THINGS CAN'T BE WORSE.

One comfortable fact about the Mexican situation is that no action which may be taken by the United States government can make conditions in Mexico worse than they are already.

As for the United States, the cost and complications of intervention may prove heavy, but it is certain that Mexico in its present state is a constant danger to this country.

And Mexico, in its present condition, is a natural breeding place for pestilence. It is impossible to live across the frontier from such a neighbor without constant peril of epidemics and unceasing danger of trouble caused by border lawlessness.

Even for this country, therefore, the vigorous course upon which President Wilson has at last decided, unless there shall be speedy betterment of the state of Mexico, does not threaten a lasting change for the worse.

VON BERNSTORFF.

Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, is coming to be regarded by Americans as one of the most highly regarded by Americans, barring none.

Just now Von Bernstorff in doing the American people—and at the same time his own government—a service of incalculable value by his earnest effort to make the Kaiser and his assistants in the foreign office realize something of the intense earnestness with which the American people have rallied behind President Wilson.

It is inconceivable that the German foreign office can desire an open break with the last of the first class neutral powers, so that if Von Bernstorff is successful in giving something of his understanding of the situation to the Kaiser and his advisers the likelihood of a diplomatic breach will be greatly lessened.

If the Kaiser and his counselors had been as well advised from London and some of the other capitals in the fateful weeks of July last year as he is now soundly informed by Von Bernstorff the world might have been spared the horrors of the past ten months.

BEFOREHAND.

The Finns being in hand beforehand. They are petitioning President Wilson to interest himself, in the peace conference that will follow on the close of the war, in the status of Finland.

The Finns hope that the position of their native land will be improved as a result of the great conflict, and it is perhaps only natural that their interest should take the form of petitions to the President, even though at this juncture there is difficulty in seeing the practical direction of this course.

Finns want a certain measure of autonomy. They are not vain impracticalists and they realize that Finland will continue, in effect, a province of Russia.

BRITISH EXPERT IS FRANK IN COMMENT

Says First Two Campaigns Failed and Another Must Be Started.

London, May 24.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—“It is no use to cry over spilled milk. Let us admit frankly that our first and second campaigns against Germany have been failures, and start a new one,” writes Major G. W. Redway, a well-known British military expert, to the Daily Mail, urging the seriousness of the war situation and the necessity of a complete reconstruction of the British plan of campaign on a broader and far more intensive basis.

Major Redway puts it even stronger, “The contest, if now stopped,” he declares, “would be decided in favor of the Austro-German alliance. German science has been opposed by British ingenuity, and science has up to the present won the day. It is very difficult to be precise in suggestions which may save of criticism, because this war is not a British war primarily, and our gallant ally across the channel must always figure as the senior partner in the enterprise. That the French campaign is not the reputation as dashing lighters is evidenced by their losses uncomplainingly borne; but it was much to be desired that we could as easily recognize the value of General Joffre’s strategy.”

Major Redway’s criticism of the French campaign in that it has not, as the French department enabled the Germans to extend and fortify a frontier which now seems impregnable.

“Behind this barrier German industry has assembled all manner of means and devices to prevent its capture and to support its own offensive. It has not, taken at leisure, offensive strategy, coupled with defensive tactics, has been more justified the maxims of Napoleon and so far as the operations on land in the west are concerned the war is over in a technical sense. The decisive action that was predicted last year is no longer possible, and we need not inquire into the chances of certain experiments that have cost England an army of more than eighty thousand men during the winter months.

“It is now not only a question of nerves, as the Germans told us long ago, but a question of wills. We are confronted with the same kind of problem as the one that baffled us so long in South Africa. We have to do with an enemy whose ways are not our ways, and now, as then, we must consider whether it is better to be whipped for our line of sporting methods or whether we will take a leaf out of the enemy’s book and beat him at his own game.”

“In regard to tactics it is evident that we should deprive ourselves of nothing in the shape of weapons and appliances that will injure and maim the enemy’s troops. The Hague rules may yet serve strange purposes; the code once broken may prove to be a category of deviltries practiced on those who first resorted to savage warfare.”

Major Redway would also like to see the superfluous personnel of government weeded out and sent to the front. The censors, for example, more than a thousand in number, could mostly be dispensed with, he thinks, and sent to do duty in the trenches.

