SLAVS LEAVE PATH OF FLAME.

A letter from Warsaw, dated Tuesday, Aug. 3, received in Petrograd today, says the towns of Jirardoff, Giortzi and Blonie all were in flames when the Germans reached them.

The Russian newspapers today are unanimous in stating that Russia's determination to pursue the war to a victorious end has been strengthened by the enforced evacuation of Warsaw.

"As long as the army is intact we can confidently face the future."

Along the western front the Germans have made a series of attacks, but all of them, according to the French report, were repulsed.

WARSAW PORTS UNDAMAGED.

Berlin, Aug. 6, via London, Aug. 7, 2:05 a. m.—The forts of Warsaw have fallen virtually undamaged into the hands of the Germans.

The general opinion here is that the Russians commenced their retirement in time to escape this inner ring, but they have yet to reckon with the wide outflanking movement from Lomza, which, if successful, would turn the Brest-Litovsk line.

VON BUELOW FORGING AHEAD.

An even more serious menace seemingly is General von Buelow's advance in the Baltic provinces.

Some disappointment is expressed among the German people at the failure of the Teutonic forces to make an imposing capture of prisoners and guns in Warsaw, but military experts here do not share this feeling.

POLES ARE LOYAL TO CZAR.

London, Aug. 7, 12:33 a. m.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company from Petrograd says:

"At a meeting of the council of the empire today the fall of Warsaw evoked expressions of condolence from various Harlingen, Tex., Aug. 6.—Three men, one of whom was said by officers to be a brother of one of the raiders who killed the two Austins at Sebastian today, were taken into custody here tonight.

Brownsville, Tex., Aug. 6.—United States cavalrymen, Texas Rangers and posses of citizens tonight were continuing the search for a band of a dozen Mexican ranch-raiders, who today, after several weeks' outlawry, raided the small town of Sebastian, thirty-seven miles north of Brownsville, and killed Al Austin, president of the Sebastian Law & Order league, and his son Charles.

Adjutant General Henry Hutchins, of Texas, visited Sebastian this afternoon and personally investigated conditions there, and will, it was said here tonight, recommend to Governor Ferguson that a sufficient force of the Texas National Guard be sent to Cameron county to afford protection against the outlaws.

CLUE FINALLY OBTAINED?

Officers of Cameron county, after five weeks' constant work, said tonight they had found a clue to the identity of some of the raiders. No official announcement was made of the proceedings today and the participants declined to discuss details of their deliberations.

New York, Aug. 6.—General Benjamin F. Tracy, who was president Harrison's secretary of the navy, died of paralysis here today, in his eighty-fifth year, after a period of unconsciousness lasting nine days.

General Tracy, lawyer, soldier, jurist and statesman, stood prominently in the public eye for more than sixty years. At the age of eighty-three, he argued a case before the supreme court of New York with brilliance undimmed by years.

"At that time," said General Tracy, "the cruiser Baltimore was the largest and strongest ship we had, and she was only a protected cruiser. I saw the necessity of building ships which could fight if they had to."

General Tracy led a versatile and brilliant career. Born in Oswego, N. Y., in 1830, he was a play and schoolmate of Senator Thomas Platt. He was admitted to the bar at the age of twenty-one.

During the movement to take the office of the port the Americans opened fire on the Haitians and one Haitian was killed.

PUT NONE BUT AMERICANS ON GUARD.

SOUNDLY AMERICAN.

The note addressed to the Austrian government on the subject of sales of munitions of war is equally intended for the information of Germany and Turkey and for German and Austrian-Americans who may still be possessed of the idea that agitation of this subject may lead to the placing of an embargo on this trade.

The note lays particular stress on the obvious fact that it would be a flagrant, unneutral act for this government to deny the right of any nation to buy freely of munitions in the American market. This right is enjoyed today by the central empires equally with the allies.

But even if it were possible for this country to place an embargo on this trade without becoming an ally of Germany and Austria and thus taking an unneutral and hostile course with reference to the allies, it would still be inexpedient for it to do so.

Germany is able today abundantly to supply her armies only because the great Krupp plants have commercialized the business of war supplies as it has never been commercialized in the world before.

It may freely be granted that this traffic is ugly business, and that the sooner it can be got rid of the better the world will be off.

Speaking of Notes. The conference of American diplomats in the sad case of Mexico has decided that presently, within a few days, there will go out to the Mexican leaders another demand, or request, if you please, that they strike a truce and seek a basis of understanding that will permit them to support a real government.

The note, it is explained, will be meant particularly for the consumption of Carranza. And this for the reason that if this worthy were to see the light and heed its admonitions it might be possible to unite the Mexican factions in support of a government to which the countries particularly interested could give their moral support.

more material success in the field than the other Mexican chieftains, a fact that, for the moment at least, gives him an importance entirely out of keeping with his native ability and worth.

Unfortunately there is nothing that Carranza has done and nothing that is known about him to suggest that the proposed overtures will receive from him a cordial reception.

Probably President Wilson has pretty definitely in mind what course the administration will follow in the event that the peace proposals fail, but he is keeping a discreet silence about his plan of action.

A letter from Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo is cited as indicating that President Wilson will renew his efforts to secure the passage of a government ship ownership bill.

The employees of the DuPont company have been given an eight-hour day, whereas previously they worked ten. That is something they will keep for themselves, after the last war order has been filled.

ness of the Russians' evacuation. Machinery was taken out of the plants, loaded on cars and shipped into the interior. Such of it as could be moved readily was destroyed.

The Escanaba Water company wants a little matter of $400,000 for its plant. It is the cost of replacement, the owners say, plus 5 per cent interest.

The United Press correspondent in Berlin writes that in official German circles it is held that the allies are at the end of their string, and that there would be no surprise in Germany if the war "cracked" before winter.

Dr. Bohn, of Newberry, is said to have his eye on the senatorial seat for the Thirty-first district.

EDITORIAL OPINION

Attacked for the Truth. This week the newspapers of the United States which are published in English were denounced in resolutions adopted by a convention of more or less professional German-Americans held in San Francisco.

The hyphenated accusers of the newspapers have undertaken a hopeless crusade for the country which they still cherish, naturally enough, as their native land or the land of their parents.

The hyphenated accusers of the newspapers have undertaken a hopeless crusade for the country which they still cherish, naturally enough, as their native land or the land of their parents.

Not all German-Americans, of course, are of this class of slanderers of American newspapers. Many of them want only the truth and are content with justice.

This class does not ask fair play but partiality. It demands not truth but falsehood, not equity but active support for the German cause.

LOWER STATE NOTES

MT. CLEMENS—Many of the smaller vessels now sailing the great lakes were built under the direction of Calhoun Tucker, who died Tuesday night from heart trouble, at the age of 83.

OWOSSO—The 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lewis died shortly after swallowing a quantity of carbolic acid, which his mother had been using on another child. The mother discovered that the child had drunk the acid a few minutes later and rushed it to a physician's office in an automobile, but it died in her arms on the way.

GRAND RAPIDS—When John Tallmadge, 70, of Detroit, married Anna Sayer, 65, of Grand Rapids, a romance of Civil War times reached a happy climax. Before the war broke out they were sweethearts, but a slight difference arose and he enlisted. Later his bride of twenty married another. Tallmadge remained single until his first sweetheart was free. They will reside at the Michigan Soldiers' Home.

LANSING—Mrs. Alford Miller, who had her husband arrested on a charge of assault and battery, attributed the marital troubles of the Millers to an automobile. "We were happy till the automobile came," Mrs. Miller told the judge, but now he entertains other notions and forgets me." The judge released Miller on probation with this advice: "If your automobile interferes with the happiness of your married life, then give up your automobile."

LANSING—Close friends of Lieutenant Governor L. D. Dickinson told here that the Charlotte man had made up his mind to stay in the race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, despite the efforts of Dickema and other followers to get him to withdraw his name from an unopposed renomination for the place he now holds, talk about the capitol still confines itself to those whose names have already been mentioned, although the name of Edwin Denby, of Detroit, former congressman, has of late been drawn into the discussion. Senator Charles W. Foster, of this city, is an "original Denby" man. When a poll of the senate was taken during the session, Foster voted for Denby.

DETROIT—Naval militia from the states bordering the Great Lakes will hold their annual summer camp, starting next Saturday at Lake Erie, Pa. The Detroit and Saginaw divisions will embark at midnight on the Don Juan de Austria, the brigades training ship, and will return to Erie, Pa., on Saturday, August 14. At the same time, brigades from the upper peninsula of Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York will man their various training ships and head for the rendezvous. The cruise will last two weeks and will be filled with naval maneuvers. It will be under the direction of Commander William W. Moffett, U. S. N., of Illinois, who has been chosen squadron commander. Under his direction the fleet will maneuver off Erie.

ALMA—At a meeting of the Alma College board of trustees, the board unanimously voted to elect Henry M. Crooks, president of Albany, Ore., college, to the presidency of Alma college to succeed Dr. Thomas C. Blaisdell, resigned. The latter will accept the deanship of the school of liberal arts at Pennsylvania State university. Mr. Crooks has been at Albany college almost since its creation, and has made a fine record. The board has high hopes that Crooks will accept the presidency and will come to Alma in the autumn. The board expects to know within ten days. The professorship of German was offered to Dr. Luther Bober, professor of German and French at King's college, Nova Scotia. The professorship of English was offered to O. W. Hughes, professor of English in the Erie, Pa., high school. Professor Hughes has been at Kentucky Wesleyan and at Miami university.

LANSING—Reports received from counties of the central and southern parts of the state indicate that the rainy weather of the past two weeks has caused heavy damage to crops, especially wheat, and the crop estimate for the year will be reduced in several instances, officials of the secretary of state's office say. In some counties the expected wheat yields will be cut by 50 per cent, say officials. In most of the hay-growing section of the central and southern counties, the first crop has about been ruined by the continued rains, but indications for a second crop are good if the wet weather does not continue. Although the average precipitation for the growing season was below normal to and including July, it is believed the excessive rainfall of the past few days will show a total far in excess of normal for the season. The wet weather has caused

"How about that Jones bill? I suppose you collected that. You said that Mr. Jones was a friend of yours." "Well, sir," said the clerk, "I don't know whether to rejoice or not at my success with Mr. Jones." "That depends. When I went in and

WILL DISCUSS ROADS OF BARAGA COUNTY

State Highway Commissioner, Businessmen and Engineers to Meet Today at L'Anse.

