FIERCE OFFENSIVE BY THE ALLIES IN WEST GIVES SWEEPING VICTORY WITH OVER 20,000 PRISONERS

FRENCH TROOPS PIERCE GERMAN LINES ALONG A FRONT OF MORE THAN 15 MILES; ADVANTAGE PRESSED DESPERATELY

General Joffre's Men, Alone, Capture 12,000 Unwounded Men in Furious Attack in Champagne--Verdun, One of Most Strategic Points in Entire Sector, May Have to Be Given Up by Teutons--Co-Operating with Land Forces, British Warships Bombard Belgian Coast--Field Marshal French's Maneuver at LaBassee Canal Distracts Foe, Giving Opportunity to Consolidate Gains.

Paris, Sept. 26, 2:35 p. m.—More than 12,000 Germans were taken prisoners by the French in a terrific battle yesterday in the Champagne district of France, according to an official statement issued today by the French war department. French troops penetrated the German line along a front of fifteen miles and for a depth at some places of two and one-half miles.

Stubborn fighting still is going on in the Champagne sector.

Paris, Sept. 26, 11:05 p. m.—On the western front the British have captured in two days more than 20,000 unwounded prisoners, according to a French official communication issued tonight.

New progress of the French troops to the north of Arras also is reported, Souchez being stormed and captured.

In Champagne the allied forces still continue to gain ground.

London, Sept. 26, 10:30 p. m.—The British and French armies have taken several large "nibbles" out of the German line between Verdun and the Belgian coast, capturing in the process trenches along a front of about twenty miles and about 14,000 prisoners, eight guns and a number of machine guns.

At the same time British warships and French and Belgian batteries heavily bombarded the German positions on the coast between Zeebrugge and Neuport.

The offensive which resulted in the French and British victory began Saturday morning. For several weeks there has been an almost incessant bombardment with big guns, which, late last week, increased in intensity, particularly in the sectors where the infantry attacks took place.

The French, who have the most important gain to their credit, made their chief onset against the German line around Perthes, Beausjour and Suippes in Champagne, where, in December, they made a considerable gain of ground, Saturday's attack, however, backed by a tremendous artillery fire, gave them possession of more territory than they had retaken from the Germans since the latter dug themselves in after the battle of the Marne.

FRENCH CAPTURE OVER 12,000 MEN

According to the French account the Germans were driven out of their trenches over a front of fifteen miles, varying in depth from two-thirds of a mile to two and one-half miles. The French in this engagement captured 12,000 prisoners. Apparently the advan-

age is being pressed still farther, as the French communication makes only the briefest mention of the operations.

The importance of this gain lies in the fact that every yard of ground taken in this region weakens the German position around Verdun, from which the Germans might be compelled to retire should the French succeed in making any further advance.

"IMPREGNABLE" POSITIONS TAKEN

The French also have regained the cemetery of Souchez and trenches east of the labyrinth in the Arras district, which was the scene of much heavy fighting earlier in the year. There the Germans had built what they considered almost impregnable fortifications.

This attack was made in co-operation with the British, who attacked on either side of LaBassee canal. The attack to the south of the canal, Field Marshal Sir John French reports, was a complete success. Trenches five miles in length and about 4,000 yards in depth were taken at this point.

BRITISH HOLD IMPORTANT ROAD.

This advance gives the British possession of the road from Lens to LaBassee, which was used by the Germans for moving troops and supplies north and south, and threatens to outflank the German troops which hold the town of Lens.

Hill 70, one of the positions taken, on the road, is less than a mile directly north of Lens, while Hilluch, which also fell into the hands of the British, is at the end of the road near LaBassee. It is only twelve miles from Hilluch to Lille, the capital of Northern France.

North of the canal the British, although they fought all day yesterday, were unable to hold the ground gained and had to fall back to the trenches which they left in the morning. The attack, however, accomplished one purpose, according to Field Marshal French, as German reserves were sent to check this move, thus giving the British south of the canal an opportunity to consolidate their new positions unmolested.

A somewhat similar maneuver took place to the north and south of the Menin road, east of Ypres, and the results were the same.

BRITISH MAKE 1,700 PRISONERS.

North of the road the British were unable to hold the ground taken, while to the south they gained about 600 yards of German trenches and consolidated the ground won. So far as is reported the British took 1,700 prisoners with eight guns and several machine guns.

Some of the fiercest fighting of the campaign is in progress on the Russian front. The Germans continue their furious attacks in an effort to drive the Russians out of Dvinsk, while in Volhynia and Galicia the Russians continue to harass the Austro-Germans, who have designs on Kiev, from which town they now are farther away than they were a few weeks ago.

RUSSIANS HOLDING STEADILY.

General Ivanoff apparently is determined to hold back the Austro-Germans and his efforts are meeting with a considerable measure of success. The fortress triangle, which includes Dubno, Rovno and Lutsk, is almost entirely in the possession of the Russians.

In Galicia the Austrians have been driven back across the river which runs parallel to the border.

The Italians, like the rest of the allies, report a number of successes in taking fortified mountains from the Austrians.

BRITISH GAIN MUCH GROUND.

London, Sept. 26, 12:15 p. m.—British forces have assumed the offensive in northern France and captured on Saturday five miles of German trenches south of LaBassee canal and east of Vermelles, according to the report of Field Marshal Sir John French, made public today by the British official press bureau. In some instances the British troops penetrated the German position for a distance of 4,000 yards.

The British soldiers captured the eastern outskirts of Hilluch, the village of Loos and the mining works around it and also around hill 70.

OFFICIAL REPORTS OF ALLIES' VICTORY

FRENCH

Paris, Sept. 26, 11:03 p. m.—The text of the French official report follows:

"Our attack to the north of Arras has realized fresh progress. We have occupied by sheer force all the village of Souchez and have advanced to the east in the direction of Givenchy.

"More to the south we reached La-Polle and pushed to the north of Thelus as far as the destroyed telegraph. We took, in the course of this action, about 1,000 prisoners.

"In Champagne our troops continue to gain ground. After having clashed on nearly the whole front extending between Auberville and Ville-Sur-Tourbe, the powerful networks of trenches, passages, small forts and shelters perfected by the enemy during long months, our troops advanced toward the north, compelling the German troops to fall back on their trenches of the second position, from three to four kilometers in the rear. The struggle continues on the whole front.

"We have reached l'Epine de Vedegrange and passed the cabin on the road from Soutain to Soume-Py and the hut on the road from Soutain to Tahura. More to the east we are holding farms of Maissons de Champagne.

"The enemy has suffered by our fire and in hand-to-hand struggles suffered very important losses. He left in the works, which he abandoned, considerable war material, which has not yet been inventoried. Already the capture of forty-four field guns is recorded.

"The number of prisoners is increasing steadily and is actually more than 16,000 men not wounded, of whom at least 200 are officers.

"The total number of prisoners captured on the whole front by the allied troops in two days is more than 20,000 men not wounded.

"In Artois we maintained during the night the positions which we won yesterday. These include the chateaux de Carleul, the cemetery of Souchez and the last trench which the enemy continued to occupy to the east of the fortified position known as the labyrinth. In the Champagne district stubborn fighting continued on the whole front.

"Our troops have penetrated the German line along a front of twenty-five kilometers (fifteen miles) for a depth varying from one to four kilometers. Our troops in the course of the night maintained all the positions captured.

"The number of prisoners actually enumerated in this district exceeds 12,000.

"Except for surprise action by our artillery on the German works in the region of Lunnois there is nothing to report on the rest of the front."

HAITIEN REBELS BEATEN IN ATTACK ON AMERICANS

Cape Haitien, Sept. 26.—In an attack by Haitian rebels on an American fort about two miles from Cape Haitien, forty Haitians were killed. Ten Americans were wounded.

London, Sept. 26.—James Kier Hardie died of pneumonia in a nursing home at Glasgow this morning. He was a Labor member in parliament and leader of the peace element in the British Socialist party.

BRITISH

London, Sept. 26.—The British forces in northern France still hold all the ground they gained Saturday from the Germans except to the north of Loos, according to an official communication issued tonight. The town of Loos is still being held by the British, the quarries northwest of Hilluch have been captured and the French on the British right have been enabled to make further progress, the statement says.

"There has been severe fighting today," reads the official communication, "on the ground won by us yesterday, including the whole of Loos, itself. This evening we retook the quarries northwest of Hilluch which we won and lost yesterday. We have in this fighting drawn in the enemy's reserve, enabling the French on our right to make further progress. The number of prisoners captured in yesterday's fighting amounted to 2,600. Nine guns have been taken and a considerable number of machine guns.

"Our aeroplanes today bombarded and derailed a train near Lofres and another which was full of troops near Saint Amand. The Valenciennes station also was bombarded."

"The text of the report of the British commander-in-chief in France follows: "Saturday morning we attacked the enemy south of LaBassee canal and to the east of Greuay and Vermelles. We captured his trenches on a front of more than five miles, penetrating his lines in some places for a distance of 4,000 yards. We captured the western outskirts of Hilluch, the village of Loos and the mining works around it and hill 70.

"Other attacks were made to the north of LaBassee canal which drew a strong reserve of the enemy toward the point of the line where hard fighting occurred throughout the day with varying success. At nightfall our troops north of the canal occupied their positions of the morning."

"We made another attack near Hooge on either side of the Menin road. "An attack north of the road succeeded in occupying the Bellewaerde farm and ridge, but this subsequently was retaken by the enemy. In the attacks to the south of the road we gained 600 yards of the enemy's trench and we consolidated the ground won. Reports of captures up to the present include about 1,700 prisoners and eight guns, besides several machine guns, the number of which is not yet known.

"The report in Friday's German communication that we attempted an attack on the previous day south of LaBassee canal, which broke down under hostile artillery fire, is false. No attack was attempted."

GERMAN

Berlin, Sept. 26, via London, 10:40 p. m.—A repulse of a German division near Loos, northwest of Lens, with considerable casualties and loss of material is admitted in the German official communication made public here today.

