There are as many reasons for having a cellular phone as there are people who use them - about 13 million at last count.

Results of a recent Gallup Poll found that people who used cellular phones discovered benefits they hadn't even imagined before.

These survey results show that cellular phones make people more reachable and a lot more productive. More significant still are the large numbers who discovered many other benefits, like those 91% who felt a lot safer thanks to cellular service, not to mention the 75% who said good-bye to stress.

Deficit

The Manistique City Council is implementing a deficit reduction plan to eliminate a $165,100 shortfall.

The plan to reduce the deficit will accomplish the goal with the least amount of pain to the city, but the question becomes, How did the city get into this position in the first place?

Granted, federal and state funding for city and county governments has changed, and in most cases, has been reduced.

But didn't we see it coming? If the city did, why wasn't anything done to remedy the situation? If they didn't, why not? Governments at every level are facing budget cuts following years of uncontrolled spending.

We also face budgetary choices each and every day, but we have to control what we spend. The same should be true for government.

When we get our paychecks, we choose what is most important to spend our money on. We purchase what we need and go without what we cannot afford. We cut away fat by spending frugally and we save for the future, knowing there may be a time we need money in an emergency.

Sometimes we stray from our budget, as the city has done. As a consequence, we face cutbacks and tough times. We also learn a lesson from our mistakes.

The city is no different. Elimination of the deficit is just one step in the right direction. The city must also make sure the deficit is replaced by a fund balance.

Every government official would like an endless supply of money, as would every consumer.

But governments must realize they hold the public's checkbook and the public expects it to balance.

Jim Deeman running a D-2 bulldozer and John Mincoff running a D-7 bulldozer attempt to clear the beach at Stoney Point in 1962. Although there is less sawdust now, a problem still remains.

Sawdust on the beach is not a new problem

I read with great interest about the sawdust problem in Lake Michigan in the November 18 Tribune. I was inspired to write about my experience with this matter.

Over 30 years ago I was concerned about the sawdust on the shores of Lake Michigan, as the owners of almost three miles of lakefront property lying west of Manistique including Stoney Point.

Sawdust gathered on the shore from the area west of the breakers to the rocky edge of Stoney Point. My partners and I were interested in developing a subdivision in this area. The beach was covered in places with an inch or slightly higher that built up almost two feet deep on the shore. There were times the sawdust blocked the Southtown and another creek from flowing into the lake.

I heard that Ralph Williams, owner of the Breakers Motel, hired Schumier Excavators to remove sawdust from the beach area in front of his motel. I asked the Schumiers what they would charge to remove our sawdust and as I recalled we couldn't afford the cost.

I tried to get as much information about the sawdust as I could. I asked old timers who recalled in the sawmills or who could recall something about the sawdust getting into Lake Michigan. Ernie Williams worked on river divers as a young man and later worked in one of the sawmills located on the west side of the river. He told me that in the mill where he worked the sawdust went straight into the river from the saw. The sawdust was used to stir the lumber so the current would push the lumber out into the lake. Pine was the predominant lumber that was cut, but there was quite a bit of cedar and other kinds of lumber cut as well. Williams told me that to the best of his recollection the mill was in operation for 30 years. That's a lot of sawdust.

In researching information for this article, I called Jack Orr who has published two books on the history of Manistique and asked if he had any information regarding sawdust from the mills on the Manistique River. Orr asked if I had heard of "Abi Jaki's Island" just off the mouth of the Manistique River. There was an island formed completely of sawdust. The island was owned by the Chicago Lumbering Company's mills. The island was so firm that it was used at times to transfer passengers from large boats to small boats to bring passengers to the docks. This island would move from time to time by the current of the river. The island eventually disappeared as the flow of sawdust receded. Now that was also a lot of sawdust.

Just a foot note: Apparently not all the sawdust was put into the river. In reviewing photos of the mills I noted they had sawdust burners and as I understand the mills burned sawdust (waste) for fuel.

The mill located at Southtown also put sawdust into Lake Michigan. This mill was located near Southtown Creek just off the beach. Old footings can be seen just off Highway US-2.

I continued researching the situation knowing something had to be done to get rid of the nasty stuff. I hired Vern Bernard to fly me over the lake shore and to take pictures of the sawdust. I discovered that the sawdust was just along the shore so there wasn't as much as I had envisioned. I continued to watch the sawdust accumulate on the shore and observed that it gathered the deepest on sandy beach next to rocky outcroppings. It came on shore when the wave action was receding and we stayed as long as the waves didn't wash it out until the tide came in. It would dry out if not disturbed and then float into the lake either by wave action or the tide. The cycle would then start all over again.

