Manistiquette, Michigan

Top O' Lake's family tradition continues

In the 41 years that Ted Hentschell Sr. has owned and operated the Top O' Lake Sport and Gift Shop, it has always been a family affair. Ted Sr. and his wife Doris have seen each of their six children work at the store at one time or another.

Even though Ted Sr., 65, retired on Jan. 1, the store on South Cedar Street in downtown Manistiquette will stay in the family, as the Hentschells' youngest son, Ted II, has taken over.

"He really wanted to get started," said Ted Sr. of Top O' Lake's new owner, who has worked at the shop for 18 years.

"I'm proud to keep the business in the family," added Ted Sr.

In over four decades at the same location, Ted Sr. has witnessed many changes in downtown Manistiquette.

"There were many more stores 41 years ago," he said. "There were grocery, hardware, and barber shops, and several sporting goods shops have come and gone over the years, too."

Ted Sr. added that, before the Mackinac Bridge was built in the mid-1950's, tourists and hunters would arrive in Manistiquette in large groups a few hours after each ferry landed at St. Ignace.

"There weren't all those convenience stores along the highway," he said. "We were the next stop after St. Ignace."

He has also noticed major differences in merchandising since the store began.

"There is no longer an emphasis on salesmen," he said. "Now they use fax and high tech merchandising. We have been keeping up with this high-tech type of merchandising, too."

Ted Sr. added that no major changes are expected in store operations now that his son has taken over.

Likewise, Ted Sr. said that he will continue to be active in local organizations.

"I'm not leaving town for good," he said.

Ted Sr. is, however, leaving for a three month vacation in Florida in mid-January, a trip he has made for the past few winters. As in the past, he is leaving the keys to the store with his son.

After 41 years as owner and operator of Top O' Lake Sport and Gift Shop in Manistiquette, Ted Hentschell Sr. hands the keys to his son, Ted II.

Subscribers oppose new cable channels

Schoolcraft County Bresnan Communications customers, already facing a 5 percent increase in 1993 rates, opposed the addition of new channels that would have cost them an extra $95 per month.

Bresnan conducted a mail survey of its customers to determine their interest in the new channels in November 1992.

As a result, Lifeline Service will be $7 per month, the Broadcast Service package will be $9-35 per month, the Budget Service package will go to $20.50, and the 31 channel Full Service package will be at $22.85 per month, an increase of about $1.

"We proposed adding Sci-Fi Channel, Court TV, Comedy Central, and the Cartoon Network to the Full Service Packages," said John Dagenais, Bresnan's Upper Peninsula Area Manager.

"We're interested enough in them to justify the added costs."

Dagenais noted that the increase in Bresnan's operating costs includes programming fees that the company must play to cable networks, which have increased higher than the rate of inflation for the past several years.

"Even though our operating expenses have increased 6.9 percent during the past year, we've managed to hold the necessary rate adjustment to 5 percent," said Dagenais. "We'll continue to make every effort to limit our overall costs without sacrificing quality customer and technical service."

"I also see a community beginning to take pride in itself; a community taking a close look at its flaws and attempting to fix them; a community realizing its worth and potential. Projects such as the DDA's Boardwalk have put a new spirit of enthusiasm in the residents of our community. Projects such as the City and County's MSHDA home rehab grant have helped more than 30 homeowners make repairs to their homes and helped six people purchase homes in the County. Thompson election Tuesday

A special election will be held Tuesday, Jan. 12 in Thompson Township, as residents will vote upon a proposal to increase the millage for purchase of a water tanker truck for the township's volunteer fire department.

Polls at the Thompson Township Hall will open at 7 a.m. and will remain open until 8 p.m. on Tuesday. To be eligible for the election, Thompson residents must have registered to vote by December 14, 1992.

The proposed water tanker truck is estimated to cost $95,000 and will replace the old and unreliable tanker currently in use, according to Township Administrator Volante J. Department officials.

With approval of the residents of Thompson Township, the Township will levy an amount of taxes which may be assessed against their limitation on the amount of taxes which may be assessed against their property would be raised a maximum of 1.5 mills ($1.50 on each property) for 1993 through 1995 to fund the purchase of the truck.

