Manistique Rentals faces lawsuit

Manistique Rentals, Inc. (MRI) is being sued by Michigan Environmental, Inc., a division of United Waste Systems of Menominee for allegedly not paying $21,739 in waste disposal fees.

United Waste Systems of Menominee also owns Peninsula Sanitation, Inc., who is named in a lawsuit filed by MRI.

MRI is suing Peninsula Sanitation for breaking their exclusive contract with the City/County Department of Public Works by picking up garbage in Schoolcraft County.

"We are each suing each other," said George Slining, Jr. of MRI. "They owe us money and we owe them money."

Bill Parson of United Waste Systems said they have never had problems with MRI before this incident.

"We enjoy dealing with them," he said, "but the payments are a problem."

The complaint says a service agreement was entered into between the parties Nov. 2, 1992, with MRI paying 85 cents per ton for non-hazardous waste disposal.

The complaint alleges that between December 1992 and March 1993, waste was accepted from MRI and disposal costs of more than $21,000 remain unpaid.

"We want their business," said Parson, "but we want their account current."

The case is assigned to Judge John D. Payant in the 41st Circuit Court in Menominee.

Board ratifies contract

The Manistique Board of Education unanimously approved contracts for teachers and support staff at Tuesday's meeting.

The teachers received a 2 percent salary increase across the board, with teachers not moving up a seniority step receiving no less than a 3 percent salary increase.

The basic insurance package for the teachers remained the same. The support staff received a 3 percent across the board raise.

Manistique Area Schools Superintendent Dr. Herb Harroum said the support staff received a higher percentage raise because they do not receive a higher incremental increase in their seniority steps.

"We are happy we reached an agreement," said Susan King, president of the board.

In other school board action: The school board passed a request from a student in the Manistique school district to become part of the Manistique school district.

The student lives in Hiawatha Township, but the family pays taxes to the Manistique school district.

"This could set a precedent," said Sylvia Klugstad. "Our priorities are for students in this district."

Klugstad made motion to deny the request, which passed.

The school board unanimously adopted a resolution to apply to borrow against state aid for school funding.

The school board passed the bloodborne pathogens exposure control plan to comply with state law.

The plan outlines procedures staff must follow if there is a possibility of exposure to blood.

The school board passed an agreement to continue on page 4A.

Fran DeCelle, the owner of Maytag & Furniture on Cedar St said he is looking forward to retirement.

DPW extends exclusive contract

By Robert Kirkbride

Following the lead of the Manistique City Council, the City/County Department of Public Works voted 5-2 (with two abstentions) Tuesday to extend Manistique Rentals' exclusive contract to haul county garbage, but will re-bid the recycling contract.

John Stewart, who voted against the contract extension said he has several reasons why he could not support the extension.

"I receive a lot of literature from associations," he said. "Most of the literature says these contracts should be bid quite often."

"Regarding the 60 day escape clause added to the contract allowing MRI to get out of it with notice, I think it is on solid ground."

"If some windfall develops, the city would not have the benefit to escape and get a better deal."

"The motion to extend the contract was made by Tom Kitzman and supported by Archie Carpenter, Kitzman, Carpenter, Bob Leny, Jack Hughson, and Alan Houser voted yes."

Mike Dougovito and Stewart voted no and Dick St. Martin and Omer Doran abstained. St. Martin said the contract was not extended because the townships, they represent, Seney and Gernafak, use a different garbage collection service.

After approving the extension the DPW decided not to extend the recycling contract.

George Slining, Jr. of MRI said he cannot understand why the recycling contract was not extended.

"I can't understand," he said. "We're running a first class recycling business here."

"DPW took a long time to get this recycling program going and it has costed them pennies."

"People are happy and satisfied with the program."

"The thing is just getting off the ground."

"I could understand if there was controversy with the program, but there isn't."

Leny said the reason the contract was given to MRI in the first place was there was no other interest.

LeBrasseur dies at 85 in Petoskey

Earl H. LeBrasseur, 85, a lifelong resident of Manistique and former Schoolcraft County Democratic Party chairman died Sept. 9 at Northern Michigan Hospital in Petoskey.

LeBrasseur also served on the Manistique Area Schools Board of Education for 29 years, and also held a seat on the Schoolcraft County Mental Health Board for 17 years.

He was also a Schoolcraft County Commissioner, and was appointed by former Gov. Milliken to serve on the Commission on Aging.

LeBrasseur founded the Osawamee Inter-tribal Council of Indians and served as the first president of the Indian Education Parent Advisory Committee in Manistique.

Council decides on garbage

The Manistique City Council voted 3-2 Monday to extend Manistique Rentals' exclusive contract with the city for the next year and seven months, the maximum time period before the contract must be renegotiated.

Councilman Don Halling made the motion to extend the contract, which was seconded by Councilman George Danko.

Mayor John Stewart, one of the councilmen who voted against the contract extension, said it is his feeling the contract is not in the best interest of the citizens of Manistique.

"Part of the reason this contract does not work is there has never been competition for the commercial red boxes," he said. "I feel it (contract) was badly done."

Halling said, "That's why DPW (city/county department of public works) doesn't work."

"I doubt if you guys will ever get anything decided the way you are divided."

"We need to get a new committee in there."

Councilman Dougovito said the reason Halling is pushing through the contract extension is to get elected in 1994.

"My reelection has nothing to do with this," Halling said.

Stewart said the council should look at the lawsuit against MRI before voting to extend the contract.

