EPA to take samples from harbor this week

After testing their equipment Wednesday, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) divers cast off from the city marina Thursday morning to sample the Manistique harbor for PCB contamination.

"We're hitting the hot spots," EPA on-scene coordinator Walter Nied said Wednesday. "We're taking seven to 10 samples that we will send to Green Bay, where they will be quickly analyzed."

The EPA's sampling procedures have been abbreviated, according to Nied, as "potentially responsible parties" (PRP's) Manistique Papers, Inc. and Edison Sault Electric Company have agreed to hire a firm to perform thorough sampling of the harbor.

Nied said the EPA approved the PRP's sampling plan last week, which will involve the sampling of 60 locations in the harbor starting by June 14.

The EPA has offered to split the samples they take from the harbor Thursday with the PRP's consultants, so that the PRP's can test the samples themselves.

"The companies have said that they are willing to split their samples, too," Nied said, adding that the EPA was "surprised," but pleased that the PRP's are willing to perform the extensive sampling process. "That will save federal funds for other projects."

The decision of where and when to dredge will be made after the EPA and PRP sampling results are considered, Nied said.

"Our goal is still to hit this summer, hopefully by August," Nied said. "We don't want to try doing it during November in the U.P."

Despite the cooperation from the PRP's, the companies have criticized the EPA for planning to dredge the harbor without public comment or thorough scientific study. City Council recently passed a resolution supporting the companies' stance.

Nied said that the EPA's plans to clean up the harbor been misrepresented.

"The U.S. EPA never intended to do the dredging until we go out and confirm the data," Nied said, referring to the 1990 tests of the river that the EPA is using to justify the PCB clean-up.

"That city resolution makes all the sense in the world to me," said Nied. "It says what we plan on doing."

Lakefront sewer work begins

Sanitary sewer repairs have begun in an area of lakefront property, but no endangered plant species appear to be at risk, according to Manistique City Manager Alan Housler.

Wednesday, experts hired by the city declared the lakefront area from the city marina to the old tennis courts to be free of endangered species, Housler said.

As citizens have voiced concerns over lakefront development's effects on the natural habitat in the area, which contains wetlands, Housler said that two firms "were called in to analyze the site."

Environmental planners from the Escanaba-based Resource Management Group and Don Henson evaluated the lakefront. Housler said that Henson was "highly respected" and recommended by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) for analysis.

The $143,000 sewer line repairs will run from behind the Harbor View Towers to the southern end of Range Street, Housler said.

After evaluating the same area two weeks ago, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers biologist Edward Arthur said Wednesday that he pointed out "several groups" of federally endangered plant species

"adjacent to the old boardwalk." Arthur also said that he found violations of section 404 of the Clean Water Act on the city's lakefront.

"Some damage was done where they removed large piles of debris with bulldozers, but it is not considered a major violation," Arthur said. "In meeting with the city manager and the DNR's Development Authority to discuss the problem, we concluded that the should remove the materials that are stockpiled, and then stay out of the wetlands area."

Arthur added that he will notify the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Housler, and DNR representatives of the violation by letter.

"The input of the Corps has to be involved. I suspect we will be back several times to inspect," Arthur said.

The lakefront is also being inspected by concerned area citizens such as Marilyn Lindberg, who plans to review the site with experts on June 8.

"The input of the Corps has to be involved. I suspect we will be back several times to inspect," Arthur said.

LMAS building sites named

Several sites for the proposed 8,000 square foot LMAS Health Department Building have been considered in the past year, but the Schoolcraft County Board of Commissioners narrowed down the field to two at Friday's audit-finance committee meeting.

LMAS offer some services from office space in downtown Manistique.

In a 3-2 vote, the county board approved commissioner Keith Aldrich's motion to build the LMAS building on the east end of the courthouse, provided it is leased and approved by the county building authority.

Originally, the county had suggested building the 8,000 foot LMAS building, similar to those already completed in St. Ignace and Newberry, on county owned property near the airport, a site that was not favored by LMAS employees due to its distance from town, according to county chairman Sparky Lauzon.

Aldrich added that a site plan and building design would have to be approved by the county board prior to construction.

Other sites that have been considered for the LMAS building include the former Lakehead Pipeline property, a Garden Avenue site, the city tennis courts on Maple Avenue, and, recently, the undeveloped basement area of the courthouse.

"If this primary courthouse site is not feasible, then we go with the airport site," said Aldrich in his motion.

LMAS representative Dr. James Terran declined to voice his personal site preference at the Friday meeting.

Aldrich said that a site plan and building design would have to be approved by the county board prior to construction.

"From the LMAS administration's point of view, we want the facility's staff to have adequate work space," Terran said. "It's a hot potato in your lap. I'm not going to add to the confusion."

Only county chairman Sparky Lauzon and commissioner Jack Houghton opposed Aldrich's motion to build at the courthouse, with the airport as a secondary site.

Commissioner Ernest Hoholik's earlier motion to build the LMAS offices at the airport failed by a 2-3 margin. After besting Hoholik voted for putting the LMAS building at the east end of the courthouse.

"I hate to stop growth in this community. The site is distasteful, but I want to see that the health department has expansion," Hoholik said.

Lauzon, who voted against both motions, said he would like to see the LMAS building built onto the courthouse, but voted in opposition, as he felt the board did not have enough information about the courthouse site.

"There's a lot I want to find out about this site. I don't see how we can vote on it when we don't know what's under the grass," Lauzon said.