The question remained. How could I get the sawdust out of the lake? There was a contractor working in our area who had a large "Michigan" front end loader. I asked him if I could hire the loader for five hours to push the sawdust out of the lake. He agreed to do it for $20 an hour for man and machine, so for a hundred bucks I could see if it were feasible for us to buy a loader to proceed with this task. We waited for the loader to accumulate and the loader worked for the five hours we contracted for. It was tough going as the machine sank into the wet sand. The contractor told me that a bulldozer with tracks would work much better for this operation.

We bought a D-2 Caterpillar bulldozer and I put side plates on the eight foot blade. Couldn't wait to try it out. Never drove a bulldozer in my life, but was willing to give it a try. Most people I talked to said, "John, your nuts are trying a task." Most people who knew John Mincoff knew that "it can't be done." That's all the challenge or "inspiration" needed. Needless to say it worked like a charm. I backed the machine into the lake as far as I could, dropped the blade and pushed the little bulldozer huffed and puffed and the sawdust rolled on the shore. I would get up in five in the morning to go bulldozing. The lake was always calmer than the sawdust was the thickest. The only problem I had was I couldn't keep up with the sawdust. The more I pushed the more came in. We had to get a larger machine. Lowell Varvil sold bulldozers for a company in Ishpeming. I asked him if he knew of a large bulldozer "cheap." As luck would have it, he found an old D-7 Caterpillar in quite good working condition. (I'm quite sure this would take three to five years and cost hundreds of thousands of dollars). Oh, almost forgot. You would have to get permission from the property owner.

I had mentioned earlier in this article. I enjoyed a challenge and I'll draw the line when it comes to dealing with the mentioned agencies. There are about seven million tons (yards) of sawdust put into Lake Michigan from mills on the Manistique River and a Mill or two along the shore. Very little sawdust is recycled. I have carried the sawdust to the depths of the lake. I'm not sure, but I don't feel it is severely hurt our environment; sawdust is not toxic. It doesn't hurt the fish or plant life, it's just very unsightly.

I'm sure that someone with the right connections could get funding and permission to take care of the contractor out of Escanaba got the electrical? Apparently the President and CEO of the First Northern National Bank & Trust was the one who was pushing the sawdust. I was quoted from the Pioneer-Tribune as saying "We are a community committed to providing the best in quality service while retaining our quality and integrity as well as after finding a way to solve the problem we serve." I don't believe I'm oversteering. First Northern National Bank & Trust is putting assets back into their community by these actions.

These establishments are desperate to keep busy and to make their payments to the bank. Do you believe this is right when a contractor out of Marquette got the plumbing work done for the contractor out of Escanaba got the electrical? Apparently the President and CEO of the First Northern National Bank & Trust was the one who was pushing the sawdust. I was quoted from the Pioneer-Tribune as saying "We are a community committed to providing the best in quality service while retaining our quality and integrity as well as after finding a way to solve the problem we serve." I don't believe I'm oversteering. First Northern National Bank & Trust is putting assets back into their community by these actions.

I am a student at Ferris State University who is studying Refrigeration, Air Conditioning, and Heating. In the spring I will be graduating and moving back to Manistique to work for a local contractor. I hope to contribute to the welfare of the community and raise a family in Manistique. I have always believed what local contractors do for the community is important. I see a problem with an influential leader in our town who has preached again and again to spend your money in Manistique and bank with us in Manistique. The First Northern Bank & Trust who is dependent on business owners and homeowners in our community. After all, the people in the community keep the bank in operation. This gave me motive to write this letter that I do not believe the First Northern Bank & Trust practices what they preach. These beds were also made eligible in other communities well after finding out who acquired the jobs for the new addition I was dumbfounded. ## Downstate Differences

by Robert Kirkbride

Sugar-beaters like me who are from below the bridge have a different way of viewing things. Not better, not worse, just different. In this column, I will try to explain some of the differences and why they exist.

The day following Thanksgiving is traditionally the busiest shopping day of the year. I found out this is true, first-hand during my Thanksgiving trip to Grand Rapids last weekend. My day started at 5:55 a.m. Friday with my moon yelling at me to get up if I wanted to go shopping with her.

