

CORNER AIMS AT $2 WHEAT? U. S. TO PROBE

Buyer Whose Identity Is Not Disclosed Is Reported from Chicago to Be in the Market for Ten Million Bushels of the Cereal—Transactions Arouse Suspicion.

In Course of an Investigation of Food Prices, District Attorney Makes Discoveries Indicating Pool of Speculators Is at Work—Will Delve Into Operations.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—The Tribune today publishes the following: "Who is the man of wealth who entered the wheat market yesterday bent on making a big 'killing' by creating a corner in May wheat?"

Like a shadow floating over a sun-kissed grain field the mysterious buyer moved in silent triumph of 10,000,000 bushels of wheat to form the nucleus of a grain monopoly unparalleled since the days of Joseph and Pharaoh.

The information reached District Attorney Charles E. Cline during the course of the government's investigation of aviating wheat and flour prices.

Mr. Cline immediately began an inquiry to learn the identity of the stranger and whether he is allied with a combination of speculators.

His entrance into the market at the present level indicates that he and his backers, if he has any, anticipate the coming of $2 wheat.

With a corner on wheat bought at even the present high level of $1.64 1/2, the closing price yesterday, the profit on $2 wheat would run into many millions of dollars.

Not since James A. Patten cornered the wheat market in 1909 and ran wheat up to $1.35 1/2 a bushel, according to Mr. Cline's information, has such a big deal been contemplated.

Mr. Cline's associates get control of about 40,000,000 bushels.

The present mysterious buyer will have to extend his purchases into many parts of the country before he can hope to gain control.

Chicago elevators hold at present less than 1,000,000 bushels of wheat, according to District Attorney Cline's information.

Investigate Bread Situation. The government's investigation of food prices will be diverted today to the bread situation.

District Attorney Cline announced that he will confer with the leading bakers in an endeavor to learn the causes back of the increase from five to six cents in the price of the small loaves of bread.

Officials of the Ward, Schuler, Piper and other big baking companies offered voluntarily to come in and discuss the matter with the federal prosecutor.

Mr. Cline said he wanted to know how much flour the bakers have in stock and what quantity there is on hand in Chicago.

Charges have been made to the government that most of the big bakers have a large supply of flour on hand bought several months ago at the low price prevailing.

Mr. Cline also is trying to determine the relation the storing of 150,000,000 bushels of wheat in the hands of 100,000,000 bushels in Minneapolis, as compared with the much smaller quantity in Chicago, has to the subject of increased bread prices.

GERMAN PRESS ACCUSES BRYAN OF PARTISANSHIP

"Made Himself Mouthpiece of Brutal British Standpoint," Says Cologne Gazette in Scathing Arraignment of Policy, Adding "We Know What to Expect."

Declares "American Neutrality Is Only a Thin Veil Behind Which Is Concealed Eagerness to Do England a Good Turn"—Russia Approves U. S. Course.

Amsterdam, Feb. 5.—The Cologne Gazette contains a long attack on the American government's neutrality.

"Mr. Bryan made himself the mouthpiece of the brutal British standpoint, which is based on force," says the German paper.

"We now know what we must expect from Mr. Bryan's management of foreign affairs.

"American neutrality is only a thin veil behind which is concealed eagerness to do England a good turn.

If America respects only brute force then we shall give full play to brute force."

Wilson Plan Scored. Berlin, Feb. 5.—A news dispatch has been received here from Washington that President Wilson has consented to an amendment of the ship purchase bill, which provides that no vessel is to be bought by the United States if such purchase would lead to conflict with any one of the belligerent powers.

Nearly all the German newspapers criticize this course sharply; they virtually unite in calling it a backslide before Great Britain.

The Cologne Zeitung says: "It also injures United States trade, and is therefore the more remarkable."

Russia Approves It. Petrograd, Feb. 5.—Leading Russian daily newspapers are unanimous in approval of the American policy toward the warring powers.

"There is not a law, American or international," says Novoye Vremya, "which prevents private persons from exporting even ammunition at their own risk."

"On the other hand, the American government is not obliged to protect American grain exports on the high seas against Great Britain."

66 SHIPS INTERNED IN AMERICAN PORTS. German Flag Flies Over 55 of Them; Austrian Emblem Carried by 11.

Washington, Feb. 5.—German and Austrian merchant steamers of more than half a million tons are interned in American ports.

Fifty-five of them fly the German flag. The other eleven are Austrian vessels.

All are tied up in ports of continental United States, except nine, which are at Hilo or Honolulu, in the Hawaiian Islands.

A complete list of these steamers became available today. Thirty of them are German, 8 at Boston, 4 each at Baltimore and New Orleans, 3 at Philadelphia, 8 at Honolulu, 2 each at Norfolk, Galveston, and San Francisco, and 1 each at Seattle, Savannah, and Hilo.

TRAFFIC ON RAILROADS IS GROWING STEADILY

Increased Shipments of Merchandise More of an Aid Than Advance in Rates.

New York, Feb. 5.—The most significant indication in the present period of rebuilding is the evidence of increasing merchandise traffic on the railroads.

On a fair part of the increased merchandise traffic the roads are earning such larger returns as the recent advance in rates will give.

November and December marked evidently the low water record of traffic for the railroads.

The earnings of the railroads for December and for the first six months of the fiscal year would prove dismal reading were it not that a new ray of hope, or rather of confidence, has been shed upon the railroad situation by the increased rate decision, and by the decided evidence that the interstate commerce commission is now fully awake to the situation and is supporting the roads substantially.

The strenuous economy, too, of the roads themselves, during the trying early war period, is shown by small decreases, and in some instances even gains, in net compared with large decreases in gross.

For instance, Union Pacific showed a decrease in gross for December of $414,875, but an increase in net of $269,521.

For the six months a loss of nearly $2,000,000 gross was fought down to a little over $300,000 decrease in net.

As the leader of railroads for traffic returns, during the last year Atchafalaya, takes first place. Earnings in gross for December was $604,900, and in net $577,000, and net earnings for six months increased $2,708,000.

It is worth while, thus to gauge the railroad pulse, because the status of the nation's business blood is thus ascertained. The conclusion is that forces are at work to build up—that construction, instead of destruction, of our greatest public utilities is now underway.

REMOVE RESTRICTIONS FROM POSTAL BANKS. ADVICE OF BURELSON.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The $60,000,000 which the postal banks hold on deposit in the districts in which the deposits were received.

Postmaster General Burelson says if the restriction limiting the amount which might be received from a depositor to $100 in a single month, and limiting the amount on which a depositor might draw interest to $500, was removed, the total deposits made in the government banks would be increased immediately by many millions.

Mr. Burelson does not believe that one-tenth of 1 per cent of these funds are withdrawn from state savings banks, but that practically every dollar is hoarded money.

CLARK TO BE SPEAKER; KITCHEN FLOOR LEADER.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Democrats elected to the house in the Sixty-fourth congress last night nominated Speaker Clark to succeed himself and chose Representative Claude Kitchen of North Carolina to become chairman of the ways and means committee and majority floor leader.

Underwood goes to the senate. The cabinet named by the re-elected members of the ways and means committee, and chose to fill the six vacancies by the usual plan of having the Democratic representation on the committee equally divided between the North and the South.

Officers of the house were nominated for re-election without opposition.

FRENCH SUFFER REVERSE BERLIN DECLARES A MILE OF TRENCHES IN ARGONNE HAVE BEEN TAKEN.

Petrograd, Feb. 5.—Furious fighting all along the battle front in Poland continues. North of the Vistula river the Russians made further progress in their advance against the German forces of Thorn.

In East Prussia the Russian forces forced a crossing of the Angapp river south of Dorkelmen. Northeast of Insterburg and west of Pilskalen the Russian advance on Königsberg was halted by the appearance of superior German forces.

Fierce Battle on Warsaw Front. On the Warsaw front, between Gornje and Borjnow, fourteen German regiments supported by heavy artillery made a sledge hammer effort to break the Russian line, but were repulsed with heavy losses.

Russian aviators on Feb. 2 successfully dropped bombs on the mobilized reserves and trains of the Germans at Tarskoye and Boguszyce, about fifty miles east of Warsaw.

Emperor Nicholas again left for the front today. The carina and other members of the imperial family came to Tarskoye to bid him farewell before he took his departure for the fighting line.

Amsterdam, Feb. 5.—The Austro-Hungarian war press bureau has issued the following: "We evacuated Tarnow in Galicia after the Russians bombarded the place with heavy mortars.

Germans Claim Gains in Argonne. London, Feb. 5.—A German gain of importance in the Argonne is reported in the official statement from Berlin.

Three lines of trenches were stormed and the principal French positions, more than a mile in length, were taken, with the capture of 800 prisoners, eighteen guns, and much war material.

The French statement admits losses in this attack, but asserts that the positions later were recaptured.

The first fighting on skis in the Vosges was reported in both the French and German reports today.

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS AT CANADIAN CAPITAL, WILL BE WELL GUARDED.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 5.—The dynamiting of the international bridge over the St. Croix river at Yarnsbury, Me., recently, has led the authorities to take extra precautions to prevent any possible attacks on the Canadian parliament buildings at the opening of the sessions of the legislative body.

STARVE BRITAIN BELIEVED TO BE GERMANY'S PLAN

BLOCKADE OF ALL WATERS AROUND KINGDOM IS IN LINE WITH THREAT.

TO CUT OFF FOOD SUPPLIES ENGLISH ADMIRALTY SAID TO PLAN DRASTIC RETALIATION MEASURES.

NEUTRAL VESSELS WARNED MISUSE OF FLAGS BY BRITISH ENDANGERS OTHER SHIPS, SAYS BERLIN.

Berlin, Feb. 5.—Germany yesterday declared a blockade on all waters around the British isles.

The official announcement of the German admiralty is the carrying out of the policy to starve England out, first announced by Grand Admiral von Tirpitz on Dec. 22.

"We can bottle England up and torpedo every English or allied ship which enters any harbor in Great Britain."

Statement Made by Admiralty. Following is the text of the statement issued by the German admiralty:

"The waters around Great Britain and Ireland, including the whole English channel, are declared a war zone on and after Feb. 18, 1915.

"Every enemy ship found in this war zone will be destroyed, even if it is impossible to avert dangers which threaten the crew and passengers.

"Neutral ships in the war zone are in danger, as in consequence of the misuse of neutral flags ordered by the British government on Jan. 31, and in view of the hazards of naval warfare, it cannot always be avoided that attacks meant for enemy ships endanger neutral ships.

"Shipping northwards to France, the island islands, in the eastern basin of the North sea, and in a strip of at least thirty nautical miles in breadth along the Dutch coast is endangered in the same way."

Statement in Washington.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The following announcement was made at the state department yesterday:

"The department has received a telegram from the American ambassador at Berlin, dated Feb. 2, stating that the German admiralty has issued a proclamation warning all merchant vessels not to approach the north and west coasts of France, as it is the intention of the German government to use all the means of war which it has at its disposal against British troop ships and ammunition shipments to France.

"The German government recommends that merchant vessels bound for the North sea take the north of Scotland course."

Britain Plans Reprisals.

London, Feb. 5.—"The apparent intention of the German government to sink merchant ships by submarines," says a statement from the foreign office, "without bringing them into port or providing accommodations for their crews, and regardless of the loss of civilian lives, and the attempt to effect this even against a hospital ship, has raised seriously the question whether Great Britain should adopt in retaliation more stringent measures against German trade.

"It is recognized that when any such decision to this effect is reached due care must be taken not to inflict loss upon neutral ships which have sailed before any warning has been given or decision announced."

Ask Food Price Control.

In view of the increased cost of food, which is due almost entirely to high freight rates, and the congestion of goods at the docks, members of the corporations of Glasgow, Liverpool and other cities in the kingdom proposed the passage of resolutions for the framing of a petition to the government in favor of government control of foodstuffs and coal and the shipping service.

While the resolution was defeated, those present at the meeting expressed strong views that immediate action by the government was necessary, as wheat, flour and coal are daily increasing in price.