The Houghton county road commission, F. J. McLean, chairman, Theodore Duglar and E. S. Grierson, will attend a meeting this afternoon at L'Anse, called by State Highway Commissioner Rogers for the purpose of discussing road conditions in Baraga County.

Chairman McLean said yesterday he considers this meeting one of utmost importance, as it may result in filling in the missing link in the upper peninsula's undoubtedly superior system of roads, at least insofar as the western end of the upper peninsula is concerned.

Mr. McLean urged upon a number of influential businessmen their duty to attend the meeting and it is not unlikely that Houghton county will have a large representation, particularly because the state commissioner spent yesterday in the county looking over roads and conferring with numerous interested people.

Mr. Rogers arrived in Houghton yesterday morning and he spent the day so busily that it was impossible to interview him. But his views on the importance of this meeting are known through a letter written by him and printed in this paper recently.

It is understood that the commissioners of Iron and Marquette counties will be present at the meeting also, these counties having an immediate interest in the matter.

Should Be Illuminating

This meeting should have at least one good effect. It will give some of the good roads protagonists a better knowledge of the geography of Baraga County. The reference to the road in that county at the natural junction of the trunk line with Marquette county's road always has been somewhat disparaging to Covington township, Baraga county. Later in the afternoon a letter about this Covington township may not be to blame wholly. Marquette county or some other township of Baraga county may have to share the onus of maintaining, or rather failing to maintain, the most abused road in the upper peninsula.

Importance Is Recognized

That the meeting is looked upon as an important one is shown by the fact that the Iron Mountain Press:

POLICE COURT MATTERS.

Mike Snider's Eye, Mrs. Messner's Window and a Holdup.

Mike Snider resigned Thursday afternoon from the service of the Superior Mining company, intending to go to Chicago. He paused at Mrs. Messner's saloon in Dodgeville for the purpose of drinking a few stinging cups and some French, which he became intoxicated. His condition manifested itself in a truculence that caused him to begin a general attack on the allied habits of the place and he was incontinently thrown out on his head. This angered Mike Messer and he had a left eye that he put naturally through his fist through the front window of the saloon.

Passing through the window the fist became considerably lacerated and by the time Deputy Sheriff Dick James drove into sight the saloon was a shambles. Mike Messer placed looked like a shambles. Mike objected to arrest but that didn't get him anywhere. He objected to having his wounds attended to in the sheriff's office, and that did get him something. But yesterday morning Mike was chastened and he had a left eye that he put naturally through his fist through the front window of the saloon.

William Kekko, Manu Lehto and Leonard Saari were arrested at Atlantic Thursday evening by Undersheriff Heikkila on a charge of larceny from the person. Frank Martin, of Atlantic, was the complaining witness. Martin alleges that he met the trio at Johnny Granroth's saloon at Halfway and that they invited him to take a walk. After a short walk they offered him a drink and while he was accepting this hospitality, he says, he was knocked down and his clothes rifled to the extent of $50. The three men were taken before Justice Little yesterday afternoon and a time set for their examination.

RENEW TEMPERANCE ACTIVITY.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union has not been a particularly active organization in the copper country for many years. A branch has been maintained at Calumet but it has not been heard from for a very long time, until this week in fact. Mrs. W. W. French, of Hillsdale, arrived in Calumet this week, as a state lecturer for the order, and she has delivered numerous addresses, at the churches and the Y. M. C. A. Mrs. French intends to visit Baraga county on her present tour.

ONIGAMING CLUB RECEPTION.

At the Onigaming Yacht club this afternoon the reception will be in charge of Moses W. R. Thompson, chairman; R. M. Edwards, D. A. Stratton, F. W. Nichols, F. W. McNair, James MacNaughton and C. J. Morrison.

HIBERNIANS TO HONOR DANIEL O'CONNELL

Two-Day Celebration at Hancock Will Be Ziggist Irish of District Ever Attempted.

In honor of Daniel O'Connell copper country Hibernians will this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon, conduct the biggest two-day celebration in Hancock the Irish of the district have ever attempted, and indications point to the total attendance running into the thousands.

Today's festivities will open with a parade from the Mineral Range depot to the Driving park where the programs are to be given. At the park the Ladies' auxiliary to the Hancock division of the order will serve refreshments.

Tomorrow afternoon the baseball tournament will take place with six teams entered. This exhibition promises to bring to the park the largest crowd that ever attended a baseball tournament in the city. There will be no delays between games. The tourney will bring into competition many diamond stars of the early days.

Officials Are Selected.

For the track events Frank C. Condon will be official starter and the timekeepers will be Charles A. Waara and Frank C. Mayworm. Two of the three judges have been chosen, Charles Rogers, of Hancock, James Jewell, of Hubble, and the third will be a Calumet man.

The double umpire system will be used in the baseball tournament. At least a dozen entries are expected for the 100-yard dash this afternoon. The race is free-for-all. Three of the best known sprinters in the district have been preparing for this event. The other contestants will be open to members of the order only. The athletic program and prizes follow:

Shot put—A. O. H. emblem. Throwing baseball—League ball. Running broad jump—Briar root pipe. High jump—Jersey sweater. Football game—Team winning will be given free supper.

100-yard dash: Open to the world. Prizes of $10 and $5 for first and second places.

Hop, step and jump—Pair of running shoes. Tug-of-war—Free supper to winning team.

Relay race for juveniles—O'Connell cup. 100-yard dash for girls—Five-pound box of candy.

Relay flag race for senior divisions—O'Connell cup. 100-yard dash for juveniles—Running suit.

Hurdle race—Box of cigars. Half-mile race for juveniles—Pair of running shoes. 100-yard dash for men over fifty years.

of age—A. O. H. watch charm. Half-mile race for men—Silk umbrella. Every division in the county will enter the football contest and tug-of-war.

SEEKING FARM LABORERS.

Dakota and Minnesota Will Find Few Harvest Hands in Copper Country.

The Houghton office of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway yesterday received from the Soo line a circular announcing that the harvest has opened in Minnesota and the Dakotas and that there is a big demand for harvest hands. Roughly, these two states can use for the ensuing sixty days seven thousand laborers in the wheat fields. The Soo line disclaims responsibility but it sends out an estimate of the men required, the wages to be paid and the duration of the job in some sixty farm centers. The wages are given at from $2.50 to $4 a day and the duration sixty days.

Because of the announcement of this opportunity an attempt was made yesterday, through a not particularly searching inquiry, to learn if there is any considerable number of unemployed in the copper country. The result would appear to indicate that there is not, that while there is not such a demand for labor as would justify any considerable influx to the district any man who wants work here can have it.

A large employer of labor, not in the mining industry, said yesterday that he has had a difficulty in securing not alone carpenters and masons but even common laborers. The latter are getting $2.25 a day for nine hours work and there is no excess of labor over demand. In the skilled trades conditions in the last two or three years have had the effect of sending men out of the district so that now there is no surplus if indeed there are men enough to supply the demand.

In any event there will be few if any for the harvest fields and that this is true throughout the upper peninsula is shown by the fact that the South Shore is not offering special rates for that business.

SIFTS U. P. LIGHT RATES.

State Board Hears Houghton Company Favors C. & H. Employees.

The railroad commission has ordered an appraisal of the Houghton County Electric Light company, which furnishes the greater portion of the electric light used in the copper country district to obtain a basis for rates to be charged.

For months complaints have been received that the company was discriminating against the average citizen, in favor of the employe of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company. A hearing to have been held on Aug. 16 has been postponed.

The appraisal will consist of an appraisal made four years ago being brought up to date by Boston experts which will likely be submitted to Deans Conoley.

The complaint upon which the commission is acting is made by the common council of Lake Linden, which charges that the company furnishes electricity to citizens for 12 cents, while employes of the C. & H. get it for 8 cents. The company's explanation is that the C. & H. owns its own poles and practically serves its employes itself.

A St. Paul factory makes 2,000 motor-cycles yearly.

LOCATING A BALL PARK.

J. J. Michels of Houghton Suggests a Site that Has Numerous Advantages.

This article really ought to be headed: "Chasing a Baseball Park" or "Getting an Automobile Ride from John Michels."

Mr. Michels takes an interest in baseball, he likes the national recreation and latterly he has seen some newspaper comment regarding the possibility of baseball in Houghton. The articles in question were a misreading series that might have been entitled "The Shame of the Copper Country" had Link Steffens written them. They were intended to voice the woe of the copper country baseball fan, who must get his baseball over a wire, which is about as exciting as smoking a cigaret through a toothpick.

John Michels, as has been said, had his attention attracted to the matter, and he went to County Clerk "Nick" Kaiser, mentor and dean of the baseball profession in the copper country, and said:

"I know where there is a good site for a baseball park."

"Also" asked Nick. "You bet I do."

"Alright, I know a fellow that will take care of it."

That's how it happened that a reporter happened yesterday morning to be Mr. Michels' guest in an automobile driven over Sweetwater hill and through the bosky delts that lie south of Houghton. And just this side of the Isle Royale mine, through maple bordered roads, over a hill that commands an entrancing view of Portage lake and the towering green of Quinby.

The location at which the expedition finally arrived is what is known as the old Webster. This is at or near the location of the old Webster mine, the shaft of which still is open at the roadside. This mine has not been worked for some thirty-five years, so that any clearing that may have been done by the company has been overgrown. It is mentioned only for the purpose of locating this ball park anyway.

The route taken by the car was up Garret street and over Sweetwater hill. A matter of a dozen blocks or so from the Diamond street car line, Mr. Michels called attention to a magnificent grove of maples. The clearing that he considers the ideal ball park for Houghton lies just beyond this. His idea was that this grove and clearing might be taken over by a baseball company and exploited for both baseball and picnics, the grove being ideal for the latter recreation. With some little attention to the roads, the park would not be too distant for reaching on foot. It also is contiguous to the Isle Royale and not very far from Houghton Copper, Dodgeville and Superior, all good baseball towns.

And here is a delicate point—the Houghton County Traction company some years ago made a survey of a line to run around East Houghton and thence south and west to the south range towns. This line would pass through this property and leave all the space necessary for a ball park.

It has been intimated that the Isle Royale management is not averse to providing sport or recreation for its employes.

There are a few Houghton businessmen who are not exactly enemies of baseball.