It is not easy to roll out of bed at that ungodly hour after gorging myself on two turkey dinners the day before (one at my house and one at my girlfriend's house).

The excitement I noticed in my mom's eyes was a sharp contrast to the dullness in my own. I was not looking forward to dealing with throngs of Christmas shoppers.

To add to my depression, a steady rain fell all day long. We had to get out early to hit the early bird sales that were advertised in the previous day's Grand Rapids Press.

We got in my mom's car and headed toward my sister's house and then headed to my grandma's to pick her up.

My mom's foot seemed five pounds heavier as she slammed down the pedal of her Nissan Stanza and sped toward the first store: Value City Department Store on 44th St.

Value City was giving away $10 gift certificates to the first 200 customers. We arrived at 6:36. People were already standing in line for the store to open at 7 a.m., despite the cold rain.

My mom, sister and grandma jumped out of the car to claim their spot in line. Since I conveniently left my coat at home, I told them I would stay in the car, where I proceeded to count sheep until I was sound asleep. A $10 dollar gift certificate was not worth waiting in the rain.

Happy with the first successful stop of the day, my mom headed toward Meijers on 28th St.

28th St. is one of the main arteries in Grand Rapids and is also the home to three enormous shopping malls and a constant number of smaller strip malls.

Traffic congestion is legendary on 28th St. and is amplified during the Christmas shopping rush. We finally made it to the store.

As I see it, this isn't the autonomy of the city. This is Manistique for crying out loud.

Shaken, but undaunted, I set about my "tour" of the city. This Manistique for crying out loud.

The other day I stopped in at a local business to check on something I had ordered. (When I say "something" I could be talking about anything in the last three months or so. I lose track of time sometimes.)

As I was visiting, the owner expected this sort of thing. He was not about to let me receive "anonymously." The envelope I was handed written but looked like NOT that way!

We are different, true, but by and large, we respect the other person's rights. We have our own lifestyle that baffles people not from around here. We're kinda laid back, not involved in the self-generated rush-rush mode of the city dwellers. We are basically honest and trusting. We love our freedom. We are a fiercely independent people. We don't really like to be jumped on by others. We're kind of a "let's just get on with it" kind of people.

The first paragraph was a few foul words depicting what the author thought of the recipient. I was shocked.

The conclusion went something like this: "Some will shut you up if you don't have some (yup...some, not some) muscle to take the hit." I was not checking now!

I didn't believe what I had just seen. The letter was, in my opinion, threatening. No question about it.

I was flabbergasted. No question about it. I can't believe it. My eyes bulged, my moon flew open. I was speechless. And there are a few times that I am speechless!

I went over to talk to my publisher about some other stuff and I found out I had just missed a group of local concerned citizens who volunteer their time for the good of the community.

The DDA (Downtown Development Authority) is not a government bureaucracy, it's a group of local concerned citizens who volunteer their time for the good of the community.

The DDA has so far funded for the purchase of the triangle of the green across from the post office, the old C.L. triangle, water tower site parking and paving, parking lot behind South Cedar Street, and purchase and clearing of private development on South Houghton Avenue. DDA funded, all property is titled to the City of Manistique for public use.

Folk Fest, Christmas displays, school, all benefit from the use of this public property. A $1,000,000 water/sewer project

Meijers runs an early bird sale every year on the day after Thanksgiving. I decided I would go into the store. It was packed with shoppers and I was wishing I was back in Manistique where Christmas shopping is not associated with getting assaulted by people rushing to get the last copy of Mario Bros. for their kid's Nintendo.

I could just picture walking easily down Cedar St. with the stores a little more crowded than usual, but still tolerable.

I would say "hello" to all my friends as I walked down the street and visit all my favorite stores in Manistique.

That day dream was shattered by the seemingly endless check-out lines at Meijers. That is definitely the case in regards to Christmas shopping.

My shopping day in Grand Rapids ended around 11 a.m. I couldn't wait to take a long nap.

My mom went back out and shopped until 4 p.m. I thought she was crazy and unfortunately, treated her like that the whole time I was with her in the morning.

The more I think about it, the more I realize what she was doing was so the family could have a nice Christmas.

She works very hard to make sure everyone gets what they want and need for Christmas. She always has, even when times were difficult raising a family alone.

I guess my shopping experience was not as bad as I thought. It was worth fighting the crowded stores to spend the morning with my mom, grandma and my sister.

I just wish we were shopping Cedar St. in Manistique instead of 28th St. in Grand Rapids.

