AMERICAN SHIP SENT TO BOTTOM IN NORTH SEA BY A SUBMARINE; ALL OF CREW TAKEN OFF FIRST

Sleamer Leelanaw, Carrying a Cargo of Flax, Declared by Germany To Be Contraband, Is Sunk off Orkney Islands, But After Raider Permits Men To Leave.

WASHINGTON OFFICIALS CONSIDER OCCURRENCE AS GRAVE, FEARING ADDED TENSION TO SITUATION

London, July 26, 11:05 p. m.—The American steamer Leelanaw, loaded with flax for Belfast, was sunk yesterday off the Orkney islands by a German submarine. The crew were given time to leave the ship, even being permitted to remove some of their belongings. No effort was made to destroy the cargo without harming the ship. After the crew had been taken aboard the submarine, gunfire, combined with bombs, was aimed at the vessel. These failing to send it to the bottom, a torpedo was discharged at it. It sank in a few minutes. The crew will be landed at Dundee tomorrow.

What effect the incident will have on the already strained relations between Germany and the United States is a subject of wide speculation throughout England. To sink a neutral vessel, even though it is carrying contraband, is a violation of the Prussian-American treaty of 1828, it is declared, but the main issue which President Wilson is insisting on to the Berlin government is that American lives be not jeopardized in the submarine warfare.

London, July 26, 11:30 p. m.—All the crew of the American steamer Leelanaw are expected to reach Dundee tomorrow when it will be possible to obtain a full account of the sinking of the vessel by a German submarine off the Orkney islands Sunday night. The episode has created widespread discussion in England, coming, as it did, almost coincident with the delivery of the American note to Germany.

Only meagre accounts of the destruction of the Leelanaw have been received here, but it is clear that the submarine gave the commander of the steamer ample warning, even permitting the crew to collect part of their effects before taking them aboard the underwater craft, and then, through the combined use of shell fire and bombs, sent the vessel to the bottom.

The London evening papers, in telling of the incident, employ, in some cases, suggestive captions such as "An Unfriendly Act." But because the American note laid so much stress on the demand that American lives on merchant ships should not be jeopardized without warning, it was difficult for the English mind to determine whether the sinking of the ship, after the crew were taken off, constituted what America would regard as a repetition of acts which she insists must cease.

WENT AFTER ANOTHER SHIP.

E. H. Dennison, the American consul at Dundee, sent the Associated Press the following message tonight: "No details yet, except crew landed at Kirkwall this morning. Have ordered them sent to Dundee on tomorrow's boat."

When last seen the German submarine was in pursuit of a steamer, the smoke of which was observed after the Leelanaw's crew had been towed toward the shore.

NORWEGIAN STEAMER DESTROYED

London, July 26, 6:05 p. m.—The Norwegian steamer Finreite, of 3,819 tons gross, was sunk today by a German submarine. The crew was landed at Stornoway, Scotland.

The British steamship Grangewood, bound from Archangel, Russia, for Havre, France, was also torpedoed and sunk in the North sea. The crew was landed today at Lerwick, Scotland.

JUDGE ASKS THAT DEATH OF BECKER BE PUT OFF PENDING HIS DECISION

New York, July 26.—Upon the request of Supreme Court Justice Ford for more time to consider the application for a new trial made by Charles Becker, under sentence of death for instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, the execution of the former police lieutenant was postponed tonight from Wednesday until Friday morning of this week.

Justice Ford today heard arguments for and against the application. At their conclusion he reserved decision and gave counsel until noon tomorrow to file briefs. Tonight the justice telephoned to Warden Osborne of Sing Sing prison and requested that the execution be postponed. As the electrocution can take place legally any day this week, at the discretion of the warden, this request was granted. Justice Ford announced today that he would decide the case as quickly as possible. Tonight it was stated that he might not finish his deliberations before Tuesday night or Wednesday.

OIL STRIKERS SPLIT ON ISSUE OF GOING BACK

New York, July 26.—Developments in the strike situation at Bayonne, N. J., tonight indicated that probably half of the approximately five thousand employees of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey would return to work tomorrow morning.

In response to an appeal by Sheriff Eugene Kinkead, at a mass meeting, the English-speaking men and American citizens among the employees agreed to return to work, although the foreign-speaking element earlier in the day had refused an offer from the company which the sheriff had urged them to accept.

It is estimated that 1,500 men signified their intention of returning to work. Probably half of the employees who speak English are American citizens. What the foreign-speaking workers will do when the others go back is problematical.

Sheriff Kinkead declared he had every means to protect the men if they returned to work and announced that Superintendent G. B. Hennessy, of the Standard plant, would have the works open at the regular time tomorrow.

LEADER WAS NOT AN EMPLOYEE.

An interesting feature of the day was the arrest and unmasking, as a non-employee, of Jeremiah J. Baly, chairman of the strikers' committee. Baly, in a statement, admitted that he had "falsely and maliciously represented himself to Sheriff Kinkead, the strikers and the Standard Oil officials as an employee of the company" and that "he regretted the part he had played." Baly, who is twenty-two years old, says he was born in Bohemia. He gained remarkable influence over the strikers shortly after joining in their discussions, and apparently was accepted by them as a fellow workman. He denied that he was at work in Bayonne in the interest of any foreign government. He said that friends had urged him to go to Bayonne to help the strikers and that he had done so in the belief that he was fighting for the rights of man.

Frank Tannenbaum, of New York, who has been active in the work of the Industrial Workers of the World, was placed under arrest during the mass meeting. The charge, it is stated, was inciting to riot. While Tannenbaum was being taken to the county jail in the sheriff's automobile he made some remark which offended the sheriff and the latter, it is said, slapped the man's face.

BOMB WRECKS BEDROOM OF SADDLERY FOREMAN

Dallas, Tex., July 26.—A bomb placed under a bed in the home of W. T. Moore, foreman of the Paigitt-British Saddlery company, completely wrecked the bedroom tonight. Moore and his son, Frank J. Moore, were hurled from the bed and seriously injured.

President Decides To Act In Mexico

Washington, July 26.—A definite step toward settling the Mexican problem will be taken by the United States government in the near future.

Authoritative announcement to this effect was made today at the state department, although the nature of the contemplated action was not disclosed. President Wilson is understood to be considering several suggested courses.

Mr. Wilson is known to have been reviewing the situation for some time, the warring Mexican factions having failed to heed his suggestion of two months ago that they accommodate their differences and restore peace in the distressed country.

SAID CARRANZA'S LAST CHANCE.

Officials think the president has not finally determined what is to be done. His most probable course, it was reported tonight, would be to urge General Carranza, for the last time, to confer with other faction leaders in an effort to bring about peace.

Should Carranza again refuse, this plan, it is said, contemplates efforts to assemble other Mexican leaders who will represent a majority of the Mexican people.

PEOPLE'S GOVERNMENT WANTED.

The conference would arrange for a constitutional convention, which would plan for an election and the establishment of a government which the United States would recognize and help to maintain.

A state department report from Mexico City, dated July 20, said the capital was quiet and that water and light service had been restored, but that the food situation was causing great concern.

HUERTA SAYS "HOME VIOLATED."

El Paso, Tex., July 26.—General Victoriano Huerta, awaiting trial here on charges of violating American neutrality, today sent a message to Chief Justice White of the United States supreme court complaining that his home here had been "violated by agents of American justice, without scruple," and demanding guarantees for his family.

"I want to know if my family can live in the United States with the guarantee which the law grants to every body," he said.

RUSSIA DISCHARGES MEN BLAMED FOR SHORTAGE OF MUNITIONS OF WAR

London, July 27, 2:55 a. m.—There has been a clean sweep from the Russian war office of the men responsible for the shortage of ammunition, according to the correspondent at Petrograd of the Daily Mail.

The correspondent reports the existence in the Russian capital of a more cheerful feeling at the courageous resistance which the Russian armies are making to the Austro-German advance. He adds that the fresh admission by the authorities is now made for the first time publicly that no large Russian counter-offensive is possible until the mobilization of industry bears fruit in a largely increased supply of ammunition.

See Warsaw's Fall Within Two Weeks

London, July 26, 10:37 p. m.—Field Marshal von Mackensen's sustained effort to throw any considerable body of Austro-German troops astride the Lublin-Cholm railway having to date met with no success, the Germans are now centering their main offensive north of Warsaw, and having crossed the Narw river along a forty mile front, are driving at the Russians toward the Bug, where it joins the Narw north of the Polish capital.

Warsaw still holds out, but the general belief is held here that its loss by the Russians is only a matter of time.

SEE WARSAW'S FALL SOON.

Dispatches reaching London tonight from Petrograd predict that the much discussed climax to the great struggle in Poland will come within a fortnight with simultaneous attacks on the city from the north and south. In the meantime General von Buelow's troops, driving south from Gorland, are thirty-five miles southeast of Shavli, having reached the Poniewozh railway junction, linked with the Vilna-Deinsk line, which the German cavalry is attempting to seize preparatory to cutting the more important Kovno-Vilna line. The effective German cavalry in this area is estimated at Petrograd at thirty thousand.

A German air raid on the Vistula bridge at Warsaw was without material result, but several civilians were killed.

The fighting in the western theater consists mainly of artillery engagements and sapping operations in which no ma-

LATEST NOTE SENT BERLIN CALLED FIRM

Berlin, July 26, via London, July 27, 5:45 a. m.—The imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, today conferred with the emperor at general headquarters. The American note was under consideration. Nothing tangible regarding the German attitude on the American communication is likely to be made known before the chancellor's return to Berlin.

Some officials are inclined to believe that the American note closes the diplomatic discussion most thoroughly. Others think that a reply of some sort will be made by Germany and that the question of indemnification for the American lives lost will perhaps be suggested for reference to arbitration. This suggestion was under consideration during the drafting of the earlier note, but, if decided upon, will almost certainly not be put into operation immediately. One factor in this determination is the desire to wait the outcome of the negotiations with England regarding interference with American trade. The outcome of this dispute, it is believed, is not likely to affect the general German policy regarding submarines, but the tone of the American note to Great Britain will be taken as a guide in interpreting the latest note to Germany. Officials believe that this is decidedly brusque and not calculated to aid in the settlement of the German-American difficulties.

BERLIN PAPERS SARCASTIC.

Berlin, via Wireless to Sayville, L. I., July 26.—Theodore Wolfe, editor-in-chief of the Berliner Tageblatt, commenting on the American note to Germany, says:

"There is no reason to try to discover perfume between the thorns of the American note to console ourselves. The American government demands that its citizens travel in safety in war time where and when they please. If they sit on a powder cask, anyone lighting a cigar in their vicinity would be guilty of an unfriendly act. President Wilson's standpoint is unconditionally opposed to reasonable rights and lawful reasons."