At 8:15 a.m. Wednesday, a caravan of four Michigan Department of Corrections vehicles leave Camp Manistiquette. The vans were transporting Special Alternative Incarceration (SAI) trainees to the Cassidy Lake SAI facility in downstate Chelsea.

Camp changes to staging facility

After much speculation, Camp Manistiquette is changing from an Special Alternative Incarceration (SAI) 90 day "boot camp" to an experimental pre-SAI staging facility.

"We are in the process of transferring out," said Deputy Warden John Norrington Tuesday.

And the rest of the trainees should be moved by later this week.

This week's transfer process involves moving the 52 Camp Manistiquette SAI trainees to the downstate Cassidy Lake SAI facility near Chelsea.

Norrington said that pre-SAI trainees are expected to begin arriving at Camp Manistiquette next week.

"They met the criteria for the SAI program, but they are awaiting the judge's approval to enter the boot camp," said Norrington of the pre-SAI trainees.

He added that the exact number of trainees that will be in the staging program is not yet known.

"It's up in the air. The number I was given was 28 for starters, the number told to the staff was reduced to 20. Initially, we're supposed to have low numbers, but it's unpredictable," said Norrington.

While the boot camp program formerly operating at Camp Manistiquette held trainees for 90 days, the pre-SAI program will hold potential trainees for different lengths of time as they await court approval.

"The length of stay will vary," said Norrington. "It could be one week, most will be six weeks, and it could be longer."

Norrington also said that the SAI guidelines was altered a bit to accommodate the potential trainees. "It will still be strict, but not as intense of a program," he said.

Acting Department of Corrections (DOC) SAI Administrator Bruce Curtis agreed Tuesday, saying that the program would be "basically the same, but pre-SAI will be allowed to talk quietly at meals, they'll have a little more free time, they'll be able to call home, though the daily structure will be identical to the boot camp."

In December, Norrington indicated that the work crews would continue under the staging program as they did when the regular SAI was at Camp Manistiquette.

"As the new program is similar to the 90 day boot camp formerly at Camp Manistiquette, Curtis said that the DOC does not anticipate that any layoffs of staff will take place.

"If the numbers go up beyond 120, there is a possibility that hiring will take place," said Curtis. "There is no guarantee. We are being as optimistic as we can, but we don't want to build any false hopes."

City Manager Alan Houser said Tuesday that he considered the decision to switch to a staging facility to be the "lesser of two evils."

"Obviously, our first desire was to maintain the facility as SAI," said Houser. "We hoped that the DOC and the judicial system would figure out why there weren't enough warm bodies and address that problem instead of closing a program that is so valuable. Our second preference was for it to be a staging facility, which is as close as we can get to keeping SAI."

The transition at Camp Manistiquette is a result of the Michigan Department of Corrections' downsizing of the boot camp program due to a lack of participants.

Whereas three sites, including Manistiquette, Chelsea, and Camp Sauble near Manistiquette were originally slated to house SAI trainees, Cassidy Lake will now run the only 90 day program for trainees in the state. Camp Sauble is currently a minimum security prison.

DOC Deputy Director of Field Operations Administration Robert Steinman notified Houser on Dec. 23, 1992 that Camp Manistiquette would begin functioning as a staging facility in January. The DOC had discussed the staging facility as well as other options

CCDPW discusses closure plan funding

The City of Manistiquette and the City County Department of Public Works (CCDPW) may have to spend $182,500 in landfill closure study costs this year, according to the schedule outlined in a "Scope of Work" document prepared by engineering experts.

The CCDPW held a special meeting Tuesday night to discuss the document and how funds would be raised to follow its schedule.

No action on the document was taken during the meeting, however.

Hiawatha Township Supervisor and CCDPW member Tom Kitzman said that the decision of whether or not to send McNamee's Scope of Work document to the DNR is for City Council to decide at its meeting on Monday.

"The only commitment we have is to try to assist with funding, and we can only commit the finances we have at hand."

CCDPW Chairman Robert Lentz told the board of a discussion he had with City Manager and CCDPW member Alan Houser concerning the Scope of Work costs. "We agreed that there is no way we could come up with $182,500 in a year. We'd be fortunate to come up with half of that."

Lentz added that the engineering estimate was only for the plan for the closure. He said that the actual complete closure could total $10 million if area soil and groundwater is contaminated.

Houser, who injured his ankle two weeks ago, was unable to attend the meeting.

