PSI addresses townships

In an effort to alleviate rural citizens' concerns about solid waste disposal under a possible future multiple hauler program, Peninsula Sanitation (PSI) President William Niepho held a question and answer session at Thursday's township association meeting.

"There are questions in rural areas that are not being addressed by the metropolitan area, if recycling will be offered, and if their rates will be higher than in the city," Niepho said. "Rates struck throughout Schoercraft County will be similar, and we currently offer recycling in Newberry, Munising, and Marquette, so that is certainly possible in Schoercraft County."

PSI is currently prohibited from collecting type II solid waste in the six of the county's nine municipalities by a Circuit Court injunction. Through the city and City County Department of Public Works (CCDPW) recently extended the exclusive contract for type II solid waste disposal with Manistique Rentals, Inc. (MRI) for an additional five months, a CCDPW sub-committee is currently creating a multi-hauler licensing proposal.

"When asked about the guarantee of service to outlying residents under a multi-hauler system, Niepho responded that county-wide licensing requirements could insure pickup."

"Licensing requirements could include: A, all mail rural routes have garbage pickup, and B, each hauler must have liability, workers' compensation, and vehicle insurance," Niepho said. "The county can put as many requirements in as they like."

Niepho and PSI Eastern Region Manager Sam McPherson said that multiple haulers are successfully operating in most of the region's counties.

"In Luce County, there are two haulers plus ourselves," said McPherson. "There are four or five in Chippewa, and all are making a living."

Big Bay announces 1993 valedictorian, salutatorian

Big Bay de Noc High School has announced its valedictorian and salutatorian for the 1993 graduating class.

Valedictorian Michelle C. Groleau is a four year honor student and has been a member of the National Honor Society and Spanish National Honor Society for three years.

In addition to class awards, Groleau was listed twice in "Who's Who Among American High School Students," was editor of the school newspaper, president of Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD), a four year cheerleader, and a two year member of the track team.

She represented Big Bay at the 1991 Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation Leadership Seminar and returned in 1992 as a junior counselor. She was also selected to attend the 1991 Summer Institute for the Arts and Sciences at Michigan Technological University.

The daughter of Paul and Janis Groleau of St. Jacques, Groleau has a grade point average of 3.95 and plans to attend either Adrian College or Central Michigan University and major in pre-law.

Joan Bernard, daughter of Wayne Bernard and Margaret Lockson of Fayette, has been named Salutatorian of the Class of 1993. She has a grade point average of 3.618.

In addition to being a four year honor student receiving many academic awards, Bernard has been a member of the National Honor Society for three years and was listed in "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

Bernard's poetry has appeared in the "Pegasus" anthology, and she was sophomore class secretary, senior class treasurer, yearbook editor, SADD vice president, and newspaper art editor. She has participated in Youth in Government, as well as basketball and track.

After graduation, Bernard plans to attend Bay de Noc Community College and major in elementary education.

Townships want DPW restructuring

A proposal passed by several Schoercraft County townships could out the city's representation on the City County Department of Public Works (CCDPW) board.

Hiawatha Township moved Wednesday that the nine member CCDPW be streamlined to a seven member board with four township representatives, one county representative, the county drain commissioner, and one city representative.

"A smaller CCDPW board would make the decision process more swift, creating a more functional board," said Hiawatha Township Supervisor and Township Association Chairman Tom Kitzman at Thursday's Township Association Meeting.

The city and townships currently have three CCDPW representatives each, a county commissioner, and the county drain commissioner also sit on the board.

Inwood Township board passed a similar motion on Wednesday, according to Kitzman. Manistique Township Supervisor Jim Barr said that his board would also pass 1993 Schoercraft Chamber of Commerce "Person of the Year" LeRoy Fox is congratulated by First Northern National Bank President and C.E.O. Ron Ford at Saturday's Spring Banquet.

LeRoy Fox is named Person of the Year

It took a conspiracy to get LeRoy Fox to Saturday's Schoercraft County Chamber of Commerce Spring Banquet, where he was honored as the chamber's 1993 Person of the Year.

"I had no idea," said Fox of the award. "I didn't figure it out until they said my name during the presentation."

