

GREAT CROWDS AT QUEBEC SEE SAD SPECTACLE

Heights Overlooking the River St. Lawrence are Black With People as Funeral Ship Arrives With Recovered Bodies of the Empress of Ireland Dead.

Remains of 188 Persons Are on Board the Vessel and Directly They Are Taken Ashore the Work of Identification Begins—Not Coffins Enough for All.

Quebec, Que., May 31.—The Canadian government steamer Lady Grey brought from Rimouski today 188 bodies, recovered from the wreck of the Empress of Ireland. The historic heights overlooking the St. Lawrence river were black with spectators as the funeral ship moved slowly up the river and was moored at the new embankment wall near the breakwater. The coffins were carried ashore and the work of identification began without delay.

The Lady Grey was escorted by six majesty's ship Essex. Fifty sailors from the warship, with barred heads, carried the coffins down the gangplank and laid them in rows on three long tables, stretched under the freight sheds on the pier. The building was draped in black. A crowd that included many of the survivors and relatives and friends of the dead gathered at the door and waited for permission to enter and pass down the aisles between the rows of bodies.

Many in Rough Pine Boxes.

The three tables, each 100 feet long, soon held coffins of every description. Assembled on one were twenty-five little white caskets that held the bodies of children. Although the Lady Grey had taken to Rimouski all the coffins that could be gathered in the short time at the disposal of the government and steamship officers, there were not enough. Besides the children's caskets there were eighty-eight containing the bodies of adults. The remains of the other five other victims were brought here in rough pine boxes, hastily nailed together for the occasion.

There was no sadder sight in the building than the table where rested these seventy-five improvised coffins, for many of them held the bodies of mothers and children locked in the last embrace, just as they had sunk to their deaths off Father point early Friday morning.

Hundreds Still in Wrecked Hull.

Besides the bodies brought by the Lady Grey, eight men have been identified and taken in charge by relatives. Search of the waters near Father point where the Empress of Ireland was rammed has revealed few more of the victims, and it seems probable that the bodies of hundreds of the nine hundred persons whose lives were lost lie imprisoned within the shattered hull of the big steamer.

Investigation into the responsibility for the disaster, began yesterday before a coroner's jury at Rimouski, was adjourned for a week after Henry G. Kendall, captain of the Canadian ship, the chief engineer had given testimony placing the blame for the collision on the Storstad and declaring that the sinking was hastened by the seemingly deliberate withdrawal of the boiler's pressure from the hole it had made in the Empress's side.

Revised figures show that 964 persons perished in the disaster. The saved number 403.

Coal Boat Little Damaged.

Montreal, May 31.—The Danish collier Storstad, which rammed the Empress of Ireland in the St. Lawrence river near Father point early on Friday morning, reached here today under her own steam. Contrary to the stories which have been received of her condition, she was little injured. Her stern was bent back for more than a dozen feet above the water line, but she stood up straight. She has about 11,000 tons of coal on board.

Only a few officials were allowed to board the Storstad. Directly the vessel tied up a wire issued by the Canadian Pacific railway, claiming $2,000,000 in the Quebec admiralty court, was served on Captain Andersen and the Storstad was placed under detention. Captain Andersen said he would make no statement, as the officials of the Dominion Coal company, the charterer of the boat, had arranged to do that.

No sooner was the vessel moored than she began to unload her cargo of coal and work it not for the battered condition of her bow it would be difficult to imagine that the collier had so recently taken part in one of the worst marine disasters in the history of Canadian navigation.

It was said by seamen who were persuaded to tell something of the collision, though they had been warned by their officers not to talk to newspapermen, that Captain Andersen was out duty at the time of the accident; that the ship had been ordered astern before it struck the Empress a glancing blow, and that three hundred and fifty persons were saved by the crew of the Storstad.

Denied That Collier Backed Away.

After a conference between representatives of the Storstad's owners and Captain Andersen a statement was given out that, contrary to what has been stated by the captain of the Empress of Ireland, the Storstad did not back away after the collision. On the contrary, she steamed ahead in an effort to keep her bow in the hole she had dug into the side of the Empress. The Empress, however, according to the statement, headed away and bent the Storstad's bow over at an acute

CHICAGO MAN SAVES BROTHER. LOSES OWN LIFE

Chicago, May 31.—Harry Lund was drowned today, giving up his life to save his younger brother Arthur. The canoe in which they were riding on the lake was overturned. The older man helped his brother to the overturned boat and, in order not to add to its burden, started to swim ashore. Arthur was rescued, but Harry sank in the cold water, within a few yards of safety.

Colorado Strike STILL TO CONTINUE

Settlement Appears Remote—Cost to Date Is 66 Lives and Probably $12,000,000.

Denver, Colo., May 31.—Prospects for a settlement of the strike in the coal fields, where the miners have been out since Sept. 23, 1913, and where 1,717 United States troops are guarding the mining properties, apparently are no nearer realization than they were weeks ago, according to statements by both union officials and mine operators today.

Sixty-six persons are known to have been killed in the numerous battles and disorders, and the total wounded list is forty-eight. Classified, the cost to date is a result of the strike since last September shows eighteen strikers, ten mine guards, nineteen mine employees, two militiamen, three men non-combatants, two women and twelve children. Two classes of mine employees were members of the Colorado National Guard, but were not in uniform when killed. Twenty had been killed prior to April 20, the date of the battle of Ludlow, and forty-six were killed during the next ten days, when federal troops stopped the warfare.

The cost of the eight months' conflict is variously estimated at from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000. The figures include the sum of $700,000 incurred by the state in maintaining state troops in the field until the arrival of the federal forces; an estimate of nearly $7,000,000 cost to the union, and the sweeping statement of the operators that their loss will total "several million."

NAVY'S WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY KEEPS WASHINGTON IN TOUCH WITH SHIPS OF WAR IN ALL SEVEN SEAS

Washington, May 31.—Captain W. H. G. Bullard, U. S. N., who is in charge of the naval radio service, and who has his headquarters under the shadow of the three great steel masts which form the center of the naval wireless system at Arlington, Va., seven miles from Washington, has just presented to the Naval Institute an interesting review of the development of naval wireless telegraphy.

The leaps and bounds of this development are brought to pointed notice when it is recalled that during the Spanish-American war such a thing as wireless telegraphy was undried in the United States navy—any other navy. It was during 1899, the year after the Spanish-American war, that the British navy became the first of all of the naval powers to try the new means of communication upon the three warships—Alexandria, Europa, and Juno. These ships succeeded in communicating up to a distance of seventy-four miles.

Whole Navy Now in Touch.

Today practically every vessel in the United States navy is equipped with apparatus for this aerial communication, and it is so successfully operated that there is scarcely a point in the seven seas at which the bigger battleships would be out of touch, through relay, with the three great masts towering over Captain Bullard's headquarters at Arlington.

GALE LIKE CYCLONE CAUSES HEAVY LOSS IN THE CREAM CITY

Milwaukee, Wis., May 31.—One of the severest wind and electrical storms in the history of the city, resembling cyclone, struck Milwaukee and western suburbs late today. It blew down a score of buildings in West Allis and Wauwatosa, demolished fences, barns and other buildings on the state fair grounds, and crippled interurban traffic. The damage may reach $500,000. No lives were lost.