The evacuation of an advanced German position north of Perthes between Rheims and the Argonne forest also is admitted by the foreign office.

The communication says: "The battles in the continuation of the British and French offensive, which had been prepared for months, have progressed without bringing our assaults considerably nearer their aim. On the east also British warships have attempted to interfere by their fire especially on Zeebrugge, but without result.

"In the sector of Ypres the enemy suffered losses and had no success. "Southwest of Lille the enemy succeeded in repulsing one of our divisions near Loos from its advanced line of trenches to its second line. Naturally we had considerable losses, including material of all kinds.

"A counter attack is progressing favorably.

"We voluntarily evacuated the ruins of the village of Souchez. Other attacks on this front were easily repulsed at several points with the heaviest of losses for the enemy. The Thirty-ninth regiment of the landwehr especially distinguished itself. This is the regiment which sustained the principal attack north of Neuville in May.

"In the struggles between Rheims and the Argonne, north of Perthes, one German division was obliged to evacuate its advanced position by a bombardment for seventy hours and retire to its second position situated from two to three kilometers behind the first. However, all attempts to break through failed."

LONDON IS ELATED AT NEWS OF VICTORY

Churches Turn Evening Services Into Meetings of Thanksgiving—All City Joyful.

London, Sept. 27, 3:05 a. m.—London received the news of successes of the allies on the western front early Sunday afternoon and it spread rapidly by means of extra editions in the newspapers. In the hotels, clubs and churches great joy was shown. In many instances the churches turned their evening services into meetings of Thanksgiving.

The morning newspapers today employ the biggest type they have used during the war in telling of the progress of the British and French troops. Editorially they greet the news with enthusiasm and express relief for victory after months of waiting. Some of the newspapers evince gratification in view of the fact that they deem the gain of the allies as offsetting the week-end casualty list they publish this morning, giving the names of 103 officers and 3,674 men who have either been killed, wounded, or are missing.

The editorials announce the realization that the pushing forward of the British and French troops means further heavy losses but all welcome the move as proving that the German front is not impregnable.

AUSTRIAN REPLY TO U.S. RESTATES FORMER CLAIMS

Amsterdam, via London, Sept. 26.—The Austro-Hungarian government, according to an official telegram received today from Verde, has, in reply to the American note of Aug. 16 relative to the manufacture of ammunition in the United States, reiterated the position taken in its protest of June 29.

The reply affirms that Austria-Hungary never intended to imply that it expected Washington to forbid American citizens to do a normal traffic in war materials with the enemies of the dual monarchy, but solely protested against the economic life of the United States being made subservient to the production of war materials on the greatest possible scale whereby the United States became "militarized."

MEXICANS BURN SIXTY PERSONS TO DEATH IN CAR

San Diego, Calif., Sept. 26.—Sixty persons were burned to death near Torreon, Sonora, when a band of Yaquis attacked a Southern Pacific Mexican train, and, at the points of guns, forced eighty of the passengers into a car containing hay and set fire to the car.

This news was contained in radio advices received here today from Hermosillo, via Guaymas. Twenty of the passengers managed to free themselves from the burning car.

The Indians, according to the report, numbered about sixty and were deserters from one of the Mexican factional armies. They first derailed the train which was traveling from Campe Verde to Torres, after which they placed the passengers, most of them women and children, in the hay car, and applied the torch. So far as is known no Americans were on the train.

CONDITIONS BETTER IN CAPITAL

Washington, Sept. 26.—Conditions in Mexico City are improving, according to official dispatches to the state department today. General Carranza himself telegraphed similar word to his agency here.

There were no developments in the border situation, officials awaiting further word from Major General Funston and government agents as to the cause of the outbreak in the vicinity of Brownsville and to the real identity of the bandits.

INTENTIONS OF BALKANS STILL PUZZLE ALLIES

Although Bulgaria Tells Entente Powers Mobilization Is Solely in National Interest, Many Believe Attack on Serbia Is Planned—Would Embroil Greece.

Matter May Be Smoothed Over, However, as Sofia Is Continuing Negotiations With Allies, and It Is Thought No War Would Be Made on Old Friends.

London, Sept. 26.—The situation in the Balkans and the intentions of Bulgaria are still surrounded with considerable mystery. Bulgaria, which had been definitely placed on the side of the central powers as the result of recent news from Sofia, officially informed the entente powers today that her mobilization had been ordered in the national interest and that it had not the slightest aggressive character.

The Bulgarian premier, in an interview with the Sofia correspondent of the Berlin Tagesblatt reiterated this statement, but it is noteworthy that while he said the measure was not directed against Greece or Roumania, he omitted Serbia, attack upon which state has been considered to be the intention of the Bulgarian government in the effort to regain Macedonia.

Such an attack, it is pointed out, would bring Greece to the side of her ally, and, as in the last Balkan war, Greece, Serbia and possible Roumania, would be found opposed to Bulgaria. Roumania already has mobilized and Greece is taking similar action. The conclusion, therefore, has been drawn here that they, at least, fear that Bulgaria has aggressive designs, if not against Greece, then against Serbia.

King Constantine and the Greek premier, M. Venizelos, apparently have entirely composed the differences which led to their separation, when, early in the war, the premier wished to join the allies against Turkey.

MATTER MAY END PEACEFULLY.

The whole matter may be smoothed over, as Bulgaria is continuing her negotiations with the entente powers, the Bulgarian minister at Petrograd having had a long conference with the Russian foreign minister, while the ministers at other capitals insist that the Bulgarians would not fight against their old friends, Great Britain and Russia. On the other hand the Austro-German offensive against Serbia, which seems to have been delayed, might light the torch which would set the whole of the Balkans aflame.

London, Sept. 26, 10:35 p. m.—The Bulgarian government this morning officially communicated to the powers a note stating in most categorical fashion that mobilization of the Bulgarian army was ordered in the national interests and that it had not the slightest offensive character.

The text of the note virtually is the same as the wording of the semi-official statement issued at Sofia Sept. 23 which said that the entry of Bulgaria into a state of armed neutrality "is explained by changes which recently occurred in the political situation and Bulgaria has not the slightest aggressive intention, but firmly is resolved to be fully armed to defend her rights and independence."

The official note to the powers was dispatched from Sofia on Sept. 23 so that it was framed before the Greek mobilization had been decided upon.

Dr. Ghendadiev, ex-Bulgarian foreign minister, whose inclusion in the Sofia cabinet is reported to be a possibility, has been known lately for his pro-entente views and it is believed here that unless he was certain of the government continuing its good relations with the entente powers he would not have assumed it of his support.

FIRST RECALL ELECTION.

Munising is to have the first recall election, as The Mining Journal understands the matter, that has ever been held in the upper peninsula. The anti-administration forces on October 16 will seek to nail Mayor Sullivan's bids to the fence, offering as a reason for that operation, which surely would be most painful to Mr. S., the commission by him of certain acts inimical to the public interest, and the omission of other acts, namely the enforcement of the laws relating to the liquor traffic and to gambling, that he swore to perform if occasion arose. To these charges, severally and collectively, we find his honor offering emphatic denial. It's not for The Mining Journal, or any other newspaper outside of Munising, to say where lies the nice balance of truth, and it is not important that they should attempt to say it. The Munising voters can hardly need any enlightenment on that score. They have been on the ground, and have had every opportunity to know whether Mayor Sullivan has failed, and if he has failed how it has come about. One thing is clear to the disinterested public, however. Munising did not make a fortunate start with commission government. Instead of the voters calling to administer their affairs on men of business training who had been so fortunate as not to have been identified with the factional politics of past years, they viewed with complacency the drawing of the lines on the old issues, with the same old leaders lined up against one another and all the antagonisms of a decade revived. That Mr. Sullivan would be a storm center of controversy was inevitable. He is one of a group of men who have been active in local affairs each of whom is bound to start a heated contest every time he offers himself for any office. Thus by any sensible standard they are unavailable, for they find it impossible to get credit even for their good things they do. Until Munising can break with them and all the subservient traditions of its local politics through the past ten years, it will fail to realize the most it should from commission government, or any other form of government. It will hardly find the way out in the recall election. Coming on the heels of the local option campaign, it will be contested with heat and vigor, and, judging by the preliminary exchanges, with many harsh words. For its neighbors Munising illustrates the unwisdom of allowing the personal element in these local elections to become much accentuated. It should help make them realize that the most important thing is to have the public's work well done, and that that is a matter of comparatively small importance who does it.

A BILLION PAID.

From the end of August, 1914, to the close of last month the exports of merchandise from the United States exceeded the imports by the enormous sum of $1,365,334,346. This means the payment of not less than $1,000,000,000 of American indebtedness, taking the word in its broadest sense. Since the war began the so-called invisible factors in the international trade balance have been cut down to a relatively small total. They have not equalled one-half of their usual amount. Americans have spent little money in Europe in travel or while residing there. This one item has decreased to the extent of probably $150,000,000. The payments in interest and dividends to foreigners owning American bonds and stocks have been much lessened by the sale to Americans of such property to the amount of hundreds of millions of dollars. This country has greatly reduced its tribute to foreign vessel owners for fares and to foreign insurance companies for the underwriting of freight. War conditions have thrown that burden largely upon Europe. For these reasons it is a conservative estimate that $965,000,000 covered every possible offset to the excess of merchandise exports over imports of foreign products, and also the excess of imports of gold over exports of that metal. It is quite safe to say that Europe owns a round billion less of American property and American evidences of indebtedness than it did a year ago. The United States is a billion nearer the approaching change from the position of a debtor nation to that of a creditor. There is no parallel in the history of international finance for such a transformation. In swiftness and magnitude it is beyond all previous changes of like nature.

FOR THE OPEN SHOP.

