

ACUTE CRISIS DEVELOPS IN BRITISH ISLES

Liberals Denounce the Refusal of Army Officers to Fight Ulsterites as a Mutiny of Aristocrats Against Democracy—Gravely Serious Consequences Threaten.

Ministry Faces Danger of Rebellion in Its Own Ranks and the Throne Is Involved as Never Before in Many Years—Labor Party Members Already Up in Arms

London, March 24.—Westminster continues to be a seething caldron over what the Liberals now denounce as the "mutiny of the army aristocrats" against democratic government.

Sovereign's Interference Established.

The fact has been established that General Hubert Gough and the other officers of the Third cavalry brigade demanded and obtained written assurances, drafted by a lawyer, that they would not be ordered to fight Sir Edward Carson's Ulster volunteers, and that these assurances were obtained largely through the personal intervention of the king.

Officers Welcomed Back as Heroes.

Before the officers left London they sent telegraphic messages to their brother officers in Ireland that they had found support "from the highest quarters." On their arrival at the Curragh camp today they were welcomed by a guard of honor with cheers and related the outcome of their summons to the war office.

Monarch's Meddling Resented.

The throne is involved in the discussion as it has never been before during the reign of George the fifth, or that of his immediate predecessor. Those of the Liberals who opposed what they denounce as a surrender to the military are criticizing the king with the greatest freedom. "They resist his action in summoning Field Marshal Lord Roberts, who, in his speech, advised the officers that they might properly refuse to serve in suppressing the Ulster irascibles, and they criticize his majesty for dealing personally with Field Marshal Sir John French, chief of the general staff, and General Sir Arthur Paget, commanding the forces in Ireland, who should have been dealt with, they think, only by the secretary of state for war, in accordance with custom.

Ministry's Fate in the Balance.

The government's two spokesmen, Colonel Seely, secretary for war, in the house of commons, and Viscount Morley, of Blackburn, in the house of lords, were confronted today by demands for explicit information. They were asked as to exactly what assurances the government gave the military officers and whether they were written or verbal. Both government spokesmen refused to answer any questions before the papers were presented to the houses. If these papers disclose that the government surrendered to those who refused duty in Ulster, Premier Asquith's administration will face great danger from rebellion in its own ranks. The most reliable parliamentary writers will make this statement in the morning papers.

Laborites in Open Revolt.

The labor party members are in open revolt. They harp on the fact that Tom Mann was sent to prison for six months for inciting the soldiers to refuse to fire on strikers, on orders, and demand to be informed as to whether there is to be one law for aristocrats, with commissions, and another for plebeians in the ranks, when it comes to matters of conscience and obedience to orders. John Redmond, the leader of the Irish Nationalist party, in a statement to the Associated Press today declared that the question is whether the atmosphere of the aristocratic London drawing rooms or the will of the majority of the people should prevail.

Unionist Press Admits King's Part.

London, Wednesday, March 25.—The Unionist morning papers fully admit that it was the king's influence which procured the reinstatement of General Gough and the other officers. They express great indignation at the attack of the laborites on the throne and the army and take pains to explain that the labor men are under misapprehension in supposing that the officers were so ready to fire on strikers.

Radical Government in Prospect.

Among the many unconfirmed rumors published is a report that Colonel Seely, secretary of state for war, has offered to resign and is likely to disappear as the minister responsible for the blunder which precipitated the crisis that split the cabinet. David Lloyd-George and Winston Spencer Churchill and their adherents being angry at Premier Asquith and the moderates for yielding to the officers, and that the outcome is not unlikely to be a new radical government headed by Lloyd-George.

Conservatives Charge Conspiracy.

The Morning Post and other conservative papers boldly assert that the triumvirate—Lloyd-George, Churchill and Seely—formed a deliberate plot to coerce Ulster by the employment of troops and this went beyond the intentions and knowledge of the prime minister and other members of the cabinet. This plot, they declare, included a plan to arrest the Ulster leaders. But the "conspiracy" failed, because the plotters misunderstood the feelings of the officers.

admits that the government is in troubled waters, and that a situation has arisen which will test the mettle and skill of the premier to the utmost. He adds that the documents which Colonel Seely has promised to publish today, revealing the negotiations with the officers, are, he has learned, very bad from the government's viewpoint and that the feeling is widespread that the war office "had dreadfully bungled the whole business."

The Daily News, which is a Liberal organ, reports that Colonel Seely has resigned, but that his resignation has not yet been accepted.

Throne and Court Condemned.

The Daily Citizen, a labor organ, today openly ascribes the crisis to the interference of the king and the court, and says: "The king has interfered. He has been interfering all through for months. The court has been a conservative committee, in the activities of which titled women have been playing a leading part, headed by Lady Londonderry, and whoever knows an army officer knows his susceptibility to feminine influence."

The Citizen yesterday hinted that Lady Londonderry had actually visited the Curragh camp to influence the officers.

Riot at Belfast Early Today.

Belfast, Ireland, Wednesday, March 25.—A party riot occurred in Oromae square early this morning. Stones and other missiles were thrown and revolver shots were fired. A large force of police dispersed the rioters. Many persons were slightly injured and several were arrested.

SAYS SHE DIDN'T MEAN TO MURDER CALMETTE

Mme. Caillaux Intended Only to Give the Editor Warning, She Asserts in Court.

Paris, March 24.—"I never intended to kill M. Calmette; I wanted only to give him warning."

This assertion was made by Mme. Caillaux as the climax of her dramatic story of the shooting and the recital of the facts surrounding the killing of the editor of the Figaro.

"My fear of the consequences of the publication of some of my private correspondence in the Figaro led to my assassination of M. Calmette," said Mme. Caillaux.

Was Afraid Husband Would Act.

"I was also had been obsessed with the idea that my husband might be driven to commit the crime," the woman said, "and so decided to do it myself."

"A terrible fear clutched me lest my husband, who is a remarkably cool shot, should kill Calmette, on the morning of the shooting, I already pictured in my mind the figure of my husband on the prisoner's bench."

Mme. Caillaux's state of mind on the eventful day, her purchase of a revolver and the last act of the tragedy were set forth in detail by her lawyer, before the examining magistrate, Henri Boncard.

"France and the republic have need of you. I do not want you to sacrifice yourself." Before going to the Figaro office, Mme. Caillaux had left this note for her husband, who, she feared, might act on an act of violence against Calmette.

Greeted Cordially by Her Victim.

The witness told her cordial greeting by the editor when she reached the Figaro office.

"No doubt you know the object of my visit," the woman had said to the editor.

"Do not know," replied M. Calmette. "Won't you sit down." He then lighted a lamp and placed it near the desk.

"I observed that two bullets lodged in the base of the bookcase. But how do you explain the wound in the chest of M. Calmette, who was behind the desk?"

"I do not know; I continued to fire without noticing any fire," she said.

"Are we to suppose that the yeoman followed M. Calmette around, in his efforts to escape?" asked the magistrate.

"To this Mme. Caillaux had nothing to say."

Mme. Caillaux then told of the luncheon at her husband's on the day of the tragedy, the consequent nervous excitement she suffered and the necessity of making a last effort to prevent the publication of more of her letters.

BELMONT, SENIOR, TESTIFIES HE ENDED SON'S ALLOWANCE ON YOUNG MAN'S MARRIAGE.

New York, March 24.—After young Raymond Belmont married Ethel Loraine, who had passed as an actress but had never been on the stage, his father, August Belmont, cut off his allowance, according to testimony given by the capitalist as a witness for his son today in the supreme court, where the young man is defending a separation suit brought by his wife. When Raymond married in 1912, Mr. Belmont added, he was cut off from his $3,000 annual allowance and has since given up his position at a salary of $75 a month in the banking house of August Belmont & Co.

Counsel for the plaintiff objected to the admission of Mr. Belmont's testimony, claiming it did not tell "all the story." Justice Greenbaum decided to accept the testimony as partial evidence, and to give counsel for young Mrs. Belmont the right to examine the books of August Belmont & Co., which are in evidence, and to cross-examine the capitalist subsequently.

The trial will be resumed Friday.

The largest dairy farm in the world is nearing completion at Head Lake, Hoading, a suburb of Winnipeg, when completely stocked the farm will contain 2,500 head of cattle within its fences. The total yearly output of milk and cream is expected to be about 3,000,000 gallons.

FEDERALS GIVE ARMY OF VILLA FIERCE BATTLE

Fighting at Gomez Palacio, in the Environs of Torreon, Still in Progress at the Latest Advances—Huerta Dead at That Hour Placed at Seven Hundred.

Jubilant Caused at Juarez by Reports Rebels Are Carrying All Before Them Is Dampened When Associated Press News Shows Conflict Is Yet Far from Won.

Chihuahua, Mex., March 24.—An official dispatch received tonight says that the fighting at Gomez Palacio continues. The rebels are said to have captured the stone railroad roundhouse, and to be fighting from it. The rebels claim that the federal dead number seven hundred. No report as to their own losses has been made public, but it is learned that they have at least eighty wounded.

Juarez Jubilation Premature.

Juarez, Mex., March 24.—Roseate rumors and "official" reports of the onward sweep of General Francisco Villa and his victorious rebels kept this city in a state of gratified excitement today, but the optimism was dashed somewhat by the receipt of an Associated Press dispatch from Chihuahua quoting an official dispatch to the effect that fighting continued at Gomez Palacio.

It was announced officially in the course of the forenoon that Gomez Palacio, three miles from Torreon, was taken last night at 9 o'clock and that General Villa had ordered supplies sent direct to that city. Next came word that General Benavides had captured two federal caudillos in Torreon itself. This information was conveyed in a private telegram from Colonel Trevino, one of Benavides' staff officers, to his brother in Juarez.

At this news there was further joy, but it was nothing to the excitement occasioned when General Manuel Chao, military governor of the state of Chihuahua, and now in this city to greet General Carranza, received a private report that General Velasco, the federal commander at Torreon, had surrendered. General Chao accepted the report with reserve, however, and telegraphed to General Villa asking for confirmation of the report. After two hours he had received no reply.

Much Conjecture Aroused.

The dispatch from the Associated Press staff correspondent at Chihuahua had somewhat of a dampening effect on the spirits of the rebels and gave rise to all manner of conjecture. It was the first direct news telegram of the day, but it was argued that the official report quoted in it did not necessarily disprove previous reports of fighting in Torreon, or even that Villa did not actually have Gomez Palacio in his possession last night. The report might mean, it was conjectured, that the federals, as a part of the general battle, might have returned to Gomez Palacio and renewed the fight while other forces were engaged in Torreon, three miles away.

PLAN EVOLVED BY HUERTA AND ACCEPTED BY BANKS WILL YIELD HIM MILLIONS.

Mexico City, March 24.—President Huerta's financial stress will be relieved by today's adoption of a plan which will bring into the treasury approximately 100,000,000 pesos, which at the present rate of exchange, practically three to one, is equivalent to $33,000,000 in gold.

Fifty million pesos will be immediately available, the balance as required. The plan will be the resumption on April 1 of the interest payments on the foreign debt, suspended on Jan. 12, last, and the early revocation of the 50 per cent. advance in import duties recently imposed as a war measure, all of which will be set forth in a decree to be issued within a day or two.

The plan involves the issuance of treasury notes against the unpaid balance of bonds authorized in May, 1913, to the amount of $100,000,000, for a portion of which a Paris bank syndicate subscribed, but of which practically half remains unsold. These bonds are to be placed with Mexican banks at 30 per cent. of their face value, the banks to issue them at the legal ratio of three to one. The bonds are secured by the pledge of 16 per cent. of the customs.

