

RUSSIANS OVERWHELM TEUTONS IN EASTERN GALICIA

FIERCE ATTACK PIERCES LINES ON THE STRIPA

Last of Defensive Posts of Austrians Penetrated by Forces of the Czar, Who Follow Decisive Victory by Storming Strongest Points of Foe's Right Flank.

Success Is of Strategical and Political Value—Teutons Had Concentrated at That Point to Impress Roumania—General von Hindenburg Hurdled Back Also.

Paris, Oct. 14, 1:30 a. m.—Private advices are to the effect that a Bulgarian division was almost annihilated in a fierce battle near Krajewitz, Serbia, says a dispatch, dated Tuesday, and delayed in transmission.

London, Oct. 13, 10:30 p. m.—While there has been little real change in the western theater of war Petrograd reports severe fighting.

Another striking victory has been won by the Russians on the southern front in eastern Galicia. They have pierced the last line of Austrian defenses on the Stripa river and have stormed one of the strongest points on the Austro-German right flank, says a Petrograd dispatch. Between two thousand and three thousand prisoners were captured.

VICTORY IS MOMENTOUS.

The Russian war office estimates that upwards of three divisions of the Austrians were disorganized. It characterizes this success as a tactical, strategical and political victory, asserting it will compel General von Linsingen to regroup his forces on the whole front, which will affect operations in the entire southeastern district. The greatest importance is attached here to the political significance of the Russian accomplishments in eastern Galicia, inasmuch as large Austro-German forces had been concentrated on the Galician front, apparently to impress Roumania.

In the north the Russians have pushed Field Marshal von Hindenburg several miles farther west of Dvinsk and are again approaching the Dvinsk-Vilna railway.

A strong German force attacked the French lines around Souchez and Vimy today. A violent bombardment preceded the infantry attacks, which were renewed from time to time and desperately carried out. The Germans succeeded in penetrating some of the trenches, which had been badly shattered by the shells, but, according to the French official statement issued tonight, were repulsed everywhere else with heavy losses.

The activity of the British submarines in the Baltic continues and Germany is now conveying her steamers to and from Sweden.

DAVID STARR JORDAN TO URGE ENDING WAR Peace Congress Sends Educator to Ask President Wilson to Obtain Aid of Neutrals.

San Francisco, Oct. 13.—The international peace congress adopted a resolution today directing David Starr Jordan, president of the congress and chancellor of Stanford university, to proceed to Washington, D. C., at once and urge President Wilson to call a conference of neutral nations to bring about peace. He will leave tomorrow.

The congress in a resolution stated it believed the warring nations were not willing themselves to begin peace negotiations, but would welcome, or at least not oppose, affirmative action by a neutral agency endeavoring to bring about peace based on international justice.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Switzerland stands ready to join the United States and other neutral nations in any move which may be made to end the European war, according to Paul Ritter, minister plenipotentiary from Switzerland to the United States, who, with his wife, stopped off in Chicago today on their way to the exposition at San Francisco.

SAYS RUSSIA IS GETTING MUNITIONS FROM JAPAN New York, Oct. 13.—Russia has been receiving munitions of war from Japan at an average rate of twenty trainloads a day for over three months, according to Cyrus P. Robinson, a mining engineer of London, who arrived here today on the steamship California from Liverpool. Mr. Robinson said he was in Petrograd for two months on government duty for the government consented not to press the case against him.

EXILED GUATEMALANS REVOLUTIONARY HEADS

Uprising in Central American Republic May Assume Serious Proportions.

New Orleans, Oct. 13.—Revolution has broken out in Guatemala and fighting is in progress in the states of San Marcos, Huehuetenango and Peten, according to advices received here by the Guatemalan junta of the revolutionary committee.

It was declared an army of 1,700 men, commanded by exiled Guatemalans, had crossed the Suchiate river from the Mexican state of Chiapas and that the federal garrison at Tacana had revolted. The revolutionary army in San Marcos is commanded by General Isidro Valdez, who was exiled by President Estrada Cabrera several years ago, it was said.

While it was said the local junta of the revolutionists had received no direct advices of fighting on the eastern boundary of Guatemala, prominent members of the local Guatemalan colony declared they expected news of uprisings in the states on the Honduran and Salvadoran borders.

BRITISH "DRIFTER" BLOWN UP BY MINE

St. Johns, Newfoundland, Oct. 13.—Word was received tonight that the armed drifter Franzoliver, one of the British auxiliary fleet operating in the North sea, was blown up by a mine yesterday. Five naval reservists from this colony were among those lost. The drifter was engaged in picking up German mines.

FRENCH LINER STRUCK BY GERMAN TORPEDO

Paris, Oct. 13, 11:50 p. m.—The French liner Yunnan has been torpedoed, presumably in the Mediterranean sea. The vessel did not sink and her crew of ninety men were safely landed.

ZEPPELINS RAID LONDON AGAIN; SIX MEN KILLED

London, Oct. 14, 12:30 a. m.—Zeppelin airships have made another raid over London dropping bombs. Eight persons are declared to have been killed and about thirty-four injured. The material damage done is said to have been small.

The home office shortly after midnight made the following report on the raid: "A Zeppelin raid was made yesterday evening over a portion of the London area, when a certain number of incendiary and explosive bombs were dropped. The material damage done was small. A few fires resulted, but they were quickly put out by the fire brigade. The admiral will issue a statement today, when particulars are available.

"At present it is only possible to say that no public buildings were injured and that the casualties so far reported number two women and six men killed and about thirty-four injured. With the exception of a soldier killed all these were civilians.

"These figures include all the casualties reported at 11:45 o'clock yesterday evening."

ELEVEN MILLIONAIRES ON TRIAL AS CRIMINALS

Directors of New Haven Held to Have Violated Anti-Trust Law—Is Test Case.

New York, Oct. 13.—The long-pending trial of the directors and former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, which will test the ability of the government to obtain the conviction of the directors of an alleged monopolistic corporation under the so-called criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust law, was begun in the federal court here today before Judge Hunt.

Three tentative jurors were in the box when the first day's proceedings came to a close.

Eleven defendants who went to trial represented in the aggregate wealth running into hundreds of millions. It was marked that never in the history of the federal court had such a number of notable men been called to trial with the possibility of terms in jail facing them. The defendants were: William Rockefeller, Charles S. Brooks, D. Newton Barney, Robert W. Taft, James S. Hemingway, Lewis Cass Lebold, Charles M. Pratt, A. H. Robertson, Frederick E. Brewster, Henry K. McHarg and Edward R. Robbins.

George McCullough Miller, another defendant, was also cited to appear today, but his name was omitted when the names of the other defendants were called by the clerk. Mr. Miller is eighty-three years old and the condition of his health was so precarious that counsel for the government consented not to press the case against him.

BRITISH SEND MORE GOLD TO NEW YORK

Bangor, Me., Oct. 13.—A shipment of British gold from London to New York by way of Halifax passed through here today in a special armored baggage car attached to a regular train. The value of the shipment was estimated at from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000.

SERBS FIGHTING HARD TO CHECK TEUTON ARMIES

Austro-German Progress, While Steady, Is Slow, and Likely Will Become Increasingly Difficult Later—Bulgars Dislike to War on Russian Protectors.

One Commander Reported to Have Resigned Rather Than Attack Czar's Forces—Varna Appears to Be a Hard Nut to Crack—Allies Want Italy to Help.

London, Oct. 13, 10 p. m.—The Near East, with the Austro-German and Bulgarian invasions of Serbia, the Anglo-French landing at Saloniki, the promised active intervention of Russia and the diplomatic possibilities in Greece and Roumania, continues to be the center of interest throughout the belligerent countries.

The Serbians, although greatly outnumbered by armies with superior equipment, are making a stubborn defense of their country, and while the Austro-German progress is steady, it is very slow and probably will become slower still when the mountains, where the Serbians are strongly entrenched, are reached.

Of the Bulgarian campaign nothing new has been received since Nish reported the repulse of the invaders, while the movements of the Anglo-French and Russian forces have thus far been kept from the knowledge of the public.

RUSSIANS FACE HARD TASK

The Russians have no easy task before them if they intend to land in Bulgaria. Varna and the other Bulgarian ports on the Black sea, where a landing might be made, have been strongly fortified under the direction of German officers and are protected by mine fields. The Russians could sail up the Danube, as that is an international waterway, but it is doubtful if they have the necessary transports; while to come through Roumania would require the consent of the government of that country, which, although considered friendly to the entente powers, might not wish to risk the displeasure of Germany.

ITALIAN TROOPS NEEDED

Some disappointment is expressed here at the decision of Italy not to participate. Italy has laid claim to great influence in the Balkans and is known to have aspirations in Asia Minor, which the junction of Germans and Turks, it is pointed out, would virtually bring to an end. With unflinching forces and excellent transport facilities, the view is held in London that Italy is in a better position than any of the allies to lend a hand, and the hope is expressed that she will yet do so.

BULGARS DISLIKE FIGHTING SLAVS

In the meantime the allies are closely watching developments in the internal situation in Bulgaria, where many of the people are averse to fighting against the allies, particularly Russia. It is reported from Paris tonight that General Savoff, former Bulgarian minister of war and former commander-in-chief of the Bulgarian army, has resigned his command rather than fight against Russia.

It is thought that the landing of Russians in Bulgaria might result in a change in the policy of that country even this late in the day.