MRI is named in a breach of contract suit filed by Michigan Environmental, Inc. in the 41st Circuit Court, Menominee. Michigan Environmental is suing MRI for $21,739.48, along with costs and attorneys fees for allegedly not paying their fees for dumping solid waste with the company.

"It seems that MRI is in conflict with Michigan Environmental," said Stewart. "It appears that some type of court action may make MRI unwelcome in Menominee."

"This 'suspicious' has 'some bearing' on this discussion."

Halling said that almost every business owner faces litigation at some point in time and the lawsuit has no bearing on the job MRI does.

Stewart again mentioned complaints he has received from the commercial customers in Manistique.

"I've never heard any complaints from commercials," said Halling.

Halling, Danko and Dennis Boyd voted yes on the contract. Stewart and Dougovito voted no.

Halling made another motion saying that in addition to the MRI contract renewal, there will be a provision added that MRI can withdraw from the contract without penalty as long as they submit a notice 60 days before terminating the contract.

Dougovito questioned the legality of changing the contract in such a drastic way.

"A contract is a meeting of the minds," said John Floriano, the city attorney. "Generally, a contract renewal is a renewal of the exact contract, but the essence of the contract is not changed by adding the provision."

Halling, Danko and Boyd voted yes to add the provision. Stewart and Dougovito voted no.

PRPs respond to EPA

by Robert Kirkbride
 Editor's Note: The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency would not respond to the letter from Manistique Papers and Edison Sault until they had sufficient time to discuss its contents. EPA officials are meeting Friday to decide on the Manistique Harbor issue.

Manistique Papers and Edison Sault decided this week to perform an accelerated Engineering Evaluation/Cost Analysis (EECA) on the Manistique Harbor, but rejected the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) request to temporarily cap the contaminated sediments.

Eric Bourdo of Manistique Papers said they "respectfully declined" to cap the sediments for several reasons.

"Therefore, based on the technical evaluation summarized above, we cannot agree to implement a small scale, temporary cap which is environmentally unnecessary and inappropriate."

The letter also asks the EPA to investigate other parties that may be involved in the contamination.

"Finally, as we discussed with EPA Region V legal staff and indicated in our August 17, 1993 letter to you, an important outstanding issue is the identification and involvement of other parties as PRPs (potentially responsible parties). We would appreciate an update of the status of EPA's activities in this regard," the letter states.

Bourdo said Manistique Papers is encouraged with the direction the situation is headed.

"The cooperative relationship between us has been beneficial," he said, "no matter how much we don't think we should be involved in this."

"There is low potential for erosional loss of sediment and PCB from the harbor's depositional environment."

"The mean concentration of PCB in surficial sediment is 164 parts per million (ppm)."

"Fifty-one (51) out of fifty-eight (58), or 88 percent of the surface samples had PCB levels of 50 ppm or less. The probability of any given area having PCB levels above 50 ppm is 12 percent."

"The relatively low mean of PCB concentrations in surface sediments serves as a barrier to potential migration of sediments with higher levels of PCB into the environment."

"The mean level of PCB in surface sediment is a more appropriate measure of the harbor ecosystem than a level from a given sample point."

"Therefore, based on the technical evaluation summarized above, we cannot agree to implement a small scale, temporary cap which is environmentally unnecessary and inappropriate."

 Dave Peterson of the Manistique Department of Public Safety was Stanton's backup.

"We ask them to come down and train with us so we don't make mistakes in a real situation," said Peterson.

Fax started checking for scent along the left wall of the building, moving clockwise like he was trained to do.

Stanton shouted "Seek" to Fax as he circled the perimeter.

Fax entered the locker room and caught a scent.

It wasn't long before Fax found Bourdelais hiding behind a freezer.

He barked and growled to show Stanton where the subject was hiding, obscured from view.

Stanton called the dog off, and gave him a big pat, telling the dog what a great job he did.

As Bourdelais emerged from his hiding spot he said, "It's good for us to see what to expect from our dog."

Dogs are cop's best friends

by Robert Kirkbride
 As the old saying goes, "A dog is a man's best friend."

The saying is especially true for the Michigan State Police K-9 units, where the dogs and their handlers rely on each other with their lives.

Trooper Phil Stanton and Jim Bourdelais, and their dogs, Fax and Jerry were in Manistique Thursday, Sept. 9 to train the dogs with local law enforcement personnel at the Schoolcraft County Fair Building.

Lawbreakers who attempt to flee from the Michigan State Police should know they will be playing a dangerous game of hide and seek.

"This is the State Police K-9 unit," Stanton shouted into the fair building, "you have 60 seconds to give yourself up. You may get bitten."

Following the 60 seconds, Stanton released Fax to find Bourdelais, who was hiding somewhere in the building.

Trooper Phil Stanton of the Michigan State Police directs his dog, Fax into the fair building during a recent training session held at the Schoolcraft County Fair Building.

Manistique volunteer firefighters cut a hole in the awning at the Beachcomber Motel to try and get at the fire.

Fire damages motel

by Robert Kirkbride
 and Julie Erickson

When Tom McCloed, the owner of the Beachcomber Motel in Manistique had to pull over several times to let fire engines and an ambulance pass on his way to city hall, he didn't think much of it.

Employees at city hall told him a motel on US-2 was on fire: The Beachcomber.

"You can't imagine what it feels like until you go through something like this," he said. "I got right back into my car and sped back to the hotel."

Firemen at the scene think the fire was caused by an electrical short.

"I'm glad it happened when it did," said McCloed. "If it would have happened at night, it could have been a lot worse."