“It is no longer becoming to flaunt our luxurious habits in the face of a world in arms,” the major urges. “Of course, it would be false economy to allow our wounded to lie on straw and remain untreated for weeks, as the Serbians do for lack of means. But on the other hand, a consoling alibi of men who are employed in connection with hospitals, ambulances, rest-camps, and recreation establishments would prove a revelation. Even the occupants of the war office, and the hundreds of staff officers throughout the kingdom could be winnowed with great advantage, including such establishments as the censor’s office. The personnel attached to generals’ headquarters are at ways too liberally bestowed, especially in camps where operations are few and far between.”

O. Champagne and G. Himmann, of Munising, were Sunday visitors in Marquette.

Broke Arm Cranking Car. Miss Dorothy Middlebrook of Marquette is suffering from a fracture of the arm. The injury was inflicted while the young woman was cranking an automobile. The engine “back-fired” and the crank “kicked back.”

Awarded Road Contract. Gus Fredren of Norway has been awarded the contract to build five and a half miles of gravel highway for the Luce county board of road commissioners. Mr. Fredren’s tender was $135 per square yard. The total of the contract will exceed $12,000. There were a large number of bidders, including M. J. Bacc, of Iron Mountain.

Accident Was Fatal to Boy. Ferdinand, ten-year-old son of Joseph Corbiel, of Waukegan, is dead as the result of injuries received while playing on an ore car on the Northwestern siding near his home. He was on top of the car and was trying to climb down. In the attempt he took hold of a lever used to open the trap in the bottom of the car. He pushed the lever over to one side and it came back with great force, and struck him in the abdomen. Peritonitis set in and resulted fatally.

Horses Kick Kills Woman. Suffering from injuries as the result of being kicked by a horse, Mrs. Nellie Smith, of Cook, died at a Marquette hospital. As Mrs. Smith, who usually took care of the stock, was suffering from a severe cold, Mrs. Smith went to the barn to feed the horses. The animals, not being accustomed to a woman, became frightened. Before she could get out of the way one of the horses kicked her in the side. Mrs. Smith is survived by her husband and three children. She remains were taken to Amery, Wis.

Large Land Deal. J. O. Bixt of Iron Mountain has decided to engage in the colonizing business on an extensive scale and is now perfecting plans for an energetic campaign, says the Press. As a starter, Mr. Bixt has obtained the executive agency for all the lands of the Wisconsin Land & Lumber company. One tract, located in the vicinity of Blaney, in Schoolcraft county, contains 23,000 acres, and he has a second tract, near Simmons, containing 8,000 acres. The lands are among the best in the upper peninsula, viewed from an agricultural standpoint, and some of these contain good stands of hardwood.

Druggist Accused of Serious Charge. A warrant was yesterday issued by Prosecuting Attorney H. J. Rankin for the arrest of Roy Kuehn, druggist at Garden, charging him with violation of the liquor laws, says the Escanaba Press. The case grew out of the fatality at the Dan Seavey sawmills on Sunday night when two men lost their lives and one man was severely burned. In the warrant it is alleged that Kuehn sold liquor to a member of the sawmill party on Sunday. It is further alleged that Kuehn has made a practice of selling liquor from his drug store while the saloons at Garden had religiously observed the state laws.

Kearsage Map Missing. The friends and relatives of Michael More of Kearsage, in the copper country, are considerably alarmed over his disappearance, and the fact that they are unable to ascertain his whereabouts. A fruitless search has been conducted for several days by his immediate friends, and now the general public is called upon to assist. Mr. More, who is of a quiet disposition and a steady worker, has been out of employment for some time, and he left the home of his sister, where he resided, with the intention of looking for work. From the time he left he has not been heard from. Anyone who can supply any information concerning him is requested to notify Steve Yoo of Calumet.

Ben Willesen Leading Contest. Ben Willesen, formerly of Marquette, manager of the Michigan Auto company, of Calumet, a Chambers agency, apparently stands an excellent chance to win the special prize, a $1,650 Chalmeters, offered by that company to the agent making the best record in car sales. At present he is leading the field with a comfortable margin, having advanced latterly from third place in the competition. The contest will close June 19. The conditions give every agent an equal chance. The contest is figured on a percentage basis. The quota of cars allotted each district is based on population. One week ago the Chalmet agent was tied for second place, his percentage being only one point behind the leader. Now he is in first place, while Leo H. Lax of Wadsworth, Ill., is second. The latter also made a gain last week and is still in the race. Mr. Willesen reports that sales this year have practically doubled.

