered adventures of real fiction. In his hunt for his wife and child he traversed 10,000 miles of the most rugged and inhospitable terrain in the world, with a wife and child, he was captured by the Chinese and held for three years, and had many thrilling escapes from death.

The Haddens were stationed at the mission at Yungchow, where he has been the missionary for seven years, and they were separated in March, 1910, by the Shanghai riots on the Yangtze river, a tributary of the Yangtze Kiang. Mrs. Hadden was carried to Hankow, where on St. Patrick's day she gave birth to a son. Dr. Hadden was carried up the river and so lost contact with his wife's whereabouts until he found her after three years of wanderings, in Hongkong. He wrote many letters, none of which brought him news of his wife, and having no other method of travel he walked from place to place through the great interior of the empire.

Dr. Hadden is a picturesque character in appearance, seven feet four inches tall, and a great pedestrian. While walking across the plowed fields at Kwei Yang Chow, the natives, who are almost wild and uncivilized, looked upon him as a devil in flesh and blood, and followed him, 2,000 strong. He felt that to run would be to invite destruction, so he walked calmly before the excited horde, but admitted he walked rather fast.

After three years of travel he finally got back to his old station in Yung Chow. He and his wife were separated in Hongkong, where he traveled for the first time saw his boy, who had been named Patrick by Mrs. Hadden because he was born March 17. They went to Canton, and are now going to their home in Ireland on a leave of absence. They will return to China.

LANSING—Alva Roberts, who has been arrested for drunkenness more times than he can remember and who played numerous ladders in the county and city jail and Detroit house of correction, has been sent to Ionia by Judge Collingwood to serve one to two years for being a tippler, third offense. As fast as Roberts was released from jail he invariably went to the home of his wife, who had to take in washings for a living. Lately she contracted tuberculosis and is now confined in the county tuberculosis sanatorium, a family of children are unprovided for. The police were powerless to keep Roberts away from his wife, who did not want him around.

NEW RATES HAVE DOUBLED BUSINESS

Officials of the American Express Company Visited Marquette Office Yesterday.

W. A. Naylor, of Chicago, and W. C. Morgan, of Milwaukee, the former the manager of the American Express company and the latter the superintendent of the business for this division, were in the city yesterday. They are on a tour of inspection. Both officials expressed themselves as highly pleased with the results that have followed the reduction in rates effective Feb. 1. They report that throughout the country there has been a marked increase in the amount of traffic.

That the new rates have doubled the amount of business through the Marquette office was the statement of E. C. French, agent of the American Express, yesterday. The increase is most notable in respect to merchandise, the class of goods on which the rates were reduced to the greatest extent. The recent dissolution of the United States Express company has not affected the American's business in this region, Mr. French says, and he does not believe that the dropping out of this concern will ever have any effect in this part of Michigan. The defunct company had no agencies in the upper country.

The slight increase in the rates on perishable goods, which were formerly listed under the classification, "general special," has resulted in no falling off in the volume of this class of business. Mr. French maintains. Goods in this classification was formerly sent at $1.25 per hundred, whereas $1.54 is now the charge. This increase is true only in cases of heavy shipments.

During the coming month, which is among the best of the year, with the exception of the holiday season, it is expected that the amount of business will be still further increased. As showing the volume of the express traffic here, it is reported that more packages were handled through the Marquette office of the American Express company Thursday evening and yesterday morning than at any time since the holiday rush.

As an example of the saving to the public on account of the new rates, a ten-pound package may be sent from Marquette to New York city for fifty-three cents. This package is called for and delivered to any part of New York and is insured up to $50. One dollar would have been the charge formerly.

SERMONS ATTRACT MANY.

Large Attendance Heard Dr. Shaw at Presbyterian Church.

The Presbyterian church was taxed to its capacity last evening. The song service of half an hour's duration which precedes each sermon is enlivened by the accompaniment of piano and organ, cornet, trombone and several violins. Rev. P. T. Amstutz leads the singing. Last night he sang a solo, "Let Jesus Come into Your Hearts." Many could not be seated at the service and patiently stood during the whole period. Several professed conversion at the close of Dr. D. S. Shaw's appeal.

"A great change takes place when Christ comes to dwell in the human heart," declared Dr. Shaw. "Hearts are full of fears and sorrow and loss because God does not dwell in them. How many tonight can look up into the face of God and say, 'I am happy.'"

"How was Zacchaeus, the sinner, brought into the saving knowledge of Christ? The first step was curiosity. Zacchaeus was curious to see Jesus, who he was. There is a holy curiosity, and a damning one.