The bankers have agreed to take the bonds in question. In return for the assistance rendered by the banks, President Huerta promises definitely to abandon the scheme for a federal bank and, likewise, the proposed 1 per cent. tax on the capital of corporations and individuals.

SECRETARY BRYAN URGES NOLAN NOT TO INVESTIGATE DEATH OF SON IN MEXICO.

Eatonton, Pa., March 24.—Dr. J. Q. Nolan, who has asked the state department at Washington to investigate the death of his son, Dr. Frank Nolan, of Tampico, Mex., and who has considered going to Mexico himself to investigate, tonight received a telegram from Secretary Bryan, advising against the journey. The message read:

"The American consul at Tampico wires that the body of your son cannot be exhumed until the expiration of five years. I advise strongly that you do not go to Mexico."

Meagre advices received here are that Dr. Nolan died March 6, after a brief illness.

Charles Normandy of Wesson, Miss., has sold for $1,700 a diamond which he found in the gizzard of a chicken which he raised and killed on his farm.

MINERS' NATIONAL AGAIN BURNED OUT

Fire of Unknown Origin Today Leaves Ishpeming Block a Smoldering Shell.

Ishpeming, Mich., Wednesday, March 25.—The Miners' National bank building in this city again has been the scene of a costly fire. Flames breaking out early this morning destroyed the interior of the structure.

Harwood's drug store in the Jenks block, adjoining, was damaged by smoke and water. The fire was discovered at 2:40 o'clock by Patrick Ready, a South Shore telegraph operator, who was on his way home from work. The firemen were at the scene quickly, but the interior of the building already was a seething furnace. Shortly afterward the flames burst through the roof. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The bank building is a two-story structure on Main street, not far from the Nelson House. The ground floor was utilized for the banking business. On the second story were the offices of Frank A. Bell, lawyer, and Prosecuting Attorney Kennedy; Hans Gunderson, real estate, and V. S. Hillyer, engineer for the Marquette county road commission. All these offices were destroyed, together with their contents. The loss of the bank is estimated at approximately $20,000. Messrs. Bell and Kennedy possessed a library and equipment valued at $4,000 or more. Various maps and papers difficult to replace were destroyed in Mr. Hillyer's office. Mr. Gunderson lost, among other property, a fine library. Much of the various losses is covered by insurance.

Eight years ago the Miners' National block was wrecked by a gas explosion that caused the death of three persons and the injury of several others. Three years ago a fire similar to that of this morning burned out the interior of the re-constructed building. The walls of the block are of stone and apparently can be used again.

The fire was still burning fiercely at 4 o'clock this morning. The roof had been practically destroyed and it appeared that only the shell of the building remained.

MRS. JONES SAYS SHE'LL STAY IN JAIL TILL LAW FREES HER; REFUSES TRANSFER ELSEWHERE

Walsenburg, Colo., March 24.—"Some one must save the constitution," declared "Mother" Mary Jones today, in her prison cell, the hospital ward of the county jail, where she is incarcerated by order of Governor Ammons because she insisted upon returning to the strike zone. "I shall stay where I am until the law sets me free."

The aged agitator of strikes declared that she would remain in custody until the state supreme court had ruled upon the constitutionality of her incarceration. "Some one must do this," she declared; "I am in good health, and I am willing to do it."

Colonel Verdeckler, of the militia, today offered to transport his prisoner to any point in the state, outside of the strike zone, but the aged leader declined to leave the district.

SIX MONTHS IS SENTENCE OF SEATTLE STRIKEBREAKER WHO "PLANTED" DYNAMITE

Seattle, Wash., March 24.—Charles Killman, a professional strike breaker, who has confessed that he had planted dynamite with the purpose of incriminating leaders of the teamsters' strike in this city, pleaded guilty of conspiracy today and was sentenced to a six months' term in jail.

Killman said he was employed by the Team Owners' association to find evidence connecting strikers with lawlessness. Being entered into a conspiracy with three confederates to plant dynamite in premises supposed to be occupied by strike leaders. Through a mistake, the explosive was placed on the property of a citizen not connected with the strike, and Killman was arrested on suspicion, after he had falsely accused the strike leaders.

Majority Report Attracts Attention.

Preliminary to the debate attention was given tonight to the majority report on the Sins bill submitted by Representatives Adamson, of Georgia, chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. This report explains that in reporting the canal act during the last congress the committee had recommended uniform tolls and that the exemption for American coastwise shipping was accomplished by amendment. The committee, the report points out, had recognized, long before any foreign government had voiced an opinion or complaint, that treaty stipulations required uniform tolls.

"We are not disturbed," it added, "by the taunt, made for a purpose, that repeal would be trucking and yielding to foreign demands. Far better to abolish the canal itself than to permit our national honor even to remain in question."

Senator Raises Novel Point.

One of the first guns of the opposition to the repeal, so far as the senate is concerned, was fired today by Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, through the introduction of a resolution calling upon the secretary of war for all available information as to the cost of maintenance of navigable rivers and canals through which all shipping was, by an act passed in 1884, guaranteed passage free of tolls. It was asserted that the policy of the government with relation to the Panama canal tolls is to be reversed, the policy with reference to all rivers and canals also should be changed and tolls charged all shipping so as to pay the government for maintaining the waterway.

Legislators Kill Gov. Glynn's Bill.

Albany, N. Y., March 24.—Governor Glynn's measure, intended to establish agencies for caring for the unemployed, was defeated in the assembly tonight, sixty-three to sixty-seven, the vote thus falling nine short of a majority, which would have carried it.

Democrats Blamed for Idleness.

In opposing the bill, Republican Leader Hinman blamed the Democratic state and national administrations for the present number of unemployed. He declared that the legislators who were putting into effect laws upsetting business and throwing men out of work.

Frank Tannenbaum, Leader of Raid on Church, Goes on Trial in New York.

New York, March 24.—When the trial of Frank Tannenbaum, the youthful leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, was begun in the court of general sessions here today, crowds of his followers that attempted to enter the courtroom were refused admittance. The defendant led the mob of idle men that invaded St. Alphonsus' church the evening of March 4. They demanded a place to sleep in the edifice. This was refused them, and in the subsequent turmoil nearly two hundred men and one woman were arrested. Tannenbaum is accused of participating in an act of unlawful assemblage at the church, and with remaining unlawfully after having been warned by a policeman to leave.

EMPLOYEES AT CHICAGO BALK PLANS OF ROBBERS; OFFICE WATCHMAN SHOT.

Chicago, March 24.—Five robbers tonight attempted to rob the offices of the National Biscuit company, where more than one hundred men were at work in the building. Walter Durack, a watchman, was shot and seriously wounded when he sought to prevent the robbers entering the cashier's office. The bandits escaped in an automobile when a score of men employed in the building prevented their getting away with the day's receipts of the collectors, about $10,000.

BROOKLYN FEDERALS TO SHARE IN PROFITS REaped BY THE CLUB.

Baltimore, Md., March 24.—President R. B. Ward, of the Brooklyn club of the Federal league, here today disclosed a profit-sharing plan for the players of his team. Each player will have an ownership in the club proportionate to the salary he receives. Shares of common stock will be set aside for the men as a bonus, and when dividends are declared they will profit the same as the original holders of stock.

CHICAGO MAN LOSES SUIT TO RECOVER GIFTS HE GAVE UNFAITHFUL ONE.

Chicago, March 24.—A man who gives engagement presents must take his own risk of losing the girl and the presents, ruled Municipal Judge Graham today in a suit brought by Charles Mayorhofer against Mrs. Helen Carroll. Mayorhofer sued for $185, the value of the presents he had given the young woman when she was Miss Hoagland and had promised to marry him.

NEW YORK POLICE BILL IS KILLED BY ASSEMBLY

Legislators at Albany Refuse Reforms Requested by Mayor J. Purroy Mitchell.

Albany, N. Y., March 24.—The New York police bill was defeated in the assembly today by a vote of forty-nine to thirty. The measure was designed to increase the power of the New York city police commissioner.

The bill was introduced at the request of Mayor Mitchell, after he had asked Colonel George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, to accept the police commissionership and the colonel had replied that he could not consider the office unless given wider authority than is allowed at present.

Colonel Goethals said that the commissioner's decision in matters of police discipline should be final. At present a police officer who has been discharged or disciplined may take his case to the civil courts for review.

City Executive Disappointed.

New York, March 24.—"We gave the legislature a program and a man," Mayor John Purroy Mitchell said tonight in regard to the legislature's failure to pass his police bill.

"For the failure to obtain the most efficient police administration and control, and for the failure to get Colonel Goethals for commissioner, the responsibility lies with the legislature and with every man who voted against the bill."

THE ULTIMATE GOAL.

The reorganization of the city service by the commission may now be regarded as complete, as far as heads of departments is concerned.

For it there is to be said that in compactness, low cost and the possibilities of the greatest efficiency it falls far short of what the men who originally gave form to the commission idea in Marquette, and carried on the fight to adopt the new charter, had hoped for.

But, for that matter, it also falls short of the early hopes of some of the members of the commission. This it may be that such change as have been made are to be regarded as merely tentative, pending a time when there will be a much greater centralization of authority and, consequently, lower overhead costs.

The trouble with the plan now in effect is that there are two many cooks tending the broth. The situation in Marquette was ripe for an immediate and effective concentration of supervisory authority over the departments.

There were ready at hand the men needed to put in effect what would have been a practical, and workable, general manager system. But, owing perhaps to certain timidity about making too soon too great a break with the past, it has not been done.

The departmental plan that was the curse of the old system has been maintained in the new organization. There is still the head of the lighting plant, the head of the water plant, the head of the street department and the head of the police department. The only consolidation in the working activities of the city has been the giving over to the superintendent of the water department the duties of chief of the fire department.

A counting up of dollars and pence will show that the commission has achieved no appreciable saving in the overhead cost of administration, for the amount in salaries cut off by dropping the chief of the fire department and the poundmaster has been, in a measure, taken up by increases given the officials retained in service. Thus the overhead cost is not particularly reduced from what it was when the commission took hold of the city government, and is much higher than it would be if the commission had, at once, struck out boldly along more radical lines, patterned its dispositions less on the old departmental plan embodied in the former plan of administration, and achieved at a stroke the general manager system, or something closely analogous to it.

The present plan of organization can be regarded most satisfactorily if it is looked upon simply as a tentative arrangement, pending agreement as to how it may best be modified in favor of closer and more economical administration. Surely if the commission regards it as its ultimate achievement in applying modern ideas of municipal organization there will be a considerable body of citizens who will not be in agreement with the wisdom of its view.

ELECTRIC RATES.

The question of electric rates is up at Escanaba, and the Journal of that city severely attacks the proposed new schedule as unfair and inequitable. This schedule proposes a maximum rate of six cents a kilowatt and a minimum rate of two and a quarter cents. This spread, the Journal insists, is far too great, and it urges that, inasmuch as the city pays only one and a half cents a kilowatt, delivered at the switchboard, the absolute maximum rate for service should be not more than four cents and the absolute minimum not less than two and a half cents. The Journal would greatly reduce the advantage enjoyed by the large consumer, compared with the small consumer.

Much the same line of argument has been heard from time to time in Marquette concerning the schedule of the light and power plant in force here. As in Escanaba, there have not been lacking persons to contend vigorously that the schedule was designed to favor the large consumer against the small, and that the spread between the absolute maximum and the absolute minimum is too great to be equitable. Furthermore, it has been contended by some strict constructionists of the provisions under which the plant is operated that the schedule ignores the limitations on the board managing it.