The mines in Colorado in which the Rockefeller have the dominant interest are to be operated in the future as in the past on the "open shop" plan. Young Mr. Rockefeller has made this plain, without any sidestepping. At the same time, it is made equally plain that the company proposes the introduction of the principle of collective bargaining. Machinery for the consideration of grievances has been set up that may be put in motion by any man, or, for that matter, by any group of men, speaking through their representatives. Provision is made for prompt action on all complaints, and for appeals even to the heads of the company. This plan is condemned by the unions. They say that it is chimerical and won't work, because the men won't feel confident that they, lacking the support of a strong organization, can act without prejudging themselves, and thus will have practically the same status they had before, when they were unable to secure adequate consideration for real grievances until they precipitated one of the most sanguinary strikes of recent years. The history of the relations of workers and employers unfortunately reveals much that supports this gloomy prophecy, but certain other circumstances should be borne in mind. In the first place, the unions are not disinterested witnesses, for they realize full well that if the Rockefeller plan should work the problems of the hour would be in the way of being solved without their interposition, and their leaders are hardly as yet unselfish enough to want this to happen. Again we should bear in mind that the employing interests never were more ready to break with the bad traditions of the past than they are today. They now see the necessity of securing some sure basis of amicable relations between themselves and their workers as perhaps the greatest need of the industrial world. The Rockefeller plan can be made to work if the Rockefellers are really desirous of making it work and are prepared to make the requisite sacrifices. For one thing there must be a better division with the men of the fruits of their labors. This need not take entirely the form of increased pay. There must be better housing and other evidences of intelligent thought for their wellbeing. The system of review of grievances must be carried out in entire good faith, and the wage questions that are bound to arise must be met in a spirit of fairness and frankness, coupled with a real willingness to do the best that can be done by the men.

EDITORIAL OPINION

The Son of His Father.

When the first Pierpont Morgan died the celebrators of his fame predicted that he would have no successor in daring and persistence. Between the lines one read that Pierpont, Jr., would not be heavy enough to fill his father's footsteps. He is. Whatever may be the tenaciousness of his public spirit, Morgan boldly accepted the responsibility of regulating the foreign exchange rate. If he wins, as now seems likely, he will be the admitted leader of the American financial world, untroubled by a rival as his father was by Harriman, the little wizard who had access to Rockefeller's war chest in his fights. But if Morgan had lost the Morgan reputation for leadership would be buried in fathoms deep. Putting through this loan is a bigger job in many ways than the formation of the United States steel corporation which was the elder Morgan's largest financial feat. The problem there was to trade securities and get the new issues transferred from the inside holder to the outside purchaser at good prices. The market was rigged; the deed was done. American history holds a record of one larger deal than the present loan, the sale of $1,000,000,000 worth of United States bonds in Europe during the Civil War. The northern states then had but one-fifth of their present population; the various loans were absolutely essential to the success of the federal cause, because it was not until the south was weakened in resources that the north could score a military success. Cooke worked against all possible handicaps; the security he had to offer was but one-tenth of the present national wealth; debts were mountainous, money high and war raised doubt of our ability to pay. Europe's capital, skillfully extracted from its owners by Cooke and his agents, saved the north. Cooke, like the elder Morgan with steel stock, rigged the market. He had to keep up the price of bonds at home while he was engaged in peddling them to European investors. Under his instruction brokers bought millions of dollars' worth of bonds for the United States government. Thus the price was keyed up, the new issues sold to be-fooled investors and the united nation eventually made good all claims. If the selling price of French and British notes shows a dangerous decline, it is because Morgan will come to the rescue immediately. With Cooke's record transactions emblazoned in history the government could hardly protest.—Grand Rapids Press.

Ishteping, Negaunee, Marquette, Gwinn, Mich. The black treachery to Turkey. The Journal can not help suspecting that Bulgaria's ostentatious bargaining was a bluff, and that for a good many months she has been bound by treaty to help Germany at the auspicious moment. The German general staff that Greece will attack Bulgaria the moment Bulgaria attacks Serbia, but nevertheless the Bulgarian alliance is a triumph for the Kaiser. Greece bore the brunt of the second Balkan war and gave the Bulgars a series of frightful thrashings; but that sort of thing is seldom done twice in succession. Romanian doubtless will come in, but she is likely to hesitate a while longer—long enough, perhaps, to allow the Austro-German forces to make a quick drive across the narrow corner of Serbia, join hands with the Bulgars and Turks, and give the German general staff the enormous advantage of interior lines from the Baltic to the Bosphorus. Unless the Serbians block that drive or some power gives Bulgaria a sound whipping at the very start, her alliance is worth more to the Kaiser than all his eastern campaign since the fall of Warsaw. But it is hard to believe that the allies will be caught wholly unprepared.—Chicago Journal.

A LAUGH OR TWO

A Doubtful Tribute. Among the guests at a social event in a suburban town was a tenor who could throw music with considerable force. About 12 o'clock the songful one made an attempt to fade away. "Oh, please don't go yet, Mr. Smith," cried the hostess, hastily intercepting him. "I want you to sing for me." "I am afraid it is 'too late, Mrs. Jones," answered the tenor, doubtfully. "I wouldn't care to disturb the neighbors." "Oh, that's all right, was the quick rejoinder of the fair hostess. "I want to get square with them for playing their horrid phonograph."—Philadelphia Telegraph. Good Times. Henry Ford, praising the good times at the Hotel Biltmore in New York, said: "If I had 50,000 cars, I could place them all. The good times are spread the country over. There isn't a spot that hasn't got its share. "Anybody who contemplates these times without optimism must have a disposition like the bookkeeper's wife." "The bookkeeper said one day at dinner: "Give, I wish I could get up an appetite for once!" "Oh, go on John," said his wife impatiently. "What do you want an appetite for? It would only give you more dyspepsia."

Not a Flatterer.

The governor of a western state was dining with the family of a representative in congress from that state, and opposite him at table sat the little girl of the family, aged 10. She gazed at the governor solemnly throughout the repast. Finally the youngster asked, "Are you really and truly a governor?" "Yes," replied the great man laughingly. "I really and truly am." "I've always wanted to see a governor," continued the child, "for I've heard daddy speak of 'em." "Well," rejoined the governor, "now that you have seen one, are you satisfied?" "No, sir," answered the youngster, without the slightest air of impertinence, but with an air of great conviction. "No, sir; I'm disappointed."

How to Give Good Advice.

The best way to give good advice is to set a good example. When others see how quickly you get over your cold by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they are likely to follow your example. This remedy has been in use for many years and enjoys an excellent reputation. Obtainable everywhere.

Not a Chance for Him.

A man was on trial before a Wisconsin judge for horse stealing. When it came time for the lawyers on both sides to tell the judge what instructions they wanted to give the jury, in addition to the points covered in his own charges, the attorney for the defense said: "I respectfully ask your honor to charge the jury that it is a fundamental principle of law in this country that it is better for ninety-nine guilty men to escape than for one innocent man to be found guilty." "Yes, that is true," said the judge, reflectively, "and I so instruct the jury; but I will add that it is the opinion of the court that the ninety-nine guilty men have already escaped."—Harper's Magazine.

LOWER STATE NOTES

FLINT—The first direct result of the campaign for 1,000 new houses in Flint was the announcement of the trustees of the proposed $250,000 fund that the board is ready to let contracts for one hundred houses immediately. HOLLAND—The case of Aric Doctor against Elliott S. Rice in which the plaintiff seeks to recover $3,000 damages for the death of his son is being argued in circuit court. In his declaration doctor states that a hole had been cut in the ice and left unprotected in Pine Creek bay and that his son fell through and was drowned. NEWAYGO—A twenty-seven pound catfish was caught with a throw-line in Muskegon river above Croton by Leo Truesdell. It attracted much attention when brought to town en route to Grand Rapids. Mr. Truesdell motored down to give it to his sister, Mrs. John Vandevorn of Grand Rapids. The fish was secured in front of the Truesdell premises.

UPPER PENINSULA

Injured by Dynamite.

Walter, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Milpi, who live at the Halfway, Ontonagon county, while playing with dynamite had the thumb and two fingers of his left hand blown off, and his left eye blown out. Walter was playing with several other boys near a hay stack and as nearly as can be learned the boys were putting the dynamite under the hay and setting fire to it to see the explosion. All of the other boys ran far enough away to avoid being hurt.

Drilling Deep for Water.

George Gleason was in Ontonagon having a special drill made to take care of the sand he is encountering in a deep well he is drilling for the Eight Town school. The township has had difficulty in securing a supply of water, and now has contracted with Mr. Gleason of Ontonagon to provide a well. Two other well drillers tried their luck before Gleason started. One went down 180 feet and the other 170 feet, but without satisfactory results. Mr. Gleason has been at work on his contract for some time and is now down a depth of 325 feet. He can, if necessary, go down a thousand feet. Mr. Gleason has been successful in getting water at a number of wells at White Pine and is now at work on the fifth.

Solicitor-Clergyman Arrested.

Rev. Octavian Singleton, colored, who spoke in the First Presbyterian church at the Sea, and who claimed to be superintendent of the National Home-Foundry society at Louisville, Kentucky, was arrested by Patrolman Lawler on a charge of soliciting funds without having a permit from the state board of corrections and charities of Michigan. At the last session of the legislature a law was passed which provided that solicitors for institutions must first obtain authority from the state. Since Saturday, Singleton had collected $72, including contributions at two churches. This money was taken from him by the police and he was released. He was informed that if he succeeded in obtaining a state permit, the money will be turned over to him, and if not it will be given back to the donors. The officials believe Singleton had no intention of wrong-doing, but he violated the state law knowingly, for he was told to get a license by the prosecuting attorney at Petoskey. The funds, he claimed, were for a home for colored children, located at Louisville.

To Start Operation Today.