Great Britain has decided that if the American steamer Wilhelmina, now on its way with a cargo of foodstuffs for

THE FACT REMAINS.

Frank James, of Hancock, writes The Mining Journal in regard to its recent article commenting on the needless expense involved in the direct nomination of county school commissioners, that, according to his recollection, this office was not placed under the law by the last legislature, but is there because of the inclusive nature of the statute.

IN ILLINOIS, TOO.

In Illinois, as in Michigan, the railroads are asking for an increased passenger fare. They desire authority to charge two and a half cents a mile, instead of two, as at present, and the arguments they present are much the same as those of the Michigan railroads. They point to the increased cost of living for railroads, the constantly higher wages that have to be paid and the financial burden involved in meeting the increasing demands of the public in the way of service and safe equipment.

The Detroit Free Press still insists that the indeterminate sentence law has been thrown into disrepute because of the action of the board of pardons in the Van Vorce case. The Free Press, however, is unable to point to any supporting evidence on this point. It is the only newspaper in the state that is particularly concerned about this case, and there is no indication of public interest in it.

WE ARE SUSPECT.

Commenting on the letter of Secretary of State Bryan to Senator Stone the Cologne Gazette, which previously, in a vigorous article, asserted that it would be a great mistake for Germany to trust to the mediation of the United States when the war wears to a close, asserts that this country is a tool of the allies.

Some Advice To German-Americans.

Representatives Bartholdt and his associates are doing a Germany no good, and they are doing themselves much harm, by their pernicious pro-German propaganda. EDITORIAL OPINION

Bryan's Blow at Political Morality.

Pained surprise is the state of mind in which Secretary of State Bryan's San Domingo patronage letter leaves his admirers. Mr. Bryan has kept his friends in a condition of nervous apprehension of disaster since he assumed the highly complex and difficult duties of secretary of state.

Still Falling Behind.

Even the emergency war tax with which the present administration has burdened the country does not suffice to prevent steady deficits in the revenues of the United States. In January, 1915, the expenditures of the national government exceeded its receipts by $8,110,427.

The great secret of succeeding in conversation is to admire little, to hear much, always to distrust our own reason, and sometimes that of our friends; never to pretend to wit, but to make that of others appear as much as possible; to be open to hear to what is said, and to answer to the purpose.—Benjamin Franklin.

Copper Country

LE GENDRE FAVORS A PUBLIC DEFENDER

Proposed Creation of Office Has Indorsement of Wellknown Calumet Attorney.

The idea of a public defender is one that has not been given much publicity in the copper country, but a campaign for the election of such an official in the various states is being pushed strenuously, notably by the Billboard, a theatrical periodical, and E. F. LeGendre, senior member of the LeGendre & Driscoll, is the first member of the Houghton equity bar to come out in favor of the proposed office.

Mr. LeGendre recently defended a criminal and who is now under sentence at Ionia. All the attorney has to show for several days of hard work in the case is a note for $100, which may or may not be made good eventually. Mr. LeGendre touched upon this incident and remarked: "In my eighteen years of practice, and I think my experience is that of other lawyers, I never yet have collected a fee in a criminal case after the case was disposed of. In criminal cases, if the lawyer does not get his fee before the case is tried he almost invariably does not get it at all."

"Why not advocate a public defender?" was asked by a reporter. "Go ahead and advocate it," said the attorney. "You can put me on record as favoring the idea."

Theory of Defense.

Mr. LeGendre, by request of the reporter, elaborated on the theory, seeing he had committed himself. "The theory of the public defender in criminal courts is, and rightly so, that the accused should have the services of as able a lawyer as the people have in the prosecutor. This does not always follow under the present system. If a man charged with a crime has no funds, the court appoints a young lawyer for the defense. This is all right, excepting that the young lawyer is almost invariably inexperienced and as a result the man does not get as capable a defense as he would had he the money with which to employ counsel."

History of the Movement.

The movement for a public defender was begun by the Billboard because of an instance of an actor who was accused of a crime that he did not commit, who was without means and who suffered unjustly because he could not afford to hire a capable lawyer. Such instances in the theatrical profession are frequent. The periodical named has been working for a long time on the public defender agitation and gradually has brought to its support many prominent people in the United States. Eventually the movement will take the form of an attempt to amend the constitutions of the states to create such an office.

NOTES OF CIRCUIT COURT.

Ogden to Ionia—James Johnson Admitted to Bail of $5,000. The Houghton county circuit court took recess at noon yesterday till Feb. 15. Judge O'Brien left in the afternoon on a business trip to Detroit. The court was occupied during the morning with minor civil matters. Judge O'Brien yesterday sentenced John F. Ogden, convicted of wife desertion, to one year at Ionia. William Hodge, charged with a statutory offense, was convicted by the jury in his case and was given the statutory punishment. Judge O'Brien entertained a bill of exceptions in the James Johnson case and admitted Johnson to bail in the sum of $5,000. Johnson was convicted of manslaughter at the last term of court, but the case is to be appealed on the exceptions filed yesterday. The man has not as yet probed the bail.

DEATH OF "JIM" M'LENNAN.

Following an operation for peritonitis, James A. McLennan, aged thirty-three, former resident of the Marley-McLennan agency, of Duluth, died Thursday at Alexandria, La., where he had been since leaving Duluth six months ago. Typhoid fever preceded an attack of the disease which resulted in death. Mr. McLennan was connected with the Alexander, Bolton & Lewis Insurance agency at Alexandria. J. W. Alexander accompanied the remains to Duluth, arriving there last night. Mr. McLennan was born in Duluth Oct. 28, 1881, and he was reared and educated there. His connection with many years with the Marley-McLennan agency was severed only when he left for the South. Survivors besides the mother and brother Charles are Mrs. George W. Welby, a sister, and Donald R. McLennan, brother. All except D. R. McLennan reside in Duluth. "Jim" McLennan was wellknown in the copper country. He was located in Hancock about five years ago as salesman for a Duluth metal concern and returned to the Zenith City to resume his connection with the insurance business.

$100 REWARD.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, it acts upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

H. C. FELVER, ENGINEER, RECEIVES PROMOTION

Worden-Allen U. P. Manager, Just Home from Europe, Is to Go to Buffalo.

H. C. Felver, for the last six years representative in the upper peninsula of the Worden-Allen company, steel construction architects and contractors, with headquarters in Houghton, announced yesterday that within the coming week he will remove to Buffalo, N. Y., where he will have an executive position in the company's branch at that place. Mr. Felver will continue to have the supervision of the upper peninsula territory and Arthur Sell, draughtsman in the Houghton office, will be at least in temporary charge.

Conditions Over the Seas.

Mr. Felver arrived this week from a trip to England and France, where he devoted six weeks to an investigation in the interests of his company, looking for the possibilities for future steel construction business growing out of the European war. He says that the outlook for business of this kind really is not as bright as might be expected. He explains in this way: In France, the steel bridge-and bridge construction business was what he was more particularly interested in—has not yet become popular. That country still employs masonry in bridge construction and, while many bridges have been partly destroyed in the operations of the war, they have been left in a condition admitting of reasonably easy repair. England will make a bid for structural business in France after the war and as England and France are allied English contractors undoubtedly will have the preference.

The big opening for American steel construction firms is in Belgium, Mr. Felver believes, and there is a contingency there also. If Germany retains Belgium, German contractors will get the business. If Belgium regains her freedom and France is able to keep the English contractors busy, the United States will get the Belgian business.

Mr. Felver says that, generally, English industry is active in spite of the war. The plants are working almost exclusively on war materials and the demand for these is so great that recruiting had to be stopped in some districts because it was seriously reducing the working forces in factories.

Touching the consumption of copper, Mr. Felver says that as England has been getting most of her cartridges in the United States he does not believe the demand for the red metal there is particularly brisk. He did not pay any attention to the question in France.

An Incident of the War.

The Houghton engineer came rather close to the firing line in France, and he saw some of the destruction wrought, he says France is a vast hospital. Incidentally, he encountered some of the men engaged in active warfare and one of them made a particular impression. "This fellow," said Mr. Felver, "told me that all his life he had been looking for some excitement. He tried automobile racing and found it tame and then he turned his attention to flying, which game him a few thrills for a time but gradually even that grew commonplace, even after the war opened. But now he actually had found something that could furnish just the amount of thrills he needs to content him. He is a driver of an armored automobile aeroplane tender. His automobile is a part of the entourage of an aeroplane scout and it must follow this aeroplane wherever it goes, as far as possible. If the aeroplane crosses the enemy's line the armored car must dash through also, in order to lend assistance should the air scout get into trouble. Driving this car struck this man as being a reasonably satisfactory variation from the humdrum existence he always has led."

U. P. Outlook Brightening.

Mr. Felver says that business prospects in the upper peninsula are brightening. He finds this in his daily mail. He has latterly received numerous requests for information by corporations desiring to enter upon new construction, both in the copper and iron countries. In this latter district Mr. Felver says that a big concern that had plans drawn in 1913 for a big plant, which concern was compelled to abandon the plan because of conditions now growing out of the war, has within the last day or two expressed an intention of immediately beginning this construction.

HINT TO WINE DEALERS.

Internal Revenue Collector Mayotte Sounds a Gentle Warning. F. O. Mayotte, internal revenue collector, has placed with various justices of the peace and notaries public in Houghton county blank certificates for the use of saloon keepers who have not as yet stamped their stocks of wine. He suggests that as many of these dealers are delinquent since last November they are liable to severe action by any special agent of the department who may happen to drop into the district. The collector says that the delinquents can obtain stamps from the banks or by writing Collector E. J. Doyle of Grand Rapids.

SECRETARIES END VISIT.

Iron Country Delegates to Building & Loan Meeting Depart. Assistant secretaries of the Detroit & Northern Michigan Building & Loan association in the iron country, who were in Hancock to attend the annual "get-together" meeting Thursday afternoon and evening, returned to their homes yesterday. The iron country delegation included W. E. Sweitzer, Marquette; John R. Lyons, Iron River; F. J. Duda, Bessemer; H. M. Erickson, Ironwood. At the banquet Secretary Hancock was toastmaster and addresses were made by Hon. Charles Smith of Hull and Henry L. Baer of Hancock.

PORTAGE LAKE HUMBLED.

Calumet Wins Hockey Game at the Amphidrome, 9 to 2.

The Calumet hockey team won its first game of the season last night, defeating Portage Lake on Amphidrome ice, by the score of 9 to 2. The game was slow, preventing sensational work, but Portage Lake appeared to work at a disadvantage all through the game. Both teams were inclined to loaf. Portage Lake was unable to get its "scoring machine" into action at critical moments.

PRIMARY ANTAGONIZED.

Houghton County Republicans Favor Return to Former System.

The Republican convention for Houghton county, held at the Amphidrome yesterday, was marked by speeches opposing the present primary election law and a somewhat general sentiment for a return to the old caucus and election system. The convention indorsed F. A. Jeffers, of Painesville, for member of the state board of education. Nineteen delegates to the state convention to be held at Grand Rapids next week were elected.

REV. JOHN WARGELIN HONORED.

Is Asked to Accept Call to Chicago District Charge.

Rev. John Wargelin of Republic was in Hancock yesterday, attending a meeting of the Finnish Lutheran church consistory. Mr. Wargelin is a graduate from Suomi college and has been a Republic for several years. The churches of Waukegan, DeKalb and Chicago, comprising the Chicago district, have extended a call to Mr. Wargelin. The district is without a pastor. Mr. Wargelin has not accepted the call as yet, but will leave for Chicago today and will preach there tomorrow.

MAY CONSOLIDATE CHURCHES.

Finnish Lutheran and National Churches Discuss Union.

