

NATION'S HEAD VICTORIOUS IN OPENING FIGHT

Over the Protest of the Speaker and Other Leaders, the Lower Branch of Congress Grants His Appeal for the Prompt Consideration of Panama Legislation.

Remarkable Struggle Ends in the Adoption of Rule to Limit Debate and Preclude Amendment, 200 to 172—Only 45 Democrats Join With the Opposition.

Washington, March 27.—President Wilson today won the opening skirmish of the greatest legislative battle in his administration. His triumph came when the house, over the protest of the speaker, recognized Democratic leaders and almost a solid Republican opposition, adopted a special rule for the consideration of the Panama canal act which exempts from tolls American coastwise shipping.

Revolt Is Squelched. Speaker Clark, Democratic Leader Underwood, Republican Leader Mann and Progressive Leader Murdock were at the head of those lined up against the administration, but the house responded to the president's personal appeal for prompt consideration of the repeal bill as a means of supporting his foreign policy.

Two votes taken today demonstrated the president's commanding influence with his party in congress. On the first test a motion to limit the debate and preclude amendment of the rule was carried by a vote of 207 to 176. The rule, itself, was adopted, 200 to 172.

Scenes Memorable. Nothing to compare with the scenes today had occurred in the house since the famous Cannon rules fight four years ago. In vain Representative Underwood took the floor and urged his colleagues to vote against the rule. The rank and file of the Democrats, after listening to three hours of passionate argument, swung into the president's column. 199 of them voted to prevent the amendment of the special rule, while but fifty-five followed the leaders in joining with the opposition.

Tonight administration supporters jubilantly predicted the passage of the repeal bill, itself, Tuesday or Wednesday by a majority of more than one hundred. Several hours of the twenty allowed for debate under the rule was had been consumed when the house adjourned.

Feeling Is Tense. The roll call was taken in silence. Following the announcement of Speaker Clark last night against the rule, high feeling had appeared on both sides.

With Representative Underwood, the floor leader, and Speaker Clark and Representative Fitzgerald on the minority side, the Democratic majority for the time being recognized as leaders Representatives Henry, chairman on rules; Adamson, chairman of the interstate commerce committee; Patton, of Pennsylvania; Hawick, of Georgia, and Sherry, of Kentucky.

Only eight Republicans joined with the majority, but it was conceded tonight that many Republicans would eventually for the repeal of the rule. Progressive Democrats led by Representative Murdock, of Kansas, was aligned against the majority.

President Wilson's triumph was considered most notable, because of the unusual alignment of the forces within the Democratic ranks. Two men who had sought with him the presidential nomination—one the speaker and the other the floor leader—were openly arrayed against him.

President Upheld. Four to One. While Speaker Clark did not take the floor today, Representative Underwood pleaded urgently against the rule, and later delivered an attack on President Wilson's policy, denouncing the repeal of the toll exemption as an economic mistake. Other Democratic chiefs, among them Representative Kitchin, of North Carolina, broke with the president. Yet, in the face of this opposition, the president won within the Democratic ranks. Two men who had sought with him the presidential nomination—one the speaker and the other the floor leader—were openly arrayed against him.

Speaker Clark Assailed. When debate on the special rule began in the house, Representatives Adamson and Hawick attacked Speaker Clark's position and, in reply, Representative Underwood made his plea for support from the "colleagues who have held up my hands in this house."

Representative Palmer, of Pennsylvania, told the Democrats that opposition within the ranks of the party to the president in this matter amounted virtually to "impediment of either the veracity or the intelligence of the president."

"The country," said Mr. Palmer, "has never failed heretofore to sustain every president who spoke for the country, whether his utterance meant peace or called for war."

does not know that if he tears Woodrow Wilson down, no Democrat can stand. Doesn't he realize that he must support this administration or be damned into the wilderness for forty years more?"

Debate on Repeal Bill Begins. With the closure rule in force, the house at once began the twenty hours of general debate on the repeal bill. Representative Sims, of Tennessee, made the first speech in support of his measure.

The debate against the repeal was opened by Representative Underwood. Daniels in Press Gallery. While the fight on the floor of the house was going on, Secretary Daniels sat in the press gallery, in his capacity as editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, losing his identity as a cabinet officer as he worked away with the other correspondents on the great story of the day.

ROSE AND OTJEN FORCES WILL SUPPORT BADING IN FIGHT AGAINST SOCIALISTS. Milwaukee, March 27.—David S. Rose and Theobald Otjen, defeated candidates for mayor in Tuesday's primaries, today announced that they would unite their forces with those of Mayor Gerhard Bading, the successful candidate on the non-partisan ticket, in an endeavor to defeat the Socialist candidate, Emil Seidel, in the regular election to be held April 7.

WANTS COLLIERIES OPERATED BY THE U. S. GOVERNMENT. Boston, March 27.—A resolution requesting congress to pass legislation providing for the public ownership and operation of coal mines was adopted in the house of representatives today.

ROOSEVELT PARTY IS REPORTED SAFE Explorers Are Now Again Plunging Into Wilderness and Will Not Emerge for Weeks. Rio Janeiro, Brazil, March 27.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and his expedition party are still proceeding down the Duvida river, on their way to Manaus, Brazil, according to a dispatch received here today from Colonel Ronson, the representative of the Brazilian government with the expedition. The dispatch said the territory being traversed had never before been explored, and that it was unlikely the party would again be heard from for a month.

Gold Medal Awarded Dr. Rice. London, March 27.—The Royal Geographical society has awarded the king's gold medal to Dr. Hamilton Rice, of Boston, Mass., for his work of exploration in South America.

Dr. Rice and his party in 1911 explored southeast Colombia and northwest Brazil, traversing almost one hundred thousand square miles of virtually unknown country. The trip ended one thousand miles up the Amazon river. Dr. Rice said afterward that the record of the party was one of physical horrors. Insects made existence horrible, there were periods of starvation, and consequent mutiny, and constant prevalence of disease. Rice and his party discovered a race of light-colored Indians was discovered, as was a colony composed entirely of male Indians.

During a period of starvation the party was reduced to eating monkey meat.

MAGGIE TYLER LOSES POSTOFFICE POSITION Failure to Take Examination Costs ex-President's Granddaughter Federal Post. Washington, March 27.—Miss Maggie R. Tyler, granddaughter of former President Tyler, who appealed personally to White House officials today to continue her postmistress at the little town of Courtland, Va., will be succeeded by B. A. Williams, it was announced tonight.

Failure on the part of Miss Tyler to take the recently ordered civil service examination, rather than the purported efforts of a "religion of Virginia politicians," was the department's explanation of its action.

Although arrangements have been made to allow Miss Tyler to present her case to President Wilson, the Courtland office is not within the presidential chain of appointments. Miss Tyler is seventy years of age, and for seventeen years has been in charge of the Courtland office.

NEW ZEALAND PEACHES CONDEMNED AT FRISCO; PEARS ARE ADMITTED. San Francisco, March 27.—A portion of the first shipment of fresh fruit from New Zealand ever received on the Pacific coast was placed on sale here today. The shipment consisted of six hundred cases of peaches and pears. The peaches were condemned, because quarantine inspectors found in the cases an unknown moss, but the pears passed muster.

NEW BAY STATE LAW RESULTS IN DISCHARGE OF MANY CHILD WORKERS. Boston, March 27.—The new law prohibiting employment of children between fourteen and sixteen years of age more than eight hours a day resulted during the first year in the discharge of four thousand out of the between twenty-five and thirty thousand employed, according to a report filed with the governor by the labor commission today.

BILL PRESIDENT FAVORSEFOUGHT BY UNDERWOOD

Democratic Floor Leader of the House Attacks the Proposed Repeal of the Isthmian Canal Tolls Exemption as an Un-American Measure of Surrender.

Favoring U. S. Ships Violates No Treaty, He Urges; Is Upheld by Party's Platform—Why Should Sovereignty Be Yielded at Europe's Behest? He Asks.

Washington, March 27.—Representative Underwood, of Alabama, democratic floor leader in the house of representatives, today delivered a speech against repealing the Panama tolls exemption, as urged by President Wilson. The scene of the leader of the house majority, who had led the successful fight for practically all the administration measures, combating the position of the president, attracted wide attention.

Mr. Underwood urged defeat of the Sims bill, which follows President Wilson's recommendation for the repeal of the tolls exemption. He declared the repeal was contrary to the platform of the Democratic party adopted at the Baltimore convention, and that an exemption favoring American coastwise ships did not violate the Hay-Panama treaty.

"Not for one moment do I believe we have violated a treaty," declared Mr. Underwood. "Our whole difficulty arises from the un-American spirit of surrender that some of our own people have exhibited toward this important question from the very beginning. Can any one tell us plainly why we surrender and what is to be accomplished by it? Are we to yield merely because the sentiment of Europe is against us? When has the sentiment of Europe ever been with us about matters of moment? When will the time come when we can expect to maintain and preserve our rights, political and commercial, with the acquiescent sympathy of European governments?"

Platform Plank Is Plain. Mr. Underwood quoted the tolls exemption plank from the Baltimore platform and, continuing, said: "There can be no contention as to the meaning of this language. No one can raise the issue that the bill now pending before the house introduced by the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. Sims) is not in direct conflict with the declaration of the Democratic platform. Personally I believe that the party pledge should be lived up to in good faith by those who claim allegiance to party principles, but as there are many here who differ with me in regard to the binding effect of a party platform I will not at this time endeavor to discuss the pending bill from that standpoint."

"Let us resolve the issue into the question as to whether the platform of the Democratic party favoring exemption of tolls of American ships engaged in coastwise trade passing through the Panama canal is best for the nation and the people of our country, or whether the gentleman from Tennessee in this bill now pending before the house repealing the declaration of the Democratic party is proposing legislation that will be most beneficial to our nation and our people."

Representative Underwood quoted figures to show that the cost of the maintenance of the canal is the interest on the government's investment could be met easily without charging American vessels tolls and by charging foreign vessels a "fair and reasonable" toll. He compared the tolls charged by the British canal with that with the proposed Panama tolls.

Explains the Intent of Congress. "The purpose of congress in providing in the act for the opening, maintenance, protection and operation of the canal, that no tolls shall be levied upon vessels engaged in the coastwise trade of the United States," and providing, further, that it should be left discretionary with the president to exempt our ships engaged in foreign trade," said Mr. Underwood, "was an effort on the part of congress to discriminate in favor of American shipping and to re-establish our merchant marine. This has been a policy of the Democratic party since the beginning of the government. The Democratic party has never stood for direct subsidies, but has always favored subsidies and discriminations in favor of our shipping."

"It was through discriminating tariff duties that our merchant marine was developed in the first three decades of our government's existence. The Democratic tariff law that is now on the statute books carries in it a discrimination amounting to a reduction of 5 per cent of the duties on goods imported in American ships."

"If we have built the canal for the benefit of an American merchant marine and not for the practical exclusive use of foreign shipping, we must adopt a policy of discrimination in favor of American ships, or we must in some way indirect subsidies to enable our ships to compete with ships of foreign nations. The subsidies and discriminations that European governments have given their shipping interests have practically driven American ships from the seas."

Solemn Pledge Made to People. "For the reasons given I believe that the Democratic party was both wise and patriotic when it announced a policy in favor of discriminating in favor of our coastwise ships going through the Panama canal and that"

BULLETIN

FIRE AT SUPERIOR BURNS THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL; ESTIMATED LOSS, $200,000.

Superior, Wis., March 27.—Fire destroyed the Superior Normal school tonight, causing a loss estimated at $200,000. The origin of the fire is not known.