Aldrich opposed the airport site because it has been set aside for "light" industrial use.

"I think that would be a poor planning move. The building would better serve the public on Courthouse on page 4A."

County solid waste plan MRI asks for amendment

The closure of the M-94 landfill, litigation, green boxes, petitions, recycling, transfer stations... Few will argue that solid waste collection in Schoolcraft County has not undergone changes in the past three years.

Manistique Rentals, Inc. (MRI) has formally requested that the 1990 Schoolcraft County Solid Waste Management Plan be amended to reflect one of these changes.

The 1990 plan, according to MRI, anticipated the closure of the M-94 landfill and the construction of a transfer station in Schoolcraft County.

As the landfill was officially closed May 3, 1992 and a refuse transfer station, owned and operated by MRI and built with the assistance of a Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) grant, was licensed and opened Feb. 18, 1992, MRI proposes the following amendment to the county solid waste plan:

"It shall be consistent with the Schoolcraft County Solid Waste Plan that all type II solid waste generated in Schoolcraft County with the exception of the waste generated in Germfask, Mueller, and Seney townships, go through the transfer station and be delivered to an Act 641 licensed landfill."

MRI vice-president Slim Shing presented the Schoolcraft County Board of Commissioners with a letter stating the requested amendment as well as a handout outlining the Central Upper Peninsula Planning and Development (CUPPAD) solid waste amendment process at Friday's county audit-finance committee meeting.

The MRI request for an amendment follows a recent meeting with DNR waste management division representatives Brian Burke and Lucille Scotty.

During a trip to the Upper Peninsula to inspect transfer stations, Scotty and Burke suggested that area municipalities consider the DNR's investment in the transfer station be taken into consideration as they determine which system of solid waste collection will be used after the current exclusive contract between five townships, the city, and MRI expires this fall.

DNR representatives have said that city and county letters supporting the transfer station's construction were factors in the approval of MRI's application for the grant to build the station.

The DNR's suggestion to consider the transfer station was recently met with opposition from Manistique Mayor and City-County Department of Public Works (CCDWP) secretary John Stewart, who wrote a letter to Scotty stating that he did not approve of the DNR's attempt to influence the municipalities as they choose a solid waste disposal system.

It is rhubarb season again and if your family enjoys "pie plant" now is the time to pick it. It is sweeter and more tender if you pick young pink stalks. When you think of rhubarb you think of rhubarb pie but there are many desserts that can be made using rhubarb. This rhubarb cake is a very good example. Try it. It makes 12 servings.

RHUBARB CAKE

2 cups flour	1 teas. vanilla
1 teas. baking soda	2 1/2 cups fresh rhubarb, cut in 1 inch pieces.
1/4 teas. salt	(If frozen, thaw before using.)
1 1/2 cups packed light brown sugar	1/2 cup white sugar mixed with 1 teas. cinnamon
1/2 cup margarine
1 egg
1 cup milk

Mix flour, soda, and salt and set aside. In large bowl cream margarine and brown sugar until fluffy. Beat in egg. At low speed add flour mixture alternately with milk until well blended. Add vanilla and fold in rhubarb. Turn into a greased and floured 9x13x2 pan. Sprinkle evenly with the sugar and cinnamon mixture. Bake in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes, or until a toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan on rack. Makes 12 servings. This is delicious served with a dollop of whipped cream and if you want to dress it up, put a cherry on the top!

Sarah says. . . . A pinch of salt added to very sour fruit while cooking will greatly reduce the amount of sugar needed to sweeten. Remember this when making rhubarb sauce.

. . . . The rule of thumb is a pinch of salt added to fruit and a pinch of sugar added to vegetables during cooking will greatly enhance the taste.

Food for thought. . . . The wisest among us is a fool in some things.

Lakeside lessons

Literacy is essential for survival in today's information-packed society. Without being able to read, how can one expect to read a map or job section of the paper, let alone attend college or receive career training?

When you're in elementary school, however, you don't think about the future benefits of reading. Future plans of school children seldom stretch beyond seating arrangements at lunch or what cartoons to watch after school.

To insure that its students don't take reading for granted, Lakeside School held its second annual Reading Carnival last Friday. By reading books of their choice on their own time (homework excluded), Lakeside students earned tickets for the carnival, which included a gymnasium full of games, prizes, face paintings, and fun. To earn these tickets, Lakeside students invested over 2,000 hours in extra-curricular reading.

The innovation and dedication of the Lakeside staff and PTO has given the students a unique incentive to have their noses in the book. Like the other educators and parents in your area that seek to improve educational techniques, they should be commended.

The rewards that the Lakeside Elementary students received Friday for reading are insignificant when compared to the benefits they will get later in life from having well-developed reading skills. But if you told that to one of the students who won a bicycle at Friday's carnival, chances are they wouldn't believe you.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

A lot has been written and said about Clinton's proposal to eliminate below cost timber sales. His policy would halt timber harvesting on 58 national forests throughout the country, including all three in Michigan.

Arguments for and against the elimination have centered on economics. The Clinton administration claims their policy would save $18 million per year. Meanwhile, the loss of this timber harvest could cost 20,000 jobs, $119 million in lost taxes and, by reducing timber sales 25 percent, will raise lumber prices. Real economic impacts.