A meeting of the national synod of the Finnish Lutheran Evangelical church, of which Dr. J. K. Sikander, president of the Finnish church of Hancock, is president, was held at the college yesterday. The principal question discussed was the proposed union of the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran and Finnish National churches. Opposition appeared from both churches and the matter was deferred to the next synod meeting in June, in Hancock. The synod decided to hold in Hancock June 8 to 21 a jubilee in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran church. The church was organized in Calumet in 1890 and now has 41 ministers and 28,000 communicants. Committees to arrange for the jubilee were appointed.

CANAL STATION NAME CHANGES.

Will Be Known in Future as Portage Coast Guard Station.

The recent enactment of the coast guard law, amalgamating the lifesaving service with the revenue cutter service, will result in changing the name of the lifesaving station at the Upper Portage canal to the Portage Coast Guard station. The bill was fathered by Senator Charles E. Townsend, Michigan's junior representative in the upper house.

Provisions of this bill make Captain McCormick of the canal station eligible for pension, providing he makes application. The requirement to obtain pension is thirty years in the service or sixty-four years of age. Captain McCormick is only fifty-eight years of age, but he has been in the service thirty-four years. When members of the service reach the age of sixty-four they are eligible for retirement. Captain McCormick of the Canal station, and Cleary of Marquette are the only Lake Superior captains that can qualify at present for this pension.

Captain McCormick arrived home yesterday morning from Manistique, where he attended the funeral of his brother.

LEAVE SOON FOR THE COAST.

Naval Reserve Members Will Start for Hampton Roads Feb. 13.

Jay Coon and George Brock, members of the Hancock naval reserve, will start the first leg of their journey to San Francisco Saturday of next week. The young men will make the trip with the fleet which leaves Hampton Roads for its Panama-Pacific cruise Feb. 20. Two members from each division of the naval reserve will be taken on this cruise, with expenses paid by the government. If any of the officers wish to go they may do so but will be obliged to pay their own expenses. Messrs. Coon and Brock will go as seamen, although Mr. Coon is an ensign-elect of the Hancock division.

Executive Officer Ruppe of the Yantic said yesterday that the report that the cruise date had been postponed was not correct. He thinks confusion arose through the decision of President Wilson not to go to the exposition until July. The president plans to go by way of the Panama canal and will make the trip in a battleship.

The two members of the Hancock division expected to be away about three months, this being the estimate of the time required to make the run to San Francisco, attend the exposition and return.

FINDING MARKET FOR OUTPUT.

Superintendent McReels of the Hancock overall factory, recently established, said yesterday that copper country firms are gradually increasing their orders for the product of the company. He said also he is in a position to supply the demand. Several merchants in the different towns have placed large orders and in a short time salesmen will be placed on the road.

ARE YOU GOING TO BUILD?

Building material—brick, lumber, everything—is cheaper to-day than it has been in years; NOW is the ideal time to build.

While THE LITERARY DIGEST is generally recognized at all times as the standard year-round medium for building material announcements, the issue of February 6, 1915, will contain an unusual number of messages from the leading manufacturers in practically every line of material that enters into the construction and interior equipment of a modern building, of any description.

It does not matter whether you are interested in building or furnishing a business block, a manufacturing plant, an apartment house, a bungalow, or a home, you will be sure to find a vast amount of valuable information in this issue—practical information that will surely save you money, annoyance, and much future worry.

Wherever you are located, or whatever local building conditions you may have to meet, you will profit by reading THE LITERARY DIGEST every week.

The manufacturers, whose announcements are presented, are among the most reliable in their respective lines; their services and their products are guaranteed.

Every contractor, every man and woman who contemplates spending little or much money in building construction of any kind; in buying home, store, or factory fixtures, of any description, should read THE LITERARY DIGEST regularly, but especially the issue for February 6th, 1915.

The Greatest Weekly News Magazine

While every issue of THE LITERARY DIGEST is particularly interesting to prospective builders, the magazine also covers the whole world of thought and action in every field—politics, foreign comment, science, invention, religion, art, and literature—giving all sides of the news without bias or coloring.

Leads All Others for War News

An exclusive feature of the weekly war chronicle is a reprinting of extracts from the European press, translations and reprints of war reports, documents; reproductions of photographs and cartoons from the newspapers published in the countries engaged in the war—Great Britain, Germany, Belgium, Russia, Italy, and the Balkan States.

By reading THE LITERARY DIGEST you may learn exactly what the people of the warring countries think of this fearful struggle.

The Minister to Belgium "Should Not Like to Be Without It"

"I have taken THE LITERARY DIGEST for a great many years, and I should not like to be without it. I think it is invaluable to one who wishes to know what is going on in the world, and it gives, I think, with quite as much of the impersonal feeling as is possible to human beings, both sides of every question."

—Brand Whitlock, U. S. Minister to Belgium.

TOURNAMENT AT FRANKLIN.

Expected Tomorrow's Events Will Do Much to Revive Ski Racing.

Ski riders are showing much interest in the tournament to take place at Franklin tomorrow afternoon. Indications point to a large entry list. A number of riders who have been among the winners at tournaments held in the copper country in past years have sent in their names, and the promoters of the event are satisfied the meet will attract hundreds of spectators.

There is more than a possibility that a series of tournaments for copper country ski riders will be staged this winter, and of late there has been agitation in favor of a ski-jumping tourney similar to those held in Ishpeming and other cities holding membership in the national association. However the proposed tournament would not have as participants the big ski jumpers of the country, but would be confined to home entrants.

The ski-riding sport has taken a strong hold on young people in the district this winter. Young America, quick to adopt the national pastimes of other countries, once these have been introduced, as in cricket, is becoming as adept in the art of ski riding as he is in skating, snow-shoeing or any other form of outdoor exercise.

BOYS' CONFERENCE AT CALUMET.

The main meetings of the boys' third annual conference, which will be held in Calumet Feb. 19 to 21, inclusive, are to be conducted in the auditorium of the high school. The auditorium has a seating capacity of four hundred to five hundred. Thus all the delegates can be accommodated. The first meeting of the conference will be held Friday afternoon, Feb. 19, commencing at 3:30, when the Calumet High School orchestra will play a program of music numbers. At this meeting each boy attending will be presented with a copy of "The Boys' Hymnal," about five hundred being procured for the purpose. Following the concert addresses will be made by Bates G. Burt of Marquette, Wesley Malloch of Escanaba and J. A. Vandis of Detroit. The High School orchestra will also play for the conference banquet, to be held in the Light Guard armory Friday evening. The orchestra will as well play for the special services Sunday afternoon and evening. The Saturday morning program will include several instrumental selections.

DIAMOND DUST

Bill Donovan of the Yanks is satisfied with Savannah, Ga. He will take the team there early this spring.

Wallie Schang, youthful Athletic catcher, is a devotee of the tenpins. He leads a quintet in Buffalo known as Schang's Colts.

Levinston, Ky., has applied for a berth in the Central league and has two clubs pulling for it. Four others are yet to pass upon the proposition.

Bill Donovan will be doing a great thing for the Yanks if he succeeds in landing Joe Jackson. The Gothamites need a heavy-hitting outfielder.

Earl Yingling is talking about being sent to the Salt Lake City club by the Reds. He says the Buckeyes are bound to keep him. The southpaw will take the matter into court.

Eddie Grant, Giant infielder, has secured a leave of absence from the Giants' training camp until March 1. Eddie is on his way to the Panama exposition, from where he will go direct to Marlin.

Manager Knight of the Cleveland American association club has sold Pitcher Estey George to Kansas City. Pitcher Ed Howik and George Beck are included. Ted Reidy has been released to New Orleans.

Chief Larozy, an Indian hurler who has been in the American Association for a number of years, has been sold to the Salt Lake team of the Pacific Coast league. Manager Blankenship, while in Indianapolis also obtained Charley French, former big-league star.

Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, has written a letter to Ted Brozowski, an eighteen-year-old Louisville left-handed pitcher, requesting him to report to the Athletics in the spring. Brozowski also has an offer from Terre-Haute, but probably will go east.

Heinie Zimmerman has signed a new contract. It has no ten-day clause. And, furthermore, he is not to receive money, but he agrees under the new agreement to give his wife $20 a week for the support of herself and their child during the months from October to March, inclusive. During the playing season the sum will be $90 a week.

Mining News

The United Verde Copper company is paying a dividend of seventy-five cents a share, the previous payment was made in November, 1914. In the 1914 calendar year the company paid $3.75 a share in dividends—five payments of seventy-five cents each—compared with $5.25 in 1913.

Fifteen cents cash has been named by producers for Lake copper for delivery during the next few months. Sales of Michigan brands have been made at 14 1/2 cents cash for March while inquiry has developed for May and June. Electrolytic copper has been raised to 14 1/2 cents, thirty days, in one of two instances, but plenty of copper may be secured for 14 1/2 cents.

An English military writer, enumerating the various uses of copper in war, says: "First and foremost, of course, are the cartridge cases for rifles. The alloy of copper and zinc from which rifle cartridge cases are drawn is so thin that the metals must be very pure to insure against flaws. Then there are the cartridge cases for the quick-firing guns. These also require the highest quality copper and zinc, since they must be exact to a ninth part of an inch and gastight. On shells there are copper bands encircling the steel to insure close fitting in the rifling. Pure copper is the only substance known that gives satisfactory results. For field telephones copper wire is indispensable. Indeed, in the electrical industry generally there is an enormous consumption of copper. The windings on dynamos, for instance, are all copper. Thousands of experiments with alternative substances have been tried, but all have failed."

Yesterday's temperatures: Seven a. m. 29 degrees; noon 31; 7 p. m. 31; highest 32 degrees; lowest 28.

Dudley S. Dean, of Boston, is in Marquette for a few days.

Mayor Heggaton, of Negaunee, was a Marquette visitor yesterday.

Ed Nelson, of Ishpeming, was a business caller in the city yesterday.

Lars Hoyseth, of Ishpeming, spent yesterday in Marquette on business.

H. S. Gallup arrived home yesterday from a two day's business visit in Escanaba.

Al Andrews and J. N. Olson were among the business callers in the city yesterday.

Marshal John Lehman, of Gwin, former sheriff, was a caller in the city yesterday.

Walter Hansen, of Negaunee, spent yesterday in the city attending to business matters.

Charles N. Humphrey, of Ironwood, was in the city yesterday, attending to business matters.

Albert E. Sterne, of Ishpeming, county commissioner of schools, was a Marquette business caller yesterday.

George J. Sacasin, of Princeton, spent yesterday in Marquette in attendance at the county Republican convention.

Mrs. F. X. Brisette and daughter, Elizabeth, who have been visiting in the Soo for the last two weeks, have arrived home.

H. O. Young, of Ishpeming, was in the city yesterday, and presided at the Republican county convention at the city hall.

As at this season of the year the danger of contagious diseases is greater than at any other time, a thorough disinfection of the Peter White public library is planned. The disinfecting of the building will be done under the supervision of Health Officer Main.

A. J. Yungbluth, George A. Newett and J. H. Rough, of Ishpeming, were in the city yesterday for the Republican county convention.

The senior members of the St. Aloysius sodality of St. Peter's cathedral will meet Monday evening at its rooms in the Baraga school.

Simon R. Anderson, of Ishpeming, one of the candidates for county school commissioner, was in the city yesterday in the interest of his candidacy.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid society will give a ten-cent tea at the home of Mrs. P. B. Spear, 401 East Ridge street, this afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The girls of the Northern State Normal school dormitory entertained at a dancing party last evening. The party was well attended. The dancing hall had been decorated, and the music was excellent.

The funeral of the late Miss Margaret Ryan will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from St. Peter's cathedral. Interment will be made in Holy Cross cemetery. The body has been removed from the family home in Marquette township to 323 West Washington street.

Will Move Market—Charles Doras, who has conducted his meat market in the Bureau block for a number of years past, will shortly move into the Paris building adjoining, which will afford more commodious quarters. The building has been remodeled and is in first class condition.

No Full Moon in February—There will be no full moon this month. February is the only month in which such a lack can occur, and 1846 was the last year with a moonless February. Occasionally, February, with its twenty-eight days, hasn't time for a moon to become full. There were two full moons last month and there will be two next month.