U. S. S. TEXAS PASSES UNDER BROOKLYN BRIDGE ONLY BY REMOVING HER WIRELESS POLES.

New York, March 27.—The first opportunity to gauge the immensity of the new super-dreadnought Texas, the most powerful American battleship in commission, came to New Yorkers today when the ship slowly descended like a disgruntled giant before the prohibitive girders of Brooklyn bridge. Under these same girders, which are a distance of 125 feet from the water level, the tallest sailing vessel had passed with space to spare, but the wireless poles of the Texas overtopped the girder at the center of the bridge by five feet. The poles were removed to permit her passage.

ASQUITH RELUCTANT TO OUST COL. SEELY British Political Situation Created by Home Rule Crisis Appears Unchanged.

London, March 27.—The political situation tonight apparently is unchanged. Another cabinet council will be held tomorrow morning, and no official declaration as to what course Field Marshal Sir John French, chief of the general staff, and General Sir John Spence Ewart, adjutant general of the force, will take with regard to their resignations is expected until after that meeting. Sir Edward Carson, the Unionist leader in the House of Commons, has left Ireland for London.

The continuation of the crisis is attributed to Premier Asquith's reluctance to remove Colonel Seely from the post of secretary for war. Colonel Seely's dismissal of his portfolio doubtless would satisfy General French and Ewart, and Premier Asquith's objection to having him do so seems to indicate dimensions in the cabinet itself.

The Weekly Nation, which may be regarded as the organ of Chancellor David Lloyd-George's faction of the cabinet, in its issue today attacks Colonel Seely with great bitterness.

LETTER RECEIVED AT PARIS INDICATES HENRI ROCHETTE IS FUGITIVE IN SWITZERLAND. Paris, March 27.—Henri Rochette, the man alleged to have swindled the French public out of enormous sums, is believed to be in Switzerland. Several former French cabinet ministers are now being examined by an investigating committee of the chamber of deputies, in consequence of charges that they brought influence to bear to have Rochette's trial postponed. Rochette meanwhile escaped from France, after he had been admitted to bail, and was supposed to have fled to Mexico.

Jean Jaures, the Socialist leader, who is in charge of the investigation, received today through the mail a letter dated Lucerne, Switzerland, and signed "Henri Rochette." A comparison between the handwriting of Rochette and that of the letter shows that it was penned by the same hand.

STRATHCONA KEPT THEM AS SOUVENIRS His Pay Checks as Canadian Pacific Director Now to Be Collected—Total $40,000.

Montreal, March 27.—Checks received by the late Lord Strathcona, formerly Canadian high commissioner at London, for services rendered as a director of the Canadian Pacific Railroad company, and which he never cashed, but kept as souvenirs, will be presented for payment by the executors of his estate. The value of the checks, it is understood, is more than $40,000.

It was the boast of Lord Strathcona that he had never accepted a cent for his services as a director of the railroad, and at the time of his death checks covering a period of thirty-two years, the length of his service on the board, were found.

The executors of the estate hold that the checks constitute a valid claim on the railroad company and have filed a formal claim.

QUEEN OF BULGARIA GETS A WARNING NOT TO VISIT UNITED STATES. Sofia, March 27.—A letter was received this morning today warning Queen Eleanora not to carry out her purpose of visiting the United States.

VILLA REPORTS HE HAS AT LAST ATTAINED GOAL

Practically All of Torreon, Including the Business District, Is in His Hands, He Says in Telegram to Juarez—Battle Is the Bloodiest of the War.

Three Desperate Assaults in Which Many Men Die Result in the Capture of Gomez Palacia and Open the Way to Stronghold—Bravery Is Remarkable.

BULLETIN. Juarez, Mex., March 27.—A telegram received this afternoon from General Villa says that practically all of Torreon, including the entire business district, is in the possession of the rebels. At 3 o'clock this afternoon the Stranman Hotel, in the heart of the city, was reported to be in rebel hands.

Story of Gomez Palacia's Capture. Gomez Palacia, Mex., March 27.—Four days of fighting, including three desperate assaults by the rebels, were crowned today when General Francisco Villa moved into this city and established his headquarters on that side of the town looking toward Torreon and within three miles of that great goal of the campaign.

The final and deciding assault was delivered yesterday. It was preceded by a bombardment, after which the infantry and cavalry dashed into the streets, rifles, machine pistols and hand grenades were used in a hundred different encounters in the narrow thoroughfares. The grenades, of home manufacture, were lighted with the cigarettes which are an unofficial part of the equipment of every Mexican soldier.

Wounded Suffer Fearfully. General Villa does not yet know his own loss, except that it is heavy. The wounded suffered terribly from thirst, and many died. The dead of both sides were mingled in the streets or found huddled under the piles of earth which had once been adobe houses, wrecked by rebel shells. Veterans say that no more serious battle ever was fought in Mexico, it was delirium.

Villa did not stop to mourn his losses, but with characteristic energy began preparations to move on Torreon. He expects to cooperate with four thousand men under General Herrera, who is under orders to attack the town from the east.

The newspaper correspondents were permitted to enter the city with Villa. Everywhere rebel soldiers were engaged in rescuing the injured. There were stretchers, but not nearly enough of them, so that a stout pole with a blanket suspended hammock-fashion sufficed.

The day was hot and the air fairly smothered with steam. Those with fresh wounds disinclined to desert, and many a soldier, limping from a wound in the leg, or with one arm supported in a blood-stained bandage, was seen among the stretcher bearers.

Rebels First Repulsed. Villa's first assault took place four days ago. There was comparatively a small force of federals in Gomez Palacia and premature reports of victory were sent out. Soon, however, the federals received reinforcements and in the desperate fighting which followed the rebels had rather the worst of it and Villa withdrew.

The next day, Wednesday, General Angeles, the artillery commander, shelled the city all day and part of the night. Villa had learned that the federal commander, General Velasco, was concentrating his force in the town and was himself in the trenches, inspiring his men to do their utmost.

The rebel leader, under cover of the bombardment, concentrated every available man for another assault. This was delivered Wednesday night, but it was not decisive, although the rebels held the stone roundhouse and a few other natural defenses in the outskirts of the city.

Battle Won Thursday Night. Last night the third and final assault was delivered. Villa, grimy with dust and sweat, a red bandana handkerchief about his neck, participated. He rode up and down the lines, swearing and cheering, cursing and calling upon the saints. At times he was apparently calm, and again in a fury. Through it all he urged his men forward and all seemed to realize that the attack was the last one.

Human flesh could not stand more of the heat, thirst and hunger and the cruel scenes which followed one another until the whole picture was a confused blur of blood and fire, where men in their dying agonies whined for water or cried out meekly, petitions to Our Lady of Guadalupe and the other jargon of delirium.

say THE EARTH IS MORE RIGID THAN IS STEEL

University of Chicago Scientists Explode the Old-Time and General Belief That the Core of the Globe Is a Fiery Mass—Announce Result of Experiments.

Planet Can't Blow Up or Be Destroyed by Fire Within Itself, It Is Asserted—It Is a Movable Body, too; Ebbs and Flows as the Ocean Tides Do.

Chicago, March 27.—Ancient and popular beliefs that the core of the earth is a molten mass have been investigated by scientists of the University of Chicago, who will announce tomorrow that the world that the planet is more rigid than steel, that it could not explode or be destroyed by a fire within itself.

The experiments were designed by Professor Albert A. Michelson, head of the department of physics. "Behaves Like an Elastic Body. "The experiments," said Professor Michelson tonight, "show that the interior of the earth is not a fiery mass, but resists the tidal forces of the moon about as it would if the earth were made of solid steel. Nevertheless, the earth, in spite of its rigidity, behaves as an elastic body, not liquid, of course, but still subject to the same influences as are the oceans which form a part of it."

"That the solid surface of the earth is subject to the same ebb and flow as are the tides of the ocean, although to a lesser extent, is a statement that will astonish the average person, who is prepared to assert with all the assurance of conviction that the earth is an immovable body. The fact that there are tides of about a foot in the surface of the earth has been demonstrated as a scientific fact."

Tests Made at Lake Geneva. Two ditches, each five hundred feet long and six feet deep, were dug near the Yerkes Observatory at Lake Geneva, Wis. One of the ditches extended directly north and south, and the other east and west. A pipe six inches in diameter and five hundred feet long, half filled with water, was placed in each ditch. The pipes and mechanism for measuring the tides in the water were invented by Professor Michelson. The ditches were filled to insure constancy of temperature.

At each end of the pipes a hole ten feet deep was dug and there was made an enclosed concrete casement in which the observatory could descend and ascertain the rise and fall of the water level with a microscopic precision.

Professor Gale, except when occasionally relieved by an associate, made the trip to the ditches, every hour, day and night, for two months, and made the observations. Physicists at the university invented a device whereby measurements could be taken by photography.

Professor F. R. Moulton, of the department of astronomy, had computed the tides that should exist if the world were absolutely rigid. The attraction of the sun and moon were found to cause tides in the pipes and these were cancelled out. The maximum changes in the level of the six-inch pipe amounted at each end to about .001 of an inch. These tides were computed and it was found they amounted to only about seven-tenths of what they would have been if the earth were absolutely rigid.

PENNSYLVANIA SHOPMEN ARE ADVISED BY LEADERS TO RESIST SUSPENSION. Altoona, Pa., March 27.—Following the suspension of 1,250 employees from all departments of the Pennsylvania railroad shops here as the result of the company's retrenchment policy, a meeting of suspended men was held tonight at the headquarters of the Federation of Railroad Workers.

W. H. Pierce, president of the federation, and T. E. Ellis, national organizer of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, made addresses urging the men to resist what they claimed to be an assault on union labor. The speakers claimed that efficiency and seniority were disregarded in making the suspensions. The railroad company denies this charge.

The suspensions have disturbed business in this city, the railroad shops here being practically the sole dependence of Altoona.

JUDGE SORRY HE CAN'T SEND TEESDALE TO AFRICA TO LIVE AMONG GORILLAS. Sacramento, Calif., March 27.—Edward Teesdale, one of the leaders in "General" Kelly's army of unemployed, was sentenced today to six months in jail for vagrancy. The court denounced Teesdale as a menace to law and order, and remarked that if his authority permitted, he would confine Teesdale to Africa, where he would find more congenial companions among the gorillas.

PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER SHOPS IN NEW YORK CITY. New York, March 27.—Miss Eleanor Wilson, daughter of the president, spent several hours today shopping in New York. She made several purchases for her trousseau.

TANNENBAUM GUILTY DECIDES THE JURY

Instigator of Raid on Churches Is Sentenced to Year in Prison and Fined $500.

New York, March 27.—Frank Tannenbaum, the convicted leader of the Industrial Workers of the World who recently led a crowd of between two and three hundred homeless men into New York churches, where he demanded food and shelter for his followers, was tonight found guilty of participating in an unlawful assembly.

The jury deliberated about an hour. At once after the verdict, Judge Wadhams, in the court of general sessions, sentenced Tannenbaum to one year in the penitentiary and, in addition, imposed a fine of $500, or one day for each dollar not paid.

Before the case was given to the jury Tannenbaum told his story. He declared he had made every effort to keep his "army" quiet when the men invaded St. Alphonse's church some weeks ago, and he said they were not disorderly. Tannenbaum said his occupation was that of a bus boy, or waiter's helper; that he is twenty-one years old, had been in this country nine years, and was not a citizen of the United States.

Directly after sentence was imposed, the youth was led to a cell in the Tombs, where he will remain until transported to the penitentiary. Many of his followers, who had loitered around in the corridors during the trial on mats made of newspapers, became tired of waiting for a verdict before it was announced, and departed.

Others of Tannenbaum's "army" who were arrested and convicted of disorderly conduct are still in the workhouse.

Leader Has No Respect for Courts. Before sentence was pronounced, the former leader of the unemployed availed himself of the customary privilege of making a statement.

"A great American once said that the people would forgive all sins such as murder, arson and larceny, but would not forgive a man who preaches a new gospel," Tannenbaum began. "I am one of those guilty of the last offense."

