ENTIRE EASTERN FRONT IS SCENE OF FIERCE BATTLES

WHAT ARE PLANS FOR MEXICO NOW, EUROPE'S QUERY

Informal Inquiries as to Next Step Washington Administration Will Take Toward Settling Affairs of War-Torn Republic Directed by London and Paris.

British Consuls Are Instructed to Follow American Advice as to Leaving the Country—No Faction Has Yet Been Determined on by United States as the Best.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Informal inquiries have been made by some of the European governments as to the Washington administration's next step in the Mexican situation.

Ambassador Jusserand, of France, had a long talk with Secretary Lansing today. Colville Barclay, the British charge d'affaires, discussed the situation with state department officials and notified them that orders had gone forth to British consuls to consult with American consuls on the advisability of withdrawing from northern Mexico.

NO ACTION FAVORED YET.

From high official quarters it was learned tonight that no decision has been reached with respect to the recognition of any government in Mexico, but that the subject will be fully considered at the Pan-American conference in New York on Saturday.

It is understood that on account of a press of international affairs, General Carranza's invitation to the conference to meet him at some point on the border may not be accepted, but the suggestion of discussing with his representatives the international questions involved in the situation is likely to be met by an invitation to Carranza to send delegates here instead. It is said to be the intention of the Pan-American conference to give an audience also to representatives of other Mexican factions, who already are enroute to Washington, so that before a final decision is reached the entire situation with respect to recognition may be carefully studied from all viewpoints.

PRESENT BATTLES BIG FACTOR.

Much depends on the outcome of the struggle for military supremacy, which is now being waged. Representatives of General Villa here are confident that he will turn the tide near Torreon, where the forces of General Obregon are advancing for battle hoping to crush the Villa movement.

The Pan-American conference will take under consideration the amount of territory controlled by each faction, so that the result of the coming battle may have an important bearing on the judgment of the conference.

CELEBRATION IS ORDERLY.

Vera Cruz, Sept. 16.—Any fear that may have been felt that the celebration of the anniversary of the declaration of Mexican independence today would be the occasion for anti-foreign demonstrations was dispelled by the orderly behavior of the people. General Carranza, chief of the Constitutionalists, participated in the official program here, but did not make any address.

A military parade was a feature of the day's festivities in Vera Cruz. Church bells rang and official salutes were fired. The American battleships in the harbor fired a salute to the Mexican colors.

No further reports were received here today concerning the acceptance of General Carranza's plan for a conference on the border with the Latin American diplomats.

NEED RED CROSS HELP.

Mexico City, Sept. 2 by Courier to Vera Cruz and by Mail to New Orleans, Sept. 16.—Information received by Charles J. O'Connor, representative here of the American Red Cross, from General Devol, at Washington, that no more funds were available for Mexican relief work, caused much anxiety among Americans and other foreigners, as well as among Mexicans today when the news became generally known in Mexico City.

Mr. O'Connor cabled General Devol that more than one hundred and sixty thousand inhabitants of this city were dependent on some form of charity and that the Red Cross was supervising the feeding of more than fifty thousand destitute persons. Applications for assistance from twenty-two thousand families embracing approximately ninety-nine thousand individuals have been entered at Red Cross headquarters here. Mr. O'Connor, in his cable, stated that withdrawal of relief work from Mexico at this time would be followed by many deaths from starvation. At the beginning of its work here the Red Cross traced an average of twenty-five deaths daily to the lack of proper nourishment. This rate has been considerably reduced since the establishment of soup kitchens.

FOOD PRICES PROHIBITIVE.

There is virtually no corn in the markets, and the little available in the markets costs 2.20 per cent more than the price a year ago. Beans are procurable at a price twenty-seven times that of a year ago. Carranza adherents have attacked Mr. O'Connor in their press, asserting he has misrepresented conditions and that they were able to cope with the situation. However, several government food stations, opened a few days ago, had to close, owing to lack of supplies.

The Red Cross agents here stated they had sufficient supplies to continue the relief work for three more weeks. Several Americans and foreign societies, relief organizations and clubs today issued an appeal to the American Red Cross at Washington, urging the society "for humanity's sake to again appeal to the American people."

FIFTH SOLDIER DEAD.

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 17.—Private Harold Y. Forney, of Watertown, N. Y., died today from wounds received in Monday's fight with Mexicans in Los Indios, near here. His death brings up to five the number of United States soldiers killed since the south Texas bandit raids began about two months ago.

The American civilian death list in the same time is four. The Mexican death list is not known, but is conservatively estimated at one hundred.

Up to midnight Mexican Independence Day had passed without any serious outbreak. The day was quiet and more peaceful on the Mexican side of the river than on the American side. On the American side in the immediate vicinity of the Rio Grande there was not a report of the slightest trouble all day and the only reports of disorder came from sections in the interior, which are out of direct touch with Mexico.

SAYS AMERICANS MUST ALLOW BETTER CREDIT TO GET SOUTHERN TRADE

New York, Sept. 16.—Dr. L. S. Rowe, secretary general of the Pan-American financial congress, who returned today from a three-months' trip to South America, where he studied financial, industrial and commercial conditions, declared that in Peru and Chile, especially, he found a feeling of disappointment that American exporters had not taken advantage of the opportunity to build up closer trade relations. American exporters, Dr. Rowe declared, failed to adjust themselves to the changed conditions brought about by the European war. He found that they appeared unwilling to grant credit such as South American countries were accustomed to receive. Manufacturers here must overcome this if they would capture the trade of South America, in the opinion of Dr. Rowe.

NEW ENGLAND SWEEP BY A TORRID WAVE

Boston, Sept. 16.—New England sweetered again today under a torrid wave which made this the hottest day of the year here with an official record of 94.5 degrees. On the streets some thermometers registered close to the hundred mark. Three fatalities due to the high temperature, were recorded.

Manchester, N. H., Sept. 16.—Two deaths and scores of prostrations were caused by the heat wave in New Hampshire today, the mercury reading 109.43 degrees in the shade by street thermometers. Many schools were closed and business was partially suspended throughout the state.

MUCH DAMAGE CAUSED BY FLOOD IN OKLAHOMA

Bartlesville, Okla., Sept. 16.—One life has been lost, property damage estimated at $500,000 done and train service demoralized as a result of the worst flood that has overwhelmed this section in twenty-five years. The cadly river was rising tonight and the crest of the flood is expected tomorrow.

RESIGNATION OF POLK AT NEW YORK ANNOUNCED

New York, Sept. 16.—Mayor Mitchell today formally announced the resignation of Frank L. Polk, corporation counsel, who was recently named by President Wilson as councillor of the state department.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

Washington, Sept. 16.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Upper Michigan: Fair Friday, and probably Saturday.

HALF A BILLION SEEMS AMOUNT SET FOR ALLIES

Proposed Loan of $1,000,000,000 to Great Britain and France, Shrivels, in the Gossip of Wall Street, to $500,000,000—Situation Is Changed Overnight.

Opinion Among Bankers Is That Vast Sum Asked Is More Than Is Needed and Was Named to Acquire Advantageous Position—Expect Many Developments.

New York, Sept. 16.—The proposed billion dollar loan to Great Britain and France shriveled today, in the gossip of Wall street, to half its previous size.

Five hundred million dollars was the sum set as the amount which the American financiers would lend. This figure seemed to be uniform in a half dozen or more reports current in the financial sections.

In some manner not understood tonight the situation was different from that of yesterday. There was an almost unanimous opinion among bankers whose views could be obtained that a billion dollars was not needed and that in naming this vast sum at the outset the commission sought to place itself in an advantageous trading position. The men who have come over here from Great Britain and France, in the opinion of Wall street, are master players in the game of world finance. Consequently it is expected that there will be many more developments before it will be seen what they are really striving for and whether they will win.

COMMISSION MEETS BANKERS.

A dozen or more prominent New York bankers talked with the commissioners today at a meeting place the whereabouts of which were not disclosed. J. P. Morgan and two of his partners, Henry P. Davidson and Dwight W. Morrow, were among the number. Who the others were was not disclosed.

A representative of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., confirmed late today the report that Mr. Morgan had placed before Mr. Rockefeller tentative details of the proposed loan and had done so with a view to having Mr. Rockefeller subscribe to it, although Mr. Rockefeller has not yet been asked to do so. In Mr. Rockefeller's behalf it was said that he had neither opposed nor espoused the project but that he had taken it under consideration.

GERMAN INTERESTS IN DEAL?

Considerable importance was attached to a visit made today by Jacob H. Schiff, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., to James J. Hill, the western railway builder and financier, at Mr. Hill's office.

Renewal of the report that the so-called pro-German financial interests of New York might participate in the loan followed their talk. Neither would discuss it, except to say that Mr. Schiff had called to extend birthday congratulations to Mr. Hill. Mr. Hill was quoted afterward as saying that the commission would obtain a half billion dollars here.

W. J. BRYAN DENOUNCES LOAN.

Washington, Sept. 16.—The proposed billion dollar American loan was vigorously denounced in a statement given to newspaper correspondents tonight by William J. Bryan. Mr. Bryan was leaving the department of justice where he had called to ask Attorney General Gregory to appoint William H. Thompson, of Grand Island, Neb., federal district judge for Nebraska to succeed the late Judge Munger.

QUEER TRAIN WRECK.

Several fatalities resulted from a railroad wreck of a most unusual nature which recently occurred near Rainier, Wash. At the point where the tragedy happened the tracks of one railroad company cross those of another on a trestle-foot trestle. A work train was passing beneath the elevated structure carrying a steam shovel on a flat car as a passenger train approached overhead. The heavy steel boom of the dredge suddenly became unbalanced and struck out just in time to hit the wooden trestle violently and weaken some of its supports. Almost at the same instant the passenger train shot onto the sagging section, smashing through and falling on top of the work train. Only the observation car of the passenger train remained on the elevated structure. The wreck is shown in pictures appearing in the September Popular Mechanics Magazine.

PETITION A MILE LONG FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE STARTED FOR CAPITOL

San Francisco, Sept. 16.—A petition to congress 18,333 feet four inches long, with the names of 500,000 women signed to it, asking support for woman suffrage, was started on its way to Washington, D. C., tonight. It will be carried by the envoys of the woman voters in convention here, who leave tonight by automobile for the transcontinental suffrage march upon the next congress.

THREE CONVICTS ESCAPE FROM PRISON AT JOLIET: ARMED POSSE IN PURSUIT

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 16.—Three convicts escaped from the Illinois state penitentiary at Joliet early tonight. They were Clarence Brown, a Chicago burglar, serving his third term; James O'Neill, also serving a third term for burglary, and Joe Scotti, serving a twenty-five year sentence for a murder in LaSalle county.

An armed posse has started in pursuit of the three men who are reported to have headed for Chicago. All of the men have made previous attempts to escape.

GERMANS SANK STEAMER ONOKO OWNERS THINK

U. S. PLANS NO ACTION YET.

Washington, Sept. 16.—No action by the United States government in connection with the condemnation of American meat cargoes by the British prize court is contemplated at present. State department officials explained today that while there had been some preliminary steps toward diplomatic negotiations over the seizure of the cargoes, action was withheld because the American packers preferred to exhaust all legal remedies in England before invoking the aid of their government.

DULUTH MEN SCOUT RUMOR.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 16.—The story that there is suspicion the steamer Onoko, which sank suddenly off Knife Island on Tuesday, while on her way to Toledo with a cargo of 10,000 bushels of wheat, was destroyed by alleged agents of the German-Austrian alliance, because the wheat was destined for export to England, is discredited in Duluth marine circles.

Captain John Monaghan, government inspector of hulls at Duluth, declares that, in his opinion, the sinking was due to the breaking of a plate under the floor of the engine, due to its being eaten away with rust.

G. A. Tomlinson, agent here for the steamer, said "it is preposterous."

DOCTORS STUDY FORD FOREMEN

Rochester, Sept. 16.—An open meeting of the American Public Health association here was addressed by Secretary of Commerce Redfield on the "Wasters of the World."

An address by Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk, director of hygiene, Life Extension institute, compared the physical condition of industrial workers with that of bank and commercial clerks. The industrial workers were represented by 1,000 foremen of the Ford Motor company, of Detroit.

SLAVONIAN BOOKS WILL ARRIVE WHEN WAR IS OVER.

Virginia, Sept. 16.—Last October the officials of the Virginia library decided to add a collection of Slavonian books to the local library and ordered a consignment of fifty volumes of well-chosen literature in that language.

BRITISH COURT RULES CARGOES ARE FORFEITED

American Meat Products, Valued at Many Millions, Which Were Seized Last November While Enroute to Denmark, Were Destined for Germany, Decision Says

No Action by United States Has Yet Been Planned, Packers Preferring to Exhaust All Legal Remedies in England Before Invoking Aid of Washington.

London, Sept. 16.—Several millions of dollars worth of American goods, mostly meat products, carried by four steamers bound for Denmark and seized by the British government, today were declared forfeited to the crown by a British prize court. The judgment was delivered by Sir Samuel T. Evans, president of the court. It involves the cargoes of the steamships Kim, Alfred Nobel, Bjornstjerne-Bjornson and Friedland. The case has been pending several months. The decision was lengthy, but the court held in effect that the products were destined for the German government and not for consumption in Denmark.

$15,000,000 VALUE OF CARGOES.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—If the confiscation of American meat cargoes ordered in London today is upheld on appeal from the British prize court, Chicago packers will lose approximately $15,000,000, at which the shipments were valued. The packers, however, have not yet given up the fight.