What will be the impacts, however, on our environment and forest health? The demand for forest products will not be reduced because we have eliminated below cost harvesting. In fact as the world's population continues to grow so does the demand for forest products. A shift of production of forest raw materials from federal lands to private properties and to other countries will occur. Forest management will intensify on these lands so as to grow more wood on fewer acres.

The forest service, especially here in Michigan, is doing a world class job of managing our forests for all the multiple uses society demands from it. All activities, including timber harvesting, are done to maintain and enhance forest health and diversity. We can't say the same thing will

WalkAmerica fights birth defects

In Schoolcraft County, almost $4,300 was pledged to help the March of Dimes during "WalkAmerica" on Saturday. May 15 as 60 walkers participated to help the March of Dimes campaign, which seeks to prevent birth defects, low birthweight, and infant death.

The local WalkAmerica planning committee made up of Charmaine Lehman, Shawn Lehman, Paulina Brown, Theresa Neville, and Deb Ledford, received checks from the March of Dimes for their assistance in the event. Thanks were also offered to volunteers from TOPS, Volunteer Services, Search and Rescue, and the Health Occupations class at Manistique High School.

Credit for the success of WalkAmerica belongs entirely to the people of Schoolcraft County, said March of Dimes Community Director Diane Wendt.

Lakeside Elementary rewards its readers

Paper Chase is July 10

If walking through Manistique during Folkfest this summer is not enough activity for you, consider the Paper Chase. Planning for the July 10, 1993 Manistique Paper Chase is already under way, according to event organizers. The starting gun will be at 8:45 a.m.

Again this year there are two separate events in the Paper Chase: a 12 kilometer (7.4 mile) race for runners only and a 5 kilometer (3.1 mile) race for runners or non-competitive walkers.

The 12K course will start near the west end of Main Street near the Manistique Senior Citizens Center. It will proceed through town to US-2, west to Harbor View Road, to Chippewa, Deer, and Elk Streets, north on Maple Street, onto Tanner road, and back US-2 to finish on Cedar Street in front of the post office. Aid stations will be located at 2.3, 5, and 6.5 miles along the course.

The 5K starts near the entrance to the Manistique High School parking lot and follows the 12K route until Maple Street, where it turns south, also finishing in front of the post office.

The 12K course has received sanctioning approval by the U.P. Road Runners Club (UPRC). Sanctioning requirements include accurate course measurements, adequate water aid stations, medical aid availability, one mile time splits, and accurate timing and results processing.

The 5K race is not sanctioned, however the same benefits are provided for the 5K participants. Refreshments, including fresh fruit, water, and other beverages provided by local grocery stores and distributor, will be available at all runners at the finish, where race results will also be posted.

All participants in the Paper Chase will receive a unique commemorative tee shirt and will be eligible for the awards given to the top finishers in each event.

Age group categories in the 12K are as follows: 14 and under; 15-19; 20-29; 30-34; 35-39; 40-44; 45-49; 50-59; 60 and over.

The 5K will include 9 and under, 10-12, 12-14, 60-69, and 70 and over age categories. A special recognition trophy will be presented to the first place overall male and female finishers in both races. In addition, the winner in each age group will receive a trophy and second and third place finisher will be awarded medals, custom designed with the Paper Chase logo.

A "Generation Gap" award will go to the best combined 5K time turned in by a three-generation team of any combination of male and female members. The awards ceremony will take place at the north Folkfest stage near the State Savings Bank at 11 a.m. The entry fees this year will be the same as last year: $8 for all those who register by 5 p.m. July 1; $7 for pre-registered UPRC members; $10 for all who register after July 1; and, to encourage younger participants, 14 and under can register for $5 with no late entry fee.

Check in and registration begins at 7:30 a.m. July 10 at the high school. Pre-registration is encouraged by race organizers to reduce late-entry tab congestion before the event, with pre-registration forms available U.P. Computer Center or at the Schoolcraft County Chamber of Commerce office.

The primary sponsor of the Paper Chase again this year is Manistique Papers, with additional funding provided by Manistique Dimension, Mead Corporation, and the State Savings Bank.

"We're not trying to force anyone to do anything, we just hope to get continued support," Slining said Wednesday of MRI's amendment request. "Where we're coming from is strengthening the commitment that the city and county made years ago when they supported the building of the transfer station."

Though the three Schoolcraft County townships that are not exclusively contracted with MRI (Seney, Germfask, and Mueller) were excluded in the wording of the amendment request, Slining said that MRI does not intend to permanently exclude the three from using the transfer station in the future.

"It seems that they have a different system, and that's fine," Slining said. "But if they do want to participate, we won't push them aside."

County chairman Sparky Lauzon suggested that the amendment request be addressed to the County Solid Waste Planning Committee, as specified in CUPPAD's amendment process schedule.

If the committee approves the city amendment, a 90 day public review and comment period will be held. After this period, a public hearing will be held, followed by the committee's approval or disapproval of the amendment. If approved, the plan is sent to the county board for their review and approval.

If approved by the county board, the plan amendment is sent to local units of government in the county requesting their approval or disapproval. If 67 percent of the local units approve, the plan is then sent to the DNR for state approval. If the DNR approves the amendment, it becomes part of the county solid waste plan.

Ryan is a finalist for Golden Apple Award

Recently being named a finalist for the Daily Press's eighth annual Golden Apple Award came as a surprise to Lincoln School second grade teacher Barb Ryan.

"It's really an honor to be selected, but I feel as if I don't do any more than any other teacher does," said Ryan.