Eugene Zimmerman, general director of the Lokal Anzeiger, devotes a paragraph to sarcastic suggestions that according to the views of the Washington government American tourists might logically witness sea battles and demand their cessation if their interest palled or the noise annoyed them.

BOTH CHICAGO AND GOVERNMENT TO START INVESTIGATION TODAY OF THE EASTLAND CATASTROPHE

Coroner's Jury, Federal Departments, Headed by Secretary Redfield, the Police and State's Attorney's Office Will Gather Evidence in Effort to Place Blame for the Disaster.

FEARED LIST OF DEAD WILL EXCEED 1,000; MANY BODIES THOUGHT BURIED IN MUD

Chicago, July 26.—Plans for investigation by federal, state and city officials to determine who was to blame for the capsizing of the steamer Eastland in the Chicago river Saturday, with a loss of hundreds of lives, were completed tonight.

A coroner's jury will start an inquest tomorrow, while federal departments, headed by Secretary of Commerce Redfield, and officers from the police department and the office of the state's attorney will gather evidence, meanwhile holding formal inquiry in abeyance until the inquest is finished, as far as possible.

STILL FINDING BODIES OF DEAD.

Efforts were continued today to remove the bodies of victims of the disaster from the wrecked ship and to tabulate the dead.

Whether the total death list would remain around one thousand, as many believed, or creep up to 1,200 or more, as others predict, cannot be determined yet.

Registration of employees by the Western Electric company today showed nearly four hundred missing. Many of these were included in the 826 bodies recovered and identified. It was said also that probably a large number did not report, although safe.

FEARED OVER 1,000 PERISHED.

The probability of swelling the list above a thousand was suggested by the announcement of detectives from the state attorney's office that they had seized the tickets taken from passengers boarding the Eastland for the excursion to Michigan City, Ind. They asserted that these tickets numbered 2,530 and that these did not account for children, musicians and the seventy-two members of the crew. They estimated that the total number of persons aboard the steamer might have been 2,800, or more, instead of the 2,480 previously announced by officers of the Indiana Transportation company, lessees of the ship, who asserted that 2,408 tickets had been taken.

DENIES HOYNE'S ALLEGATION.

Robert H. McCreary, deputy collector of customs, who, with two inspectors, counted the passengers as they boarded the Eastland, after reading Mr. Hoyne's statement, declared it was impossible that 2,800 or more persons boarded the ship. He also said it was "false and ridiculous" for Mr. Hoyne to state that children were not counted.

Mr. McCreary said that the 2,530 ticket stubs seized included some of the tickets taken from passengers intended for the steamer Petosky, another of the excursion ships.

LETTERS ARRANGING TRIP SEIZED.

State's Attorney Hoyne, in pursuing his investigation, tonight seized correspondence which had passed between officers of the Western Electric employees' organization, which gave the picnic, and the Indiana Transportation company, operating the Eastland and four other steamers, set aside to carry more than seven thousand persons across the lake on this excursion.

The state's attorney asserted that this correspondence disclosed the fact that the steamer company had advised those in charge of the picnic that the more tickets sold, the greater would be the rebate paid to the employees' organization. Tickets were to be sold to employees of the Western Electric company for seventy-five cents at the factory, or $1 at the wharf. According to the state's attorney the letters he took showed that there would be a rebate of one-third on all tickets over four thousand and something less on those above 2,500.

ITALIANS HOLD STRATEGIC POINT.

Rome, via Paris, July 26, Midnight.—An official statement issued tonight says: "The island of Pelagos, important on account of the strategic situation, has been occupied by the Italian forces."

BOSSSES FORCED EMPLOYEES TO GO?

Complaint already has been made by several employees of the Western Electric company that they had been almost compelled to purchase tickets for the excursion, believing the foremen would discriminate against them if they failed to go on the trip. The picnic to Michigan City has been an annual affair, and it is said that employees who had refused to buy tickets in previous years had been discharged, although probably without

WRANGLING INCREASES CONFUSION

To the confusion of determining the total number of lives lost there was added much wrangling among officers of different jurisdictions over tentative plans to right the Eastland, which still lies on its port side, where it sank within twenty feet of the south bank of the river, which is three hundred feet wide at that point, just west of the Clark street bridge.

Despite an all-day search of the bulk by divers and a constant dragging of the river bed between the wreck and a net stretched across the river a block down the current from the ship only a dozen bodies were found today.

MANY THOUGHT BURIED IN MUD.

Estimates of the number still held under water by the upset boat varied widely from 150 to 500.

Marine engineers think it will require from ten to thirty days to put the Eastland on its keel. It was said that until the ship was removed it could not be determined how many, if any, bodies had been caught under the hull of the superstructure.

Plans to use dynamite in raising bodies from the mud were abandoned for the time being, for fear the explosions might destroy any evidence the ship could give of possible mismanagement of the water ballast system, said by several marine engineers to be the probable cause of the capsizing.

REDFIELD TO START PROBE TODAY.

Secretary Redfield, aroused by the catastrophe, will be in Chicago tomorrow to take charge of the government end of the investigation.

Coroner Hoffman today placed W. J. Wood, a naval architect, who has dubbed the Eastland "the crank of the lakes," in charge of all work at the wreck.

More than $200,000 was subscribed by business houses and individuals during the day to alleviate suffering among those who lost their sources of support in the tragedy.

ACCUSES FEDERAL INSPECTOR.

William Olander, secretary of the Lake Seaman's union, tonight said that there were many other ships on the Great Lakes as dangerous as the Eastland, because of faulty construction. He held that the Eastland was not properly designed to be stable and that the water ballast system was not the main fault. He charged that United States inspectors under Captain Charles H. Westcott, of Detroit, chief of the lake district, had played into the hands of ship-owners at the expense of sailors and passengers. He said this was shown by the fact that thirty-one ships, passed by the inspectors, had sunk in the Great Lakes since 1905, several of them taking all on board to death.

This statement, and others of a similar nature, caused the investigators to decide to look into the condition of all vessels issuing from the Chicago harbor. Captain Westcott is subpoenaed by State's Attorney Hoyne to tell his side of the inspection of lake steamers.

FRANCE EXPERIMENTS WITH PRISONERS OF WAR AS TILLERS OF THE SOIL.

Orleans, July 12.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The experimental use of German prisoners of war as harvesters has begun here in the old province of Orleans. It may solve the question of the harvest without the return of the soldiers at the front.

Two hundred Germans who were captured at Cambrai and sent to the prison camp at Issoudun were transferred to Malcheres and there is groups of twenty sent to the different communes that have applied to the military authorities for farm help. Each detachment is placed under the supervision of the mayor of the commune acting for the military authorities, and is subject to the same discipline as in camp.

The men are to be paid at the rate of about $10 per month, in addition to their board and lodging, directly by those who employ them.

This far the experiment has developed no difficulties and if it continues to prove successful other convoys of 200 each will be sent to other farming centers.

PIT NONE BUT AMERICANS ON GUARD

WAS EXPECTED.

The editorial utterances of representative German newspapers, quoted in The Mining Journal yesterday morning, express varying degrees of bitterness at the contents of the American note. The American government, they say, wholly fails to appreciate the German point of view. The view that the imperial government has gone as far as it can go with concessions is reiterated.

This is not particularly surprising, nor is it of transcendent importance. It is exactly the attitude it was expected the German press would take. It is not of transcendent importance because the administration will look for the answer to its representations not in words, but in deeds. No matter how much the German press and the German publicists may splutter, there need be no breach with Germany if only the methods of warfare henceforth pursued by the German submarine commanders conform with the American view of what they should be.

UNPATRIOTIC EMPLOYERS.

Captain Smith, commanding the Houghton Light Infantry, complains that certain employers have refused their men the leaves of absence they would require to attend the state encampment as members of the company. This is a frequent charge against employers, one that has never been at all to their credit and one that in a year, and at a time in a year, like this is really a heavy indictment of their ideas of public duty and of patriotism. It is an unfortunate thing that such charges are always indefinite, that the names of the offending employers are not printed so that they could hear something of the chorus of disapproval that would be turned in their direction by the public. But the welfare of the men makes it inexpedient to file a bill of particulars with the general charge, for it is as clear as a pikestaff that an employer with so limited a vision that he is not willing to permit his employe to discharge his duty to the state as a member of a military body would not be above taking it out of the employe if it happened that he was given some of the undesirable publicity that he so richly deserves.

It is this condition, also, that makes it impracticable to reach this manifestation of bad citizenship by statute. A law could doubtless be passed that would make it necessary for an employer to give leave, for the period of the annual encampment, to a man who held membership in a company of militia, but obviously no law could be framed that could prevent the employer from quietly dropping from his payroll on some pretext or other, the employe who raised the issue. Thus the remedy for this hostile attitude toward as useful and valuable a body as the state militia cannot be looked for in the legislature. It must be found in the education of the employing class to a better sense of duty and of patriotism.

THE IRON OF LORRAINE.

American consuls report that Lorraine produces one-quarter of all the raw iron made in the German empire. This may furnish a partial explanation of the failure of recent negotiations between Britain, France and Germany shortly before the war. France has by treaty a reversionary interest in the Belgian Congo, the first right to purchase that region if Belgium wishes to sell. It is an open secret that Belgium several times has been ready to clear out of the Congo, but France did not care to buy. She offered, however, to assign her right of purchase to Germany, and to make further concessions in the French Congo, in return for the cession of about 450 square miles of Lorraine and an agreement to limit armaments. The desired territory in Lorraine included the fortress of Metz, which in German hands is an unending menace to France. It may or may not have included the iron mines. England, according to Sir Harry Johnston, was a party to this proposal, and offered likewise to consent to Germany's purchase of Portuguese Africa. The Portuguese colonies and the Congo, joined to Germany's other African possessions, would make one of the finest colonial empires ever known. It could have been secured at a money cost perhaps equal to that of one month of the war, and no blood price whatever.

If the iron mines of Lorraine were even partly responsible for the refusal of this offer, their ores have a right to be red. The Mary Charlotte mine at Negaunee is to increase its force considerably to meet further orders for ore lately secured. With the opening of the Maas mine this will place the number of men employed at Negaunee about where it was before the curtailment of operations last fall. Similar reports of expanding operations come from all the other Lake Superior ranges, and while the activity is most pronounced in the Minnesota iron fields the Michigan ranges bid fair to secure their full share of the new business. This pronounced revival in the fundamental industry is giving rise to rosy hopes for the future. Unemployment appears to be doomed, and much reason is being given to expect that 1916 will be a year of marked business and industrial revival.

