 Will Do Y. M. C. A. Work.
 Herbert Taylor, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Taylor, of Pickford, a graduate of the Soo High school, and this year a senior at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., is one of the forty men picked from Northwestern and Princeton University by the Y. M. C. A. to work among the soldiers in the trenches. The party will sail from New York May 5. At present Mr. Taylor is visiting his parents, but he will leave Pickford this week for the east.
 Will Train at Fort Sheridan.
 Harrison L. Clemons, secretary of the Escanaba Commercial club, has made application and has been accepted for the officers' training corps at Fort Sheridan, Ill., and will leave Escanaba this week. He will go first to his home in Clintonville, Wis., and will report at Fort Sheridan by May 8, when the training camp for officers reserve opens. Mr. Clemons' application was accepted by Lieutenant J. W. McNeal, of the Escanaba recruiting station. He served one year with Battery C, of the First artillery of Wisconsin National Guard, of Racine, before going to Escanaba last September. He was at Camp Douglas with the battery when he accepted the position of secretary of the Escanaba Commercial club. He was in line for promotion as a non-commissioned officer and would have been appointed had he not left the battery at that time. The battery was mobilized at Camp Douglas preparatory to service on the border. Mr. Clemons will try for a commission in the field artillery of the United States army. He will be in training for three months, at the end of which time, if he desires, he will take an examination for a commission. If the examination is passed successfully, he will be given a commission in the regular army.

Judge Holds for Company.
 A verdict in favor of the Newport Mining company, of Ironwood, was rendered by Judge Shepard, of Cheboygan county, in the case of Nick Anderson vs. the Newport Mining company, on the grounds that the plaintiff presented no evidence that proved negligence on the part of the company and that the cause of the injury was, in part, the result of a wrong act on the part of the plaintiff. The decision was given by the judge on a petition filed by the attorneys of the mining company asking that the verdict in favor of the defendant be awarded by the judge. Nick Anderson was awarded a judgment of $3,500 against the mining company last December for personal injuries sustained by his son on June 5, 1913, after a jury had deliberated for nearly two hours.

J. A. O'Neill and Sigurd Nelson, of Ironwood, were attorneys for the plaintiff and six days were consumed in trying the case. The plaintiff's lawyers argued that the path over which the child traveled was an accepted one and had been used for many years by employees of the mine in their coming and going from work. Charles Fancett, of Milwaukee, attorney for the defendant, sought to prove that the child trespassed on Newport mining property and that the defendant was not liable for injuries to the child which were sustained. It is alleged, when the youngster found a dynamite cap on the path, which exploded while he was examining it and badly mutilated several of his fingers and nearly cost him the sight of one of his eyes. It is expected that the attorneys for Anderson will take the case to the state supreme court.

FLEMISH LEADERS FOR UNITED BELGIUM

German Efforts to Secure Division of the Kingdom Are Generally Repudiated.

The Hague, Netherlands, April 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The interview of the self-styled council of Flanders with the German chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, with the chancellor's proclamation of a forthcoming autonomous Flanders in a dual Belgium, is being eagerly discussed in all its aspects in Belgium, Holland and Germany.

The idea, as defined by Dr. Frans van Cauwelaert, one of the best known Flemish leaders, is to split up Belgium into two administrative units under the crown—a Flemish or Dutch-speaking portion, with Brussels as its capital; and a Walloon or French-speaking half, with its capital at Namur. The German authorities, without waiting to see what the war may bring forth, are planning to put the administrative separation into effect.

The department of education has already been split in two and the majority of the other ministries—justice, the interior, the department of trade, industry and agriculture—are to be similarly treated, one group remaining at Brussels and the other going to Namur.

The "political department," which has the oversight of the food supply as carried out by the Belgian relief commission, will remain undivided.

The German press argues that it will be comparatively easy to carry through the proposed separation of the Flemish and French-speaking populations, the language frontier having persisted for a thousand years.

With virtually unanimous voice the Flemish and other Belgian leaders in Holland join in mercilessly condemning the deputation that thus went to the capital of the enemy of their king and country. Several well known Flemings had the event as fortunate in that it reveals the nature of the "activist" group that has been co-operating with the Germans, and stigmatize their action as "high treason."

"Permanent dependence of our Flemish people on Germany would betoken the slow but certain loss of our language, our economic independence and our hereditary liberties," declares Dr. van Cauwelaert, who is a Catholic member of the Belgian chamber, while Arthur Buysse, liberal member of the chamber, says: "On the day that Flanders shall again be free from the council of Flanders and activism will cease to be."