Between Marquette and Escanaba there appears to be, however, one essential difference. Every kilowatt of current sold at Escanaba is measured at the switchboard and has to be paid for at the rate of one and a half cents. In Marquette much of the cheap current being sold to large consumers is current generated during the day time, and for which there would be no consumption at all unless it was sold on a price basis low enough to permit the replacement of power that would otherwise be used in local plants. In short, the income from these sources is "velvet," business that is had without any cost to the city that would not otherwise have to be incurred. It is this, and the existence of "peak of the load" agreements with these low cost consumers, requiring them not to operate their electric motors when the plant is laboring under its full load, that furnishes the principal justification for these extremely liberal contracts.

But there is, of course, a school of theorists, representatives of which are to be found in Marquette, which takes the position that there should be made by the city one rate for all classes of service, or that, at least, the spread between the rates paid by the small consumer and those paid by the large should not be a very large one. So far these men have not managed to make much of an impression on public sentiment, but the issue they have tentatively put forward at times is one that it would be possible to popularize in no small degree, and it may yet be forced to the front in a manner that will insure its being fought out to a finish.

And when the Detroit newspapers wish to have an open season on him the year through, but that was many, many months ago, and now Mr. Monroe is a "forward-looking" man of marked progressive tendencies. He is an aggressive campaigner when he gets after an office, and would likely be a serious contender in any senatorial race that he might be compelled to make.

After Mrs. Rankin it appears that Mother Jones is about the best advertised woman now appearing in public. And either of them have the late Carrie Nation faded in the eyes of self-explaining press agency.

As an auxiliary governing body it appears that the Women's Welfare club has taken a step in the right direction.

A LAUGH OR TWO

Boiling the Kettle.
 Mrs. Campbell had engaged a new maid. "Martha," said the mistress, on the first morning, "be careful always to boil the teakettle before making the tea."

Martha signified her willingness, and after an absence in the kitchen, returned to her mistress and said:

"Please, m'm, there's nothin' big enough to boil the tea-kettle in, less 'tis the wash boiler, sure."—National Monthly.

Likelier Case.
 De Wolf Hopper was condemning in New York the white slave plays.

"I met," he said, "a white slave playwright the other day. He bragged about a white slave melodrama that he had just finished.

"It goes on," he said, "next week. It will make a hit, or I'm a lobster. Believe me, De Wolf, the audience will call for the author after every act."

"Call for the author?" he snorted, disgustfully. "Call for the authorities, you mean!"

Up Against It.
 Lew Dockstead tells the following prize hack tale:

"The other day on a train I made the acquaintance of a young man who seemed down on his luck, and after our acquaintance had developed into something approaching intimacy I ventured to inquire the cause of his deep-seated gloom.

"Well," he said, "I'm up against it for fair. But every cent I had into 'an Uncle Tom's Cabin' show. Had a man named Sam as treasurer. Smart, thrifty fellow, that Sam. Been out about two weeks and was over 400 bones to the good. Woke up one morning and found that Sam had sneaked with the cash. I set it myself. 'I'll catch the cash,' so I set the bloodhounds we had in the show on his trail!"

"Catch him? Sure they did. They caught up with him, and he put chains around their necks and started another 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' show."—Unknown.

All That She Asked.
 "Will you let me have my way in everything?" she asked.

"Of course, I will, darling."

"Will you permit me to go home to mamma whenever I want to?"

"I should never think of being cruel enough to keep you away from your mother when you wish to see her."

"And may I have a regular allowance to spend just as I like?"

"Certainly, I shall be as liberal in that respect as possible."

"And you will not scold if I sometimes have my breakfast in bed?"

"Of course, I should prefer to have you sitting across the table from me at breakfast, but if you prefer to have it otherwise I shall not object."

"You are awfully nice, dear. And may

Going Fast.

Once there was a hypochondriac who used to think that he was dying about three times a week. One day he was driving out in his automobile and one of these spells came over him. On the road ahead of him he happened to see his family doctor speeding along in his roadster.

"He's got so sick that he applied all his power in order to catch up with the doctor as soon as possible.

"But the doctor saw him coming and he used all the oil he had to get away from him. For about three miles they had a close race. Finally, however, the doctor had some trouble and the hypochondriac drew up alongside.

"Doctor," he shouted, "stop a minute! I am dying. Durn it all! I'm dying!"

"You must be," grunted the physician. "I never saw anybody going as fast as you are!"

Apparently there is about as much likelihood of the Democratic factions in Michigan getting together as there is that Mr. Taft and Colonel Roosevelt will agree on the Progressive-Republican platform for 1916.

One time Representative Monroe, of Gogebic, will be a candidate for state senator in the Thirty-first, it is asserted. Time was when Mr. Monroe was a stand-

BOWLING TOURNAMENT OPENS IN EARNEST

Dees of Houghton Rolled at Calumet Yesterday—Five Teams to Use Alleys Today.

9:00 a.m.—Lake Linden All-Stars. 3:00 p.m.—Ahmeek. 8:00 p.m.—Calumet Cubs. 8:00 p.m.—Calumet Can-Cans. 9:00 p.m.—Lake Linden "Big Lakes."

The upper peninsula bowling tournament at Calumet opened in earnest yesterday afternoon, when the Houghton Dees Alley team got into action. The schedule for today is given above. The Dees entered some of the strongest bowlers of the Portage Lake district. They rolled good scores. The members of the team were Charles Anderson, William Connelley, William Wallen, J. Eggleston, Guy Fairbairn and Joseph Thibodeau. They are entered for every event, five-men, three-men, doubles and singles.

Monday night the Laurium club team and the Houghtons rolled, just to start the tournament. They did not go in with the intention of winning any of the prize money, but "just to get things started properly." Their scores were as follows:

PURCHASES A BUNGALOW.

J. P. Petermann has purchased a bungalow at the pretty little resort, Gratiot lake, Keweenaw county, from Fred Helto. He has leased the land, the site of the bungalow, from the Elster estate. Mr. Petermann and family intend to spend part of the coming summer at Gratiot lake.

POLLACK MURDER CASE ON TRIAL AT L'ANSE

Luke Plese, Striker, Arraigned on Charge of Killing Houghton County Deputy Sheriff.

The trial of Luke Plese, one of the two men charged with the murder of Deputy Sheriff James M. Pollack Oct. 28, opened at L'Anse, in Baraga county circuit court, yesterday morning. Judge O'Brien presiding. Plese and George Briski were jointly charged with the murder, but they demanded separate trials, through the attorneys for the Western Federation of Miners. The men are strikers and members of the federation.

Out of the great copper strike grew three murder cases, the Seeberville case, the Pollack case and the Painesdale or Daily-Jane case. The Pollack case, which now engages attention, was one of the sensational tragedies of the strike. James M. Pollack, Jr., was employed as a mine guard, a deputy sheriff, at the Isle Royale mine. His home was in Atlantic, to which place he had gone a short time before with his father to work in the Stratton turning factory. He was a man of exceptional courage and physical prowess and the position of mine guard in a strike appealed to him.

Pollack lived in Houghton during his service as a mine guard and went to his duty at Isle Royale in the early morning. He was on his way to his post about 5 o'clock the morning of Oct. 28 when he was murdered. There were no eye witnesses to the tragedy, at least none disinterested. Pollack was found in a dying condition by other mine guards. He never recovered consciousness.

The killing took place on the highway, about midway between Houghton and Hurontown. The immediate investigation revealed that Joseph Minnerich, a striker, was suffering from abdominal bullet wounds. He was arrested and at once rushed to St. Joseph's hospital, in Hancock, where he died within twenty-four hours. He made an ante-mortem statement that Pollack killed him, but he took to his grave all other information. The theory of the sheriff's officers was that Pollack, on his way to work, was met by a gang of strikers, who killed him deliberately, that he gave his life at the cost of that of Minnerich. A Hurontown woman testified in the inquest that she saw a party of ten or twelve men attacking a single man about that time. A number of men were arrested, among them Plese, Briski and Mike

SENATOR JAMES CANDIDACY. Formal Announcement Is Expected to Be Made Shortly.

A formal statement from Senator W. Frank James, of Hancock announcing his candidacy for congress in the Twelfth district, is looked for in the near future. In fact, his closest friends expect the declaration will be made some time next month. That the senator will be a candidate there is no doubt, and it may be said that he has received strong endorsement.

Senator James yesterday received from the Antrim County Republican club an invitation to address that organization on the occasion of its sixth annual banquet May 7. The club is making preparations for this event, and has issued invitations to two hundred and fifty persons. Senator James has accepted the invitation. At Detroit next week the senator will attend a meeting of the Republican state central committee.

The iron country press is referring favorably to Senator James, believing that he will go before the voters next fall. Letters reach the senator's office every day from the iron country requesting that he make the race, assuring him strong support and placing the matter in time and influence at his disposal. It is accepted that the sentiment in the district is overwhelming for Senator James.

A. K. COX SERIOUSLY ILL.

Former Houghton Musical Manager in Minneapolis Hospital.

Advice yesterday from Mrs. A. K. Cox, wife of the former Houghton musical manager, who is now in Minneapolis, stated that Mr. Cox is seriously ill in a Minneapolis hospital and that future numbers on his Houghton course will have to be postponed indefinitely. The next number on the Houghton course is to have been Madame Fannie Bloch-Ziesler, pianist. The pleasure of hearing this great artist will now be denied Houghton people. A nervous breakdown, symptoms of which he gave during his last year in Houghton, is Mr. Cox's ailment.

GEISMAR AT WOLVERINE.

Farm Expert Will Address a Meeting There Friday Evening.

Leo M. Geismar, Houghton county farm expert, will address the farmers of the northern part of the district, particularly those in the neighborhood of Wolverine and Centennial and in the Trap Rock valley, at Wolverine Friday evening. The meeting will be held in the Kaleva hall and will commence at 7:30. Mr. Geismar will speak especially on potato raising, the best preparation of the ground and the care of the growing crop. He will answer any question which may be propounded and give any information desired. It is expected that there will be a large attendance. The meeting will be one full of interest not only to farmers but to small gardeners.

Preparing for Spring Work.

The farmers are now preparing for their spring work, although the ground is still snow-covered and it likely will be several weeks before plowing can be started. Flocks of wild birds have been reported going north, this being taken as a sign of the early coming of spring.

Members of the Osceola Boys' Scouts, who last year had great success with the Sir Walter Raleigh potato, raising several hundred bushels, are preparing for their gardening work. The organization will procure a larger area this spring and plant the entire lot. Last year's crop of potatoes was sold by the boys at one dollar a bushel and will be used as seed this season. The boys will try the Sir Walter Raleigh again this season.

A great deal more land about Calumet will be planted to potatoes this year than ever before. Much more grain will be sowed also. There has for several years been some agitation in Calumet for the establishment of a central market where the farmers might dispose of their produce. This undoubtedly is a good idea, although there is no doubt that every farmer who desires to take his produce to town can easily dispose of it at the various stores. All the merchants must send to Wisconsin for the greater part of the garden truck they sell, because the farmers of the copper country do not or can not keep them supplied. The task of providing food for a population of one hundred thousand is one which presents great opportunities to the copper country farmer.

COUNTY TAX RETURNS.

Treasurer Wills of Osceola Township Collected Every Dollar.

