Montenegrins, on Their Part, Are Holding Doggedly to Their Ground, Repelling All Teutonic Attacks—Greece Seeks Loan of Allies, While Sofia Protests.

London, Nov. 9.—Every day, every hour, adds to the peril of the Serbian armies, which are fighting desperately to hold back the Austro-Germans, pressing them from the north, and the Bulgarians, invading their country from the east, until the assistance their allies are sending can reach them.

MONTENEGRINS HOLD FAST.

The Austro-Germans, advancing southward, are making progress, except in the west, where they are being held by the Montenegrins. The invading forces are now reaching the most difficult part of Serbia, the mountainous region, where the natives, knowing every hill and gully, can offer the strongest resistance.

In the south the ever-growing strength of the French and British forces is beginning to tell. They are carrying on an energetic offensive against the Bulgarians, have managed to keep the railway clear as far as Velez and are barring the Bulgars' route to Monastir.

GREEKS ASK FOR LOAN.

There is no change in the attitude of Greece, although it is considered significant that at the moment Bulgaria has again protested against the hospitality accorded the allied troops at Saloniki. The Greek government has applied to the allies for financial assistance—an application which is receiving favorable consideration.

BRITISH-FRENCH ADVANCING.

Saloniki, Nov. 8, via Paris, Nov. 9, 6:50 p. m.—The Anglo-French advance on Strumitza from the south is proceeding slowly. The first British blood was spilled Saturday.

CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Conditions in Mexico are improving and there are signs that give hope for a gradual return to order and prosperity there, according to a summary of advices from various parts of the republic made public tonight by the state department.

WOMAN HELD AS VETERINARIAN KILL HER CATTLE

Chicago, Nov. 9.—State veterinarians, under the protection of Sheriff Griffin, of Lake county, today visited the farm of Mrs. Scott Durand and slaughtered her herd of sixty valuable Guernsey cattle, which had been afflicted with the foot and mouth disease.

According to Mrs. Durand the sheriff and his men made certain the destruction of the fancy cattle by first making herself and her servants prisoners in the farm house at the points of rifles and shotguns. Talking over the telephone from her farm to a Chicago newspaper, Mrs. Durand said:

"They even fired at me when I tried to approach the barn."

REPORTED GREEK KING WILL DISSOLVE CABINET

London, Nov. 10, 2:45 a. m.—A decree dissolving the Greek cabinet will be published Wednesday, according to an Athens dispatch to the Daily Chronicle.

VILLA'S FORCES TURNING AGAIN TO AGUA PRIETA

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 9.—General Francisco Villa's army tonight is marching eastward from Naco and Villa Verde, Sonora, toward Agua Prieta, the scene of Villa's recent unsuccessful attack on the forces of General P. Elias Calles, the Carranza defender, according to advices here tonight from American farmers on the border west of here.

Advices from Naco, Ariz., stated that seven thousand Villa troops between there and Anavachi pass late today were engaged with scouting parties sent out from Agua Prieta with General Calles. The Carranza defenders of Agua Prieta tonight went into the trenches in anticipation of a night attack by Villa.

WOUND AMERICAN SOLDIER.

Brownsville, Tex., Nov. 9.—Private Madden, of Co C, Twenty-Sixth United States infantry, and seven other soldiers were fired on twice from the brush near LaFeria, ten miles from here, late Monday, according to word reaching Fort Brown today.

WILSON CONGRATULATES THE EMPEROR OF JAPAN ON ACCESSION TO THRONE

Washington, Nov. 9.—President Wilson today called to the emperor of Japan his cordial felicitations on the accession to the throne of that monarch. The message follows:

"To His Imperial Majesty Yoshihito, the emperor of Japan, Tokio.

"On this auspicious occasion of Your Majesty's formal accession to the throne I take pleasure in extending cordial felicitations and in expressing the confidence that the influence of your high ideals of right and justice which will continue to guide you in your exalted office will insure to the advancement of your country. I assure your majesty of my best wishes for your personal welfare and that of Your Majesty's family and for the continuance of the friendly relations existing between Japan and the United States.

LOSS OF LIFE IS SAID TO BE MORE THAN 300 IN SUBMARINE ATTACK

ACT MAY RESULT IN CREATING SERIOUS CONTROVERSY

Rome, via Paris, Nov. 9, 11 p. m.—The Italian-American liner Ancona has been sunk by a large submarine flying the Austrian colors. She carried 422 passengers and 160 in the crew. Two hundred and seventy survivors, some of them wounded, have been landed at Bizerta.

The Ancona was built at Belfast in 1908. She had a gross tonnage of 8,210, was 482 feet long and 58 foot beam.

BRITISH LOSE STEAMER.

London, Nov. 10, 2:20 a. m.—The steamer Irene, employed by the Trinity House corporation in connection with lighthouse and pilotage work, has been sunk. Thirty-five of the crew are missing.

FEDS WILL HAVE NEW YORK TEAM; IN PEACE PARLEY

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 9.—Directors of the Federal league at their annual meeting here today definitely decided to invade New York in 1916. The Kansas City club, whose franchise was declared forfeited, will be sent to New York and strengthened so that it "will merit the support of the New York fans." James A. Gilmore, who was re-elected president of the league, stated after all information regarding the disaster, although he had no list of her passengers.

PEACE WITH BIG LEAGUES?

After the meeting the majority of the club owners departed for French Lick, Ind., where, it was reported, they would meet representatives of organized baseball with a view to settling the "war" between the Federals and organized baseball. It was said that Barney Dreyfuss, of the Pittsburgh Nationals; Colonel Jacob Ruppert, of the New York Americans; and Charles Comiskey, of the Chicago Americans, were in French Lick, but a dispatch from French Lick said Colonel Ruppert was the only organized baseball man there.

ITALIAN OIL SHIP BURNING.

Galveston, Tex., Nov. 9.—An Italian ship loaded with cases of oil from Port Arthur, Tex., for Italian ports is on fire at sea, sixty-five miles east of Sabine Bar and has been abandoned, according to wireless advices received here tonight from the steamer Gulf Stream, which is standing by. The crew of the burning vessel has been taken off by the tug Russell. The fire was reported in No. 3 hold and the name of the ship was not given.

MAY BE THE LEVIETTA.

Port Arthur, Tex., Nov. 9.—While no word had been received here tonight from the Italian steamer burning at sea it was suggested by persons in touch with local maritime affairs that possibly she was the steamer Levietta, which sailed from here today for Genoa at the same time the Gulf Stream departed for Bayama. The Levietta was listed as a steamer of 1,700 tons and hailed from Genoa.

New York, Nov. 9.—The Ancona sailed for Italy with 75,000 bushels of wheat, 2,000 tons of hay and 500 horses for the Italian government. On the same voyage she carried 300 Italians in the steerage who went back because it was said at the time, they could not get work on the New York subway. When the Ancona left New York on her last voyage, Oct. 17, she was in command of Captain Pietro Massardo.

CARRIED SUPPLIES LAST TRIP.

Late last summer the Ancona left here for Italy with 75,000 bushels of wheat, 2,000 tons of hay and 500 horses for the Italian government. On the same voyage she carried 300 Italians in the steerage who went back because it was said at the time, they could not get work on the New York subway. When the Ancona left New York on her last voyage, Oct. 17, she was in command of Captain Pietro Massardo.

ATTACK IS CALLED MURDER.

William Hartfield, general manager of the Italian-American line, tonight characterized the sinking of the Ancona as "an unnecessary crime" and "absolute murder." He immediately called the Naples office of his firm, asking for all information regarding the disaster. Although he had no list of her passengers, Mr. Hartfield said the Ancona on her last few voyages to this country had carried 300 to 400 passengers, among them a number of American citizens in the first cabin and in the steerage. Most of her passenger list, Mr. Hartfield said, had been made up of women and children. He believed she carried a large number of women and children on her present voyage. The Ancona, he added, carried a crew of 160 men.

NEVER TOOK WAR MUNITIONS.

At no time, said Mr. Hartfield, did the Ancona carry guns or munitions of war because it was against the rules of the company to carry war munitions on the same vessel with passengers. The Ancona has been in the Italian service for six years and without her cargo was valued at more than $1,000,000.

ELECTION SITUATION IN KENTUCKY THE SAME; DEMOCRAT IS IN LEAD

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 9.—Unimportant changes were recorded today in the tabulation of official returns from last Tuesday's election for governor of Kentucky. In one precinct the vote was recounted; in another a substitute certification righted a clerical error. Each added nineteen votes to the total unaltered majority of A. O. Stanley, Democrat, and gave him an indicated lead of 365 over Edwin P. Morrow, Republican, for governor. Official returns were lacking only from Laurel county, where party leaders practically have agreed upon a Morrow majority.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The following is the weather bureau's forecast for Upper Michigan: Fair Wednesday; Thursday partly cloudy.

YOST WILL USE NEW TACTICS TO IMPROVE TEAM

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 9.—The strenuous efforts of the largest coaching staff ever known at Michigan having failed to arouse the 1915 eleven to the extent of winning any of its big games, Coach Yost and his assistants today began trying gentler tactics in preparing the team for its game with Pennsylvania on Saturday. The Wolverines were given a mild signal drill this afternoon and this will be repeated tomorrow. The team will leave for Philadelphia tomorrow night.

TURKEY WILL BORROW $30,000,000 FROM GERMANY

London, Nov. 10, 1:55 a. m.—An Amsterdam dispatch to the Central News says the official gazette of Constantinople publishes an act voted by parliament authorizing the government to make arrangements with the German government for the advance of $30,000,000.

TEUTONIC VIEW IS CONTRASTED WITH BRITISH

London, Nov. 9, 8:30 p. m.—The annual banquet of the lord mayor of London was celebrated in the Guild Hall tonight. Sir Charles Cheers-Wakefield having been inaugurated during the course of the day. All the city officials, many members of the government and the diplomatic representatives attended. When the toast "The King" was given the assembly arose and sang the national anthem, which was never done before.

SPEAKS OF FOES' ATTITUDES.

Paul Cambon, the French ambassador, describing the war, said: "On the one side are tranquil courage, faith in an ideal of justice and the will to employ only legitimate means of defense. On the other, thoughts of lucre, forgetfulness of all the principles of humanity, the destruction of an open town, the taking of innocent lives, a sort of perverse joy in the accomplishment of evil and a plan pursued with childish disregard of scruple to dominate the world by terror."

BUILDS ON END OF WAR.

The ambassador continued: "When the hour strikes for the enemy to realize that all his schemes for world domination have broken down, we shall see him a prey to a moral depression, which will make him fall suddenly from the height of his dreams."

GERMANS WILL LEVY BIG TAX ON WARSAW

London, Nov. 10, 2:11 a. m.—The Germans have assessed a charge of $750,000 a year against Warsaw for the maintenance of the military garrison there, according to Warsaw papers reaching London.

ALBANIANS PREPARE TO ATTACK SERBIANS

London, Nov. 10, 3:30 a. m.—A Bucharest dispatch by way of Geneva says that 60,000 Albanians are preparing to attack the Serbians in the rear at Monastir and Prizrend.