CARRANZA ISSUES WARNING TO SHIPS

Durango, Mex., May 31.—General Carranza today issued a notice declaring Tampico, Tuxpan and Matamoros officially opened to the commerce of the world. He also gave notice to the steamships plying to these ports that they must continue the arrangement for service made with the Madero government, or the contracts and concessions granted them would be declared void.

CREW LOSES BELONGINGS WHEN STEAMER THOMPSON BURNS IN GEORGIAN BAY.

Detroit, May 31.—Captain James J. Maddock and four of the crew of eleven men who escaped when the wooden steamer Emma B. Thompson burned to the water's edge in Georgian bay last Thursday have reached Detroit. The first news of the disaster to reach here was given out by the captain tonight.

Survivors Go Into Water, Also.

In spite of the sacrifice, the boat capsized shortly after the three men had disappeared in the water, and the four other occupants were thrown into the river. Sevill and German succeeded in clinging to the overturned craft and, grasping the girls as they were about to sink for the second time, held them until the party was rescued by a motor boat.

Anti-American Disorder at Tampico.

Mr. Bryan Sees the President.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan held a brief conference late in the day, and it is understood communications bearing on the late developments at Niagara Falls were forwarded to Commissioners Lamar and Lehmann. When Luis Cabrera, whom General Carranza hurriedly summoned from Europe, reached Washington he was met by Rafael Zubaran, minister of the Interior in the Carranza cabinet, and Jose Vasconcelos, a second emissary of the northern Mexican leader. The three were together throughout the day.

The bond was executed and Consul Canada's seal affixed, however, and the Ypiranga probably will sail for Havana tomorrow.

EDITORIAL OPINION

Roosevelt's Way. Ex-President Roosevelt has told how he planned to seize and anthracite coal mines during the strike of 1902 and caused them to be operated under government control. The test of this policy never occurred, as the mine operators decided to yield to arbitration. It was Roosevelt's decision, however, which brought a speedy solution of the trouble at that time, and thereby avoided a crisis which threatened the welfare and prosperity of the country.

This plan of Roosevelt's, moreover, is typical of the man, and it again brings to public attention his forceful and direct method of "going to the heart" of things and getting results, quite regardless of red tape and precedent. And it was this very quality which won the respect and admiration of the American people as a whole, for his motive and action invariably were based on a desire to serve the public interest. Besides the matter of "going to the heart" of things, it is difficult to believe that under certain conditions the people of this nation might again turn to Roosevelt for leadership. This idea apparently underlies the following comment by the Milwaukee Press: "The fact that the man who has been so successful in his political career, may differ from him strongly in many of his views and actions, but for the man possessed of genuine, old-fashioned manhood these things cannot dim the tremendous vital appeal of the Roosevelt personality."

Some question is now being raised as to the "constitutional" of this law. It is the fundamental question of the question of its legal practicability. If the new law really conflicts with the old law in any way that seems to develop one of those "tangles" which seem to persistently appear in our election statutes, every possible effort should be made, under the name of reason, to preserve the new principle.

Recalling an Oratorical Gem. Warren G. Harding's hat sails gayly into the Ohio senatorial ring. Events are looking up. There promises to be a fight for Mr. Harding's ginger and a strong distinction to be made between the man who is an orator who loves to orate; he thinks in figures of speech and gets his inspiration from the eagle, symbol of soaring virtue and ambition.

In every collection of World's Best Orations belongs the Harding masterpiece delivered at the Chicago banquet of 1912. Why not exile? Australia may not be so convenient for penal transportation purposes as formerly, and Van Diemen's Land may now be unavailable. Even the legal machinery of the ticket-of-leave industry was dismantled nearly half a century ago, if recollection serves. But paroles are common enough at present, if banishment is not. Need stimulates invention, and Great Britain could contrive some sort of expulsion for her penitentiary victims.

They might even be made welcome to the United States as undesirable aliens. It is not as if we had not received the hell evis of the flock and found her a harmless, if grasping, old party. Her pupils would have no great ground of hostility over her and might prove equally harmless, especially if their operations could be confined to the woman suffrage states. Moreover, the Chautauqua season is opening and they would come in uncommonly handy as side exhibits.

The Memorial day exercises this year were the most notable of several years past, both in the extent of the participation by the public and the interest they aroused. The churches were all represented at the observance, the city officials were present and a large assemblage followed the addresses. Favored by ideal weather, the outdoor program was a full success. Future Memorial days should be observed in the same spirit that marked the varying out of the exercises Saturday. The years when they will be presided over by the last of the veterans of the great conflict are not to be many.

That was worse than Greek to Mrs. Kiamalski, who insisted on seeing what such a long word might mean. Nothing was said till the afflicted member was rebanded, when the Polish sister, wise in experience, remarked with a sigh: "It's a matter of distress."

A story is told of a sailor who decided to walk from Newport to Cardiff. He met a cart driver and asked: "How far is it from Newport to Cardiff?" "Twelve miles, mister," was the reply. "Thankee," said Pat. "An' how far is it from Cardiff to Newport?" "Driver—Didn't I tell you how far it was from Newport to Cardiff? Do you suppose it is any farther the other way back?" "Irishman—Sure and I don't know I know it is a great deal farther from New Year's Day to Christmas than from Christmas to New Year's Day."

A countryman named Street owned a runaway cow. As the season advanced Street was compelled to make several long pilgrimages into the country for the reprehensible animal. On one occasion the trail led on and on until Street had entered the environs of a town where a trolley car system was installed. Just as the cow-lumber turned a corner in the outskirts the car lumbered up and the conductor called out: "Cedar Street!"

The owner of the cow stopped in his tracks and bawled back at the man in blue and gold: "No, darn her, I ain't seed her; an' when I do it won't be good for her blanded old hide either!"—National Monthly.

Edward D. Fisher, deputy controller of New York City, smiled when the conversation turned to marksmanship. He said he was reminded of the great shot made by Brown.

Smith and Jones were walking along the boulevard one afternoon when Brown was incidentally mentioned. "Speaking of Brown," thoughtfully remarked Jones, "I understood he is something of a shot."

"He is a wonder, was the prompt rejoinder of Smith. "We were out in a field practising the other day when he hit the bull's-eye at the first shot."

"Fine for Brown," thoughtfully returned Jones. "Ticked him almost to death, I suppose?" "Don't you believe it!" answered Smith. "He had to pay for the bull."

A Cleveland attorney took the Mediterranean trip a month ago. It was his first time across the water, and he stated on his return that he would have had a perfectly glorious time but for the silly questions asked him by customs officials.

It was on the pier at New York that his woes came to a head. The officer looked up in amazement. "Open your trunk, please," commanded the customs house officer. "Have you anything in there but personal property?" he continued.

"What do you mean by personal property?" countered the voyager. "For heaven's sake, don't you know what personal property is?" "I thought I did," answered the attorney. "And I can assure you that there is no real estate in my trunk."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WOMEN HAVE TO SMILE

In a great many cases and try to make those around them happy, while they are racked with the pain of organic trouble. Few men realize how common such a condition is. The remedy for this condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, which for forty years has been overcoming the most obstinate cases of women. Every woman suffering from female ills owes it to herself and family to give it a fair trial.

BONDS OF $10,000 RETIRED.

First Bonded Debt of Houghton to Expire is Liquidated.

Mayor Hartman of Houghton has retired $10,000 of village thirty-year water bonds, payment being made at the Houghton National bank. The bonds were the first ever issued by Houghton, the money realized being utilized in building the first water works system. These are the first bonds ever retired by the village.

ASKS COUNTY TO BE BONDED.