The school board met twice yesterday for consideration of matters in connection with the high school building project without further discussion of the site question, and the members decline to be quoted informally on the subject. This is a negative declaration that the tentative approval of the Hodgkins' site, subject only to the approval of the architect, stands, and that there will be no further consideration of the West Riga street site. The board holds that the proper disposal of its problem is the one that will secure the greatest utilization of the present group of buildings.

President Wilson is reported to be scanning the plans of the army and navy departments for dealing with the question of national defense. It is a timely and vital question, one that will be dealt with in a prominent manner in the next message which the President has to send to congress. It is a subject that has too long been made the football of unpatriotic congressmen of all parties.

The secretary of state estimates that the returns from the new auto license law in 1916 will be $1,800,000, to be divided between the state and the counties. Nearly 82,000,000 is a tidy automobile tax, but when it is considered that the auto drivers are the principal beneficiaries of much of the expenditure on good roads in the state it is not a bit too heavy.

Any development in our foreign relations that would mean the convening of congress would be ominous not only because it would signify a crisis, but because we are getting along so well without congress.

EDITORIAL OPINION

War Weariness.

No doubt it is true that the people of the countries involved in the vast war are growing weary of the hardships, the strain, the waste, the destruction and agony of armed strife. They would be more or less than human if it were not so. But if the reports which come out of Sweden, Denmark and northern states do not exaggerate the longing for peace among the masses in Germany and if it can be taken as the truth that martial law is impending throughout the German empire in order to suppress socialistic opposition to the policy of the government, it is possible to take at their face value similar tales from France, Great Britain and Russia, all such evidence of war weariness may mean little or nothing as a sign that peace is drawing near.

Wars always bring such heart-sickness. They always excite more or less internal opposition and discontent. Often they have bred revolts in countries which have nevertheless fought on for years. Consider the state of the federal government during the war for the preservation of the Union. From the beginning it had to withstand bitter opposition from the seceding states. The peace party was always seeking to end the fighting on whatever terms might be possible. In some places the activities of the opponents of the war reached the stage of secret plots and open resistance to the federal authorities. But the war went on to its destined end, notwithstanding.

This is the common experience of nations engaged in a long and terribly difficult and costly struggle. If great powers of Europe were immune from such complications now it would prove that human nature had undergone a miraculous change. War weariness is often far from peace.—Cleveland Leader.

Our Advertising Statesmen.

Speaking of boomers, our wrangle with Germany may result in assembling congress in special session. The president and the country may well view such a possibility with chagrin, but if Germany insists upon adding congress immediately upon us there is no way in which we can escape that fate. The fathers, little recking that there might be times and occasions when everyone would be bored to death with congress, fastened congress upon the country in emergency by the simple expedient of giving to that body the appropriating power. The president may do many things, but when the government needs money he must call for help.

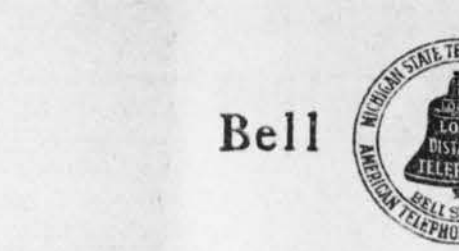

When congress adjourned last spring it was confidently expected that congress would not reassemble until December. Physicians felt the nation's pulse and decided that it needed a rest. We had just overcome the debilitating effects of the longest congressional record of modern times and whatever happened we felt that we could do without any more of it for a considerable period. Woodrow Wilson enjoys the confidence of the nation largely because of his unusual capacity for silence. He can keep still in seven languages. But the nation is not equally sure of congress. Congress cannot keep quiet about anything. It is too numerous and too anxious to advertise. If congress convenes somebody is sure to say something nasty, ill-tempered or silly which will arouse feeling abroad among those who do not understand that the American people take seriously the votes of congress, but not the words. There is sure to be wild debate between the pacifists and the advocates of greater preparedness. All shades of partisanship will have their brief hour upon the floor. And in the end congress will obey Wilson, partly because of his established ascendancy over the majority caucus and partly because it is the spirit of the hour to "get behind the president."—Grand Rapids Press.

Work for the Scientists.

Coal, it is announced, will likely be higher in price in these United States in the coming winter. This is not because of any unprecedented foreign demand due to war conditions. Nor is there any apparent or likely scarcity of supply. But a convention of coal producers recently held in Chicago revealed the fact that large coal operators claim that they have in recent months been selling coal below the cost of production and have in some coal fields been losing money. It is claimed that the losses of the operators have largely been due to the lack of proper cost and accounting systems. Most are now employing such aids and are discovering that to make profits they must charge higher prices to the consumers of their product.

Militarism in its treatment of the German people reminds me of Mrs. Peck. Longings.

The dry locker now maintains in Tennessee. This means that in Tennessee clubs drinks not only can't be sold, but the clubman can't even keep a bottle in his locker. Apropos of the rigors of the dry locker, H. Loxoy, of Chattanooga, the Chattanooga millionaire, declared at a garden party: "We Tennesseans are now in the position of Parson Black. 'Parson Black,' said a rich planter, 'come round tonight, and we'll open a bottle of peach and honey.' 'Thank you, friend,' said the parson, 'but I—er—abstain.' 'Well, come round anyway,' said the planter, good humoredly. 'I can offer you, at least, a good cigar.' 'I do not smoke, friend,' said Parson Black coughing. 'Do you eat grass, parson?' he asked. 'No, what do you mean?' said Black laughingly. 'Of course I don't eat grass.' 'Well, then, you're a queer one,' said

LOWER STATE NOTES

CADILLAC—The body of Isaac Mattie, sixty years old, was pulled from the log boom on the Cadillac Handle company by employes. Mattie had been missing since Thursday. Officers believe he fell in or else committed suicide. The body was badly cut and the head, but it is thought the gashes are the result of falling into the vat of logs.

KALAMAZOO—Members of the Michigan state pardon board have written Kalamazoo officials concerning a parole for Roger W. Gerraard, sent to Lonia prison from this county some time ago, at the expiration of the minimum sentence next month. Gerraard died while an inmate of the Lonia institution in April. He was sent to Lonia after he had pleaded guilty to obtaining money under false pretenses. Within a short time after he had been committed to that institution his death was reported.

CADILLAC—If Manager Harry Silvers of the Dreamland theater can find out who broke Ethel Dawn June's swimming tank he will sue him for heavy damages. Ethel Dawn June is the maid who swims in a huge glass tank, while her father lectures to the audience on the subject of self-navigating. Miss June was to be the "big act" at the Dreamland but because of the damage sustained by the glass tub she couldn't swim in Cadillac except in the lake, and she decided to take a vacation.

LANSING—The supreme court has decided that cities may embark in the business of selling bulbs, electrical apparatus, electrical appliances, etc., and wire houses as well. Albert A. Andrews, electrical appliance dealer of South Haven, who wires houses, complained because the city was injuring his business by doing the same line of work. His contention was that under the state constitution while the city had a right to own and operate a lighting plant it could not go into any private business. The court, however, in an opinion written by Justice Kuhn, holds otherwise. Although the constitutional provision does not say exactly that the city can only own and operate, common sense, says the court, will permit the city, to make public sales of such things as will enable the consumer properly to use the current.

DOWAGIAC—John O. Hopper, a laborer at Glenwood, five miles east of Dowagiac, has been pronounced a leper after diagnosis of his case by physicians at the University of Michigan, and the Cass county superintendent of poor are making a fight to escape the responsibility of caring for him and his wife and three small children.

FLINT—Itelen McDaniels and Marguerite Vandervest, of Lansing, are being held here pending the arrival of their fathers. The girls ran away from Lansing, according to the police of that city, when Helen's mother threatened to spank her because she was going with a student at the military camp. Helen is seventeen years old and her friend about eighteen.

HILLSDALE—Hillsdale has not heard the last of its "hog murder case," in which George W. Craig, of Ransom, is being prosecuted on complaint of his neighbor, Oakesley Betts, who charges that Craig killed his porker when it wandered onto Craig's property. After the case was threshed out in circuit court, all evidence was put in and the matter taken under advisement. It was discovered that the hog was not worth over $25. This discovery took the case out of the jurisdiction of the circuit court and threw it into a justice court.

BALDWIN—Trapped in a stair corner, where they sought refuge from flames of an exploding gasoline stove, the three children of Ernest Wald were burned to death at Bass lake, seven miles south of Baldwin. The mother had taken the daily bathing of the resort along the big Star lake, but left the door open. "The home stands alone on the north shore and though the fire was seen at an early stage, by the time the other resorters arrived it was impossible to enter the home. The children were aged seven, five and two years, respectively. The father is a chauffeur from Chicago, who is spending the summer here.

LANSING—The Nowell Smith automobile tax law will net the state of Michigan and its counties close to $1,700,000 during the first year of its operation, 1916. The first estimate upon the amount of tax the bill would raise was placed at $700,000 to $800,000, but since the secretary of state has been delving into the statistics of the automobile manufacturers in regard to horsepower and the weight of cars, the estimate has been materially boosted. The ordinary Ford car, under figures received here, will cost each owner about $11 for his license. When the larger cars are averaged in it is figured by Deputy Secretary of State George Lusk that the average will run close to $13. So far as this year there have been more than 102,000 licenses issued and the order for plates for 1916 is for 150,000. The opinion prevails that the number will reach 175,000 on the basis of splitting the difference between the $11 and $13 average, making it $12—a figure which is very conservative—the total amount of money taken in would be $1,820,000. Of this money one-half will go to the counties in which it originates.

DETROIT—George Ryan, twenty-seven years old, arrested here on a charge of counterfeiting, confessed, to the police say, that within nine months he had made and his associates had passed more than $40,000 in spurious money in cities and towns between New York and St. Louis. Several hours before Ryan was captured, Lillian Waskel, Edith Gray and Mattie Hennessy were arrested in Saginaw charged with passing counterfeit $5 bills. It was information obtained from them that led to Ryan's arrest.

Against Ryan's statement of counterfeiting operations, particularly as to the passing of the $5 bills, Michigan, James Sloan Jr., secret service agent in Michigan, after hearing of the arrest and the alleged confession of Ryan, declared that since April 15 thirty-five or forty counterfeit $5 bills of any kind had been passed in this state to his knowledge. Two arrests, he said, already had been made, one in Buffalo and another in Pittsburg. According to the police, four plates used in making bad money were found on Ryan when he was searched at headquarters. All were of the $5 denomination.

UPPER PENINSULA Woman's Salary $1,350 a Year. At the last meeting of the Gogebic county supervisors, the board fixed the salary of the office of county commissioner of schools at $1,350 a year. Miss Laura Hawdick, the incumbent, intends to devote her entire time to the duties. Miss Hawdick is a former Keweenaw girl, her father, Captain Richard Barden being in charge of the Phoenix property in the latter eighties.