GREY IS SILENT WHEN ASKED OF BALKAN CRISIS

Although Many Questions Are Propounded in House of Commons, Little Information Is Forthcoming—Foreign Secretary Talks of Political Aspect

He Is Neither Competent Nor Willing to Discuss Helping Serbia, He Replies—Bulgaria's Attitude Known Long Before, He Says, But Could Not Be Changed

London, Nov. 9, 3:48 p. m.—Many questions concerning the war were propounded in the house of commons today, but little in the way of new information was brought forth from the government. The foreign secretary, Sir Edward Grey, made a long statement on the subject of political conditions in the Balkans and the assistance promised to Serbia by Great Britain. The sympathies of King Ferdinand of Bulgaria for Germany and Austria, the foreign secretary said, always have been known and the government was aware as early as April that negotiations were in progress between Bulgaria and Turkey, under German influence.

As to why no military assistance for Serbia had been available at the time of the opening of the campaign, Sir Edward declared, he was neither willing nor competent to state. The foreign secretary made it clear that the movements of troops to Saloniki and from that point have been dependent on the consent of Greece.

GIVE ALL HELP POSSIBLE.

Serbia was notified on Sept. 21 of the dispatch of British troops to her assistance. The foreign secretary informed the Serbians Great Britain was making an offer to Greece to send forces to Saloniki to assist her in fulfilling her obligations to Serbia. Great Britain had labored throughout, he said, to give Serbia all assistance in her power. His use of the words "without qualification or reserve" in his statement before the house of commons Sept. 28, when promising to assist Serbia, meant that concessions previously suggested to Serbia were at an end and that British troops would be used solely to help the "friends of this nation" and to fight for their and her interests.

PRESIDENT NAMES TAFT FOR HEAD OF RED CROSS

Washington, Nov. 9.—President Wilson today appointed former President William H. Taft chairman of the central committee of the American Red Cross to succeed Major General George W. Davis, retired. General Davis resigned on account of ill health. When General Davis determined recently to give up the work, President Wilson, mindful of former President Taft's experience for many years as president of the Red Cross, wrote to him asking if he would accept the chairmanship. Today the president received a letter from Mr. Taft saying he would be very glad to associate himself again with the society's work. The appointment immediately followed.

MINNESOTA WARDENS WARN HUNTERS "BE SURE"

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 9.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon 1,400 hunting licenses had been issued in Duluth and probably 500 additional in the iron ranges. It was estimated that an army of 2,500 hunters would be out after deer and moose tomorrow. Snow fell over the hunting grounds early today, which is considered good luck for the minnows. Without snow many deer mortally wounded would make a dash of a mile and fall easy prey to wolves. On trains game wardens made speeches warning against "sight unseen" shooting and in favor of bright red caps or coats.

SANITATION IS CALLED MORE IMPORTANT THAN PREPAREDNESS FOR WAR

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 9.—Sanitary preparedness was termed a greater national need than military preparedness by speakers at today's session of the Southern Medical association's annual convention here. Dr. Rupert Blue, surgeon general of the public health service, made the principal address, while a military turn was given the discussion by Dr. W. L. Rollman, president of the American Medical association, when he asked the association to help develop medical corps large enough for any expansion of the army and navy.

BRITAIN'S FINANCES.

Arnold Bennett, writing in the New York Times, supports with force, and skill in presentation of his facts, the position that the last thing in the world Great Britain should now have is conscription and that it would be a matter for serious concern if Lord Derby's campaign for volunteers should meet with anything like the success that has been predicted for it.

On first glance at this statement, it might be concluded that Bennett is a pacifist. But this is far from the fact. He is keen for the continuance of the war until a satisfactory peace can be obtained. The explanation lies in his concern at the financial position of the empire. He believes that Great Britain has gone as far as it can in supplying men for the front and still be certain that it can avoid a financial calamity.

As he points out, it has to support not only its own armies, but to bolster up other armies with supplies and credit. It has made advances to Greece and to Serbia, and has had to stand behind Russia. It is, in fact, supporting some millions of men in the field who have not been raised by British levies. To do this it has already sold largely of its American securities. It has participated with France in a loan of $500,000,000 in this country, and still the British sterling is quoted at $4.68. Its wealth may be practically unlimited, but there is a well defined limit to the wealth it can convert for meeting the expenses of the war.

Further recruiting has the disadvantage of increasing the cost of the army at the same time it withdraws more men from that productive industry which now serves to reduce in some degree the balance of trade and to lessen the dependence of the Isles on other markets, particularly America. The balance of trade is, in Mr. Bennett's eyes, one of the most formidable things that the empire confronts. It means, unless it can be reduced or offset by savings in the Isles, ultimate dismemberment.

Mr. Bennett, in short, is against a further increase of the army because he is firmly convinced that the army is already as large as it can be made with any assurance that it can be maintained and the other financial obligations of the empire met. He is in thorough agreement with Premier Asquith that the financial situation is a disquieting one, and that it has, under all the circumstances, received far too little attention in relation to the military activities of the government.

There is about his article a clarity of thought and a sobriety of tone that carries conviction that the matters with which he deals are weighty, indeed, and that problems of finance in Britain will shortly have the place that a few months ago was held by the problem of securing sufficient munitions for the men in the field and in training.

THE CANADIAN FARMERS.

Evidence that Canada rejects her rejection of the United States reciprocity treaty four years ago continues to accumulate. Particularly in the great agricultural provinces in the west of the Dominion, the feeling of regret is becoming so bitter as to amount to one of exasperation against the Eastern provinces, which is not logical but is, perhaps, natural under the circumstances. It is now being charged, in some parts of the Canadian West, that the voters of that section were misled into voting against reciprocity because they had been induced to believe that such action was necessary as a means of protection to the manufacturing interests of Ontario province, and of Quebec, Halifax and Montreal.

A blight has fallen upon the over-boomed provinces of the West since the rejection of reciprocity in 1911. Whether the two facts can or cannot be connected, it is significant that emigration from the Northwestern United States into Canada, which had until then been growing, at once showed a sharp decline, which has been so continuous that the movement across the border has almost wholly ceased. Some of the boom towns of Western Canada are now so depressed as to be almost on the edge of panic. It is out of these depths that the Daily Times of Victoria, in British Columbia, insists that East and West Canada have divergent interests regarding reciprocity, and that these must be reconciled or the country will be affected with a swarm of economic ills.

It remains the fact, however, that Canada, under the present administration of the United States government, has largely increased its exports of agricultural products to the United States, while the refusal of the Canadians to agree to reciprocity has kept their market closed against American farmers. Events in government have gone as the Canadians hoped they would go when, in 1911, they defeated reciprocity in the expectation that the next year would see protection overthrown in this country

THE AGRICULTURAL AGENTS.

They have not been disappointed politically, but, economically, their plans have miscarried, owing, it must be presumed, to other causes.

Mr. Weston, potato pathologist, is pulling up at Escanaba to do winter work at the M. A. C. Which reminds that the M. A. C. and the state agricultural board have dealt most generously with the upper peninsula this year. In no previous season has so much extension work been done in this region, or has so much excellent advice been showered on the farmers. No longer can the men on the soil complain that they are being overlooked in the shuffle. They are now receiving more special attention than any other class of workers in the upper peninsula. The labors of the state agents have been supplemented in a valuable and practical manner by the cooperation the counties have given.

There are now several county agricultural agents at work north of the Straits, and if they fail to secure results commensurate with the expense of the work the apathy of the farmers, more than lack of energy and interest on their part, will be at fault. Mr. Walker, the Marquette county agent, is a man the farmers are fortunate to have at their beck and call. He is serious, practical and willing, and has, in the brief time that he has been here, been able to give much sound advice and to set some farmers who were on the wrong track back on the right one. He is not obtrusive, but is willing to be helpful in every way he can. What he will be able to accomplish will depend largely on the spirit in which the farmers meet him. If they are alert and awakened they will, with his assistance and his advice, make much better showings on their places than they have ever made before.

But he can't drive them into better and more profitable ways. They are free agents. The state and counties are now doing everything that is reasonable to advance agriculture, but what will come of their liberal attitude is a question for the farmers themselves to determine.

Islemping reports that a wily agent lately succeeded in selling a number of unwary housewives gas "economizers" at a considerable price. And they are economizers, sure enough, so that perhaps a charge of false representation would not lie. They effect economy by so interfering with the delivery of gas to the burners that the gas stoves cannot do their accustomed service. There is, to be sure, a decreased consumption of gas, but only because the "economizers" prevent enough consumption to make what is burned useful for the usual purposes. The gas that is actually consumed costs as much as ever. It is unlikely that the agent for the "economizer" who worked Islemping passed up the other towns in the county, so probably a goodly number of the devices was placed. The "get rich quick" game will be always with us.

Commenting on Mr. Bryan's words, "without an enemy," in his attack on the administration program, the Cleveland Leader says: "Of course we are without an enemy." So we were without an enemy just before hostilities began in 1775, 1812, 1861 and 1898. So were Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia and the rest, everyone of them, without an enemy sixteen months ago. The only time for prudent nations to prepare to defend themselves is while they are still without an enemy. It is also the only time when fools object to such preparation."

Both Gladstone newspapers and the Escanaba Press asserate that the Escanaba Mirror "jobbed" the supervisors and thereby gained a considerable order for work at the expense of the lowest bidder, the Press, and the county. Supervisor Mason proposes to open the question up at the next session. This Gladstone member is one of the most useful men on the Delta county board. He will, in the end, arouse a vital interest in county affairs, and excellent fruits will flow from his work, if Gladstone will see that he is sent back to the board as long as he will consent to serve.

Mr. Bryan can't see why a country editor should not have his opinions on a national question like the administration's program for preparedness. There's no reason in the world why he shouldn't. Mr. Bryan is surely entitled to his opinion, just as other folks are to their opinions about that opinion. Mr. Bryan is an institution of considerable value. He illuminates the short-sighted aspects of our national problems quite as well as anyone could.

From the German-American press there is approval of the administration's note to Great Britain on trade questions, but complaint that it is belated. A proper sense of proportion would show this press that if the note is belated it is for the reason that the course of the German imperial government in the earlier months of the year caused a fear, for a period of weeks, that America might finally wind up as a participant in the general war against the Fatherland. If the protest is belated, it is largely for the reason that the unwarranted conduct of the German admiralty compelled the state department to give, for a long period, almost its sole attention to a much more pressing controversy. The delay in its formulation and submission can be attributed largely to the Germans' illadvised adventures in "frightfulness."

The Menominee Herald-Leader's sporting scribe continues to find that Marquette-Menominee football game that hasn't come off a source of inspiration for extended articles. But why, when the limit of Marquette's assertion is the claim that it has a "purty good" eleven?

The football scribes call the Penn-Michigan game the "anti-climax" of the football season. But if Michigan gets the big end of the score it will look to the local Wolverines quite the biggest and best thing that the season has brought forth.

EDITORIAL OPINION

A Possible Explanation.

Austria continues to press her preposterous demand that the United States shall forbid its citizens to sell munitions to the allies, while Germany continues to say nothing—officially—about the matter. Why this apparent difference between two capitals which hitherto have given the best living illustration of two souls with but a single thought?

A direct and guaranteed answer to this question is impossible. An indirect and probable answer is easy. Suppose the central powers bluff the allies into calling the war a draw, and secure peace with Germany's fleet left intact, but her treasury swept bare. Austria's protests then would furnish the excuse for demanding a huge indemnity from this country for losses inflicted or alleged to have been inflicted by our export of military supplies. By letting Austria do the protesting, Germany is keeping the way open for such a demand without exposing her plans too openly.

