THE DAILY MINING JOURNAL

A MORNING PAPER PUBLISHED BY The Mining Journal Company, Limited.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

SATURDAY, MAY 19, 1917.

MR. VANDERLIP'S ADDRESS.

The address of Frank A. Vanderlip, in New York, referred to briefly in The Mining Journal yesterday, was such a straight from the shoulder presentation of questions of business and finance, as affected by the war and as affecting the war, that it is worthy of careful reading and study.

BETTER NEWS.

For the moment, at least, we are entitled to feel more reassured about Russia, and to entertain the hope that the provisional government will hold together until our mission, headed by Mr. Root, and the French and British missions, can have a try at persuading the Russian government, and what is equally as important, the council of the soldiers and workmen that their duty and their future lies on the side of wholehearted devotion to the war, in accordance with their solemn obligations to the countries that are fighting with them and for them, and that German advances are to be shunned as stuff the devil has had a hand in making.

State Press

Before the Russians make an attack now they have to refer it to the committee of the whole and give the bill three readings in the regular order of the day.—Jackson Citizen-Press.

Germany is expected to protest against the "inhumanity" of England's carrying German prisoners in a hospital ship likely to be sunk by German submarines.—Pontiac Press-Gazette.

If ever our troops do get to Europe some of those Frenchmen are going to have a rough time of it if they try, in their enthusiasm, to kiss any of our heroes on both cheeks.—Detroit Free Press.

The only chance of a revolution in Germany is in case the government should grant popular rights, in which cases the people would certainly revolt against any such proposition.—Flint Journal.

The first issue of the Official Bulletin, the government's war paper, is more exciting than the patent office reports, but somehow seems to lack the tang and dash of the Congressional Record.—Lansing Journal.

T. R. it appears, starting out to recruit one division of volunteers to fight in France, has raised nine or ten divisions. After all, it would have been a mistake to let him go to the front. He ought to be put in charge of the nation's recruiting.—Lansing Journal.

Timely Quips

Fact. If it's a fact that our allies cannot eat cornbread they need education as much as they need supplies.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Cash. The claim that the American dollar doesn't go as far as it used to doesn't apply to the $7,000,000,000 war loan.—Washington Post.

Change. Whenever the British fail to break through, Berlin announces another British defeat. Times have changed.—Springfield Republican.

Proof. The best proof that the German soldiers are under fire control is that they would ever consent to go into battle in mass formation.—Savannah News.

Evidence. Evidently the German naval lieutenant who made a fire of a collection of Bibles isn't pleased with the co-operation of the Kaiser's partner.—Washington Post.

A Laugh Or Two

The Truth. "You told me when I bought this lot that the town couldn't possibly grow in any direction but this."

Gambling. "I don't often speculate, but I took a little flier yesterday."

Taste in Reading. "Oliver's taste for books seems to be improving."

The Failure. The $400,000,000 distributed in gifts to workers at the year's end by the employers of America led George W. Perkins to say at a dinner in New York: "It is impossible to miss success in America, it's impossible to fail in this rich land, unless, indeed, you've got the spirit of the Paint Rock storekeeper."

Perkins to say at a dinner in New York: "It is impossible to miss success in America, it's impossible to fail in this rich land, unless, indeed, you've got the spirit of the Paint Rock storekeeper."

A story is printed of the interception of seven submarines, sailing forth for a foray in American waters, by the British. We don't believe it. The Germans are pursuing the 'possum policy with regard to this country, being at particular care not to do anything to wake it up, in the hope that lethargy

Forget It.

Alec's mother warned him against disturbing the freezer of ice cream that had been placed in the snow of the back yard to await dinner time.

The Acme of Joy.

Being hampered by strict parents, Herbert's chief joy, up to the age of eight, had been the weekly prayer meeting.

PERSHING TO FRANCE

ment's statement probably will exceed that figure. General Pershing, a Republican in politics, was a brigadier general when he led the forces into Mexico in pursuit of the bandit Villa.

EXPLAINS BARRING OF ROOSEVELT.

In his explanation of his reasons for not availing himself of the so-called Roosevelt amendment to the army bill resident Wilson has brought out sharply the points made against that amendment by army officers. Many officers who are warm admirers of the former president have unhesitatingly condemned his proposal to raise a volunteer army corps, or division, on the ground that it would drain the regular service of men virtually needed to train the millions that must be whipped into fighting trim in all too brief a time.

Under the plans of the war department, General Wood, by reason of his great experience in mobilization problems, his unflinching energy and enthusiasm has been assigned the hardest task of any general officer. He will direct, as commander of the southeastern department, the mobilization and training of twelve divisions, or more than 300,000 men, among whom, without question, will be those who will be first selected to follow General Pershing's force to France.

sharpshooter marches and the machinist remains at his levers. The whole nation must be a team in which each man shall play the part for which he is best fitted. To this end, congress has provided that the nation shall be organized for war by selection and that each man shall be classified for service in the place to which it shall best serve the general good to call him.

"The significance of this cannot be over-stated. It is a new thing in history and a landmark in our progress. It is a new manner of accepting and vitalizing our duty to give ourselves with thoughtful devotion to the common purpose of us all. It is in no sense a conscription of the unwilling; it is rather selection from a nation which has volunteered en masse. It is no more a choosing of those who shall serve and equally necessary and devoted purpose in the industries that lie behind the battle-line.

REGISTRY DAY ONE OF NATION'S GREATEST

"The day here named is the time upon which all shall present themselves for assignment to their tasks. It is for that reason destined to be remembered as one of the most conspicuous moments in our history. It is nothing less than the day upon which the manhood of the country shall step forward in one solid rank in defense of the ideals to which this nation is consecrated. It is important to those ideals no less than to the pride of this generation in manifesting its devotion to them, that there be no gaps in the ranks.

"It is essential that the day be approached in thoughtful comprehension of its significance and that we accord to it the honor and the meaning that it deserves. Our industrial need prescribes that it be not made a technical holiday, but the stern sacrifice that is before us, urges that it be carried in all our hearts as a great day of patriotic devotion and obligation when the duty shall lie upon every man, whether he is himself to be registered or not, to see to it that the name of every male person of the designated ages is written on these lists of honor.

"In witness thereof I have hereto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this eighteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord 1917, and of the independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and forty first.