Wherever you choose to shop, good luck. You won't be disappointed. Write me at whatever you want. Period. I do not take that freedom, nor any other freedom, lightly.

Everyone I ever met in the U.P. subscribes to the same line of thought.

The media, be they the written word, or the television, have used the freedom of speech more than many occasions to open up news and non-news for the public. It has stood the test of time and the trail by jury. It still stands, unshaken, and thank God it has.

I am a citizen. Many years ago, at a public input meeting about a project that was being planned, I attended as did many people. McWife and I were the only ones to speak against that project. After the meeting, as we were leaving, a woman went by me and hissed, "Why don't you move to Russia or to the Soviet Union or to the Soviet Socialist Republics? CCCP! KGB are all why? Because I didn't agree and said so? Free country?" I hissed back. Not all a Christian gesture, hissing. The smoke was pouring from my nostrils. Yes, I U.P. We especially no quarter and ask no quarter. We generally mind our own business. We live and let live. We work hard and we play hard. We help our own, take care of one another if the need arises. There may be an occasion when we invoke the "might makes right" rule, but that is not the norm! We are a curious mixture of "pioneer," hard-hat, copperhead and tolerant citizen, red-neck. A paradox to outsiders, but not to us.

It doesn't matter if we are native born or transplants. Once you get the "feel" of the U.P., it is in your blood. It can't be taught. You know it. You can feel it.

The first amendment to the Constitution of the United States, Article I, the freedom of speech amendment, states in part, "Congress shall make no law...abridging the freedom of speech..."? That means we have Agency housing rehab grant. The terms of the grant required the use of volunteers from the community to do home improvement projects in the city.

He said City Clerk Linda Aronson has preliminary results, but the city will pay 75 percent of the cost and the Multi-purpose Building Committee will come up with the other 25 percent for the project.

Auxiliary is thankful

By Harriett Abramsen
It's that time of the year again when we say "good-bye" Thanksgiving and "hello" Christmas.

The Medical Care Facility Auxiliary had much to be thankful for this year. The recent membership drive was a great success with almost 100 percent renewals and several new members including Don's Nelson and Ellen Aldrich.

Sales at the annual Arts/Crafts Fair booth hit the mark again thanks to the many donations from active members, especially all the baked goodies from Vivian Beard, the dairy straw hats from Pat Smith and the beautiful Christmas tree ornaments made by Linnea Ott.

Winner of the pretty afghan donated by Mrs. Alphild Ekblad was Theresa Klarich. The large wreath was won by Theresa Gray and the small one by Elsie Barry. These were donated by Sally Schuette.

At the November meeting, the names of 11 residents of the Facility and their Christmas wish list were distributed to 13 active Auxiliary members who will purchase the gifts, wrap them pretty and deliver to the Facility in time for their annual Christmas Eve party.

Memorials were given in the name of Earl LeBretour by Sig Strom and in memory of Ione Males (a charter member) by Harriett Abramsen.

The Auxiliary will meet on Monday, Dec. 6 at 2 p.m. at the Facility to discuss other Christmas gifts for the Facility.

At home with Sarah

by Sarah Bignall

Where does the time go? It's December already! I suppose we had all better start planning our Christmas cooking and baking now in order to find the time to fit those special things into our tight schedules. Baking cookies is time consuming. I find that I bake less and less every year. But there are still some of the old favorites that I still make.

Here are two recipes for special cookies. They are a real delicacy, festive, and delicious.

CHERRY DELIGHTS

|-----------------------|-----------------------------|
| 3/4 cup shortening    | 1/2 teas. soda              |
| 1 cup sugar           | 1/2 teas. salt              |
| 2 eggs                | 1 cup pecans                |
| 2 Tbl. milk           | 1 cup dates                 |
| 1 teas. vanilla       | 1/3 cup maraschino cherries |
| 2 1/4 cups flour      | 2 1/2 cups corn flakes      |
| 1 teas. baking powder |                             |

Cream shortening; add sugar and cream well. Add eggs, milk, and vanilla. Blend in dry ingredients gradually; mix well. Chop pecans, dates, and cherries and add to mixture. Shape into balls using 1 tsp. for each cookie. Crush cornflakes and roll each ball into crumbs. Place on greased baking sheet. Top each with 1/4 cherry. Bake at 375 degrees for 10 minutes. Makes 5 dozen.