The fire caused only minor damage to the overhang of the roof near the office. It also caused some smoke damage. There were no guests checked in at the time.

Tom's wife Carol McCloed said the first thing she thought about was getting her pets out of the motel. The McCloeds own four Shih Tzu dogs and a Himalayan cat.

"The animals have been my whole life now that the kids are gone," she said.

Tom McCloed said the fire may have been caused by a short in the sign in front of the motel. "We are replacing the wiring under the parking lot."

The McCloeds bought the motel on May 14 of this year and moved to Manistique from Boyne City.

The call was received by the Manistique public safety department at 2:23 p.m.

Estimates of the damages have not yet been determined.

Partnership conducts needs assessment

The Manistique Community Partnership Program is conducting a Community Needs Assessment to help determine community feelings and knowledge of drug and alcohol use and abuse in the Manistique area.

The Community Needs Assessment will be distributed on Sept. 15 house to house.

The delivery and pick-up will be conducted by volunteers from the National Honor Society and other area organizations.

In a letter, Manistique Community Partnership Program Project Director Linda Steinfield said the partnership is asking for community help because one of the goals of the partnership is to understand community needs and values that relate to substance abuse and its prevention.

"It is important that the needs and values of all members of the community are represented," she said. "The results of this survey will help us provide support to the community."

The survey and responses to the survey will be held anonymous, with no names requested, according to the partnership.

Results will be available by Nov. 15, 1993 and will be published in the newspaper.

Fish Report

Well, tomorrow starts the small game season and also the hunter safety class for this fall. It is hard to believe that we are already half way through September. Now the sportsmen are going to have to make a choice, do I pick up my fishing pole or my gun as I leave the house today.

From what I hear if you are planning on going after pats you had better take your fishing pole. I cannot say how many people who spend a lot of time out in the woods, have come up to tell me how they have not seen a single pat this year. There may be a few pockets of them around but if you know a spot don't tell anyone and leave a few for seed.

Did you ever really want to do something, but it was against the law so there was no way you could do it? (Now I know nobody up here ever feels this way!)

A couple weeks ago I was down by Milwaukee visiting some friends who live in an eight apartment building. In the apartment across the hall there live two boys with just their mother. These two boys are right around 11 and two years old. The mother works at night to support the family, so has to sleep during the day. In all the times I have been down there I have yet to see the two year old out of the apartment, but the 11 year old is well known. This young lad has been brought home any number of times by the police for getting into trouble. It kind of becomes a guessing game of what he will get into next.

The time before last when I pulled up he was out in the yard on his bike. I parked so he could keep jumping the curb on the board ramp he had made. As I got out of my van he came over and thanked me for not parking in his way and we talked for a while.

Really, this 11 year old boy, who is always in trouble, is a nice friendly youth who only wants someone to be his buddy. Here he lives in an apartment building with only mom. I don't know where dad is, with a little brother and a mom who has to work and cannot take him out hunting and fishing and just be his buddy.

Man, I sure would have liked to say, "Come home with me to the U.P., where I have a shotgun that my boys don't use anymore, some fishing gear and all the time in out of my van he came over and help you grow up right." I sat at the boy's house and wondered how many boys there are like this around who have no dad at home, a mother who works hard to keep going, so the dad is out getting in trouble because that is the only way anyone ever knows he's around. Except for the fact you can't do it I sure would have liked to have been able to show him a little of how lucky I was to have had a dad around who cared for his boys and had time to spend with them doing what we just take for granted up here.

The next time I went down there to visit I threw my ball glove in the van, but I did not see him after I pick it up.

Well, by the time you read this Fish Report there will be a new book published. This week a book, entitled: A Deer Gets Revenge, of short stories will have been printed and will be up here by the end of the month. There are 22 chapters and around 44 stories in the book. It sure was both an interesting and a learning project, but I had fun doing it. I will let you know more about it after I pick it up.

State Police

A felony warrant has been issued for a Westland man who failed to make a court appearance last week on charges of possession of marijuana.

The charges came after the vehicle Clifford W. Milan, Jr. was driving was stopped for speeding by Michigan State Police, Manistique Post. A passenger in the car, Kimberly A. Sparks of Westland did make her court appearance on the same charges last Wednesday.

Milan's father, Clifford Milan, Sr. was arrested on Sept. 11 on a fugitive felony warrant for probation violation. He was turned over to the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

Police are investigating several incidents of rock throwing at people who are canoeing on the Manistique River. Officers said young men were throwing rocks the size of golf balls. No one has been injured to date.

Officers are also investigating shots fired at the water tower in Germak.

Michelle Sunday reported the breaking and entering of her residence near Indian Lake sometime between Sept. 8 and 9. A stereo valued at approximately $150 was taken. The case is under investigation.

Kati Meek dressed in Lithuanian costume discusses the techniques used in weaving the blouses displayed at a meeting at the Doyle Township Hall.

Meek harvests flax

by Diane Elcote

Wearing her colorful authentic Lithuanian costume, Kati Meek of Kalamazoo spoke to a group of her sister's friends at Doyle Township Hall in Gulliver last Friday. Kati and husband John were in Gulliver to help harvest the flax which had been grown at Thimblebury Sleep Farm, home of Bob and Diane Elcote near Gulliver. Kati brought the flax seed from Lithuania on her first visit last fall.

Obtaining the flax seed is a story in itself. Through interpreters, she made her request and just an hour before she was to depart Lithuania, nearly three weeks later, she was given a kilo of seed. One pound of this seed was planted in a 15 foot square of prepared ground on Memorial Weekend at the Elcote farm.