Will Boom Green Bay Region. The Garden Produce company, with a capital stock of $10,000, has been incorporated and will do business at Vans Harbor. The company was organized with the intention to boost that part of Cloverland and to procure a ready market for farm products the year around. It has already established a retail lumber yard and will handle building materials, such as lumber, shingles, doors, windows, lime, cement, brick, etc. The following are the officers: H. P. Burke, president; J. C. Wood, vice president; A. F. Bezole, secretary; C. F. Ewald, general manager.

Municipal Plant for Stephenson. The election held in Stephenson when the question of bonding the village for $5,000, with which to install a plant for the development of electricity for power and lighting, showed that the people have awakened to the fact that the growth and prosperity of the town cannot be secured by laying back and waiting for the gold to drop down from the skies, comments the Stephenson Journal. During the summer months the village council, assisted by a citizens' committee, has been making investigations as to the cost of power and some very surprising figures have been compiled. The result of the election showed that practically all the people are in favor of building a plant, the vote standing 109

Auto Is Added to Fire Equipment.

The Iron River village council has added a small Ford auto truck to the equipment of the fire department, in order that the horses may be used for the municipal garbage wagon. The truck carries 300 feet of hose, ladders and chemical fire extinguishers. It will answer all alarms during the day. The town will go to the fire station when alarms are turned in during the day and night, ready to follow the auto truck if additional equipment is needed. At night both the truck and team will answer alarms.

Game Warden's queer Experience.

James McMahon, deputy game and forest fire warden, had a peculiar experience Saturday last, when cruising on the plains, reports the Baraga Journal. McMahon was engaged in posting a forest fire bill on a tree when he noticed, as presumed, a wood mushroom in the road. The plant had no scent, he squeezed it and found it to be filled with water, which was spread over both his hands. As the flies were troublesome, his hands came in contact with his face in brushing them away. Subsequently he felt a prickly sensation through his arms, face and chest, the skin on his arms turning a reddish purple. Pain was felt in the chest and jaws, and the light became dim before his eyes. He became weak and staggering and at once started for the camp of a trapper, James Gilbert. During the walk to the camp, perspiration was brought on, which appeared to relieve him of the stupid feeling. On reaching camp he retired and he woke up in the morning feeling as though nothing had happened.

Indiana Attorney Writes County Clerk Kaiser for Information.

County Clerk Kaiser yesterday received a somewhat peculiar communication from Bert E. Woodbury, an attorney of Union City, Ind. Mr. Woodbury writes that he and a party of two Indiana hunters and fishermen expect to come into Houghton county about the opening of the deer season next fall.

COUNTY GETS NEARLY $208,000.

A statement of the distribution of Houghton county's share of the annual primary school fund apportionment was received yesterday by County Clerk Kaiser and County Treasurer Bram from Fred L. Keeler, state superintendent of public instruction.

The statement shows that on a basis of 27,313 children of school age in the county, at a rate of $7.85 per capita, the county will receive $207,407.45. This is distributed among the school districts or townships as follows:

"Get Up" and Get

Don't you back up or stop until you've tried PEERLESS. It's the one perfect tobacco for the big, two-fisted, out-of-doors man who wants a rich, full-bodied tobacco for both chewing and smoking.

You get hold of PEERLESS. Note its rich, natural sweetness—just the pure Southern Kentucky leaf, aged naturally and slowly for three to five years, to bring out all its mellow fragrance and flavor. PEERLESS has the genuine snap and taste that you want in tobacco.

PEERLESS Long Cut Tobacco

was purposely made up, fifty years ago, for the sturdy man who is hungry for man's size tobacco. Fifty years have come and gone and all sorts of brands have tried to beat out PEERLESS, but the old he-boy is still the king-brand of them all.

Hitch up with PEERLESS for a week's trial, and you and PEERLESS will always pull together like a well-matched team. Nothing fancy about the PEERLESS package—we put all the cost into the tobacco. As you say of a horse, "he's all horse"—so we say of PEERLESS—"it's all tobacco."

"Smoke it or chew it—but go straight to it" Sold everywhere in 5c packages.

Other sizes, 10c, 20c and 40c Packages, and 45c Tin Pails. THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY force of 185 men, and in addition to the output of this property the United States Steel corporation is opening up the McGillis mine. A new shaft and engine house, have just been finished. The shaft is being retimbered and the levels opened up.

Former Convict in the Toils. Antone Georgia broke into the warehouse of the Michigan Scrap Iron company on Aurora street Wednesday night, loaded three sacks with liquor and was trying to get away with the haul when he was seen by Harry Mark, who notified Patrolman Tom Sedlak.

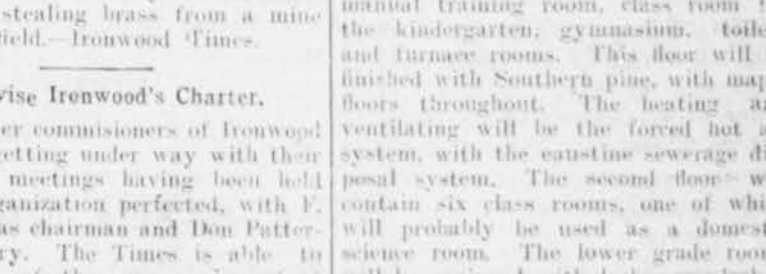

To Revise Ironwood's Charter. The charter commissioners of Ironwood have been getting under way with their work, two meetings having been held and the organization perfected, with F. H. Karney as chairman and Don Patterson secretary.

Menominee Water Question. The city of Menominee can build a modern waterworks of its own, together with a filtration plant, for $277,232. This figure is only $8,251.82 more than would cost the municipality to purchase the plant of the Menominee Water company for $280,000 and add needed improvements, including a filter. This information has reached the city council as the report of the W. J. Sherman company, which was hired to tell the city what a municipal waterworks would cost. Mayor Lloyd told the aldermen also to provide that this officer need not necessarily be a resident of the city. There is also under discussion the proposition of providing for a municipal court, or one justice of the peace, with a wider jurisdiction than at present. It has also been proposed that the salary of the mayor be made in the neighborhood of $800 a year, so that it would not be too great a sacrifice for any man to take the position. It has also been suggested that the mayor be required to be in his office at the city hall at least one day in each week, where he will be accessible to the general public. It is also suggested that the city elections shall be held once in two years instead of every spring as at present.

Fine New School for Ewen. The board at Ewen has awarded the contract for the erection of a modern school building to Owens & Neuenkamp of Ironwood. The contract price is $23,925. There were thirteen bids. The building will be 68 x 108 feet. Two lower walls is to be constructed of cement blocks, and the remainder of the walls of Royal Rug pattern bricks. The lower floor or basement will contain the annual training room, class room for the kindergarten, gymnasium, toilets and turn-out room. This floor will be finished with Southern pine, with maple floors throughout. The heating and ventilating will be the forced hot air system, with the exhaustive sewage disposal system. The second floors will contain six class rooms, one of which will probably be used as a domestic science room. The lower grade rooms will be equipped with locker wardrobes, and two large wardrobes will be provided for the higher grades which occupy this floor. On the third floor will be an assembly room, four class rooms, teachers' room, superintendent's office, library and two commodious wardrobes. The assembly room will be provided with a stage and have a seating capacity of 200. The two upper floors will be finished in birch throughout. The building will have fireproof walls and corridors, iron stairs, a vacuum cleaning device, electric lights and an automatic heat regulating system. All class rooms will have twelve-foot ceilings.

IT'S UP TO YOU.

If you want to be a quitter, it is strictly up to you. For when trouble comes before you it's an easy thing to do. If you droop with each misfortune, if you moan with wail and sob, you'll be ready any minute to retreat and quit the job. But if one real drop of fighting blood goes coursing through your veins, you will meet your disappointments and your losses with a gasp. You will stand and face your troubles, get a tighter grip on life, and you'll wave a proud defiance at the heels of stress and strife. If you want to be a quitter, keep on grumbling at your fate. Turn and run from toil and trouble when you meet them at your gate. But if you are not a coward, you will scorn misfortune's frown. You will quit snuff your colors and you will never haul them down. Life's a fight, and you must face it with a courage grim and true. If you want to be a quitter, it is strictly up to you. —Sheley Bryant.

SPANISH FINANCES ARE INVOLVED IN DIFFICULTY.

Madrid, July 15.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Spanish treasury statements for the first six months of 1915 show very clearly some of the financial difficulties of the country at the time of the failure of the $150,000,000 loan, and the consequent cabinet crisis of June 22. While the books of the treasury show an increase of receipts over any previous year they also show an increase of expenditure which, when taken together with the interest that must be paid on Spain's $1,819,270,000 debt, regularly produces a deficit. To meet this was one of the principal reasons for trying to float the recent unfortunate loan.

The total receipts for the first half year of 1915 were $1,348,815,602, as against a total for the same period of last year of $1,178,556,464, exhibiting a nominal gain of $200,259,138 in the national revenues over last year. But in this same period this year there have been $36,249,950 of treasury obligations to meet, in addition to ordinary, normal expenses, with the result that, on the whole, the Spanish treasury is actually behind $9,564,912 in comparison with the first half of year of 1914.

Had it been possible for the Dato Ministru to float its $150,000,000 loan, it could at least have deferred the day of reckoning until less perilous times. Public opinion in Spain seems to agree that the abstention of wealthier investors from subscription to the loan was partially caution, due to war conditions, and partially politics, due to the fear that the Dato ministry was dangerously close to the quadruple entente powers and might at any time try to drag Spain into the war. The unequivocal renewal of the king's confidence in the ability of Edmundo Dato to extricate the country, somehow, from its financial embarrassment is expected to silence those critics of the government and to insure the success of the loan when again offered.

GIANT NATURAL GAS WELL NEAR HAVRE

Montana Company Makes Strike That Measures 15,000,000 Cubic Feet Daily.

Havre, Mont., July 26.—The first natural gas supply to be found in Montana was located here July 2, and great excitement has prevailed through the entire northern Montana section in consequence.

For some time past a company consisting of local and Canadian capitalists has been doing developing work in this vicinity. Two wells had been sunk previously to the sinking of the well that has proved a real producer. In both the other wells it was made certain that gas was present, but they did not produce in sufficient volume.

Well No. 3 is situated two miles east of Havre near the Great Northern railroad. The presence of gas was apparent at 935 feet. The drilling continued, however, through the gas sand, and work was halted at the depth of 947 feet; the force of the discharge of the gas being so strong that it was impossible to continue farther. It took two days of hard work to harness the well.