Today's Delft Program—A two-part Selig feature, "The Flower of Faith," "Life's Stream," a Biograph drama, and "Sophie's Fatal Wedding," an Essany Western comedy, constitute the program of the Delft theater for today. On Tuesday the Delft will show a production of the Paramount Picture corporation, "The Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch."

Contract Let—Charles Retallic, superintendent of the city light and power department, has let a contract to Joseph Lamonia and Thomas Fennessy for the clearing away of the timber from the city dam at Dead river. There is a considerable amount of standing timber in the dam and this will be cut off at the level of the ice. The contract price is $150.

Enjoyed Snowshoe Party—The St. Cecilia Music club Thursday evening enjoyed a snowshoe party along the lake shore, after which the members went to the home of Miss Florence Archambeau, the president, where a "potluck" supper was served. Musical games were played. The club will meet next Tuesday evening with Miss Grace McCall, West Prospect street.

Much Sickness in City—Marquette is now having more than the usual amount of sickness, and both hospitals are well filled with patients. Other than the few cases of smallpox, which have been isolated, there is little contagious disease. Although it has been opened less than a week the new St. Luke's hospital yesterday had thirty-five patients. Five operations were performed there yesterday.

Entertained at Dinner—The Francis A. Moore Memorial class of the First Methodist church entertained Rev. and Mrs. Charles J. Johnson at a dinner party in the church parlors last evening. A business meeting also was held and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Miss Hazel Fellow, president; Miss Myrtle Richards, treasurer; Miss Evelyn Wilson, secretary. Basketball and other games were enjoyed.

High School Won—The basketball team of the Peter White club lost its second game this week when it was defeated by the team of the Marquette High school at Fraternity Hall last night. The score was 19 to 13. Through out the early part of the contest the game dragged somewhat, but it was fast and exciting towards the last, when the club player stook a spurt. The high school boys had the advantage throughout. The latter team has a game scheduled with the Ishpeming High school quainted for Friday of next week at Fraternity Hall. It is probable, however, that the match will be postponed, owing to the boys' conference at Calumet.

"Zudora" Plot Changes—"The Missing Heir," the ninth episode of "Zudora," the Thanhouser production at the Marquette Opera House, will be exhibited at the theater today. With the development of the story after installment nine, the life of Zudora takes a sudden change. Other pictures on the program today will be "Billy's Wager," a Vitagraph comedy, and "The Adventures of Sammy Orpheus," a Selig drama featuring Thomas Santschi and Bessie Eytan, who were the stars in "The Spoilers." There will be continuous matinees this afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock. Next week the theater will show four special features, "Samson," with William Farnum, the star of "The Spoilers"; "Across the Pacific," Arty Clay Blaney's success; "The Odyssey of the North," with Hobart Bosworth, and "As Ye Sow," featuring Miss Alice Brady.

"The Missing Heir"

Episode No. 9 of

ZUDORA

A Startling Change in the Plot of Zudora.

With the development of the story after Episode No. 9, the life of Zudora takes a decided change. As shown in Episode No. 9, the quarters of Hassan Ali are consumed by fire, at which time the real Hassan Ali dies.

Up to this time, James Cruise, who has been imitating Hassan Ali, now deceased, had imposed upon her the solving of twenty cases. Upon discovering the contents of a chest, she knows she is no longer required to solve these problems, and her career now becomes a thousand-fold more interesting and consists in solving the mystery of her own life. In doing this, she has wonderfully exciting experiences and passes through many perilous situations, which are vividly portrayed in the coming episodes.

A new character is also introduced in that of Marlam DuVal. This part is played by Miss Forbes, a very fine and capable actress; she makes a very interesting contrast to Miss Snow as Zudora and greatly strengthens the cast supporting her.

Because of this development in the story, all settings, stage scenery and everything else that makes a film attractive have been changed and new and wonderful scenes have been built. Zudora, having become acquainted with her own life, and the death of Hassan Ali, takes away the Hindu mysticism which has been interspersed throughout the previous episodes.

James Cruise, now no longer able to impersonate Hassan Ali, tries to win Zudora's love and fortune through kindness and devoted service. He will be seen therefore in that part which has made him famous throughout the United States and Canada. He will be instantly recognized as he appears on the film by hundreds of the moving picture fans throughout in addition to this, Sidney Bracy, the famous holder of the "Million Dollar Mystery," Frank Farrington and other familiar "Million Dollar Mystery" and Thanhouser stars come into the story with splendid parts. In short the story develops into one replete with love, romance, adventure, surprises, interesting stunts which carry a suspense from one episode to another and which will thrill and hold the audiences everywhere.

Asks American Supervision.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Much interest is manifested at the state department in the proposal of Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, that an American consular officer supervise the distribution of the cargo of foodstuffs on the American steamer Wilhelmnia to make sure that they reached the civilian population and not the armed forces of Germany.

State department officials declined to say whether or not American consular officers would be authorized to supervise the distribution of the foodstuffs, in British circles it was intimated that Great Britain probably would not permit the cargo of the Wilhelmnia to proceed under such an arrangement, which, if applied to all cargoes of foodstuffs, might develop into a plan whereby grain and flour now in Germany could be shipped entirely for the armed forces, while the civilian population was fed by imported products.

Dutch Urged to Make Demand.

Amsterdam, via London, Feb. 5.—The Handelsblad interprets the German admiral's warning against neutral ships approaching the northern and western coasts of France as meaning that merchantmen of any nationality without regard to destination or cargo may be destroyed if they are following a course near one of the British or French ports of embarkation.

GRAND RAPIDS MAN HAS RATE PROPOSAL

Would Grant Railroads Two and a Half Cent Fare, but Require Two Cent Mileage.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 5.—It remained for Charles R. Foote, of Kent county, to introduce in the house a bill providing for passenger fares on the railroads of Michigan which will stand a vastly better chance of passing the legislature than any of the other bills proposed on this subject.

Mr. Foote's bill provides for 2 1/2-cent railroad fares on all roads in the state, when a passenger buys a ticket or pays cash fares. But it also provides for 1.00-mile mileage books to be sold for $25 or two cents a mile. These books are to be interchangeable on all roads operating in the state and good for the purchaser and his family. Mr. Foote argues that while persons who travel much would certainly buy the books, and thus pay only a two-cent fare, that the roads would not realize as much as under their proposed measure, yet they would benefit by the fact that they would have a large number of 20-dollar bills on hand and from the use of this money while the mileage was being used up.

Footnote Popular Among Colleagues.

As Mr. Foote is perhaps one of the strongest men in the house, standing well among the members personally, and also one of the Speaker's right-hand men, it is more than probable his bill will find considerable favor in the house.

When the hearing on the railroad passenger fares comes off next week, some startling figures are promised. No bill in the legislature in many years has attracted more attention than the present one passed by the 1911 legislature. The upper peninsula and the lower peninsula roads are two entirely different propositions and their interests are not common. The upper peninsula roads were highly indignant when it became known that the lower peninsula roads had retained Roger L. Wykes of Grand Rapids to represent them and at first refused absolutely to pay any proportionate share of the expenses involved. Mr. Wykes is representing the state in the courts in an action by which the state seeks to force the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic to accept the two-cent fare as passed by the 1911 legislature. This road, in particular, it may well be imagined, is not delighted with the idea of helping pay Mr. Wykes a retainer to represent it before the legislature.

MANY NEW BILLS ARE INTRODUCED IN SENATE.

Lansing, Feb. 5.—The senate gained a few laps on the house Wednesday afternoon when two of Senator Wood's bills were passed on third reading and forwarded across to the other branch of the legislature. The so-called blue sky law and the bill drawn by Auditor General Fuller and introduced by Senator Wood to provide for completing the records of plats on file in the office of the auditor general were passed with but few changes. The amendments were of a technical nature and do not alter the general scope of the bills.

The senate went into committee of the whole and passed Senator Morford's bill preventing the sale of cigarettes to boys under the age of twenty-one years. Senator Covert's highway bill making deficiency appropriations of $600,000 also passed the committee of the whole.

Senator Roberts of Marquette put in a bill making an appropriation of $140,761.40 for the northern state normal school and Senator Foster introduced another appropriation measure giving the Newberry state hospital $165,916. Senator Powell followed with an appropriation of $63,000 for the state board of geological survey and Senator Barnes of Flint came forward with a bill appropriating $100,000 to give the state tuberculosis sanatorium at Howell $104,885 for the next two years and the other appropriating $10,000 for the same institution.

In the house a few days ago a carefully worded bill which would repeal the law creating the Michigan Bonding and Surety company, made its appearance. Senator Straight has started the fight in the senate and his bill, which has for its purpose the abolishing of the Michigan Bonding and Surety company, was referred to the liquor committee of which he is the chairman.

Senator Straight also put in a bill to appropriate $2,000 to erect a monument at Shiloh National park to Michigan soldiers who participated in the battle of Shiloh. The bill provides that the members of the commission to be appointed by the governor must have served with honor on the famous battlefield.

Two years ago Representative William Martz of Detroit succeeded in securing a bill through the legislature giving members of fire departments in all cities of more than 250,000 population a vacation of twenty days each year and providing that each fireman should have one day vacation in four. This was purely a local act passed for the benefit of the Detroit firemen and several bills applying only to cities of certain population have been declared unconstitutional by the supreme court. Senator Covert making it apply to every city in the state having a full paid fire department. At the present time there are two sections of an old statute prohibiting officers of state institutions from being interested in contracts made with their institutions and Senator De Land offered an amendment to repeal one of the obsolete sections and strengthen the penalty clause of the remaining section.

WOULD ADOPT SEPARATE BALLOTS FOR PRIMARY.

Lansing, Feb. 5.—Automatic party enrollment by means of separate primary ballots and registration at the polls is the primary law introduced in the house by Representative William Nank of Mount Clemens. This is the first of the measures proposing changes in the primary law to be introduced in the house and follows one feature of the plan of the Republican state central committee in its recommendation for the pre-primary convention.

The Nank bill provides that instead of a blanket ballot containing the names of all party candidates for nomination each party ticket shall be on a separate ballot. The voter is forced to ask for a particular party ticket, can have but one and his choice is registered by the inspectors and becomes a record which serves the same purpose as the enrollment. It lacks all the complicated machinery and objections of the enrollment, however.

Representative Olmstead introduced a bill amending the general highway law to provide that county boards may not proceed with bonding projects for road work except upon initiation by a 10 per cent petition of qualified electors.

PROPOSES GOOD PROFIT FOR STATE

Senator Deland Presents Amendments to Workingmen's Compensation Statute.

Lansing, Feb. 5.—Important changes in the state compensation law are proposed in amendments offered by Senator Deland of Jackson.

Under the present law, in case of death from injuries, where there are no dependents, the employer pays only hospital, doctor and burial bills. One amendment provides that in all such cases the employer must pay to the state treasurer for use by the state industrial accident board, the full compensation minus the doctor, hospital and burial bills, which are to be paid separately. As funeral bills are limited to $200 and in some cases death compensation is $3,000, the state would be a big gainer in every case where a workman with no dependents is killed.

Procedure Is Changed.

Rules for procedure in hearing industrial accident cases in another amendment are so changed as to bar the board from deciding cases purely on technicalities. The board shall not be bound in being used by common law or statutory rules of evidence, or by technical or formal rules of procedure, but shall make inquiry to ascertain the substantial rights of the parties.

If a workman is kept from his work for four weeks as the result of an injury, according to another amendment, he shall receive pay from the date of the injury. The present law provides that two weeks from the time of the injury shall elapse, for which no compensation is paid, before the employer is liable.

The old law made no provision for payment for the loss of a nose. An amendment provides that 50 per cent of the wages earned for 200 weeks must be paid.

For the loss of an ear 50 per cent for fifty weeks must be paid; total disability, 50 per cent for 200 weeks; and for a fractured jaw or loss of a tooth, not over $10 a week with the board to determine the time for the payments shall be made.