ORVILLE WRIGHT SELLS INTEREST IN PLANE CO. PRICE IS SAID $1,500,000

New York, Oct. 13.—Orville Wright has sold his entire interest in the Wright Aeroplane company at Dayton, O., to a syndicate consisting of William B. Thompson, Albert H. Wiggin, president of the Chase National bank of New York, and F. Frank Mansville of the H. W. Johns-Manville company, according to an announcement made here today. The deal, it is reported, involved in the neighborhood $1,500,000. Mr. Wright has been ill for nearly a year and announced today that he would take a rest for at least a year.

It was also learned that Orville Wright, although disposing of his entire interest in the present company, will become consulting engineer of a new aeroplane company which the syndicate will form. It was also stated that Mr. Wright will be a stockholder in the new company.

MINE MANAGERS PROBE STRIKERS' COMMITTEE

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 13.—Representatives of the closed Arizona copper mines said tonight that no answer to the latest conference proposal of the strikers would be given before tomorrow at the earliest. The mine operators will investigate the names on the list of fifteen proposed conferees by the strikers at a meeting tonight at Clifton late today in order to determine whether any five of them are acceptable.

WANTS WOMEN TO MARRY MEN WHO ARE HURT IN WAR

London, Oct. 13, 3:15 p. m.—The Rev. Ernest Houghton, a Bristol rector, has started an appeal to patriotic women of the nation to give their lives to ameliorate the condition of maimed heroes of the war by marrying them. He has launched a "League for the Marrying of Broken Heroes." The rector contends that the example of France shows that unions thus arranged promise a greater percentage of happiness than is customary from the methods in England, because they are based upon a high degree of unselfishness. Strict secrecy is promised as to the identity of women prepared to immoderate themselves after the plan of the league until the arrangements for their marriage are complete.

RED SOX CINCH WORLD SERIES BY BRISK RALLY

After "Duffy" Lewis Yesterday Tied Score in the Eighth With a Homer, Hooper, Boston Fielder, Hit the Ball Into Stands in the Ninth, Making the Circuit

Foster, Sent in by Carrigan, Has a Hard Tussle of It to Hold Philly Batters in Check—Mayer Driven from Mound by Sox—Rixey Steady Till Last of Game

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—In the fading sunlight of a beautiful October afternoon, Harry Hooper, of Capitola, Cal., brought the world's series of 1915 to a close this afternoon when he came to bat for the Red Sox for the last time in the fifth game of a wonderfully hard-fought series. Eppa Rixey, of Charlottesville, Va., was hurling for the faltering Phillies and there was one out in the ninth when the Red Sox right fielder faced the erratic southpaw. "Colonel" made the batter look foolish as he brought two fast curves over the plate for called strikes, and the home routers were howling in glee. This noisy approval evidently made Rixey over-confident, for a moment later he grooved one. There was a swish, a crash of hickory against horsehide, and a white streak headed for the center-field stands. The ball fell to the ground and then with a long bound it went into the crowd and Hooper trotted around the paths.

TAFT SAYS PRESIDENTS ARE REASONABLY SAFE FROM ASSASSINATION

New York, Oct. 13.—Secret service men now guard the presidents of the United States with such efficiency that the repetition of an assassination like that of President McKinley at Buffalo is now an absolute impossibility, if the assassin is willing to risk his life, former President William H. Taft told the Columbia University Institute of Arts and Sciences tonight. Mr. Taft said that while he was president he never had experienced any personal anxiety while moving around in large crowds. He felt that with secret service men following him he was under surveillance rather than under protection.

MICHIGAN WINS FROM MARIETTA BY A 28-6 SCORE

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 13.—Battering-ram football gave the University of Michigan football eleven a 28 to 6 victory over the speedy Marietta (Ohio) college team here today. Smashing, old-fashioned play enabled the Wolverines to obtain a winning margin in the first half after which the visitors braced and gave Michigan a merry fight.

Clever forward-passing gave Marietta a touchdown in the third period. A few moments after the quarter began, a toss of forty-five yards put the ball in Michigan territory. Another heave of twenty yards to Richardson produced the score. After Maubetsch carried the ball over for Michigan in the last period, Marietta again tried the open game, but with indifferent success. Michigan's lineup was:

COTTON FUTURES ACT SAID UNCONSTITUTIONAL

So Rules Federal Judge, Explaining It Originated in Senate, Instead of House.

New York, Oct. 13.—The cotton futures act of Aug. 18, 1914, also known as the Lever law, was today declared unconstitutional by Federal District Judge Hough, because, as a revenue measure, it originated in the senate instead of the house of representatives, as required by the constitution.

The decision was rendered in a test suit. Concerning the contention of the government's attorneys that the act was designed primarily to prevent speculation in cotton futures, Judge Hough said it was immaterial what intent was behind the act so long as congress had labeled it a tax measure.

The cotton futures act became operative Feb. 18, and if the higher courts sustain Judge Hough, or if the government does not appeal the case, all of the money collected under the law will have to be refunded. Although the act placed a tax of two cents a pound upon all transactions in cotton for future delivery, it was openly avowed by its sponsors as being a measure designed to prevent speculation in cotton futures. This form of trading formed a considerable portion of the business done between cotton brokerage firms in the United States and Liverpool.

May Appeal from Ruling.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Attorney General Gregory declined tonight to indicate whether the department of justice would appeal from the decision of Judge Hough holding the cotton futures act unconstitutional. It is believed in official circles, however, that an appeal will be taken.

RED SOX CINCH WORLD SERIES BY BRISK RALLY

After "Duffy" Lewis Yesterday Tied Score in the Eighth With a Homer, Hooper, Boston Fielder, Hit the Ball Into Stands in the Ninth, Making the Circuit

Foster, Sent in by Carrigan, Has a Hard Tussle of It to Hold Philly Batters in Check—Mayer Driven from Mound by Sox—Rixey Steady Till Last of Game

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—In the fading sunlight of a beautiful October afternoon, Harry Hooper, of Capitola, Cal., brought the world's series of 1915 to a close this afternoon when he came to bat for the Red Sox for the last time in the fifth game of a wonderfully hard-fought series. Eppa Rixey, of Charlottesville, Va., was hurling for the faltering Phillies and there was one out in the ninth when the Red Sox right fielder faced the erratic southpaw. "Colonel" made the batter look foolish as he brought two fast curves over the plate for called strikes, and the home routers were howling in glee. This noisy approval evidently made Rixey over-confident, for a moment later he grooved one. There was a swish, a crash of hickory against horsehide, and a white streak headed for the center-field stands. The ball fell to the ground and then with a long bound it went into the crowd and Hooper trotted around the paths.

HOOPER'S HIT WON GAME.

The Phillies hit were due a turn at bat, but there was not a soul among the more than twenty thousand crowded into the park who did not know that the series was over and that the Boston Sox had won another championship of the world-four games to one. Flustered, but still fighting, the standard bearers of the National league went through the formality of completing the last inning, but not a man could get to first. This last game of the series was a battle from the jump. Piling up three runs in the eighth and ninth innings Boston got the decision 5 to 4.

For the first time in the series the hum of the homer was heard in the land. The Boston hitters got the range of the short field stands in center and sent three balls hurtling there for the circuit. Hooper got two of the home run smashes and Lewis another for Boston.

The Philadelphia players, who had had their batting rights carefully trained on the stands and closet-set fences long before the series began, valiantly tried to meet the invaders at the home run game. Luderus lifted one high over the right field wall in the fourth, but here the heavy fring of the home folks ended.

MAYER STARTED IN BOX.

Manager Moran of the Phillies, sprang a big surprise when he announced J. Erskin Mayer, of Atlanta, Ga., as the flinger to make the last stand for the home team. It had been taken for granted that Alexander would be sent to the slab.

The wise ones said that Moran had decided to take a chance on winning today's game so that he would have Alexander ready tomorrow for a possible tie-up of the series. At any rate Mayer looked good to Moran today, but he looked even better to the Red Sox. They were having a batting holiday at his expense when Moran stopped the proceedings in the third and waved Mayer to the bench. The home players had given Mayer two runs in their half of the first, but the Sox had hammered home a similar number and had gathered six hits off the Georgian when he flung his glove away and ducked into the Philly dugout.

RIXEY HOLDS UNTIL EIGHTH.

"Colonel" Rixey was called to the mound and the Sox assault was suddenly stopped. The home team gave the "colonel" two additional runs in the fourth and it seemed that he was destined to be a winner until the visitors took their eighth turn. Gainer, the first man up in this frame, singled. "Duffy" Lewis met a fast one squarely on the nose and the crowd groaned as it landed a most unwelcome visitor in the very laps of the loyal routers in the grounds for a homer. Up to this time the thousands of fans gathered for the fifth conflict had been confident of victory. It was a cruel descent to the depths of despair for them when "Duffy" Lewis sent his homer into the stands and tied the score. This long hit made it possible for Hooper's homer to give the finishing touch to the game and the series.

George Foster won his second game of the series. Foster got a warm reception today from the very start, but he stuck to his task and finally withstood the most furious fusillade the Phillies had fired throughout the series. Smashed and hammered in the first and fourth, Foster was always fighting back. He never lost his head, fielded splendidly and was always a dangerous factor at the bat.

A BRIEF SUMMARY.