On Tuesday a test of the capacity of the well was made in the presence of thousands of visitors from all parts of the state, and according to the rules laid down by the United States government for computation of gas measurement it indicated a daily capacity of 15,000,000 cubic feet.

The natural gas company is arranging for the piping of their product to the city for commercial usage, and this work will be begun at once.

At Gold Butte, ninety miles northwest of here, work is in progress on an oil prospect. A like undertaking is under way at Great Falls, and a depth of 2,000 feet already has been reached, with favorable indications.

It is thought this section of Montana will prove to be, upon development, one of the richest gas and oil fields in the world.

The largest gas well in the world is situated in Pennsylvania, and it measures just twice as much as the Havre well, 30,000,000 feet.

The second largest is that at Bow Island, Canada, and that measures 19,000,000 feet, about 4,000,000 feet more than the well in this city.

The well here is the equal of the great wells of Kansas and Oklahoma.

FAMOUS CLIPPER'S CAPTAIN IS GIVEN RECEIPT FOR SHIP.

London, July 12.—(By Mail to New York.)—Captain Godde of the Norwegian ship Fiery Cross, which was sunk by a German submarine off the Scilly Islands on July 3, brought ashore with him an official receipt signed and sealed by the commander of the submarine. It is said that he is the first mercantile seaman to demand and obtain a receipt of this kind. The document reads:

"I hereby certify that I have sunk the Norwegian barque, Fiery Cross, Captain John Godde, on July 3, 1915, at 3 p. m., as she had contraband (bringing oil) for France on board. Signed, Forstmann, Lieutenant commander of the German submarine."

The official seal bears the words "Imperial Marine"; his Imperial Majesty's submarine being cut off the stamp.

The Fiery Cross was the most renowned of the China clippers that figured in the tea races of fifty years ago. She was built in 1869 to replace an older Fiery Cross which had been wrecked the previous year, and was commanded on her maiden voyage by Captain Dallas, the greatest of clipper captains. Under him and his successor Captain Richard Robinson, she proved well-nigh invincible, receiving the premium for being the first vessel in the English docks on four different years, and being within twenty-four hours of winning the race on two other occasions.

She remained in the front of big racing boats for more years than any other vessel in marine history, and out-lived all her contemporaries of the famous clipper fleet.

In the greatest tea race of all history, that of 1866, the Fiery Cross held the lead until the last few days, when she was obliged to anchor in the downs and ride out a sudden gale. The Ariel, coming through on a less stormy course, beat a way through the gale and docked a few hours ahead of her rival.

In 1871 the Fiery Cross deserted the tea trade for that of New York, and was afterwards sold to a Norwegian syndicate.

FOOD PROBLEM ON MOUNTAINS EXACTING

Men Need Large Supplies but It Is Difficult to Get Them to the Armies.

Budapest, July 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—A Hungarian officer, describing the fighting on the Tyrolean mountain peaks, a mile above sea level, states that the most difficult problem for the staff is to maintain the supply of food to the troops. On account of the high altitude and the enormous physical strain, they need good supplies and plenty of them.

The officer pays a tribute to the work of the Red Cross, "Our wounded have to be carried down in sheets tied to the ends of sticks, and it takes a dozen men to carry one down," he remarks.

Scout duty is particularly dangerous, except for skilled Alpinists, and many of these never return. Touching on the remarkable echoes thrown back by the mountain peaks, the officer says: "The roar of the guns is heard twice, thrice, or four times, a dozen times, the echo throwing the sounds back and forth, and transforming a single report into a fusillade. Many of our men have been rendered unconscious or even driven mad by the fearful noise of the guns in the rarified atmosphere of these high altitudes."

The same officer in another letter described an attack by the Italians on the positions held by his troops. "It was after 9 o'clock in the evening when the Italian infantry began to climb the mountain and storm the positions. We lay low behind the rocks and poured a fusillade of fire upon them as they came up in three lines. That was easy. But some terrible and trying moments for our troops came after this. The Italians, having been reinforced by another brigade came in such force and with such determination that the hot barrels of our rifles could do no more. A fourth brigade was then seen in reserve trotting up behind."

"They surprised the advanced positions, a whole company fell into their hands, and they came on against the heavy fire of our infantry and artillery in a courageous and unbroken line, and even their most gallant adversary, Major Turdija, remarked: 'Honor and respect to those Italians; they behave beautifully. I would not have expected anything else.'"

"They reached our rocky covers to within a yard. Our machine guns and grenades literally swept them off the slopes, yet more took their places, shouting 'Corraggio!' and 'Evviva!'"

"Again our rifles failed us. They came over the rocks in front, but there was no bayonet work, for our men were retreating to another height, where the reserves were ready to repulse any further advance."

TURKS ISSUE EDICT AGAINST LATIN SIGNS

Require That They Be Erased from Shop Windows and in Business Houses.

Constantinople, July 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The municipal decree that went forth a few days ago that printing in Latin characters on shop windows and signs should disappear, the order has forthwith been obeyed. Constantinople, which used to display in its cosmopolitan character as many foreign signs as native, is now innocent of anything which the foreigner can read. Whatever inconvenience it involves to a large and important element, the result is a great improvement in the looks of the streets of the Ottoman capital. From many a building have been erased, painted over or removed the blatant letters crying the names of wares of the occupants. The streets present a most unobtrusive appearance of neatness and respectability.

No Turkish lettering had ever been so conspicuous to the view as the Latin lettering and Turkish, even when written large, has a picturesque aspect which no western language can claim. The streets of Constantinople have a large population of Armenians, Greeks and Jews, few of whom read Turkish though they speak it.

Most signs and notices are therefore given in at least two of these other necessary languages as well as in Turkish and some western languages. Signs in Armenian, Greek and Hebrew are allowed to stay provided they are not so displayed as to dominate the Turkish letters.

To modify practically all the signs in a capital of over a million inhabitants means a vast amount of scraping, painting out and repainting. It means a whole city at work with ladders, ropes and hooks, letting down great oblong boards embellished with the forbidden characters. Some canny persons have simply tacked a cloth sign over the old, but such boldness is generally backed up with a German or Austrian passport. Allies must count for something—even to the extent that signs in Gothic characters are permissible. But this was an afterthought. The signs of some Germans and Austrians are passing muster in Latin characters, especially if the French words for "Brothers," "Company" or "Society" have been eliminated.

Many shopkeepers have entirely altered their signs but the majority have contented themselves, or rather the powers that be, with removing the offensive Latin lettering. This often results in an amusingly unbalanced appearance to the shop front or to some highly elaborate design in which the Latin letters were an essential part. In other cases it has simply created a swath of blank background, which by elict must be black or red.

Peru, the so-called European section of the Turkish capital, and Galata, the commercial and financial quarter, have been hardest hit, or most transformed, by the new order. Besides the large signs over the entrances of banks, shops and hotels and on the plate glass windows, all the small but expensive shingles of the lawyers, doctors, architects and other professional men, have disappeared. These were often printed only in Latin characters as a medium known to practically everyone who could read and write at all. As yet nothing has taken their place.

ROSSEVELT'S PRO-ALLY STAND PLEASES CANADA

Toronto, July 26.—As a result of Theodore Roosevelt's very outspoken support of the Allies in the present European conflict there has been a rising sentiment in Canada in favor of the former president and his utterances are given great prominence in the press everywhere.

As an expression of the national sentiment an invitation will be extended to him on Aug. 30 to open the big annual exhibition at Toronto, the largest annual fair in the world. If he is unable to come at that time then he will be invited to occupy a place of honor with the royal party, comprising H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, the Duchess and Princess Patricia, in the review of the troops on Military Day, Sept. 2, when thousands of troops now in training for service at the front in various camps throughout Canada will be here for the final review before leaving for "somewhere in France."

There appears to be an impression in some quarters that there is danger in crossing the imaginary line into Canada at the present time. The dominion government has taken steps to dissipate this idea and is co-operating with Washington to bring about free intercourse of the touring population of the two countries.

As a result the tourist traffic in this direction is growing rapidly and the various watering places and summer resorts have more American guests than ever before.

WILL ENCOURAGE GROWING OF FRUITS IN CANAL ZONE

Janama, July 15.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Because of the shortage of fresh fruits and vegetables in the markets of Panama and Colon and the canal zone it has been decided by the Panama authorities to foster a movement for the increased production of these articles of food. The first step in this direction is the construction of a fruit and vegetable warehouse in the vicinity of the native landing place on the waterfront of Panama.

The commissary branch of the Panama canal supply department recently completed a census of the various fruits that come to the markets in Panama and it was found that not nearly enough of these commodities reach the market to supply the demand from the consumers on the canal zone. In consequence large quantities of fresh fruits, for instance, are imported from Jamaica, Barbados and other West Indian islands.

The strength of the local market is seen in the fact that yams which are profitably grown in Panama are never equal to the demand. About eight to ten tons are consequently imported each week from Jamaica. Many other fruits and vegetables are profitably grown in the republic but owing to the lack of marketing facilities and insufficient knowledge regarding a market, the native population does not grow sufficient for the demand.

CIGARETTES NEW MUNITION OF WAR

Washington July 26.—The allies have signed a contract with a large American manufacturing firm for 400,000,000 coffin nails, it is announced on good authority. They are not metal nails to tack up coffins with, however, but are the good old "coffin nails" of the text books on psychology, the same old "coffin nails" dear Aunt Maria warns small Billy about.

The 400,000,000 cigarettes are to be delivered to the allies on or before Sept. 1. The order will keep the New Jersey factory handling it busy night and day, it is stated. In order to get the "smokes" completed on time the factory will have to turn out cigarettes at the rate of 10,000,000 a day, or about 7,000 for every minute of the day, which is "going" some, every man who "rolls his own" will admit.

This news should send a thrill of sympathetic joy through the heart of every cigarette smoker whatever may be his sympathies, martially speaking. Even German-Americans will not begrudge the allies 400,000,000 cigarettes.

If the allies smoke the cigarettes at the rate of manufacture, a cloud of smoke forty feet high should engulf the German empire, statisticians figure out. The aromatic fumes, it is pointed out, not only should soothe the warlike Teutons, but should also do much to counteract the effects of poisonous gases, it is claimed. What great effects may result from the mobilization of 400,000,000 cigarettes none can tell.

ANTI-GERMAN CAMPAIGN IS STARTED IN PARIS.

Paris, July 15.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—A campaign against things German has begun in France with which is combined a scheme for raising money for charitable purposes. Hundreds of thousands of colored posters have made their appearance on the buildings of Paris, in the subway, railway stations and other public places, representing a classic female figure, laurel crowned, a sword in one hand, the other pointing to the facade of Rheims cathedral, which is depicted in flames. At the side of the figure, representing France victorious, are a bee hive and a cog wheel of a piece of machinery, symbolizing the industry and the manufacture of the French. At the top is the one word: "Remember!" At the bottom is printed the legend: "No Germans! Nothing German!"