"I have served time for the court. This is the first time I ever was in court. I had never been inside of a police station until I was arrested a short time ago. I tried to write a letter to the judge, but I could not do it."

"After three weeks in the Tombs prison I had come to the conclusion that many of the poor devils there are just as good as anybody else, and if any of you were in their places you would be just as bad."

SHOOTING NEGRO WAITER FOR TRIVIAL REASON. Fort Wayne, Ind., March 27.—Anthony Trentman, a wealthy brewer, is held in the city jail here tonight, after having shot H. J. Bruce, a negro waiter, at a hotel. Trentman told the police that he shot the negro because the waiter had treated his request for his overcoat in an indolent manner.

The shooting occurred at an hour when the hotel rate was crowded. Trentman, having finished dining, had asked the negro to bring his overcoat. When the negro passed Trentman's table a few minutes later without the garment, the brewer shot him.

Physicians say the waiter cannot live. Bruce, lying in a bed of murder, will be filed against Trentman.

On the way into the city from El Verdel this morning, and particularly in the streets of the town itself, General Villa was constantly called upon to return the salutes of the wounded. Some of these were limping, not to the rear, but to the front, to catch up with their comrades.

NO POLITICS HERE.

The gathering of the appointees of Governor Ferris at Lansing, while it may have filled the purpose that the governor had in mind, failed to meet the expectations of the newspaper men who were standing by in the hope that it would be productive of some political development of importance, perhaps an explicit declaration from the governor of his intention about seeking a second term. But instead of having anything to say on that subject, the governor explained that politics would be tabooed at the session, which, he said, was an "efficiency" gathering of men he had placed in state office. He disclaimed any responsibility for the impression abroad that the conference was to be of a political nature. Thus as far as definite declaration is concerned, the question whether Governor Ferris will run again is as much up in the air as ever. But while this is true, there is a general belief that he will seek re-election. Confidence that he will be the case is expressed by Democratic leaders, who frankly assert that they would be unable to produce any other candidate at all comparing with Governor Ferris in strength. The governor's personal inclination is said to be to retire from public life, but it is not always easy for a man in public life to follow his personal inclinations. Furthermore, in this particular case there is just enough bitterness in some of the attacks being directed against the governor perhaps to tempt him to run again, just to seek to show that he has the confidence of the state and can be re-elected.

At the time the Democratic pow-wow was the subject of discussion on all sides at Lansing, considerable attention was commanded by a persistent report that Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Grand Rapids, would soon announce himself an aspirant for the Republican nomination. It was reported circumstantially that a few days ago a representative gathering of western Michigan Republican leaders put the question whether he would run squarely up to Mr. Vandenberg. "The result of the meeting is unknown, as it has been kept carefully under cover," it is said, "but it is believed that Mr. Vandenberg took the position that there is still plenty of time to get into the race. He wants to be assured, however, that there is a big demand in the party for him to do so."

"WHAT ABOUT STRIKES?"

Referring to some of the possible remote consequences of the turn the U. S. situation has taken the New York Times remarks: "When Bourne Law advanced the Unionist argument in the house he was at once greeted with the cry, 'What about strikes?' The immediate logic of the question is obvious. If officers are citizens so are privates; if the former have consciences so have the latter; if officers may put their personal sense of right above the authority of their superiors why not the privates? The unlimited application of a doctrine now convenient for the Conservatives might shake the foundations of English institutions to which the conservatives are deeply devoted. Chief of these is the throne. The king's part in the present situation is unknown, but it is evidently an active one. He is primarily a naval officer, trained as such rather than as a constitutional ruler. The radicals believe that he is governed more by his early training and associations than by the spirit of modern English monarchy. At present the bitterness of the controversy is directed at him. That may prove ominously significant. For centuries the general tendency of political movements in the United Kingdom has been toward democracy and away from privilege and prerogative. The movement has been slow, but its direction has been unmistakable. The existing situation may greatly quicken it."

In telling what is the matter with the judiciary former President Taft is not in agreement with former President Roosevelt except as to the fact that there is a good deal of the matter with the manner in which it fails to expedite justice.

GROWING INTO TROUBLE.

The great progress of the new Japan has been a growth which means troubles as well as gains in power and prestige. The island empire is learning that its revolutionary changes involve many pains and difficulties.

There are heated clashes in the Japanese parliament between hostile political and party leaders. One cabinet crisis has followed another, in recent years. Even the throne has been sharply criticized, at times. Strikes have caused bloody riots in Japanese cities. Revolutionary agitators have been executed without stopping more or less secret attacks upon the government. City slums have been much more in evidence than they were before the centers of population became so large and the industries of the country were organized on the modern factory plan.

All of these conditions link Japan with the nations of the West. They show that the gulf between the most advanced country of Asia and the foremost powers of Europe and America is much narrower than it was twenty years ago, or even ten. Japan has come up close to the leading states of the white man's world in many respects, and some of the points of similarity are full of trouble for Japanese statesmen.

Progress demands its price. It cannot be won without labor and suffering. Nations do not break easily with a past covering many centuries. Japan has done wonders, but the Japanese cannot escape the operation of laws as broad as human nature.

O. E. Carr, the new city manager at Cadillac, is quoted as follows: "The commission form of government marked our first advance toward a better management of municipal affairs. While it is generally recognized as an improvement, yet as a working model it has its weaknesses. Such weaknesses have called into being the city manager plan. Entirely removed from politics, the position of city manager should attract men of ability, power and experience. At least this is the experience of the German cities in which a similar plan has been in use to great advantage for over twenty years. Cadillac was the first of the Michigan cities to adopt the general manager plan. My impression of the personnel of the commission and of the people leads me to believe that if the system fails here it will be the fault of the manager. It is too early for me to say what I will do here, but I am certain that I do not care to know the politics or the religion of any city employe. All that I need to know is that he is doing a necessary work in an efficient manner. A management based on economy and efficiency, with a sufficient local publicity to insure intelligent interest on the part of the public, should prove to be a considerable advance toward ideal municipal housekeeping."

Another straw showing the way the wind blows in favor of universal suffrage is the vote by the Massachusetts assembly for submission of the question in that state. As the proposal must receive favorable action in the next legislature before the referendum can be taken, there is nothing conclusive in the action, but as it is the first time that the Massachusetts legislature has been willing to vote for submission there is reason for the keen satisfaction the women are evidencing. Sentiment for extension of the suffrage to women is growing day by day, and by leaps and bounds. If it is wisely used in the states that now have it during the next few years, and if the women make no serious mistakes as propagandists, it is clear that the day is not far off when the state in which women do not vote will be the exception rather than the rule.

J. J. Casey, M. C., recently a sojourner in the copper country with the other members of the congressional committee, says he asked MacNaughton a number of questions and that they were not answered to his satisfaction. Careless of Mac, actually, he should have been more attentive to manner of response of Conrad Moyer and the other comrades who preceded him on the stand.

Representative Underwood's position on the Panama canal tolls question, in which he is aligned against the president, gives additional opportunity to Representative Hobson to score points in the senatorial canvass now in progress in Alabama. And Hobson is the kind of jackanapes who will make the most of it, by whatever degree of misrepresentation may be necessary.

Senator Townsend declares himself for women suffrage. When it is recalled what the vote on suffrage in Michigan was a year ago this spring, here we have something to which his friends can point in contradiction of the story that the senator always moves with the wind. If the members of parliament, the members of the ministry, the king and the other gentlemen whose interest and situation with regard to the Ulster diffculty is comparatively remote will only model their conduct on the self-restraint shown by the Ulsterites, both Catholic and Protestant, there will be little doubt that the end of the period of strain will be reached without the occurrence of any serious break.

Mr. Yopieka, diplomat to the Balkan states, denies indignantly the stories representing him as making an ass of himself in the Balkan capitals. Perhaps they were written by the same man who pulls the anti-Bryan stuff that travels the rounds of the tory press.

I was compelled to scratch them and they would fester and come to a head and break out again. The trouble was attended by such burning and itching I could not sleep, also when I sweat it burned the same. My hair fell out gradually and the scalp kept raw and dry with itching and burning. After about two years the pimples broke out between my shoulders. My clothing irritated them. I was troubled with this eczema five or six years.

ECZEMA ON SCALP ITCHED AND BURNED

Would Fester and Come to Head, Could Not Sleep, Hair Fell Out, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in Two Weeks.

A LAUGH OR TWO

Dubbe's Deductions.

"I have been expecting her for some time," declared Mr. Dubbe, "and there she is!"

"There is who?" asked his wife. "The woman tramp," answered Dubbe. "Anybody could tell that she is a hobo. Observe how she slouches along with her shoulders humped, and her hands thrust into the pockets of some male discarded overcoat, and look at her shoes! The heels are worn clean off!"

"Silly," giggled Mrs. Dubbe. "She is one of our sweetest society girls, in the latest fashions, and gait and garb. Terrell Love Holiday in Lippincott's."

Not Worth While. Jean longed for a kitten with all her heart, but her mother was not fond of cats, so she was not allowed to have one in spite of her eager pleadings. At length it became necessary for Jean to go to the hospital for an operation.

"I'll make a bargain with you, Jean," said her mother. "If you will be a brave little girl about having your operation, I shall save the very finest kitten I can find."

Jean climbed upon the operating table and took the ether without a struggle. As she came out from under the influence of the anesthetic and began to realize how sick and wretched she felt, the nurse leaned over to catch her first spoken word:

"What a hum way to get a cat!"—The Delineator.

Just Wait! "Why, my dear," exclaimed the good friends on finding Mrs. Newell in floods of tears, "what is the matter?"

"The young wife wiped her eyes and tried to compose herself and be inhumanly calm."

"Well," she began, with folded hands, "you know John is away for a week."

"Yes, dear," helped the lady friend. "Well, he writes to me regularly, and in his last letter he tells me he gets my photo out and kisses it every day."

"But that is nothing for you to cry about!" exclaimed the good friend. "Yes it is," cried Mrs. Newell, bursting into tears afresh, "because I took my picture out of his bag before he started in for a joke and put one of my mother's in its place!"

Immunity from Arrest. The vice president of a big corporation in the city of New York heard one day that an old friend of his had fallen on unfortunate days, and stood a fine chance to be indicted by the grand jury. Accordingly, he hastened out and found a political friend.

"John," he said, giving him the name of the man threatened with indictment, "this fellow is a close friend of mine, and I don't want him indicted. Can you fix it for me with the next grand jury?"

"Leave it to me," said John. "I'll fix it." "Fix it sure!" "Absolutely sure. Leave it to me, I tell you."

A few weeks later the rich man read in a newspaper that his old and unfortunate friend was on the grand jury. He immediately called on his political friend.

"I'm afraid you misunderstood me," he said excitedly. "I didn't ask you to put that fellow on the grand jury!"

"Now, listen," said the politician. "I'll fix it for you."

"Fix it sure!" "Absolutely sure. Leave it to me, I tell you."

Teaching Teacher. It was an arduous task for the teacher to drill into her youthful pupils the principles of arithmetic.

"Now listen," she said, "in order to be subtracted, things must be of the same denomination. You can't take three apples from four peaches, nor eight marbles from twelve buttons. It must be three apples from four apples, and so on. Do you understand?"

Most of the children seemed to grasp the idea. However, one little youngster in the class raised a timid hand.

Change of Front. The late Dr. William Bull, of New York, once asked Dr. Osler to join him in a drive through the park in his gig. On one of the upper marshes of the drive the horse grew restive, rearing and pawing in a spirited way that Dr. Bull was familiar with and not the least afraid of.

"Gently, gently, William!" said Dr. Osler. "Don't irritate him. Always soothe your horse, William. And I think you will do better without me on the seat. Pray let me down."

When Dr. Osler was once safely landed on the ground, however, he said, "Now, William, touch him up. Never let a horse get the better of you. Touch him up, conquer him, don't spare him. And now, William, I'll leave you to manage him. I'll walk back," concluded the man willing to Oslerize anybody else.—New York Tribune.