Fire Loss Exceeds $10,000. Reporting the Krueger block fire, the St. Ignace Enterprise says in its current issue: The Krueger brick block was totally destroyed. The Krueger residence was badly damaged and a warehouse was burned. The loss will exceed $10,000, on which was carried insurance to the amount of $7,500. The store building proper was occupied by Krueger & Son as a grocery, while the annex was occupied by Alderman Frank Vallier as a saloon. Not a dollar’s worth of goods was saved from the grocery. Mr. Vallier succeeded in getting out the greater part of his stock and fixtures, although case goods destroyed, together with other property, will bring his loss up to $500 with no insurance. How the fire caught is a mystery. Mr. Krueger was awakened at 4:30 by the cracking of glass in his residence a few feet distant from the store building. Looking out and seeing the fire he rushed to the door of the store and opened it and was greeted by flames bursting out about him and driving him back. The Krueger dwelling is the largest of the block in the Third ward, having been built thirty-eight years ago. The block was erected twenty-six years ago. Mr. Krueger says he was offered $7,500 for the store last week. He will at once move the warehouse on to the site of the burned block and it will be occupied by Vallier. In the meantime the Alderman has procured a large tent, in which

The last distribution—fifty cents a share—was paid March 31, last. In the calendar year '15 a share was paid in dividends, and in 1913 and 1912 $1.50 a share each year.

QUINCY. The declaration of a $2 quarterly dividend by the Quincy Mining company—the second increase in six months—met general expectation. The present declaration was based on operations for the quarter ended March 31, when the average price of the metal was under fifteen cents, compared with prices of twenty cents and over to be received in the June 30 quarter.

LAKE PRODUCTION. The May production of Lake Superior mines is estimated at close to 25,000,000 pounds of refined copper, which exceeds the March and April figures. The largest output increases were made by Calumet & Hecla, Quincy and Copper Range. Isle Royale and Abmeck also show good increases. The Calumet & Hecla output last month was close to 9,000,000 pounds. In the current month the Calumet & Hecla output will be considerably increased by the White Pine product.

COPPER INQUIRIES APPEARING. Indications coming to hand during the past few days point to a resumption of copper buying, says the Boston News Bureau. One of the best signs may be found in the reappearance of Henry R. Merton & Co. in the market, after an absence of two months. Not since last April has the Merton firm, the largest metal house in England, inquired for copper openly in this market, but now cables have commenced to be received here by producers bearing the Merton signature. Other English inquiries have also developed and this to the producers’ minds means that the large stocks of American copper which were held up at Gibraltar will have been depleted by the time copper about to be contracted for actually arrives at destination. Some of the largest producers predict higher prices based entirely on the statistical position of the metal. Production, although it has

CHARLTON & KUENZLI ARCHITECTS. Marquette, Michigan.

A PERISCOPE FINDER. John Gardner of Fleetwood, Scotland, the inventor of the Gardner submarine signaling system, has devised a method which will make it easy to sight the periscope of a submarine from the bridge of a steamship.

Instead of having to rest his arms on the rail of the bridge or on the gunwale while he scans the horizon through a telescope the officer on watch will now be able to sit comfortably with the glass supported on a stand in front of him. By Mr. Gardner’s invention the telescope will always be approximately parallel with the surface of the sea, irrespective of the movements of the ship. This is achieved by mounting a pedestal securely to the deck, and on this is carried the seat, with the table to support the telescope or binoculars on a standard. The seat and table are maintained horizontally to the sea surface by the operation of a gyroscope. The platform, with seat and table, is automatically rotated slowly from left to right and vice versa by the utilization of the power for the gyroscope, so that all the officer has to do is to keep a sharp lookout within the field covered by the instrument, which will not be affected by the movement of the ship.

NEGAUNEE MEN GO TO DULUTH

Called as Witnesses in Case of Scanlon vs. the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Company.

Daniel Shea, Ray O. Brotherton, Charles Marketty and Napoleon Marketty, of this city, and Michael Wall, of Ishpeming, have been called to Duluth as witnesses in the case of Michael Scanlon, who is suing the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company for $3,000 for failure properly to mark the grave of his daughter when the mining company removed the bodies from the old to the new cemetery in 1910.

The Negaunee men who were subpoenaed as witnesses were employed as inspectors and foremen at the cemetery at the time the work was being done. Charles O. Stensrud, formerly of this city, now of San Diego, Calif., who had the contract, has also been called as a witness.

Mr. Scanlon charges that when, it was removing the bodies from the old cemetery the company failed to give him proper notice of the removal of the remains of his four-year-old child, which had been buried there in June, 1906. He asserts that the child's body was taken from its resting place and consigned to an unmarked grave. The company, he alleges in his complaint, has failed to reveal to him its whereabouts.