Ten township treasurers of Houghton county have made their tax returns to County Treasurer and Bram. Schoolcraft, Stanton, Portage and Elm River townships are yet to report. Treasurer William Wills of Osceola township alone attained the distinction of collecting every dollar. However in view of conditions occasioned by the strike there are several other treasurers who have done mighty fine work. The details follow:

- Adams—Treasurer, James H. Roberts; total roll, $206,983.08; delinquent, $628.10.
Chaswell—Treasurer, Archie Corbarn; $22,709.29; delinquent, $1,403.36.
Calumet—Treasurer, Anton Tomasi; $525,430.29; delinquent, $6,000.06.
Duncan—Treasurer, Ole Nashlund; $23,175.29; delinquent, $9,409.38.

ODD FELLOWS NAME DELEGATES.

Poster encampment, I. O. O. F. of Hancock, has named Edward Slockett and Charles Cosby as delegates to the annual convention of the Copper Country Association of Odd Fellow lodges. The convention will be held in Lake Linden next Saturday. S. L. Rickard and William Dutton are the alternates. Every Rebekah and Odd Fellow lodge in the district will be represented at the convention. Plans will be discussed for the spring dancing party and a committee named to select a date for the annual summer outing.

SENATOR JAMES CANDIDACY. Formal Announcement Is Expected to Be Made Shortly.

A formal statement from Senator W. Frank James, of Hancock announcing his candidacy for congress in the Twelfth district, is looked for in the near future. In fact, his closest friends expect the declaration will be made some time next month. That the senator will be a candidate there is no doubt, and it may be said that he has received strong endorsement.

Senator James yesterday received from the Antrim County Republican club an invitation to address that organization on the occasion of its sixth annual banquet May 7. The club is making preparations for this event, and has issued invitations to two hundred and fifty persons. Senator James has accepted the invitation. At Detroit next week the senator will attend a meeting of the Republican state central committee.

A. K. COX SERIOUSLY ILL.

Former Houghton Musical Manager in Minneapolis Hospital.

Advice yesterday from Mrs. A. K. Cox, wife of the former Houghton musical manager, who is now in Minneapolis, stated that Mr. Cox is seriously ill in a Minneapolis hospital and that future numbers on his Houghton course will have to be postponed indefinitely.

GEISMAR AT WOLVERINE.

Farm Expert Will Address a Meeting There Friday Evening.

Leo M. Geismar, Houghton county farm expert, will address the farmers of the northern part of the district, particularly those in the neighborhood of Wolverine and Centennial and in the Trap Rock valley, at Wolverine Friday evening.

Preparing for Spring Work.

The farmers are now preparing for their spring work, although the ground is still snow-covered and it likely will be several weeks before plowing can be started.

Members of the Osceola Boys' Scouts, who last year had great success with the Sir Walter Raleigh potato, raising several hundred bushels, are preparing for their gardening work.

A great deal more land about Calumet will be planted to potatoes this year than ever before. Much more grain will be sowed also. There has for several years been some agitation in Calumet for the establishment of a central market where the farmers might dispose of their produce.

COUNTY TAX RETURNS.

Treasurer Wills of Osceola Township Collected Every Dollar.

Ten township treasurers of Houghton county have made their tax returns to County Treasurer and Bram. Schoolcraft, Stanton, Portage and Elm River townships are yet to report.

ODD FELLOWS NAME DELEGATES.

The proper drinking of pure Beer

but not the abuse of it, is good for everyone. It flushes the system of waste. Most people drink too little liquid. Their systems become clogged with waste, thus impairing the efficiency of the nervous and digestive organism.

Drink Schlitz in Brown Bottles and get all the good without the harm. It is not enough to make pure beer—it must be kept pure. "Beer exposed to light for five minutes becomes undrinkable." The Brown Bottle keeps Schlitz pure from the brewery to your glass.

LEAVES FOR HONDURAS. Ben Valenzuela Goes to Mexican State to Dispose of Interests.

Ben Valenzuela, graduate from the Michigan College of Mines, who will have his passports approved by the American consul. He says that his original intention was to make the trip through Mexico, but that the revolution induced him to change his mind. He leaves Mrs. Valenzuela in Houghton with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Roberts, Blanco street, because of the unusual conditions in Mexico and Honduras.

HANCOCK HORSEMAN DISSENTS.

C. B. Saxby Thinks Ban on Western Horses Has Come Too Late.

The possibility of the state sanitary livestock commission asking the legislature to pass a bill whereby Western horses carrying a brand cannot be admitted to this state unless they have undergone the Mallein test for glanders thirty days prior to their shipment into the state is characterized by C. B. Saxby, the Hancock horse dealer, as analogous to calling out the fire department after the blaze has been extinguished.

PREPARE FOR GOOD FRIDAY.

Duke of Wellington Lodge Will Celebrate at Painesdale.

Good Friday, April 10, will be observed by Duke of Wellington lodge, Sons of St. George, of Trumountain, as in other years, with exercises in the Paine Memorial library. John A. Doelle, superintendent of the Houghton public schools, will speak, as will other men. The Painesdale Episcopal Sunday school orchestra will furnish music. Supper will be served by the Daughters of St. George. In the evening there will be a concert.

TIMBERMAN FELL 1,100 FEET.

When Arvi Paloneva, aged twenty-one, a timberman in the Baltic mine, fell down No. 2 shaft, he was killed instantly. He dropped 1,100 feet. It is believed the young man walked into the shaft by mistake. He is survived by a brother, Matt Paloneva, a farmer two miles out of Baltic. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning. Services will be held

Markets

BOSTON COPPERS.

The market Tuesday opened active and strong on further covering of shorts. After this had run its course, dullness prevailed, with the prices inclined to sag. The close was fractionally under that of Monday. At Boston, Calumet & Arizona was well bought, selling at 70. Closing prices at Boston follow:

Table with market prices for various commodities like copper, silver, and gold. Columns include item names and prices.

New York Stocks.

The list at New York receded moderately, without exhibiting any signs of distinct weakness. It was noticeable on the downturns that the volume of selling was small. Despite the recent advance, there has not been a diminution in the demand for stocks in the loan crown, which rather strongly suggests that the short interest is still to be considered unwisely. Market-wise, there was not much news of importance. Foreign advices were more cheerful and not much was heard relative to the status of affairs in Mexico, Washington advices are being closely scanned for some definite indication as to when the decision in the advance rate cases may be expected.

A Washington dispatch stated that members of the interstate commerce expressed the view that the decision would not be ready before the end of May at the earliest. The opinion is entertained in good quarters, however, that a definite announcement will be made some time in April. New York prices Tuesday closed as follows:

Table with stock market prices for various companies and indices. Columns include company names and prices.

FEEL YOUNG!

It's Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for You! Beware of the habit of constipation. It develops from just a few constipated days, unless you take yourself in hand. Coax the jaded bowel muscles back to normal action with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Don't force them to unnatural action with severe medicines or by merely flushing out the intestines with nasty, sickening cathartics.

Dr. Edwards believes in gentleness, persistence and Nature's assistance. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets open the bowels; their action is gentle, yet positive. There is never any pain or griping when Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are used. Just the kind of treatment old persons should have. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two occasionally and have no trouble with your liver, bowels or stomach. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

City Brevities

Today's weather: Probably snow. Yesterday's temperatures: Seven a. m., 23 degrees; noon, 39; 7 p. m., 35. Highest, 43 degrees; lowest, 19.

St. Paul's guild will hold an all-day session at Guild Hall today.

E. A. Macdonald spent yesterday in Ishpeming on a business mission.

Frank Harmon, of Houghton, was a Marquette business visitor Monday.

Mrs. Chamberlain, of Shingleton, spent yesterday in the city, the guest of friends.

Miss Blanche Beckman, clerk in the county treasurer's office, is ill and is confined to her home.

J. H. Will and A. G. Lenz, of Escanaba, were among the business callers in the city yesterday.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the parlors of the M. E. church this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Donald Begole left Monday evening for Crystal Falls, where he will spend several days on a business mission.

F. H. Begole and E. L. Pearce were in Crystal Falls yesterday on business for the Lake Shore Engine works.

John Brogan entertained a number of his friends Monday evening at the Queen City Hotel, the occasion being his birthday anniversary.

The funeral of the late Emanuel Dupras was held yesterday morning at 9 o'clock from St. John's church, with interment in Holy Cross cemetery.

Fred Cornell, of Diorite, was in the city last evening, coming here to attend the presentation of "Officer 666" at the Marquette Opera House.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tippett have returned from a visit to the copper country and other points. Mrs. Tippett was formerly Miss Flossie Dowrick.

The second precinct meeting of Woman's Welfare club will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Olcott school, corner of Fourth and Rock streets.

Miss M. L. Enderlin arrived in the city yesterday morning from Chicago, where she had been for the two last weeks on business in connection with her Marquette dressmaking establishment.

The Ladies of the Maccabees of the World will meet this evening at 8 o'clock. After the session the ladies will be entertained at the hall by the S. P. C. All members are invited to attend.

S. J. Mitchell received two "Roos, the Fifth" automobiles yesterday. They are five-passenger cars, each with electric starter and electric lights. One has been sold to Dr. H. J. Hornbogen and the other to John Hallam.

Act Is Excellent—Bobby Van Horn and the Clark sisters, now appearing in vaudeville at the Marquette Opera House, were enthusiastically applauded at their first appearance Monday evening. They will close their engagement tonight. They present several catchy songs.

Snow Disappearing—More snow disappeared yesterday than on any day of the past ten, the weather having moderated perceptibly. A few more days of mild temperatures will dry out many of the roads and bring out many automobiles. The several dealers in cars in Marquette are planning early deliveries of 1914 cars purchased during the past several weeks.

Joins Mining Journal Staff—Alex P. Golden, of Grand Rapids, for the past few years on the editorial staff of the Grand Rapids Herald, is expected in Marquette today to take a position of city editor on The Mining Journal. Myron Gillette, who has been employed on the local work of The Mining Journal for the past several months, will be transferred to Ishpeming, where he will have charge of the Ishpeming correspondence, relieving Ed. J. Butler, who has looked after it for many years past.

Taken to Escanaba—A man named Peterson, who recently finished the serving of time at the Marquette prison for larceny, having been sent here from Kent county, was taken to Escanaba yesterday by officers, he having been suspected of having recently robbed the Soo Line depot in North Escanaba. However it is believed here that Peterson is not mixed up in the case. The best information obtained by the officers shows that the man was in Marquette at the time the hold-up took place.

Ticket Nominated at Big Bay—At a People's caucus held at Big Bay Saturday evening last Jay B. Deutsch was re-nominated for supervisor and the following other candidates were named: Clerk, Frank E. Krieg; treasurer, Charles H. Carlson; highway commissioner, John Ellsworth; overseer of highways, Charles Burnes; board of review for two years, Fred A. Hoffman; justice of the peace for four years, William Gillette; justice of the peace for two years, J. B. Tompkins; constables, Capt. Daniels, Harry Wachter, William Hultz and Henry Gardner. There was no opposition for any of the nominations except for justice of the peace for two years. For this nomination the count showed 213 votes for Mr. Tompkins and 40 for H. E. Perkins.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. LEARN TO USE GENUINE GAS COKE AND SAVE MONEY.

It takes nearly two ton of high-grade Pennsylvania coal to make one ton of coke. That is why you get fifty bushels of coke to twenty-seven bushels of coal in a ton. All the dust, dirt, soot, tar, gas, sulphur, smoke, etc., have been removed at the gas plant. Genuine Gas Coke is the pure carbon which remains. Coke will not give good results unless properly handled. It requires less draft than coal and the furnace should always be kept full of coke whether you want a hot fire or not.

