END DEBATE ON EMERGENCY WAR FINANCE BILL

House Sets Record for Quick Action and Will Pass $3,000,000,000 Military Measure Today.

LITTLE OPPOSITION TO IT

Washington, May 1.—The house set a record today for quick action on major appropriations, completing debate at a single brief session, on an omnibus emergency war bill, carrying nearly $3,000,000,000. It will be passed tomorrow, probably with only a few votes against it. No opposition was voiced during the discussion today, and the only important change was in the adoption of an amendment doubling the pay of enlisted men in the army.

ADDITION TO ARMY BILL

The military appropriation is in addition to the regular annual army and fortification bills and the $3,000,000,000 proposed as an initial appropriation for the new war army. It includes $600,000,000 for coast and insular fortifications, and $4,320,000 for fortifying the Panama canal.

TAKE UP WAR REVENUE BILL

The house ways and means committee today began ripping apart amendments to the war revenue bill, submitted by its sub-committee. Two brief sessions of the full committee resulted in over-turning, by a vote of 15 to 7, the sub-committee proposal to reduce the amount to be raised from $1,800,000,000, as suggested by Secretary McAdoo, to approximately $1,400,000,000, and in a general upward revision of the income tax increases written into the bill.

BOTH SIDES VOICE COMPLAINTS

Reading by Chairman Kitchin, of the sub-committee's report, today, was the signal for a storm of complaints. Republicans demanded to know whether their members had agreed to the proposed bill, and when they were assured that such was the case, they gave unmistakable signs of dissatisfaction. Democrats and Republicans alike complained of not being consulted by the sub-committee. In an effort to restore peace, a recess was taken and Mr. Kitchin conferred with several leaders on both sides. Prospects being brighter another meeting was held.

I. W. W. PARADE AT HIBBING WITH STARS AND STRIPES FLYING

Hibbing, Minn., May 1.—Over 500 Industrial Workers of the World, said to be from all the range locals, including many women, carrying the American flag at their head, paraded the streets here today to the picnic grounds south of the city, where a celebration was held in honor of May day. The procession was without incident and was orderly. Police marched with the marchers. An American flag for the first time, waves from the I. W. W. hall today.

HASTY ACTION EXPECTED ON FOOD MEASURE

Senate and House Committees Take Steps to Bring About Early Votes

Washington, May 1.—To make available quickly an appropriation for a food survey, the department of agriculture today obtained approval of the senate and house agricultural committees to have the administration food control legislation re-introduced in congress in separate bills. One measure, expected to pass without delay, will carry a $25,000,000 appropriation for the survey and will provide for enlarging the department's staff to permit supervision of seeding operations; another will include provisions for licensing and controlling storage and distributing concerns. The latter probably will meet with considerable opposition.

Both the house and senate committee continued hearings during the day. Secretary Houston before the house committee, urged prompt action on the legislation proposed and outlined the government's price fixing measures to be written later.

FARMERS WANT MINIMUM PRICES.

The senate committee heard Governor Frazier, of North Dakota, who declared he believed farmers of his state would not oppose minimum prices fixing. Prices have been set by governments, he said, and farmers, he thought, would not object to the government fixing if prices are made fair and equitable.

The federal trade commission again today heard representatives of state food boards on food conditions throughout the country. Most of the delegates blamed high prices on middlemen. Some said a labor shortage had much to do with short crops and suggestions were made that Orientals be imported for farm labor. The food problem will be taken up tomorrow at a conference with representatives of state defense councils with the national defense council.

CHICAGO HARD HIT BY BAKERS' STRIKE

Residents of Windy City Obligated to Live on What Amounts Almost to War Rations.

Chicago, May 1.—Negotiations between Chicago's striking bakers and the bread manufacturers had reached a dead-lock tonight and housewives were forced to what amounted to war rations of bread and flour. It was disclosed that grocers were selling about two loaves of bread to each household and flour only for immediate needs.

100 BAKERIES AFFECTED.

Almost 100 bakeries, among them the largest in the city, are closed and the bread supply is about 1,500,000 loaves short. Some hope of a settlement was expressed as a result of the expected arrival here of Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, to inquire into the failure of the strikers to observe the promise to refrain from strikes during the war. Meanwhile Charles F. Cline, United States district attorney, and Robert W. Childs, special United States district attorney, turned their entire attention to the strike in an effort to determine if war measures are being violated.

HEALTH AUTHORITIES WILL CO-OPERATE IN VARIOUS WAR STEPS

Washington, May 1.—Representatives of the health departments of nearly all states in the Union met here today with officials of the public health service to perfect a program of co-operation with the federal health authorities during the war. Methods of general sanitation were discussed and a program was outlined involving the creation of a health officer's reserve corps, from which the government could obtain aid. Municipal and state authorities have agreed to co-operate with the federal authorities in taking proper measures of sanitation, at and near the various training and mobilization camps.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT TO REQUISITION ALL OF COUNTRY'S GRAIN CROP

Amsterdam, via London, May 1, 9:12 p. m.—The whole of Germany's coming grain harvest will be requisitioned by the government, according to George Heim, Bavarian leader of the Centre party in the reichstag. In a speech at Neustadt, Dr. Heim warned the farmers to be prepared for new and heavier restrictions.

U. S. OFFERS TO SUPPLY ARMY FOR WAR USES

Indications Are Administration Will Over-Ride General Staff's Veto If the Allies Need Troops Badly.

CAN BE SENT AT ONCE

Washington, May 1.—The United States stands ready to send an army to Europe whenever the allies deem it wise to divert the necessary shipping from transporting food to transporting men. It became known definitely today that the government has offered the allies troops, but has suggested that the alarming shortage of world shipping may make it impractical to send them at once. In spite of objections of the general staff to putting any American forces on the firing line before the great war army has been raised and trained, the administration has determined that the small contingent earnestly desired by France for moral effect shall be sent as soon as possible.

WILL GO FORWARD SOON.

The general belief here is that the way soon will be found.

Whether the force first to carry the stars and stripes into battle in France shall be made up of regulars or national guardsmen, or both, has not been worked out. The subject was not discussed at today's cabinet meeting, but Secretary Baker remained afterward for a conference with President Wilson.

State department officials have continuously urged the sending of an army solely for its psychological effect, if not only in encouraging the allied troops, but in discouraging the Germans. Convinced that the diplomatic advantages far outweighed the technical and training difficulties advanced by the general staff, they have felt that such a step would consecrate the United States as a full member of the alliance entitled to a most honorable seat at the peace conference.

OPPONENTS BEING WON OVER.

Some of those who have vigorously opposed an early expeditionary force, as interfering with the training of a larger army, have modified their views as a result of the arguments advanced by the military experts with the French commission here that training can be much better carried out in France without the sound of the guns. Nevertheless the opposition of the staff has not wavered.

Little doubt exists that the French will gladly put up with any sacrifice in shipping necessary to have American troops in France, as the great plea of their mission has been for troops, with the American flag. They have pointed out that this is needed to convince the Germans beyond doubt that all America's resources have been thrown into the battle.

EIGHTEEN SURVIVORS OF TANKER VACUUM ARRIVE AT LIVERPOOL

Liverpool, Eng., May 1.—The eighteen survivors of the steamer Vacuum, who arrived here this afternoon, included three American naval gunners, George Wilson, New York; Frank Leshner, Elgin, Ill.; and John Nichols, Passaic, N. J. They declared that Captain Harris, commander of the steamer; Lieutenant Thomas, in charge of the gunners; the chief engineer and several of the gunners perished.

FRANCE AND ITALY TO GET $100,000,000 EACH, M'ADOO SAYS

Washington, May 1.—The amount of the first loans to France and Italy, Secretary McAdoo announced tonight, will be $100,000,000 each. They will be made immediately to meet the requirements of those countries in May. The first installment, about $25,000,000, of the Italian loan, probably will be made tomorrow. A loan to Russia also will be made, Mr. McAdoo stated, and the loan to Belgium is under consideration.

LACKAWANA (MICH.) BOY ON CASUALTY LIST

Ottawa, May 1.—In today's Canadian casualty list is the name of E. W. Cameron, Lackawana, Mich., killed in action.

U. S. NAVAL AVIATOR KILLED AT PENSACOLA

Pensacola, Fla., May 1.—Ensign D. R. Van Kirk, U. S. N., fell 1,000 feet in an airplane into Pensacola Bay late today and was drowned in the wreckage of the machine.

SENATE PASSES ARMY BILL FOR SECOND TIME

Little Opposition Voiced in Re-Passage of Measure-- Goes to Conference

Washington, May 1.—Conferees on the war army bill, passed for a second time by the senate today, probably will not begin for several days. Conferees of the senate and house will meet tomorrow but they also have the task of smoothing away differences over the annual army appropriation bill, and they will take up that task first.

There are not many points of disagreement in the appropriation bill, and leaders hope to see both measures completed in time to have President Wilson attach his signature during the present week. The senate passed the war army bill again today to clear up parliamentary tangles, without any prolonged discussion and without any serious effort to revive the struggle over the volunteer system, as opposed to the selective draft feature, which consumed most of the time in last week's debate. Senator La Follette spoke in support of a substitute, with a referendum on raising an army by draft to send to Europe, but it was defeated, 68 to 4.

MANY POINTS OF DIFFERENCE.

Principal points of difference between the houses include the so-called Roosevelt volunteer amendment in the senate bill; the difference in the ages subject to selective draft, the senate bill specifying those between twenty-one and twenty-seven and the house twenty-one and forty; and the senate bill's army prohibition section.

A compromise is expected on the age limits, possibly fixing the minimum at twenty-one and the maximum at thirty-five. The house representatives probably never will accept the Roosevelt amendment, which would permit the former president to raise four infantry divisions for duty on foreign soil.

KEEP COAL MINERS FROM TRENCHES; PLEA

Anthracite Operators Tell Federal Trade Commission War Prices Depend on Labor and Cars

Washington, May 1.—Anthracite operators told the federal trade commission today that the price of their product during the war will depend largely on whether coal miners are exempted from military service and on the supply of cars. They urged that the government notify miners that they will serve their country as effectively by sticking to their picks as by going into the trenches.

TELL REASONS FOR HIGH PRICES.

The operators appeared at the commission's investigation of the high cost of anthracite. They declared that the price of coal had advanced more rapidly than wages at the mines because of increased taxation and the cost materials, as well as from shortage of laborers and cars. Stress was laid on the scarcity of labor due to the high wages paid by the munitions plants.