With Houghton provided with a baseball park a league is possible. To make the improvements necessary to make this site a good ball park, including fence and grandstand, would require about $1,000.

Upper Peninsula

What South Shore Boys Did.

The South Shore officials, and especially the local management and employes, are entitled to great praise for their efforts to make the chauntiqua a success. J. L. Labreche worked untiringly for the success of the entertainment, and it was through his efforts that the grounds belonging to the railroad company were secured free of all charges. Not only this, but the crews of the freight trains and the switching crews used good judgment and care in the running of their trains in the yard during the hours of the entertainment, so much so that there was no perceptible disturbances. Many remarked on this feature and the trainmen all came in for no little praise for their discretion in this direction. The railroad boys were among the most enthusiastic supporters of the chauntiqua and there was not one on the job but was provided with a season ticket. The people of St. Ignace appreciate the kindness of the South Shore, from the head officials down.

Much Work—Little Money.

The Mackinac county road commission will have a busy time in the neighborhood of $45,000. This amount is drawn in small orders in duplicate and a duplicate record of all of the proceedings of the commissioners has to be kept. This entails a large amount of work, in fact the work in connection with the office of the board of road commissioners is nearly enough to keep a man fairly busy. By virtue of his office the county clerk is appointed clerk of the board of road commissioners and receives for his duties in connection therewith the primary sum of $200 a year. The fault lies in the legislature, which made no provision for clerk hire in passing the county road law. In some counties it is claimed that the board has no right to allow the county clerk extra compensation but all counties make provisions for payments, either large or small. In Mackinac county, during the present year at least, County Clerk Rapin will receive but a small amount for the services rendered unless the supervisors at their October session see fit to increase his allowance.

Valuing the C. & N. W.

A crew of eleven engineers is in Iron Mountain for the purpose of making an estimate of the physical valuation of all the Chicago & Northwestern real and personal property in that city and vicinity. The survey will be a most detailed one and will include all buildings, main, side and spur tracks, crossing plants, cement and plank sidings, depot platforms, and all other things. Even the locks on the doors of various buildings are not neglected. The purpose is to learn the present value of all the property and what it would cost to replace the same. It is explained that most of the original records of the Northwestern road were destroyed by fire in 1871, so that the inventory is rendered much more difficult than if the old data was available. Mr. Wells and his assistants expect to be employed in Iron Mountain for two weeks and on the range for several months. The engineers make their headquarters in a building several years old in East Fleishman street. One car contains the office and dining-room and the second is used as a sleeper. F. K. Brewster and another crew of engineers employed in similar work are now engaged at Escanaba and will work north from that city. The engineers spent several years in Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin before coming to the Peninsula division.

Water Plant Purchase Project.

Concerning the project of the city of Escanaba purchasing the water plant, the Escanaba Journal says: "The company has made a mighty poor start in fixing the price at something over $401,000. They might as well talk of that many millions, so far as any present offer of the project is concerned. If, as President Weissenhuth states, the 'replacement value, plus 5 per cent,' amounts to the price he names, it will be a useless expenditure of time and money to have engineers make an appraisal of the project. The city needs, and if it were adequate for future demands, the 'replacement value' price might be attractive to the city. But if the city were to build a new water system there is a large portion of the present plant that never would be replaced. If the city gets down to the business of dealing with the North Michigan Water company—and it is there—the dealing should be done on the basis of the value of the system with reference to the future of the city, and also with reference to what the system has cost its present owners. In the negotiations to purchase the water system the city is now very much in the position of the fellow who locks his barn after the horse is stolen—not that we mean to be understood as saying that the present owners have not acquired title honorably and honestly. What we do mean to say is that the City of Escanaba let the golden opportunity pass to purchase the water system at a right price at the time it was sold at receiver's sale a little more than two years ago. The present owners at that time purchased the system for the sum of only $70,000. They had, at the time, an equity of about $30,000 in the system, and since then they have spent about $60,000 in improvements. Thus it will be seen that the system has cost the present owners only about $160,000. According to these figures they will be able to make a substantial reduction in the 'replacement value, plus 5 per cent,' and still make a handsome profit on their investment. The city is under no legal obligations to purchase the present water system and the electors never will authorize its purchase unless it be at a figure which will approximate its actual value to the city. And in arriving at that value the question of 'replacement, plus five per cent' might just as well be forgotten by the present owners of the system.

CLAIM THEY HAVE FOUND THE IDEAL ANTISEPTIC

Paris, Aug. 5.—Dr. Alexis Carrel, of the Rockefeller institute of medical research, and Dr. Henry D. Dakin, of the Lister institute, have declared they have discovered what they claim to be the ideal antiseptic. The most powerful antiseptic known to science is hypochlorite of lime, but its use is injurious to the tissues owing to its acidity, and it does not keep.

Dr. Dakin and Carrel have found these two defects are remedied respectively by the addition of carbonate of lime and boric acid.

4.46 Inches of Rain—Marquette has this week experienced a rainfall greater than that of any week during previous Augusts. The total precipitation has been 4.46 inches. In comparing the rainfall with storms of former years, it is interesting to remember June 23, 1907, when 3.54 inches fell in one hour. The weather bureau records say that sheets of water from two to four inches in depth washed down the hills, carrying away large portions of the road, causing washouts on the D., S. S. & A. and the L. S. & I. railroads, and suspending all traffic. One of the washouts was fifty or sixty feet wide. Wet-stone creek formed a new and deeper channel two hundred feet south of the old one.

SERVICE CLUBS AND THE WAR.

It might have been supposed by the layman that for this of all years the service clubs would have kept their door open in the "cleaning" season.

But closing rules are as the laws of the Medes and Persians, and the "In and Out" will close its doors for the week of August, dividing its members between the Army and Navy, in Fall Mail, and the Junior United service, in Charles street.—London Standard.

"ANNA KARINENA"
Count Leo Tolstoi's Drama of a Woman Who Dared
A Five-Part Production of the Fox Film Corporation

Count Leo Tolstoi wrote many famous books, but of them all his favorite was Anna Karenina. He frequently declared that he had put the work of ten years into this wonderful novel, which enjoys a world-wide fame. Betty Nansen, the famed tragedienne, in the title role, and the standard of excellence of the William Fox productions even surpassed that actually outdoes anything yet seen upon the screen.

"I have done the best I could do in this book. It is my life-blood and my masterpiece. I can never equal it. As I penned it, flames leaped before me. I saw Anna and her cruel crucifixion upon the cross of man-made law, and I wrote at white-heat. Whatever Anna Karenina may be, she is at least true. She is real. A type of woman who must suffer everlastingly for her nature; for which, after all, she was not to blame. And this is Anna—a woman who suffered grievously through many vicissitudes; but in the end yielded to inevitable fate. It may be sombre but it is at least life, real, raw life, and not pretty sentimentalities sweetened with perfume and sugar water."

YANTIC WILL HAVE 150 MEN ON BOARD

Itinerary for Annual Cruise and Maneuvers of Naval Reserves Issued.

The number of members of the naval reserve who will be taken by the Yantic training ship on the annual cruise today is 150, seventy-five less than last year, the decrease being due to the absence of the Ashland division which will not attend. Marquette's reserves will leave

Sunday morning and will board the Yantic at St. Ignace. One topic for discussion among the officers will be the question of forming another division of the Second battalion in the upper peninsula. Calumet made a strong bid for the berth some time ago but was unsuccessful. It is said Menominee may be successful if it makes a petition for the division. The ship's officers during the cruise were announced as follows: Commander—Grant T. Stephenson, Milwaukee. Executive officer—Paul J. Ruppe, Hancock. Chief engineer—James Sullivan, Hancock. Surgeon—Dr. George Rees, Calumet. Paymaster—Henry L. Baer, Hancock. Navigating officer—Lieutenant Henry Vanderwerp, Traverse City. Assistant surgeon—Dr. Wilhelm, Traverse City. Itinerary Announced. The following is the itinerary as issued in the orders for the cruise: Aug. 7—All organizations embark at their home ports. Aug. 7-11—At sea, en route to Erie, Pa. Aug. 11—Rendezvous at Erie (all vessels should arrive not later than noon). Anchor in berths designated. Official calls, visits of ceremony, etc. Aug. 12—Under way in Lake Erie, drills, maneuvers. In late afternoon of Aug. 13 squadron anchor on target range at Erie. Aug. 14—At anchor, target range. Landing party in forenoon. Under way 1 p. m. for afternoon maneuvers. Late afternoon proceed Erie and anchor in the harbor. Aug. 15—Under way, 8 a. m.; proceed target range. Aug. 15-16—Target practice. Aug. 16—Late afternoon, anchor Erie harbor. Aug. 17—At anchor, Erie. Boat races, etc. Liberty. Aug. 18—Under way for home ports. Aug. 18-22—At sea, en route home ports, carrying out drills and stopping at such ports for liberty as may be desired. Aug. 22—Arrive home ports, all organizations disembark.

INCREASE IN ORE SHIPMENTS NOTED

Only 6 per Cent. of Lake Output Passes Through Marquette Docks.

A comparison of the ore shipments made from the upper lake ports shows that the contribution of Marquette's docks to the blast furnaces of the United States is a mere dribble. Although the shipments up to August 1 this year are much greater than those made during the same period last year, it is hardly 6 per cent. of the entire lake output. The ore from the Duluth district was 71 per cent of the whole during July and 73 per cent for the season. During the season, Escanaba and Ashland each contributed about 10 per cent. of the lake shipments. A gratifying increase in ore shipments has this year been noted all through the lake region. In 1914 the shipments for July were 5,784,514 tons and this year they were 7,204,020 tons, an increase of 1,419,506. The shipments to Aug. 1 were 18,725,304 tons, an increase of 3,316,674 over 1914. Following are the shipments made to Aug. 1 this year:

Port.	Tons.
Escanaba, C. N. & W.	1,275,894
Escanaba, C. M. & St. P.	786,854
Marquette, D. S. S. & A.	407,536
Marquette, L. S. & I.	706,824
Ashland, C. & N. W.	1,467,364
Ashland, Soo Line	402,774
Superior, C. Northern	351,880
Superior, Soo Line	25,344
Duluth	6,710,400
Two Harbors	3,903,704
May Reach	42,000,000.