The Flemings will demand that German institutions shall at once disappear with the German commanders. The overwhelming mass of the Flemish population entertains at least as much hatred towards the activists as towards the Germans.

Camille Huysmans, member of the Belgian chamber and secretary of the Socialist Internationale, declares: "The members of the council of Flanders are nobodies, and represent nothing and nobody." Only one or two isolated and feeble voices are raised here in behalf of the suggested autonomous Flanders under the German aegis.

INCREASE OF THRIFT.

Gratifying proof that the American people are taking advantage of the present unprecedented prosperity to strengthen their individual position and provide protection in their old age or for their families is afforded by a tabulation just issued by the Insurance Press, showing the new life insurance written in January and February of this year. In February the total reached $105,000,000, a gain over the same month in the previous year of nearly 28 per cent. For the two months the total reached nearly $200,000,000, or a gain of nearly 33 per cent over the same period a year ago.

An increase of over one-fourth in one month and one-third in two months establishes beyond question the increasing thriftiness of Americans, so often in the past reproached with extravagance and carelessness. These increases, too, are nation wide, not limited to any section or sections. Pennsylvania, it may be noted, is third in the list of states showing heavy increases in February.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

MILITARY DRILLS FOR BALL FIELDS

American Association Will Drill Not Only Players but Public as Well.

Louisville, Ky., April 30.—A course in military training open to the public as well as the players of the various base ball teams in the circuit will be instituted within two weeks, according to President Thomas J. Hickey, of the American Association.

"Every club in the league has approved the plan," President Hickey said in making the announcement, "and we hope to have it in operation within two weeks, first in the Eastern cities, and a few days later in the Western end of the circuit."

"The war department had been asked to supply a regular army man as drill master who will be stationed at the ball park in each American Association city. During the time the home club is engaged in games on its own grounds he will drill the players as well as the public. When the team is away from home he will give his attention entirely to those citizens who desire to avail themselves of his instruction. Each drill master will be paid $100 a month by the American Association in addition to his regular army salary, according to present plans."

"The ball parks will be open to the public for drill morning, afternoon and evening. In this way it is hoped that everyone, regardless of his hours of leisure, who wishes to begin the task of fitting himself for military service, will be able to avail himself of the instruction."

"Two objects, one with a selfish element, and the other having in it only the desire to be of service to the country, have actuated the club owners in taking up the plan."

"In the first instance it is realized that ball players are not in an occupation which may be called absolutely necessary. We realize that because of this circumstance and the further fact that they are necessarily in fine physical condition those among them who would be affected by any scheme of universal liability to military service would be among the first called to the colors.

"It has been indicated, however, that it will be the policy of the war department to leave undisturbed in their occupations all men who may be subject to service, if they are receiving military instruction. Thus by instituting military training the clubs are guarding against the loss which might be occasioned by the sudden calling up of the younger members of each team."

"In the second instance it is felt that a public service will be performed by affording to the citizens of American Association cities an opportunity for learning at least the rudiments of military drill."

"Within a few months hundreds and thousands of young men probably will be called up for training from American Association cities. With the institution of military training in the ball parks the players will be given what the average recruit gets in the first few weeks of his training, and even if not called to the colors immediately his efficiency as a soldier will not suffer in comparison with that of others who may be called sooner. In addition he will be keeping himself in the finest possible physical trim by engaging in one of the most healthful sports known."

FOR THE LOVE OF MIKE!

With Mr. Sunday using his western slang to quicken New York's religious spirit, and with the New York police department's monthly publication giving "its columns to a glossary of criminal slang, the New York Sun expresses concern lest the metropolis may "pnt the rollers under the whole English language." This despairing cry can be equaled in the annals of American culture only by the classic query of a Kansas City judge: "Is art on the hum in this town?"—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Boys Will Work Gardens.

Instead of playing baseball and doing track work this year, the Iron River high school students will work in school gardens, it was announced by Superintendent J. E. Cavanaugh. Arrangements have been made for several acres of ground on the Minecker hill, and it is possible that another piece of ground will be secured from the fair association. While no definite plan has been worked out as yet, it is the intention of the superintendent of schools to plant different vegetable crops in these two plots of ground, and it is probable that the students will be asked to work under the supervision of some one who understands gardening and who will have authority over them. The students are taking to the plan kindly, despite the fact that plans were being made for a good baseball team. Several suggested plowing the school campus and planting it, but because the land there is sub-soil which was taken from the basement of the school it is not suitable for gardening purposes.