Attorneys Henry Veeder, C. J. Faulkner, Jr., and M. W. Borders, representing Swift & Co., Armour & Co. and Morris & Co., this afternoon gave the following joint statement concerning the decision of the British prize court, received today:

"England's confiscation of $2,500,000 worth of American meat products, as announced in the brief press dispatches today, is not justified by the facts or any principle of international law. It can only be construed as another step in England's policy to interfere with the trade of American citizens with the citizens of neutral countries. All these shipments were destined to neutral countries and the ships' papers, at the time of their seizure, clearly showed such for the enemy of Great Britain and upon trial of the case, no evidence showing they were destined to such enemy of Great Britain was adduced and none could have been. This makes necessary further presentation of stronger protests to the department of state for an equitable adjustment of the claims.

"There are a number of other shipments of packing house products valued at $12,000,000 being held up by England which have never been brought to the prize court. England seeks to justify confiscation of these cargoes on the theory of necessity of reprisal against Germany, the same explanation which was given by Germany for its submarine activities. As a matter of fact the effect of these seizures is to injure and destroy the neutral trade of this country, with whom England ostensibly is at peace. There is absolutely no justification under international law or any order-in-council for any of the seizures made by Great Britain."

"The chief menace to all workers is not tuberculosis, but chronic diseases of the heart, blood vessels and kidneys. Among industrial workers, average age 32 years, more than 50 per cent showed signs of early arterial changes, thickened arteries and more than 45 per cent showed evidences of disturbed kidney action.

"Among bank clerks, average age 27 years, more than 40 per cent showed arterial changes and 40 per cent showed evidences of disturbed kidney action. "These fully indicate a widespread and premature physical decay among widely separated groups in this population.

"These groups are all above the average as regards intelligence and environment, hence a still greater degree of impairment must be assumed for average groups. "Much of the impairment is due to conditions that should be detected and checked by periodic medical examination."

GOVERNMENT MONEY NOT NEEDED IN WEST FOR CROP MOVEMENT

Washington, Sept. 16.—Government money probably will not be needed to aid in the annual fall crop movement in the territory from the Mississippi river to the Rocky Mountains north of Texas, according to advices received today by Secretary McAdoo from the federal reserve agents of the Minneapolis and Kansas City federal reserve banks. Officers of the secretary to deposit government funds in these banks, in line with the policy which led to deposits of $75,000,000 in those of Richmond, Atlanta and Dallas, were declined, for the present at least, and the agents reported money plentiful and easy. A similar offer made to the St. Louis bank had not been answered tonight.

NINETEEN ARE CLEARED OF VOTE FRAUD IN TEXAS; JUDGE IS AMONG THEM

Corpus Christie, Tex., Sept. 16.—The case of forty-one citizens of Nueces county, charged with election irregularities on Nov. 3, 1914, went to the jury in federal court here late today. Judge Walker T. Burns, presiding, instructed the jury to return a verdict of acquittal in the cases of nineteen defendants, including District Judge W. B. Hopkins. Court was adjourned immediately after the jury had taken the case, but reconvened to await any possible action by the jury.

NOTE ON DUMBA WAS DELIVERED SEPTEMBER 10

Washington, Sept. 16.—Announcement was made at the state department late today of the receipt of a message from the American legation at Bern, Switzerland, stating that the note asking for the recall of Ambassador Dumba was delivered at Vienna on Sept. 10.

Officials were unable to explain the failure of the American embassy at Vienna to acknowledge receipt of the note, but it is presumed that telegraphic communication was interrupted between Vienna and Bern just after the message from the United States government had reached its destination.

BANK OFFICER HELD; POLICE AND FIREMEN DISPERSE BIG MOBBS

Ansonia, Conn., Sept. 16.—The entire police and fire departments of the city were called out tonight to disperse a crowd of about five thousand persons, following the announcement late today that State Bank Commissioner Everett J. Sturgis had taken charge of the affairs of the Savings Bank of Ansonia. The treasurer of the institution, former Mayor Franklin Burton, is under arrest, charged with embezzlement of $30,000 on alleged bogus notes during a period of fifteen years.

RACE SUICIDE RATE IS HIGHEST IN EAST.

New York, Sept. 16.—Race suicide, which the anti-race assert is the ultimate fate of the race if suffrage goes through, is proved by recent figures to be more prevalent in the eastern than in the western states.

According to a statement issued by the Empire State campaign committee, California is the banner baby state—more babies are born there to the square inch than in any other part of the country. Colorado has a higher birth rate than Maine, though practically the same population, and the lowest infant mortality in the country is found in Seattle, Wash., and in Oakland, Cal. The mortality rates in these two cities almost equal those of New Zealand and Australia, which have the lowest infant mortality rates in the world. Massachusetts holds the sad record of having the highest baby death rate.

The suffragists feel that now, when the anti-race tell them to "Go home and mind the babies" or ask "where they don't advocate the bearing of children instead of advocating equal suffrage," they have some good answers.

KAISER SHEDS TEARS FOR SINS OF FRENCH

Paris, Sept. 16.—A Basel dispatch summarizing a recently published brochure by Anton Friedrich, the prominent Baden Socialist, described a conversation with Emperor William at the general headquarters on the western front, says:

"Friedrich was greatly impressed with the emperor's sincere pacifism and also with the sorrow of his disillusion regarding his royal relatives in England and Russia who betrayed him at the moment of danger. The emperor related for a half hour horrible French atrocities. "He carried away by the monotony of these proved facts, which leave no hope for decadent France, the emperor wept more than once at the shame of such demoralization of a once noble people, victimized now by a fixed idea. "The emperor said the result of the war would be the unification and purification of Germany for her historic task of being the heart of Europe, and bettering European humanity."

GERMANS Forge AHEAD IN NORTH; ON RUN IN SOUTH

Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in Desperate Effort to Get Vilna-Dvinsk Railway, Swings Armies Around City, Forcing Russians Back Across the Dvina River.

In Galicia Czar's Men Successfully Repeat Terrific Blows at Teutons, Driving Them Farther Westward—Call on Reserves Will Net 8,000,000 More Soldiers

London, Sept. 16.—Stern battles are being fought all along the eastern front from Riga to the Romanian border, and while the Germans continue to advance slowly in the north and center, the Russians in the south are repeating their successes against the Austro-German armies, which are now being driven back across the river Stripa in Galicia and have been forced to retire westward, north of the Galician frontier.

While these Russian victories naturally are welcomed in Russia and the allied countries as an evidence that the Russian armies are still able to take the offensive when well supplied with ammunition there is no inclination to exaggerate their importance. The engagements, however, keep the Austro-Germans busy and make it imperative to send reinforcements southward, which could be used to better advantage in the north, where operations of much greater moment are being directed by Field Marshal von Hindenburg.

VON HINDENBURG FIGHTING HARD.

This general, who began his offensive against the Vilna-Dvinsk railway a week ago, has not yet established himself on the line. His cavalry, which did reach it, has been driven back. Nevertheless he has driven the Russians across the Dvina river, north of Dvinsk, placing that city in a rather dangerous position, and also has made some progress north of Vilna.

To the south of Vilna, toward Grodno, the Russians are offering stubborn resistance and have the Germans firmly held. Something of the same kind has happened to the center. To the south, the Russians are advancing and have recaptured a number of villages, but they are not likely to push their advantage much farther, as to do so would make their northern flank vulnerable.

8,000,000 MORE MEN FOR CZAR.

A good deal of importance is attached to the decision of Russia to call to the colors the reserves of the territorial army. Should the age limit be fixed at thirty-five years this would mean the possible addition of 8,000,000 men to the Russian armies, including the men who had passed through the first line and the reserves and those who heretofore have been exempted as students or only sons, or men who are not quite up to the physical standard.

With Russia now well supplied with munitions, her allies, who have been supplying her, are now able to turn their attention to their own armies, and, in consequence, there is no cessation in the artillery engagements which have been so marked in the west for several weeks past.

In the Dardanelles the British losses had totalled 87,630 men up to Aug. 21. The British submarine E-7, operating in those waters, which the Turks claim to have sunk, is admitted by the British admiralty to have been missing since Sept. 4.

LLOYD-GEORGE TO LEARN THE WORKING CONDITIONS

London, Sept. 16, 10:10 p. m.—David Lloyd-George, the British munitions minister, has appointed a committee "to consider and advise on questions of industrial fatigue, hours of labor and other matters touching the health and efficiency of workers in munitions factories and workshops." The committee appointed by Mr. Lloyd-George numbers seven.

DUMA IS ADJOURNED AFTER THREE MINUTES

Petrograd, via London, Sept. 16, 7:40 p. m.—The Russian duma was prorogued today until mid-November, President Rodzianko announcing an imperial order authorizing this prorogation, which had been transmitted through Premier Goremykin. The session lasted only three minutes.

England has 14,132 telegraph stations, handling 87,000,000 messages annually.

LET NONE BUT AMERICANS ON GUARD. - WASHINGTON.

foreigners never again should be permitted to dominate a market that should be definitely American.

SOUTH CAROLINA GOES DRY. The camel cavalry have overrun South Carolina. For it is announced that that eruptive commonwealth has declared for statewide prohibition by a vote of more than two to one.

THE LOAN. The administration's attitude toward the proposed loan by the allies has not been officially declared, but still has been made known authoritatively.

It is to be doubted whether Mr. Bryan will ever sail for European shores on a peace mission. Despite the newspaper talk about it, the plan is so fantastical that Mr. Bryan can hardly be seriously considering it.

Difficulties of Honesty. Governor Hiram Johnson of California values his own reputation for courage; so when the L. W. W. threatens to bring about a revolution unless two of its members, serving life sentences, are released, the governor announces that the convicts will stay where they are.

OUR SOUTHERN CUSTOMERS. Figures tabulated by the department of commerce show a gratifying increase in volume of trade with our South American neighbors.

STATE PRESS. The Krupp company has subscribed 10,000,000 to the German war loan. Working both ends, eh?—Saginaw News.

Admiral Fullam for Sea Service. Rear Admiral William F. Fullam is to be congratulated upon his detachment from duty as superintendent of the naval academy and his assignment to command the reserve fleet on the Pacific coast.

Two-Legged Nuisance. City Magistrate Krotel, who is noted for a characteristic brand of dry humor, occasionally manifested in attentions from the bench, turned a cruel shaft loose upon a pestiferous young attorney this week.

that every farmer out west has a car of his own—Muskegon Times. The colonel has given us a new word, "Chinaty." He doesn't want the United States Chinified. Queuetie word, isn't it?—Pontiac Press Gazette.

Although it may seem cruel to those concerned, we don't suppose it is contrary to international law for Germany to shave Russian prisoners.—Battle Creek Moon-Journal.

Those Blessed Socks. A very poignant story reaches Mr. Punch of London, indirectly from the trenches.

Double Crossed. A small boy seated on the curb by a telegraph pole, with a tin can by his side, attracted the attention of an old gentleman who happened to be passing.

It Was About Time. One evening the young minister who had seemed rather attracted by "Big Sister" Grace, was dining with the family.

An Extremist. Discussing the law against cigarettes with a group of actresses in New York, Douglas Fairbanks said: "I agree with you. When the cigarettes are extracted painlessly from the living bird—which, you say, is the new method—then this law against them becomes absurd."

Horse Laugh on Them. The story is told of two Trenton men who hired horse and trap for a little outing not long ago.

Worthy measures are frequently jeopardized by the efforts of those who have selfish ends in view to further them. It is a more difficult thing to do than to let things go.

The formal opening of the completed Northern State Normal building to the teachers of the upper peninsula and the attraction offered by the high standing of the speakers who have been engaged for it should make the twentieth annual meeting of the Educational association, in Marquette next month, the most significant it has ever held.

At Marquette there's a great ado because the posthouse is located between the dump grounds and a cemetery. Come to think about it, the county posthouse out from Marquette is in somewhat the same position, though, to be sure, the cemetery is abandoned.

Turks are charged with the massacre of 1,900 Christians. These thirteen months of war dispatches would not indicate that there were that many Christians in the world.—Detroit Journal.

They say out in Missouri that the farmers are "growing" mudholes just for the profit there is in pulling automobiles out of the mire. This report will tend to put a quietus on that dreadful canard.

Annapolis if he were not sustained, it is probable he asked for another detail. Annapolis loses a fine type of naval officer, and at a time when its need of him was greatest—that is a deplorable consequence of this affair. But there is some consolation in the thought that the man who as commander of the Marietta landed marines in 1907 at Trujillo on Cuba to protect Americans and served notice on Honduran revolutionists that he would permit no atrocities is under orders to raise his flag on the Pacific station as an admiral.—New York Sun.

EDITORIAL OPINION. Difficulties of Honesty. Governor Hiram Johnson of California values his own reputation for courage; so when the L. W. W. threatens to bring about a revolution unless two of its members, serving life sentences, are released, the governor announces that the convicts will stay where they are.

Worthy measures are frequently jeopardized by the efforts of those who have selfish ends in view to further them. It is a more difficult thing to do than to let things go.

The formal opening of the completed Northern State Normal building to the teachers of the upper peninsula and the attraction offered by the high standing of the speakers who have been engaged for it should make the twentieth annual meeting of the Educational association, in Marquette next month, the most significant it has ever held.

At Marquette there's a great ado because the posthouse is located between the dump grounds and a cemetery. Come to think about it, the county posthouse out from Marquette is in somewhat the same position, though, to be sure, the cemetery is abandoned.