To hold fire over night shut flue damper and all bottom drafts and open charging door.

DR. SHAW'S LENTEN SERMON.

Clergyman Spoke to Large Assemblage Again Last Evening.

Last evening Dr. D. Stanley Shaw, who is addressing the union revival services at the Presbyterian church, preached on the text, "Prepare to Meet Thy God." He said, in part: "God must be met. Every man will stand before the Lord to render an account for the deeds done in the body, whether they be good or evil. It is appointed unto men once to die, and after that the judgment."

"Preparation is necessary to meet God. The practical man, knowing that death is inevitable, will seek to prepare for the issues it will raise. Pass out the demons of hatred, malice, nagging, selfishness and avarice. Cultivate heavenly habits, customs, thoughts and ways. If one is to be at home when he meets God, he must make the preparation now."

In closing, Dr. Shaw said: "This preparation to meet God should be the dominating passion of man's life. No other concern is half so momentous. He only is prepared who is prepared to die. Make ready to meet thy God."

A noon-day prayer meeting for men will be held at the church today from 12 until 12:30 o'clock. At 2:30 o'clock there will be prayer meeting for men and women.

SPRING OPENING TOMORROW.

Paris Fashion Makes Unique Arrangements for Annual Event.

The spring opening of the Paris Fashion tomorrow will be an event out of the ordinary. Manager Cohen having arranged to conduct it on unique lines. The store will be closed through the afternoon, and will be re-opened at 7:30 o'clock for the display of the spring styles. The afternoon will be given over to the arrangement of characteristic garments that will be displayed in artistic manner about the salesrooms. No sales will be made, but the force of salespeople will be in attendance to receive callers and talk over the spring styles with them. From 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock Behar's orchestra will play a program of overtures.

The Paris Fashion spring offerings have been selected with a discriminating eye and Mr. Cohen will offer to the women of Marquette one of the most attractive lines of modish garments ever displayed here. The opening promises to attract a large amount of well-merited attention.

SALES LADY WANTED AT THE PARIS FASHION.

We have a position open to an able saleslady aording very good salary especially to one who is versed in the line of Coats, Suits and Dresses.

The position open is to be filled at once and we would prefer it to be taken by some one from Marquette or nearby. MEASURE the Paige by the standard of the high priced car.

Note the design—You will find in its stream line body—its generous proportions—its upholstery and its finish all the beauty and excellence that mark the car of highest degree.

Note the mechanical construction—You will find in the large unit single wire electrical equipment—the cork insert multiple disc clutch—the silent chain drive for motor shaft—the always efficient Bosch magneto and the simplified control points of super-quality that you naturally look for only in cars costing double the price.

And then check up on the reason for it—You will find that the Paige offers you the highest possible percentage of actual car value because the Paige-Detroit Company has no bonded or other indebtedness—no excessive capitalization, no heavy overhead expenses of any kind—to eat up its income.

When you buy the Paige you pay only for the car itself—

AN ORDINANCE RELATIVE TO THE ASSESSMENT OF PROPERTY AND THE LEVY AND COLLECTION OF TAXES AND SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

The Commission of the City of Marquette ordains: Section 1. All the provisions of the general tax law of this state, as now or hereafter existing, applicable to the making of assessment rolls in townships, and the review, correction, certification and effect thereof, not inconsistent with the city charter, shall apply to and govern the making, review, correction, certification and effect of the assessment rolls of this city...

assessment rolls of townships by the general tax laws of this state; and shall also in a proper column or column thereon, assess and levy thereon against the respective lots and parcels of land therein, or otherwise as hereinafter provided, such special assessments against the same as shall be ordered by the commission to be collected upon the general city tax roll.

other delinquent taxes, with the same force and effect; and said taxes shall continue to be a lien upon the premises assessed until paid. If such special assessment tax be levied against a portion only of any description of land as listed on any such assessment and tax roll, or against lands embracing any description of land, or portion thereof as so listed, it shall not be any objection that such lands were doubly described in said assessment and tax rolls, or in any subsequent proceedings based thereon; and in proceedings for the collection of such special assessment taxes, or other taxes, or of lands thereon, any such description of land and the taxes against the same may be consolidated or divided in the description and listing of the same for such purposes, as may be necessary or convenient for the assessment or other tax levied on the assessment or general city tax roll of said city has been or shall be erroneously returned to the auditor general, or any such tax has been or shall be rejected by the auditor general on account of any error in the return thereof to him by the county treasurer, such tax shall remain a lien on the premises assessed, and the county treasurer, in any such case, is and shall be authorized to make additional or supplemental assessments and corrected returns to the auditor general, at any time; in which case the board of supervisors shall not return the same to him as assessed, and the auditor general shall proceed for the collection of such taxes as in and to the delinquent taxes duly returned to him by the county treasurer.

TWO TICKETS WILL BE PLACED IN FIELD

Leaders of People's Party Assert That Nomination Will Be Made for All Offices.

Indicative of an increasing interest in the spring election is the announcement that the People's party will place a complete ticket in the field, in opposition to the candidates on the Citizens' ticket who will be nominated at the caucuses and convention Monday evening, March 29. The People's convention will be held shortly after that date. With the first caucuses only a few days distant, there has been a marked increase in the interest shown by the voters, and suggestions of possible candidates are heard on all sides.

An informal meeting of those supporting the People's organization was held Monday evening, at which time plans for the election campaign were talked over. At a previous session an executive committee and ward committees were chosen. They are now ascertaining the sentiment relative to the talked-of candidates.

A voter who is foremost in the opposition to the candidates who will likely be nominated on the Citizens' ticket yesterday, in response to an inquiry as to whether the People's party would place a ticket in the field, "Yes, and we will have a full ticket, including the office of mayor, recorder, treasurer, school inspector, and alderman, supervisor and constable from each ward. In the Sixth ward, we will have two candidates for aldermen, also in the Eighth."

There is now much street talk as to who will run for mayor against Mayor G. G. Barnett, but no one has as yet come forward with an announcement of candidacy. John Victor Anderson, the present city treasurer, is a candidate for reelection on the Citizens' ticket.

At a special meeting of the council last evening the resignation of Alderman Henry R. Nelson, of the Eighth ward, was accepted.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The directors of the Ishpeming Y. M. C. A. held their annual election of officers at a meeting last evening, at 6:30 o'clock. The following were chosen for 1914:

President—V. S. Hillier.
Vice President—C. L. Anderson.
Recording Secretary—J. C. W. Chipman.
Treasurer—William M. Argall.

GRINNELL BROS.' VICTROLA DEPARTMENT.

Every day you are without a Victrola is so much pleasure lost. As we have stated before, a home is not complete without one of these beautiful instruments. Years ago our forefathers used to have to travel miles to hear a musical entertainment, now we are blessed with the opportunity of having in our homes, hearing the world's greatest artists such as Caruso, Scotti, Melba, Williams, and McCormack. We always carry a large stock in all styles, ready to furnish our customers with anything in the Victrola line. Prices $40, $50, $75, $100 and $150 to $200. Sold on very reasonable payments of $10 down, $5 to $10 per month.

INTEREST IN DEBATES.

The students of the Ishpeming High school are showing much interest in the debates with the Petoskey and Newberry high schools, which are announced to take place Thursday evening, April 9. The Petoskey debaters will be heard here and one of the Ishpeming teams will go to Newberry. The Ishpeming teams have been busy for several weeks past preparing material. School will be dismissed Friday afternoon, April 10, for the Easter vacation. The spring term will open Monday morning, April 20.

GRINNELL BROS.' PIANO DEPARTMENT.

Another one of those wonderful rare bargains. An Olive piano, seven and one-third octave, oak case, full size, good tone. Regular price $300. Has been rented for three years. This week we will place this piano in your home at a very low price of $135, $10 cash and $6 per month. Call and leave us your order. Also watch for this piano in our window.

on the feminine side of the original Beauchamp family. As a rule the sexes are mixed in families of five generations. It is seldom that the line is continued to such an extent exclusively on the male or female side of the house, and it is even more rare than the descendants are on the masculine side only. Medical authorities account for this through the custom of women marrying at an earlier age than men, and not on a theory that the family lineage is more apt to be carried on down the line of descendants through the feminine side of the house than through the masculine side. But the fact that the fifth member of this Iron River generation is a boy adds interest to the family and breaks the chain of girls that links the four previous generations. None is prouder of little Alphonse than Mrs. Beauchamp, who is very active at the age of eighty-two years. Mrs. Sabora shows little signs of the touch of years and would be more apt to be taken for a grandmother than a great-grandmother, while none would think of Mrs. Benette being a grandmother from her appearance. All of the family from Mrs. Beauchamp on down to little Alphonse show signs of healthful, vigorous constitutions, and the family of five generations has as all indications of remaining a proud possession of Iron River for years to come.

High School "Scrapping."

Under the above heading, the Soo Times says: As a result of the efforts of students in the Soo High school to take the antics of the universities, considerable disturbance has been caused during the last two weeks, and even the young women have laid aside the dignities of their sex and indulged in some of the "rough-neck" tactics. Four of the young men spent a few hours in jail as a result of deportations early in the week. Then the girls got busy. It started when the seniors sewed up the coat sleeves and hats of the juniors in the cloak room. This created no end of trouble and discomfiture, and in retaliation, the juniors poured liquid glue into the rubbers and overshoes of the seniors. As in the case of the boys, the juniors had the sophomores for sympathizers and abettors. Yesterday the troubles of the young women ended in a hair-pulling match. One class took down both the natural and artificial hair of the other and consoling the hairpins, left the victims to go down town and procure the necessary wires, the purchasers were waylaid and held up by the opposing class girls. Finally a young man went to the rescue, evaded the pickets and smuggled in the hair pins.

Bold Bandit Robs a Second Time.

Flaunting his bravado in the faces of the county officers and special detectives of the Soo Line, the same lone robber who ten days before in true Wild West style robbed a saloon at Gross and the North Escanaba station has once more robbed the Soo Line's lonely station at North Escanaba. After procuring $31 from the cash drawer he told the employees to "notify the officers and say: 'The same guy with the same suit and the same gun with less money robbed this station tonight.'" Then he backed out of the office and disappeared in the darkness. One evening earlier in the month the same man, disguised with a handkerchief tied about his face and wearing overalls, appeared at the window of the office and with a gun forced the contents of the cash drawer, amounting to $45. The night of the latest exploit Mr. Ashcroft had but a few minutes before gone out of his living apartments at the station to talk with J. N. Cook, the night operator and agent. They were chatting in the office and heard the door to the station open. As the time was approaching for the arrival of the west-bound passenger train, both men thought that it was a traveler. Suddenly they heard a noise at the window and looking up found a murderer-looking revolver covering them through the transparent glass of the ticket window. Mr. Ashcroft recognized the intruder as the man who, ten days before, had robbed the station. Thinking that with his companion he might be able to overpower the robber if he could be enticed into the office, he answered the demands of the robber to open the window by offering to open the door. "None of that stuff," shouted the robber, "open this window. There are two of you in there tonight and I run no risks." With the gun covering him Ashcroft opened the window and then the robber said: "Hand me out that cash drawer; no monkey business." Ashcroft complied with the demand and watched the robber as he carefully counted out and pocketed the money. When the money drawer was placed before him the robber asked, "Is this all the money you've got?" When assured that it was he commented, "Pretty slim picking." Agent Ashcroft notified the sheriff and officers were rushed to the scene in automobiles, but no evidence that would lead to the arrest of the bold and persistent robber was found.

Family of Five Generations.