At the meeting of the Baraga county board of supervisors at L'Anse Friday, the county road commission presented a petition, asking the supervisors to submit to the people a proposal to bond the county for $75,000 for the construction of roads and the repair of existing highways. The supervisors took the matter under advisement.

NEW ORGAN FOR ST. MARY'S.

In the near future St. Mary's Italian church of Calumet will receive from Cincinnati, O., an organ which was ordered some time ago and which will cost $2,500. The work must be completed by August. It is probable that elaborate dedication exercises will be held.

MEMORIAL DAY GOLF MATCH.

Ruhl Team Wins from Black Team With Score of 20 to 17.

The Memorial Day golf match, the opening event of the Portage Lake club, was won by the team captained by A. J. Ruhl. This team won from John W. Black's team with a score of 20 to 17. The weather was not ideal for golf, being windy, but on the whole a fair article of golf was produced. The teams were made up as follows:

Ruhl—Marshall, Walsh, Smith, Rice, Whittemore, Haas, Nichols, Hubbard, Van Orden, Byrne, Pryor, Cairns, Sheldon and Calverley.

Black—Vivian, Hebard, Baudin, Zandh, Uren, Harkness, Whitford, Messinger, Frimodig, Robinson, Thompson, Souger and Shields.

The team for the Tom Morris match probably would not be known for several days. The physicians admit that his condition is serious.

OPENING OF RESORT SEASON.

Steamer Hayes on the White City Run—Plowboy Coming Also.

The steamer R. B. Hayes, recently purchased in Toledo by the White City Amusement company for the Houghton-White City run, arrived Saturday and began making regular trips yesterday. The Hayes is a large steamer and designed especially for the excursion business. White City will this year be conducted on new plans, the purpose being to make it more attractive to women and children.

The Clow & Nicholson Transportation company of Duluth will today send the steamer Plowboy from Duluth to Houghton to engage in the excursion business on Portage lake, assuring ample transportation facilities for those who will see the open during the hot weather. The Plowboy is well known on the lake, having carried on an excursion business there during several seasons past. While her owners have not announced her route, she probably will be on the Houghton-Canal run. The Canal route this season is in charge of George Hoeking, former manager of White City. As there has been no regular steamer to the Canal in some seasons past, the summer populace there has been reduced, but with the advent of the Plowboy this oldest recreation place on Portage lake undoubtedly will resume its popularity.

PUBLIC LIBRARIAN RESIGNS.

Miss Haugen Succeeded at Houghton by Miss Harriet Allen.

Miss Harriet Allen of Rhineland, Wis., has arrived in Houghton to assume the duties of librarian at the public library, succeeding Miss Constance Haugen, resigned. Miss Allen is a graduate from the University of Wisconsin library school and has had several years' experience. Miss Haugen resigns because she intends to give up library work. Her departure will be regretted, because during her short stay in Houghton she has won many friends personally and professionally. She left for her home in Madison yesterday.

DROWNS IN TWO FEET OF WATER.

The young son of Fred Tiranen, who lives on a farm in the Trap Rock Valley two miles from Copper City, was drowned Friday afternoon while playing with a number of other children.

The child, who was aged one and one-half years, met death in a pit containing two feet of water. It is supposed the infant was left for a moment by the others and there was no one present to help after he fell into the water. The body was recovered ten or fifteen minutes after the accident. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Pine street Finnish church, at Calumet, Rev. M. Heidemann officiating.

FOUNDATIONS OF HOME RULE.

Perhaps few people, even in the country most concerned, realize how carefully the basis has been laid for home rule in Ireland during the last generation.

In the time that has passed since Gladstone and Parnell failed the cause of Ireland has been transformed. The old rack-renting tenant days have gone forever. Much of the land has gone back to the people; and most of the rest is well on the way. Education has spread. Prosperity has increased. Co-operation has not yet reached the heights it has attained in Denmark; but the Irish farmers have set themselves the Danish standard as an ideal, and they will attain it. The elements of disorder have shrunk to a fraction of their former proportions, while the forces of stability have multiplied and spread.—Chicago Journal.

MOTORCAR DRIVER DAWSON.

HURT IN INDIANAPOLIS RACE, IS IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

Indianapolis, May 31.—Of the six men injured yesterday in the 500-mile automobile race, which was won by Rene Thomas, a Frenchman, Joe Dawson alone remained in the hospital today. While it was said that he was doing as well as the physician expected, it also was stated that the extent of his injuries probably would not be known for several days. The physicians admit that his condition is serious.

Race Course Deserted.

All outgoing trains were crowded late today with departing race enthusiasts, and the race course, which for weeks has resounded with the hum of motors, was positively deserted. Foreign racing cars decisively proved their superiority over racing motors of American make by taking the first four places. The only American to get in the big winning was Barney Oldfield, who drove a Stutz to fifth place. Rene Thomas, driving a Delozer car not only won first place and took the $25,000 cash prize offered by the management of the Speedway, but also broke all speedway records for every distance from 100 to 500 miles. In addition to the $25,000 cash prize he won nearly $25,000 worth of trophies. Arthur Duray, a Belgian, driving the French "Baby" Peugeot, won second place, taking the $10,000 cash prize.

FEDERAL EXAMINER WILL PAY VISIT TODAY TO WM. ROCKEFELLER.

Washington, May 31.—Examiners of the interstate commerce commission appointed to go over the books of J. P. Morgan & Co. relating to the affairs of the New Haven railroad returned to New York tonight to resume their task. They had spent the weekend holiday here.

Examiner McAdams failed to meet William Rockefeller, the aged financier, in Greenwich, Conn., on Saturday, but it was stated that they have an agreement to meet tomorrow. Mr. McAdams will attempt to determine whether Mr. Rockefeller could stand the strain of an examination during the New Haven investigation, which will be resumed here next Wednesday.

CHICAGO POLICE GUARD A HOSPITAL THREATENED WITH USE OF DYNAMITE.

Chicago, May 31.—Threats to blow up the Columbus extension hospital caused the police to establish a guard around the institution today. Dr. C. Volini, former president of the White Hand society, an organization formed to combat the so-called Black Hand society, has received four letters demanding $5,000 on pain of dynamiting the hospital. The hospital is conducted by the missionary sisters of the Sacred Heart.

FRICTION REDUCING MOTOR OIL

POLARINE remains liquid at zero. POLARINE differs from all other makes of motor oils, in that it furnishes perfect lubrication to friction surfaces at extremes of temperature. Send for The Cook's Book By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill It's FREE

Our instructions to the famous editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine were: "Get up a book of recipes of the things people like best. Find the best way to make and bake each one. Then write it out so plainly that even an inexperienced housewife can't have a failure."

"The Cook's Book" was the result. Some of the 90 recipes were originated, many of them were improved upon, and all were personally tested by this best known authority on cooking in America, and she tells so clearly how she made everything that one cannot go astray.

While some of the cakes and pastry are elaborate enough for any occasion, the recipes are all thoroughly practical and call for no expensive and unusual ingredients. In addition to telling how to make them, the book is beautifully illustrated in colors showing how to arrange and serve the dishes appetizingly.

More than half a million of "The Cook's Book" are now in use in American households. Yet the demand is constantly increasing. Many send for two or three at a time to give to friends or young housekeepers. Don't depend on borrowing one from a neighbor—have one of your own.