Turks are charged with the massacre of 1,900 Christians. These thirteen months of war dispatches would not indicate that there were that many Christians in the world.—Detroit Journal.

They say out in Missouri that the farmers are "growing" mudholes just for the profit there is in pulling automobiles out of the mire. This report will tend to put a quietus on that dreadful canard.

THREE WEEKS OF FAIRS IN COPPER COUNTRY

Ontonagon Exposition Now on, Twin Counties Monday; at Houghton Last of Month.

The first of the three copper country fairs, that of Ontonagon county, opened at Ewen yesterday. It will be followed next week by the Twin Counties fair at Laurium and the following week by the Copper Country fair, the pioneer agricultural exposition of the district.

The Ewen fair is a growing exposition and it is this year a credit to its county and particularly to the bustling people of Ewen, with Dr. Florentine as the leader in the enthusiasm.

Secretary L. N. Haas and John T. McNamara, B. T. Berry and Ben F. Sparks, members of the fair committee of the Copper Country fair left last night to spend today at Ewen as a friendly delegation from the Houghton show.

Amphidrome Scene of Activity.
The Copper Country fair took possession of the Amphidrome this week and a force of carpenters, electrical workers and decorators is at work preparing the stages, the display booths and the various departments for exhibits.

Cy Evans, the Houghton electrical contractor, has the contract for the wiring. From now on the Amphidrome will be a scene of activity. The preparations for the reception of the exhibits and displays usually require two weeks.

Secretary Haas yesterday announced the sale of additional display space to the Albert Dickinson Seed company, of St. Paul, the Houghton County Gas company and the Villette Grocery company, of Chicago. The fair this year will have the greatest number of displays in its history.

Plans for Children's Day.
Thursday of fair week will be children's day, as usual, and as special attractions for that day Secretary Haas has arranged for the Houghton High School band and the Lake Linden Boy Scouts to attend. The band will play two concerts. The Boy Scouts will give exhibitions of scout craft and will also present a twelve-piece file and drum corps.

A "Better Babies" Show.
One former prominent feature of the Copper Country fair—the baby show—will be missed this year. The fair committee has decided that the baby show is a thing of the past in the form in which it was conducted heretofore. The plan of the fair was this year to conduct a "better babies" show but arrangements could not be made in time.

This show is one conducted under the rules of the National Child Welfare League and includes measurements and physical tests of the infants in order to determine their qualities from a scientific standpoint. The committee promises that this will be one of the big features of the show next year. It will be necessary to establish a creche, and to provide a physician and a corps of expert nurses for this feature.

S'MCRE DULUTH HOCKEY TALK.
Advent of a Hockey Player Seeking a Job Starts a New League.

If this thing keeps up there is going to be a whole lot of hockey in Duluth next winter. It is recalled that only this week Duluth announced that there would be no "big league" hockey in that city, that a city amateur league would be all the hockey Duluth would want.

And then a player named Wellington, of Port Arthur, drifted into Duluth, apparently looking for a job and the dean of Duluth's sporting writers at once saw in this fact a move to start a new Western league. Wellington's intentions were of learned it seems, probably because the Duluth reporter cannot talk his language.

Later in the same gossip it is stated that owing to the war there is not much prospect of hockey in Canada this winter and that the Whalens, a million, are Port Arthur shipping family, expect to take a lot of money to Chicago and there start a big hockey rink, which would be profitable in view of the past experiences with big hockey rinks in Chicago.

The reason for Wellington's departure from Canada also may be found, possibly, in his statement that a number lake bridge players have gone to the front and that he expected to be called at any time.

HOLDS DIOCESAN MEETING.
Rev. G. Mott Williams, of Marquette, Protestant Episcopal bishop of the upper peninsula, spent yesterday in Houghton for the purpose of presiding over a meeting of his diocesan board of missions. The board consists of Rev. J. A. TenBroeck, of Calumet, William Reid Cross, of Houghton, and W. C. Douglas, of Houghton.

BY AUTOMOBILE FROM L'ANSE.
Mr. and Mrs. Matt Hansen and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Siefert, of L'Anse-au-Loup, returned yesterday and were joined by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Krellwitz, of Houghton, Mr. and Mrs. E. O'Neil, of Hancock, and Miss Elsie McKernan, of Houghton, for an auto ride through Keweenaw county.

DIRECTORY OF THE SCHOOLS.
The Houghton public schools yesterday issued the annual calendar and directory, giving the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all teachers. Copies may be had at the superintendent's office.

TRAP SHOOTING TOURNAY.
The management of the trap shooting tournament at the Twin Counties fair will put up a number of special prizes, donated by various gun and ammunition concerns, with the other prizes.

THE MYSTERY IS SOLVED.
O. E. Servis, of St. Joseph, Mich., is the Good Will Farm Candy Man.

The mystery of the identity of the unknown benefactor of Good Will Farm, who promised by telephone to go out to the farm Saturday and make taffy for the kids, has been solved. It is learned that he is O. E. Servis, of St. Joseph, Mich., district deputy for the Maccabees of the World, who is here visiting copper country tents of that order.

Mr. Servis' visit to the copper country, in an official capacity, culminated last night, when, with the assistance of J. A. Patterson, of Marquette upper peninsula district deputy, he conducted in Calumet a joint meeting of the Calumet, Hubbard, Hancock and Houghton tent, in which four candidates from the four were initiated by the Calumet tent.

Mr. Servis made a little taffy at this meeting also.

FOR ANTI-SOCIALIST LEAGUE.
Liming Farmers Ask Hancock Club to Conduct a Meeting Sunday.

An invitation was accepted by the Hancock Anti-Socialist club yesterday to visit Liming, a flourishing copper country agricultural district, next Sunday. Some of the candidates for the anti-socialist doctrines in that community, Mayor Ojala, who will lead the excursion, is arranging for the speakers.

Until recently Liming was free from Socialist residents but lately a dozen new levitic speakers, candidates from the ranks of these men are radical Socialists. Their residence was of short duration before a campaign was opened to convert the "anti-reds" to the radicals' way of thinking.

DEVELOPMENT BUREAU GIVEN ADDED IMPETUS

R. M. Andrews, Back from California, Already Is Injecting New Life in U. P. Body.

Roger M. Andrews is back again as a result of the Upper Peninsula Development bureau is beginning to show more activity. Mr. Andrews, one of the organizers of the bureau, went from Menominee to California a couple of years ago. It is not being said that the bureau died as soon as he left, but it is said that when he came back the bureau began to feel the tonic effect of his presence.

Mr. Andrews was in Houghton yesterday. He was on his way home from a meeting held at the Spaulding Wednesday, at which the St. Ignace and Chippewa county businessmen were induced to take a more lively interest in the development bureau. He is going home in a round-about direction because he wanted to arrange similar meetings at Houghton and L'Anse.

Mr. Andrews has arranged for a meeting in the Baraga county seat the latter part of the present month. At this meeting several prominent directors of the bureau will make speeches. At Houghton, at the meeting of the upper peninsula group of bankers in mid-October, it is expected that the bureau will have speakers present to urge upon the bankers the desirability of giving the bureau aid and encouragement. Mr. Andrews had this arrangement in mind yesterday in coming to Houghton. He said yesterday that the Upper Peninsula Development bureau is growing more active and has a better prospect this year than ever before. He says also that the directors are confident the bureau can raise $25,000 for its purposes in 1916. That is the mark set and it is now pretty certain it will be reached.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.
Maki vs Isle Royale Continues to Keep the Court Engaged.

The circuit court again was occupied yesterday with the personal injury case of John Maki vs the Isle Royale Copper company, which suit opened Tuesday afternoon.

In this case Maki claims to have been injured in the Isle Royale stamp mill in 1911. The injury being such as to impair his speech and to subject him to frequent fainting spells. He alleged that he was struck on the head by the fall of a dumping bucket in the mill, where he was employed and the principal point in his contention is that the chain sustaining the bucket slipped and permitted the bucket to fall, thus fixing the negligence of the company.

The company's defense, stated briefly, is that Maki was injured through his own carelessness and that the supporting chain did not slip as alleged. The chain in question, or a similar one, was produced in court yesterday.

APPLY FOR NATURALIZATION.
Two Life-Long Americans Among the Number Seeking Papers.

John George, of Calumet, fifty-six years old, and Owen Tonsignant, of Houghton, thirty-two years old applied for citizenship in the county clerk's office yesterday. This is not a remarkable fact ordinarily but these cases are worthy of remark because these men have been almost life-long residents of the United States.

Mr. George, born in England, came to the United States with his parents when seven years of age. He knows no other country. Mr. Tonsignant came from Canada with his parents at the age of four years and has grown up in the United States. The fathers of their fathers to become naturalized makes these men, who are, to all intents and purposes, real Americans, go through the form of becoming citizens.

In each case the father of the applicant went no farther than to take out first papers, which, under the old law, entitled them to become naturalized. Mr. Tonsignant would have been naturalized automatically on reaching the age of twenty-one years.

Six applicants for citizenship were posted yesterday, to be heard at the January term of court. The list follows: Anton Sustarik, Austria—Calumet; John George, England—Calumet; Owen Tonsignant, Canada—Houghton; Sidney Skimer, England—Laurium; Wallace Lavarine, England—Laurium; Herman Sawlouto, Finland—Franklin.

APPROVES TARIFF COMMISSION.
Copper Country Commercial Club So Informs President Gross.

The Copper Country Commercial club has received from President Howard H. Gross, Chicago, of the Tariff Commission league, a request for an endorsement of the league's purpose, to promote the establishment of a permanent tariff commission for the purpose of taking the tariff out of politics. Secretary Price has advised President Gross that the club endorses the plan.

BOARD OF CONTROL MEETS.
Mining College Degrees for 1915 Are Conferred by Governing Body.

The annual meeting of the board of control of the Michigan College of Mines was held yesterday at the college. The principal business was the conferring of degrees on twenty-seven graduates of the class of 1915. The board also signed the diplomas for these graduates.

The full board was present, consisting of William Kelly of Vulcan, F. H. Begole of Marquette, M. M. Duncan of Ishpeming, James MacNaughton of Calumet and John W. Black and Dr. L. L. Hubbard of Houghton.

CLEARING DISORDERLY HOUSES.
Sheriff Cruse on Wednesday began an investigation of alleged disorderly houses in Hancock, places conducted clandestinely within the business district. He made one arrest, a woman with a police record, in one of the places visited. Other places that have come under suspicion in that city are to be visited also.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.
This is a medicine that every family should be provided with. Colic and diarrhoea often come on suddenly and it is of the greatest importance that they be treated promptly. Consider the suffering that must be endured until a physician arrives or medicine can be obtained. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has a reputation second to none for the quick relief which it affords. Obtainable everywhere.

It also is stated that a number of professional snappers will take part in the trap shooting program. They will not be eligible for prizes, however. Entries are expected from at least half a dozen rod and gun clubs of the copper country.

INSURANCE MAN ARRESTED.

Organizer, Hampden of Camels of the World in Trouble at Calumet.

W. R. Hampden, organizer of the Camels of the World, a national fire insurance society, which has, as a result of his activities, a membership of over four hundred in Houghton and about two hundred in Calumet, was arrested yesterday on complaint of some of the Houghton members, charged with a violation of the so-called Mobile law, for soliciting members in that city, a society not authorized to do business in Michigan.

Hampden's trouble grew out of the payment of the insurance of a member recently deceased. It was learned that the beneficiary would not receive from the Camels the amount believed to constitute the face of the policy and the members learned through this that Hampden had not represented to them the actual facts.

In the investigation resulting from this condition it was found that the Camels are not authorized to do business in the state of Michigan.

It is now believed that the action taken in Hampden's case will invalidate the insurance of about six hundred Camels in the copper country. The disposition of Hampden's case was not announced yesterday.

The circuit court again was occupied yesterday with the personal injury case of John Maki vs the Isle Royale Copper company, which suit opened Tuesday afternoon.

This is not a remarkable fact ordinarily but these cases are worthy of remark because these men have been almost life-long residents of the United States.

Mr. George, born in England, came to the United States with his parents when seven years of age. He knows no other country. Mr. Tonsignant came from Canada with his parents at the age of four years and has grown up in the United States. The fathers of their fathers to become naturalized makes these men, who are, to all intents and purposes, real Americans, go through the form of becoming citizens.

In each case the father of the applicant went no farther than to take out first papers, which, under the old law, entitled them to become naturalized. Mr. Tonsignant would have been naturalized automatically on reaching the age of twenty-one years.

Six applicants for citizenship were posted yesterday, to be heard at the January term of court. The list follows: Anton Sustarik, Austria—Calumet; John George, England—Calumet; Owen Tonsignant, Canada—Houghton; Sidney Skimer, England—Laurium; Wallace Lavarine, England—Laurium; Herman Sawlouto, Finland—Franklin.

Be "heating-ready" Early!

Do you own a home, or a property to rent or to sell which has been closed for many months past and which carries the stigma (known to many) "poorly heated?" If so, the first thing to do this Fall is to give the building a home-making, tenant-attracting value, by installing an outfit of

AMERICAN & IDEAL RADIATORS & BOILERS

Do it early—when the best artisans are not rushed and prices are favorable. Then you start right; and, as case may be, you insure to your folks, or to any renter or buyer, that the building is going to be warm for all winters to come—free of ashes and coal dust, with full money's worth from every coal bill. To a building formerly heated by old-fashioned devices an IDEAL-AMERICAN outfit adds something never there before, namely—an atmosphere that satisfies. You have an even, balmy, cleanly, generous volume of warmth in every room—always tempered to suit the varying needs of Spring, Fall and Winter. Our special SYLPHON Heat Regulators keep IDEAL Boilers automatically regulated; no over-heating and fuel waste, no under-heating and chilly rooms. You can have comfortable nights, pleasant mornings, cozy evenings—and perpetual freedom from fuel-extravagance or regulating the dampers.

