DETECTIVE BUREAU DAMAGED BY BOMB Anarchist Agitators Believed to Have Planted Explosives at New York Police Station.

New York, July 5 .- A dynamite bomi as exploded tonight in an areaway outside the detective bureau at police headquarters. Although a heavy door was blown ten feet and a number of windows on one side of the building wer shattered, no one was injured. Lieuten ant McNally was thrown from his chair by the concussion, but was unhurt. Five prisoners, locked in a cell twenty feet from the place to where the bomb was exploded were not injured, although fragments of metal pierced the ceiling of their cells. The damaged part of the building is close to Inspectors Faroth' The police at first worked on the theory that a jail delivery had been attempted. Several pieces of metal were found, but there was virually nothing which led to a definite clue.

The fact that the explosion occurred the day after the first anniversary o the bomb explosion in Harlem, in which Arthur Caron and three other anarchists lost their lives, caused the police to work on the theory that the bomb was set off by anarchist agitators. The explosion which killed the anarchists occurred on the morning of July 4, 1914. Police Commissioner Woods scouted

THE MOST VALUABLE ASSET.

According to the United States health bureau the country lost nearly a billion dollars through illness among its wage earners last year. This, it is declared, was not only a loss in dollars and cents to the workers themselves, but it was also an economic loss to the country. It is estimated that probably 50 per cent of this loss was due to carelessness and ignorance of the common laws of hygiene and could have been saved had the people been educated to the need of proper diet, clothing and bathing and the errors of over-eating. The government, realizing the enormous waste caused by illness, has inaugurated, through the health service, an educational movement looking toward the conservation of public health. It has issued a pamphlet entitled "In Fighting Trim," in which great stress is laid upon the value of personal endeavor by every individual as of the highest public importance in the organized war against disease. It is claimed that the wonderful victories won in combatting infectious diseases have had a tendency to divert public attention from the equally important body fortification against disease.

Health is the most valuable possession of a human being. With it a man is king of his own rights: without it, he is seriously handicapped in the battle of life. The public is coming more and more to realize this fact and takes advantage of every opportunity to gain information looking toward the conservation of health.

Congressman Scott and Congressman James have been getting about their districts, adding to their extensive acquaintances and getting a line on the way their constituents regard public questions. Congressman Scott is par ticularly urgent that his constituents write him freely, and he expresses a desire to be guided by their wishes. But he will find that he cannot be thus guided. On most questions his mail will contain such a diversity of counsel that he will find it of little value in helping him to analyze the opinion of the district. part of his duties to rise from bed early to prepare the morning feed for the livestock and chickens. Now the arrangement he employs on his farm for feeding his stock is but one of the many labor-saving plans established there.

Chickens in Strawberry Field.

He has several great pens of White Plymouth Rock chickens, for which he is well known, and he has devised a plan whereby the small chicks are fed at low cost and the cost of labor of picking bugs from his strawberry plants i saved.

He turns hundreds of the small chicks into the berry fields about blossoming time and keeps them there several days where they eat the bugs and aphis which infest the plants. The chicks thrive on the bugs and the plants thrive on being rid of them.

In addition to raising chickens and strawberries, Senator Newton raises fruit on a large scale, and is one of the most successful fruit growers in Delaware. His ground was all cleared with dynamite, and by careful planting, high fertilization and systematic cultivation he has accomplished results that have astonished other farmers in the vicinity Merwin W. # The Cowboys of the Sky. Buck Up with Peerless

When you're slinging rivets five hundred feet in the air, you get that old he-feeling that life is full of good stuff. There's pep and ginger in the game. "Cowboys of the sky" is what they call these keen, alert, structural iron men. And when they like to "buck up" a bit -- well, they go for good, full-bodied, rich

Put PEERLESS in a pipe and it goes right to the spot with the man who knows real tobacco. Chew it and you get the limit of tobacco enjoyment.

PEERLESS is made especially to suit the sturdy man who wants a natural, full-bodied smoke, or a natural-sweet, satisfying chew.

