THAT PEACE EXCURSION.

The administration does not look at all kindly on Mr. Ford's peace excursion. Those who will make up the party will, it is announced, be given special and limited passports, but no letters of introduction that will give them the status of unofficial representatives of the government.

The press comment in London makes plain what Mr. Ford should have done. He had not lost capacity for viewing things outside the automobile trade in perspective—that he is one of the last men who should journey abroad on such a mission as he now proposes.

But Mr. Ford has not such qualifications. He has been, as we all know, an extremely garrulous individual of late, and it has chanced that some of his garrulity has been particularly offensive to the allies.

Indeed we have a colossal piece of American impertinence in the spectacle of Henry Ford, type of the nouveau riche, a man of no great breath of culture and of little training except along business lines, assembling a band of his compatriots and riding over the heads of the government to undertake such a mission as that on which it is now proposed to embark.

That Mr. Ford and his friends should be roundly snubbed would probably be the best possible issue of their ill-conceived excursion. Such an outcome would decrease the likelihood of similar ill-advised expeditions and give ground for hope that when the government finally acts, it has opportunity to act, it will be able to do so without laboring under the prejudice created by the intervention in such serious business of uninvited individuals with no particular talent for the intricate affairs they approach so boldly.

BADLY BATTERED.

For the opinion of Sir Edward Carson that the impotence of the neutrals has killed international law, there appears to be no small grounds. At least it is clear that the impotence of the neutrals prevented the enforcement of this law at the time it was challenged.

Yet an international law that merely serves as a basis for future claims is a poor thing. In the ordinary course of events, law is invoked against the offender while he is hot from his crime, and if he can be apprehended he is speedily marched off to jail.

International law is dying by inanition because there is no force behind it, because the nations principally interested in its authority are powerless to uphold that authority.

Germany gave up the submarine warfare to which we objected not because we protested vigorously as much as because the British navy rendered its undersea campaign abortive.

IT'S DAY IS DONE.

The Western Federation of Miners is reported to be in straits. It is involved in vexatious disputes in Butte, and nowhere in several years it has been able to point to a definite success.

The best thing that could happen for the miners in its field would be to have the Western Federation turn up its toes and then be stowed away, unhonored and unused. It has no field of usefulness. It is fought by the employers with rare unanimity at practically every turn.

Even viewing the matter entirely from the viewpoint of the men, the demise of the Federation should be welcomed. When it is gone there may, if the strong men among the miners will take control of the situation and chase out the plug uglies and the parasites, be evolved a new organization that would, by respecting contracts and by pursuing unimpeachable methods, gradually make a field for itself, and by commanding public confidence secure a powerful weapon of attack that the Federation has never possessed.

The Western Federation will never be anything but a stone around their necks. In every battle it takes up it is whipped before it starts.

The Menominee Water company has responded to the offer of the city of $200,000 for its plant with an acceptance, accompanied by certain conditions that, while they will have the effect of increasing the cost of the plant to the city to something over $200,000, still bring the two parties to the negotiations so close together that it can be predicted with confidence that an agreement will be reached.

EDITORIAL OPINION

In the Cause of Peace. Henry Ford allows that he will go anywhere and do anything if thereby the cause of peace can be advanced.

That is a splendid spirit and most of us are with him in that. The main trouble is in finding the right place for him to visit and the proper course for him to adopt while there.

About the only spot where crowds would openly turn out to welcome a pacifist, as matters stand, is Greece, striving lustily to keep her balance on the tight wire of neutrality.

MINE OPERATORS TO HOLD CONVENTION

Will Meet at Washington, D. C., Dec. 16 to Discuss Revision of Present Laws.

Mining men of Marquette county are interested in the convention of operators from all over the country to be held at Washington, D. C., on Dec. 16. They will meet at the invitation of the Mining and Metallurgical Society of America, and the headquarters will be in the auditorium of the National Museum, the use of which has been granted through the courtesy of Dr. Charles D. Walcott, director of the Smithsonian Institution.

The purpose of this meeting is to demonstrate to congress that the men who are engaged in the mining industry of the United States want a revision of the ancient and contradictory laws under which they have been operating for the last fifty years. No specific changes will, however, be advocated, nor will any attempt be made to draft new laws. A special commission will undoubtedly be recommended to draft new laws, after making a thorough study of the subject and hearing the opinions of a great many mining men.

