Manistique, Michigan

1993 Folk Hero Ted Henschel receives a red vest signifying the honor. Folkfest brought several thousand people to the downtown Manistique area for the fun and excitement.

Folkfest is again a success

Folkfest, held in downtown Manistique July 10, was again a huge success.

The day could not have been better with highs in the 80s and sunny blue skies.

Manistique residents and tourists alike enjoyed exciting entertainment and delicious food.

Lisa White and Brian Kieffer returned to Manistique to headline the entertainment.

Ted Henschel was awarded the Folkfest Folk Hero red vest and received commendations and presents from the area organizations.

He greeted everyone with equal vigor and was the consummate Folk Hero.

Two stages brought us entertainment that ranged in diversity from the U.P. Beats, the Bavarian Dancers, Jim Law-Scottish Bagpiper, Dr. Pitts' magic show, Irish singer Jerry Belanger and Reese Manistique.

The Paper Chase Run, sponsored by Manistique Papers, Inc. was also a success. Many runners and walkers took advantage of the weather to get outside.

There was horse and buggy rides for the young and the young at heart. Lester the camel gave children free rides and kids visited the petting zoo while they waited for their turn to ride Lester.

Local artists displayed their talents, with many people who went to Folkfest coming away with bargains.

This Bavarian Dancer helped make Folkfest fun for everyone. Entertainment is one of the key aspects of Folkfest.

Naubinway has new rest area

Travelers should love the new rest area just east of Naubinway on US-2 in Mackinac County, which was officially dedicated at a public ceremony at 10:00am Saturday, July 10. It's the first roadside park in Michigan to have running water and flushable toilets.

The Naubinway-Engadine Merchants Association joined with the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) to dedicate the new facility.

Local and state officials gathered with MDOT to celebrate the rest area opening. State Representative Pat Gagliardi, Naubinway-Engadine Merchants Association Chair Sally Schultz and State Transportation Commissioner Jack Gingsburg will make remarks.

Designed by MDOT staff, the entire project, including site work, main structure, decks and walkways cost $266,000.

Manistique school board studies line item power

Concerns over line items in the 1993-94 budget have some members of the Manistique school board thinking about line item power, rather than the more general function power they now have over the budget.

Line items are the specific amounts allotted to an area of the school budget. At this point, the Manistique school board approves the functions, which are made up of many individual lines that can be changed without board approval during the school year.

At Monday's Manistique school board meeting, Dixie Klagstad said she was concerned that line items in the budget were already being shifted to other areas and that the board was losing control of the budget.

"I have concerns that we aren't even one month into the budget and we're already over," she said. "You can only rob from Peter to pay Paul so often."

The discussion began when $3,500 to pay for desks was inadvertently left out of the budget.

"It is not necessary to amend the budget every month," said Herb Harroun, Manistique area schools superintendent. "The budget is already confounding enough."

Jim Brownell made a motion to approve the purchase of the desks because the school needs at least 30 days to allow for delivery. All members voted yes. Sam Burns was absent from the meeting.

School board president Susan King said she wanted further discussion during the next school board meeting to be held July 27. These concerns come on the heels of the budget freeze, which ended this meeting. For the freeze to have been extended, the board would have had to vote again to freeze the budget.

"We have only spent what has been needed to be spent to keep the maintenance people from being idle," said Harroun.

Harroun said the major part of the state aid formula, which is used to determine how much a school district receives from the state of Michigan, should be known by Oct. 1, making budgeting decisions easier.

He also added the state has not gotten the figures out until Oct. 27 during certain years.

"Like I said in the memo," he said, "I'm asking if we could be allowed to let the budget ride."

"It is a conservative budget. Until state aid is made clear we should let it ride."

"We can make adjustments in October," Harroun said one area that is likely to get less money is adult education.

It has also been discussed in Lansing that $31 million will be cut from the state kindergarten through grade 12 budget.

"If they're cutting $31 million out of K-12," Klagstad said, "then they're not likely to be giving in any other area."