Boy Perishes in Woods.

Gustave Erickson, son of Albert Erickson, living three miles north of Pentago, succumbed to exposure after being lost in the woods with his brother, Carl, eleven years old, near his father's farm for nearly two days. The two boys, Gustave and Carl, started out to look for the cows. Failing to find the stock nearby, they went into the woods and, according to the story told by Carl, followed the sound of a cowbell which one of the cows was wearing. They failed to catch up with the stock and shortly afterward lost them entirely. By this time the lads had penetrated far into the woods and with darkness coming upon them they were unable to find their way back to their home. Both lads had watches, and according to Carl they walked until midnight through the driving rain in the hopes of finding their way out. Becoming exhausted, they crawled into a hollow log, where they slept until 4 o'clock, despite the fact that they were drenched and suffering from cold. In the morning the lost pair renewed their search for a path leading from the forest and they wandered until late in the afternoon, when Gustave became utterly exhausted. He was dragged to a dry spot by his older brother, who made a bed of branches and then, removing some of his own clothing, Carl made his little brother as comfortable as possible. Carl then redoubled his efforts despite hunger and fatigue, but again night came upon them and they again slept in the forest. During the night, little Gustave died from the untold suffering from exposure, but his brother, Carl, too young to realize what had taken place, believed that his little brother was cold. He saw frost in the little fellow's hair and he removed his own cap and pulled it down well over his brother's head. Then he removed his stockings and pulled them over Gustave's feet. In the morning he tried to awaken Gustave, and when he failed he believed him to be sleeping. Carl again renewed his efforts to find a way out, and at noon he was found by the searchers, wandering aimlessly about, half dead from exhaustion and hunger and half-drowned because of the ordeal through which he had passed. Asked by his father where Gustave was, he told him he was "sleeping back there." Gustave was found dead by the father. Unless pneumonia sets in, Carl is out of danger, although it will be several weeks before he fully recovers from the terrible ordeal to which he was subjected.

Pledge Loyal Support.

That the German people of the Iron River-Stambaugh-Palaska district are loyal to the government of the United States in the present strife against their fatherland was demonstrated when the members of the congregation of the St. Peter's Lutheran church of Stambaugh, at their quarterly meeting, unanimously passed a resolution to support the president and the government in the war with Germany. The resolution follows: "In this hour of national peril, we, the members of St. Peter's Lutheran church of Stambaugh, Iron River and vicinity, assembled at our quarterly meeting, do hereby pledge ourselves to support our government in every line of service within our power. Our president, our country, has spoken, and we, as a Christian organization, will be glad to perform our part where duty calls us." The resolution was sent to Congressman W. Frank James and ultimately reached the president's office.

Eight-Year-Old Boy Drowned.

Sidney, the eight-year-old son of Mrs. Margaret Mittie, of Ontonagon, was drowned in the Ontonagon river. He and Donald McKenzie were on the pier near the Hawley fish house, playing. Sidney tried to roll a heavy stone off the pier and in his effort lost his balance and fell into the icy water below. His little companion ran for help, going immediately to the home of the unfortunate boy's mother, and telling everyone he met on the way. Several persons rushed to the pier, including the boy's mother. Search was made near the place where the lad fell in, but believing that the current would carry the body out toward the lake the mother went to the end of the pier and there saw his head just above the water, Elmer Hamm, who had a pike pole, managed to catch hold of some of the clothing and in this way he pulled him out. Sidney Mittie was born in Newcastle, Australia, and came to this country with his parents about five years ago, and his father got employment in Grand Marais, Minn. Later the family moved to Ontonagon, where Mr. Mittie was employed as assistant at the Fourteen-Mile lighthouse. Some time ago Mr. Mittie left for South Africa, where he is now located.

To Set Clocks Ahead.

The clocks of Iron River will be set one hour ahead this summer in order that the workmen can have one hour more of daylight to work in their gardens. The change will be made April 30. Iron county has decided it must take care of itself by raising foodstuffs this coming year and every vacant piece of land will be tilled. The Patriotic league of Iron River district has been formed to have charge of the campaign. It is expected that between 3,000 and 4,000 bushels of potatoes will be planted.

HAVE ROSY CHEEKS AND FEEL FRESH AS A DAISY—TRY THIS!