Largely through the instrumentality of the American Mining congress several bills were introduced in the senate and house last winter, and were discussed at great length, but because of the pressure of other business, were not passed. The object of the forthcoming convention is to give this legislation sufficient impetus to carry it to the president.

All of the mining societies of the United States have been invited to send delegates, and, through the United States Bureau of Mines, all of the mine operators of the country have been notified and invited.

PREDICTS STORMS FOR LATTER HALF OF WEEK

Special Forecast Says Strong N. W. Winds and Lower Temperatures After Tomorrow.

Weather conditions during the early part of the week will be favorable for navigation, but the latter half will bring strong northwest winds with considerably lower temperatures, according to a forecast for the week issued yesterday by the weather department.

These special forecasts were begun by the weather bureau last week, as an aid to mariners during the hazardous last three weeks of navigation. They will be issued each Monday morning until the close of the season, and will cover the conditions for the entire week. In its preamble last week the forecast announced that well into December westerly winds of storm force will be of almost daily occurrence over some portions of the upper lakes, generally on Lake Superior. The general storm movement is from west to east, and often in this period one storm will succeed another so quickly that it will be difficult to say when one storm ceases and the other begins.

Following is the special forecast for this week: "Fairly settled weather with moderate westerly winds and small changes to lower temperature on Monday and probably Tuesday, followed by a short period of storm winds about the middle of the week. Cooler weather with fresh to strong northwest winds and considerably lower temperatures during the closing days of the week."

RED CROSS PRAISES WORK DONE IN WAR BY AMERICAN BRANCH

Berne, Switzerland, via Paris, Nov. 28, 6:50 p. m.—Deep appreciation of the participation of the United States in Red Cross work in the European war is expressed in the latest bulletin of the International Red Cross, which says American organization everywhere has held first place among the foreign auxiliaries. During the first year of the war the United States sent to Europe seventy-one surgeons and sixty physicians and 253 nurses. This staff worked in France, Belgium, Russia, Germany, Austria and Serbia.

"In Serbia," the bulletin says, "the American Red Cross contributed most effectively to the extirpation of the epidemic of typhus fever." The total expenses of the American ambulances during the first year of the war amounted to $1,460,306.

ARMY BEATS NAVY IN ANNUAL GAME

Soldiers' Football Eleven Piles Up 14 to 0 Score Over Sailors in Hard-Fought Contest.

New York, Nov. 28.—West Point defeated Annapolis at football on the Polo grounds yesterday by the score of 14 to 0, giving the soldiers their third successive victory over the sailors. Oliphant, the former Purdue university star, was the hero of the battle. He scored all of the cadet's points—two touchdowns and two goals. The game, while not brilliant, was desperately fought as Army and Navy contests always are.

The Cadets made their first touchdown early in the first period after the Navy had made a disastrous fumble. West Point's second score came in the third period when the marvelous Oliphant smashed his way through the whole Navy team for the score.

Rain fell during most of the game, a heavy mist hung over the field, and the light became so bad that the players appeared to have much trouble in following the ball. There was the usual spectacular demonstration after the game. The Army formed a great circle in the field and then ran to the colors which were planted in the middle of the big ring. The Army cheered the Navy, the Navy cheered the Army and everybody cheered the red, white and blue.

TUMULTY DEFENDS CARRANZA RECOGNITION

No Record of Outrages on Nuns, He Says—Sympathy and Counsel Needed in Mexico Now.

Washington, Nov. 28.—The administration's reply to those who criticize the recognition of the Carranza government in Mexico because of charges of outrages upon priests and nuns of the Catholic church was made public here tonight in a letter by Secretary Tumulty to Dr. James J. McGuire of Trenton, N. J., who recently wrote to the White House asking for an explanation of what he characterized as "widespread criticism."

Secretary Tumulty advised Dr. McGuire that the files of the state department failed to disclose any official record of a single proven case of outrages upon nuns, and he included in his letter a statement by the Catholic vicar general at Mexico City, which while disclosing the shooting of priests, and the expulsion and imprisonment of others, declared there had been no violations of nuns in that district.

Would Heal Wounds from War.

"Counsel and sympathy are needed, and would be merciful now, because they would be of wonderful efficacy in uniting the people of Mexico in the work of reconstruction," wrote Mr. Tumulty. "Efforts to arouse rancorous feelings among them will have the effect of opening anew the wounds which should be healed, and of creating an open sore to torture that poor people as long as their minds are kept inflamed against their brethren."