EDITORIAL OPINION

Armies Must Obey.

There is good reason for the intense feeling shown in Great Britain over the army phase of the Ulster issue. It involves a question much wider than any single bill presented to parliament, and it concerns the very life of the government.

An army veto upon the acts of the civil authorities is intolerable in any civilized country which knows real liberty under law, and any such veto is a step toward a military dictatorship.

These truths are so fundamental that when they are in any sense challenged an issue is raised which goes to the roots of national life and safety. Army rule is the bane of Latin-America, with the exception of three or four advanced states. It is wholly contrary to the conditions, principles and policy of the British people.

England would not be England if anything resembling a military challenge to the civil authorities could take place without stirring the country from its center to the sea.—Cleveland Leader.

How the Language Grows. This is an age of great language growth. There are so many new things in life that new words have to be devised to express common new ideas.

The automobile was the first of these recent agents for the enlargement of speech. The word "automobile" itself was vigorously condemned by purists as a mongrel, an impossible combination of Greek and French. But "automobile" has stuck, and is now a "good dictionary word." And a score of other words have come in its wake, and are in every-day use.

Aviation brought its enrichment, and so did wireless telegraphy. And now, but not by an means least, the cinematograph is fast supplanting itself the words needed to express cinematograph ideas.

Of all barbarous linguistic inventions the word "movies" is perhaps the worst. It has not yet passed beyond the slang stage. But it is being used by thousands of men and women and this is what makes words good. Its future may be considered as reasonably assured, for it is the only short word which has yet been devised for the motion picture. As soon as good usage sanctions it "movies" will cease to sound barbarous.

Other words are either in process of acceptance or have already been accepted. Recently there has been some discussion over the proper way to express the turning of a story into a film. The Springfield Republican suggests "filmize," and another newspaper has offered "filmize." The accepted word will probably be neither of these, but some update from no one knows where. For a growing language is reluctant to acknowledge authority.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Good Business Policy. Some rather sensible advice was recently offered by Secretary Redfield, in a discussion of the relations between the so-called foreign markets and domestic industry. Far from decrying the enterprise which induces American manufacturers to "dump" products abroad, he declared the effort to keep establishments running regularly, even though at times it necessitates some apparent sacrifice in price in expanding the market, ought to be understood and encouraged.

Nowadays, we are coming to better appreciate the great economic importance of having labor constantly employed. Whatever gives promise of making work regular and continuous throughout the year is to the general interest. Suppose a manufacturer sacrifices his profits in turning out a bill of goods for a foreign market. If he didn't produce those goods, he might have to lay off his hands for a time. The community at large can take its choice between the two possible ways of setting for those employees. Either it can support them in idleness, as ad-

MOTHER LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, when they become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour. Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or of child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 30-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages

FOR THE GRIP

Peruna Is Sometimes Used With Good Results

Mrs. Jane Gift. Many people take it after they have had the grip. Their convalescence is slow. They have suffered along for a month or two, without any signs of complete recovery.

A great many people use Peruna for the grip. Some use it as soon as the grip begins, taking it during the acute stage of the disease, claiming for it great efficacy in shortening the disease, and especially in the after stages.

"Two years ago I began using Peruna and it built up my strength so that in a couple of months I was able to go to work again. This winter I had another attack of the grippe, but Peruna soon drove it out of my system. My wife and I consider it a household remedy."

MAN DIES FROM EXPOSURE.

South Shore Train Picks Up Unknown Woodsman on L'Anse Hill. South shore train No. 3 Thursday morning picked up a man a short distance from L'Anse. The engineer saw the man in time to stop before the body was reached. The stranger was placed in the baggage car. He died before the train reached L'Anse. It is presumed that he succumbed to exposure, his hands and other parts of the body being badly frozen. So far the man has not been identified. He wore lumberman's clothing and is believed to have been of French nationality. The remains were taken to the Hansen morgue at Hancock.

LECTURE SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

Houghton People Ask to See "Wonderful Adventures of Nils." Following a demand from many of the largest libraries in the country for the rental of the latest slides of Lagerlof's "Wonderful Adventures of Nils," which are the sole property of the Houghton Public Library, the "grown-ups" in Houghton have become interested and have asked to see this set of pictures which is proving to be a unique advertiser for the copper country as a center of culture.

In compliance with this demand it has been arranged to show these pictures in the library auditorium on Sunday afternoon, commencing at 3:30 o'clock. Supervisor Miss Anna Nye, of the kindergarten department of the Houghton schools, will tell the story in connection with the pictures.

The original water color drawings from which the costly lantern slides were made are the property of a prominent Houghton resident, and these also will be on exhibition Sunday afternoon.

FIGHTS THE MEASURE PRESIDENT FAVORS

There is no reason at this time why we should abandon a solemn promise made to the American people in one of the most prominent planks in our party platform.

"But we are told that we are violating a solemn treaty made with another nation and in good faith that we should abandon the canal tolls exemption without contest or dispute, in order that we may keep our standing in the family of nations."

"Not for one moment do I believe that we have violated a treaty right and not for one moment do I believe that the English government seriously contends that we have violated a treaty right. Our whole difficulty in the matter arises from the un-American spirit of surrender that some of our own people have exhibited toward this important question from the very beginning."

"If the congress had unanimously passed the canal tolls bill two years ago, I do not believe that the question would ever have been raised that we do not have the right to exempt American ships from the payment of tolls when we charge foreign ships a rate and equitable rate for their passage through the canal. Great Britain charges $1.50 for the passage through a canal that cost only one-third of what it cost us to build the Panama canal and our toll charge is only $1.20 per net ton."

"It seems to me clear that it does not lie within the mouth of Great Britain or any foreign nation to complain that we have not given them fair and equitable treatment in the tolls that we have charged for the passage of their ships through the canal."

Nation's Very Sovereignty Attacked. "There is a more serious question involved in the passage of this bill. The right to discriminate in favor of our ships, the opportunity to encourage our shipping and to increase our commerce are matters of vital importance, but they pale into insignificance when compared with the attack on the sovereignty of our country in the Canal zone."

"The power to build the canal, under our Constitution, rests in the war power of the United States. We built the canal primarily as an addition to our war power, as it provides the quicker transfer of our naval forces from one ocean to another. Its inland lake provides a harbor of refuge in which our navies can rendezvous and as occasion offers, strike either ocean."

"The advocates of Great Britain take the position that we are forbidden to discriminate in favor of our own vessels of commerce and as vessels of commerce and war are named together, how long will it be before the same advocate of the British contention will advise us that we cannot discriminate in favor of our own war vessels?"

"The contention of those advocating the British claim seems almost absurd when we recognize that if we admit them for vessels of commerce the same reasoning will require us to admit them for war vessels. To do so would convert the canal a time of war into a liability instead of an asset. Of course we made no such contract. We gave to all nations observing certain rules adopted by us certain privileges in the canal. That did not mean that we reserved to build a canal at our own expense and then surrender its sovereignty to all other nations."

"There is no word in the treaties that even by implication denies our right to give free tolls to our vessels in any trade, and the day we give them we will free our vessels from tolls in the foreign trade. But we have yet to consider the most serious surrender that the advocates of the British contentions desire to make, that is, to make the admission that we are not sovereign in the canal zone."

"By your vote you are asked to ratify for all time to come the British desire that we surrender sovereignty of the canal zone and admit that it is an international waterway, in which we have no rights that are not possessed by all other nations."

Status Fixed by Treaty With Panama. "Our governmental status on the canal zone was established and fixed by a treaty made with the republic of Panama subsequent to the making of the canal zone."

WRITE STORIES FOR MOVING PICTURE PLAYS. New, Spare-Time Profession for Men and Women—One Man Makes $3,500 in Six Months. Owing to the large number of new motion picture theaters which are being opened throughout the country, there is offered to the men and women of today a new profession, namely, that of writing moving picture plays. Producers are paying from $25 to $150 for each scenario accepted, upon which they can build a photo play.

As it only requires a few hours' time to construct a complete play, you can readily see the immense possibilities in this work. One man, who gave the idea a tryout, writes that he earned $3,500 in six months. It is possible for an intelligent person to meet with equal success.

One feature of the business which should appeal to everyone is that the work may be done at home in spare time. No literary ability is required and no special training is necessary. Ideas for plots are constantly turning up, and may be put in scenario form and sold for a good price. Particulars Sent FREE. Complete particulars of this most interesting and profitable profession may be had FREE OF CHARGE by sending a post card to Photo-Play Association, Box 158, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

ENTERED COUNTY ILLEGALLY.

Federal Officer Leaves for New York With Seven Rumanians.

United States Immigration Inspector W. W. Roat, of Chicago, arrived in Houghton yesterday. In the evening the federal official departed for New York with the seven Rumanians who had been held at the county jail for the last month, charged with violating the federal alien contract labor law. Deputy Sheriff Heikkila left with the party and will accompany the officer and his charges clear through to New York. The men were arrested on warrants issued by John B. Denmore, acting secretary of labor, last August. They are: Magar Arzoff, Apie Magardichoff, Sagatoff, Magardichoff, Simbat Kochoroff, Mandros, Torosoff, Bogos Migoyoff and Ardash Kevorkoff.

These men came to this country from Galt, Ont., a port from which Niagara Falls, N. Y., is easily accessible. From Galt they apparently communicated with friends who were working in Deering, Ill., and having made themselves acquainted with the immigration officials at Niagara Falls, they were allowed to go to Deering without inspection upon promising that it was only for a short visit. They are arrested on two counts, one for entering this country fraudulently and another for violating Section 2 of the federal alien contract labor law, which provides that a man imported to immigrate to the United States by a promise of work is a violator of the law. How long the men worked at Deering is not known, but they drifted into Chicago several months ago and were hired by one of the employment agencies to work in Calumet. However, the Calumet & Hecla Mining company is in no way connected with the violation of the law nor is the agency that hired the men. If the seven men are deported, and

CORN MARKET IS EXCITED.

Chicago, March 27.—The corn trade expanded to huge proportions today and, after violent changes, the market wound up at an advance. It looked as if a big game had been attempted, a group of strong houses trying to dislodge all weak holdings. Final quotations follow: May wheat, 82 1/2 cents; July, 80 1/2 cents; ordinary firsts, 17 1/2 cents; firsts, 18 cents; poultry, alive, lower; springs 1 1/2 cents; fowls, 17 cents.

BOSTON COPPERS.

The list continued to sag Friday, with scattered selling. The Lake coppers showed about a point decline, with a very small volume of transactions. In spite of better news on the copper market, there is no speculative interest. Friday's closing prices at Boston follow:

Table of copper prices with columns for various grades and prices per ton.

New York Stocks.

The list at New York drifted aimlessly. A feeling of discontent seems to prevail in most quarters. The declines of late have not been of sufficient degree to satisfy the bear crowd, and those bullishly inclined have become discouraged over the lack of constructive leadership. Poor railroad earnings tend to increase discussions relative to the Eastern rate cases, and in that connection it now appears as if interstate commerce commission is not likely to make known its findings for at least five or six weeks. Growing out of the wrangle in Washington relative to the canal tolls question, political calculations may be revised. Should the attitude of the administration in connection with the matter not be upheld, it is thought that the proposed legislative program bearing upon industrial problems may be greatly modified, as the feeling is spreading rapidly that the country needs a rest and that as long as attention continues to be focussed on Washington, the business community will not be able to direct its energies along constructive lines. The reported action of the Pennsylvania, with regards to curtailing its passenger services and reducing its working forces seems to be a fore runner of like action among other roads. The total sales in Wall street Friday were 139,100 shares. Closing prices were:

A Message To Women

Those of Middle Age Especially.

When you have found no remedy for the horrors that oppress you during change of life, when through the long hours of the day it seems as though your back would break, when your head aches constantly, you are nervous, depressed and suffer from those dreadful bearing down pains, don't forget that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the safest and surest remedy, and has carried hundreds of women safely through this critical period.