The fleet moved 1,200,000 tons more ore in July than in June. Shipments were 7,204,020 tons, an increase of 1,419,506 tons or about 24 per cent over July 1914. The movement to August 1 was 18,725,304 tons, a gain of 3,316,674 tons or about 21 per cent. compared with the similar period last year. Shipments to August 1 show a loss of 5,044,153 tons compared with August 1, 1914. The total movement for the later year was 49,070,478 tons. The general opinion is that the total for this season will reach 42,000,000 tons and that will mean a movement of about 24,000,000 tons during the rest of the season. A fair buying movement during the next month would make the total more than 42,000,000 tons.

Want More Pay.

Demanding a ten per cent. raise in their wages, the 170 employees of the flooring mill of the Wisconsin Lumber and Lumber Co. lumber mills at Hermansville have walked out. The mill operated as usual Monday morning, but Monday afternoon not one of the men in the mill showed up for work and it has been closed, as a result, since that time. The 170 men who are out declare that they will not return to their work until they have received a 10 per cent. raise over their present scale. The wage paid the men when they laid down their tools and walked out ranged from $1.40 to 2.50 per day. A meeting has been arranged between the officials of the company and the employees and some agreement is expected to be reached. A peculiar coincidence in connection with the Hermansville flooring mill strike is that it occurred on the same day, but four hours after the strike in the same department of the lumber mills at Wells. At Wells the men have not yet returned to work.

Tenders Resignation.

Rev. William Roberts, for the past four or five years pastor of the Presbyterian church at Iron Mountain has tendered his resignation to the board of trustees and the same will be considered at a congregational meeting Sunday. If the decision is favorable, the church and pastoral relations will be severed at a special session of the Lake Superior Presbytery at which time the retirement of Rev. M. Allen, of Ishpeming, will also be considered. It is understood that Mr. Roberts is desirous of retiring about the first of September and he has accepted a call from the congregation at Tawas City, a village in Isocoo county, on the shore of Saginaw bay, with that understanding. Mr. Roberts gives as his reason for resigning the poor health of Mrs. Roberts in this climate and "the high cost of living." The Tawas City church has been inactive for several

Theatrical

William Fox Feature.

Betty Nansen will again be seen at the Marquette Opera House today in another Fox feature picture, "Anna Karenina," which is Count Tolstoi's masterpiece. Betty Nansen's acting in this play is wonderful. She says of the masterpiece that "it is a tremendous sermon on the irredeemable fixity of the moral code and the fearful fate of those who seek to defy it."

"Anna Karenina" is famous to students of feminine psychology the world over. Until Count Leo Tolstoi created this wonderful character there has never been such a revelation of the complex workings of a modern woman's soul. Anna Karenina ranks far in advance of Ibsen's Nora or Heda Gabler, as an exotic heroine of the ultra modern type. She has been the text for countless essays, sermons and speeches and controversy has raged hotly about the story of the "woman who dared."

In some quarters Anna has been held up as the prototype of the misunderstood woman, in others she has been hotly assailed as a modern Magdalen. At any rate, whatever angle her character is viewed from, it is one full of such strange complexities that it must give the lightest of thinkers pause for deep consideration. Certainly it is not a character to be dismissed lightly.

Prize Play at Delft.

"The Plum Tree" in three parts will be the feature film at the Delft theater today. It is one of the prize mystery plays of the Ladies' Home Journal and features Francis X. Bushman. The story is full of plots framed by a banker and the hero is involved in them. A train hold up, a Mexican revolution, a battle, a confession, and a reunion of love are the high lights of the picture.

Elsie Janis Tuesday.

"The Caprices of Kitty," the latest Rosworth release which will be shown at the Delft theater Tuesday, is a delightful, original comedy by Elsie Janis, starring Elsie Janis. A novelty for the moving picture fan, a thousand nights

FOES IMPOTENT SAID TO BE BERLIN'S VIEW

Officials Believe That Allies Have Now Reached the End of Their String.

Berlin (via The Hague), Aug. 6.—Official circles here today did not conceal the belief that the world war may come to an end before winter.

The Kaiser is expected to return to Berlin on Sunday. An important conference is to be held next week by government officials. It was reported today that the ministry will discuss with the emperor the moves Germany is to make immediately after the successful ending of the Warsaw campaign. The decision will be reached before the president's assemblies on Aug. 17, and it promises to have a far-reaching effect on the outcome of the war.

The belief that Germany's enemies, despite their public announcements of preparedness to fight to the end, are in reality tiring of the war and about ready to talk peace, is based on the growing conviction in official circles here that the allies have about "reached the end of their string" so far as offensive movements are concerned.

What Germans Believe.

The German viewpoint is:

First—That Russia has been dealt a blow that will nullify her offensive power for a long time to come.

Second—That England and France realize their inability to force the Germans out of France and Belgium, as evidenced by their inactivity while Germany concentrates against the Slavs.

Third—That the Dardanelles never can be forced.

Fourth—That the Balkan situation is satisfactory, as Bulgaria, according to the best available information, has given assurance that she will remain neutral until the end of the war.

This spirit of optimism is shared equally by both Germany and Austria-Hungary. Constantinople advices report the situation satisfactory from the Turkish standpoint. The scarcity of shells, which hindered the Turks' operations earlier in the war, has been remedied. The Turks are now able to produce enough shells in their own munitions factories to supply their needs.

The situation at Athens is being watched closely by German diplomats, but political circles here have little fear that Greece will abandon her neutrality. Various reports have reached here that the Venizelos party, which is shortly to come into power at Athens, does not control the seventy majority credited to the former premier, and that in all events he would be unable to obtain a majority behind a war program. Other reports indicate that the Venizelos, who was for war several months ago, is not the same Venizelos today, and that both he and King Constantine, now aware that Greece should remain neutral. The recent Anglo-German successes have worked a profound and sobering effect upon the smaller Balkan units.

Greeks Hold Off.

Advices received here indicate that the people of Greece are in no hurry to ally themselves with Great Britain, despite reports from English sources. The native Greeks on the islands of Crete and Cyprus have filed voluminous protests to Athens against British interference with commerce. Greeks in Egypt are reported to have protested to their home government against British mistreatment. Out of these situations there has come a new Grecian state of mind. One report received here is that the British Admiral Mark Kerr, who, with twelve other British officers, had been schooling the Greek navy, returned home at the invitation of the Greek government, because of this changed popular sentiment toward England.

BAD LUCK MAKES FRENCHMAN CAPTIVE.

Berlin, Aug. 6.—A correspondent of the "Leipzigener Nachrichten," who has been at the western front since the beginning of the war, tells the following amusing story and vouches for its truth.

One of the French prisoners who fell into our hands in the battles around Arras and Suedrecht during the last few days is Armand Javagnieux, a young sergeant. When I asked this gallant non-commissioned officer how he had been captured he laughingly replied: "That is a funny story," and he continued:

"It happened in the sugar factory which has been changing hands about twice a day for weeks. We had taken the place once again and were preparing to settle down, as we believed the factory firm in our possession at last. I was in charge of the kitchen and started to hunt up a few bottles of wine, in the cellar of one of the destroyed houses nearby I luckily found four bottles of very good stuff, but when I emerged from the cellar five minutes later I found soldiers in their gray uniforms were staring all over the place.

"The factory and village had once more been recaptured by the enemy. I tried to hide, but was seen by two Germans whom we had taken prisoner the day before. One of them spoke French and told me that the place seemed to be in the hands of their troops again.

"It seems so, but it is not sure," I answered. "Let me make a proposition. We will start out together; either you are my prisoner or I am your captive." They agreed and a few moments later we ran into a German company. I was prisoner and lost my four bottles of good French wine."

WELLING GETS SHADE OVER AD WOLGAST AT TOURNEY AT DULUTH

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 6.—Joe Welling, of Chicago, earned a shade over Ad Wolgast in a ten-round no-decision fight at the opening of the boxing tournament given by the Duluth Athletic club here tonight. Welling, who is a clever aggressive brawler and had Wolgast's eye closed from the sixth on.

"Kid" Billings, of Superior, was given a slight shade over Bert Stanley, of Oshkosh, in the semi-final. Fred Fulton, of Rochester, Minn., and Billy Clarke, of Grand Forks, heavyweights, went two rounds of a scheduled six-round bout, when the fight was stopped after Fulton had floored his man twice. Ben Haskell, of Minneapolis, knocked out Gus Bloomberg, of St. Paul, in the first round.

New York, Aug. 6.—Battling Levinsky, the New York heavyweight, and Cain Bell, of Australia, fought ten rounds to a draw tonight.

GEN. BENJAMIN TRACY DIES IN HIS 85TH YEAR

py while refusing to appoint him to office.

General Tracy was made United States district attorney for the eastern district of New York after the war. The whiskey graft scandal of 1866 was at its height. The general fought the illicit distillers and grafters mercilessly. Mobs threatened him, but he continued his prosecutions and convictions.

"It was during this fight," said the general "that I drew what is now known as the conspiracy act. I took it to Washington and had it passed in 1867. I drew also the internal revenue act relating to whiskey and tobacco, and that remains the law substantially today." This law greatly increased the resources of the government. In the year following its passage, $50,000,000 was secured for the United States instead of $13,000,000 as in the year before.

Judge of Court of Appeals.

At fifty-one years of age, General Tracy was appointed a judge of the New York court of appeals. President Benjamin Harrison selected him for the portfolio of secretary of the navy at fifty-nine years of age.

The tragedy of General Tracy's life was the loss of his wife and daughter at a single blow. It was while secretary of the navy, in 1890. His beautiful Washington home caught fire and Mrs. Tracy and Mary Tracy were burned to death.

At sixty-three, the general resumed his private law practice. His fame had become international. He acted as counsel for Venezuela in the dispute over boundary lines between that country and England, in 1899. He was one of the counsel for the defense in the celebrated trial of Henry Ward Beecher, when the famous divine was sued for $100,000 by Theodore Tilton for alienation of affections.

Norris Williams, 2nd., of this city, the national lawn tennis champion, in the challenge match of the Longwood singles, the oldest tennis tournament under club auspices in the United States. The score was 6-3, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2.

MILWAUKEE EAGLES WIN PRIZE FOR RITUAL WORK

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 6.—The Milwaukee Aerie of Eagles won the first prize in the $3,000 contest in the exemplification of the ritual of the grand aerie of the fraternal Order of Eagles here today. In the military drill the Helena team won first prize of $700 and Milwaukee the second of $50.