PEERLESS has been the same fine old satisfying tobacco for 50 years. It is made today just as it was half a century ago, of leaf aged three to five years, which makes it mellow and smooth. It never varies, is always just right because a large reserve stock of leaf is carried to protect this famous old brand.

Stick PEERLESS into your overalls for a week's trial-and you'll always stick to it. Sold everywhere in 5c packages.

That the long-ago days of hard work and early rising as a boy have never been forgotten by Senator Newton is evinced by the methods he employs in working his farm. No longer does he rise before daybreak to feed his livestock. Senator Newton has devised a scheme which has been in use on his farm for several years, whereby his livestock is fed and watered by clock work, thus permitting him to enjoy a few more minutes of morning sleep while other farmers are up and about caring

Hardships of Boyhood.

Clock Runs the Place,

A clock in Mr. Newton's bedroon eeds his mules, horses and eattle at exetly the same minute every day. The feed is placed on shutters directly over the feeding bins of each animal the night previous, and at feeding time, by a lockwork arrangement, a spring is released which in turn polls a wire that releases a lever at the barn and immereleases a lever at the barn and immeliately every shutter drops and the animals can start in on their morning meal. In all the years this scheme has been in operation it has never failed to deliver a meal on time, as Mr. Newton says, it's a very convenient arrangement on a cold winter morning. Senator Newton is now recognized as an authority upon all agricultural matters, has served for years as a member of the state board of agriculture, and at the last session of the Delaware leg islature he was chairman of the senate committee on agriculture.

Was Boy Farmhand.

Years ago, before the automobile and modern labor-saving devices made their advent on the farm, he was, as a boy," farmhand employed in Lower Delaware. Then he made a mighty resolve that when he grew to be a man he was going to be a successful farmer, and was go ing to be one farmer to "take life easy." Meanwhile Secretary Daniels hopes for more information from the war zone, upon which the United States can build with profit and safety. So far little information has been re ceived to aid the naval constructors. All the belligerents are maintaining the strictest secrecy as to their plans or the lessons they have drawn for themselves from the few sea batties, American naval attaches at London, Paris and Berlin have had little opportunity to furnish enlightening reports and there have been no foreign observers aboard any of he war fleets at sea.

It is said that the American attache at Berlin has had opportunity to see onsiderable of the work going on in lerman yards, but if so he has been uner the strictest injunctions not to recal what he has observed, even in offi cial reports, during the continuance of the war.

The greatest question that has come out of the war is considered by many American naval officers to be the future of the dreadnaught. So fas as is known not a single capital ship has been en gaged and the value of those enormously expensive fighting machines is still a problematical as it was when England launched the first all-big-gun ship, the Dreadnaught. then we can still hope for a strong China. The people should absolutely refrain from letting loose their passions and acting like mad men. Remember the mistakes of 1894 and 1900." Another example of this same sort of frankness is found in an appeal for certain reforms made to President Yuan Shi-kai by the National Censors. This document, entitled "The Salvation of the Nation," seems to voice the opinion of all the leading people of China, and is being widely printed and circulated throughout the provinces. It says, in part: "The citizens of this country have come to understand that imminent danger threatens the existence of this nation. After the war at Tsingtau, the Japanese demands came. For months the government carried on negotiations with great care, and finally we have accepted the demands. As the cause can be traced to the accumulated weakness of the late regime, we do not intend to blame our diplomats for their failure. The demands are so cruel and far-reaching that hereafter our country will be faced with extreme difficulties and dangers all around her.

"This country is passing through most difficult and critical period and we should not fold our hands and wait for destruction to come We should work together with one accord and for the salvation of the nation. We offer the following suggestions:

"The military expenditure should be reduced and reforms introduced in the army. The standing army of this country is 600,000 men, with an expenditure of $150,000,000 (Mexican) which figures are one-third of the total revenue of the government. It is most unsatisfactory to note that when trouble came we dared not put this army in the field against our enemy. The standing army of Japan is 500,000 with an expenditure of $80,000,000 (Mexican). A comparison of the above will readily show that there is something wrong in our expenditure, which can be reduced.