How to Get "The Cook's Book"

In every 25c can of K.C. Baking Powder is packed a colored certificate. Send us one of these certificates (paste it on a postal card if you like) with your name and address plainly written, and "The Cook's Book" will be mailed free of charge. Only one book for each certificate.

If You are Subject to Colds This Editorial will Interest You.

A Great Majority of People Get One or More Colds Every Season and It is of Vital Interest to All to Learn How to Avoid and Relieve Colds Quickly, Since Colds are Said to be Contagious.

Some people think colds are only caught through exposure. This in return is contradicted by the fact that Arctic explorers are peculiarly free from colds. It is more generally accepted that colds are the result of civilized life, due to super-heated rooms and a very rapid change in temperature which causes the nerve centers to be depressed, and still more largely due to contagion—one member of a family imparting a cold to another by sneezing or coughing.

A cold means nothing if relieved quickly. That such a purpose may be accomplished, a quick aid to a cold is an essential. A remedy especially devised to relieve colds quickly is PERUNA.

PERUNA contains such ingredients that have an especially beneficial influence upon the inflamed mucous membranes and the quicker these mucous membranes are given the benefit of a remedy like PERUNA, the quicker the relief and the less contagion.

A neglected cold may become a serious menace to one's own life, and far worse, may endanger one's family.

We insure our homes against fire, our lives against death. Why should we not insure ourselves against colds if possible by having a medicine in the family chest that can be used at once?

PERUNA is a reliable household remedy for colds and should be in every home, for there should be a desire to combat a cold as quickly as possible. This is enlightened hygiene.

People who are feeble and run down are more subject to colds than persons in normal health. Such persons need outdoor life and PERUNA to help build up a strong constitution. If you have a poor appetite that is often a warning that you probably need a tonic like Peruna for Peruna aids the digestive organs. When your appetite is fair and work and exercise do not quickly tire you, your susceptibility to colds diminishes very much.

Persons who object to liquid medicines can now obtain PERUNA TABLETS.

Fire on Furnace Dock—Another of the periodical fires on the old Grace Furnace dock yesterday morning was responsible for the sounding of the fire alarm and members of the hose company turned out and threw a stream on the blaze until it was quenched. It is believed the fire was started by a spark from a locomotive or by a cigar stub carelessly thrown into the dry timber by some visitor to the dock.

 "For over a year I had kidney trouble. I suffered from pain in the small of my back and was hardly able to stoop or lift. I became easily tired, was languid and nervous and was also subject to headaches and dizzy spells. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, obliging me to arise at night. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply and three boxes permanently cured me."

DISCUSSES CAUSES OF FOREST FIRES

Secretary Wyman of Protective Association Holds Dry Season Big Factor.

Thomas B. Wyman, secretary of the Northern Forest Protective Association, has issued the following statement concerning recent forest fires that swept considerable areas in the peninsula: "The unusually dry season which occurred in the Upper Peninsula from the 9th to the 20th of the current month was so serious and of such endurance and demanded such continuous fire fighting on the part of the wardens of the Northern Forest Protective Association that they were unable to advise the press of the Upper Peninsula as to the progress which was being made in minimizing losses to timber products. "Yet, while the public appreciates knowledge of what is being done in matters of public nature, it is more important for a fire warden to be furnishing intelligent direction to a crew of fire fighters than copy to the editors. Well directed and courageous efforts show results and are expected and appreciated by the safety-loving public. "In every county of the Upper Peninsula where lands were listed with the Northern Forest Protective Association for protection the regular wardens of this association reduced, by actual devotion to duty, signal service not only to the association which employs them, but also, in a greater measure, to the public at large. "The fires which were so threatening in aspect were largely confined to areas of slash, a menace which radical action must soon eliminate or serious consequences will follow. The fires occurred at a time antecedent but a few days the opening vegetation and where these fires ran into standing hardwood it is interesting to note that mature timber is in nearly every instance putting forth its leaves and showing evidence that the fire was not sufficiently hot to destroy this class of growth. Hemlock, which is very sensitive, and other soft woods such as spruce, balsam, and the pines, were quite generally killed where fire ran through them, owing to the fact that the foliage itself was burned. "The losses, on the whole, can be traced to two general causes, namely: The failure of railroad companies to properly equip their locomotives against the throwing of live sparks and coals and the almost universal failure on the part of settlers to give notice to abutting property owners of intent to burn for the purpose of clearing land. Some fires originated from other causes, which can only be eliminated by continual educational work in creating a personal interest in public safety. "The wardens of the Northern Forest Protective Association and their several locations for the season of 1914 are as follows: "Trom Lake, A. C. Smith; Newberry, Frank Park; Stuben, Mike White; Grand Marais, James Romtree; Munising, Ricus Guidebeck; AuTrain, C. H. Slater; Winters, Walter B. Cunningham; Gwin, Frank Farquhar; Ishpeming, Edwin F. Sandberg; Birch, F. E. Krieg; Big Bay, H. S. Smith; Baraga, J. G. Real; Greenland, John Welsh; Ontonagon, Richard Henry; Matchwood, N. J. Ferguson; Bessemer, Andrew Wiklund; Marquette, Alfred Kallander; Watersmeet, I. R. Browning; Iron River, Wm. Rigold; Fels, Harry L. Goodrich; Sildaw, J. K. Neslitt; Michigamme, Wendolyn Kriech; L'Anse, C. H. Anderson. "During the danger period, just mentioned, these wardens, in many cases, put on additional temporary wardens where the fire situation was especially threatening. "The summary of losses cannot be given at this time because all of the reports are not yet in and because a large amount of damage which was at first considered as an absolute loss is turning out to be slight. "I wish to take occasion at this time to express for myself and for the wardens of this association our appreciation of the manner in which the public has co-operated with us in muzzing and combating the fire situation."

COMMITTEE TO DISCUSS LIVELY TRADE TOPICS

Three Important Projects Await Action of Commercial Club Ways and Means Men.

The project of floating a $25,000 bond issue for the purpose of buying the old Grace furnace property, the matter of establishing a credit rating bureau and the institution of a movement for the establishment of a central delivery system will be discussed at a meeting of the ways and means committee of the Commercial club Tuesday evening in the band room of the city hall. The project to establish a credit rating bureau is an important question. It has been estimated that the businessmen of Marquette lose hundreds of dollars annually through bad credits. The members of the ways and means committee, some of whom are merchants, will attempt to arrive at a plan for the elimination of this loss. The matter of establishing a central delivery system will also be thoroughly considered. A central delivery system in operation at Escanaba is owned and operated by the merchants. It has, it is said, been the means of reducing the cost of delivery service from 40 to 75 per cent, and, besides, the company is paying dividends to its stockholders. A smoker will be held following the business session. TO SPEAK AGAINST SOCIALISM. Peter W. Collins Here Friday Under Auspices of Knights of Columbus. Peter W. Collins, lecturer, author, and a worker in behalf of laboring men, will be in Marquette Friday, when he will deliver at the Baraga Auditorium an address against socialism. He is brought here by the Knights of Columbus. His topic is "The Coming Conflict, or the Menace of Socialism." There will be no admission charge. Mr. Collins, in addition to his ability as a lecturer, equally is well known for his writings on Socialism and his efforts in behalf of labor. He was editor of the Electrical Worker and international secretary of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers for seven years, resigning to devote his time to constructive social service. Mr. Collins served on the industrial commission of Illinois, being appointed by the governor of that state in 1908. This commission was the first of its kind in the United States. It reported to the legislature a code of laws for the health, safety and comfort of the workers in the establishments and industries of Illinois. These laws have been the means of saving thousands of persons from death by unguarded machinery. This commission also reported to the legislature the recommendation for legislation limiting the hours of women workers. The bill adopted to cover the recommendation has stood the test of the Illinois supreme court and the supreme court of the United States. London in 1913 had seventeen fatal street accidents.