ORANGE PECAN REFRESHERS

Melt 1 cup of butter in a 2 qt. saucepan

|                           |                              |
|---------------------------|------------------------------|
| Stir in: 1 cup sugar      | 2 Tbl. grated lemon rind     |
| 2 Tbl. grated orange rind | 1 Tbl. lemon juice           |
| 1 Tbl. orange juice       | 2 egg yolks (reserve whites) |
| 1 teas. baking powder     | 1/2 teas. salt               |

Blend in 3 - 3 1/2 cups flour and mix well. Shape into balls 1 teaspoon each. Dip into slightly beaten egg whites and then into finely chopped pecans (2 cups). Place on greased cookie sheet; flatten slightly; and top each with 1/2 raisin. Bake at 375 degrees for 12 - 15 min. Makes 5 1/2 dozen cookies.

Sarah says... When using an electric mixer and the bowl does not fit on the stand, set the bowl on a folded damp cloth to keep it from slipping.

Food for thought... Now is the time to do something pleasant if you want to have pleasant memories.

Letters to the Editor

such as the apartment complex on south Main Street. They want apartments in the downtown area that is walking distance of the stores and community activities at the High School.

For the health of our city, I believe it is important that we keep our lake front property attractive for tourists and travelers. I believe the community should speak out on this issue.

Alma Bundy

Dear Editor:

As Thanksgiving draws near we would like to give "Thanks" to some people who have helped make our school a nicer place.

Students, parents, and teachers recently constructed a large flower garden at Lakeside. Specialties Minerals Incorporated donated railroad ties, and Vern Bosanic picked them up and delivered them to the school. Many parents, including Bruce Plackowski, Calvin Blowers, Dale Smith, Ron Klich, and Tracy Moore helped cut, stack and assemble the ties into shape. Melvin and Sandra Larson donated all the dirt and many parents sent in flower bulbs of all kinds. Students each got to plant a bulb last week and are looking forward to their beautiful spring garden.

Mike Dougovito and the Community Partnership, in conjunction with the Lakeside P.T.O., purchased new backboard and poles for the new basketball court at Lakeside. Rodney Weber from Edison Sault, Larry Bosanic, Bill Uiter, and Dave Demers all helped with the digging of the holes and placement of the backboards. Many parents helped resurface the blacktop including Ann Casey and Jim Rogers. Carl Dougovito painted anti-drag slogans on the backboards. Students and neighborhood youths can both be seen enjoying the new courts.

Parents volunteers are active in the school as well. So far this year 714 hours have been given by volunteers for school wide projects.

The students and staff are truly thankful for all the people who help our school be such a success. Lead Teacher, Mike Flynn

If Larry Savole, Manistique, will stop at the Pioneer-Tribune office he will receive a free theatre ticket for Cinema 1.

Fish Report

by Sgt. John Walker (Ret.)

Well, mother nature did it to the old deer hunter again! Snow the first of November! Then it leaves for the main hunting time and returns for the last two days when most people are done hunting! It happens so often that one begins to wonder. All in all it was a pretty good deer season with some real nice bucks taken.

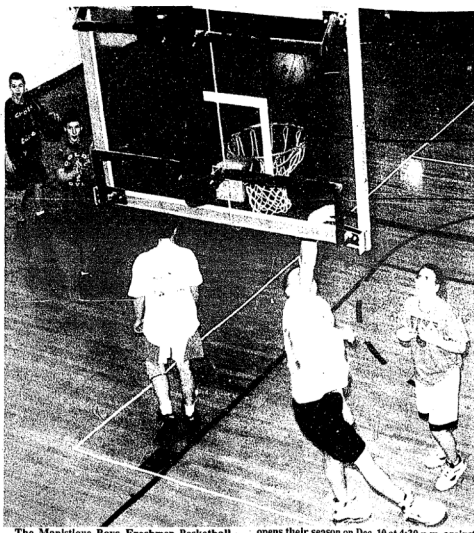

Rabbit hunting was real good last week with the snow all gone and now white rabbits trying to hide. They do not blend in too well with the dark background. Did you ever wonder why a person can sit in their blind three-four days in a row and not see a thing, then their buddy sits in the blind one day and gets a nice buck? Life is not always fair. Well, rifle season is now over and it is time to get out the old muzzle loader. I think that these are some of the best guns to hunt with. They are fun to shoot and they are really good to hunt with. I have had a lot of luck during the muzzle loading season.