"By The President: ROBERT LANSING Secretary of State."

structive effectiveness made possible successful Somme and Arras offensives, is co-operating with the Italians in their latest attempts to drive the Austrians from the line of Isorno.

Against the combined British and Italian artillery fire the Austrians have failed in attempts to recapture lost ground between Gorizia and Tolmino. At four points along the line the Austrians have made repeated attacks, but all efforts were checked by artillery fire and infantry counter-attacks. Meanwhile, under the cover of the artillery, the Italians are busily fortifying captured positions and preparing for another forward movement. In addition to the taking of much war material Rome reports the capture of nearly 6,000 prisoners.

Artillery actions only are reported from the British front around Arras. The Germans apparently have given up hope of retaking Bullecourt and other strategic positions now in British hands, and await the evacuation of Bullecourt. Along the Aisne and in Champagne the German crown prince also has given up his fruitless counter-attacks, but continues to exchange violent artillery firing with the French heavy guns. Dense German formations, Petrograd says, have attempted an attack against Russian positions in Volhynia. The Russian soldiers met the attempt with artillery, rifle and machine gun fire and drove the Germans back.

RESPONSE FROM THE COLLEGES.

The college youth of the land has responded nobly to his country's call. The patriotism has not been confined to the educational institutions of any section of the country. From every point comes the voluntary offering of "the great sacrifice" in the nation's cause.

In one issue of a New York newspaper, which naturally dealt with news affecting eastern universities, we read of 200 Cornell students and 100 Princeton students studying at Newport for the mosquito fleet. Yale's crew captain and football captain are with the Yale aviation unit at Palm Beach. Her baseball captain and track team are drilling with the Yale artillery. Another news item told of four prominent Lafayette athletes passing examinations for the army. Still another related how six Princeton students enlisted as privates.

Courses have been curtailed in all the universities. Athletics definitely have been abandoned "for the duration of the war." College careers have ended for thousands of students. It seems an upheaval that means a great loss in preparation for life's work. But a sterner and greater call has intervened, the answering of which has given earnest of the educated man's patriotism and spirit of personal sacrifice.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

training regular troops to be put into the field in France and Belgium as fast as they can be taken ready.

CANNOT TAKE A CHANCE.

"The first troops sent to France will be taken from the present forces of the regular army and will be under the command of trained soldiers. I am too much interested in the cause we are fighting for to be interested in anything but success. The issues involved are too immense for me to take into consideration anything whatever except the best, most effective, most immediate needs of military action. What these means are I know from the mouths of men who have seen war as it is now conducted, who have no illusions, and to whom the whole grim matter is a matter of business. I shall center my attention upon those means and let everything else wait."

WOULD ASK ALLIES TORELINQUISHPART OF GRAIN DEMANDS

Washington, May 18.—Suggestions that the allies be asked to relinquish some of their wheat contracts in the United States as a means of stabilizing the market, were discussed with Herbert C. Hoover today by representatives of the Chicago Board of Trade. There are no figures on the amount of wheat bought here by the allies for future delivery, but the amount is vast, perhaps far larger than the total amount of wheat now in reserve in the country. Wheat traders declare one cause for the recent sharp advance in prices was the heavy bidding of the allies. Relinquishment of contracts would not

PROPOSES DRAFT FOR CANADIANS

Premier Borden Announces This Step Is Necessary to Meet Great Losses of War.

Ottawa, May 18.—Compulsory military service on a selective basis, to raise immediately at least 50,000 men and probably 100,000 men, to make good the wastage in the Canadian army corps in France, was proposed to parliament late today by Sir Robert Borden, the premier, who returned from England last Tuesday.

CANADA HAS DONE WELL.

The prime minister declared that every man in the country had been given the opportunity under the voluntary enlistment plan to do his duty to the country and to the cause. Under this plan Canada had done well, he said. There had been dispatched 320,000 men for the Canadian force across the Atlantic. Including British, French and other reservists not less than 360,000 men had gone from Canada for over-seas military service. But more were needed, Sir Robert announced. There were under arms enough men to supply reinforcements to keep the five Canadian army divisions up to strength for some time, he said, but losses were great and provisions had to be made for the future, unless the five Canadian divisions were to dwindle.

City Brevities

Both the stands at Presque Isle will be open for business tomorrow.

Born, May 13, to Mr. and Mrs. Fabrian Deschaine, 448 Baraga Ave., a son.

Miss Mildred Magers, who is teaching school at Trenay, is spending the week-end visiting her parents in the city.

The dancing party given last night in the Guild Hall by the Kawabawgun Camp Fire girls was largely attended and an enjoyable affair.

Troop No. 4, Boy Scouts, is asked to meet this afternoon at 1 o'clock at the street car turn to the Fair grounds. The troop will move promptly at this hour.

Herman B. Leman, employed for the past several months as stenographer in the Charcoal Iron company's office, this city, and Frank Stafford, who has held a similar position with the Pioneer Iron company, at their plant here, left yesterday for Milwaukee to take their final examinations for yeomen in the U. S. navy.

LaVallee Enlists—Word has been received here of the enlistment in Troop B, Ohio Cavalry, of Oliver M. LaVallee, a former resident of Marquette.

Survey is Begun—City Engineer Wright has begun the survey of Spectular street, preparatory to beginning the extension to the Piqua Handle site, as authorized at last Monday night's meeting of the city commission.

Will Attend Service—Lake Superior commandery, No. 30, Knights Templar, will attend service tomorrow morning at St. Paul's church. Every member of the order is expected to attend and the Sir Knights are requested to meet at their asylum promptly at 10:30 a. m.

To Install Halby Loader—J. D. Sullivan, of the Lake Shore Engine Works, has left to install a Halby ore loader in one of the mines at Bessemer, Mich. The loader was invented by V. G. Halby, chief engineer of the engine works, and is rapidly growing in demand. Mr. Sullivan expects to leave within a few weeks, to install a large salt loader in one of the salt mines at Rochester, N. Y.

Return From Soo—Captains Gooding and Henson, local steamship inspectors, returned yesterday from the Soo, where they spent the past several days investigating the facts surrounding the collision, last Monday night, of the steamers Saxonia and Pentecost Mitchell, both of which were sunk near Detour, in the St. Mary's river. They report that nothing can be given out, as yet, with regard to their findings.