"Weren't we originally told that it would be $30,000 or $40,000 to get this going?" asked Gernafek Township Supervisor and CCDPW member Omer Doran. "Now it's $182,500?"

"This is a decision for the City Council to undertake," he said. "The only commitment we have is to try to assist with funding, and we can only commit the finances we have at hand."

MRI plans to implement recycling program in 30 days

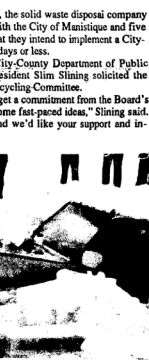

A Schoolcraft County recycling program may become reality before spring.

Manistiquette Rentals, Inc. (MRI), the solid waste disposal company that holds an exclusive contract with the City of Manistiquette and five townships, announced Tuesday that they intend to implement a City-County recycling system in thirty days or less.

At a special meeting of the City-County Department of Public Works (CCDPW), MRI Vice President Sigmund Slining solicited the participation of the CCDPW's Recycling Committee.

"If we could, we would like to get a commitment from the Board's Recycling Committee to look at some fast-paced ideas," Slining said. "We're going ahead with this, and we'd like your support and involvement."

Community leaders reflect upon various 1992 events

Editor's note: As part of our year end coverage, we asked community leaders to reflect upon the issues that affected our area last year. Their responses are listed in alphabetical order.

Linda Armock, Director, Schoolcraft County Economic Development Corporation

As I look back at 1992, I see a community pulling together with a cooperative attitude to face the challenges of the future. Cooperation between city and county government officials and organizations, cooperation between the school board and area residents, cooperation among volunteers for numerous projects - this is what will help our community progress as we confront the changes to come.

I also see a community beginning to take pride in itself; a community taking a close look at its flaws and attempting to fix them; a community realizing its worth and potential. Projects such as the DDA's Boardwalk have put a new spirit of enthusiasm in the residents of our community. Projects such as the City and County's MSHDA home rehab grant have helped more than 30 homeowners make repairs to their homes and helped six people purchase homes in the County. Projects such as the industrial park complex have helped over 45 area residents find much-needed employment.

1993 will need a continuation of this cooperative attitude. The many changes ahead, including a new president, will make the new year one of many challenges. Projects such as the Brewery Dam repair, Phase II of the multi-purpose building, the landfill/garbage/recycling effort, the uncertainty of the SAI building; all these efforts will be successful if the unity and harmony continue.

The EDC plans to continue its effort of improving the quality of life for residents of Schoolcraft County. Continuation of the MSHDA home rehab program and expansion of the industrial park complex will help provide better housing and jobs within the community. Continued assistance to people hoping to start or expand a business in the area will not only help the tax base and provide employment, but will also help residents spend their dollars locally. We also plan to continue aggressively seeking sources of funding for projects in our community. And we plan to continue our cooperation with the City and County government and the various organizations throughout the community in an effort to make 1993 a successful and prosperous year.

Christ Geneser, President and General Manager, Manistiquette Papers, Inc.

1992 has been the worst year in the newsprint industry since the great depression. Over-expansion of manufacturing facilities has resulted in a serious supply imbalance. Also, shift by advertisers to other media, and a long-term decline in readership have brought about the permanent closure of many metropolitan daily newspapers.

Financial losses in the newsprint industry alone have exceeded one billion dollars over the last 12 months. The net result has been the permanent closure of a number of mills and paper machines in North America.

Manistiquette Papers has survived for a number of reasons. Our dedicated local workforce provides the mill's customers with high quality products and responsive service. Manistiquette was a pioneer in recycling technology and has supplied our customers 100 percent recycled paper since 1984. We have worked diligently to diversify into other paper markets to protect the mill's employees and our community from economic downturns. Through continued expansion and improvement, we strive to stay ahead of our competition by using state-of-the-art equipment and procedures.

Modern, first-class, state-of-the-art facilities can compete and prosper. In contrast, less modern competitors are forced out of business. Thus, we are continuing to review plans for expansion.

We take pride that we have had no layoffs in the last 10 years, and have been able to add new people to our workforce consistently over the last few years. Manistiquette has a positive community attitude that provides a simple of support and cooperation.

With the continuing support of our customers, employees and our community, we look forward to 1993, hopeful that our industry will return to prosperity.