STEAMERS FIND ICE AT WHITEFISH POINT TOO GREAT A BARRIER

Sault Ste. Marie, May 1.—The tug Sabin, which, accompanied by the Illinois, went with the whalebacks Neilson and Rockefeller to investigate conditions at Whitefish Point, and assist in breaking up the ice fields, returned today with the Rockefeller in tow. The Rockefeller stripped her wheel in the ice between Parisian Island and Whitefish Point. The captain of the Neilson says the ice is tremendous. The boats are making slow progress. Only a few got through and the remainder of the big fleet, which left here yesterday and the day before, are fast in the ice between Whitefish Point and Parisian Island.

TWO BRITISH SHIPS SENT TO BOTTOM BY SUBMARINES LAST WEEK

Baltimore, May 1.—The British steamers Swannore and Dromore, of the Johnstone line, plying between Baltimore and Liverpool, were torpedoed and sunk last week, according to cables received here today by the local agents. All on board the Dromore were saved, but one lifeboat containing eleven of the crew of the Swannore is still unaccounted for. Captain E. W. Barry commanded the Swannore. He is an Englishman, and there were a number of Americans on board.

VIVIANI AND JOFFRE SPEAK TO LAWMAKERS

Hero of the Marne and French Vice Premier Given Rousing Reception When They Talk in the Senate.

SCENE A STIRRING ONE

Washington, May 1.—France's war mission—headed by Rene Viviani, Marshal Joffre and Admiral Chocheprat—spent more than a half hour on the floor of the senate today and stirred that body and galleries, crowded to capacity, first to vigorous applause and then to roars of cheers.

After the senators and members of the house had grasped the hands of the distinguished visitors and M. Viviani, vice premier and leader of the mission, had delivered an address that thrilled his hearers the greatest outburst of enthusiasm came. It was a tribute to the hero of the Marne, who, in response to rousing cries of "Joffre! Joffre! Joffre!" from every corner of the chamber, responded with eight words of French and English, which all understood:

JOFFRE SPEAKS EIGHT WORDS.

"I do not speak English. Viva La Amerique!" M. Viviani said in part: "Since I have been granted the supreme honor of speaking before the representatives of the American people, may I ask them first to allow me to thank this magnificent capital for the welcome it has accorded us. Accustomed as we are in our free land to popular manifestations, and though we have been warned by your fellow countrymen who live in Paris of the enthusiasm burning in your hearts, we are still full of the emotion raised by the sights that awaited us."

"I shall never cease to see the proud and stalwart men who saluted our passage, your women, whose grace adds freshness to your city, their arms outstretched full of flowers, and your children hurrying to meet us as if our coming were looked upon as a lesson for them. All with one accord acclaiming in our perishable persons immortal France. And yet I predict there will be yet grander manifestation the day when your illustrious president, relieved from the burden of power, will come among us bearing the salute of the republic of the United States to a free Europe, whose foundations from end to end shall be based on right."

MANY CONFERENCES HELD.

Various conferences between the military, naval and economic sections of the French mission and representatives of the United States continued today. Also there was an important conference at the official residence of the mission between its leading members and Ambassador Jusserand. While no announcement was made regarding any of the discussions, officials attached to the mission made it plain that they were highly satisfied with the work accomplished and the outlook for the future. Tomorrow M. Viviani and Marshal Joffre and probably Admiral Chocheprat will lunch informally at the White House and talk over war problems with the president personally.

FRENCH DRIVE FRESH WEDGE IN GERMAN LINE

Gain From 500 to 1,000 Yards on Front of About Six Miles At Rheims

(By a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press.)

Grand Headquarters of the French army, on the French front, April 30 (evening) via London, May 1. (Delayed) The Germans were forced to engage in battle today along a front extending between six and seven miles east of Rheims. The French attack was delivered from a short distance south of Beine to Moronvilliers. Notwithstanding the difficulties of the task confronting them the French, at the end of the day, had won a tactical victory and captured considerable territory, although most obstinate fighting continued on ground strongly fortified and offering every advantage to the defenders.

GERMAN LINE THREATENED.

So serious was the French advance that at one time the Germans were compelled to throw into the line another of the few remaining divisions of their strategic reserves.

The correspondent of the Associated Press passed Sunday night on the battlefield, observing the artillery preparation for the attack, which presented one of the weirdest sights. Even the brightly starlit sky did not permit one to observe the outlines of the objects aimed at, but throughout the night dozens of French batteries, cleverly concealed, poured out an incessant stream of shells against the German positions and gun stations. The flashes of fire, when they left the muzzles, looked like sparks caused by striking flint on steel, while the air vibrated with the terrific cracks and shrieks. Overhead could be heard, at a low altitude, the whirring motors of German airplanes trying vainly to locate the French batteries.

Numbers of trailing bullets, bearing long tails of light, were sent up in order to outline the flyers, but the artillery did not fire at them and the German airmen, evidently disappointed over their unsuccessful search for batteries, went off to bombard the open towns of Chalons and Epervay.

ENCOUNTER BITTER RESISTANCE.

When the French infantry attack began at 12:40 o'clock today the French line passed from just north of the Roman road near Prunay, through the Bois de la Grille and along the crests of Carnillet and Mont Haut to Moronvilliers. In the west and the center the French advanced rapidly, but on the wooded mountain slopes the fighting was harder and the Germans counter-attacked frequently with fresh troops, at one point regaining a section they had lost, only to be driven out of it again later on.

The French staff, at the close of the day, recorded a general gain amounting to something more than 500 to a thousand yards, and this in ground interlaced with powerfully organized trenches bristling with machine guns and strengthened here and there with block houses and redoubts.

Possession of this range of crests by the French menaces the German positions at Nogent L'Abbesse and Bercy, from which the bombardment of the Rheims cathedral has been carried out. A secret order, found on the field of battle, addressed to the commander of the Thirty-third German Reserve Brigade, warns German officers that the first line must be defended at all costs and, if lost, the fighting must continue until it is re-won.

UNITED STATES AND ALLIES PREPARING A SHIPPING AGREEMENT

Washington, May 1.—The foundation for an international shipping agreement among the nations fighting Germany was laid today at the first formal conference of the British war commission with American government officials.

Within a few days the allies will put before this government a definite program of their needs in the way of supplies and a plan for apportioning American ships and cargoes. Establishment of a permanent commission in Washington is contemplated by the allies to handle, in co-operation with the United States, shipping and export problems.

TERRIFIC AERIAL BOMBARDMENT ON ZEEBRUGGE REPORTED

London, May 2, 3:25 a. m.—The Times' Amsterdam correspondent says there was a series of air attacks on Zeebrugge about midnight of April 30. There also was a terrific cannonade, the flashes of which could be clearly seen at Flushing.

OPPONENTS OF GOVERNMENT IN WILD OUTBURST

Major General Kashtalinski Meets Death at Hands of Radicals— Bombs Thrown and Soldiers Fire on Mob.

REPORT QUIET IN BERLIN

PETROGRAD, via London, May 1, 9:18 p. m.—There were street disorders and riots here yesterday, during which bombs were thrown. Major General Kashtalinski was killed. The executive committee of the workmen's and soldiers' delegates today placarded the city with the following proclamation: "Yesterday many regrettable incidents occurred in the capital, notably an unknown young man killed General Kashtalinski. Shots were fired on a group of political demonstrators and bombs were thrown. "Only madmen or enemies of national liberty are capable of such revolting acts, which might compromise the Russian revolution. The executive committee condemns them severely and appeals to all citizens to prevent a repetition of such acts as would provoke anarchy and a disorganization of the forces of the revolution."

AMSTERDAM, via London, May 1, 9:15 p. m.—The Weser Zeitung, of Bremen, reports that Berlin is filled with rumors of a crisis in high government quarters. The newspaper says that demands are being made that a strong man be placed at the helm of the state.

BERLIN, May 1, via London, 8:39 p. m.—Efforts of the radical Socialists to celebrate May Day by a holiday in the munitions factories failed. No cessation of work is reported. No parades were held, and no disturbances occurred.

(Associated Press War Summary.)

The possibility of peace terms being advanced by Germany; the internal political situation in that country, arising from dissatisfaction of the workmen over present conditions and a recrudescence of rioting in Petrograd, in which bombs were thrown and the disturbers were fired on, are features in the news of the world war, which, for the moment, take precedence over the military operations on the fighting fronts.

Thursday may prove an eventful day for Germany and the entire world. Announcement is made by a prominent Berlin newspaper that the German imperial chancellor, on that day, will make another offer for peace, in an address to the reichstag. May-day passed in Germany with little news to show the exact situation with regard to the unrest of the workmen as a result of which, it had been predicted that great strikes might result. A brief Berlin dispatch said the efforts of the radical Socialists, to bring about a cessation of work in munition factories, had failed and that no disturbances had occurred in Berlin. Unofficial advice, however, were to the effect that strikes had been declared by munition workers in the Rhine provinces and that Essen, the home of the great Krupp works, had been isolated from the world so far as news was concerned, to prevent information regarding strikes in the Krupp works from leaking out. Germany's intensified submarine campaign apparently is causing considerable uneasiness in England. King George, it is announced, shortly will issue a proclamation asking the people to cut down their consumption of foodstuffs by 25 per cent, owing to the gravity of the situation.

REPORT QUIET IN GERMANY.

Two more steamers have been sent to the bottom by the undersea boats—the British steamer Ballarat, with troops bound from Australia for England, and the steamer Gorizia, flying the Urugustan flag. All the troops on board the Ballarat and the crew of the Gorizia were saved. What steps Uruguay, a neutral state, will take with regard to the sinking of one of her steamers is problematical. Except for violent artillery fighting between the French and the Germans along the Chemin-des-dames and in Champagne and the repulse of strong German counter-attacks, against positions the French captured from them Monday near Mont Haut, the situation along both the British and French front in France remains unchanged.

THE TAXING PROGRAM.

Developments at Washington have done much to dispel the apprehension caused by early alarmist reports as to the financial plans of the government with reference to taxation.

Wherever such a disposition existed among responsible men in the government, it has, apparently, undergone a marked modification, with the gradual realization that the government can't both kill the industrial goose and have it.

The government obviously could not buy at minimum prices for itself and the allies, as has been suggested, and then tax the remaining earnings of the basic industries to death, without materially involving the financial and industrial structure of the country.

Business hasn't been afraid of fair and equitable taxation, even if it is heavy. But it has been made somewhat apprehensive by the recurring reports of projects of taxation that could be regarded as neither fair nor equitable.