"Zacchaeus took some action to satisfy his curiosity; he climbed into a treetop because he was short. Jesus saw him. Zacchaeus, come down! Jesus knew him and knows you. Jesus watches you, cares for you; knows all about you. Jesus deals with individuals. He solves problems of society by saving individuals. Jesus knows your tears and sorrows; your secrets and problems and Jesus cares.

"This day is salvation, come to this house," said Jesus. Why? Because: 'I am come to this house. I am your salvation.' Has Christ come into your heart? If not, you are lost. If He has, you are saved.

"Irritability? Let Christ change the pivot of your life. Christ wants to turn your temper to some good account. Let Jesus come into your heart. That is the way to get the victory."

URGES OBSERVANCE OF THE "BIRD DAY"

Federal Inspector E. A. Cleasby Writes County Commissioner of Schools.

A. E. Sterne, county commissioner of schools, has received from E. A. Cleasby, a federal inspector who is administering the migratory bird law in the states of Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota, a letter outlining his plans. He writes as follows:

"If the main object of our educational system is to prepare boys and girls for the intelligent performance of the duties and labors of life, why should not some attention be given to the study of nature, or the learning about the common things which surround the home and the community? Bird life and its relations to man furnish one field of nature study that is especially important to demand the attention of every school in the country. Is it not worth while to do everything possible to prevent the destruction of bird life before it is too late?"

"It is our desire that every school have some appropriate exercises on Bird day. In the high schools and colleges a study might be profitably made on the values of bird life; on the work of your state in bird protection; on the game warden department as to organization, cost of maintenance, sources of income, efficiency of warden service, civil service for wardens, how wardens can best serve the state, etc. Have some of the pupils in the upper grades make a study and prepare a composition on some of the above topics. This will make a good language lesson, as well as direct attention to the problem of bird and wild life conservation. Make a study of the protection of migratory birds and the migratory bird law. In the lower grades and the primary schools, the learning to know the birds, choice literature about birds, with some good bird stories and pictures are suggested.

"The most valuable work, however, is the actual service rendered by boys and girls in positive concrete work to make the bird life more common in their own communities. The providing of homes for the birds, feeding birds, putting out water for them, and actively protecting them from their enemies is all work of great value, not only for the birds, but also in developing a right attitude toward wild life on the part of the boys and girls. This is not only valuable for the schools, but also of great value to the communities as well, and ought to be encouraged by all public spirited citizens.

"The United States department of agriculture has been actively interested in the study and conserving of birds for many years, and is now making the migratory bird law, affording them more adequate protection. It is desired that our educators and teachers make every effort to make this year's Bird day one of the most effective ever held. We trust special effort will be given to arouse public interest in the values of birds and the necessity for their protection. Please send us a copy of your Bird day program. Also have one of the older pupils prepare a report on work that has been done in your district for the birds. These may be sent to my office on Bird day and the report may also contain what is needed in your district, and what are considered the birds' worst enemies. What is the sentiment of your district relative to the adequate protection of game birds? "If this office can be of service to you at any time do not spare us."

The big selling event of the season, Braastad's Great White Sale, today and Monday. 3-20-31.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Rev. Walter Lally is suffering from a severe cold and is confined to his home.

The members of the 500 club conducted a tango party last evening in the Knights of Kaleva hall.

The members of the Girls' Literary society of the high school entertained last evening at a chafing dish party in the school.

Jeremiah Hare, district superintendent for the Metropolitan Insurance company, is spending a few days in Sault Ste. Marie, on business.

Mrs. Hodge, of Excelsior street, and Mrs. Hutchins, of Pine street, left yesterday for Penzance, Eng. where they plan to remain permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jacques have gone to Iron Mountain, to remain a few weeks. Mr. Jacques is to relieve the Metropolitan Insurance company's agent there.

Leonard Anderson, of Carp street, was tendered a surprise last evening by a number of his friends. The evening was enjoyably spent and a dainty lunch was served.

J. S. Wallman has about finished work on the interior of the sisters' home on Pine, Pearl and Front streets, and they will take possession shortly after April 1.

John J. Dougherty, of Manistee, who travels for the Wolverine Oil company of that city, is here spending a few days with his brother-in-law, John H. Quinn, and family.

Miss Jennie Stromer who has been employed in the Neagame store of F. Braastad & Co., will today begin work in the ready-to-wear department of the firm's Ishpeming store. Miss Stromer is an experienced saleslady.

Births recorded in the city yesterday were a son to Mr. and Mrs. William Gustafson, 118 East Superior street, a daughter to Dominick Tasson and wife, 193 Excelsior street and Mr. and Mrs. Kalle Ruohomaki, 157 Zoberlin street, a son.