The amendments make no provision for compensation to be paid in case of sickness contracted, such as lead poisoning, while employees are engaged at work, as was advocated during the recent campaign.

HUDSON BAY POSSIBILITIES.

Although the region which is drained by the rivers and lakes that have their outlet into Hudson bay is enormous in extent and possesses boundless possibilities in its forest, mineral, agricultural and fishery resources, it has hitherto failed to attract much attention because of the superior opportunities offered by the Canadian territory nearer the American boundary.

GIVES POWER TO DENY ALL LIQUOR LICENSES

Jerome Bill Places Arbitrary Authority With City and Village Councils.

Lansing, Feb. 5.—Two bills and a proposed amendment to the constitution designed to simplify the machinery of election for United States senators and to clear up certain evils with regard to the passage of local acts by the legislature were introduced by Representative George Palmer of Ayrone county.

Representative Palmer's two bills on the United States senatorial election provide for the repeal of the law which carries this into the state legislature for ratification of the vote of the people and changes the primary law to provide for the nomination of United States senatorial candidates every fall when an election is to follow.

Representative Flowers' bill is similar to one introduced in the senate by Senator Scott.

Jerome Bill Gives Drastic Authority.

Under the Jerome bill common councils will be empowered to immediately cut down the saloon limit of any city or village to the one to 500 population limit prescribed by the existing law. If it goes through they will have authority to refuse any and all licenses. It makes it absolutely discretionary with the councils, etc.

Representative Palmer of Detroit also introduced a bill amending the law regulating the conduct of motion picture theaters to provide that in fireproof buildings motion pictures may be shown on the next floor above street level. The purpose is to make it discretionary, however, with the state fire marshal.

Representative Martz of Detroit introduced a bill giving Spanish war veterans the same tax exemption now enjoyed by Civil war veterans.

ENDURANCE TEST BY WILLIAM ALDEN.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Senator William Alden Smith is conceded to have made one of the most notable contributions to the filibuster against the ship purchase bill. All told he spoke for more than twelve hours. This was divided into two relays of about equal length. During each of these periods he took no nourishment. He had bursts of the fiery style of oratory which marked his early career and these were followed by times in which he spoke in a more conversational tone. But he proved himself to be one of the best fighters and debaters on the Republican side. He also maintained his reputation as a coiner of phrases. Here are some of the striking statements of his speech:

"Democrats are bad diagnosticians. They are doctoring the time when the disease is in the brain."

"John J. Fitzgerald turned state's evidence against his own party when he charged them with looting the treasury. If there is one Democrat in public life during the last twenty-five years who deserves a statue to his memory it is Fitzgerald."

"We cannot buy necessities on a check market and maintain a dear market in which to sell."

"There is no sugar factory in the country which cannot be bought for 50 cents on the dollar. Democrats dabble themselves that the sugar industry is prosperous just now. But it is on borrowed time. It is under sentence of death, to be executed in 1916."

"More men are hanging around Washington with satchels just now than in twenty years. They are waiting to carry money back to South or Central American republics."

"Every government in Mexico has been shot in and shot out and usually with guns and ammunition from this country. I don't know who is president down there now. I haven't read the morning papers."

"Not an official sent from this government to Mexico in the last two years but what has fallen squarely into the lap of the Waters-Pierce Oil company."

"The pig, spleen, malice and madness of our government drove Gen. Huerta from Mexico. No power has recognized a government there since."

"We sent troops to Mexico to aid the Villa-Carranza faction. Later they dissolved partnership and we do not know what to do with the $1,000,000 we collected in customs at Vera Cruz."

"All we have had to ally the disorders down there is rhetoric and smooth talk."

"Consistency, that art jewel but thy name is not Democracy."

"The most sweeping defeat any administration has had since 1892 was that of the recent election. If it had been presidential year the Republican, 297; Democratic, 213; Progressive, 13; Doubtful, 8. This would have meant the inauguration of a Republican president on March 4."

Teaching Horses French

A French writer tells a quaint story of the war. He says that the English cavalry in France found themselves in possession of a number of horses which were not found suitable for cavalry work. By arrangement with the French government they sold them off to French peasants for agricultural work. The farmers were delighted; though the horses were not adopted for cavalry work, they were better than they had been accustomed to have for farm work. But when they came to work them a difficulty arose. The horses did not understand French. When addressed with "Hue!" or a "Diat!" (which is idiomatic French for "Gee up!" and "Way, whoa!") they did not budge. No doubt carters in France, as in England, have a whole vocabulary of horse talk. Apart from the starting and stopping, there are special cries which tell the horse to turn to the right or left or to take up a particular posture when it is being groomed.

URGENT TREATMENT FOR NERVE BROKEN MEN

Temporary Insanity Brought on in Trenches Presents Peculiar Medical Problems.

London, Jan. 24.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The number of English soldiers and officers who have suffered nervous breakdown more or less approaching insanity as a result of the strain of war has shown such increase that some of the leading medical journals are pleading for special consideration and treatment for this class.

"Some cases," says the Lancet, "are certainly hopeless, but there are others—and happily these are in preponderating numbers, where there are good grounds for believing that they may again become useful citizens."

The effects of warfare on the nervous system are more marked in the case of officers than in the case of enlisted men, the latter in many cases of "trench insanity" recovering "tone" after a continuous sleep of from twenty-four to forty-eight hours. Officers similarly afflicted are generally sent to special hospitals for a rest of a week or ten days, but if they fail to show satisfactory progress after that time they are invalided home, on the ground that it is improbable that they could regain employment on active service.

USE OF CAPITAL BEING REGULATED

British Government Intends to Subordinate Its Employment to Purposes of War.

London, Jan. 24.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Considerable discussion has taken place recently as to what new issues of capital would be allowed in France, the vesting of "cash" is not "pass" but "Mimi!"—Manchester Guardian.

In connection with the reopening of the Stock Exchanges, the treasury have had under consideration the general conditions under which new issues of capital in the United Kingdom can be permitted during the continuance of the war.

It appears to the treasury that in the present crisis all other considerations must be subordinated to the paramount necessity of harnessing the financial resources of the country with a view to the successful prosecution of the war. Accordingly they wish it to be understood that until further notice they feel it imperative in the national interest that fresh issues of capital should be approved by the treasury before they are made.

Treasury approval will be governed by the following general conditions:

1. Issues for undertakings carried on or to be carried on in the United Kingdom shall only be allowed where it is shown to the satisfaction of the treasury that they are advisable in the national interest.

2. Issues or participation in issues for undertakings carried on or to be carried on in the British empire overseas shall only be allowed where it is shown to the satisfaction of the treasury that they are necessary and special circumstances exist.

3. Issues or participation in issues for undertakings carried on or to be carried on outside the British empire shall only be allowed where it is shown to the satisfaction of the treasury that they are necessary and special circumstances exist.

4. The treasury will not in ordinary cases insist upon the above restrictions where issues are required for the renewal of treasury bills or other short-term securities held here and falling due of foreign or colonial governments or municipal corporations or railways or other undertakings.

The treasury will not be prepared to approve of any dealings in the Stock Exchange in any issue which has not been approved by the treasury before they are made.

These regulations are looked on in the money market with complacency, and in the Stock Exchange hopefully as likely to benefit prices of existing securities of our government and of the government's intention to prepare the way for another war loan by keeping the London market free of other issues and at the same time checking any possible attempt to raise money on the London market.

It is thought this embargo will send new capital seekers to the United States in increasing numbers.

In connection with the regulations as to dealings in new issues on the Stock Exchange, the treasury have now given the Stock Exchange authority to deal in the ten millions sterling of French treasury bills recently brought out here.

WOMEN'S WAR HOSPITAL.

At Paignton in Torbay, Devonshire, some thirty miles from Plymouth, and a couple of miles from Torquay, is the "American Women's War Hospital," located in the mansions of Mr. Paris Singer, who not only gave the use of the house to the Red Cross, but also donated $25,000 to the fund to operate it.

Try to imagine a wealthy man's magnificent country house standing on its own park-like grounds on the side of a hill just high enough to command a view of the Devonshire scenery and Torbay, and then out of it and no expense had been spared to equip it as a first-class hospital. Many beautiful fixtures have been torn out ruthlessly where required and leaden floors have been laid over wooden floors where necessary for sanitary purposes, as in the operating room. It is not every hospital can boast of marble staircases and pillars, and fine oil paintings on its walls, and crystal chandeliers and chival glass—yet artistic effects have not been allowed to interfere with its effective equipment.

The hospital is devoted to the treatment of British wounded. Wards are named in honor of the wealthy American ladies who have donated large sums of money to its maintenance. You notice the names of Mrs. Agnes, Mrs. Mabel, Mrs. Hugh, Mrs. Clifford, Mrs. Astor, Mrs. Moberly, Mrs. Harcourt, Mrs. Crocker, Mrs. Laughlin, and Hadfield, over the wards, and the gymnasium, turned into the largest ward, is named after Frank A. Munsey, the American publisher, who donated $25,000 to the fund.—James H. Hare in Leslie's.

ITALY ABLE TO USE THREE UNIQUE CORPS

Bersaglieri, Alpini, and Cavalry Trained in a Way Unavailable to Any Other Army.

When the Italian chamber on Dec. 2 registered a vote of confidence in the government it meant that 413 deputies against 49 were in favor of Italy continuing her policy of neutrality. This neutrality had already cost the country $150,000,000 to maintain, and the loss to the productive labor of 2,000,000 men who had been called to the colors. The program demanded further similar sacrifices in order that this neutrality, as Premier Salandra explained, might not be "inert and listless, but active and vigilant; not impotent, but strongly armed and ready for any emergency."

Since the middle of September, when all danger of a German investment of Paris seemed to have passed, the big contracting firm of Pizzetti & Gioia of Turin, which handles all the supplies for the army and navy, has sent out numerous circulars to American manufacturers, the general terms of which are:

"We are instructed by the war office to supply to you—Should you be in a position to entertain the contract we shall be obliged if you will forward to us at the earliest possible date samples of—Please call at once lowest price."

It is understood that contracts to the value of $25,000,000 have as a result been placed with American firms for military supplies, including horses and cavalry artillery accoutrements, shoes, knapsacks, canteens, spades, and picks.

It is now authoritatively known that those firms filling the contracts in question have been ordered to have the goods delivered at various points in Italy "not later than March 1, 1915."

Further light on Italy's preparedness for "any emergency" is revealed by the fact that the third category of men has been called to the colors. It means that the Alpine troops of the first category, made up of fire choice men for the regular army, and the second category, men assigned to the regular army

As to the cavalry, experts have said that it is the finest in the world. At any rate, the corps have won western fame from Cossacks and our own Western cavalry, which has been shown in photographs of their operations on the Campagna Romana reveal men and horses performing seemingly impossible feats.

Besides these unique corps, there are the famous Carabinieri or national police, who are recruited from the army and then usually return to it as non-commissioned officers after seven years' service. This corps is considered the finest school of non-commissioned officers in the world. Its training and administration are also unique.

CATARRH OF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

Peruna Saved Me

Mrs. Powers, whose address is given below her portrait, is an ardent friend of Peruna. She says: "I am thankful to tell you that my old trouble has never bothered me any since you received my testimonial. Any one wishing to know the facts in my case, if they will write me will be glad to answer. Your medicine has saved me, and gave me perfect health. I frequently meet friends that knew me when I was in poor health. They ask me what has made such a change in me. I always tell them that it was the nerve remedy, Peruna. I shall praise Peruna as long as I live."

Catarrh of the Internal Organs

Mrs. A. T. Powers, R. R. 7, Box 121, London, Ohio, writes: "I write to thank you for the wonderful good your Peruna has done for me. I was a sufferer from kidney and bladder trouble for twenty-two years. Two years ago I began to take Peruna, and I only took about three bottles and today I can say I am a well person."

Catarrh is liable to affect any of the internal organs. This is especially true of the bladder, which is very frequently the seat of catarrh. This is sometimes called cystitis.

but with "unlimited leave," have been exhausted and that now those men are to be drilled who exempt for various reasons from active service, are to be assigned to the national militia for home defense.