THE HOME RULE PROBLEM.

The appeal of the 200 members of congress urging on the British government early settlement of the Irish question would greatly impress that government if it were not that it is already about as impressed as it can well be with the importance to the empire of disposal of this vexing problem.

From the American viewpoint, where prejudice doesn't obscure judgment, what seems to be necessary to the finding of the formula is more of a spirit of conciliation in the Ulster counties. It has been the Ulstermen who have played the strong hand throughout the differences over home rule.

Knowledge of the methods that attended the fight to nullify the verdict of parliament on home rule explains not only whatever of disaffection there has been in Ireland, but causes wonder that from the Nationalists has come the consistently loyal support that has been given the government.

The problem is one already commanding the thorough attention of the British government, in the hope that an early adjustment will be reached. If its efforts to that end need any spurting, the memorial of the 200 members of the house will surely help to supply it.

Speaker Clark's confident prediction that the house would never vote for the selective draft was only a matter of 200 votes out of the way.

NO SUB MENACE HERE.

The statement of Rear Admiral Sir Dudley R. S. DeChair ancient the submarine menace bears out the belief that has been generally entertained in this country. We have little to fear from submarines on this side of the Atlantic.

Germany has demonstrated that she can send submarines to our shores, not only by the two trips of the Deutschland but by the raid upon commerce made some time ago by a U-boat. It is entirely feasible to send submarines over, but not practical to attempt a submarine warfare over here.

In fact there has been a report of one, which fired a torpedo at an American warship. That single isolated instance is somewhat curious, however. If a German submarine was actually over here why has nothing more been heard of it? Has it suffered an accident, or did it return to Germany after this single, unsuccessful effort? Or is it possible that there was some mistake about the report? Whether there was or not, it is entirely possible for German submarines to visit us, but, as Admiral Bridges points out, it is not practical for Germany to conduct an actual submarine campaign in our waters.

CONSTANTINE.

Formal statements denying that King Constantine had been responsive to the influence of German agents, or that he had been unfriendly to the entente, issued at the Greek legation at Washington, may reflect a report, current of late, that the entente is contemplating recognition of the revolutionary government of Venizelos as the legitimate Greek government, in connection with which it has been stated that the state department of the United States is also making inquiry into the acts of the king, with the purpose of determining whether he should not be regarded as an enemy.

The situation in Greece has been the subject of intermittent comment in the British press, comment in which has engaged the attention of three administrations as has no other question. If a solution has not been found, it is not for the want of trying, but because of the singularly irreducible differences between South Ireland and Ulster.

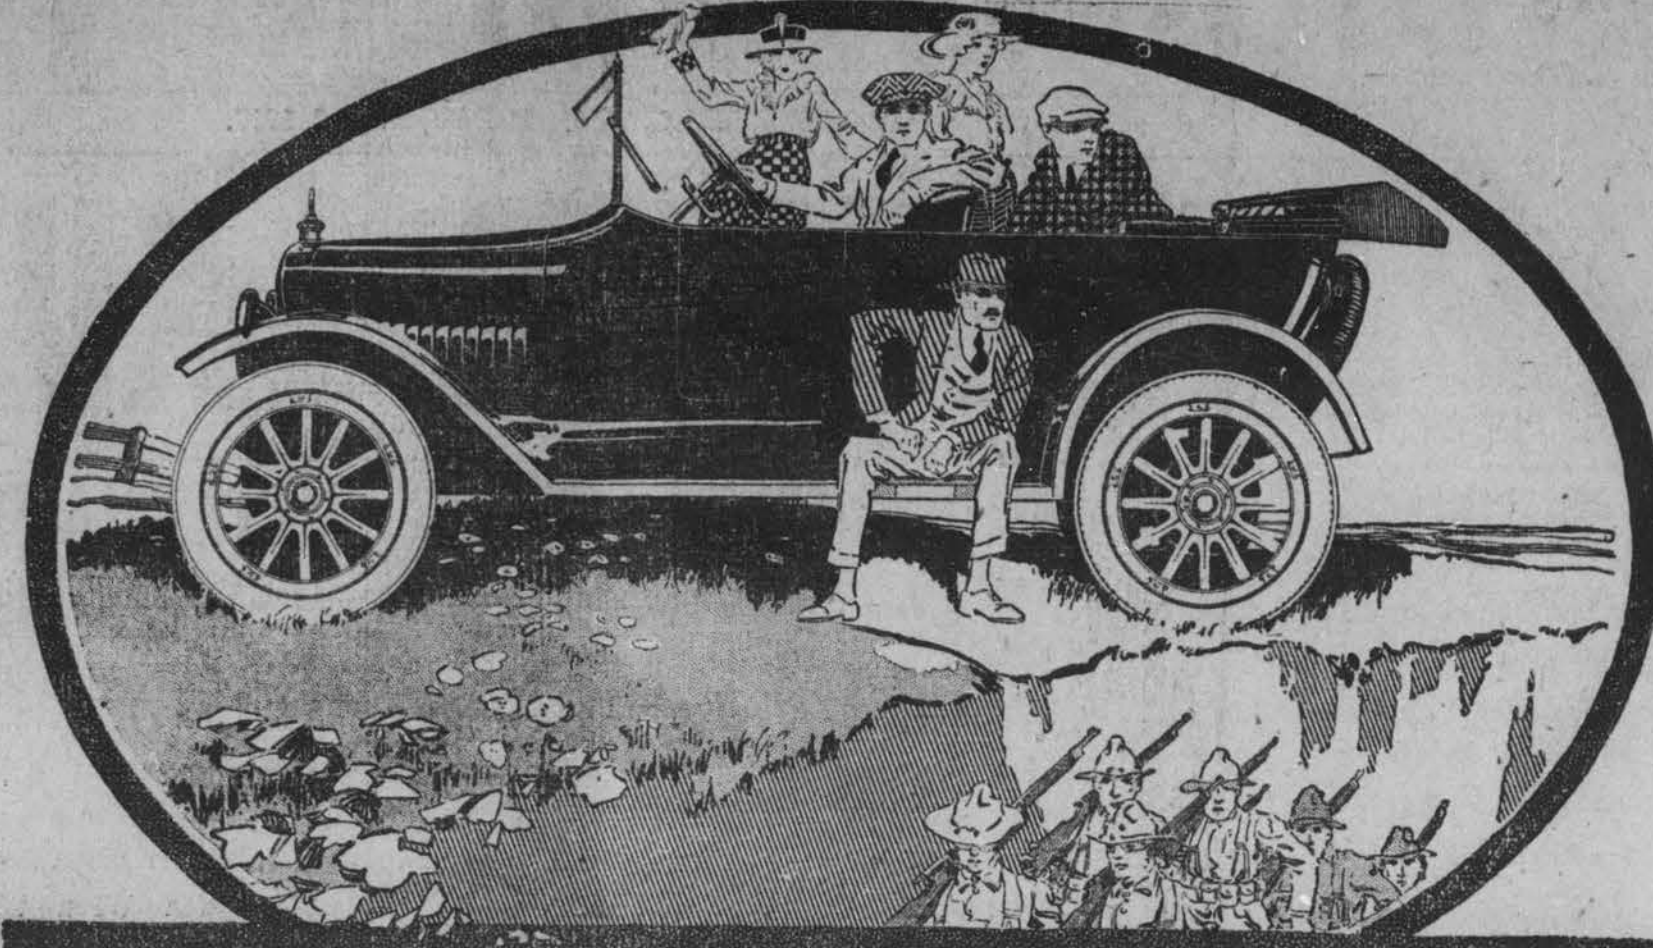

The accepted entente view is the one seems to be necessary to the finding of the formula is more of a spirit of conciliation in the Ulster counties. It has been the Ulstermen who have played the strong hand throughout the differences over home rule.

The debatable, and debated, question is whether he entered on this course as a Greek patriot, who foresaw, otherwise, the destruction of his country, as Serbia was destroyed, or actuated by a desire to serve the German cause.

Whatever the case, it appears that the status of Constantine is being re-examined with the greatest care, with a possibility that presently there will come from Greece some startling news.

The contrepertes at Chicago, in which Big Bill Thompson, the mayor, appears to have discouraged hospitality to the French commissioners, again points out Big Bill as good deal of an ass, but it is doubtful whether Washington will see in his attitude evidence of disloyalty sufficiently pronounced to call for official attention.

Marquette's position with regard to the "more daylight" movement will, doubtless be determined at the hearing for the public set by the commission for next Monday night. If the expressions there are generally favorable to following the example of Negaunee and Ishpeming in setting the hands of the clocks ahead an hour, the commission will doubtless give its official sanction to the step.

Almost Every American Family Can Own a Maxwell Car

Because it costs only $6 to $8 a month to run a Maxwell—much less than the average American family spends on luxuries

The average American family spends a great deal more than $6 or $8 a month on amusements and luxuries, most of which mean nothing—wouldn't even be missed.

If you owned a Maxwell you'd want to be out in it as much as possible

—which automatically would cut out more than enough of the cost of other pastimes to cover the cost of running your Maxwell

—and besides, you'd be living better, healthier, happier, in the great out o' doors, —and you'd take your place in the world as the owner of a motor car.

That's what the brains behind the Maxwell have done

—given the world a car every man can own.

An achievement! Isn't it?

The Proof of These Statements

There's no theory about these cost-of-operation figures. They're based on what thousands of Maxwell owners are actually doing—running their cars on an absolute outlay of only $6 to $8 a month.

These enthusiastic Maxwell owners tell us, too, that they get upwards of 30 miles out of a gallon of gasoline—many do better than that.

The Maxwell holds the world's record for a non-motor-stop run. A Maxwell stock car made 22,022 miles in 44 days and nights—went 22 miles on every gallon of gasoline used on that long jaunt.

We could tell of many other supreme tests of Maxwell power, endurance and economy, —magnificent deeds, never equalled by any other automobile, —but we'll cite just one more:

A woman drove this Maxwell 9,700 miles. Mrs. Miriam Seelye, Professor at the Oregon Agricultural College, made a 9,700-mile tour across the Continent and back in a Maxwell.

Her total expense account was 1 1/2 cents a mile, including gasoline, oil and repairs.

And, remember, her journey was made on all sorts o' roads —good and bad—across the desert and over the mountains. That's the Maxwell! Isn't that the car for the man who knows the worth of a dollar?