IDEAL Boilers are built with grates, fire pots and heating surfaces which extract the most heat from all fuels—wood, oil, gas, coke, lignite, hard or soft coal—even run-of-mine, pea-coal, screenings, or slack. AMERICAN Radiators are made in every shape necessary for putting under windows, along walls, in corners, pantries, etc., and in special forms for ventilation. All are subjected in our special heating laboratories to highest tests for strength, durability and utmost heating results per pound of fuel burned.

A No. 4-10-W IDEAL Boiler and 270 sq. ft. of 38-in. AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $136, were used to heat this cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent Fitter. This did not include cost of labor, pipe, valves, freight, etc., which vary according to climatic and other conditions.

You can make no better building investment, for in IDEAL-AMERICAN heating everything is water-backed "iron-to-iron," no parts to wear out, rust out, or call for packing—no annual over-hauling or repairs bills. These economies, with fuel savings, pay dividends far better than money-in-bank at 6%. Whether in country or city, whether it is an old or new house, store, school, church, etc., write to-day for "Ideal Heating," free and worth reading—no obligations to buy.

WHALES ARE PLENTIFUL.

It is believed that a satisfactory explanation has been made at last of the numerous and various sightings of German submarines in Maine waters. Those U boats are whales—just plain whales. Recently the little coastwise steamboat Monahan, while on the passage from Portland to Royland, struck something that shook it from keel to smokestack and gave all hands a scare. Captain Archibald knew that he was in deep water, where never a rock or shoal had been charted, yet there was the big lump—so big that it shook a tray containing six dozen of eggs off the galley shelf and smashed them into a slippery yellow and white mess on the floor. The pilot glanced from the port window just in time to see something black and shiny rear itself into the air and dive. Whales! Sure! The monster had been asleep and was like a long, smooth rock just awash, right in the course of the Monahan. His carelessness cost the steamboat company about $1,500 for eggs and no one knows how much for true loss in vigorous remarks on the general subject. Two days later the steamship Calvin Austin, from St. John for Portland and Boston, struck another sleepy whale, somewhere off Martins. If it had been a head on collision that whale never would have known what struck him. As it happened, the blow was glancing, and the monster, visibly annoyed, dived to sleeping apartments where steamboats can't huff in. Not in twenty years has the Gulf of Maine seen so many whales as have come visiting in these waters this summer, and the only wonder is that more submarines had not been reported by nervous landlubbers. Bangor (Me.) correspondent New York World.

NEW GERMAN WATERWAY.
The Vistula river has been mentioned many times of late in the reports of the battles in Poland and the capture of Warsaw, the largest city on its banks. Now the German portion of the river furnishes an item which is worthy of note, although it is peaceful instead of warlike. For, although considerable work remains to be done before it is entirely completed, the waterway which connects the Vistula with the Oder has recently been opened to traffic. The following facts are given in a statement issued by the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.
"This new waterway, which takes the place of an older and much smaller one, is 182 miles long and consists almost entirely of canalized rivers. Starting at Custrin, a fortified city on the Oder some sixty miles almost due east of Berlin, it follows up the Warthe and Netze rivers, crosses the summit level by a canal seventeen miles long and then goes down the Brade, past the city of Bromberg, to the Vistula. It enters this river just at the point where its course changes sharply from northwest to northeast. Through this waterway boats carrying 450 tons can pass from Berlin to the seaport of Danzig and the city of Koeningberg.
"The statesmen of Germany, even in the midst of the greatest war in all history, with the empire fighting for its very life, are not only maintaining and

COLLEGE MEN'S REUNION. Attendance at Lake Michigan Gathering Will Be in Excess of 100.

Nearly 100 responses accepting the invitation to attend the college men's reunion at Lake Michigan Saturday have now been received, and the attendance will be something in excess of that number, which will bring it fully up to the expectations of the committee that planned the event.

Tickets are now being sold to the college men at Ishpeming, Negaunee and Marquette who have responded favorably, and it is expected that practically the entire party will journey to Lake Michigan on the special train that has been secured for the occasion. This train will leave Marquette at 8 o'clock Negaunee at 8:40, Ishpeming at 8:50 and will arrive at the lake at 9:45. There it will be only a short walk from the train to the vicinity of the large bungalow on the lake, where the picnic will be held, and which will be available for use if the weather is unfavorable at any time during the day, for the picnic is to be a "rain or shine" affair.

College men with athletic inclinations are urged to bring garments suitable for use in the sports, and also their bathing suits, for if the weather favors swimming contests will be part of the program. The meals will be served by Michigan caterers, and a band will accompany the party. Much interest is being taken in the event, and the representation of the older college men promises to be particularly good.

SYSTEMATIC BURNING. Would Do Much to Increase Blueberry Yield, Says W. D. McIntosh.

Thousands of acres of what is now practically worthless land in Chippewa county can be made to produce about $100 an acre each year without much work, according to W. D. McIntosh, of Marquette, route agent for the Western Express company, who was interviewed by the Soo News.

Mr. McIntosh advocates the extensive culture of blueberries on the vast plains of Chippewa county. If the plains were burned over this fall, the crop of blueberries next season, he declares, should average at least 100 cases to the acre, which means about $100 an acre. To have good crops of blueberries each year the plains must be burned over at least once in five years, he says.

This has been tried often and found to be true. In fact, scouts are sent out each year in advance of the opening of the season to find places where a fire swept the plains the previous fall, and it is there that many blueberry pickers locate. It is the plan of Mr. McIntosh to have the fire wardens supervise the burning over of lands, so that no ill-effects would result.

This year approximately $30,000 was added to the berry pickers in Chippewa county and the crop there was the best in the upper peninsula. It could be just as well increased to $200,000, declares Mr. McIntosh, with a systematic burning over of the lands. It is estimated by the Western Express man that about 40,000 cases in that county were destroyed by the early frosts.

There is always a ready market for blueberries, as the Western Express company looks after this in its own interest. Chippewa county blueberries were shipped as far west as the Dakotas this season.

PLEADS GUILTY. L. M. Prentice, ex-Postmaster, Charged With Embezzlement.

Indicted by the grand jury on the charge of embezzlement, Lloyd M. Prentice was arraigned before Judge Clarence Sessions in the United States district court here yesterday. He entered a plea of guilty. Sentence was deferred. Prentice was formerly postmaster at Gilchrist, Mackinac county. It was charged in the true bill returned by the grand jury that he had appropriated to his own use funds of the government amounting to $315.13, the pecuniations taking place in May, this year. The indictment contains two counts.

The court was occupied yesterday with the trial of the equity case of Maria H. Galloway versus Edwin G. Adams, a bill to quiet. The litigation concerns a dispute over the ownership of land near Crystal Falls. It is expected that the bankruptcy case of John W. Depew, an appeal from the decision of the referee in allowing the claim of Wm. E. Curran, will be reached by the court today.

The traverse jury is under instructions to report next Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Nels P. Mortensen, a Sault Ste. Marie man, who pleaded guilty to an indictment charging a violation of the immigration laws, has not yet been sentenced. He is confined to the county jail.

EXCURSION RATES. For the Chippewa County Fair at Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 20th, 21st and 22nd, the South Shore will have special round trip excursion fares. ROYAL GWENT CLUB HERE NEXT FRIDAY

Will Sing at Normal Auditorium Under Direction of Marquette Potato Congress.

Under the auspices of the Potato Congress officials of this city, the Royal Gwent singers will appear in the auditorium of the Normal State Normal school next Friday evening in concert.

The singers, fourteen in number, are Welshmen, although they come from Monmouthshire county, England, that region having been ceded by Wales many decades ago in compliance with a compromise bringing to an end a political quarrel of long standing between the countries.

Mr. Callanan said yesterday that the organization is a wonderful combination of male voices, consisting for the most part of robust basses and clear and well-pitched tenors.

Potato Congress Prizes $500.

A percentage of the proceeds of next Friday's concert will go into the treasury of the Potato Congress and will be applied to the payment of the prizes to be awarded at the upper peninsula potato exhibition to be conducted here shortly.

These prizes aggregate $500. The exhibition, which probably will be held in Barga Auditorium, is open to all potato growers in the peninsula.

SENTENCES PASSED IN CIRCUIT COURT

Judge Flannigan Disposes of Cases on the September Term's Criminal Calendar.

Yesterday was sentence day in the Marquette county circuit court. Culprits who had pleaded guilty to the charges against them or who, in one instance, had been convicted on trial before a jury were arraigned before Judge R. C. Flannigan during the afternoon and heard the court's decisions in regard to their cases.

John Hill and Arthur Ford, charged with burglary, were sentenced to prison, Hill for one to ten years, with one year recommended, and Ford for one to ten years, with two years recommended.

Samuel Korpi, charged with rape, a crime committed in the outskirts of this city, was given a prison term of ten to thirty-five years. The judge's recommendation is twenty years. Korpi was tried before a jury and was found guilty.

Ed Woods, alias Ed Sevigne, and Ellen Fisher, arrested for larceny, were released by the court. The pair had already passed seventy-five days in jail.

The case of Morgen Mowick, an alleged parole violator, was taken under further advisement. The case against Walter Bellmuer, accused of forgery, was passed until the next term.

Most of the session of the court yesterday was devoted to an airing of the election in Negaunee township last spring. Ralph Mackenzie, a former supervisor, contesting the apparent election of George Voskosky to that office.

ABSENT VOTERS' LAW.

Statute Permitting Them to Mail Ballots to Election Boards Now Effective.

Another new state law now in effect, which will make additional work for county, city and township clerks is the "Absent Voters' act."

Under this act voters who are absent from their voting precinct at elections may cast their ballots by use of the mail. It is expected the privilege will be taken advantage of largely by students and commercial travelers and also to some extent by soldiers.

SENIORS WILL TRY FOR GOLF HONORS

Their Eleventh Annual Tourney to Be Held at Rye, N. Y.—Other Sport Notes.

New York, September 12.—Now that the men and women golfers have completed their annual competitions for national titles the attention of the golfing fraternity all over the United States will be attracted to the eleventh annual Seniors' tournament which will take place next week on the links of the Apawamis Club, Rye, N. Y.

Among the competitors in this annual contest, which is a 36-hole medal play handicap, are to be found prominent jurists, lawyers, physicians, army officers, diplomats, financiers and leaders in commercial and other enterprises, the necessary qualification for each being the minimum age limit of 55 years.

One of the record football gatherings of the year is already assured for the Army-Navy game to be played in New York City on Saturday November 27.

The Denver club of the Western league has insured both players and umpires appearing at its park under the working man's compensation law.

Play will open in Philadelphia tomorrow for the thirty-fifth annual tournament for the Intercollegiate tennis championships in both singles and doubles.

Unless there are some eleventh-hour additions to the schedules there will be no eastern college or university football elevens seen in action at the Panama-Pacific Exposition field in San Francisco this season.

Autumn Opening Display of MILLINERY

DANGER IN THE GUN. Now as the fall hunting season approaches it is well to remember the danger that comes from careless handling of the gun.

"SOUTH OF PANAMA." "South of Panama" is a phrase which has a mighty significance. It means not merely geographical location.

DIGNITY AND AGE. The worst thing about age is that it seems to call for dignity. At least dignity has been fixed to age in such a manner that where one wears gray at the top and has not dignity, he is more or less repulsive to those with whom he comes in contact.

AMERICAN FAMILY SOAP. Clean Sweet Clothes! (No Stains or Repulsive Odors) If used in cold or warm water without boiling. Every Atom Cleanses.

General de Mauld's great popularity in the French army is attributed to the fact that he is a sport-advocate. He has contributed more than any other general officer to the development of athletics in the garrisons.

Play will open in Philadelphia tomorrow for the thirty-fifth annual tournament for the Intercollegiate tennis championships in both singles and doubles.

HIBBING MADE ATTRACTIVE TOWN

This Is One of the Reasons Residents Support Mayor Power in His Fight.

The fact that J. A. Preus, the state auditor, was seriously considering the advisability of cancelling the state mining leases held by the Oliver Iron Mining company and other corporations that have refused to pay their Hibbing taxes on the ground that Mayor Power's administration is extravagant is being explained to the residents of Hibbing, announced in The Mining Journal dispatches yesterday, in paying on their state lands.

A great majority of the people of Hibbing are said to stand behind Mayor Power, who has transformed the village from a rough mining camp to an up-to-date city. Nearly all of the improvements have been made within the past two years, and it is pointed out by the mayor and his supporters that after they are paid for the tax levies will be much lighter. If Hibbing had not been provided with up-to-date improvements there would, they say, be little left of the town after the mining companies finished taking out the ore. Some of the companies have extended their open pit operations right up to the edge of paved streets.

Hibbing has some of the most beautiful parks in Minnesota, and its schools and other city buildings, fire department and police equipment could not be better. It has a street washing auto machine that cost $3,000. Hibbing also has a beautiful and complete greenhouse and a city market. The latter has not yet been used. The town has more white way than the city of Cincinnati.

Relative to Mr. Preus' attitude on state leases, a press dispatch from St. Paul says:

"J. A. O. Preus, state auditor, has not said a word as to what action he would take on the latest letter received from Mayor Power of Hibbing, who apparently is trying to force the auditor to compel payment of $750,000 by mining companies at Hibbing."