J. and S. Lowenstein are having plans made for remodeling their business block, corner Cleveland avenue and First street. A foundation and basement will be put in and the building will be given a brick veneer. A number of other improvements will be made.

Charles Jones, grader for Pickands-Mather & Co., at Elba, Minn., is here on a few days' visit with relatives. He has been in Chicago and Minneapolis the past week or more, and will leave tomorrow morning for his home on the Mesaba.

The Yalvo Duo, who will be the attraction at the Ishpeming theater the first half of next week, present the tango and other late dances. This act has drawn unusually large audiences everywhere it has appeared in the upper peninsula the past two or three weeks.

The "Officer 666" company was greeted by an assemblage of good size at the Ishpeming theater last evening. The play is a rare comedy, with many pleasing lines and ludicrous situations. The cast is evenly balanced and the play is well staged. The production gave satisfaction.

Two eight-reel matinees will be given this afternoon at Ishpeming theater, the first starting at 1:30 and the second at 3:30. The Seven Russells, who present a pleasing musical first part, will be the vaudeville attraction. The Russells performed at the Star theater, Neagame, last night. The picture program this afternoon will include: "The Big Horn Massacre," a two reel Kalem drama; "That Pair from Thespia," an Essanay western comedy; "Her Boy," a Lubin drama; "A Tudor Princess," a two reel Edison drama; "The Honorable Algeron," a Vitagraph comedy and "The Doctor's Romance," a Lubin drama.

The management of Ishpeming theater has booked "Thor, Lord of the Jingles," an extraordinary Lubin animal feature, for next Wednesday evening. Although this is an expensive picture, there will be no extra admission charge. The following Wednesday the most sensational feature that has ever been shown in a moving picture theater in the upper peninsula will be presented. It is entitled "The Sankon City, or from Fire to Fortune." This picture was taken in coal mines of Pennsylvania. It shows the men rescuing their fellow workers from a raging fire, and oxygen helmets and pulmotors are used to advantage.

FIGHT IS DUE OVER THE MILEAGE GRANT

Old System of Paying Congressmen 20 Cents a Mile Will Be Attacked in the House.

Washington, March 20.—One of the time-honored controversies on the mileage question is expected to be staged in the house of representatives within the next few weeks. Even the prospect of debate on the subject has caused widespread alarm among those who profit most by this antiquated allowance. The matter has advanced so far that the subcommittee of the legislative appropriations committee has voted to abolish the annual mileage allowance and provide only actual traveling expenses for members and their families. Congressman William E. Cox of Indiana will carry the fight to the floor of the house.

All a man has to do to be a highly paid congressman is to live on the Pacific coast. There are congressmen from Oregon and Washington who draw as high as from $1,400 to $1,600 in mileage. The delegates from Hawaii and Alaska draw twenty cents a mile both ways. The delegates from the Philippines are allowed a flat $2,000 a session for traveling.

The arrangement allowing each congressman twenty cents a mile works out rather oddly. Take for instance, a congressman living in northern Michigan, a distance of 1,000 miles from the capital. In coming here he pays $20 for his railroad ticket, $5 for his berth, $3 for his meals, $1 for tips, etc.; a total of $29. He receives twenty cents a mile both ways, making a total of $400. He is therefore $371 to the good. Contrast this man with the congressman who lives in Alexandria, Va., just over the river from Washington. He receives only $3.60.

As a matter of fact the amount of mileage was fixed years ago when congressmen were obliged to travel by stagecoach over rough roads or Indian trails, beset with dangers. Often it required several weeks for a congressman to make the journey to the capital. In those days the congressional salary also was much less than the $7,500 now paid by the government.

It is estimated that Leeds, English, and its districts produce nine-tenths of the forest products crop of the world. Consequently the reported failure of this season's crop in this district is regarded as a disaster.

FORGOTTEN RECORDS.

By the recent rediscovery at Lambeth, the London residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury, of records of the Court of Arches, the highest ecclesiastical court in England, an interesting light is thrown both on English life and manners in a bygone age and on the almost incredible carelessness with which valuable records are sometimes treated. The documents, some 2,000 in number, date back to the time of the great fire, and since that date appear to have had so checked and wandering a career that it is almost a miracle they should have been preserved. At one time they were kept in a hired room in a house at Knightbridge street, which was rebuilt in 1820. Probably the rebuilding was the reason for their removal to St. Paul's cathedral, where they remained till 1865. Then they were taken to Lambeth, dumped into a room there, and for forty years have been acquiring a deep stratum of London soot and dust. When a few years ago it occurred to the present dean of the Arches, Sir Lewis Dibdin, K. C., to investigate these records it almost required a spade to excavate them.