Read what these three women say:

From Mrs. Hornung, Buffalo, N. Y. BUFFALO, N. Y.—"I am writing to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I failed terribly during the last winter and summer and every one remarked about my appearance. I suffered from a female trouble and always had pains in my back, no appetite and at times was very weak."

"I was visiting at a friend's house one day and she thought I needed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and have gained eight pounds, have a good appetite and am feeling better every day. Everybody is asking me what I am doing and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You may publish this letter if you wish and I hope others who have the same complaint will see it and get health from your medicine as I did."—Mrs. A. HORNUNG, 91 Stanton St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Was A Blessing To This Woman. So. Richmond, Va.—"I was troubled with a bearing down pain and a female weakness and could not stand long on my feet. Of all the medicines I took nothing helped me like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now regular and am getting along fine. I cannot praise the Compound too much. It has been a blessing to me and I hope it will be to other women."—Mrs. D. TYLER, 25 West Clopton St., South Richmond, Va.

Pains in Side, Could Hardly Stand. LODI, Wis.—"I was in a bad condition, suffering from a female trouble, and I had such pains in my sides I could hardly move. Before I had taken the whole of one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt better, and now I am well and can do a good day's work. I tell everybody what your medicine has done for me."—Mrs. JOHN THOMPSON, Lodi, Wisconsin.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health. Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

DRUG STORE THIEVES

It is getting so that even the best of thieves and robbers discriminate somewhat in their selections.

For instance, burglars recently broke into a drug store owned by our good Nyalist, S. B. Jones, corner Baraga avenue and Third street, on the night of Feb. 4th. After helping themselves to money, stamps, etc., they directly went to the candy case. After looking over a complete stock of various lines of candy, they took out a box of Nylo Chocolates as their selection and naturally finished the contents of the box.

It is going some when even a robber in his haste will stop in his excitement to eat a box of Nylo chocolates. It would look as though even the elements of the under-world were reading Nylo advertising.

Today's weather: Cloudy. Yesterday's temperatures: Seven a. m., 20 degrees; noon, 28; 7 p. m., 28; highest, 31; lowest, 14.

Mrs. Frank Burrows left last night for Chicago.

Elmer Frel of Milwaukee is visiting relatives in this city.

Mrs. A. H. Westlake left last night on a brief visit to Chicago.

W. J. Fiber, of Detroit, was in this city yesterday on business.

S. R. Kaufman, left last night on a business trip to Chicago.

James Quayle, of Ishpeming, was a Marquette business visitor yesterday.

W. J. Fox, of Escanaba, was in Marquette yesterday on a business mission.

Y. P. Farney, of Ishpeming, was a business caller in Marquette yesterday.

Al Andrews, of Ishpeming, was among the business callers in this city yesterday.

Harry Nightengale, of Negaunee, spent yesterday in this city visiting friends.

Mrs. A. E. Miller, who had spent several days in Chicago, arrived home yesterday.

James Russell arrived home yesterday afternoon from a few days' trip to Menominee.

S. J. Mitchell has gone to Chicago to join his wife and son, who are spending the winter there. He will return in a few days.

Asiro & Palmer, agents for the Paige automobiles, have delivered to ex-Mayor John Robertson a model 36 car, one of a lot received yesterday.

The plans for remodeling the Tonella furniture store, drawn by J. M. Byrens, have been completed, and it is expected that construction work will be started shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Tussing, 207 West Arch street, have been called to Superior on account of the death of Mrs. Tussing's father, K. E. Youngquist, which occurred yesterday morning.

Robert Hume, caretaker, reports thirty-two deer in the Presque Isle herd. The bears have made their appearance, after their winter hibernation, and this is taken as a sure sign of the arrival of spring.

Jacob Rose announces the spring opening of the Quality Store, the event starting this morning. The line of goods is complete, and the opening today will be the big event previous to the Easter displays.

"Pompeii" will be the subject of the last of a series of travelogues to be given at the Peter White library, Professor Earl M. Parker of the Normal school will be the speaker. The lecture will be given April 16.

Myron Gillett, who has been working for the Mining Journal in Marquette for the past several months, has been transferred to Ishpeming, where he will act as assistant to Ed J. Butler. Mr. Gillett will look after the Ishpeming correspondence work, and Mr. Butler will give the greater part of his attention to the business of the paper.

Two Matinees at Opera House—Morning and afternoon matinees will be given at the Marquette Opera House today. The third installment of "The Adventures of Kathlyn" will be presented. Eight reels will be shown at 10 o'clock this morning, including "How Burke and Burke Made Good," a clever Vitagraph comedy. The vaudeville feature is society dances, presented by the Yaltas Duo.

New Feature at the Grand—The first pictures of the "Dolly of the Dailies" series, written by Alton Davies, dramatic critic of the New York Sun, in which Mary Fuller is starring, will be shown at the Grand theater today. In this series the popular little actress appears as a newspaper reporter with many dangerous and difficult assignments. Each story is independent of the others and a complete incident in itself.

Investigate Lustilla's Death—Corner Prin. of Ishpeming, will hold an inquest on the body of Nick Lustilla, who was killed Wednesday afternoon by an east-bound South Shore train, at 10 o'clock this morning at the court house. Lustilla, who was a farmer residing near Deerton, was killed after he had been thrown on the tracks by an unmanageable horse and stamned. The accident happened between Chocoyla and Gordon.

Will Kill Off Pests—Sheriff Moloney busied himself about the jail yesterday afternoon looting a huge pot of a combination of lime and sulphur, which he intends spraying on the apple trees in the jail yard to prevent the onslaught of an insect pest which gave much trouble last year and which greatly impeded the growth of the trees. The solution is painted on the trunks and branches, and is said to be a permanent means of ridding the trees of the insects.

Garner Wolf Bounties—John Traker claimed bounty at the county treasurer's office to the extent of $81.00 on the pelts of three wolf, which he captured at Republic. Fred Carries of Champion was allowed bounty for killing one wolf.

Photograph Federal Prisoners—Supposedly to arouse sympathy for John B. Nummivori and John Salminen, business manager and editor, respectively, of the Tyomies and Loppatosi, several friends of the men who were sentenced to serve sixty days in the county jail, appeared at the bastille yesterday and had a photographer take several pictures of the men who are said to be regarded as "martyrs" for the cause they were promoting. It is thought that the pictures will be distributed among the socialistic sympathizers.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO. "PEG O' MY HEART" ON THE WAY.

Follows "The Quaker Girl" at the Marquette Opera House April 3.

"Peg o' My Heart," a comedy which has charmed New York theater goers for more than a year, will be presented at the Marquette Opera House April 3, with Florence Martin in the role of "Peg." The story deals with the adventures of a pretty Irish girl who has been brought up in an atmosphere of poverty by a talented but improvident father, and is suddenly transplanted to an atmosphere of ease and luxury in an aristocratic English family. Unknown to her, a clause in her uncle's will which has made her an heiress also pays her distant relatives for receiving her, and they naturally resent, though they endure, her presence. Among her many adventures, which include the rescuing of the girl of the family from a disastrous love affair, she encounters her own little love affair, which weaves a golden thread of romance through the story. The cast includes Isabel Vernon, Coim Campbell, Maude Allen, Fred L. Tilden, Nella Horan, Nell Trenton, Reginald Carrington and John Lyons.

AMERICAN FLOUR IN BRAZIL.

About 200,000 barrels and bags of flour of both first and second quality are imported into Pernambuco annually. About 50 per cent of these importations come from the United States in barrels and the remainder from Argentina in bags. After the content are used there is a ready sale for both empty barrels and cotton bags, the former being sold to the sugar exporters and the latter being used for clothing. The 50 per cent preferential in the customs duty enables American manufacturers and exporters to compete with flour from Argentina, without which special concession on account of the distance and high freight it would be impossible. The dealers here usually buy through New York commission houses, but sometimes direct. [Counsel P. Merrill Griffith, Pernambuco.]

ONCE STENOGRAPHER TO WOODROW WILSON

So Miss Hazen Claims—She Is Accused of Stealing Jewelry Worth $1,500.

New York, March 27.—Miss Mary Hazen, of Trenton, who declared that when the president was governor of New Jersey she was once stenographer to Woodrow Wilson, was held today on a charge of grand larceny.

Miss Hazen was arrested on the complaint of Mrs. Lora Studelaker, who claims that while Miss Hazen was paying her a social call several weeks ago she left the room for a moment and when she returned Miss Hazen was gone and so was a diamond ring worth $1,500.

At Trenton a few days later, according to Mrs. Studelaker, Miss Hazen sorrowfully admitted her offense and surrendered a pawn ticket for the ring. Mature reflection, the complainant states, caused her to report the matter to the district attorney. Miss Hazen, who pleaded not guilty, was released on bail.

NOTHING WRONG WITH INTELLECT OF HIS SON, AUG. BELMONT TESTIFIES.

New York, March 27.—August Belmont took the stand today to aid the case of his son, Raymond, who is being sued for separation by Ethel Lorraine Belmont, a woman wellknown in the tenderloin. Mr. Belmont testified that his son had spent $13,836 since his marriage in November, 1912. He said emphatically that there was nothing the matter with his son's intellect. Previous testimony for young Belmont had tended to show that he had dissipated his fortune and, having no reason to expect help from his father, was in a position to pay only meagre alimony.

"WELFARE CONFERENCE" IS RECOMMENDATION OF MICHIGAN G. O. P. LEADERS

Detroit, Mich., March 27.—[Special.] A sub-committee of the Republican state central committee decided at a meeting here today to report to full committee on April 14 in favor of holding a Republican "welfare conference" at Detroit May 24, the delegates to which will be chosen by the various county committees on the basis of one to each two thousand of population. At the meeting of the state central committee today, Alex J. Groesbeck offered his resignation as state chairman, but it was refused by unanimous vote.

KANSAS CITY POLICE FIND IN SHOPLIFTERS' APARTMENTS GOODS TO THE VALUE OF $4,000

Kansas City, Mo., March 27.—Margaret Duke, twenty years old, and Mrs. Violet Goffene, twenty-two years of age, pleaded guilty to shoplifting this afternoon, following a raid on Mrs. Goffene's apartments, where the police found hats and gowns valued at $4,000 that had been stolen from Kansas City department stores. Miss Duke was sentenced to three and one-half years in the penitentiary. Mrs. Goffene received four years.

LIGHTNING HITTING SCHOOL KNOCKS TO THE FLOOR EVERY SCHOLAR IN THE BUILDING.

Upper Sandusky, O., March 27.—Twenty pupils and their teacher were burned and stunned by lightning which struck a school building at Wyandot, near here, today. Every pupil was knocked to the floor and many were rendered unconscious for several minutes. Three pupils were seriously burned by the flash.

DIVORCE DECREE IS DENIED THIRD SON OF U. S. GRANT.

Goldfield, Nev., March 27.—Jesse Root Grant, of New York, third son of former President U. S. Grant, was denied a divorce here today on the ground of desertion. The case was heard by Judge Somers. The court held that because Mrs. Grant chose to live at home, while her husband went to a hotel, it did not constitute a desertion on the part of the wife. Mrs. Grant was formerly Elizabeth Chapman, of San Francisco. She married Mr. Grant in 1880.

Lillian Bell Awarded Alimony. Delaware, O., March 27.—Mrs. Lillian Belle Bogue, an author and magazine writer, known in the literary world as Lillian Bell, was granted a divorce here today from her husband, Arthur Hoyt Bogue, of Chicago. The court awarded Mrs. Bogue $500 alimony and the custody of her eleven-year-old daughter. The decree was granted on the statutory charge of gross neglect.

It is again rumored that Alaska Gold will issue convertible bonds. This is an old ghost trotted out at irregular intervals. There will be nothing doing in the financing line until the 6,000-ton mill now in process of erection is completed. It is tested out and actual costs and recoveries are known. Then an engagement to 20,000 tons will be considered. The present mill will not be finished much before Dec. 15.