Little Alphonse Houle, three and one-half months old, of Iron River, is the pride and petted fifth member of a family of five living generations. He is the son of Peter Houle, the grandson of Frank Benette, great-grandson of Levy Sabora, and great-great-grandson of Mrs. Madeline Beauchamp, all of Iron River. Although there is a difference of eighty-two years between the ages of the members of the five generations all are enjoying the best of health, and little Alphonse is the pride of the households. One feature is that approximately the same number of years intervene between each member of the series. Mrs. Beauchamp is eighty-two years old, Mrs. Sabora is fifty-nine, Mrs. Benette is thirty-nine, Mrs. Houle is twenty, and Alphonse is three and one-half months old, so that twenty years is nearly the average difference between each of the ages. Another feature is that Alphonse is the only boy in the line of the generations and is a direct descendant

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

The Monday club met this week with Mrs. T. L. Ludlow.

W. Houle, of Hancock, was an Ishpeming business visitor yesterday.

John Gleason recently accepted a position in Hughes' market and store.

The Fashion Suit company announces its annual showing of spring styles.

Mrs. N. E. Skud has been ill for the past few days, and is confined to her home.

Mrs. Eugene Phenoel, of Marquette, spent Monday in the city, the guest of friends.

Dr. H. M. Cunningham, of Marquette, spent yesterday in the city on a business mission.

Mrs. Andrew Nelson, Cleveland avenue, was surprised Monday afternoon by about thirty of her friends, the occasion being her sixty-third birthday. Rev. Wyman gave a talk to the ladies.

TAKE SODA FOR ACID STOMACH, SOURNESS, GAS

A 10 grain Sodagen tablet, taken anytime, followed by a glass of water will instantly neutralize acidity; absorb gases, and sweeten the stomach, thus relieving indigestion without fail. Indigestion does not result from a lack of digestive juices as most folks believe, but from an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which retards digestion and starts food fermentation. Then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon, producing a heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch up gas or have flatulence, heartburn or nausea.

Any pharmacist can supply a package of these 10 grain Sodagen tablets and thousands of stomach sufferers will be able to eat without dread after ridding the digestive organs of excess acid this way, says a noted authority, who further states that this Antacid is entirely harmless, being composed of Soda, Magnesia and Calcium Carbonate U. S. P.

Lower State Notes

SAGINAW—Benjamin Kuerber, fireman of No. 3 engine company, rescued Miss Elizabeth Most from the dental offices of Dr. Wilmont when fire broke out in the W. T. Loney jewelry store in the first floor of the building. The firemen were at work when Miss Most broke the window and called for help, the only exit from the dental office being the stairway, which was burning. Kuerber brought the woman down a ladder and Dr. Wilmont descended after them.

CADILLAC—Because "Jimmy" Wedge, eight years old, stood a relative's barefooted baby on a hot stove, Probate Judge Fred Breen ordered him sent to the home for feeble-minded at Lapeer, and temporarily placed in charge of the county matron, Mrs. Mary Caulkins. Evidently "Jimmy" didn't like his new home, for in an hour he escaped. After a twenty-four-hour search the lad was located near Traverse City. He had "beaten" his way there on trains.

TRAVERSE CITY—Professor Comfort A. Tyler of the Michigan Agricultural college is studying the local forestry conditions for the purpose of interesting land owners in reforesting propositions. He says that there is more interest being taken in forestry now than ever before and that the planting of forest trees during the year 1913 was almost as great as for all the preceding years since the organization of the college. The largest settings so far are located in Berrien county, in the southwestern corner of the state, but Professor Tyler is of the opinion that conditions are favorable in the Grand Traverse region for settings that will surpass those already made. His work is largely that of inspecting the soils of land that it is proposed to devote to forest trees and deciding what varieties of trees are most likely to succeed upon the different soils. In this way, success is more probable than if the trees are just stuck out without regard to soil or climatic conditions. "With the right trees

Made Strong and Healthy by Vinol.

Growing children play hard and work hard at school, which with rapid growth uses up an enormous amount of energy and vitality that must be replaced. When a child is tired all the time, no appetite, weak, delicate and sickly we guarantee Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, will build them up, create a hearty appetite, sound flesh and muscle, essence, healthy blood, and make them strong.

Mrs. L. L. Bertrand, New Iberia, La., says: "My little one was weak and run-down in health, and was continually taking cold. Different medicines failed to help, but when Vinol was recommended I found it a wonderful help to my child. It broke up the cold, and quickly restored health and strength. Vinol is a most excellent tonic for children."

MEXICO CHIEF KEEPS IN EXCELLENT HEALTH

Huerta Never Worries and He Does His Work When and Where He Wills.

Mexico City, March 24.—After a year in office, General Huerta appears in better health than when he undertook the presidency. The difficulties he has encountered have left no stamp upon his features. Six months ago some of his friends and most of his enemies predicted early physical collapse and there were some who would not have been surprised had his intellect suffered as the result of the enormous odds.

"Take things as they come" seems to have been the life-long philosophy of Huerta, tempered always, however, with the belief that all things come to him who waits, especially to him who waits for and seizes the opportunity. Working has never been one of Huerta's failings. (Nor is he a creature of routine. Regularity does not characterize his methods. He does his work when and where it suits his convenience and as a member of his cabinet family, the public, and his private family as well have to yield.

Long ago he tired of the regular cabinet meetings and announced that conferences with his ministers would take place whenever he summoned them, and no arriving in their cars, wonder in just what part the president is going to see them. Their chauffeurs or aides might the presidential car ahead on one of the many drives and there begins a chase which may come to an end beneath one of the great shade trees, or beside the lake. Ministers and president alight, sit on the benches or walk along one of the intersecting footpaths and there talk of affairs which perhaps are of international importance. Back of all is the president's whim. He may be late. The ministers wait. He may have altered his mind regarding affairs of state and the ministers are told to meet him in the day or night at his home.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy lately was the innocent cause of forcing the ministers to waste what doubtless was valuable time. They were walking with the president in the Chapultepec grounds when the American charge d' affaires

GRAND RAPIDS—Senator William Alden Smith is determined to block confirmation of the nomination of Charles Hagadone to be postmaster here. The Republican postmaster, Millard W. Palmer, was an appointee of Senator Smith in 1911, and his four-year term would ordinarily expire in 1915. In an effort to get the place for a Democrat, ahead of that time, charges were preferred against Mr. Palmer for "pernicious political activity" and "failure to devote eight hours daily to the position." As there has been great pressure brought to bear to gain confirmation of Mr. Hagadone, some statement has been eagerly awaited as to the senator's intentions. Confirmation will be extremely difficult so long as Senator Smith opposes it, because senatorial courtesy calls for respect of a senator's wishes regarding his home city. Mr. Palmer's ouster actually takes place by rule only on the appointment of his successor. Should no confirmation take place, on the nomination of Mr. Hagadone, Postmaster Palmer will continue to serve.

GIRLS! GIRLS! YOU MUST TRY THIS! DOUBLES BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR

Get a 25 Cent Bottle and Make Your Hair Lustrous, Fluffy, Abundant—Stops Falling Hair.

Immediate!—Yes! Certain!—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderline hair course. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderline and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderline dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderline from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

drove by. The president recognized his car and, remembering that there was something that he wanted to talk to the American representative about, signalled him to stop. O'Shaughnessy alighted, joined the official group and was preparing to continue his drive when the president asked him to get into his car with him. The two drove off together, leaving Ministers Blanquet, Alcegar and other counselors of the president staring after the car. Half an hour later Huerta set O'Shaughnessy down near his own car and resumed the interrupted cabinet meeting.

It is not uncommon for the president to summon his ministers to a meeting during the middle of the night and cabinet meetings or which would pass for cabinet meetings have taken place in cafes.

Astronomy Is His Hobby.

Huerta does not indulge in physical exercise as a means of recreation. He derives his recreation in talking astronomy with any one who can interest him in the subject—and the man who does must be an expert—in dining and visiting with his intimate friends. The time he retires appears a matter of indifference as does his arising in the morning. Usually Huerta is up early. The lightest kind of breakfast, coffee and rolls, he gets as soon as he is awake. A little work, if he thinks of anything to do, and then almost every morning a walk up and down on the sidewalk in front of his house in the district known as San Rafael. After that more breakfast and then a lot of work. He may go to the Chapultepec woods or to the national palace, but it is just as likely he will do his morning's work at his home summoning to him there all who may have business with him. Without much routine, and with executive mastery showing all he can onto his subordinates he ploughs through the day's work until 7 or 8 o'clock when he is ready for dinner.

Dinner may be in his own home or in that of one of his friends—Huerta's ideas of democracy do not prevent him from dining where he pleases—very likely in one of the public restaurants. There is one central restaurant that has received the greater part of his patronage. Here the entrance of the president, accompanied by one or two of his aides, perhaps a personal friend or two and possibly a member of his family, has long since ceased to be a novelty. In the days of Porfirio Diaz the visiting of as far as their swell. Each wing was concave, like a parachute, and, by a series of cords from the different ribs composing it, could be suddenly contracted so as to give propulsion against the air, and consequently by its resistance produce elevation.

It is not sufficiently explained how the workings were effected, but it seems that this was done by elevating, depressing or revolving a crank connected at each extremity with the series of cords which displayed or contracted the wings. Degan is said not only to have mounted high in the air with his machine, but to have exhibited a flight resembling that of a bird, "not consisting merely in ascent or descent, but in real aerial navigation."

Mining News

MIAMI

Revised figures show that the Miami produced 3,316,482 pounds of copper during February, a record. Despite the fact that February was a short month, the output was considerably in excess of any preceding month. It cost the company less than nine cents a pound to produce its copper in February, including all Eastern charges of refining and selling. This established the lowest cost thus far attained by the company. Early in February Miami started to mill about 4,000 tons a day, against an average of less than 3,000 tons per day during the preceding year. This was for the purpose of demonstrating the plant's existing capacity. Should it be shown that the mill, as it stands, can handle at least 4,000 tons a day, there will be started the remodeling of the entire plant to conform with the one section which now secures a two-pound per ton better recovery than the other five units. Based on 14 1/2-cent copper Miami could earn $3 per share if February's scale of operations were maintained.

RAY CONSOLIDATED.

Sherwood Aldrich, president of the Ray Consolidated, says: "Everything is in splendid shape at the property. We now have the satisfaction of seeing things actually done instead of being prospective. In February the Ray mills treated 218,767 tons ore, an average of 7,813 tons per day, which is a new high daily average record. We estimate that the production last month in concentrates and crude ore shipments will total about 5,730,000 pounds, also a new high record. Costs are coming down. Last month's being close to 8.7 cents a pound. As indicative of the rather elastic capacity of our rated 8,000-ton plant it is interesting to note that several days in March the tonnage handled ran from 8,500 to 8,800 tons. Ray has been operating its entire battery of eight units for some time and as the plant efficiency increases our extraction increases accordingly. We expect to make from 70,000,000 to 75,000,000 pounds of copper this year. Ray has now reached the mine output and mill capacity as originally planned and will maintain the present rate. Our efforts for some time to come will be devoted to bringing the mining, transportation and milling operations to the highest degree of co-ordination and efficiency. I believe that for an underground mine, shipping ore from two shafts, Ray Consolidated's record in developments and output compares favorably with any mine in the world." Mr. Aldrich is disinclined to discuss earnings or dividend prospects, but figured on a production of between 68,000,000 and 69,000,000 pounds per annum, costs of 8.7 cents a pound, and a 14 1/2-cent copper market, Ray is earning at the rate of about $3,800,000 per annum, or about $2.50 per share.