Ryan joined Escanaba and Gladstone teachers as a finalist for the award. Winning teachers were chosen by the Daily Press news staff from essays submitted by its readers.

For the first 16 years of her teaching career, Ryan taught at Big Bay de Noc School, but the last two years have been spent at Lincoln.

In addition to her classroom work, Ryan's contributions outside of the classroom resulted in her nomination for the Golden Apple.

Ann Johnson, president of the Schoolcraft County Learning Disabilities Association, submitted Ryan's name for award consideration. "It's really an honor to be selected, but I feel as if I don't do any more than any other teacher does," said Ryan.

Barb Ryan tutoring Johnson's son on week-ends and Friday afternoons. "I feel we have made great gains," said Ryan of her tutoring work with Johnson's child.

County and Mental Health officials cut the ribbon, marking the grand opening of "Ice-99", a golf driving range that will be run by Harbor Enterprises, which provides vocational opportunities to the mentally handicapped. Present at the ceremony were (l-r) county treasurer Terri Eronich, county commissioner Jack Hughson, Harbor Enterprises vocational coordinator Lisa Lauzon, county clerk Stigrid Doyle, county commissioner Ernest Hoholik, community corrections coordinator Bob Barr, county chairman Sparky Lauzon, mental health board chairman Pat Rodman, mental health board member Lindsay Frenette, county commissioner Don Martin, and mental health board member James Troyer.

"It shouldn't be that way," Doran said. "Between the township and the people, we pay a pretty good amount to get those services."

The idea is that, if a person in Schoolcraft County needs an ambulance and calls us, we go," Peterson said Tuesday.

The Schoolcraft County Board of Commissioners told Doran that the ambulance should be available to Germfask residents, as the $9,000 they contribute for annual ambulance operations should benefit all residents.

"It's the city-county ambulance, it's meant to serve the whole county" said county board chairman Sparky Lauzon. "But you must also realize that they can't get out to Germfask as fast as they can get to Oak Street."

Big Bay de Noc fifth grade students tell summer plans

by Debbie Lang

No one is happier to see summer than children.

Students at Big Bay de Noc School showed their enthusiasm for summer and the last days of school with bright smiles and quick answers to the question, "What are you going to do this summer when school gets out?"

The following fifth graders from Rebecca Orhanen's class know just what they're doing this summer.

"Ride my motorcycle and go swimming." - Jason Arnold, son of Ida Arnold of Cooks.

"I'm going to ride my Honda motorcycle. I'll go swimming at Grandma Judy's beach. Eric and I play together in the summer. I'll probably play baseball." - Tyler Lucas, son of Scott and Laura Lucas of Garden.

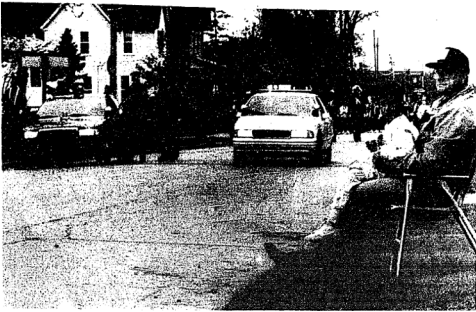

"Play baseball, go swimming, go fishing with my Grandpa Matt. I like summer because of the Fourth of July. I like the fireworks, especially when they put up the Snoopy and flag fireworks on Fourth of July night." - Eric Tatrow, son of Jeff and Sally Tatrow of Garden.

"I'm going to go bike riding, ride my four wheeler, and go with my dad fishing." - Ryan Knoph, son of Jan and Don Knoph of Cooks.

"Go see my dad in Wisconsin. Go swimming, visit with my cousins, and go fishing." - Janet Gouin, daughter of Janet Gouin of Garden.

Denton Nelson and his grandson have a front row seat on Maple Street as they wait for the Manistique Memorial Day Parade to pass by Monday morning.

Fish Report

by Sgt. John Walker (Ret.)

Well, the weather has not been the best for fishing but even so they have been getting a few fish. Bass opener was pretty good and they are getting a few walleye and pike. They are also getting a few perch on some of the inland lakes. One good thing about winter returning, the bugs froze out. I keep thinking that the weather has to turn around pretty soon and warm up and dry out but maybe it doesn't have to.

The worst thing about these real wet and cold springs is that it takes it on the partridge. It is one of the worst things that can happen when the pats are ready to nest on the ground. When there are so few of them we really do not need weather like this for them to nest through.

I hear that what I said in my fish report a white back has come to be here then returned home. I guess they got fooled.

This story is true and it happens all the time. I could never figure out when I was working why hunters and fishermen do not read the hunting and fishing digest. All the time I hear about people missing out on things because they are sure of something that is not the way they know it has to be.

I heard this week about two or three different fishermen who went out fishing and wouldn't you know it caught some real nice bass before season was open. Being the honest type fishermen, they looked them over and made sure they were as big as they thought they were then let them go. They returned home to tell about what a bummer it was to catch such nice fish the day before season was to open and then having to watch them swim away as they let them go-only to find out season was open and they could have kept their nice fish. It pays to read the digest.