"But Mr. Preus has been doing a whole lot of thinking, as a fact which leaked out yesterday showed."

"Mayor Power suggested to the auditor that he cancel the leases of the ore companies because of failure to pay their taxes. A provision in the leases allows this, as pointed out by Mayor Power."

"That Mr. Preus, despite his reticence on the subject, has been considering cancelling the leases became evident when it was learned that he has asked and received an opinion from Attorney General Landon. Smith as to whether or not the mining companies could pay their taxes within the twenty-day limit, and thereby defeat any action by the state looking to cancellation of its contracts with them."

"The state is compelled to give twenty days' notice that it intends to cancel the leases."

"Mr. Smith told the auditor that the mining companies could pay their taxes before the expiration of the twenty days of grace. With this information in his possession, Mr. Preus will be able to tell the mining companies that he will cancel the leases and give them twenty days to pay up without the ore being seized or a fight in the courts started."

"Mr. Preus also showed the trend of his thinking when he asked the attorney general if he could cancel the leases without the twenty days' notice. It was informed that he could not do so."

Champion Bear Trappers.
 Albert Rivet and David Murray, of Spaulding, are rapidly getting reputations as the champion bear trappers of the district. Within two weeks they have captured alive two large black bears that have been sold to Victor Johnson and added to the Johnson menagerie at North Escanaba. The two men have constructed three heavy steel cages that have been placed in the woods eight miles from Spaulding. The bears are baited to the spot where the cages are laid and fed there for a few nights without molestation. When the animals have become used to the presence of the cages the bait is placed inside and fastened to a trigger, which, when pulled, allows a heavy door to fall, imprisoning the animal.

May Build Cheese Factory.

There is considerable talk among the farmers of the Twin Falls district, the vicinity of Pine Creek and Rosenville, Dickinson county, about the advisability of building a cheese factory at Twin Falls. A meeting of the farmers was held at Twin Falls last week and the matter discussed. It was decided to have Mr. Raven, field expert of the Michigan Agricultural college at Lansing, come here and address the farmers on the project. Previous to last week's meeting Samuel Jenkins was appointed by the farmers of the districts named to go to Stiles Junction, Wis., and inspect the cheese factory there. He visited that place and obtained a very favorable report. Mr. Jenkins gave his report at the meeting held at Twin Falls. It is said that the cost of building and equipping a cheese factory such as the one at Stiles Junction would run between $1,700 and $2,000. There are about seventy-five farmers in the districts named and it is figured that if each of them would purchase stock to the extent of $25 or so such a factory could be built.

Algonquin Mill Destroyed.

Fire thought to be incendiary origin totally destroyed the mill and machinery of the Peninsula Park & Lumber company at Algonquin. R. J. Clark, general manager of the company, places the loss at $75,000, which is partly covered by insurance. The flames were discovered at 12:15 p. m. after they had gained considerable headway. By the time the fire department arrived the mill itself was beyond hope of saving. A hose line was run from a city hydrant some distance away and several streams from the tug Schenck kept the flames from spreading. The mill, which contained

HOWE'S TRAVEL FESTIVAL.

Famous Motion Picture Company to Present Program Here Wednesday.

Lyman H. Howe's travel festival, which for the past few years has been playing successful engagements at the Ishpeming theater, will be at the attraction next Wednesday evening. Mr. Howe is presenting a complete new program. Among his many interesting pictures are the Parks of Paris, showing the playgrounds of the Parisians, including the Bois de Boulogne, the Gardens in the Champ de Mars, the Parc Monceau, and others.

Mr. Howe also shows the steel industry in France. This picture will appeal strongly to upper peninsula people who are interested in mining. It shows the conveying of iron waste by monster magnets, lifting molten metal into iron vats, the Bessemer process of making steel, converters carrying sixteen tons of molten metal and the transformation of the ingots into steel rail.

The porpoise fisheries is another interesting picture. It shows a catch of a big school, Norway and Sweden are shown, including a trip across Norway from Christians to Bergen, and the Trollhattan Falls, Sweden. Another extremely interesting picture is entitled "After the Day's Work," which is a portrayal of elephants in their leisure moments.

A feature of the Howe program this season is a trip through the Panama canal. These pictures were taken upon authority of Hon. Lindley M. Garrison, secretary of war, and they are said to be by far the most interesting pictures of the canal ever filmed. They include two reels. The Panama exposition at San Diego, Cal., is also shown, with all of the leading features of the big show.

Other pictures show interesting scenes in Holland and Belgium. They include a boat ride through the canals of Belgium, Belgium, past stately and time honored edifices and underneath the noisy bridges from which the city derives its name. From Holland the spectators are taken to Belgium, where they are shown portrait studies of H. J. Landers of all ages, robed in all colors of the rainbow.

Another picture of particular interest at this time is the United States submarine flotilla at Pensacola, Fla. These pictures were taken at the recent maneuvers of the submarines at that point.

Mr. Howe is, as usual, showing a number of excellent comedy pictures, which are interspersed through the program. He is repeating "Our Baby," as a result of innumerable requests.

First complete showing of ladies suits and coats today at Braastad.

Upper Peninsula

Boy's Jaw Broken.

Clyde Gill, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gill of Garnet while running in the gear of the sweeper of a hay press at Manistique had his jaw bone broken, when a bolt worked loose and the long arm of the sweeper swung back with terrific force and struck him in the mouth. The driver noticed that the bolt on the sweeper was working loose, but as it was a few minutes before noon he thought he would make a few more rounds before tightening it. He did not notice the boy.

Threatens Loss of Franchise.

Despite the fact that late tests made of the gas furnished by the Sault Ste. Marie Gas & Electric company, by the city and a chemist for the company, shows that there is still a decided variation in the results obtained, the Soo council gave notice that unless the gas tests 600 British thermal units, steps would be taken to repeal the company's franchise. Tests made by R. E. Saunders, chemist at the Union Carbide plant, show that on September 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13, the gas averaged about 595 British thermal units, while the required standard, according to the franchise, is 600. The ordinance committee was given authority by the council to make frequent tests of the gas and to take further action if the gas falls below the standard. James Trimble, vice president and general manager of the gas company, submitted a communication to the council in which he emphatically states that it would be impossible to manufacture and distribute the grade of gas as shown by Mr. Saunders' first tests, which were around the 400 mark for British thermal units. He states that he is satisfied Mr. Saunders is not correct. R. B. Mansell, chemist at the Algoma Steel plant, who made the tests for the gas company, informed the council that he is positive his tests are correct. He stated, as did Mr. Trimble, that by the use of a calorimeter it would be possible to check up the first tests made by Mr. Saunders. On August 31, Mr. Saunders and Mr. Mansell both took samples of gas from the same place and at the same time. Mr. Saunders' test showed the gas to stand at 595 B. T. U., while that of Mr. Mansell showed the gas to be 615 B. T. U. The former used a Morehead apparatus in making the analysis, while the latter loys 100 men, had not been in operation this year, nor was there any fire in the boiler. Mr. Clark is inclined to believe that the mill was set on fire, although he knows of no reason why such an act should be done. A north-west wind which was blowing at the time of the fire, was the only thing which saved the hammer yards, stored timber valued at nearly $50,000 in value. Sparks, however, did fall on the McKinley school building at Algonquin, starting a small fire on the roof, which was quickly extinguished. Mr. Clark announced that he was almost certain that the mill would be rebuilt, as the company still had timber to cut. How soon this would be done he could not say. There has been no-one employed in the mill this summer and the employees in the yards will not be thrown out of work by this disaster.

GOULD PUSHES FIGHT ON INCOME TAX ON ALIMONY

New York, Sept. 16.—Rather than pay an income tax on his wife's $39,000 yearly alimony, Howard Gould has decided to appeal to the United States supreme court for relief.

He filed today in the county clerk's office an order signed by Justice Hughes, of the United States supreme court, calling upon Kathryn Clemons Gould to show cause October 6, why a writ of error should not be issued.

If this writ is granted Mr. Gould will present to the highest court for decision the question as to alimony being "income" within the meaning of the federal income tax law. At present in this state alimony is not regarded as "income" within the meaning of this law, because Justice Hendrick denied Mr. Gould's right to deduct the income tax from his wife's alimony and the appellate division of the supreme court sustained Justice Hendrick's ruling.

In September, 1909, Mrs. Gould obtained a decree of separation and $3,000 a month alimony. In 1914, Mr. Gould deducted $210 from her alimony payments to meet the income tax on her allowance. She sued him for the amount deducted and Justice Hendrick granted a judgment for $212.19.

CLARK CALLS ROOSEVELT "AMERICAN TO THE CORE"

Hannibal, Mo., Sept. 16.—Speaker Champ Clark in a talk here at the opening of the ninth annual convention of the Missouri Association of County Highway Engineers, declared that Theodore Roosevelt was an "American to the core."

"I am not talking Democratic politics, I know I am not going to discuss Republican politics, but I am very fond of the chief Bull Moose, Colonel Roosevelt," said Clark.

"He knows a little about more things than almost any man in the country, and is not measly mouthed."

Speaker Clark said he was opposed to "Peace at any price."

On the other hand he said he was "against bankrupting the country to build battleships."

RUSH OF ORE.

Movement from Head of Lakes Will Be Limited by Vessel Tonnage.

From Duluth and the iron ranges it is reported that the movement of ore to eastern ports will be limited for the remainder of the season only by vessel tonnage. Steel manufacturers will require all the raw material that can be transported. The movement from the Minnesota ranges has been heavy, and it is said that practically every car available on the ore carrying roads is in use.

Eastern Pennsylvania furnaces are reported to have been buying Lake Superior iron ores more freely during the last few weeks. Several transactions, involving large tonnages, have been closed, an interesting statement in that connection being to the effect that one consumer has doubled the amount of a previous large order.

It is said that with the ocean freight situation as it is, Argentine iron ore cannot be brought in upon a competitive basis with iron from the Mesabi range, and that condition is thought likely to continue as long as the war lasts.

GWENT CHORUS TONIGHT.

It is led by David Johns.

"THE LIFE CHAIN"

Eighth Episode of "Romance of Elaine" to Be Shown Tonight.

"The Life Chain" is the title of the eighth episode of "The Romance of Elaine," which will be included in tonight's program at the Ishpeming theater. Another picture to be shown tonight is "The Little Dolls Dressmaker," a two-reel drama, in which Lillian Walker and several other favorites appear. Electric & Co., will be the vaudeville attraction.

The story of "The Life Chain" is as follows:

The plans of Marcus Del Mar, a foreign agent engaged in mining America's harbors and bridges, have been sorely interfered with by Elaine Dodge. Del Mar engages Mme. Lorenz, an adventuress posing as a dressmaker, to help him. Under pretext of showing Elaine some gowns Mme. Lorenz gets her to her rooms in the Hotel St. Germain. There, Elaine is overcome by the waiting Del Mar, and spirited away in his automobile to a deserted house in the woods.

But a mysterious naturalist constantly on Del Mar's trail tracks them, and after a stealthy reconnoitre in which he uses his pocket periscope to good advantage, he manages to free Elaine. She is chased by Del Mar and his men however, and only succeeds in escaping by jumping into a canoe and braving a well-curved Del Mar fires at her from shore and breaks her paddle, thereby ruining her chances of escape. As she is swept down the stream, toward the waterfalls and certain death, the mysterious naturalist and Jameson form a human chain and, swinging out over the stream, rescue her as the canoe goes sweeping on to the rocks below.

Lower State Notes

MUSKEGON—After being in charge of a guardian, C. G. Churchill of Shelby, Mich., for two years past, Edward Kinney, 82 years old, now living at the Delmar hotel, has again been placed in charge of his property by Probate Judge F. W. Van Wickham at Hart, Mich. In 1913, through the effort of his son, whom he charges with an effort to tie up his property in such shape that the younger man may secure all of it upon the father's decease, Mr. Churchill was appointed guardian, the petition having been made by Roy Kinney, also of Muskegon, who was defeated in his purpose at the second hearing as to the elder Kinney's sanity. The elder Kinney owns a big farm near Hart, two houses in Shelby and receives a big pension for noteworthy service in the Civil war.

His son claims he is mentally incompetent, but following an exhaustive examination by Probate Judge Wickham it was found by that court that the aged veteran was well informed as to the condition of his property and was able in every way to handle it with discretion.

DETROIT—Clinging to a ledge near the top of the Henry Clay apartment hotel on Center street, ten floors above the ground, Clarence W. Arnold, a Philadelphia real estate man, furnished a thrill for thousands of spectators below while flames were shooting from the roof and sides of the building. Mr. Arnold was in his room when the fire broke out. Noticing an odor of smoke he opened his door only to be greeted by dense stifling fumes. Thinking that all means of exit had been cut off he climbed from his window on the narrow ledge skirting the building until he reached the parapet, to which he clambered in safety.

EATON RAPIDS—To gather accurate information as to how serious the damage to the bean crop in this section really is, as a result of the rains and generally bad weather, thirty-seven well known farmers, residing principally in Eaton county, but some of whom reside in Ingham and Jackson counties, have been interviewed as to the standing of their own bean crops at this time. Only four said they would have better than a 50 per cent yield, while the other thirty-three placed their yields from 50 per cent down to nothing at all, and some of them are waiting for the ground to dry up so that they can get onto it and plow the beans under and sow the fields to wheat.