Fox received a plaque from the chamber in commemoration of his many voluntary contributions to the community. In addition, First Northern National Bank will present Fox with $250 that Fox may donate to the charities of his choice.

Originally, Fox and his wife, Gen, had planned to take friend Eileen Ruth to Marquette General Hospital for a doctor's appointment on Saturday.

"On Saturday morning, Eileen called to say that the appointment had been canceled," Fox said. "So she and my wife went to the AI-O-Ray Cafe for coffee."

The pair told Fox that they had seen Jerry Turek while they were having coffee. They said that, as Turek was having the fish fry on Saturday night, he would not be able to use his chamber banquet tickets.

"I figured we should go, rather than let the tickets go to waste," said Fox.

When Fox arrived at the banquet to find his daughters Cathy and Kelli and their husbands, he still didn't catch on.

"My son-in-law had never seen the small run, so I just figured that he was up for that," Fox said. "I asked him if he brought his net, and he told him that we would go out right after the dinner."

When the presentation of the Person of the Year award began, Fox said that he was looking around the room to see who would stand up.

"I usually pick up on stuff like that," Fox said. "But not this time."

Fox's contributions to the community are not a recent phenomenon.

He has been involved with the CBC for 21 years and has been active in Christmas Committee activities since their inception.

In addition, Fox has been with the Manistique High School Sports Boosters Club for 40 years, working at basketball and football games as a regular chaperone bus rides for school events.

Fox, a regular columnist of the Pioneer-Tribune's "Memories" column, is also involved with Manistique's St. Vincent De Paul Store, the St. Francis de Sales choir, the Senior Swingers Band, the Knights of Columbus, the Moose Club, the Eagles Club, and the Senior Citizens Center house committee.

"My avocation, as far as I'm concerned, is to help people," Fox said, adding that his generosity is sometimes met with astonishment.

"When I help people, they sometimes can't figure out why I do it. But that's just the way it is," he said. "That's why I was so surprised to be nominated for what I did. I don't do it for stuff like that, I do it because I like to."

As her month long visit to the United States comes to an end, German foreign exchange student Tamara Rudolph (center) and host family members Josie and Tabitha Livernois (left) plan to visit Escanaba and Detroit before Rudolph returns home.

German exchange student visits area

Most international travelers can't travel without passport and plane tickets. When German foreign exchange student Tamara Rudolph came to the Manistique area a month ago, she had to bring a shopping list as well.

"I am going to buy colored contacts here, since they cost $700 in Germany. I must also buy Levi's for my friends, since they are $100 a pair at home," Rudolph said.

The tenth-grader, who lives near Frankfurt, Germany, came to the United States with the Youth for Understanding exchange program. It was her first trip overseas as well as her first flight in an airplane.

Family life in the United States has also been a new experience for Rudolph.

Between Cedar and Arbutus Oak St. may be abandoned

Drivers that take "laps" through downtown Manistique may soon have to find a new route, as the city and Downtown Development Authority (DDA) are discussing the abandonment of Oak Street between Cedar and Arbutus.

At the DDA's request, City Council scheduled a public hearing on the proposed abandonment for June 28 at 7 p.m.

"In the DDA's planning efforts of the last two or three years, they have talked about abandoning that stretch," said City Manager Alan Housler at Monday's City Council meeting.

"No decision will be made until after the public hearing," Housler said, suggesting the June hearing date to allow "ample public input" on the issue.

"That's a heavily used stretch," said City Councilman Don Helling. "It's one of my regular routes. If I can't find a parking spot on Cedar, I often swing through there so that I can try the other side of the street."

In addition to discussion of the possible Oak Street abandonment, the trash issue also reappeared on the City Council agenda Monday.

The council approved, by a 3-2 vote, an authorization for the mayor and city clerk to execute the five month contract extension with Manistique Rentals, Inc. (MRI) for exclusive type II solid waste disposal in the city.

The contract extension was approved at the Apr. 12 City Council meeting by an identical vote, with Mayor John Stewart and Mike Dougovlio dissenting.

Monday, Stewart asked acting City Attorney John Fiorano if such an extension would make the

Lind discusses substance abuse prevention

Director of Public Safety William Reno said at the meeting that abandonment would not limit fire fighting capabilities, as hydrants are located at both ends of the block.