Then there is the other side, a guy talks some of his buddies into going up into Canada hunting with him. They also plan to do a little fishing, but the main reason they are going is for some good bird hunting. It seems where they usually go fishing there are always a lot of birds so this year they plan on a hunting trip with fishing as a sideline. They all get their vacations, pool their money, gather their equipment and off they go heading across into Canada for some bird hunt. They get to their destination and look good. It does not look like there is going to be any hunting pressure at all. They unpack and check out their guns and make ready for the next day's hunt. That evening they get talking to the owner of the cabins and to their dismay find out why there is no hunting pressure. It seems that they are a week early for the opening of bird season. But last year we would have been right, but this year is different. O'well, we can always do a little fishing before we return home.

In the 7:30 p.m. game at the Waterford Field, Marley's Pub used an eight run fifth to key a 18-9 victory against Pfizer.

Steve "Goebelski" Godlewski led Marley's by going 2 for 3 with 3 runs scored. Three other team-mates went 3 for 5 in the win. They were, John "Jack" Chandler, who had a triple and scored twice, Bob Korff who scored a run and flashed some fancy defense, and J.R. Miller, who scored twice and had an RBI.

In the 6 p.m. game at the Fair Building Field, Lakeshore Oil used nine 5 run innings to pound the 12-5 win over the expansion Harbor Bar team.

Bar's first game didn't turn out how they would have liked, dropped to 0-1.

In the 6 p.m. game at the Waterford Field, Ace Hardware came out of the gates "smoking" and scored nine of their 20 runs in the first three innings and tied 14 extra base hits on route to a 20-13 decision over a well-improved Cooks Fire Department.

Two "well seasoned" veterans led the way for Ace. They were Ron "Honzo" Asp who went 4 for 5 with 3 doubles, 4 runs scored, and 4 RBIs and Doug Demers Sr., who also went 4 for 5 with 2 doubles, 2 runs scored and 2 RBIs.

LET'S PROTECT BOTH THE ENVIRONMENT AND LOCAL JOBS

Manistique Papers and Edison Sault Electric are committed to improving the environmental and economic well-being of the Manistique area. Therefore, we feel that it is important to share the following information regarding Manistique Harbor.

On April 8, 1993, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) asked three local companies (Manistique Papers, Inc., Edison Sault Electric Company, and Warshawsky Brothers Iron and Metal) to "volunteer" to finance and/or perform the emergency removal (dredging) and subsequent treatment of PCB contaminated sediments from Manistique Harbor. Initial cost estimates for such removal were from $3-10 million. Recent estimates are as high as $30 million. Despite scientific information which indicates that this emergency removal action is unnecessary and inappropriate, EPA is refusing to listen to us. This does not seem fair.

The following facts are important to consider:

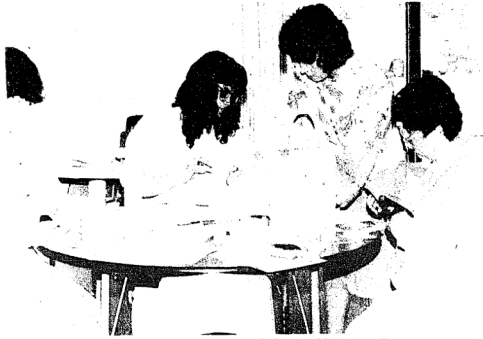

- EPA believes the sediments in the harbor require emergency removal, even though they were found in the harbor approximately twenty years ago and may have been there for a much longer period.
- EPA still does not know the sources of the PCBs in the harbor.
- EPA has not considered any public input on its decision.
- Finally, existing PCB levels in the harbor are considerably lower than at other Great Lakes sites where remediation was required. Current information suggests that emergency dredging of the harbor is unnecessary.

THE MANISTIQUE SOLUTION - BEST FOR ALL

As concerned members of the community, we believe that EPA should conduct a thorough study of PCBs in the Manistique Harbor before any decision is made on what, if any, cleanup action is required. A thorough scientific study will avoid the possibility of wasting millions of dollars on an initial cleanup action which may not only be unnecessary, but which could cause more harm to the environment than good. Further scientific study will ensure the best possible decision is made for Manistique Harbor and the community at large.

If you are concerned, you may want to call Senator Carl Levin (202) 224-6221; Senator Donald Riegle, Jr. (202) 224-4822; Congressman Bart Stupak (202) 225-4735.

This information provided by Manistique Papers and Edison Sault Electric Company.

Manistique Chapter 1 teachers help parents to construct learning items for their students during the "Make It and Take It" workshop in the Manistique High School community room.

Teachers give workshop

On May 26, the first Chapter 1 "Make-It and Take-It" workshop was held at the Manistique High School community room. Put on by Chapter 1 teachers Jody Meyers, Kathy Mohberg, Stacey Morrison, Barb O'Connor, and Anna Troyer, the workshop was designed to give the parents of Chapter 1 students ideas on how to help their children at home during the summer months. Each parent was given the opportunity to make games and learning aids under the direction of the Chapter 1 teachers, and the items made by the parents were taken home to be used with their children.