For example, the royal decree calling to the flag the third category of Alpine troops born in 1891, 1892, 1893 and 1894, which was issued on Jan. 23, will place about 200,000 men in the local garrisons of Piedmont, Lombardy, and Venice—for "on mobilization regiments shall be filled up by reservists from the districts in which they are quartered at the time."

In normal times military regiments receive recruits from all parts of the country, and the troops change their stations by brigades every four years.

Since the middle of September soldiers of the first and second categories, principally between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-four (military service two years and ends at the age of thirty-nine) have been periodically called under these various calls up to Jan. 15 shows that, if all had been retained, Italy then had almost every Italian landscape.

The Alpini are specially trained to manoeuvre among the northern mountains, and their target practice consists in sharpshooting across the vast open spaces, where the atmospheric conditions would confuse the soldier of the lowlands.

THAT BIG NEW ARMY OF LORD KITCHENER

Its Personnel, Spirit and Training as Described by a Member in the Ranks.

New York, Feb. 5.—A letter received in this city from Charles P. McPherson, a lance corporal of the Twentieth service battalion of the Royal Fusiliers, in camp at Leatherhead, Surrey, England, gives a picture of the type of British recruits who comprise Kitchener's new army, of which Corporal McPherson is a member, and a good idea of how the gentleman ranks "regards the war."

The letter is written to his uncle, who is a business man here. In part it says:

"I am billeted with another private in one of England's most beautiful, quaint old villages, Leatherhead. The country round about, even at this time of the year, is really glorious. We are only five miles away from Boxhill, Epsom Downs, with miles and miles of heather and bracken-covered heaths and woods between and beyond.

"We have Swedish drill and a six mile run breakfast every morning, and unless we are out shooting we have field manoeuvres and such operations during the remainder of the day. Generally we have a lecture on military subjects for an hour each evening and our life is also varied with night operations and route marches. We have sing-songs, football and lacrosse and life, generally speaking, is—well, it's life.

"The corps to which I belong is a brigade of 5,000 strong of public school and university men, and a fine body of men it would be hard to meet with. We have famous tennis players, lawyers, engineers of high standing, all in the ranks as privates, and all our officers are men of our own class who enlisted with us. Some of our fellows have given up business prospects and positions of hundreds and thousands of pounds a year. Just imagine mere privates turning up at the parade ground in their own motor-cars and so on. Yet discipline is strict and ready obeyed, and we are all as keen as mustard. Mind you, I am saying all this without boasting, for after all it is the 'spirit of things' that counts.

"As regards the war itself, you probably know as much and more (as regards details) than we do. One thing, this war will not be ended until Prussian militarism is absolutely crushed. We have enormous resources, as you know, and one of the most favorable signs which strikes one most is the absence of all 'flag waggling' and boisterous display so noticeable and nauseating in the Boer War.

"Another important point is this: Not a man is going to the firing line who won't be absolutely fit and capable and thoroughly trained and hardened in every conceivable way. There are over a million and a half men in training now, and everything is being carried out in a calm and methodical manner. One thing above all is greatly conducive to this state of affairs; we have a Mar at the head of things in Kitchener. Everybody, of whatever party, has absolute confidence in him, and rightly so. His organization is perfect in every detail, in so far as such an organization can be perfect, and training, clothing, and equipping of troops goes forward with clock-like precision.

"Our arms, clothing, boots, food, and equipment are all of the very best. Another great point is the absence, almost complete, I might say, of drunkenness among our soldiers. Our men do drink, it is true, but somehow there seems to be a general spirit prevailing in the new armies of trying to keep as physically fit as possible, in view of the great struggle which each one of us hopes to take part in.

"Soldiers home from Belgium, and others, who have never found wanting, and that at the present moment, if the Allies only cared to lose an enormous number of men, they could wipe the Germans off the map. But the main idea seems to be that by prolonging the war until we can bring the million or so men into the field, the result will be the same, only the loss of life will be much less. Instead, therefore, of spending time to gain the issue, we are going to spend time and money.

"England, generally speaking, is quite calm, even the main idea being to whatever they can in a useful way for the common good. Once upon a time, I think, we all looked upon the German Army with awe. Now it is just the opposite. The German Army as a fighting machine has been found wanting, and we all know it for what it is worth.

"All our wounded soldiers express admiration for the German artillery, which is really great; but their rifle fire is pitiable. Here is a case in point, which is told us by Captain, M. of the Grenadier Guards, lately returned from the front. A German brigade (5,000 men) had advanced to within fifty yards of our trenches and poured an incessant fire on our soldiers for over four hours. Not one of our men was hit, but half a mile in the rear of our trenches were our supports, twelve of whom were hit by the German bullets.

"The reason is because the German soldier does not fire from the shoulder, but with his rifle pointing upward from his thigh, consequently his bullets pass harmlessly over our men's heads.

"In conclusion, I will say that we know we are up against a big thing, and the knowledge of this fact makes us more wide-awake and cooler headed."

EMERGENCY BUILDING NEEDED FOR CLERKS OF FOREIGN OFFICE.

London, Jan. 24.—[Correspondence of The Associated Press]—Because of the great pressure upon the passport department of the foreign office, Lord Grey is having an emergency building erected in the court about which the various branches of the foreign service are grouped. The temporary shelter for the passport department is a large wooden structure hastily thrown together.

A general order has been published that all British passports issued before August 5, 1914 to British subjects now in the British Isles will become invalid on February 1. Passports issued before the war and held by Britishers now in France, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Switzerland, and Holland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden will become invalid on March 1.

The clamor for new credentials has been unprecedented in the history of the foreign office.

KIPLING 'STUPEFIED' BY THE GERMANS

'A Nation in a Frenzy,' He Calls Them in a Letter to a French Friend.

Paris, Feb. 5.—The Temps prints two letters from Rudyard Kipling to a French friend. The first is dated Oct. 25, and the other Jan. 1.

The first letter refers to the gratifying unity between the French and English, and there is an expression of confidence that the new English armies are likely to prove better than the German because "in the hurly-burly of a war like this, even half-corrupt, incompetent democracies can do better than a great, perfect machine, all of whose details are minutely provided, but which remains a machine."

Mr. Kipling refuses to accept the prevailing British view that the war will last three years, saying:

"I cannot believe it, because it would mean more fire than fuel to supply it. Besides, I ask how long the Germans will resist when the struggle is on their territory. Their military operations against the civilian population are simply so marked by strains of sadism that I hardly see them resisting rougher treatment in their own home. The style of their leading newspapers confirms this opinion. It is not the way a great people express ideas."

The second letter contains a curious reference to the effect of the censorship. Mr. Kipling says:

"Remember that the press is a stimulant of which our two peoples have contracted the habit. Therefore, when the governments suppressed 'news' the effect was comparable to the Russian prohibition of vodka. We miss a stimulant. We read information in neutral newspapers as a drunkard under treatment may be able to tolerate or spirits of wine at a drug store. Naturally it doesn't suit us."

Mr. Kipling renews his assurance of confidence as to the new English armies. After complimenting the recipient of the letter on the admirable behavior of the French, he refers to the non-combatants, saying:

"We are now like runners between two efforts. As we English say, 'We are suffering from stitch.'"

Regarding German psychology the writer says:

"I am stupefied. I never could have imagined a nation in a frenzy. It is a race of women. To me there is an incomprehensible civilization. I cannot imagine what the German 'idea' is driving at, unless it be a parade march through a series of halls philosophically constructed for purposes of self-adornment."

The Arabs, used to offer the choice between Islam and the sabre. The Germans have only the sabre for their whole philosophy. As you say, it is the problem of the mad dog. I can only foresee the animal's death, probably from cerebral congestion."

SHOT MADE EVERYTHING GREEN.

A soldier in a recent battle was shot in the forehead, the bullet passing through his brain and out at the back of his head, but without even stunning him. He remarked, "Everything seems green all round me." When in the hospital tent he still saw everything green, but otherwise made no complaint. This case, says the editor of Nature, appears to favor the cerebral theory of color vision of Dr. Etridge-Green, the shock to the brain having altered the discriminatory apparatus so that impulses caused by green rays had a preponderant influence.

HORSE BONES FOR SOUP.

A paper received from Eindhoven, Holland, has advertisements showing that the bones of horses must be used as a premium. Fresh smoked horse meat is selling from 40 to 55 cents a pound; fresh horse meat for roast from 30 to 45 cents a pound; horse bones for soup, 20 cents a pound.

A TEST FOR LIVER COMPLAINT

Mentally Unhappy—Physically Dull.

The Liver, sluggish and inactive, first shows itself in a mental state—unhappiness and irritability. Never is there joy in living, as when the Stomach and Liver are doing their work. # WHEN AUSTRALIANS SAILED TO THE WAR

Like Vast Regatta at Sea, Troopship Armada Moved North With 30,000 Soldiers.

Sydney, Australia, Jan. 19.—[Correspondence]—"It is the most wonderful sight an Australian ever saw." So wrote a correspondent accompanying the Australian and New Zealand contingents (now in Egypt) of the departure and early voyaging of the 30,000 soldiers from the Antipodes on a great fleet of steamers, conveyed by warships, Great Britain's sea supremacy has never before, perhaps, had such a striking demonstration as this journey of men, horses and guns from West Australia to Colombo, and thence to Aden and the Red Sea.

The rendezvous of the transports was Albany, West Australia. There the ships gathered from Brisbane, Melbourne, Sydney, Adelaide, and Fremantle and from New Zealand ports. On Nov. 1, the troopships weighed anchor at Albany. A B. Paterson, known from one end of the Commonwealth to the other as a poet and short-story writer, thus gives the picture:

"The New Zealand transports, all painted the same grayish-black color, with black funnels, are straggled in a charge as we went past, and they give us Hori Hela's old (Maori) war cry: 'Ake, Ake, Ake, Kia Kaha.' We will fight on forever and ever. Past the frowning cliffs and the lighthouse we draw out to the sunlit sea, our division following in beautiful order, each ship swinging gracefully round into line as we set our course for the Leouwin (Cape Leeuwin) and draw slowly up alongside the other two lines.

"Thirty thousand fighting men, representing Australasia, are under way for the great war."

Like a Regatta at Sea.

Of the flight across the ocean the writer says:

"From the leading ship of our line we saw a great string of ships steaming along in our rear, the one just behind us keeping always her distance, the white foam lifting at her bows, her great frame hitting and sinking rhythmically to the swell.

"Day and night she is always there, just behind us, until the pursuit becomes a sort of haunting thing. One looks at sometimes to see if by any chance she may have relaxed her pursuit for an instant, but the great bow and the towering deckhouses and bridge are always there, just behind us; and behind her always trails the long line of ships.

"The only change is when a vessel going a trifle too fast finds herself closing on the one in front of her and falls out of line and makes a slight detour so as to lose a little distance without slowing her engines. Sometimes there are two or three vessels out of line at once, and it is a positive relief after the long grim line of vessels.

"It is a great experience for the merchant captains, this navigating in line by day and night. Men-of-war navigators are trained to it all through their career, and rush through maneuvers at full speed with only a couple of cable lengths between the vessels, but the captain of gigantic merchantmen was in practice at playing tricks with his vessel and the further away he can keep from all others the better he is pleased. It is a fair to say that not one captain left his bridge during the whole of the first night.

"It would never do to make a blunder with all of those brethren of the cloth looking on; and not a blunder was made. It is not exactly the easiest thing in the world to keep accurate distance and direction for the hours of a long voyage, but the captain of a merchant vessel had to be taken not to overrun the constable, so to speak, and the engine room bells tinkled pretty constantly until the pace was finally adjusted. An speed one hung in each vessel's rigging and was lowered or raised according as she was slowing down or making speed. At night a crimson light took the place of the speed cone."

Sydney Among the Convoys.