The World's Greatest Motor Car Value

The Maxwell touring car, equipped with all accessories, costs you today only $665 f. o. b. Detroit. Yet every bit of metal in it is the finest obtainable for the purpose used, and is rigidly subjected to the most advanced scientific tests.

Material cost has risen tremendously. How, then, can the best be used in a car priced so low?

The answer is— —the purchasing power of an institution as vast as the Maxwell Motor Company, —the most efficient machinery, —the brainiest and most skillful mechanics, vigilant and scrupulous technical and executive supervision, —and the development of one model, of time-tried and proved design, to as near perfection as brains and skill can make it.

The Maxwell engine is a marvel of power and punch—simple, steady, durable and flexible. Maxwell parts are all of known efficiency—not an experimental item in the whole car.

Maxwell—a Car to be Proud of

With refinement of finish, with grace and dignity of form and line—your Maxwell will show up splendidly alongside any car.

It is roomy and comfortable, too.

Let the Car Speak for Itself

Come to our sales rooms and look the Maxwell over, —inspect the car thoroughly, inside and out, —ask us as many questions as you care to, —you needn't take anything on faith, for every statement made here can be verified. The Maxwell will make good, and we know it.

disloyalty to the country of his adoption.

The Chinese people know Germany better than the Frankfurter Zeitung thinks. They know that when the Kaiser sent a military expedition to China to punish the Chinese for murderous outbreaks against Germans, the Kaiser instructed the soldiers to be so severe that never again would a Chinese dare look askance at a German. They had a taste of German frightfulness after their Boxer uprising. They also know that they are opposed to Germany's regaining Kaiou Chou, which was taken from China as a penalty for brutal treatment of German missionaries and which was, shortly after the beginning of the present war, captured by the Japanese.

By joining with the United States and the entente powers, China has good reason to believe that not only will the Boxer indemnity be reduced and China be permitted to increase her tariff and thus improve her fiscal position, but also that China will stand a better chance of having Kaiou Chou restored at the end of the war.

Reassurance for Mexico.

The statement issued by Ambassador Fletcher in Mexico City, which allay any misgivings to which the entrance of the United States into the war may have given rise among the Mexicans. It was at least courteous and reassuring in its reaffirmation of the sincere friendship of the United States toward Mexico. To the many manifestations in the past of the good will that this nation bears to its neighbor there should be little need of adding fresh proofs.

That the American press has at times assumed a suspicious and in part unfriendly tone toward Mexico has been due to the feeling of uncertainty created by the conduct of the Mexican government itself. A more tactful and complimentary attitude on the part of General Carranza would have removed all doubts. By affording reasons for questioning his motives, he gave Americans some cause to display impatience. The secret manœuvres of Berlin diplomacy to enlist Mexico in a war against the United States, culminating in the Zimmermann instructions, should have drawn from General Carranza a prompt and emphatic disavowal, but there has been only silence.

The Mexican people will best contribute to the rehabilitation of their country by strict observance of neutrality. The United States asks nothing more watchful, however. In harboring plotters against the peace of the United States and Mexico they will sacrifice their own interests chiefly.—New York World.

The Chinese Know a Thing or Two.

"The Chinese people do not know us," said the Frankfurter Zeitung, discussing the decision of China to break off diplomatic relations with Germany. The idea that other countries do not understand Germany recurs frequently in the comments of the German press. That's the way the press tries to explain away many of Germany's difficulties.

The fault is laid at the door of other countries, though if the Germans were less egotistic about their "Kultur" they would admit sometimes that their troubles are due to the fact that they do not know other countries.

The German government fondly entertained the notion that the United States could be argued into submission to ruthless submarine warfare, with its murdering of American citizens. It foolishly thought that Americans of German birth or descent would block the assertion of American rights, while some of the pan-Germanist writers foolishly predicted that 30,000,000 Americans of German and Irish blood would set up an independent state if the United States dared to go to war against Germany.

This shows a bad case of national megalomania, which appraises every-thing German as superior to everything else in the world and which can not understand how any person of German birth would refuse to give aid to the fatherland, even if it involved traitorous World.

It will be the fact that Negaunee and Ishpeming have already made it effective. The relations between the business of the three cities is so intimate that if Negaunee and Ishpeming are on one time and Marquette is on another much confusion will result in the course of the summer months.

In Delta county prominent business men have followed up the general upper peninsula conference, held last Saturday at Escanaba, by organizing to further the movement for increased food production. A plan for an immediate survey of the county, by townships, to ascertain what assistance the farmers need. In securing seed, and what they will require in the way of extra labor, either in putting in their crops or harvesting them has been outlined, and will immediately be made effective. The men interested are practical businessmen, and it can be confidently expected that they will obtain substantial results. Their example may well be recommended to the attention of other upper peninsula counties that have not already taken such steps.

According to Senator Pielan, of California, German affection for Germany is a flower of recent growth, one that expanded in the months after the declaration of war and that now, in the light of German-American devotion to American interests, is doubtless withering rapidly. In Munich, in 1913, the senator interviewed Count Von Bernstorff, former ambassador to the United States, in an effort to secure German participation in the San Francisco exposition. One of his arguments was that German-Americans would be proud of it. "He immensely resented that," Senator Pielan is reported as saying. "Much to my surprise he substantially said: 'Do not talk to us about those people. We do not care what they think or want. They have deserted the fatherland. They have run away to avoid military duty. They have been false to the old traditions. They are outlaws.' That was the sentiment of official Germany then, as I believe it is today."

A company of the state troops is to arrive in Marquette today to guard the ore docks. Their presence will indicate the purpose of the government to make security more sure in protection of the various links of the water traffic in iron ore. To many the stationing of a company at the Marquette docks will seem a needless precaution, but the government is taking no chances, and, also, for the moment it has on its hands, various organizations of state troops that it does not desire to release from the service because it will need them so soon and yet which are now needed for no pressing military duty. Thus the generosity with which they are being apportioned to duty like that in Marquette and Escanaba, which could, under other circumstances, be cared for by local volunteer organizations, if not by the companies themselves.

Copper Country

URGENT COPPERDOM YOUTHS TO ENLIST

Officers from All Branches of Army and Navy Service Seeking Men for War Duty.

Military enthusiasm in the copper country is approaching its zenith, or at least the men officially or voluntarily connected with recruiting here so. The following enterprises are now in progress in connection with active service:

Effort to enlist fifty men for Company G, directed by Lieutenant Lamb.

Effort to enlist fifty men for the U. S. S. Yantic, directed by Lieutenant Henning, U. S. N.

Effort to recruit Calumet Engineers, directed by Lieutenant Wilmer.

Effort to form an additional copper country battalion of Engineers, directed by Colonel Petermann.

Effort to induce applications for officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan, directed by local committees.

There is no indication that there is any tremendous enthusiasm for enlistment in the copper country, but now that the opportunity is brought right to the men of the district the results may be more noticeable.

Harry E. Hill, of Painesdale, is the first recruit to offer himself to Lieutenant Lamb for Company G, in the campaign that opened yesterday morning. Mr. Hill is from the east and has been visiting at Painesdale.

Lieutenant Lamb opened his office yesterday morning and is confident that after the big mass meeting of Thursday night he will have no difficulty in getting recruits. He last night addressed the men drilling in the Houghton Home Guard at the Amphidrome.

Lieutenant Lamb Explains.

Lieutenant Lamb met a number of the business men of Houghton Monday afternoon in a committee meeting called by President MacDonald of the Portage Lake Security League. At this meeting he made the following statement:

"Apart from the patriotic motive that should actuate a man in enlisting at this time, when the United States is trying to build up its regular and national guard establishments, the present advantages are many.

"We may hear today that the conscription law has been signed by the president. He is waiting to sign it just the minute the two houses of congress agree on its terms. It is already passed to all intents and purposes. With that bill passed every young man in the United States will be subject to call to active service. Only those physically unfit or with dependents who actually need their support will be excused.

"The young man who enlists now will later have the satisfaction of knowing that he enlisted of his own volition. That is one of the advantages.

"Company G is now a military organization ranking in efficiency and military knowledge with the units of the regular army. The records show this. Its officers are experienced and know how to care for their men. Those joining the company now will have the advantage of getting their training under ideal conditions.

"Men called to service under conscription will be allotted to any organization that needs recruits. Those enlisting now will be sent to organizations identified with their homes, under officers they know, among friends who are experienced and can help them.

"The recruits that enlist for Company G now will have the distinct advantage of going into a military post, where they can get training without the inconveniences of camp life, with the distinct advantages of housing in barracks and proximity to a city.

"In a general way soldiering offers a man more in the way of assurance for the future than it ever did. The state insures every Michigan National Guardsman for $1,000, in the event of death; $500 in the event of disability. It provides $20 a month for mother or wife who are dependent and $7.50 a month for each dependent child.

"Probably the greatest advantage to accrue from enlisting now is in the fact that the army now being built up will be the nucleus of the army that is to be raised by subscription. Men showing aptitude for military life will have a good chance to become non-commissioned officers in the new organization, and even for higher promotion."

Security League's Support.

The Portage Lake Security League has named the following committee, under President MacDonald, to promote enlistment under Lieutenant Lamb: C. O. Berglund, John G. Stone, F. L. Batchelder, J. J. Michels, S. L. Lawton, J. H. Rice, R. H. Shields, Judge George C. Bentley, L. P. Cook, F. W. Denton, H. S. Goodell, H. L. Baer, Martin Kratt, Mayor C. T. Ferris and B. L. Simpson.

Call from the Navy.

"Enlist to beat the draft," is the advice of Lieutenant Henning, U. S. N., to the youth of the copper country. The officer has been in the district several days and has opened recruiting quarters aboard the training ship Yantic at Hancock. With the advent of conscription almost certain he points out many advantages of enlistment that is made without compulsion.

"The drafted man, especially aboard ship, is to some extent undesirable," said Lieutenant Henning yesterday. "On the battleship men are by necessity closely confined. They see much of each other, and this constant contact makes it possible for one man to spread a great deal of dissatisfaction. It is easily understood that we want the man who enlists because he wants to."

"It is an almost assured thing that there will be a rush of enlistments the moment the word is flashed that the conscription act has become a law. A great many persons who feel the injustice of the volunteer system will readily enlist when they know that service will be universal."

Lieutenant Henning is plainly disappointed that young men in Hancock and other copper country towns have not shown a stronger desire to enlist in the navy. He is not satisfied but some mothers may be partly responsible for this condition. The officer is making an appeal to the patriotism of the youth and parents that the former be urged to enlist before they are drafted into the service.