The flax grew well without need of extra water due to the wet, warm weather this summer. The plants bloomed throughout July with small, white and a few scattered pale blue flowers. Evidently the climate in Gulliver is comparable to that of Lithuania.

This past July Kati and John returned to Lithuania where they had been invited to perform at the Baltica Celebration, where they represented the United States and Scotland. John plays the bagpipes and Kati does authentic Scottish Highland dancing. They also perform regularly at Scottish festivals and competitions in the United States and Canada. Kati weaves the fine, woolen Scottish tartans they wear, using one of several looms she owns and uses daily. All these ethnic hobbies and interests must leave room for her modern-day job as sales rep for Johnson & Johnson pharmaceuticals in the Kalamazoo area.

Kati has made two trips to Lithuania to study the textiles of that country. She has been weaving and spinning for more than 20 years and through weaving contacts, she met Aldona Veselka of Chicago, Ill., a master weaver and native of Lithuania. Her first trip a year ago with Aldona introduced her to textile people and a museum where she continued her

Here is the best blueberry recipe I have in my collection. It was given to me by a very dear friend who passed away a long time ago. Everything I make this recipe I think of her and it brings back many wonderful memories. I'm glad she shared her recipes with me - I'll never forget her everytime I use one of them. I had this in the column years ago and folks still ask me to repeat it. I guess good recipes, no matter how old, never go out of style.

BLUEBERRY CRUNCH COFFEECAKE

3/4 cup sugar
2 cups flour
1/2 cup shortening
2 eggs
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
2 cups flour
1/2 teas. salt
2 cups fresh blueberries

Cream shortening, add sugar, add egg and mix thoroughly. Stir in milk, sift dry ingredients together and add slowly. Fold in blueberries very carefully so they stay whole. Pour into a 9 inch square pan.

Topping:
1/2 cup sugar
1/3 cup flour
1 teas. cinnamon
1/4 cup soft oleo or butter

Mix all together until crumbly. Crumble on top of cake. Bake at 375 degrees for 45 - 50 minutes.

Sarah says: . . . Instead of whitening a candle at the base to fit a candle holder that is too small, hold the end of the candle in a cup of very hot water to soften the wax. Then firmly and gently press it into the holder. The candle will be much more secure.

Food for thought . . . The most pointed remarks often come from blunt people.

Sneaky

In a time where more and more public interest is focused on government and its workings, it is hard to imagine the wool could be pulled over the public's eyes.

It happened twice this week. The Manistiquie City Council and the City/County Department of Public Works appeared to have sneaked through an extension of Manistiquie Rentals exclusive garbage collecting contract.

We are not saying the contract, or its extension is right or wrong. That is for the people of Schoolcraft County to decide.

The fact is, the contract extension was not on the agenda of either meeting. Putting such an important issue before either board without letting the public know is not illegal, but it is underhanded.

Garbage collection is a major concern and a major cost to residents and business owners in Schoolcraft County and should have been put on the agenda of these meetings.

DPW, continued

Bob Ackley, the owner of Manistiquie Recycling Process said, "There is (interest) now, and that's why the contract (for recycling) shouldn't be extended."

Alan Houser said since the last DPW meeting, there has been considerable discussion regarding loaning money to Ackley or signing a note with him to help him with his recycling business.

"I asked Pete (Hollenbeck, the county's legal counsel) how the business could be supported," he said. "Pete said it would not be legal for the DPW to advance money, a note, or funds to Ackley."

Doran asked why DPW is paying 3/4 cents per pound to MKI, but not to Manistiquie Recycling Process, even though they are also collecting recyclables.

Kitzman brought up Ackley's past business dealings with the Plastics of Green Bay. The company went bankrupt.

Kitzman said the DPW should be careful of the financial soundings of the companies they are dealing with.

Ackley said Manistiquie Recycling Process is a completely independent business and should not be judged on the basis of other businesses.

"I fail to see the significance of this," said Dougovio. "Does this mean we should not deal with companies who have over-due bills?"

Slitting said past business dealings should be in DPW decision making.

"The guy's (Ackley) reputation is what it is," he said, "just like yours and mine."

The vote to accept new recycling bids passed 6-3 with Kitzman, Carpenter and Husdon voting yes.

DPW discussed and approved Leno, St. Martin, Doran, Houser, Dougovio and Stewart voted yes.

In other DPW action:

Jim Barr of Manistiquie Township charged the DPW with not allowing his representative adequate time to speak at the last meeting.

"My township and myself are very upset at what happened at the last meeting," he said. "We were refused a voice on the issue of the proposed per head tax to pay for landfill closure."

"This board is set up for the people."

"When you refuse a delegate of our (township) board, you refuse 800 to 900 people in this county a voice."

"This lady needs an apology. Our township needs an apology."

"It's wrong what happened here."

Doran, who chaired the last meeting in Houser's absence said there was public comment time, during which she could have spoken.

"It could have been brought up then," he said. "When is it time for the board to do what it has to do?"

Kitzman agreed with Barr and had public comment time was used at the end of the meeting.

...The Manistiquie discussed what to do about the house located at 618 Oak St.

City manager Alan Houser said the building department and public safety department have been working together to solve the problem in the house.

"It makes no sense there is no time limit," said Sarah Bignall, who lives next to the house. "This could go on forever."

Dougovio said he doesn't know where in the process we are.

"Do we sit here one year, two years, three years?"