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidney and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphates on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleanses out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

PAPER MATERIAL IN U. S. ISLANDS

May Aid Publishers to Solve the Problem of Shortage in the United States.

Washington, April 30.—Investigations which have been conducted by government scientists in the Philippine Islands may result in the partial solving of the problem of paper shortage which this country is experiencing, according to the weekly foreign trade statement. Experiments are showing, the statement says, that a paper pulp manufacturing industry is capable of development into large economic proportions and that a bamboo soda pulp may be produced at a cost and in quantity sufficient to place it in export trade against chemical wood pulp at prevailing prices.

"After several years of experimentation with bamboo and other fibrous plants of the Philippines," the bureau statement says, "the bureau of the insular government is becoming convinced that an important pulp industry may be developed in the islands and a good trade with Japan, Australia and the Pacific coast of this country created in competition with chemical wood pulp."

"A bamboo known as the cana bojo, which abounds in large quantities in the islands, has been found to yield readily to the soda and sulphite processes and at a cost of manufacture which will permit its entrance into the export trade."

"The soda process pulp is fit for book and lithographing paper. The sulphite process yields 50 per cent and requires a less combustion of sulphur than does chemical wood pulp. If the pulp is to be used in the unbleached state the sulphite process is the better, for in color it is suited for wrapping paper, although a little dark for news print paper. The fiber of the same bojo, however, is said to be of a quality too good for wrapping and news print paper."

"This bamboo is said to be abundant.

The Bataan province alone has about 5,000 acres of cana bojo, more than half of which is dense bamboo. Areas are also found along several river bottoms. This bamboo, furthermore, is easily grown, and one person can plant 400 tubes in a single day. According to the experts' figures, an area of 1,000 acres, not including the replanted and growing bamboo, will supply a pulp mill of twenty tons daily capacity for three years. In that period new bamboo would be grown, so that the manufacture could continue on a three-year rotation basis.

"Considering all the essential cost items, it is estimated that a soda pulp mill, with a capacity of twenty tons per day, could be constructed, equipped and operated at an outlay of $200,000. This would produce, if operated efficiently, unbleached, air dried pulp at a maximum cost of $21 a ton f. o. b. Manila. Low costs of manufacture, it is also said, would permit good returns to the investors."

"In addition to the bamboo, the bureau of science is experimenting with other pulp materials with a view of determining the possibilities of their development. Among these are abaca, which will yield 50 per cent in strength and 41 per cent by the soda process; cogen and talahib grasses, for soda pulp, and various palm and plant fibers, as bowstring hemp, left stalks of nipa, betel nut palm, burl palm and coconut coir."

"The latter palm and plant materials are minor in source, but it is believed that there are great possibilities in the cogen and talahib grasses, which are abundant and yield under the soda process about 45 per cent of dry, unbleached pulp."

HE ALMOST FELL DOWN.

A. M. Hunsucker, Bogno Chitto, Miss., writes: "I suffered from rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, also dizziness; would almost fall down at times. Foley Kidney Pills gave me entire relief. Disordered kidneys give warning by pains in side and back, sore muscles, swollen joints, tired and languid feeling. Sold Everywhere.—Adv."

ATHLETIC REVIVAL TO COME AFTER WAR

Is Believed That Returned Soldiers Will Take Up Sports With Renewed Zest.

New York, April 30.—Although the war has eliminated the major portion of athletic competition throughout the European countries, sport has not been entirely abandoned and there is plenty of evidence to support the belief that there will be a general revival of athletics following the declaration of peace. Many close observers of the physical condition of the troops have stated as their opinion that the training necessary to fit the young man for the modern battlefield has produced a new type of European manhood which will instinctively turn to sport with extraordinary zest as soon as arms are laid aside.

It is a matter of record that many forms of athletic competition are constantly being indulged in on all fronts, just back of the firing lines, and these games are particularly encouraged by both the French and English army authorities. Football, baseball, golf, cricket, wrestling, boxing and foot racing are all participated in by the soldiers off duty and it is said that some remarkable performances are witnessed from time to time when the handicaps, under which the games are played, are taken into consideration.

In the Scandinavian countries steady progress in the development of athletic standards is reported, notwithstanding the fact that these nations are far more affected by the great conflict than neutrals of a greater distance. An example of the upbuilding and broadening of sport throughout this section of Europe is found in the recent Scandinavian Athletic Congress held at Stockholm.