Lieutenant Henning is ready to receive fifty young men aboard ship right now. He has a large crew of experienced seamen aboard and through this medium the recruits would be in a position to absorb a wealth of information on ship duty that would prove of great value later. During several of the Great Lakes cruises the Yantic carried off the highest honors and while it is true several of the men responsible for this are now in the east in training, the officer is convinced there are others in the district who would become just as efficient with the proper training.

"We are eager to help young men fit for the service become experienced and efficient before actual war begins," commented the officer. "At the present time recruits have an opportunity of enlisting in what is known as Class 4, which means they may obtain their discharge at the close of the war if they so desire. On the other hand men drafted will be denied this privilege. I realize it means a sacrifice for some but others are doing it. A member of my crew today is a railroad conductor whose average wage is $200 per month, yet he is serving his country at a salary of $44 per month. Every cent must go toward the support of his wife and two children, and yet he is not grumbling."

"The officer has arranged to attend 'home guard' drills in the copper country. He went to Houghton last evening and will go to Calumet later in the week.

Make Us Responsible For Your Tires

You don't have to "shop" among tire dealers to get the exact tire you want,

—nor buy one make of tire for your rear wheels and another make for your front wheels;

—but you can get exactly the tires which will give you the lowest-cost-per-mile of service among the five different types of United States Tires.

And then you can hold one company—the United States Tire Company—responsible for the result, —which is much simpler than trying to fix the responsibility on two tire companies through two different dealers.

There are five to choose from,

—one for every need of price and use,

—and every one a tire of supreme service and low-mileage-cost.

Celebrate Opening of Last License Year By Paying Fines.

Six saloon keepers of Houghton county celebrated the opening of their last year in the business yesterday. They appeared before Judge O'Brien in the circuit court, pleaded guilty to being open on Sunday, paid a fine of $25 and costs of $10 each and went to the treasurer's office to pay over their $500 each and get their new licenses.

The men fined were Michael Richetta, Matt Laiti, William Matson, Frank Distel, C. Arend and John Torrence.

REDUCING A MISGIVING.

Only Low Pressure Water in Houghton is Slightly Contaminated.

Superintendent Gibson, of the Houghton public works department, yesterday made an announcement that should relieve the minds of a large part of the Houghton population. He says that the contamination discovered in Houghton water by Bacteriologist Chambers is confined to low pressure water only. This means that the bacillus infested water is to be found only in the business district and on College avenue.

The high pressure service extends throughout the rest of the village including all south of College avenue on the east, south of Albion street in the central portion and all of West Houghton. People living in these sections need feel no misgiving and may discontinue the boiling of water.

Department of State Secures Passports For Mrs. Fasana.

Correspondence carried on between Congressman James and the secretary of state reveals that Mrs. Maddalena Fasana, of Franklin, now in Italy, has been provided with passports making it possible for herself and son to come to the United States. They have been visiting in Italy for several months.

The passports were delivered by the ambassador at Rome on April 12 and it is expected Mrs. Fasana and son are now on the ocean headed for this country. Because of the time required to secure the documents relatives of the woman and her son were somewhat concerned.

TWO HOUGHTON OFFICERS.

Lieutenant Ray Lewis, member of this year's West Point class, arrived Monday to spend a month's furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Lewis, East Houghton. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis also have been advised that their son Lieutenant Harold Lewis, who was commissioned in the Ninth infantry Nov. 23, has been promoted to first lieutenant, dating from the date of his first commission.

IN A NUTSHELL.

Indiscriminate enlistment under the voluntary system takes away the skilled mechanic and other expert workers who are more needed in the shops and factories in war time than at the front, while selective conscription picks out for army service the men that can best be spared from our industrial life. One plan is haphazard and dangerous, the other scientific and sensible. Is there any doubt as to which system is the better for the country?—Springfield Union.

THE CEILING BED.

The problem of what to do with extra company when you have no guest room has been solved by the disappearing bed which is hidden in the ceiling. It is the latest addition to the large number of disappearing and folding beds of all kinds, but it differs in its construction from any bed which may come under the classification.

In the first place, it does not take up wall space, closet or floor space. It fits in the ceiling of the room, two ribs panels being used so that the place of concealment is always covered. When the bed is lowered to the floor one of the panels descends and covers up the opening, leaving nothing to suggest where the bed came from. The other panel, held below the bed, fits into the ceiling when the bed has been raised to its hidden day-time position in a box installed between the ceiling and the floor above.

Fitted in one of the side walls of the room is a winding drum around which are cables leading through the joists and fastened securely to the four corners of the bed. An inconspicuous door gives admission to the winding drum and by turning the crank the bed is raised or lowered into position, as desired.—Popular Science Monthly.

Doctors Stand Amazed at Power of Bon-Opto to Make Weak Eyes Strong—According to Dr. Lewis

Guaranteed to Strengthen Eyesight 50% In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Philadelphia, Pa. Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses, and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for 15 days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overworked, tired eyes which induced severe headaches. I have worn glasses for several years both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the type on the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: A prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or mist glasses. I can highly recommend it in case of such cases, and in case of patients whose eyes are red, itchy, blurred vision, or for eyes inflamed from exposure to smoke, sun, dust or wind. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Bon-Opto, referred to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret formula. It is an ethical preparation, the formula being printed on the package. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is sold in this city by STAFFORD DRUG CO., Marquette.

MORE APPLICATIONS FOR TRAINING CAMP

Full Quota Not Yet Secured, Says J. C. Gannon—Corrects Misunderstanding.

Inquiries continue to pour into the office of J. C. Gannon, of this city, sub-chairman of the examining board for the officers training camp which opens May 8 at Fort Sheridan, Ill. Several applications have been filed in the past few days, and other sub-chairman throughout the upper peninsula report similar progress.

Contrary to a report which has seemed to become widespread the applications thus far have not yet overstepped the capacity of the camp, Mr. Gannon said yesterday, and he is emphatic in declaring that there is yet room for many more men. "But don't wait until it is too late—do it now, and make sure of it," he said.

Saturday Mr. Gannon received some additional information with regard to the camp. The bulletin pointed out that:

"Men who have already received their commissions for officers' reserve corps will be ordered by department commanders to report at their designated camps May 1 to May 8; all other May 8 to May 14—but only upon orders from the camp commander. And:

"The title 'approval card, 2D Ind.' on the application blank taken by itself, seems to indicate that every candidate who receives his duplicate card from the examining officer is entitled to attend the camp. Such is not the case. This '2D Ind.' signifies that the candidate has been found 'eligible' for attendance at the camp and has received a certificate to that effect. As stated under 'directions' on the reverse side of the application blank 'from these certificates the camp commander will select and notify 2,500 men from each camp if more than that number are certified to him as suitable.' All candidates who have received their certificates of suitability must therefore remain at their home address until they have received from the camp commander a post card notifying them that they have been chosen for attendance at camp authorizing them to report at camp. A postcard so received constitutes the authority of each candidate and will be brought to camp by him and presented to the camp adjutant upon arrival."

DRY LAWS PROVIDE SURE PROHIBITION

Cider and Home-Made Wine Will Be the Only Tempting Beverages.

Lansing, Mich., May 1.—Due to the rush, turmoil and jockeying attending the final passage of the liquor laws that will govern Michigan when prohibition becomes effective, considerable misunderstanding over the exact provisions exists, even among members of the legislature. This was demonstrated when two members of the body that first passed the bills differed on several questions. Herewith is given a brief resume of the principal provisions of the four bills that are expected to make prohibition effective:

The Wiley bill provides the machinery by which the provisions of the constitutional amendment will become operative. It prohibits the sale and manufacture of liquor, except for medicinal, mechanical, scientific, chemical and sacramental purposes. It creates the methods by which druggists may buy and sell liquor for the five exempted purposes, which include licensing, posting and limiting the quantities and manner in which the liquor shall be stored. It prohibits the sale of medicinal preparations that contain more alcohol than is necessary for the preservation of drugs or holding them in proper solution. Cider for vinegar may be made and home made wine, made by the user for his own consumption, is also permitted.

Patent medicines capable of being used as beverages as a substitute for alcohol are barred. Clubs are forbidden the usual "dodge" by which liquor laws are circumvented and soliciting orders for intoxicating liquor is likewise under the ban, as is all liquor advertising. Private homes are exempted from search and seizure, but a place suspected of being a "blind pig" is not exempted. It must be shown, with the usual proofs, that there is good reason to believe that liquors are being sold in a house before a warrant may issue. Destruction or the pouring out of any liquors from any vessels while search is under way is evidence of guilt. All police and peace officers are charged with the duty of enforcing the law. Their failure to do so is ground for forfeiture of office on complaint of any citizen.

The Damon bill, a very brief measure, prohibits the importation or bringing in of liquor within the boundaries of the state by any person, and also prohibits possession of liquor. By inserting "bring in" in the prohibitory clause, the lawmakers feel they have effectually blocked the plan of private purchase across the state border, and transportation by the purchaser in handbags, wagons or auto. This is the act that makes the state "bone dry."

The Amon bill provides for the suppression of "blind pigs" via the "abatement of nuisances" act. Upon furnishing satisfactory proof, any citizen may cause the condemnation of property used for selling liquor, both real and personal, in the same manner as now governs with reference to disorderly houses. This means that a building used as a "blind pig" may be closed for one year and all furniture and fixtures, materials, etc., used in connection with the same of liquor, may be removed and sold. The owner may procure release from the closure of his building by furnishing a suitable bond. All persons disobeying an order of the court with reference to the property within the period that it is "under the lid" are liable for contempt of court.

While possession of liquor is forbidden, except for the five exempted purposes, the burden of proof of illegal possession is upon the prosecuting officials. Possession does not of itself mean guilt. There is no provision protecting a supply of liquor that any citizen may have on hand May 1, 1918. He takes his chances after that date, although houses used solely as homes are exempt from search and seizure.

The Lewis bill, the fourth measure, makes the state dairy and food department a supervisory body. Enforcement of the law lies primarily with the local officers, but the dairy and food department may employ inspectors as investigating and police officials both to aid in enforcing the law and to supervise prosecutions and see that local officials do their duty. The name of the department is changed to the "Food and Drug Department," and the commissioner is re-named "Food and Drug Commissioner." The appointment of inspectors must be approved by the state board of auditors, this provision being inserted as a check on future food and drug commissioners in the matter of indiscriminate hiring of inspectors.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

PALESTINE IS A STRONG PLACE

Military Opinion Is Not Expectant of Its Early Fall—Is on High Plateau.