The weather information is provided from data collected by the staff at the Manistiquette Waste Water Treatment Plant for the week beginning Wednesday, December 30, 1992.

Well, you have to say one thing for the U.P., we can have any kind of weather anytime of the year. From frost all year around to rain in January. With the weather like we have been having you really want to be careful going out on the ice. One of the real problems is the run off from the rain and melting snow. This water can come into a lake under the ice and wear the ice thin from the under side. When this happens you cannot tell that the ice is bad until the water comes through and this may be too late.

They have been doing pretty good on perch out on Indian Lake. This weather change may also change that, but some crews were getting 70-80 nice perch. They are also getting some walleye and pike, but be careful in going where they are catching these.

I will see some ice fishing shanties heading for the lake without a name and address on all four sides. Remember they have to have your name and address on them.

I guess if you are reading this you made it through the holidays. If you are like me more of you made it through the holidays then went into the holiday period. About five pounds more, but it is my sister's fault. She is too good of a cook. I have to tell this one last holiday story. There are still those who do not realize how important it is to own a pickup in the U.P. In fact, there are those who would take a little Geo. two teenage boys, plus Mom and Dad out to get a Christmas tree. Now those people who build cars now-a-days never lived up here, therefore, they made them all round and smooth with no place to hook a rope when you get a deer Christmas tree. But if you are originally from Ontonagon and have a degree from that school in Marquette, where there's a will there's a way.

First of all you find a nice fat tree. They always are bigger than they appear when you look for one. You bring it out to the Geo and with the help of the two boys throw it on top of the roof. You have brought a lot of rope so you tie one end to the tree and then run it through the window, inside the car and out the other side window back around the tree. Now you don't want to have the tree blow off so you make sure it is well secured, through the windows, through the inside of the car, up over the roof, around the tree, then tie it off. The four of you step back and look at a job well done. There is no way this Christmas tree is going to come loose, to fall off this car. Now if only someone had been standing there with their video camera, for there is one problem. Mom, Dad, and the two boys are standing outside the car, looking at the tree tied on the roof, through the windows, that therefore tied the doors shut! Now I'm sure the two boys had no problem finding their way into a little Geo through a door window, but they never told me where Mom and Dad rode to get home.

There are plans being made to hold a snowmobile safety class sometime at the end of the month. There will be a notice put out as to the date and time. Usually it is held on a Saturday morning.

Lakeside School third grade teacher Linda Curran congratulates Rachel James (l) and Ashley Thielman (r) who were winners in the VFW Auxiliary safety contest.

ain, dropping the second to Calumet 5-1, and the third to tournament runner-up Marquette-CWA 4-1. Marquette McDonald's took the tournament championship.

At home with Sarah

by Sarah Bignall

Do you remember years ago when our grandmothers made their own bread and a bread bowl was often seen raising on a radiator or heater? They saved the potato water from dinner the night before and you knew then that bread would be made the next day. This recipe was given to me by a good friend of my mother-in-law and is the best rye bread that I have ever eaten. I've had this recipe for over 30 years and still can't make it as good as I remember it to be!

SWEET RYE BREAD

1 pkg. yeast in 1/4 c. warm water with 1 t. sugar
 1/4 c. molasses 1 1/2 t. salt
 1/2 c. brown sugar 2 c. potato water*
 1 1/2 t. soft shortening 2 c. light rye flour
 4 c. all purpose white flour (will take 1/2 - 1 1/2 cups for kneading)

Dissolve yeast in warm water to which 1/2 t. white sugar has been added. Mix Molasses, salt, brown sugar, potato water and soft shortening in a large bowl. Add the dissolved yeast and mix well. Sluff in the rye flour. Then add white flour. Turn onto floured board to knead, getting the dough stiff and smooth and not sticky while kneading (using the extra flour). Place in a greased bowl or pan to raise, about 2 hours, until double in size. Punch down; divide dough into two and put into greased bread pans. Raise again until doubled, about one hour. Bake at 325 degrees for one hour.

*Potato water is the water in which you have boiled potatoes.

Sarah says...Never use plastic bowls to raise bread because the plastic retards the yeast action and it will not raise properly.

Food for Thought... Taxes could be worse - suppose we had to pay on what we think we are worth.