"The troops recruited since the revolution, and the remnant of the precautionary forces in the provinces are not worthy of the name of soldiers, and should all be disbanded. Governors and high military commanders of the provinces should be rebuked for amassing wealth regardless of the welfare of th Strict measures should be mation. adopted to punish irregularities and corruption on the part of the officers, and insubordination and disobedience among the troops.

"If the above suggestions be followed out faithfully there will be hope for the country. The treaty with Japan hav been concluded and the people feel shame and humiliation; they have been aroused as never before by a sense of nationality."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. A user of ordinary tobacco needs to get the taste and comfort of the Real Tobacco Chew. Then he knows for sure that he has found the tobacco he's hunted for half his life.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco-seasoned and sweetened just enough-cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!! W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED. RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nihble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. #### AMMUNITION MAKING.

The World's Work estimates that the artillery rounds sold to the affied armies by American manufacturers in the course of a month amount to one twentieth of 1 per cent, of the total number of rounds fired by the armies in that time. The sales of rifle car credible feat of putting a lattation of tridges in a month are about oneeighteenth of 1 per cent, of a total nonth's expenditure of cartridges.

The combined armies of the allies amount to about 10,000,000 men. A little figuring shows that the American ammunition works are keeping 5,000 artillerymen in shrapnel, about 5,500 infuntrymen in cartridges

The idea, then, that the war in Eurone through its contracts is putting the United States in position to manufacture ammunition swiftly and adequatery for her own defense is a griev. ous error. Their Products. Grand Rapids, Mich., July 5.-The suit of the Pere Marquette railroad to obtain Michigan from enforcing the two-cent passenger rate law, was heard in the United States district court here.

The company, through its attorneys, maintained that the present rate of two cents a mile is not enough to provide a fair profit and that, if its enforcement Judge C, W. Sessions, of the district court, and Judges Loyal E. Knappen and Arthur C. Denison, of the United States circuit court of appeals, presided at the opening session of the hearing

Attorney General Fellows aided by Deputies Crowley and Carr and Statisticial II. P. Parker, of the state railroad commission, represented the state, while Attorneys Edwin - P. Grosvenor and Henry P. Taft, of the wellknown law firm of Cadwater, Wickersham & Taft, of New York, and Frederick G Eller appeared with Receiver Dudley Waters and Publicity Agent Roy C. Vandercook, for the railroad.

"Loss in 20 Months-$20,860."

Attorney Grosvenor rehearsed the case, practically as presented to the state legislature in the spring, irequently drawing questions from the judges, When he showed by affidavits furnished by C. A. Sikes, statistician for the Pere Marquette, that for twenty months beginning July 1, 1913, and ending February 28, 1915, with strict account being kept of earnings and expenditures on the passenger department alone, there was a deficit of $20,860.56, based on a valuation of $20,000,000 for passenger equipment for intrastate service, the court took particular notice,

"Your honors will observe that during this period the road was in the hands of receivers under the direction of a federal judge and therefore, the management, it will not be denied, was economical,"-explained Grosvenor. As he finished Judge Sessions asked if it were not the general impression that receivers did not conduct the business of roads economically. To which the attorney replied that the receivership management has been the most economical on record.

Professor M. E. Conley's appraisal of the Pere Marquette was offered as evidence. It showed a physical value of $78,000,000 with an original cost of $96,-000,000. Figures were quoted on twenty-one of the forty-three lines earnings of eighty-live cents per passenger mile with an expenditure of ninety cents per passenger mile.

The board of agriculture will have to form its own rules for the conduct of the markets. There is nothing for them to go by. It is optional, Mr. Fellows said, whether the board establish and tion markets and appoint licensed and tioneers or not. This, he says, would epend on the board itself.

The law provides that all funds ac ruing shall be deposited with the state reasurer in a fund to be known as the 'market fund," but this fund is entirely vithin the control of the state board o igriculture, to be used by it as it see t in the work of the markets.