The secretary also called attention to the recognition of President Jimenez by the Buchanan administration following "the bloodiest of all civil wars ever waged in Mexico," marked by "all the bitterness and cruelties of a religious war."

Emphasis was laid on the recognition of Carranza by the Latin American countries which joined in the Pan American peace conference. All of these Latin American countries, Mr. Tumulty pointed out, were Catholic nations.

Finally, a statement was reproduced which was given the state department by Eliseo Arredondo, the Washington representative of General Carranza, last October, pledging the Carranza government to respect everybody's "life, property, and religious beliefs."

emphasis on the German official report announcing the conclusion of the main operations against the Serbians as pointing to an important change in the Balkan situation.

The Daily Mail says it suspects that alteration of the Balkan campaign is necessitated by the threat of the Russian army concentrating at the mouth of the Danube and by the threatening attitude of Roumania.

GERMANS QUIT SERB DRIVE.

Berlin, via London, Nov. 28, 8:15 p. m.—With the reoccupation of Rudnik, the capture of 2,700 prisoners and the flight of the "scanty remains" of the Serbian army into the Albanian mountains, Germany's operations against Serbia have been brought to a close, says the official statement issued today at the headquarters of the general staff. The object of these operations, the opening of communication between Bulgaria and the Turkish empire, has been accomplished, it is asserted.

Tribute is paid not only to the bravery and endurance of the Austro-German troops, but to the Serbians as well. The claim is made that more than 100,000 prisoners, nearly 50 per cent of the Serbian effectives, have been captured. German losses are said to have been "extremely moderate" and there are no epidemics of disease.

FRENCH REPULSE ATTACK.

Paris, Nov. 28, 3:40 p. m.—A German attack to the north of the labyrinth, following the explosion of a mine, was repulsed after violent fighting, according to a statement issued by the war office this afternoon. The Germans, however, succeeded in occupying the excavation caused by the explosion of the mine. There was also fighting during the night with hand grenades at the fortification of Givenchy and in the region between Roelincourt and the Chantecler farm, but elsewhere quiet prevails on the western front.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE WILL BE READY TODAY TO GO TO THE PRINTER

New York, Nov. 28.—President Wilson spent today quietly in New York visiting with his fiancée, Mrs. Norman Galt. He planned to leave shortly after midnight in order to arrive in Washington early tomorrow to complete his annual message to congress which he will read Dec. 7. He will put the finishing touches on the message tomorrow.

Mrs. Galt has decided to remain in New York to complete her trousseau. The president left the home of Col. E. M. House, where he spent last night, before 10 o'clock this morning, called on Mrs. Galt and motored with her up Fifth avenue to the Fifth avenue Presbyterian church. Secretary Lansing and Secretary Daniels were also in the congregation. The clergyman prayed that the president be given divine guidance in directing the affairs of the nation in the present perilous time.

FIRE IN DR. HOLM'S HOSPITAL SATURDAY

Surgeons Were About to Perform an Operation When Blaze Was Discovered.

Fire broke out Saturday afternoon, at about 3 o'clock, in the wash room of Dr. Henry Holm's hospital. The flames quickly spread to the roof and rooms on the second floor.

There were twenty-five patients in the hospital, and before arrangements could be made to remove any of them nearly every room in the building was filled with smoke. One patient, taken from the second floor, was transferred to the Ishpeming hospital, and another was removed temporarily to a residence across the street.

The fire, which was started by an overheated stove, threatened to destroy the property, and it was difficult for the firemen to get it under control. The flames had spread to the attic and the roof timbers. The building is covered with corrugated iron and the firemen did their most effective work through the roof and from the rooms on the second floor.

Dr. Holm and K. A. Burke had just finished operating on William Niskala, of Newberry, and were preparing to operate on another patient, when the fire was discovered. Both patients were under an anesthetic, but they were removed to rooms in the front of the building, where the smoke did not affect them. After the fire was extinguished, the rooms were put in order and the patients returned to their regular quarters.

Seven of the rooms were damaged, and part of the furnishings were water soaked. Four of the rooms, three on the second floor, and one on the first, will need repairing, as will also the dining room, kitchen and wash room, on the first floor. The hospital has beds for thirty patients.

Dr. Holm is grateful to the firemen for their prompt and efficient work, and to the men who volunteered their services in removing the patients and fighting the fire. The blaze was first seen by men working on the Knights of Pythias building, immediately on the west.