Cain is elected foundation chair

The Manistique Area School Foundation held an election of officers at the final quarterly meeting for the year 1992. The December meeting was held on Wednesday, Dec. 2 at 7:30 a.m. breakfast in the Manistique Area Schools' Community Room, with Chairman Philip Villeneuve presiding.

Margaret L. Cain was elected Chairperson for the next term. Other officers elected were Peter J. Gorsche, Vice Chairperson and Helen Johnson, secretary. The office of Treasurer is filled from the Administrative Office of the Manistique Area Schools. Philip Villeneuve, past chairperson will serve as a director on the board.

A new member to the Foundation committee was introduced. Edith Greene, Vice President and Cashier of the State Savings Bank, will fill the position of recognizing Manistique High School Graduates for achievements. The next meeting of the M.A.S. Foundation will be held on April 14, 1993 at 7:30 a.m. in the MAS Community Room.

Many of the problems that confronted Schoolcraft County in 1992 are yet unresolved.
Though a battle in the solid waste disposal war has been completed with the recent Circuit Court ruling, no one knows what the final outcome will be.

Community involvement was the theme in 1992 as the Manistique Board of Education, acting on recommendations from committees of staff and community members, adopted standards to be expected of every student, or core curriculum outcomes, for several areas.

Another important opportunity to get involved will take place on Saturday, Jan. 23, beginning at 9 a.m. in the Middle and High School, when anyone who is interested can help the Board of Education set goals for the next year.
Difficult challenges face the school district in 1993. Declining enrollment and the state's budget woes will reduce the money available for schools.

Looking ahead into 1993, no drastic changes are being planned on the district level. However, the board must be particularly attentive to finances for several reasons, including: state school aid and finances remain uncertain; local student enrollment has decreased; contracts with teacher and support staff bargaining units are up for negotiation; and continuing curriculum improvements tend to increase program costs.
On Saturday, Jan. 23, the board would like to renew its partnership with the community by extending an invitation to all interested persons - parents, business leaders, senior citizens, students and former students, as well as school personnel - to join us in a goal-setting workshop. This will be an opportunity to help the board and staff continue to improve the educational program by offering us your thoughts and ideas and suggestions will be incorporated into the district planning for the 1993-94 school year.

Prediction for 1993: The Board of Education will carry out its duties with a spirit of community involvement, attention to fiscal responsibility and dedication to improving student learning.

The emerging "new look" of the waterfront now that the water-front pathway is roughly two-thirds complete, is an interesting development that begins to change the landscape and begins to change the way we think about the waterfront.

One constant thing in our lives is change. Some of the changes are welcomed like old friends.
The reopening of the quarrying operation, this past spring, by Mineral Technologies, Inc. at Port Inland, was probably the most significant event of the year.

I have every belief that 1993 will be a good year for all of Schoolcraft County. Our industry will remain strong and contribute to be the basis of growth and prosperity in our area. I think we will see many changes and changes that will benefit our community and that a year from now we will recall 1993 as a year of great accomplishment and success for our community.

Varsity wins, 79-51

With their first game of the new year, the Manistique Varsity basketball team picked up their first win, whipping Gwin 71-59.

"We really played an outstanding game," said Coach Bob Ryan. "There were a number of keys to the win. First of all, we really played excellent defense, limiting Gwin to 59 points. Other keys were only committing 11 turnovers in the game, shooting 52 percent from the field, and 78 percent from the free throw line. We also played with a lot of intensity the entire game and that also was a key to the win."

The Emeralds were led by Mike Kraatz and Jason Rochefort as the game began. They put in six and five points, respectively, though Gwin led 9-17 at the end of the first quarter.

Though Gwin built their lead to 27-19 at one point in the second, Kraatz had another six points, and Andy Fuson scored four to help the Emeralds grab a 35-34 halftime lead.

"The third quarter proved to be a turning point in the game for us," said Ryan. "We came out and played well both offensively and defensively."

The Emeralds' intensity resulted in a 22-14 outscoring of their opponents in the third quarter, said Ryan. "Ben Carlson, who had an exceptional overall game as point guard, really caught fire, scoring 12 third quarter points, including three of three free pointers," said Ryan. Carlson finished with 23 points, seven assists, and five rebounds.

With a 57-48 lead going into the final period, Manistique relied upon their defense to prevent Gwin from catching up.