This congress was formed at the suggestion of the Swedish A. A. U. and was attended by representatives from the athletic organizations of Norway, Denmark and Sweden. At this conference it was agreed that the new body should have full charge of all arrangements looking toward athletic meets between these three nations or with teams from other countries which may later desire to compete against an All-Scandinavian combination.

A committee was appointed to prepare a new code of eligibility and competitive regulations that will be uniform throughout Scandinavia. It was informally announced that this step was deemed advisable in view of the athletic challenges which this association is prepared to issue following the close of the war.

A number of the larger eastern colleges have awakened to the fact that they acted too hastily in declaring off all intercollegiate athletics, following the declaration that a state of war existed.

CHANGE IN TIME CAUSES CONFUSION

As a Result, There Were Many Protests Yesterday at "More-Daylight" Innovation.

"What time is it?" "New time or old time?" were questions frequently heard in Negaunee yesterday. Setting the clocks ahead an hour brought many complications and it will probably be a few days before conditions in the city will again be normal. One of the first complications came in the morning, when those who had adopted the new time went early to the banks, which remained on the old schedule, to find that they did not open until 10 o'clock, "new time."

A large number of Negaunee residents are dissatisfied with the change, and it is likely to be some time before they are reconciled to it. Some of the business people do not like the innovation. The saloon men generally are not satisfied with it.

Most of the miners are said to have asked their captains that they be allowed to work under the old time. Many of them say that even with the old time it was necessary for them to arise as early as 4:30 o'clock in order to get their household chores done. Some miners assert that they should have been consulted before the change was made.

One young man, employed at the Athens mine, who is well known for his serious nature, was greatly disturbed by the change of time, which would only affect him one week in three, on account of his working on an eight-hour basis. He has boarded in the same house for the past five years and has been a model boarder, but yesterday morning his "boardin' missus" informed him that he would have to look up a new place to board, because she was not going to get up an hour earlier in the morning for only one man.

The schools of the city adopted the new time, and yesterday Mayor Robbins instructed Marshal Wasmuth to inform the saloon men that they would have to observe it.

WILLMAN MAKING GOOD.

Walter "Cookie" Willman, son of Al F. Willman, of this city, who is a student at the Michigan Agricultural College at East Lansing, is making good on the varsity baseball team and is holding down a regular position as center fielder with the nine. In a game played Saturday with the Marshall College five, of Virginia, Willman distinguished himself by scoring the first run. He was the second batter up in the first inning and cracked a liner that went for three bases and barely fell short of being a home run. He scored later on a hit. His was the first run of a ten-inning game which the Aggies won 2 to 1. Fridomig, of Calumet, who plays first base on the team, was the only other Aggie to score, having crossed the pan in the tenth frame after he secured a base on balls.

Fridomig came home on a wild throw and during the contest connected safely two times. Ray Aas, of Ishpening, caught for the M. A. C. and although he did not secure a hit made ten putouts, his pitcher having struck out seven batters.

MUST HAVE LICENSE TAGS.

Commencing today, Marshal John A. Wasmuth will arrest all automobile drivers who run their cars without license tags attached. Persons who have applied for their license will be released, if arrested, upon furnishing proof that they have made application. "There has been altogether too much speeding on the streets during the past few weeks and I propose to have the policemen arrest anyone who goes faster than the law allows," said Mr. Wasmuth yesterday.

KOOB LOST TWO WEEKS.

Aged Negaunee Man Died Half Mile from His Camp.

It was learned yesterday that Frank Koob, Sr., whose body was found Sunday near his camp in the vicinity of Diorite had been lost for the past two weeks and it is probable that he died from exposure, when he was unable to find his way to camp.

Koob, who was seventy-one years of age, and had been a resident of Negaunee for fifty years, purchased a camp near Diorite several months ago and had spent a large part of his time there during the past few months. It is supposed that he left his camp during a snow storm and losing his way was unable to get back to camp.

A searching party had been looking for him for the past few days as it was known that he had not been at his camp and that he was not in Negaunee. Sunday a party of twenty Diorite men spent the greater part of the day in the woods searching for him and Ted Francis and Richard Malcome found his body, covered in snow, about a half mile from his camp on a trail.

Coroner William Prin was called and he with Deputy Sheriff William Harrington, of Diorite, went to the place and removed the body from the woods. It was necessary to carry the body two and a half miles through the woods and a half mile on a hand car as far as Diorite. The remains were brought to Negaunee by automobile.