Sir Lewis Dibdin told of the results of his researches in an interesting address at a dinner of the Authors' club in London the other night. He has found it impossible at present to make more than superficial investigation of the records, but it is obvious that they form what has heretofore been lacking, a valuable set of precedents for the ecclesiastical court. To the layman, however, the "human interest" of these documents appeals more than their legal importance. Many of them involve cases of clerical and lay discipline, as the suit against an incumbent who "neglected his duty, drank too much and threw tobacco pipes about in the churchyard." These dissipation his long suffering parishioners might possibly have endured uncomplainingly, but when their pastor persisted in keeping a chess in the font all the winter long, much to the offence of those who worshipped in adjacent seats, it was too much of a good thing and they baled him to court.

The troubles of a certain autocratic chancellor of the diocese of Bath and Wells and the archdeacon of Wells form the subject of several processes. The chancellor excommunicated the archdeacon for some disrespect, but on appeal it was discovered that the chancellor himself was under ban of excommunication for contempt of the Court of Arches, so the archdeacon's sentence was revoked. This, however, was by no means all. It appears that while the chancellor was busy excommunicating the archdeacon some bystanders in the court ventured to laugh, whereupon they were promptly excommunicated by the irate chancellor, as was a verger, who had removed a document from the cushion of the chancellor's desk. All ended happily, however, with the discovery of the chancellor's disability. The excommunications were revoked on balm and the laughing official was mulcted in costs.

The amazing thing is that nobody has heretofore had the curiosity to extricate such documents as these from the accumulated dust of centuries; and one wonders whether many more of like interest are lying forgotten and neglected in cathedral vaults or unused rooms of bishops' palaces.—New York Sun.

One of the largest forest nurseries in the United States is conducted by the forest service near Haugon, Mont. It is known as the Savenae nursery and has a capacity of 4,000,000 young trees a year.

TERRIBLE ITCHING OF SKIN TROUBLE

Small Red and Yellow Spots on Leg, Covered with Dry Scale, Had to Walk Floor Nights. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured.

R. F. D. No. 3, Clarkfield, Minn. — "My trouble was of long standing. It started with some small red and yellow spots about the size of a pin head on my leg and every morning there was a dry scale on top covering the affected part and when those scales were falling off the itching was more than I could stand at times. The first year I did not mind it so much as it was only itching very badly at times, but the second year it advanced all around my leg and the itching was terrible. I had to be very careful to have my clothing around the affected part very loose. At night time I often happened to scratch the sore in my sleep. Then I had to stand up, get out of bed and walk the floor. "Then I read the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I wrote for a sample and got it. To my surprise I was feeling relief after the second application. So I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a fifty-cent box of Cuticura Ointment and when I had used them I was nearly over the itching, so I got another box and that healed it all up so it looked smooth and fine, but I kept on with the Cuticura Soap for six weeks and the cure was complete." (Signed) S. O. Gordon, Nov. 20, 1912.

Cuticura Soap 25c, and Cuticura Ointment 50c, are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." *Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

Principals of Show to Be Given Next Month Have Been Selected.

The members of the Young Men's Christian association who will take part in the minstrel show at the Ishpeming theater the latter part of next month are making good headway with their rehearsals. The company is made up of some of the best talent in the city. The end men and chorus are now rehearsing separately, but within the next two weeks the entire company will meet for rehearsals.

AGAINST THE LAW.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Answers Inquiry.

A few days ago A. E. Sterne, county commissioner of schools, wrote Fred L. Keeler, superintendent of public instruction, asking him what authority school officials have for using school money to pay the expenses of representatives to school conferences and other meetings. Mr. Keeler's reply to Mr. Sterne's letter is as follows:

"Lansing, March 17, 1914. Commissioner A. E. Sterne, Ishpeming, Michigan.

"My Dear Sir: Replying to yours of the fourteenth: There is no authority in the law for using school money for the purpose of paying expenses of representatives from the various school societies to different conferences. Such a use of public money would be entirely illegal and should not be allowed.

"Yours very truly, "FRED L. KEELER."

WOULD HAVE CHILDREN'S DAY.

Arkansas Lawyer Moves Governor To Take Up Plan With All States.

Fort Smith, Ark., March 20.—A national children's day is the dream of Earl T. Hardin, a young attorney of Fort Smith, and through Governor George W. Hays of Arkansas, he has gone at least a part of the way toward making his dream come true.