Harroun said the state amount Manistique will receive will not be much less, if any, than what is expected for revenues in the school budget. "I don't think it will be much less unless something drastic happens in the state budget," he said. "At least nothing that will be remarkable one way or the other."

"It's not very comfortable when you don't know what you're getting from the state and you have to approve a budget."

"It's even worse when you know you don't have any fund equity like other schools in the area are facing."

King said, "That's why it is important we keep ours."

In other school board action: An organizational meeting was held just before the regular meeting to determine the 1993-94 Manistique school board officers.

Dixie Klagstad nominated Susan King for school board president.

There were no other nominations. All members voted yes and the motion carried.

Jan Jeffcott nominated Jim Ostlund for school board vice president.

There were no other nominations. All members voted yes.

Terry Savage nominated Dixie Klagstad for school board secretary.

There were no other nominations. All members voted yes.

Local man missed on 4th

VFW Post No. 4420, American Legion Post No. 83 and was the Past Commander of the John C. Sands VFW Post No. 3897 of L'Anse. He was a member of the Francis M. Moore Consistory 32 Degree of Marquette, the Ahmed Shrine Temple of Marquette, the Hiawatha Shrine Club of Manistique and was a Past Worshipful Master of Lakeside Lodge No. 371 F. & A. M. of Manistique.

From 1942-46 he served in World War II as a corporal with the U.S. Marine Corps in the South Pacific and afterward served in the Michigan National Guard for 12 years as a master sergeant.

A Scout Master for 17 years, he was also the director of Boy Scout Troop 400 Drum and Bugle Corps of the American Legion Post 83 of Manistique. He was a Red Cross Life Saving Examiner and a Swimming and Life Saving Instructor for the Red Buck District Boy Scout Camp.

He attended Manistique area schools, graduating from Manistique High School in 1934.

In 1976 he retired from GTE with more than 30 years as an installer and repairman. He also worked for nine years after retirement as an assistant welding instructor for the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District. He was also a volunteer fireman for 28 years.

Rogers was named Manistique Lions Club 1956 "Man of the Year."

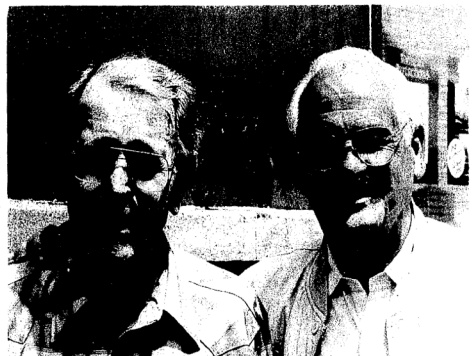

Wildflowers are mixed blessing for DDA

Naturally growing flowers are a blessing for most communities, but for Manistique's Downtown Development Authority (DDA), the pesky, endangered Huron Goldenrod has become a giant headache.

The DDA received the go-ahead on Phase III of the lake shore walkway from Department of Natural Resources endangered species coordinator Tom Weise, but the updated plans and changes on the walkway which twist and turn around the flower's habitat, may cost the DDA as much as $3,500 more than planned.

According to Wally Leggett, site the DDA is willing to work around the endangered flower, the DNR is willing to split the extra cost in half.

"I talked with Weise Monday and the revised routing of the boardwalk was verbally confirmed," Leggett said. "We will have to go 25 to 30 feet away from the lake shore to get away from the places where the flower is growing down there."

Neil Reese and Bob Broullire have remained from Iron Mountain, where they were part of friends over the years. Both former athletes are from great teams. Now, both live in Manistique.

Area sports stars still shine

by Aldo Andreoli of the Iron Mountain Daily News and Staff Writer Robert Kirkbride

Recruiting outstanding athletes for prep athletic teams in the larger metropolitan areas is a common practice today.

"Not many sports fans know, however, that head Iron Mountain football coach Dick Erditz and assistant Dick Chard were years ahead of the times in this practice.

Sixty-seven years ago, the duo enticed and recruited Neil Reese from Gladstone to the larger metropolitan areas is a common practice today.

If you look at the high school athletic record, you'll notice the name of Neil Reese as the holder of the 100-yard dash record in the blazing time of 9.8 seconds which he set in 1927.