Bill Reno, the director of the Manistiquie Public Safety Department said Hackney condemned the house for occupancy, not ownership. "As long as the home can be repaired," he said, "they cannot go to court to demolish it."

"I talked to the homeowner on several occasions. He said the last tenants destroyed it."

"He knows he has to fix it up, tear it down or sell it."

Houser said city and county ordinances would be checked. "We will also talk to the property owners and Bill Hackney to see what we can do," he said.

...Boyd presented the city council with a report on his findings on the possibility of city snow removal on sidewalks.

Boyd said he has worked with Houser and Ole Sholander on possible solutions.

"I think we should offer it as the city," Boyd said. "But money is the bottom line."

"My idea is a tractor that would blow the snow into the street, then by city crews come and clean it up."

Boyd also mentioned an idea that would have the job bid out.

"I think quite a bit could be done in a six or eight hour day with regular snow blowers," he said. "We could get the snow plowed for $50,000 instead of the $30,000 to $35,000 originally expected."

Dougovio, who also lives in the neighborhood, said he thinks the city's blight ordinance should be toughened up so it does not happen again.

"Can't we tighten up our blight law?" said Boyd. "I'm sure we will run up against this on a monthly, if not weekly basis."

David Huddleston, the city assessor, said Bill Hackney is following maintenance codes. "If the house is structurally unsafe," he said, "it cannot be occupied until it is fixed."

Dougovio asked the council where the problem is in the process of being taken care of.

"It makes no sense there is no time limit," said Sarah Bignall, who lives next to the house. "This could go on forever."

Dougovio said he doesn't know where in the process we are.

"Do we sit here one year, two years, three years?"

Bill Reno, the director of the Manistiquie Public Safety Department said Hackney condemned the house for occupancy, not ownership. "As long as the home can be repaired," he said, "they cannot go to court to demolish it."

"I talked to the homeowner on several occasions. He said the last tenants destroyed it."

"He knows he has to fix it up, tear it down or sell it."

Houser said city and county ordinances would be checked. "We will also talk to the property owners and Bill Hackney to see what we can do," he said.

Downstate Differences

By Robert Kirkbride

Sugar-busters like me who are from below the bridge have a different way of viewing things. Not better, not worse, just different.

In this column, I will try to explain some of the differences and why they exist.

I pulled into Manistiquie for my interview, and as a lover of music, I hit "seek" on my car stereo.

To my horror, the numbers on the radio display ran and ran, and without catching a station.

Then it stopped. With a groan, I pushed the power button to turn off the radio when I found the only FM station I could get was country.

I grew up with country music. My mom played it every morning as I got up and ate breakfast.

Maybe it's rebellion, but ever since then, I have grown to hate country music more and more.

More and more kids my age are starting to listen to country and it alarms me.

They say to me, "Country has changed. It's not all twang anymore."

So I give in and switch the channel to a country station.

"Isn't this great?" they say.

"No," I reply.

As a writer, I like playing with words as much as anyone else, but the woman who sings "Queen of the Damned" has gone far. The sad thing is, this is a fairly popular song.

With song titles such as "Where am I Gonna Live When I Get Home" and "Bobby Shot the Juice Box" I don't think I have a lot to worry about.

Country music has to fall if this is the best the "artists" can come up with.

Downstate, I have a musical choice. If I want to listen to rock-n-roll, I listen to rock-n-roll. If I want to listen to heavy metal, I listen to heavy metal.

No matter where you go downstate (with very few exceptions) you can find music that suits your taste.

From alternative music, to world beat, the choice is yours.

I grew jazz music. I used to listen to Jazz Branch on WYAV FM in Grand Rapids on Sundays. It would be nice to have something like that here.

I realize the advertising base in the UP cannot support a million different stations, but I would still like a choice other than country.

Especially for people in their teens and 20s. Country does not mean rebellion, but rock-n-roll needs some fuel. Give us rock-n-roll.

I'm not trying to put down the local country radio station. I know country is very popular in the area. From what I have heard, the station does a very good job.

I guess for now I will have to be satisfied with watching WMTV and reading Rolling Stone magazine to find out on the latest on my favorite rock bands.

As the rock-n-roll band the Knicks said, "Give the people what they want." I, for one, want rock-n-roll.

Editor's Note: A special thank to Julie Erickson, DPW office manager, who gave me the idea to write about the difference in radio stations.

Fran has managed the business ever since.

"I think we had a decent reputation in the area," he said. "The customers treated us well and we tried to treat them well."

"We made a good living because we worked at it."

"Our loyal, repeat customers kept us in business."

DeCelle said woodworking is his hobby, and he will try to spend more time with his regular wood work.

"I'll also be spending some time fishing," he said, "and doing things I haven't had time to do."

DeCelle said his wife Betty has been very supportive of his decision to retire.

Betty has been an employee at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital for the past 20 years. Fran said she will keep her job so they will still have health insurance.

"It's not all work and no play for the DeCelle."

The couple will be returning to Jamaica on Nov. 7.

DeCelle said he and Betty first visited the island five years ago, when he repaired several washing machines for a resort owner in Nigrel.

"Jack's brother visits Jamaica every year in January," he said.

"When he was down there, Irene Hanson, the owner of the Yellow Bird Sea-Tell Resort, said she had always had washing machines at the resort so the guests wouldn't have to carry as much clothing on vacation."

"She paid for our food and lodging for 10 days."

"When I added up the bill, which came to about $1,400, she shook her head and said it was not enough."

"She took out $100 bills and started counting them out until I told her to stop."

DeCelle said Hanson counted out $2,400, which he said was way too much for the job.