If the abandonment takes place the southern half of the street will become a portion of the DDA's triangle, while the northern half will be ceded to Creighton.

He added that recent conversation between the DDA and the Creighton Ford Dealership, located to the south of the Oak Street block, led to the DDA's Apr. 13 resolution to begin the abandonment proceedings.

Housler said that the Manistique Department of Public Works informed him that there are no city utilities beneath that block of Oak Street.

He said that, ideally, her presence around the table would be a focus of the community prevention efforts, according to Lind, they are not the only target.

"That's not the whole problem. Substance abuse is not isolated to that group. Family traditions, culture, and even birth weight could be factors," Lind said. "There are a lot of denominators."

Chamber's "Business of the Year" North Woods is honored

Eight years ago, North Woods Home Nursing was a two-person home business. Since that time, North Woods has grown to include offices in Manistique, Newberry, and Munising, employing 70 people and offering home nursing services to hundreds more.

Saturday night, North Woods was honored as the Schoercraft County Chamber of Commerce's "Business of the Year."

"I felt really honored," said North Woods owner Susan Bjorne. "I still can't hardly believe it happened, we're not that old of a business."

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors member John Wood, who presented Bjorne with the award Saturday, called North Woods a "nice success story."

"They have shown that, even in today's world, it is possible to be an entrepreneur if you're willing to put in the work," Wood said.

Bjorne started the business in January of 1985, intending to create a home-based company so that she could spend time with her 3 1/2 month old daughter.

For the first year and a half, Bjorne worked with registered nurse Diane Woodworth under the name Schoercraft Home Nursing.

The young business made 36 visits per month.

That partnership ended a 1 1/2 years later when Woodworth left the area.

After Woodworth sold her portion, the name of the business changed to North Woods Home Nursing, and covered the areas from Naima to Nautawaway and from Gemfisk to Grand Marais.

North Woods eventually moved to Manistique, settling in the Marina Square Building.

In 1987, the home nursing business had grown to 77 visits per month. By Spring 1990, North Woods was up to 350 visits per month.

"We planned a party for when we hit 350 visits," Bjorne said. "But when we finally hit it we were too busy and decided to postpone the celebration until November."

By that time, North Woods' visits per month had doubled, totaling 700.

Currently, the business logs 2,600 visits per month.

"In the beginning, a Blue Cross/Blue Shield representative suggested that, if I wanted a business, maybe I should open up a knitting shop," Bjorne said. "I took exception to this, of course, but now I feel awed that we were there we are."

Firm surveys interest in curbside recycling

If Schoercraft County residents building just north of the State pick up of recyclable items, a new Manistique business may be able to provide such a service by the end of the summer.

"If 40 percent of the county residents express interest, we will be eligible for Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) grants," said Robert Ackley, operator of the newly formed Manistique Recycling Process (MRP). "We're meeting with the DNR on May 6 to apply."

If the DNR approves the grant application, MRP could receive $250,000, which will be used for curbside recycling equipment, including five trucks and a storage building, Ackley said.

The company has posted informational posters at several area businesses, which include tear-off response cards. A survey insert is also included in this week's issue of the Pioneer-Tribune.

Responding to the survey requires no obligation on the part of the consumer, according to Ackley.

"It will only be used to judge interest in the curbside program," he said.

Regardless of the DNR's decision on the grant application, the company plans to operate a recycling processing plant in Manistique on M-94 at the storage

Foundation to give six awards

by Dorothy Hoholik, Publicity

Manistique Area School graduates of the 1993 class will receive scholarships from the Manistique Area Schools' Foundation during the awards ceremony on May 18, at the Marvin Frederickson Auditorium. Six scholarships in the amount of $1,000.00 will be awarded to deserving recipients.

The scholarships are being awarded from interest received on the figure reached in the Foundation account of $130,339.30 as of the April 1, 1993 financial report. The six scholarships come from interest earned of $6,654.58.

Scholarship recipients are chosen by an awards committee representing the school, the city and the county. The appointed committee members are restricted to a maximum of two, two year consecutive terms.