Active scout summer slated

by Deb LeBlanc
Even though the school year is closing area Girl Scouts are active throughout the summer season. Two area wide events which will be involved with are: Project Petunia and walking in the Memorial Day Parade. Camps that will occur in the Manistique area are: Summer Fun Days (Camp Hy-dra-way), Horse Camps (Alata Farm) and a variety of camps at Clear Lake. The majority of the 184 registered Girl Scouts in our area participate in a variety of the camp programs and area events. Other individual troop news is as follows:
Troop 31 went on a hike to Lake Michigan and had hot-dogs on the grill. The girls also hiked from their meeting place to the Pines Park! Troop 31 participated in Earth Day events and enjoyed planting trees. These very active Juniors also had a sleepover with two Brownie troops at Fairview School. Before they go off to camp they plan on planting flowers at Medicare and having a well deserved troop pizza party for their last meeting.
Troop 261 has earned six Brownie Try-Its this year. The girls wish to thank Alex Rodriguez for teaching them a song from his native country Brazil. Leader Gail Wood is planning a bowling party for their year end meeting and wanted to thank the girls in her troop for a great year. Troop 304 earned their bridging patch and the Dabier for "World of Arts" patch for Juniors. For the area wide Bridging and Fly up ceremony the troop made a rainbow for the bridge. The scouts also did a neat project this spring where they cut out four different outfits a girl their age would wear and told what occasion or type of weather they would wear them for. They shared this with another Brownie troop. For their year end wrap up they are going swimming and decorating T-Shirts.

Troop 310 Brownies took a walk to Dairy Cream for treats and are planning a bowling/dinner party with troop awards for their final meeting.
Troop 339 Juniors finished six badges this spring. The girls have participated in all the Earth Days events and are looking forward to all the summer camps. This active Junior Troop adopted the nature trail at Indian Lake State Park and have been maintaining it. While working on the trail the girls earned their Ecology and Wildlife badges. For their end of year wrap up they will have a sleep over (to be held Thurs. July 10 - a day change from June 11 due to KIDS FISHING DAY) at the State Park where they will sleep in the teepees. The girls will have a night "Scout Own" ceremony in front of the tee-pee on the 11th - parents of the girls are welcome to attend this special event with their daughters.
Troop 394 has had a great year as first year Brownies. The girls earned five Brownie Try-Its and three Council patches. For the last troop meeting they learned about weather and played outdoor games. The little Brownies are looking forward to marching in the Memorial Day Parade and going to Summer Fun Days (Day Camp) at our own Camp Hy-dra-way.

Adult Girl Scouts will be participating in Folkfest '93 where we will be attempting to raise over $570 for the Girl Development Fund which will be used towards various programs/camps for area Girl Scouts.
Thanks to all the volunteers and sponsors for a great year in local Girl Scouting.

Malloy Insurance will sponsor a qualifying tournament for local golfers 17 and under to open the 25th Insurance Youth Golf Classic (IYGC), the nation's largest junior golf tournament. The local tournament will be held June 25 at Indian Lake Golf and Country Club in Manistique according to IYGC Chairperson Dan Malloy. "Nearly 1,300 junior golfers entered 22 qualifying tournaments in Michigan last year," Malloy said. "Winners of the local tournaments will advance to the Michigan finals July 18-19 in Big Rapids. The top Michigan winners will have the chance to play said with a PGA pro at the national IYGC finals set for August 12-17 in Little Rock, Arkansas. "This year's tournament is unique, not only due to it being the 25th anniversary of the IYGC, but also because for the first time in the IYGC's history there is going to be a girls division at the national level," Malloy said. Entry blanks, rules and regulations on entering the local qualifying round are available from Malloy at (906) 341-6996. Nationally, about 11,000 teens play in 350 local and state tournaments organized by independent insurance agent volunteers as a community service, Malloy says.

OSCAR SHEPPARD
Filed for his claim June 25, 1881 at Mackinac Island. The description T 44 N., R 13 W., Sec. 14, north 1/2 of NW 1/4, SE 1/4 of NW 1/4, NE 1/4 of SW 1/4. He paid $14.50 for the homestead, which was to be tax free for 7 years. For that time it would be proved up for him to be the sole owner. This he did and he lived on the place until November 1, 1939 when he moved to Manistique where he died May 13, 1942.

He was born in Norwich, Canada August 9, 1856 (being born in Canada he told me why he never ran for president). His parents were "Uncle Sheppard, a civil war veteran and a Margaret Ann Lavina Wood also from Norwich Canada.

He was a man of many skills as were a lot of the old timers, but I guess you had to be in order to exist. His love of horses helped him in his livelihood, for he raised them and at one time had as many as 20 on his farm.

At age 8 months he moved from Canada to this country with his parents. With the adventuresome spirit of a young man of 25 with his two brothers-in-law John Ackley and Hezekiah Knaggs and two sisters Lizzie and Millicent he came north, took up a homestead, built a 16' x 20' log house. Two of his four fortunes he cleared the other two he left for firewood and lumbering. He then took himself a wife. He married Eliza Ackley, the oldest daughter and child of Ezekiel Ackley. The wedding took place at Eliza's home June 1883. John Ackley performed the wedding ceremony, for he was a Justice of Peace. The matron of honor was a Mary McKarrow and the groomsmen were Oscar's brother-in-law Hezekiah Knaggs. This marriage lasted for 60 years. She died in May 1960 in Manistique. They had a family of 12 children. Gera March 30, 1884. Baby daughter Jan. 18, 1886 died at 6 weeks. Harry March 5, 1888. Albert and Delbert March 19, 1890. Charles June 2, 1892. Frank Feb. 28, 1896. Lawrence Sept. 4, 1898. Marion May 22, 1900. Roy July 16, 1902. Marjorie April 6, 1904. Gertrude June 2, 1911. The last three are still living. Roy in Florida, Marjorie in Gould City, Gertrude in Westland, Michigan.