What would the United States do in such a case? The German fleet is considerably superior to our own, and its fleet of fast battle cruisers gives it the immense advantage of being able to choose its time and place of battle. There are enough German prisoners in the hands of France and England to overwhelm and massacre our little army, even if that army had the full backing of the national guard.

A LAUGH OR TWO

Not Up on Poultry.

On board of his majesty's ships two seamen were hotly engaged in an argument as to the class of animal a hog belongs to, one of them asserting it was a sheep, and the other equally certain it was a pig.

Not being able to agree, one of them turned to an old salt, who was standing close by, saying:

"Here Bill, you've knocked about a bit. What is a hog? Is it a pig or is it a sheep?"

Whereupon Bill, after due consideration, replied:

"Well, to tell the truth, chummy, I don't know much about poultry."—Tit Bits.

Painful Truth.

Miss Singwell had been a member of the choral society ever since it had been in existence, and it was undoubtedly true that her first youth had waned. But the choirmaster was astounded recently by the news that she had resigned her membership.

"Resigned!" he gasped. "But what ever for?"

"Well, I don't know, exactly," said the secretary, "but it strikes me that it may have something to do with the solo we picked for her at the next performance."

"Why? What is it?"

"Don't you know? It begins, 'I once was young, but now an old'."—London Tit Bits.

The Suit for Non-support.

For the better part of an hour the case had been in progress, although it should have been settled in a few minutes.

Marcus Pickney had been arrested through the activities of his 200-pound Scotch wife, and the pair were facing the judge.

It seemed that Pickney was a shiftless, ne'er-do-well, lazy man, with a strong disinclination to honest toil. Moreover, he was in the habit of "coming home corned," and beating his thrifty better half.

It was on the occasion of the last of these episodes that she had brought about his arrest.

After patiently hearing testimony, the judge asked:

"Mrs. Pickney, it seems to me that this is a case where prosecution is possible for non-support."

"Oh, Your honor," wailed the excited woman, "they can't bring that up agin me! I've took in washin' and giv' him what you might say was fine livin' ever since we was married. No! he can't accuse me of that, judge!"—Case and Comment.

The Living Telephone.

Some time after the close of the Franco-German war the Prussian Uhlan drill was introduced into the British cavalry. The first men to be exercised in it were a corps of household cavalry (Blues) at Windsor.

They were extended, each some 800

This verbal message was given to the soldier on the extreme right to pass along: "Enemy's vintages at Englishfield Green." It got hopelessly muddled half way.

In the lobby of a hotel they were speaking about speed fenders.

One afternoon Jones was rambling along the boulevard when he ran across Friend Smith. Handshakes and then some talk, which included the war, the weather and motor cars.

"By the way," said Friend Smith, recollectively, "I hear that you have been buying a machine."

"Yes," proudly admitted Jones. "I brought her home about two weeks ago."

"Some speed of course," returned Friend Smith. "How fast can the machine go?"

"Well," answered Jones, with a smile that was half sad, "it depends altogether on who is timing it—myself or a country constable."—Kansas City Star.

An Old One Revised.

John Barrett, director of the bureau of South American republics, tells this story apropos of the dilemmas of many of the public officers of that country today.

"It happened in the time when herds of buffalo grazed along the foothills of the western mountains. Two hardy prospectors fell in with a bull bison that appeared to have been separated from his kind and run amuck. One of the prospectors took to the tall timber and the other dived into a cave. The buffalo bellowed at the entrance to the cavern and then turned his attention toward the tree. The man in the cave came cautiously out and the buffalo took after him again. The man made another dive for the hole. After this same scene had been enacted several times the man up the tree yelled to his comrade, who, pale and trembling, stood at the mouth of the cavern: 'Stay in the cave, you idiot!'

"You don't know nothin' about this hole," yelled back the other tremulously. 'There's a bear in it!'

LOWER STATE NOTES

GRAND RAPIDS—Leaving a hospital, where she had received treatment, Mrs. Ernest J. Sigler found her husband, a carrier, dead of heart disease on the front porch of the institution. Mr. Sigler was waiting for his wife when she returned.

MARSHALL—The fire insurance rates here have been boosted under the new law from 25 to 50 per cent., and the state insurance commissioner has issued an appeal of the Marshall Board of Commerce for a reduction. Statistics show the fire loss in Marshall to be the lowest of any city of its size in the United States.

KALAMAZOO—High prices for Michigan celery during the winter months are assured. Only half of the usual crop, it is asserted by Kalamazoo growers, will be fit to market. Excessive wet weather and blight wiped out the rest. Advice from the state agricultural bureau assert that the industry can be saved only by energetic use of spraying compounds and the destruction of all diseased plants.

ALPENA—Wm. Brandenburg, eight-year-old of Long Rapids, is the first victim of the 1915 hunting season in this section. He may lose the sight of his right eye and his right arm probably will be amputated as a result of an accidental discharge of his gun. He was standing on a log holding his gun, which slipped and exploded. Brandenburg has hunted since he was eight years of age and during the past ten years has killed thirteen deer.

GRAND RAPIDS—August Schneider, seventeen, son of a farmer residing near Wewerville, Ingham county, was killed by a motor car driven by W. B. Wood, general manager of the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad, who was returning from a football game at Ann Arbor with a party of friends. M. J. Orquley, of Grand Rapids, will die of injuries sustained when his motor car turned turtle near Reed City, pinning him beneath the car. The accident was caused by the breaking of a part on the steering gear.

ADRIAN—Miss Stella Weiss of Monroe was fatally injured, dying an hour later, and Mr. and Mrs. John Nuss and their sons, George and Matthew, of Adrian, were injured when Matthew's motor car upset five miles north of here.

The party was returning from Tecumseh and had turned out to pass another car when the rear axle of the Nuss car collapsed, and the car turned turtle. Miss Weiss' neck was broken and several of Matthew's ribs were broken. The others sustained severe bruises. Miss Weiss was engaged to George Nuss and the wedding was to have taken place after the holidays.

PORT HURON—Judges Law and Tappan of the circuit court have filed a decision in connection with the application made by James Clay of Clay township to have a $500 liquor license refunded, ruling against Clay. Clay paid the fee to the county treasurer after having been warned that he might not be able to operate because of the avowed intention of the prosecuting attorney to take legal action to have the number of saloons reduced in the Flats district. The $500 fee has been divided between the county and township and Clay is out $500 in addition to being unable to conduct his bar.

SAGINAW—Five persons were injured, one perhaps fatally, Sunday evening when a motor car was struck by another auto, skidded into a ditch and turned turtle near Saginaw. The injured are: Richard Boardsley, thirty-three, Saginaw, scalp torn off, concussion of the brain; Mrs. Levy Manchester, twenty-eight, Saginaw, right heel torn off, head bruised; Mrs. Edith Collier, thirty, Detroit, face and head badly lacerated; Madeline Collier, twelve, Detroit, bruised and cut; C. Manchester, Saginaw, driver, arm and chest hurt; Mrs. Collier and daughter were visiting in Saginaw. Those most

In attempting to turn out for one car near Frankmuth Junction, another car struck the Manchester auto, which went into the ditch and turned over, catching the occupants beneath.

GRAND RAPIDS—The police have failed to lay hands on the safe blowers who operated in the Michigan Trust building, wrecking a safe in the United Light & Railway company's office, opening another and damaging two others in the same suite of rooms. The loot consisted of $30 worth of stamps, a diamond stick pin and a gold ring, the total value being about $150. The loss was discovered by William Ward, foreman of the blowers in the building. The burglars knocked a knob from the safe in the office of Claude M. Hurd, secretary treasurer of the company and nitroglycerine was placed in the safe door. Rugs were used to deaden the sound of the explosion. All the loot was taken from this safe.

UPPER PENINSULA

Weston to Leave.

J. Wade Weston, potato expert for the Michigan Agricultural college, who has been engaged in work with potato growers in the upper peninsula throughout the summer, will leave the latter part of the week to undertake special work under Dean Shaw, of the agricultural college, at Lansing, during the winter. Mr. Weston's principal work this season has been confined principally to the potato growers of Menominee, Iron, Dickinson, Schoolcraft and Delta counties, and in this field he has done an immense amount of good in disease prevention, disease extermination and seed selection. Without expert advice as to methods of spraying against late blight, as well as mid-season diseases among the potato, the losses of the potato growers would have been tremendous. While Mr. Weston does not yet know whether he will be assigned to the same territory next season, potato growers of the section served by him this year will be a unit in asking for his return.

Had Narrow Escape.

Three men, employed by the Charcoal Iron company at Manistigue, had a narrow escape from serious injury when a piston head, which was being heated over a forge in front of the company's machine shop, exploded, the fragments flying in their faces. William Kendall, who was standing over the forge, was about to lift the piston head from the forge to his shoulder, when it exploded. He received a severe cut in the abdomen from a piece of iron, also a bad cut over the eye. Ralph Murray and Julius Fillion were also standing near the forge. Murray was cut about the face by bits of flying iron. Fillion escaped with a few small scratches about the face. A piece of the piston head about a foot square flew over a hundred feet in the air and the forge was completely demolished. That the men escaped as luckily as they did is a miracle.

SUPERVISORS ELECT JOHNSTON CHAIRMAN

Sidnaw Member of Board Is Named to Head the Governing Body of Houghton County.

The Houghton county board of supervisors yesterday morning, at the regular November meeting, elected A. G. Johnston, supervisor of Duncan township, chairman of the board to succeed the late Hon. Charles Smith. Mr. Johnston had acted as chairman of the board in the absence of Chairman Smith during the latter's incumbency and yesterday morning at the opening of the meeting he was elected temporary chairman, which action was made permanent later in the meeting.

Mr. Johnston is a prosperous farmer and merchant of Duncan township and has been a resident of Houghton county almost continuously for fifty years. He left Lampton county, Ont., when a boy and came into Houghton county in 1865 at a time when the nation was mourning for the death of Abraham Lincoln.

He has worked in various capacities in the county for a number of years and for a considerable period he was a merchant at Lake Linden. Something like twenty-three years ago he moved to Michigan, Marquette county, and for eight years he represented that township on the Marquette county board of supervisors and was chairman of that board for several terms. In the meantime he had for five years been engaged in business at Sidnaw, though he continued to live in Michigan. He left the latter place to take up his residence in Houghton county 15 years ago. He has been supervisor from his township twice, an unfavorable election having served to create a hiatus between his present term and the one preceding it.

Details of the Meeting.

The meeting yesterday was brief and as the election of the chairman was the outstanding feature the other matters considered may be reported chronologically.

C. H. Benedict of Lake Linden, elected to succeed the late Charles Smith, as supervisor from Torch Lake township, took his seat. J. Wesley Downing of Laurium, appeared as supervisor from Calumet township in the absence of Supervisor MacNaughton and R. D. Blackburn appeared in the same capacity for Supervisor Lawton of Quincy.

At the instance of Supervisor Eddy the chairman appointed a committee consisting of Supervisors Eddy, Burgen and Harris to draft resolutions referring to the death of Chairman Smith.

At the preceding regular meeting Chairman Smith had been instructed to select a committee of three to consider the question of engaging an expert to administer the poor funds of the county. Senator Smith's illness had prevented this action and Chairman Johnston made the appointment, selecting Supervisors Hamar, Koepel and Hartman.