LANSING—Sumner P. Hinkley, arrested in Chicago on a forgery charge, is the most wanted man in Michigan. Once a prisoner in Ionia reformatory, released by the pardon board, he is said to have forged checks totaling $5,000; that he defrauded the state on a binder twine contract with Jackson prison; involved a former member of the board of pardons, then defied the public and private detective forces of the country to catch him for two months; and other counts against him. In 1911, Hinkley was arrested for false pretenses in Grand Rapids. He was sentenced to Ionia reformatory from one-half to 10 years. In December, 1914, he was discharged. During his incarceration at Ionia he was a model prisoner and won the friendship of Dr. Karl Brucker, of Lansing, then physician at the reformatory, later a member of the advisory board of pardons. Hinkley came to Lansing, where Dr. Brucker took an especial interest in him. He organized what was known as the Manufacturers' Distributing bureau. The bureau was to buy in large lots many things in the notion line, getting a wholesale price by sharing his commission. Hinkley was able to underbid the jobber. His business grew to such an extent that he incorporated it. Dr. Brucker was one of the men to whom he sold stock, also Dr. L. S. Yeates, who succeeded Dr. Brucker at the Ionia reformatory.

Brucker was made president of the company and Yeates vice president. About the first of July Lansing bankers became suspicious of Hinkley's alleged kiting of checks. On July 2, a check for $341 which he had deposited in the Capital National bank here, drawn on a Seattle bank, to Hinkley's order, came back dishonored. Hinkley promised restitution. On July 15 Hinkley disappeared. A warrant was issued against him, signed by John P. Whitman, the cashier of the bank.

DETROIT—Attorney Hal H. Smith appeared before Judge Arthur J. Tuttle on the reopening of the federal court for the fall term and inquired if the judge had yet determined on what date the Pere Marquette railroad would be sold. That those interested in the sale might be stimulated to action, he asked that he be permitted to write to the consolidated mortgage holders, who, it is expected, will bid the road in, and ask them to report to the judge on the matter. This request was granted. Mr. Smith is attorney for the underlying bondholders and wants the road disposed of so that his clients will get their money. Mr. Smith also obtained a continuation of the temporary injunction restraining state officials from enforcing the blue sky law against a number of corporations selling stock in the state. The continuation was professionally. There probably is no system which can eliminate the human element and as long as that exists there will be danger of mistakes. However, if there can be improvements in the present system they should be made. Unfortunately as it may seem, great disasters seem necessary to stir up public sentiment for radical changes from established systems in this country.

BLOOD TEST FOR BABIES.

Dr. Charles A. Zell, a veterinary surgeon, Chicago, told a section of the American Veterinary Medical association at Oakland, Cal., that blood tests of the sort customary among physicians in establishing various diseases, also may be used for the immediate determination of rabies in lower animals or in human beings bitten by them. By this test, he said, he could determine at once whether Pasteur treatment should be given.

THE GRANDEUR OF OLD OCEAN.

Victor Herbert tells of a young woman from Wisconsin who came to visit relatives in an eastern city not far from Newport. The young woman had never seen the sea, and, of course, was very anxious to do so. The relatives took her to Newport, and as they stood on the white sand of Bailey's beach gazing dreamily out over the vast blue expanse of the Atlantic one of the party said to the visitor: "So, Jennie, this is the first time you've ever seen the sea?" "Yes," replied the young westerner, "it is the very first time."

"And," queried the other, "what do you think of it?" "Ah," she replied, with a long in-drawn breath and an ecstatic smile, "it smells just like oysters!"—Green Book Magazine.

"SEPTEMBER MORN" PLEASURES.

Wellknown Musical Comedy Presented Last Evening by Excellent Cast.

"September Morn," the tuneful and fascinating comedy, pleased a large audience last evening at the Ishpeming theatre. The production, presented by Messrs. Martin and Lemie, can best be described as a masterpiece of fervid frivolity. As a cure for the blues or a chronic grouch it is probably ahead of anything that has been seen in the city during the past theatrical season. The music and jokes were new and snappy, and many amusing situations thronged out the piece kept those in attendance in a continual roar of laughter. The company was extremely well balanced, each performer doing his "bit" with a confidence which gave no intimation of weak spots. Every member of the cast, and suffering from the heat and humidity of the most productive portions of their country, still clung hopefully to the promise which Russia had held out to them at the beginning of the war. But with the gradual encroachment of the German armies, this assurance has wavered—not so much because they doubted Russia's good faith as because they questioned her ability to enforce the Grand Duke's proclamation. With the loss of this waning hope, which alone lifted Russian Poland out of absolute despair, has expired.

An Associated Press correspondent talked with representative Poles of all classes from the aristocracy to the peasantry, as they fled from Warsaw to interior points in Russia. The uppermost feeling was one of ill-concealed resentment against the Russians.

In the recent retreat from the region around Warsaw, the Russian army, having learned a lesson from Lodz, were the resources of the city were converted to German use, decided upon a policy of destroying all property, about whose retention the Germans there was the slightest question. It was hardly to be expected that the Poles, homeless, penniless, and without any idea of where or how they were going to live, would preserve a judicially calm view of this action by the Russian army. Explanations regarding "strategic necessity" failed to impress men who had just seen their own homes razed by the Russian army and had received printed proclamations to the very phrasing of which they considered an insult. This proclamation brusquely stated that "Polish cattle and men must immediately leave the regions along the front for points in the interior."

These wretched persons said that the Russian soldiers in their zealous execution of the orders they had received had left nothing behind them except a blackened and scarred landscape whose very soil was ruined.

Polish resentment has been increased by the reports of Germany's offer of peace to Russia, according to the terms of which Russia would cede a narrow strip of Poland in the neighborhood of Kalisz to Germany. "In this settlement," say the Poles, "Russia would lose nothing and Poland would lose everything for this would bring Germany one step nearer to her plan of Germanizing the Vistula which would mean the death of Poland as a nation. It seems that Poland is not only to be the chief sufferer in the war, but that she is to constitute the prize which Russia is to pay to Germany."

Commission Is Deadlocked.

In view of the present geographical boundaries of Poland, and the state of Polish feeling, the continuance of the session of the Russian-Polish commission appointed by the Emperor to consider the question of Polish independence has the qualities of tragedy and farce almost equally combined. The commission has apparently come to a deadlock, since the kind of independence which Poland wants and the kind which Russia sees fit to offer are, if not directly opposed, at least so remote from each other as to have little in common.

"I can see little hope of an agreement between the Russian and Polish members of our commission," said Roman Dmowski, the Polish chairman of the commission and former leader of the national Democrat party of Poland, in a statement to the Associated Press.

"I have been asked by the Russian Emperor to give my views regarding the Polish government of the future, and I would be insincere and unrepresentative of my country if I modified them to suit the Russian members of the commission. If a compromise is necessary, it is certainly not my duty at this time to suggest it. You may be assured on one point. Poland will never be satisfied without a proper degree of independence."

Asked to explain his idea of a proper degree of independence, Mr. Dmowski said:

"I mean a Polish legislature with both houses wholly Polish, complete financial independence, and the end of Russian officialdom in Poland. This is a concession Russia will never care to make, for Poland has been a most inviting garden for exploitation by Russian officials.

Russian Officials Intolerable.

"It is the presence of Russian administrative officials which we find particularly intolerable. Poland knows that she can never realize her ideals as a pro-

Believe Best Hope for Their Future as a Nation Lies With the Slavic People.

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 15.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Whatever military strategists may decide is the actual importance of the Russian loss of western Poland and the fall of Warsaw, by the Poles themselves it is regarded as nothing but the bitterest tragedy. Six months ago, the Russian Poles, in spite of their losses and suffering, had not yet realized the complete devastation of the most productive portions of their country, still clung hopefully to the promise which Russia had held out to them at the beginning of the war. But with the gradual encroachment of the German armies, this assurance has wavered—not so much because they doubted Russia's good faith as because they questioned her ability to enforce the Grand Duke's proclamation. New York, Sept. 16.—Mrs. Cecil M. Virginia Davis, of Brooklyn, filed a suit for $150,000 against Robert M. Eastman, of 330 Hamilton avenue, Chicago, in supreme court this afternoon, alleging assault.

Mrs. Davis charged that on May 3, 1914, she met Eastman in New York, and he described himself as a patron of art and promised to "improve her condition" if she came to Chicago. He represented himself as a wealthy man and she alleges she went to a hotel where, against her wishes, he forced himself into her room and assaulted her.

Mrs. Davis, in her complaint, said she had been separated from her husband and a reconciliation had been effected, but that the husband heard of the alleged Chicago incident and sued her for divorce in April, 1915, in Kansas City, Mo. The divorce was granted. Justice Finch granted an order to serve Eastman by publication.

URGES NATION TO PREPARE DEFENSE
Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 16.—In a signed article in the Grand Rapids Press today, Charles R. Sligh, former mayor of Grand Rapids, president of the Sligh Furniture company, and a prominent Democrat, urges "measures for adequate national defense."

Mr. Sligh served at the Plattburgh military instruction camp and learned, he says, of the weakness of the nation's present defenses.

"A searchlight sent by the government to Plattburgh to be used for instruction in casting searchlights on the enemy's works and operations, is the only one of its kind owned by the government," says Mr. Sligh. "There is a desperate shortage of field artillery. One army officer said that all field artillery owned by the states only three batteries are fit for service."

"If Germany wins the present war, she will next turn on this country."

EMBARGO ON TRADE WITH ENEMY PUZZLES

British Regulations in Chinese Sphere Are a Cause of Much Confusion.

Peking, August 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Endless complications have been caused here by the prohibition against "trading with the enemy" when Great Britain is trying to enforce among the British firms in China. For months corporations which have had German affiliation have been organizing and adjusting their business so as to come within the requirements of the regulations against trading with Germans and Austrians.

American interests have already been considerably affected by the new order, and many American concerns are all at sea as to how they will meet the new regulations. English officials, in some cases, have insisted that American concerns took over German goods in order to enable the German owners to escape the new regulations. At Shanghai and other ports American concerns have been unable to get space in British ships for certain shipments. In some cases they were told by English officials that under the exigencies of war the English lines ceased to be common carriers. However, the later explanation of the refusal to carry such goods was that English ships have more English freight than they can carry, and this statement is substantiated in many cases by actual port statistics.

The British minister, Sir John Jordan, has issued a four-page pamphlet, setting forth fully the regulations against trading with the enemy of Great Britain and her allies. Like most legal documents, this is difficult of interpretation and application to the complex conditions which exist in the Chinese cities where there is extra-territoriality. The confusion arising from the regulations is comparable to that caused by the income tax law in America. English citizens have found great difficulty in applying the terms of the regulations to the complex business conditions of the Far East. The regulations are extremely broad in that they prohibit the payment of any sum of money to an enemy or "for the benefit of the enemy." They also forbid an English subject to act in any way "on behalf of an enemy" in any sort of financial operations. They prohibit Englishmen from directly or "indirectly" supplying goods to an enemy or "for the benefit of the enemy." Such a great leeway is permissible in the interpretation of these regulations that Englishmen connected with firms which have had any sort of business relations with German, Austrian or Turkish concerns have called frantically upon their consuls and legations for a decision on transactions in which they had a part.

In the enforcement of the new regulations upon small business concerns many absurd situations have arisen. At Tientsin, for example, a German baker and confectioner was forced to close up

MRS. LYON'S ACHES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. Augustus Lyon, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the grandest remedy for women's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for women's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

gressive nation while she is being held back by a primitive, eastern civilization. Our civilization is a western civilization and to subject it to the standards of Russia, or the caprices and methods of their primitive officials is absurd.

"It must not be inferred, however, that Poland's resentment against Russia is accompanied by a growing sympathy with Germany. Whatever may be Poland's troubles under Russian rule, she realizes that German rule would mean the funeral of the Polish nation. We admire a great many things in Germany and under German rule western Poland has been much more prosperous than while it was in Russian hands. The revenues are now higher and the people as a whole are better off financially. It is also true that our kinsman in German Poland have acquired a high state of culture and that in agriculture they have even surpassed the Germans themselves.

"So perhaps from a financial point of view we would be better off under German rule, but this consideration will have to be buried.

"Poland is therefore still turning to the allies for the realization of her independence. Though at present she is utterly helpless, financially wrecked, torn and destroyed by a war in which Pole is forced to fight against Pole, if she emerges an independent nation, her sacrifices will not have been in vain."

A forty-foot deposit of colemanite, the source of borax, is reported to have been discovered at a depth of 370 feet by ranchmen drilling for water, about four miles from Rich station, in the Kramer district, San Bernardino county, Cal.

Saving Is a Sensible Proposition

The First National Bank does not believe in trying to scare people into saving money. Systematic thrift is such a common sense thing that it ought to appeal to every sensible person.

But it is human nature to forget and to procrastinate, so we believe in reminding people of their duty to save a portion of income regularly, and call attention to the fact that this bank provides a strong place for savings, and pays 3 per cent interest.

STOCK TRADING BROADER, BUT STILL IS RESERVED.

New York, Sept. 16.—Stocks moved tentatively upward today on a moderate volume of operations in which specialties figured to the usual large extent. Trading was a trifle broader, however, in that it embraced a greater number of issues than have recently been quoted. Foremost dealings showed numerous losses, ranging from one to two points with more pronounced reactions in the war shares. This condition was partly readjusted later in the session when prices hardened. Railway shares continued to lag far behind the specialties and industrials. There appeared to be little or no inquiry for these issues from speculative sources, while investment demand remains light, despite the favorable crop prospects.

BOSTON COPPERS.