The first scholarship was awarded in 1985 in the amount of $750.00. Fifteen scholarships of $750.00 were awarded between 1985 and 1989 totaling $11,250.00. Twenty-three scholarships of $1,000.00 were awarded between 1990 and 1992 totaling $23,000.00. Six more scholarships will be awarded in 1993 totaling $6,000.00. In total, the Foundation will have awarded $40,250.00 in scholarships to 44 students in the 10 year period since it was established.

A donation of $1,000.00 has been received from Herbert K. and Edith T. Peterson along with many other donations from caring individuals. There are several ways of contributing to the Foundation:

1. Personal contributions
2. Contributions by organizations
3. Memorial type contributions
4. Joining the "Manistique 100" (named engraved on plaque for $100.00)
5. Joining the "Emerald 500" (name engraved on plaque for $500.00)
6. Joining the "Emerald Grand Plus" (name engraved on plaque for giving $1,000.00 or more)

All contributions are tax deductible. An open house will be held in August, marking the 10th anniversary of the Manistique Area Schools' Foundation. The committee are working on an interesting and informative occasion, details of which will be announced at a later date.

Parties wishing to establish separate scholarships in the Manistique Area Schools are asked to consider calling the Foundation before making a decision. Margaret Cain, Foundation Chairperson, is available to discuss other possibilities with you by calling 341-5841.

Several class reunions are being held during the summer and fall seasons. Through reunions, information is passed on to classes on the Foundation and is very valuable in promoting what the Foundation does for MAS graduates. If any class has not been contacted and is planning a reunion, you may call Dorothy Hoholik, Wilbur LaBar, Sherry Vannum or Betsy Newman, alumni committee members to see how you can help the Foundation.

"You Make Us Proud" highlights graduates of the Manistique Area Schools who have gone on to make a mark in the world. If you have a candidate for this column, write for a nomination form to Edith Greene at 502 W. Elk Street, Manistique, MI 49854 or call 341-2172 or 341-5525.

Student artists to display work

Some of the area's young artists will display their work at the third annual Delta-Schoolcraft High School Art Show, which opens on May 5.

The show, located at the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District (ISD) building, 2525 Third Avenue South, Escanaba, will run through Saturday, May 8, with exhibits open from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

Representing Manistique High School at the exhibit will be artists Pete Aiken, Mandy Jasmin, Amy Derousha, Becky Welters, and Jason Hubbs.

This year's show will feature demonstrations of various art activities during the morning and afternoon May 5, 6, and 7.

The ISD is sponsoring the art show with the support of the eight high schools within the two county area, and the ISD marketing class is responsible for advertising and promoting this year's art show.

Students on the art show committee from each school will have the responsibility for the demonstrations, which are primarily for elementary and middle school classes that may want to observe and participate in a particular art mode. The public will be welcome at any of the demonstrations as well.

At home with Sarah

by Sarah Bignall

One of the teachers at the High School gave me this recipe for Mozzarella Chicken. It sounded like Chicken Parmigiana but it is really quite different. I tried it on my family and we all liked it very much and I know that I'll make it again.

MOZZARELLA CHICKEN

Chicken pieces (1 used 8 skinned and boned chicken breasts.)
2 eggs, beaten
seasoned dried bread crumbs or dried bread crumbs, seasoned with salt, pepper, onion salt, garlic, oregano, and basil
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce

Dip chicken in egg. Roll in seasoned bread crumbs. Brown in oil in frying pan. Season with basil. Add tomato sauce. Cover and simmer 30-40 minutes until chicken is done. While chicken is simmering, make this cheesy white sauce.

1 tbl. butter 1/8 teas. cayenne pepper
1 tbl. flour 1 dash Worcestershire Sauce
1/2 cup half and half 1 cup grated Mozzarella cheese
1/2 cup chicken broth

Melt butter, add flour and stir. Add half and half and chicken broth. Cook until thickened slightly. Add cayenne and Worcestershire Sauce. Remove from heat and add 1/2 cup of the Mozzarella cheese. Put chicken and tomato sauce into a flat baking dish. Pour cheesy sauce on top. Sprinkle 1/2 cup Mozzarella cheese on top. Place under broiler until cheese bubbles. Serve with noodles or rice.

Sarah says When washing a rarely used tablecloth, fold it wrong-side out for staining. If the creases become stained, they will not show when the cloth is again placed on the table.