For several years Hardin has had a children's day in this city, and upon his solicitation Governor Hays became interested in the proposition and on November 10, 1913, issued a proclamation setting apart December 10 as something new. People eagerly cooperated and it was observed successfully throughout the state, even beyond the hopes of the promoters.

Then Hardin asked the governor to write to the governors of all the other states, asking them to set aside the same day for the same purpose. Hays liked the idea. He has now written to the executive heads of all the states and thus far has received favorable replies from two—Governor Cruce of Oklahoma and Governor Major of Missouri.

"It has been suggested to me," writes Governor Hays to the various governors, "that I write to the governor of each state in the Union to determine whether or not it would be possible to have set aside a uniform day to be known as children's day. I will appreciate a letter from you expressing your views on this subject, and if it meets with your approval the suggestion of a day such as you feel would be most appropriate."

BEWARE OF PRICE CUTTING—NOT A GOOD THING FOR THE CONSUMER.

A few merchants make a practice of selling advertised products of known quality at a price below wholesale cost. Such merchants are necessarily forced to make up their losses on these standard articles by sale on other goods of unknown value which they usually weave into the order at an exorbitant price, which more than offsets their cut on the known-quality goods.

The reason these merchants continue to do this is because comparatively few people are acquainted with the fact that some products of known quality are sold at a very small margin of profit. Few realize that when a dealer sells one or more articles at or below cost there is a string to the transaction and he is bound to and will make up his loss on other articles. The cutting on the known-quality goods is the bait in the trap.

If the above condition does not exist, then the chances are that the price-cutter is one who makes a practice of buying bankrupt stocks, old damaged goods at a very low cost, and offering them to the public as first-class goods. It generally happens when a housewife buys these goods she finds them below standard, and sometimes a manufacturer loses a customer who would have been satisfied had she secured first-class stock from a reliable dealer.

Some of the leading manufacturers, such as W. K. Kellogg, Calumet Baking Powder company, Walter Baker and the National Biscuit company, prefer to keep their goods out of the hands of a price-cutter for the reason that the reduction in price represents a loss to the consumer and tends to debate the quality of their product in the public mind. While the amount of goods sold by this class of dealers is small, the business killed by putting out goods that have deteriorated works a big injustice to both consumer and manufacturer.

It has been proven that it pays to beware of price-cutters. In the long run, the housewives who deal with merchants who have established modern methods, preferring competition in service rather than competition in price, will get full value for the money they spend and find their table expenses lower. The day is fast passing when the public can be deluded by the use of a few leaders sold below the manufacturer's cost. The very fact that any dealer attempts to lure trade in this way should cast him the confidence of the buying public.

LONDON EXPOSITION WILL OPEN IN MAY

Anglo-American Fair to Commemorate 100 Years of Peace Between the Nations.

New York, March 20.—In London next May the people of the United States and Great Britain will open an exposition and it is proposed to go far beyond anything of the kind in which they have been interested heretofore.

The year 1914 brings the centenary anniversary of the signing of the treaty of Ghent, which has resulted in 100 years of peaceful relations between the two countries, and it is proposed to recognize this anniversary in a way that shall fittingly commemorate its importance, as well as illustrate in a definite way just how influential the two countries have been in the material progress of the world.

The idea of a practical demonstration has taken root in a way to insure unusually interesting results, and the Anglo-American exposition, as it will be called, has assumed an aspect that promises to unite the two nations more closely than ever.

It will be an occasion of joining hands across the sea after a fashion never before attempted, and the scope of the undertaking provides for exhibits that will illustrate what the united States and the United Kingdom have done for the world in the century just closing in every branch of industry, art, science and education, and will include a historical summary of the progress of the two countries for a century.

Idea Is American.

The plan of a dual exposition of American and British products was first definitely suggested at a meeting of the American society in London in 1908, at which the late Ambassador Reid presided.

Definite plans were adopted and an inaugural meeting was held at the Mansion house, London, March 20 last year, at which the lord mayor of London, Sir David Burnett, presided.

The disinterested motives of those who are more prominently identified with the execution of this plan is indicated by the following resolution, proposed by Mr. Ginnell, M. P., and adopted by a unanimous vote:

"Resolved, that all profits derived from the Anglo-American exposition, 1914, by the committee shall be devoted to some public object of national utility to the kingdom and to the United States."

The site of the exposition, which will be open from May to October, 1914, is the Shepherds' Bush section of London, where have been constructed an imposing group of exhibition buildings. These buildings occupy a tract of more than 150 acres readily accessible from the center of London's main thoroughfare. The main entrance is connected with the terminus of, or close in proximity to, the leading railways, tramways and subway tubes, in the center of a network of transportation lines, affording easy means of communication with all parts of London.