Liable to Heavy Fine—Automobiles are experiencing considerable trouble, of late, with broken glass and tacks which are evidently strewn along the highways purposely. A great number of slow leaks, punctures, and blow-outs have resulted from this cause, and the authorities have begun an active campaign against the offenders. A heavy fine, with the alternative of a lengthy sentence in the county jail, is the penalty.

N. S. N. Junior Reception—Plans are progressing for the reception to be given by the Normal Juniors to the Seniors, within a few weeks, in the Normal "gym." The arrangements are yet tentative, but these affairs are among the biggest social events of the school year. The date has not yet been definitely determined, although it is likely that it will occur early next month. The gymnasium will be attractively decorated, and refreshments will be served. Invitations will be issued.

Will Recruit Engineers—Sergeant Albin Beck, of the Calumet Engineers, and Andrew Sweet, of Professor W. J. Hoile's office, at the Michigan College of Mines, have arrived in Marquette to begin an active recruiting campaign for the Michigan battalion of engineers. A. B. King, of this city, who has voluntary charge of promoting interest in the battalion here, reports that there is a great deal of good material available in Marquette, and Messrs. Beck and Sweet have come to enroll the prospects, if possible. In the copper country the recruiting is going ahead very satisfactorily.

"Dummy Police" Received—Two "dummy police," designed to regulate traffic in the business districts, were received yesterday by the department of public safety. The "dummy police" are iron sign posts, standing about four feet high, and when in service, are topped with red lights. They are painted a bright red. They will be placed at the corners of Front and Washington and Third and Washington streets, to control the traffic in the vicinity of both of these corners. Considerable wiring will be necessary before the "police" can be installed, so that it is not likely that they will be put into service for several days.

INSURE WITH PETER WHITE & CO.

"WEEKLY PAYMENTS" FOR WIVES.

Generally speaking, says a writer in the May Wide World Magazine, a Soudanese is content with one wife, but the marriage laws vary considerably among the different tribes, though all have much in common. A man buys his wife, or rather gives the value agreed upon—cash in prosperous towns like Omdurman, and cattle and grain in the country. Half of the amount is usually handed over to the bride's people before marriage, and is spent on wedding festivities; the remainder is paid by installments. You get your wife, in short, on the hire-purchase system; the motto of Soudanese fathers-in-law, where eligible daughters are concerned, is evidently "weekly payments taken." The price of a wife varies considerably. In Omdurman, where the natives are well-to-do, a wife costs from seventy-five to one hundred and fifty dollars, or even more. There is no restriction upon the number of wives a man may have; a wife is regarded as so much personal property, and valued accordingly.

WELFARE CLUB TO HOLD BABY CLINICS

Local Organization Yesterday Decided to Treat Infants Every Other Week.

The activities and results obtained by the Woman's Welfare club in its work in behalf of civic betterment were outlined at the meeting of the club at the City Hall yesterday.

Mrs. Charles J. Johnson presided at the meeting and Mrs. T. B. Catlin, general chairman of the Child Welfare Exhibit, delivered a report of her work, at the conclusion of which a vote of thanks was accorded her. A vote of thanks was also tendered Mrs. Johnson and the other active leaders of the Welfare Exhibit. Through the activities of the club a baby clinic has been established under the direction of the Health Department. This clinic is to be held every other Saturday and those desiring information on this project are asked to consult Mrs. E. W. Jones. The club will purchase a pair of baby scales for the use at the clinics.

Professor O. H. Horrall, of the Normal school, read a paper on the "Food Values and the Present Day Prices." The club agreed to co-operate with the Marquette County Preparedness Commission after an outline of that organization's aims and work was given by Morgan W. Jopling.

The following resolution was adopted:

"The Woman's Welfare club takes unusual pleasure in acknowledging the gracious and generous support extended by a multitude of individuals and various organizations of the city of Marquette at the Child's Welfare exhibit held in the City Hall last month.

"The members of the club will retain pleasant and profitable recollection of the cheerful co-operation rendered by Marquette's citizens from the Mayor down to the tiniest child who in any way assisted to make the exhibit worthy of our city and helpful to the coming generation.

"The Woman's Welfare club indulges the hope and the belief that this first Child Welfare exhibit will establish a record of child conservation which will keep pace with the industrial and commercial progress of our beloved city."

WIDER CHANCES FOR WOMEN.

With the country discussing earnestly the use of women as workers in fields hitherto occupied almost exclusively by men, and with large numbers of American physicians and surgeons being called to service in France, it is natural that young women in the United States should think more than ever of the possibilities of such professions as the law and medicine. It is altogether in harmony with this tendency of the times that the doors of the professional schools of some of the universities hitherto closed to women should be opening.

Western Reserve university, here in the chief city of the Western Reserve, a stronghold of advanced and liberal thought from the earliest days, is not an hour too early in announcing that if ten or more young women qualified to enter the first year classes of either the law school or the medical college, make known their desire to do so they will be allowed to obtain the professional training they seek. All of the women who study medicine in schools of first-rate standing and well-earned prestige will be wanted to do the work left by the physicians who go to Europe for service in the war. There will be many gaps left in the ranks of the young attorneys by the departure of hundreds of lawyers for training camps and later for the battle fronts.

Here is work that women can do, as they have abundantly proved, and disregarding war conditions entirely there is no good reason why they should not have full opportunity to fit themselves for such vocations, in the professional schools of Western Reserve.—Cleveland Leader.

It is doubtful if there is any work harder than house work. Overwork tells on the kidneys, and when the kidneys are affected one looks and feels older than the actual years. Mrs. A. G. Wells, P. MANY SEEK ENTRY INTO U. S. NAVY

Fred Thoms Says Ishpeming Station Has Highest General Average in Country.

Fred Thoms, navy recruiting officer, returned here yesterday morning from a several days trip to Baraga, Quinsee and Niagara, Wis., where he examined applicants for the navy. At Baraga three out of nine applicants passed the examinations while at Niagara ten men were examined, but one of them passed. At Quinsee one man was passed being the only one to apply.

"I am pleased with the showing of the Ishpeming station for the past week," said Mr. Thoms yesterday. "Although we did not send out any great number of recruits the station stood highest in the general average through the country for the number of men accepted. Twenty-four applicants were examined here and out of that number thirteen were enlisted, which gives the Ishpeming station a percentage of over 500. The only other station that comes near to Ishpeming's mark is the one at Oskosh, Wis., where seventeen made application and nine were enlisted."