Philadelphia opened the scoring today, making two runs in the first when Bancroft and Paskert scored on Luderus' double to left. Boston came back in the second, when Gardner scored on Barry's Texas leaguer to left. Boston gained another run in the third, when Hooper hit a home run. Philadelphia came back in the fourth with two runs, Luderus hitting a homer. Niehoff shot a single to centerfield. Here occurred some loose fielding. Burns drove a single to right and Niehoff sprinted to second and dashed for third. Hooper made a lightning throw to the bag, but it was wide and the ball struck the grandstand. By the time Gardner recovered the ball Niehoff was past third base and Gardner, thinking Niehoff was going to try to score, made a wide throw to Thomas at the plate. Thomas fell all over the horsehide trying to field it, and it rolled into the infield and Niehoff dashed for home with no one covering the plate.

Boston made two in the eighth, Gainer and Lewis scoring on the latter's homer. In the ninth, for Boston, came Hooper's winning home run.

CARRIGAN AND MORAN AGREE BEST TEAM WON

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—Both Manager Carrigan of the victorious Boston Red Sox and Pat Moran, leader of the Phillies, declared tonight that the 1915 world's series would go down in baseball history as one of the hardest ever fought for premier honors and both were agreed that the best team won.

"When you are beaten four in a row there isn't any excuse to offer," said Moran. "Any team that wins four successive games in a world's series must be given credit. We played our best."

"It was a hard fought series, and the best team won," said Carrigan. "I never saw a series so interesting and so hotly contested. The Phillies deserve a lot of credit."

VIVIANI CABINET GIVEN BIG VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Chamber of Deputies Balloting Results in Decisive Poll of 372 to 9 Endorsing Steps Taken in War by French Government—Many of Opposition Stand Mute

In Stormiest Session of Years, President Left Room and Lights Were Extinguished to Restore Order—Chief Criticism Is of Action in the Balkan Crisis.

Paris, Oct. 13, 10 p. m.—The government, of which Rene Viviani is the head, received a decisive vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies tonight, 372 to 9, after a long and exciting session in which the government's war policy, particularly relating to the Balkans, was severely criticized by leaders representing the important committees of foreign, military and naval affairs.

The debate was signaled at the outset by the announcement by Premier Viviani of the resignation of M. Delcasse, which had been accepted, M. Viviani assuming the portfolio of foreign affairs, in addition to the presidency of the council.

The final vote did not disclose the extent of the opposition to the government as those who led the attack withheld their votes on the ground that the government had not presented a sufficient explanation to permit members to vote intelligently.

SESSION STORMIEST IN YEARS.

The session was one of the most turbulent in recent years, the disorder becoming so great while the final vote was being taken that the president left the chamber and the lights were extinguished in order to suppress the violent outbreak of one of the opposing members.

The chief criticism of the opposition was directed against the government's alleged lack of foresight in attempting to avert Bulgaria's understanding with Germany and lack of energy in failing to arrange for an ample landing force at Saloniki to offset the German and Bulgarian move in the Balkans.

In a ringing reply M. Viviani defended the course of the government. He declared that it was obliged not only to consult the parliamentary committees, but to maintain the good faith of its position with the allied governments, which did not permit it to lay a complete explanation of all the military policies before parliament. He declared that M. Delcasse's resignation was not due to any disorder in the ministry, as M. Delcasse had always assented to the various steps taken.

$400,000,000 IS ESTIMATE FOR ARMY AND NAVY

Washington, Oct. 14.—Four hundred million dollars for national defense—an increase of approximately $140,000,000 over last year—constitutes the amount which President Wilson and his advisers at present estimate should be appropriated by the next congress for the army and navy.

As the date—Friday—for completion of the annual estimates draws near, the president is giving preliminary consideration to the national defense budget out of which it is hoped to lay down a stronger naval program than the United States ever has authorized in its history and similarly a larger provision for the military establishment than has been customary in time of peace.

While the details have not been revealed a substantial increase in the regular army, probably from $7,000 to at least 120,000 men, and the creation of a reserve of perhaps 400,000 men through short term enlistment service of citizens interested in military training, are said to be parts of the plan.

Intimations in naval quarters were that four capital fighting ships would be recommended for the first of the next five years, three the second year and enough thereafter to make a total of between fifteen and twenty fighting ships for the entire period.

An annual waste of 50,000,000 eggs takes place in the United States.

PUT NONE BUT AMERICANS ON GUARD.

IN MEMENIEE COUNTY.

Over in Menominee the board of supervisors this week has been grappling with the local option petitions.

The liquor men have been attacking them on technical grounds. The number of petitioners is sufficient to assure a spring election on county prohibition.

The session was marked by timely comment on the question by Roger M. Andrews and Mayor Lloyd. Both expressed themselves as frankly opposed to making Menominee county dry.

This is a sound view of the matter. The liquor men, it often appears, waste too much energy, and really injure their cause, by their willingness to resort to every technical objection.

In his address on the situation in Menominee, in which he frankly arrayed himself against the dries, Mayor Lloyd made clear that his attitude was dictated in no small degree by local conditions.

The report of the mine inspector this year carries the statement that the death rate during the past twelve months has been the lowest of which there is record since inspection was provided by law.

This showing is the fruit of the "safety first" campaign and of the workmen's compensation law. We would doubtless have had the "safety first" movement without the compensation law.

Thus not only are the employers providing every possible safety device that ingenuity can suggest and money can buy, but they are beginning to adopt methods for quickening the intelligence of their workmen.

Humanitarianism and cold business sense are curiously at work together in the application of the new law and the new principles of industrial methods it has introduced.

A VEXING PROBLEM.

A number of the leading newspapers of Canada are discussing ways and means of avoiding a congestion of population in the cities of that country.

Such an impounding is confidently anticipated, and the Canadians are desirous to distribute it over the millions of acres of idle but arable lands in the Dominion.

Yet it appears that, with all of the inducements Canada has been offering to farmers, the greater part of her immigrants in the last few years have preferred settling in the towns and cities.

Greater congestion of population in cities and towns, after the close of the war, can be expected in the United States, as well as in Canada.

Under the circumstances, if Menominee county were dry Menominee city would be a serious sufferer, because this disposition of Menominee people to spend their time and their money in Marinette would be greatly increased.

THE FRUIT OF "SAFETY FIRST."

The report of the mine inspector this year carries the statement that the death rate during the past twelve months has been the lowest of which there is record since inspection was provided by law.

The Germans can't see how they can lose in the Balkans. And there is no lacking evidence that this time the allies fear they are right.

For once the experts were right. The Red Sox were topheavy favorites among them for the world's championship.

EDITORIAL OPINION

What Recognition Means.

Now that the administration is practically committed to the formal recognition of Venustiano Carranza as the de facto ruler of Mexico, all good citizens will hope that another serious mistake has not been made.

Greater congestion of population in cities and towns, after the close of the war, can be expected in the United States, as well as in Canada.

Under the circumstances, if Menominee county were dry Menominee city would be a serious sufferer, because this disposition of Menominee people to spend their time and their money in Marinette would be greatly increased.

FIGHTING RAT.

A case of bubonic plague was found in New Orleans in August. Twenty years ago such a statement would have been received with incredulous scorn and denounced as a "knock" on the city, or else it would have been the signal for wild panic.

shell came through the roof of the shelter, passed between the Canadian's long, lean legs (luckily without hitting him), and buried itself harmlessly in the soft earth.

The disturbance brought the company commander on the run. "What's up?" says he. "Well, sir," says the Canadian, "that there shell drops in on us, and when it don't explode at once I judge it is pretty safe to go off at all."

Marie, representatives of the auditor general's office, are busily engaged in the offices of the register of deeds, clerk and treasurer of Delta county at Escanaba, checking up matters relative to platted lands of the county.

Plan Repair of Bridge. Steps will probably be taken soon to repair the Ashmun street bridge over the water power canal at the Soo.

May Ask for $100,000 Bonds. If favorable action is taken by the Delta county board of supervisors, a proposition will be submitted to the voters of the county at the election next spring to issue bonds in the amount of $100,000 to complete the county road system.

East Lansing—Fearing that there will be another large loss in the bean crop in 1916, Prof. V. M. Shoemith, head of the farm crops department of the Michigan Agricultural college, is sending out warnings to farmers of this state.

Victim of Hard Luck. He was a Canadian and he wore a corolla's stripes. There he sat snugly in a sheltered part of his trench in that little corner of Belgium and played poker with a quartet of his comrades.

Lower State Notes. Lansing—State Railroad Commissioner Cunningham is sending letters to all the railroads of the state calling attention to the statute which requires the railroads to keep their crossings graded up to the highways.

Muskegon—For the first time in the history of Muskegon county the board of supervisors, the commission met last Monday afternoon without the annual fight over equalization between the city of Muskegon and the balance of the county facing them.

Muskegon—Eugene Young of this city entered the Douglas club rooms and sat down and talked with several friends there. He had been talking about ten minutes when he suddenly fell over in his chair dead.

Kalamazoo—Parents of Fred Zinn, the Calabazoo boy who was reported shot during a battle in France, hold out a slight hope that the news of his death recently may have been wrong.

UPPER PENINSULA

County Spent $13,000 for Poor.

It cost the county of Delta a total of $13,708 to care for its poor during the past year. That amount, says the actual outlay of money by the poor department, but there were receipts from different sources totaling $3,488.15, and which bring the department's actual deficit for the year down to $10,219.83.

DOG IN DESPERATE PLIGHT.