"A sprinter is born, not made," Reese said. "Sprinting is a talent you can't learn, you just have it or you don't."

"I have a lot of respect for the distance man who had to work to improve," Reese said.

Erditz and Chard heard of Reese's fantastic speed from a brother of Reese who was employed locally at the time at the Ford Motor Co. With his help, Neil was talked into transferring to Iron Mountain.

To help defray expenses, the local coaches lured Reese part-time employment at the old Iron Mountain Post Office, where he toiled in the early morning hours before school and in the evenings.

Reese, now 87, is alive and well and lives - and has been for many years - in Manistique.

Robert (Stubby) Broullire, captain of the 1943 Mountaineer track team and a retired Manistique businessman, is a close friend of Reese and they see each other frequently.

"He's still sharp as a tack and an avid sports fan," said Broullire. "Having lost his wife the year

Reese is quite melancholy these days but finds some solace when talking sports, especially when reminiscing about Iron Mountain's great athletic era of the mid 1920s.

Reese was a speedy halfback on the 1926 Iron Mountain grid team that compiled a 6-1 record while scoring 193 points to the opponents 6.

That one 6-0 loss to Escanaba deprived the Mountaineers of compiling two straight undefeated grid seasons.

In that game, Escanaba scored early while the playing field was comparatively dry. As the game progressed the field became muddy and both teams had difficulty moving the ball.

Mountaineer back Reese broke loose at the start of the second half and was in the clear heading for an apparent score when he slipped and fell on the soggy turf. The ball was declared dead at the spot where he fell and the Mountaineer threat was thwarted.

"He still talks about that game as if it happened yesterday," said Broullire.

Although the game was a devastating loss, Broullire said Reese had some outstanding games on the football field. "Playing football against Cooper City, Reese scored four touchdowns in a single game."

Reese's forte was track, starring for Gladstone for three years.

The Lakeview Falls soccer team from Manistiquie battles for the ball against the team from K.I. Sawyer on Sunday. A rain storm

The British are coming

Look out, two British coaches are returning to Manistiquie this summer. Manistiquie Area Youth Soccer League is excited to announce that Britannia Soccer Camp, in conjunction with Reebok International, will be holding a community soccer camp at the Manistiquie High School Football Field during the week of July 26 through July 30. Sessions are open to boys and girls ages 7-16 years. The daily sessions are from 9 a.m. until 12 noon.

On the evenings of Tuesday, July 27, and Wednesday, July 28, from 6:30 - 8:00 the British coaches will conduct free parent/coach clinics. All parents and local community coaches are invited to actively participate. Each session will conclude with a question-and-answer period and a fun game.

Every player attending soccer camp will receive an official Reebok soccer shirt and will have the option to purchase Reebok soccer balls and shin guards at the reduced price.

During their week in Manistiquie, the two British coaches are being housed in the homes of Mark and Patricia Sherman and Guy and Robin Joske. Players interested in attending should call local camp coordinator, Janine Tyrell, at 341-2670 or 341-2814 for more information on how to attend soccer camp this summer.

Last year's soccer camp was a huge success with about 20 participants.

Did you know?

In 1986, Patricia Micklow became the first woman to be elected District Judge in Marquette after beating a 12 year incumbent. She began her judgeship as Judge of the 96th District Court on January 2, 1987. Married at 17 and mother of three by the age of 22, she overcame many obstacles to get where she is today.

ignais and a good number of parents and coaches attended the evening clinics. Jason and Paul, last year's British coaches, were warmly welcomed into our community. We're hoping that this year's soccer camp will be an even bigger and better experience for all.

Former sports stars

On June 5, 1926, at a Menominee track meet, Reese stepped off the century run in 10 seconds flat without the use of starting blocks and running on cinder track.

Officials of that meet were Harry Kipke of the University of Michigan, Menominee high coach Ed Vandervoort, and Earl Marzucco, former University of Minnesota athletic star.