EZEKIEL ACKLEY
Ackley the "A" in Germask was the second to come to area south east of what is now the head north for a new life and practice. In doing this he left his team with Ackley until the colts were old enough to travel. When the time was right Ackley boarded a side-wheeling boat by name of Kewanee at Lexington Michigan Oct. 1880. Lexington is located on the lower West shore of Lake Huron and has one of the deepest harbor of the Lakes. Ackley had a very rough trip weather wise. It was during this same storm, a ship the Alpena, sank in Lake Michigan. Ackley landed safely with his four crates. It was then that French told Ackley about government land being let out 100 miles to the West for homesteading. In the accompaniment of a land-looker by name of Moore, Ackley went aboard a boat out of St. Ignace and went west where he landed at Nautinaway. From here the two men went northwest traveling on a wagon trail to the settlement of Lakefield. Here they met a man by name of Robert Byres, who went with them across Manistique Lake. They looked over the new trail to the settlement of Lakefield on the south shore of Manistique Lake at what the old timers called the High Landing. This property in later years, was owned by the late Angus McDougall. On a section line running west Ackley and Wilson brushed out a slight trail to his homestead site. Smith Wilson helped Ackley make a crude lean-to which was a row of sticks laid against a fallen log of about 4 feet in diameter at a 45 degree angle and was then covered with tree bark to help shed the rain water. Here Ackley would be living until he could build himself a house. After helping Ackley build his lean-to mansion in the woods, Smith Wilson returned to the people of the areas of Manistique and Gould City. This Smith Wilson was the father of a George Wilson of Manistique and a Wilson who was a barber for many years in Gould City. Ackley also had livestock with him which included Wilson's team of mules. They went by train west to Grand Rapids, then north to the end of the line which was Petosky. From here it was Wilson's team of mules and sleigh including the crossing of the straits of Mackinac on the ice. He stored his family and other belongings at W.W. French's while he and the men of his party went back to Petosky to bring up the rest of the supplies. When Ackley returned from Petosky he found a house for him and his family to live in. At this time Ackley had 4 children Eliza 15 years, Stella 13 years, Laggia 9. The four men-finished Ackley and William 3. John Ackley re-ley's house which was 14' x 20'.

Everyone's life and destiny are controlled by the good Lord. The ways that he is doing this varies with what he expects of a person or of his or her capabilities. In Ackley's case it was a team of mares that controlled his future. This team was owned by W.W. French and the two had foaled when French decided to turned to his home after getting Ezekiel settled.

In early April Ackley and Wilson loaded up the sleigh and headed west following the north shore of Lake Michigan. They landed at Nautinaway and headed toward Lakefield. They then left the north shore of Manistique Lake from a homesteader's by name of John Stevens. At this point with the help of Ackley this man Stevens. The late Billie Doyle had a story about a man who had great enjoyment out of sneaking about and hiding along trails and the such to scare people. He dressed in brown clothing and while pulling his pranks he was mimicking animals verbal noises. This fellow's name was also John Stevens. The woman I'm referring about dressed in the same garb of brown and was shot and killed by someone thinking him to be a deer. LeRoy--check this out. Ackley and Wilson beached a crude lean-to which was a row of sticks laid against a fallen log of about 4 feet in diameter at a 45 degree angle and was then covered with tree bark to help shed the rain water. Here Ackley would be living until he could build himself a house. After helping Ackley build his lean-to mansion in the woods, Smith Wilson returned to the people of the areas of Manistique and Gould City. This Smith Wilson was the father of a George Wilson of Manistique and a Wilson who was a barber for many years in Gould City. Ackley also had livestock with him which included Wilson's team of mules. They went by train west to Grand Rapids, then north to the end of the line which was Petosky. From here it was Wilson's team of mules and sleigh including the crossing of the straits of Mackinac on the ice. He stored his family and other belongings at W.W. French's while he and the men of his party went back to Petosky to bring up the rest of the supplies. When Ackley returned from Petosky he found a house for him and his family to live in. At this time Ackley had 4 children Eliza 15 years, Stella 13 years, Laggia 9. The four men-finished Ackley and William 3. John Ackley re-ley's house which was 14' x 20'.

They then built John Ackley and Knaggs's houses.

After all homes were built they moved their families in, but you can't say they lived happy ever after. Life is not that way for it's not intended to be. E. Ackley lost his wife and infant son in childbirth, but he did remarry and raised a second family. He didn't spend his entire life at this location, but in later years had a home with his wife and infant son in child. A member of him here was the pop-corn he used to raise in his garden. He also spent a winter at our home on the Sheppard homestead. At that time I was going into Germask on the bus to school and I was his errand boy. Kentucky Club pipe tobacco and butter were his main items with occasionally something else thrown in. He always would say there's a little extra, buy yourself something. He and I would sit off to one side in the evenings with him puffing on his pipe and the aroma of the Kentucky Club tobacco filling the air. He'd tell deer stories and tales of his early days. He would let me use his rifle, which was a .44-40 Winchester with a "back horn" sight on the rear. He was a man who always had time for a kid. I guess you might say, he had a long and fruitful life for he was almost 97 years old when he passed away. If anyone deserves a letter in the name of Germask, I'd say it would be this man.