The Menominee River Sugar company will start work on this year's crop of sugar beets Monday, (today). Shipments of beets will then begin arriving and the factory will start work with a crew of 350 men manufacturing the sugar. How long the factory will manufacture sugar is a question which Mr. McCormick said would depend largely on conditions, and he would not venture an estimate. Preparations have been made for a long run, however. A large crew of men will be put at work on Monday unloading beets. It is possible that manufacturing operations may start the following Saturday, if enough beets have been received. The factory will begin when between 2,000 and 3,000 tons of beets have been unloaded. The capacity of the plant is 1,200 tons of beets daily, which, with the average run of about 100 tons a day, amounts to about 120 tons of sugar a day. A full supply of limestone and coke is already at the sugar factory dock preparatory to the opening of the factory, while a dredge belonging to the Wisconsin Dredge and Dock company has been working at the sugar company's dock and the dock of the Central West Coal company. "The beet crop looks prosperous in the fields," said Mr. McCormick. "Of course we can't tell more about the crop when it is in, but it is apparently heavy."

BAPTISTS WILL MEET AT CALUMET THIS WEEK

Twenty-Sixth Annual Gathering of the Marquette Assoc. - Rev. Perkins Arrives.

The most important meeting of Baptists ever held in northern Michigan, the twenty-sixth anniversary meeting of the Marquette Baptist association, will be held in Calumet this week.

There are, in the Lake Superior region embraced in the association's field, ten English and one Finnish church. The Finnish church is located at Hancock.

This evening's opening session of the convention will be a very interesting one. Rev. Frank Blair of Iron Mountain will conduct the opening services with worship commencing at 7:30.

Rev. Grant Perkins arrived in Houghton Saturday morning to take up his new duties as pastor of Grace M. E. church.

Mr. Perkins was born in Louisville, Ky., son of a Southern abolitionist. When he appeared in this world his father gave him the name of the man who was the great hero of the anti-slavery people.

Mr. Perkins is a well known and successful business man. He is a member of the American Methodist church in Rome and then returned to the United States to the Southern conference, which he left six years ago to enter the Detroit conference as a Michigan pastor.

In 1898 Mr. Perkins raised a company of volunteers in Kentucky and was made its captain. He served through the war as commander of Troop A, Third volunteer cavalry.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Perkins' predecessor in Houghton, is a veteran of the Civil war. He proved himself a militant Christian and an aggressive patriot and Mr. Perkins has these qualities too.

Mr. Perkins began the active work of his ministry in Houghton yesterday. He preached in the morning on "God's Marching Orders" and in the evening on "The Christian's Place in God's Battle Line."

The board of the Alpena Methodist Episcopal church advised Rev. Reuben Crosby of Hancock yesterday that plans were under way to tender him and his family a reception in Alpena next Tuesday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Crosby and sister, Mrs. Edwards, will leave this evening and reach Alpena Tuesday. It is not known when Rev. Pierce will arrive in Hancock from Northville to become pastor of the church, but it probably will not be until Thursday.

Accompanying the troupe is Miss Panoset, who will provide a portion of the evening's enjoyment with a number of readings and vocal solos.

COPPER COUNTRY FAIR WILL OPEN TUESDAY

Thirteenth Annual Exposition Starts Under Better Conditions Than Ever.

The thirteenth annual exposition by the Houghton County Agricultural Society of the agriculture, industry and art of the copper country and the upper peninsula, the exposition known as the Copper Country Fair, will open at the Amphidrome and its surrounding buildings and grounds Tuesday noon.

For three years more than a decade this fair has been an annual delight to the populace as a whole and an inspiration to the agriculturists of the copper country, including Houghton, Baraga, Keweenaw and Ontonagon counties, which counties it was first proposed to exploit.

The Copper Country Fair antedates all other fairs in its four original counties, it antedates the Houghton County Fair bureau, the Houghton County Potato Growers association, the Copper Country Potato show, the Otter Lake Agricultural school, the Upper Peninsula Development bureau and the land department activities of some of the big companies of the peninsula.

The Copper Country Fair has fostered every helpful enterprise for the promotion of a greater interest in the fair, which has steadily increased in importance as the inspiration it has given the farmers of the copper country has urged them to greater successes.

The fair committee, has always insisted on keeping the agricultural nature of the exhibit prominent. It has never been permitted to take on the background and the result is that no matter what attractions this fair may have the showing of vegetables, fruit and field crops always has excited the interest and admiration of visitors.

The Copper Country Fair has realized that there must be amusement features to attract people having no immediate interest in agriculture or live stock and so it has brought at different times spectacular features. When a baloon ascension with parachute drop was the big feature of all fairs the Copper Country Fair was the first to bring a daring aeronaut to exploit this popular entertainment in its highest form.

The Copper Country Fair is established as a permanent institution and it does not require these sensational attractions longer. They have been done up with this year. The entertainment will be all indoors hereafter and will consist of the finest music and the highest class vaudeville possible for a fair of this magnitude to procure.

Arrangement of the Grounds. The Copper Country Fair has from the first been given in the Amphidrome and its surrounding grounds.

Entertainment Features. The Copper Country Fair will this year present one of the finest vaudeville programs ever seen at an agricultural fair in the state of Michigan.

Historical Review. The Copper Country Fair antedates all other fairs in its four original counties, it antedates the Houghton County Fair bureau, the Houghton County Potato Growers association, the Copper Country Potato show, the Otter Lake Agricultural school, the Upper Peninsula Development bureau and the land department activities of some of the big companies of the peninsula.

Calumet Fair Closes. The Twin Counties Fair of the Calumet-Keweenaw district closed Saturday night after a successful initial week. It was a very splendid exhibition considering that it was the first given in that district that it appealed to the public, was shown by the fact that Saturday night the directors gave out an estimate of thirty-five thousand as the total paid attendance during the week.

Capt. McDuff of Calumet May Be National Guard Champion. The members of the rifle team of the Houghton Light Infantry made a creditable and satisfactory showing at the Michigan National Guard competitions in Detroit last week, according to Capt. T. S. Smith who returned with the team Saturday.

IS UP TO THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Superintendent Doelle Personally Favors Night School for Aliens.

Naturalization Examiner Block has put up to Superintendent Doelle of the Houghton schools the question of the establishment of a night school for aliens, as suggested by the naturalization bureau.

Mr. Doelle says that he personally favors the establishment of such a school, if there is a sufficient demand for it, but that it is a question that must be presented to the board of education. It will be taken up at the next meeting of the board.

Superintendent Jeffers of Painesdale takes a similar position.

JURY DISAGREES. After Twenty-Four Hours No Verdict in Kochin Case is Reached.

In the circuit court Saturday afternoon the jury in the case of Steve Kochin vs. Superior Mining company came into court and announced to Judge Fead that an agreement could not be reached. The jury was out for twenty-four hours.

In the morning the case of Emil Karpinnen, administrator of the estate of Jacob Karpinnen, deceased, vs. the Superior Mining company was taken up. A jury was called and the testimony and testimony was in progress up to the time of adjournment, which followed the report of the Kochin jury.

Judge Fead was the guest of A. F. Rees in the yacht Sea Fox for a cruise on Lake Superior yesterday.

INTERESTS STATISTICIANS. Auditor General Sends Out an Extensive and Expansive Table.

Some people have a passion for figures and others have not and any of the district auditors who care to give a good time by visiting County Clerk Kaiser's office to inspect a table just received from the auditor general's office. To the second class this table would look like a waste of paper.

"THE MELANCHOLY DAYS." Autumn Arrives With Considerable Show of Heavenly Artillery.

Autumn made its appearance Saturday strictly according to the astronomical almanac. Alas, alas! last Tuesday, Sept. 21, was the first day of autumn, but the opening of the season is not altogether so happy as it is usually supposed to be.

ATTENDING THE COLLEGES. The following is a list of the Houghton students at various educational institutions this year:

University of Michigan—Ella Bliss, Lois Benalla, William Cochran, Nora Bolles, Beryl Chynoweth, Archie Levine, Elizabeth McKee, Henrietta Rowe, Florence Vician, Alice Wieber, Miss Kate Wieber will be a post graduate student.

James Holmes, of Dollar Bay; Mrs. James Jilbert, of Freda, and Mrs. Charles Kohn, of Laurium, arrived in the city Saturday. They are a brother and sisters of Mrs. E. T. Marshall, who is seriously ill at St. Luke's hospital.

Change in Car Schedule—Beginning today street cars will run on the following schedule. From 7:00 a. m. to 12 cars will leave Front street and Baraga avenue on the half-hour for Presque Isle; From 12:00 noon to 7:30 p. m. every fifteen minutes, from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. every half-hour. Last car will leave Presque Isle at 9:55 p. m. No change is made in the schedule of the workman's cars in the morning.

Statute Is Important—It is not generally known that a special statute, section 11,307, of the compiled laws, prohibits the purchase of any form of scrap metal from minors under the age of sixteen. The purpose is clear. Many children, to gain a few cents, would do many dollars' worth of damage if able to dispose of such material. Plumbing, wiring, etc., has often been torn from vacant buildings, the purpose of the youthful marauders being to secure a nickel or a dime, while the replaced value of the fixture is many dollars. For that reason the law treats any older person who purchases scrap from them as an abettor of the crime.

READY FOR DECORATING.

Improvements at Marquette Club Will Soon Be Completed.

The interior of the Marquette club, which has been in course of renovation the past several weeks, is now ready for the decorators. The carpenters have finished their work, and the installation of a new heating plant has been completed. The principal change in the interior has been the enlargement of the main dining room on the second floor and the provision of a roomy porch dining room, which is completely surrounded by windows. The club will thus be able to accommodate large banquets, and the two dining rooms can be thrown together for use as an assembly room on occasions when large parties of visitors are in the city, such as the Milwaukee board of trade, which visited here last summer. Directly beneath the new porch dining room is a large and well lighted addition to the pool and billiard room, which extends across the rear of the building. A standard size billiard table has been ordered and one of the present billiard tables is being removed for pool. In the rooms upstairs hardwood floors have been laid throughout. Estimates on the decorating are now being secured and it is expected that the contract will soon be let.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO.

GIFT OF THE KAISER.

A mosque, where religious service is held for the Mohammedan prisoners in the prison camp at Zossen, was recently dedicated in the presence of the Turkish ambassador, Mahmud Mukhtar, and other members of the Ottoman embassy staff. The commander of the prison camp, Col. von Oestfed, addressed the war prisoners, stating that the mosque was a gift of the German kaiser. The Turkish ambassador spoke next. The Mohammedan clergyman thanked the commander for the mosque and the mill treatment of his co-religionists. The mosque then consecrated the mosque with suitable ceremonies and prayers.