IMMIGRATION IS HARD HIT BY WAR

Washington, Aug. 5.—Immigration was at its lowest since 1899 in the 12 months ended July 1, and the net increase in the foreign population for the year was less than 48,000. Statistics issued today show 236,700 immigrants and 167,544 non-immigrant aliens admitted during the year, while 294,472 emigrant and 186,100 non-emigrant aliens departed. Admission was refused to 241,111 aliens.

Italian immigration showed the greatest falling off, 238,000 fewer Italians having arrived than during the previous year. Other decreases were: Polish, 113,000; Hebrew, 111,000; German, 59,000; Russian, 40,000; Magyar, 40,000; Croatian and Slavonian, 35,000; Lithuanian, 22,000; Lithuanian, 19,000; English, 13,000; Scandinavian, 11,000; Bulgarian, Serbian and Montenegrin, 11,000; Irish, 11,000; Finnish, 9,000; French, 5,500; Spanish, 5,500; and Turkish, 2,400.

5,000 WOMEN PETITION DE WET BE RELEASED

London, Aug. 6.—A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram Co. from Pretoria says: "The movement seeking clemency for rebel prisoners culminated today in a meeting of 5,000 women, including 3,000 Debetans from the various provinces, who petitioned Viscount Buxton, governor general of the Union of South Africa, for the release of Gen. Christian De Wet, who recently was sentenced to six years in prison for treason, and other rebels who are awaiting trial.

"The deputations which visited Viscount Buxton had a friendly reception. The governor-general explained that it was not within his power to grant their request, but he promised to lay the matter before the minister.

"Piet Grobler, a member of the South African parliament and a grandson of the late Paul Kruger, president of the Transvaal, was sentenced to two years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $2,500 for high treason."

ANARCHIST IS WEDDED, AND RETURNS TO PRISON TO FINISH HIS SENTENCE

Melun, France, Aug. 5, 5:25 p. m.—The marriage took place here this morning of Victor Napoleon Kibaltchich, known as "the Obdurate," and Mm. Anna Estroffe, divorced wife of the famous Maitrejean, once editor of L'Anarchie. Bride and bridegroom are anarchists. Kibaltchich, after the ceremony, returned to prison, where he still serves for a five year term to which he was sentenced in the winter of 1912 in the exploits of the gang led by Jules Bonnat, known as "The Demon Chauffeur," when bank messengers, freight agents and policemen and chauffeurs were murdered, and banks in the suburbs of Paris raided and robbed at the points of the revolvers of the bandits. Four of the gang were sentenced to death and fourteen to various terms of imprisonment, while three women accomplices, including the then Mme. Maitrejean, were acquitted.

ITALY REPORTED SEEKING $50,000,000 LOAN HERE

New York, Aug. 6.—Wall street hears that Italy is negotiating in this money market for a $50,000,000 loan. No authoritative announcement concerning the report is obtainable and details as well as confirmation are lacking. One report is that the loan would be patterned somewhat after the Russian loan, in that it will provide for reduction from time to time by partial payments.

ROUMANIA HOSTILE, SAYS REVENTLOW.

Berlin, Aug. 6.—A warning that nothing can be expected from Roumania is conveyed to the readers of the Tages Zeitung in an editorial by Count Reventlow. His articles, which is headed "Roumania's falling quotation," summarizes the situation in the following paragraph:

"Those friendly relations with Roumania made sacred by tradition and on the German side by firm confidence, can hardly longer be considered as existing.

Count Reventlow points out Roumania's refusal to permit exports of grain or to permit ammunition for the Turks to pass through its territory, although Russia was permitted to transport munitions to Serbia. He says it had been hoped Roumania would fulfill all its treaty obligations or preserve at least an upright and well-wishing neutrality, but that the contrary came to pass. Roumania's neutrality became "malevolent," he asserts, with a tendency to enter the conflict on the side of Germany's enemies.

The many Delta county friends of H. L. Spoooner, a former resident of Escanaba, and who was a candidate for county clerk on the Democratic ticket last fall, will be pleased to learn that he has been appointed to the position of deputy collector of customs at Detroit. Case of Suicide.

A woman named Agnes Hubert was found dead in her room over the Lambert restaurant, in Iron Mountain, where she was employed as a cook. She was found by another girl employed at the place and the authorities were notified. An investigation established that she had committed suicide by taking a dose of carbolic acid. The empty bottle was found on a stand near the bed. The remains were removed to the MacDonald & Payant morgue and a coroner's inquest was held, but nothing was developed to establish the reason for the self-murder. It appears to have been a case of despondency. The woman had separated from her husband, Ray Hubert of Marinette, several months ago when she came to Iron Mountain. She was about twenty-five years of age and the mother of one child, a daughter, about three years of age. The remains were forwarded to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Egan Clark, who reside on Carney avenue at Marinette.

Gogebic Is Busy.

A great deal of ore is being moved from the Gogebic range this season, and the Northwestern road, which handles most of the product from the mines to the docks, has already hauled 200,000 tons more than it did up to this time last year. However, 1914, was a slack year in the iron ore business, and it is unjust to make comparisons with an off year. It is now believed on the Gogebic that the shipments will be about equal to the 1913 movement from that range, when more ore went down the lakes than during any other one year since iron ore was first mined in the Lake Superior district. COATS AND SKIRTS NOT OF SAME GOODS

Different Materials Used in Women's Apparel as Seen at Fashion Centers.

New York, Aug. 6.—Have you seen the new suits in two materials? They are quite the rage, with their jaunty, flaring coats in one, and swaggy skirts in another material which is totally different. To see them, one must take a run down to Long Beach some afternoon, or slip over to Newport and stroll by the Casino in the morning. They are worth seeing, as they come now fresh from Paris and are worn in New York's smart society. It is an opportunity of a lifetime. Never has such style been displayed on our own shores. They only wait—these fashionable people, politely bored by the things at home—for the war to cease, that they may winter or summer, as chance may be, on the other side of the great Atlantic. Now the modes are brought to them. If they cannot be at Monte Carlo, Trouville or Deauville, they will at least wear here what they would have worn there.

Blue and White Serges, Checks and Worsted in Combination. Paris' first venture for the fall is accepted with open arms on this side of the Atlantic.

Paris Sends Suits in Two Materials Tacks the Italian Cock's Plume to the Latest Hat.

the Atlantic. Perchance, it is because her venture is suits, for Paris knows well the American woman's weakness for the strictly tailored. It's a clever idea, this showing of jaunty little jacket-suits before plunging into long coats and heavy skirts for cold weather. The serges are especially summery, as they appear in combinations of blue and white. Most noticeable was a suit worn by one of a party of ladies at Long Beach last Sunday—a distinctly military type in cut. The coat of dark blue serge, patterned on straight lines, with a high collar like the dress coat of the cadet, braiding and all. The skirt was of fine white serge, a bit scantier in width than the usual run of things, with a strip of broad white brocade bound at the side seam. With this, she wore a broad, straight-brimmed, blue chiffon sailor, with a scarf of the chiffon edged with beads for trimming, dubbed, for its keen resemblance, the "Boy Scout."

We hear from Paris that the idea of two materials in one suit will be carried out in checks and plain, and striped and plain worsteds; already there is a showing of these models by the exclusive shops. Unlike the serges, the coats of these suits are usually belted and are amply supplied with patch pockets, more like the khaki suits worn by soldiers. One model just received from the other side is made in this style, with a plain full skirt. The

They distressed me while they lasted. My face was very sore. The pimples then broke out all over my body also. My clothes felt uncomfortable."

SHIPMENTS OF WAR SUPPLIES LIGHT

But Large Quantities Will Go Forward When New Factories Begin Producing.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The difference between talk and fact was never better shown than in the matter of American exports of munitions of war. According to talk American manufacturers are making fabulous fortunes selling explosives and other war materials to the allies. Russia, it has been popularly fancied, is getting her munitions from this country by way of Vladivostok and the Trans-Siberian railway. And shrapnel and shells and other ammunition has been going to the western allies by the hundred millions worth—so it has been thought.

Facts Tell Another Story. But the fact is otherwise. And this despite undoubtedly reliable announcements that orders have been placed in this country ranging from fifty and eighty to one hundred millions an order. In its official report on exports and imports for the eleven months, ending with May, of the past fiscal year, the department of commerce discounts the bonanza talk by showing that the total exports of chemicals for the eleven-month period ending May 31, this year, aggregated $40,000,000 as against $24,000,000 for the corresponding period the previous year—before the war started.

For the same periods the shipments of firearms were $8,500,000 as against $3,228,000; explosives, $15,246,000 as against $3,232,000; brass manufactures, $16,284,000 as against $6,842,000; barbed wire, $6,216,000 as against $3,688,000. When it is recalled that the British shot away in a few hours at Neuve Chapelle as much ammunition as they used in the Boer war and that the present conflict is costing Great Britain alone about $15,000,000 a day, one cannot help exclaiming at the comparatively trivial additions made by this country to the foreign war stores up to May 31, 1915—trivial, that is, in view of the general impression that this country was a material contributor of munitions.

Not Being Stored Here. No sooner had these figures been issued by the department of commerce than many jumped to the conclusion that all the talk about enormous exports of ammunition must be a "blind" and that what was really taking place was accumulation of war materials by the United States government for use in any possible emergency.

The report went fast; and the rumor was that the war department and the navy department were taking arms and ammunition in wholesale lots and storing them away, with all manner of explosives and other materials to be ready if needed. Color was given this theory by the entirely trustworthy reports of unusual activity at the Bethlehem plant, of the mushroom development of a city down the Potomac where the DuPonts are making war materials, and of other evidence out of proportion to the comparatively small showing in exports. "It's a pretty good idea," was the comment. "Uncle Sam is going to have the stuff ready."

But the idea that Uncle Sam is storing away war material is just as incorrect—save that the government arsenals are working overtime—as is the idea that large shipments are going to Europe.

U. S. Has No Money to Buy. In exports of foodstuffs the United States has really made a great jump, the total for the eleven months ending with May, 1915, being $44,000,000 as against $32,000,000 for the corresponding period the year before. But war materials—where are they going?

The answer is, "They are not going yet—but they will be, soon." They are not going into the storehouses of the United States because congress has made no provision to pay for extra supplies. No manufacturer could afford to take such great risks even on the promise of the president of the United States to urge payment by congress.