SPECIAL "HEALTH WARNING" FOR MARCH.

March is a trying month for the very young and for elderly people. Croup, bronchial colds, lagrippe and pneumonia are to be feared and avoided. BANK BUILDING TO BE ONE-STORY STRUCTURE

Directors of Miners' National Thursday Evening Decided on a Radical Change.

The Miners' National bank building, destroyed by fire at an early hour Wednesday morning, will be replaced by a one-story, concrete, fireproof structure, this decision having been reached at a meeting of the board of directors Thursday evening. There will be no provision for office rooms, and the building will be devoted entirely to banking purposes. D. Fred Charlton, the Marquette architect, will proceed at once with the preparation of plans for the structure, and its erection will commence as soon as the debris from the fire has been removed. The razing of the upper part of the walls which are of brick construction, is to be begun next week. The brownstone walls of the first floor will be left standing. Two feet or more will be added, which will give them a sufficient height. The directors decided in favor of a one-story building, because they believe that the revenue from the rooms on the second floor does not warrant the expenditure necessary to build the structure up to its former height. It is hoped to have the new building ready for occupancy within three or four months.

A one-story building will provide additional room for the banking business, as the removal of the stairway leading to the second floor will give more floor space. The large vault will be built directly against the west wall. It is now in the center of the structure.

With the exception of the bank fixtures, all the materials entering into the construction will be fireproof. A large portion of the material will be reinforced concrete. The removal of the debris is proceeding rapidly and all will be cleared away within the next few days. Portions of the partitions of the second floor, which were not consumed by the flames, are being torn down.

The offices of the county road commission, which were removed to the Dundon block after the fire, are now in the Anderson block, corner of Main and Pearl streets, Bell and Kennedy, attorneys, are now located in the Hughes block.

The bank has been conducting business in the Voelker block for the last two days. Advance Showing of Queen Quality Shoes for Women and Walk-Over Shoes for Men at Braastad's. 3-28-14.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

William Rendall has recently accepted a position at the Urian house.

John Garrett, of Trout Creek, was in the city Thursday and yesterday, on a business mission.

The last meeting of the present council will be held next Tuesday evening, March 31, at 7:30 o'clock.

Lew O. Schenker, of Cleveland, is in the city for a few days. He will leave Sunday morning for his home.

Walter Sterne has accepted a position as upper peninsula representative of the Kellogg Toasted Corn Flakes company, of Battle Creek.

T. J. Pascoe and G. A. Larson, of Norway, Mich., were Ishpeming business visitors yesterday, and left last evening for their homes.

J. G. McNeely left yesterday afternoon for Alpena, Mich., called there because of the serious illness of his mother, Mrs. S. McNeely.

Fred Ongie, a South Shore engineer, will move to the copper country within a short time. He has been transferred to a copper country run.

Walter Sterne, son of A. E. Sterne, a student at the University of Chicago, left last evening to resume his studies, after spending the Easter vacation of the past week at his home.

Harold Chase, son of Philo P. Chase, has taken the agency for the Pilot cars in this territory. He will receive a demonstrator car within a few days.

The private tango party at the Knights of Kaleva hall Thursday evening was attended by a large number of couples. Dancing was enjoyed for several hours.

Mrs. Sutherland, of Escanaba, saleslady in the store of the Fashion Suit company in that city, is in Ishpeming for a few days, at the Ishpeming store of the company.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Duncan leave this evening for Chattanooga, Tenn., where they will visit for a short time. They were residents of Chattanooga before coming to Ishpeming.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist Episcopal church will, on election day, April 6, hold a sale of useful and fancy articles, and will serve meals from 11:30 until 7 o'clock in the church parlors.

Mrs. T. B. Catlin, of Marquette, was in the city yesterday, a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Devine. Mrs. H. E. Devine, who has been here for the two days past, left last night for Eveleth, Minn., where she will join her husband, who is employed by the Oliver Iron Mining company. They will reside permanently in that city.

HENRY DERRIE PASSES AWAY.

Wellknown Resident of Champion Died Thursday Evening.

Henry Derrie, aged thirty-five years, a resident of Champion, died Thursday evening at 11 o'clock at his home, after an illness of about ten days with heart trouble. He had been confined to bed for four or five days' past. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home, with interment in the Champion cemetery.

Mr. Derrie was born and raised in Champion, and was wellknown in the western part of the county. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Derrie, his mother who lives in that town for forty-five years, also by four brothers, Louis, Will and John, of Champion, and Charles, of St. Johns, Ore., and three sisters, Mrs. J. E. Mueh, of St. Johns, Ore., Mrs. E. Marchand and Mrs. J. McLane of Dundell.

For many years Mr. Derrie was the proprietor of a saloon at Clarksburg, and he was engaged in this business up to the time of his death.

Captain W. J. Blewette Made Many Friends in Madoc, Ontario.

Before leaving Madoc, Ont., where he was manager of Wellington's tale mine, Captain W. J. Blewette, of this city, was presented with a watch and fob as a token of the esteem in which he was held. He arrived in the city recently. The North Hastings Review, of Madoc, said:

"A very pleasant gathering took place on Friday, March 6th, at the home of Mr. Jos. Anson, when a number of friends met to say goodbye to Mr. W. J. Blewette, former manager of Mr. S. Wellington's tale mine. Mr. Blewette came to town a short time ago, but since he has been here by his character and kindness has made many friends. He was getting the mine in first-class condition; he had joined the fire company and given the men a number of pointers. After a short address by Mr. Arthur Lemon he was presented with a gold watch and fob. He was very surprised but replied in a few well-chosen words. On Monday morning his friends escorted him to the C. P. R. station where he left for his home at Ishpeming, Marquette county, Michigan. His friends join in wishing him every success."

Some Persons Have Mutilated Volumes at Carnegie Library.

That persons make a practice of clipping and otherwise mutilating volumes at the Carnegie Public Library was the statement of Mrs. Nellie Brayton, librarian, yesterday morning. Within the last few days several instances of this practice have been noticed, and certain persons are suspected of the offense.

Only yesterday it was noticed that articles had been cut from some of the bound magazines, numbers that cannot be replaced. The practice is one of long standing and has been a constant annoyance to those in charge of the library for months. A severe penalty is provided for such offenses.

DR. SHAW'S SERMON.

Dr. Stanley Shaw spoke at the Presbyterian church last night to another large assemblage. Not all present could be accommodated with seats. At the close of the meeting Rev. Mr. Amstutz sang most impressively the hymn, "Is He Yours?" Many new faces were seen in the congregation and announcement was made of additional decisions to lead a Christian life.

The text of last night's sermon was taken from the third chapter of John, "Ye Must Be Born Again." At the opening of the service Dr. Shaw asked for volunteer testimony from persons who knew that they had been "born again." Two-score of testimonials were given. Some had experienced a new birth in these Lenten meetings, while others had been in possession of the experience for forty or fifty years. Upon this testimony Dr. Shaw based his remarks.

In closing, Mr. Shaw told of a lawyer who had attended a religious meeting for the express purpose of gathering material to pass out as a joke among his associates. The lawyer collected eighteen testimonials and while he was reading them he became convinced of the reality of the experience of the "new birth" and so confessed to the assembled company.

A men's prayer meeting will be held today from 12 to 12:30 o'clock. At 2:30 o'clock there will be a prayer meeting for men and women. The young people who have been attending the schools, and who have not been able to be present at the afternoon prayer meetings heretofore, are especially urged to attend this latter service.

A mass meeting for men will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. A male quartet will furnish the music. This will be a union meeting and all men and boys are urged to be present.

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES.

Union Mass Meeting—A union mass meeting of the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian denominations will be conducted at 3 o'clock p. m. at the Presbyterian church. Mr. Amstutz and a male quartet will lead the singing.

First Baptist—Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; men's Bible class, 10 a. m.; morning worship, 11 a. m., with sermon on "Trifling With Souls." Men's mass meeting, 3 to 4 p. m. at the Presbyterian church. Union young people's meeting, also at the Presbyterian church, at 6:30 o'clock.

followed by revival services at 7:30 p. m.

Methodist Episcopal—Preaching service at 11 a. m.; Sunday school at 9:45; union young people's meeting and union preaching service at the Presbyterian church, at 6:30 and 7:30 o'clock, respectively.

Presbyterian—Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; Junior Christian Endeavor, 4 p. m. Services in the morning will be conducted at 11 o'clock; the sermon theme will be "The World's Cry for a Redeemer."

First Church of Christ, Scientist—Services at 11 o'clock in the church building, corner Baker and Ridge streets. Subject of the week's lesson, "Reality."

German Lutheran—English services will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Normal Notes

S. S. Stockwell superintendent of the training school, gave an address to the city teachers Thursday afternoon, taking for his subject, "The Natural History of the Teacher." The following three points were brought out:

First—The grades schools, the high schools and normal schools attended by most of the teachers move in the service and courses of study differing greatly from those of today.

Second—In what particulars have these changes taken place? First of all, less emphasis is laid on the "Three R's" and more emphasis upon such things as music, drawing, manual training, domestic science and agriculture. In addition, the schools are taking up such matters as sanitation and health, medical inspection and moral training.

Third—If the teacher is to be the kind of teacher she ought to be today, she must constantly post herself in these new lines and, in addition, she must make herself a factor in the social life of the community. In other words, she must keep herself up to date.

The following students have finished their courses and received certificates as follows:

Life Certificates: Ella C. Crowley, Calumet; Anna Marie Devine, Marquette; Ella Mae Genouenden, Menominee; Azaline Margaret Gunville, Ishpeming; Eda Johnson, Carlsbad; Ella Eisdold Johnson, Escanaba; Carrie Conrad Molloy, Ishpeming; Mary Eleanor Murphy, Laurium; Cressona Theresa Schroeder, Calumet; Stanley Williams, Ishpeming.

Graded School Certificates: Mary Evelyn Chambers, Mackinac Island; Julia Korteniemi, Laurium.

The Misses Ethel Young, Ruth Desjardins, Edyth Mitchell and Miss Adele Hessel visited the school during this week. Miss Desjardins is teaching at Manistique, Miss Mitchell at Hermantown, and Miss Hessel at Escanaba. Miss Young is a student at the University of Chicago.

J. E. Lautner, professor of German and sociology, addressed a meeting of the Woman's Welfare league at the city hall Thursday afternoon. The address dealt with the workings of the commission form of government and was interesting and profitable.

School closed yesterday afternoon for the spring vacation. The enrollment for the spring term took place a week ago, so that at the beginning of the spring term, April 6, study will begin at once.

The pupils of the seventh and eighth grades Tuesday afternoon gave an entertainment in which every scholar took part. A large assemblage was present. The program was greatly enjoyed.

Tuesday afternoon, the Fifth precinct division of the Women's Welfare league held a meeting in the Normal Assembly room, presided over by Mrs. A. T. Roberts.

President Kaye will spend most of the vacation week visiting the different high schools in the copper country. He is scheduled for an address in each of them.

SAM LANGFORD OUTBOXES JOHNSON, OF PHILADELPHIA

New York, March 27.—Sam Langford, of Boston, defeated Jim Johnson, of Philadelphia, in a ten-round bout here tonight. Langford weighed 210 pounds, twenty-six less than his opponent, but outpointed Johnson in eight of the rounds. Johnson took the third round by a good margin and held Langford even in the fourth.

De Rouen Outwrestles Jenkins.

Ottawa, Ont., March 27.—Raoul de Rouen, heavyweight champion wrestler of France, again defeated Tom Jenkins here tonight. De Rouen took the first fall in thirty-one minutes, with a body hold in clammy, and the second in ten minutes, with a toe hold.

TRADING IN STOCKS ALMOST AT STANDSTILL.