Supervisor Rouke asked a question. At a previous meeting he had succeeded in getting the board to pass a resolution requesting the county road commission to adopt the nine-hour day. He had heard nothing from it. He understood the commission had ignored the request. County Clerk Kaiser said he had notified the commission, but had received no acknowledgment. Supervisor Rouke received no encouragement in his quest for additional information and the incident closed.

FRACTURED SKULL CAUSES DEATH

John Stott was found dead in his bed at Wolverine Monday and it was thought death resulted from natural causes. An autopsy revealed yesterday that the man had a fractured skull and investigation shows that he was taken ill on Sunday and in attempting to get to his room in his boarding house fell on the stairway, from which fall he doubtless sustained the fatal fracture.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

The jury in the Stephens statutory case on Monday night brought in a verdict of not guilty. A similar case was on trial yesterday afternoon.

HOUGHTON SCHOOLS TO TEACH SHOOTING

While Subject of Military Training Is Deferred Board Sanctions Target Work.

The Houghton and Portage township board of education at its regular monthly meeting Monday night decided to defer action on the question of military training of the schools until the annual meeting of the district in July.

The question was given some discussion but the board decided it to be a matter so important that the electors of the district should be given an opportunity to pass upon it.

At the same time the board acted favorably upon a matter somewhat allied to the military training issue. It authorized the organization of a rifle club in the school, membership in which will be optional with the boys. This club will have no military aspect and will be devoted solely to teaching boys how to shoot and how to handle a rifle, accomplishments that are sought as much by civilians as by soldiers. The club is organized as one of the associated school clubs of the National Rifle association, the organization with which the Houghton Light Infantry and the Houghton Rifle club are affiliated.

The rifle club will practice in the evening in the gymnasium and will be under the direction of Physical Trainer Wagner. It will be supervised by E. L. Ratzel, a member of the school board, who is president of the Houghton Rifle club and a recognized authority on ballistics.

The board restricts the rifles to single shot arms of 22 caliber. No repeating rifles will be permitted. The range will be similar to the indoor range of the rifle club and of the Light Infantry. Superintendent Doelle reported to the board that the night school at Isle Royale, for the instruction of aliens in the English language, had opened Monday night with an enrollment of twenty-three. He is confident it will be increased to fifty shortly. The pupils are Croats and Finns.

THE M. C. M. ROUND-UP.

Secretary Presko Acknowledges a Mistake in His Notice Cards.

E. W. Presko, secretary of the Copper Country M. C. M. club, usually is a painstaking and methodical personage, but, like Jove, he nodded last week and made a mistake in sending out notices of the annual round-up of the club, which is to take place at the Michigan College of Mines metallurgical building next Saturday night. He stated on the card that the festivities open at 7:45, thereby making a mistake of one hour. The affair actually opens at 6:45, just a quarter before 7 o'clock.

Incidentally, the secretary wants to add to the information contained on the card the further item that Prof. Chapman in his explanation of the flotation process will have a complete flotation plant on exhibition and in full operation. He also will illustrate his talk with slides.

Otherwise the notice sent out by Secretary Presko was complete and accurate.

DEER HUNTING SEASON OPENS.

In Houghton County Number of Licenses Likely to Be Reduced.

The deer hunting season of 1915 opened last night, or at the instant of the passing of that hour and it may be that there already have been slain a number of the only examples of big game that the copper country can boast.

The season is on and there is reason to believe that it will not be quite as lively as seasons that have preceded it. The fact that there is only one deer permitted to each licensed hunter this year is going to reduce the number of hunters. The hunter seldom will acknowledge that he goes hunting for the meat that he can kill but it is a fact that an increase in the license fee or a decrease in the number of deer that may be killed always reduces the number of hunters.

In Houghton county the sale of licenses on the opening day of the season should total at least a thousand, as should be the case for the season in the county is 1800. Up to noon yesterday County Clerk Kaiser had sold, roughly, 550.

It is understood from many sources that there are many deer in the woods of Houghton county, in contrast to the partridge supply. This has been one of the poorest partridge seasons on record. As the object of the law in reducing the number of deer to be killed is to increase the number of deer at large it seems to be having its effect already.

The hunters began moving out yesterday. All trains carried hunters, probably as many as on any opening day. They went in all directions. Inquiries have been received from lower Michigan hunters by copper country railroads regarding rates and hunting grounds. It has been asserted that the one-deer law will reduce the number of lower Michigan pot hunters. This is still a question.

MINING COLLEGE MEN TURN OUT IN A BODY TO SEARCH FOR MATE

The entire Sigma Rho fraternity of the Michigan College of Mines left last night to search the woods around Winona, south of Houghton, for William D. Stevens, a mining engineer, graduate of the college and a member of the fraternity. Stevens is a son of the late Horace J. Stevens, the great copper publicist. He left the Winona mine Monday morning in charge of a party of eight men who were searching for three other employees who had been missing since Sunday. The other members of the searching party returned, as did the original missing men, but Stevens has not returned. A man who searched nearby will be organized this morning if he is not found during the night.

TO COLLECT GRAYLING.

Fish Commission Writes George Williams About Plans.

George Williams has received from one of the fish culturists of the Michigan fish commission a communication relative to the commission's plans for propagating grayling. This fish is now found only in the Otter river of Houghton county. At one time it abounded in lower Michigan waters, so much so that the present city of Grayling is named for it.

The commission considers that the river on which Grayling is located is an ideal water for the propagation of grayling and it has erected there a natural hatchery. Grayling cannot be propagated artificially. All the cuttings can do is to establish a dam and stock it with fish. Nature must do the rest.

The commission expects to come into Houghton county next June and collect grayling from the Otter river for the purpose of stocking its hatchery.

CONVENTION OF K. OF G. E.

Calumet Knights of Golden Eagle Making Plans for Next Summer.

Calumet commandery, Knights of the Golden Eagle, are making plans for the entertainment of the grand lodge, which will meet in Calumet next year. At a banquet Saturday night tentative plans were discussed and at 10 o'clock the committee on the 14th Precinct in France at a select dinner of distinguished officials, and in the midst of his tribute paused and said:

"GET FULL BUSHEL," HELME WARNING.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 9.—State Dairy and Food Commissioner Helme has issued a warning to housewives against peddlers who do not give full measure in selling fruits and vegetables.

"The consumer should understand first that there are two kinds of bushels," says Mr. Helme. "A bushel measure under the state law contains 2150.42 cubic inches. This, however, is what we call a stricken bushel. The law provides that when wheat and other grains are measured in a receptacle containing the above number of cubic inches, the measure shall be level full. But when we come to measure potatoes and apples and other rough stuff, the law provides that they shall be sold by heaped measure. It is only in this way that sixty pounds of potatoes can be gotten into one of these measures, and that is the legal weight of a bushel of potatoes in Michigan."

"Unfortunately, many peddlers have all sizes of bushels and the consumer is unable to tell whether a proper amount is being given. We suggest to all consumers who buy fruits and vegetables, that they make for their own use a bushel measure. Such a measure can be made in the form of a square box which should be 12 inches high, 12 inches wide and 12 inches deep. A box so constructed will hold, when level full, a legal bushel of apples, potatoes and such produce. It will be a short job to make one of these boxes and we suggest that all consumers who buy stuff by the bushel should have one on hand to check up the measure that they receive."

BABIES AT CHURCH FIGHT RACE SUICIDE.

Montclair, N. J., Nov. 9.—One thousand women each with a baby in her arms or leading a small child, attended a service in the Immaculate Conception church this afternoon, as a protest against "race suicide."

The service was one of a series marking the close of a two weeks' mission conducted by Jesuit priests. During the mission special stress was laid on the dignity of motherhood, the priests declaring that it is the chief glory of American womanhood. Yesterday the clergy announced that this afternoon they would conduct a service especially for women and that admission would be by "ticket." The "ticket," it was explained, would be a baby. The married women of the parish who are not mothers were urged to bring the children of mothers who have more than one.

The response was general and very sweet in the church was filled with women and children. A special sermon on motherhood was preached, after which there was a blessing of the children by Rev. Father Casey, leader of the missionaries.

Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how low your dandruff may be. This simple remedy never fails.—Adv.

FOOD REGULATIONS EXTENDED IN GERMANY

New Price Schedule on Live Hogs and Pork—Strict Control of Milk Supply.

Berlin, Nov. 8.—(via London).—A new schedule of prices for hogs and pork in Berlin has been adopted by the Federal Council, in connection with the measures now being taken to regulate prices and distribution of food supplies throughout the country. Maximum prices are designated for live hogs, which are divided into certain classes according to weight. Quotations are adjusted in such a manner as to encourage the raising of heavy hogs instead of making it profitable to slaughter them before they mature. For this purpose the rates are increased on a sliding scale for hogs that weigh more than 220 pounds.

The maximum wholesale price for fat pork is placed at 140 pfennigs per kilogram, (about 27 cents a pound). For hog fat (unrendered) the maximum wholesale price is 180 pfennigs per kilogram, (about 36 cents a pound). For hog fat (rendered) the maximum wholesale price is 150 pfennigs per kilogram, (about 30 cents a pound). The Federal Council's measures regarding milk contemplates primarily giving preference to children, nursing mothers, and sick persons. The control is through the municipalities and other local authorities. Towns with more than 10,000 inhabitants are required to fix maximum prices and smaller towns are permitted to do so. All towns are allowed to open municipal milk shops or establish a commission of special dealers to sell on behalf of the authorities.

It is optional with the authorities whether they introduce milk tickets or not. In the latter case, the Berlin-Brandenburg solved the problem of selling milk only for children, nursing mothers, and sick persons during the early hours of the day and later to general customers.

Berlin, Nov. 8.—The Frankfurter Zeitung says that arrangements have been made between the German and the Bulgarian government to bring in food supplies from Bulgaria. A German purchasing commission, which has gone to Sofia, is being assisted by the Bulgarian government, which has declared its readiness to facilitate the purchase of large quantities of fodder and beans.

A SIGN OF THE TIMES.

It's the same old gospel, but there's a new type of preacher, according to Secretary Hubbin, of the Wisconsin Country Life conference. Five years ago the word "farmer" was seldom heard at any theological seminary. All preachers were prepared for city churches and educated to the needs of city people.

Recent surveys have shown, however, that the rural population furnishes a large proportion of the church membership, and pastors are being trained especially for rural service.

Time is almost here when the eloquent, ambitious and bright young minister will be willing to remain in the country, refusing to be brought away by some city congregation.—Farm Life.

THREE BALKAN KINGS WELLKNOWN IN PARIS

Ferdinand, of Bulgaria, in Particular, Spent Much Time in Gay City.

Paris, Oct. 12.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Three kings, Ferdinand of Bulgaria, Peter of Serbia, and Constantine of Greece, are loomed large on the eastern horizon just now, and hardly less important are their three promoters, who have been making most of the moves in the new game of the Balkans.

The three Balkan kings are almost as well known here as in their own capitals. They come here for their relaxation. They make frequent official visits at which they are central figures at grand levees at the Quai d'Orsay, gala performances at the grand opera, and military reviews at Vincennes. They come to come often, also, on business, chiefly to buy the latest pattern of French artillery, the famous "75." Besides these kindly visits, each of these monarchs, incognito, has had his days as a Paris boulevardier, and Peter in particular and his royal brother Arseno, are well acquainted with the paths of Bohemia leading through Montmartre and the Latin quarter.