Drs. Holm and Burke have performed a number of surgical operations in the past month or two. Among those operated upon last week is Mrs. Abrah Viipola, whose husband is the pioneer farmer in the Fire Center district. Mrs. Viipola is over seventy years of age and she submitted to an operation for ruptured appendix. Although she had been suffering at her home for quite a long time before calling a physician, and was in critical condition when she arrived at the hospital, she has a good chance for recovery.

Otto Forsberg, of New York street, who submitted to two operations one for appendicitis, left the hospital for his home Friday.

The custom of sending a photo of the sender with a Christmas gift has become in later years quite general. It frequently happens that the enclosed photograph is accorded a welcome that rivals the gift, particularly if the photograph is good, both as to likeness and quality of work. By having your photos made at Childs' Art Gallery, Ishpeming, you will be sure to secure both of those desirable qualities. Please attend to the business of sittings at once, as there is not much time to lose.

SEARCH FOR DIORITE MAN IS ABANDONED

Relatives and Friends of Missing Shoemaker Give Up Hope of Finding Him Alive.

Relatives of Abrah Puttala, the Diorite shoemaker, have given up hope of finding him alive. Puttala disappeared from his shop on Oct. 24, and has not been seen since. Although a search has been conducted unceasingly no trace of him has been found.

Puttala's relatives do not believe he committed suicide. He was doing a thriving business and seemed contented. They believe, rather, that he went to the woods and was lost, dying from hunger and cold.

It was reported in Diorite, following the Johnson murder at Greenwood, that Puttala was seen going over the hill toward the Johnson farm the day he disappeared. This caused the officers to fear he had been killed also. They dug up the earth in a number of places where the surface looked as if it might have been disturbed, but found no trace of Puttala.

Puttala's brother and sister reside in Negaunee. They have aided in the search and are satisfied he wandered away from Diorite and perished in the woods.

Puttala was well known to the Finnish people in Ishpeming and in the western end of the county. He was in business here for some time before he moved to Diorite. He conducted a shoe repair business at the mine location for three years or more, ever since he left Ishpeming. He was thirty-five years old and single.

BOWLING CONTESTS.

So many members of teams participating in the Business Men's bowling league at the Empire alleys were hunting last week that it was necessary to postpone several of the matches. Tonight teams Nos. 7 and 11 will roll at 8 o'clock and Nos. 7 and 4 will meet immediately after this match is finished. Team No. 8 will roll No. 4 at 8 o'clock and the members are asked to be on hand promptly at that time. No. 9 will then roll No. 8 by request.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Mrs. James F. Wiggins and daughter, Pauline, of Calumet, are in the city visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schilling.

J. O. Maxey, of L'Anso, and a party of friends, were in the city for a short time yesterday, stopping on their way from Marquette. They made the trip in Mr. Maxey's automobile.

Schwab & Martin, presenting a musical act, will be the vaudeville attraction at the Ishpeming theater today, tomorrow and Wednesday, opening their engagement this evening. There will be matinees tomorrow and Wednesday, when Fox productions will be shown. The matinees will start both days at 3 o'clock, continuing until 5:30.

A piece of marble, weighing seven and a half tons, was shipped from Carter Bros' quarry, north of Ishpeming, to Marquette last Friday. Several large pieces have been quarried and will be shipped as soon as there is good sleighing. Treblecoek Bros. have the contract to transport marble from the quarry to the railway track in the city.

A farmer lost control of his horse in front of the new Knights of Pythias building on Division street Saturday morning and before the animal was quieted the buggy was completely smashed. The horse backed into one of Treblecoek Bros. teams, which had

ORE SHIPMENTS DRAW TO CLOSE

Companies Are Laying Up Shovels and Making Other Preparations for Winter.

The steam shovel which has been loading ore from the stockpile at the Rolling Mill mine for the past few weeks has been taken off for the winter, the last shipment of ore from the mine having gone to the docks Wednesday. A shovel owned by the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, which has been used at the Lake Superior & Ishpeming railway docks at Marquette during the summer, was delivered here Saturday afternoon and will be put in the company's shops to be overhauled.

The ore shipping season is now practically closed, and the only ore that will be shipped from now until the close of navigation will be a small amount to complete a few small cargoes. A railroad man said that one of the last cargoes of ore that will be sent down the lakes this year will be from the Republic mine, which is operated by the Cleveland Cliffs company. The ore is now in the pockets at the dock.