Cairo, Egypt, April 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Military men here do not believe the British forces now in Palestine will attempt any immediate advance towards Jerusalem. The Holy City, they say, is for the present a secondary consideration. It is considered unlikely that the capture of Jerusalem will be attempted until all the coast region of Palestine is secured, which may take some time. The strength of Jerusalem for defense is very great. This is not due to her ancient walls and towers, nor to the trenches which the Turks have dug roundabout, but to the fact that the city lies about 2,400 feet above sea level, encircled by rugged mountains, while the few passes are in deep valleys, capable of easy defense. It was these conditions of natural strength that enabled the kingdom of Judah to outlive that of Israel by considerably more than a century, that made possible the success of the Jewish uprising against the Greco-Syrians, and two centuries later, prolonged the resistance of the Jews against the Romans.

Against any army advancing from Egypt, Jerusalem is secured by wilderness frontiers to the east and south, while no attack is possible from the north until the Plain of Esdraelon is secured. The western frontier presents a long wall of mountain. Southwest, the newly made military road running to Beersheba would present a long line of very difficult advance. The pass up the Valleys Es Sant and Es Sur, through which Antiochus V made a successful attack with camels and elephants in 163 B. C. would only be suitable for mountain guns, and could hardly be used for the main attack. The direct routes are by way of the railway through the valley of Sorek, a long winding way through a deep gorge very easily defended, and the more open, but still difficult highroad a little further north. Probably the entrances to both these valleys are well fortified.

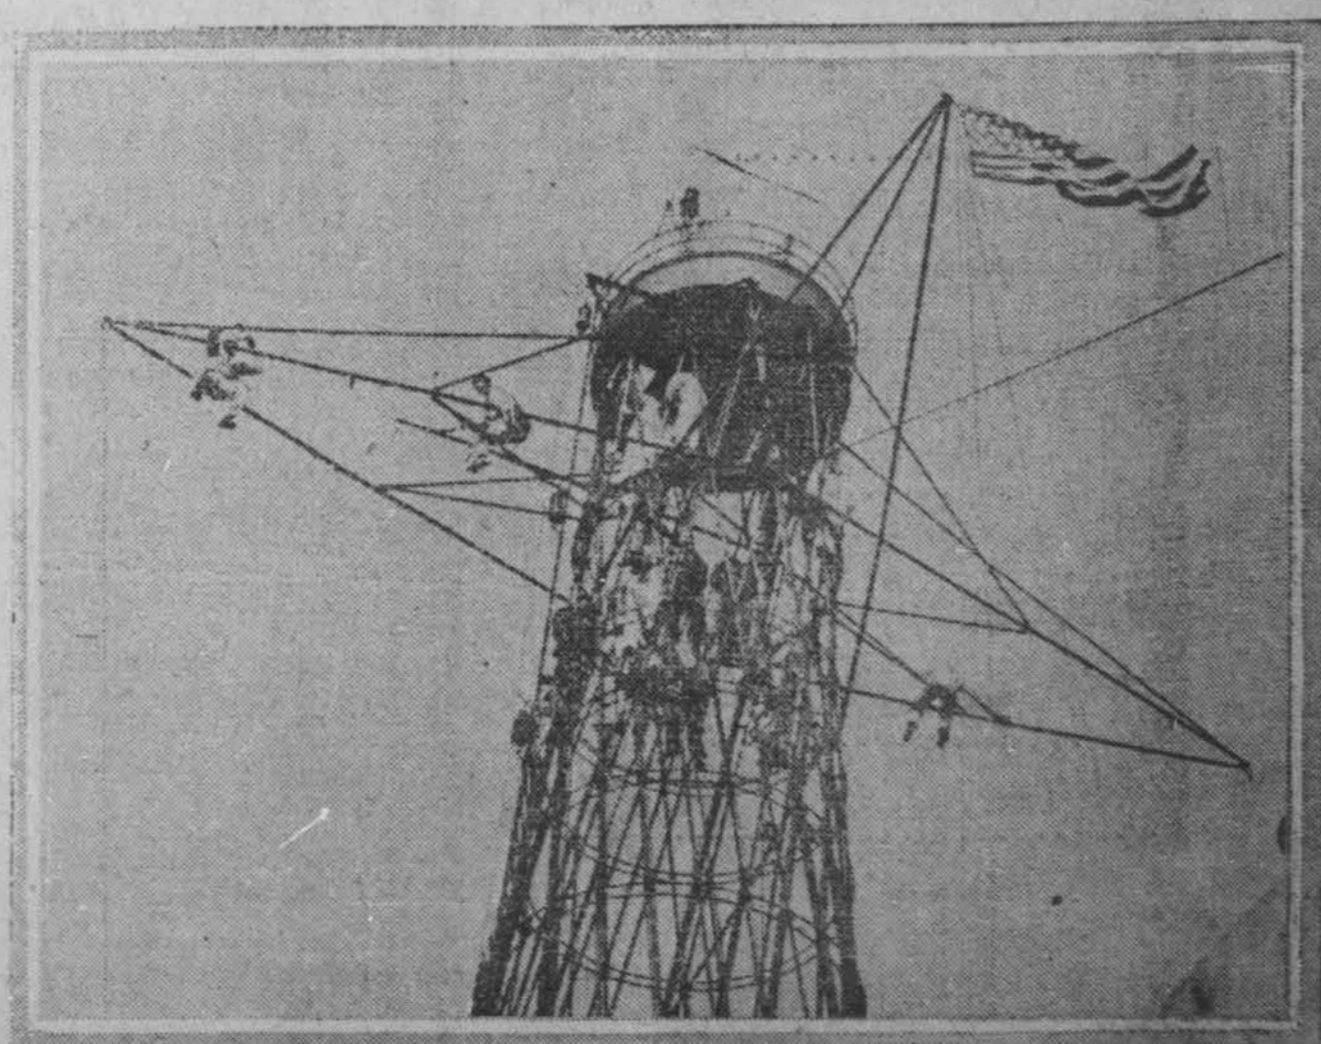

The difficulties are so great that it is believed a modern military expedition would, as has occurred several times in history, leave Jerusalem itself as the last aim of the campaign. If the approaches on every side are captured, the city itself must fall; in all probability the Turkish army would hasten to evacuate itself before the last avenue was closed. The fate of Jerusalem has several times before this been settled in the plains.

The British forces have selected the finest season of the year for their entrance into the Holy Land. In April the country is at its best climatically. The fields of Philistia are green with young corn, affording abundant fodder for horses and camels; the ground has hardened since the winter's rains, and fresh breezes and occasional showers mitigate the heat. The malaria, which makes camping dangerous in the plains during the summer and autumn, is now of a mild type, and can usually be avoided. North of Gaza, there should be no lack of water or provender for the army.

Irishmen of Chicago are preparing to storm congress in an effort to get this country to demand the absolute independence of Ireland as the price of America's entry into the war. Judge Kichham Scanlan and former Congressman George E. Gorman have been named to head the delegation.

SWEDISH LUTHERANS MEETING THIS WEEK

Albin Hasselblad, Treasurer of Superior Conference, Attending Session.

Albin Hasselblad, of this city, who for the past several years has been treasurer of the Superior conference of the Swedish Lutheran church of America, will spend the week at Ironwood, attending the annual conference. About 100 pastors and lay delegates, representing some seventy churches in Michigan and Northern Wisconsin, are present at the meeting. Mr. Hasselblad will return Monday.

The officers of the conference are: Rev. E. A. Lund of Escanaba, president; Rev. G. A. Elkeberg of Bessemer, vice president; Rev. Carl J. Silfversten of Rhineland, secretary, and Albin J. Hasselblad of Ishpeming, treasurer. The forenoon and afternoon sessions of Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be devoted to the transaction of the regular routine of business.

Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. will be the formal opening of the conference, when Rev. Mr. Lund will preach the conference sermon, followed by the welcome address from the local pastor or host of the conference, Rev. S. L. Wilson, with the Rev. Ekeberg and Rev. Silfversten in the altar service.

Thursday evening, beginning at 8:15 o'clock, will be devoted to the commemoration of the thirtieth anniversary of the local church, when brief memorial and festival addresses will be delivered by the founders of the church, Rev. J. D. Nelsenius of Two Harbors, Minn., and Rev. J. W. Johnson of Rockford, Ill. A chorus of fifty voices under the leadership of Mrs. S. L. Wilson and assisted by Prof. Holomo's orchestra, with Prof. J. C. Watson and Rev. S. L. Wilson as soloists, will render Dr. Reinhold Legerstrom's wonderful jubilee cantata, based on the sixty-third psalm, for the first time thus rendered in the history of the conference. Other numbers for the evening are selections by the Swedish Glee club and the Normanna Male quartet. Prof. Nicholls and Holomo's orchestra Miss Eva Lofberg will assist at the pipe organ and Miss Anna Nicholson at the piano. This promises to be the biggest event ever given in the history of Salem church.

On Friday evening the Women's Foreign and Home Missionary societies of the conference will give their annual festival program, when Mrs. Emory Ewald of Chicago will speak. Mrs. Ewald is the president of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Augustana synod and is a speaker of force. She will speak in both Swedish and English.

On Sunday morning there will be full service with communion, and Rev. G. S. Olson of Norway, Mich., will deliver the communion address and Rev. B. E. Walters of Metropolitan, Mich., will preach the sermon, with Rev. Augustus Nelson and Rev. G. O. A. Engstrom of Manistiquic and Iron River, respectively, as liturgians. At the Sunday school session in the afternoon Rev. A. E. Monell of Merrill, Wis., Rev. J. A. Burman of Munising and Rev. A. C. Youngdahl of Newberry will deliver short addresses.

The conference will close Sunday evening with a festival program, celebrating the 400th anniversary of the Reformation. The speaker of the evening will be Dr. Gustave Andren, president of Augustana College and Theological seminary at Rockland, Ill. He is a speaker of force and eloquence and a commanding personality. Special music will be rendered.

HOWE'S BIG FEATURE IS REAL THRILLER

Travel Festival, Here Tonight, Has Many Excellent Pictures in Program.

The wonderful film of Sir Douglas Mawson's expedition into the depths of Antarctica, to be shown by the Lyman H. Howe company at the Ishpeming theater tonight, furnishes more thrills and genuine laughs than any manufactured film could possibly hope to attain. Comedy in rich measure is provided by the birds and animals, of which the penitents are the head liners. As they dive from the rocks they are very funny, indeed, and when they try to feed their young, or attempt to cover six eggs placed under them by humorous humanity, instead of the normal one, they are still funnier; but when they form in cadet line to salute a ponderous sea lion they are funniest.