"The percentage of the local station is far better than any of the larger cities in the country, but I hope to see even a better record made here within the next few weeks. There is plenty of room in the navy and I hope that Ishpeming will be largely represented in our great fleet. So far only a few Ishpeming young men have enlisted while Negaunee has shown up surprisingly well, there being twice as many from there enlisted than from this city."

"Marquette is coming along fairly well with naval enlistments despite the fact that there is an army recruiting branch there. Two young men H. B. Lemman and Frank J. Stafford, of that city, will leave here this evening. They have enlisted in the yeomanry branch of the service, which is the clerical branch, both being stenographers. Arthur Joseph Denn, son of P. J. Denn took the examinations yesterday and was accepted and will probably leave here in a few days for Milwaukee to take the final examinations."

The following figures are from the enlistments made in some of the principle cities last week showing where Ishpeming stands in the list:

Besides the above mentioned books, possible. The individual must be both his own promoter and caretaker, but in many instances it is seen that persons are one or the other, but not both. Many have fairly good earning power, but are not caretakers. They get the money, but they do not save it. They are promoters in the matter of getting the wherewith, but the wherewith is not utilized, hence they remain poor.

Then others are caretakers. They make no ventures, but take care of the little they get. Of course they play safe, but they don't get anywhere in any large way.

The point is that each should cultivate strongly for improvement the weak point in his nature. If he does so, he can be both a promoter and a caretaker.—Superior Telegram.

Lower State Notes

FLINT—The committee on preparedness and defense has taken up with the state war bureau at Lansing, the matter of eliminating the liquor traffic from the state immediately as a precautionary measure. The action was taken on the recommendation of the sub-committee on military affairs, of which Colonel James S. Parker is chairman. It is argued that three-quarters of the special police duties devolving upon the municipalities would be eliminated thereby. In the letter to Lansing, it is explained that, while there is at present no disorder, it is the desire to prevent an outbreak, rather than be compelled to suppress it after it has occurred.

DETROIT—Representative Joseph W. Forney, Michigan member of the taxation committee which recommended the 5 per cent tax on automobile gross sales, in a letter to a Detroit, declares he is opposed to the tax, and made repeated efforts in committee to have it reduced. His letter follows: "I judge that my attitude towards the automobile industry is being misrepresented by the Detroit papers. I am opposed to the 5 per cent tax on automobiles and made repeated efforts in committee to have it reduced, but the majority was against me. In fact, I could not muster more than four votes in addition to my own of the twenty-three members of the committee. In framing the bill I urged moderation in taxes at present, contending that one year from now we would know more about our needs, and would have more information as to how the revenue could best be supplied. Congress has the power to levy taxes and there are many here who favor taking the last drop and I am sorry you have been led to believe I am one of that number. I realize that 5 per cent on gross sales might be 20 per cent or more of the capital stock and will favor any proposition to modify that tax."

LORD ASTOR LOSES.
William Waldorf Astor's petition that residential restrictions under the new zoning plan be removed from his property on Madison avenue, between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth streets, in the Murray Hill district, New York city, to permit business buildings there, has been turned down by the city. This is one of the finest residence sections of New York. Nearly is the home of Herbert P. Satterlee, brother-in-law of J. P. Morgan, the J. P. Morgan home and the Morgan library. The Murray Hill restrictions is one of the few which have withstood time and temptations of money. No price it seems can get house owners to sell their property for trade. It matters not anyway, for the restriction made in February, 1847, is strong and binding. It prohibits the use of property roughly between Madison son and Lexington avenues, Thirty-fourth and Thirty-eighth streets being used for business purposes. The defense of Murray Hill has cost millions. A few years ago the houses which stood on the northwest corner of Madison avenue and Thirty-eighth street were tumbled down by a builder ostensibly for the purpose of putting up a fine apartment. The proposed structure was not considered an intruder. When the steel work was up three tiers the builder decided not to build an apartment house, but an office building. The warning cry sounded through the district was answered by some of the richest and wisest business men in the country. Speedy action was necessary. The courts could not be got to act in time to prevent the completion of the building, so the builder was asked his price. It was paid him and the building was taken in the name of George F. Baker. The building was finished. That is, what was built was utilized and it is now known as the Professional building, being the home of doctors, dentists, and architects. It is the only business building in Murray Hill's restricted zone. This corner, too, was the only weak spot in Murray Hill's defense.

PROMOTERS AND CARE-TAKERS.

One of the magazines tells about promoters and caretakers. It says that men are divided by nature into these two classes, and that a business firm must have both kinds in its management to reach the realization of its best possibilities. If the managing membership of the concern consists only of promoters it is too venturesome, and takes chances that mean disaster sooner or later. If they are all caretakers they are too conservative and not quick enough to grasp opportunities, and therefore are left behind by competitors who are more enterprising.

The article seems to refer only to business concerns, but obviously a personal application of the points made is possible. The individual must be both his own promoter and caretaker, but in many instances it is seen that persons are one or the other, but not both. Many have fairly good earning power, but are not caretakers. They get the money, but they do not save it. They are promoters in the matter of getting the wherewith, but the wherewith is not utilized, hence they remain poor.

Then others are caretakers. They make no ventures, but take care of the little they get. Of course they play safe, but they don't get anywhere in any large way.

The point is that each should cultivate strongly for improvement the weak point in his nature. If he does so, he can be both a promoter and a caretaker.—Superior Telegram.

Colonel Dobozy at 84 Offers Life to Nation.

COL. DOBOZY.

At the age of eighty-four Colonel Peter Dobozy, of West Plains, Mo., survivor of the Hungarian insurrection of 1848-49, of the war of France and Italy against Austria, in 1859, and a veteran of the Civil war in this country, has offered his services and his life to the United States. He has asked permission of the government to establish a cavalry training station at West Plains, Mo.

Colonel Dobozy came to the United States in 1862 with two nephews of Louis Kossuth, and in 1863 organized a regiment of negro heavy artillery. After the war he became an engineer in the Ozark country and blazed the way for the old Kansas City, Fort Scott & Gulf Railway, now a part of the Frisco system.