Boston, Sept. 16.—There was not much action in coppers. The metal sales in New York are largely with domestic consumers. It is generally believed short sellers both here and in London have been caught under these conditions. No lot up is expected in the buying—Fitzgerald, Hubbard & Co.

Ishping, Sept. 16.—It seems as if not a day passes but some of these war stocks make a sensational advance. Today it was Colorado Fuel & Iron, which advanced from a low on the opening at 90 1/2 to 54. The list generally was reactionary. Good opinions on the market differ, some advising extreme caution, especially in the war stocks, while others say that the loan of the allies will be more of a success than expected and this will bring about a sharp advance. The talk today was that the loan would be for $500,000,000 guaranteed by England, France and Russia and bear 5 per cent. The coppers were fractionally lower in sympathy with the New York list. The porphyry companies and Butte & Superior sold ex-dividend today. J. A. Miner & Co. Minnar & Co. report the day's closing prices as follows:

HENRY HEISEL LONG RESIDENT OF COUNTY

Wellknown Negaunee Man Passed Away Yesterday Morning—Was Injured in Mine.

Henry Heisel, a resident of Marquette county for over forty years, died yesterday morning at the Newberry state hospital, where he has been a patient since July 4. His death was unexpected, as he had only been sick for a few days with pneumonia, relatives being notified of his illness Wednesday evening by a nephew, Otis Rule, who went to Newberry yesterday morning upon learning that his condition was serious.

Mr. Heisel, who was fifty-three years old, came to Negaunee with his parents when he was a boy and made his home here and at Ishping practically all of his life. He was one of the best known saloon and restaurant men in the upper peninsula, and for fifteen years previous to last May he conducted a saloon in the Freibish building, on Iron street. The business being taken over by his nephew, Otis Rule. He had been in the saloon business at Ishping and Negaunee on and off for over thirty years. He worked for a number of years at the Nelson house at Ishping.

For twenty-eight years Mr. Heisel was totally blind in one eye and the sight of the other was growing impaired. His condition was the result of an injury caused by an explosion of powder while he was working at the Rolling Mill mine. He was totally blind for thirteen months after the accident. The late Morris Kelly, Jr., who was Heisel's working partner, was the one who caused the explosion, and for a long time it was feared that he would lose both arms.

Besides his widow and three step-daughters, the Misses Hilda, Esther and Elsie Tullberg, Mr. Heisel is survived by his mother, Mrs. J. Heisel, of Teal Lake, and two sisters, Mrs. Curtis and Mrs. John Rule, of this city, and two brothers, John, of Duluth, and Jacob, of Newberry. His mother is now seriously ill.

The remains were brought here last night on the midnight South Shore train and were taken to the home of Mrs. Carter Curtis on a cherry street. The funeral will probably take place Sunday afternoon. Mr. Heisel was a member of the German Aid society, the Eagles and the Order of Owls.

Plans are under way for the organization of a band at Republic, and a number of the town's best musicians have already offered their services. The band will consist of a membership of twenty-four. Sixteen of the members are experienced musicians, and a capable leader will be secured. Officers of the organization have been elected as follows: President, William Palo; secretary, Arthur Ulberg; treasurer, John Thornberg.

Special display of Castle Trimm'd Hats today at Braastads.

LOCAL LACONICS. Levine Bros. store will be closed Saturday until 6 p. m.

Walter Willman and John Rough, Jr., visited yesterday afternoon with friends at Marquette.

Miss Pearl Goodman is spending a few days visiting with her cousin, Mrs. Axel Senob, at Eagle Mills.

The college men's special train to Michigan tomorrow will leave the Negaunee South Shore station at 8:40 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Chaussee, who are making their home at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., where Mr. Chaussee has a contract to erect a high school building are here on a few days' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Goodman and son, Roy, Mr. and Mrs. William Jory and Mrs. William Madford, who came here to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Mary A. Goodman, have returned to their homes at Gwin.

The work of making alterations to the store building on Fourth street owned by Robert G. Jackson has commenced, and the place will soon be ready for occupancy by the Marquette County Gas & Electrical company.

Louis Houle, a member of the post-office force, departed last evening on a month's vacation trip to the exposition at San Francisco, Cal., and other points in the west. Herbert Anderson, the substitute carrier, will fill Mr. Houle's place during his absence.

Arrangements have been made for the appearance of the Royal Gwent Welsh singers at the high school auditorium on Saturday Sept. 25. The singers will appear under the auspices of the athletic department and the senior class of the high school. The admission will be fifty and thirty-five cents.

E. A. Bumgarner, director of the manual training school, will be one of the speakers at the annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Educational Association and Michigan State Teacher's Institute, which will be held in Marquette Oct. 6, 7 and 8. Mr. Bumgarner will speak in one of the section assemblies held in the afternoon, "Equipping a Manual Training School."

CLOSE FIFTY YEARS OF WEDDED LIFE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conway Observed Auspicious Occasion Here Yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conway, pioneer residents of the upper peninsula, observed their golden wedding anniversary yesterday at their home on Teal Lake avenue. They were married fifty years ago at Hancock. They came to Negaunee eight years after their marriage and have made their home here ever since.

Mr. and Mrs. Conway, who are seventy-two and seventy-one years old, respectively, are both hale and hearty. He is engaged in teaming, and drives the city sprinkler during the summer. Previous to taking up teaming, Mr. Conway worked as a miner at the Grand Rapids and Queen mines, until twenty-five years ago.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Conway and their children and a number of relatives and friends attended a high mass at St. Paul's Catholic church. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Conway and Mrs. John Hogan of Houghton, who was the bridesmaid, when they were married in 1865, were blessed by Rev. H. A. Buchholtz, the pastor. The best man at the wedding, who was Thomas Collins, of Hancock, has passed away.

An elaborate dinner, partaken of by relatives and immediate friends of the family, was served at noon yesterday at the Conway home. Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Conway, five of whom are now living. They are Martin, William and Miss Mollie of this city, Morgan of Anacostia, Mont., and Mrs. Charles Campaign, of Dighton, Mich. The late Mrs. Be Mator, the deceased daughter, died here a year and a half ago. Besides the five children Mr. and Mrs. Conway have seven grandchildren, namely: Frank and Sarah Mator, Elsie Nancy, William, Edward and Francis Conway, all of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Conway were presented with a purse of $65 yesterday as a present from relatives and were also the recipients of a number of other presents.

FILLING IN BRIDGE. Eighty-Five Ton Steam Shovel Being Used By South Shore Company.

Work was started yesterday by the South Shore filling in a bridge at the North Jackson location that crosses an abandoned road and has been maintained for over thirty years. The structure is used by both the South Shore and the Northwestern, and it is possible that when the portion over which the tracks of the former road pass is filled similar work will be started for the Northwestern company.

It will require about three days to make the fill, as it will be necessary to unload upwards of 200 cars of sand and gravel. Gravel from the abandoned North Jackson No. 7 mine was used yesterday and fifty car loads were hauled. Today the shovel will be moved to the Breiting mine and sand and rock will be loaded from cuts near the mine.

A steam shovel of the Bucyrus type, which weighs eighty-five tons and is one of the largest used in this section either in mining or railroad work, is being used on the job.

First complete showing of ladies suits and coats today at Braastads.

MAY PLAY MANIQUO. Yalmer Heimonen, manager of the Negaunee baseball team, yesterday received a long distance call from the manager of the Marquette team, who invited the Negaunee men to go there for a weekend series. Mr. Heimonen was unable to give a definite answer, as it was not known whether or not the members of the Negaunee team could all make the trip. If the series is played Ivar Swanson, the Breiting River captain, will again hold down first sack for Negaunee, as Adolph Fredrickson, the regular first baseman, is unable to play on account of an injured leg. "Doc" Enblom, of Ishping, will play shortstop for Negaunee. If the trip is arranged the players will leave here this evening.

Braastads Millinery Opening today. 18,000 LIBRARIES—75,000,000 BOOKS.

Statistics just compiled by the United States bureau of education show that there are more than 18,000 regularly established libraries in the United States, containing more than 75,000,000 volumes. This represents an increase of 20,000,000 volumes since 1908.

Of the 2,849 libraries containing 5,000 volumes or more, 1,844 are classified as "public and society libraries," and 1,005 are school and college libraries. Public and society libraries have an aggregate of more than 50,000,000 volumes, with 7,000,000 borrowed each in force; 1,446 of these libraries were entirely free to the public.

Libraries reporting from 1,000 to 5,000 volumes numbered 5,453, of which 2,188 were public and society libraries, and 3,265 school libraries. These libraries contained 11,680,942 volumes. Another group of still smaller libraries, comprising those that reported from 300 to 1,000 volumes, increased the total by 2,961,007 volumes.

The distribution of library facilities is still uneven. Of the 1,844 public and society libraries reported for the entire United States, more than half were in the North Atlantic states, and they contained 24,627,921 volumes out of the total of 50,000,000; and of the 3,000,000 volumes added to library collections for the year 1913, almost one-half were for the same section. New York state had 7,842,621 volumes in her 214 libraries; Massachusetts, 7,380,024 in 288 libraries; Pennsylvania, 3,728,070, and Illinois, 3,187,765 volumes. Four-fifths of the borrowers' cards in use were in the North Atlantic and north central states.—New York Times.

JAPANESE MINISTER IS FROM THE BANKS

Baron Ishii Has Made Envious Record in Diplomatic Service of His Country.

Tokio, August 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Baron Kikuro Ishii, ambassador to France, who has been named foreign minister, is a self-made man risen from the ranks. He knows considerable about the United States and what are known as the "American problems." In 1897 he was dispatched to San Francisco and also to Vancouver to study the anti-Japanese movements.

The coming of Baron Ishii does not mean the abandonment of Baron Kato, his predecessor. He is the most powerful man in the Japanese diplomatic service. That was his record at Paris where for several years he has sought to understand something of Western diplomacy so that his own country might profit. With patience especially he labored to place loans for his country in the markets of Paris and London.

Ishii was graduated with honors from the law college of the Imperial Tokio University in 1889 and the following year was ordered to France, being appointed diplomatic attaché. Later he was sent as consul to Genoa. During the Boxer trouble of 1900 he was in Peking as first secretary of the legation under Minister Nishi and afterwards was made chief of the section of telegraphs and then director of the bureau of commercial affairs in the foreign office. In 1908 he was promoted to vice-minister of the department under the late Count Hayashi, the then foreign minister, remaining at the post under the late Marquis Komura and Viscount Uchida who successively became foreign ministers. As vice-minister he was very popular with diplomats and with the press.

In August 1909, he was created Baron in recognition of meritorious services in connection with the annexation of Korea and the revision of commercial treaties with the powers. In 1912 he was appointed Ambassador to Paris. Baron Ishii was expected to leave France in the latter part of August and to assume his new duties in early October.

It is no secret that Baron Kato will continue to be consulted by the cabinet as to the foreign policy. The impression prevails at Tokio that Kato could have remained in the ministry, but he was nettled at the criticism of the way he handled the Chinese negotiations. His friends believe he will return to active power at a later period. In fact he is already being pushed forward as the right man to represent Japan at the peace conference which will follow the war.

1,000 OF 26,000 STAY IN WAR-RUINED ARRAS; CELLARS THEIR HOMES

Paris, Sept. 16.—The comparison made between some of the towns destroyed by war and the ruins of Arras is not applicable to Arras. Here there is no uniformity nor logic in the destruction. In the midst of groups of demolished edifices, houses are found nearly intact. In some cases the devastation began at the top, in others at the bottom, depending upon the point of explosion of the projectile.

The population of Arras, which was 26,000 before the war, dropped to 4,000 at Christmas, after two and a half months of bombardment, and was only 2,000 at Easter. In June there were still 2,500 people there, but 850 were persons, 100 persons suspected of piracy, and about 300 citizens whose presence was not useful have been sent away since. The 1,000 persons remaining have been able to justify their presence by some utility to the town. They are obliged to stick to the cellars; they sleep, eat and work there; what business goes on is transacted there.

"The fancy goods store is in the cellar." This sign, which has its counterpart in many places, is seen posted on the doorstep of one building. The use of shells emitting suffocating gas when they explode complicates cellar existence, by requiring the stoppage of the windows with sacks of lime. This has its own dangers, for the last thousand feet of the air, their greatest fear seems to be that the authorities will take them away forcibly. German aircraft are regularly circling over the town, and their appearance is generally a prelude to bombardment.

GIRL LEAPS TO HER DEATH FROM ROOF.

New York, Sept. 16.—In full view of scores of pedestrians in West Eighth street at the homeward rush this evening a well-dressed young woman poised for a moment on the edge of the roof of an eight-story loft building at 29 West Eighth street, and then leaped off. Gaspings of dismay burst from the mouths of the spectators as they saw her body shoot downward and disappear from sight behind a tall advertising fence guarding a lot just east of the building from which she had jumped.

Dr. W. B. Pritchard, of 143 West Seventy-second street, suspected immediately that the woman was Miss Elizabeth Fenley, thirty-one years old, who has been one of his patients for two months, during which time she has been living at the Hotel Majestic. The body was identified by a nurse as that of Miss Fenley. Miss Fenley was the daughter of Oscar Fenley, president of the Kentucky National bank of Louisville, and a director of the St. Louis Federal reserve bank. Miss Fenley two months ago came to New York to be treated for nervous disorder.

SPANISH TRADE IS RADICALLY CHANGED

Imports Fall Off and Exports Increase, but Special Problems are Created.