New York, March 27.—The progressive decline in stock market transactions proceeded today to a point which brought down speculation to minimum proportions. The fluctuations were so narrow that professional traders had few opportunities and, in the latter part of the day, they left the market to itself, with the result that business was at a standstill much of the time. Lohig Valley fell three points; Canadian Pacific, Northern Pacific and Northwestern also were heavy. Of the industrials, American Sugar was especially heavy.

MARTIN ART TREASURES GO TO METROPOLITAN MUSEUM.

New York, March 27.—The will of the late Frederick Townsend Martin, filed here today, estimates his estate at "more than $500,000." The Metropolitan Museum of Art receives all the art treasures. Most of the estate goes to relatives.

FRANKLIN.

The drift on the thirty-second level of Franklin in the Alouez conglomerate has been extended for fifty feet and there has accumulated practically half the tonnage which will be necessary for the test at the Centennial mill. In another week, it is expected, the full 1,000 tons will have been taken out. Thus far there has been no diminution in the width or richness of the lode. President Edwards states that the rock is ideal for milling, but points out that it is not to be expected that the mill tests will result in a refined copper recovery as high as shown by the assays. These ran better than thirty pounds to the ton, but in the actual milling of the rock the losses in the tailings must be reckoned with. President Edwards believes that the rock which has thus far been taken from the lode will run well above twenty pounds of refined to the ton, but states that even as low as twenty pounds would be satisfactory. In this connection it is pointed out that Franklin can break even handling 800 tons of twelve-pound rock per day on 15-cent copper, so that everything in excess of twelve pounds to the ton would be "velvet." Provided the mill tests show up as well as President Edwards now believes, the next important move will be to find the extent of the lode within the Franklin boundaries, which will be done through openings both above and below the thirty-second level.

1914 MODEL REO THE FIFTH IS HERE $1,175 EQUIPPED
CAR or SUPER-CAR

Let us help you decide between lesser-built cars and this matchless car built by R. E. Olds.

Judge if it's worth while to get super-strength in a car you buy to keep.

If so, Reo the Fifth will appeal to you. It has big margins of safety. It is built slowly and carefully—six weeks to each car.

It has 35 horsepower, but each driving part must stand the tests for a 50 horsepower engine.

It has 15 roller bearings—190 drop forgings. It has a costly clutch which prohibits gear clashing.

It's gears are tested for 75,000 lbs. per tooth—it's springs for 100,000 vibrations. It's engine is tested for days.

It is built so that test cars, after 10,000 miles of rough usage, show in vital parts slight evidence of wear.

It is built to embody the best Mr. Olds knows after 27 years of car building.

IT STAYS NEW

Here is the utmost in an honest car. It is built to render years of perfect service. It is built to save trouble, upkeep and repairs.

It has the new streamline body. It has electric starter and lights, dimming searchlights, demountable rims—all the latest equipment. It is luxurious in finish and upholstery.

And the price this year is $220 less than last year's price with electric starter.

Every spring the demand for this car is twice the factory output. But we can make a few prompt deliveries if you'll call this week.

ANDERSON & BENNETT CO.

We all know how difficult it is for a man past his prime to secure a satisfactory position, and we also are aware that no one employed by another knows when his services may be dispensed with for any reason. This may occur either in his early years or as is often the case after he is well along in life. Unless, therefore, a reserve fund is available to take care of temporary needs a person is liable to be placed in the embarrassing position of sometime having no income and no money on hand. Better come in and start that savings account NOW.

NORWAY'S WOMEN ARE MEN'S EQUALS

Suffragists of Kingdom Have Won Complete Victory Without Resort to Militancy.

London, March 26.—Writing from Christiania, Harold Spender says: "The first and most vivid impression received by a foreigner who moves among Norwegians is the position of women. It seems to differ from their present position in any other country of Europe. They are not submissive, and yet they are not aggressive. They are neither timid nor loud. They dress with modesty, and they dress fittingly, as when they go out for sport. But the great fact is their social position. Here they really seem to move among men as equals; and that position seems to be more accepted without any real damage either to the womanhood or manhood of the country. On the contrary, both seem to be better for it.

The achievement of the voting power by Norwegian women is only a part of this vast movement, which is represented by a claim to equality in society as a whole. The women of Norway have worked for that greater aim simultaneously with the suffrage agitation ever since 1885, and they have achieved their aims together. Practically all the professions are now open to women in Norway, except the priesthood and the army. Men and women are educated together at school and colleges. They form clubs and societies together both for sports, pleasure and serious objects. The young men, indeed are now said to refuse to have separate societies, and the two sexes are more and more working together in all spheres of life. Women sit on juries, and there is now one woman judge. And yet Norway does not sink into the sea. On the contrary, she has, by general consent, never been so prosperous.

The vote is the banner and the emblem of this movement, the crown of woman's claim in Norway. The story of the way in which the women of Norway secured the vote is deeply interesting to all people. There was no violence of any kind—no even interruptions of meetings. The Norwegian women obtained the vote without losing their womanhood. The victory came in the end quite peacefully, and by the consent of all parties. The prime minister of Norway says emphatically that if the women of Norway had acted as the militants are acting in England—or even as the non-militants of the National Union—they would never have got the vote in Norway. The women got the vote in the normal political way, by helping and supporting their friends in all parties.

The first victory of the suffragists in Norway was to secure the local vote. That vote has been very extensively used. It is now universal, and it has resulted in Christiania in the Socialists being the most powerful party in the municipal council. The next victory was the gain of the limited vote—the "Constitution Bill" vote—for state purposes. That was given to the women of Norway by the Conservatives, but with the aid of Liberal members of the storting, who took the view that you must make a beginning somewhere. That limited vote continued for some time; but in 1912 the Liberals were returned to power in spite of it. In 1913 the Liberals and Socialists combined, and not opposed by the Conservatives, extended the vote to all women; and now the suffrage in Norway stands as the same for both men and women—a universal vote for all adults over 25, both for the state and local purposes.

WATER PROBLEM BEING DISCUSSED

With Very Little Snow on the Ground, Level of Teal Lake Is Much Lower Than Usual.

The water problem is again receiving the serious consideration of the Negaunee city officials and other prominent citizens. Inasmuch as there has been very little snow this winter the level of Teal lake will be reduced to a lower point the coming summer than at any previous time.

It is the belief of the city officials that the time is not far distant when a new source of supply will have to be found as the drain upon the lake is increasing steadily. The demand for water for general purposes has shown an increase of 25 per cent in the past six or eight years, and the increased demand for water for the mines has been larger proportionally, due to the fact that many new properties have been opened, all of which are using city water.

If the Teal lake supply should become inadequate to meet the demands of the city, Negaunee would be confronted with the most serious problem that has ever been presented. It is feared it would be impossible to secure a satisfactory supply without going either to Lake Superior or to Lake Michigan, which is more than twenty-five miles from Negaunee, and the expense of either course would, it is said, be practically prohibitive. Shipping has practically all of the water in the lakes in the Iron Cliffs territory under its control, and as there would not be enough there to supply both cities, Negaunee would have to look elsewhere.

A city official yesterday said that the only way that the present water supply could be effectively conserved is to shut off the mines. A great deal of water is being pumped from the mines, but the officials have not yet found any way by which they can use it satisfactorily in the operation of the properties. If this could be done there would be no question as to the future supply from Teal lake, as the springs there would furnish ample water to meet the general demand from the city.

The Negaunee mine is now pumping about 1,500 gallons of water a minute, all of which is going to waste. This water cannot be used either for drinking or mining purposes, as it comes in contact with the ore and is in poor condition when it reaches surface. The same is true of the Maas mine water. If the water pumped from these mines could be saved before it reaches the working portion of the mine and becomes polluted, it could be used to excellent advantage, and would result in a big saving to the company.

The level of the lake drops on an average of twelve inches during the winter season, but this winter it has fallen seventeen inches. Following the thaw last spring the surface of the lake raised twenty-six inches and as a result of the rain storms in the fall it was brought up seven inches above the normal summer level. In one month last fall, when it rained nearly every day, the surface of the lake raised nearly six inches. The water level is now several feet below the average point prior to eight years ago, when the mining companies began drawing heavily upon the supply.

WANTS HEADQUARTERS OF MODERN WOODMEN

Detroit Has Entered Fight to Take Them Away from Rock Island, Ills.

Michigan delegates to the national camp of the Modern Woodmen, soon to be held in Toledo, will be urged to support the claims of Detroit, which has entered the competition for the national headquarters of the order, in which Kansas City and Indianapolis are now engaged. The Detroit camps are a unit in supporting the proposal to establish the headquarters in the Michigan metropolis and it is likely that they will be strongly supported by the other Michigan camps.

The headquarters of the Woodmen now are located at Rock Island, Ill., but will this summer be moved from that state, because of the state laws regarding taxation. These laws demand that the organization carry six times the amount of its death benefit. The organization pays out approximately $1,000,000 a year death benefits, so that it would have to carry $6,000,000 all of the time, on which an annual taxation of approximately $300,000 would be collected by the state.

Because of this tax, the grand officers of the order have decided to move to another state, but just what state that will be has not as yet been decided upon. It will be decided however, in June by the delegates to the annual convention to be held in Toledo, Michigan will make a bid to bring the headquarters to Detroit and will conduct a fight that is expected to put all other states in the shade.

The Detroit Board of Commerce will be asked to take the matter up and use its influence to induce the national headquarters to locate in Detroit, as it is estimated that that city would be benefited immensely by it. The locating of the headquarters there would mean $1,000,000 added clearance to the banks.

The postal department of the post-office would also be benefited considerably by the locating of the headquarters in Detroit. Not only would it bring about 500 employees here or else offer employment to that many Detroiters, but it would also mean the building of a home for the organization.

Kansas City and Indianapolis are both out strong to get the headquarters, the latter city going so far as to offer a site for the building of a home for it. Detroit members, however, are confident of winning as it is believed the head officers desire to locate here. This belief is substantiated by the fact that John Nagel, city assessor, was called to a meeting at Rock Island recently and asked to give his version of the state laws of Michigan as regards taxation.

Detroit, and in fact, all Michigan, will make a big demonstration in Toledo as part of the plans to get the headquarters.

Teamsters and drivers are complaining of the condition of the roads between the city and the Bellevue farm, near Palmer. It is said that it is almost impossible for two rigs to pass at many points along the highway.

STATE OFFICIAL THROWS A SCARE INTO M. A. C.

Says That Law Was Violated and That It Can Have No More Money.

East Lansing, Mich., March 27.—Auditor-General O. B. Fuller has served notice upon Secretary A. M. Brown, of the state board of agriculture, that no more money can be drawn from the state treasury by the Michigan agricultural college until the supreme court says so.

The action of the auditor-general is a result of the violation of the act of the last legislature making the annual appropriation for the M. A. C. one-sixth of a mill on the assessed valuation of the state. This law says: "No part of this" (the one-sixth mill tax) "or any other appropriation shall be available in case a sum in excess of $55,000 from any or all sources, shall be expended in fiscal year for the maintenance of the mechanical and engineering department."

This act was approved May 13, 1913, and given immediate effect.

Already $35,000 has been spent on the engineering department in the present fiscal year and the auditor-general has accordingly cut off all the income of the college as provided by the statute.

Secretary Brown, of the state board, said this afternoon that mandamus proceedings will at once be brought in the supreme court to compel the auditor-general to continue payments to the college. The plea will be based upon the contention that $35,000 of state money has not been spent upon the engineering department.

"If the petition is denied," stated Secretary Brown, "it is difficult to know the college can continue its work beyond the next few weeks."

It was thought first that only the income of the engineering department would be cut off, and that the money which the college receives from the national government could be employed for the mechanical arts division of M. A. C., but the statute specifically covers this point.

The proceedings in the supreme court will probably be started this week. An adverse decision will practically mean the closing down of M. A. C. until some solution for the tangle is found.

