A VEXING QUESTION.

Representative Beakes, leader of the coddling in the report. The boys were "original" Wilson men in Michigan, in the house this week advocated the enact- them. Probably the best educated body is doubtless to be concluded that the stands out from the others as, for inment of a law that would place all the postoffices under civil service, thus taking them finally and effectively out of

In support of this plan there is much to urge. The dispensing of patronage is a present duty of party leaders that oftentimes weakens their position, and that of their party, more than it strengthens it. More than one member of congress has finally eaten the dust of defeat because of complications growing out of the disposal of patronage. They had more to do with Representative Young's loss of Marquette county in 1912 than perhaps any other one con-

In the strife in Michigan between the "original" Wilson men and the organization forces we have evidence of the likelihood that matters of patronage will break down a party organization. No Democrat can seriously deny that the as high qualities can be shown against series of bitter disputes have left an impress on his party that will greatly weaken it in the elections this year, if not in the next presidential year.

So there need be no wonder that Representative Beakes said:

It is understood that Mr. Carr comes at the request of Governor Ferris. The latter is interested in the prosecution of President Moyer and other officers and this charge, because the conviction of the men would go a long way toward sustaining the governor in his position on the strike, which position was that the federation threatened life and property in the copper country and it was necessary to keep the Michigan National Guard here to forestall any practical demonstration of that implied threat.

The aim of the general committee is to make the parade the big feature. There will be a military section, which will involve all uniformed or marching bodies; a commercial section, which businessmen are invited to make as attractive as possible with decorated floats; a floral automobile section, and juvenile section. Residences all over Houghton are expected to be decked gaily for the occasion, as are the busiiess houses The sports program will offer an aquatic carnival.

The formal patriotic exercises followng the parade will be of a nature truly idicative of the day and the spirit that has moved Houghton to the celebration. Robert H. Shields will be the orator. Mr. Shields is a member of the committee to choose the speaker, and he reported to the general meeting that it vas somewhat difficult to obtain one. He mentioned several orators who had been approached but who had declined for various good reasons. Then someone moved that Mr. Shields be the speaker himself. The unanimity with which the crowd took up the idea showed that the committee had overlooked good material in making up its DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the microus lining of the Eustachian Tabe. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure Send for circulars, free.

We've Clipped the Price of Every Spring Suit, Coat, and Dress in our Stock

When we decided upon a clearance of our stock of Spring suits, coats, and dresses, we determined to take the most drastic measures in order to make the clearance as swift as possible.

The response has naturally been large, for Marquette women seem to realize that this is the one big opportunity of the season. Perhaps you have already bought your suit, coat or dress at this sale. If you haven't we most emphatically urge you to come today. Stocks are still fairly complete all sizes are here in one style or another, 4.4

Commencement Address.

"A query asking for a definition of the meaning of 'The Age of Science,' declared Mr. Storms, "would bring out many different views. Some people would say that this, the age of science is an age of religious freedom, when men may worship according to the dictates of their own conscience. Others would say that it is an age of universal enlightenment, when the temples of learning are open to all, and when the government takes the initiative in secing that everyone avails himself of the opportunity of procuring an education. But above all, I would say that this age of science is an age of democracy. when all men are place! on an equal basis and allowed to raise by their own

Sciences Ignored.

"When the natural sciences were first brought into contact with the educational system, they were treated as an inferior subject." asserted the speaker "Finally it was let into the colleges as a humble sister, to be placed in the far back seats. The universities would not give a bachellor of arts degree to scientist, but gave them a degree bachellor of science, letting it stand fo whatever it would. Science at the pres ent day, though, is advancing, and the range of education is broadening. College professors now days are not ashamed a seeing their students out in the laboratoties on the campus, clad in overall and with their hands smeared with grease.