Washington too well recalls the opera bouffe involving the coal dealer, the president of the United States and the disbanding officer with congress and the diplomatic corps as chorus. On a cold winter's day the White House bunkers went empty and a hasty summons to the coal man brought relief. Poor trusting mortal, he was in the habit of supplying private individuals on telephone orders. The luckless fellow—he found the United States a different sort. The coal had not been ordered in the customary, red-tape way; therefore it could not be paid for. Senator Settles Question. That it had been burned in the White House furnace and had warmed the president made no difference. The coal dealer was lucky to escape indictment for transgressing the rules. And so, attractive as orders may be, the prime requisite is certainty of payment; sub-surface government orders in wholesale lots without congressional approval are very unattractive, especially to manufacturers of munitions whom congressmen inveigle against as "the powder trust."

United States Senator Martin, chairman of the senate committee on appropriations, settles that side of the case when he says: "No extraordinary contracts are being made for munitions of war. The heads of departments cannot go beyond the appropriations made for those purposes by congress. They are limited strictly to the authorization laws." Well, then, what becomes of the output by the DuPonts and the Schwabs? Plants Require Time. They are not yet putting it out. That's the secret of the whole business. It takes time to convert a locomotive works into a cannon factory. And it is no mere matter of a few weeks to create a munitions plant. It takes time to get the buildings in shape, even if they do not have to be built new. Machinery has to be designed, ordered, constructed, delivered and set up, and men have to be trained to operate it. It takes approximately a year to turn out a large war order and maybe longer. If it is a sort to which our establishments are manufactured. It is often months before any work starts at all.

Before another year elapses—if the war continues—the showing as to exports of munitions will be quite different from the latest figures at this time. The German protest that the United States is violating neutrality by selling explosives to the allies to kill Germans is largely incorrect—not many Germans are being confronted by explosives made in America. But it will be different in another twelve-month. And, were it possible to ship the stuff to Germany and Austria, the Teutons would be quite as acceptable patrons at the American munitions counter as are the allies. It's genuine neutrality, gentlemen, and no Jim Crow business, no discrimination because of race, nation or previous condition of servitude. It's leave your money ready, boys, and if you haven't the cash, kindly step aside to make room for those who have. And this brings us to the finish of the matter. Now or very soon hereafter the big, private munitions plants will be going full blast. Should an emergency arise and this country desire great stores of ammunition, explosives, shells and all such, it would have merely to commandeer all stocks within our borders, irrespective of contracts with foreign purchasers. Not a country in Europe could even peep about the matter, inasmuch as each one of them has resorted to that same practice since the war began with reference to products ordered by the United States. The United States might not be willing to pay the prevailing high foreign prices, but the manufacturers would be reimbursed. POSTPONING OLD AGE. WANT PEACE WITH FRANCE VICTORIOUS Paris, Aug. 6.—Pope Benedict's "bipolar" for peace has elicited from the French cardinals, Lucon of Rheims, Andrieu, of Bordeaux, Calbieres, of Montpellier, and Sevin, of Lyons, a joint letter enjoining all French bishops to appoint a day of prayer for "the blessing of a durable peace with the triumph of our army." The letter reviews the circumstances under which France "was attacked by an enemy long prepared to violate her territory" and states France's cause as that of "our justice and civilization" adding: "And this cause has for its support an army whose valor of its leaders and the heroism of its soldiers render it invincible." Cardinal Amette, archbishop of Paris, did not sign the letter. He has issued, however, a pastoral letter to the clergy and the faithful of his diocese on the occasion of the Feast of the Assumption, recalling the story of Joan of Arc, who replied to the theologians objecting that if God decided to give victory to Charles VII, it was needless to fight, by saying: "Soldiers should fight and God will give victory!" SHIPMENTS OF WAR SUPPLIES LIGHT

But Large Quantities Will Go Forward When New Factories Begin Producing.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The difference between talk and fact was never better shown than in the matter of American exports of munitions of war. According to talk American manufacturers are making fabulous fortunes selling explosives and other war materials to the allies. Russia, it has been popularly fancied, is getting her munitions from this country by way of Vladivostok and the Trans-Siberian railway. And shrapnel and shells and other ammunition has been going to the western allies by the hundred millions worth—so it has been thought.

Facts Tell Another Story. But the fact is otherwise. And this despite undoubtedly reliable announcements that orders have been placed in this country ranging from fifty and eighty to one hundred millions an order. In its official report on exports and imports for the eleven months, ending with May, of the past fiscal year, the department of commerce discounts the bonanza talk by showing that the total exports of chemicals for the eleven-month period ending May 31, this year, aggregated $40,000,000 as against $24,000,000 for the corresponding period the previous year—before the war started.

For the same periods the shipments of firearms were $8,500,000 as against $3,228,000; explosives, $15,246,000 as against $3,232,000; brass manufactures, $16,284,000 as against $6,842,000; barbed wire, $6,216,000 as against $3,688,000.

When it is recalled that the British shot away in a few hours at Neuve Chapelle as much ammunition as they used in the Boer war and that the present conflict is costing Great Britain alone about $15,000,000 a day, one cannot help exclaiming at the comparatively trivial additions made by this country to the foreign war stores up to May 31, 1915—trivial, that is, in view of the general impression that this country was a material contributor of munitions.

Not Being Stored Here. No sooner had these figures been issued by the department of commerce than many jumped to the conclusion that all the talk about enormous exports of ammunition must be a "blind" and that what was really taking place was accumulation of war materials by the United States government for use in any possible emergency.

The report went fast; and the rumor was that the war department and the navy department were taking arms and ammunition in wholesale lots and storing them away, with all manner of explosives and other materials to be ready if needed. Color was given this theory by the entirely trustworthy reports of unusual activity at the Bethlehem plant, of the mushroom development of a city down the Potomac where the DuPonts are making war materials, and of other evidence out of proportion to the comparatively small showing in exports. "It's a pretty good idea," was the comment. "Uncle Sam is going to have the stuff ready."

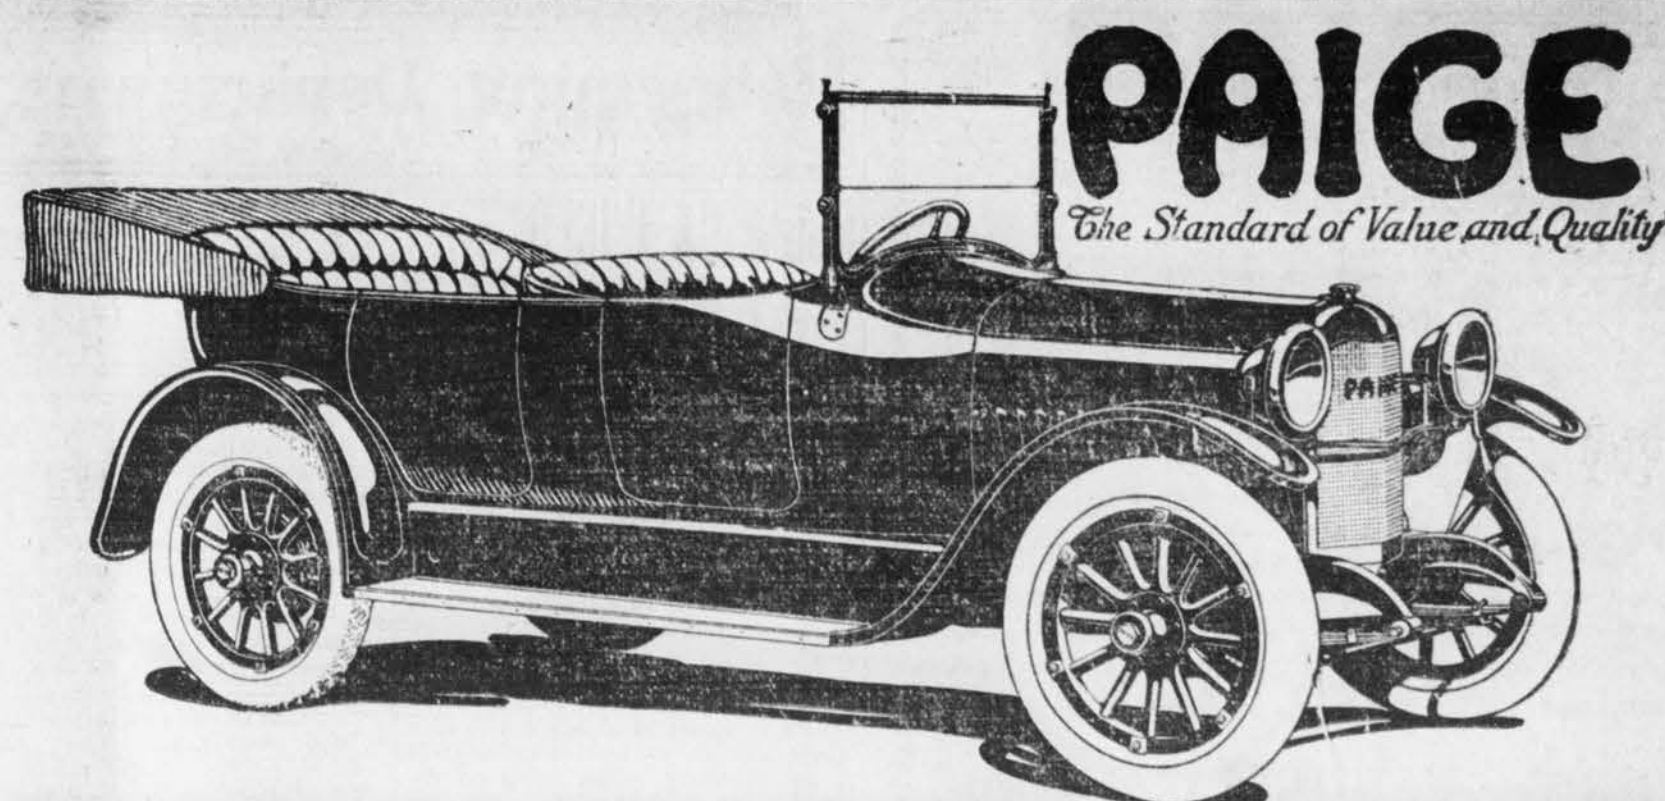

But the idea that Uncle Sam is storing away war material is just as incorrect—save that the government arsenals are working overtime—as is the idea that large shipments are going to Europe.