PEANUTS TO THE TRENCHES. Sixty thousand pounds of peanuts were shipped to France last week for the soldiers to eat in the trenches, by the French Commission for Food Supplies, with instructions how to roast them over the small stoves on which they heat their coffee.

Luxuries are very scarce in the French army, where the food rations are confined to soup, army bread, beef boiled with vegetables and rice. The French soldiers do not get rations of strawberry, bacon, chocolate, fruit and other luxuries like the British Tommies.

A peanut merchant said that 500, on an average, went to a pound, which makes the shipment to France about 30,000,000 peanuts.—New York Times.

JOBBER AND FARMERS CAN'T GET SHIPMENT

Much Money Tied Up in Timber, Because of Inability to Secure Cars.

An Ishpeming man, who for several years past has done much business with farmers, timber jobbers and lumber companies in various parts of the upper peninsula, says that at no previous time in recent years have such immense quantities of timber of different kinds been piled at sidings awaiting shipment. The farmers and jobbers have an immense amount of money tied up in timber that they have cut and cannot ship. There is a good market for all grades of timber, but the buyers will not assume the responsibility of having it shipped, as the railroad companies are unable to supply all the cars needed for its transportation.

Some of the more prominent jobbers and farmers have been trying all winter to get cars, but without success. From present indications, the greater part of the timber now on the sidings will remain there for some weeks, unless the railroad companies can manage to transfer some of their cars from other districts.

One jobber on the South Shore line, between here and Duluth, has about $200,000 worth of timber on the siding, and he can sell every foot of it on short notice if he can guarantee delivery. The farmers and jobbers operated on a fairly large scale last winter, with a view of taking advantage of the increased prices and they are now greatly disappointed because they cannot ship their outputs.

If the jobbers could ship their timber they could do a great deal toward increasing their farm outputs this summer. Many say they depended on selling the timber to get cash to put into their farms, but they are now unable to increase their farming operations.

Among the timber to be found on the sidings are pine logs, cedar ties and posts, pulp wood, mine lagging and cord wood. There is a great deal of cord wood cut and ready for shipment, but dealers in many parts of the upper peninsula have had much difficulty during the past six or eight months keeping enough wood on hand to supply the trade.

WATER PIPES FROZEN.

William Welander, superintendent of the board of public works, stated that the water pipes leading to the fountain in the city square are frozen and in order to secure water at the present time it would be necessary to dig up the streets for a considerable distance and as the street was recently macadamized he thought it would be better to allow the pipes to thaw out.

WARNING TO GARDENERS.

Large areas of land will be planted in sod for years. There is always great danger of sod land being infested with cutworms, and these are not usually looked for until after the damage has been done.

Cutworms are the larvae of several species of moths, but as the life histories are similar they can all be classed as "cutworms." The eggs are laid in late summer and the larvae winter over in the ground. They come to the surface in the spring and are exceedingly hungry. When the sod has not been disturbed there is plenty of food in the grass and weeds, but where the sod has been plowed under and there is no food until the crops are planted they often destroy nearly the entire planting.

Fortunately the cutworms can easily be poisoned with what is known as "bram mash," and this should be used this spring in all sod ground which is plowed under.

"Bram mash" is made by taking twenty-five to thirty pounds of bran, one pound white arsenic, six lemons, one quart molasses. Thoroughly mix the arsenic with the bran; chop or grind the lemons very fine, rind and all, and mix with the bran. Then dilute the molasses with two or three gallons of water and mix this in thoroughly. The mixture should be moist without being sloppy.

Cutworms feed at night and hide during the day, and if this poisoned bait is placed under boards in the fields the worm will find and eat it, or it can be drilled in rows or scattered broadcast. It should not be scattered on top of the ground if chickens can get to the field, as it will kill chickens.

This mash is also an excellent control for grasshoppers, and should be used wherever there is danger from the pest.

WORMS HANDICAP YOUR CHILD. Worms drain the strength and vitality of children, making them dull and listless. Their power to resist more serious diseases is reduced and energy and interest in play is lacking. Kickapoo Worm Killer is a mildly laxative remedy in candy tablet form that children like to take. It kills and removes the worms and lets your child grow strong and healthy like other children. Don't let your child be dragged down by worms. Full directions on the box. At all druggists, 25c.—Adv.

THE SERVICE OF THE FARMS.

Secretary Houston of the government department of agriculture is exerting himself assiduously to promote as far as possible the fullest supply of farm products this year that is attainable. He has been holding a conference out in St. Louis for devising ways and means for advancing the object. The conference is considering recommendations to congress for helpful legislation. There are suggestions about guaranteeing minimum prices and minimum wages, securing banking support to furnish money for farming operations, increasing acreage for different crops, improving methods of cultivation and so on.

How much can be done or wisely attempted by government action to increase agricultural production and lower its cost is doubtful, but it is quite legitimate to exert the utmost influence for securing results by private effort. Official investigations, instruction and supervision are desirable so far as they can be used to obtain practical results. There is serious danger this year of insufficient production of foodstuffs, but it is a difficult matter to deal with directly by government authority. There is every reason why the United States should do its utmost this year. There is no danger of overproduction.

We shall have our people to feed and be called upon to supply a good deal of foodstuffs to England and France.

DON'T PLANT IMMATURE POTATOES

Farmers in the Northeastern states are warned not to plant newly harvested potatoes, especially the small, immature stock now coming from the South, in a statement issued May 11, by the United States department of agriculture. Under the influence of the high price and unusual demand for seed potatoes, these immature stocks, it is learned, are being offered for planting. Newly harvested potatoes, whether dug in the early spring, summer, or autumn, the department specialists state, do not germinate until after undergoing a certain rest period, and results are sure to be disappointing. Germination may be delayed six weeks or more, and in any case will be uneven and the stand imperfect. The grower, therefore, is warned not to purchase such seed, as more or less serious financial loss will be sure to result if he plants it.

$150,000 DAMAGE IN RYAN ESTATE FIRE

Origin of Conflagration Which Destroyed Large Business Block Unknown.

Calumet was visited Thursday night by the most disastrous fire in the history of the village, when the Ryan estate building on Fifth street, occupied by Gartner Bros. and formerly the home of the Glass Block Store Co. was completely destroyed.