RIVALRY TRIM TRAVELERS.

Take Game Featured by Excellent Pitching, With Miserable Support.

In a game marked by good pitching, given ragged support by both teams, the Ishpeming Rivals' Saturday afternoon defeated the United Commercial Travelers' nine at Longyear's field by a score of 16 to 7. Smith, pitching for the Travelers, struck out fifteen men, walked only two, and allowed but four hits. Ishpeming scored but one earned run, the others having been made on the travelers' errors. All of Marquette's tallies were scored on errors. Harpe, on the mound for the visitors, struck out fourteen, walked four and allowed six hits. The lineups were: Ishpeming—Catch, S. Harper; pitcher, C. Harper; first, Gunville; second, Chase; short, Hill; third, Fisher; left field, Pascoe; center field, Hampton; right field, Jandreau. Travelers—Catch, Short; pitcher, Smith; first, Wallace; second, Denmore; short, Murray; third, Murphy; left field, Noble; center field, Corbett; right field, Edlund. Umpire—Stafford.

ANOTHER FEATURE FILM.

"Leah Kieschna," Famous Players' Picture Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Leah Kieschna," another of the Famous Players' motion picture features, will be shown at the Opera House Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The theory of Justice R. B. Lindsey, the famous criminologist, that if the right appeal is made to any person who goes astray, there always is a chance to get him to reform, is illuminated in "Leah Kieschna." "Leah" has been taught to steal from childhood by her father, the master thief of France. In attempting to commit a robbery at the house of Paul Sylvain, the deputy of France, she is caught in the act by Sylvain, who instead of treating her as a thief and turning her over to the police has an extraordinary interview with her. Sylvain, like Judge Lindsey, does not believe in the severity with which criminals are treated by law. He has faith in the innate goodness of human nature, and this faith is strengthened by "Leah's" confession that she knows it is wrong to steal, and of her hope to go somewhere, away from her father and his evil associates, to begin life anew and forget the past.

All adult entertainment, one of the effective points of the play, and which intensifies the climax, is here introduced. The brother of the girl who Sylvain is to marry, returning from a drunken spree, enters Sylvain's apartments and steals the jewels that Leah Kieschna had intended to take. The doubt as to whether "Leah" had taken the jewels, after all, is eventually clarified by the discovery of the guilty person, an "Leah" now a regenerated woman, marries Sylvain, and receives the jewels that had introduced her to her new life as a wedding gift.

TAKE PLENTY OF TIME TO EAT.

There is a saying that "rapid eating is slow suicide." If you have formed the habit of eating too rapidly you are most likely suffering from indigestion or constipation, which will result eventually in serious illness unless corrected. Digestion begins in the mouth. Food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated. Then when you have a fullness of the stomach or feel dull and stupid after eating take one of Chamberlain's Tablets. Many severe cases of stomach trouble and constipation have been cured by the use of these tablets. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Sold by All Dealers.

NOTED BALLOONIST FOR TOURNAMENT

Sons of St. George Also Have Booked Attractions for Grand Lodge Meeting.

Ed R. Hutchinson, called "America's most successful aeronautical engineer," and reputed to be one of the most daring aviators in the country, has been engaged through the Western Vaudeville Managers' association by the Ishpeming fire department to give exhibitions here during the week of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's tournament, beginning Aug. 10. Al Lawson, representative of the fair department of the association, who was in Ishpeming last week, closed the contract, and also arranged for attractions for the Sons of St. George grand lodge celebration.

Hutchinson's balloon stunts are of the most sensational order, and he is continuously in demand for fairs and celebrations. He will make two flights a day, rising to an altitude of at least two thousand feet. Upon reaching this height he does his parachute jumping stunt, in five parades.

This is the first public entertainment attraction booked by the firemen. The committee is now busy with other plans of entertaining the visiting firemen and the hundreds of others who will be here for the celebration.

Three attractions have been booked by Sir Humphrey Davey lodge, Sons of St. George, for the grand lodge celebration in July. They are the Lavallex troupe of four people, who present a hayrack and acrobatics, the Gibson, a troupe of twelve white poolists. These attractions will be presented upon platforms on the streets.

MEMORY OF SOLDIERS HONORED BY HUNDREDS

Impressive Service Conducted by G. A. R. at Ishpeming High School Saturday.

Hundreds of persons gathered Saturday afternoon in the auditorium of the Ishpeming High school for the Memorial Day exercises, conducted by Charles H. Towne post, Grand Army of the Republic. They were probably the most impressive services of the kind ever held in Ishpeming. The assembly hall was filled to the doors, and the program was an excellent one.

Judge John D. West, who presided as chairman, opened the exercises with remarks regarding the observance and the reading of Governor Ferris' proclamation. He spoke as follows:

"Another Memorial Day with its hallowed memories and sacred duties is at hand.

"As this may be the last time in which these battle scarred veterans will appear, owing to the work incidental to arranging for Decoration and Memorial Day, the work will have to be left to our patriotic citizens, school children, and military and civic organizations in the future.

Charles H. Towne post, Grand Army of the Republic, was organized Aug. 19, 1889, with a charter list between Ishpeming and our sister, Negaunee, of fourteen members. At one time there was enrolled on this roster soldiers of the Union army and navy to more than 200. Today we have but a small number of that list with us. During the year 1913, statistics show that 30,000 of these veterans have passed away, and their graves will be strewn with flowers in various parts of the United States. One year from today the number may be diminished by the ranks of the G. A. R. are becoming thinner daily.

"For the benefit of those who will continue the work of Decoration and Memorial Day, I will read the list of those we have known and who have answered to the taps or bugle sound of 'lights out.' These are placed on file in the public libraries of both Ishpeming and Negaunee, where they may be reviewed by future committees who will carry on the work of observing Decoration and Memorial Day.

"From the burial record of Charles H. Towne post, No. 8, Grand Army of the Republic, I find the following comrades who have answered the final call of 'lights out' and their remains now rest in the Ishpeming cemetery:

- "Comrades William Walton, O. W. Doolittle, Seth T. Peck, George R. Dobbs, Olaf Carlson, E. W. Feiske, Van Cleve, John D. Taylor, Patrick Hughes, James Moran, Veda Bashaw, V. Baghart, Thomas Gayer, Joseph Douglass, Kelce and brother, Hugh McCam.
- "Spanish American veterans: William Fisher and Mr. Husby.
- "The following four members of the services of a professional diver were enlisted in an effort, to locate the holy and a constant patrol of the river banks had been maintained since the tragedy.

EAST LANSING—Three hundred M.A. C. coeds "struck" for improved service in the woman's dining hall. At noon they declined to go to luncheon and while the college authorities fretted the girls patronized East Lansing restaurants. A committee of six, the Misses Gertrude Wickens, Almira Brimmer, Mae Bartlett, Lucille Titus, Evelyn Harbottle and Eunice Lamb, conferred with President Snyder.

The committee, speaking for the entire coed body, asked for better table service. This included a request that the girls be permitted to pay more money for board. The young women complained that they were compelled to dine too economically. Just what the conference resulted in has not been announced, but the girls went back to the hall. In the meantime, however, the coed resigned, Dean White, head of the women's department, characterized the "walkout" as ladylike. There was no disturbance, she said.