U. S. Has No Money to Buy. In exports of foodstuffs the United States has really made a great jump, the total for the eleven months ending with May, 1915, being $44,000,000 as against $32,000,000 for the corresponding period the year before. But war materials—where are they going?

The answer is, "They are not going yet—but they will be, soon." They are not going into the storehouses of the United States because congress has made no provision to pay for extra supplies. No manufacturer could afford to take such great risks even on the promise of the president of the United States to urge payment by congress.

Washington too well recalls the opera bouffe involving the coal dealer, the president of the United States and the disbanding officer with congress and the diplomatic corps as chorus. On a cold winter's day the White House bunkers went empty and a hasty summons to the coal man brought relief. Poor trusting mortal, he was in the habit of supplying private individuals on telephone orders. The luckless fellow—he found the United States a different sort. The coal had not been ordered in the customary, red-tape way; therefore it could not be paid for. Senator Settles Question. That it had been burned in the White House furnace and had warmed the president made no difference. The coal dealer was lucky to escape indictment for transgressing the rules. And so, attractive as orders may be, the prime requisite is certainty of payment; sub-surface government orders in wholesale lots without congressional approval are very unattractive, especially to manufacturers of munitions whom congressmen inveigle against as "the powder trust."

United States Senator Martin, chairman of the senate committee on appropriations, settles that side of the case when he says: "No extraordinary contracts are being made for munitions of war. The heads of departments cannot go beyond the appropriations made for those purposes by congress. They are limited strictly to the authorization laws." Well, then, what becomes of the output by the DuPonts and the Schwabs? Plants Require Time. They are not yet putting it out. That's the secret of the whole business. It takes time to convert a locomotive works into a cannon factory. And it is no mere matter of a few weeks to create a munitions plant. It takes time to get the buildings in shape, even if they do not have to be built new. Machinery has to be designed, ordered, constructed, delivered and set up, and men have to be trained to operate it. It takes approximately a year to turn out a large war order and maybe longer. If it is a sort to which our establishments are manufactured. It is often months before any work starts at all.

A NEW LIGHT SIX Every Inch a PAIGE $1095

ANNOUNCEMENT

We have just closed with Samuel J. Mitchell, Marquette, Mich., to represent Paige-Detroit cars in this locality. In making this connection, we believe we are securing the best possible representation and we know that it will materially add to the value of Paige cars. Mr. Mitchell is experienced in the sale of motor cars and will maintain one of the most up-to-date sales rooms in his territory. In addition to selling Paige cars, he will be well equipped to render first-class motor car service. For the past two years, Mr. Mitchell represented a well-known line of motor cars, but conditions have changed and

HERE you see illustrated the new Paige Six "36." Here you see the latest addition to a distinguished line of cars—a true Paige every inch of it—a car built to realize an ideal—a car that must not and cannot be judged from the standpoint of its astounding price alone.

When we say that this new Paige Six "36," has been built to realize an ideal we are speaking accurate, literal truth. From the very beginning it has been the unflinching purpose and policy of the Paige Company to build high class, dependable motor cars. It has been the purpose and policy of the Paige Company to achieve a Standard of Quality and Value—not merely a standard of Price. If you happen to know an owner of our larger, seven-passenger Six "46," you know precisely what we mean when we speak of Value and Quality. All of the careful manufacturing, all of the painstaking attention to detail, all of the sturdy, reliable qualities which characterize the larger Six and have made it a pre-eminent Six of the year will be found in this newer and smaller five-passenger Paige Six "36."

The New Paige Six "36" Is Here

We realize that there are a vast number of people who do not require a large seven-passenger car. But all of these people want a "Six," for they know that this is the day of the "Six" in quality cars. Furthermore, they want a "roomy" car—a luxurious car—a "Six" car—an economical car. In a word, there is an enormous demand for just such a car as the new Paige Six "36." Glance at the illustration on this page and you will see that—from the radiator to tire carrier—this car is a five-passenger reproduction of the larger Six "46." This body design has proved to be a sensation of the year. No amount of money could buy more graceful lines or smarter appearance. Inside the car you will find a great, big, comfortable room and a broad driver's seat with upholstery of genuine leather which means ease and freedom from crowding for all of the five passengers. Like the larger Six "46" you will find this car equipped with the world-famous Gray & Davis starting and lighting system. Like the larger Six "46" you will find this car equipped with cantilever springs which insure easy, comfortable riding no matter what conditions may be—a velocity acting over-inset multiple disc clutch—forced feed lubrication system and the unequalled Kayfield carburetor.

SAMUEL J. MITCHELL Marquette, Mich. Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company, Detroit, Mich.

No. 43 Fairfield Six-46 Seven Passengers $1295

When you raise the hood of this car, you will see an accessible, powerful six cylinder motor—3x57—which is a crowning achievement in motor construction. We might attempt to tell you about the performance of this remarkable power plant, but we much prefer to have you ride in the car and establish the facts for yourself. Then, you will realize what true six-cylinder Flexibility and Power really mean. For the first time, perhaps, you will experience the indescribable sensation of riding in a car that is practically throttle controlled—a car that travels smoothly at a slow walking pace or the speed of the winds without change from high gear. Low First Cost "Upkeep" Expense Best of all, this is a car that any man can afford to drive. The Six "36" weighs but 2600 pounds and is equipped with oversize 4-inch tires. With this car you can enjoy true six-cylinder motor comfort without the penalty of excessive "upkeep" expense. Space will not permit us to name even one-half the surprisingly good features embodied in the latest Paige. But—accept our assurance—there is a tremendous surprise in store for you when you first inspect this car. Then—and only then—you will appreciate what a truly great achievement it represents. Then, we predict, your first query will be—"How is it possible to build such a car for $1095?"

CITY DADS WILL BE REPORTED IN FULL

Stenographer Will Record the Proceedings of Council Sessions in the Future.

At future meetings of the city council all discussions will be recorded in full by a stenographer who will occupy a desk in the council chamber. The full proceedings will be placed in the hands of the aldermen and other officials as soon after the meeting as possible. The suggestion that the proceedings be recorded in this manner was made by Mayor Heggaton, who is desirous of making the meetings more interesting than they have been in the past. Some of the aldermen objected, saying that they would not like to have printed everything they said during a session. Mayor Heggaton suggested that those who objected to the plan refrain from saying anything which would not look right in printed form.

Alderman Luck, of the Third ward, asked the council to designate a place for stabling horses which are owned by farmers who come to town to market, and have to leave their wagons on the streets. During the past two years almost any day from ten to thirty horses are tied on Marquette street, a narrow thoroughfare. A railing for tying horses will be built on the south end of the street and the farmers will be required to tie their animals there.

BUILT CAMPING STOVE.

Richard Barney has on exhibition at his plumbing shop in the basement of the Hooper building Silver street, a stove which will be a boon to campers. It is built along the same lines as a cooking range, and will do all that a range will do in the way of cooking and heating.

The stove will burn wood of any length and sticks as long as six or eight feet can be put into it. The fire burns on the ground. Side stands are attached to the stove, to be used for setting pans on. The oven is eight inches high, with a base of ten by twelve inches. The length of the stove is only two feet and it is twelve inches wide. It can be taken apart and put in an ordinary bag. When packed, it weighs not over twenty pounds.

CHURCH FINANCES TO BE SYSTEMATIZED

Gwin Methodist Congregation Has Had Excellent Success With Budget System.

An effort will be made this month to interest the Methodist churches of the Houghton district in a general financial campaign.

A member of the Mitchell Methodist Episcopal church yesterday explained the purposes of the campaign as follows: "In the main the burden of supporting religious institutions falls upon a comparatively few. People generally are willing to give a measure of support to the cause for which the church stands, but their assistance leaves the church with inadequate maintenance, while the interest of the public at large is not sufficient to secure its co-operation without the necessity of constant appeal and solicitation, whereas this support should be spontaneous and voluntary. In the nature of things there is no reason why the work of church support should be left to the few, requiring them either to give beyond their ability, or else to spend large portions of their time in the work of solicitation, and collection of funds. If all of those who recognize the need of the church would assume the responsibility of making their personal contributions systematically and regularly without solicitation, the church would have an abundant income without any one person being unduly burdened. It is in hopes of bringing about this spontaneous and voluntary co-operation, and that with enthusiasm and regularity that this district wide campaign is planned."

The church at Gwin was one of the first to organize a comprehensive plan, embodying the principal features of the official plan of the Methodist organization. A budget for the coming year has already been presented to the quarterly conference for ratification. It will be explained to the congregation in a series of talks by Rev. Stevens, the pastor, and others.

The Gwin church adopted the budget system last year, for the first time, and the plan was found to work so well that it will be continued during the coming conference year.

District Superintendent W. E. Marvin conducted the fourth quarterly conference Tuesday night at Gwin. The following officers were elected:

Stewards—Richard Quayle, George J. Sarasin, John T. Wills, Ernest Bailey, William Pratt, Clifford Deane, William Trudgen, Gus Lamborg and Sigmund Adler.

of Silver street to the Richmond township line, it contains a large number of mud holes.

Arthur Sawbridge, who has been in the city for the past three months visiting with his folks, will leave this evening for Chicago, to resume his position as passenger claim agent for the Illinois Central railway.

Harry Sawbridge, who spent the past two weeks here visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sawbridge and other relatives, departed yesterday for Detroit, where he holds a position with an insurance company.

Mrs. Albert Jandron and son, Clement, left Thursday evening for Marquette, where they will spend a few weeks visiting with relatives. Before returning home they will go to Garden Bay to visit with Mrs. Jandron's father, Henry Boyer.

Dr. D. B. McIntyre and Victor Carlson, of Gwin, and M. A. Doty, of Munising, were visitors in the city yesterday. They made the trip in the former's new 1916 model six cylinder touring car, which was delivered to him yesterday by Mr. Doty.

The members of the Young People's society of the Swedish Mission church will give a concert this evening in the church on bluff street. At the conclusion of the program refreshments will be served in the basement, and a small fee will be collected at the tables. The public is invited. A program of songs, declamations and musical numbers will be given.

The annual picnic of the Mitchell Methodist Episcopal church Sunday school will be held today at Presque Isle, if the weather permits. A special train will leave the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railway company's depot at Snow street at 9 o'clock this morning, and, returning, will leave Presque Isle at 6:30. It is expected that about 400 persons will attend.