Buildings Are Complete.

Elaborate plans are well under way to make the various exhibits as comprehensive as possible, and a great advantage is the fact that the buildings, all of fireproof construction throughout, are complete and ready for occupancy. This makes impossible the delay and inconvenience sometimes caused by the inability to finish construction work on time.

The undertaking is popular in origin and the promotion of the project has enlisted the co-operation of hundreds of men foremost in the affairs of England and this country. Organized under the auspices of the duke of Connaught as patron and the duke of Teck as honorary president, the list of vice presidents includes some of the most prominent members of the American society in London and influential Americans in Great Britain.

At the head of the executive committee is the earl of Kintore. The American vice presidents are Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university; Joseph H. Choate, New York city; Abbot M. Lowell, president of Harvard university; James B. Forgan, president of First National bank, Chicago; David R. Francis, ex-governor of Missouri; Alba B. Johnson, president Baldwin Locomotive works, Philadelphia, Pa., and Samuel Mather president Verona and Hemlock River Mining companies, Cleveland, Ohio.

Organization in U. S.

Each member of the American executive committee is the chairman of a local executive committee in his city, composed of merchants and manufacturers. The American committee as a whole consists of United States senators, congressmen, governors, mayors of the principal cities and many leading citizens from all sections of the country—more than 400 in all.

The keynote of the exposition is suggested in the following resolution introduced by the lord mayor of Cardiff at the organization meeting:

"London and the United Kingdom welcome the Anglo-American exposition to be held at Shepherds' Bush next year, in celebration of the hundred years of peace and progress of the English-speaking people, as a means of strengthening the bond of friendship and kinship between the American and British nations, of drawing them close together, and of further developing their great commercial and industrial relations."

American executive offices of the exposition are in the Woolworth building, New York city.

A CITY TO BUILD RAILROAD.

Merrill, Wis., Not Satisfied with Present Transportation Facilities.

Merrill, Wis., March 20.—The building of "Merrill's Municipal Railway" is rapidly approaching the point of actual operation, and the final decision whether this city will financially aid the project will rest with a special election this spring, when the voters will be asked to decide whether the municipality may purchase stock of the new railroad. The railroad is unique in the history of American railroading. Th city of Merrill, complaining that its shipping facilities were monopolized by one of the great railroad systems and that it was impossible to secure the building of a branch of a rival railroad into this territory began negotiations with local and outside capital for the building of an independent railroad to run east and west, connecting with two other great systems, and thereby giving Merrill transportation facilities to warrant the industrial growth of the municipality.

Merrill, situated on the Wisconsin River, with an enormous waterpower available believes it has an industrial future of great promise, and the residents of the northern Wisconsin territory through which the line is to run have completed all preliminary work for a road about forty miles in length. The railroad has an imposing name, despite its short mileage, being known as the Minneapolis, Merrill & Marinette, and Merrill has dreamed the road eventually will run entirely across Northern Wisconsin, from Minneapolis to Marinette, on Lake Michigan.

In the city planning congress at Ghent there was much advocacy of streets so laid out as to allow the greatest possible amount of sunlight, in order to obtain the fullest microbicidal action of the rays.

How Strong Should Good Cars Be?

Mr. Olds Says, "They Should be as Strong as Necessary, Then One-half Stronger Still."

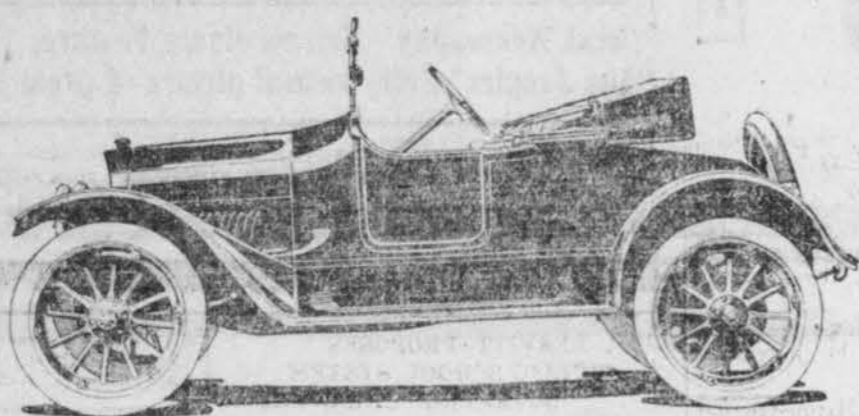

Mr. R. E. Olds, who builds REO the Fifth, has been building cars for years. If any man knows how strong a car should be, that man is Mr. Olds.