He then married a Ida Casner

HEZEKIAH KNAGGS
Hezekiah Knaggs is the "K" in the name of Germask. He filed for his claim March 28, 1881. (Land description T 44 N., R 13 W., SE 1/4 Sec. 02) Born Sept. 20, 1854 Essex Canada. Died in Manistique Feb. 19, 1943. Buried at bacco filling the air. He'd tell deer stories and tales of his early days. He would let me use his rifle, which was a .44-40 Winchester with a "back horn" sight on the rear. He was a man who always had time for a kid. I guess you might say, he had a long and fruitful life for he was almost 97 years old when he passed away. If anyone deserves a letter in the name of Germask, I'd say it would be this man.

Continued from Page 1B their wedding vows. Mr. and Mrs. Angus MacDougal of Germfak and a Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Byers of Lakefield attended their wedding ceremony. A Mrs. Harry Erickson of Manistiquie sang, "I Love You Truly." A Miss Ethel Killam of Grand Marais sang, "When I Grow Too Old to Dream." A foursome of Miss Killam, Mrs. M. Reverend Hill, Ennis Fleming and Paul Robertson all of Grand Marais, sang, "Silver Threads Among The Gold" and "Put On Your Old Gray Bonnet." Joining in the chorus of the last selection were the congregation of the church. I'd say that was a mighty fine selection of songs.

The guests from out of town were Philip Knaggs and daughter Elsie Stanley Warden of Lincoln Park, Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Tyrell of Manistiquie, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hill, Miss Ethel Killam, Ennis Fleming and Paul Robertson all of Grand Marais, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Bohn (Dr. Bohn of Seney days) of Newberry, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bryers of Lakefield, Mrs. Bertha Hargrave (Dr. W.W. French's daughter) and son Pleasman and Miss Jean Ryan of Manistiquie. The following are all from Manistiquie—June Edmund Ashford, Miss Bessie Hamilton, Miss Lavette Williams, A.R. Tucker, Mrs. Harry Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. D. Sellers, George Stevens, Mrs. Charles Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neville, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cirsebe and Mr. and Mrs. V.J. Hixon. At this time Mr. Knaggs was 81, while his wife was 76 years old. Knaggs' mother was a sister of Ezekiel and John Ackley.

"Country Roses" performs

by Dorothy Hoholik

Roses are budding everywhere in spite of the cool temperatures, but roses did bloom at the Schoolcraft County Medical Care Facility on Wednesday, May 19, for the May birthday party when "Country Roses," a musical trio from the East Delta Parish Church at Garden Corners played a star performance to celebrate 10 birthdays at the facility.

The musical trio was made up of Catherine King, Rachel King, and Ann Bradshaw, all vocal with guitar accompaniment. Guest performer with the trio was Scott Groleau, a junior at Bay de Noc School. Rachel King is also a student at Bay de Noc School.

The Happy Birthday song was sung to each of the 10 celebrants by residents Dorothy LaGrew and Lillian Fredrickson who shared the limelight. The "Queen for the Day" was Lydia Ertl, age 94. John Batus, age 82, was crowned "King for the Day." Other birthday folks were honored in the persons of Hilma Bauers, Elsie Kasun, Donald McKenzie, Ethel Nelson, Marvel Popish, Florence Reque and Irene Stovik.

Contributions were received from family members of the birthday celebrants and the Manistiquie

Woman's Club.

Full dining room of patients and guests of birthday folks, were served cake, ice cream and coffee. Beautiful handmade lap robes and monetary gifts were given to each birthday person with a birthday card.

Guests of the birthday party were Frances Bernard, Sandy Bartu, Miller and Kenan Miller of Garden, Roy and Cora Ertl of Garden, Jack and Lila Helland of South Milwaukee, Ann Decker, Bonnie LaMuth, Clara Bosanic, Irene Reque and Rev. Robert King, Pastor of the East Delta Parish of Garden.

The monthly birthday parties are sponsored by the Manistiquie Woman's Club Home Life Committee which has provided volunteer services to the Medicare birthday party project for the past 12 years. Assisting with the May birthday party were Vi Fredrickson, Eleanor Boulliere, Betty DeSautel, Lew and Shirley Charter, Jean Gundersen, Betty Slinging, Betty Harding, Frances Weber, Irene Hinkson, Virginia St. John, Charlene Tursek and Dorothy Hoholik.

June promises to be another special event. The theme will be "Country Western" with the well known country western entertainer, Dean Summers, who comes to Schoolcraft County to perform for three shows on June 16. Summers hails from Flint, MI and Zephyrhills, FL. He sings and plays the guitar for retirement homes, nursing homes, and senior citizen centers throughout the country. He comes back to Manistiquie this year after five other years of doing shows at the Senior Citizens Center, the Medical Care Facility and Heritage House. Make a reservation at the Senior Citizens Center for the 11 o'clock show and stay for dinner. At 1:30 he will be at the Medical Care Facility for an hour show up there for the June Birthday Party, and a 5 p.m. dinner show for the Heritage House residents. Many thanks to the Ho Jo Inn for providing accommodations so that the Summers Show can serve the Senior Citizens in Schoolcraft County on June 16. Volunteers with the Manistiquie Woman's Club birthday party project should be in Western attire to help make this a memorable occasion for seven June birthdays. Any questions may be directed to Dorothy Hoholik at 341-5720.

First graders and their guide search for items to complete their scavenger hunt at "Camp Skeeter", a.k.a Indian Lake State Park. Camp Skeeter was a field trip designed by Lorrin Bowman of Fairview School and Laura Edwards from Lakeside School to wrap up their first grade students' science lessons for the year. In addition to the scavenger hunt-nature walk, high school science teacher Paul Meyers took the children birdwatching.