HALF BILLION FOR ALLIES NOW SEEMS ASSURED

Eastern Banks and Anglo-French Commission Are in Virtual Agreement on Details.

New York, Sept. 26.—The Anglo-French financial commission and eastern bankers have reached a virtual agreement on the details of the proposed half-billion dollar credit loan to Great Britain and France. Four members of the commission will leave here tomorrow for Chicago to confer with western banks over the tentative terms.

Following are the details of the loan upon which the commission and bankers of eastern states are in virtual accord. The amount: Approximately $500,000,000.

The security: Joint Anglo-French notes. The interest rate: Five per cent, to yield the investor about 5 1/2 per cent, by the note being offered at slightly under par.

A conversion privilege at maturity of the note, the holder to receive cash or joint Anglo-French fifteen or twenty-year bonds bearing 4 1/2 per cent interest.

If the western bankers are in accordance with the tentative agreement upon which the eastern financiers and the commission have reached an understanding, the program will stand, barring unforeseen developments, and its final adoption is as good as assured.

Upper Peninsula

New Station in Sight.

Menominee will be delighted to learn that there will, in all probability, be no need to call on the state railway commission in the matter of a new Northwestern railroad depot, says the Herald Leader. The action of the Commercial club seemed to be required as a last resort, but it has developed that the new depot is really in sight, and the activities of the club in this direction, together with the work of Mayor Lloyd along the same lines, are to produce real results. Mayor Lloyd, working quietly on behalf of the city, has received definite written promises from the officials of the road that this city is to have new and adequate depot facilities. The mayor took no one into his confidence in the matter, and succeeded in bringing the assistant general manager of the Northwestern and other officials here from Chicago several weeks ago, without the knowledge of the shippers or the newspaper men. As a result of that trip, and the appreciation which the road has of the heavy business given to it by this city, R. H. Ashton, the general manager of the Chicago and Northwestern, has promised a new depot and he will, himself, be in Menominee in a few days to definitely outline the situation with Mayor Lloyd.

HE TAUGHT HIM.

Yells from the nursery brought the mother, who found the baby gleefully pulling small Billy's curls.

"Never mind, darling," she comforted. "Baby doesn't know how it hurts."

Half an hour later wild shrieks from the baby made her run again to the nursery.

"Why, Billy!" she cried. "What is the matter with the baby?"

"Nothing, muzzor," said Billy, calmly, "only now he knows!"—Harper's Weekly.

TRANSFERS GENERAL NASARETTE.

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 26.—The promotion of General Nasarette, Carranza commander at Matamoros, to be general of brigades, was announced here tonight by the Carranza consul. It was not known whether the promotion entails the much discussed transfer of General Nasarette to another post because of his supposed inability to prevent his soldiers from alleged complicity in the recent anti-American raids on the Texas side of the border.

The appointment was made by First Chief General Carranza at Vera Cruz. Quiet was reported over the whole district near Brownsville today.

AMERICAN INVESTIGATOR CONFIRMS THE REPORTS OF ARMENIAN MASSACRE

New York, Sept. 26.—A statement confirming the massacre of Armenians in Turkey was given out here today by Professor Samuel T. Dutton, secretary of the committee on Armenian atrocities, which was formed for the purpose of investigating the facts regarding the massacre and its relations to American interests, and also to ascertain whether anything can be done to relieve the situation. Professor Dutton said:

"The statements examined, many of which are in possession of the committee, cover hundreds of towns and cities in which, in many instances, all the Armenians have been killed outright, often after horrible tortures, or sent to the desert to die of starvation and that, too, with diabolical cruelty. The ostensible deportation of men, women and children toward Mesopotamia is usually but a form of marching those starving, helpless and frequently naked refugees out into the mountains to be outraged and butchered, sometimes by their guards and sometimes by the Kurds who gladly co-operate in the work of destruction."

"The plan of procedure seems to aim at the complete elimination of all non-Moslem races from Asiatic Turkey and already that aim is in a fair way to accomplishment so far as the Armenians are concerned."

RAINSTORM IN IOWA

TIES UP RAILROAD; DUBUQUE IS FLOODED

Dubuque, Ia., Sept. 26.—The heaviest rainstorm in the history of the city swept over this section today, causing thousands of dollars damage to property and tying up railroad traffic. In fifteen hours which ended at 7 o'clock this morning 4.78 inches of rain fell. The Mississippi river has risen nearly two feet since Saturday night. Many streets and buildings were flooded. Railroad tracks were submerged and numerous washouts reported.

The Chicago, Great Western railroad has five miles of track washed out in an eight mile section just west of this city. Numerous culverts and bridges at other points were washed away. At a dozen points great masses of earth and boulders have slid onto the track where the railroad runs through cuts. It is reported that the road cannot resume service for at least twenty-four hours.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox and Ruth Helen Davis have just completed an allegorical play which they have called "Victory." The idea has been taken from the world war now in progress. The play, in which there will be more than one hundred characters, will be produced at "The Anchorage," the estate of Mrs. Simon Baruch, who is a regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, at Long Branch, N. J.

G. A. R. IS WELCOMED

BY WASHINGTON AT THE ANNUAL REUNION

Washington, Sept. 26.—Washington welcomed tonight thousands of the Grand Army of the Republic arriving for the forty-ninth annual reunion which begins tomorrow and will reach a climax Wednesday when survivors of the conquering Union army will march from the capitol to the White House in commemoration of the grand review of Union troops by President Lincoln at the close of the civil war. Every train reaching the city brought hundreds of veterans and other visitors and the patriotically decorated streets were thronged on the eve of the reunion, which probably will be the last to be held in Washington. About thirty thousand veterans, it is estimated, are to participate in the celebration.

WAHLMAN GETS YPSILANTI JOB

Receives Official Notice That He Is Successful Bidder on P. O. Building.

J. S. Wahlman, who was the lowest bidder on the government postoffice building to be erected in Ypsilanti, Mich., on Saturday received notice that he had been given the job from the treasury department in Washington...

There were seventeen bidders. The building will be one story, with basement, and will be constructed of Louisiana lime stone. It will cover a ground area of seventy-five by eighty feet, and will cost approximately $50,000.

Mr. Wahlman did not find it necessary to go to Ypsilanti to inspect the site when he was preparing his bid, as the specifications furnished by the government were complete. The nature of the ground to be excavated and all other information.

Preparations for commencing the work will be started without delay, as Mr. Wahlman intends to finish the job long before the time allowed under his contract, which is sixteen months from the date it is signed.

Trebilecock Bros. will do the excavating and put in the foundation and other concrete specified in the contract, and Tremblay Bros. who are preparing the Ishpeming postoffice building, will also point the Ypsilanti structure. William Trebilecock will go to Ypsilanti as soon as he completes some jobs he is rushing here, to get the excavating started and to arrange for the construction of the foundation, which will be put in this fall.

Trebilecock Bros. are having one of the busiest seasons they have had in many years. They have been rushed with work for some weeks and they are employing sixty-five men. They worked a crew on the foundation of the Knights of Pythias building yesterday, taking advantage of the dry weather, and they expect to finish there tomorrow, when the workmen will be transferred to the new Main street theater, which the contractors will try to finish by the end of this week.

Mr. Wahlman is just finishing the new high school at Michigan and a large crew is employed on the Embury road barns at Marquette. It will be a few weeks before the latter job is finished, as Mr. Wahlman is doing a lot of extra work, not included in his original contract.

Victim of Cancer. Mrs. Helma M. Berg, wife of Henry Berg, who for the past few months has been employed as meat cutter in the Central Market at Munising, died Saturday noon at the family home, at the Deer Lake location. Cancer, from which she had long been a sufferer, was the cause of her demise.

Carries Out Rule. President Strom, of the Delta County Agricultural association, in a letter to the Escanaba Press explains why the W. C. T. U. was prohibited from distributing anti-saloon literature at the fair grounds. He writes in part: "Last year the liquor interests got some advertising matter into their booths and about the fair grounds. The fair officials protested to them and demanded that they remove it, and a controversy resulted before it was accomplished. The people who came to the fair naturally were thrown into this same controversy with the result that much unpleasantness and discord existed. We do not want such a situation to develop in the fair, which we feel should be a means of uniting our people for the common good of our county. Accordingly, prohibiting by our past experience, our board of directors, at a meeting held August 2nd, determined, and instructed the officers to see to it, that no signs, literature, placards or other printed or advertising matter be permitted to be brought onto the grounds or into the building, agitating either side of the liquor question. The officers immediately requested the liquor interests not to advocate their cause upon the fair grounds during the fair. They abided by the rule willingly. Shortly after the fair got under way several of the officers of the fair society noticed that this rule was being violated by the anti-saloon people, and they were promptly told to quit circulating their handbills. They had done their work, without consulting any officer of the fair society, so far as we can find out; no permit or privilege had been asked of any one. Even after our position was explained to them, they insisted upon embarrassing the officers of the society by coming into the grounds and distributing their printed matter, claiming the prosecuting attorney had advised them they had a right to do so. As a matter of fact, the fair society either has authority to make and enforce rules and regulations governing the conduct of the fair, or they have none. Mr. Rush-ton notwithstanding, we believe we are entirely within our legal and moral rights as we have seen most necessary to conduct the fair upon proper lines, in fairness to all who attend. We believe the fair should be in truth and in fact an exhibition of agriculture, stock, poultry, industries, business, educational features, and kindred objects. We do not believe it should be permitted to be made the battle ground for people to wage their wars upon political, religious, prohibition or any other similar issue which is foreign to the object of the fair."

KING CHILDREN TONIGHT. The Four Juvenile Kings, who present a clever comedy act, will open a three days' engagement this evening at Ishpeming theater. The King children were here some two years ago. Tonight's picture program includes a three-act Broadway star feature comedy, "Reactor's at Seven," "The Quarrel," and a Vitagraph comedy.