Auger is selected

by Dorothy Hoholik

The April Birthday Party at the Schoharie County Medical Care Facility celebrated more than five birthdays. The occasion, on Wednesday, April 21, was also celebrated in the middle of National Volunteer Week.

Howard Auger, noted organ musician and named "Volunteer of the Day" was the April birthday party emcee. He returned for another engagement and played the music that the residents love to hear. Auger attracts everyone in the facility to come in and "Sing-A-Long" to old favorites. Resident Elise Fortemps wheeled up and down the aisles in the attractive dining room, with an Easter bonnet. She prompted the playing of "Easter Parade." The Andrew Sisters (volunteers Gertrude Warren, Betty Harding and Dorothy Hoholik) sang a few warty songs and sang Rosemary Clooney (volunteer Jean Gundersen) to finish out the rest of the good party.

Dorothy LaGrew, resident at the facility and popular singer, sang Happy Birthday to the "King for the Day, John Borko, age 88. Wanda Harbin was named "Queen for the Day" at age 82. Other birthdays celebrated were those of Louise Nelson, Sena Ray and Eloise Vanderwall. Beautiful lap robes were given out as gifts and birthday cards contained a monetary gift for personal needs. The social hour continued on with Betty LaBar's angel food cakes, plenty of ice cream and hot coffee which sure hit the spot with the many residents at the party.

Guests are always welcome and they turn out for the birthday parties in volume. April birthday party guests were Fran Bernard, Gertrude Warren, Sue Klich, Marlene Minoff, Millie Carley, Marjorie Rasmussen, Elvira Sebright, Nora McDonough and coming in from Germfask were Ed and Rose Kornich.

Manistique Public Safety officials, City DPW representatives, and Michigan State Police bomb experts excavate a vacant lot at the corner of Potter and Wilson Streets last Wednesday after dynamite detonation wires were found at the site. After the excavation, the bomb experts determined that no live dynamite was still in the area. Dynamite charges had been used several years ago when sewer lines were put in the area, according to Public Safety Lt. David Peterson, and the lines were simply left behind.

Local bank reports record profits

Record profits were earned by First Manistique Corporation stockholders learned at the annual dinner held April 20 at the Manistique armory.
 "Net profit in 1992 was reported at $1,167,752, a 17 per-cent increase over 1991 and first quarter net profits for 1993 ex-ceeded $400,000. Both are records," Ron Ford, First North-ern National Bank president and C.E.O. told stockholders. "We thank you for your past confi-dence and invite you to share our enthusiasm for 1993 and beeyond."

 Assets of the corporation have increased 410 percent in the last 10 years which is the equivalent of more than 10 percent annual compounded growth since 1976, Ford added.
 Ford also announced that two new branch offices will open dur-ing 1993 bringing the total number of offices to 12. An of-fice in Marquette will open in June. In October, an office in a new shopping mall development will open in Munising. There is presently an office in downtown Munising.

 Other offices are located in Curie, Garden, Grand Marais, Manistique, Nubinway, New-berry, Paradise.
 Key note speaker at the dinner was Roy E. Weatherby, Jr., pres-ident of firearms manufacturer Weatherby, Inc. of California. The bank has been offering Weatherby guns in connection with a certificate of deposit.
 Jack Krueger of First Northern said that the bank has purchased $250,000 in Weatherby guns since the promotion began last fall and that another $100,000 worth will be ordered in May and Weatherby.

Weatherby said he was pleased with the relationship that has developed with First Northern and Weatherby.

Master Angler Award reminder

The Department of Natural Resources would like to remind anglers that its Master Angler Award Program now includes a catch-and-release category.
 The catch-and-release category of the Master Angler Award Program was instituted in 1992 to al-low anglers who released their fish the opportunity for recogni-tion in the Master Angler Award Program administered by the DNR Fisheries Division.