The Emeralds' offense was not completely dormant, however, as Carlson added six more points and Richie Blowers had four. Manistique was also a perfect six of six from the line in the fourth quarter.

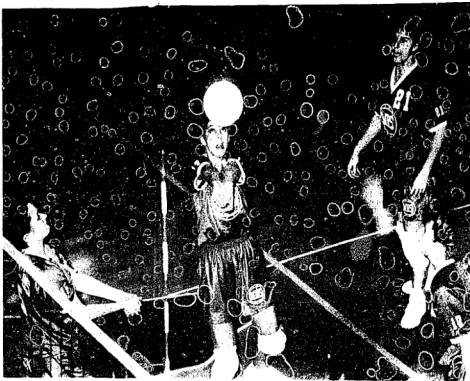

Kraatz was second to Carlson in team scoring with 15. He also had nine rebounds. Rochefort finished with 10 points and five boards.

According to Ryan, Ben Armock, who scored five, Blowers, who added six, Brian Carlson, who scored four points, and Andy Lavigne, also played key roles in the victory.

Phil Hinkson and Erik Mason had two points each off the bench.

"A great team win," said Ryan. "The team can be really proud of the effort they put forth and of how well we executed on both offense and defense."

Black Bears ground Rapid River Rockets

After experiencing their first loss of the season to North Central during Winter Break, Big Bay de Noc's Varsity basketball team got back on the winning track Tuesday night, beating Rapid River 57-47.

Though the Black Bears won, Coach Tom Ranguette said that it wasn't an easy ride.

"For the first two and a half quarters it was kind of scary," Ranguette said.

Big Bay led 17-16 at the end of the first quarter, and watched the eight point lead they built in the second disintegrate into a one point lead at the half, 29-28.

"We came out in the second half and stayed out of foul trouble," said Ranguette. "Then we could take chances with the press. We stole the ball two or three times, and after Rapid River got a technical, we opened it up to a 15 point lead in the third."

Big Bay, led by Sid Lucas, dominated the boards, out-rebounding the Rockets 32-14. Lucas finished with 14 points and 12 rebounds.

Center Clay Povin did his part inside as well, scoring 18 and grabbing 10 boards.

Colin Pomeroy, who worked on his jumper over break, according to Ranguette, saw his practice pay off, as he was four for four in the first quarter, including three three pointers. He finished with 15.

J.C. Avery and Jason Handl both had four for the Black Bears, and Jeremy Ansell added two. Ben Lerrabe led the Rapid River attack, popping out from his forward position for jumpers. He led the Rockets with 12.

Big Bay has this Friday off, but they will defend their home court against Bark River-Harris next Tuesday.

Johnston is honored

Spending 22 years on the Great Lakes as a rastriner may not be the easiest of tasks, but it is one that Myron Johnston of Manistique has taken great pride in.

Johnston's efforts on the Lakes have not gone unnoticed by his employer and co-workers, however. He was recently named the American Steamship Company's (ASC) Outstanding Mariner. He is one of two ASC employees to receive the honor in 1992.

Myron Johnston

Johnston first sailed for the company in 1970 as a gateman. For the past six years, he has been a conveyorman aboard the M/V Adam E. Cornelius.

According to "Soundings", the ASC newsletter, Johnston was chosen as an ASC Outstanding Mariner "because of his dedication and perseverance. We're told that it's not unusual for him to be the first man on the job and the last to quit. And shrimsters say that Myron is always willing to lend a hand—without being asked. Pike, as he is affectionately known to many, knows his job well and completes everything with enthusiasm."

Johnston spends about 10 months of the year sailing the Great Lakes, according to his wife Laura. He is currently working, but hopes to return on Jan. 20.

When not on the ship, Johnston and his brother raise Belgian Draft horses that they use for sleigh and wagon rides.

Johnston and his wife have three daughters, Deborah, Lynn, and Patricia, all of whom graduated from Manistique High School.

Despite effort, new team loses

Not only was Monday night's contest against Gladstone the season opener for the Manistique Varsity Volleyball Team, it was the debut for the newly formed team.

The nine member girls team won the first game and dropped the following four for an overall loss, 19-17, 6-14, 14-16, 1-15, and 13-15, but the Emeralds gave a strong performance considering some had never played the sport before pre-season practices began.