By the way, did I tell you that a "fudge" almost got me killed? This guy is a great bow hunter and really good at it. He was telling me that he hunts scrapes, he finds some fresh scrapes and sits by them. Well, a couple nights before season a deer came by my blind and stole one of my arrows. Now this arrow did not hurt her, but she took it when she left. Off she went through the marsh, so I followed her. On an island out in the marsh I found some buck scrapes. So after sitting the second day of season I walked through the marsh to check out the scrapes. I had my head down looking at the tracks near the scrapes when all of a sudden I looked up and this big deer was about to run me over! It hit the brakes, and turned off to the side to go around me. No harm! Good! Because my safety on my gun must have moved for I could not find it. I just about recovered when a second deer came right at me! Now this one was going to get it John Wayne style, for it was too close and moving too fast to get my gun up and shoot. But no harm! I put my knee on the ground to catch my breath, when I saw the third deer coming my way. This one I was ready for, I had antlers so I shot it. BUT, here I stood in the middle of his escape route as he opened it up! He got almost to me, went up on his hind legs and fell over. So don't listen to those guys from down state they could get you hurt!

But that's not the end of the story. Here I am with a deer on an island with water and beaver marsh all the way around. My boy came back at noon and we tied this deer to a pole and took it across the marsh on our shoulders. It would have helped if my boy had his boots. He didn't so his size nine foot was in my size 13 boot tripping over on the brush as we crawled out to the mainland. There was this buddy from lower Michigan when I needed him! On account of him my boy now walks with a limp to one side!

The book sales for "A Deer Gets Revenge" have been great! We did over 3,500 since the first of October. There are a lot of people buying them for Christmas. You can get the book for $6.95 and mail it for $1.05. What a deal. I was up in the big mall at Marquette the day after Thanksgiving with the bad weather signed and sold about 70 books. B-Dillon Books bought 125 more for their store in the Westwood Mall and Houghton Mall were out of them. The reason I am excited is that a dollar from each book is going into a scholarship fund to help the kids I work with go to college. It is so important that youth set some goals and I want to help them achieve them. You can pick up the book around town or order a signed one from me: John Walker, 530 Alger Ave. Manistique, MI 49854. Send $8.20 to cover the book and shipping. I will even sign it for you.

The Manistique Boys Freshman Basketball Team practices for the season ahead. The team opens their season on Dec. 10 at 4:30 p.m. against Gladstone at Manistique High School.

Allen Klumpp records his first shut-out of the hockey season

Gerometta's Resort midget hockey team began the 1993-94 season by winning its first two games this past Saturday. Traveling to Cheboygan, MI they defeated the Cheboygan Lions by scores of 8 to 2 and 7 to 0. Allen Klumpp was in the nets for both games and recorded his first shutout of the season. The team played well considering they have only had one practice and only

Tom (Moat) Shampline bagged this 10 point - 185 pound buck on Nov. 19. Shampline said it's the biggest buck he has ever gotten

Lady Bears lose title game

The Big Bay de Noc Girls Varsity Basketball Team fell short in their bid to take the Class D Regional Championship on Wednesday, Nov. 24 losing to Ewen-Trout Creek 51-45 in Marquette.

Despite the loss, the Lady Bears finished the season with a 16-8 record under rookie coach Kim Picard.

The scoring was even through three quarters, with the final stanza deciding the game. Big Bay held Ewen-Trout Creek's stand-out freshman Allison Bailey to just six points, but the rest of the team rallied to nail 10 3-pointers in the game. Bailey averaged 24 points a game during the regular season and scored 26 of Ewen's 58 points on Monday.

The Lady Bear defense held tough in the fourth quarter, allowing the Panthers just six points, but Trout Creek's defense did their job, not allowing Big Bay a fourth quarter point.

Alum game sign-up set

Sign-up is taking place now for the Second Annual Alumni Basketball Games to be held on Dec. 28, 1993 at Manistique High School at 6 p.m.

All ages are welcome to register for the games, which will include a men's and women's division. The teams will consist of men and women who played varsity basketball for Manistique High School.

Tracy Potila said the games are to raise funds for the amphitheater class. Registration fee is $10. "We are going to match up even years against odd years," she said, "and we will play as many games as necessary."

The events will also feature a raffle and a concession stand to raise funds. "The games will range from recen- grads to old-timers," Potila said.

The deadline for registration is Dec. 17, 1993. Sign-up in the high school office or by calling Jim McDonough or Tracy Potila at 341-2195.