"She said the job was worth that much to her and said she would be offended if I did not take the money."

"This year's trip will also be to repair the washing machines at the Yellow Bird Sea-Tell Resort."

"She wanted us to stay for a month," he said, "but my wife is short on vacation."

"The repairs should take a me a half-day."

K-9 Units, continued

The only two Michigan State Police K-9 dogs in the Upper Peninsula.

They said there are approximately 23 dogs working with the State Police in Michigan.

"Our dogs are trained to track both human scent, narcotics and property items," said Stanton.

"The State Police also has dogs used for tactical entry, water searches and bomb searches."

Stanton said some dogs are purchased, while other dogs are donated to the State Police.

Regardless of how the dog is acquired, they must go through extensive training, just like their handlers.

Some dogs don't make the grade. "The dogs are tested to make sure their sense of smell is right for the job," said Stanton.

"They check their personality to see if it is what their looking for."

Stanton and Bourdela said the handlers also train hard at their jobs.

"Both of us have been in Lansing training full time for about a year and a half," Bourdela said.

"What we'll do is go down their for a few weeks at a time every once in a while, but I'll add up."

Bourdela said he answered 130 calls in the eastern Upper Peninsula last year.

"We are stationed in Negaunee and Sault Ste. Marie, but we can cover the entire Upper Peninsula," he said. "Yesterday, we were both in Ontonagon looking for a missing hiker."

The troopers said the training with the dogs is continuous.

Not only are the dogs their partners, they also live in their homes.

With such dependence on the dogs, the training sessions, like the one in the fair building are critical.

The next dog to train was Jerry. This time, Peterson would play

Phase III of boardwalk underway

Phase III of the boardwalk along the lake shore is underway.

The Manistiquie Downtown Development Authority (DDA) Director Wally Leggett said the project is going well.

"The east 600 feet of the base-work foundation is complete," he said. "We are completing the entryway and parking lot base soils."

"80 percent of clearing the sidewalk is complete and the concrete bridge supports are done."

"The snow fence is in place and the endangered willow-trees and on Sept. 21, the lumber will be delivered."

Leggett said until the lumber is delivered, crews will work on the remainder of the 3,100 feet of base that needs to be laid for the project.

"It's coming along nicely," he said. "It should be completely by the later part of Oct."

"I will be bringing the final layout to the members when it is complete."

In other DDA action:

Member David Vaughan said he and the city will still be looking into the possibility of development of the area near the board.

"The developer reduced his interest or changed his mind," said Leggett. "I think he has given up on this."

Bill Giles of Giles & Associates was originally interested in the project. He could not be reached for comment.

Vaughan asked, "Is it because of lack of action by the city?"

"Is city council going to encourage development down there?"

"City Manager Alan Houser said the survey of the area has been completed and the city is waiting for the state to check the willow situation in the area."

Several members thought if the study was not done this fall, the window of opportunity would be closed for another year on development.

"The city council should say yes or no if they are going to sell the property," Vaughan said. "We acted on this a long time ago."

"We have to do something to keep the few businesses that we have."

"We already lost three businesses this summer."

Member Dick Kettick made motion, which was seconded by David Vaughan to have the area surveyed for endangered wildflower species by local botanist Don Henson.

The motion passed unanimously.

Leggett reported to the DDA members for each of the committees on Wilfred Johnson's property

...Harron told board members letters will be going out this week inviting members from other boards of education in the area to meet on Monday, Sept. 27 at 7 p.m. in the Community Room of Manistiquie Area Schools to discuss forming a regional school board association.

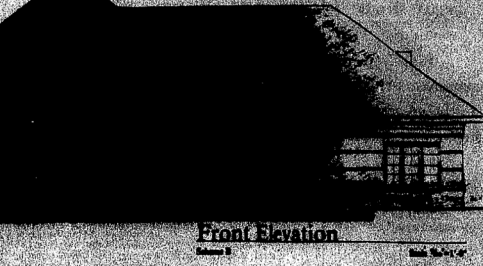

According to Harron, funding is available from the Michigan Association of School Boards to help form a regional association.

...Preliminary enrollment figures were given for the Manistiquie Area Schools.

Total preliminary enrollment is 1,361.

Harron said he is anticipating an enrollment of approximately 1,340 by the fourth Friday of classes because of transfers.

"These numbers are up about 60 students from last year."

State Savings bank announced the construction of their new building. The 11,000+ square foot building will be located at the present location of the bank, extending down Cedar to take the place of Maytag & Paraturne, which is closing.

State Savings to build new office

The Directors of State Savings Bank in Manistiquie have announced the plans to begin construction of a new 11,000 square foot building, which will be located at the corner of Cedar and Main Streets.

Clyde Stralser, president and CEO of State Savings said the bank has simply outgrown its present location.

"There are constantly new and state machines being introduced, along with the need for more storage," he said.

Stralser said they hope to start within five to six weeks with the demolition of the Maytag & Paraturne building, which the bank purchased for the expansion.

"We are completing the final work on the floor plan and will be releasing prints and specifications shortly to a number of builders," he said. "We expect completion and occupancy late next spring."

The new building, said Stralser, will improve banking for State Savings customers.

"We will maintain all our present facilities and services right up to the move," he said. "The customer will not be inconvenienced. We will probably move in one Saturday."

The new building will make banking at State Savings easier and more convenient for our customers.

State Savings has occupied their current building since 1917 and has been remodelled several times.

"We conducted a study and we found we just couldn't remodel the present building anymore," he said. "We're excited about the new building, it will be designed as a bank, which will increase our efficiency."