He bettered that mark under the same conditions on May 27, 1927, while wearing the Gold and Black in the track meet at Kingsford where he burned a 9.8 for the distance to set the oldest Mountaineer track record in existence.

In that meet, three times caught him at 9.8 and others clocked him below the 10 second mark.

Following his high school athletic career, Reese enrolled at Michigan State where he played freshman football. He later transferred to Oshkosh Teachers College and continued his football career there.

Reese, a retired Manistiquie teacher in the mining field, was also at one time an outstanding high school and college football referee.

He last visited Iron Mountain on July 15, 1973, attending a reunion of his ex-Mountaineer football teammates.

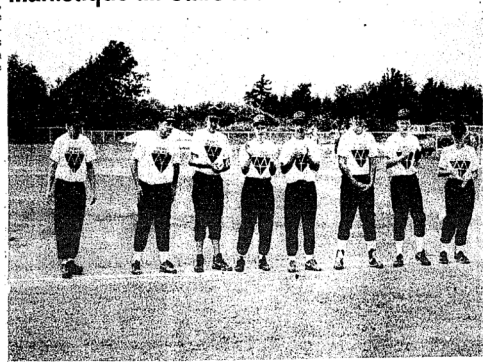

"Reese was honored in '73 by being chosen to light the torch for the district track people," Brodeur said. "Also, Mr. Brown, the director of the community school, gave Reese a jacket with Iron Mountain on it with 9.8 on the back."

No one ever came close to threatening Reese's century run record throughout the years and it's unlikely anyone will as that age has been changed to 100 meters.

The record will be a permanent fixture in the Mountaineer athletic record book.

Nel Reese, One of Iron Mountain High School's athletic legends.

Manistiquie all-stars lose heart-breaker

The Manistiquie all-stars prepare for their game against Escanaba. The team suffered a heart breaking 2-1 loss Sunday. They are still alive as the tournament is double elimination.

The Manistiquie Area Boys 13-15 year old all-star baseball team suffered a devastating loss to the team from Escanaba in a game held Sunday in Gladstone.

The game, tied 1-1 in the seventh inning was won by Escanaba on a controversial balk call against Manistiquie.

With runners on first and third and two outs a throw was made to third base.

As part of a designed trick play, the pitcher was to go to third to get the ball and return to the pitcher's mound, with the ball still in the possession of the third baseman.

The design of the play is to get the base runner to take a lead with the third baseman tagging him out.

Manistiquie pitcher Jake Orr returned to the mound, asked for the ball from the third baseman when the trick play did not work, and was called with a balk.

The runner from third came in to score, what would be the game winning run.

Protests from Manistiquie manager Bob Gierke were not acknowledged by the umpire, and the score stood, 2-1 in favor of Escanaba.

"I was so mad at the call I had to have my wife drive home," Gierke said. "After the game was over, I shook hands with the coach from Escanaba and told him we would be back."

The Manistiquie all-stars will play the Manistiquie all-stars today at 4 p.m. at the Gladstone Sports Park as part of the double-elimination tournament. There is a good chance that if the Manistiquie team advances, they could meet Escanaba for a rematch.

"This is one of the best ball clubs we've had around here in a long time," Gierke said. "There are a lot of talented players on the team. It's a shame we had to lose this way."

In the second inning, Jake Orr returned the plate to score Manistiquie's only run of the game.

After reaching first, Orr stole second base and advanced to third when the Escanaba pitcher walked two consecutive Manistiquie all-stars.

Orr then headed for home plate on an Escanaba throwing error.

Manistiquie batters stranded a total of 15 base runners in the game. They also loaded the bases three times, but failed to get the runs across the plate.

There were bright spots in the tough loss for Manistiquie. Besides scoring the only run in the game, pitcher Jake Orr struck out four Escanaba batters.

Nick Snyder had four solid outfield catches.

The team did not commit one error in the game.

"We've been working them hard," Gierke said. "They will be ready for the next game. The win won't slip away on a bad call."

Fish Report

by Sgt. John Walker (Ret.)

Well, I guess we can at least be thankful that so far all our rain is going into Lake Michigan. But, have you gone down and looked at the lake and observed how much of the beach is gone from last year? It seems like if the rain keeps up we will be right back where we were a few years back with the waves up in the trees.