The same design is reproduced in stamp size for use on letters, though of no value in paying postage.

Both posters and stamps are issued by a charitable organization known as "A Penny for the Workman's Rent" and under the auspices of the General Association of Merchants and Manufacturers of Textile and Textile Materials. The stamps are sold at one cent each, and the funds used to assist needy workwomen, and women who are to become mothers. The anti-German campaign is really incidental to the charity.

SPECIAL RATES FOR FIREMEN'S REUNION

Copper and Iron Country Fighters Will Go to Manistique August 4th.

The South Shore railway has had effective for the firemen's tournament to be held next week in Manistique, a very reasonable rate. Tickets will be on sale Aug. 1, 2, 3 and 4 and will be good for return not later than Aug. 9. The round trip rate for tickets sold on Aug. 1 and 2 will be $4.15, and for those sold Aug. 3 and 4, $3.50.

The Ishpeming, Negaunee and Marquette departments will probably want special cars for their accommodation, and to take care of other Marquette county residents who will attend the tournament. It is likely that a special train will be run. If special train service is not arranged for the firemen will leave here on the regular train at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The delegates to the annual convention Wednesday evening have already been solicited to vote in favor of Houghton, Hancock and Sault Ste. Marie for the 1916 tourney. The contest will be a spirited one, and it is likely that several ballots will be necessary to decide which town will get the meeting.

Wednesday will be devoted principally to the parade, vaudeville attractions, firemen's convention and banquet. The firemen's contests will be held on the two following days.

Under the present plan of conducting firemen's contests, the annual tournaments are much less expensive affairs for cities in which they are held than they were formerly, as it is not now necessary to prepare special tracks for the running races, nor are the prizes offered as expensive as those formerly given. It is thought in the future there will be greater rivalry to secure the tournaments than before. The smaller towns have a better chance to come out even on tournaments than they did under the old plan, when it was necessary to raise from $2,500 to $4,000 in order to meet the expenses.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT.

Mrs. Johanna Carlson, a former well-known resident of Ishpeming died Sunday in L'Esperance. The body will be received here this morning and will be taken to the home of her son, August Lundahl, of the A. W. Myers Mercantile company, on Euclid street. Mr. Lundahl received a message Sunday, informing him of his mother's critical illness, and left for L'Esperance that night. She died some hours before he reached there. She was seventy-nine years of age, and was a pioneer resident of Ishpeming. She left here eighteen years ago for L'Esperance, where she had since made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Conrad Carlson. Besides Mrs. Carlson and her daughter, another son, Walter Carlson, survives. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 from the house and 2 o'clock from the Swedish Lutheran church. Services will be conducted by Rev. Lindquist, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, Negaunee.

OLIVER OFFICIALS HERE.

Several United States Steel and Oliver Iron Mining company officials arrived in the city yesterday morning in the special car, Frontenac. The party was composed of D. V. Kerr, first vice president of the Steel corporation; W. J. Olest, president of the Oliver Iron Mining company; and Pentecost Mitchell, vice president; J. H. Harding, assistant general manager, of the Oliver company; Mettivaly Shires, vice agent of the Steel corporation; and O. C. Davidson, the company's general agent in the Menominee district. They had dinner at Camp Keese in the Escanaba river district, as guests of Captain F. E. Keese. They will leave today for the Menominee range, where they will visit to company's properties.

BUSHMAN TONIGHT.

Francis X. Bushman will be seen at the Ishpeming theatre tonight in an Essanay two-reel feature drama, entitled "Thirty." Mr. Bushman is now the leading star of the Metro Ely company, which is producing features exclusively. He appears to excellent advantage in "Thirty." Other pictures will be a George Ade fable, "A Night Given Over to Revelry," an Essanay comedy and "A Day's Adventure," a Biograph drama. The Creole band, composed of seven excellent musicians, was well received last night. It is the biggest act that has played here in some months, and the performance will be greeted by packed houses tonight and tomorrow night. The act carries special scenery and electrical effects.

CHAUTAUQUA NEXT YEAR.

Ishpeming Committee Signs Contract for Entertainment in 1916.

The Ishpeming business men who backed the chautauqua engagement of the year yesterday signed a contract with the Lincoln chautauqua system for similar entertainments next summer. The names of forty business men as guarantors of the contract are being secured. The members of the committee believe that a chautauqua next year will be better patronized than this year's entertainments, though the attendance last week was as large as anticipated. It is expected that industrial conditions will be much better a year hence. About 450 season tickets were sold this year. The chautauqua closed yesterday with good crowds, both afternoon and evening. The Royal Welsh Ladies choir, presenting musical numbers, gave good satisfaction, and Hon. J. K. Coddling, former warden of Leavenworth penitentiary, gave lectures at both sessions.

"Y" WINS AGAIN.

Ishpeming Nine Defeated Northern State Normal Team, 16 to 5.

The Y. M. C. A. baseball team defeated the Northern State Normal nine Saturday at the Union park by a score of 16 to 5. The game was rather one-sided, the "Y" players showing by far the better form. They made twelve hits, and the Normals but seven. The visitors had six errors and the "Y" team two.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAMS.

Several of the basketball teams recently organized among the children at the public playgrounds are having good workouts. The Central Hustlers and the High street teams played a close game yesterday afternoon at the central playgrounds. It was a tie until the last two minutes of play, when Florence Pierce made a basket, winning for the High streets by a score of 10 to 8. The High street team was coached by Mrs. Fred Clairmont, of Menominee, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Roberts and Mrs. Charles Kirschner and son, Horace, of this city, motored to Gwin.

DEALERS all along the line say their best trade is using the Real Tobacco Chew.

It's a cleaner chew, a better chew and once a man discovers it, the old ordinary tobacco doesn't suit him any more.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.

STRONG BUYING MOVEMENT BOLSTERS UP STOCK MARKET DESPITE UNFAVORABLE NEWS

New York, July 26.—Movements of stocks were unusually large today and speculation, particularly in the war issues, found wide play. The tendency was decidedly upward, but news of the torpedoing of the American steamer Leelanaw gave the market a bad turn in the middle of the session. There were severe breaks in a number of instances and the whole market sold off, but the persistency of the buying movement was shown in a prompt recovery. As details were received concerning the circumstances attending the sinking of the Leelanaw the market recovered from its alarm and buying was resumed with confidence, many shares rising above their earlier high levels. Copper dragged on unsatisfactory trade conditions and consumers were said to be holding off for further price concessions. Railroad shares continued their recent reactionary trend with particular weakness in St. Paul, Union Pacific and the eastern trunk line issues. Several new high records were established, among them Bethlehem Steel at 22 3/4. On the curb, Electric Boat made an early rise of sixty-eight points to a new high mark at 430. It broke to 280 but closed at 370.

BOSTON "COPPERS."

Boston, Mass., July 26.—"The local market was dull and featureless. Copper stocks very little affected by break in New York market on account of the torpedoing of the American freighter by a German submarine. This shows the lack of public interest in the copper. Traders, however, are under the impression that the long looked for copper boom will be launched soon and from the way market acted today it would be well to climb aboard and be ready for the boom. Such copper, as Range, North Butte, Mass., Algonquin and Hancock look best at this writing." Fitzgerald, Hubbard & Co.

Lansing, Mich., July 26.—"The markets were very active today, though at the expense of prices. Early prices were higher, but around 10:30 a. m. news appeared that American freighter Leelanaw had been torpedoed. The market broke badly on this news but when it was reported the crew had been given time to leave the ship, there was a rally. The copper market today, probably the best break in London copper of two pounds and half sterling had quite a little to do with disheartening copper share holders. A buying movement in the metal is due at most any time and when it materializes we should have a sharp advance. The precious metal issues are heavy accounts of lack of demand for the white metal." J. A. Minnear & Co.

FIREMEN TO LEAVE TUESDAY FOR TOURNEY

Party of at Least Twenty Will Go to Manistique—Annual Picnic Sunday.

The members and delegates of the Negaunee fire department who will attend the Upper Peninsula Firemen's tournament at Manistique will leave here over the South Shore railway Tuesday next. The tournament will commence Monday and will continue until the following Saturday. The excursion tickets will be good until Aug. 9. There will be special train service from Shingleton to Manistique over the Lake Superior & Manistique railway.

Tickets will be sold as early as July 31, but the rates on July 31 and Aug. 1 and 2 will be $4.05 for the return trip. The rate on Tuesday will be $3.40. It is expected that twenty or more Negaunee firemen will attend the tournament.

The annual picnic of the firemen, held Sunday at Eagle Mills, was one of the most largely attended events of the kind ever arranged by the department. Nearly every active and honorary member was present. The city officials and supervisors were the guests of the firemen, and took an active part in the day's program.

Al F. Willman and John A. Wasmuth, who have held the quills championship of the department for several years past, were matched with every team on the grounds, but none of the other players were able to wrest their laurels from them. Wasmuth and Willman pitched twelve games, and no other two players were able to get a "horse" on the "clumps." At the conclusion of the championship games, Chief of Police William Newcombe and John W. Goudge, who played under the name of "The Cousin Jack Team" trimmed the champions in an exhibition contest, winning two out of three matches. In the championship series Wasmuth and Willman won ten straight games. Goudge and Newcombe and Maurice Wallace and Jack Larson were tied for second place.

Before and after the big baseball game, the Germans and Allies, contests were staged by several crack teams. Newcombe and Goudge formed the battery of a team which played three pick-up games.

In the game between the Germans and Allies, which ended in a 20 to 8 score in favor of the former, it was necessary to play even men on a team in order to insure fast hitting and a low score. The line-ups of the teams and runs made by each player were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kirkpatrick, of Escanaba, spent yesterday in the city, visiting with C. L. Sporely and family.

Mrs. Fred Thomas has gone to Hingham, Minn., to spend a few weeks visiting with her sister, Mrs. I. J. Lehman.

Mesdames Abel and Phil Levine and Harry Davidson and Miss Ruth Levine visited yesterday with friends at Marquette.

Mary, Martha and Fred Arnett left yesterday for Munising, where they will spend a week visiting with their aunt, Mrs. Dingfelder.

John Ollila returned home yesterday from Three Lakes, where he spent the weekend visiting with his family, who are spending the summer there.

Mrs. John Peterson and son, Jack, have gone to Maryland, Wis., to join Mr. Peterson, who is employed there by the American Express company.

Ed Faull, who spent the past two weeks here visiting with relatives and friends, has returned to Chicago. Mrs. Faull will remain here a few weeks longer.