THE FUNERAL OF THE LATE Mrs. M. Hult, who passed away Wednesday, was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with services in the Swedish Lutheran church. The funeral was largely attended by Ishpeming friends and several relatives were here from out of the city. Rev. Fred Wyman, the pastor, conducted the services.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hult are visiting relatives in Amherst, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cummings, who for the past twenty-five years or more have been living in the west, are here on a visit to his sister, Miss Ellen Cummings, West Division street.

MISS INGA LARSON DEAD. Miss Inga Larson, daughter of Louis Larson, of the Winthrop location, died at the Ishpeming hospital Saturday night, following an operation for appendicitis. Miss Larson was about thirty years old. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

CONSTIPATION THE FATHER OF MANY ILLS. Of the numerous ills that affect humanity a large share start with constipation. Keep your bowels regular and they may be avoided. When a laxative is needed take Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only move the bowels, but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. Obtainable everywhere.

APPROPRIATIONS ARE MADE FOR NEXT YEAR

Total Sum to Be Raised, Exclusive of the Liquor Tax, Is $90,250.00.

At a special meeting of the city council, held Saturday evening, the annual appropriations for the different funds were designated, in accordance with the recommendations of the finance committee. A total of $105,250 will be raised to take care of bonds falling due and all other debts contracted, including street improvements and other repairs.

In the appropriations is included $8,000 to pay for the incinerator plant, which the city intends to install as soon as the site is decided upon. The plant may not cost $8,000, but it is anticipated that it will exceed $8,000. In other cities where plants of the same unit as the one planned for here have been installed the cost has in all cases exceeded $6,000 and in some instances the cost has exceeded $8,000. The city officials believe that the incinerator plant will effect a nice saving, as well as the present plan of handling the garbage, and at the same time eliminate an expenditure of something over $2,000 the coming year for garbage cars, in case the plant was not installed.

The appropriations, outside of the $8,000 for the incinerator plant, are very little higher than last year. In most instances the same sum will be raised as was credited to the funds this year. The highway fund will be $35,000, the same as it has been for several years past, but there is an increase in the contingent fund, which next year totals $50,000. It is from this fund that the money to pay for the incinerator plant will be drawn.

The finance committee estimates that at least $15,000 will be received from the liquor dealers the first of next May. With this sum credited to the contingent fund, the total required to meet the expenses of conducting the city's affairs will be $90,250. The distribution through the different funds will be as follows:

Table listing fund allocations: Highway $35,000.00, Water $2,500.00, Fire $7,500.00, Library $7,500.00, Sewer $2,000.00, Cemetery $750.00, Contingent $35,000.00. Total $90,250.00.

"RECTOR'S AT SEVEN"

Hughie Mack, Kate Price and Other Favorites in Broadway Feature.

"Rector's at Seven," is the title of the Vitagraph company's Broadway star feature, in three parts, which will be included in tonight's program at Ishpeming theater. It is a comedy production. Among the stars in the cast are Charles Brown, Kate Price, Hughie Mack, Anna Laughlin, Nicholas Dunaway, Ethel Lloyd and John Kelly.

The fun starts when Professor Alton White invites his wife to dine with him at Rector's at seven that evening. About the same time, Hughie White, tired business man, is switched by mistake to the same telephone wire with Bill Flutter a chorus girl! After a hilarious conversation, he invites her to supper at the same place at seven o'clock that evening. Both men order private dining rooms. Because of an error and change in head waiters, Mrs. White, a big, strapping woman, is ushered into Hughie's room, while the Professor gets the room where Bill is waiting. She thinks she is the broker, and greets him with a hearty: "Hello, Old Sport!" Hughie is mistaken by the muscular Mrs. White for a masher and she has him put out.

The head waiter explains the mistake and both go to Bill's room. Seeing her husband there, Kate makes a run for him, but he scampers into a private apartment belonging to Harry Horton and his wife. There he is discovered behind a screen and comes near being shot, but on explaining it was all a mistake, the badly scared man is invited to sit down and have a bottle of wine.

Meanwhile, Nick Hotstuff, Bill's jealous lover, invites himself to Hughie's little supper in Bill's room and proves a veritable spectre at the feast, making the affair very slow for Hughie. Later on Mrs. White interrupts a miniature cabaret performance, the professor (now feeling greatly exhilarated from the wine) and Mrs. Horton are giving in the ballroom, and an exciting chase in taxis follows.

Mrs. White is arrested for not having fare money, while the professor gets mixed up with a burglar, and, being found with a sack of plunder in his belongings, possession, is likewise pinched.

Meanwhile, Nick secures a terrible revenge on Hughie, which—after a series of embarrassing incidents—terminates in the whole bunch being taken to the police station. Explanations are promptly restored, and after imposing some goodly fines, together with much excellent advice, the magistrate unites in marriage Nick and Bill, after which the various couples go away happy.

"THE BUTTERFLY." Popular Movie Star to Be Seen Here Wednesday in a World Feature.

Howard Estabrook is starred in the World Film corporation's presentation of "The Butterfly" in five parts. The picture is based on Henry Ketchell Webster's well known novel of the same name, and it will be the feature offering at the Ishpeming theater Wednesday afternoon and evening. It shows how a hunchback, in revenge against a woman who had repulsed him, lures her step-daughter to the stage and assists her to become a dancer. The girl, whose name is Elaine, has two lovers for one of whom, John Butler, she forms a sincere attachment. Her step-mother goes to see her dancer, and the hunchback, still enraged at her, murders the woman. The hunchback goes mad and is killed by falling from a cliff. Butler, Elaine's lover is accused, but Elaine clears him of the charge by proving that the hunchback was the murderer.

TO SCRAM PROPERTY. Cleveland-Cliffs Management Will Find Out If There Is Ore in Angelina. Since purchasing the Lake Angelina mine and its surface equipment at public auction for $27,000 on the 15th, the management of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company has decided to go through the old workings and find out if there is any ore in the abandoned drifts. It is known that there is some ore near the shafts which cannot be removed while the shafts are used, but this will be taken out later, if it is found that the various drifts contain no ore of commercial value. It is estimated there are in the neighborhood of 20,000 tons of high grade ore around the two shafts.

Eldred Harris, who was a foreman in the mine for many years, until operations were suspended, has been engaged by the Cleveland-Cliffs company to direct the exploratory work. It is doubtful if any of the former workmen of the property are more familiar with the underground workings than Mr. Harris, and the Cleveland-Cliffs management made no mistake in engaging him. He is regarded as one of the city's most capable miners.

The Cleveland-Cliffs officials have not yet decided to put diamond drills in operation in the underground workings, but this will doubtless be done if it is found advisable after the preliminary work is started.

Duncan, agent of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, who on Friday was operated upon for appendicitis at his home, is reported to be getting along very nicely. Mrs. McKereghan, matron of the Ishpeming hospital, left Saturday evening for Milwaukee, where she will receive treatment in a hospital. She was accompanied by Mrs. Len Johnson. "Pitric" Ryan, the Canadian newsboy, who is just completing a tour of the world, spent Saturday in the city. He said that he intends to go direct from here to his home in Alberta, Canada. Cards announcing the marriage of William N. Byrns, of Sault Ste. Marie, formerly of this city, to Miss Inez Grace Price, of Marquette, in the latter city a week ago today, have been received here. The former who owned the bull that Poundmaster Mike Tasson, advertised for sale at public auction Saturday recovered the animal a short time before the hour set for the sale by paying charges of $7.50. James P. Mrs. White is arrested for not having fare money, while the professor gets mixed up with a burglar, and, being found with a sack of plunder in his belongings, possession, is likewise pinched. Meanwhile, Nick secures a terrible revenge on Hughie, which—after a series of embarrassing incidents—terminates in the whole bunch being taken to the police station. Explanations are promptly restored, and after imposing some goodly fines, together with much excellent advice, the magistrate unites in marriage Nick and Bill, after which the various couples go away happy. "THE BUTTERFLY." Popular Movie Star to Be Seen Here Wednesday in a World Feature. Howard Estabrook is starred in the World Film corporation's presentation of "The Butterfly" in five parts. The picture is based on Henry Ketchell Webster's well known novel of the same name, and it will be the feature offering at the Ishpeming theater Wednesday afternoon and evening. It shows how a hunchback, in revenge against a woman who had repulsed him, lures her step-daughter to the stage and assists her to become a dancer. The girl, whose name is Elaine, has two lovers for one of whom, John Butler, she forms a sincere attachment. Her step-mother goes to see her dancer, and the hunchback, still enraged at her, murders the woman. The hunchback goes mad and is killed by falling from a cliff. Butler, Elaine's lover is accused, but Elaine clears him of the charge by proving that the hunchback was the murderer. TO SCRAM PROPERTY. COPPER AS HARD AS STEEL.

One of civilization's lost secrets is the tempering of copper or metal bronze, which is copper alloyed with tin. The old Greeks and Romans had swords, knives and other cutting tools made of bronze, with as sharp and durable a cutting edge as our finest steel. Somehow the process was forgotten. For centuries modern metallurgists have been in vain to rediscover it. All our pure copper is so soft as to be worthless for making tools, and all our bronze is either too soft or too brittle to be serviceable. Now an old village blacksmith in Milbridge, Me., claims to have solved the problem. According to news dispatches, he has copper knives that will whittle shavings from kiln-dried hickory, a copper draw-shave that will slice off a knot as a saw-cutting slice of copper, a copper chisel that cuts mortises in the toughest oak plank and a copper razor that shaves like steel. The discoverer says he forged metal as copper wire, an old copper kettle and discarded soldering copper from a sardine canner. It's all in the tempering process, he says; and he boasts that he can make a copper file or hand saw or anything else of any degree of hardness. The peculiar merit of copper or bronze is that it doesn't rust. If it can really be tempered as Foss says, it is therefore more valuable than fine steel, and the old blacksmith ought to realize his ambition of "getting enough out of his discovery to spend his last days without work."—Waterbury Democrat.