The past season has been one of the best that the Marquette range has had for several years. More ore has been shipped from the Negaunee mines than during the season of 1913, which was regarded as an exceptionally good one. The ore from one of the large stockpiles at the Republic mine and half of another large pile was shipped, and the company came within a few thousand tons of filling the contract that called for 150,000 tons. The balance of the order will be shipped at the opening of navigation.

The Republic ore is hard and is crushed before it is shipped. A number of the important pieces of machinery at the crusher gave out during the final week of the shipping season and it was necessary to discontinue work. It is reported that the crushing plant will be entirely overhauled and remodeled during the winter, and that much new machinery will be installed before the opening of navigation.

It is expected that the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company will use the Jackson crusher occasionally during the winter months. The Lake Superior & Ishpeming railway has received instructions to keep its tracks leading to and from the crusher open. In past years it has been customary to use the track for storing ore cars. Much ore will be shipped to Michigan furnaces by rail.

The stockpiles around the Negaunee mines have practically all been cleaned up and there is now much room for ore. On the present outlook it is thought that the mines will be worked to capacity all winter, as there will be a big demand for ore next spring at an advanced price.

There will be little ore moved in December and most of the shippers loaded their last cargoes last week. Insurance rates on ore cargoes are exceptionally high at this time of the year and a cargo was covered a few days ago at $1.40 a ton net, or $1 above the regular rate for a shipment from an upper lake port.

INQUEST SATURDAY.

Open Verdict Returned in Connection With Death of Charles Sjostadt.

An open verdict was brought in by the jury Saturday morning in the inquest in connection with the death of the late Charles Sjostadt, who died from injuries received when he was struck by a street car a few weeks ago. After the jury was out almost an hour the following verdict was agreed on: "That the said Charles Sjostadt came to his death by being struck by car No. 104, owned and operated by the Marquette County Gas & Electric company, on a public crossing about 600 feet west of the power house in the city of Negaunee."

Coroner William Prin conducted the inquest. The Marquette County Gas & Electric company was represented by its attorney, F. A. Bell. Victor Anderson and George Rodell, motorman and conductor on the car that struck Sjostadt, were the principal witnesses. Others to testify were Henry Carlson, who was riding in the front of the car with the motorman, and Con Murphy and William Hooper, employees of the Oliver Iron Mining company at Ishpeming, who were driving behind Sjostadt's wagon at the time the accident occurred. The inquest was held in Judge Argall's court room and the jury was composed of John Reichel, Harry Retailic, I. H. Argall, Julius Johnson, Oliver Johnson and J. J. Wentala.

PLACED ON HONOR ROLL.

Thomas Pascoe, manager of the Negaunee State bank insurance agency, is in receipt of a letter from the home office of the Glens Falls Fire Insurance company, of New York, stating that he has been placed on the company's honor roll. He is commended for the amount of business done during the past two years. The record he has established is unsurpassed by any other agency in the state.

MASONS TO HOLD RE-UNION HERE

Ceremonial Session of Francis M. Moore Consistory and Co-Ordinate Bodies of the Scottish Rite, Sitting in Marquette Valley, to Convene on Dec. 7, 8 and 9.

Copper Country Shows Interest—Memorial Services for Late Chas. Smith—Male Quartet and Organist of Chicago Consistory Here—Hold Banquet Thursday

The next ceremonial session of Francis M. Moore consistory and the co-ordinate bodies of the Scottish Rite, sitting in the valley of Marquette, will be held in the Masonic temple here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 7, 8 and 9.

In the copper country unusual interest is shown in the plans for the session, a fact due in no small measure to the action of the consistory in postponing last summer's session to avoid a conflict with the meeting of the grand commandery of the York rite in Houghton county.

Memorial Service for Smith.

It is also of special interest to the princes and others of Houghton county that the program will provide for special memorial services in honor of the late Charles Smith, of Houghton, illustrations grand inspector general of the thirty-third degree, Fred A. Jeffers, of Palmesdale, sublime prince, will deliver the memorial address.

It will be learned with much pleasure that the male quartet and organist and leader of Oriental consistory of Chicago will be here again for the musical services of the ceremonial, and will have charge of the music in all of the degrees.

Banquet on Thursday. The official banquet will be held on Thursday evening at 6:30 p. m. The principal speaker will be W. W. Perry, of Milwaukee, thirty-third degree.