"The catch-and-release category brings greater variety and enjoyment to the fishing experience and widens the field of competi-tion among anglers," DNR Direc-tor Roland Harms said.
 In the catch-and-release cat-egory, length, rather than weight, is used as the standard of mea-surement because it minimizes unnecessary handling of the fish and helps to assure the fish's prompt return to the water. The fish must meet the listed mini-mum entry length requirement to qualify in this category.
 Last year's Master Angler Award Program called only 69 en-tries in the catch-and-release category compared to approximately 1,000 entries in the catch-and-keep category. "We believe partici-pation in the catch-and-release category will increase as anglers become more familiar with its re-quirements," Barbara Walker, co-ordinator of the DNR's Master Angler Award Program said.

Only one entry application is used for both catch-and-keep and catch-and-release entries, but the minimum entry requirements are different for each category. In the catch-and-release category, only one signature is necessary on the entry form. In contrast, two wit-nesses must sign the entry applica-tion in the catch-and-keep cat-egory in which the weight of the fish remains the standard of mea-surement.
 A photograph of the fish must accompany the application form for either the catch-and-release or the catch-and-keep category if the fish was not identified by a fish-eries biologist.
 The Master Angler Award Pro-gram, now in its 22nd year, awards all successful applicants with a distinctive red, white and blue shoulder patch.
 Entry forms for this year's Master Angler Award Program are available at DNR regional and dis-trict offices statewide, as well as the Lansing DNR Fisheries Divi-sion Office. Entries may be sub-mitted until Jan. 10, 1994 for fish caught between Jan. 1 and Dec. 31, 1993.
 For more information on the Master Angler Award Program, contact Barbara Walker, DNR/Fisheries Division, P.O. Box 30028, Lansing, MI 48909, or call 517-373-1280.

Landis has omnibus duties

By Debbie Lang
Brian Landis has done a complete turn-around in his life. At 34, Landis has now gone from riding on the Big Bay de Noc School buses to driving them. Landis was hired Jan. 25 as transportation director, mechanical, and bus driver at the school.

"This job is what I had been looking for since I got off the boats I used to work for years back," Landis said.

While Landis was looking for the job, Big Bay was looking for someone like Landis to fill it. Landis' certifications include automotive engine repair and tune up as well as truck diesel engine, brake, transmission, and suspension maintenance.

"Some of the certificates I had already. The others I got before I tried for the job," Landis said. Landis drove semi trucks for five years, and a pulp truck before that. Before his trucking career, Landis sailed on the Great Lakes. Landis graduated from Big Bay

Real story of the Census Bureau

ANCESTORS, ROOTS, FAMILY HISTORY, GENEALOGY (And all that good stuff)

by Bob McHugh

5th in a series (Continued from last week) (Gotta correct something. Last week when discussing census real code, ED, etc. the real code should have read T625 not 1625. Sorry about that.)

And now I must say some things about the US Census. The US Census are not available to the public until after 72 years from the dated of Enumeration. This is according to an agreement between the Director of the Census Bureau and the National Archivist. (Allowed by Federal Law, 44 USC 2108) As such, the 1920 US Census is just being released this year, later Census are not open to the public.

The Census Bureau will release, to a named individual, their heirs, or their legal representatives certain information contained in the closed census at about $40 a pop! For one name! One line from the census, $40. And for the other members of that household, $10 each. A bit steep to my way of thinking. But, how bad do you want to know the information?

Also, most of the 1890 US Census was destroyed by fire back in the 1920s. Very little is left. Don't count on finding anything from the 1890 US Census.

Some of the pages on the various census are very difficult to read for a variety of reasons. When transferred to micro film the people filming the records either didn't use a hood, or didn't know what they were doing, or both, and booted parts of it instead of changing their camera lens. This is supposed to help us when it comes to finding out who is not behaving," he said.

Landis gives credit for his mechanical talents to his father, Roy Landis of Cooks.

"I learned my mechanic know-how from my dad. He was always building or re-doing something," Landis said. "I definitely enjoy mechanical work and I enjoy working with the people at Big Bay de Noc and working for the school."

Landis is, in turn, offering his mechanical experience to his sons, as they sometimes ride along on the bus runs.

In their eyes, their dad has the best job in the whole world. He's a bus driver.

back) whatever, that the information is not necessarily correct. Yup, not necessarily correct.