A cow owned by Joseph Collins, of the Cornishtown location, was found early yesterday morning by residents of the Jackson location caught in the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railway company's bridge near the depot at the head of Snow street. The animal wandered onto the bridge sometime during the night, its legs slipped between the ties and it was unable to extricate itself. One of its legs was broken.

Every day Foley & Co. receive letters from front-line men and women, telling how Foley Kidney Pills cured them of backache, sore muscles, stiff joints and other kidney and bladder troubles. Is very quick to relieve lumbago and rheumatism due to kidney trouble. No other remedy has a longer record of cures. Sold everywhere.

It is estimated that 50 per cent of the 1,200,000 automobiles in use in the United States are owned by farmers and the percentage is increasing each year. It is estimated that 60 per cent of the 1915 output will go to the farming communities.

SUMMER ACHES AND PAINS. A backache that cannot be explained by having "sat in a draft" is more than likely the result of disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills promptly relieve backache, sore or stiff muscles and joints, rheumatism, and sleep disturbing bladder ailments. They put the kidneys in sound, healthy condition. Sold everywhere.

DIED IN ENGLAND. Mrs. Anna Tamblin Passed Away at Brother's Home in Cardiff, Wales.

Word has been received here that Mrs. Anna Tamblin, who, prior to a year ago, had been a resident of Negaunee for thirty-five years, died on June 24 at the home of her brother at Cardiff, Wales. Mrs. Tamblin left Negaunee last June to make her home with her brother. Her health was poor for several months prior to her departure. Mrs. Tamblin, who was about seventy years old, was the widow of the late John Tamblin, who was suffocated with several other miners in the fire at the Hartford mine five years ago. She is survived by several brothers and sisters in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Tamblin came to Negaunee direct from their home in England. He was a well-known miner, having been employed for a number of years as timberman at the Hartford and Cambria. His first position as a miner in Negaunee was at the old McComber mine. He was an active church worker, having been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church during his residence in the city. He often acted as a local preacher and was also a class leader.

HOME FROM EXPOSITION.

Ed Laughlin, past exalted ruler of the Negaunee Elks, has returned from a three weeks' trip to Los Angeles, San Francisco and other California cities. Mr. Laughlin was a delegate from the Negaunee lodge of Elks to the national convention at Los Angeles. In Los Angeles he met a number of former Negaunee residents, among whom were John Shea, Henry Swartz and M. T. Murphy and their families. He spent a day visiting with Ed Wilcox, a former Ishpeming man who is now a corporal of marines aboard the battleship Maryland, which was anchored for a few weeks in the harbor of Long Beach. Mr. Wilcox has been in the navy about a year, previous to which he served for six years in the United States cavalry. Mr. Laughlin was a visitor on the battleship, when he met Mr. Wilcox, who remembered him.

TEAM BATTING AVERAGES.

Valmer Heinenon, manager and second baseman of the Negaunee baseball team, heads the nine in batting, with a percentage of .452. The team average is .229. The averages of the players are as follows:

LOCAL LACONICS.

Joe Aker was a business caller yesterday at Marquette.

Mrs. T. C. Yates visited yesterday with friends at Marquette.

H. E. McCray of Houghton, spent yesterday here, on business.

S. S. Mitchell is repairing his business block on west Iron street.

W. H. Casey, of Detroit, is spending a few days here, visiting with friends.

John T. Burns, city recorder, was a business visitor yesterday at Marquette.

A meeting of the Owls will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 at Williams' hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vincent, son, Thomas, and daughter, Elizabeth, arrived home yesterday from the copper country, where they spent several days visiting with relatives and friends.

Donald Drake has returned from Grand Island, where he spent a few days.

Rev. George Dingfelder has gone to Munising to spend a few days visiting with his mother.

H. W. Jackson will go to Gladstone and Escanaba today, to spend a few days on business.

Thomas and Walter Collins, sons of John Collins, have gone to Alpha, where they will spend the next three weeks visiting with relatives.

Bernard P. Barasa, of Chicago, who is spending the summer with his family at his summer camp at Little Lake, was in the city yesterday for a few hours, on business.

Mining News

CHILE.

The Chile Copper company has made its first commercial copper, and has shipped it direct to Europe. Daily shipments of ore to the mill are running about 4,000 tons, against 10,000 tons, the capacity of the first mill.

COPPER SITUATION.

It now looks as though the belated buying movement in copper might materialize before the end of July, if the inquiries which producers have been receiving the past few days may be regarded as a forerunner, says the Boston News Bureau. Buying is expected to take place at around nineteen cents a pound. An active selling agent says that cables have been coming from Europe in increasing numbers, but they all indicate that the foreigners will try to purchase their supplies as cheaply as possible. There have been offerings of copper below nineteen cents, at which level sales were made within the past few days, by some producers. London dealers have been selling copper lately to France, according to cable advices, and the supply of electrolytic in that market, which has been at extremely low ebb for several months, must soon be replenished. Many domestic consumers are buying their copper requirements on a hand-to-mouth basis, in anticipation of lower prices due to increasing production.

TAMARACK.

Stockholders of Tamarack Mining company are notified in a circular signed by R. L. Agassiz and G. A. Flagg that at the meeting to be held on July 27 the stock of the company owned by Calumet & Hecla, as well as that of the other stockholders who have sent proxies, to Secretary Flagg, will be voted for a board of directors none of whom are directors or officers of the Calumet & Hecla. The new ticket which will be voted, also the present directors which interlock with Calumet & Hecla, are listed as follows: New Board—Philip Dexter, Randolph C. Grew, Frank L. Whitecomb, Robert S. Bradley, Edwin C. Lewis, Ernest B. Dane, William D. Calverley. Present Board—R. L. Agassiz, F. L. Higginson, Frank L. Whitecomb, Quincy A. Shaw, Robert S. Bradley, Edwin C. Lewis, James MacNaughton. According to the circular sent out by Directors R. L. Agassiz and G. A. Flagg it will be seen that Calumet proposes to divorce itself from any direct representation on the Tamarack board, as the names of R. L. Agassiz, F. L. Higginson, Quincy A. Shaw and James MacNaughton do not appear on the new ticket. Whether this is done to avoid legal complications or whether it is disclosed deeper meaning, remains to be disclosed by future developments. According to its last annual report, Calumet & Hecla had 18,400 shares of Tamarack—out of 60,000—in its treasury.

MAY LET PUBLIC USE GYMNASIUM

Board Has Considered Plan of Making Proposed New High School a Social Center for the Benefit of Parents and Persons Not Registered as Students.

Marquette and Menominee Institutions to Make Provision for Similar Future Development—Members Interested in Plans Tried Successfully Elsewhere.

The visit of the Marquette school board to Marinette and Menominee last week strengthened the members in their desire to work out the social center idea when the new high school is built. No definite plans have yet been formulated and the board members are not inclined to discuss details, but it is known that they have considered the plan of making the gymnasium the point around which to swing the social center idea.

Two plans are under consideration and both have been developed successfully in other cities. One is that of having the school open on certain specified evenings each month for exercises, gymnastic exhibitions and games by the students, musical programs, and addresses which can be attended by both parents and students. Parents associations are formed in many places and meetings are held regularly for educational and social purposes. One of the purposes of such an association is to have the parents meet with the teachers and discuss school matters. The public thus comes in closer touch with school matters, many misunderstandings are eliminated, and parents are better able to appreciate what the schools are doing for their children.

Evening Use of Gymnasium.

The plan of building the gymnasium so that it can be used for athletic work at the same time the rest of the high school is being used for educational and social purposes, makes possible its use on any evening by the public. Restrictions must be imposed upon the use of the gymnasium, of course, and it is also probable that fees would be charged as in private gymnasiums or in gymnasiums conducted by the Y. M. C. A. All such arrangements are worked out to fit conditions, however, the important point being that the gymnasium built for the high school is for the benefit of the entire population of the city.

Members of the Marquette board admit that the gymnasium will be built large enough to permit of social center development in the future. The new gymnasium was built with the same purpose in view. It has not yet been opened to the public, however, and the Marquette board is watching developments with interest. The Marinette and Menominee school boards are building gymnasiums into the new buildings for the same purposes and it is not likely that Marquette will fall behind in this new departure in education.

Urge Greater Use of Buildings.

Educators have long agitated a greater use of the public schools. They represent a big investment by the community and yet they are closed during the evenings and yet they are closed during the summer months. The city of Marquette has been opened in many upper peninsula schools. In larger cities in the country the public lecture system has been developed and regular courses may be taken. The public gymnasium idea is a particularly welcome one to Marquette residents. The city presents many difficulties which make the establishment of a Y. M. C. A. with an adequate gymnasium a problem at which organizers have hitherto balked. The Guild Hall with its gymnasium and pool satisfies part of the demand for a public institution. A gymnasium in the new high school would appeal to a greater number and would be used by many who do not desire membership in the Peter White club, under which the Guild Hall is now conducted.

In the opinion of many, it is not entirely necessary to have an institution like the Y. M. C. A. in a city the size of Marquette. The Y. M. C. A. has prospered because it filled needs which the schools and churches failed to provide for. The march of civilization, however, and the demands of the newer civilization were partly filled by the auxiliary institutions. The city of the future is now for greater efficiency in the use of schools and churches. The suggestion that the churches of Marquette be open seven days a week was made Sunday evening by Rev. P. H. Amstutz at the union services at the Baptist church, indicating that the churches are also realizing that social conditions have changed within the last twenty-five or thirty years. Rev. Amstutz also suggested cooperation between the church and the school board but he did not enlarge on this idea.

JITNEY REGULATION DEFERRED.

Commissioners Last Night Confirmed Special Assessment Roll.

An ordinance to regulate the jitneys of the city was discussed at the meeting of the city commissioners last night, but the matter was deferred until a later meeting because the commissioners felt that the jitneys have not yet become a serious nuisance and are not likely to become so in the future.

It was suggested by Mayor F. H. Beagle that jitney drivers who charge prices in excess of those advertised could be arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses. The proposal for an ordinance was made with the idea that each driver be required to hold a license, which license could be taken away from him when he violated any part of the ordinance.

The special assessment roll for the Summit street and Fitch avenue sewer improvement was confirmed. The figures collected by the city clerk during the last week totaled $18,250.

FORTY MAY TAKE TRIP.

Marquette Naval Reserves Hope to go on Annual Cruise.

According to the announcement of the secretary of the navy, the naval reserves will take a fifteen days summer cruise, beginning August 7 and continuing until August 22, with Commandant William A. Moffat of the Great Lake Training station at Chicago designated as squadron commander.

The Yantic, which will participate in the maneuvers, is expected to arrive in Marquette harbor August 8 from Hancock and Traverse City.