There should be a lot of berries this year if we get some warm weather to get them ripe and all the rain does not cause them to rot. It is so wet in some places that the ground is like a sponge that has soaked up all the water it can hold. The heaviest having a ball damming up any water they can find.

I was reading over a copy of the summary of regulatory changes for the upcoming hunting season.

1 - Finally they are going to drop the law that outlaws putting out salt blocks. This has always been a real problem for the Conservation Officers, for it was against the law to hunt over salt, but so many people did it. They would put out a salt block then remove it the week before season and hunt over the area. It was a law better taken off the books. Besides half the deer blocks you bought had salt in them too.

2 - You can now legally use screw-in type steps to get up to your bow blind if you remove them after season. You cannot affix a ladder or steps permanently to a tree. This is another good law that is worded so a hunter knows what he can do and cannot do.

3 - Ground blinds of manufactured materials can be placed in the woods within seven days of season and are to be removed after season is over. Also, you must have the name and address of the person placing the blind affixed to it. (You do not need your name and address if you remove it daily)

4 - A person hunting from an illegal bow blind or a blind that has affixed steps to get into it can be in trouble. It is unlawful to occupy such an illegal blind now.

5 - A deer blind on state land, with a name affixed, can be used by any person who finds it unoccupied. Let's hope there is some sportsmanship on both sides of this.

There are a number of other changes, that, if they persist to our area, we will go over when they are published in the digest. Times are changing but lets hope they listen to those who are hunters, plus true sportsmen when they pass changes in the hunting laws. It seems that this year they did. For example, if a party has a ton of track around his deer blind and is a real jerk he may not want his name on his blind, but, most hunters will not care. Fishermen and waterfowl hunters have had to do it for years.

Can fall be far away, someone from the school saw me uptown the other day and asked me about setting up this year's Hunter Safety Course? This cannot be real, summer just started a couple of days ago, didn't it?

Thank You

I would like to thank the City of Manistiquie, the Schoolcraft County Board of Commissioners, the Chamber of Commerce, the Manistiquie Merchants, the Folkfest Committee and the Boy Scouts of America for the awards and gift certificates presented to me as the Folkfest Hero of '93' on July 10th.

I would also like to thank my family and many friends who voiced their congratulations on this great day and a special thank you for all the well wishes of my fellow merchants in the Pioneer-Tribune.

I greatly appreciate the honor of being Folkfest Hero of '93' and will be forever grateful.

At home with Sarah

by Sarah Bignall

Left-overs! Many people hate them because some warmed-over food just doesn't taste as good as the first time around. (I have even heard that some husbands refuse to eat left-overs.) And, if you have had company this summer then you have had left-overs. Here are two recipes that are at least 50 years old that are a good way to use up any roast you may have, besides hash, meat pie, or sandwiches.

MEAT AND POTATO CAKES

2 1/2 cups ground roast meat 1 teas. flour coloring,
1 1/2 cups leftover mashed potatoes 2 tbl. minced onion
1/2 teas. salt 2 tbl. oil

Mix together all ingredients except oil. Shape into 6 patties. Roll very lightly in flour and sauté in hot oil until brown on all sides. Serves 4 - one or two per person.

TASTY LEFTOVER MEAT (roasts of veal, pork or beef)

Leftover roast 1 can mushrooms, optional
1 cup chopped onions 1 tbl. salt
1 cup chopped celery Pepper, to taste

Sauté together onions and celery about 20 minutes. Add meat and mushrooms and any left-over gravy. Season with soy sauce. Simmer until heated through. Serve over rice or noodles.

Sarah says Fasten a large strong envelope in the back of your most used cook book. Put in untried and clipped recipes until you have time to test them and decide whether you want to keep them in your permanent recipe file. Throw them away if you don't like them - otherwise you will forget and try them again.

analysis will better define the extent and magnitude of the sediment contamination in the harbor.
Based on the data so far collected, it appears that the presence of PCBs in the river and harbor is due primarily to a historical source, not a continuing one.