The buying of a hound, apparently in distress, one day last week was carried on the crisp breeze to the ears of Guy DeCamp, of Grand Rapids, Delta county, who was employed at the time near the pulp mill. DeCamp wondered at the continued noise from the dog, which kept up steadily for some time without change in direction.

Finally, becoming curious, he investigated. Going into the woods he gradually drew near the dog, a large black and tan hound. The animal was standing close to a small sapling and apparently was unable to move. DeCamp found the sapling had run through the dog's collar, a good strong leather one, and had become twisted, thus holding the animal a prisoner. The hound had turned its body around, passing underneath the sapling, in this manner twisting the collar so that in a short time it must have died from strangulation.

DeCamp released the dog and took it to his home in cross, where the owner can get it by proving ownership. The dog has recovered.

Gladstone Will File Complaint.

Because of the action of the Delta county board of supervisors in accepting the report of the equalization committee, which added $62,500 to the assessed valuation of the city of Gladstone, Supervisor Carl P. Mason, gave notice to the board that the city of Gladstone will immediately take steps to appeal to the state tax commission for a review of all the valuations fixed in this county. The report also added $22,500 to Escanaba township's valuation over that fixed by the township board of review.

The report, as submitted to the board and adopted with only the Gladstone supervisors voting against it, was signed by all of the members of the committee, excepting Supervisor Olson, of Gladstone. Char-husman Atkins, of the equalization committee, announced that the members of that body were satisfied that personal property valuations in Gladstone were assessed ridiculously below their actual value and as compared to personal property values in other portions of the county. It was pointed out that the personal property valuation, as fixed by the Gladstone board of review, was far less than the personal property valuation in the township of Nahma and it was felt by the committee that a change should be made at this time to assist the Gladstone board of review in finally reaching an assessed valuation for their city that would be on a par with the same class of property in other parts of the county.

Just Try This When Hairy Growths Appear

(Modes of Today)

A smooth, hairless skin always follows the use of a paste made by mixing some water with plain powdered delatone. This paste is applied to the hairy surface 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain or discomfort attends the use of the delatone paste, but caution should be exercised to be sure that you get real delatone.

BANKERS WILL MEET AT HOUGHTON TODAY

Group 1 of Michigan Association Will Hold First Gathering Since Organization.

Houghton will today be the financial center of the upper peninsula. Houghton rather considers itself that anyway as a fixed thing but today it will be the center, the hub of the finance of the fifteen counties will be here in the person of their principal officers. This is the day of the first meeting of Group 1 of the Michigan Bankers' association, comprising the banks of the upper peninsula.

While this meeting usually is spoken of as the first it actually is the second because the bankers met in Marquette last spring to organize. This is the first meeting to carry out the purposes of the organization.

Edward S. Bice, vice president of the First National bank of Marquette, who is president of the group, and R. A. Packard, cashier of the Commercial bank of Menominee, who is secretary, arrived last night so as to be on hand early to meet delegates and to arrange preliminaries of the business meeting, which is to take place at noon in connection with a luncheon at the Houghton club.

There are to be about forty-five banks, both state and national, represented by sixty delegates. These delegates will for the most part arrive on the early trains this morning.

Including the delegates, there will be 150 guests at the dinner to be given in honor of the bankers at the Houghton club tonight.

NO NEW CALUMET SCHOOL.

Published Report Apparently Was Fictitious of an Imagination.

Just where the idea germinated is not known but there has been current in Calumet for some weeks a story to the effect that the school boards of Calumet district No. 1 and No. 2 and Oscoda township district intended to build a new high and trade school to accommodate pupils from the three districts and to relieve the congestion in the Calumet high school, which now serves the three. The story met with no official denial and it was believed.

It is now learned that this story was a figment of the imagination, a thought that was fathered by a wish, a dream of some one who might have seen the necessity for a new school. The Calumet township board of directors met Tuesday night and arranged for relieving the congestion in the high school. There was no consideration of the question of a new building because that had never been thought of.

What was done was the decision to reopen the Horace Mann school in Lawrence for the purpose of making room for 150 high school freshmen, to relieve the high school, which now has 1,920 students and a capacity of 800.

The board also decided to open the freight school Nov. 8 for a term of twenty weeks, three nights per week. The school will teach almost all high school branches, with a special department of elementary English and civil government for aliens. The school had 550 students last year. This number, it is expected, will be increased largely this year.

"SHOESTRING" STORY WRONG.

County Treasurer Bram Says Isle Royale Wolf Hunt Is Possible.

County Treasurer Andrew Bram, who was responsible for the germ of the "shoestring" story in the Mining Journal yesterday morning, regarding a possible all-winter wolf hunt on Isle Royale, says that the suggestion that the wolves leave the island for the mainland as soon as ice forms on Lake Superior was unfortunate.

Mr. Bram returned last Thursday night from Isle Royale and brought back the information that wolves have so multiplied that they are becoming a menace. He says that there are now herds of deer, moose and caribou on the island and that the wolves are living on these meek denizens of the forest.

That there are deer on Isle Royale is unquestioned because a few years ago County Game Warden Wilson placed a number of young deer there, which deer had been taken from hunters who had captured them. These deer have multiplied even faster and there is danger that the deer will be exterminated if the wolves are not cleaned out.

The trip Mr. Bram made to the island last week was made in company with John Conghlin, John D. Crawford and Dr. R. W. De Maas of Hancock, in the motor boat of the last named. They made the trip home to the canal in seven hours on Thursday in the big north-west storm that blew all that day. There were eleven big steamers in shelter in Lily pond when the De Maas boat came into the canal at 9 o'clock that night. It looked like a great reef for the little craft to live in a sea the big fellows were afraid of but Mr. Bram explains that they were running with the sea while the storm bound boats would have to head into it, a very different matter from the point of view of seamanship.

SALOONISTS SOLD TO INDIANS, CHARGE IS

Attorneys LeGendre and Driscoll Asking Total of $30,000 from Baraga Liquor Men.

Suits have been started in the Baraga county circuit court by Attorneys LeGendre and Driscoll of Calumet and Ironwood against a number of Baraga county saloonkeepers on behalf of seven Indian families of the county. The damages asked aggregate $30,000 and the suits are all based on the statute prohibiting the sale of liquor to Indians.

In six of the cases suits were brought against one or more saloon keepers for the sum of $3,000 each for damages arising from the sale of liquor to living Indians.

The seventh suit seeks damages in the same amount as in such an amount as the jury may find for the death of an Indian who was killed by a railroad train. His widow is the complainant and she charges that her husband was drunk at the time he was killed and that the saloon keeper who sold him liquor is responsible.

These suits are the aftermath of a recent federal investigation of charges made against Prosecuting Attorney Brennan of Baraga county, he being accused of permitting the sale of liquor to Indians for election purposes. The charges were not sustained and the prosecuting attorney was given a clean record but the agitation at the time seems to have created a psychological moment for the commencement of the suits.

Attorney LeGendre says that if the suits fail to bring the damages asked another federal investigation of the practice of selling liquor to Indians in Baraga county undoubtedly will ensue.

MART HAAS GETS A WATCH.

Popular Houghton Fireman Retires to Live in Calumet.

The Houghton fire department Tuesday night presented to Mart J. Haas a gold watch in token of its appreciation of his services during the last sixteen years. Mr. Haas recently removed to Calumet and in doing so gave up his membership in the department.

The presentation of the watch was made the occasion for a farewell luncheon by the department. It was given in the fire hall and in addition to the firemen there were present Mayor Hartman and the members of the village council and a few close personal friends.

Martin J. Haas, a former member of the clothing firm of Ed Haas & Co., the oldest active business firm in Houghton, joined the Houghton fire department when a boy in 1899. He had been a high school athlete and he was a member of the department's running team in the Marquette tournament of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association in 1899. He decided to remain an active member and was at once elected secretary of the department. He has been in the fire department ever since.

The reason Mart Haas gave up the secretaryship of the fire department was that his firm decided he had better attach himself to the Calumet branch of his business. As was expressed by a speaker at the banquet, the reason for this was because Mart is not twigs. In any event Mart Haas gave up the secretaryship of the fire department and he has decided he had better attach himself to the Calumet branch of his business. As was expressed by a speaker at the banquet, the reason for this was because Mart is not twigs.

EQUALIZATION MEETING TODAY.

Important Session of County Board Committee to Fix Valuations.

The equalization committee of the Houghton county board is to be in session in the county building today. This is the most important committee meeting of the year as it is in anticipation of the action of the board at the adjourned annual meeting next Monday on the equalization of the assessments of the various townships and the wards of the city of Hancock, which comprise the assessment districts of the county.

Equalization, it might be explained, is the readjustment of the assessors' valuations of the townships so that all townships or other assessing districts may bear their just proportion of the taxes of the county. The equalization does not affect the total assessed valuation of the county but it can take from one township and add to another, so as to spread the taxes more equitably.

The meeting is particularly important as it is the effort made by the Adams township to bring the state tax commission into Houghton county to reassess the townships in which there are producing mines. The commission declined to take up the question and it is still a live question it will be settled in the county meeting today.

The committee will report to the meeting next Tuesday and while the board has the authority to change the action of the committee it is usual for the board to accept the report.

The adjourned annual meeting of the board will fix a date that will be collected in Houghton county for 1916. It is believed now that the taxes will be about level with those of the present year. The state tax is higher this year but the county tax will be lower, which will compensate to some extent. The following figures are given for purposes of comparison:

State tax, 1915—$175,120.80.
State tax, 1916—$271,631.16.
County tax, 1915—$307,000.
Estimate of county treasurer for 1916—$255,000.