ANN ARBOR—Dean M. E. Cooley, recently appointed appraiser of the Port Huron, has sent his report to the railroad commissioners announcing the organization of his staff and reporting the work done to date. There are 17 men at work on the appraisal, which will be completed June 1. "We promise to track every mile of the road, inspect everything in detail," said Dean Cooley, in detail. "The field inspection will include, beside check on the inventory, the determination of the physical condition of the road. An effort is also being made to determine the original cost from historical records. It is planned, also, to obtain data which will enable an intelligent study of railroad depreciations to be made. We are planning to complete the final report before October."

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure, sent for free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. The members of Charles H. Towne post, Grand Army of the Republic, wish to thank the council for its assistance, the school board for the use of the high school auditorium, the school children of both the public and St. John's parochial schools, the speakers, Mr. and Mrs. George F. DREADED INSECT IS HERE.

Cherry Trees Are Endangered by a Destructive Beetle.

Word has been received that the dreaded cherry beetle has again made its appearance and cherry trees are endangered by its attacks. This insect usually pays a visit to this part of the country about once in every four years, but its last visit was only three years ago.

The cherry beetle is a brown insect, about the size of a kernel of wheat. It stays in the ground over night and climbs the trees during the day, eating the leaves. It works rapidly and will kill any cherry tree in a few days. Prompt action is urged if owners of cherry trees wish to save their trees from destruction. An ounce of arsenate of lead in a gallon of water, sprayed on the trees, will exterminate the insects.

LANSING—Senator James Wood, of Manistiquette, a Lansing visitor, is of the same opinion as Governor Ferris relative to an extra session of the legislature to relieve the Michigan Agricultural college troubles. "I can't see any other way out than a special session," said he. "I believe that if the supreme court sustains the action of the auditor-general in cutting off the college funds, it is up to the governor to call a session."

LANSING—Steam and electric railroads killed 389 persons and injured 2,719 in the last year, according to information gathered from the records of the state railroad commission. The records show that 25 employees were killed and 1,790 injured, while 15 passengers were killed and 916 injured. Trespassers to number of 155 were killed, while 141 others were killed and 1,179 injured. Accidents at crossings are listed as follows:

PORTLAND—William McClurg and Henry Ogden, fishermen, discovered the body of seven-year-old Lynn Remaf, who lost his life in the icy waters of Grand river March 7 last, at a point six miles below this village. Remaf was playing with a companion on the Grand river pond when the thin ice gave way.

grand jury, Judge N. H. Stewart has decided there was nothing Hays could be held on, and he set the indictment aside. He took the same action with the indictment voted against Fred C. Eldred, a bond salesman employed by Mr. Hays. The indictments against the two men were noted in the strength of a prospectus issued by Mr. Hays, which set forth that the preferred stock of the Michigan Buggy company was a first lien on the property of the concern, but it was not shown in the indictment that any of the purchasers of the stock had been misled by the statement. Special Prosecutor Charles W. Nichols stated that it would be impossible to secure a conviction in either case.

DETROIT—United States Judge Arthur J. Tuttle has just rendered a decision upholding the validity of the state law providing for taxation of express, telegraph and telephone companies on an ad valorem basis, thus disposing of a case that has been in dispute ever since the old Atkinson law was passed in the days of Governor Pingree. The Atkinson law was declared unconstitutional and there followed a special referendum election through which the people of the state forced an amendment to the state constitution on the basis of which a new law was passed. Through a case filed in the name of James C. Fargo against the auditor general, the validity of the law was again questioned and the 1904 taxes assessed against the American Express were fought on the ground that the company was not a corporation, such as the law specified. This was denied by Judge Tuttle on the grounds that the company possessed all the attributes of a corporation and that the people of the state and legislature so regarded it. To the contentions that the state had assessed against the express company taxes based on valuations existing outside the state, the judge replied that the objections were too technical and that the method by which the state had arrived at the valuation was the only practical way. In meeting the third objection to the effect that the ocean routes of the company had not been embraced in the division of the valuation by which the Michigan connection was reached, the court held that virtually no investment existed in connection with ocean business that anyhow the ocean was free to all so far as transportation was concerned.

HELD FOR SHOOTING.

Frank Luca Held at City Jail, Pending a Hearing in City Court.

Charged with shooting a fellow-worker, Pete Roti, Frank Luca is now held at the Ishpeming city jail, awaiting a hearing in the municipal court. The affray occurred the afternoon of Saturday, Memorial day, near the corner of Pearl and Second streets.

Luca and Roti are employed by Dominick Carallo. On returning from work Saturday morning at about 11:30 o'clock they went to Carallo's home for dinner. Carallo and Luca were playing cards, when Raffaele Laserra, one of the party, having become over-jubilant with wine, started to throw things around. Luca was the object of his assault. Upoc being hit with a missile, he turned upon Laserra. Both were drunk and when they started to fight several others mixed in the affray. Luca broke away and, going to his home next door, went to Laserra's room, where he procured a revolver. Upon returning he met Roti, onis weeks party at the door of Carallo's house. Roti saw the revolver and started to take it away, when it was discharged, the bullet striking Roti in the hip. He was taken to the hospital, where it was ascertained that the wound was not serious.

Officer Michael Tasson was called. After he had learned the facts, he placed Luca under arrest.

VICTORIA.

Shipping Record Tonnages With Good Showing at Depth.

Victoria is stamping 400 tons of rock daily, exclusive of barrel work shipped direct to smelter. The May production should be close to 13,000 tons, the maximum in the history of the company and comparing with 11,500 tons in April and 11,800 in March. A station is being cut at the 250 level, and drifting on this level may begin any hour. The 2400 level near the shaft has tapped one of the biggest ore shoots opened on this property. It has been drifted upon for a length of 100 feet, and good copper values occur through a width of twenty to sixty feet. Thick seams of horn copper may be followed in the drift, which grows leaner at the northeast end, east of the shaft, but continues in full width and richness in the southwest face, west of the shaft. This is an excellent body of ore, and its size and richness favor the probability of its continuation some distance to the southwest and also at depth. Further drifting on the twenty-fourth level, and the work on the twenty-fifth level should determine this.

Victoria during the last seven months has averaged better than eleven and one-half pounds of refined copper per ton of rock stamped; twelve-pound rock should enable Victoria to break even. Two factors permit unusually cheap costs—cheap power for mine and mill and the ideal location of the mill. The mill is located on the Ontonagon river, a few rods from the power plant and at the foot of the mountain on which the mine is located and a distant 4,800 feet from the latter. An automatic tramway carries rock at minimum expense from mine to mill, while the mill receives an ample water supply by gravity flow.

The per ton costs for mining and milling at Victoria were $1.18 in 1910-1911 rising to $1.32 in 1912, due to increased wages and increased development work, and rising to $1.46 in 1913, owing to the labor strike and the abnormally high footage of development work—7,428 feet, or more than double the average of the previous six years. Normal costs at Victoria should be around $1.25 per ton. Just now they are higher, owing to the unsettled labor situation.

The crying need at Victoria is an increase in tonnage. This will mean either connecting shafts 6, 2 and 5, and using all three for hoisting, or else adding an other skip compartment to shaft 5 and installing compressed air locomotives for the long underground hauls, which now amount to 1,800 or 1,900 feet on some levels. Either improvement would enable Victoria to reduce its costs materially and the increased tonnage would also effect a saving on transportation and smelting charges for mineral at the Calumet & Hecla smelter.