"I'm very proud of the girls," said Coach Kathy Brown. "Just four weeks ago we started from scratch. Winning will come with experience."

Brown added that the games were based upon the serving aspect of the game, which is not her team's strong suit.

"The girls worked hard. Gladstone also had 22 girls on their roster, which allowed them to put fresh players in. All in all, I was pleased with our first game and happy to see all the support from the community."

The team will now take to the road, playing Monday night at Stephenson.

MHS jayvees play flat

"It was a disappointing loss for us because we came out flat and could never get our offense going," said JV Coach David Jahn after his team's 59-42 loss to Gwin Tuesday.

The Emeralds trailed 13-7 at the end of the first, and the six point gap remained at the half, with Gwin up 24-18.

"Things did not get any better when the 1-3 Emeralds returned to the floor for the second half of the contest."

"We gave Gwin too many easy shots under the basket in the second half," said Jahn.

Though Randy Parker returned after missing some play with an ankle injury, Jahn said that he is not back to 100 percent on defense. He scored two on offense.

Despite the final results, the JV team did have some bright spots in their play.

"Donnie St. John had another outstanding game with 18 points and 10 rebounds," said Jahn.

Zack Vines scored 15 points Tuesday night, and all of those points came from three pointers.

"Mickey Hisman came off the bench and did an excellent job rebounding and in defense," said Jahn. He finished with one point.

Freshman Jason Beckman had four points for the JV Emeralds, Clint Harrison had three before fouling out, and center Paul Sims added a free throw.

"I hope to see improvement in our play Friday against Negaunee," concluded Jahn. The Emeralds will host the Mines at 6:15.

teachers that will be given the National Science Foundation's Presidential Award for Excellence in Science and Mathematics Teaching. The award is the nation's highest honor for elementary and secondary science and mathematics teachers.

Wilson currently teaches first, second, and third graders at the Elizabeth Lenz School in Reno.

The Presidential Award includes a trip for two to Washington, D.C. from April 27 through May 1, where the elementary school science and math teachers will be officially honored and congratulated. It also consists of a Presidential citation, a $7,500 National Science Foundation grant, and numerous other honors and gifts from associations, business, and industry.

After graduating from Central Catholic High School in Bloomington, Ill., Wilson attended the University of Illinois, where she majored in math and science with a degree in elementary education. She also spent a semester of college in Bath, England.

Wilson completed her master's work at the University of Nevada-Reno.

Not only does Wilson teach elementary students, but she also trains other elementary teachers in the Washoe County, NV School District. In addition to her math and science expertise, Wilson is a creative writing consultant. Since 1983, the White House and the National Science Foundation (NSF) have offered Presidential Awards for Excellence in Science and Mathematics Teaching to recognize excellent teachers and encourage highly-qualified individuals to enter and remain in the field.

A distinguished panel of scientists, mathematicians, and science and mathematics educators select the Presidential Award winners from a slate of teachers previously chosen at the state level.

Teachers eligible for the award have spent at least five years teaching science or mathematics fulltime or more in public or private schools. Nominations may come from anyone who is familiar with a teacher's experience and skills.

The Presidential Awards program is managed for the NSF by the National Science Teachers Association. Statewide selection in science is directed by the Council of State Science Supervisors and in mathematics by the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Survivors include two daughters, Pamela Sue Black of Flint and Joy Ann Jablonski of Burton, MI; six grandchildren; and ten great-grandchildren. He was also preceded in death by a daughter, Sandra Kay Brown in June of 1966.

Funeral services were held Saturday at St. Francis de Sales Church with Fr. James Menapace officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Manistique Public Safety Officers said that no one was injured in a collision at 8:55 p.m. on Dec. 29 on Deer St.

According to police, Nonda J. Bosen was eastbound on Deer St. when the vehicle she was driving began to slide as it rounded a curve. She applied the brakes and it slid into an oncoming vehicle driven by Robert A. Thorrell. Thorrell told officers he was unable to avoid the collision.

As a vehicle driven by Ryan R. St. John was stopped on US-2 waiting to make a left turn, it was hit in the rear by a vehicle driven by Raymond L. McGesheck of Iron River. McGesheck's vehicle bounced off of the St. John vehicle and went off of the roadway into a ditch. The incident was reported at 11:45 a.m. on Dec. 31.