JEWISH PALE IN RUSSIA.

On the day when the delegates of a million American Jews met in this city to demand equal rights for their brethren in Europe, Baron Rosen in the Petrograd conference, the entire gave his great name and wide experience in this and other countries to a plea for the abrogation of all legislation restricting the rights of Jews in Russia. Russia is not the only country in which Jews have less than equal rights, but because it contains nearly half the race in the whole world the sweeping away of the pale and the reform of restrictions on study and occupation would be a mighty triumph. It may be one of the consequences of a great war in which two mighty rivals seem to be bidding for Jewish favor. Extreme Zionists, whether Palestinian or Territorial, may look with dubious eyes upon the possible effect of sudden freedom. Persecution has hardened the spirit of the Jew; congestion within narrow limits has preserved the solidarity of what all Zionists regard as a nation. A school of thought that seeks a separate government because its leaders

J. A. JOHNSON DIED AT MORGAN HEIGHTS

Former Wellknown Negaunee Man Was a Victim of Tuberculosis.

James A. Johnson, a former well-known Negaunee man, who had made his home at Milwaukee for the past fourteen years, passed away Saturday evening at Morgan Heights sanitarium, where he had been a patient for the past three weeks. He had suffered with tuberculosis for about a year and was a patient at Morgan Heights for ten months last winter. He thought that his condition had improved enough to make it safe for him to leave and he returned to Milwaukee in April. He again became seriously ill, however, and he was forced to return to Negaunee in July. He spent ten weeks at the entrance of the sanitarium, but weakened so rapidly that relatives decided to move him to Morgan Heights.

Mr. Johnson was forty-two years old and was born at Little Lake. He came to Negaunee with his parents in 1877. He was the third son of the late John Johnson, who died in 1891. For six years he held the office of city recorder and was one of the city's best known men. After leaving Negaunee he engaged in the saloon and restaurant business at Milwaukee. For many years his place was located a few doors from the entrance of the sanitarium.

He was an honorary member of the Negaunee fire department and during his residence in the city was a foreman in the department. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter. The sons are James, Frank and Hobart, and the daughter, Louise, all residents of Milwaukee. Mr. Johnson and the children are expected to arrive here this morning. Three brothers, August P. and Julius, of this city, and Christ A. of Detroit, and one sister, Mrs. Henry Wild, of Munising also survive him.

ALIENS PAY FINES FOR LAW VIOLATION

Quartet Arrested at North Lake Swore Falsely as to Their Citizenship.

The first arrests under the provision of the game laws which requires that alien residents of the state must have their first citizenship papers before a resident hunter's license can be issued to them were made by Deputy Game Warden John Rugh and John Mohr. The men arrested were Giacomo Baz, Alexander Baz, Marco Salvatore and Luigi Vallar, the first two being taken by the officers on Friday and the latter Saturday morning.

The men are residents of North Lake and were hunting near the Michigan gold mine. They procured their licenses in Negaunee and at the time that the tags were made out they swore they had taken out citizenship papers. When arraigned before Judge Argall Saturday morning they pleaded guilty and each said fine and costs amounting by the warden to $200. Miss Marquette after the court proceedings to take out citizenship papers.

The game warden has been particularly active the past few weeks and a number of arrests of violators have been made. Deputy John Andrews, who has been working in the section with Deputy Moshier and Kooop for the past two weeks, passed through here Saturday on his return to his home at Iron Mountain.

Frank J. Scanlon, Baseball Pitcher, Will Wed Miss Mae McGuire, Oct. 12.

Announcement has been made of the coming marriage of Miss Mae McGuire, of Escanaba, to Frank J. Scanlon, the well-known baseball pitcher, formerly with the Escanaba team in the Marquette and Delta County league. The wedding will take place Oct. 12 at St. Patrick's church, Escanaba. Miss McGuire resigned her position as principal of the Jefferson school at Escanaba on Friday. Mr. Scanlon will arrive in Escanaba in a few days from Davenport, Ia., where he has been pitching in the Three I league during the past season. He is returning to Negaunee with the record, having won more games than any other pitcher in the league. He closed the season with a percentage of 800.

ESCANABA TOOK OPENING GAME

Defeated Negaunee Highs Saturday at Sandy City by Score of 20 to 0.

The members of the Negaunee high school football team, who were defeated Saturday afternoon at Escanaba by the Escanaba eleven by a score of 20 to 0, arrived home yesterday morning. The team and those who accompanied it were entertained by theater parties and automobile rides Saturday evening by Escanaba people.

Of the game the Escanaba Press says: "Escanaba's high school football team yesterday won the opening game of the interscholastic schedule from Negaunee by a count of 20 to 0. Outweighed ten pounds to the man, the light players of the Escanaba squad, by their deft handling of forward passes and fake end runs, had the opening team baffled throughout the game. Only in the third period did Negaunee show consistent strength and in that quarter by straight line bucks the players carried the ball down the field close to Escanaba's goal, only to lose their opportunity to score by a fumble.

Escanaba's first score came within the first four minutes of play when O'Brien found a hole through the center of Negaunee's line and dashed down the field for a touchdown, Cooney kicking goal.

The local team staged a fast, snappy game and their progress in handling passes, in spite of a wet slippery ball filling the coaches and student body with the hope that the team will prove the greatest scoring machine in the history of the local school.

Following the game, the Negaunee players were met at their hotel and were escorted to the Delft theater where they witnessed the performance. The real test of the team will come next Saturday when Escanaba will go to Marquette. The lightest player on Marquette's team of this year tips the scales at 155 pounds and the eleven is made up of veterans.

Mr. Olson will spend a few days visiting with Negaunee and Ishpeming friends before departing to take up his college work.

SANITARY BAKING.

Changes in the sanitary regulations for bakeries for the entire island of Porto Rico provide that bakers must mix their dough by machinery and deliver their bread wrapped in paper. Ovens must be of an approved type and in some instances bakers will be compelled to install cutting machines. The regulations have been formulated to eliminate the handling of bread by workmen from the time the dough is mixed until the bread is delivered to the retail customer. As these regulations practically revolutionize the baking conditions of the island there should be a market here for all sorts of bakers' mechanical supplies. When the new regulations were first issued it was found that it was impossible to obtain any adequate bakery machinery in the island, and as there had never been any particular demand for such machinery local merchants in many instances were without even catalogues of manufacturers making such machinery. Most of the island bakers are small and the market demands small, inexpensive outfits. Porto Rico imports annually over $1,500,000 worth of flour—all from the United States.—Commerce Report.

STEFANSSON'S DISCOVERY.

A world war of which Vilhjalmur Stefansson in his Arctic ventures has not yet heard will prevent his discovery of an Arctic continent from reaping its full reward of attention in Canada, which outfitted the expedition. Apparently his is one of the great feats of Arctic research.

Arctic discoveries generations ago grouped about a succession of markets to find the Northwest Passage, the result being that the west coast of Greenland and the islands lying to the westward of it are fairly well mapped almost to the neighborhood of the Pole. Early Russian discoveries were naturally northward from the Bering Strait and Point Barrow became in recent years a place of call for whaling ships as well as a starting point for scientific expeditions.

Canadian explorers meanwhile were mapping the regions lying about the mouth of the Mackenzie. Beyond the Beaufort Sea, north of the Mackenzie, there is room enough yet unexplored for a continent as large as Germany, Austria-Hungary and Turkey in Europe. Nowhere else in the northern Polar regions is there space for undiscovered land of such vast extent. That land exists and is extensive Stefansson seems to have proved. Its size and outline may defy definition for years to come.

The fashion of calling Arctic expeditions useless bravado has passed with

NORMAL TERM OPENS TODAY

Outlook Is for Record Attendance and President Kaye Expects That the Enrollment Will Reach 400, as Many Inquiries Have Been Received of Late.

Four New Members Will Have Place in Faculty, and First and Second Grades in Training School Will Be Divided—Dedication Ceremonies Oct. 6.

The Northern State Normal will open for the school year 1913-16 today with the prospects excellent for a banner attendance and the most satisfactory year since its first sessions were held. Today will be given over to enrollment and other work of organization for the term. Class work will be started tomorrow, when, also, the sessions of the training school will begin.

"The inquiries we have received and the information we have had from our friends in all parts of the upper peninsula lead us to expect the largest enrollment on record, and we expect it to show a considerable increase over the best previous year," President Kaye said last evening. "I expect that it will reach 400. Our superior facilities, now that we have the administration building, are a magnet that will draw more and more students, and I expect, as it becomes known how well prepared we are to care for the students, the attendance will show most gratifying increases."

The advance guard of the students began arriving in Marquette the latter part of last week, a particularly large delegation coming in Saturday. By tonight it is expected that the great bulk of the students who will attend the school will have arrived in the city.

New Members of Faculty.

The faculty will contain several new members this year. To increase the efficiency of the training school, the first and second grades, which have heretofore been taught by one instructor, will be divided. Miss Herring, who has been a member of the faculty, will take the first grade, and the second will be in charge of Miss Jessie Pitcher. Miss Pitcher had her first training in the Minnesota Normal at Mankato, Minn., took her degree course in the Iowa State college. She has had successful teaching experience.

The third and fourth grades will be in charge of Miss Lillian A. Baker, who is a graduate of the Bridgewater, Mass., Normal, and pursued work at Columbia university. She comes to the Marquette institution from the Montana State Normal.

Another new member of the faculty is W. B. McIntook, last year principal of the Marquette high school, who will have charge of physical education for men and the various athletic teams and will also direct the manual training department. Mr. McIntook met with a large measure of success in the high school, and he is regarded as a notable addition to the Normal teaching staff.

Dr. Hebb, of the physics and chemistry department, will this year pursue work in the Columbia university, having been given a leave of absence for that purpose. His department will be in charge of Thomas R. Fitzgerald, who took his degrees of A. B. and A. M. at the Alleghany college.

Will Dedicate New Building.