A reference to the annual report of the county treasurer shows that he estimates $100,000 will be needed for the coming year, while the superintendent of the poor asks only for $88,000 in round numbers. This apparent discrepancy is found in the charges against the county for maintaining independent and blind children and other dependent in state institutions. Of course the $100,000 estimate was based on the expenditure of 1906 within the county this year. As the poor superintendent has reduced this budget by $10,000 it is to be presumed that the treasurer's estimate actually will be figured at $90,000.

The state tax and the county treasurer's estimate do not comprise the total of taxes to be raised in the county the coming year. There are the school taxes to be added from the townships, the biggest item of taxation in each various sorts in state institutions.

But on the whole it is expected that there will be no increase if not an actual decrease.

ASK RAIL CHARTER THROUGH MICHIGAN

Illinois Central Is Reported Planning to Extend Its Lines to Lake Superior Region.

The following is clipped from the Railway Review, the leading Chicago railway journal, Oct. 9:

"A report says that application will be made within a few days to the Wisconsin railroad commission for a certificate of necessity for building a new railroad from Superior to Madison. The route, it is stated, extends from Superior east across Wisconsin to Champlain, Mich. and from that point to Florence, Wis., thence south to the Fox River valley and from Fond du Lac in the Fox River valley southwest to Madison.

If built over this route the line would be about 300 miles in length. The state commission some time ago granted a charter for a line from Huron Bay, a town in Baraga county, on Lake Superior, to Champlain. It is believed that this railway is to be a link in the larger scheme. The company which is to apply for a Wisconsin certificate is represented by Chicago attorneys and the statement has been made that it will be financed by the Columbia Trust company of New York city. The Illinois Central railroad, it is said, may be back of the project."

PORTAGE LAKE MARINE NOTES.

The steamer Charles A. Lusk is discharging a cargo of five thousand tons of coal for the People's Fuel company at the Copper Range dock. The coal will be transported to the town of Calumet and other points. The tug Niagara is expected at the Copper Range dock today with 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda for the Senter powder plant. It will be transhipped over the Copper Range railroad.

AUTOMATIC TRAFFIC COP.

To provide a quick and reliable means of clearing the streets for the fire department, the city of Pittsfield, Mass., has installed electric siren horns above their fire-alarm boxes along the principal thoroughfares. The horns are connected with each other by a network of circuit and are also connected with the regular fire-alarm circuit in such a manner that when an alarm is turned in from any box, the horns above that box and the central station will start blowing and will continue to blow until the apparatus is placed in an operative position, or the current is switched off at the central station. MADDOO OUTLINES SHIPPING BILL

Urges That U. S. Should Assure Auxiliary Vessels for the Navy Establishment.

Indianapolis, Oct. 13.—Outlines of a new administration shipping bill to provide the United States with auxiliary vessels in war time and to be used in upbuilding foreign trade in times of peace, were made public tonight by Secretary McAdoo in a speech to the businessmen of Indianapolis. The new plan, which probably will be presented to congress at the coming session, proposes appropriation of $50,000,000 to be expended by a shipping board to consist of the secretary of the navy, the secretary of commerce, members ex-officio, and three members to be selected by the president and confirmed by the senate.

The board would be empowered to organize a corporation or corporations and to subscribe to their capital stock in whole or in part. It would have authority to vote the stock belonging to the United States in the election of directors. The directors would choose the officers and employees of the corporation and by that means, Mr. McAdoo declared, they would be removed from political influences. The board would be authorized to establish steamship lines to countries where American trade needs such accommodation. It might operate ships or lease them to other parties. It would have power also to reform navigation rules and regulations, study shipping problems and make recommendations to congress for legislation to encourage and develop a great merchant marine under the American flag.

Further, Mr. McAdoo suggested that the shipping board should have authority, acting in conjunction with the interstate commerce commission, to arrange for through bills of lading by rail and steam lines to foreign ports and for special through bills to foreign ports on American railroads and steamships might meet foreign competition in the markets of the world. He declared the time had come for congress to consider regulation of merchant marine companies. He did not say that such regulatory powers should be given to the shipping board, but argued that the recent withdrawal from the Oriental trade of the ships of the Pacific Mail company, which he criticized, would have been prevented if congress had passed the ship bill at the last session. The shipping board, in that case, he said, would have bought the Pacific Mail's ships and kept them in the Oriental trade.

Secretary McAdoo laid particular emphasis on the need of naval auxiliaries in a crisis. He said that the navy is "the most indispensable factor in any sensible plan of national defense," he said, "is a powerful navy—both offensive and defensive—supplied with essential naval auxiliaries in the form of an American merchant marine, and manned by American seamen who are ready and willing to fight for the Stars and Stripes against any enemy on the face of the earth. We cannot with safety rely upon our ability to charter or purchase suitable naval auxiliaries when a crisis appears. The very essence of preparedness for the navy is to have these vessels of suitable types and construction where we can put our hands on them quickly. Our neglect to provide in the past the necessary naval auxiliaries has been one of our greatest advantages. By building them now we can develop a type that will be better than anything the world has yet produced. Our one and indispensable need is ships; merchant ships of American registry. We can get them by creating the necessary naval auxiliaries."

Preparedness to the Front. The terrible events of the past year in Europe, and the acute situations which have arisen in our foreign relations, have brought forcibly to the front the necessity for greater naval and military preparedness than our people have heretofore believed. The very essence of the national safety, our splendid isolation—upon which we have relied so much in the past as our chief protection—has been neutralized in great measure by the developments of modern science. We have been forced to admit that the new measures which are essential to the safety of our country upon a basis of greater security.

"We must not approach this subject in hysterical fashion; we must not take counsel of fear, but counsel of prudence, and intelligence. We are so fortunately placed that we do not have to adopt a militaristic policy, as that term is commonly understood. Our geographical position makes it unnecessary for us to maintain such formidable military establishments as those of the great powers of Europe."

American business, Secretary McAdoo said, paid dearly for the failure of the ship bill at the last session of congress. Increased freight rates to shippers in the last year, he said, "have exceeded several times the $400,000,000 which the shipping bill authorized the government to expend on merchant vessels." Losses, he said, have been incurred also because of the fact that producers have been unable to ship their product at all.

"Our antagonists have offered nothing but criticism," he declared. "They loudly denounced the plan proposed at the last session of congress but have never offered a practical suggestion as a substitute."

There can be no reason why any reader of this who starts the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Marquette citizen says: "Mrs. John Holland, 118 Genesee St., Marquette says: 'One of my family was troubled most of the time by back ache. There were sharp, shooting pains in the back and to straighten after stooping caused sharp twinges in the sides. Dizzy spells and too frequent passages of the kidney secretions caused annoyance. JUDGE, SHOOTING IS GOOD NOW. ILL SETTER YOU SUPPLY THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW FOR A HUNTING TRIP.

THAT'S WHY YOU'RE ON FOR THURSDAY.

WHEN you're tramping all over creation after game, you don't want a big bunch of ordinary tobacco sweating in your hip pocket.

There is tobacco satisfaction for two, and plenty of it, in the sweat-proof sanitary pouch of Real Tobacco Chew. A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR W.B. CUT CHEWING TOBACCO. IT IS THE NEW REAL TOBACCO CHEW—CUT LONG SNEED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to tobacco less in the end.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

WAR SPECIALTIES RESUME SPECULATIVE IMPORTANCE; TWO NEW RECORDS MADE

New York, Oct. 13.—Specialties resumed first place in speculative importance today, rails and other high grade shares falling behind, mainly as a result, it was said, of extensive foreign selling. War shares were foremost in the rise of the specialties. Bethlehem Steel rose sixteen points to the new high record of 463 and Studebaker also broke all previous records with a gain of 19 to 164. The Maxwell Motor is up three to four points above previous levels, chiefly on the decision of the directors to pay back dividends of 14% per cent on the first preferred stock. The market derived much of its impetus from United States Steel, which advanced 1% to 84 1/2, its top quotation since 1910.

FIRE PREVENTION.

slipping out at the top? If the pipe runs straight, it should wear a collar where it enters.

The use of rubber tubes to connect gas stoves is illegal.

A gasoline stove should stand with its reservoir out of doors. In a warm kitchen the fluid in this tank will expand, giving off a vapor which explodes with greater power than gunpowder.

Heaters in other rooms should be inspected for spark dangers and they should have their feet on a carpet.

The mantle-piece usually has inflammable stuff on it—the common, dangerous kind being matches. Matches should be kept in a tin, iron or stone box—but match drawers make a long story.

Notice curtains or decorations which a wind might wave into a fire or gas light.

In bedrooms search closets for greasy rags—and overalls. Is there a stove-pipe hole that is covered by wall paper or stuffed with rags? Swinging gas jets should be immobilized and the curling iron should not be associated with articles made from thin celluloid. Gasoline should not be permitted in this, or any other room in the house.

The danger from gasoline is to the user rather than the house for the burned one makes an outcry which is an instant fire alarm.

Fuzzy shingles often take fire from sparks, therefore they should be removed or painted—it is worth the while to paint shingles, anyway, because it lengthens their lives, but why have shingles at all when slate is cheaper, its durability and the difference it makes in insurance premium being taken into account.

The owner of a store should rid it of rubbish beginning with the areas in which burning match-sticks and cigarettes might fall. Heating appliances should be examined, ventilators cleared and fire fighting apparatus overhauled. The open elevators and the stairways are the greatest menaces in business blocks.