The production has more real entertainment in it than any photoplay ever produced. These phases of the film combine with breathless adventure and daring exploits to make it appeal irresistibly to all ages. No comprehension of the uninhabited sections of the earth's surface is possible without seeing this film.

Another feature of Howe's program takes the spectators into the groves and sunlit corridors of giant Sequoias in Yosemite National park, and among water falls of transcendent beauty, some of which hurl themselves from precipices more than 2,000 feet in height. Thrills to satisfy the most exacting will be provided by still another film showing the recent automobile races over Giant's Despair, at Wilkesbarre, Pa.

There are some twenty distinct offerings in the program, and Mr. Howe has this season provided some of the best comedies that he has ever presented.

BACK FROM THE WEST.

J. N. Olson, credit manager of the Carpenter-Cook company, and family, have returned from a month's visit in California and Oregon. The trip was greatly enjoyed, as the weather was ideal during all the time they were away. In Portland they visited Charles Anderson, who was shipping clerk in the Carpenter-Cook company's Ishpeming branch when it was first opened. Mr. Anderson is now proprietor of two large grocery stores and a meat market in Portland. He has been highly successful. Mr. Anderson engaged in business in partnership with his brother-in-law, and when the latter retired two years later, he became sole proprietor.

MAGGABEES PLAN A BIG INITIATION

Supreme Commander and Supreme Medical Examiner Invited to Come Here.

The officers and members of Ambrose tent of the Maggabees are planning a big time for the evening of May 14, when there will be the biggest class adoption ever held by the society in Ishpeming. About fifty members will be adopted of which most of these have already taken the obligation and are virtually members of the tent, but the officers some time ago decided to have one big initiation in connection with their campaign for the new members.

D. P. Markey, supreme commander of the society in the United States and Canada, and Dr. F. Edmister, the supreme medical examiner, have been invited to attend, and every member of the tent will be urged to attend. The tent has been making rapid strides during the past few months. The membership has been more than doubled and it is the ambition of the officers to increase the roster to at least 200 during the present year.

In securing new members for the tent the officers have been careful to secure only preferred risks, men of good health and occupying positions not in the hazard lists. Out of nearly fifty whose applications have been accepted the average age is less than twenty-three years. It is said that very few, if any, tents of the order, anywhere can show a similar record.

The meeting will be by far the most important that the tent has ever held, and especially if the supreme officers are able to attend. Mr. Markey has visited this country on several occasions. Being located in Michigan he is interested in the tents of this state. Ambrose tent has acquired the reputation in the past year of being one of the real "live wire" organizations of his jurisdiction. Very few tents in cities the size of Ishpeming have made a better showing, or have worked along more unique and original lines than the local tent. The work of the officers and the members who have been active with them has brought forth most favorable comments from the deputies and other officials, who are watching their progress. The tent holds its meetings in the Odd Fellows' hall. At nearly every meeting some new "stunt" is worked out as a means of keeping the members interested. As a result there are few empty chairs on meeting nights. A feature of the meeting on the fourteenth will be a banquet and program of speeches and musical numbers.

MRS. SPENCER PASSES.

Ishpeming Woman, Who Returned from Detroit, Died Monday Night.

Mrs. Anna M. Spencer, who for the past several days had been confined to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Holme, in this city, passed away Monday night at 9 o'clock.

For a few years before her marriage, Mrs. Spencer was a teacher in the Ishpeming public schools, later teaching at Escanaba. For the past year and a half she had been instructor in the Detroit schools, and was working there when she was taken ill.

That the deceased had many friends in Escanaba and was highly thought of there is shown by the following reference to her death from yesterday's issue of the Press of that city:

"Mrs. Anna M. Spencer, for several years engaged as a teacher in the Escanaba public schools and known to a host of people in this city, passed away last night at the home of her parents at Ishpeming. Mrs. Spencer had suffered from a cancer for the past several months. She had visited eminent specialists all over the country without being able to secure aid. She returned to the home of her parents at Ishpeming.

"Mrs. Spencer was thirty-seven years of age and is survived by one daughter, Mary Spencer.

"Mrs. Spencer was regarded as one of the most efficient teachers ever employed in this city. She had a host of friends in Escanaba and was held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. Her death is the cause of deep sorrow to a great many people. After leaving Escanaba Mrs. Spencer went to Detroit, where she was engaged as a teacher in the schools of the city for a year and a half. She had made great progress in Detroit and was slated for promotion to a principalship when she became ill and was forced to give up her work.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Grace church.

SNOW STORM TIES UP AUTO TRAFFIC

Few Negaunee Car Owners Used Their Machines Yesterday Because of Blizzard.

Yesterday's snow storm kept a majority of the automobile owners, who have had their machines out for the past several days, indoors and it is probable that it will be several days before cars can be used. Local business houses, who operate delivery trucks, however, had their machines out fighting their way through the snow.

The members of the Negaunee police department were prepared to arrest all car owners who were without license tags, but the snow storm foiled their plans. The police nevertheless are on the look out for speeders and those who have not yet secured their license tags.

Oscar Nyquist, Gwinn salesman for the Ford and Maxwell automobiles, is the first Marquette county automobile owner to make the trip from Negaunee to Gwinn this year. Nyquist drove a new Maxwell car from Negaunee to Gwinn yesterday afternoon in good time.

In many places he encountered a foot or more of snow, but the machines made the trip with little difficulty. The road has been in very poor condition because of the great amount of water on it and it was necessary to drive cautiously the entire distance. Mr. Nyquist intends to drive two Ford machines to Gwinn this week.

Mr. Nyquist also made the trip from Marquette to Negaunee yesterday with the Maxwell machine, which he will deliver today to Matt Mutka, of Gwinn. The trip from Marquette to Negaunee was made in a little less than an hour.

EARLY RISE IN NEARLY ALL ISSUES CHECKED THROUGH MANY CAUSES

New York, May 1.—Stocks gave every indication during today's early period of augmenting yesterday's irregular rise, but the advance was halted before mid-day on reports from Washington suggesting limitations on railway dividends during the war. Additional poor railway earnings for March, on leading transportation statements, apprehension over the foreign situation in its economic aspects, and an unexpected rise in call money to 4 per cent, duplication of the year's highest rate, prompted another selling movement in the final hour, the market closing with an uncertain tone.

BOSTON COPPERS.

Ishpeming, Mich., May 1.—There were interesting developments in the markets today, the feature being a 13 cent break in Wheat. This decline was attributed to the report that peace measures will be announced by Germany, Holweg will address the Reichstag on Thursday. One might have expected stocks would sell off on the peace talk. To the contrary, however, they held strong all day, and Tack Removed from Lung. A telegram was received in Escanaba announcing that physicians at the hospital of the Drs. The child was taken to Chicago where eminent physicians made ineffectual efforts to remove the tack. It was then taken to the Mayo Brothers hospital, where on the third attempt the tack was removed. The condition of the little patient was reported to be critical, but hope is entertained for his recovery.

BIG PATRIOTIC MEETING IN CITY HALL AT 12:30 TODAY

WELLKNOWN CANADIAN FOOD EXPERT WILL TALK ON "WHAT WAR MEANS"

W. J. Thompson, of the Soo, to Outline Plan for Increasing Crop Production.

A patriotic mass meeting, at which plans for food conservation throughout the upper peninsula will be discussed, will be held in the city hall today at 12:30 o'clock. W. J. Thompson, of the Canadian Soo, chairman of the food conservation committee of that city and who, since shortly after the outbreak of the war between England and Germany, has been one of the most active advocates of food conservation in Canada, will be the principal speaker, talking on "What War Means." Mr. Thompson was to have talked at Ishpeming, last night, but because of a misunderstanding relative to the time of speaking he missed his train connections, and has consented to speak here today instead.

Mr. Thompson brings to Marquette a message which every loyal citizen should hear. His wide experience on matters of food conservation and its relation to the conduct of an international war has given him a wealth of material. Since first taking up this work, over three years ago, he has devoted the greater part of his time to it; has carefully studied its every phase; has been instrumental in the inauguration of plans for food conservation at the Canadian Soo, and, from every report, has been the chief figure in the carrying out of these plans to a high degree of efficiency. It is said of Mr. Thompson that he has "secured results," and that makes his message decidedly worth while to any audience. Moreover, the fact that one of his two sons now is a prisoner "somewhere" in Germany and the other is at this moment fighting on the western front of France has inspired Mr. Thompson with a patriotic fervor which, it is said, gives to his words a sincerity which makes his message more appealing.

In connection with Mr. Thompson's talk, Miss Flora Retaille will sing "God Save the King," in honor of the speaker, and "The Red, White, and Blue" will be sung by Arthur W. Jones. The Delta orchestra will play several selections. Today's meeting is an appeal to every true American to come and profit by the experience and knowledge of a man who knows his subject and can tell it in a way which makes it unusually interesting and instructive.

War and Food.

"Food is the backbone—the sustenance which gives the men in the field the power to fight, to effectively defend the nation," said Mr. Thompson during an interview yesterday. "We must look to our food supply and do it now, if we are to crush German despotism and win this great war. Remember, every pound of food raised in the civilian's garden is one pound more for the men at the front—one pound less draught on the farmer's yield which, to a great extent, must be used to provision the army and navy, as well as the great portion of American families. "To accomplish our great aim every man, woman and child remaining at home must do his or her share. If we are to effectively help out in the great work there must be no shirking. Stake out a plot in the back yard—or even the front yard; if you haven't any yard use your neighbor's or scurry around until you find a vacant lot which no one else is using, plow it, plant it, cultivate it and get in line. It must be done, and somehow I feel that we are going to do it.

"Another thing—cut out the waste. It is said that the food wasted in the United States and the Dominion of Canada in one year alone would feed 100,000,000 men. Think of it, literally wasted, while five European nations are slowly, but surely being starved out. The waste in this country is appalling. I have studied it carefully and find that the more well-to-do families, particularly, daily practice ruthless waste in their pieces of bread or toast tossed in the garbage can—simply because it wasn't eaten at the meal for which it was served. Then think of the hundreds of starving Syrians, for example, who would grab up these morsels as if they were gold, and consider themselves decidedly fortunate in securing the opportunity. Let us practice economy—let us try to conserve for the great struggle that is before us. It is a most indispensable part of the great work.