Of the guardian warships, one of which was the cruiser Sydney, dear to the Australian heart because of her victory over the Emden, the correspondent says:

"Away ahead of the whole fleet, just in sight on the edge of the horizon, is a pillar of smoke—a cruiser is clearing the way for us, setting the pace, giving the direction and keeping a watchful eye out for enemies. Far away to starboard.

just visible on the skyline, is another pillar of smoke and a dimly seen low-lying vessel on the horizon to port shows where a cruiser is day and night keeping her watch over our movements.

"So we move across the ocean like a large regatta of great steamships, all ways the same order being inflexibly kept. It is sometimes hard to believe that 120 miles have been covered since one saw them last, they seem to be so exactly in the same place."

Speaking in the Federal parliament the other day, Senator Pearce, the minister for defense, said that when the Emden was sunk at Gees, the Australian transports were within 100 miles of her. There was thus, he said, a double reason for congratulating that one of the warships of the Australian navy had accounted for the German vessel at a time, when had the enemy's ship got among the troop ships, as doubtless was the intention of the commander, the result would have been difficult to contemplate. In answer to a question Senator Pearce said that the Sydney was on convoy duty at the time, so she must have been detached from it to attack the Emden.

It is also known now to all here that some of the convoying vessels were Japanese for the newspapers say that the Japanese anti-aircraft gun, which came up after the fight at Gees, expressed regret that they had not had a hand in the engagement.

WELLINGTON'S WOUNDED.

It is difficult to realize the callousness towards the sick and wounded against which Wellington struggled in the Peninsula. One evening at dinner he heard that at a post several miles away a large number of sick soldiers were lying in the open, exposed to the place, found the sick in the plight described, while the healthy officers were in comfortable houses, and was told by the commanding officer that there was no accommodation for the sick. He instantly arranged for the halting of the sick in those houses; but suspecting what might follow, paid a surprise visit next night, and found that the invalids had again been turned out into the open. Wellington immediately reinstated them, arrested the officers, and had them tried and dismissed for disobedience.—London Chronicle.

FASHION GLEANINGS FROM PARIS

The Separate Blouse Shows the Addition of a High Collar—Sand and Putty-Colored Waists.

New York, Feb. 5.—It is said that Berlin has been much the same during the war as at other times, excepting for the war spirit, and the grief at the bulletin boards. It has been the Kaiser's wish that things should be as unaffected as possible, and as he is well beloved, as well as feared, the people, especially the women, have shown their grief but little.

In Paris the fear of invasion was great, and immediately things were closed—no lights were allowed, the cafes could not be open, the theaters were shut down, and a curfew told people that their lights must be out. It was natural that this should affect business, but now things have changed and are taking on a much more normal outlook.

The dressmaking houses which have kept open are doing business, with the United States at least, and Rodier, the great manufacturer of fabrics, reports that he is furnishing materials to the Callot Sisters, Chouet, Prenet and Beer. The theaters are opening and many are crowded, but not by the fashionable audience that one would expect under different circumstances. The women of Paris are avoiding the extremes which have always been their hobby in style. The very tight skirt has been discarded, but the very full skirt, which was thought would by this time be the Parisian style of the moment, has not as yet been fully accepted. However, the gowns which were worn by the actresses had certain elements worth remembering.

A dress of black velvet, which was worn by a French actress, had long, tight-fitting sleeves and a square, low neck, with a Medici collar in the back. The skirt was full and drawn in around the bottom. A length of the velvet was draped over the hips and ended in a train. The entire gown was devoid of trimming, which gave a richness that no amount of embellishment could have added.

Long sleeves are to be seen on all gowns. I asked a prominent New York dressmaker not long ago if she would make long sleeves for summer, and she replied: "I most certainly will unless my customer insists otherwise."

A charming afternoon dress is pictured herewith which shows somewhat the bolero effect, together with the long sleeves, which are most striking features of the present styles. The waist is made with an underwaist of crepe de Chine with the bolero effect in wide lace. The sleeves of this outer waist are short and of the lace, while long net sleeves extend to the wrist. The skirt of crepe de Chine is shirred several inches from the hem.

CLAIMS CAMPAIGN SATISFIES RUSSIA

Czar's Aide Asserts People and Military are Pleased at the Muscovite Progress.

Petrograd, via London, Feb. 5.—A Russian general, who is an aide-camp to Emperor Nicholas and is necessarily nameless, gave an Associated Press correspondent today the Russian viewpoint of the military situation. The aide-camp had just returned from inspecting the Russian forces at all the fronts except in the Caucasus. He said:

"Today, exactly a half year since the beginning of the war, our second line of troops is greater and our entire armies are much stronger. The men are more hardened and physically and morally more ready.

"The enemy's territory has been occupied in East Prussia and Galicia to a greater extent than our most optimistic expectations while the Germans are occupying practically the same lines as at the outset of the war. The distance between the Bzura river and the German frontier, though greater in miles than between Sochaczew and Warsaw, is strategically much less important, for the reason that there are no fortified positions between the Bzura and Germany, while the last three months, during which the Germans have been occupied in vain attempts to advance, have been profitably used by us to fortify the line from Nowo Georgiewsk to Warsaw and Ivangorod, which line is now practically impregnable.

"The territory occupied by us in East Galicia is now part and parcel of the empire. Lemberg and vicinity are well fortified and the population is well satisfied with the present state of things, but the Carpathians the Austrians have been weakened by recent defeats and the German help there will be insufficient to infuse new blood into their army.

Replace German Goods.

"At the outset of the war fears were expressed, in view of the difficulties of importation, as to where we were to get necessary mechanical implements. Necessity has shown the strength and resourcefulness of the Russian nation. Many small warlike factories have been opened for us in Germany and Austria, have been perfectly replaced in the Moscow manufacturing. Village hand work is producing satisfactory cutlery, saddlery and munitions, and in making these things the peasant is showing remarkable adaptability.

"Even machine articles are successfully produced. When our troops were in East Prussia the first time they secured eight barbed-wire machines. These were brought to Russia and copied so that such machines are now produced here. This is one example; such occurrences are numerous.

"The relations of the soldiers and the commanders are excellent. Many occasions have witnessed situations where the commander desired to precede the men. The latter, however, requested leaders to remain behind, saying: 'You are one hard to replace; we can't spare.'

"A felicitous circumstance is the absolute unity of the nation and the army. Officers and men are extremely alive to what is transpiring in the country and are gratified to see the concord between government and the people and the interest which the entire people are taking in the campaign. Sanitary conditions can be judged by the insignificant number of illnesses and the vigorosity of the men in the ranks."

Dainty voile waists are shown, some pin-tucked and others of the plain material trimmed with washable cord or braid and little soft crocheted buttons and with a dainty collar which stands high in the back, but does not keep the front of the neck from being free and open to the air.

Overbushy and coiffe effects are very popular and will no doubt be used, especially for the very dressy waists.

The chiffon or chiffon cloth blouse of putty, sand, or biscuit colors are very smart and very practical this winter. They are made with high collars and usually button straight up the front with small silk-covered buttons. The waist of crepe de Chine is also very popular, especially where made with large revers which fall gracefully in the front.

In an illustration I show a new blouse, collarless, with the neck cut in the new Callot square, which is most becoming and far less trying than the usual square or Dutch neck. The model is developed in crepe de Chine and untrimmed, except for a cord outlining the neck. The skirt worn with this waist is an excellent one for the separate skirt, as it is made with a yoke and front in one and pleats at the side, causing the skirt to flare in the up-to-date manner at the sides.

times at the waist and hips, and is finished at the top with a frill of itself. Three graduated bands of net are the only trimming on the skirt. This is a frock which may be worn again and again, as its long sleeves and high collar give it a distinctly day-time air, while the material makes it elaborate enough for many evening functions.

The separate waist takes on different features with the changing of the season, and there is no end to the numerous models, although they all bear a resemblance one with the other.

This season the high collar has been the newest note in these waists. A few good models have been made with the high collar, but it is much harder to achieve than the waist with the round, wedge, or rolling collars.

Some of the waists are made with a yoke and a high collar above it, leaving a little of the neck or chest exposed. This is unique, but gives such a look of something left out, or unfinished that it is scarcely popular. Others are made with a straight hand around the neck and a ruff of net or chiffon above and below it. The best of the high-necked waists button straight up the front, from the waistline to top of the collar. A stunning waist which I saw not long ago was made with the collar in one with the body of the waist, the shoulder seam extending into the side seam of the collar. This collar wrinkles around the neck charmingly and was held from working down into a string around the neck by bones at the back and sides.

It does not seem possible that these high-collared blouses and frocks will altogether supersede the low collars which we have been wearing for so long. The women have felt the comfort of doing without anything about the throat, the necks have revived from the old tight collars and become more beautiful, and it does not seem as though they could consent to wearing them on everything again.

There is no way to tell just what the lingerie waist of the summer will become. There is said to be a revival of the old "lutton-in-the-back" waists and trimmings of braid and buttons in military effect in the front.

HALL BROTHERS GO TO NATIONAL MEET

Ishpeming's Cleverest Skiers Will Compete in Tournament at Duluth Tomorrow.

Henry and Carl Hall, who are considered Ishpeming's most expert skiers, will represent this city at the national tournament today and tomorrow in Duluth. The Ishpeming club will not have a delegate at the national convention, which will be held tonight.

The Duluth tournament is expected to be the greatest meet of the kind ever held in America. The entries are exceptionally numerous, as the prizes offered are attractive. Up to Thursday they included twenty-eight professionals, thirty-four amateurs and thirteen boys. The Hall boys are in the professional class. David Lind, the one-armed skier of Ishpeming, will also compete, representing the ski club at Menomonie, Wis. where he now works.

The professionals entered are: Axel Hendrickson, Duluth. Sigurd O. Overby, Duluth. Barney Riley, Blair. Ragnar Omtvedt, Chicago. Sigurd Hansen, Chicago. Ole Mangseth, Colorado. Olaf Benson, Red Wing. Francis Kempe, Red Wing. Carl Eek, Red Wing. Harris Anderson, Red Wing. Anders Haugan, Milwaukee. Thorleif Knutson, Milwaukee. Henry Hall, Ishpeming. Carl Hall, Ishpeming. Christ Overby, Hudson. Erling Landwick, Mount Horeb. Nels Floan, Hibbing. David Lind, Menomonie. Lars Haugan, Chippewa Falls. Einar Leind, Chippewa Falls. Oscar Gundersen, Chippewa Falls. Knute Holland, Chippewa Falls. Ole Feiring, Virginia. John Eversen, Virginia. John Bratland, Ironwood. John Jobe, Ironwood. Andrew Bratland, Ironwood. John Fieldseth, Ironwood.

It is likely that Duluth will be made the permanent home of the national tournament. The members of the "Glenwood" club have opposed this plan, but they are now said to have withdrawn their objections and the delegates from Glenwood will support Duluth.

If the weather is favorable it is expected that a new record will be made on Chester hill, as the slide has been raised. The present record is 169 feet, made at Ironwood two years ago by Ragnar Omtvedt. The champion will be one of the participants in the tournament. The trophies are among the finest ever hung up for a ski tournament in America. In addition to the trophies, there will be several hundred dollars in cash prizes.

Special trains will be run from the Mesabi range to Duluth tomorrow, when the professionals will perform. Virginia, Hibbing, Glenwood, Coleraine and other outside towns will be well represented among the riders. Jennings Riley, brother of Barney Riley, is among those entered from the Coleraine club.

IS A STRONG PRODUCTION.

Manager Butler of the Ishpeming theater has received several telegrams from theater managers where "Today" which will be the offering here next Thursday evening, has played during the past two weeks, and all speak highly of the company and production. The following message was received yesterday from E. T. Davidson, manager of the Davidson theater, St. Cloud, Minn.: "St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 4, 1915. "Manager Ishpeming Theater: "In answer to your inquiry as to the merits of 'Today,' which held the rapt attention of a large and critical audience here tonight, I reply that it is by far the strongest drama ever seen here. Give it your emphatic endorsement. Company and production simply immense. "E. T. DAVIDSON."