Each mercantile business has dangers peculiar to itself and a wise owner will consult a fireman—every fireman gives such advice gladly—in regard to his dangers. The fireman may show him a way to make a change which will lessen his fire insurance cost, too.

In factories, so varied are the dangers that they cannot be recited in one newspaper column, but a clean-up-get-ready-for-winter day is equally important in them, although many of them have private fire departments, sprinklers and roof tanks.

Manufacturers having paint shops in them should hunt spilled grease and rags. Dangers from chemicals, electricity and hot houses are too varied to enumerate.

Every wired factory, store and dwelling once each year should be inspected by an expert. The number of fires from electricity is increasing in spite of improvements in the apparatus and the code of the National Fire Prevention association.

Nothing is hotter than an electric arc which may reach between the ends of a broken wire as in an arc lamp. Arcs form, too, between unknaked wires near together. Many buildings are set afire by "grounds," the current escaping to the earth as a result of a live wire touching gas or water pipes, or other wires.

In every manufacturing concern fire prevention day can be celebrated by a fire drill.

May Go to Attorney General.

Members of a special committee of the Delta county board of supervisors labored until 1:30 o'clock Wednesday morning over the local option petitions that have been filed with the supervisors. It was announced at the close of the committee meeting that several points were discovered upon which the committee believed the board should be governed by a decision from the attorney general. It is probable that arrangements will be made to submit the questions to the attorney general at an early date and to provide for an adjourned meeting of the supervisors, to be held early in December, to reach a final decision as to whether or not the local option question shall be submitted to the voters of this county at the spring election.

Trucks Are Ruining Roads.

That heavily loaded trucks are rapidly ruining the roads of Delta county and that some steps must be taken at once by the county authorities for the preservation of the highways was the gist of an appeal to the Delta county board of supervisors by members of the county road commission. It was asserted by one of the members of the commission that Delta county has $250,000 invested in roads, will not have a passable highway left in the county at the end of two years, unless the traffic of heavily laden trucks is curbed. In some of the counties of Michigan action has been taken limiting the load to 3000 pounds to each inch of tire width on the vehicle. Recently it was asserted that trucks in Delta county are carrying loads that will run over 1,000 pounds to the inch of tire. It was asserted that the use of the heavy trucks has already undone the work of the resurfacing work completed by the commissioners on the Bark river road this season and that by the time the work is completed it will be necessary to return and make repairs over the entire highway.

Delta County Expenditures.

According to a report prepared by County Clerk A. J. Pepin, the cost Delta county a total of $93,296.22 to conduct its affairs during the past year, exclusive of the cost of building and repairing roads. As but $80,000 was raised by taxation for general county purposes, the county spent $13,296.22 more than its income in the last twelve-month period. For the first time in the history of Delta county, County Clerk A. J. Pepin has prepared a statement by which is shown the exact expense incurred in conducting every department of the county government. The expenditures, as shown by the report, follow: Circuit court, $7,368.58; justice courts, $3,270.23; probate court, $3,271.08; care of insane, $2,659.46; mothers pensions, $11,782.75; law department, $2,378.82; coroners, $586.50; county clerk, $2,292.27; county treasurer, $2,802.95; register of deeds, $1,250.20; legislative, $2,744.88; educational, $3,294.19; sheriff and safety department, $12,123.36, which includes $1,595.63 for automobile, garage and supplies and in addition there was spent $1,718.80 for supplies for the jail; court house and grounds, $1,995.91; bounties, $1,179.98; poor, $14,298.31; elections, $1,863.03; fair grounds, $3,271.17; county drains, $2,242.24; bonds, $1,157.75; soldiers' relief, $699; miscellaneous, $433.23.

Estate Over a Million.

That the estate of Augustus Spies is well over the million mark in value was indicated with the filing of an inventory of the personal property and real estate of the late Menominee financier in probate court at Menominee. The inventory was filed by G. A. Blesch and Edward Danell, who were named appraisers of the estate. The personal property is valued at $800,155.61 in this inventory. No valuation is placed upon the real estate, but extensive holdings in Menominee, Marinette, Dickinson, Iron and Ontonagon counties are listed. How much Mr. Spies owned in Menominee is not stated, but the inventory shows by a list of the firms in which he was interested. The inventory shows that he held stock in the Menominee and Marinette Light & Traction company, the Spies-Thompson lumber company, the Sloyd Manufacturing company, the Marinette and Menominee Paper company, Menominee Land company, Wolf River Paper company, First National bank of Shawano, the Stephenson National bank, the H. A. J. Upham Flowage Land company, Menominee River Sugar company, A. Spies Lumber company, First National bank of Menominee, Lumbermen's National bank, Chatham and Phoenix National bank of New York, Spies Mineral Land company, Richardson Shoe company, Menominee H. D. and Shingle company, Menominee County Agricultural society, Gruhl Sash and Door company of Milwaukee. The state will receive an inheritance tax of approximately $8,900 from the Spies estate.

Wants Interest On Money.

When at the annual meeting of the Menominee county supervisors it was shown that the county had $22,000 in three banks, Mayor Lloyd, of Menominee, fired a blast at the county's financial methods: "I am not criticizing either the county treasurer or the Menominee banks, but the condition at present in handling the county money is very unbusiness-like. We have large amounts of money in the banks and the county doesn't receive a cent of interest on these daily balances, but if the county borrows money from the banks it has to pay six per cent interest." Mr. Radford interrupted to state that, in his opinion, the county did not have one cent on deposit in the banks. That the money was deposited by the county treasurer, who was under heavy bonds, and that the banks had also given additional bonds for the money held by them for the county treasurer. Mr. Lloyd suggested a change in the methods of doing business whereby, if the law permits, the county should borrow money on short time notes when needed, and receive interest for county money deposited with banks. He said the Lumbermen's National bank would pay 2 per cent on daily balances, and Mr. Radford called attention to the fact that all the banks had offered to pay the county 2 1/2 per cent on quarterly balances. Mr. Lloyd called attention to the fact that the banks were now paying for the treasurer's bonds, an item which the county should pay instead of exchanging such premium for the interest it might otherwise obtain. Mr. Lloyd said he did not in any way blame the banks for a custom which had been in vogue for years. He would do the same if he were a banker, but he suggested that a committee be appointed to see if the county finances might not be handled in a more business-like way.

The motion prevailed and the chairman appointed Messrs. Lloyd, Bowers and Ellenwood, with Radford and Haggerson as ex-officio members.

CHRISTUS OF OBERAMMERGAU.

A touch was needed to complete the horror of the war drama in Europe. Great as have been its devastations and destruction of human life, made without reason and void of ennobling, patriotic or humanizing impulse, there has still been lacking a something needed, not to prove, but to dramatically illustrate its wholly unchristian character. This comes in the killing in battle of Anton Lang.

The name is not written in any Who's Who, or in any encyclopaedia or dictionary of names, but it is more world-famous than many appearing in such publications. For Anton Lang was the Christus of the Passion Play at Oberammergau. Countless thousands of pilgrims, from every part of the Christian world, have seen this man, chosen not only for a striking resemblance to the Nazarene, as his lineaments have been drawn for us by old masters, but for attributes of character which accentuated the likeness. A man of peace and also "a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief," he has moved through the pictures of the Passion Play in so much of the seeming of that divine life, that multitudes who had seen him raised up on the cross as a sinless atonement wept at the sight. His name, linked with that of Oberammergau, has gone around the world.

The incidents of the story add to its tragedy. Anton Lang, still a young man, was called to the colors. But his soul so revolted at the scenes of death, pain, grief, misery and desolation everywhere around him, that he fell into a serious illness and had to be invalided. Back in the quiet of the Bavarian mountains, he rallied. No sooner was his recovery complete than he was ordered again into the lines. There he has died, a hero's death it is true, but a death which will go far to increase the horror and detestation, in some minds, of a war without cause and without glory. For who can say that the hand which sped the fatal shot was not that of some man who knew of him, and had learned to love him, as the world image of the Prince of Peace?—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

VALUE OF FRIENDSHIP.

To have a true friend is to be rich, no matter how poor we may be. Friendship's exercise in the home sweetens every association and its cultivation among kindred spirits is a privilege imposed upon us by the necessities of our nature as well as by a correct forecast of what lies before us in the journey when the golden bowl of youth is broken and we come to the days of lonely waiting. No memory that comforts and cheers in later life is so sweet as the memory of cherished friends who walked with us in the halcyon days of youth. To be without these memories is to confess to a life largely wasted or else spent in some supremely selfish pursuit. The possession of many friends is possible, but rarely accomplished. Life at best is short and full of labor. Few people are so rich in leisure or in affection that they can go about drawing men and women to them with hooks of steel. Nor is such a course either wise or profitable. In friendship there will be a constant winnowing process by which the wheat and chaff are separated. In the first youthful years of life, when merely to live is a joy, the forming of friendly ties is an easy pastime. We swear eternal allegiance and with high hopes and cheerful words set out upon the journey hand and hand. One by one the ties are broken and we discover that to be and have real friends means something more than words of mutual praise and aims that seem to run along in the same channel.—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

NORWEGIAN PASTORS TO HOLD SESSION

Biennial Conference of Green Bay District Will Open Here This Evening.