This was Red Jacket's third bad fire within ten days and occurred on the eve of the anniversary of the fire which wiped out the town 47 years ago.

The conflagration was spectacular and it was at the same time very thorough, burning through the 18 inch thick walls which fell in, and melting the steel beams, holding up the floors.

Dickinson County Lumbermen.

Felch township has more lumbermen and jobbers than the balance of Dickinson county combined—nearly. These lumbermen were unusually active during the past season, says the Iron Mountain Press. Despite the high price of labor and camp provisions, the season was the most successful and profitable in many years. With the assistance of one of our readers, whose word can be depended upon, the Press has been enabled to compile a nearly complete list of operators and their inputs. The total input of logs was 8,700,000 feet. Following is a list of the operators with their inputs and place of landing: At Metropolitan—John Blomquist, 800,000 feet of logs, 1,700 poles, 6,300 ties, 11,000 posts and 150 cords of pulpwood; Matt Blomquist, 600,000 feet of logs, 1,000 poles, 7,000 ties, also some posts and pulpwood; Eric J. Johnson, 650,000 feet of logs, 1,000 poles, 7,000 ties, 1,000 posts, 7,000 cords of pulpwood; Matt Johnson, 700,000 feet of logs, 2,500 ties and some posts and pulpwood; Jacob Blomquist, 225,000 feet of logs; Charles Solberg, Jr., 30,000 feet of logs, 1,700 ties, 200 cords of pulpwood and 7,000 posts. At Marble quarry—Blomquist Brothers, 900,000 feet of logs, 1,000 poles, some ties and pulpwood; John Davidson, 500,000 feet of logs and other products; John Wickman 400,000 feet of logs. Backlund Brothers and Andrew Mattson landed about 800,000 feet of logs and several thousand ties and posts at the Calumet mine. Andrew Rian, John Isaacson and Matt Willman operated in the Brown's Lake district. The input was about 2,500,000 feet. The timber was sold to the Morgan Lumber & Cedar company. Werner and C. O. Carlson landed 300,000 feet of logs at Ward on the Escanaba & Lake Superior road.

Condition Still Serious.

The condition of Joseph Bossibeau and Leo Bunno, two victims of Wednesday's explosion on the east end of Brady pier at the Soo, have not improved and physicians cannot say whether they will live. Although suffering acutely from the shock, George Lawrence, of the United States Coast Guard, and Frank Buvia, employed by the Oscar Daniels company, will probably recover. At the investigations of the explosion by the coroner's jury Lester W. Smith, the first witness called, told of receiving the order to take away rubbish, ashes and dynamite cases from the Haller block. "I met Guy Kemp, the janitor of the Haller block, Tuesday, shortly before noon, and I told him I would send a wagon to the Haller block early Wednesday morning," he said. "Kemp jokingly said there would be some Fourth of July cakes to be taken away. He did not mention explosives nor did he say there was anything dangerous which he wanted carried away. Mr. Haller stood beside Mr. Kemp, close enough to hear the conversation, but he said nothing." Joseph Wade, who has been working on the Haller block, which is undergoing repairs, saw Robert Gray, Leo Bunno and John Parr moving the boxes containing the torpedo caps out of the building. He heard Kemp remark they were Fourth of July fire crackers, but did not hear the janitor caution the men of their contents, he said in testimony. Mr. Wade was not there all the time that the boxes were being loaded on the wagon. "I explained to Mr. Smith, when I arranged with him to take them away, that they were torpedo caps which would explode," Mr. Kemp testified. "I told him they were used in cakes and used on the Fourth of July. I particularly cautioned him not to let the contents of the garbage grounds burn them." A burst of flame that shot thirty feet into the air, a blast of wind that would have blown him from the Perry Coal company dock, several hundred feet from the scene of the accident, had he not clung to a coal derrick, a terrific report, and then a shower of coal dust which blinded him, was the description given of the explosion by William Frazer, longshoreman employed by the Perry Coal company. Major Wilson, of Fort Brady, who has been giving valuable assistance to the jury reported that every pound of dynamite sold by the Soo Hardware company in the course of a year he had accounted for on the books of the company receiving it. This was done to ascertain whether the dynamite had been purchased and hidden under the dock. R. G. Ferguson gave the names of persons buying dynamite from the Soo Hardware this year. The Soo Hardware is the only company that sells dynamite in the Soo, as it has the only powder house necessary to store it in.

How Wilson's Message Was Sent Over German Lines.

In order that the German soldiers might be correctly informed regarding the entry of the United States into the world war, and its reason for so doing, the French had President Wilson's great message to congress translated into German and distributed over the German lines in France. This photograph shows the printed speeches being tied to a balloon.

NEGAUNEE YOUNG MEN GIVEN PROMOTION

Those Who Enlisted in Army or Navy Given Advancement Rapidly.

Negaunee young men who have enlisted in the army and navy are rapidly gaining advancement and many of them will probably be holding important posts by the time that actual warfare opens with Germany. William Hill, son of Charles Hill, Park street business man, who was one of the first Negaunee boys to enlist in the navy, is now a drill master at the Great Lakes training station at Great Lakes, Ill. Mr. Hill left here in company with William Roberts and Leonard Nemi, who are now at sea on one of Uncle Sam's battleships.

"I am still at the training station and am now a drill master and have a company of 110 recruits under me," writes Hill to a Negaunee friend. "I was to have been transferred to a battleship, but was taken sick and was unable to leave the training station when the time came. Now I expect to go in about three months."

"I have not seen Eddie Musro yet, but maybe he is not here. If he were it would probably be hard to find him for a few days anyway as there are about 16,000 recruits here at present. Many, however are being sent to other stations as we are crowded for room. Musro may have gone somewhere else as I learned that he passed the examination."

"We certainly are treated fine here and every fellow at the station enjoys the life. I am sorry that I did not enlist before so that I would have a few more years to my credit. We get plenty of time to ourselves although we work pretty hard. We are allowed to go Chicago when we get off and we all go in a bunch. Last week a bunch of boys from the station got in a mix up with some Germans in Chicago and before it was over the Germans were a pretty tame outfit. It seems that some of the Kaiser's subjects in Chicago have it in for us sailors and every time some of our fellows go to the city they insult us. Last week the boys were ready for them and I do not think we will be targets for their abuse any more as they realize by now that they will have to get up earlier than we do to clean us up."