"We also feel it is an investment in the community."

The block, brick and stone building is being designed by Thompson-Parsons, Inc. of Ann Arbor, Mich. and will be two stories and may include a basement if the rock formations under the building allow for one.

In Memory

In Loving Memory of Dale Paradise Who Passed Away Two Years Ago September 14

Our hearts were almost broken, You fought so hard to stay. But when we saw you sleeping, Peacefully free from pain, We would not want you back to suffer that again.

Our hearts still ache with sadness, Secret tears shall flow, What it meant to lose you, No one will ever know.

When we are sad and lonely, And everything goes wrong, We seem to hear you whisper, Cheer up and carry on.

Each time we look at your picture, You seem to smile and say... Don't cry... I'm only sleeping, 'til we meet again someday.

Varsity gridders lose home opener

The Manistique High School varsity football team lost 28-0 in their home opener against Ishpeming on Thursday night.

The Emeralds' head football coach Todd Kangas said the team did not play up to their abilities.

"We kept in the ball game," he said, "even up to the fourth quarter. We were at the goal line but we couldn't put it in. If we would have scored the game would have been 16-8 at the time."

The Emeralds gave up 275 yards in rushing against Ishpeming, along with 24 yards passing. "I think defensively we did a horrible job," he said.

Manistique could muster only 53 yards rushing and 80 yards passing against a tough Ishpeming defense.

Jim Colegrove rushed for 23 yards on 14 attempts for the Emeralds.

Mike Kraatz completed five of 15 passes for 80 yards.

The leading receivers were Mark Jarski, catching a 36 yard pass, and Brian Koski, catching a 26 yard pass.

"To beat Gwinn this weekend, we need to stop their running game," Kangas said. "That's what we've been working on all week."

"Our performance has to get better."

"We are a better football team than we've shown."

Kangas said Gwinn is a pretty solid team.

"They graduated a lot of kids last year," he said, "so they're a little inexperienced."

"Iron Mountain scored 41 points on them, but they are better than that."

Mike Kraatz prepares to launch a pass in the direction of Jeff Dzierbicki in the home opener against Ishpeming, Ishpeming won the game 28-0, but not without a fight from the Emeralds.

Ishpeming pounded

The Manistique High School JV football team trounced Ishpeming 52-26 in Ishpeming on Thursday, Sept. 9, improving their record to 2-0.

"Offensively, we did a good job," said head coach Matt Peters.

"Defensively, we have room to improve."

The Emeralds rushed for an amazing 579 yards, led by tailback Jason Blowers.

Blowers scampered for 329 yards and four touchdowns in the game.

Derek Cullison rushed for 121 yards on five carries.

Nick Snyder rushed for over 90 yards and scored a touchdown.

Jon Ylisen hit Steve Hinkson for a 40 yard touchdown pass.

"I think that was the only pass we threw," said Peters.

Ishpeming started out the scoring with a kick-off return at the start of the game.

Manistique led the game 32-26 at halftime and put the defensive clamp on in the second half.

"After the half," said Peters, "the defense took care of it."

"We just had to go out and play football."

Peters said Gwinn, the Emeralds' next opponent, is very beat-

Frosh improve to 2-0

The Manistique freshman football team improved their record to 2-0 by defeating Gwinn 43-16 Wednesday, Sept. 8.

The Emeralds forced a Modeltownner fumble on the opening kickoff, then scored on the third play from scrimmage when tailback Abe Varoni ran around the right end for a touchdown.

The 2-point conversion was good for an 8-0 Emerald lead.

Gwinn came right back with a drive of its own and tied the score at 8-8.

The first quarter ended with a tie ball game.

The Emeralds took control in the second quarter scoring twice.

Fullback Jim Proctor scored on a five yard run over the right tackle, putting the Emeralds in the lead at 14-8, as the 2-point attempt fell short.

Varoni struck again with 30 seconds left in the half on a 15 yard scamper.

The 2-point conversion was good for a 22-8 lead at halftime.

The Emeralds received the second half kickoff and struck immediately on a 55 yard TD pass from quarterback Jake Orr to flanker J.R. Burns.

The Emeralds missed the extra point kick and the third quarter ended at 28-8.

The Emeralds struck pay dirt twice in the fourth quarter.

Andy Garrett scored on a four yard run off the left tackle.

The extra point kick by Varoni increased the lead to 35-8.

After a Modeltownner score, Burns found the end zone again on a 26 yard run.

The 2-point conversion closed the scoring for a 43-16 Emerald victory.

The Emeralds had six players carry the football for a total of 367 yards.

Varoni ran for 115 yards, Orr for 106, Jim Proctor for 89, Burns for 26 yards, Garrett for 19 yards and Justin Johnson for six yards.

Orr also completed 2 of 3 passing attempts for 75 yards.

Three Modeltownner fumbles were recovered with Lee Berger collecting two and Garrett one.

Varni intercepted a Modeltownner pass.

Varsity grounds Eagles

The Manistique High School girls varsity basketball team improved their record to 4-1 with a 15-3 win over Engadine at Engadine.

"It was our third win in a row," said varsity coach Bob Ryan. "It was a good team effort, with 11 players entered in the scoring column."

Alison Malloch led scoring with 18 points, followed by Renee Kennedy with 13 and Sarah Bourde with 10.

"We got off to a great start," said Ryan, "utilizing our press and our fast break and led 25-4 after one quarter."

Malloch had 10 first quarter points and Kennedy scored seven.