King Ferdinand.

On one of King Ferdinand's visits there was opportunity to view him at close range, as he received in most democratic fashion at a reception at the foreign office. He was in the center of a group of cabinet ministers, and his military retinue in their brilliant uniforms. But the king himself was in plain evening clothes, with the white tie ribbon of the Legion of Honor across his breast. He is of massive build, and quite looks the part of a king, or czar. His face is genial and his yellow hair and Saxon beard give him rather a German aspect.

Some of Ferdinand's German characteristics are receiving special attention since Bulgaria has ranged herself with Germany. While son of a German prince of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, and born at Vienna, his mother was the French princess Clementine of Orleans. This latter fact has given the French special bitterness against Ferdinand. It is also noted that he is an officer of the 11th Austrian hussars and of the 4th Prussian infantry, though this probably has no more significance than his wearing the French Legion of Honor.

During Ferdinand's visit to Paris, he was enthusiastic in praise of the French troops, drawn up 12,000 strong at Vincennes. After the review he toasted France at a select dinner of distinguished officials, and in the midst of his tribute paused and said:

"They say Ferdinand wears a charm to preserve his life and happiness. It is false; I wear no secret charm. But I do wear something more glorious and involving than any charm—and here it is."

His French Sympathies.

And throwing open his coat he displayed the cross of the Legion of Honor, around his neck and close to his breast. In many other ways Ferdinand gave evidence of his French sympathies. He even kept at the royal palace at Sofia, in a small silver box, a bit of French earth, as a tribute to the soil he so often visited and loved. He also had the royal palace at Sofia, in the French style, and he had a collection of French slippers dropped by Marie Antoinette during her famous defense from the mob by the Swiss guard; the black crystal cup from which Napoleon drank his victory at Austerlitz, and other rare objects.

As explaining Ferdinand's recent tendency toward Germany, a story is related by a diplomatist recently stationed here. According to this, Emperor William, even before the European war began, foresaw possible eventualities in the family of the prospective king of the Balkans, and personally addressed himself to the three kings of Bulgaria, Greece and Romania. His overtures were most tactful. He did not ask them to range their countries on the side of Germany. All he asked was the promise from each that in the event of a European conflict, they would not make war against Germany. This account falls to the three kings, and they are said to have given their promise to

STUDIES LAW TO FREE HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Mamie Baker, Oklahoma Woman, Gives Proof of Her Devotion.

Clinton, Okla., Nov. 9.—It has not been an easy matter for Mrs. Mamie H. Baker, twenty-two, to overcome the first difficulties to obtain education as an attorney, but she went at the task bravely. The goal is still several years in the distance, no doubt, but to her the goal is worth striving for—the exonerated and release of her husband from the state prison at McAlester, where he is serving a long term. For it is to accomplish this that Mrs. Baker is studying for admission to the bar.

Mrs. Baker was but twenty years old when her husband, Joe Baker, was arrested with several others on a charge of killing Charles Reuter, an eminent attorney of Tulsa. Baker and Grog McKenzie, the son of a minister, were convicted and got long terms in the penitentiary.

When the murder trial was held in the district court at Tulsa, the list of the accused included Mrs. Laura Reuter, the young widow of the murdered attorney. Her second trial, held at Bartlesville, on a charge of venue, resulted in her acquittal. Mrs. Baker holds that the evidence was such that if it cleared Mrs. Reuter it would clear her husband, too.

While Baker was being tried, Mrs. Baker naturally played a more or less conspicuous part, but after the evidence had been submitted and the legal technicalities threshed out by the opposing attorneys, the girl-wife faded from public view. Before the public had forgotten the sentence, however, Mrs. Baker had started to fight for her husband's liberty.

To train herself with the hope of ultimately becoming an attorney, it was necessary for Mrs. Baker to become a school girl. She made little ado about it, and but few people knew of it until her remarkable class record in the Tulsa High school, the last semester, brought her back into the limelight.

Mrs. Baker is of foreign descent, a Bohemian, who two years ago, was hardly able to speak intelligible English. In addition to her school work it has been necessary for her to make a living by her own efforts, but she is determined to become educated.

In regard to Mrs. Baker, Henry J. Allen, the noted Kansas editor, says: "An Oklahoma woman is doing more to kill the divorce evil than a pile of anti-divorce theories and the silver-tongued orators who deliver them."

"She didn't forget this marriage vow when her husband was sent to the penitentiary to serve a life term. Surely a husband could not bring greater dishonor to the name he has given his wife. But the dishonor—when weighed in the delicate scales of loyalty—was not heavy enough to outweigh her promise made before the God to be her husband's true companion in joy or sorrow."

Opera House.

William Farnum, the most virile and magnetic star in filmdom, will be featured in another Wm. Fox triumph, entitled "The Wonderful Adventure," to be shown today at the opera house. In this startling and intense production, the star appears in a dual role, as John Demarest, the wealthy New York contractor, who falls a victim to the guiles of the adventures "Mazora," and also as John Stanley, the mining engineer, Demarest, through his fatal weakness, becomes addicted to the use of drugs, neglecting his wife and family, and permitting his business to go almost to ruin. At this juncture, he meets Stanley, his exact counterpart in face and figure. Demarest, half-crazed through the use of Mazora's drugs, conceives the fantastic idea of having this man, so wonderfully like him in every way, take his place in the world, and thus give him opportunity to indulge in his degraded desire. The tense interest and thrilling situations in the ensuing scenes make this an unusual photoplay. For the vaudeville offering today, the National City Four will again be presented in their quaint renditions of comedy singing and harmony.

Tomorrow's feature will be "Scandal," a photoplay that is said to surpass "The Hypocrites," both of which were produced by the Smalleys.

Delft Theater.

Myrtle Tannehill, the popular star of the legitimate stage, is featured in "The Barnstormers," a four-part "Broadway Favorites" drama, to be shown today at the Delft theater. This charming actress appears in the role of Nell Lavelle, a soubrette of a barnstorming musical comedy troupe. Adam, a prosperous proprietor of a country hotel, meets Nell, and falls in love with her. Unknown to Adam, his son Jack loves the girl, but has quarreled with her because of her refusal to quit the stage. The show is on the financial rocks. Knowing of his love for Nell, Mason, the unscrupulous leading man, and Epstein, the manager, induce Adam to back the show. Nell is in ignorance of this until she accidentally overhears a conversation, and then the developments are decidedly interesting.

PATIENT SEES BULLET REMOVED FROM HIS HEART

London, Nov. 8.—The removal of a bullet from one of the chambers of the heart, under the influence of only a local anesthetic, and with the patient watching the operation, is described by an army surgeon in the British Medical Journal. The point of chief interest elicited by the surgeon was the insensitiveness of the heart to direct stimulation. The organ was handled freely, opened with a knife, probed with heavy forceps and closed with a row of stitches, without affecting its contractions or causing the patient the slightest pain or discomfort.

"The operation was performed under a local anesthetic," writes the surgeon, "encaine with adrenalin being used. The heart was exposed. No wound could be seen, but on examination by the surgeon's finger the bullet was felt at the back of the heart either in the muscle or in the chamber of the right ventricle. It was noticed that manipulation of the heart caused the patient no pain or discomfort of any kind, though the organ occasionally missed a beat, and this, in spite of the fact that the anesthetic had been injected only into the skin and the chest wall. The patient, of course, was conscious throughout.

"The bullet was grasped and was then felt to be inside the chamber, so an incision half an inch long was made in the heart wall and the bullet removed by forceps."

Work in Assembly Room—The roof of the assembly room in the city hall, which has been leaking for some time, has been made water-tight. The plaster has soaked off in many places, giving the assembly hall a decidedly displeasing appearance for public gatherings. Yesterday work was started replastering the room and decorating the wood-work. The stage and the two small committee rooms will also receive attention.

CITY REPORT SHOWS LOWER EXPENDITURES

Figures Compiled by Accountant Anderson Reflect Creditably on Each Department.

The summary of the expenditures for each department in the city hall, according to the October report compiled by City Accountant Anderson, shows an appreciable lowering for the year to date, over the same period last year, in every department but that of water. In the case of the water department, however, the redemption of bonds is the cause for the heavier expenditure this year. Up to this time last year the water department had redeemed bonds to the extent of $10,000, while thus far this year the department has redeemed $25,000 worth of bonds, which means a saving of considerable on the interest.

The summary and comparison of each department are as follows:—

For October 1915—

Dept. Public Affairs	$ 1,293.57
Dept. Public Works	808.74
Dept. Accounts and Finance	427.25
Dept. Public Health and Safety	2,527.96
Dept. Light and Power	10,392.70
Dept. Water	1,455.62
Total	16,816.14

—Year to Date—

Dept. Public Affairs	$ 17,713.98
Dept. Accounts and Finance	10,938.20

RIGGS RESIGNS HIS PHILIPPINE POST

Baltimore, Nov. 8.—General Clinton L. Riggs, of this city, a member of the Philippine commission and secretary of commerce and police, announces that his resignation had been accepted by the president.

General Riggs said that he took this step because he "found it impossible to submit my views and actions to the apparent wishes of the administration, as expressed by the governor-general."

General Riggs, who returned to Baltimore last May for the benefit of his health, sent his resignation to Washington in June. He was notified in a letter from President Wilson a few days ago that it had been accepted.

In his letter the president expressed his appreciation of General Riggs' acceptance of "this difficult post so far removed from your personal and business connections, the devotion to your duty and the excellent quality of official work done by you while thus serving."

CANADA LACKS ARMS FOR HER RECRUITS

Shortage of Rifles Delays the Sending of More Men to the Front.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—One of the great handicaps that Canada has to contend with in the raising and equipping of troops for overseas service is difficulty in securing an adequate supply of rifles.

So serious is the shortage of small arms that it has prevented the Dominion government from dispatching to the front many additional battalions of troops and undoubtedly has stayed the authorization of a fourth Canadian division. The wastage of rifles at the front is declared to be enormous and what rifle factories there are in Canada are taxed to their fullest capacity supplying forces already at the front and in training at home.

Owing to the tremendous armies being recruited in England, it has been impossible for the dominion government to buy rifles in the old country, while it is understood that United States manufacturers have more orders on hand than they can fill in the next six months.

Sir Robert Borden, who is on a recruiting tour in the maritime provinces, hinted at further sacrifices and declared that Canada was prepared to send forty divisions, if necessary, to carry on the war to a successful conclusion. Sir Sam Hughes used almost identical language in addressing the Canadian club in Ottawa and government newspapers have announced that the recent conference of military heads decided on raising 50,000 additional men within the next six months. At the present time recruiting is exceptionally good and with the conclusion of harvesting and threshing in the west there will be an undiminished supply of men.

It is semi-officially announced that parliament will meet in January. The illness of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and brighter railway and financial conditions decided against a fall session.

The Ottawa Evening Journal, which is recognized as the party organ of Sir Robert Borden, announces that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the prime minister have reached an agreement whereby parliament will be extended until after the war. The political truce has been saved from a precarious position by the patriotism of the Liberal leader, who interposed to prevent the Liberals opposing the election of Hon. T. L. Patenaude, the new French-Canadian cabinet minister, in Hochelaga.