Friday, Dec. 10, the ceremonial of Ahmed temple of the Mexican Shrine will be held. The Arab Patrol and band will be much in evidence.

SECOND TRUANCY ARREST.

In the case of Mrs. Sullivan Loomis, of North Marquette, who was arraigned last Saturday before Justice Byrne on the charge of neglecting to send her children to school, sentence was suspended, after Superintendent of the Poor Handford suggested that the matter be referred to the county poor commissioners.

This arrest was the second in the crusade against truants being waged by Superintendent Watson and Truant Officer Quarters. Drastic steps are being taken to enforce attendance, with arrest as a last resort.

CAVE-IN OCCURS.

North Wall of South Shore Viaduct Collapsed on Saturday.

The north wall of the South Shore viaduct, on Main street east of Front, caved in last Saturday morning, with almost disastrous results to the driver of a heavy drag with a pair of horses which passed down the incline when the wall collapsed.

The walls of the viaduct were recently reinforced by the South Shore with the exception of the small portion where the accident occurred, as this appeared to be solid enough to last out the season.

ZENITH LUMBER CO. ADJUDGED BANKRUPT

Three Petitioners File Claims Aggregating $2,409.06 Against Baraga Concern.

A petition to have the Zenith Lumber company, of Baraga township, adjudged bankrupt was filed last Friday at the Marquette office of the United States district court by creditors of the concern.

The petitioners include the Lake Superior Produce company, the M. Van Orden company and the Portage Lake Hardware company. The aggregate claims of these petitioners are in excess of the assets of the concern, and the petition also maintains that by previous acts the Zenith Lumber company has admitted its insolvency.

The petition was submitted for adjudication to Referee R. T. Loomis, who went to Baraga Friday with the necessary papers. The Zenith Lumber company has not denied the charges of the petitioners, so that its bankruptcy is now an assured fact.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED ON MRS. SULLIVAN LOOMIS BECAUSE OF CIRCUMSTANCES.

In the case of Mrs. Sullivan Loomis, of North Marquette, who was arraigned last Saturday before Justice Byrne on the charge of neglecting to send her children to school, sentence was suspended, after Superintendent of the Poor Handford suggested that the matter be referred to the county poor commissioners.

This arrest was the second in the crusade against truants being waged by Superintendent Watson and Truant Officer Quarters. Drastic steps are being taken to enforce attendance, with arrest as a last resort.

GRANGERS WILL GATHER TODAY

Second Annual Convention to Be Held in Offices of County Agricultural Agent Walker—Mayor Begole Will Deliver Address of Welcome This Morning.

Interesting Speakers at Afternoon and Evening Sessions—Will Make Recommendations to Delegates for State Convention—Opposed to Tonnage Tax Bill.

The second annual convention of the Cloverland Grangers association will take place today in the offices of County Agricultural Agent Walker, in the court house.

The morning session will be taken up for the most part with the transaction of business, including reports of the officials and the naming of committees.

Among the addresses to be given in the afternoon are "The Farmer vs. The Booster," "How They May Help and Injure Each Other," by Frank H. Vandenhoven, vice-president of the association, "Practical Ways to Help New Settlers in the Upper Peninsula," by Col. C. W. Mott, and "Farm Markets in the Upper Peninsula," by W. H. Welch, of the Soc.

This evening's session, beginning at 7:30, will include addresses on "The Farmer and Legislation," by Hon. A. T. Roberts, "Dairy and Beef Herds in the U. P.," by W. F. Raven, and "The Press and Agriculture in the U. P.," by Roger M. Andrews, of Menominee.

The object of the convention is to make special recommendations to delegates to the grangers state convention on Dec. 14, in accordance with the peculiar advantages of upper peninsula climate and soil conditions.

Co-operative work on the part of the Cloverland grangers was started last year, with a convention at Escanaba, and has since proved to have been productive of decided benefit.

AGAINST TONNAGE TAX BILL.

At the state grangers convention the delegates will discuss various bills, including to come up before the legislature. It is presumed that the tonnage tax bill will again come up for the recommendation of the state grangers, in which case the representatives from the upper peninsula will undoubtedly line up for determined action against the measure.

In order to attend the state grangers convention on Dec. 14, Representative W. S. Ewing was compelled to decline an appointment as delegate to the Republican party meeting to be held in Washington, D. C.