Edward Beaulieu, who joined the army a few weeks ago, has completed his preliminary training at Jefferson Barracks and left there a few days ago with a company of 500 other soldiers for the Mexican border. Mr. Beaulieu, who is thirty-six years old, has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Beaulieu, that he is well satisfied with the treatment in the army and is sorry that he did not enlist before.

BUILDS BIG PUMP FOR LOCAL PROPERTY

Prescott Company, of Menominee, Fills Contract for the Breitung Hematite.

The Menominee Herald-Leader tells of a visit paid by the members of the Commercial club at that city to the Prescott company's plant to inspect a huge pump built for the Breitung Hematite mine. One hundred and fifty men visited the plant.

"The trip was made at the invitation of President Fred M. Prescott of the company for the purpose of viewing the completed triple expansion pump made in Menominee for the Breitung Hematite mine at Negaunee, which is one of the largest, if not the largest, underground pumps in the world," the Herald-Leader says.

"This great machine occupied a place of honor in the center of the main shop of the Prescott company, where it was viewed by the business men with commendable pride in Menominee's achievement."

"The big pump is unusually large one of this type, designed for underground service and built to deliver 1,500 gallons of water per minute from a depth of one thousand feet. A little figuring will impress on the lay mind what a great feat this is."

"The machine is a triple expansion, steam driven, of great efficiency and will carry its tremendous load with a comparatively low steam pressure. It is forty-two feet long and complete with its air pump and condenser, weighs seventy-five tons. The engine has sixteen-inch high pressure steam cylinders and forty-two-inch low pressure cylinders, with eleven-inch plungers of thirty-six strokes. It has two twelve-inch suction openings and the discharge pipe that runs the entire distance to the surface will be twelve inches in diameter."

"It is not only the largest underground machine in the Lake Superior country, but one of the largest that has ever been built in this country or abroad."

Group Picture Taken.

"After the visitors had studied the great pump and had its mysteries explained by officials of the company, they adjourned to the porch of the main office building where a large group picture was taken by L. C. Clapp."

"The Messrs. Prescott were heartily congratulated and the visitors all expressed pride in this achievement."

DRIVER JUMPS WHEN TRAIN HITS TRUCK

Fred Lacombe Narrowly Escapes Death in Smash-Up—Machine Completely Demolished.

Fred Lacombe, driver of the delivery truck owned by John Siegel, grocer, narrowly escaped serious injury or death last evening at about 6:45 o'clock when an ore train struck the machine squarely in the center, at the foot of the Third street hill, dragging the truck for about fifty feet and completely wrecking it.

"I was just returning to work, from supper," Lacombe said after the accident, "and was driving about twenty miles an hour. Just as I was about fifty yards from the truck I saw a friend of mine on the right hand side of the street, and turned slightly to wave at him. When I turned my head again I saw the flagman coming out of his shanty with his flag, which was still rolled up. At the same time, I saw the ore train near the crossing, coming east, but hadn't heard the engine's bell before that time. I knew I couldn't stop before I reached the tracks, and that I couldn't speed up quick enough to get over in front of the train, so I jumped, and just as I did I heard the crash."

Bystanders declared that Lacombe was driving at a moderate rate of speed.

The body, top and frame-work of the truck is a complete wreck, only the engine and the chassis remaining, the latter badly battered up. Bits of broken wood and glass were scattered in all directions, the four wheels were torn loose and thrown several feet away, and even the steering wheel was torn from the post and hurled aside. The top was tipped off, and split into several pieces while not a fender remained on the chassis.

That Lacombe escaped unharmed is considered by witnesses to be miraculous, for he had no sooner jumped than the pieces of the truck were seen flying in all directions.

This is the first serious accident this year, and although evidently the blame cannot be placed upon any one individual it is pointed out by the authorities as a warning to all motorists to exercise the utmost care in approaching the railroad tracks that the possibility of accidents may be eliminated.

NAVAL HERO TO GIVE ANTI-SALOON ADDRESS

Capt. Pearson Hobson Is Secured for Talk in Presbyterian Church May 31.

Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, a naval hero of the Spanish-American war, will give an anti-liquor address in the Presbyterian church Thursday night, May 31, according to an announcement made yesterday.

Captain Hobson's fame dates back to the sinking of the Merrimac, in Santiago harbor, during the war with Spain. Volunteering to take command of the crew which went forth to accomplish this perilous task, which bottled up in the harbor the fleet of Cervera, Captain Hobson's name has become familiar to almost every American household. The heroism of his act made this great naval commander known and honored throughout the country.

At the conclusion of the Spanish-American war Captain Hobson resigned from the navy, to assist in the struggle for a larger sea force, in preparation for a war which he believed to be inevitable. It is now declared that had his advice been heeded, America would today possess a fleet which would put quite at rest any fears regarding supremacy of the seas, during these troublous times.

Captain Hobson later became the congressional leader in the struggle for national prohibition. He is famous as the author of the Hobson resolution, which favors national constitutional prohibition. He is now devoting his entire time to the cause of prohibition, under the direction of the national anti-saloon league. Captain Hobson comes to Marquette largely through the efforts of Dr. E. V. Claypool, superintendent of the upper peninsula Anti-Saloon league, and the announcement of the naval hero's visit to this city has aroused great interest.

Besides emphasizing the necessity for national prohibition Captain Hobson will talk on the present international situation. It is asked that no children under fourteen years of age be brought to the meeting, as it is anticipated that the attendance will far surpass the capacity of the church.

HAVE YOU JOINED?

QUESTION—WHERE CAN I JOIN THE RED CROSS?

Answer—At the Red Cross Shop, Knights of Pythias' building; Desjardins' Drug store, Stafford's Drug store, Willisen's News depot.

QUESTION—WHAT IS NECESSARY TO JOIN RED CROSS?

Answer—Hand in your dues at any of the above named places and have your name and address recorded.

QUESTION—HOW DO I KNOW THAT I AM A MEMBER?

Answer—You will receive a Red Cross Button and a receipt from the treasurer of the Chapter.

QUESTION—WHAT ARE MY DUTIES AS A MEMBER?

Answer—In paying your dues you have discharged your full obligation. Nothing more is compulsory. If you feel so disposed you will be given an opportunity to do relief work by making supplies, sewing, knitting, etc., or making financial donations.