The following members of the Negaunee fire department who attended the annual tournament of the Upper Peninsula association returned home yesterday from Manistique: Julius Johnson, Al F. Willman, John Reibel, Ed Brandt, Andrew Johnson, John Arneith, Joseph Cyr, J. J. Wentala, Fred Anthony, Albert Sandine, W. J. Chapman, Baptiste Dighera, Dominick Motto, Joseph McOmber and Thomas J. Flynn.

Miss Mary Dougherty will go to Escanaba this evening to attend the funeral of the late James Parkhurst, who died yesterday morning. Mr. Parkhurst was for many years a Chicago & North-western railroad engineer, and he had a freight run between Escanaba and Negaunee during the greater part of the time he was railroading. He was well known to many Negaunee residents. Mr. Parkhurst was pensioned by the company several years ago.

TO MARK OHIO AND MICHIGAN BOUNDARY $800,000 FOR STATE GOOD ROADS IN 1916

Seventy-Two Granite Posts to Be Placed Along Entire State Line. Covert Act and Horse Power Tax Expected to Give Great Impetus to Road Building.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 6.—When the representatives of Ohio and Michigan finish surveying the line between these states, passers-by will know when they pass the line from one state to the other.

Seventy-two posts, made of North Carolina gray granite, and extending four feet out of the ground, will be used as markers for the line along its entire length of 7 1/2 miles. Twenty-five miles of the survey work has already been completed and the posts have been ordered.

The posts will be five feet and a half in length, with eighteen inches of them imbedded in concrete. The old survey was marked with wooden posts, the blazing of trees through the woods, and not a single mark or marker of this kind can be found now along the entire line.

The eastern end of the line will be marked with a granite monument about six feet square on the southern side of which will be this inscription:

OHIO.
Erected by authority of the Eighty-first General Assembly of Ohio, Act of May 25, 1915, by Ohio Topographical Survey, C. E. Sherman, inspector, jointly with the state of MICHIGAN.

On the northern side the Michigan side, will be this inscription:

MICHIGAN.
Erected by authority of Forty-eighth legislature of Michigan, Act No. 48, Public Acts of 1915, by Board of Geological Survey of Michigan, R. C. Allen, State Geologist, jointly with the state of OHIO.

At the western end of the boundary there will also be a monument which will pay more attention to directions. This point is but a few feet from the Indiana line and it is proposed to place upon the monument the exact distance to the Indiana line, as well as locating exactly the line between Ohio and Michigan.

The eastern end of the line is near the limits of the city of Toledo and the western end is near the town of South Camden, Mich., although the exact point is in a field. At the eastern end of this line it has been found that several houses are exactly on the lake line between the two states. The question of taxation on these may be a perplexing affair before long.

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK EARNINGS ANNOUNCED.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The first report on operations of the twelve federal reserve banks shows that the system earned $918,588 from Nov. 16, 1914, to June 30, last, while expenses were $981,317. Only five of the twelve—Boston, Richmond, Atlanta, Dallas, New York and Chicago—earned more than they spent.

The Richmond bank made the best showing, with net earnings of 7.5 per cent on the capital invested. St. Louis made the poorest showing, with expenses of 3.4 per cent greater than earnings. Although under the law the banks are allowed dividends up to 6 per cent after expenses are paid

Charles Moore, who was appointed member of the Washington park commission by President McKinley, has recently been made chairman of the National Fine Arts Commission. His lecture on "Washington the City of Ideals" will be illustrated with many beautiful views of the capital and he will show some slides here for the first time.

Largest Woman's Organization.
In an article written for The Mining Journal, Mrs. Wait gives the following resume of the organization's activities:
One does not have to investigate the Daughters of the American Revolution long to discover that the vital facts of its existence are not generally known.

The membership alone is a surprise, being almost 100,000, the largest organization of women in the world. Every state in the Union and the Philippine islands is represented, Michigan having approximately three thousand.

It is not generally known that the society to report annually to the secretary of the Smithsonian Institute "who shall communicate to congress such portions thereof as he may deem of national interest and importance."
The "Daughters" are the only organization of women in this country who own and maintain a building where the business of the organization is carried on and where the annual congress of the society is held. This building, Memorial Continental Hall, is one of the most beautiful buildings in this country.

The Michigan Room.
In it various states have furnished rooms which bear the name of the state. "Michigan room" is one of the most dignified rooms in the building—the coloring is soft gray blue, the furniture mahogany. An exquisite seal of the state carved in wood and colored, hangs on the wall, the gift of Michigan's third state regent, Mrs. James P. Brantton. In one corner is a beautifully carved lectern, the gift of Michigan's fourth state regent, Mrs. Arthur Maxwell Parker of Detroit. On this lectern rests a handsome bound illuminated book of Michigan's records, the gift of the late Mrs. Benton Janchett of Saginaw, who had served and was still serving the state faithfully and well as the state chairman of Michigan room, Memorial Continental Hall. The electric fixtures (silver) were given by Michigan Daughters as a memorial to the second state regent, Mrs. Wm. Crittenden of Detroit. On the writing desk, the writing set was the gift of the State Club of Children of the Republic and Children of the American Revolution.

Michigan Daughters finished and furnished the room and many chapters have contributed to make it a place where Michigan's name is honored. In the library in Memorial Continental Hall Michigan Daughters have placed a fine collection of books on Michigan history.

Michigan has the honor of having the names of two Michigan women as charter members of this splendid patriotic society, Mrs. Julius C. Burrows of Kalamazoo and Mrs. James McMillan, wife of United States Senator James McMillan of Detroit. Mrs. Burrows is now serving the national organization as corresponding secretary general.

National Committee.
To give an idea of the scope of the work carried on by the national society one has only to mention some of the committees, as follows:
Memorial Continental Hall.
Prevention of Desecration of the Flag.
Preservation of Historic Spots.
Patriotic Education.
Welfare of Women and Children.
Conservation.
Conservation of the Home.
National Old Trails.
Children and Sons of the Republic.
Children of the American Revolution.
Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine.
Real Daughters.

Among the activities of the society that do not come to the ear of the public is the work for the Mountain schools in the South. Michigan Daughters have given most liberally to this form of patriotic education, memorial scholarships, fellowships for certain children, and for the equipment being among their benefactions.

Michigan is also beginning to take part in that most practical work of bringing Philippine girls to this country for an education, and later sending them back as teachers to the natives of the islands.
Work Among Immigrants.
The society has taken a part also in the work among immigrants by co-operation in settlement work, the International College for Immigrants and in distributing a guide book by John Carr Foster, called the Immigrants' Guide, being instructions in all things American.

Two kinds of children's clubs are maintained by the daughters, one Children of the American Revolution, children whose forefathers fought in the American Revolution, the other the Children and Sons of the Republic, clubs composed of children, many of them little street trade merchants. Michigan has twenty-nine of these children of the Republic clubs.
Among the interesting activities of the Daughters is the seeking out and marking of old Revolutionary soldiers' graves, sites of old forts, old trading posts, cemeteries and old buildings. The old National Trails Road in Michigan has been marked by several chapters of the Daughters, while others are marking the old Indian trails.

There is great activity in all of the forty-two chapters, including the four fine chapters in the upper peninsula, Marquette, Iron Mountain and Stambaugh, Escanaba and Menominee.

WAR PICTURES ARE SHOWN IN HOUGHTON

The Mining Gazette Says They Instruct the Least Imaginative Person.

The European war pictures which will be shown Tuesday and Wednesday at the Marquette Opera House under the auspices of The Mining Journal are being shown in Houghton this week. They are highly recommended by the Mining Gazette, which makes the following editorial comment:

The European war pictures showing here this week are of such an intimate nature in depicting actual scenes of the struggle that they impress the beholder with the vastness of scale of the combat, the superiority of German equipment, discipline and efficiency, and the hopelessness of attempting to match the United States at present against a well-prepared enemy. They constitute the strongest of arguments in favor of immediate and sustained measures by America for military preparedness.

The enterprise of the great New York newspaper that obtained these remarkable scenes of conflict, of general in command and their men in action in the field, in trenches and in cavalry and artillery movements cannot be too highly commended, for the screen portrays things as they are in the western and eastern theaters of war, and instructs the least imaginative person. Views showing the Kaiser inspecting his veteran troops, with the pink of military perfection about him, the Kaiser congratulating officers and men, the Kaiser with the heroic King Albert with his men; King George and heroes of actual warfare, are too obviously wonderful to require praise. It is scarcely conceivable that any intelligent person in the copper country will fail to witness such faithful film picturing of stupendous world events. It is much to be desired that every legislator in our land will see the Sun's war pictures, which have a decided educational value.

SEAMAN KILLED BY FALL

James Landa Falls Through Hatch of Steamer Angeline at L. S. & I. Dock.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury this morning in the inquest over the death of James Landa, aged twenty-two, who fell into hatch No. 7 of the steamer Angeline at the L. S. & I. dock at Presque Isle at 2:15 o'clock yesterday morning. The body was shipped at 5 o'clock last night to Landa's home in Cleveland.

According to the testimony of H. R. Cornell, mate of the Angeline, and Frank LeRoy, Charles Cooper, and Walter Zeb, seamen, Landa was signaling with a red lantern for the closing of one hatch when he stepped backward into an open hatch behind him. He died instantly, his skull being crushed by the fall of twenty-three feet into the iron ore.

Coroner William Brin of Ishpeming conducted the inquest and the jurors were Ralph Kendrick, Fred Anderson, F.

The Cry Of The Day Is "System"

There is no line of Human Endeavor in which, sooner or later, pause is not made to see wherein things can be better systematized, that a greater degree of success may be realized. In these days of keen competition, success depends upon system—system upon the part of the management; system in dealing with the public; system in the interior organization. System means a better product, a wider market, greater dividends.

GET THIS INTO YOUR SYSTEM.

All that you have read above is the absolute truth. Ask the active head of any successful enterprise. It takes some concerns longer to see it than others, but such a time comes to them all, if indeed they are not continually on the alert to improve their system. What is good for a corporation or firm is good for the individual. System in the handling of your personal finances will mean more success for you personally, and the necessary system will be supplied by a Bank account. If you are not already a depositor with us, we invite you to come in and talk the matter over with us. Let us show you how it is done.