The chief question that parliament will have to deal with will be the budget. Finance Minister White will have to announce and direct taxation to announce, and while the nature of the new taxes will not be definitely known until announced to the house, it is generally understood in semi-official circles that they will include slight tax increases on certain lines of manufactured commodities, a still tax on tea, increased duty on sugar and a graduated income tax.

The government has had under consideration a powerful western demand for the abolition of the duty on American wheat, in order to permit Canadian wheat and flour free entry to United States markets under the Wilson-Tanderson tariff. While no official statement of the government's decision has been made it can be authoritatively stated that the demand of the west will be turned down.

Trade figures for September and October show a big increase in exports and imports and there is a big advance in customs revenue. Advice from the

M'ADOO WANTS TO KNOW HOW MUCH MUNITIONS ARE MADE IN AMERICA

Washington, Nov. 9.—Detailed reports on the operations and outputs of plants manufacturing munitions of war have been ordered by Secretary McAdoo from internal collectors throughout the country. Each collector is instructed to send in complete data concerning such establishments in his district.

Treasury officials said tonight the secretary thought this information should be available to his office and to congress, though at present he had no plans for making specific use of it.

The manufacture and export of munitions is expected to be the subject of much discussion when congress convenes and the treasury probably will be called upon for its statistics very soon after the session begins. There has been talk in official circles, too, of putting a special tax on munitions factories.

EXTRAVAGANCE IS BANE OF BRITAIN

Expenditures of Well Paid Working Classes Never so Heavy

London, Oct. 12.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—How completely the war has had the foresight that economic experts is shown by the remarkable wave of surface prosperity which the masses of Great Britain are experiencing. Only a little more than a year ago political economists were discussing seriously the need for organizing public works on a great scale for the tens of thousands who would be thrown out of employment. Now financiers like Sir George Paish, editor of the Economist, and Edwin Montagu, the financial secretary to the treasury, are sounding strong warnings against the extravagant living of the nation as a whole. Money is being squandered on all sides. Sir George Paish, in a recent speech, and the newspapers are taking up the same cry.

The conditions which the war has developed, have settled the problem of public works on lines which apparently were not foreseen. The enormous increase of the British army to three million men, and the demand for workers in the public and private munitions works, has absorbed all the available manhood of the country procurable on a basis of voluntary service, and given a great surplus of employment to the United States. Money is being discharged freely, and even lavishly and extravagantly, to contractors and to workmen, and for the support of the families of soldiers, according to the economists, and it is being spent by the people at large with equal lavishness and extravagance.

Working Classes Benefit.

These conditions cause excited debate by all classes. In the enormous redistribution of wealth the general drift would appear to be from the hands of the rich and the middle classes into the pockets of the workmen and the families of soldiers. While the workers furnish a majority of the men under arms, the people with large estates and those with savings and middle class incomes believe that they furnish, through taxation and war loans, the bulk of the money which is carrying on the war, and which finds its way down through the government and contractors to the small merchants and workmen.

This results in the enforcement of unusual economy upon the wealthy and the middle classes, and those who are not in the war work, who are many, and encourages unusually free spending in the status usually most economical. While the Covent Garden Opera has been suspended during the war, the theaters of the masses, and the picture shows, are prospering. The hotels and restaurants supported by the wealthy pass their dividends; the popular resorts are doing good business. Tailors and fashionable dressmakers claim to be suffering great depression, but the wives and daughters of workmen are dressed better than ever before in their lives. Wine merchants are putting up their shutters, and in the houses where beer and gin are consumed are crowded.

Sales of Pianos Increased.

Mr. Montagu complained of great spending on luxuries, and cited the fact that the sale of pianos has increased. He called upon every citizen to be prepared to put at least one-half his current income at the disposal of the state. The wealthy classes of England would not agree that the luxury and extravagance charge is practised by them. No observer could fail to credit them with accepting the enormous war taxes imposed upon incomes with a remarkable patriotism and resignation.

Speaking for the other side of the case, Sir Alfred Mond, a wealthy manufacturer, told the house of commons that men from the agricultural districts who formerly earned four dollars a week are getting fifteen to twenty dollars from the government, and

WHITLOCK SHARES WITH KING ALBERT AFFECTION OF PEOPLE IN BELGIUM

New York, Nov. 9.—"The most powerful figure in Belgium today, so far as the Belgian people still in that devastated country are concerned, is Brand Whitlock, the American minister at Brussels," said Captain J. F. Lucey, president of the Lucey Manufacturing corporation and former officer in the United States army. It was Captain Lucey who organized in Belgium the relief machine which has fed millions of destitute persons. He went on: "The Belgians hold for him a reverence and affection as great as that which they entertain for their heroic king. When he leaves the stricken country it will be over the protest of every loyal Belgian man, woman and child in the conquered territory, to whom he has become the great American friend who, in the most perilous hours of the country's history, has never failed them."

No man in this country was more surprised than Captain Lucey when he read that Mr. Whitlock was about to leave Belgium on a two months' leave of absence.

"What Whitlock tried to do for poor Miss Cavell," said Captain Lucey, "is only what he did at the beginning of the war for the Germans themselves. I know what I am telling you is true when I say that at the beginning of the occupation of Brussels many Germans owed their lives to the courage and tactfulness of Brand Whitlock, coupled with the influence that he had with the Belgian people. But for his intervention many Germans would have lost their lives. Some of them he saved by giving them refuge in the American legation."

"If Whitlock is to leave Belgium, it

BLACK WATCH, SINGING IN CHARGE, LOSES 3,500; JOHNNY POE IS KILLED

Baltimore, Nov. 9.—Four thousand members of the famous "Black Watch" regiment, marched into the battle of Loos on the morning of Sept. 25. At 5 o'clock that afternoon there were but 500 survivors. Johnny Poe, famous Princeton athlete and soldier of fortune, was one of the 3,500 who didn't come back.

A letter telling of the death of Poe and describing the battle was received by S. Johnson Poe, brother of Johnny, from a captain of the regiment.

"There was no sensational charging," he wrote. "The men marched into the face of a German machine gun fire in perfect step, singing and cheering, but never breaking the line. On they went, after the line, just as if they were on parade, with officers and men falling on every side."

German casualties were terrible the letter said. Trenches were choked with German dead.

GAME WARDEN SHOT IN MAKING ARREST.

Hazleton, Pa., Nov. 9.—Joseph McHugh, of Weatherly, state game warden for Carbon county, was shot and killed by one of a party of five unknown hunters whom he attempted to arrest in the woods near Hazel Creek today. When asked to surrender their weapons, one of the men raised his gun and fired at McHugh, who died shortly afterward. The hunters disappeared in the direction of Drifton, a mining village. Officers are making a systematic search for them.

48 VALUABLE FURS TO BE BLACKFOOT INDIANS' GIFT TO WHITE HOUSE BRIDE.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The Blackfoot Indians of the Glacier National Park reservation, in northwestern Montana, are preparing to honor Mrs. Edith Galt, President Wilson's fiancée, by presenting her as a wedding gift with what probably will be the most elaborate assortment of furs ever given to a single person.

This set of furs, embracing skins from forty-eight animals, is the Blackfoot's idea of the proper material for the making of a cloak to be worn by the wife of the nation's chief, especially as she is the first of real Indian blood to live in the big white tepee at Washington.

The collection of furs will not be complete until the last of November or the first week in December, it is thought. The best Indian hunters of the reservation, Medicine Owl, Wolf Plume, Lazy Boy, Fish Wolf Robe, Two Guns, White Wolf, are now scouting the mountain country just south of the Canadian border in quest of the best skins to be had. They already have bagged fine specimens of rocky mountain goat, big horn sheep, elk, four kinds of bear, a moose, weasel, mink and marten.

The bottling trade of the British is a requires 70,000 tons of cork annually.

GET IT FIRST—NOT LAST

When a cold grips your system it is convincing proof that your condition is weakened—remember that. It is risky indeed to simply trust your strength to throw it off, because neglected colds have brought more serious sickness than any other one thing, while weakening cathartics and stimulating syrups are often depressing and dangerous.

The one best treatment for any cold—the one so often relied on when others fail, is the powerful blood-nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the very sources of bodily strength to suppress the present cold and generate strength to thwart further sickness.

Get Scott's first, not last—and insist on the genuine—always free from alcohol and injurious drugs.

ESCANABA WANTS GAME NEXT SATURDAY

Sandy City Team Would Like
Another Contest With Upper Peninsula Champions.

If either the Iron River or Escanaba city football team had won Sunday, the former from Stambaugh and the latter from Marinette, the victor would have challenged Ishpeming for a game for the upper peninsula championship. Inasmuch as Ishpeming has defeated Marinette and Stambaugh, it is thought here Ishpeming now has the right to claim the championship.

Both games resulted in a tie without a score being made in either contest. When Iron River and Escanaba were not able to score against teams that Ishpeming has defeated, it is believed certain evidence that neither of these aggregations may look for a championship contest with Ishpeming.

The Escanaba players were not satisfied with the outcome of the game. They played against Ishpeming early in the season, as their line-up was incomplete, but in the contest against Marinette Sunday they had the strongest line-up they could secure. Yesterday the Escanaba manager telephoned to Ishpeming to arrange a game for next Sunday. It is not likely that the players will go down. If a game can be arranged with Green Bay the players will immediately resume practice and if they should defeat the Green Bay team they would consist as well as the upper peninsula, as the Green Bay eleven is conceded to be the strongest team in the state outside of the colleges.

The game at Iron River Sunday between Stambaugh and Iron River was for a purse of $150 and the gate receipts. The result of the Duluth-Superior game last Sunday was awaited with much interest at Ishpeming. This contest also resulted in a tie, neither team scoring. It is said that despite of the disagreeable weather and muddy grounds several thousand persons witnessed the contest.

Escanaba Writes Letter.

William Gill, captain of the Ishpeming team, yesterday received the following letter, asking him to give Escanaba a return game:

"Escanaba, Mich., Nov. 8, 1915.
"Mr. Wm. Gill and Members of the City Football Team, Ishpeming, Mich.:

"Gentlemen—According to newspapers you lay claim to the football championship of the upper peninsula.
"Do you propose to be merely newspaper champions, or would you like to be the real stuff? We claim to have a team which, if not superior to yours, is at least equal.

"Probably your claim is based upon the fact that you defeated a five-man team from this city by a large score, but said game was not a scheduled game and we consented to play you only through courtesy, as you stated you had Marinette scheduled and they cancelled the game and your advertising said game might cause disappointment among the fans of your city.

"You also promised us a return game in this city, which, of course, we will expect you to fulfill.
"We guarantee you railroad fare and if the crowd is large enough we will pay your board, the same proposition extended to us by your supporters.

"This team is completely reorganized since you defeated the five-man team that accommodated you in your city.
"Hoping the above facts will cause your sporting blood to circulate in the right direction, we remain,
"The Undeclared Escanaba Football Team."

"A FOOL THERE WAS."

"A Fool There Was," Porter Emerson Brown's powerful drama, will be the photoplay offering at the Ishpeming theater at a matinee this afternoon at 4 o'clock and this evening. Theda Bara, who has won many admirers among the picture fans here, and Edward Jose, another Fox favorite, play the leading parts.

In addition to the picture, which is in six parts, the Southern Porch Party will present their fine vaudeville act at the matinee and in the evening.