Date change

There is a change in the Manistique Boys Varsity Basketball schedule. Because Iron Mountain made it through the football playoffs, they got a late start for basketball and asked to reschedule their game with Manistique.

The Manistique-Iron Mountain game originally scheduled for Dec. 14 will be held Dec. 21. The games will be played at the same times - 4:30, 6:15 and 7:45 p.m. and will still be held in Manistique.

Meeting set

There will be an informational meeting on Dec. 9 at 7 p.m. for volunteers and those interested in volunteering for the Snow Drag Races to be held in January on Indian Lake.

The meeting will be held in the county courthouse.

The Manistique Volleyball Team winds down after a hard first practice. They open their season on Jan. 1 against Gladstone.

Civilian Conservation Corps could be a grand legacy

by LeRoy Fox

Is the revival of the CCC a legacy we want to leave to our youth?

In the March 30, March 4, 1933, President Roosevelt proposed the idea to the 73rd Congress. On April 7, 37 days them to work, saving the coun- try's natural resources. The men were put up in surplus army tents until barracks could be erected. They were given surplus army cloths to wear and Army doctors and mess sergeants to look after them. The United States Army ran the camps and was in charge of housing, food, clothing and discipline. During the day the men were turned over to the Forest Service. Each camp had a commanding officer and a Work Project Superintendent. The men

Most people don't realize that the original program was still in effect in Michigan until a few years ago.

The Michigan Civilian Conservation Corps was reinstated in 1984 as the brain child of State Representative Thomas Matheau of Grand Rapids. It was patterned after the original CCCs. During the time of its inception until now, over 24 percent of all MCCC members do not return to welfare rolls after service.

Memories

Hill Fire Tower, Brevort Lake Dam; and other projects too numerous to mention.

The camps in our area that I remember are Camp Germfask (which later became famous for housing conscientious objectors during WW II) Camp Manistique and Camp Cooks. These were in our immediate area and in the future issues I will highlight each one separately. If anyone has any information on these camps I would appreciate your input!

In the days of the CCCs the country was really in a bad state. Each recruit was well taken care of and was paid $30 per month of which $25 was sent to his family. Some families literally existed on this supplement. The average age was 18 but I can remember some men quite a bit older. The average stay was nine months but quite a few stayed longer. They must have eaten good because the average man gained from 12 to 30 pounds per stay. Many have said that the CCCs was a training camp for the military because they went directly from there to the Army Camps at the beginning of WW II.

The corps was an asset to any community that they were near. They participated in the local sports programs such as basketball and boxing in the old gym. I can remember selling popcorn for the Boy Scouts at the boxing matches. Buck Jackson and Ed Toya were the referees.

The CCCs gave the young people dignity while teaching them good work habits. They also got the opportunity to further their education and acquire new trade skills.

Gloria Halvorsen recently received her certificate for a $500 shopping spree at Ben Franklin from owner Roger Sartori. Halvorsen was one of 50 shopping spree winners from Ben Franklin stores nationwide. Sartori said Halvorsen had to win two separate drawings. First, the Manistique Ben Franklin was chosen as a winner then Sartori chose a name from the entries received in his store to determine the winner of the certificate.

I have spoken with Lane Dawson from Debbi Tours to see if we can get a bus lined up to go to the Ice Capades. This is the information he gave us:

Ice Capades - January 19 & 20
 Cost per person $135.00
 We must have 25 people on the bus in order for him to pick us up in Manistique. Please contact me as soon as possible if you plan on going. (341-5923)

Day 1: Leave for Green Bay early arriving around noon. Have lunch at Port Plaza Mall. This year if you would like to go to the hotel to swim or have lunch and there you will be able to. Later, for those who stay at the mall, we will pick group up, time to be announced. Dinner is included tonight, then it's off to the Brown County Arena for another fantastic Ice Capades.

Day 2: This morning we start our day with breakfast included. Then we will stop at the Bay Park Mall. Because of many requests, we will also go to Fleet Farm and drop off those who want to shop there. Then return to the Bay Park Mall to pick up the group and then continue on to Shopko Liquor. Here you can get some great bargains on cheese, sausage and your favorite beverage. We will then leave Green Bay arriving home early this evening.

I would also like to know if you would be interested in the Sno Train trip which is scheduled for February 12 & 13. This is a two day trip, which includes three meals.

As most of you are aware of, we have got our new handicapped parking signs up, thanks to the Community Corrections. They