The Green Bay conference of the Norwegian Lutheran church will hold its biennial convention in the Ishpeming church this week. The opening meeting will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock, when Rev. O. K. Espeth, of Manitowish, Wis., will speak.

Nine clergymen, representing six cities in Wisconsin and three in Michigan will be in attendance and all will participate in the services. They will be the Revs. M. Mine, of Menominee; O. Randsdahl, Calumet; O. K. Espeth, Manitowish; O. M. Gerdheim, Forestville; I. Pone, Sawyer; H. Mason, Ellison Bay; P. Pongston, Green Bay; J. Frohlin, Roselawn, and O. Hill, Ishpeming. The clergymen will be guests of members of the congregation.

The officers of the conference are Rev. Mine, president; Rev. Randsdahl, vice-president and Rev. Frohlin, secretary. The conference district includes the entire upper peninsula and part of Northern Wisconsin. Prior to some eight years ago the churches in the Green Bay district were affiliated with those of the Eau Claire district. There are several districts in Wisconsin, that of Eau Claire being the largest.

The Ishpeming church is the only Norwegian Lutheran edifice between Calumet and Menominee. Rev. O. Hill, the Ishpeming pastor, also serves the members of the church in Negaunee and Michigamme. He preaches in Negaunee two Sunday afternoons a month and he visits Michigamme one Sunday evening each month. The services in Negaunee are conducted in the Swedish Lutheran church and his congregation is made up of Danes and Norwegians. The former own a half interest in the church property there.

The membership of the Norwegian Lutheran church in the upper peninsula is small compared with the membership of several other Protestant churches. Minnesota has a large Norwegian population and there are many excellent churches in that state. Ohio and Illinois also have many beautiful churches. Rev. Hill yesterday said that most of the Norwegian immigrants who have come to this country in the past ten or fifteen years have settled in Minnesota, the Dakotas and other farming states, and that very few have taken up their homes in the upper peninsula.

At the services tomorrow evening there will be a sermon in English by Rev. Mason. At the service Sunday morning at 10 o'clock Rev. P. Pongston of Green Bay will preach.

Swedish Pastors Meeting.
 The upper peninsula pastors of the Swedish Mission church are this week holding their annual convention in Menominee. It opened Wednesday evening with an address by Rev. J. J. Johnson, of Iron Mountain, president of the Swedish Mission ministerial conference. Special meetings were held yesterday, with services last evening, and there will be meetings today, tomorrow and Sunday. The women of the Menominee Mission church are serving dinner each day to the visiting pastors.

VOGEL'S MINSTRELS.
 John W. Vogel's Minstrels, the first traveling minstrel company to fill a date at the Ishpeming theater in more than four years, will appear here next Tuesday evening. Mr. Vogel has a company of fifty people, including fifteen girls. The company carries a band and orchestra, the latter consisting of nine pieces. Of the show, the Sheboygan Press of last Saturday said:

"John W. Vogel's Big City Minstrels played at the opera house last evening and gave excellent satisfaction. It is a little different than most productions of this character, carrying some fifteen ladies in the cast, who appear in 'Japan' and in 'The Fox Hunt and the Grand Operatic Review.' Eddie Malle and Bobbie Gossans, the premier end men, keep the audience in laughter with their jokes and specialties during the progress of the minstrel. One of the novel features of the minstrel is the 'Darktown Roller Rink,' undoubtedly the greatest farce skating sketel ever produced on the stage. The scenery is set to represent a skating rink in which the colored folks enjoy themselves and the audience laughs with them. Clog dancing on skates and other features make this one of the screams of the evening. The African dip and the polo dances are immense."

One mill school tax	14,414.39
Total	$265,415.91

The valuation is $14,114,391, and the rate of taxation $18.83, the rate in 1914 was $16.633, the increase this year being $2.197.

The state tax for 1914 was $28,771.57, the increase for this year is $15,468.23. The county tax for 1914 totalled $40,062.84. The decrease this year is $1,100.

The total amount of taxes raised last year was $247,412, and the increase this year is $18,003.91.

The total amount of taxes raised last year for city purposes was $86,000. The amount to be raised this year is $90,250. Of this amount $8,000 is for incinerator purposes, leaving $82,250 for general city purposes, which is $5,750 less than was raised last year.

OUTPUTS PLEDGED FOR A FULL YEAR

Leading Steel Mills Have Withdrawn from Market for an Indefinite Period.

So well filled up with orders are steel plants both in the east and middle west, that some of the leading mills have withdrawn from the market for deliveries through the remainder of the year.

Gratification is expressed by the managements of rail mills over the extent of the tonnage of rails being placed for delivery in the spring of 1916. It is estimated that something over 100,000 tons have been ordered this far. Pennsylvania order, when placed will bring the total up to about 700,000 tons. Orders are pending also from the Great Northern, Missouri Pacific and Missouri, Kansas & Texas.

Orders for war materials and supplies have reached enormous proportions of late. The Pressed Steel Car company is now working on an order from the French government for shells, making the fourth war contract taken by it, the previous ones from England and Russia having been already filled. Progress is being made on a Russian order for 9,000 freight cars. They will be shipped to Vladivostok, where they will be assembled and hauled over the Trans-Siberian railroad.

"September made an astonishing record for steel and pig iron output and the pace was even greater in the first week of October," says the Iron Age. "The present month, in view of the custom at all plants to strain for records the 3,000,000-ton mark in both pig iron and steel figures." "While production, shipments, and in some lines prices are moving up, the trade is adjusting itself to the new conditions without any excitement. That domestic demand is improving is indicated this week at all buying centers. Rail orders, which are to take their turn at the mills with the enormous foreign contracts for shell steel, have come from a dozen lines in the past week. "Pig iron production in September was 2,852,501 tons, or 95,085 tons a day, well beyond the daily rate of 92,369 tons in February, 1913, the previous record month. "Buying growing out of public work continues the chief support of the structural mills. Over 60,000 tons is now being figured on the Brooklyn transportation lines. There is encouragement also in fresh railroad bridge inquiry for about 8,000 tons in the east, but the building situation there offers

FOUR CIVIL WAR VETERANS HERE

Quartet of Old Soldiers Will Open Engagement This Evening at the Theater.

O. B. Smith, Thomas Severn, Cornelius Clark and A. H. Boies, the four Civil War veterans, who will open a three-day engagement at the Ishpeming theater this evening, speak entertainingly of their war experiences. They present a musical act in which they introduce selections which were popular during the war years.

Smith, the youngest of the veterans, is sixty-five years old. Severn is the oldest, being seventy-four. Clark is past seventy-one and Boies is seventy. They enlisted from different states and served in different companies, becoming acquainted with each other two years ago, when they engaged in vaudeville. They started out with the intention of using the act at G. A. R. celebrations, but it took so well, and was such a novelty that they decided to enter vaudeville, and they have been enthusiastically received wherever they have played.

Mr. Smith, the youngest of the quartet, makes his home at Collins, Ohio. He enlisted in April, 1865, when the last call for volunteers was made. He entered the army at the age of fifteen, enlisting at Warren, O. Cornelius Clark saw more of the war than did any of the others, possibly with the exception of Severn. Clark enlisted as drummer boy in the 31st Iowa infantry, and he beat his drum in between thirty and forty battles. He enlisted at Maquoketa, Ia., at the age of fourteen, in 1862. After being mustered out at the end of the war July 14, 1865, he re-enlisted in the regular army thirteen days later as drummer in Company E, 3rd United States infantry and served ten years. The drum he carried through the Civil war and the ten years with the regulars he still uses at every performance. After the battle of Vicksburg, Clark became a member of Sherman's army and was with the Black River expedition and made the famous march to the sea. He played his drum in the general review at Washington at the close of the war. Boies enlisted at and has been a resident of Hudson, Mich., since the war. He was a member of the "Old Fourth Michigan Infantry," which went to war in '61. He was sixteen years old at the beginning of hostilities and took part in twenty-four battles, being wounded four times.

When questioned about the present European conflict, the "vets." who arrived in the city Monday, having an open date of three days, unanimously said: "This isn't war, it's wholesale murder."
Defended the Capital.

Thomas Severn won singular distinction in the Civil war. He was born and raised in Pottsville, Pa., and there he enlisted on April 17, 1861, when Lincoln issued his first call. He is now a citizen of Chicago, and has attended most of the national encampments of the Grand Army.

Mr. Severn was one of 630 soldiers who passed through the streets of Baltimore on April 18, 1861, when the mob drew the first blood of the war. Nicholas Biddle, a colored man, was with Mr. Severn, and Biddle was the first man to shed his blood in the cause of the North. The soldiers were members of various organizations, the Washington Artillery, the Ringgold Light Artillery, the Logan Guards and the Allen Artillery. These companies reached Washington on the evening of the 18th, and proceeded at once to the capitol. Mr. Severn was the first volunteer soldier to enter the capitol building. "I shall never forget," he said yesterday, "the sweet smile on the face of President Lincoln when he took us all by the hand and said: 'Pennsylvania soldiers have saved the capitol.'"

Mr. Severn assisted at the barricade of the capitol with barrels of flour taken from a captured vessel. The building looked like a flour mill, he said, after the barrels had been placed in front of the windows and doors. After remaining at the capitol for ten days Severn and his companions were sent down the Potomac on a flat boat to Fort Washington, and in passing Alexandria he saw his first Confederate flag flying from a wharf where the "Johnnies" had planted several pieces of artillery. The flat boat kept well out of the stream, however, and was not shot at.