FRANKLIN.

President R. M. Edwards, of the Franklin Mining company, says: "I have no hesitation in stating that the showing in the Atlantic conglomerate lode on the thirty-second level of Franklin is the most important development which has ever occurred at the property. I believe that Franklin can be made a profitable mine from this conglomerate lode, and within a comparatively short time. All that is necessary to get the lode opened sufficiently so that operations can be conducted on a large scale; all the necessary equipment is in readiness, including a mill. We are now opening the lode both north and south on the thirty-second level and should be able to make about 200 feet per month. The first blast in the drift was made when I was at the property, and the showing was just as good as when the lode was first cut, the assays of which showed better than thirty pounds of copper to the ton. We have arranged for mill tests of 1,000 tons each at the Centennial mill, the first of which I hope will be made within the next three weeks. Every pound of rock which is broken is being hoisted, and will be put through the mill. If these mill runs corroborate the assays, and I have no doubt they will, we shall drive two more crosscuts. One will be at the thirty-sixth level and one at the twenty-eighth, and I figure that this can be done within eight months, when underground conditions should be such that we can treat from 1,000 to 1,200 tons of rock per day from the conglomerate. This would, of course, be handled in Franklin's own mill, which is not to be used for the mill tests. Our mill is closed on account of the strike and the expense of opening it for a small rock tonnage would not be justified. Franklin owes considerable money, but has enough cash on hand to last four or five months. I am extremely hopeful, however, that it will be possible to avoid further assessment. The financial condition of the company's affairs makes me confident that if financing has to be done a little later on it can be accomplished through the sale of treasury stock at not far from $15 per share. I have been assured by strong financial interests that they would underwrite such issue, provided our mill tests are as favorable as is now indicated."

Brakeman Is Fatally Injured.

After being impaled on the coupling knuckles of two cars at Quinnesec, William Christenson, a brakeman, of Escanaba, died at an Iron Mountain hospital. He was twenty-two years of age.

Fire Destroys School House.

In Chippewa county, late last week, fire of unknown origin destroyed the Gardenville school building. The flames were discovered by George Prodan when he arose to tend to the furnace in his green house. The fire was beyond control and it was impossible to save either the building or the contents. The school was one of the finest in the county, having been built about five years ago on scientific principles as to heat, light and ventilation. Miss Marie Lund of Ishpeming was the teacher. It is thought the blaze was of incendiary origin.

Farmer Found Frozen to Death.

The body of Fred Miron, a Danforth (Delta county) farmer, thirty years of age, was found frozen stiff about four hundred feet from the Soo Line crossing near the Danforth road hill late last week. Miron had been in Escanaba, less than an hour after he left town his horse returned to the city without a driver and with the seat gone from the buggy. While it is probable that Miron's horse ran away and that he was thrown from his buggy, rendered unconscious and then froze to death, it is thought possible that he was the victim of a hold-up. He sold men at the City Livery shortly before he started for home that a man had attempted to hold him up about a week ago near the Soo Line crossing, but that when the man tried to stop his horse he struck the animal and the horse broke away and he thus escaped. Miron is survived by his wife and two children, the youngest having been born only a week ago.

Check Found Worthless.

The Iron Mountain Tribune-Gazette says: A neat-appearing and well-dressed young man, giving his name as A. C. Clark, walked into the bakery and grocery store of Hallberg & Osterberg and after making a small purchase handed over a check for eighteen dollars in payment. The check was cashed, and the payment of the proprietors, for when it was presented at the Commercial bank, for payment it was learned that Clark had had no funds there at that time. The check was not taken to the bank until seventeen hours after Clark had presented it. As soon as the police were told of the affair, Chief Lundgren got in communication with the authorities of various cities and Clark was finally captured in Marinette. Clark went to Iron Mountain about a week ago, seeking employment as a telegraph operator. How he got hold of a Commercial Bank check is unknown.

Governor Is Asked to Pardon.

Bearing the signatures of the mayor of the city, the aldermen of the common council and each member of the board of supervisors, as well as that of the sheriff who caused his arrest and of all the county officers at Menominee, a petition asking for the pardon of Joseph Ellarey, serving time in Marquette prison for the murder of his cousin in Oliver Ayotte, has been placed in the hands of Governor Ferris at Lansing. Accompanying the petition is a letter from Prosecuting Attorney Fred Haggerson, who was instrumental in placing Ellarey behind the bars, in which Mr. Haggerson reviews the crime from the standpoint of the people and indorses the petition's plea for a pardon. The petition, circulated by Attorney John J. O'Hara, was presented to the governor by Attorney Michael J. Doyle. It tells of Ayotte's alleged intimacy with the wife of Ellarey, of the husband's efforts to prevent further trespass of his cousin in his home and the sacrifice of his liberty in defense of his family. Ellarey, after warning Ayotte to keep away from his farm, shot him dead, as his victim drove past his house, one mile from Hermsville, about 6 o'clock the evening of Friday, May 23, 1913.

ERUPTION LIKE RINGWORM ON FACE

Covered with Watery Blisters. Itched and Burned Terribly. Little Rest at Night. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Entirely Cured.

Lock Box 35, Maurice, Ia. — "In the spring of 1911 our little daughter, age five years, had a breaking out on her lip and part of her cheek that we took for ringworm. It resembled a large ringworm, only it differed in that it was covered with watery blisters that itched and burned terribly, made worse by her scratching it. Then the blisters would break through and let out a watery substance. She was very cross and fretful while she had it and had very little rest at night. When the eruption was at its worst the teacher of the school sent her home and would not allow her to attend until the disfigurement of her face was gone.

"We tried to kill it by applying — but without result. It would seem to get better and then broke out again. I then wrote and received a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. We washed the sore with the Cuticura Soap and applied the Cuticura Ointment and they gave instant relief, so we bought some more. It gradually grew better. We kept on using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in three or four months the child was entirely cured." (Signed) Mr. Henry Frits, Oct. 22, 1912.

Cuticura Soap 25c and Cuticura Ointment 50c are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

NOTHING NEW ABOUT FLYING.

More Than a Century Ago a Viennese Watchmaker Succeeded in Aerial Navigation.

In 1883, writes Henry E. Dudeney in the Strand, M. Gagliandier appears to have been the first to apply an electric motor to balloons; although Proctor thought in the following year that the navigation of these things was quite impossible. But there exist illustrations of two earlier conceptions of dirigible balloons. The first is the one proposed by Green in 1840 for a voyage across the Atlantic; the second, which ascended from Vauxhall gardens in 1843, is remarkable for its resemblance to the modern dirigible airship, having a rudder and propeller complete.

But let us pass to the heavier-than-air flying machine, as being perhaps one of the most "modern" of all inventions. In the very earliest times men have conceived the idea of flying with wings like birds. There is no reason whatever to doubt the fact that Archytas of Tarentum (about 390 years before the Christian era) constructed an automaton pigeon that would fly. Cardan, the mathematician (1501-1576), says: "There is no reason why such a machine should not be put in motion, especially by a favorable breeze. The lightness of the body would contribute to this result, as would the largeness of the wings and the strength of the wheels; and probably the dove could take its flight in a certain fashion, but with a wavering motion, like the flickering of a lamp. Thus it would sometimes mount upward spontaneously; flutter its wings, then leave off suddenly and fall; its motive power being unequal to its weight." Regiomontanus also made an eagle that would fly.

But a flying machine invented by a Vienna watchmaker named Degan, in 1809, has so many points in common with the aeroplane of today that we will give a description of it. A frame was made, principally consisting of rods of some strong but light material, on which the man stood erect. A flat-shaped wing nine feet long, eight feet broad at the swell, and terminating at a point, proceeded from that part of the frame close to each shoulder, and a fan-shaped tail, apparently connected with both wings, proceeded from behind

If You are Subject to Colds

• This Editorial will Interest You.

A Great Majority of People Get One or More Colds Every Season and It is of Vital Interest to All to Learn How to Avoid and Relieve Colds Quickly, Since Colds are Said to be Contagious.

Some people think colds are only caught through exposure. This in return is contradicted by the fact that Arctic explorers are peculiarly free from colds. It is more generally accepted that colds are the result of civilized life, due to super-heated rooms and a very rapid change in temperature which causes the nerve centers to be depressed, and still more largely due to contagion—one member of a family imparting a cold to another by sneezing or coughing.

A cold means nothing if relieved quickly. That such a purpose may be accomplished, a quick aid to a cold is an essential. A remedy especially devised to relieve colds quickly is PERUNA.

PERUNA contains such ingredients that have an especially beneficial influence upon the inflamed mucous membranes and the quicker these mucous membranes are given the benefit of a remedy like PERUNA, the quicker the relief and the less contagion.

A neglected cold may become a serious menace to one's own life, and far worse, may endanger one's family.

We insure our homes against fire, our lives against death. Why should we not insure ourselves against colds if possible by having a medicine in the family chest that can be used at once?

PERUNA is a reliable household remedy for colds and should be in every home, for there should be a desire to combat a cold as quickly as possible. This is enlightened hygiene.

People who are feeble and run down are more subject to colds than persons in normal health. Such persons need outdoor life and PERUNA to help build up a strong constitution. If you have a poor appetite that is often a warning that you probably need a tonic like Peruna for Peruna aids the digestive organs. When your appetite is fair and work and exercise do not quickly tire you, your susceptibility to colds diminishes very much.

Persons who object to liquid medicines can now obtain PERUNA TABLETS.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

- HODGSON, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgson, Me.
- CHARLOTTE, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with pains in both sides and was very nervous. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor, and I never would get well unless I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health."—Mrs. ROSA SIMS, 16 Vinona St., Charlotte, N. C.
- HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. ADA WILT, 196 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.
- DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LAURA A. GRISWOLD, 2300 Blk. East William Street, Decatur, Ill.
- CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 7305 Madison Ave., Cleveland, O.

SMALL DEMAND FOR ARGENTINE BEEF

Negaunee Butchers Handle Only Few Pounds of the South American Meat.

A number of small consignments of Argentine beef were recently received by Negaunee butchers, but none has been shipped in here the past two weeks as it was found there was no particular advantage in handling it. For the time being it can be sold a little cheaper than American raised beef, but it is said that it is only a question of time before it will sell for the same price as the latter.

Several million pounds of beef have been shipped to the United States from Argentina since the new tariff law went into effect, but a fear from authentic sources that the large packing interests have control of it, a Negaunee meat dealer said yesterday. "If it was not for the South American beef, however, the American packers might send prices higher. Certainly it now serves to stabilize prices.

"I don't think that the importation of Argentine beef will ever be carried on to any great extent, as its quality is not as good and the prices are almost as high. Some of the lumber camps in this vicinity are being supplied with the South American beef."

Argentine beef is said to be a poor buy for a meat dealer at the present quotations. It is frozen as hard as a rock and loses some of its nutritive value in thawing. The American beef is simply chilled sufficiently to keep it fresh.

It is said that high priced beef is at present a drug on the market, and that the lumber camps pay just as much for the rough stuff as the butchers do for good meat. A dealer yesterday said that there is not a dollar difference on a 100 pounds between the cheaper grade and the better grade of meat.

WILL HAVE BIG HOUSE.

Sale of Tickets for Hurri Concert at Star Theater Tonight Is Large.

The committee in charge of the concert which will be given at the Star theater tonight by Taneli Hurri, the celebrated Finnish tenor, reports excellent success in the sale of tickets.