"In the second quarter, we were able to play everyone and Tracy Winkel and Renee LaFleur each scored four points to lead us to a 38-18 halftime lead," Ryan said.

Manistique picked up where they left off in the second half of the game, dominating the third quarter 29-9 to build a 67-22 lead.

"We had a lot of contributions in the third quarter," said Ryan.

Malloch scored eight points, Bourde and Kennedy scored six each, Robin Demers scored five and Sue Fleck, four.

"Ken Gerometa, Lori Vaughan and Casey Ford picked up the scoring in the fourth quarter, plus Laura Lockwood and Heather Vanderville played well as we went on to the 75-33 win."

Ryan said it was a good team victory and that all 13 girls played and contributed a lot.

"We did a lot of things well tonight," he said. "We rebounded and ran our break well."

"We played good defense (29 steals/interceptions - led by Kennedy and Shannon Lawrence with five each)."

"We now get into the conference schedule with Thursday's game against a good Iron Mountain team."

Manistique shot 33-88 field goals for a 41 percent average, while Engadine shot 15-52 for a 29 percent average.

Manistique hit 56 percent of their free throws to Engadine's 25 percent.

Manistique also won the battle of the boards, snagging 55 to Engadine's 30.

LaFleur and Malloch each grabbed 12 rebounds and Ford picked up six.

Manistique also defeated Norway - which also defeated Norway - at home, 54-41.

The leading scorers were Kennedy with 19, Fleck with 12 and Malloch with 12.

Malloch also lead rebounding with seven, followed by Fleck with five.

Demers had a fine game at point guard and had four assists. Lawrence also played well at guard.

Gerometa did an outstanding job filling in for Malloch, who got into early foul trouble.

Winkel scored six points off the bench.

Manistique hit 24 of 56 shots for a 43 percent average. Norway shot 27 percent from the field.

Norway shot 56 percent from the charity stripe, while Manistique shot 42 percent.

Manistique grabbed 31 rebounds to Norway's 28.

Jayvees up record to 5-0

The Manistique JV girls basketball team defeated Engadine 45-14, to improve their season record to 5-0.

"It was a good team effort," said coach Mike Oas, "with all the girls' contributing with strong defensive games."

Mandy Cohen led the scoring with 16 points followed by Courtney McGuire with 10 and Alexsha Ackley with eight.

Michelle Mickelson topped the rebounders with 10 followed by McGuire with nine, Mary Land with six and Kylee Norton with five.

"The game was a good opportunity for all the girls to gain experience," said Oas. "This is very important because we are a very inexperienced team."

The JV team also defeated a very tough Norway team.

Norway jumped off to an eight point lead with the use of an effective half-court press.

"We made an adjustment to counter the press," Oas said, "which allowed us to catch up and take the lead."

"Norway's size also gave us problems."

"We had trouble stopping their big girls inside, near the basket," Oas said the Emerald press was effective against Norway and resulted in fastbreak baskets that kept Manistique ahead.

"We only got to the free throw line eight times and converted six," he said. "Norway shot 28 free throws, but made only 10."

"This was a very tough task for us because those missed free throws could have spelled a different outcome."

Oas said it was the toughest game so far this year for the JV team.

"We feel good about winning a close game," he said.

Cohen scored 23 points for the Emeralds and Ackley scored 22.

McGuire grabbed 13 rebounds and scored five points, while Mickelson had 10 boards and scored four.

Norton, Lindsey Pontius, Kristen McDonough and Frances Rodriguez, all contributed to the victory.

Robin Demers and Renee LaFleur start the fast break for the Emeralds. The varsity girls have won three straight games.

Mike Kraatz scrambles away from the pursuing Hemette defender. The Emerald varsity dropped to 0-2 with the loss.

Haindls "beef up" their college fund

Jason and Lori Haindl have utilized the 4-H Fat Stock Beef Program to build a tidy nest egg for their college education.

Each fall (nine years for Lori and 10 for Jason), with the help of their dad, Jon, they each pick out a feeder steer to be raised and shown in the U.P. Beef Show.

These steers start out between 500-700 pounds in the fall; the following August, they are shown and sold at approximately 1,200 pounds.

Both Jason and Lori have won several honors at the U.P. Fair, including always receiving blue ribbons on their animals.

Lori won two Grand Champions, two Reserve Champions, and four Division Champions. Jason has won the Rate of Gain Trophy four times and been Division Champion twice.

All of the money received from the sales of these project steers has been invested in the highest-paying interest accounts for their college education. Jason will be a freshman at Northern this fall, and Lori will be a senior at Big Bay High School.

Congratulations to both 4-Hers on their outstanding project work!

Beach sweep is scheduled

Grab a pair of gloves and head for the beach Saturday at 10 a.m. to participate in the annual Beach Sweep.

Debbie LeBlanc, who is coordinating the event for the Manistique shore line said the event will be held world-wide.

"It is an international event to clean up along coast lines," she said. "The event is sponsored by the Center for Marine Conservation in Washington, D.C."

LeBlanc said that cleaning up the beach teaches kids and adults about pollution control.

"This is the third year we will be participating," she said. "It's a lot of fun."

LeBlanc said a log is kept of all the junk picked up along the shore and is compiled in Washington to determine what the most prevalent waste is and, hopefully, who dumped it.

LeBlanc said anyone interested in helping should meet in the parking lot at the end of Range St.

The clean-up is expected to last until noon.

Sarah Bourde and Tracy Winkel stiffl Norway on defense for the Emeralds. Manistique best Norway at home Thursday.