"A Fool There Was" is the story of "The Woman Who Did Not Care" and "The Fool." The "Vampire Woman" lives "The Fool" from his home and leads him on to his ruin and disgrace. His wife and friends try to tear him from her side but "The Vampire" always succeeds in holding her infatuated victim. His will weakened by drugs and he is still fascinated by his evil genius. She sneaks over to his house and has made of what was once a man. At last the Vampire's work is complete. "The Fool" falls dead at her feet and with a terrible smile, she strews over him rose leaves that are red as drops of blood.

OLIVER TO INCREASE GOGEBIC RANGE FORCES

Four Hundred Men Added to Present Number at North Norrie,
Aurora and Pabst Mines.

The officials of the Oliver Iron Mining company, who recently visited the several Lake Superior ranges, decided to work their Gogebic mines double shift, and some 400 new hands were put to work Monday at the North Norrie, Aurora and Pabst mines.

F. E. Keese, the company's superintendent on the Marquette range, yesterday said that an increase in the working force here is not contemplated, but while the officials were here last week they gave an order to ship ore in addition to the previous allotment. However, this will not require additional men, as the ore will be taken from the stockpile. The mines the Oliver company is operating on the Gogebic range are all royalty properties, and in some instances the minimum royalty is heavy, and this is the principal reason the properties are to be operated double shift. With the many mines the company is operating on the Mesabi range, it is not difficult to get out all the ore needed without increasing the working forces at properties where the company owns the fee, as is the case here.

In addition to the increases at the North Norrie, Aurora and Pabst mines, it is reported that more men will be put at work within a few weeks at the mines east of Ironwood. The increase in forces in the Oliver mines between the Ironwood district proper and the Puritan mine will be in the neighborhood of 600 men.

The ore shipping record for the Gogebic range is going to be smashed this year. The Chicago & Northwestern road up to November 1 hauled more ore to the Ashland docks than in any previous year. The best year the Northwestern ever had on the Gogebic was in 1912, when 3,778,614 tons were shipped from the Ashland docks. This year up to November 1 the Northwestern had hauled 3,791,963 tons, an increase over the entire season of 1912 of 12,949 tons. It is expected that at least 325,000 tons more will be shipped before the close of navigation. This would send the Northwestern's record for the season well over the 4,000,000-ton mark.

This year up to November 1 the Soo Line shipped from the Gogebic 963,224 tons, the total for the two roads having been 4,754,397 tons, or only 44,704 tons less than the total shipments in 1912, which was the record year at both docks.
The largest single month's shipment was made from the Northwestern docks in September, when 825,873 tons were sent out, nearly as much as the Soo Line had shipped all season. In October 721,724 tons were shipped from the Northwestern dock.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Simon Olson spent yesterday on business at Marquette.

Dan Bilkey departed yesterday on a business trip to St. Ignace.

Joseph Mitchell, of Champion, was an Ishpeming business visitor yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Devine have gone to Milwaukee to spend a few days visiting.

Mrs. J. Dower, of Diorite, has returned to her home after a few days' visit with her mother, Mrs. John Sakos.

Mrs. Edward Sorley and son arrived here yesterday from Escanaba and will be the guests of Ishpeming relatives and friends for a few days.

Mrs. Leo Wilson and children arrived in the city yesterday afternoon to spend a few days visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hennessey, Lake street.

The members of the Ishpeming S.V. club plan an outing for tomorrow evening. It will be ladies' night and a large attendance is expected. There will be dancing and other amusements and lunch will be served.

Creighton Hale, who was one of the most popular players in the "Romance of Elaine" series, taking the part of Walter Jameson, is in "A Fool There Was," the big six-part Fox production at the Ishpeming theater this afternoon and evening.

The clerks of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's Ishpeming office, numbering about sixty, will be the guests tonight at a theater party at the Ishpeming theater given by Mr. Shoadle, of Cleveland. After the performance the party will go to the Urban House, where a banquet will be served.

The funeral of the late Theodore Lindstrom, who died Sunday in Chicago, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home, and at 2:30 from the Swedish Methodist church. The casket will not be opened in the church and those desiring to view the remains are asked to call at the home. Mr.

Lindstrom was a pioneer resident of Ishpeming and for many years was employed at the Cleveland Lake mine as track foreman. He was obliged to give up his work about a year ago on account of ill health. He is survived by his widow, five daughters and two sons.

Martin J. Olson, of this city, who has been in Duluth the last several weeks, expect to return by Nov. 25. He is installing a large pipe organ in the West End Mission church. The organ will be dedicated at a concert to be given Nov. 22. Two artists from Chicago will give the principal part of the program.

Angus Campbell left Monday night for Chicago in response to a telegram advising that his father, Captain Duncan Campbell, of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's Cliffs Shafts property, was in a critical condition. Thomas P. Walters, captain Campbell's son-in-law and Mrs. Walters, who accompanied him to

IN FIVE MINUTES NO SICK STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Is the Quickest and Surest Stomach Relief.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump, or lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent boxes of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most is that you feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparatory. "Pape's Diapepsin" is for indigestion, gas, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery. Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

CHARLES SJOSTEDT KILLED YESTERDAY

Suffered Fatal Injuries When Thrown from Car Hit by Street Car.

Charles Sjostedt, a pioneer Negaunee resident, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon when a horse he was driving was struck and instantly killed by a Marquette County Gas & Electric company street car on the road crossing the old Jackson dump.

The accident occurred about 2:40 o'clock, and car number 104, which has a hand brake, was being used.

When Anderson first saw Sjostedt the car was a number of yards away from the crossing, and it is thought that even if it had been equipped with an air brake he would not have been able to have brought it to a dead stop.

The car struck the horse on the right side and it was instantly killed. It was pushed on the track for several feet and the wagon was thrown off to one side of the embankment.

Motorman Anderson and Conductor George Rodell, with the assistance of some of the passengers, placed Sjostedt in the hospital about ten minutes after the accident.

Melbourne, Australia, Oct. 12.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The salvaging of the wreck of the German cruiser Emden which was beached upon Keeling Island of the Coes group in the Indian Ocean after defeat by the Australian cruiser Sydney last November is again in question.

For When Menn Was Done Exuberant New Yorker Essayed to Go Down Chimney.

New York, Nov. 9.—In the cold gray dawn of yesterday morning, as the poets would say, David F. Harlow, son of a most estimable family living at No. 217 East 142nd street, the Bronx, was seen to scale the high brick chimney rising from the roof of the Tremont tabernacle, a Jewish synagogue, at No. 2040 Grand Concourse, the Bronx.

Believing him a "gentleman burglar" in the guise of a man of wealth, the bicycle rider hastily summoned Policeman Finnegan. The policeman, unable to enter the synagogue at that time in the morning, called several firemen from a nearby look and ladder truck company, with a long ladder.

Firemen went to the roof of the synagogue and saw the plain evidence that a man had descended the flue. They "hollored" down, but there was no reply.

By that time policemen were breaking in a rear door. In their search they found no burglar, but as they were leaving the basement they saw the hand of a man protruding from an opening in the chimney that extended to the roof. From this they discovered there was a man firmly wedged at the bottom of the flue.

After considerable work a derrick was rigged on the roof of the synagogue by firemen and policemen and a rope with a loop knot was lowered. They called down the chimney for the man there to seize the rope or pass the loop about his shoulders. After many trials the man got the rope under his shoulders and was hoisted by a windlass arrangement about fifty feet up through the flue and out on the roof, while a crowd of several thousand persons watched.

The young man, in evening dress, was yet quite dazed. He said he was David F. Harlow, son of a wealthy real estate dealer, but he could not tell how he happened to go down the chimney.

"I was at a late dinner with friends last night," he said, "and don't remember starting home. How I got to the roof, I don't know."

COURT RULES IN PASCOE SUIT

Judge Flannigan, in Verdict Handed Down at Crystal Falls Last Saturday, Decides in Favor of Plaintiff in Hanousek Mine Deal—Five Defendants.

Court Decrees That Former Pay Former Partner Half of Royalties and Profits on Hanousek Transaction—Opinion Against Pascoe in Finnegan Mine Affair

A decision in the suit of John J. Pascoe vs. Charles D. Fornier, et al., was handed down by Judge Flannigan at Crystal Falls Saturday. The plaintiff was upheld on one contention and lost on another. The suit was argued in the circuit court of Marquette county several months ago, and because of the intricate transactions leading up to the suit, all of the following were involved as defendants: Charles D. Fornier, Edward J. Pearce, Albert C. Rough, George P. Tweed, and A. B. Coates.

J. J. Pascoe, who was represented by Attorney J. M. Kennedy, brought suit to recover one-half the profits and royalties accruing from his partnership with C. D. Fornier in disposing of iron ore properties. After the partnership was entered into on Sept. 23, 1912, a deal was started to dispose of valuable options in the Hanousek mine, in Gogebic county, near Wakefield. Subsequently, Fornier called upon Pearce and Rough to assist in placing the property. When it was finally placed through their efforts they were compensated by Fornier, and in the present decision the amount of their compensation was approved by the court.

About the same time, Coates and Tweed, of Duluth, sought an option on the Finnegan mine, adjoining the Hanousek. Mr. Tweed was introduced to the Finnegan by Mr. Fornier, and when the option was closed, Mr. Fornier disclaimed any compensation for the introduction, but was presented with a three cent royalty on the mine. Pascoe's claim to a share of this royalty was not granted by the court, inasmuch as it was a gift and the transaction took place after the termination of the partnership contract between Pascoe and Fornier.

Finnegan Mine Deal.

In connection with this phase of the suit, the decision of Judge Flannigan is interesting.

"Mr. Tweed desired to obtain an option on the Finnegan mine," he says. "Tweed resides at Duluth. The property is located on or near Wakefield in Gogebic county. Mr. Tweed asked Mr. Fornier to advise him when the Finnegan could be found at home. Mr. Fornier did so. Mr. Tweed went to Bessemer and was introduced to the Finnegan by Mr. Fornier, whereupon Tweed opened negotiations with the Finnegan which terminated in an option.

"In the absence of evidence of any understanding, or even an expectation, on the part of either Fornier or Tweed, that compensation would be exacted therefor, to hold that the mere introduction of Tweed to the Finnegan would entitle him to compensation would be doing violence to common sense. We have not yet reached a point where it is legally necessary for one, upon receiving an introduction at the hands of a mutual friend, to take out his pocketbook and say, 'How Much!'"

The court then goes on to show that the three-cent royalty on the Finnegan mine was a gift from Mr. Tweed to Mr. Fornier, and would not concern Mr. Pascoe as a former partner.

Hanousek Claim Upheld.

In the Hanousek claim, however, Pascoe was fully upheld by the verdict of the court. He was awarded one-half the money received by Fornier in royalties and profits on the Hanousek mine transaction, including all future payments to be made on the deal, and no costs were allowed to either party. In his findings on this case, Judge Flannigan writes in part:

"Upon consideration of the testimony and the oral arguments and briefs of counsel for the respective parties, the conclusions arrived at are:

"That the partnership between the complainant and the defendant Fornier, evidenced by the writing signed by them September 23, 1912, reading, 'This is to certify that we have entered into partnership in the handling of iron ore properties,' was in existence when the Hanousek transaction was commenced and concluded, and that the Hanousek was a transaction of the co-partnership."