Captain James Wren was in command of Severn's company. When he was mustered into the Forty-eighth Pennsylvania Colonel James Nagle, afterward General Nagle, was in command. Colonel Pleasant took command when the party, of which Severn was a member, undermined the Confederate works at Petersburg.

Severn had two brothers in the war, one of them returning home minus an arm and the other in such a weak condition that he died a year afterward. Severn was nineteen years old when he enlisted.

FORMER RESIDENTS VISIT NEGAUNEE

Members of the Jackson and Hogan Families Are Here on Business Mission

Negaunee enjoyed a visit the past three weeks from former residents who are now located on farms in Iowa. They are John T. Hogan, of Cherokee, Ia., and William and Thomas Jackson, of Meriden, Ia. Messrs. Hogan and Jackson are administrators of the estate of the late Captain Edward Jackson, who was a resident of Negaunee in the early '60's and who owned a number of acres of Marquette county land. Before departing for their homes the men visited at Republic and Michigan, where Captain Jackson had holdings.

The late Captain Jackson, during his residence in Negaunee, was employed as bookkeeper at the Jackson mine for a number of years. Later he went to Palmer, where he operated a sawmill for some years. He made purchases of land from time to time and he retained his holdings after his removal to Iowa. The administrators had over 300 acres in Marquette county to inventory. Two forties are located about two miles from Witbeck, and three of them are a few miles from Republic in another direction. One forty is situated south of Michigan and another is six miles north of Deer Lake, while the Chicago & Northwestern railway company's station at Clatsop is located on another.

The lands are all free from mineral reservations, which entail the average upper peninsula realty holding. Some of them are located in sections where it is known there are mineral possibilities. The land owned by the Jackson estate in Iowa is more than 1,200 acres and is considered to be good as any in the state for farming. Mr. Jackson also had considerable realty interests in Texas and spent last winter in the Southwest looking after his holdings there. It was while in San Antonio that he passed away May 3, 1915, at the age of eighty-two. Eight children survive. Mrs. Jackson having died six years ago. Of the eight children four were born in Michigan and four in Iowa.

John T. Hogan is a son of John Hogan, who was one of Negaunee's pioneers. The family went to Iowa in the '70's and have prospered there. Mrs. Hogan died in Cherokee, Ia. in 1885, and her husband passed away last February, as a result of a railroad accident while he was returning from a trip to California. He was seventy-nine years old at the time of his death. Besides the Hogan and Jackson families other Negaunee pioneer residents have made their home in the farming districts in Iowa and are said to have done well. "Tim" Doghnie, who was one of the city's first marshals, lives at Sheldon, thirty-eight miles from Cherokee, and is in good health. Patrick Keating, who is ninety years old, is a retired farmer and lives at Cherokee. Cornelius Pigott, another Negaunee pioneer, has been seriously ill for the past several months.

MAPLE RIDGE BOOMING.

Maple Ridge is enjoying a building boom. Joseph Neve has a large structure now in the course of construction. It will be one of the most substantial buildings in any of the small towns between Negaunee and Escanaba. Besides space for a general store, it will contain a billiard hall and an automobile garage. Several small buildings and residences are also being put up.

Weeks engagement at the Majestic theater, Birmingham, Ala.

John Small, who went to Flint a few days ago, arrived home yesterday.

Contractor King, who is erecting the Knights of Pythias society's block on Division street, yesterday delivered at the site a shipment of Washington fir and some brick. King expects to begin building operations as soon as the weather settles.

The employees of the Lake Superior mine were paid yesterday for the first half of September. The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's Salisbury, North Lake and Republic workmen were paid yesterday. The Cleveland-Cliffs will pay at Negaunee today and the Oliver company tomorrow.

J. S. Wahlman has men at work improving the interior of the Mfg. warehouse building, corner Second and Bank streets, which has been rented by Charles Forell, and will be used as a garage. Mr. Forell's former garage, in the old fire hall building, was a short time ago damaged by fire.

Mrs. J. B. Pearce is attending the annual convention of the Eastern Star society in Battle Creek this week, as delegate from the lodge. She was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Jessie Bath, of Negaunee, who is the delegate from the Negaunee lodge. Both will visit in Chicago before returning home.

Tonight's picture program at Ishpeming theater includes an excellent two-reel Vitagraph feature, "His Golden Grain." Prominent in the cast are George Stanley, William Duncan, Myrtle Gonzalez, Otto Lederer, Jack Mower and George Kunkel. Other pictures will be the Hearst-Selig News, "The Careless Anarchist," "That Brute," and "Monte and the Missionary." Lubin comedies. The four Civil War veterans will open a three days engagement.

Double Trading Stamps tomorrow and Saturday at Braastads. 10-14-15.

CAMPAIGN CLOSES TONIGHT.

New Applications for Membership Must Be in Hands of Committee Tonight.

The membership campaign of the Young Men's club of the Mitchell Methodist church will be closed this evening at 7:25. It is being conducted by six teams of nine men each, with Leslie Bowden, Arthur Pascoe, Athanasius Broad, John Bath, Garfield Jeffery and John Collins acting as captains. The two teams securing the greatest number of members, and also the new members, will be entertained by the four losing teams. Applications for membership must be in the hands of the membership committee, consisting of Arthur Roberts, William Hampton and John Toms, before 7:25 this evening, or they will not be credited to the team securing them. The new members will be received at the business meeting this evening, and all are urged to be present. The winning teams will be announced at the meeting.

AT THE STAR.

Mme. Bertha Kalich will be seen tonight in the emotional drama, "Marta of the Lowlands," at the Star theater. Marta is a beggar child, who is adopted by Sebastian, the wealthy landowner. He wishes to marry a wealthy woman, but at the same time retain his influence over Marta. He therefore arranges through Toms, the hermit, to marry her to Marelch, a simple, untutored shepherd living in the mountains—a rough child of nature who kills wolves with his bare hands and knows naught of guile and deceit. The wedding is consummated, Marelch being under the impression that Marta loves him, and being truly in love with her. Later he learns that he has been tricked, while Marta, who had at first believed that Marelch had been bought with the master's gold to become her husband, finds her conclusion wrong, the honesty of his love compelling her own. Then come developments which make the drama one of the most passionate, intense, trenchant character studies ever created.

Mme. Kalich makes Marta a pathetic sufferer, a tragic figure indeed, as she bravely endures all the cruelty and indignities that are thrust upon her by the ruthless "master." We witness the poignancy of her grief, the restraint and the anguish of the oppressed woman; we watch her movements among the treacherous characters of her environment; and throughout it all we are overwhelmed by the power of the artist and the appeal of the woman.

WOULD MAKE ALL ADVERTISING PURE

Kansas City Ad Club Has Begun to Make Much Progress to That End.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 13.—Look Box 602 in the local postoffice stands for honest advertising, as it is the address of the Vigilance committee of the Kansas City Ad club, an organization that is the sworn enemy of the advertising of fake commodities.

Some two months ago the club announced its campaign for "pure" advertising—that kind that is backed up to the last cent by the goods advertised. Starting on the assumption that 99 per cent of an advertiser is honest, the club, composed of a hundred representative business men here, decided that the faulty ten per cent was too much of an annoyance to the law-abiding citizen and started out to reduce the annoyance to a lower average and, if possible, completely to radiate it.

It was discovered by the club that after investigation much of the so-called fraudulent advertising was no done with intent to cheat, but was traced to lax business methods and carelessness.

L. E. Holland, secretary of the vigilance committee, reports that in the last three weeks twenty-five cases of dissatisfaction due to misleading ads or failure to fulfill advertised promises have been handled through the correspondence to the club through look box 602. Each complaint is investigated by a member of the club, the complaint being checked up to the advertiser and the cause of the dissatisfaction traced to its source.

Most Firm Co-optate.

"I have found," said Mr. Holland, "that the majority of firms are glad to cooperate with us in straightening out complaints from patrons. They do not want a dissatisfied customer and the club's efforts have in many instances saved them a valuable customer who would otherwise have lost confidence in a firm and done his trading somewhere else."

"I call to mind one such instance. The patron, living in a little Missouri town had bought groceries from a large wholesale house. On arrival the shipment was short. The firm was written to, but no reply was received. Later another order was sent to the firm ordering a bill of silk gloves. The gloves proved to be cotton. Thoroughly outraged the purchaser wrote to the Ad club and wanted us to help him get justice from what he called a gang of thieves. We took the complaint up with the firm and were treated courteously. The trouble was traced down to dilatory tactics in the correspondence department. The outcome of the matter was that the customer was reimbursed for his loss and the faulty department was given an over-hauling."

"Another call was turned into the club asking us to investigate the activities of a magazine solicitor who had taken subscriptions, but had not produced the periodicals. A month or more had elapsed since the orders had been taken and the subscribers thought they had been swindled. The man was traced and it was learned that he was honest. The trouble was that to give the low rate that was his chief talking point, he was compelled to send in his subscriptions in clubs of twenty-five. As he was representing several publications it took some time to get the club together and in the elapsed time his customers had taken for granted he was not honest and had appealed to the club for help. The customers got their magazines and the worth of the man was established."

"The honest advertisers denounce sharp practice in advertising because of the stain it makes on honest statement of goods. The Ad club serves in the double capacity of chaser the dealer in sharp practice out of business and in adjusting the cases of dissatisfied patrons."

A few cases of deliberate fraud have been met in the investigations of the club and these have been dealt with by process of law."