The board has made a statement to the effect that the engineering department was maintained to get federal appropriations and that unless this was done the federal money would have been withheld. The board says the department can't be maintained on $35,000 a year.

According to Auditor-general Fuller the department had spent $36,992.55 up to March 1. Of this, $15,000 came from state funds. In the fiscal year ending Jan. 30, $57,717.18 was spent.

ADRIAN—Upon his plea of guilty to a charge of obstructing justice, John M. Sommerville, of this city, was sentenced by Judge O'Nealey to one year in the Detroit workhouse and was fined $146. The offense to which Sommerville pleaded guilty was the sending of hostile local option witnesses out of the city.

MARLETTE—Quick work on the part of E. A. Nichols, prevented a serious wreck on the Pere Marquette. While walking from Clifford to Marlette he discovered a broken rail; knowing that a freight was coming, he ran half a mile back to Clifford and had the train stopped in time. The break was on a bad grade where an accident could hardly have been averted.

JACKSON—A circuit court jury awarded a judgment of $5,500 to Amelia Schuetz for loss of her right arm while employed at a mangle in the laundry of the Osego hotel. She sued the hotel proprietors, Fred and Harry Van Orman. Evidence showed she was only twelve years old at the time of the accident and that the defendants employed her in violation of the child labor law.

CADILLAC—The Citizens' Telephone company has filed to show why the injunction recently gotten out by the city commission should not issue, and the company is restrained from putting into force its proposed increase in rates on April 1. The company also is restrained from collecting penalties of fifty cents per quarter because rentals are not paid in advance and it may not remove any phones because increased rentals are not paid. Suit probably will be brought by the city to force the Citizens' company to refund all rentals in excess of $15 for residences and $24 for business phones, paid since Jan. 1, when the company raised rentals. When phones were first placed in Cadillac an agreement was reached on the price patrons would pay. The Citizens' company, three years ago, acquired the property of the original company.

KATHLYN MATINEE TODAY.

Two ten-reel matinees will be given today at the Star theater commencing at 1:30 and 3:30 o'clock. The Kathlyn pictures will be shown at the 1:50 o'clock matinee. The house was crowded for three performances last evening. A screaming Escanaba two-reel comedy will be the feature of tonight's program. It is entitled, "The Awakening of Snakeville." The cast of characters includes "Alkali Ike," Augustus C. Carney, Victor Fottel, Harry Todd, Frederick Church, Dave Kirkland, Carl Stockdale and the funniest of all character women, Margaret Joslyn. Other pictures on tonight's program are "The Broken Heart," a Selig comedy, "His Second Wife," a Vitagraph drama of heart interest, and "The Baby Show."

CURFEW RULE NOT WORKABLE

Ordinance in Which It Is Found Will Have to Be Revamped if Police Officers Are Fairly to Be Expected to Enforce Regulation in an Effective Manner.

Chief of Police McIntosh Will Meet With Committee of Women's Welfare League Today to Talk Over This and Other Matters—Parents Are Responsible.

E. E. McIntosh, the chief of police, is due today for a conference with a committee of the Women's Welfare League on the subject of enforcement of the curfew regulation and other police matters. In the chief will outline for the benefit of the committee the impracticable nature of the present curfew ordinance, and the difficulties in the way of enforcing it, and the members of the committee will, in their turn, express their views on the perennial question, "How Marquette ought to be policed."

Yesterday City Attorney Brown expressed the opinion that the curfew regulation in its present form is cruel and impracticable, and a belief that before it can be made to amount to anything it will have to be revamped, and approved in a new form. It is contained in section 2 of an ordinance relative to the preservation of public peace and good order, adopted in 1893, and is as follows:

"No child under the age of sixteen years shall loiter, run, stand or be in upon any street, alley or other public place after 9 o'clock in the evening, unless such child be accompanied by parent or other person of mature years, or be upon business of its parent or guardian."

The force of the provision is broken down by its concluding clause, as City Attorney Brown points out, for parents of children who are abroad at night are the parents who don't care particularly where their children are as long as they are out of the way. If derelictions of their youngsters are called to their attention they would at once assert that the children were abroad with their permission, or on special errands, and so it would not, under the terms of the ordinance, be possible to reach them.

Can't Cover Ground.

Another reason why the ordinance is impracticable is the impossibility of enforcing it in its present form with the handful of police officers who guard the city's peace. There are said to be twenty-five miles of streets in Marquette and they are spread out over an area of several square miles. It is clear that in its present comprehensive form the curfew regulation can be nothing but a dead letter. The suggestion that a special officer might be detailed to enforce it is also impracticable, as he could cover but a small portion of the ground, and it would be an easy matter for delinquent children to keep out of his reach.

The suggestion is made, and it will perhaps be adopted in the form of a modified ordinance, that there should be a limited district in which the police officer should seek strictly to enforce the requirement that all children of a specified age who cannot show reason for being abroad after 9 o'clock shall be kept off the streets. This district might be made to coincide with the business district, or it might embrace the part of the city embraced within the saloon limits.

If the police were given only a limited territory in which to enforce a workable curfew regulation it is possible it is said, that it might be made effective, but persons acquainted with conditions surrounding police work assert that it is absurd to expect the force to compel respect for the present regulation, and at the same time look after their other duties.

A Parental Problem.

In discussion of this matter the point is frequently made that the problem involved is one for the parents, rather than the police, and that while it is all very well to establish practicable police regulations, the parents should come in for most of the educational campaign to be made on the subject. But at the same time it is admitted that more could be accomplished with a carefully drawn and workable curfew regulation than with the one that has now been in force for twenty years.

FUNERAL OF MRS. DELANEY.

Services at St. Peter's Cathedral Yesterday Largely Attended.

Impressive funeral services were conducted at 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning at St. Peter's church for Mrs. D. A. Delaney, who died Tuesday at St. Mary's hospital. Ample expression of the high regard in which she was held by the people of the city was given in the large attendance at the services. Those from out of town who attended were: John E. and Miss Anna McCarthy of Duluth, a sister and brother of Mrs. Delaney; Mrs. M. Maney, of Ashland, Wis.; Mrs. Nellie McGinnis and daughter, Marie, of Bayfield, Wis., and Miss Mame Tierney of Menominee.

NEW LAND FOR ENTRY.

Long Point in Saginaw Bay May Be Filed on May 12.

An official plot of the recent survey of Long Point in Saginaw Bay has been received at the government land office and will become subject to entry at 10 o'clock Tuesday, May 12, at which time the right will be awarded to the applicant, if there is but one, and to the highest bidder if there is more than one, in which event entries will be regarded as simultaneous.

The plot has been surveyed only recently, and is described as containing altogether 1.55 acres. No information regarding the kind or condition of the soil accompanied the plot of the survey.

In the interests of one of the most important of his clients and because of the condition of his wife's health, S. W. Shaull of this city will leave tonight for Los Angeles and San Francisco, Cal., accompanied by Mrs. Shaull and his daughter, Ethel. It is very likely that his business there will necessitate his remaining for at least two months. Mrs. Shaull and her daughter will remain in California indefinitely, perhaps a year or more, until Mrs. Shaull has fully recovered her health. Mr. Shaull's legal work here will be looked after by E. A. MacDonald, his assistant as counsel for the Breitung mining interests. Miss W. L'Huilier will be in charge of the office.

BEGIN REMODELLING CITY HALL OFFICES

Work Will Be Pushed Over Sunday to Have It Finished at an Early Date.

The work of remodeling the offices in the west side of the city hall was begun yesterday. Jerry Sharland and two other workmen had the partition between the controller's office and the office of the city treasurer practically ripped out yesterday afternoon, and will continue on the job all day Sunday, so as to have the offices ready Monday for rearrangement and the installing of desks and fixtures. It is the plan to have the space now taken up by the lobby, treasurer's office and private office of the controller converted into one large room for use by Joseph F. Anderson and the several bookkeepers.

The carpenters will make every effort to have the work completed quickly, although they have already been confronted by two situations which were not previously figured on. In removing the partitions the ceiling will be left unsupported and an eye beam will have to be temporarily installed to insure safety. Also a flooring will have to be laid from the controller's office to the end of the space now occupied by the city treasurer. This will show up the work slightly. The men will commence laying the flooring Monday morning.

NEED OF HEALTH SERVICE SHOWN

Cases Reported in Which Teachers Sent for Children Where Measles Were Prevalent.

Dr. Main, the health officer, cites an instance that illustrates in a convincing manner the need of some kind of medical supervision of the public schools. The measles, the doctor, who has made a preliminary survey of the schools, is seeking to restrict an epidemic of measles that has something of a hold.

In the course of his inquiries into the situation, he encountered cases in which one or more teachers, who did not want to see their classes depleted, had explicitly requested the attendance of children coming from homes in which they knew cases of measles were being cared for. By this course they exposed all the children in the schools who had not had the measles, and ran directly counter to the regulations that are supposed to govern the management of communicable diseases in the schools, for all teachers are expected to refuse pupils from homes where these diseases are being treated.

As soon as he ascertained the situation, Dr. Main sorted out the children from homes where cases of measles were being cared for and sent them from the school rooms, with injunctions not to return until the disease had run its course. He also instructed the teachers on their duty under the state law dealing with the subject of the public health.

SOON TO MEET WITH BOARD.

Dr. Main will meet with the members of the school board at an early date to take up the subject of medical inspection in the schools. He has discussed the matter informally with Superintendent Gehrand and with the trustees, but no definite plans have as yet been made as to the nature or the extent of the work that will be undertaken.

"I realize the importance of having the support of the public in this important work, and my idea is that we should advance from one step to another slowly so that no unnecessary opposition will be aroused," Dr. Main said yesterday, "it will be of the greatest importance that we have the cordial approval of the parents in what we undertake."

Dr. Main is now busy with the arrangement of his laboratory in the city hall, which it is proposed to make one of the best equipped laboratories of the kind in the upper peninsula. The apparatus he found there on taking office will be added to somewhat, to supply equipment necessary for the effective carrying on of the work.

Deputy Wardens Mosher and Marks Made Important Arrest in Alger County.

E. D. Mosher, deputy state game warden, is home from Alger county, where, in company with Deputy Marks, he unearthed conclusive evidence of one of the most serious violations of the game laws ever committed in the district by a single individual, with the result that Jim Twedale was arrested for killing fifteen deer out of season. He will be placed on trial in Munising the early part of April.

Twedale's shack is located about fourteen miles from Treary, near the Delta county line, remote from other settlers and in an out of the way place that is but infrequently visited. The man has been suspected of violations for a considerable time and the deputies felt pretty certain that as a result of the visit they had planned they would be able to secure strong evidence against him.

When the deputies approached the shack Twedale was profuse in his assurances that he was glad to see them and that he never took any liberties with the game laws. "You are perfectly welcome to search my place. You will find nothing, for I have not had a piece of venison since the hunting season closed, he told them. But he was very certain that the deputies would find evidence of violations at the shack of an Austrian a few miles from his place, and urged that they go there at once, telling them definitely where they would find the meat.

The deputies, however, proceeded to make a thorough search of Twedale's shack and the surroundings, with the man himself an interested onlooker. He was at his ease as long as they remained in and about the shack, but when they began to work back into the surrounding woods he showed great anxiety, which climaxed as they approached a fallen log. Kicking away the brush from one end of the log they found that it was hollow, and a little investigation disclosed the heads of eleven deer and four bucks. The heads were so fresh it was clear that all the deer had been killed since the close of the hunting season.

Twedale was greatly crestfallen at the success of the deputies' search, but he made no effort to resist arrest and agreed to carry out all of the orders given him. Twedale's violations are said to have been the most extensive ever committed by any one man in the district, so far as definite evidence has proved the guilt of an offender. The arrest is one of the most important in which Deputies Mosher and Marks have ever figured, and in the past few years they have put a number of important hauls to their credit.