"We hear the rich man say, 'Oh well, why should I bother myself about food shortage—I have plenty of money and can buy all my family needs and more too.' Sometimes, too, we hear the farmer declare, as he gazes over his crops with a satisfied expression, 'There isn't much chance of my family starving, so I refuse to be concerned over this food shortage talk. I can raise all we need, and more too.' A pitiable condition—but true. For this situation I would suggest a food censorship whereby the rich man gets the same portion as the poor and the farmer is forced to split up his surplus with his starving brother. Let their refrigerators be searched if necessary, but insist on equality. Co-operation should remedy this condition, and surely we can secure co-operation in this great crisis. If we cannot, then the end is inevitable, for dissension and selfishness spells defeat.

"In the Canadian Soo we have appointed a committee, whose sole duty it is to see that every able-bodied man, woman and child is doing something to help out in the work. We have established a headquarters; have installed a telephone and employ a full-time clerk.

How It Is Done.

"How do we get the people interested? Simply in this manner. We first look up a vacant lot, or a plot of land, either within or near the city limits, and divide so without the formality of consulting the owner. In the case of a piece of ground which has been platted into building lots we record these separately. We then choose, from a list which we have compiled, a citizen whom we believe would take hold of the work of cultivating a piece of ground and make a success of it, and, in a short, concise, but very-much-to-the-point letter, we inform him that he has been granted a lot on which to cultivate a vegetable garden, and intimate to him that he can start at any time he may desire—but soon, preferably. We have never yet been met with refusal. That is patriotism. Then we write another letter to the owner of that lot and, politely, but quite clearly, notify him that his lot has been given over to the cultivation of a garden, and that a conscientious citizen is about to start work on it, providing his (the land owner's) consent is given. We have had only one refusal, and that was quite half-hearted, and was later withdrawn.

"This, then, is our system, and I feel quite safe in saying that it has worked splendidly. Maybe such a system could be worked out in Marquette. It is at least worthy of a trial."

Mr. Thompson is apparently "brim full" of sound, practical suggestions along the line of food conservation, and backs them up with actual figures and concrete illustrations. His doctrine of food conservation is reasonable and certainly timely.

He also gave a recital of the many evidences of true patriotism shown throughout the Dominion of Canada since the declaration of war, August 5, 1914. The volunteer system is still in force throughout the Dominion, he says, and every offer of aid to England's men has been entirely voluntary. The English King, says Mr. Thompson, has not once called on the Canadians for money, yet, in two weeks after the declaration of war, Canada had equipped and set afloat on the Atlantic 30,000 men, to aid England in her struggle against German despotism.

"Of course we have our slackers," said Mr. Thompson, "but to my mind they will rue the day they did not lend a hand to the work. After this war Canada will be sprinkled throughout with men who have 'done their bit' in the trenches of Europe and who will stand as a living example of heroism and patriotism before those who were weak of heart and did not answer the call. But every Canadian loves his country, loves its principles and is justly proud of his lineage."

Mr. Thompson's talk will follow the

MAY 1 SPRINGS A VIOLENT SURPRISE

Marquette Awakes in Midst of Wind and Snow—Warmer Today Is Predicted.

"I'm from Missouri and I'm going to show you," howled the northwest gale which swept this district yesterday, bringing with it more snow and sleet, for this time of the year, than for any corresponding period since 1894, when on May 7, 4.1 inches were recorded. Up to yesterday afternoon about nine inches of snow had fallen, but melted so rapidly that only about four inches was recorded at the local weather bureau. The storm swept across from over Missouri, and included the entire Lake Superior region. The velocity of the wind was not unusual, however, the average about twenty-four miles an hour.

The snow and sleet hindered traffic to a great extent. Only a few automobiles and motor trucks were seen about the city, and, for the time, the horse again came into his own as the most reliable motive power in an emergency. Several fishing parties which had started out early yesterday morning for a day at the favorite hole returned late in the morning or shortly after dinner, with their baskets full of snow.

Yesterday's storm recalls to many the gale which swept the Marquette range Wednesday and Thursday, April 29 and 30, 1903, the last big storm occurring at this time of the year. For hours the wind raged, blowing down telephone and telegraph poles, halting railroad and city traffic and driving a small fleet of boats into the local harbor for protection. In that storm fifteen electric light poles near the Holy Cross cemetery were blown to the ground, according to Superintendent Retaille, of the Light and power department.

Singularly yesterday's storm affected the train service only slightly. All of the D. S. S. & A. trains arrived on time except No. 1, due here at 3:10 p. m. from Mackinac City, which pulled in forty minutes late. The crews reported no unusual trouble along the line.

But cheer up—the weather man, either trying to "come back" for yesterday's poor showing or fearing the worst should he report another such occurrence, tells us that today the skies will be clear, and the mercury will begin to climb.

April a Cold Month.

The average temperature for the past month was the lowest for that month of any corresponding period since 1909, according to the monthly report issued by the local bureau yesterday. The average temperature was thirty-three degrees, four degrees below normal, and average precipitation of 1.75 inches, snow and rain. There were only eight clear days; six were partly cloudy and sixteen were cloudy. The highest temperature recorded during the month was fifty-four degrees and the lowest twenty.

DISPLAY OF GIRLS' CLUB WORK PLANNED

Exhibit of Garments Made in Rural Schools Will Be Held Here Thursday, May 31.

An exhibit of the work done during the past year by garment-making clubs of the rural schools of Marquette county will be held in the county building Thursday, March 31, so that members of the county board of supervisors and all others interested may view the results of the year's work. The clubs were organized by Miss Margaret Justen, M. A. C. extension specialist on home economics, with the assistance of Simon E. Anderson, county school commissioner.

There are twenty garment-making clubs in as many rural schools throughout the county. Each club will be represented here by one girl member and the teacher of the school. A special program, including a visit to the Normal school and a trip to Presque Isle, by automobile, will be arranged, the details to be announced later.

Prizes of complete work boxes and silver thimbles will be distributed among the girls having the best exhibits, and it is hoped that, as a grand prize and special feature of the event, the club having the best exhibition display, may be given a sewing machine, to be permanently installed in the school and used under the supervision of the teacher.

This month Miss Justen finishes her work among the garment-making clubs. Her program follows: May 8—Northland. May 9—Green Garden and Chocoley. May 11—National Mine. May 15—Humboldt, Beacon and Clarkburg.

May 16—Diorite, North Lake and West Ishpeming. May 18—Republic and Whitbeck. May 20—Palmer.

Garment-making has been a decidedly active feature in the work of the rural schools during the winter. The girls have displayed unusual interest in the work and are said to have turned out some very commendable garments—their own handiwork.

noon-day lunch of the Marquette Commercial club. The seating capacity of the city hall auditorium is limited to about 400 so those desiring to attend are urged to come early. The talk will begin promptly at 12:30 o'clock, as Mr. Thompson leaves for his home in the Soo at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Dr. Barker Tonight.

Dr. Charles E. Barker, a well known Lyceum platform speaker, will deliver his lecture "How to Live 100 Years" in the auditorium of the Normal school tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock. Dr. Barker has been called "the most interesting, unique and inspiring prophet of good health before the American people." His talk is accompanied by a demonstration of the simple daily exercises which, he claims, will practically revolutionize a person's life, if strictly pursued. Last summer Dr. Barker spoke twice a day on the big Redpath seven-day Chautauqua circuit, beginning in Jacksonville, Fla., in April, and closing in Chicago in September.

Dr. Barker was physical advisor to President Taft during the entire four years of Mr. Taft's administration in Washington and it is said that by his course of exercises Mr. Taft succeeded in reducing his weight some eighty-five pounds.

No admission will be charged for tonight's lecture, and the public is cordially invited.

'BIRTH OF A NATION' OPENS HERE TODAY

Scenic Spectacle to Be Shown at Opera House Beginning with Matinee This Afternoon.

No one who has seen "The Birth of a Nation," that spectacular production with music which will play a two day return engagement at the Opera House beginning this afternoon at 2:45 o'clock will say aught but that D. W. Griffith has shown himself to be the master stage director of the world. "The Birth of a Nation" is not a photoplay in the accepted sense of that word. It is a master creation, an epic story presented with the realism of actuality by talented players who seem to be living again in the "time-that-tried-man's-souls." There is no one who is not moved and thrilled by the clash of great armies on the field of battle and that appeal is to all sorts and conditions of men, women and children as is evidenced by every audience that gathers to enjoy this eighth wonder of the world.

While the fine artistic execution is truly epoch-making, probably the basic reason for its phenomenal success is to be found in the theme. It is a big historical romance, treating of the most momentous period in the history of the United States, a period which is not only highly important in the story of this country, but one which is still remembered by living men.

Add to the sublimity of the epic the intensity of the short story and one has an approximate value of "The Birth of a Nation." A large part of the power of the piece comes from the overwhelming rapidity of its action. The spectator is carried hither and thither with almost confusing speed and scenes of historical importance almost jostle each other on the screen. Because of this rapidity action it is a common occurrence to hear people say while leaving the theater after three hours of wonderment and pleasure that it only seemed as if they had been in there for an hour. There is no "padding" no filling in with slow and meaningless scenes. It is action, action, action from start to finish until the audience is almost breathless with amazement. In the big scenes the applause and cheers are most inspiring. There will be two performances every day at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m.

"LYMAN H. HOWE."

The frozen regions of the Antarctic which have spelled disaster, despair and death for so many heroic explorers will be portrayed by Lyman H. Howe at the Opera House Friday night. It is a film that holds spectators spellbound. In the most magnificent way it reveals the almost superhuman efforts of the supermen who comprised Sir Douglas Mawson's Expedition, their equipment and struggles to surmount the appalling conditions on every hand.

Beside this feature, "Howe travelers" will also journey through Yosemite National Park, where cliffs rise almost perpendicularly 3,000 to 5,000 feet against the sky and where cascades of foaming water pour over their beetling edges into valleys of supreme loveliness. Scenes of a very spectacular nature will also be presented of the famous automobile hill-climb over Giant's despair, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., where the racers are seen hurtling around the sharp and dangerous curves at lightning speed. Many other features will be presented, not forgetting the rich humor of Howe's clever animated cartoons which are freely interspersed throughout the program.

Young Man—So Miss Ethel is your oldest sister? Who comes after her? Small Brother—Nobody ain't come yet; but pa says the first fellow that comes can have her.—Puck.