The case came to trial in the district court at Duluth late last week and was not yet finished. Andrew Nelson, of Duluth, is the attorney for Mr. Scanlon, and H. J. Gramis, of Duluth, is counsel for the mining company.

GOOD PROGRESS WITH MAIN STREET WORK

Considerable Quantity of Concrete Gutter and Curbing Has Been Built.

Anton Henrikson, who was given the contract to build the curbing and gutters on Main street, also to do the necessary sewer work, has completed a portion of the job. He has finished 2,416.9 lineal feet of curbing and gutter and has built 1,274.7 square feet of concrete sidewalk. He has also put in a manhole and a catch basin.

According to the report of Everett Sterling, street commissioner, which was submitted to the council at its last meeting, the city spent $529.43 for maintaining its crusher near the Union Park during the month of May. The greater portion of the expense was for labor in blasting the rock from the bluff, which cost $349.80. The powder used in the work cost $125.25 and $44.32 worth of electric current was used to operate.

The work of grading Main street was commenced during May and cost $235.56. Other charges for the Main street work were for surveying, rolling, taking out old curbs and gutters, building catch basins and unloading tar, amounting to $130.

W. M. McCoy, a diver who was engaged to examine the water mains and the intake pipe on the bottom of Peal lake, made the following report to the council:

"I find that the joints of the pipe are all intact, no leaks whatever. In fact, the pipe is not on the bottom anywhere, only on the end where the intake is. The intake has settled down within two and one-half feet from the mud and dirt, and it ought to be raised. That is, the intake raised about eight feet on the present intake, which would leave it about ten and one-half feet from the bottom, which would be perfectly safe.

"I would recommend that you get three lengths of pipe eight feet long, with flange on one end, already drilled, with twelve seven-eighths inch holes. By doing this it would raise the intake above the mud and dirt that floats around with the current, as there is always a current running one way or the other."

IRON MOUNTAIN DEFEATED.

Escanaba Took First Game on Saturday by Score of 12 to 6.

By scoring five runs in the first inning and taking advantage of the wildness of Sandereck, Iron Mountain's strong pitcher, Escanaba easily held a safe lead over the Dickinson county champions at Escanaba Saturday afternoon in the first game of the series between the teams, winning by a score of 12 to 8. Both pitchers were wild at times and in some innings the teams played ragged ball. Escanaba was credited with seven errors and Iron Mountain with six.

Garland, Escanaba's favorite pitcher, worked in the box and was touched for nine hits, one a home run by Ferzacca. Sandereck yielded thirteen hits, three of which were for two bases. "Cully" Lantz, the Escanaba shortstop, was the hitting star of the game, making three in four trips to the plate and scoring twice.

Hilmer Leaf, the Negaunee pitcher, who was engaged to pitch yesterday's game for Escanaba, was unable to work in the box because of a strained back, which he incurred in the game he pitched last Sunday against the Ishpeming Excelsior team. Leaf will pitch for Escanaba next Sunday against the fast Marinette team.

VIOLATOR ARRESTED.

John Walker, foreman at Camp No. 2 of the I. Stephenson Lumber company on the Austin branch of the Escanaba & Lake Superior railroad, 17 Forsyth township, was arrested Saturday by Deputy Game Warden Leisner, of Escanaba. He was brought here and pleaded guilty in Judge Irving H. Argall's court to having deer meat in his possession, and paid a fine and costs, which amounted to $25. Walker has been suspected by Warden Rough and Leisner of being a persistent violator and last week, when Ed. Hathaway, time keeper at the camp, was arrested for killing deer, they worked up a case against him.

GAVE GOOD EXHIBITION.

High School Students' Physical Demonstration Was Well Received.

The physical demonstration given Saturday night at the playgrounds by students of the high school and eighth grades was witnessed by several thousand people. Long before the hour for starting the program the bleachers, which accommodated 500 people, were filled to capacity, and many stood around the platform. By the time it was started there were several thousand people on the grounds. Three hundred high school boys and girls dressed in costumes took part in the demonstration, which was in charge of H. A. Smith, physical director. Music for the drills and dancing numbers was furnished by a victrola. The Negaunee City band marched to the grounds and gave a concert of popular selections during the intermissions.

The grade school demonstration, which was postponed from Friday evening because of the death of Miss Mabel I. Bashaw, first grade teacher in the Case street school, will be held this evening. The program will commence at 7:15 and 400 hundred children will take part. They will give a series of folk dances in costume and a number of drills and exercises.