Mr. S. J. Mitchell, the local REO dealer, says that Mr. Olds gives a car all the strength it needs, and then he adds 50 per cent. For instance, REO the Fifth has a 35-horsepower engine. All the factory tests for every driving part are based on a 50-horsepower engine.

At the REO factory an entire building is devoted to tests and analyses. The steel is twice analyzed. Machines have been devised for giving every part the most radical tests known in car building. There are crushing machines to test gears. There are vibrating machines to test springs. There are Dynomo-meters to test engines.

In addition, there are reckless road tests. Cars are driven at high speed for 10,000 miles, night and day on rough roads. And the driving parts are expected to come through that test in practically new condition.

Mr. Olds is, no doubt, an extremist. But most men would like to know that the cars they drive have withstood tests like these.

WRITE STORIES FOR MOVING PICTURE PLAYS

New, Spare-Time Profession for Men and Women—One Man Makes $3,500 in Six Months.

Owing to the large number of new motion picture theaters which are being opened throughout the country, there is offered to the men and women of today a new profession, namely, that of writing moving picture plays. Producers are paying from $25 to $150 for each scenario accepted, upon which they can build a photo play.

$3,500 in Six Months. As it only requires a few hours' time to construct a complete play, you can readily see the immense possibilities in this work. One man, who gave the idea a tryout, writes that he earned $3,500 in six months. It is possible for an intelligent person to meet with equal success.

One feature of the business which should appeal to everyone is that the work may be done at home in spare time. No literary ability is required and women have as great an opportunity as men. Ideas for plots are constantly turning up, and may be put in scenario form and sold for a good price.

BRISK ELECTION IS THE INDICATOR

Two and Possibly Three Tickets May Be in the Field in Negaunee This Spring.

The voters are beginning to show considerable interest in the municipal election that will occur Monday, April 6. It promises to be spirited, as there will likely be two tickets in the field, and possibly three. There is considerable talk of a straight socialist ticket, but the leaders of the People's party have not yet decided to put candidates in the field.

It is understood that Mayor William Heggaton will head the Citizens' party ticket, and that he will be nominated without opposition. Mayor Heggaton's administration has been highly satisfactory, and it is predicted that he will poll a larger vote than was cast for him last year. He has associated with other officials in the management of city affairs for so many years that he is now in a position to give more efficient services than ever before. He has given the duties of mayor careful attention. Before his election to the executive office, Mr. Heggaton served as alderman for a number of years.

Harry Salvage, who last spring was elected to the office of city treasurer, will again seek the nomination on the Citizens' ticket. It has been customary in years past to give the treasurer at least two terms, and many of the voters now favor the nomination of Mr. Salvage.

There will probably be lively contests in some of the wards, as there is talk of opposition to one or two of the aldermen. It is understood that all of them will be candidates for reelection. The outgoing alderman in the First ward is Frank Prouse, in the Second, Thomas Collins; in the Third, John A. Wasmuth; in the Fourth, William Mitchell; and in the Fifth, Captain Joseph Thomas.

Messrs. Prouse, Collins, Wasmuth and Thomas have served as aldermen for many years, while Mr. Mitchell, who served as recorder for a number of years, is completing his first term as alderman. All are strong with the voters.

There will be five constables to be elected, one from each ward.

PROF. LEAVITT PROPOSES PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM SUPERVISE CHILD LABOR.

New Orleans, March 19.—A proposal that the public school system should take upon itself the employment supervision of all working children up to eighteen years of age was made by Professor Frank M. Leavitt, of the University of Chicago, before the National Child Labor Conference here tonight. He is president of the National Vocational Guidance association. He declared that hundreds of children were still leaving school because of its ungenial and unsympathetic atmosphere. Widespread improvement was being effected by vocational education, and some schools have undertaken some supervision of children after they enter the ranks of labor. Professor Leavitt declared that such supervision should be developed in every city and town and take in all working children up to eighteen years of age. "The public school could not more effectively aid the crusade against child labor than by promoting this function," he said.

MINUTES MEAN DOLLARS IN TREATING ANIMALS

Doubtless you know the danger of delayed treatment of colic and other diseases. You also realize that wrongly applied remedies are often worse than no treatment at all. In other words, not to diagnose a disease accurately may prove fatal. Every owner should be able to recognize an ailment and give correct treatment at the first symptoms. Prompt action is the great secret of treating horses.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ". Its grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "TIZ". It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

NEW PLAN FOR CITY MARKET

Henceforth Tim Hurley, the Keeper, Will Get Nominal Salary of $10 Monthly, but Will Be Permitted to Keep All the Fees and Do Commission Business.