SUNDAY AT METHODIST CHURCH. Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the First Methodist Episcopal church the men's class will meet. The principal service will be held at 10:30, and Rev. N. C. Karr will preach on "The Saviour's Lamentation Over Jerusalem." The Sunday School class will meet at 2 o'clock and at 6 o'clock a special program will be given at the meeting of the Epworth league. The topic will be "The Promise of Forgiveness." Miss Ethel Jenkin will be the leader. At the 7 o'clock service Rev. Karr's subject will be "Personal Influence."

We find pleasure in announcing that the very latest novelties in materials and designs for the spring and summer season 1915 have now arrived and we herewith extend a cordial invitation to call and inspect same. ### PULPWOOD OUTPUT HEAVY THIS WINTER

Many Carloads Leaving This Section Daily for Paper Mills in the Fox River Valley.

A considerable quantity of pulp wood is being shipped from Marquette county points to the Wisconsin paper mills this winter. The demand for pulp wood is much better than it has been for some years past and heavy shipments are also being made from other parts of the upper peninsula, particularly the Menominee range, where a large number of men are employed cutting stricta timber. The shipments from the districts south and west of Ishpeming have been increasing steadily since the favorable hauling weather set in.

There has been a good demand for cars for the pulpwood trade since before the first of the year, and particularly during the last two weeks. The railroad companies have not been able to supply all of the open cars needed, and they are now supplying box cars in which the short length timber can be shipped to as good advantage as in the open cars.

The greater part of the pulpwood cut in Marquette county is being shipped to paper mills located on Fox river, including Appleton, Kaukaune and Waupun. Some good-sized shipments are also being made to the paper mill at Niagara, on the Menominee range.

The demand for pulp wood is better than any other grade of timber being cut in the upper peninsula this winter, and a number of small jobbers have opened at work. Most of the large lumber companies are getting out pulp wood, in addition to other timber. The price runs a little better this winter than for some years past, though the increase has not been very large.

The grain movement in various parts of the Northwest is heavier at present than for some months and all of the cars that are not needed for the timber trade are transferred to the grain centers. A number of cars have been taken from the railway systems operating in this region to be used in the grain traffic, though there is no particular shortage of cars here.

There has been very little demand for

INDIAN SCOUT WON A THRILLING RACE FOR LIFE IN OLD MONTANA

A forgotten hero of early Missouri days was John Colter, backwoodsman, trapper and scout. He discovered the geysers of Yellowstone park. He was with Lewis and Clark on their memorable march. The Missouri river was as well known to him as the footpath on one's yard before a dozen other white men had ever seen it north of the present Kansas City.

Colter was a native of Virginia. Like Boone, he went to Kentucky and then Missouri. He made his home on Boeuf Creek, then the farthest outpost of civilization. But it was a home in name only. Nearly all of his time was spent paddling on the rivers or tramping the plains between Missouri and the Rocky Mountains. Once he traveled from the source of the Missouri to its mouth in 20 days, when dozens of Indian tribes

SENIORS WON IN BASKETBALL SERIES

Students Showed Much Interest in Tournament—Volley Ball Games Are Planned.

The senior class basketball team of the Negaunee High school won first place in the inter-class tournament by defeating the freshmen class team Thursday evening by the score of 24 to 17. The second honors lie between the junior, sophomore and freshmen teams. Last evening the sophomores played the juniors, and the winning team will play the freshmen five. The final contest will be played Monday evening.

The first game was played between the senior and junior teams last Tuesday, and the upper classmen won by a score of 24 to 7. Wednesday evening the freshmen defeated the sophomores by a score of 29 to 15 in the best played game of the series. The score at the close of the first half was 12 to 11 in favor of the "freshies." Practically the entire school enrollment witnessed the games.

After the interclass basketball schedule is finished a volley ball series will be played by four class teams.

The girls' basketball team defeated the Ishpeming girls' team in a practice game Thursday evening by a score of 68 to 3. The Negaunee girls will play a return game at Marquette Feb. 26.

The line-up of the class teams in the tournament is as follows:

Seniors—William Bath, center; John Stark, guard; Louis Marzetti, guard; Harry Rigg, forward; Tom Collins, forward.

Juniors—Morgan Quinn, center; Will Lakso and Leonard Bellstrom, forwards; Leonard Johns and John Niemi, guards; Henry Lique, center.

Sophomores—David Frederickson, center; Arnold Cheverette, forward; John Kainen and Walter Curley, guards.

Freshmen—Arthur Hoiser, center; Ewald Annell and R. Moll, forwards; Werner Niemi and John, guards; Hegaton, substitute.

French Remedy Aids Stomach Sufferers

France has been called the nation without stomach troubles. The French have for generations used a simple mixture of vegetable oils that relieves stomach and intestinal ailments and keep the bowels free from foul, poisonous matter. The stomach is left to perform its functions normally. Indigestion and gastritis vanish.

Mr. Geo. H. Mayr, a leading druggist of Chicago, cured himself with this remedy in a short time. The demand is so great that he imports these oils from France and compounds them under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. People everywhere write and testify to the marvelous relief they have received using this remedy—one dose will rid the body of poisonous accretions that have accumulated for years and convince the most chronic sufferer from stomach, liver or intestinal troubles.

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the leading understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction.

REPRESENTS MUSIC SCHOOL. Joseph Sedlock Commanded for Good Work in Correspondence Course.

Joseph Sedlock, one of Negaunee's leading musicians, and solo clarinetist in the Negaunee City band for the past nine years, has taken the county agency for the Siegel-Myers Correspondence School of Music, of Chicago. He is the first upper peninsula man to be appointed representative of the school.

Mr. Sedlock recently completed a course in harmony, counterpoint and composition and has received his diploma. He received the highest average marks of any of the students, his lowest credit being ninety-eight and one-half. On most of his papers he received marks of 100 per cent. Upon the completion of his course, he received the following letter of congratulation from the president of the school:

"We are returning to you herewith your final ex-amination papers in the harmony course, and wish to congratulate you very heartily upon your successful completion of the work."

"Throughout the course your work has been of a most satisfactory character, and we have placed your name upon the honor roll among our graduates. It is always a great satisfaction to us to have pupils whose work has maintained the high standard which you have held up to throughout the course."

CLOTHING IS REQUESTED.

There is an urgent need for all kinds of clothing for distribution among Negaunee's needy families. This was determined yesterday afternoon when the situation was canvassed at a meeting of the central committee of the United Charities. There is special need for shoes and rubbers for children, overcoats for boys and men, coats or coats for women, and underwear for children.

Persons having clothing of this kind to donate are asked to take it or send it to the association's store room in the First National bank building.

We beg to announce that the latest models, fashions and fabrics for the coming spring and summer 1915 have arrived and await your kind inspection. Petersen & Willers, Fashionable Tailors for Men and Women, Negaunee, Mich. (2-6-15)

Interest in Regency Contest.

While the matter was not broached at the convention, informal discussions among the delegates disclosed much interest in the contest between Frank B. Leland and Dr. Kiefer, of Detroit, for nomination for the board of regents of the University of Michigan. Mr. Leland is one of the outgoing regents and his candidacy for re-election has given rise to a spirited contest between the Wayne county leaders that now promises to send contesting delegations from that county, and that, unless it is ironed out in some manner, may cause the convention no small amount of trouble.

"The Marquette delegation is undecided what it will do," one of the delegates who usually has a great deal of influence in determining what Marquette delegations finally do, in commenting on the matter yesterday. "I think that you will find the upper peninsula delegates sticking together pretty well on some definite program, but what that program will be can hardly be predicted at this early date."

As a matter of fact the sentiment of the Marquette delegation is said to be very friendly to Mr. Leland, but the fight is one of many angles, and the local leaders are not committing themselves at this early date. They, however, profess much indignation that the Wayne county Republicans should have become involved in such a disagreeable row over this nomination.

Democrats Convene Today.

The Democrats of Marquette county will assemble at the city hall at 3 o'clock this afternoon for their county convention. Eleven delegates will be chosen to attend the Democratic state convention in Lansing Feb. 16.

At caucuses held in the five precincts of the city last night, the following delegates were elected to attend the convention today:

First—Raymond O'Neill, J. J. Downs, J. E. Walton, Martin Dumblacker, Sr., and P. J. Connolly.

Second—John Helfman, Ed Kennedy,

James Cleary, John Boyle and William Froehlingsdorf.

Third—Percy Ross, Joseph Courtney and Fred H. Bogole.

Fourth—M. C. Sully, J. H. Manning, E. H. Bush, John Guelf and P. F. Mullaly, Jr.

Fifth—Phil Carpenter, John Stieckney, Frank Stieckney, secretary of the city committee, and John Kraemer.

PROPOSED TO MAKE IT A STATE SANITARIUM

Would Transfer Morgan Heights Institution from the County and Enlarge It.

A proposal that the state establish a tuberculosis sanitarium for the upper peninsula, in Marquette county, and that the Marquette county sanitarium at Morgan Heights be turned over to it without expense as a nucleus for the institution has been discussed at Lansing, and it is reported that Senator Roberts will bring the matter formally to the attention of the legislature.

A Lansing dispatch says: "Four years ago Marquette county started building a sanitarium for tuberculosis subjects living within the county. Additions have been made to the sanitarium and it now represents an outlay of over $50,000. It has accommodations for about 30, and its operation and results have been entirely satisfactory. Some who would be benefited by going there for treatment hesitate to do so because they have a vague notion that a county sanitarium is but a few removes from a county poorhouse. This is one reason why a movement is under way to establish a state tuberculosis sanitarium that would, in a sense, be exclusively for persons living in the upper peninsula who are threatened if they have not already been caught in the grip of the white plague. The Marquette county sanitarium would be used as a starter for the state institution, and it is understood the county would turn it over to the state without expense. Another reason is that the upper peninsula now realizes the needs of a much larger tuberculosis sanitarium than any county can provide. Then, too, there isn't the prejudice against a state institution that often exists against a county institution of the same kind. Senator Roberts, of Marquette, says he will bring the matter formally to the attention of the legislature."

PRICE OF FLOUR IS SOARING HIGH

Marquette Bakers Are Now Paying More Than $8 a Barrel for the Commodity.

Inquiry among the Marquette bakers yesterday disclosed the fact that they are now paying more than $8 a barrel for flour, the highest price paid in a period of many years. No advance in the price of bread, such as has been in effect in the larger cities for a number of days past, has been made effective here or in any other towns in the upper peninsula. However, if the price goes above the figure the bakers are now paying, it is probable bread will soon cost more. Since Aug. 1 flour has advanced several dollars a barrel. In many places the bakers have met the increase by decreasing the size of the loaves of bread.

A Marquette man, commenting on the increase, yesterday said: "Speculation in grain as a result of the inflated values created by the demand for grain in Europe is largely the reason for the rise in the price of flour. The only way that the price can be brought back to normal at an early date is for the government to place an embargo on all but the surplus wheat."

"The average housewife would do well to learn more about the use of cornmeal. The price of cornmeal has not gone up to any appreciable extent as

IS FOUND DEAD IN LOGGING CAMP

Alfred D. Lewis Expired Suddenly at Forestville Yesterday Morning.

Alfred D. Lewis, cook at Norton Bros. lumber camp at Forestville, six miles northwest of the city, was found dead in a chair at the camp at an early hour yesterday morning. He had been a sufferer from asthma, which, coupled with heart trouble, is believed to have caused his death. Lewis was found by one of the employees of the camp when he failed to arise at 3 o'clock at the sound of his alarm clock.

Coroner William Prin, of Islanding, is investigating the case, but it is not probable that an inquest will be held. Chief of Police Melndroff is endeavoring to locate relatives of the dead man, who are believed to live in River Falls, Wis. A letter was found in the pocket of his coat, dated Jan. 23, signed by his mother and sister, of River Falls. Lewis was about thirty-five years of age. He was a former convict of the Marquette prison, having been paroled before the expiration of his sentence.

No arrangements for the funeral will be made until every effort has been made to locate the relatives.