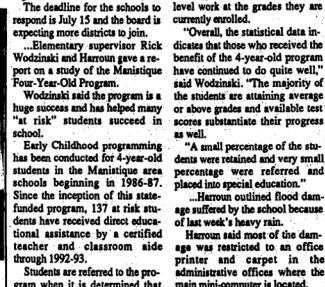

The primary issue raised to the U.S. EPA is whether additional scientific studies are needed prior to taking any cleanup action.
U.S. EPA's initial decision to consider cleanup at this site was based on the existing data available.

Unemployment rate drops; still high in county

A growth in summer-related employment resulted in lower jobless rates among most of Michigan's major labor market areas in May, according to unadjusted work force estimates prepared by the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC).

The greatest rate decline occurred in the Upper Peninsula as the jobless rate fell by more than a percentage point from 9.9 percent in April to 8.7 percent in May.

Schoolcraft county is still above the state and Upper Peninsula average. The May unemployment rate is 11.6 percent. This is down from the 17.2 percent rate in January.

Richard Windberg, MESC's Upper Peninsula district manager in Marquette said Schoolcraft county will continue to see a drop in unemployment throughout the summer.

"The influx of students in June usually drives the unemployment rate up," he said. "It will go down again as the students find jobs. Initially they are counted as unemployed when they get back from school."

"Schoolcraft county has such a small number of people the numbers sometimes get skewed."

"Each percentage point equals about 35 people, so when even a small amount of people lose their jobs it shows."

Windberg stresses that these numbers are only estimates, not actual head counts. But by these estimates, the unemployment rate for Schoolcraft county could drop to 9 percent.

"Jobless rates dropped in eight of the state's 12 large labor markets in May," MESC director F. Robert Edwards said, "due largely to seasonal job gains in warm weather industries such as tourism, recreation and construction."

Among other sectors reporting employment increases last month were retail trade, business services, eating and drinking establishments and hotels.

"Nearly every area reported labor force increases in May as workers began entering the summer job market," Edwards said.

Concert Series celebrates 25th anniversary involved in conducting.

Newcomer this year is cellist Janet MacKenzie who is teaching in the string program for the Escanaba schools.

At the second concert that will be held Aug. 1, cellist Lawrence Leviton, a professor at the University of Wisconsin at Stevens Point, will return for a second year.

Founder and director of the series, Robert King and his wife Mary, will again return to Manistique from Ithaca, N.Y. to perform. Over the past 25 years, they have arranged to spend part of their summers in the Manistique area.

In Ithaca, both are active in teaching and performing in a newly-formed Pro-Musica string quartet that recently played a reception for Charles Osgood.

The quartet will present a series of concerts next year sponsored by the Unitarian Church in Ithaca.

The Community Concert Series began more than 25 years ago when the Kings arrived to spend their summer in a cabin on the Manistique River.

The couple met local musicians Marion Orr and Vesta Fyvie, who encouraged them to present a concert to the people of Manistique.

The "experiment" was enthusiastically received. Shortly thereafter, several interested residents offered their services by forming a committee to support a series by raising funds and assisting in the many activities required to offer such events.

The committee is currently co-chaired by Marion Orr and Dorothy Hendricks. Or has been actively associated with the series since its inception.

The series has maintained close ties with the area, not only by the participation of members of the committee, but also by utilizing local talent whenever possible.

The series has always been held in the community in places such as St. Francis de Sales, where the first concerts were given, Zion Lutheran Church, the Lakeside School and in the Westminster Room and the sanctuary of the Church of the Redeemer.

At one time, there were a number of young performers in the area who presented youth concerts assisted by adult members of the series.

According to King, it was sometimes tempting to discontinue the series because of difficulties in raising funds, coordinating rehearsals and concert schedules, handling publicity and arranging housing for the performers.

The Kings said the series was continued because they realized many people seemed to genuinely appreciate their efforts to bring live performances of good music.

The Kings said they persevered with the generous assistance of the committee and the Redeemer.