Plans have been completed for the dedication of the new administration building. The ceremony will occur the afternoon of Oct. 6, preceding the session of the U. P. Teachers' association, which opens that evening. The public will be cordially welcomed and it is expected that a large number of outside teachers, attracted by the association meeting, will be present.

The building will be formally tendered to the state by Dr. Fred Charlton, the architect of the group, and will be accepted in behalf of the state board of education by Dr. T. W. Nedel, the president of Olivet college, who is also the president of the board. An address will be delivered by the Rt. Rev. John M.

McCormick, of Grand Rapids, bishop for western Michigan, who is a member of the state board of corrections and charities.

An appropriate musical program will be arranged.

GAME THIS AFTERNOON.

Postponed Contest Will Be Played at Fair Grounds.

The Marquette-Ishpeming High football game, which was to have been played Saturday afternoon and which had to be postponed because of the rainy weather, will be played this afternoon, starting between 3:30 and 3:45 o'clock, at the fair grounds. It will be attended by practically the entire student body of the Marquette school, townspeople and by a party of rooters from the Ishpeming school. The first of the interscholastic series to decide the best team in Marquette and Delta counties, played at Escanaba Saturday, resulted in the defeat of the Negawane high.

There has been no opportunity to get a line on either the Marquette or Ishpeming team this season, and their relative strength will not be known until time is called at the end of the first half this afternoon. The Marquette players, however, are hopeful that they will be able to annex the big end of the score.

PRISON IS FULL TO OVERFLOWING

Present Population Is 383, and There Are Cells for Only 312 Men.

With the arrival of two additional prisoners at the Marquette penitentiary Saturday the number of men confined there reached the record figure of 383. Inasmuch as the prison has cell capacity for only 312 men it will be seen that it is pretty well filled. Most of the excess number of men are sleeping in the wing corridors, and the number of trustees who have quarters outside the walls is unusually large. Before the pardon board paroled the next lot of convicts, it is expected that the prison population will have reached 400.

Work is now available for all the men. Whereas a few months ago it was difficult to keep the convicts busy, because of the slack demand for the products of the prison shops, the orders are now reflecting the improved business conditions reported in the country at large. Overalls are selling well and the Box & Lumber company, which operates the box shop, recently received an order that will require the shipment of fifty carloads of material.

Officers of the prison are inclined to attribute the unusually large population to the effects of business depression during the past year. Petty crimes are much more numerous when employment is hard to get than when there is a lively demand for labor. Then there are likely to be a heavy excess over the average of cases of larceny and burglary. The crowded condition is generally in all the prisons of the state, both Jackson and Ionia having more men in their populations than there is cell capacity for.

It is expected that the demands on the Marquette prison will be lightened by an extension of farm work. The board of control is considering the plan of adding extensively to the prison farm lands, and if this is done next season work will be provided for a large number of short term men who could be safely put at work outside the prison walls.

Deputy Warden Catlin is expected home today with Alie Miller, convict who violated his parole and who a little over a week ago was reported from Texas to be under arrest. Miller was paroled two or three years ago, and worked in Marquette for some months, where he became well known. He finally left the state and nothing more was heard of him until he was reported under arrest in Texas.

PIONEER RESIDENT PASSES SUDDENLY

Mrs. John L. Johnson Came to Marquette in 1867 to Join Her Husband.

Mrs. John L. Johnson, 291 W. Arch street, a resident of Marquette for nearly fifty years, passed away suddenly shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday evening. Death was caused by aortic regurgitation.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Stockholm, Sweden, in 1840, and came to this country in 1867 to join her husband, to whom she had been married in Stockholm in 1863. She came directly to Marquette and had been a resident of the city ever since. Two years ago next month Mr. and Mrs. Johnson celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

During the past several weeks Mrs. Johnson's health had been poor, but prior to that time she had been well and vigorous, and her death was unexpected to her family and friends, of whom she had many, particularly among the Swedish residents of the city. She had been an active worker in the Swedish Lutheran church, and the funeral will be held there this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Carl E. Lundgren officiating. She was a woman of fine character, devoted to her family and her friends, and her death is greatly mourned.

Two children, Walter O. Johnson and Mrs. O. G. Youngquist, survive her, as well as her husband, one of the pioneers of Marquette.

Mr. Johnson came to this country in 1864, and went to Chicago, where he engaged in his trade as a woodworker. That winter work was slack in Chicago and he worked in the woods. In 1865 he heard that the Lake Superior country was being opened up and, in company with two acquaintances came to Marquette, where he has resided ever since. A few years after his arrival in Marquette he engaged in business for himself, and was active in the city from time to time in various concerns, meeting with much success in his business ventures.

The funeral of Mrs. Wilhelmina Boesler, whose death occurred Saturday morning, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from her late residence, 302 1/2 Alger street, Rev. Amstutz officiating. Mrs. Boesler, who was the widow of the late Frederick W. Boesler, was one of Marquette's pioneer residents. She was aged 79 years and was born in Germany April 13, 1836. In 1858 she left Germany and went to Detroit, where she was married the following year. Shortly after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Boesler left for Marquette. They lived on a farm west of the city, with the exception of five years when Mr. Boesler was a lighthouse keeper at Antrim, until after her late husband's death Mrs. Boesler moved to the city. Mrs. Boesler is survived by four daughters and two sons. The daughters are Mrs. Jacob Smith, Mrs. Lucille Schaffer, and Mrs. Mayme Bowden, of Marquette, and Mrs. Oscar Siewert, of Ishpeming. GRAND ARMY HOSTS GATHER AT CAPITAL

Washington Expects to Entertain 30,000 Union Veterans—Johnny Rebs as Guests.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Thousands of veterans of the grand army are near for the forty-ninth annual encampment of the grand army of the republic. Fifty years after the last shot was fired survivors of the union host, which marched in review from the capitol to the white house, are to retrace their steps next Wednesday.

In the court of honor where President Johnson stood September 29, 1865, President Wilson will stand to greet the remnant of the victorious armies of Grant and Sherman. Elaborate plans have been made to assure the success of the encampment and the city is in holiday mood. Pennsylvania veterans, through which the military pageant will pass, is waded with the national colors, and flags flutter from windows and housetops.

By tomorrow it is expected 30,000 veterans, many of them survivors of the 100,000 who participated in the grand review of 1865, will have reached the city. Preparations for entertaining 100,000 visitors have been made. On the opening day of the encampment various informal receptions will be held and much of the time will be given over to registration under a system whereby veterans can easily find old comrades.

President Wilson will attend the first formal reception in a huge auditorium adapted for the purpose in the old Census building near the capitol which also will contain headquarters of the various departments and the army court of the grand army and allied organizations during the encampment. The following day the military review will be held.

General Nelson A. Miles, who will act as marshal of the review, taking the place General Sherman occupied in 1865, and David J. Palmer, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., already have arrived. Among other who are here or expected distinguished guests are the following noted veterans:

General James H. Wilson, of Wilmington, Del., and General Granville M. Dodge, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, the only two living corps commanders of the union army; division commanders General Adelbert Ames, of Mississippi; General D. McM. Gregg, of Pennsylvania; General Lewis A. Grant, Minn. Gen. I. Warren Keifer, of Ohio and Brig. Gen. John T. Wilder, of Knoxville, Tenn. Nearly all the veterans who marched with Sherman and Grant who are enrolled for the line of march Wednesday have passed seventy years of age and it is probable that another commemoration of the event never will be held.

The line of march for the parade will be from Peace Monument at the east entrance of the capitol grounds, up Pennsylvania avenue, through a court of honor erected in front of the white house. With the president when he reviews the procession will be members of the cabinet, other distinguished officers of the United States, Justices of the supreme court and members of congress. Besides the veterans in the line of march, other distinguished officers of the United States, Justices of the supreme court and members of congress.

The parade, it is estimated, will require about three hours in passing. General Miles, as honorary grand marshal of the parade, will have army and navy officers as his aides. Col. Holey, chief of staff to the commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., will be the active marshal. As special guard to Commander-in-Chief Palmer will be the U. S. Grant post at Brooklyn, N. Y. Veterans will march in their respective army departments, the line being headed by the department of Illinois which was the first to be organized after the war.

On Thursday and Friday business meetings of the encampment, with sessions of allied organizations, will be held. After the election of grand officers Friday the veterans will proceed to Arlington national cemetery where President Wilson will lay the cornerstone of a new national amphitheater. Another feature will be a public reception in the capitol Thursday evening under the auspices of the Women's Relief corps. The organization co-operating with the women of the G. A. R., will plant two trees, one on each side of the boulevard leading to the Lincoln Memorial in Potomac park. The first spadeful of earth in planting the first tree will be turned by Commander-in-Chief David J. Palmer, while Mrs. Sarah E. Fulton, president of the Women's Relief corps, will have that honor in planting the second tree.

Old Signaling Reviewed.

One of the events for tomorrow will be the wig-wagging of a message of greeting and good will to visiting veterans from President Wilson. The message will be signalled by men familiar with the old Myer code which was sent from station to station about Washington by survivors of the signal corps of fifty years ago.

Signalling features of the encampment will continue throughout the week under charge of Lieut. George Carr Round, president of the United States Veterans Signal Corps association. The main station of the veteran signal corps will be on the heights of Georgetown in the extreme western section of Washington and upon the spot where the government had its signal instruction camps during the war. Mt. Taber Methodist church, which stands there, will be the headquarters. From that point welcome will be wig-wagged and messages of peace and good will to the world are to be sent. Other stations are established at Fort Stevens, Fort De Russy; the national soldiers home, Fort Richardson and the dome of the capitol.

Secretary Garrison and Secretary Daniels have co-operated with the committees to entertain the veterans. Regular troops from Fort Myer are to give daily drill exhibitions on the Washington monument grounds while submarines, torpedo boats and other small naval craft unknown to civil war times are to be on exhibition in Washington harbor in the Potomac.

Mingling in the throngs of wearers of the blue who have reached here are wearers of the confederate gray who were especially invited to attend the encampment.