Victoria is improving with depth, and if the excellent shoot on the twenty-fourth level and the general improvement along the lower levels in the last eighteen months continue to hold up, the directors will doubtless consider the wisdom of providing for an increased output.

UNITED COPPER COMPANY.

The disposal of $10,500,000 cash which was turned over to the United Copper company at the time that corporation sold its principal physical assets to the Red Metals Mining company, controlled by the former Butte Coalition Mining company, will be made the subject of an investigation by the receiver of the United company in the near future. At the time of F. A. Heinze's trial in the United States court at New York several years ago there was offered in evidence considerable data prepared by government accountants along this line. It then developed that for a time preferred dividends were paid from capital account, while two of the common dividends—those paid April 20 and Aug. 6, 1907—were not from earnings, but from money borrowed by Heinze and his associates. As they held practically all the stock they were able through intercompany and various bank transactions to pay back all the loans. Just how the United States Copper company got rid of the $10,500,000 cash which it once possessed has never been ascertained, but the fact that the company came into possession of a great copper property and Ohio Mining companies as well as a miscellaneous lot of securities led to the conclusion that some part at least went into those stocks.

ADVICES FROM BUTTE.

One of the best mines operated by the Anaconda company is the Gagnon, the chief property of the Colorado Smelting company before the Amalgamated merger. When the mine was taken over it was a small and indifferent copper and silver producer. By deeper sinking it developed into a great copper property and has been getting better with every year's operations since. Miners report that its biggest ore body has been mined to the western limits of the company's ground and that it is known to continue beyond that. The Corbin Copper company people, who own the Gagnons, are eager to know whether the ore body extends into the Gagnon mine or Anaconda officials cannot be secured.

It is not likely that there will be any strike among Butte laborers for a $4 a day wage, as the smaller unions practically all refuse to support it. The miners' union, however, refused to take a stand on the question, although it is the chief victim of all demands of other unions in the Butte district, as the living expenses of the miners are increased every time the demands of other unions are granted.

Marty Kavanaugh and Nick Altrock met face to face for the first time at Washington this week. The Tiger infielder, after lamping Nick's stunning face, said that he was satisfied that the title of the world's homeliest man remains in Detroit. Marty takes a lot of pride in being the most unbeautiful athlete in the major league and was plainly relieved when he found that Altrock is not a serious contender for his laurels. Nick hated to admit that he was outclassed, but as soon as he saw Kavanaugh he said: "You win," and extended his hand in congratulation like a true sportsman.

Federal league baseball teams need headlines—a Ty Cobb or two, or a few Walter Johnsons—this was the one conclusion reached at a meeting of chiefs at New York, and the Federals are casting about for means of landing a few players whose names are baseball trademarks. A more vigorous attack on the two major leagues should be made, according to the belief of several of the Federal magnates. The league is doing very well, the conference decided, but it needs big stars. The methods to be used were not decided, or announced. There is an inclination to await the decision in the suit brought by August Herrmann against Pitcher Chief Johnson. The ten-day notice of release clause is the issue involved, and it is through this clause that the Feds hope to attack the American and National leagues.

IRELAND IS NOT TO HAVE FREE HAND

Home Rule Bill Contains Numerous List of Exceptions to Legislative Powers.

London, May 31.—The government of Great Britain and Ireland were united in 1801 by the act of union of 1800. In 1886 and 1893 bills "for the better government of Ireland" were presented to the parliament of the United Kingdom, the bill of 1886 being rejected by the house of commons, and that of 1893 by the house of lords. In 1912-13 a third home rule bill was introduced and passed twice in the house of commons, but rejected twice by the house of lords. Under the provisions of the parliament act, 1911, a bill passed three times by the house of commons may receive the royal assent in spite of its rejection by the house of lords. The provisions of the government of Ireland bill (as amended in committee and on report) are summarized below:

Change in Parliament.

Parliament and the United Kingdom.—The supreme power and authority of the parliament of the United Kingdom shall remain unaffected and undiminished over all persons, matters and things in Ireland and every part thereof. After the day of the first meeting of the Irish parliament (infra) the members returned by Irish constituencies to the parliament of the United Kingdom shall be reduced from 103 to forty-two members, from the constituencies named in the first schedule of the act eight borough members, viz: Dublin three, Belfast four, and Cork one; and thirty-four county members, viz: Ulster eleven, Leinster eight, Munster nine, and Connaught six.

For the purpose of revising the financial arrangements under the act (if at some future time the joint exchequer board, q. v., shall find that during any three successive years certain conditions unfavorable to the Irish exchequer have arisen, and shall so report to the treasury and the lord lieutenant,) there shall be summoned to the house of commons of the United Kingdom such number of members of the Irish house of commons as shall make the representation of Ireland at Westminster (with the forty-two members retained as above mentioned) equivalent to the representation of Great Britain on the basis of population, and such members shall be deemed to be members of the house of commons of the United Kingdom for the purpose of any such revision.

Irish Legislature.

On and after "the appointed day" (the first Tuesday in the eighth month after the month in which the act is passed, or such other day not more than seven months earlier or later as may be fixed by order of his majesty in council) there shall be in Ireland an Irish parliament, consisting of his majesty the king and the house of the Irish senate and the Irish house of commons. This parliament shall meet once at least in every year, and be summoned, prorogued and dissolved by the lord lieutenant. The senate to consist of forty senators, at first nominated for five years by the lord lieutenant, and subsequently elected for five years by the four provinces (Ulster 14, Leinster 11, Munster 9, Connaught 6) according to the principle of proportional representation. The house of commons to consist of 164 members—from Ulster 59, Leinster 41, Munster 37, Connaught 25 (34 borough members and 128 county,) with two university members, elected for five years, unless the house be sooner dissolved. In any constituency which returns three or more members the election shall be held on the principle of proportional representation.

In case of disagreement between the houses the lord lieutenant may convene a joint sitting, and a majority of those present may pass a disputed bill.

Powers of the Lawmakers.

Legislative Powers.—While the Irish parliament may make laws for the peace, order and good government of Ireland, it may not legislate in respect of:

- (1) the crown, succession to the crown, regency, or the property of the crown or the lord lieutenant; (2) the making of war or peace; (3) the navy, army, or territorial forces; (4) treaties or external relations; (5) dignities or titles of honor; (6) treason, treason felony, alienage, naturalization, or aliens as such, or domicile; (7) trade with any place out of Ireland, bounties on exports, quarantine, navigation or merchant shipping; (8) postal service and rates (except inland) and postages for stamps; (9) lighthouses, buoys or beacons; (10) coinage, legal tender, standards of weights and measures; (11) trade marks, designs, merchandise marks, copyright, patent rights; (12) any of the "reserved matters" (see "reserved services" infra.) This limitation to cease in respect to any "reserved" matter that shall be "transferred."

Further, the Irish Parliament shall not establish, endow, prohibit or restrict, or give a preference or advantage on account of any religious belief.

Position of the Executive.

The Lord Lieutenant.—The executive power in Ireland shall continue vested in the king and shall be executed on his majesty's behalf by the lord lieutenant or other chief executive officer for the time being appointed. The lord lieutenant to be appointed by the king for the term of six years, which shall not be affected by any change of ministry, and no subject of the king to be disqualified for the office on account of his religious belief.