The opening concert will include works by J.C. Bach, Handel, Mozart, Turina and Vaughn Williams for string quartet, soprano, oboe flute and piano.

Light refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the concert.

If Clarence Rogers, Manistique, will stop at the Pioneer-Tribune office he will receive a free theatre ticket for Cinema 1.

Garden's Wally Morin is the King of Round Ball

by Debbie Lang
When passing through Garden, residents are often seen walking along the road or visiting with one another. One person who is often seen enjoying life in Garden is Wally Morin.

Wally resides in a quaint, peaceful house right in town on the main road. Wally is usually out fixing something or just wasting one of his cars.

He waves to everyone. He has made the people of Garden and its surrounding areas his friends and family.

Wally Morin is a very optimistic gentleman. He is someone everyone enjoys being around. It is easy to chime in to a Garden memories about this man. This article on Wally Morin was found in the Garden Heritage book written by Dennis Winters.

While Wally is most famous for his incredible free throw accuracy, his other talents first became evident back in 1948 when at age 14 he went to work to help support his family by working at the Garden Fish Factory making fish boxes.

The boxes were used to transport their operations to watch a man who in one minute timed run, drove 61 six-penny nails. In another timed run, he drove one handful of 28 nails in 19 seconds.

Memories

Wally left for construction work in Chicago, where he stayed until 1964. To fill the slack time in construction, Wally worked at odd jobs. One such odd job was peeling posts. Wally became very fast and one year while working with Lee Polvin, he averaged 240 seven foot long, four-inch diameter cedar posts in a six-hour period (40 per hour in a six hour day). In one day, along with an all-out effort, he peeled 485 posts.

Wally recalled, "I got a nickel for each box. One time I got hurt. I broke my ankle and couldn't work. The guy that replaced me was pretty good. He was fast too. But he could only make 100 boxes a day. He was going to quit because he wasn't making enough money, so he asked to be paid $1 an hour instead of a nickel a box. He was only making $5 a day."

Wally quit the fish factory in 1957. By this time Wally's reputation with a hammer had grown to the point that he was asked to put on demonstrations. Places shut

G & G Forest Prod.

G & G Forest Products of Garden has been named winner of the 1993 Excellence in Logging award by the Michigan Association of Timbermen, Newbury.

The mechanized logging operation owned by Charlene, David and Allen Groll was first recognized for their outstanding care of the forest several years ago when they were harvesting with chainsaws. Since that time, they have turned to mechanized logging. "The quality of their work has not changed," said Allen Sager, Hiawatha National Forester in Munnings.

David Groll said the change has proven to be very competitive. "It has allowed us to maintain high standards in our harvesting operation, while being good stewards of the land," Groll said.

G & G Forest Products was established over 30 years ago by Jason Groll, father of David and Allen. After his death in October, 1992, his widow Charlene and their sons have continued the logging operation and tradition of good stewardship. The Grolls see the Excellence in Logging award as a tribute to their husband and father.

'Caring Arms' Awards Program

Lt. Governor Connie Binsfeld recently called for people to come forward with nominations for the first annual Caring Arms Awards Program before the Aug. 23, 1993 deadline.

"Every day throughout Michigan, outstanding individuals and organizations are doing wonderful things for children and their families - meeting needs and providing services that government simply cannot," said Binsfeld. "Caring Arms is an effort to identify them, recognize their efforts and share their hard-won expertise with others."

Each year, Caring Arms will present two $1,000 statewide awards and five $500 regional awards donated from private sources.

The Caring Arms Task Force is organized in partnership with the Institute for Children, Youth and Families of Michigan State University, MSU's Extension and professionals from an impressive array of public and private agencies.

The Caring Arms Task Force believes that common sense solutions to some of the most pressing needs facing children and families are to be found in local communities throughout Michigan. The Task Force hopes that by heralding these efforts, a grassroots "call to arms" movement on behalf of children will be launched.

For more information on the Caring Arms Program or to obtain a nominating form, please call the Lt. Governor's office at (517) 373-6808 or write to her at P.O. Box 30026, Lansing, MI 48909 before the Aug. 23 deadline.