QUESTION—WHEN WILL THESE VOLUNTARY DUTIES BEGIN?

Answer—Much has already been done and more will be done as the war progresses. Enormous supplies of hospital goods must be furnished and placed in the store rooms of Red Cross supply depots. These will be used when needed.

EXPLANATION—The Marquette Red Cross workers hope to raise 3,000 members by Monday night, when the active campaign ends. After that there will be much work to be done. Classes will be formed for voluntary service under supervision of Mrs. Frank G. Jenks, head of hospital supply committee, and Mrs. M. K. Reynolds, head of the committee for supplies for fighting men.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE IS NEARING CLOSE

Local Chapter of Red Cross Confident That 5,000 Mark Will Be Reached by Monday.

"Where is your Red Cross button?" If you can't display it when that question is put, it will be in order, without display, to become a member of the Marquette Chapter of the Red Cross, which is now conducting a "drive" throughout the city. The campaign will close Monday night.

"We are well pleased with the results thus far obtained," said Miss Ada Mapes, head of the membership committee, yesterday, "but we still have a big job ahead of us. We are depending, largely, on the results today, tomorrow and Monday. Other cities, smaller and possessing less wealth, comparatively, than Marquette, have chapters numbering 5,000 and over.

Ward committees will call at every home in the city, and window cards will be left with all those taking memberships, in order that all may know of the homes which are contributing to this worthy cause.

Is Doing Great Work.

The last statement issued by the Red Cross indicates wonderful progress in relief work in various parts of the world. From August 8, 1914, to September 30, 1916, the American Red Cross received contributions for European war relief amounting to $2,144,908.17, and disbursed $2,007,584.82, leaving a balance on September 30, of $137,323.35. Since that time additional amounts have been received and other expenditures made.

During the first months of the war, the Red Cross devoted itself entirely to military relief. Its greatest work involved the sending of hospital units, each consisting of three surgeons and twelve nurses, to Austria-Hungary, Belgium, England, France, Germany, Russia and Serbia. For the first terrible year of the war while the resources of the belligerent nations were being taxed beyond capacity, these doctors and nurses worked among the wounded, operating military hospitals of over three hundred beds each. The military authorities of each country utilized these units to their fullest extent, and, often in emergency, far beyond their normal capacities.

The approximate cost of these sixteen expeditions was $352,000. This does not include the constant stream of hospital supplies sent for their use.

When the typhus epidemic swept Serbia, Dr. Richard P. Strong headed a sanitary expedition to that stricken nation. The success of the expedition, fighting against desperate odds, is a bright page in the history of this war. The expedition was financed jointly by the Red Cross and the Rockefeller foundation.

The approximate cost of this expedition was $180,000. Until Rumania entered the war, Red Cross agents were able to ship large quantities of food supplies across the Rumanian border by way of Hungary to Belgrade. At the end of August, 318 car-loads had been delivered to feed the starving both in Serbia's capital and in the interior. Other supplies were sent into Serbia from the United States and Switzerland.

The approximate cost of this relief was $120,000. Red Cross representatives are now in Greece, with emergency relief funds for use in southern Serbia. A preliminary shipment of relief supplies for distribution by these representatives is now on route.

COAST GUARD CUTTER MARIGOLD IN PORT

Arrives Here After All-Night Stay in Ice Near Granite Rock—Ice Conditions Still Bad.

After lying all of Wednesday night fast in the ice behind Granite Rock, the U. S. coast guard cutter Marigold arrived in Marquette harbor Thursday night. The cutter left Houghton Wednesday afternoon, about 1 o'clock, with the tender and crew for the Granite Rock lighthouse.

The crew reports that ice conditions in Lake Superior, between Whitefish Bay and Duluth, are still very bad. Very slow progress was made, as shown by the time required to run between Houghton and Marquette. While the field has broken up considerably, affording the smaller craft channels through which to force their way, huge fields of wind-trowed ice still dot the steamship route between Whitefish Bay and Duluth, making navigation difficult. The greatest danger, it is pointed out, is that of breaking the "buckets," or propeller blades, and the rudders.

Boats Are Loading. The Peter White and the Ishpeming are now loading ore at the L. S. & I. docks, and the J. H. Bartow is waiting, tight, in the slip, for a position at the docks. The Grand Island is unloading coal at Pickands, and is expected at the L. S. & I. dock, for ore, some time today. The Munising is waiting to unload coal.

Minor repairs are being made on all of these steamers, mainly to the propellers and rudders, which were somewhat damaged in the fight with the wind-trowed ice. The crews of the vessels used to good advantage the long period spent in the ice field of Black Rocks in painting the boats.

The harbor is now filled with broken ice, but it is likely that the Ishpeming and the Peter White will clear for lower lake ports tonight or tomorrow. Wide stretches of open water appear outside the harbor, and almost as far as the eye can reach the field is rapidly breaking up.

Theatrical

Delft Theater.

"The Hidden Children," with Harold Lockwood and May Allison in the leading role, will be the feature at the Delft today.

"The Hidden Children" is a powerful story of Revolutionary days, laying special stress on the struggles of the early colonists with the Six Nations of the Iroquois Confederacy. It is a play that will arouse patriotism, describing as it does in intimate detail the heavy odds against which the founders of the nation battled.

The story of "The Hidden Children" takes its hero, the Indian scout, Egan Lockiel (Harold Lockwood) and his heroine, Little Lois de Contrecoeur (May Allison), with Morgan's riflemen through dangerous ways into the very heart of the territory of hostile Indians at Cath-

At The Opera House.

Mary Pickford will be seen this afternoon and evening at the opera house in the Arterart production "A Poor Little Rich Girl."

Never was a picture so fitted to Miss Pickford, seldom is there seen a picture with such lavishness of beautiful settings as the conservatory with its lily pond and spraying fountains, immense display of plants and all kinds of birds. These are the things that surround Gwendolyn and yet she is unhappy. Why? She goes to ride with a nurse, she is taught by her governess, she is kissed good night by one of the maids, she is not allowed to meet any of the people that are invited to because it is her birthday, in fact she sees her parents about once a day and that is merely formal. Would you wonder that anyone became sick. Maybe the sickness was a blessing in disguise in this case but do we all have to wait for sickness to tell us that we are not doing the right thing by our children?