Madrid, Aug. 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The Monthly Statistical Review of the Foreign Commerce of Spain, a government publication, the current number of which has just been issued, is full of surprising information. It shows the most extraordinary ups and downs in Spain's foreign trade for a year, as compared with the period just antedating the war, generally speaking, the figures show a considerable diminution in importations and a very material increase in exportations during the first six months of 1915, as compared with the first half of 1914.

From January to June, 1914, Spain imported to the value of $114,642,000 (taking the peseta at its normal value of 8.193) while in the same period of this year the importations totaled $109,817,000—a drop of $4,825,000 for the half year. On the other hand, the exports for the first half year of 1914 were only $91,280,000 while this year the figure reached $121,204,000—a gain of $29,924,000 constituting an influx of $11,387,000 into the pockets of the Spaniards instead of a trade balance against them of $23,353,000, as was the case last year.

However favorable this may be for some of the Spanish population, it is nevertheless one of the moving causes of the present financial crisis in the government of the country, because it has worked a decrease in the customs receipts of from $20,458,000 to $13,124,000—a deficit in the assets of the government of $7,334,000 which it is forced to make up with more direct forms of taxing an already overtaxed people.

The decrease of imports does not, however, include certain raw materials, such as cotton and wool. The manufacture of cotton and woolen goods are two of the most important industries in Spain. Before the war there were about 70,000 cotton and about 9,000 woolen looms in Catalonia. To feed these in the first half of 1914 $14,668,000 of baled cotton was imported and $8,878 of plain, unwashed wool. Under the stimulus of the war, however, in the first six months of this year $27,559,000 of raw cotton and $1,447,500 of unwashed wool went into the country from abroad. Some idea of what became of this enormous increase of imports may be obtained from a glance at the increase of certain manufactured articles of these two classes of raw materials. For example, the exports of white cotton cloth in the first six months of each year have jumped from $273,281, the figure in 1914, to $3,403,510 in 1915; corsets and similar stuffs have gone from $7,720 to $2,319,500; piece goods and underwear from $965,000 to $3,184,500; stockings, gloves and cotton knit goods from $120,046 to $817,715.

Gain in Woolen Goods. In the field of woolen goods the figures are equally surprising. The exports of woolen yarns in the first six months of 1914 to $490,000; woolen blankets from $5,975 to $8,979,597; woolen knit goods from $16,285 to $3,132,004. But woolen goods with an admixture of cotton have advanced in Spain's export even more in proportion—from $102,994 in 1914 for the first six months to $5,305,636 for the same period of 1915. In sum, the balance of excess of exports over imports in the field of cotton and woolens was, in the first half of 1914, $2,286,059, while this year in the same term it has amounted to $20,386,059.

One other example of products of use in war by the export of which Spain has profited is given in iron. Pig iron in the first half of 1914 was exported to the extent of $123,906, while this year $123,900 worth of pig iron left the ports of Spain from January to June. Manufactured iron, however, is the most extraordinary example of mushroom increase. The first half of 1914 only $9,971 of this product was exported, while in the same period of the present year over a hundred times that amount has been shipped abroad.

On all articles not in some way connected with the hostilities in Europe the decrease in exportation has been almost equally surprising, and as these, in total, amount to more than the specialized products of utility in war the indications are not such as argue a great prosperity for Spain. In general the decrease is about one-third, though in certain luxuries it is decidedly greater. Gold and silver, jewelry and silver plate, for example, in the first six months of 1914 were exported to the extent of $695,000. This year the figure has been only $81,960. Most foodstuffs are in the same class, save only rice, the export of which has increased sixteen times, and dried peas the export of which has increased from $64,112 to $1,061,500. Spanish wines, in general, have suffered a 50 per cent decrease in exportation.

W. F. FITCH HAS PASSED AWAY

Veteran Railroad Man Succumbs to Illness Resulting from Infirmities of His Advanced Years—Was Over Twenty Years General Manager of South Shore.

Began His Service With Northwestern in Clerical Capacity and Was Rapidly Advanced Through Many Grades—Had Farsighted Projects for Development.

The death of William F. Fitch, for over twenty years general manager, and for ten years also president, of the D. S. S. & A. and its subsidiary railroads, occurred at 10:45 last night, after an illness of several months' duration, due to the infirmities that accompanied his advanced years. For several days past his condition had been critical and his death almost momentarily expected.

Mr. Fitch was one of the best known railroad men in the Middle West, his long service with the Chicago & Northwestern company before he came to the upper peninsula to assume the management of the South Shore having given him a wide acquaintance, and his death will be learned with regret by many close friends.

Although Mr. Fitch's career as a railroad man did not begin until he was over thirty years of age, and then was started in an humble clerical capacity, his progress in ability and the confidence of his employers was rapid and his promotions frequent. His service for the South Shore was antedated by a residence in the upper peninsula of two and a half years, when he had charge, as superintendent, of the peninsula division of the Northwestern.

Mr. Fitch's active railroad career extended over a period of forty-one years, in the course of which he climbed from the bottom to the top of the railroad ladder and touched many of the roughest and most difficult grades.

Mr. Fitch died in July, 1912. His funeral services were held in Park cemetery Saturday. The services will be at 2 o'clock.

Born in Ohio. Mr. Fitch was born at Circleville, Ohio, in 1839, and went to Madison, Wis., with his parents, Judge Thomas Hood and Mrs. Hood, in 1851. His schooling was principally such as he could obtain at Madison, which was then a village, and while he was a young man he suffered a period of poor health which, for a time, was of an aggravated nature.

He did not enter on his career as a railroad man until 1871, when he took a position as clerk in the general manager's office of the Chicago & Northwestern, at Chicago.

Mr. Fitch was devoted to his work, and the aptitude he displayed speedily recommended him to his superiors. His first promotion was to the position of traveling freight agent, and after two years service in that capacity he was sent to Marinette, Wis., north of where construction work on the peninsula division was in progress.

After six months service there he was placed in charge of the company's Madison station, where he served two years, and he was then promoted to the position of general claim agent. Here he served for six years. Realizing that in this position he was somewhat out of the line of promotion, he went to President Hughtitt and requested that he be put in the operating department, even though it meant that he would receive a smaller salary.

Mr. Hughtitt appointed him an assistant division superintendent, in which position he served for a year. He then was placed in charge of the Dakota division, which he left after six months to take charge of the Peninsula division as superintendent. He served in that capacity for two and a half years, with headquarters in Escanaba.

Sent to Western Roads.

In January, 1886, Mr. Fitch went to the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley and Sioux City & Pacific railroads as general manager. These roads were owned by the Northwestern, but were operated by distinct organizations. They were long ago incorporated in the Northwestern system. Mr. Fitch remained in charge of them for three years, until October, 1888, when he came to Marquette to take the office of general manager of the South Shore. In November, 1902, he was made president and general manager of the South Shore, offices which he held until December, 1912, when he resigned and was succeeded as president by A. D. Eldridge and as general manager by W. W. Walker.

In the interval since Mr. Fitch had been in retirement from active life, although he held a directorship in the Wisconsin Central.

Mr. Fitch came to Marquette hoping to see the South Shore built up into a system of much greater importance than has yet been attained for it, and that his plans failed to materialize was due in large measure not to his lack of ambition or foresight, but to conditions over which he had no control. Plans for expansion that he outlined and which had under way were, from time to time, negated by the directorate of the Canadian Pacific, which then, as now, controlled the South Shore and determined the nature of its development.

Plans for Expansion. One project that was dear to Mr. Fitch's heart was an extension of the South Shore from Duluth to Winnipeg. Surveys were made for this extension for a year or more in the 90's, under direction of H. J. Payne, then chief engineer of the company. But the Canadian Pacific directorate finally declined to authorize the extension, which was ultimately made by the Soo line, another road controlled by the Canadian Pacific. In the 90's, also, the South Shore operated the Duluth & Winnipeg railway, a line which skirted the Minnesota iron fields, and which, if it had been retained, would have been a great asset to the South Shore by permitting it to participate in the great volume of business developed by the Minnesota iron ranges. Mr. Fitch was eager to retain and develop this property, but again he was overruled by the directorate of the Canadian Pacific. The road was sold to James J. Hill, and was incorporated in the Great Northern, which has participated largely in the ore shipping traffic.

The principal trackage added to the South Shore during Mr. Fitch's regime was the extension from Iron River, Wis., to Superior. When Mr. Fitch came to Marquette the South Shore had entry into Superior over the tracks of the Northern Pacific. In the early nineties the contract under which this arrangement was effected expired, and the Northern Pacific proposed a horizontal increase in the charge that would have practically doubled the track rental.

Mr. Fitch's answer to this proposal was to put in the field a surveying crew to lay out a South Shore extension to the terminal city. When the officials of the Northern Pacific were convinced that Mr. Fitch meant business, they were willing to discuss a new contract on the terms of the old one. But Mr. Fitch was thoroughly committed to the project by that time, and the South Shore extension was pushed through.

L. S. & I. Built. It is an interesting fact that a dispute of somewhat similar nature, only with Mr. Fitch at that time the party of the first part, led to the building of the L. S. & I. railway some twenty years ago, and thus to the development of the road that now links Ishpeming and Munising and hauls swan's range ore to the Marquette dock of the company. The interests that built the L. S. & I., the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company and the Jones & Laughlin people, were shipping their ore largely over the South Shore to Marquette. A question of rates arose and when it was not settled to their satisfaction they built their own road. This had the effect of diverting a large part of the South Shore's ore traffic, and cut down its earnings.

Associates of Mr. Fitch credit him, in the early period of his service, with foresight and daring in his visualization of the opportunities for making the South Shore a system of first importance, and express the belief that if it had been possible for him to carry out the projects which he outlined the road would have done very well, indeed, and would have been a more important factor in the upbuilding of the upper peninsula.

Mr. Fitch was a man of broad interests, and of keen intellect. His friends found him a conversationalist of much charm and a delightful companion. His experience in a period in which American railroads were making great strides was a comprehensive one. His ability was best evidenced by the rapid progress he made in his profession, and the many responsible posts he was called on to fill.

Brown a Veteran. P. W. Brown, purchasing agent for the South Shore, is the man of the present official force of that railroad who had the longest association with Mr. Fitch. When Mr. Fitch was general manager of the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley, Mr. Brown worked for him there, and a year after Mr. Fitch came to Marquette he proffered Mr. Brown his present position with the South Shore. Mr. Brown came up, looked the field over and decided to accept it. They were on the official roster of the road together for some twenty-two years.

MARRIED LAST NIGHT. Miss Elizabeth Orchard the Bride of Raymond Williams, Calumet.

With the Rev. P. T. Amstutz officiating, Miss Elizabeth Orchard was united in marriage to Raymond Williams, of Calumet, last evening at 8 o'clock. The ring service was used. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hannibal Orchard, 114 Jackson street, in the presence of a company of thirty-six relatives and friends. At its conclusion a dinner was served.

The bride wore a dress of white voile and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. Her bridesmaid, Miss Florence Strong, likewise gowned in white voile, carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. The house was decorated with sweet peas and evergreens. Julius Nault attended the bridegroom as best man. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rowe, of Bluff street, both of the young couple are members of the Salvation Army. They were the recipients last night of many gifts.

DIED IN WESTERN CANADA. Advice from Assiniboia yesterday brought news of the death of Mrs. Robert Ryan in that city early this month. Mrs. Ryan, aged fifty-nine and born in Ontario, came to Marquette with her husband three years ago and lived here until 1906, when the family went to northwestern Canada to reside, settling in the Stonehenge district. Surviving Mrs. Ryan, in addition to her husband, are six sons and four daughters, all of whom were reared in this city. The sons are Charles, Thomas, Frederick, Robert, George and Richard, of the Stonehenge region; the daughters are Mrs. Jordan McLean, Ontonagon; Miss Unis Ryan, of Regina, and Mrs. Joseph Deloria and Miss Mildred Ryan, of Stonehenge. Mrs. Ryan was a member of the Methodist church.

LESS TRAFFIC OVER D. S. S. & A.

South Shore Shows the Effect of the Past Year's Depression in Earnings of Under $3,000,000 for the Twelve Months Period Ending the 30th of June, Last.

Economies Greatly Decrease Expenses, Yet With Interest Payments and Other Charges the Net Loss Is $557,083—Annual Meeting Held Here Yesterday.

At the annual meeting of the D. S. S. & A. Railway company, held here yesterday morning, the old directorate of the company was re-elected with the exception that F. R. Perry, of New York, was chosen to succeed W. E. Stevenson, of New York, who died recently.

Reflecting the depressed conditions of the past year or more, the earnings of the South Shore for the year ending June 30, 1915, fell off, for the first time since 1909, to less than $3,000,000. They were $2,938,597.06, compared with $3,495,644.54 in the previous year, which were the largest earnings during the seven-year period.

Economies in operation made effective during the year, however, greatly decreased the expense of running the road, which aggregated $2,401,834.68, compared with $2,842,411 in the previous year, giving net operating revenue of $536,762.35 and $653,233.54, respectively. The percentage of operating expense to operating revenue was 81.73, compared with 81.31 in the year ending June 30, 1914.

The gross income for the year was $380,109.32, as against $432,609.50 in the previous year. The interest on funded debt and other deductions made the net loss for the year $557,083.43, as against $550,989.10 in the year ending June 30, 1914.

This income and outgo in the South Shore were so nicely adjusted to one another last year that on earnings over half a million less the losses for the year show that in dollars and cents the company obtained approximately the same financial result as in the year ending June 30, 1914.