The deceased is survived by a daughter and five sons, Elsie, of Negaunee; Adolph, Robert and John, of Seattle, Wash., and Henry, of Grand Junction, Colo.

The body was taken to the Maccabees' temple yesterday. The funeral services will be held from St. Paul's church at 8:30 this morning.

Would Like Their Money Back.

It is reported at Crystal Falls that some of the liquor dealers whose applications were accepted are getting cold feet and want to back out of their bargain, provided they can get their money back. The reason for this change of heart is the report that the government may prohibit the manufacture and sale of liquor in this country as a war measure. The bonds of all the prospective dealers have not been returned as yet, but most of them are back. The next act is to have the bonds approved by the council and to pay the $500 necessary to get a red card. Some want to back out now if they can get the $750 back from the council. Interviews with members of the council give the impression that the council will not act in the matter.

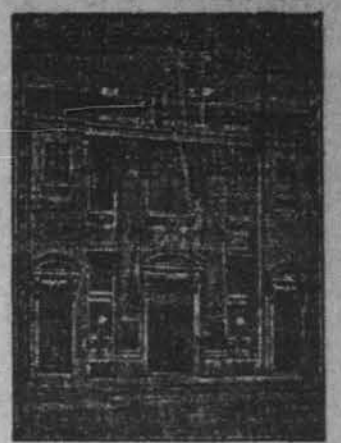

Two Were Found Dead.

Two men were found dead at the Puritan location between Ironwood and Bessemer, one of them having evidently committed suicide, while the other died from natural causes. William Hays, policeman at the Puritan, discovered the body of a man hanging to a tree in the woods between the Puritan and Ironwood locations. The body had been hanging for some time. Investigation developed the fact that the man was Henry Rinto, a resident of the Puritan location, who had been missing for about six weeks. He had a married daughter at Wakefield and his relatives at the Puritan had thought that he was visiting her, and so had made no report of his disappearance. Rinto was a Finlander, fifty years of age, and is survived by a wife and six grown-up children. Isaac Kanistino, a single man fifty-four years of age, was found dead in his bed at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Aldrick Mikkola, near the Puritan location. A coroner's jury returned a verdict that he died of natural causes, unknown.

Twenty-five Recruits at Alpha.

Within the past ten days two mass meetings have been held at Alpha, Iron county, and as a result twenty-five Alpha men have enlisted. Five went from one boarding house, in several instances two or three from a family. The Commercial club tendered the recruits a banquet and a demonstration such as has never before occurred in Alpha took place when they took their departure. The following have enlisted: Dan Duffey, Jim Duffey, Bill Peterson, Yens Peterson, John Pultz, Henry Pultz, Oscar Dahlgren, William Archand, George Williams, Walter Murphy, Edward Stoffel, Harry Spokes, Reg. Bengry, Harold Gill, Bill Day, Alfred Anderson, Clarence Noels, Jay Griffith, Bill Cambry, Fred Gardner, Henry Beach, Henry Lee, Andrew Uren, L. Geodon.

Mrs. Andrews Is Honored.

Upper peninsula club women honored Mrs. C. E. Andrews, of Escanaba, by electing her president of the newly formed Upper Peninsula District Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Andrews was the efficient president of the Escanaba Woman's club for two years, during which time the club became one of the important ones in the state. Mrs. Andrews is well qualified to undertake the work of making a success of the new district federation and she will have the hearty support of the large number of club women in the upper peninsula. Mrs. Florence I. Bulson, president of the state federation, spoke on the organization of a district federation.

Labor Shortage at the Soo.

The coming of spring and warm weather, and with it the resumption of work on many large contracts in and about the Soo, finds more jobs than there are men to fill. At present there are jobs open for at least fifty skilled and 100 unskilled laborers, according to R. E. Barnes, federal employment agent, in companies which have asked the government to get them men as soon as possible. These jobs are being filled very slowly and there promises to be a shortage of labor again this summer. The Oscar Daniels company, which resumed operations on the fourth lock construction last week, alone wants fifty skilled men, such as mechanists, carpenters, engineers (locomotive and hoist), brakemen, and 100 unskilled laborers. Other industries in the Soo are also in the field for labor. Stone quarries near the Soo are paying handsome wages for unskilled workmen, but they are not meeting with much success. "When a condition like this is reached the unskilled laborers become exceedingly independent," said Mr. Barnes. "They work until they accumulate a little money and then stop until it is spent. Laborers are always better workers when wages are not so high, and when there are not so many available jobs."