Is Hoped to Make It of Much More Service to People of Marquette and Ultimately to Put It on Self-Supporting Basis—Municipal Employment Agency.

Beginning April 1 the Marquette market is to be conducted on a new basis. Henceforth the market will be run by a municipal employment agency, headed by Tim Hurley, the keeper, who will receive a nominal salary of $10 a month, but will be permitted to keep all the fees and do commission business. The market will be run on a self-supporting basis, and it is hoped to make it of much more service to the people of Marquette and ultimately to put it on a self-supporting basis.

Tim Hurley, who has been in charge of the market for several years, will receive a nominal salary of $10 a month, but will be permitted to keep all the fees and do commission business. The market will be run on a self-supporting basis, and it is hoped to make it of much more service to the people of Marquette and ultimately to put it on a self-supporting basis.

Marquette has never had a city market. We have merely been running a municipal stable for the accommodation of the farmers in the country surrounding Marquette at a net loss to the taxpayers of approximately $600 last year, Mayor Begole said yesterday.

"What the city commission proposes to do now is to have a market that is something more than a name," Tim Hurley is a competent man, but because he was working under an inadequate system he has not had a chance to show what he could do.

Beginning April 1 the city market will be placed on an entirely different basis. Mr. Hurley will be paid $10 a month, instead of $60 a month. In addition, he will be given all the fees that the city has heretofore been receiving. In addition, he can make all he can out of the market, by buying and selling farm produce on commission. The commission, in fact, wants to make of Tim Hurley the housewife's friend. When the housewife wants a load of wood at farmers' prices she can telephone Tim Hurley, No. 286-W, and he will arrange to get it for her. So with all farm products.

"The farmers now, in some cases, spend several hours disposing of their produce, or a load of wood, or a load of hay. Tim Hurley is also going to be the farmers' friend. When they have produce to sell, they will let him know what they are going to bring in the next market day, and he will endeavor to have it sold for them before they get here. Many Marquette housewives want a regular supply of fresh eggs, butter and farm products, and there are always people in the farming community who want a market for the same goods."

"Tim Hurley will be a middle man. He will charge a small fee for his services, but they will be worth five times what he charges. Under the new plan there will be a small saving the first year to the city, and eventually the market should not only support itself, but pay interest on the investment."

Will List Applicants.

The plans for the municipal employment agency that will be conducted by Mr. Hurley call for the listing of names of all applicants for work of any and all descriptions, together with their addresses, so that they may be located on short notice. There will be a reliable directory of unemployed for Marquette, and with it at hand it is believed that Mr. Hurley will be able to provide persons to do odd jobs about the house or yard as well as considerable crews of men to undertake general contract labor work in the woods.

It is expected that the municipal agency will in time replace all other employment agencies in the city, and that it will be conducted to the better satisfaction of both the persons looking for work and those wanting to hire men or women. It is expected that Mr. Hurley will be ready to undertake the duties of town employment agent by April 1. There will be a small fee for his services.

Getting Out Circular Letter.

Because of the numerous inquiries received for information about the operation of the municipal plants in Marquette Mayor Begole is having prepared a circular letter dealing with them that will answer all the questions likely to be put. One of the latest requests for information has been received from Henry C. Wright, director of the board of estimate and apportionment of New York.

The number of these inquiries has largely increased since the adoption of commission government in Marquette, an indication that commission government makes a good advertisement.

PURCHASES FLORIDA ORCHARD.

H. B. Hatch Obtains Thirty-Acre Tract at East Palatka.

Harvey B. Hatch, of this city, recently purchased a thirty-acre orchard at East Palatka, Florida, in the heart of the orange belt. Mr. Hatch's brother will take charge of and manage the property within a short time. Twenty acres of the tract are planted with oranges, tangerine and grape-fruit trees, and five acres are devoted to the cultivation of paper-shell pecans. Five acres are cleared, and there is a good-sized packing house. A heavy crop was raised during the season just past, and other trees are nearing maturity.

The orchard is a short distance from a railway line, being only a few minutes' walk from East Palatka and easily accessible. Mr. Hatch has just received word that the trees are now blossoming out in fine style, and that there is every indication of a bumper crop next season.

Upon a complaint sworn out by John Coti, secretary of the Marquette lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose, George Shaw was arrested yesterday on the charge of embezzlement. Byrne yesterday morning and pleaded not guilty to the information. His hearing was set for March 26 at 11 o'clock in Judge Byrne's court.