If those belonging to the Reserves in this city are favored by their employers with leave of absence, Commander Roy Rydholm expects that forty young men will embark here.

The ships will assemble at Era, Pa., where squadron maneuvers and target practice will take place. Commandant Moffat's flagship will be the gunboat, Isla de Luzon, aboard which will be the Illinois division.

The other vessels which will participate are the gunboats Don Juan of Austria, aboard which will be other Reserves from the Michigan division; the gunboat Essex and the Dorotona, which was formerly a yacht, with first and second battalions, respectively, of the Ohio division; the gunboat Gopher, with the Minnesota division, and the gunboat Wolverine, with the Pennsylvania division.

THEATRICAL

Betty Nansen, the Royal Actress.

The Marquette Opera House will tonight present William Fox's photoplay, "The Celebrated Scandal" in which Betty Nansen, the celebrated Danish tragedienne and Europe's royal actress, is featured. The achievement of William Fox in bringing her to this country marks a new epoch in the production of photoplays. Mrs. Nansen is the star of the Royal Theater in Copenhagen and has been decorated by kings and emperors. She was the friend and inspiration of Henrik Ibsen and the creator of his heroic heroines. Betty Nansen makes her debut before the American public in "The Celebrated Scandal" by Edward Jose, former leading man with Sarah Bernhardt, Wilmoth Merkl, Walter Hitchcock, Stuart Holmes, and a full cast of players of sterling ability. Miss Nansen's role gives full scope to her powers of emotional expression. Of the play itself it has been said that no more powerful lesson on the terrible effects of gossip and "they say" was ever presented.

"David Harum" at Delft.

William H. Crane, the celebrated actor, will appear in his greatest characterization, "David Harum," at the Delft theater today. The play is a five-act feature produced by the Famous Players Film company under the direction of Daniel Frohman. Harold Lockwood, one of the handsomest of movie actors, will take the part of John Lenox.

The story of "David Harum" is well-known and has been played in almost every city in the country. David Harum is the country banker, horse trader, and philosopher, who lives comfortably, if not extravagantly, with his sister Polly, familiarly known as "Aunt Polly" to her host of admirers, in a little rural village of central New York. David has a somewhat brusque and crusty exterior, but his heart is big and sound and sweet. May Allison plays the part of

MARY BLAKE, HAL CLARENDON THAT CHET THOMPSON, AND GUY NICHOLS THE PART OF DEACON PERKINS.

The current event pictures produced by the American Press association will be shown today.

PRISONERS TO CUT WEEDS.

Will Be Used to Improve Wayne County Highways.

Richmond, Ind., July 26.—The elimination of weeds along the public highways is a part of the work of the "road improvement," according to Superintendent Jones, of the Wayne county department of highways, and accordingly he will begin within the next few weeks to cut weeds all over the county.

Prisoners from the county jail will be used in this work, as they have been during the spring in road repair work. The county now has an automobile truck used for the transportation of prisoners to various parts of the county.

The experiment of working prisoners on the roads was undertaken by citizens and now accepted by county officers, the only objection comes from the prisoners themselves, who prefer in most cases to be permitted to spend their time in idleness at the jail.

SWALLOWED A TADPOLE.

Child Dies of Pneumonia After Operation.

Goshen, Ind., July 26.—The eighteen-month-old child of Mrs. Harry Wolf, of Chicago, is dead, following an operation which disclosed conditions that many surgeons had declared to be impossible.

While visiting her parents in Syracuse, Kosciusko county, last summer, Mrs. Wolf permitted the baby to drink hydrant water. Within a short time the infant became sickly and lost flesh. Treatment for indigestion was given, but it did not reach the seat of the trouble. Then an X-ray examination disclosed a black spot on the stomach, and an operation resulted in a frog weighing more than half a pound being taken from the infant.

Doctors who operated said they believed that when the child drank hydrant water at Syracuse a tadpole was taken into the stomach, and that he frog developed and lived on milk, which was given the patient in large quantities. Following the operation the child improved rapidly, and complete recovery was practically assured, when pneumonia developed, causing death.

FARMERS DEPEND ON FORESTS.

Forest Service Says Destruction of Woods Means Loss of Markets.

Washington, July 26.—In regions where timber is the most important resource permanent forests managed with a view to sustained timber production are absolutely essential to the continuance of agriculture, according to an article in the Year Book of the department of agriculture just published. The result of exploiting the timber without thought of the future is the final disappearance of lumbering operations and therefore the withdrawal of an important local market for farm products.

In addition, forest fires often ravage the cut-over lands and thus preclude the development of a new local market by the resumption of lumbering; for after fire there is no chance for a new crop of trees.

From a region where productive timberland has been converted into a barren waste, the farmers usually have to move out. There are parts of the United States in which cultivation of the soil has ended with the cessation of local lumbering, or at least shortly afterward, because with the withdrawal of the woods-workers went the farmers' market for meats, vegetables, hay and grain. There are other regions where the stability of local agriculture is absolutely bound up with forest protection. This is strikingly true in parts of the Appalachian mountains of the East; it is no less true in many of the national forest regions of the West.

A few years ago, continues the article, more than a hundred farmers in a property petitioned against the proposed elimination of their section from the Kootenai national forest. Its elimination they knew, from the history of adjacent land outside the forest, would mean that it would at once be taken up by timber speculators and lumber companies to be held for years without development. They knew also that if this came about neighbors could not be obtained or roads and schools be developed in the county as rapidly as if the land remained under government control, by which the portions really more suitable for agriculture than for forest purposes would in time be entered by permanent settlers under the forest homestead act.

In 1911 an association of Colorado farmers, who irrigated their farms with water from the North Platte river, sent an urgent request to the government to restrict timber cutting on the North Platte watershed, so that, as far as possible, high spring freshets could be prevented and more water made available for irrigation during the summer months. They said that they relied upon the national forest, within which the watershed lay, to ensure a steady flow of water for their crops.

The national forests, says the article, besides being the American farmer's most valuable source of wood, which is the chief building material for rural purposes, are also his most valuable source of water, both for irrigation and domestic use. In the West, they afford him a protected grazing range for his stock; they are the best insurance against flood damage to the fields, his buildings, his bridges, his roads, and the fertility of his soil. The national forests cover the higher portions of the Rocky Mountain ranges, the Cascades, the Pacific coast ranges, and a large part of the forest east and islands of Alaska; some of the hilly regions in Montana and the Dakotas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, and limited areas in Minnesota, Michigan, Florida and Porto Rico. In addition, land is now being purchased for national forests in the White mountains of New England and in the southern Appalachians. In regions so widely scattered agricultural and forest conditions necessarily differ to a great degree, bringing about corresponding differences in the effect of the national forests on the agricultural interests of the various localities. Wherever agriculture can be practiced, however, the farmer is directly benefited by the existence of national forests and by their proper management.

SENATOR WOOD QUILTS RACE FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Lansing, July 26.—One prospective candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general in 1916 has already declared himself out of it. He is state senator James C. Wood, of Manistiquie. During the closing days of the legislature, when booms were flying about at a great rate, the name of Mr. Wood as a candidate for attorney general was frequently mentioned. He never said a word, but his friends said he would be found in the light when the proper time came and would carry with him the entire upper peninsula as a starter.

This week Senator Wood was in Lansing on business and while here met Charles W. Nichols, of this city, who announced himself as a candidate for the nomination some time ago. Wood told Nichols that he was not in the race and would not be. "I am coming back to the senate, if I can," was his announcement.

With Wood not in the race there are rumors, however, of more entries. Since the death of Justice McWay and the practical certainty that Attorney General Fellows will be a sure candidate for the supreme court nomination, and thus entirely eliminated from the attorney-generalship contest, some new names have been heard.

William J. Potter, of Hastings, is said to have announced himself to his own personal friends, while former Senator William J. Smith, of St. Johns, is said to be considering the matter. Smith would, however, have a handicap in the practical certainty of Secretary of State Vaughan, of St. Johns, being renominated. Nichols and Harry L. Chase, of Grand Rapids, are the only avowed candidates at present.

725 WOLVES KILLED IN MICHIGAN LAST YEAR.

Lansing, July 26.—Approximately 725 wolves were killed in Michigan during the fiscal year ending July 1. The number may be a little larger than that because in some northern counties the bounty is higher than in ones farther south. This number is figured from the money spent by the state. During the year the state expended just $8,939.59. Under the law the state reimburses the various counties one-half, although the state will not settle for any bounty higher than $25.

Provided all counties paid the same bounty the total sum spent for the killing would be $18,970. But some counties pay as high as $40 a head, which would increase the total money spent considerably, although it would not fix the state's payment any higher. It is thought here to average about $12.50 a wolf.

THE RICHEST WIDOWS' MITE.

Bethlehem, Pa., July 26.—On an original investment of $90 each by their husbands the sixty-eight widows' members of the Moravian Widows' Aid society today each received a semi-annual dividend of $23, or a total dividend of $44 for the fiscal year.

This is equal to an investment on $1,000 at more than 4 per cent, and the workings of this society have been the wonder of prominent insurance companies for decades. Since the society was formed in 1771 it has paid out in dividends $215,635.

VALVE-IN-HEAD

An Engineering Principle--- Not an Advertising Slogan

Pioneer Builders of Valve-in-Head Motor Cars

The Modern Siege Gun--- Built Like a Buick Valve-in-Head Motor

The Valve-In-Head Principle Refined and Developed

The reason the siege gun will shoot 26 miles is because the firing chamber is so arranged that ALL the force of the powder explosion goes directly against the shell. None of the energy generated by the explosion is wasted.

In the "L" head motor part of the gas explodes in the valve pocket, which means that the piston head does not receive the full force of the blow.

In the "T" head motor there are two side pockets and one-fifth of each explosion is waste. This is the least efficient of all types of motors.

In the famous Buick Valve-in-Head motor all the gas is exploded directly behind the piston, just as all the powder is exploded directly behind the shell in the siege gun.

The trend toward the Valve-in-Head is very rapid, which is only natural now that the motoring public has come to know that this is the best type of motor.

Thirteen years of experience and development finds the present Buick Valve-in-Head motor far advanced over the first one. In the first one the principle was right, but it was not as perfectly applied as we learned later to apply it.

It takes time to learn how to apply any mechanical principle to the best advantage, and in the application of the Valve-in-Head principle the Buick Motor company has a thirteen years' start over other motor manufacturers. What we have already learned, the others will have to learn through experience. Time and service are the real tests of a motor.

All but one of the cars entered in the Indianapolis classic were Valve-in-Head type—which further confirms the correctness of a principle which has been incorporated in every one of the more than two hundred thousand motor cars that have been built in the last thirteen years by the Buick Motor company.