Most people get a "official" copy of any good of record and think this is true. Well...maybe. Maybe not. My grandfathers death certificate had a couple of "glitches" (my term for inconsistency). The information was supplied by my Uncle. When I called his daughter about them, she was quite adamant! My father gave the information so it MUST be right! Whoops. Excuse me. (rule 5, 6, 7 & 9) I knew there were errors and I had to prove what they were. (For the record, (rule 7 & 9) And you should remember how information is obtained. The person supplying the information for a death certificate is usually someone close to the deceased. A spouse, child, sibling. And under such circumstances there are many emotional things going on with that person. Add to that, information given to the informant by the decedent may not have been 100 percent accurate to start with. Very human, very understandable. Not worth getting upset about. Many times on the earlier documents, they are written, not typed, and the person recording the information may not have had the best penmanship, or perhaps did not understand the information. Add to that, old copies didn't copy well and some are most difficult to read. The original document did not weather the space for a host of reasons and that too may be difficult to read.

I found grave stones that had the wrong dates, mostly the birth date. The census have errors too. The census have errors too. The date is only as good as the researcher used a hood, or didn't know what they were doing, or taker, may or may not speak some German or none at all. Wow! Confusion city. But you get the picture.

Plus the census takers can't stand on the porch because they are using pens and bottles of ink. They have to sit down to write. Consequently names are misspelled, dates are off, ink is spilled on the sheet, etc. etc. Maybe they used pencils and a scribbled later, I really don't know. I can't imagine hauling a bottle of ink all over the place. But that is for the historians to determine, not me. I'm just trying to understand the circumstances surrounding the information gathering of an event.

The point is, mistakes and/or omissions can and have occurred. So be aware of that fact. Not blaming anyone. Not covering it over. Just pointing it out. Another example, I was born at home, not in a hospital, and on my birth certificate filed with the county court house I wasn't named yet! No first or middle name! A copy I have, my mother wrote in my first and middle name. I haven't the foggiest why they never recorded my full name. As far as I know, it's still like that. (Humm, next time I'm in Syria case, I must remember to check that out. Interesting)

But any "Glitches" you find, keep a record of them until you verify one way or the other. It is also a good idea, that once verified, you get that record anyway. This leaves tracks.

Some states conducted their own census. New York did in starting in 1785, to 1925 (except 1892 instead of 1895. Figure that one out!), Pennsylvania did every seven years, 1779 to 1863. You'll want to know that particularly for 1885 and 1895 as the 1890 US Census was destroyed. (to be continued next week)

Samuel Marks picked the cemetery site

STORY OF THE OLD CEMETERY

Samuel Marks picked the site of the First Cooks Cemetery.

It's not often given to every one to pick the place which forms the cemetery of their own burial, but this happened for Samuel Marks—a Civil War Veteran who moved to Cooks from New York State.

Marks' grandson, Chester Gray died at the age of six months and the cemetery was picked at that time. A hillside along U.S. 2, south of Cooks was chosen. The child buried there was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gray.

Eventually a number of others were buried there. A small picket fence enclosed the area at one time. Originally there were five acres in the cemetery. A forty was added by an Act of Congress in 1896.

In recent years, graves have been moved to the new Cooks Cemetery and to other areas, but some remain. Lilacs and "live forever" plants still grow and a number of large markers and small foot markers remain.

The graves include that of Marks who served with Company H of the 110th New York Volunteers in the war. He died Oct. 8, 1893 at the age of 74.

Other veteran-marked graves in the cemetery are those of M.H. Lyman who served with Company F of the Michigan Cavalry and Levi Rivers. The rivers marker is for Cynthia, wife of Levi, who died at age 53.

A number of persons who died at young ages also are buried here. These include: Timothy O'Brien who died May 7, 1891 at the age of 23; Clifford, son of Joseph and Mary Trukey, who died in 1890 at the age of 16; Christopher Congdon, 1871-1900; and Samuel J.T. Lyman, 14, Lizzie Lyman and Pearl Lyman, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ardin Lyman.

Another grave is that of Hilda Hohanna Heinonen with the inscription "syn Alawadella March of members who died in the war, with the back portion of the cemetery reserved for "non members."

OLD COOKS CEMETERY. Located in section 33, US-2, Cooks, Township owned. Inactive.

Item taken from letter to the Inwood Township Clerk concerning the property containing the Old Cemetery from United States Department of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management, Washington, D.C. dated March 16, 1965. Copies in files of the Schoolcraft County Historical Society and the Michigan Historical Society.