After summing up the claims of Pearce and Rough, and also the Finnegan mine deal, in which Coates and Tweed were indirectly involved, the verdict continues:

"The decree will require Fornier to pay to Pascoe a sum equal to one-half of all the monies received by him out of the Hanousek transaction, and to assign to Pascoe a one-half interest in any and all existing contracts providing for future payments to Fornier on account of the Hanousek lease. To secure the payment by Fornier of the monies above mentioned, the decree will give Pascoe a lien on Fornier's remaining half interest in the contracts mentioned, and on the monies payable thereunder. No costs will be allowed to either party."

John J. Pascoe was represented by Attorney J. M. Kennedy, Charles D. Fornier was represented by Jas. A. O'Neill, of Ironwood, Tom Clancey, W. P. Belden for Albert J. Rough and Coates, and Tweed retained Washburn, Bailey and Mitchell, of Duluth, as counsel, as well as Fred H. Burk, of Ishpeming.

LARGE POTATOES.

DEATH OF J. A. GINGRAS.

Passed Away Tuesday Afternoon at the Age of Eighty-Six.

Joseph Alfred Gingras eighty-six years of age, died Tuesday afternoon at 4:50, at the home of his son Victor, 310 S. Seventh street.

Mr. Gingras was born at Maskinonge, P. Q., and came to this country in 1850, when he settled in Marquette. He was employed by the Harlow estate from the time that he came here until five years ago, when he retired from active service. Besides his widow, he leaves four sons and two daughters. The sons are Joseph E., of Escanaba, Victor, John B., and Frederick, of Marquette, and the daughters are Mrs. Joseph Baril, of Maskinonge, and Mrs. Joseph Durrocher, of Marquette. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Levy Patta and Miss B. Gingras, both of Monroe, N. Y.

The deceased was a brother of the late Peter Gingras, of Ishpeming, and of the late Oliver Gingras, who was a lieutenant in the United States army during the Civil war. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

DEATH OF MISS BIDDLE.

Sister of Mrs. G. Mott Williams Passed Away in Baltimore.

Word was received yesterday of the death in a hospital at Baltimore of Miss Susan Dayton Biddle, of Detroit, the oldest of the sisters of Mrs. G. Mott Williams, who, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Susette, left for Detroit yesterday to attend the funeral. Miss Biddle's death was not unexpected, as members of the family here had been informed that her condition was critical and that she could not survive. Miss Biddle, who was a member of an old Detroit family, was well known in Marquette where she had frequently visited, and where her musical and social talents had received thorough recognition. She had traveled widely and as a friend of her brother's house in Washington, made a large number of friends from every part of the country. The burial will take place in Detroit, her childhood home.

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT DENIED FRANK LIESKE

Judge Flannigan, in Decision Handed Down Last Saturday, Ruled Against Prisoner.

A writ of habeas corpus was denied Frank Lieske, who is serving a sentence at the Marquette prison, by Judge Richard Flannigan, in a decision handed down last Saturday at Crystal Falls.

Lieske's case received prominence through the fact that he filed his own petition and prepared his arguments. He was taken from his cell about three weeks ago and brought before Judge Flannigan, where he argued his own case, but the decision was rendered against him.

Lieske was arrested on June 24, 1911, for shooting Detective Frank J. Wilkinson, of Detroit, and he was convicted by Judge Donnelly, of Detroit, on the charge of "assault with intent to kill." On an appeal to the supreme court, the findings of the lower court were reversed on errors in procedure. Lieske was remanded for a second trial before the circuit court, in which the jury disagreed. On his third trial, Lieske was convicted on the charge of "assault with great bodily harm, but less than the crime of murder," and was sentenced to a term of five to ten years, with the maximum recommended.

The appeal was taken on the ground that he was tried for two different offenses, and that as he was put in jeopardy at the first trial for an offense which included the lesser charge, the last sentence was illegal. The writ was denied on the ground that Lieske did not appeal his case on his last conviction, and that his remedy lay in applying for a writ of error instead of a writ of habeas corpus.

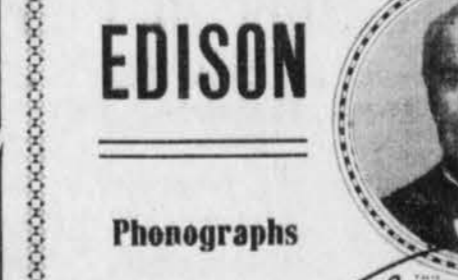

Previous to this sentence, Lieske also served a prison term for another crime. He has served about three and a half years of his present sentence.

SPECIAL SURVEYS FOR DEPARTMENT OF LIGHT

D. O. Moon, Hydraulic Engineer, to Start Work Today to Increase Water Power.

D. O. Moon, a hydraulic engineer, of Appleton, Wis., will reach Marquette this morning, and will immediately commence special surveying for the department of light and power, under R. Retaille. The surveys will be made with a view to extending the penstock from the dam to the powerhouse as rapidly as possible.

Between four and six o'clock every evening the power plant runs about 1,200 kilowatts, and its generating capacity at the present time is too limited to stand this strain. As soon as the extension is made from the dam, the additional water power will increase the generating capacity of the plant enough to meet this situation satisfactorily.

Engineer Moon will be assisted by two men from the light and power department. The surveys will require from ten days to two weeks. As soon as the specifications are completed, the department will advertise for bids on the construction.

J. M. LONGYEAR HAS DEVELOPMENT PLAN

Marquette Man Outlines Practical Measures for Securing Men for Land.

A concrete and practical inducement which will result in bringing the highest type of settlers to Cloverland is a plan suggested by J. M. Longyear, of Marquette, for land owners in the upper peninsula and one which he believes will work out with great success, says the Menominee Herald Leader.

"In offering lands to settlers in Cloverland, we are in competition with states, provinces and smaller municipalities, which are putting forth strenuous efforts and spending millions of money to attract the attention of settlers," said Mr. Longyear in outlining his plan.

In its most concrete form it is as follows:

1. The purchaser must pay ten per cent of the price at the time the contract is made.
2. He must pay six per cent interest for six years, providing, of course, he makes improvements on the land.
3. During each of the first five years the owners must lend the settler $15 per acre on all land brought under cultivation that year.
4. During each of the first five years the owner must lend the settler one-half the value of all new permanent buildings.
5. The money loaned must be used in making further improvements on the property.
6. The settler must work to improve the land and not to exhaust it.
7. After five years the settler must pay at least ten per cent of the amount due and all above six per cent is to go on the principal.
8. At the end of twenty-one years the settler will own the land if he pays only what is demanded by the contract and all above six per cent is to go on the principal.
9. The settler will have a living for that time and property worth from two to six times what it cost him.

Tells of Trip.

Mr. Longyear told of a trip he recently made through twenty-nine states and three provinces in Canada. He declared that he was impressed with the immense amount of uncultivated land that he saw and that it is capable of supporting a great population.

"Strenuous efforts are being made," he said, "to attract settlers," and he told of the attractive propositions and highly colored pamphlets sent out by states, municipalities and other interests to get settlers. He called for a united effort, and said that "waiting for settlers" would result in the lands being absorbed by rapidly increasing taxes. Italians are being held on the worn out New England states through the attractive methods used in advertising the lands, he asserted. The result is that the lands are again becoming valuable farms, because the son of Italy is an intense worker.

"Our lands are better, cheaper, and nearer to market than most of the lands being offered," Mr. Longyear declared.

The tearing down of the old bridge west of the Carr furnace was finished yesterday, and the work of filling was started by the M. M. & S. E. railroad, in conjunction with the street department. At the same time the railroad trestle between the old bridge and the furnace is being filled.

The ground is seventeen feet below the bridge and trestle level, and the fill will require about 12,000 cubic yards of dirt, of which 6,000 cubic yards will be required to replace the bridge. The city will pay merely for its proportion of the dirt used, and the work will cost but a small part of what it would cost if it was contracted for. In addition to this, the city will, in demolishing the old bridge, recover between $300 and $400 worth of timber, which will be used in building and repairing new bridges. City Engineer Wright is superintending the work for the city.

The street department has just completed its fall street cleaning, and is preparing for the winter season by sharpening the snowplow and putting it into good condition. Other street department work completed yesterday included the Summit street and Fifth avenue sewer improvement, for which Eric Johnson was awarded the contract.

Yesterday morning the city engineer finished surveying at the Park cemetery, preparatory to drawing up a deed for a tract 100 feet by 200 feet, south of the pond, which is being transferred by the city to N. clared, after telling how settlers were secured for the swamp lands of Louisiana, which are far inferior to the soil offered here in Cloverland. "Settlers would come here in droves if they knew what we have to offer," he declared, "but we are like the merchant who, instead of displaying his goods, keeps them concealed and covered up where you can't find them.

"Some Cloverland owners," he asserted are doing that today, and no great results can be expected. "There are thousands of young people looking for homes," he declared, "they want to get out of the more crowded districts and find new places. They are attracted by advertisements they see of land all over other parts of the country. They would come here if they knew about it; but they don't know about it; they haven't heard of it; it is necessary to go out and tell them."

SEEK FREE MARKET FOR PRISON GOODS

State Commission Will Proceed Against Those Who Start Boycotts.

At its session at the Marquette prison yesterday the state penological commission decided to use its full powers under the law authorizing its formation to put an end to conspiracies designed to limit the sale of prison made goods.

The law authorizing the commission empowers the members to make inquiries that will give it possession of the facts in all cases in which boycotts are declared against the products of the prison shops, or conspiracies are entered into with the purpose of restricting their sale. It is proposed now to exercise this power, and once the facts are obtained to proceed against the men, or organizations, that they incite for violations of the general law against conspiracies in restraint of trade.

The prisons of the state are as rapidly as possible being organized to produce products that will be sold under direction of the prison officials on the open market and the commission aims to secure a free market for these products. In certain instances, already, difficulty has been experienced in placing them because of efforts of men opposed to prison labor to restrict their sale. It is believed that a full utilization of the powers of the commission will put an end to this.

Members of the commission yesterday discussed numerous questions of prison organization and made excellent progress toward the formulation of several projects that have been in hand the past several months. The session came to a close early yesterday afternoon.

Why Patrick-Duluth Cloth Is Bigger Than Weather

First of all — because a special long fibre wool is used, fleeces of the hardy sheep of the great Northwest, sheep that thrive in the snow. Nature has given this wool a wonderful weather resistance, and the "stumping" or "fulling" process shrinks the cloth, tightening the weave. This process includes the wetting and pounding of the web cloth for hours.

These are the things that make Patrick-Duluth cloth resist cold and moisture and make it

BUILDING GASOLINE LAUNCH.

Boat of Thomas Derocher & Son to Have Powerful Engine.

A gasoline launch is being constructed for T. L. Derocher & Son, which will be, when completed, one of the largest and most powerful on the lakes. The hull will be 38.6 feet long, and eleven feet across the beam. An eighty-two horsepower engine will be installed, which is being manufactured by Kuhlberg Bros. company, of Two Rivers, Wis., according to special specifications. The engine alone will cost about $3,000.

Work was commenced on the hull at the Derochers' shop last week, and will be entirely completed by the Christmas holidays. The launch is to contain a pilot room in front, as well as a semi-cabin, and will be used for pleasure trips and also for towing. It will be thoroughly equipped with the most modern appliances, and the cabin will be splendidly appointed. J. D. Moore is supervising the building of the launch.