Mr. Hurri began his musical career at Viborg, Finland, where he completed a four years' course at a music academy. He then went to Helsingfors and entered a conservatory of music. To broaden his knowledge of music, he went to Berlin, where he attended Stearns' conservatory and studied under Nicolaus Rothmund, Kaiser Wilhelm's chamber soloist. After he had spent two years in the study of opera and had given promise of an especially brilliant future, the Finnish government advanced him sufficient funds to enable him to pursue his studies at Rome, Italy, where he studied under Professor Senatore Sapparoni.

The concert and grand operatic work of Mr. Hurri has brought him endorsements of the highest character from leading European critics and gained to him the warmest admiration of critical audiences. His powerful voice is a pure, rich tenor, exquisitely colored, of natural sweetness and purity and of great range. He uses it with most artistic feeling and insight and his singing has appealed to some of the foremost critics as that of a real artist.

Mr. Hurri's program tonight will be as follows:

- Part I—Arioso Op. English... Leoncavallo I Love You Dear... Grieg Praise of Youth (Noorunden Ylistys) ... Merikanto
- Part II—Piano Solo—Maaksaalla Yllymardia... Merikanto Alaitke Aitini... Merikanto Gavotte Seislaane... Rombier
- Part III—Aria Op. "Lohengrin"... Wagner Rosenedelnd... Ekman Spring Time... Trindelli
- Part IV—Romance... Sibelius Sommarkvaller... Merikanto Porlaintenmarssi... Paucis
- Part V—But My Bird Is Long in Homing Sobelius Laivapojat... Wegelius Die Beiden Grenadiere... Schumann

No form of food except perhaps the dog-is so acceptable to the leopard in the jungle of Ceylon as the large gray Wanderoo monkey, and the artistic methods of capture employed by them necessitate no free climbing.

Whenever monkeys catch a sight of a leopard slinking under the trees they become greatly excited and all chatter together. As soon as the leopard hears this he lies down under a bush and begins to click his teeth together.

This noise seems to make the monkeys beside themselves with terror and excitement; they huddle together in the treetop above the leopard's head, jumping up and down, up and down on the branches, shrieking and chattering. Below, the leopard waits motionless, clicking its teeth, until suddenly one of the monkeys misses its footing and comes to the ground with a thud—and then the leopard is on it with a bound.

I one day saw the first acts of the tragedy, relates L. S. Woolf in the London Times. I was traveling in thick jungle and my bullock carts having gone on in the early afternoon, I was following later in the evening down the same sandy track. I noticed that a large leopard had been following behind the bulks, and that he had suddenly turned aside down a small game track. At the same moment I became aware of the tremendous chattering of monkeys in the distance.

I had a Sinhalese with me, and we crept through the thick jungle towards the noise. After crawling about 150 yards I saw about fifteen to twenty monkeys jumping up and down excitedly on the top of a small tree. They seemed to be looking down at something on the other side of a large bush which was in front of me; and, when they saw us, they kept on turning their heads first to us and then to this something, leaping up and down and shrieking perpetually—and as it appeared to me—gesticulating and beckoning to us with their long thin gray arms. The same thought came to the Sinhalese, for he whispered to me, "They are beckoning to you to shoot."

I lay still for a moment thinking which side of the bush it was best to crawl round, and then I distinctly heard the click, click, click of the leopard's teeth behind it. I choose the wrong side, for as I came round all I saw was the leopard disappear in a great curving bound into the thick jungle beyond.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; wash your hair with the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to keep your hair looking rich, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

NO PICTURES TONIGHT.

No pictures will be shown at the Star theater tonight, as Taneli Hurri, the Finnish tenor, will give a concert there. Tomorrow night Selig's big animal feature picture, "Thor, Lord of the Jungle," will be presented. The picture is three reels, and is said to be one of the greatest animal pictures ever produced. Friday the fourth installment of "The Adventures of Kathlyn" series will be shown. Two matinees will be given Saturday at 1:30 and at 3:30.

OLD DOCK WILL BE DEMOLISHED

Tearing Down of Twenty Pockets of Wooden Structure in the Presque Isle Harbor Has Lately Been Finished—Similar Work Will Be Done Next Winter.

Has Been in Use Past Eighteen Years, With Numerous Rebuilds, and Is Now in a Shaky Condition—Life of New Concrete Dock Is Said to Be Indefinite.

The dismantling of twenty pockets of the old L. S. & I. ore dock at Presque Isle harbor has just been finished. As there are 200 pockets in the dock, that part of the structure that has been taken down is a tenth of the whole. The timber will be used for repair work on the dock structures and about the railroad property. The dock will be gradually taken to pieces during the winter seasons, until the last of the superstructure is down.

The structure still carries some one that was placed in storage the latter part of last season, but when this is loaded into the carriers this spring it will be finally abandoned for the purposes for which it was built, after eighteen years of service. The dock was erected, along with the construction of the L. S. & I. road, and went into commission in 1896. It was used for handling ore that year and also somewhat used last season. In the interval, however, it was largely rebuilt. In 1906 and 1907 the pockets were renewed, half of their number having been rebuilt each year, at a large expense, and the structure was also redecked twice. It is now pretty shaky and it would be unsafe to continue to use it much longer for handling ore.

Little Deterioration on New Dock.

The company's new concrete dock will need but little retitting to prepare it for the season of navigation, and the engineers do not expect that it will need any extensive repairs for several years. The only wood used about the structure is found in the deck and in the pocket linings. Here there will have to be replacements from time to time. Outside of the deck and the pockets, the dock is a solid concrete and steel structure, with very little of the steel showing. The pocket facings, the chutes and the beams that carry the rails on the deck are the only important steel work exposed to the weather. Elsewhere there is only concrete, on which the weather has no appreciable effect.

"How long will the concrete dock be good for?" R. C. Young, the company's engineer, was asked yesterday.

"For the purposes of our calculations at the time it was being planned we figured on a life of thirty years, but I personally cannot see any reason why the structure should not be as serviceable and sound at the end of thirty years as it is today," Mr. Young asserted. "The exposure of steel is comparatively slight compared with the total exposed area and the steel skeleton of the dock is buried in concrete, where it is protected from the weather so completely that there should be no loss in its vitality. The dock was planned with the greatest care and with every element of stress and strain given due consideration, and there is no reason that I can see why its life should not be indefinite."

The new dock is expected to suffice for its capacity is nowhere approached by the present rate of ore shipment. It was planned to secure the greatest expedition in handling and loading boats and it has met all the expectations of the engineers. The pockets and chutes have been shown to be correctly designed, with the result that the dispatch obtained is not equalled anywhere else in the lake.

Dismantling No. 4.

In the lower harbor the South Shore company has had a force of men engaged on the work of dismantling the part of the outer end of old No. 4 dock, which, like the L. S. & I. dock at Presque Isle, has outlived its usefulness and will be entirely taken down in the course of the next few winters, as was No. 1 before it. The company will use the material on other dock structures and in the repair and building of bridges.

One timber wealth that neither the L. S. & I. nor the South Shore company has as yet taken any steps to recover is the forest of piling driven many years ago to furnish the foundations for the wooden docks that have been torn down. This timber is, below the water line, just as good as the day it was driven into the lake bed. It will ultimately all be removed. It is more valuable than the day it was driven, but it will cost a considerable part of its value to remove it from the lake bottom. The use of water jets is said to be the most effective way of getting it out.

J. S. MONROE WILL RUN FOR SENATE

That Former Representative Will Be Candidate in Thirty-First Is Now Reported.

That J. S. ("Stoney") Monroe, a former member of the house of representatives from the Gogebic district, will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the senate in the Thirty-first district is word that comes from Ironwood, where Mr. Monroe makes his home.

Mr. Monroe, it is said, has been making a quiet canvass of the situation and has practically decided that he will seek the endorsement of the Republican electors of the district, irrespective of whether else has in mind seeking the nomination.

With the exception of A. T. Roberts, of Marquette, Mr. Monroe is the only Republican in the district so far formally mentioned for the nomination, and he is unlikely to have to run against Mr. Roberts, for the Marquette man disclaims any purpose of seeking the office.

Mr. Monroe served in the house during several sessions, and at a time when there was nothing invidious about a "standpatter" he enjoyed the reputation of being a very prince of standpatters. He was one of the favorite targets for lower state newspapers of liberal tendencies, particularly the Detroit press, for as a member of the committee on city corporations, he stood out against various home rule projects that were, from time to time, in favor with the progressive newspapers. Perhaps, indeed, that is how he became to be called "Stoney."

Mr. Monroe's district has sent to the house a Democrat, John Holland, in the past two elections. Mr. Monroe was the Republican candidate in 1912, but of course, when there was also Progressive opposition, it wasn't much use being a Republican candidate for anything in the Twelfth district in 1912, and Mr. Monroe had the disconcerting experience of finishing third in a three cornered race. Mr. Holland accumulated 1,289 votes, Anderson, the Progressive, 754 and Mr. Monroe 714.

This, it is claimed, is not a fair index to Monroe's strength in his home county, or in the Thirty-first district, and it is predicted that he will poll a considerable vote in the Republican primaries. His outlook on politics is much more liberal than it was in the days that he was the most potent members on the house committee on city corporations, and he is now reported a good deal of a progressive in his views.

Richardson to Run Again. In the first representative district of Marquette county Representative Richardson will be a candidate for another term, and it is generally held that he will be pretty sure of election, as he gained much favor by the nature of his first term's service. There has been some talk that former Representative Ewing, of Chocoma, might again be a candidate in the primaries, but it has not been authorized by Mr. Ewing.

A SNAPPY FARCE.

"Officer 666" at the Marquette Opera House Last Evening.

"Officer 666," a bright and lively farce, was presented at the Marquette Opera House last evening before a well-attended audience. It tells of the adventure of an American Mr. Raffles who seeks in vain to carry off a great picture robbery coup in New York city and becomes involved in a series of complications that fill out three acts with a most ludicrous and interesting series of complications. The author draws largely on the element of surprise to obtain his effects and there is more of the melodramatic interest than is usually expected in farces of the kind. By the men the piece was better played than by the women in the case. Marin Malloy, as "666," the butt of the farceful proceedings, contributed largely to the fun. Whitney Barnes, the importunate picture thief, was made most plausible by Campbell Duncan, and minor male parts were well taken. The production was pleasing and the uproarious and exciting fun of the second act won the company a certain call.

1914 MODEL REO THE FIFTH IS HERE $1,175 EQUIPPED

CAR or SUPER-CAR

Let us help you decide between lesser-built cars and this matchless car built by R. E. Olds.

Judge if it's worth while to get super-strength in a car you buy to keep.

If so, Reo the Fifth will appeal to you. It has big margins of safety. It is built slowly and carefully—six weeks to each car.

It has 35 horsepower, but each driving part must stand the tests for a 50 horsepower engine.

It has 15 roller bearings—190 drop forgings. It has a costly clutch which prohibits gear clashing.

It's gears are tested for 75,000 lbs. per tooth—it's springs for 100,000 vibrations. It's engine is tested for days.

It is built so that test cars, after 10,000 miles of rough usage, show in vital parts slight evidence of wear.

It is built to embody the best Mr. Olds knows after 27 years of car building.

IT STAYS NEW

Here is the utmost in an honest car. It is built to render years of perfect service. It is built to save trouble, upkeep and repairs.

It has the new streamline body. It has electric starter and lights, dimming searchlights, demountable rims—all the latest equipment. It is luxurious in finish and upholstery.

And the price this year is $220 less than last year's price with electric starter.

Every spring the demand for this car is twice the factory output. But we can make a few prompt deliveries if you'll call this week.