Executive Committee.—The Irish ministers shall be an executive committee of the privy council of Ireland to aid and advise the lord lieutenant in the exercise of his executive power in connection with Irish services.

Department of Justice.

Existing Judges.—All existing judges of the supreme court of Ireland and all existing county court judges shall continue to hold their offices upon the conditions obtaining before the act was passed.

Future Appointments.—After the "appointed day" judges shall be appointed by the lord lieutenant, and shall hold office upon the conditions obtaining before the act was passed, except that removal by petition shall be from the two Houses of the Irish parliament.

Appeals.—Appeals shall no longer be from the Irish courts to the House of Lords; but where such right of appeal existed it may be made instead to the judicial committee of the privy council, of not less than four lords of appeal, of whom at least one is or has been judge of the supreme court in Ireland. Constitutional questions and cases where the validity of an Irish law is questioned, may also be brought before the judicial committee.

Civil Service Control.

Civil Service Committee.—For the purpose of the provisions of the act with respect to existing officers there shall be established a civil service committee of three members, of whom one shall be appointed by the treasury, one by the executive committee, q. v., and one (who shall be a barrister) by the lord chief justice of England.

Existing Irish Officers.—All existing Irish officers serving in an established capacity in the civil service of the crown and receiving salaries charged on the consolidated fund of the United Kingdom shall continue in office upon the same conditions as before the act was passed, and while performing the same or analogous duties shall receive not less salaries than they would have received if the act had not been passed.

Control Over Finance.

Collection of Revenue.—The proceeds of all taxes levied in Ireland, whether under the authority of the parliament of the United Kingdom or of the Irish parliament, shall be paid into the exchequer of the United Kingdom.

The Irish Exchequer.—There shall be an Irish exchequer and an Irish consolidated fund, separate from those of the United Kingdom, and to the Irish exchequer there shall be paid the "transferred sum," q. v. All sums paid into the Irish exchequer shall be for a consolidated fund, and be appropriated to the public service of Ireland by Irish act and shall not be applied for any purpose for which they are not so appropriated. The accounts of the Irish consolidated fund shall be audited as appropriate accounts by or under the direction of an Irish controller and auditor general, to be appointed by the lord lieutenant.

Joint Exchequer Board.—There shall be established a joint exchequer board, consisting of five members, of whom two are to be appointed by the treasury and two by the Irish treasury, with a chairman appointed by the king. The principal duty of the board is the determination of matters in connection with the "transferred sum," especially with a view to the revision of the financial clauses of the act as provided above (see "parliament of the United Kingdom.")

MAXWELL "35"

A Car for the Man Who Wants Power, Reliability, Good Looks and at the Same Time Low Up-Keep Cost

You'll find every desirable feature in the Maxwell "35" and several you will not find embodied in any other car and anywhere near its price

Motor of ample power to take car with full load anywhere, any time.

The motor in the Maxwell "35" is of the "bloc" type with 4-inch bore and 4 1/2-inch stroke, developing full 35 horsepower. Adjustable valves completely enclosed. Three-bearing, chrome nickel steel crankshaft. Two inch connecting rod bearings. All bearings of nickel, babbitt cast. Splittorf dual ignition, independent of the starting and lighting system. Splash oiling system insures proper lubrication of every moving part of the motor; oil reservoir operated by vacuum system maintains constant oil level in crank case. Holley single adjustment carburetor, with hot and cold air supply controlled from dash to suit changes in temperature.

Transmission of well known make and acknowledged to be the most reliable

The transmission is mounted on the rear axle and is the dependable Covert—selective type, three speeds forward and one reverse. All gears of heat-treated nickel steel. Noiseless roller bearings. Clutch is of adjustable cone type; leather faced with spring plungers for easy engagement. No jerky starting as a ride in the "35" will prove.

Much depends upon the steering gear and control parts of a car

You can depend absolutely upon the reliability of the Maxwell "35" steering and control mechanism. The steering gear is the famous "Barnes" make (there's nothing better manufactured) located on the left side and mounted rigidly to side member of frame and firmly braced at the dash. Spark and throttle control rods enclosed in steering post and operated on top of steering wheel. Accelerator operated by right foot. Gear shift lever is in center of car and is operated by right hand. Emergency brake lever alongside operates 13 1/2 inch expanding brake. Clutch and service brake pedals are both adjustable. The foot (service) brake controls 14-inch contracting brake acting on brake drums bolted to rear wheels.

The easy riding qualities of this car unsurpassed

You'll experience no fatigue, no matter how far you travel in a Maxwell "35." Long 36 1/2-inch semi-elliptic front springs together with the 42-inch three-quarter elliptic rear springs supplemented by soft, deep upholstery provide comfortable riding qualities that are hard to equal. 33x4-in tires also add their share to the comfort-giving features of this car.

A starting and lighting system that is in keeping with all the other good points of this model

The electric starting and lighting equipment of the Maxwell "35" is known as the Deaco independent system. The generator and starter motor are separate units. We have no hesitancy in stating that there is not a better starter on any car than that used on the model "35."

Other worthy features of this splendid motor car

Weston-Mott rear axle; clear-vision windshield; electric head, side and tail lights; electric horn; speedometer; and spare tire carrier at rear.

The body of the "Maxwell 35" like all other Maxwell bodies was designed by Bruce Ott, who is recognized as the foremost automobile body designer in the industry. There is beauty in its every line and curve; it is finely upholstered and of ample proportions. A demonstration in this sterling quality Maxwell will substantiate our every claim for it and prove that no car in the field around its price is better made. May we show you its many points of superiority?

LUCK IS AGAINST NEGAUNEE NINE

Both Opening Games of Inter-County League Series Are Won by Ishpeming.

Negaunee started the Marquette-Delta county league series unimpressively, losing to Ishpeming Saturday and yesterday by scores of 7 to 6 and 10 to 7.

Yesterday's game was a battle. Although Collins and Hawke for Negaunee and Mahoney, the Ishpeming pitcher, were hit hard, the game was by no means uninteresting. Both teams gleaned twelve hits, several of them for extra bases.

Ishpeming opened up by batting around and scoring five runs. Collins, who played Saturday at Republic, was unsteady. Teck, the first man up, singled, went to second on a passed ball and scored when Collins dropped a throw at first on Enblom's bunt. Eicke fanned and Geelan hit for two bases, scoring Enblom. Mack came along with a high fly ball which Hawke misjudged and Geelan came home. Brown got a base on balls, stole second and trotted home on Simpson's single, after Nichols had fanned. The side went out when Mahoney hit to Faull, who threw him out at first.

Negaunee came back strong, getting three runs on three hits and a base on balls. Heinonen opened the inning by clouting the first ball Mahoney threw for two bases. Dyer drew a pass and Ford singled, scoring Heinonen. Heidenson went out, Mack to Geelan, and Peel scored Dyer and Ford with a two-base hit. Holman went out, Mack to Geelan, and Faull fouled out to Nichols. Negaunee got another run in the second on a single by Collins and a two-base hit by Dyer, and tied the score in the next inning when Heidenson drew a base on balls after Ford went out on a long fly to Teck, taking second on Peel's sacrifice and scored when Enblom fulfilled Holman's grounder.

Ishpeming came back in the fourth with two runs when Mack hit for three sacks with Enblom and Geelan, who singled, on base. Collins was touched for four hits during the inning. Ford relieved Collins in the fifth, and Fredrickson went to right field in place of Ford. Ishpeming secured two more runs in