Kenneth P. Christenson told police that he was attempting to drive his vehicle from the curb when his wheels started to spin on the ice. When the wheels caught, the vehicle was thrust forward into the side of a parked vehicle driven by Shirley C. Frenette of Gulliver. The accident happened on Jan. 4 at 11:10 a.m. Officers said that as John A. Walker was backing his vehicle from a private driveway on Alger he failed to see a northbound vehicle driven by Charmaine J. Lehman. The vehicles collided at 3:05 p.m. on Jan. 4.

Golden Gloves were part of the winter

Clearing snow on the Haywire track in the 1920s required hand shoveling....

.....an extra engine with a plow

.....ramming the drifts

.....then starting to shovel again.

Memories

by LeRoy Fox

WINTER. That word has a wealth of definitions. The way we use this time of the year has (just like the rest of the world) changed. I mean really changed from what I first remember about it.

My first recollection of winter was all that snow! Maybe it's my imagination, the winters o, say, 40 or 45 years ago (boy, I never thought I would use that number of years for a comparison), seemed longer and more snow. I can remember my grandfather, who worked on the haywires, getting called out on the extra train to take a work crew up to Steuben shovel out the drivers on the engine. I have included some pictures to verify this. You will notice that on one picture the train has backed up and rammed the bank and those poor souls had to start shoveling all over again.

How many of you can remember the times the men from the State Highway had to probe the road out by the airport to see if there were any cars buried there? One thing that has changed in the school. Ed Toya is one of the most was never shut down because of a snowstorm. I don't think the word

MTU students honored

A total of 1,313 students achieved placement on the fall quarter Dean's List at Michigan Technological University by earning a grade point average of 3.5 or higher. Dr. Martha Jannert, Dean of Students, reported that 287 students earned straight A averages of 4.0. (Indicated with an *.)

The honor students from this area were:
Germfask - Keith A. Magnusson, a senior in Forestry;
Cultiver - Krist J. Bjorkman, a freshman in Computer Science;
Manistique - *Travis A. Cross, a sophomore in Mechanical Engineering; *Thomas E. Perilloux, a freshman in Chemical Engineering; Ryan D. Pontius, a freshman

"Snow Days" was in the dictionary yet! Those of us who lived in the city were expected to be present. The country kids really locked out.
On weekends, our parents took us out in the country and found a good hill for sliding or tobogganing. The sandhills were popular then. Of course, there weren't any snowmachines but the iceboat Lake was as good then as now.
Over the years the city provided some real good ice rinks. I can remember the best one in town was right across the street from my house on Fifth Street. A light 40 or 45 years ago (boy, I never thought I would use that number of years for a comparison), seemed longer and more snow. I can remember my grandfather, who worked on the haywires, getting called out on the extra train to take a work crew up to Steuben shovel out the drivers on the engine. I have included some pictures to verify this. You will notice that on one picture the train has backed up and rammed the bank and those poor souls had to start shoveling all over again.

Of course, winter wasn't all outdoors. Basketball was popular then. The men's league was bolstered by the C.C.C. Camps that provided the extra competition.
We can't forget the boxing buffs with boxing matches held regularly in the old gym. When I was in Boy Scout Troop 62 with "Red" Rodgers as scoutmaster, we sold popcorn at these matches.
Before the Golden Glove Era, there were such prominent boxers as Buck Jackson, John Handl, just to name a few. Buck went from boxing to refereeing and helped train young boxers.
Ed Toya is one of the most prominent persons in boxing in the Upper Peninsula. He is a li-

Hiawatha - Home of High Achievers

After being stuck in their seats all day, Hiawatha students like to defy gravity on the jungle gym.

Though school is place to learn, Hiawatha students prove that it's also a great place to have a game of checkers.

Third grade teacher Mrs. Forstner helps Trevor Rochefort with his art project.

The cold weather doesn't stop the fun during recess at Hiawatha. These

A group of young authors in Mrs. Hermes' fourth grade class show off the books they wrote as a class project. In addition to composing the short stories, many of the students added artwork to the books.

Friends at Hiawatha huddle for warmth during recess.

Students stand near the Hiawatha Christmas Tree after they decorated their own Christmas cookies. The cookies were baked by Hiawatha parent volunteers.

We believe in the young people in our community