The Act of June 7, 1894, 28 Stat. 88, granted the SW 1/4 NE 1/4, Sec. 33, T. 41 N., R. 17 W., Michigan meridian, Michigan, to the township board of Inwood Township for the purpose of maintaining a public cemetery thereon. Title to the patent was required. 40 acres.

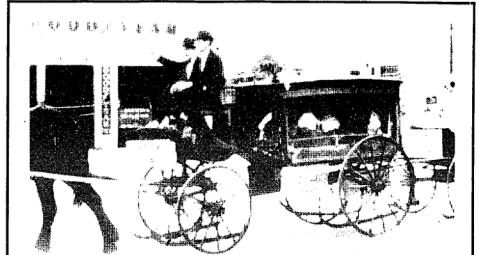

The new cemetery was purchased in 1912 from Ed Shilson for $375. In 1914 a motion was made to have on side Protestant and the other side Catholic. INWOOD TOWNSHIP CEMETERIES Schoolcraft County was created in 1843 from Chippewa, Houghton and Marquette Counties, named for Henry R. Schoolcraft, the county was organized in 1846. The county seat is Manistique. Besides the City of Manistique, there are eight townships in Schoolcraft County. The following is the information known of the three cemeteries located in Inwood Township.

ADVENT CEMETERY. Located in section 18, Advent Road, Cooks. Religious owned. Created in 1914. (Active).

This cemetery was created for the interment of members of the newly organized Seventh-Day Adventist Church. A reading of the tombstones show the following surnames buried in this quiet acre of land. Lausten, Welner, Blosser, Jorgensen, Shively, Eriks, Ross. Many of the graves have no markers but an interview with Mrs. Merle Welner, at the time of reading, with a request for more information at the time of reading, left us with the knowledge that many have been buried in the cemetery over the years. Exception were made for relatives

This cemetery contained approximately 75 to 100 graves at one time. A tombstone inscription reading done in 1960 by Historical Society members, Watson, Herbert, Lambert and Meron showed 70 tombstones dating from 1890 to 1918. Mr. Vander-walle cleared the brush from the stones and graves for the society members. A request to the Schoolcraft Historical Society to check the cemetery for the second time came in 1969 due to problems in the area. Appointed to the task were Georgia and Hazel Oerlert and Alex Meron. At this time only 57 tombstones could be found. Since the time of the first reading by the Society in 1960, some of these graves had been moved, stones vandalized, weather and nature claimed others. In 1988 the isolated area was vandalized again with the matter properly resolved. The area is a very peaceful place, off the main highway, and surrounded by nature.

The Old Cooks Hearse: The glass enclosed hearse was given to Saint Mary Magdalen Church by George Roberts in 1900. Notice the side runners which would be lowered for winter use. In later years it was entered in the 4th of July parades in Manistique. The rider in front is Allen Deupar and the driver is Donald Carley. Ferris Grey and "Ham" Hamilton took turns acting as the "corpse" (or "dearly departed").

Free fishing to be offered

Michigan's Free Fishing Weekend, an annual event to promote the enjoyment of fishing for youngsters and adults who haven't tried the sport, will be celebrated June 12-13 this year.

"Free Fishing Weekend has become one of the most popular weekends of the summer season,"

Department of Natural Resources Director Roland Harnes said. "It provides the perfect opportunity for families to take youngsters and friends fishing for the first time, and is a good time for those who have not fished for awhile to get back into enjoying the sport."

Conservation and fishing clubs, civic groups, chambers of commerce, bait and tackle shops and other businesses are already making plans to schedule "how to fish" clinics and other special activities around Free Fishing Weekends in their communities. Experienced anglers are encouraged to participate as volunteers and help pass on the fishing tradition to the next generation. Thousands of youths and first-time anglers have attended these events throughout the state during the past seven years.

Michigan's Free Fishing Weekend for residents and out-of-state visitors alike is held each June in conjunction with National Fishing Week, which is June 7-13 this year. Free fishing days were held in 39 states and the District of Columbia last year to promote year-around recreational fishing as a healthy, participation sport. Groups that want their Free
